Japs Threaten Action In International Sector, Raise "Grave Issues"

Chinese Retreat To Suchow On Northern Front

Attackers' War Planes Raid Hankow; Take Sage's Birthplace

SHANGHAI, Jan. 5 (Wednesday) (AP)—Japanese officials here raised what a foreign authority called a "grave issue" today by threatening to take action in Shanghai's International Settlement unless "anti-Japanese outrages" are stopped.

Japanese infantry columns continued their advance southward through Shantung province, causing the Chinese to withdraw toward Suchow, vital junction of the Tientsin-Pukow and Lunghai railways in North Kiangsu province.

(Domei, the Japanese news agency, said in a dispatch to Tokyo that the Japanese had captured Chufu, birthplace of China's great sage, Confucius, 70 miles south of the provincial capital, Tsinan. The Japanese said they would not harm the tomb of Confucius or the great Confucian temple at Chufu.)

Japan's war planes also struck on several fronts, making raids on Suchow and other cities, railroads near the southern metropolis, Canton, and the Yangtze river cities, Hanyang and Hankow, one of China's capitals.

The Hankow raid, a Japanese navy spokesman said, was intended to "crush China's reorganized air force" consisting of "large numbers of Soviet planes."

The International Settlement "issue" was raised following an official protest by Japanese officials to the Shanghai municipal council against Chinese terrorist acts.

Rogues' Gallery Yields Clue In Carpenter Case

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Jan. 4 (AP)—A set of police rogues' gallery pictures, shuffled like a deck of cards, yielded the clue which set police throughout the nation on a hunt for Wendell Forrest Bowers in the slaying of Mrs. Wilma V. Carpenter, attractive 38-year-old widow.

Mary Griffin, 22, a beauty shop operator who was with Mrs. Carpenter the night of the slaying, told District Attorney Frederick B. Smilie, of Montgomery county, she recognized a picture of Bowers as the man who beat her and Mrs. Carpenter.

The attack occurred as the two women entered Mrs. Carpenter's home at Camp Hill, near Philadelphia, Dec. 13.

The man, Miss Griffin said, menaced them with a pistol and forced them to an upstairs room after stealing about $2.

He ordered Mrs. Carpenter to tie Miss Griffin's hands with rope and then shot Mrs. Carpenter when she screamed for help, Miss Griffin related.

Miss Griffin was slugged unconscious with the butt of the pistol.

Smilie said the killer took a shower bath, then brought a bottle of antiseptic from the bathroom and cleansed the wound on Miss Griffin's head before leaving the house.

GRASSHOPPERS

Pests Will Invade 35 Million Acres

BOZEMAN, Mont., Jan. 4 (AP)—Grasshoppers will invade more than 35,000,000 acres of land in 24 states next summer, with infestations in the great plains five to six times as serious as last year, R. L. Shotwell of the federal bureau of entomology predicted today.

The heaviest infestations, he forecast, will be in North and South Dakota, east of the Missouri river, and in Missouri.

Thrill Seekers Confess

$2.10 Holdup-Slaying Solved, Mrs. Sohl Reenacts Crime for Camera

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 4 (AP)—A woman's hunch clipped the crime careers of two thrill seeking young women who confessed today, police said, to the $2.10 holdup slaying of a bus-driving father of two children.

Mrs. Ethel Strouse Sohl, 20, daughter of a Newark radio patrol officer who with fellow officers sought to solve the crime, and Genevieve Owens, 17, were held without bail when arraigned before Recorder Everett B. Smith in suburban Belleville on charges of murder.

Joseph Cocozza, acting captain of prosecutor's detectives, said Mrs. Sohl confessed she held up William Barhorst 34, of Totowa borough, with a sawed off .32 calibre rifle on Dec. 21 and pulled the trigger when he attempted to seize the weapon.

She seized the change clip, Cocozza said, ran back to the auto where Miss Owens waited and said: "I had a tussle and I think I shot a man."

The two women, who met in the house of detention last July, told police, Cocozza said, they engaged in a career of crime "for the fun of it."

A bus carrying passengers was stopped to enable Mrs. Sohl to reenact the crime for the camera. Laughing and smoking a cigaret, she insisted police said, that a car, representing the getaway auto, be placed in the exact spot where the latter stood.

"I knew Mr. Neil for a long time," the leader of the American expeditionary forces in France said at his hotel here where he is spending the winter.

"He was a charming man and it is a great pity that he should have been killed. I wish to express my profound sorrow and regret at his passing."

Zeppelin to Fly Atlantic Route Again

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP)—German airship service between Europe and the United States will be resumed in about five months with a sister ship of the Zeppelin Hindenburg, which plummeted to earth in flames at Lakehurst, N. J., last May.

Inflated with American non-inflammable helium instead of the hydrogen which buoyed up the Hindenburg, the new ship, the LZ-130, will have a schedule of 15 to 18 round trips at the rate of three a month until autumn when seasonal operations will be terminated, it was announced today.

E. P. Farley American Agent
This announcement was made by Edward P. Farley, president of the American Zeppelin Transport corporation, which is general United States agent for the German operators of the craft.

Farley reiterated a hope that "necessary government support" would enable his company to embark on an American airship operating program. It was understood that plans called for the leasing of a larger dirigible, the LZ-131, now being built in Germany, by American interests.

Commission Has Helpful Attitude
"The recent report of the maritime commission," said Farley, "expresses a very helpful attitude in its recommendation that American overseas aircraft be given the same aids as are now being given to the merchant marine, and the American Zeppelin Transport corporation has been ready to go ahead under any government agency which is charged with the development of over-ocean air commerce."

Congress recently authorized export of helium, on which this country holds a virtual world monopoly. Mined at Amarillo, Tex., 17,900,000 cubic feet of the gas will be shipped to Germany by freighter.

The LZ-131, dimensionally identical with the Hindenburg, is 804 feet long and has a helium capacity of 7,000,000 cubic feet. Its flying range is 7,000 miles. Because helium has less lifting power than hydrogen, the new ship will be able to carry 40 passengers as against 70 accommodated by the Hindenburg. The difference in lift between the two ships will be 17-1-2 tons.

Nation's Largest Banks Target For Congressional Accusations

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—The nation's largest banks were the target today for new congressional charges of "monopoly."

Chairman Wheeler (D-Mont) of the senate railroad finance investigating committee asked the public and the government to "examine with great care the investment banking monopoly in New York City."

In the house, Representative Patman (D-Tex) asserted that 24 banks, 13 of them in New York City, "control almost one third of the banking resources of this country."

Winding up one phase of the senate railroad investigation, Wheeler asserted in a summary of recent evidence gathered by the inquiry: "Two financial houses, J. P. Morgan and Co., (with Morgan, Stanley and Co.) and Kuhn, Loeb and company, share between them control of virtually all the financial business of our railroads."

