Socialists Given Demo Foothold, Bailey Charges

North Carolina Senator Fights Anti-Lynch Bill

South Determined To Maintain White-Black Difference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—An angry charge that northern "socialists" have captured powerful positions in the democratic party came today from Senator Bailey (D-NC) when he took the floor to fight the anti-lynching bill.

These men, he said, are trying to force the bill upon the south. He bluntly declared that the attempt might split the party asunder.

The southern filibuster against the measure was a full week old today and the end was nowhere in sight.

Taking the floor late in the afternoon, Bailey said the south was determined to maintain state government as "a white man's government."

"We'll not yield," he said. "We'll not let anybody take the democratic party away from us. It is an institution down there. And no matter what happens, we will still be there in the same old democratic party."

"When we won the victory of 1932," Bailey said, "we won it as a democratic party. Then a group of socialists swooped down on the party and they have not left."

"You can do what you please about the Negroes in Pennsylvania and the other states," he declared, "but when you come down to North Carolina and try to impose your will on us—in that hour, so help me God, you'll learn a lesson you'll never forget."

Laborite Asks Job Assurance

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The senate unemployment committee heard a labor spokesman deny today the often-repeated assertion that the best way to end the business recession is to restore the confidence of business men generally.

That argument, said A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, is "fundamentally fallacious."

"As I see it," he continued, "the only part which confidence plays in this important problem, is the restoration of the confidence of the working people of this country, which will come from assuring them of jobs with fair pay and thereby enable them to buy automobiles, homes and other commodities and services which the present American standard of living requires."

For the committee it was "railroad day" The only other witness was J. J. Pelney, president of the Association of American Railroads. He testified that the prosperity of the carriers and their employees was inextricably bound up with the prosperity of the country as a whole.

"Recent trends in railway employment and purchases show that a decrease in railway traffic and revenues quickly reduced the ability of the railways to contribute to employment, both of their own men and men who manufacture the goods the railways buy and use," he said.

SEATTLE, Jan. 12 (AP)—A cargo-handling dispute which closed this port Wednesday was settled amicably tonight.

"The port will open at 10 a.m. tomorrow," said M. G. Ringenberg, manager of the Seattle Waterfront Employers' association.

Man Throws Dog In Sewer; Reward For Arrest Is $10

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12 (AP)—For the arrest of a man who threw a dog his automobile ran over into a sewer—a $10 reward was offered today.

The dog, a cocker spaniel, was pulled from the sewer by a butler who said he saw the accident. A veterinarian who offered the reward said the dog had a 50-50 chance to live.

Japan Launches Shantung Push

Nippon Military Groups Advance Westward Along Railway

SHANGHAI, Jan. 13 (AP)—Japan launched an inland drive from Tsingtao today in an effort to hasten the conquest of rich Shantung province.

Japanese troops arrived at Tsingtao railway, expecting to effect a quick junction with other Japanese forces advancing into Shantung from different bases.

These were the first army forces to reach Tsingtao, occupied by marines since Monday.

A Japanese embassy spokesman indicated China's "scorched earth" policy had resulted in unusually heavy losses in Shantung, where Japanese owned properties were valued at 1,000,000,000 yen (about $290,000,000).

He charged the Chinese were carrying out "a sweeping policy of looting and destroying" Japanese properties, from which "none seemingly are escaping."

"Judging from the Japanese settlements thus far examined," he said, "we anticipate that all will be destroyed by the retreating Chinese."

The Japanese-dominated provisional government at Peiping already was making plans to extend its control over Shantung as fast as Japanese forces advance.

The Peiping regime, according to reports through Japanese channels, was ready to assume collection of taxes in the province of 34,000,000 population and take over customs at Tsingtao.

Mayor Defends U. S. in Nazi Relief Attacks

Harry Kulas and family with their long-delayed relief check

Cleveland's relief situation, which drew attacks in German newspapers on the ground that the American government was allowing 65,000 relief clients to "starve in Cleveland streets," is relieved temporarily as relief clients get their checks for long-delayed orders for food, rent, fuel and shelter. The food orders were released after an emergency session of city council which passed legislation asking the county to certify that funds would be available to the city to match state funds. The checks made thousands of families happy, none happier than the Harry Kulas family pictured above. Mayor Harold

H. Burton came to the defense of the U. S. government against the German newspaper attacks, declaring the state of Ohio and not the federal government was to blame for the relief crisis. Legislators from rural areas have been reluctant to grant sufficient funds for relief in large cities.

Tenth Body Recovered in Mine Blast As 30 Men Fight Way Through Fumes

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 12 (AP)—The 10th body was recovered tonight from the Harwick Coal company's mine which was shattered by an explosion earlier in the day.

E. W. Budy, vice-president and general manager of the Duquesne Light company, which owns the mine, said the last four bodies discovered by the rescuers were so badly burned they could not be identified immediately. Another man also was unidentified.

He identified the other victims as: Thomas Keffer, 38; Joseph Koprivinkar, 41; Frank Harpster; Joe Prelesnik and Matt Anderson, 59, mine foreman.

Judy said one more man was still unaccounted for, making the possible death toll 11.

Hundreds of residents of the little mining village of Harwick, located about 20 miles east of Pittsburgh, milled about the tangle during the long hours and a masked rescue crew of 30 men fought its way through fumes and debris below.

For hours after the blast wrecked two sections of the big mine, shortly before noon, there was a chance that the 11 missing men might have survived.

Early tonight one man, George Bertram, a trackman, was found unharmed.

Six hundred are normally employed in the mine, situated about 20 miles from Pittsburgh, but the working were idle today and only 46 foremen and repairmen were underground at the time of the blast.

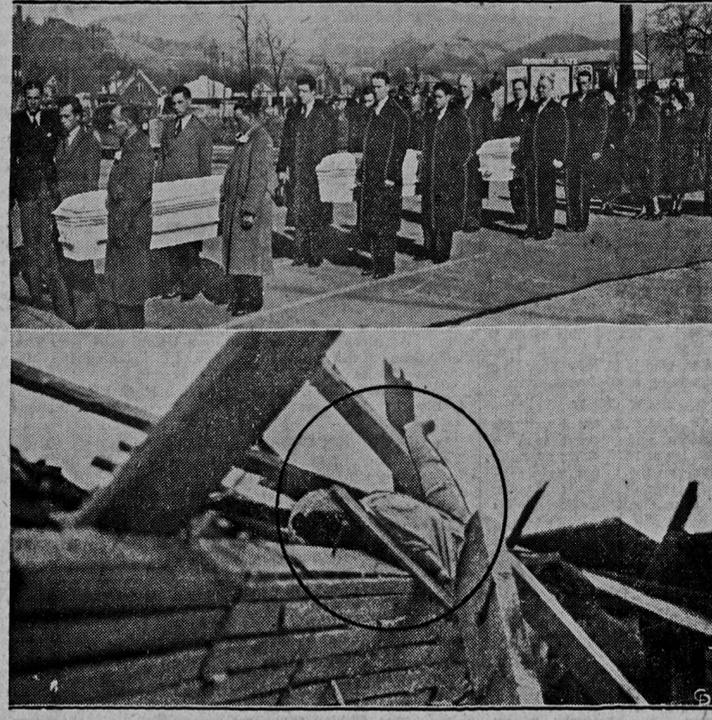

Scenes at the mouth of the mine, operated by a subsidiary of the Duquesne Light company to supply coal for its power plant, were similar to those of Jan. 25, 1904, when a blast tore through the mine, killing 182. Only one man escaped that explosion.

Sobbing women and children gathered with the idle miners from the little community of Harwick as rescue crews climbed into the elevator and went down the shaft.

Children Burned

MECHANICSVILLE, Md. (AP)—Three Negro children were burned to death yesterday in a fire which destroyed a tenant house on the farm of Amos Rollins near Dentville.

Throng Attends Services for Child Blast Victims

Top, start of the funeral procession; below, a doll owned by the Gouge children, blown on a raft.

More than 10,000 persons attended funeral services at Elizabethton, Tenn., near Knoxville, for the three little daughters of Harmon Gouge, killed when their home was mysteriously dynamited. It was the largest funeral in eastern

Tennessee history. In the explosion, said to have been a "vengeance" plot, Gouge's wife also was seriously injured. Gouge is at liberty under $10,000 bond in the slaying of Arnold Tollett. Four persons, including Tollett's sister, were held for questioning in the dynamiting. Photos show a doll, owned by one of the Gouge girls, blown on a raft and funeral procession.

Clipper Flamed Before Men Knew of Danger, Latest Reports Indicate

Japan to Give Recognition To Peiping Regime

Observers Say Action Taken at Imperial Conference

TOKYO, Jan. 12 (AP)—Japan was reported today to have decided to recognize as the legitimate government of China the provisional regime established in Peiping under the Japanese army's aegis.

Foreign observers said they believed this was the action taken at yesterday's imperial conference, presided over by Emperor Hirohito, of highest government, army and navy officials.

Akira Kamazi, chief secretary of the cabinet, was drafting a statement on the conference which a foreign office spokesman said may not be issued for several days or possibly a week or longer.

Kamazi today conferred with Foreign Minister Koki Hirota to arrange a liaison meeting between the cabinet and imperial headquarters for taking new measures in accordance with the imperial conference's action.

United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew received 7,000 yen ($2,035) raised by public subscription through the newspapers Nichi Nichi and Mainichi for victims of the United States gunboat Panay.

After the ambassador expressed his "deep appreciation for the apparent sincerity of feeling" in which the money was offered, he said it was the American government's belief its nationals "should not receive nor take direct benefit from sums of money thus offered."

He said he would hold the sum in expectation that a prominent Japanese would constitute himself receiver for such gifts "to be devoted to something in Japan that will testify to the good will between the two countries."

Identify Most Of Crash Dead

BOZEMAN, Mont., Jan. 12 (AP)—Identification of all but two of 10 men who died in the crash of a Northwest Airlines transport plane 14 miles northwest of here was announced tonight by Coroner Howard Nelson as an inquest in the tragedy was opened.

Three of the victims were identified Tuesday, and five more this evening by relatives, who recognized bits of jewelry, belt buckles and other metal found when the bodies were taken from the twisted wreckage of the airliner, which crashed high in the Bridger mountains late Monday.

The bodies were all charred beyond recognition by the flames which enveloped the craft when it struck the ground.

