Senators Favor Reed For Court Position But Many Demand Hearing

Nominee Gives New Deal Five Of 9 Justices

Kentucky Lawyer Will Occupy Place Of Sutherland

Stanley Reed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—A clear majority of administration supporters on the supreme court appeared assured today when President Roosevelt nominated Solicitor General Stanley Reed, a veteran defender of new deal enactments, to succeed retiring Justice George Sutherland.

Senators, who must pass upon the nomination, generally applauded the selection of the bald-headed Kentucky lawyer and chairman. Even some bitter foes of the president's defeated bill to reorganize the high tribunal joined in expressing approval.

But there were numerous demands that public hearings be conducted before the senate votes on the appointment, in view of the public furor caused by belated revelations that Justice Hugo L. Black, President Roosevelt's only other nominee to the court, once was a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

Choice Commended
It was apparent that the nomination had a better chance of being confirmed quickly than if it had involved the name of someone whose known views were more radical than Reed's. Commending the chief executive's choice, Senator Burke (D., Neb.), a leader of the fight against the court bill, told reporters:

"I would place Mr. Reed in the same class in which I place myself—a progressive-conservative. He has all the qualifications to make an outstanding judge."

Says Constitution Flexible
He has contended in public addresses that the flexibility of the constitution makes it "as adequate for the problems of today as time has shown it to be adequate to meet the difficulties of the past."

Soviet Cancels Debts to Italy
MOSCOW, Jan. 15 (AP)—Russia today suspended all commercial payments to Italy in what diplomatic circles said was a disagreement over delivery of Soviet oil to the Italian navy.

The government charged that the Italian navy had failed to meet fuel bills owed the Soviet, that Russian ships were being detained in Italian ports and Italian firms had suspended payments to Russia.

Diplomatic circles said the Italian naval ministry had declined to pay for oil supplied by Russia on the ground deliveries had been less than promised under a contract between the two governments.

(Italy, allied with Germany and Japan in an anti-communist pact, officially denied defaulting "in any way" on payments due Russia and asserted news of Russia's action "came as a complete surprise.")

(Russian sources in Rome said a note had been handed to the Italian government some time ago by the Russian embassy protesting Italy's non-payments. When no answer was received, they said, Moscow decided to cancel payments due Italy.)

Utilities' Chief Answers F.D.R.

Suggests U. S. Acquire Power Properties In Tennessee

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie, president of Commonwealth and Southern corp., proposed today the federal government purchase the corporations utility operating companies in the Tennessee valley.

The power executive, in a prepared statement, said his suggestion was made "as a last resort in a desperate situation."

He recommended the government acquire the properties at a price to be fixed by negotiation or to be determined by three arbitrators—one to be named by the president, one by the supreme court and one by the utilities.

Willkie's proposal was in response to President Roosevelt's declaration of policy on utilities in his Friday press conference, in which the president said he would move for the elimination of holding companies from the nation's economic structure.

"If municipalities should buy the distribution systems of operating utilities, as the president proposes, but not the generation and transmission facilities," said Willkie, "the major portion of the American people's investment in these operating utilities will be destroyed."

"In view of the seriousness of this situation, those who are charged with a responsibility to the people who have invested money in their business must now consider what proposal can be offered in order to save as much of that investment as possible."

Kraschel, Muntz Settle Dispute
DES MOINES, Jan. 15 (AP)—A dispute between Otto S. Muntz, deposed chairman of the Greater Iowa chamber and Governor Nelson G. Kraschel was ended officially here today when Muntz dismissed two court actions in the case.

The governor then announced that Dr. O. R. Sweeney of Iowa State college, whom he appointed to succeed Muntz, will take office as chairman and that Muntz will act as an advisory chairman of the commission.

Muntz in turn was allowed access to the commission's records locked up in its hotel offices. Muntz said he will begin preparation immediately of a report on expenditure of the $5,000 allocated to the commission by the interim committee last summer.

The dismissal of actions in the Polk county district court here followed a conference between Muntz, Attorney General John Mitchell and the governor.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 15 (AP)—"This hurts me worse than it does you," Municipal Judge Louis A. Holmes commented today as he fined himself a dollar in police court for over-time parking.

Japan Decides To Push Firm Policy in China

Cabinet and Warlords Attain Full Accord On Objective

TOKYO, Jan. 15 (AP)—Complete accord between the Japanese cabinet and high military and naval authorities to pursue the Chinese conflict to Japan's proclaimed objective—pacification of eastern Asia—was announced tonight.