'FAITH BABY'

FT. DODGE, Jan. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Ted Fitch, wife of an evangelist here, went about her household duties today less than 24 hours after giving birth to her fifth "faith baby."

The child, a girl, was born while members of Fitch's congregation stood about the mother's bed and prayed. No physician attended her. On several occasions Mrs. Fitch has risen from her bed an hour after the birth of a child and delivered a sermon.

"It is a wonderful demonstration of the power of prayer," she declared.

Court Dismisses Radio Libel Suit

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 4 (AP)—The Oregon supreme court today affirmed the dismissal of a $75,000 libel suit which developed from a radio broadcast of courtroom proceedings.

Mrs. Josephine Irwin claimed her reputation was damaged when David R. Vandenberg, defense attorney at the murder trial of Marion Meyerle, broadcast his closing arguments to the jury over station KFJI, operated by George Kincaid. She sued the station, Vandenberg, Kincaid and Presiding Judge Edward B. Ashurst, who recently announced his candidacy for U. S. senator.

The supreme court refused to rule on whether it was proper to broadcast court trials, asserting "the American Bar association frowns upon such practice. It is a matter for the determination of the trial judge."

The decision stated "it is difficult to see any difference between radio broadcasting of court proceedings and the publication of same in newspapers. All the radio company did was to transmit to the public a true and accurate report of what was going on in the murder trial."

F.D.R. Issues Tentative Government Costs In Fiscal Year of 1938-39

Eccles Favors Industry Pact, More Spending

Reserve Board Officer Addresses Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Chairman Marriner Eccles of the federal reserve board told a senate committee today that increased government spending and a compact between government, industry and labor for lower costs in the construction industry would go far toward ending the present depression.

"If the government put a billion dollars into circulation, it would in my opinion stop the recession," he said, but he later emphasized that he was making no definite recommendation to this effect, only answering questions as to what would be the result.

He testified before a special senate committee under the chairmanship of Senator Byrnes of South Carolina, which started today a long search for the causes of unemployment and remedies which congress might apply to business ills.

Primarily, Eccles said, the recession was the result of prices rising faster than the purchasing power of most of the people. When a certain point in this movement was reached, he explained, recovery from the old depression "got out of balance."

Beyond that, he expressed belief that certain rigid prices were a serious defect in the economic system. Some sections of industry and of organized labor, principally allied with construction, refused to permit a drop in prices and wages between 1929 and 1933 commensurate with the decrease in other lines, he asserted.

"Labor as well as industry would be better off," he said, "if they voluntarily took a reduction that put costs and wages where they were before the advance of 1936."

Kidnap Search Ends as Clerk Wires Report

DETROIT, Jan. 4 (AP)—Harry H. Bennett, Ford Motor company personnel director who spent a sleepless night directing a search for his vanished 17-year-old daughter, Gertrude, learned this afternoon that she had eloped to Indiana with a college sweetheart.

His fear that she had been kidnaped was not dispelled until he had confirmed by telephone the news that she was married last night, at Auburn, Ind., to Russell Hughes, 21-year-old trap drummer.

Both were students at Michigan State Normal college. The families are neighbors. Bennett lives in a turreted castle between Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor. Hughes lived with his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Routson, in a modest home three miles distant. His stepfather is a Ford employe.

The marriage was confirmed by Carl Walter, DeKalb county clerk at Auburn, Ind., who said he did not know that the prospective bride was a daughter of the Ford personnel director when the couple applied for the license yesterday.

Spanish Battle For Teruel Centers Around Eastern Provincial Capital In Driving Snow

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Jan. 4 (AP)—The battle for Teruel swirled today around the eastern Spanish provincial capital in a driving snow. Insurgent and government troops fought savagely in freezing weather over the ice-covered banks of the river Guadalquivir west of the city.

Reports reaching the Franco-Spanish frontier said the opposing armies at times struggled in hand-to-hand combat on the frozen river itself and casualties from cold and conflict mounted into thousands.

Reports from the two camps on the situation in Teruel itself continued to be contradictory. Insurgents said the city, which they lost Dec. 21, had been "liberated" while government officials asserted an insurgent garrison in the downtown quarter still was being besieged.

Mohammed Mahmoud Pasha ... takes troubled office
Premier of Egypt in 1928, Mohammed Mahmoud Pasha, 55, above, once more takes that office, succeeding Nahas Pasha, who resigned. Discord over internal policies with the 18-year-old king, Farouk, forced Nahas Pasha's resignation.

Dissension May Separate Wafd

Government Headed By Premier Mahmoud Still Safe

CAIRO, Jan. 4 (AP)—Internal dissension threatened tonight to split the Wafd (Nationalist) party, already in a ticklish political situation after being ousted by King Farouk from control of the government so as to strengthen the hand of the young ruler's newly picked cabinet.

The party expelled Drahmed Maher, president of the chamber of deputies, after his attempt at a stormy parliamentary session to read an order suspending the chamber for a month. His dismissal resulted in 15 deputies rallying around him and deciding to form their own party.

The political fight between the king and the Wadists, which precipitated riotous scenes last night in parliament when both senate and chamber voted non-confidence in the new cabinet, appeared to have had little outward effect on the country, which remained calm.

The Mahmoud cabinet took the view that the non-confidence votes in parliament were illegal because the decree adjourning the chamber and senate already had been published.

Young Clerk Tells Of Hitting Former Editor In Dispute

CHICAGO, Jan. 4 (AP)—A young clerk told voluntarily tonight of striking Ralph W. Thompson, magazine editor who was found dead in a loop alley, and walking away without determining how seriously Thompson had been injured.

Assistant Prosecutor Francis McCurtie said the clerk, Harold L. Patterson Jr., 21, would be questioned about the death Saturday of Thompson, 31, formerly of Bedford, Ia., editor of Public Safety, published by the National Safety council.

He related they went into an alley and that he "pushed away" ing platform.

Predict Deficit Would Reach A Billion Dollars

Estimated Debt Subject To Wide Revision By Business

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt completed today a tentative chart of federal spending in the 1938-39 fiscal year and well informed officials predicted it would indicate a $1,000,000,000 deficit.

The budget will go to congress tomorrow. Mr. Roosevelt told the legislators yesterday it would not be balanced but that the deficit would be less than in the present fiscal year ending next June 30.

Predict Deficit Would Reach A Billion Dollars

Estimated Debt Subject To Wide Revision By Business

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt completed today a tentative chart of federal spending in the 1938-39 fiscal year and well informed officials predicted it would indicate a $1,000,000,000 deficit.

The budget will go to congress tomorrow. Mr. Roosevelt told the legislators yesterday it would not be balanced but that the deficit would be less than in the present fiscal year ending next June 30.

The last official estimate of the prospective deficit for the current year was $895,245,000. Officials indicated however, the message tomorrow would revise this figure up to about $1,250,000,000. This would be slightly less than twice the $645,068,770 deficit for the first half of the year, reported by the treasury today.