Partial identification was made of the body of D. McKay of the Hudson Bay Co., Winnipeg, by a memorandum book found in the ashes of his clothing. Mrs. W. E. Borgenheimer of Basin, Mont., tentatively identified the remains of her husband.

The five others, identified at the inquest, were Walter Ton, postoffice inspector of St. Paul, Minn.; I. E. Stevenson, Seattle; Ted Anderson, St. Paul, mechanic for Northwest Airlines; Al H. Croonquist, Billings, Mont., traffic manager for Montana for the airlines, and G. A. Anderson, Spokane.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—President and Mrs. Roosevelt motored to the home of Supreme Court Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo today to express their distress over his serious illness.

To High Court?

Judge Florence E. Allen ... has she a chance?

Should President Roosevelt decide to shatter precedent again by naming a woman to the vacancy on the U. S. supreme court bench, observers agree she would be Judge Florence E. Allen, formerly of Cleveland. Judge Allen, 53, unmarried, now is a judge of the Sixth U. S. circuit court of appeals, with headquarters in Cincinnati. She is a former Ohio state supreme court justice.

Bill Authorizes Building Many Naval Vessels

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The new bill to strengthen the fleet will authorize a huge construction program embracing all types of naval vessels, Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the house naval committee announced today.

Vinson said the legislation was ready for introduction and would be offered as soon as the president sends his message to congress detailing the program. This may be done tomorrow, Vinson said.

The Georgian declined to say how many ships the program would propose, but his assertion that it would apply to "all categories" dispelled a rather widespread belief that it would be restricted to heavy cruisers and aircraft carriers.

Some committee members said the plan called for 20 per cent increase over the tonnage limitations of the defunct London naval treaty and one asserted an initial outlay of $125,000,000 was in prospect.

The new bill would continue an existing 10 per cent limitation on profits shipbuilders could earn on navy contracts.

"I see no reason to change our policy in this respect," Vinson said. "The bill will follow the general outlines of the present law except as to construction limits."

While many committee members hailed the proposed building program as a desirable warning to foreign powers that the United States intended to be prepared to defend itself, they also viewed it as offering much-needed assistance to the nation's heavy industries.

Stalin Conducts Opening Session Of Red Regime

MOSCOW, Jan. 12 (AP)—Soviet Russia's first red parliament, with Joseph Stalin as the central figure, conducted its opening session with machine-like precision today, electing officers and adopting agendas without debate.

The two houses of the legislature, or supreme soviet, met at different hours, the soviet of the union holding its session in the afternoon and the soviet of nationalities in the evening.

Pan American Reveals Events Prior to Crash

Statement Says Captain Was Performing Usual Routine

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12 (AP)—The flaming clipper disaster which took the lives of Capt. Edwin C. Musick and six crew members in the south Pacific evidently occurred before the men knew they were in danger.

Pan American Airways issued a statement indicating Captain Musick was performing the usual routine method of dumping excess gasoline when the fuel became ignited and engulfed the 21-ton plane in flames.

"From the most thorough possible search of the area conducted during the last 20 hours," said the statement, "it is indicated that the Pan American survey plane, Samoan Clipper, was destroyed by a sudden fire, resulting from the dumping of surplus fuel, when preparing for a landing at Pago Pago with one of its four engines not functioning, at approximately 8:30 Tuesday morning."

"Thirty-eight minutes after taking off from Pago Pago harbor, en route to New Zealand, the Clipper reported that due to an oil leak in one of her four engines the brake had been set on the propellers of this engine, and that they were returning to the base."

"At this point, a preliminary quantity of fuel was released through the emergency dump valve provided for this purpose. In this message the Captain indicated that the situation was entirely normal, stating that he planned to land back at the base at approximately 8:30, and that he would give the complete details after landing. No other messages were received."

Frank Defends Private Profit

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Dr. Glenn Frank, chairman of the program committee of the republican party, today urged that free American enterprise under capitalism be given a chance to exercise itself without interference from selfish private interests or "foggy minded politicians."

"We must see to it," he told a luncheon of the New York board of trade, "that neither private monopoly nor public planning is permitted to hamstring the buoyant energies of our national enterprise."

The former president of the University of Wisconsin said at the outset he was not making a political speech, and remarked he was the least "political-minded" of living Americans, and did not regard any political party as a means to an end.

"Save for a few dramatic exceptions," he continued, "we have not seen a great deal of this sort of courageous, flexible and competitive free enterprise in recent years. And the reason we have not seen it is that short-sighted private enterprises and foggy-minded politicians, sometimes separately and sometimes in collusion, have done things to this American system of free enterprise that have seriously crippled it and left it open to the challenge of its more radical critics."

Ford Plant Workers Say They Lost Jobs For Union Activity

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 12 (AP)—Three Ford Motor company employes today told a national labor relations board examiner they were dropped from the company's payrolls after they had joined a union, but recently had been recalled to work.

All were called by the NLRB as witnesses in a hearing on charges the Ford company had engaged in anti-union activity at the Buffalo plants.

WPA Worker Boondoggles Bankruptcy Petition Reveals $1,275,502 Debt, Assets of $1

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 12 (AP)—A WPA worker filed a voluntary petition of bankruptcy in federal court today listing liabilities of $1,275,502 and assets of $1.

"I guess I was too hoggish," Emanuel Pappas, WPA foreman on a $25 a week salary, asserted in explaining how he came to owe more than a million dollars.

"Years ago I acquired 65 houses through another bankruptcy—not my own," he said. "My income from the properties rose $135,000 a year, but look at me today, I'm broke." Pappas said his income was wiped out in the 1929 market crash and he was forced into bankruptcy when creditors attached his $25-a-week WPA salary.

Goose-egg, Compromise Or Action

AS WITH most American institutions, politics is governed by tradition. The chairman of the successful party's national central committee is rewarded with a cabinet post, usually the postmaster-generalship. Most diplomatic positions are filled by party men, and in almost every community the man most valuable to the party is given the local postmaster's job. These may be merely customs, but usually they are also facts.

Another fact is that since the American Civil war when President Abraham Lincoln, a republican, issued his Emancipation proclamation which ultimately resulted in freeing the Negro slaves, the democratic party could, time after time, count on the "solid south" in its columns.

But just now, judging from the Washington dispatches, that is no longer a certainty. For eight days the southern senators have been debating with rancor and sizzle the anti-lynching bill in a continuation of the filibuster of the last session. In the heat of the battle more than one southerner has declared, as Senator Bailey did yesterday, that attempts by the administration to pass the bill may "split the party asunder."

Bailey said northern "socialists" have captured powerful positions in the party; Tuesday Senator Pat Harrison gave the blame to "certain Negroes who are dictating party policy."

Probably, of course, the filibuster talk is mere political chest-beating. In spite of what its senators say, we believe the "solid south" will be solidly democratic for some years to come.

The threatened party split is important, then, but not the only problem presented by the filibuster. As the second week comes up with no end in sight, political observers are beginning to wonder if congress is in for another "goose-egg" session. As in the special session, a lot of talking has been done, but they have been words without action.

There are at least a dozen problems before the senate now. One of them is the wages and hours bill; another, the farm relief legislation and still others are the business recession, the labor split and a dozen other major projects. These problems are pressing. They need action now.

So, when we read such statements as Senator Bilbo's that he may "speak for 30 days" in argument against the anti-lynching bill, we wonder if the senators—those on both sides of the question—might not be better off if each gave in a little; compromise can answer most disputes.

But if, as seems conceivable, no agreement can be reached, we suggest postponing action for the time being. Then the administration might bring the issue up again near the end of the session, after some of the present bitter feeling has died.

Looking At War and Peace: NEXT MONTH the University of Iowa will become a center of students working in peace organizations. What attitudes, in view of the international crises of the day, will these American university students express toward war and peace?

If we can take the attitude expressed in national student conferences held during the holidays as a measure, a more liberal view will be found.

A startling change in student attitudes was expressed that surprised the world as much as did the Oxford peace pledge polls did last spring. Then students vowed never to fight in any country's war, but all that has changed. Even in Oxford university itself, only one student group now supports a stand similar to the Oxford pledge; other British students are rallying around a collective security plan.

We believe that on this campus, where last spring students favored the Oxford vow, a changed attitude will be reflected.

Indications of changing viewpoints are found in the conventions of the American Student Union, the National Intercollegiate Christian Council, National Student Council, and the Medical Students association which take more militaristic stands now.

The Christian council declared, "we do not understand it to be the role of Christian peacemakers to attempt to secure peace through national isolation and self-concern," and that acts of military aggression undertaken by any nation cannot be justified.

The Medical Students association and the Student Union urged quarantine of aggressor nations and the National Student Federation requested a navy strong enough to defend the country and uphold the Monroe doctrine.

It is interesting to note how attitudes change under pressure of national sentiment, propaganda, and seemingly intolerable acts of aggression.

It reminds us of a college physics experiment. Only a skilled singer, we once proved, could hold a tone without raising it when another singer near him raised his voice to a higher note by imperceptible gradations.

Likewise, as the general public sentiment has become less pacifistic, student sentiment has also changed.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

CONFIDENCE: BEFORE a special senate committee on unemployment and relief, William S. Knudson, president of General Motors, declares that confidence is needed to revive business. The same word is the keynote of half the present discussion of means for restarting business and employment.

Confidence—and the Ickes-Jackson attacks frighten and anger thousands whose feeling determines whether money will be invested and employment furnished.

Confidence—and the General Motors lay-off advertises hard times for thousands of workers and the businesses which sell to them.

Confidence—and congress revolts against economies which might keep the budget from running beyond a billion-dollar deficit.

Confidence—and business men go to extremes in preaching distrust of a president and congress popularly supported.

Confidence! Is this the way to produce it? Do the hate and suspicion engendered by talk of a "sixty-families" conspiracy start the wheels of industry turning? Do the hate and suspicion engendered by talk of "third new deal communism" open the way to new jobs?