The announcement was issued by the chief secretary of the cabinet following a day of liaison conferences and an extraordinary cabinet session on the draft of a statement outlining the government's China policy. The draft was submitted to Emperor Hirohito by Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye.

Among the elderly former leaders were ex-Premier Senjuro Hayashi; Governor General Jiro Inami of Korea, one time commander of the Japanese forces in China; former Privy Councillor Miso Kawanishi; former War Ministers Kazunari Ugaki and Sadao Araki; and Shigeru Honjo, decorated for brilliant services in the 1933-35 Manchuria campaign.

The firm Japanese decision, explained to the one-time leaders by Lieut. Gen. Toshitaro Kawamoto of the military affairs bureau, was reported by Domei to be in effect:

"The Japanese government, for the permanent peace of east Asia, has hitherto been conducting punitive operations against the anti-Japanese government of China on the one hand and endeavoring, on the other hand, to give that government a chance for self-reflection at awakening from its general point of view."

"From general circumstances, however, the Japanese government is compelled to conclude that China shows no signs of reconsideration, and the Japanese government therefore must proceed with resolute enforcement of its established policy for attainment of its ultimate goal."

Senator Backs Trade Policy

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 15 (AP)—The United States Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) defended the administration's reciprocal trade treaty policy today before the American National Livestock association, one of the most militant opponents of the policy.

Addressing the association's forty-first annual convention, at which its leaders have demanded the administration protect domestic markets from foreign products, O'Mahoney declared:

"Under no reciprocal trade agreement is it possible to lift the barriers and permit a flood of livestock from other nations into this country."

Naming the stockmen as the "only rugged individualists remaining in the United States," O'Mahoney declared they must take a national viewpoint toward the greatest problem now confronting the nation—providing security to the country's industrial millions.

"Your problem and the nation's problem is to put these millions on a standard where they can purchase your commodity," he said.

"You must put to work in industry these millions to whom you hope to sell your meat. "But you can't do that," he declared, "unless you open the doors to export trade so that industry can be revived."

New Premier Assumes Task Of Chautemps

Aims To Bring Peace In People's Front Government

PARIS, Jan. 15 (AP)—Financier-Diplomat Georges Bonnet tonight assumed the task of bringing peace to France's powerful left wing parties in support of a third people's front government.

The former ambassador to Washington formally accepted President Albert Lebrun's cabinet mandate after a day of political jockeying to find a successor to Camille Chautemps.

Bonnet's own party, the radical-socialists, approved his assumption of the task provided he form another people's front government. Communists, socialists and the more conservative radical-socialists composed the people's front.

His principal problem was to win support of socialists who demanded a socialist premier since they have the largest single parliamentary representation.

Confident
Bonnet, finance minister in the retiring Chautemps government, apparently was confident he could overcome the socialist opposition and weld a cabinet capable of dealing with France's labor and monetary troubles which contributed largely to resignation of the Chautemps government early Friday.

He declared his program would be similar to that of his predecessor and said he would press efforts for a code of social peace to pacify labor.

In addition to the premiership he indicated he would keep the finance portfolio.

Shortly before Bonnet went to the Elysee palace to accept, the socialists had expressed opposition to a radical-socialist premier and the communists took a similar stand, calling for a meeting of all people's front deputies to consider the crisis.

Detroit Woman Admits Killing Of Co-Worker

DETROIT, Jan. 15 (AP)—Three hours after Mrs. Edith Mae Cummings, 49-year-old Detroit real estate dealer, was shot to death in a rural ravine today, Mrs. Julia Barker, also a real estate dealer, surrendered and claimed, Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea said, that she shot Mrs. Cummings in self-defense.

Both women were reputed millionaires during Detroit's pre-depression real estate boom. They also were co-defendants on an indictment returned recently in Lexington, Fassetto county, Kentucky, charging conspiracy in connection with a $46,000 transaction involving land that was "going to be bought by Henry Ford."

Charles McCrea said Mrs. Barker told him Mrs. Cummings lured her to the ravine near suburban Belleville by asking her to inspect some land.

"Edith whipped out a pistol," said the statement attributed to Mrs. Barker by the prosecutor. "I pleaded with her and the gun was discharged."