The budget is expected to give only tentative recommendations for relief and naval expenditures, the final totals to be determined later in the light of what the president may deem necessary because of the business recession and world rearmament.

Under these circumstances, observers generally concluded any estimated deficit would be called only a preliminary guess, subject to wide revision according to developments in business — affecting both relief expenditures and tax receipts — and in international affairs.

Indicted Only 'Kept' Papers, Declares Ickes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Secretary Ickes said today that he had "too much respect" for many newspapers to make a "general indictment" of them.

His statement was made in reply to a telegram Jan. 1 from the publishers of the Wichita (Kan.) Beacon which said:

"In your radio address of Thursday night you urged that business 'call off newspapers and commentators.' These expressions are a general indictment of the entire newspaper profession and eminently unfair to those newspapers in which was printed all the news, regardless of political policy. If you have specific evidence of 'kept newspapers' let us have their names and clear the others of suspicion."

"That portion of Ickes' speech, entitled 'It Is Happening Here,' to which the publishers took exception, said:

"To speak bluntly and realistically, the first requirement for a better understanding between business and government is for big business to call off its lobbyists, call off its newspapers and commentators..."

"I made no general indictment of newspapers. I have too much respect for them to do such a thing. If I indicted any newspapers in my speech it was only such as my indictment fitted."

Have You Bought Your Hawkeye?

WITH PLANS formulated, photographs of juniors secured and an active sales campaign already underway, the 1938 Hawkeye moves steadily toward completion.

Well does the Hawkeye merit the support of every student on the campus, since it gives him a photographic reproduction of his year in retrospect.

The Hawkeye is an all-university publication. It arose on this campus, as on most campuses, out of a widespread student demand for a photographic album of the university year.

Each year the Hawkeye pictures the junior class, parties, and participates in plays, publications, debates, athletic events and other university activities.

This year's Hawkeye has two new features. A de luxe edition is being published with a thickly padded cover to be sold at no extra cost to early birds who buy their Hawkeye before January 15.

The Hawkeye also plans this year to include an augmented beauty queen program. The queens are to be given widespread publicity and both formal and informal poses of them will appear in the Hawkeye.

In doing such a fine job of portraying the year's events in one book, the Hawkeye deserves and should get the support of every university student.

For the White House—A Super Man

A LOT HAS been said—and more probably will be—of 1940 candidates for the presidency. The election is still more than two years away, but many politicians believe the time is now ripe to begin the search for the man who will sit in the White House when Franklin Roosevelt leaves in 1940.

We cannot guess who the candidates will be—republican, democrat or third party—but we can picture the kind of man we hope will be inaugurated in 1941.

His party, we think, will be of little importance; his personal views will be above strictly drawn political lines. He will be a liberal. By that we mean he will be forward-looking rather than backward. He will be outspoken and also soft-spoken, he will be honest and straight-forward—and he will be a statesman.

He will dedicate his administration to the welfare of his people rather than a few influential men. He will work always in the interests of humanity rather than of personalities.

He will also be an efficient man, an economical man, a careful administrator. Probably also he will be a super-man. To combine all the qualities we most desire in our chief executive, he would have to be.

Magicians in Germany, we read, are now forbidden to reveal how their tricks work. Maybe Hitler plans to borrow a couple of them sometime.

No one needs to take music lessons in order to know how to "blow his own trumpet." Maybe that's why it always sounds so sour.

A Pioneer Movement

A RATHER comforting story came over the wires late last week. In New York a man was arrested for "disturbing the peace." He was, the news account related, caught in the act of pushing his Christmas gifts in the furnace. His wife, who called the police, accused him of "vulgar language" and "intoxication."

On reflection, somehow, we doubt the wife's statement. We believe the chap may possibly be a pioneer in American action. He was merely carrying out a desire many among us have felt after viewing our Christmas ties and socks.

And the fine was only $5 and costs. It may have been worth it.

The Best Laid Plans

THESE NEXT few weeks will be busy ones for us, those of us who are students. We will have to complete the over-due assignments we had delayed until vacation—and still haven't done. We will be reviewing our courses for semester examinations. We will want to concentrate on certain studies to raise our lower grade points. We will plan to do so many things. Some few of them we may possibly accomplish. Most of our plans will fall by the wayside.

We know. We've gone through it before.

We are quite sure that "Hamlet" will be produced in the movies when a director can figure out how to turn the ghost into an army of ghosts, all riding on horses—or reindeer—through the palace. Until this big scene can be conceived on a three-million-dollar scale, Shakespeare will lie unwarded by the Divine Hollywood call.

Zadok Dumbkopf says his investigations prove it isn't true that Mussolini lives on a diet of dill pickles. It must be some other reason why he always looks that way.

PANAY NEWS REELS

Half an hour's steady bombing of a United States gunboat with three crack American newsreel men on board! That should make news reels worth waiting for.

Carefully guarded, the films were rushed by naval vessels to Manila, by China Clipper via Hawaii to California, and by United Air liner across the continent.

The most complete version is the Universal film taken by Norman Alley. With supplementary pictures of the Yangtze background and of the film's own journey back to America, the Panay bombing itself is set off from the rest by the caption "Unedited—Uncensored."

The Twentieth Century-Fox and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer reels are built around pictures taken by Eric Mayell, and the Paramount film around stills taken by Arthur Menken, both Panay survivors. Commentators and editing are different in all three.

Several things stand out about the films.

The flag certainly was there. Graham McNamee cheerfully calls attention to the little flag at the stern of the Panay's motor launch, but the large horizontal ones stretched across the Panay itself both forward and aft, where no airman within bombing range could well fail to notice them, were the McCoy.

Although the bombing went on and on, the pictures show no bombs striking or exploding on board, and but few splashes. This is no reflection on the photographers. The attack was a ghastly surprise, accompanied by machine-gunning; and camera angles are particularly difficult with an air attack.

Discipline on board was so good that the whole affair seems very matter-of-fact. Without that pantless gunner to remind us, we might almost take it for routine maneuvers.

The commentators do not agree among themselves as to whether Panay rimes with aye or with nay, and Graham McNamee does not agree with himself. The gazetteer favors aye—the ship having been named for an island in the Philippines.

We shall not soon forget the tragic fate of the dying Italian newspaperman, lying among the tall reeds on the island. Hidden among the reeds, the refugees, still supposing that Japan and the United States must be at war, watched the Panay sink and one of the Standard Oil boats burn.

After seeing the flag-draped coffin of the petty officer who died of his wounds lowered onto the U.S.S. Augusta, it gives one a rather chilly feeling to come out on the streets and find a recruiting poster with the legend: "An enlistment in the U. S. Navy brings a young man into close contact with experience which will benefit him in later life."

WILL WE NEVER LEARN?