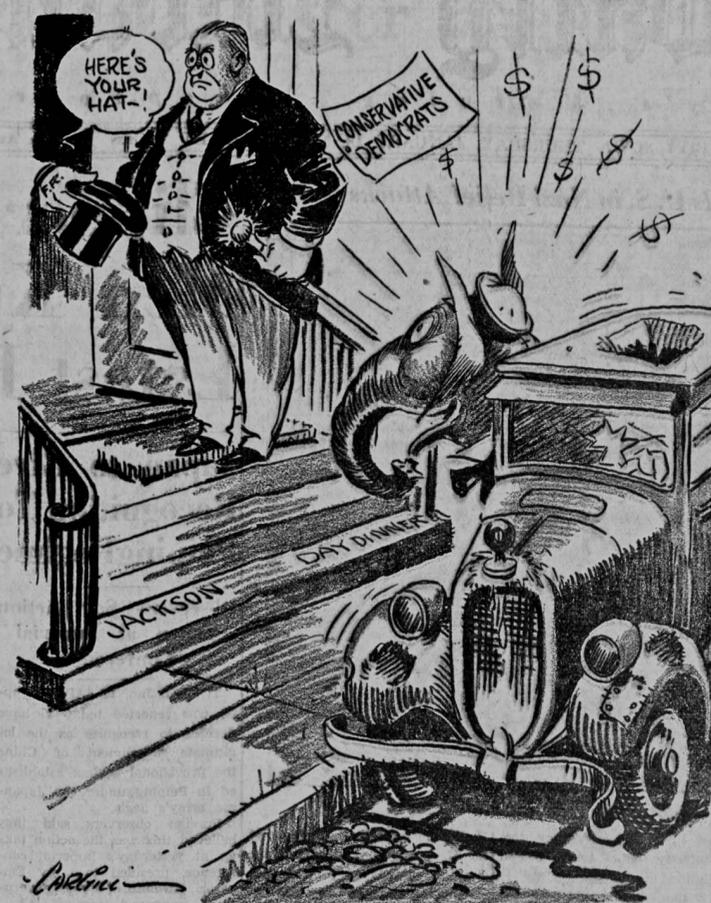

How, then, is confidence to be created? Where does it start? Mr. Knudson was asked if the General Motors lay-off helped and he said it was necessarily caused by a sharp decline in buying. What were the reasons of those who stopped buying? They may have decided to wait because the price of cars had just been boosted. They may have lost their own jobs because someone else had overstocked and temporarily stopped buying. Or because men with money to invest had found that the prospects for profits were very uncertain under present governmental policies and attitudes.

Impartial students of the situation agree that all of these factors entered into the business recession. Economists find dozens of good reasons and differ widely as to the relative importance of political and economic mistakes. Possibly the first requisite for confidence is to stop assuming that either business or government produced the recession out of a cut-off-its-nose-to-spite-its-face malice. Capital doesn't go on strike if it sees profits ahead. And government doesn't purposely kill the capitalist goose which lays the golden egg of taxes. But both business and government have miscalculated.

In so far as wrong motives are governing, one step toward confidence is to expose and remove them. In so far as mistaken economic or political theories are to blame, calm examination and correction of them are necessary to sound confidence. But is not the first step to confidence a cessation of generalized charges of suspicion and hate? Some measure of trust is essential if men are to live together at all. And fundamentally the need is for truth and trust among them.

Dietetic Needs of Child Listed; Same Foods Good for Adults

We emphasized yesterday that the dietetic needs of the young child came under six heads: milk, eggs, a cooked green or yellow vegetable, a raw leafy vegetable, fruits (especially orange, grapefruit or tomato), whole cereal or bread.

Also it was pointed out yesterday that the young house mother does not need to cook two sets of meals—one for the children and one for the grownups. What is good for the grownups is good for the children. It is true the adult does not require as much milk nor whole wheat or whole grain cereal as the child, but milk and cereal has an intestine sensitive to the whole grain, and the adult probably can handle meat better than the child.

Milk is needed for growth more than any other thing, although it is a kind of general elixir of life. For the growth of bone, the formation of teeth and the replacement of the baby teeth by the permanent set, some substances are needed more than others. Of the ones most needed calcium (lime) and phosphorus are found abundantly in whole milk. To supply the amount of calcium and phosphorus needed, the child should have one quart or four cups of milk a day, either as a drink or combined with other foods. There are many ways of putting milk into foods—cereal cooked with milk, cocoa for breakfast, cream soups, custards, fruit whips, etc. Cottage cheese contains lots of protein, calcium and phosphorus.

Eggs are necessary, because a quart of milk does not supply enough protein necessary for a growing child. They also supply fats and iron and sulphur. One egg a day is enough, and one egg and one quart of milk a day will fulfill the basic needs of a child for body building materials.

Minerals valued at $722,222,000 have been produced in Alaska since 1880. U. S. department of interior statistics show. The territory was purchased from Russia in 1867 for the sum of $7,200,000.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Personal notes off a New Yorker's cuff: Katharine Cornell got her start playing maids, scrub-women, and minor roles with the Washington Square Players at the old Comedy theater. . . . Fritz Kreisler's father was a Viennese surgeon. . . . He used to play the violin, too, until his son took up music and became better. . . . The best of the holiday stories was about Dick Maney, the press-agent, who exhibited a Christmas card from Ina Claire in the lobby of a theater. . . . "Let me see it," pleaded a by-stander, touching it reverently. "Just think, this card was probably touched by Ina Claire's secretary." . . . An unusual and delightful place is the new Sherry's—the one with Louis XIV, with its soft blues and golds and those four Gobelin tapestries which used to hang in the salon, with its mirrors and plate glass cases, is illuminated with chandeliers of French gilt bronze and crystal. Nothing else quite like it anywhere in New York.

Forecaster: Three years ago in our predictions for the new year, we prophesied that S. M. U. would defeat Stanford in the Rose Bowl. Final score S. M. U. 0, Stanford 7. Two years ago we said Washington would defeat Pittsburgh in the Rose Bowl. Final score: Pitt 21, Washington 0. Last month we made it unanimous by selecting Alabama to whip California. Score: Cal. 13, 'Bama' 0. Now we know what Rhetf Butler meant when he said to Scarlett O'Hara: "Southerners just cannot resist a losing cause."

It isn't really sarcasm that a well-known artist is nicknamed "tick." The truth of the matter is that when he gets with convivial company he sticks with it until everybody runs out and speeds away in taxicabs. He can't stand to be alone.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS: HOLLYWOOD — Now that all the critics have had their say about the past year's "bests" in the movies, it's interesting and revealing to check up on what the public had to say on the subject—at the box-office. Oddly, in view of the legend to the contrary, the paying public and the non-paying critics were not too far from agreement. Before me now is a comprehensive chart on box-office strengths prepared by National Box Office Digest, a trade weekly issuing from Hollywood, which rates the 1937 releases for monetary value. "Sarotoga" in First Place: Box-office smash of the year (according to the Digest) was "Sarotoga," which did 71 per cent above normal business. Not a "critic's picture," this had the pulling power of Clark Gable plus the "freak draw" of Jean Harlow's posthumous appearance. Next came "After the Thin Man," included on at least one critic's "ten best" list. "Waikiki Wedding"—"Bing Crosby, Martha Raye, Bob Burns—and fourth, "The Awful Truth," 61 per cent above normal and a popular "ten bester."

The other "ten box-office bests" included "Thin Ice," "Maytime," "The Plainsman," "Lost Horizon," "One in a Million," and "A Star Is Born." Of these, "Lost Horizon" and "A Star Is Born" made many "critic's choice" lists.

Below these, but far above normal, are found such films as "100 Men and a Girl," "Stella Dallas," "The Good Earth," "Captains Courageous," "The Prisoner of Zenda," "Dead End," "Stage Door," "The Life of Emile Zola," and "Camille," each of which has found its way to more than one critical "ten best."

Divergence On Starless Film: Of course, "Wee Willie Winkie," (Miss Temple) is rated equally with "100 Men and a Girl," and such hodgepodes as "Double Wedding" and "Artists and Models" have outdrawn — so far — both "Zola" and "Camille" and half a dozen other critically approved films.

Critics and public diverged most startlingly on "Make Way for Tomorrow," which is credited with a flop at 32 per cent under normal business. (It had no stars.) JIMI-T

Mrs. Glen M. Waters of Minneapolis, Minn., will talk on "The Movies for Better or Worse" and briefly on the fellowship program in place of Mrs. F. G. Atkinson, who will be unable to come. MRS. J. L. POTTER, Secretary.

Ph.D. Reading Test in German: On Wednesday, Jan. 19, at 3 p.m. in room 103, Schaeffer hall, a reading test in German will be given for graduate students desiring to satisfy the language requirement for the Ph.D. degree. GERMAN DEPARTMENT.

By G. K. HODENFIELD

Contrary to some reports, the University of Iowa football team is not in the market for any more football games for the 1938 and 1939 seasons.

Another University of Iowa baseball player has decided to follow the lure of the fifty lucre. Dan Sherman, sophomore from Des Moines, signed up with the Chicago White Sox yesterday and will report to officials of the Dallas club in the Texas league at once.

The big leagues are at least showing what they think of the tutoring of Iowa's baseball coach, Otto Vogel. Three Iowa players have signed contracts with majors within the last year.

Both of the University of Iowa's home swimming meets this year will be contested over the 150-foot length of the pool in an attempt to break records set in the U. S. Naval academy tank.

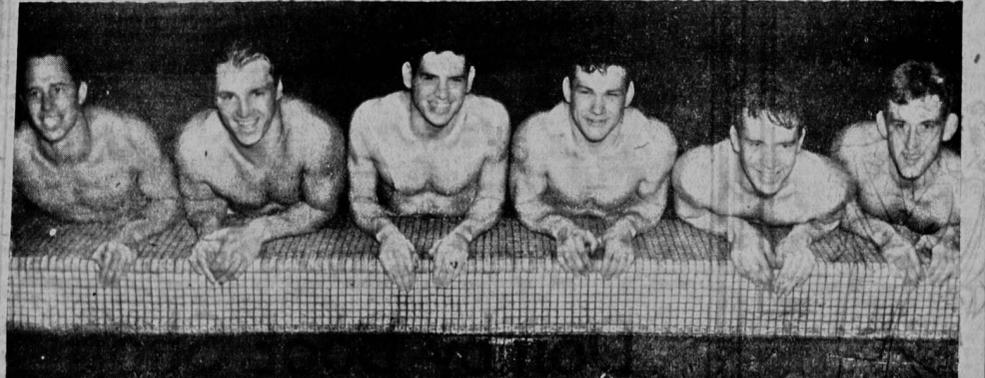

Ten national inter-collegiate marks have already been set in Iowa's huge pool. In no other pool have more than six marks been made, the official list of records, correct to 1938, shows.