Mrs. James Fosha, wife of a farmer, told of hearing five shots, then of seeing one woman beating another woman, who lay on the ground. Mrs. Fosha said the woman she believed was the assailant fled across the ice of the Huron river, discarding her coat and a traveling bag.

Mrs. Barker appeared unexpectedly at the prosecutor's office this afternoon and announced: "I'm in terrible trouble. I want to surrender."

'Don't Lay Recession at Door Of Business' U. S. Commerce Group Warns Administration

Crime Called 'Blood Disease' Should Be Attacked Like Any Other Illness Says Psychiatrist

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Crime in the United States was called this week by a leading psychiatrist a "blood disease" of society rather than an occasional outbreak of boils.

Dr. Frederic Werthman, head of the mental hygiene division of Bellevue hospital in New York, said in an interview at the institute of criminal science that much of the nation's crime was avoidable if the problem were attacked as physicians attack disease.

The New York psychiatrist, who has studied the mental condition of thousands of criminals and particularly some of the country's most famous killers, said "Any community gets just about the amount of crime it deserves—the amount depending on the care which it takes of its citizens."

The "blood disease" of crime is the result of poor housing, poor school facilities, too few playgrounds, little or no attention to the mental condition of persons arrested for their first crime, inadequate facilities for taking care of criminals who are mentally ill, and a dozen other factors, all of which can be controlled at a cost far less than the present crime bill of the country, Dr. Werthman said.

"Most people think of any single crime, such as murder, as they think of the outbreak of a boil," he said. "They consider it to be an isolated condition, unrelated to the whole. But it is not. Almost any crime can be traced to environmental, economic, sociological, and psychological factors and if those things had been treated intelligently the crime could have been avoided."

Prof. A. C. Tester to Leave On 2-Year Leave of Absence

Heads Geological Field Investigations For Standard Oil

Prof. Allen C. Tester of the geology department has requested a two-year leave of absence in order to accept a contract with the Standard Oil company of New York, Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts announced last night. The leave of absence will become effective at the end of the present semester.

Professor Tester will have charge of geological field investigations in Columbia, with headquarters at Barranquilla.

The explorations will be in the Sinu valley, a concession granted the Standard Oil company by the Columbia government. Although there is no oil production in the territory now, it is believed that the region contains oil. When drilling starts, Professor Tester will have charge of the operations.

"The extensive experience which Professor Tester will bring to this position will better fit him for his work when he returns here to resume his duties in the department," Dean Kay said.

Dubs Podunk Woman Knows Town Names Galore

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 15 (AP)—What do you call your home town? If you can't think of anything suitable maybe Mamie Meredith of the University of Nebraska English department can help you. She has studied the problem and finds the synonyms of "Podunk" are many.

Some people, she says, call their home town a one horse town or a jerkwater town or a jumping off place. Others prefer crack in the track, spot in the road, or grasshopper diggings.

Others like something more personal, Miss Meredith says, such as Toonerville, Piccolo town, Spunkyville, Pruneville and Flag station. Or do you like Alfalfa Center, Sagebrush Center, Pumpkin Center or Skunk Center?

Such synonyms for Podunk are common throughout the middle west, she reported.

V. G. Keith, 46, of Prescott, Iowa, driver of the car was killed instantly.

Battle Tide Turns

SHANGHAI, Jan. 16 (Sunday) (AP)—Chinese reports today insisted the tide of battle in Shanghai province had swung in favor of Chinese defending the fertile region and China's "last line of defense."

Spurred to new activity by the presence of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, they declared the Chinese not only had stopped the Japanese advance but had recovered 10 miles.

Bandit Captured

WATERLOO, Jan. 15 (AP)—Police Chief H. R. Crumrine tonight announced the capture at Kirksville, Mo., of Herschel Cook, 35, wanted in Waterloo since Jan. 27, 1936, for the near fatal shooting of Guy W. P. Royer, coal company manager, during a holdup.

Victims of Revenge

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., Jan. 15 (AP)—Three little girls who died in a dynamite blast that wrecked their home were victims of an abortive "revenge plot," Assistant District Attorney General Dennis Erwin charged today.

Erwin said detailed confessions from two of four men charged with first degree murder set forth they intended to kill Harmon Gouge, 35, father of the victims, in retaliation for a slaying by Gouge in 1936.