Cold Sufferers Should Remain Quietly in Bed for Rest Cure

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

The one thing that everybody agrees is best for a cold is rest. And it is the one thing that usually is neglected.

I mean rest in bed. If that alone is done in the first day or two of a cold, it would do more to safeguard against the possible hazards of convalescence than all the medicine in the world. It would shorten the entire period of discomfort—the long-drawn-out hawking and coughing and snuffling.

But everything seems to conspire against doing it. Colds come at inconvenient times. You are needed at the office. Or for the housewife, sister and the children are coming to visit. There is an examination at school, or there is especially heavy work at the store. Anyway, it's just a cold, and the idea of going to bed for a little thing like that is sort of sissy. So the rest in bed is discarded. And one of the healthiest acts you could do for yourself is left undone.

Because with rest in bed, an attack of gripe or cold might be a good thing. There used to be a theory that an attack of typhoid fever—after the debilitating effects were over and, of course, always provided you recovered from it—would eventually be beneficial because it "would clean out the system." The old housewife preached that gospel, but when I was studying medicine it was greeted with scorn by all the ultra-scientific members of the faculty.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — That blinding glare down on Grove street merely reflects the decision of Ben Collada to put the quietus on noisy guests whose conduct at the club El Chico makes it difficult for the actors to do their stuff. Before getting out my smoked glasses I got a glimpse of Ben reaching for the switchboard and he explained the whole story: "Sometimes when six or eight guests sit at one table they get pretty noisy. Often they resent it if a waiter requests them not to make so much noise. On such occasions they sometimes want to take a poke at the waiter, and that is not good, because one cannot run a night club properly if ones' waiters are to be used as punching bags. No? So I sit down in a corner and think about it for a long time, and finally I get the inspiration.

Light on the Subject: I get the idea suddenly one night while I am sipping my third cup of coffee, and the next morning, when everything is quiet, I call in the electricians and we install powerful spotlights above every table in the house. Now, when a party comes too loud we simply halt the show, darken the house, and turn a powerful floodlight on them. I can tell you they stop talking in a hurry.

Tax Collection: One night some guests ordered a large dinner with wine, and after the bill was tabulated there was a howl of protest at the part set aside as the government tax. "This is outrageous," exclaimed the angry diner, "and I resent it. It is unfair and un-American." "Sir, I agree with you," pursued Senator Collada. "You have every right to become angry whenever you wish and if you do not wish to pay it, that is all right with me too. All I ask is that you sign this little paper saying that you refused to pay the tax, and I will turn it over to the government and let them worry about collecting it. You see, it is nothing to me, except there is a law saying that a certain tax percentage must be paid, and this little paper with your signature will relieve me of all responsibility." So far, there hasn't been a single signature turned in.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS: HOLLYWOOD—Suggested entries and nominations for this open season on "bests" and "worsts," predictions, guesses, etc.; Best generally: "The Good Earth." Most significant as well as fine: "The Life of Emile Zola." Dullest of the "A" films: "Another Dawn," known in Hollywood as "Another Yawn." Best of the "mellers": "Night Must Fall." Finest of the short subjects: Disney's "The Old Mill." Most nearly certain to win the palm for acting: Spencer Tracy. Among the women: Irene Dunne or Barbara Stanwyck. A Vote For Sonja: Most disappointing musical: "Broadway Melody of 1938." Best Musical: "One Hundred Men and a Girl." Most discussed musical: "High, Wide and Handsome." (And dog-gone, I still like it!) Fastest rising star: Sonja Henie (who skated and smiled from nowhere in pictures to eighth ranking box-office draw—in less than a year!) Unhappiest of the "goofy" comedies: "Double Wedding." Finest of the unpatronized pictures: "Make Way for Tomorrow." Runner-up: "Call It a Day." Shearer's Comeback: Going places: Cary Grant, Ray Milland, Francho Tonne. Ditto: Olympe Bradna, Marjorie Weaver, Andrea Leeds. Most in need of a smash hit: Joan Crawford. Favorite "character": Etienne Girardot. Perfect comedy team (if it could be arranged): Joan Davis and Ray Bolger—both rubber-legged. Simplest of the season's greeting cards—and nicest because she wrote it herself: Gail Patrick's. Most anticipated comeback of 1938: Norma Shearer's in "Marie Antoinette." Hollywood's forgotten man: William Shakespeare. Speaking of Japan—a correspondent there assures us that Gary Cooper in "Souls at Sea" had them standing in the aisles but Robert Taylor doesn't rate.

Hoosiers Trounce Illinois; Minnesota Defeats Notre Dame

Indiana Team Wins Overtime Game, 51-46

'Junie' Andres and Bill Johnson Divide Point Honors

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 4 (AP) — Indiana defeated Illinois, 51-46, tonight in ding-dong Big Ten basketball opener settled in an overtime period.

The score was deadlocked 44-44 at the end of regulation time. In the extra period Joe Platt, Indiana's only senior, put the Hoosiers out with free throw 45-44. "Junie" Andres, who shared scoring honors with Bill Johnson, hit a follow-in shot but Tom Nisbet duplicated for Illinois. Baskets by Birr and Johnson put the game on ice for Indiana.

Indiana led 22-16 at half time. As the second period opened, Illinois started a fast breaking offense which knotted the count at 24 all. The Illini kept on going until they held a 41-34 advantage. Then Indiana opened up.

Iowa Grapplers to Clash With Northwestern In Opener

The University of Iowa wrestling team will pry the lid off the Big Ten season when they entertain the Northwestern Wildcats in an afternoon match at the Hawkeye fieldhouse, Saturday.

Coach Mike Howard, who will be starting his 17th campaign as coach of the Iowa grapplers, said yesterday upon watching the first nine-minute time trials after the holiday vacation, that prospects for a winning Old Gold team are the best in several years.

Coach Howard termed the condition of the Hawkeye starters as "pretty fair", although he stressed the fact that top condition can not be reached before actual competition gets underway. Capt. Wilbur Nead of Gilman, George Smith of Mt. Vernon and Clarence Kemp of Waterloo have been engaging in daily workouts at the fieldhouse since Christmas day.

The schedule:
Jan. 8 — Northwestern here
Jan. 14 — Wisconsin at Madison
Feb. 5 — Iowa State, here
Feb. 10 — Iowa Teachers at Cedar Falls.
Feb. 19 — Minnesota, here
Feb. 26 — Kansas State at Manhattan
Mar. 5 — Illinois at Urbana
Mar. 11-12 — Big Ten meet at Northwestern.
Mar. 25-26 — National Collegiate meet at Penn State.

California Whips Northwestern By 43 to 36 Score

EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 4 (AP)—California's touring basketball team put on the pressure in the last five minutes tonight to defeat Northwestern, 43 to 36, in an exciting battle.