No wonder Iowa's pool is called the "fastest" in the nation. Pick Dehner, present Illinois center, is now playing his second year of Big Ten basketball.

Hawkeye Swimmers To Leave Tomorrow

Hampered by injuries and ineligibilities, the University of Iowa swimming team will leave for Omaha, Neb., by auto tomorrow afternoon in quest of the Midwestern A.A.U. swimming and diving crown, one of the most sought-after team titles in the middle-west.

Coach David Armbruster has been forced to revamp his lineup again and again, and after yesterday's workout he finally announced his eight man team.

Matmen Leave For Wisconsin

Hawkeyes Tangle With Badger Grapplers Tomorrow

Iowa's promising wrestling team will leave early this morning for Madison, Wisconsin, where it will engage in the second Big Ten dual meet of the season tomorrow night against the University of Wisconsin grapplers in the Badger field-house.

Coach Howard said that he plans to arrive in time to give his team a good workout this afternoon in the Wisconsin gym and give the boys a chance to limber up before the meet.

Practice for the Hawkeyes has been devoted largely to time trials all week with each grappler going the full nine minutes.

Probably the same lineup that trounced the Northwestern team last Saturday will again appear tomorrow against Wisconsin. The Badgers lost to Iowa State last Saturday, winning but two bouts and earning a draw in a third.

Wisconsin is reported to have one of the strongest squads in the history of the school in spite of last Saturday's defeat and have a much improved team this year.

All-University Relay Carnival To Get Under Way Tomorrow

The colorful All-University Relay Carnival gets underway tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at the fieldhouse when the preliminaries of the field events are held. The events to be held are the pole vault, shot put, running broad jump and high jump, and the 25 pound weight throw.

Coach George Bresnahan announced the heats of the Inter-society relay yesterday afternoon. In the first heat, to start Saturday at 3:30 p.m., are Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alpha Delta Pi, Delta Delta Delta, Russell house, Currier hall, Chi Omega, and Kappa Alpha Theta running their lanes in that order.

Hawkeye Swimmers To Leave Tomorrow

Neither Francis Heydt, promising sophomore back-stroker, nor Ray Walters, free-styler, will make the trip. Both have been ill.

Coach Armbruster announced that Arney Christen, lithe little diver who has an excellent chance of becoming one of the country's better springboard men, will not compete in the Omaha meet.

Hawkeye Swimmers To Leave Tomorrow

Christians, Allen, Reed, Armbruster and Cochrane will swim free style, Allen and Lowry will paddle in the breast stroke, while Bremer will be a lone entrant in the back stroke.

Iowa State college, which usually competes in the A.A.U. classic, will not enter this year, it was learned yesterday, because of a dual meet scheduled with Gustavus Adolphus college in Minnesota.

Hawkeye Swimmers To Leave Tomorrow

The River team plays its third Little Eight conference game on its own floor against West Liberty tomorrow. So far, the U-high quintet is undefeated in loop competition.

High Ranking Numeral Men To Get Awards

Athletes who ranked high scholastically among the freshman numeral winners in ten University of Iowa sports during 1936-37, will be awarded scholarship cups by the Iowa board in control of athletics.

The highest-ranking athlete was a tennis player, Steve Fouchek of Creston, who made a 3.75 for 28 semester hours.

Nile Kinnick, of Omaha, Neb., sensational sophomore Big Ten football star this year, trailed Fouchek with a 3.61 for 28 hours.

The cup-winners in the other seven sports are: Stephen Cox of Keokuk, baseball, 3.40 in 30 hours; Howard Krouse of Des Moines, wrestling, 3.28 in 32 hours; Bob Osmundson of Forest City, basketball, 3.21 for 28 hours; James Barron of Iowa City, cross country, 3.21 for 28 hours; Ed O'Connor of Des Moines, swimming, 3.20 for 28 hours; Jim Hoak of Des Moines, golf, 3.13 for 30 hours; and Edward Elliott of Ft. Madison, track, 2.93 for 32 hours.

With the loss of Suesens, Coach Rollie Williams will probably start Joe Van Ysseldyk and Nile Kinnick in the back court positions.

In last night's practice Williams gave Floyd DeHeer, big center and letter winner for the last two years, a chance with the varsity against the frosh in a rough scrimmage.

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, batted out the announcement today that he's going to let the government decide the home run merits of big league baseballs.

Government Tests New Ball

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, batted out the announcement today that he's going to let the government decide the home run merits of big league baseballs.

"I've worked out an arrangement with the bureau of standards," he said, "to test the so-called National league dead ball and the so-called American league rabbit ball."

Griffith—a considerable pitcher in his playing days—hastened to add that this doesn't mean he's going to throw up strikes for Uncle Sam's scientists to swing at.

"This experiment," he said, "will be a mechanical one. Machines will do all the slugging and nobody will do any pitching."

A human test was held in Baltimore Monday and a trio of sluggers from the American, National and International league knocked both balls over the fence with deadly regularity.

"Those guys," said Griffith, referring to sluggers Jimmy Fox, Chuck Klein and Charlie Keller, "can sock any ball just about any place under certain conditions."

The Senator's president didn't say so, but there is deep suspicion his "certain conditions" included a pitcher named Johnnie Wittig, the chucker in the experiment.

Wittig pitches for the Baltimore Orioles, and league records show—games appeared in, 4; games lost, 1; games won, none.

The trio of home run hitters whacked 18 of Wittig's pitches over the fence. But that didn't bother him. He said he was enthusiastic over the new National league "dead ball."

"The raised stitches," he explained, "give the pitcher a better chance to curve the ball."

The bureau of standards, under the direction of Dr. H. L. Dryden, chief of mechanics and sound, is busy building the home run hitting machine.

U-High Cagers Preparing For West Liberty

Realizing that his team lacks any great scoring punch, Coach Wm. R. Wood has been stressing teamwork and defense, in the practices this week, in the hope that this will offset deficiencies of the Blue and White.

The River team plays its third Little Eight conference game on its own floor against West Liberty tomorrow. So far, the U-high quintet is undefeated in loop competition.

The cagers have been fortunate all season in that they have not had any serious injuries and they are all in good physical trim at the present.

Four of the regular positions on the team have been settled, but the fifth, the forward position as a running mate to Capt. George Miller seems to be a toss-up between three men, Ernie Krogh, Bruce Alderman and Bob Carson. These three men have been alternating at the starting position, with Krogh having a slight edge on the other two.

Capt. George Miller plays the other forward post, Ed Burns completes the forward line, while Ham Ries and Duane Carson handle the back court assignments.

Rugged Hawkeye Star Suffers Ruptured Blood Vessel During Basketball Scrimmage Tuesday

Hopes of the University of Iowa basketball team to make a two-game sweep of its Big 10 contests this week end were dealt a severe blow yesterday when it was learned that Kenneth Suesens, star guard playing his third year on the Hawkeye team, would not be able to make the trip.

Suesens ruptured a blood vessel in his left leg in Tuesday's practice drills and has been in the university hospital since. Doctors said he would not be able to leave the infirmary for four or five days.

With Suesens out of the lineup, the Iowa team will be heavily handicapped in its attempt to upset the Buckeyes of Ohio State at Columbus, Ohio, Saturday and repeat its victory over the Indiana Hoosiers at Bloomington, Ind., Monday.

To Use Van Ysseldyk With the loss of Suesens, Coach Rollie Williams will probably start Joe Van Ysseldyk and Nile Kinnick in the back court positions.

Van Ysseldyk was a regular guard for his first two years but has alternated at forward and guard this year. He ranks fourth in the Iowa scoring list so far this year with 45 points.

In last night's practice Williams gave Floyd DeHeer, big center and letter winner for the last two years, a chance with the varsity against the frosh in a rough scrimmage.

Williams used the entire squad against the yearlings in an effort to pick out promising material to patch up the gap left by Kenny Suesens' injury.

George Godfrey Scoffs At Report About His Illness

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12 (AP)—Big George Godfrey, his 307 pounds nattily disguised in a pin-stripe suit, grinned today at a report he had been found critically ill last week in a Long Beach, N. Y. hospital.

"That Godfrey back east must be too other gen'man, not me," said the negro pugilist.

"They've had me dead, blind and all washed up, but it ain't none of it true.

"I never felt better in my life. I feel like I can go 15 rounds right now with that Joe Louis fellow. No, I haven't got any fights lined up right now but I'm in training, just the same."

The eastern report states Godfrey's age variously as 56 and 38. "That's silly," said the former Black Shadow of Leipersville. "I'm 34. And I haven't got a gray hair in my head."

He took off his hat. His bald pate glistened.

Red and White Basketeers Go To Cedar Rapids

With both the offensive and defensive departments operating up to par, Coach Francis Merten has devoted this week's practice at the City high gym to general rehearsal of plays and set formations.

In yesterday's session a short scrimmage between the varsity and freshman—sophomore quintets followed a lengthy workout on fundamentals and under-the-basket work.

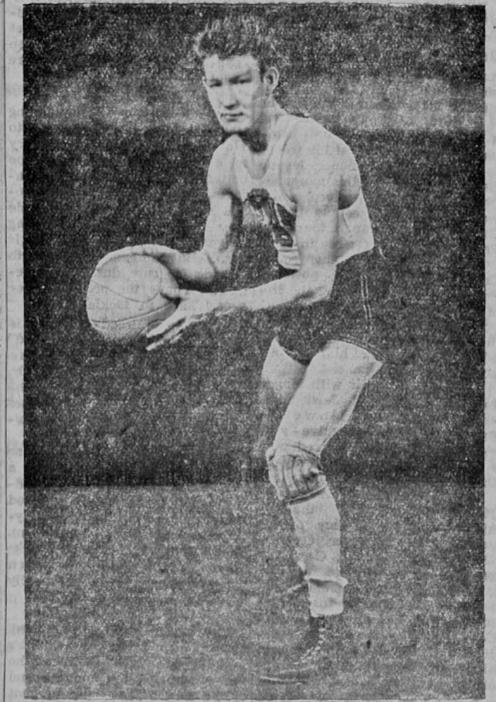

Screen plays have come in for a great deal of attention at the Red and White camp, as Coach Merten attempts to keep his scoring machine functioning at full blast by shaking men loose for close range set shots, as well as set-up opportunities.