Northwestern managed to tie the score twice in the second half, the second time at 33-all with five minutes left. At that point, however, the Bears cut loose and pulled away on two field goals by Ed Dougray and one each by Chet Carlisle, Walt Bickerton and Bob Chalmers.

Ray Walters Stricken By Glandular Ailment

Star's Loss To Handicap Team

Ray Walters, one of the fastest 50-yard free stylers in the country during his sophomore year and top ranking collegiate sprinter of Coach David Armbruster's swimming team, is lost to the Old Gold squad until Feb. 1, and may not swim in competition this season, it was learned yesterday.

Walters was confined with an attack of glandular fever to the university hospital before Christmas vacation, and was only released last week. Dr. W. W. Hayne, Iowa's trainer-physician, said Walters could not swim before Feb. 1, and whether or not he would be able to work out then would not be known.

Walters was counted on by Coach Armbruster to be one of the main cogs in this year's swimming team, and his loss is a severe jolt, since no other free-styler of his calibre remains.

Walters Tuesday was chosen for the second year as an all-American swimmer. Edward T. Kennedy of Columbia university, editor of the intercollegiate swimming guide issued by the National Collegiate Athletic association, placed the Iowa ace sixth in the 50 and seventh in the nation in the 100 yards events.

In the meantime, despite the jolt, Coach Armbruster began daily workouts with the remainder of his squad in preparation for the Midwestern A.A.U. swimming meet at Omaha, Neb., Jan. 15. Iowa will be represented by an eight or 10-man team, and will try to regain the team championship they held for a number of years prior to 1935 when not enough men competed to give the Hawkeyes a chance for the team trophy.

Who will make the trip has not been decided yet, and Coach Armbruster indicated that time trials might be held in order to facilitate choosing of a team.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Drake scored its second consecutive Missouri Valley conference basketball victory last night by defeating Washington university, 44 to 33. The Bulldogs defeated St. Louis university here Monday night.

St. Mary's Cagers To Meet Cedar Rapids Quintet Tonight

With Paul Hennessey, guard, definitely out of the contest because of a torn ligament which he received in the game with Central of Ft. Madison, the St. Mary's basketball team will journey to Cedar Rapids tonight to meet a veteran St. Patrick's quintet.

Ray Cole will probably fill in the vacancy left by Hennessey quite capably, but this will put a decided crimp in St. Mary's list of capable substitutes, Pat Bannon being the only other man on the squad with any first team experience.

The Cedar Rapids boys have been flashing a high scoring attack in the early games of the season, and with Hennessey out of the game, the Marians will need to be doubly alert to stop them.

With the exception of Cole for Hennessey, the St. Mary's lineup will probably be the same as it has been since the start of the season: Chadek and Jack Beck, forwards, Schmidt, center, and Haloubek and Cole, guards. In a scrimmage with the alumni, Monday, Pat Bannon looked very impressive, and is likely to see plenty of action tonight.

Swimmers Are Honored

Four Iowa Mermen And 2 Relay Teams Rated All-American

Four University of Iowa swimmers and two relay quartets have been awarded All-American ranking in the selections made by Edward T. Kennedy of Columbia university, editor of the intercollegiate swimming guide issued by the National Collegiate Athletic association.

Besides Ray Walters, who was ranked sixth in the 50 and seventh in the 100 yard dash, Dick Westerfield was honored for the third time in the 150-yard back stroke. In 1935 Westerfield was ranked third, in 1936 he dropped to fourth, but regained third position in this year's rankings.

George Nissen, three-times national champion tumbler, was awarded eighth place in the nation in fancy diving. Nissen volunteered to dive in several meets after other divers had been lost to the squad, and his performances were adjudged all-American quality.

Robert Reed was ranked 10th in the 150 meter free style. Old Gold relay teams were placed fifth in the 400-yard free style and fifth in the 300-yard medley relay.

Writers Select Baseball Team

DiMaggio And Medwick Lead in Votes For All-Star Nine

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 4 (AP) — Somewhere there are two members of the Baseball Writers association who would leave Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees off an All-Star baseball team, and there are four writers who would pass up Joe Medwick of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The fact neither of the hard hitting outfielders was an unanimous choice created some mild surprise about an All-Star team named by 247 baseball experts and announced today by the Sporting News. DiMaggio got 245 votes and Medwick 243.

As could be expected, the World Champion Yankees dominated the team, although the two leagues divided evenly, with five players each. In addition to DiMaggio, the Yanks placed Pitcher Charles Ruffing, First Baseman Lou Gehrig and Third Baseman Bob Rolfe.

The team, with the number of votes each player received for his position, although not necessarily his total vote, was:

Bartell nosed out Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox by one vote for shortstop, while Rolfe was chosen for third base over 14 other players, led by Harland Clift of the St. Louis Browns with 45 votes and Art Whitney of the Philadelphia Nationals with 36.

Vernon Gomez of the Yankees got 57 votes for a pitcher's berth, and Lou Fette of the Boston Bees received 34. Bill Dickey, the Yanks' catcher, trailed Hartnett with 105 ballots.

Riggs, Grant Win Second Round Tilts

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 4 (AP) — Five seeded players, headed by Bobby Riggs of Chicago and Bryan "Bitesy" Grant of Atlanta, survived the second round of the Miami Biltmore tennis tournament today in matches marked by only one upset.

Charles Harris of West Palm Beach, Fla., seeded fifth, was eliminated by lanky George Toley of Los Angeles, 8-6, 6-4.

The only other defection in the seeded eight was the default of Bernie Coghlan of Los Angeles to Bill Hardie of Miami in a scheduled first round match. Coghlan was seeded eighth.

Iowa To Open Big Ten Card

Indiana Team Coming Along Fast After Slow Start

Iowa's question mark cagers, hampered during their last three non-conference games by injuries to key men, will open their 1938 Big Ten basketball schedule in the fieldhouse Saturday against the fast-developing Hoosiers from Indiana.

The Hoosiers, after a slow start, have been coming along fast and are hoped to start the Hawkeyes off on the wrong foot. Last night they upset the powerful Illini team in a thrilling 51-46 battle at Bloomington.

The non-conference record of the Indiana team reads four victories as against two defeats. On a trip to the west coast last week they defeated U. C. L. A. and Southern California on successive nights. They also hold a decision over Nebraska, champions of the Big Six last year.

The Hawkeyes have won four of their seven games. Their last win was over Butler on Dec. 18, and since then they have been beaten by Toledo, Michigan State and Marquette.

Lineup in Doubt

The Iowa lineup for Saturday's game is still in doubt because of the injuries to Benny Stephens and Capt. Sam Johnson, high-scoring forwards on the Hawk team. Stephens will probably be in the fray for most of the 40 minutes but his injured foot has not responded as desired and it will probably keep him from hitting his usually fine style. Johnson may be kept out of the game entirely as he has been bothered by a back injury incurred when he fell on the ice.

The two replacements for the Iowa front line will probably be Richard Hobbs and Tommy Lind.

At the guard posts Coach Rolfe Williams will probably start Nile Kinnick and Kenny Suesens although Joe Van Yseldyk, who plays both forward and guard, is sure to see some service. Kinnick has taken over the scoring honors on the Iowa team with 45 points, taking the lead from Stephens who trails with 43.

Jack Drees seems sure to get the call at the pivot position but he has been hard pushed lately by Dick Evans, Chicago sophomore who starred as an end during the football season.

Iowa Harriers Sponsor Track Mixer Tonight

The annual University of Iowa track mixer will be held in the River room of Iowa Union this evening at 7:15 with all freshman and varsity members asked to attend.

The mixer is an annual "get-together" sponsored by the track team to promote good feeling and for the discussion of various subjects of interest to track men.

The feature of the evening will be a talk by Sedad Sara, a member of the 1936 Turkish Olympic track team, now enrolled as a graduate student in the political science department. Mr. Sara is a former member of Robert College, an American college in Turkey, and of the University of Brussels. He has enrolled at Iowa for the express purpose of preparing himself for diplomatic service when he receives his degree.

Sara to Speak

Mr. Sara will speak on "Athletics in Turkey and how they differ from American sports." He will also discuss the club system prevalent in his native country. This is a system whereby athletic clubs are organized for the enjoyment and entertainment of the community. From these clubs most of the members of the Olympic teams are chosen, rather than from the colleges, as is the rule in this country. He will also answer any questions which pertain to the subjects.

Further entertainment will be provided by the presentation of track movies. These movies will consist either of shorts from the Olympics or from the last national collegiate meet. A display of trophies won by the Hawkeyes during the past season and of equipment will supplement Mr. Sara's talk and the movies.

James Lyle, varsity co-captain, will act as toastmaster.

Northerners Hold Upper Hand Throughout Contest

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 4 (AP)—A bewildering passing attack tonight gave the University of Minnesota basketball team a 37 to 25 upset victory over Notre Dame before a near-capacity crowd of 13,600 spectators.

The Gophers, who drew the acclaim of sports fans in their two game appearance at Madison Square Garden last week, presented a spectacular attack that had the visitors back on their heels during virtually the entire contest. Only once was Notre Dame able to draw up to within two points of a tie score but that situation did not prevail more than a minute.

City High Coach Seeking Scoring Punch For Team

Striving for a smoother brand of floor work, Coach Francis Merten put his City high cage squad through a lengthy drill yesterday, placing emphasis on fundamentals and under-the-basket work.

In an attempt to add scoring punch to the offensive drive, the Little Hawk mentor is now working on plays that will shake the forwards loose for close range shots.

Resting just below the Clintonites in league standings, the Hawket club will seek a second place tie with the Clinton quintet by a victory in Friday's meeting on the home floor.

Meanwhile, Coach Herb Corrack's freshman — sophomore squad furthered preparations for the Clinton encounter with another workout on offensive play. After dropping their opening league game to Davenport, the local yearling representatives have been successful in three consecutive conference starts and are making a strong bid for league supremacy.

In yesterday's session Ted Lewis and Virgil Parker held down the guard posts, Merrel Goldberg worked at center, with Don Laughlin at one forward and Bob King and John Graham alternating at the other forward position.

Williamsburg to Oppose U-High Cagers Friday

With three weeks of concentrated practice under their belts, the University high basketball team will open the second half of their current basketball season here Friday night when they attempt to avenge their last year's defeat at the hands of Williamsburg.

Starting the season slowly, the U-high quintet has improved rapidly and by virtue of their undefeated record in loop competition, they have come to be regarded as the team to "reckon with" in the Little Eight conference.

The team is in excellent physical condition and although they have played no games during the past three weeks while many of their loop rivals have, they have engaged in several practice games and have drilled hard in an attempt to smooth out their weak points.

AT LAST Comfort Furnished For 'Expectant Fathers'

CLEVELAND (AP) — It's true about the declining birth rate, but: The reclining birth rate — for exhausted expectant fathers — goes on at the same rapid pace.

They say so at Cleveland's Maternity Hospital, where the expectant father is a specialty. They've even installed a "lying-in" room for him there.

Nurses walk with him, soothe him. He can phone all his friends. If he has to wait too long or is too exhausted by his floor pacing, he may lie down and sleep — if he can.

The Misses Olive King and Olga Holl, two of the hospital's waiting room attendants, tell about some of the expectant fathers.

There was the friend who paced the floor more than the father-to-be. "When the news came that the baby finally was born," says Miss King with an appreciative smile, "the friend had to lie down and rest."

"We have our real trouble with the men who can be easily excited about most anything," says Miss Holl. "Yet many another man may be just as concerned but sit down with a pipe and book."

Boy or girl? "Sometimes," continues Miss Holl, "the fathers are so confused after they hear the result that they can't remember what we tell them. Some rush to the telephone, call their friends, then rush back and ask: 'What did you say it was?'"

Homelike waiting rooms, generously supplied with newspapers and magazines, are provided for the expectant father. Sometimes the poor wretch waits as long as 48 hours. In cases like that he is urged to walk outside, or go to a restaurant for food and coffee.

But not all male maternity cases are fidgety.

"We just had one," says Miss King, "whom we called at his office during the day and told him everything was successful. 'Thanks,' he replied, 'I'll be done tonight.'"

"It was that father's fifth child."

MISSES ONE SESSION Bahaman Legislator Sets Record

By The AP Feature Service

NASSAU, Bahamas — One thing about Speaker W. C. B. Johnson's record in the Bahamas House of Assembly burns him up — he had to miss one meeting in 49 years.

Speaking of that session Johnson declares: "Nothing can restore to me that one meeting I missed. Truly, it is a cancer on my score."

He blames his doctor, Johnson developed a leg infection and, as he explains it: "One day the doctor said to me: 'Willie, my boy, at your age this sore looks malignant and I suspect cancer. I advise you to fly to Miami and consult a specialist.'"

Johnson did that. Finding the ailment was not serious, however, he hot-footed it back to the Assembly.

During his half-century in politics, Johnson has gone to the House through storms that kept almost all the other members away. Once, he fell from a bicycle, injured his leg and went to the House that night on crutches.

A strong campaigner at 73, he has a legislative record that is perhaps unsurpassed. Lord Beaverbrook, at a luncheon in his honor here, expressed surprise on learning that Johnson had been an Assembly member two years longer than Lloyd George, father of the British House of Commons, had served in Parliament.

Itches For Action

In 1936, after Johnson had been Deputy Speaker for 27 years, the King appointed him a Companion of the Most Noble Order of the British Empire. He was elected unanimously as speaker, the highest office in the giving of the Bahaman voters, in December of the same year.