His injured ankle responding nicely to treatment, Russell Hirt is back in uniform but still unable to participate in the heavier work. Hirt will probably see little action against Wilson high of Cedar Rapids tomorrow.

The vacated center berth created by Hirt's injury is being filled by George Devine, lanky Little Hawk junior. Putnam and Burger continue to hold forth in the rear court, while Covert and McLaughlin retain the forward posts.

Coach Herb Cormack's freshman-sophomore lineup remains intact as the junior Hawklets further preparation for what they hope to be their fifth consecutive league victory against Wilson this week. The local frosh-sophs rest just behind the league-leading Davenport and Roosevelt clubs in conference standings.

Senator Lewis Tips Oratorical Rapier With A Rose

By SIGRID ARNE
AP Feature Service Writer
WASHINGTON — There's a dignified, benignant quality about Senator J. Hamilton Lewis (he of the "pink" whiskers) of Illinois that deceives younger senators.

One of the young men on the republican side had been tearing into the senator for an hour. Growing bolder with Lewis' continued silence, he wound up with a demand that the senator answer.

Lewis rose quietly, smiled, and withered the younger man with the remark: "When I cross swords with such as my worthy, young friend across the aisle, I always tip my rapier with a rose."

Note to Postmaster-General "Jim" Farley: Some of the Christmas cards you mailed reached their destinations stamped thus: "Postage due, 1c."

There's a legend that Washington florists turn gray before 40.

It's the capricious Washington hostess.

Take the spectacular lady who bagged a visiting nobleman as her ranking guest. Twenty-four hours before dinner she learned that her guest doted on wine color.

She rushed to the town's best linen store and got a dinner set in wine-colored linen damask. Tucking one of the napkins into her purse, she rushed to a florist, demanded three dozen roses to match the napkin—at any price.

She got them.

The napkin was flown to a southern florist who dog-trotted through his hot-houses picking just the right shade of blossoms. They were rushed back by plane.

Bill: flowers, $36; plane, $300.

HE-MAN REIGN King Ignores Tradition Once Again

By The AP Feature Service
A practiced headline maker, King Carol II of Rumania has done it again by assuming a "strong man" role.

In the tense political atmosphere of Bucharest, he disregarded parliamentary pluralities by naming as premier anti-semitic and pro-fascist Octavian Goga.

But long before that, Carol had gained a place for himself among European royalty by a series of Graustarkian adventures. A grandson of Queen Victoria of England, he was one of the few kings to succeed his own son in the throne.

In 1916, as crown prince and a World War regimental commander, Carol deserted his troops to elope with a commoner, Jeanne Lambrino. Though this morganatic marriage was dissolved, a son was born to the couple before Carol gave up Jeanne to marry Princess Helen of Greece in 1921.

Then there was another son—Crown Prince Michael, now 16. For three years Carol led the life of a worthy heir to the throne, but before Ferdinand, his father, died, Carol plunged into a new adventure which cost him a throne when the chance came.

This was his affair with Magda Lupescu, red-haired Jewish divorcee whom he followed to France in 1925 into a five-year exile. His father countered with a decree in 1926 taking away all Carol's rights to the throne.

So, when Ferdinand died in 1927, Michael became "the boy king" under a regency of his grandmother, Dowager Queen Marie, and his uncle, Carol's brother, Prince Nicholas.

A shakeup in Rumanian politics, plus his family's forgiveness for his philandering brought Carol home by airplane in June, 1930, to take over the throne from his son, who reverted to Carol's old job as crown prince.

A series of cabinet crises have punctuated Carol's reign, but he has stuck to the throne and taught Rumanians to accept a strong-willed monarch.

Rebuffed in an attempted reconciliation with Helen, Carol has continued—in the face of considerable criticism—to play around with Madame Lupescu. And the paradox in the present situation is that anti-Jewish Premier Goga is said to side with the Jewish charmer against Carol's critics.

He took it with him as he campaigned on his state's back roads. At the proper moment he'd draw out the menu, glance at it solemnly and break out with this:

500 to Attend Maternity Meet

Bureau Attempts To Reduce Childbirth Mortality Rate

By The AP Feature Service
If you should read in your newspaper some morning that Scranton, Pa., had been wiped out in the night, but that two-thirds of those lives could have been saved except for carelessness you would be appalled.

But every year enough mothers and infants die in the United States in the months before or at the time of childbirth to populate a city the size of Scranton, two-thirds of them through negligence. The United States Children's bureau feels about it just as you probably do when you realize the situation—there ought to be a law.

Five Hundred Are Called
So the bureau is summoning 500 maternity health experts to Washington Jan. 17 and 18 to try to evolve some system for the better care of mothers and infants. That means money. Social security money is available now to help mothers during pregnancy and after a child is born. But there are no funds to provide for care during confinement. That's the problem these experts are to tackle.

One step, already taken, is teaching "planned motherhood" at public health clinics. Here are some recommendations. Dr. Lee Cockerille, of the Washington health department makes for prospective mothers in low-income groups:

Consult a doctor as soon as possible. Take a walk daily, a nap every afternoon, eat according to a special diet. A blood count helps—it shows up anything wrong with the system. Blood pressure should be checked once a month, often when the pregnancy period is nearly over.

Low Heels Advised
Low-heeled shoes are advised. There should be a thumb's breadth of space between the end of the big toe and the end of the shoe. That helps prevent over-balancing and tripping.

Nutritionists think the heavy meal should be eaten at noon in a program for well planned motherhood.

Here's an adequate day's diet for a mother on low income. Breakfast: orange, cocoa, whole wheat bread and butter. Dinner: meat balls, turnip greens, baked potato, corn meal bread with butter, custard and milk. Supper: thick vegetable soup, shredded lettuce, apple sauce, whole wheat bread, butter and milk.

You Try Here's How To Say 'Casadesus'

What's in a name? Robert Casadesus is finding his somewhat of a stumbling block in this country, while in Europe the name Casadesus is to music what Ford is to cars here.

But it seems that American audiences are being diffident about attempting to pronounce this four-syllabled word. For the benefit of puzzled music-lovers, we give the authorized pronunciation of the name of Casadesus: KA-ZUH-DEH-SU

Accent on the second syllable, and the final "u" pronounced as if it has a German umlaut over it. In other words, as if you were trying to say "oooh" and "eeh" at the same time.

"How does the radio sports reporter manage to keep tab on everything happening on the basketball floor?" You'll hear the answer to this question and many others when Jack Drees, A4 of Eau Claire, Wis., brings his University of Iowa Sports Review to the air tonight at 8 o'clock.

Drees will interview Bill Sener, G of Chicago, Ill., WSUI sports announcer for the basketball season, to give glimpses of the view from the announcer's booth.

Completing the half hour sports review, Drees will give a survey of the Big Ten basketball outlook and pre-season baseball information of the league teams.

Evening Music

James Kamman, A4 of Burlington, tenor, will sing on the Evening Musicale tonight at 7:30, accompanied by Ralph Deal, A4 of Des Moines.

Included in the program list are "In the Time of Roses," "Danny Boy," "Goodbye" by Tosti and "Panis Angelicus" by Cesar Frank.

Kamman has appeared several times on guest artist programs broadcast over stations WHO and WOC.

Faculty Women

Mrs. Adelaide L. Burge, dean of women, Prof. Nellie S. Aurner of the English department and Prof. Grace Cochran of the Romance languages department will give a picture of "Faculty Women at Work," on the A. A. U. W. program this evening at 7:45.

They will be interviewed by Emma Felsenthal, instructor in library methods.

Opium Set for Display

College of Pharmacy Receives 6 Drug Instruments for Museum

Opium raids usually end with the burning of all confiscated opium sets, but the last one in New York saved one set for the college of pharmacy museum to exhibit for educational purposes.

The opium set which was given to the university consists of six instruments—opium pipe stem, opium bowl, opium lamp, Chinese balance and weights, a Yen hock and a Yen gov. The set was made in China and has Chinese engraving upon it.

Dean Rudolph A. Kuever of the college of pharmacy requested one from Garland Williams, district supervisor of the bureau of narcotics at New York.

Due to the strict law stating that all opium sets seized must be immediately burned, Mr. Williams sent the request to H. J. Anslinger, commissioner of the bureau of narcotics in Washington, D. C. Mr. Anslinger answered the request by giving an opium set to the university to exhibit for educational purposes.

Before smoking the opium, a piece of opium gum, a dark brown substance, is cut off with the Yen hock, a small sharp knife and weighed on the delicate balance. The balance has an ivory beam and a small brass balance pan to weigh the opium. After the correct amount is obtained, it is placed on a steel needle about eight inches long and held over the lamp to roast and soften. This lamp is about seven and one half inches high and stands on a base with three iron legs, with a glass chimney covering the oil wick having an opening the size of a dime at the top.

The opium is held over the tiny opening at the top until it softens to about the consistency of chewing gum and is then placed in the opium bowl, a black, top-shaped contrivance. At the bottom of the bowl is a tube about one inch long which fits into the opium pipe stem. It has a tiny pin point opening through which the opium smoke is drawn out of the bowl through the opium pipe to the mouth of the smoker. The opium in the bowl does not burn but glows and smolders.

The opium bowl is cleaned out with the Yen gov, a knife like instrument. This used opium is reheated and used over three or four times.

March 15 Set As Deadline In Writing Contest

The activities of the sewing committee will be decided and the committee members named at a later date.

In appreciation of her services St. Anne's society presented a leather handbag to Mrs. Grimm. A social hour and refreshments followed the business meeting.

HOSTESS HINTS

Have you arrived at the point where all food looks alike to you and none of it very tempting? Then something must be done.

For variation you do not need to serve unpronounceable French dishes, nor to get all mixed up with a Chinese cookbook; just dress up the foods you've been serving every day till they look good enough to eat.

Instead of serving peas in a vegetable dish, try them on a platter in nests of mashed potato or mashed turnip, a nest or two for each person.

Bake gingerbread in a ring mold and fill the center with canned peaches topped with whipped cream.

Mash cream cheese and mix with a dash of cinnamon, sugar and a little vanilla and serve it with stewed fruit and crackers.

Crisp bacon minced with chopped endive and sprinkled with paprika and lemon juice makes a sandwich filling that is spicy and surprising. Another good sandwich to serve with hot vegetable soup and fruit salad for luncheon is one filled with a layer each of horse radish, crisp bacon and sharp cheese.

That old acquaintance, bread pudding, is still with most of us, but it can be made much more likeable by adding two squares of melted chocolate to the regulation pudding.

Vogue of Spinning Revived in Britain

LONDON (AP) — Spinning wheels, stored away since the 19th century, are being brought out of lumber rooms and turned merrily again.

The vogue of spinning and weaving crafts, once practiced by rich and poor throughout Great Britain, has been revived in recent years under the auspices of

Gets Break Alan Curtis Kept Stickin' Around

By HUBBARD KEAVY HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Alan Curtis, who has been hanging around Hollywood for more than a year, finally got his break. And if he doesn't become a star, then the Crawford charm has been jinxed.

For the careers of many of Hollywood's most important leading men took a turn for the better after they had appeared with Joan Crawford. And Curtis' first important assignment is a lead opposite her.

Eight-Year-Old Magic Joan romanced with Gary Cooper in "Today We Live," which marked the beginning of Cooper's greatest popularity. She kissed Clark Gable in "Dance, Fools, Dance" and Gable became a star.

She contributed to the elevation of a new personality when Francis Tone, who became her husband, scored for the first time in "Dancing Lady." Crawford, who always gets the best in leading men, also has appeared with—and aided their careers in so doing—Robert Taylor, William Powell, Robert Montgomery and Melvyn Douglas.

Joan's film kisses first indicated a magic touch when Johnny Mack Brown, the Alabama football star, was her suitor in "Montana Moon," eight years ago.

Way Goes Memory Curtis, a Chicago boy who posed for photographers in New York before he came to Hollywood, found Miss Crawford's first kiss in "Mannequin" confusing.

There was an uncomfortable pause after the first kiss, which followed their meeting by minutes. "What happened?" asked the director. "I'm sorry," stammered Curtis. "I forgot my lines."

Curtis is following Gable's route in Hollywood. Gable had to wait longer for recognition, but he also was the heavy in a Crawford picture. Curtis has a similar role.

Curtis was the hero of a seemingly endless series of film tests—by other people. It was one of these tests that got him the role in the Crawford film.

The Spinners and Weavers guild. Schools have taken it up as part of the curriculum and in most elementary schools simple weaving is taught. Spindle weaving is carried on in others but ordinary spinning is taught in only a few of the higher grade girls' schools, largely because of the high cost of the apparatus.

Male Birth Dominant Before War Period

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—The old belief that more boy babies are born in years preceding a war period is supported by Dr. William E. Peterson of the University of Illinois college of pharmacy—on the sun spot theory.

Prof. Peterson says there is evidence that sun spots, engendering emotional instability, have direct bearing on the predominance of male births.

He cites studies made during the height of a period of sun spot activity. The sex ratio of conceptions was 133 males to 100 females. A year later, during a period of lower sun spot activity, the ratio was 89 boys to 100 girls.

Dog Heads Needle Etching Uses Canine Design

Have you tried the new needle etching? For a gift (even for ourselves) a pair of towels etched—embroidered with our favorite dogs will be very welcome.

We can choose from seven popular breeds—Scottie, Boston bull, wire-haired terrier, chow, Pekingese, collie and cocker spaniel. All can be made in pairs.

They can be done on towels of smooth linen or a firm quality of handkerchief linen. The designs come ready for transferring with a hot iron.

The finished work looks like a delicate etching—it is done with one strand of cotton and a fine needle. All the short lines—which means most of the lines—are done with single stitches. The heads are in outline stitch. It is all a really very simple type of embroidery.

The etching idea may be cleverly carried out with a black or dark-brown strand-cotton on a white or natural-colored linen. For light colored towels, the stitching can be done in black and, for dark towels in white or gray.

A contrasting hem or a faced-back border in contrasting color may be used for a smart finish. For your own towels, use a one-inch hem. A guest towel is fifteen by twenty-four inches; smaller, sometimes, and fringed at the ends.

The dog heads are about three by three inches.

The world's first mutual savings bank was founded in Scotland in 1810.

Looking Glass Reflections

By VERA SHELDON

With the innovation of shorter skirts, feminine stylists have placed much emphasis upon hose for spring.

This year you will be choosing your hose to match not your costume but your mood. Whether it be sedate or gay, energetic or languid, retiring or anticipative, there is a shade of hose to harmonize.

Bright coppers, beiges and blonde shades, are shown widely to be worn with spring ensembles. Especially new is a very bright copper tone adaptable to grays, wines and blacks. A more conservative copper shade blends well with blue, gray or beige.

For general wear choose one of the charming neutral casts in a three-thread hose which is sheer, yet durable. Best worn with sports and town clothes is the blended, rose-brown beige. Have several pairs to wear with tweeds, browns, blues and blacks. Beige hose with a rosy undertone are flattering to brown and navy blue costumes.

Warm iridescent shades will also be worn widely this spring. Daylight tones come in blended versions keyed to costume colors. Evening lights bring out their warm undertones and change them into vibrant shades.

Beige shades—predominant, ranging from golden trends to rusks and warm browns. Charming with green is the one with a green overtone and a warm undertone. There is another vivid hose in the same shade especially complimentary to bright colors and blues. One number has been created in a light wine tone to be worn with wines, red berry shades and blues.

Despite the bid of lisle hose for popularity silk promises to be the fashion leader again this year. Lisle hose shown are very sheer and as expensive as silk. Some fine silk meshes will be worn in the summer.

When you wear very short skirts, best use full-length hose. The possibility is, however, that skirts will be slightly longer to accommodate knee-length styles.

American Medical Association Considers Program for Poor

School Teachers Will Take County Exams this Month

Prospective teachers in Johnson county rural schools will be given the regular uniform county examination Jan. 26, 27, and 28, according to F. J. Snider, county superintendent.

The tests will be given at the courthouse beginning at 9 a. m. This is one of the regular quarterly examinations given by the county superintendent.

Woman Put In Mental Hospital

WAVERLY, Jan. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Elias Watters, 38, who, police said, killed two of her children and wounded two others, was committed to the department for the criminally insane at the state hospital at Independence by District Judge M. F. Edwards here this afternoon.

The action followed the verdict of a jury of seven men and five women who deliberated 20 minutes that Mrs. Watters, who shot and killed her two youngest children at the Bremer county farm last Dec. 21, should be taken to Independence.

Dr. R. A. Stewart, superintendent of the state hospital at Independence, and Dr. F. R. Sparks, Waverly physician, both testified that she is a high-grade imbecile.

Local Groups To Cooperate In Free Care

Policy Needs Backing Of Every Society Within State

CHICAGO, Jan. 12 (AP)—The American Medical Association tonight announced a program aimed at furnishing adequate medical care for the poor.

An editorial in the association's journal reported many plans had been evolved in various localities under the leadership of county medical societies to provide medical service for "the indigent and those partially able to pay."

A movement has been instituted, it added, to "attempt to apply on a nationwide scale the best features of the numerous plans already in effect, utilizing in each county to the fullest extent the resources there available."

"Thereby it becomes possible," it set forth, "for the organization to act specifically as a clearing house in the initiation, development and functioning of what may well evolve into a comprehensive system of medical care for all the people according to the American plan of medical practice."

The board of trustees recently adopted resolutions defining the new policy. They stated:

"Resolved that the association stimulate the state and county medical societies to assume leadership, securing cooperation of state and local health agencies, hospital authorities, and correlated professions, welfare agencies and community chests in determining for each county the need for medical and preventive service where such may be insufficient or unavailable; and that such state and county medical societies develop for each county the preferable procedure for supplying these several needs, utilizing to the fullest extent medical and health agencies now available in accordance with the established policies of the association."

"Resolved that the board of trustees of the association establish a committee to cooperate with the bureau of medical economics in outlining the necessary procedures for making further studies and reports of the prevailing need for medical and preventive medical services; and that the secretary of the association arrange to develop such activities through the secretaries of state and county medical societies . . ."

Board Accepts Finance Report

General Fund Balance Equals $105,557 on Dec. 31

There was a balance of $105,557.14 in the general fund of the Iowa City public schools on Dec. 31, 1937, according to the financial report approved by the city school board last night.

The school house fund had a balance of $30,658.93 on Dec. 31, 1937, according to the report, and there were no receipts or expenditures during December.

Disbursements from the general fund during December amounted to $16,238.58 and there were no receipts.

Independents 1 And Tri-Delts Gain Victories

The Independents No. 1 defeated Tudor-Breene 25-14 in a fast well-played game in the women's intramural basketball tournament in the women's gymnasium last night. Excellent team work and spectacular field shots made the game the most exciting of the evening.

In the second game, the Delta Delta Delta won easily from the Independents No. 2 by a score of 27-12. The Tri-Delts played with more teamwork and less fouling than in Tuesday night's encounter with the Kappa Alpha Thetas.

The third game scheduled for last night was postponed because neither of the teams was able to be present.

Games will be played tonight at 7:15 and 8:15 in the women's gymnasium.

Board Desires Exact Elevation

Will Plan for Grading School Site Early Next Week

No action can be taken to further grade and excavate the Morningside site where the new high school will be built, until the elevation of the structure has been definitely decided, the city school learned last night.

Joseph C. Watkins, inspection engineer, advised the city school board to contact John L. Hamilton, Chicago architect, and obtain the exact elevation.

He said that if the elevation of the academic unit was to be 175 and if the elevations of the gymnasium and auditorium units were to be 170, approximately 26,100 cubic yards of dirt would have to be excavated.

Hamilton will submit exact elevations of the structure to the board as soon as possible and plans for letting the second site improvement contract will probably be discussed next week.

Hamilton has advised the board that he will finish his designs by March 1 and that the huge general contract for the school's construction can probably be let during March. The project must be started by April 1, according to PWA officials.

Watkins estimated that 1,629 cubic yards had been excavated last week when the first improvement project was completed. The site was graded to an elevation of 180.

Repair Statue Of Liberty At $158,000 Cost

The Statue of Liberty doesn't need a new dress or new shoes but she does need firmer underpinning. That's why the United States is spending $158,000 to repair the goddess.

Storms sweeping New York harbor have driven water under the base of the statue. It has seeped into the masonry supporting the 152 foot figure, so a protective plate of copper is being applied.