"I don't like the speaker's chair," Johnson confides. "I sit up there itching to enter into debate or make a motion, or take a jibe at someone, and it is all I can do to contain myself. But these privileges are denied the presiding officer."

Iowa City Mercury Ranged More Than 100 Degrees in '37

Four degrees below zero! That isn't tomorrow's weather forecast, but merely the lowest Iowa City temperature during 1937.

The mercury fell to the sub-zero reading three times early last winter, Jan. 9 and 23, and Feb. 10.

Scoring upward to span more than 100 degrees during the year, the fluid topped 98 degrees on that hot day last summer, July 10. Remember?

A Dual Personality Polly Thomson More Than Helen Keller's Eyes, Ears; Mutual Spirits

This is "Helen Keller Tribute Year," to mark the 50th anniversary of the association between Helen Keller and the late Anne Sullivan Macy. The period ends next March. Nearly everyone knows the story of the famous blind woman and the teacher who helped her break through her dark, silent existence. Few, however, know about Mrs. Macy's successor. In the following story, Charles Norman takes you on a visit to Helen Keller's home and introduces you to her new companion and the rest of her household.

By CHARLES NORMAN AP Feature Service Writer FOREST HILLS, N.Y.—This is the story of a Scotswoman, four dogs and Helen Keller. They all live in a cozy house here on Long Island. The Scotswoman is Polly Thomson, who has just become an American citizen, although that doesn't mean her burr can be naturalized, which is just as well. She is Miss Keller's new companion and guide, and a photographer and I are calling on them.

Here come the dogs loping into the parlor to have tea with Miss Keller, Miss Thomson and their guests. The dogs don't have tea, of course, but they get cakes. A Famous Irish Woman Miss Keller's dog, Wendy, a Shetland collie, sits beside her. Miss Thomson's dog, Helga, a Great Dane, is much too big for that, but she manages to snuggle pretty close. The others, having devoured their cakes, lie on a sheep rug before the fireplace and blink into the flames while we talk.

Then there is Herbert, who treads quietly and speaks softly and wheels in the tea table at the proper moment and then wheels it out at the proper moment and who remains discreetly removed, but within hearing. Herbert long has lent a helping hand in the affairs of Miss Keller's household.

There used to be an Irish woman in that household, too, a very famous Irish woman, but she is dead. And there used to be a fifth dog, who came all the way from Japan and died very young.

A Devoted Life It is the household of Helen Keller, the miracle woman who became deaf and blind at 19 months and who, beginning at the age of seven, was taught to speak and to read Braille, the language of the sightless, by Anne Sullivan Macy, her constant companion and guide for 49 years. Mrs. Macy died last year, and her last words were: "Oh Helen, Oh Polly, my children."

It was notice, if any were needed, that she had taken Miss Thomson to her heart, just as she had taken a little girl in Tusculum, Ala., 49 years before, and devoted her life to her. Miss Thomson has been a member of the famous household since 1914. It was a happy accident that took her there. She had been visiting an uncle in the United States. Mrs. Macy was looking for a likely young woman who could relieve her of some of her tasks and carry on if something happened to her. One day the brown-eyed, brown-haired Scots lass presented herself for the job. Once you have seen her with Miss Keller it is difficult to imagine anyone else in her spotlight role.

Going Express What is her day like? "I get up at 5:30 or 5:45 to take a walk, because I have to sit so much with Helen," Miss Thomson explains. "Then there is breakfast at eight, and I read the day's news to her by lip or by hand." In the former method, Miss Keller places her fingers on Miss Thomson's lips; in the latter, Miss Thomson uses the finger alphabet, with her hand in Miss Keller's. She can do 85 words a minute that way "when I go express." She "goes express" at the theater or movies.

"Then there are the letters to read and answer—stacks of them," she goes on, "and work on articles, and the many things that have to be looked after to keep the house running, and schedules to make and keep when we travel." She rolls her words with a delightful Scotch burr. Her face is friendly and capable. To conclude that she is merely "the eyes and ears" of Miss Keller would be as unjust as it would be untrue. There is a deep communion between the two women which becomes evident as soon as they sit down together. Their faces light up simultaneously as Miss Thomson's nimble fingers gallop along the track of silent speech in Miss Keller's palm.

World Citizenship It is no wonder that Miss Keller says, in the halting tongue of one who has never heard human speech, with Miss Thomson keeping pace to translate: "I am glad that Miss Thomson is a citizen of the United States now. But we must not forget our citizenship of the world."

Miss Thomson had been entertaining her visitors several minutes when Herbert escorted Miss Keller into the living room. The two women sat side by side on a sofa. There was something solemn in the atmosphere, a quietness to match the quiet by which Miss Keller lives. Then Miss Thomson introduced the visitors, spelling out their names with a nimble lilt, speaking the words aloud.

The national drive against social diseases was mentioned, and Miss Keller's expressive face became animated. "I am so thankful," she exclaimed, "that I lived to see it. I look forward to the time when all scourges will end—the scourges of disease and ignorance. Syphilis causes blindness; syphilis and scarlet fever cause deafness. Deafness and blindness will go when diseases go."

A Manifest Spirit She looked thoughtful for a moment, then she said: "My heart nearly stopped for joy when I learned a nursery for blind children in Boston was nearly empty because precautions were being taken with newly-born infants by putting silver nitrate in their eyes."

When you hear her talk you feel there is a light behind those eyes that don't know the light of day, and that a spirit dwells in her that is in close communion with the men and women she meets. Only someone like her could have drawn Mrs. Macy and Miss Thomson and Herbert to her; only someone like her could make Wendy and Helga and the other dogs

DAMASCUS STEEL Dentists Find Secret Mental Process

By The AP Feature Service CANTON, O.—A legend from the Holy Land may hold the key to a revival of the ancient art of making Damascus steel.

W. Stuart Carnes, a dentist who gave up his profession to study archeology and manufacture dental equipment, asserts he has re-discovered the process of the metal ascribedly known only to an old Syrian family in the city of Damascus. Their swords had a flexibility, hardness and temper never duplicated.

Tempered in Blood Carnes turned to archeology for a clue to this lost art. From tablets in the Holy Land he learned of the legend that told how a fine sword was made.

A Syrian, according to this fable, went at midnight and in the dark of the moon into the eastern desert, accompanied by a giant Nubian slave. The Syrian carried a sword he had forged secretly. Far out on the desert he set a charcoal fire, fanned by the servant. When the color of the heated blade matched the orange of the rising sun the Syrian grabbed the sword from the fire and plunged it through the heart of the slave. This tempering in blood, the legend avowed, gave the blade its flexibility and hardness.

Keeps Process Secret Carnes said that, despite the utter fantasy of the tale, he took a "gambler's chance" and followed the process insofar as he could, using an unrevealed "warm fluid" instead of blood. The result, he said, was a blade that rivaled the steel of the ancient weapon.