"The old lady," as she is nicknamed by sailors, has carried the torch in her forty-foot right arm for five decades. The torch is steady, but it needs new glass. Though sailors say the old lady needs a new dress she isn't going to get one. The green coating on her copper tunic is natural copper oxide caused by exposure. Unlike rust on steel, this oxide is protective.

Corn Liquor's Getting Harder To Take, Say Federal Testers

ATLANTA, Ga. — The fabled moonshine of southern hills and swamps, in spite of the tall tales told about it, makes a poor showing in the test tube. And, government experts say, "it is getting worse every day."

S. W. Holman, chemist at the Atlanta office of the Federal Alcohol Tax Unit, has been testing moonshine for 15 years. Of the modern crop, he says:

"Call it mountain dew, white lightning, white mule, Georgia, Carolina or Alabama corn, or what you will, it is loaded with stuff that ought to be used to make paint and embalming fluid. "And I am talking about what shows up plainly in analysis. There are peculiar odors and flavors of quality of modern moonshine comes largely from the "heads and tails," the first and last parts, of which we get only a trace. These, no doubt, come from cockroaches, chickens and small animals falling into the mash barrels and sometimes from a shovelful of barnyard manure tossed in to hurry up fermentation."

W. D. Herington, Alcohol Tax Unit District Supervisor, explains the decline of moonshine thus:

"We keep so hot after them they can't make good liquor. Most of them are shiftless and ill-informed, anyway, and would not do much better if we let them alone. Many of the good distillers have found legitimate employment."

Holman says the skull-popping still runs. The heads, he explains, are charged with aldehyde, closely akin to formaldehyde, a substance used in embalming fluid; the tails, with fusel oil, an ingredient of quick-drying paints and varnishes.

But illicit mountain and swamp distillers, seeking big profits, keep at it with furtive vigor.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester 1937-1938
 Saturday, Jan. 22, 8 a.m., to Saturday, Jan. 29, 12 m., 1938

The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the room in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (1), (2), and (3) as shown at N. B. below).

The program Committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation from this schedule, in the case of any examination—except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification on the student's written petition, filed in ample time and supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of completing examinations earlier will not be permitted.

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

If the student takes the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card.

In the cases of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the Schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examinations during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double vertical line.

Unless students are reasonably sure that their semester's work, including final examinations, is successful they are requested to call (within the 24-hour period following the conclusion of their final examinations) at the offices of the deans of men and women, appropriately, in order to learn whether any of their instructors have reported for them and if any student has reason to suspect that he will be his record for one or more courses, he is requested not to register until he learns that he has passed.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) This instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour Jan. 17 or 18; if possible, Jan. 10 or 11.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Monday, Jan. 24, 2-4, according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (125) meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Friday, Jan. 28, 2-4.

N. B. All sections of freshman Speech (1), (2), and (3) will meet during the examination week on the days and at the periods designated below. Consult the bulletin board in room 13, Schaeffer Hall, for room assignments.

Saturday, January 22—Section H, 8-10; Speech (2), 8-10.
 Monday, January 24—Section A, 1-3; Section E, 3-5.
 Thursday, January 27—Section I, 8-10; Section C, 1-3; Section G, 3-5; Speech (3), 3-5.
 Friday, January 28—Section D, 10-12; Section B, 1-3; Section F, 3-5.
 Saturday, January 29—Section J, 10-12.

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

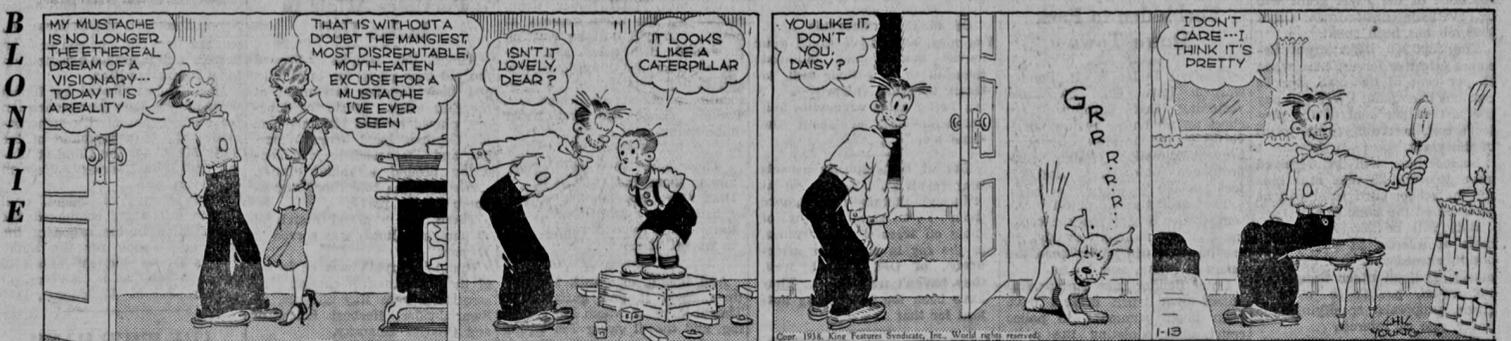

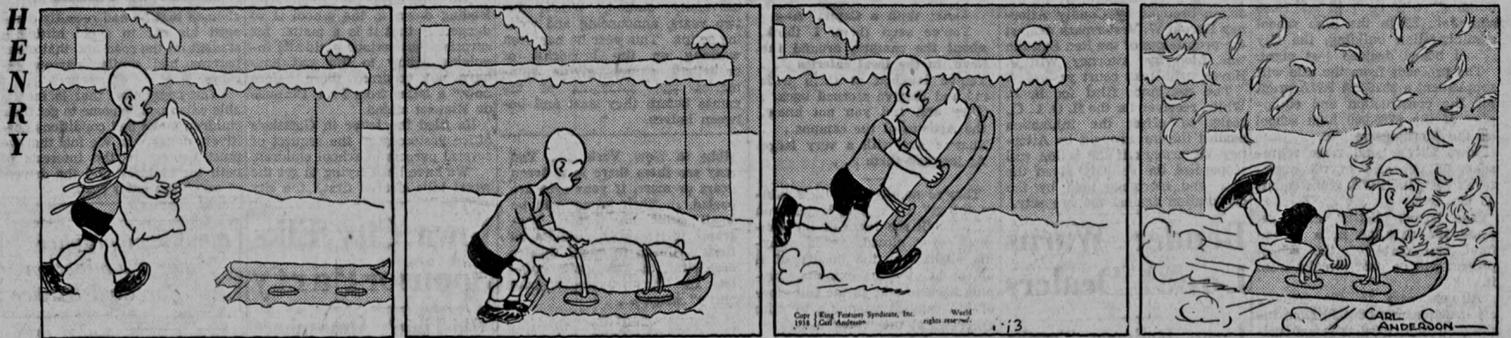

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from January 22 to January 28 inclusive.
 2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, since for such "odd" classes these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work; he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time."

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs.," unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F," even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card issued by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

H. C. DORCAS, Secretary Program Committee.

$398,750 High School Bond Issue Will Be Sold January 25

Proceeds Will Be Iowa City's Cost of $725,000 PWA Project

$326,250 Federal Grant Covers Remainder of Expenses

A $398,750 bond issue, Iowa City's share of the estimated cost of the new senior high school building, will be sold at 10:30 a.m. Jan. 25 in the high school administration building, the city school board decided last night.

The proceeds from the sale will supplement a $326,250 PWA grant for the construction and equipping of the $725,000 high school on the Morningside site.

Iowa City's bond issue represents 55 per cent of the structure's cost; the PWA grant equals 45 per cent.

The school district must set aside the $398,750 in a special fund and costs of the school project will be paid directly from it.

All expenses in the school's construction will be paid from the $398,750 fund until it is exhausted; none of the PWA grant will be available until Iowa City's $398,750 has been spent.

The $326,250 PWA grant becomes effective for use here when 55 per cent of the high school's cost has been paid. PWA will pay the last 45 per cent of the project's cost, according to the terms of the grant.

Sealed bids will be received prior to Jan. 25 and oral bids for the school bond issue will be received on the same day.

Bids will be received on the basis of interest at the rate of not to exceed four per cent annually, and all other things being equal, preference will be given proposals specifying the lower rate of interest.

The bonds will mature, according to the board's initial plans which will probably be changed before the sale, Nov. 1 of each year from 1939 to 1957.

The board intends to make the bonds mature semi-annually on the first days of November and May, which would cut the following preliminary bond payments in approximately half.

The initial bond maturities listed last night by the board and the years in which they would mature are:

1939, $9,000; 1940 and 1941, $17,000; 1942 and 1943, $18,000; 1944 and 1945, $19,000; 1946, $20,000; 1947 and 1948, $21,000; 1949 and 1950, $22,000; 1951, $23,000; 1952 and 1953, $24,000; 1954, $25,000; 1955 and 1956, $26,000; and $27,000 in 1957.

The printed bonds and approving opinions of certified bond attorneys must be secured by the corporation purchasing the bond issue.

The city school board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The sale of the issue was authorized in the Nov. 4 school bond election when more than 3,000 Iowa Citizens approved the question by a 3 to 1 majority.

The hearing of the protest against the board's selection of the Morningside site as the location of the building will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the Johnson county courthouse.

Hayek Petition Asks Court To Shield H.O.L.C.

A petition to protect the Home Owners Loan corporation in the action brought by County Attorney Harold W. Westermarck against the proprietors of the Red Ball inn was filed by Attorney Will J. Hayek in district court yesterday.

The resistance filed for R. P. White, receiver for the H. O. L. C., seeks to offset the injunction against the inn brought by Attorney Westermarck if the action will jeopardize the security given the note and mortgage held by the corporation against the property.

Bender Warns Local Dealers

Large Delivery Trucks Forbidden to Park Down Town

Chief of Police W. H. Bender warned Iowa City merchants yesterday that patrolmen are checking all trucks making deliveries in the business district to prevent violation of the truck ordinance which went into effect Tuesday.

The ordinance prohibits any semi-trailer or any truck exceeding 25 feet in length to park in the business district between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Chief Bender said that several out-of-town truck drivers have been given summons to police court after violating the ordinance. When the driver appeared in court, they claimed to know nothing about the ordinance and the merchants to whom they were making deliveries had not warned them of its existence, the chief said.