Blades Carnes produced by his secret formula have been demonstrated before steel executives and metallurgists. Among the tests of flexibility and hardness of his product are bending the blade until the tip touches the hilt, shaving hair from his dry arm, and driving a blade through sheet steel without destroying the sword's edge.

Dr. Carnes will leave soon for the Yucatan for exploration in the land of the ancient Mayas, where already he has made several discoveries.

Oil Drilling Test May Disturb the Dead

EVANGELINE, La. (AP)—If United Brethren in Christ No. 1 comes in a gusher, there may be a busy time in a corner of the church cemetery.

It is a test oil well the United Brethren in Christ congregation here is drilling in its burying ground, located on the west bank of the Evangeline boom field. Ten feet from the well's boiler is a thick marble tombstone with a cross atop it. The derrick is nearby in a fenced-off section of the cemetery. The oil venture is financed with church funds.

Though the United States paid Panama $10,000,000 for the Canal Zone rights, it still pays an annual rental of $250,000.

Washington World

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, D.C. — When the World War broke out in 1914 I am convinced that not one American in 1,000 believed that the United States would be involved in it.

Sentiment was that it was a crazy struggle, which we had nothing to do with and had no inclination to break into than any sane person would have to jimmy an entrance into a lunatic asylum, as a volunteer patient. President Woodrow Wilson's neutrality proclamation had almost unanimous popular endorsement. A very few folk said we were making a mistake to be so pacifistic at the outset—that we would stand a better chance of keeping out of the embroglio by asserting ourselves sternly immediately. But they were mere voices crying in the wilderness. And then, after all, we got into the thing.

This time, with about as nasty a situation simmering, our overwhelming inclination seems to be to try to remain neutral by assuming a threatening attitude. Our few pacifists are accused of being dangerous, by being so pacifistic.

Believes In Neutrality
Although undoubtedly in a microscopic minority, I still am not entirely cured of the idea that the best way to be pacifistic is to be outspokenly pacifistic.

I always liked Sen. Gerald P. Nye's neutrality law. I am acquainted with the argument that belligerents will be emboldened to stamp on us if assured that we will stay neutral anyway, but I do not believe that foreign belligerents will interpret it as literally as that.

And I have considerable sympathy with Rep. Louis Ludlow's proposed constitutional amendment, calling for a popular vote to authorize an American declaration of war.

I am sure the Ludlow amendment will be unadopted, but not that it is 100 per cent deficient in merit.

A Referendum Desired
As matters stand the president cannot declare war. Congress has to vote the declaration.

The president, to be sure, can create a state of affairs which amounts to war, leaving congress no option but to declare it. There is no check, however, on congress. Ludlow wants a possible veto on congress also.

Antis' Arguments
Anti-Ludlow-ites reason that a plebiscite would take too long—that a prospective enemy already would have done his "dirty work" while the ballot was in progress. They assert likewise that "pro" and "anti" war Americans would clash at the polls, dividing the country. Finally, they contend that congress is representative—and that it would be un-representative for a popular vote to over-ride it on such an issue.

Would Delay Count?
Well, militarily speaking, there might be a little delay—some say 60 days for the plebiscite; some say 48 hours. From the professional fighter's standpoint time is important; on that ground he is entitled to consideration.

As to war, however, the "antis" are entitled to be heard as well as the "pro" faction, even if relations are strained between them.

Hobo Chief Protests Against Daylight Time

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — J. Leon Lazarowitz, describing himself as president of the "Rambling Hoboes of America," recently stopped in Billings long enough to send a letter to the United States supreme court asking that his case concerning daylight time be reviewed.

Lazarowitz said the adoption of daylight saving time last summer caused him the loss of an hour's sleep each day because freight train schedules were on daylight saving time. Most towns through which he travels use standard time, he explained.

The papers, which he sent to Chief Justice Hughes, were drawn in the office of the United States attorney here.

Lazarowitz said he had filed a similar petition in the United States circuit court of appeals in Philadelphia last August but it was not docketed.

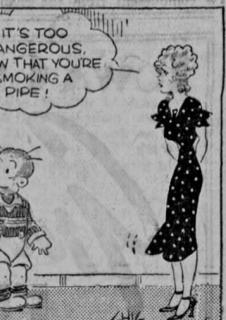

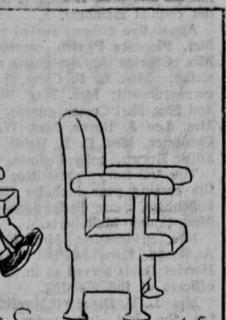

New Fishing Resort Planned for Mexico

MEXICALI, Mex. (AP) — For years a little colony of Japanese and Mexicans have been making a meager living from totuava, or Mexican sea bass, which abound in the Gulf of California.

Now the Mexicali Chamber of Commerce and other organizations are asking the federal government to build a 135-mile road to the fishing village of San Felipe and open up the waters to sportsmen.

They believe large numbers of American fishermen would be attracted because of the village's proximity to the United States.

Keeps Flavors Separated
Always store leftover vegetables in separate dishes in the refrigerator. Even though they are to be combined later, the flavors will be better.

HOSTESS HINTS

Johnny cake it is, but what a Johnny cake! It's not the usual type of cornbread which requires the support of meat, vegetables and salad but a revolutionized variety that can stand alone — a fitting climax to the most festive meal. The new year finds an old favorite turned into a dessert and going by the name of Marshmallow Johnny Cake.

Marshmallow Johnny Cake
1 cup cornmeal
1 cup cake flour
3-4 tsp. soda
2 tsp. baking powder
1-4 tsp. salt
1 cup sour milk
1-2 cup molasses
2 tbsp. butter (melted)
1 egg (beaten)
1 cup applesauce
3-4 cup brown sugar
2 tsp. cinnamon
5 marshmallows

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Combine sour milk, molasses, melted butter and beaten egg. Add to first mixture, stirring just enough to blend. Pour half of batter into buttered square pan and spread with a mixture of applesauce, brown sugar and cinnamon.

Pour over remaining batter and bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for approximately 30 minutes. When cool cut in squares and top each serving with one marshmallow, which has been cut in half. Then place in oven or under broiler until marshmallows are puffed and golden brown. Serve at once.

Engaged

Margie Fastenow, A4 of Peterson, pictured above, passed the candy last night at the Kappa Alpha Theta house announcing her engagement and approaching marriage to Robert Tumler, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Tumler of Peterson. The wedding will take place in the spring. Miss Fastenow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fastenow of Peterson, will be graduated from the university at the end of this semester. She has been a member of Union Board, the freshman orientation, Sophomore Cotillion and freshman reception committees and the Frivol staff and was supervising editor of the Hawkeye. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, secretary-treasurer of the senior class and a staff writer on The Daily Iowan. Miss Fastenow was Iowa's nominee for the Drake relay queen last year. Mr. Tumler, a member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity, attended the university three years.