Stillwells To Have New Paper Display Arranged in Booths

Installation of a new wall-paper display will be a feature of the remodeling job at the Stillwell Paint store, 216 E. Washington street, Verne W. Bales, manager of the store, has announced.

The wall-paper lay-out will be displayed in four booths adjacent to the entrance of the store. Both daylight and artificial lighting will be used.

Another booth will feature a complete exhibition of picture frames. Each booth will be furnished with special settees.

Additional plans call for the extension of shelves along one wall and the recovering of the floor. The rear of the retail sales floor, above the office, will also be rebuilt.

Strong Wind Hits Iowa City Again, Temperature Mild

Although temperatures remained moderate—between 32 and 20 degrees—one of the strongest winds yet recorded at the hydraulics laboratory brought out winter coats yesterday. A velocity of 12 miles an hour was recorded at ground level.

The mercury yesterday jumped four degrees above the normal high of 28 degrees for January, Prof. Joseph W. Howe of the hydraulics laboratory reported.

AROUND THE TOWN

with MERLE MILLER

—Art With a Capital A— You've seen them, I think, about the campus, around the town, in the local eateries . . . You've laughed at them with me and they've scorned back . . . They are, lest you not know, the Artists of the campus . . . They're Art with a very large A; just ask them . . .

They're admirers of life's "finer things" . . . They'll tell you . . . You'll see them at the concerts, eyes closed, heads swaying slightly at the beauty of it all, or at the art exhibits, stepping back to take in the full glory of the canvases, stopping to raise eyebrows at the "lines" . . .

Economy Or in the restaurants . . . You may, as I, have saved your movie money and followed them in to hear their talk, to listen to their vulgarity . . . It's better than vaudeville and burlesque—and of about the same level . . .

But at life's sterner aspects they revolt . . . They scoff at ordinary morals—and ignore them . . . Of simple beauty, of snow on trees these mornings, of the fog in these late afternoons, of Old Capitol, well, they haven't noticed . . . They have been too busy being noticed for that . . .

And at the ordinary ones of us, they laugh and mock . . . And if we criticize, it's because we don't understand—or are blind or ignorant or all of these . . .

These, may I repeat, are the Artists of the campus—with another capital A . . . They're clever, some of them, and they know they are . . . Most of them have read too many books—or too few . . .

And their chief delights are Dorothy Parker insults—with-out the Parker wit or smile-on-the-face . . . And they're hated and scorned by some, and they love it . . . They've read Oscar Wilde who said, "All geniuses are misunderstood." . . . They, I forgot to say, are also GENIUSES—all in capitals . . .

Colossal And they're planning to do great, really COLOSSAL things . . . They'll never be very wealthy; real Artists never are . . . Like Hollywood and all, you understand . . . One just doesn't.

And where do they go from here? . . . Ask them . . . To New York, most probably, to Greenwich Village . . . These they'll starve for awhile, and then someone will come along who'll understand, really see their souls and what they're getting at, and then they'll have the laugh on those bourgeois "hicks" . . . You know, these mid-western "farmers" who've never really been any place or seen anything . . .

From Here? And where do they go from here? . . . Ask me . . . Well, some of them to varnished respectability in a 50-cent town in the "arid" mid-west . . . Some of them to big cities, possibly to New York. . . You may see them there in a dozen years or more, if your eyes are peered. . . Their names will be small print on theater programs, in fringy art exhibits, as first violinists in small theater orchestras, as low-paid pulpists for the art-for-art's-sake "little" mags. . .

Short Accepts Script Position On Station WOC

Donald Short, G of Iowa City, has accepted a position in the continuity and script writing department of radio station WOC, Davenport, the Tri-City Broadcasting company. He will begin work Jan. 24.

Short has been working on the university station, WSUL, for two years, announcing and writing script. This year he has been working on the broadcast of basketball games, giving summaries and sidelights of the games before they start and between halves.

Off-Color And still you'll notice them, mostly for the same reasons as now. . . They'll still be wearing their outlandish dress, still telling off-color, unfunny jokes, and still sitting over coffees or vermouth in the better cafes. . . Talking about life and never quite living it. . .

There may be a real artist among them, but I doubt it. . . Once there was one for whom I had hopes. . . But I've never known one who accomplished to sit with them. . .

And they'll read this, some of them, read it and guffaw. . . They'll know of whom I'm speaking, and they'll swear I'm wrong . . . One person may see himself in the mirror I've printed, and something may come of it. . . I doubt it. . .

And I may be in error for all that. . . For I'm not an artist, of that I'm well-aware. . . I couldn't define art. . . But if I were to aim at my own definition—I might say it's what these people aren't—because of that one thing I'm sure. . .

Parents of U. High Pupils File Complaint Against Icy Streets

City Engineer Fred Gartzke said last night "hazardous, icy roads will be cleared as soon as possible," when informed that parents of University high school pupils had protested against dangerous conditions on Davenport street at the school.

"On icy days the steep road leading down to the school is so dangerous that it is a matter for surprise that serious accidents involving injury to life and limb have not occurred there before now," a letter from Prof. Cornelius de Kiewiet stated.

He filed the letter in Gartzke's office yesterday at the request of several parents of school children. "We have been trying to get the worst hills cleared first," the city

Iowa City Elks Sponsor Party

Almost 150 couples attended the old-time party for local Elks and their families last night at the Elks lodge. Music for dancing, played by Les Hartman and his German band from Waterloo, and characteristic food centering around a rabbit dinner, carried out the "old time" atmosphere of the party.

There was a grand march at 10 p.m., and lunch was served at 11 p.m.

Rudolph Prybil was chairman of the committee in charge. His associates were Ray Slavata, R. Swartzlander, Herbert Reichardt and Charles Chansky.

Committee Will Meet in Farm Bureau Office

The Johnson county agricultural planning committee will meet tomorrow in the local farm bureau office at 1:30 p.m. to discuss the farm tenancy problem and the proposed legislation on soil erosion districts, County Agent Emmett C. Gardner announced yesterday.

A report on these subjects will be made and forwarded to the agricultural extension office at Ames.

School to Open January 26 For 4-H Club Girls

A 4-H girls' training school on the project of "Home Efficiency" will begin in Iowa City Jan. 26 under the leadership of Selma Ekquist, extension specialist at Iowa State college. Two more training schools will meet March 22 and May 17.

The home efficiency project embraces the wiser spending of money through better planning, using efficiency in home tasks, increasing safety and sanitation standards and home beautification.

A landscaping architect, Russell Johnson of Iowa State college, will demonstrate to club leaders March 3 the principles of landscaping.

F. E. Horack Speaks Today

Prof. F. E. Horack of the department of political science will be the speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary club this noon in the Jefferson hotel.

Professor Horack will make a report on the work of the educational committee of the local club.

Telford Larew Files Damage Suit Against D. K., Mabel White

Dorrance K. White and Mabel B. White are named defendants in a $257 damage suit brought by Telford Larew filed in the Johnson county clerk's office yesterday.

The plaintiff demands judgment for rent allegedly due him on property since June 1. Through his counsel, the law firm of Dutcher, Ries and Dutcher, he asks for a writ of attachment to be issued for the enforcement of his landlord's lien on the property.

K. of C. Officers Will Meet Tonight

A special meeting of the officers of the Knights of Columbus organization will be at 7:30 tonight in K. C. hall.

The regular lodge meeting will be at 8 o'clock. Dr. Fred T. Bauer will preside.

Farmers Told How To Stop Horse Disease

150,000 Animals Killed By Sleeping Sickness

ST. PAUL, Jan. 12 (AP) — Early discovery of equine sleeping sickness symptoms and prompt medical treatment today were characterized as two of the most important ways in which the farmer may combat the disease that affected more than 150,000 horses in the country last year.

Nationally recognized authorities on equine encephalomyelitis, addressing more than 600 farmers, county agents and veterinarians at the University of Minnesota farm school, agreed that care of the stricken animal during the first few hours of its sickness was a big factor in its recovery.

Summarizing addresses given at the afternoon meeting, W. S. Moscrip, Lake Elmo, president of the Minnesota Livestock Breeders association, said three points stood out as of especial importance.

"First, we need more research to determine source of the virus responsible for the disease," he said. "Second, we must learn to recognize the symptoms early, and third, the importance of calling a veterinarian quickly cannot be over-estimated."

Dr. C. P. Fitch, chief of the division of veterinary medicine at university farm, said vaccination was proving successful but that it was necessary to inoculate the animal six weeks or more before symptoms appeared.

Minnesota had the worst outbreak in the country last year, said Dr. W. S. Goehner of the bureau of animal industry at Washington.

"Of the 157,984 cases reported, Minnesota had 41,150, with approximately 9,200 fatalities," he said. "Iowa has 31,884, South Dakota 29,702, North Dakota 17,000, Montana 743 and Wisconsin 346."

"When the disease becomes prevalent in any section," he said, "the farmer is wise who will keep his horses in stable at night and protect them from insects during the day with insect repellents and nets."

STILL "TOPS" . . . after 31 Years As a Tobacco Auctioneer

Veteran Jim Edwards tells why tobacco experts prefer Luckies 2 to 1 . . .

"I recently sold 489,000 pounds of tobacco in one 6 1/2 hour day," says Mr. J. N. Edwards of Farmville, North Carolina.

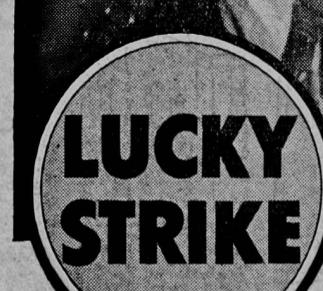

"There was a buyer, naturally, for every one of those 489,000 pounds. . . But there was as much difference between the best grades and the inferior, as between a pretty girl and a homely one.

"At auction after auction, I've seen Lucky Strike go after the prettiest lots of tobacco. It's no wonder Luckies taste so good. I've smoked them since 1917.

"And another thing . . . even after yelling out tobacco bids all during a seven hour day, Luckies are still just as easy as ever on my throat."

Only Lucky Strike offers you the finest tobacco plus the throat-protection of the exclusive process "It's Toasted". This process takes out certain irritants found in all tobacco—even the finest.

Men who know tobacco from A to Z—experts like Mr. Edwards—are surely good judges of cigarettes. . . Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.