President Calls Business Men To Washington

50 Leaders To Discuss Industrial Topics Wednesday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—The chamber of commerce of the United States reprimanded the administration today for "the recent tendency to assail business and blame it for the recession."

This tendency "has not proved conducive to the cooperative spirit so essential to confidence and recovery," the chamber said in its periodical Washington Review.

"Scolding and name-calling do not make for team-play between business and government. They don't put men to work."

"Business, on its part, has shown a discreet restraint in not aggravating the situation by replying to the attacks in the same tempo," the organization of business men added.

The administration is "groping" for a way out of the business decline and is examining suggestions for a new type of planning legislation, patterned "somewhat after the NRA concept," the chamber said.

Business Men To White House
Business men will trek in increasing numbers to the White House next week to discuss recovery methods.

Last week, they arrived in groups of two to five but on Wednesday 50 business leaders who belong to the president's business advisory council are scheduled to go to the executive mansion en masse.

This conference is expected generally to cover such topics as industrial planning, installment selling, monopoly, utilities, housing and labor policies. No intimation has leaked out as to what specific proposals may be discussed.

President Seeks Planning Method
But the president has indicated he is seeking a method of industrial planning which would enable business men to gear their activities closer to the nation's needs and thus minimize the economic cycle of boom and depression.

No Discipline Says Shipman

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—An American shipmaster, who said he was "liable to have a bullet in my back" if his name got out, told senate committees in testimony made public today that discipline had broken down completely in the American merchant marine.

His charges were made before the senate commerce and labor committees, which are considering amendments to the merchant marine act.

The commerce committee of which Senator Copeland (D-NY) is chairman, made public the testimony.

The shipmaster, whose name was kept secret, said "our ships are infested with thugs, thieves, gamblers, dope runners, drunkards, and racketeers of all descriptions."

Spanish Rebels Attack Loyalists From the Air

HENDAYE, France, at the Spanish Frontier, Jan. 15 (AP)—Spanish insurgent bombing squadrons raided several government towns and cities behind the Aragon front today but government reports insisted little damage was done.

The Teruel front, at the south extremity of the Aragon line, was quiet but on the central front, 135 miles to the west the government claimed gains near Cuesta de la Reina. Insurgent advisers said these were of "no importance."

An insurgent communique reported two small bands of insurgents were still holding out in Teruel, despite government occupation of the city taken last month in a surprise offensive.

The insurgents, remnants of a garrison which surrendered a week ago, were said to be barricaded inside a convent and the Bank of Spain building with an artillery captain named Llorente in command.

Insurgent forces outside the city were expected to renew their attempts to recapture Teruel once rains let up. A Barcelona communique declared a train bombarded by insurgent planes yesterday was carrying wounded men and was marked with red crosses.

Barbara Stanwyck Defies Court Order

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15 (AP)—Barbara Stanwyck failed today to comply with a court order requiring her to deliver Dion Anthony Fay, 5, to the home of her divorced husband, Frank Fay.

"Our appeal automatically nullified the order," said Charles Cradick, attorney for the actress. Superior Judge Goodwin Knight had awarded Fay, actor and master of ceremonies, part time custody of his and Miss Stanwyck's adopted son. The actress appealed.

Her failure to let Fay have Dion at 10 a.m. today in compliance with the order was described by Hy Schwartz, the actor's attorney as "a very dangerous step on Miss Stanwyck's part."

"We won't do anything until Tuesday," said Schwartz. "At that time we will present ourselves at Miss Stanwyck's home and demand to see the child in accordance with the court order."

W.C.T.U. AIDS To Help Beauty Winner In Liquor Suit

CHICAGO, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Illinois Women's Christian Temperance union offered today to "do its utmost" to help Marian Shadley, the beauty contest winner who sued for $1,000,000 damages after being offered a liquor purchase certificate as a contest prize.

"We exceedingly regret," the W.C.T.U. said in a letter to Miss Shadley's attorneys, "that those who offer prizes to young girls should disregard the law and furnish intoxicants to minors."

Miss Shadley's suit named a business men's association, sponsors of the contest.

Stanley Reed—The New Judge

THERE ARE many reasons why the appointment yesterday of Stanley Reed to the supreme court by President Roosevelt should be met with the approval that has greeted it from conservatives and liberals alike.

His record as solicitor general under Roosevelt and as RFC general counsel under Hoover has been particularly good. Perhaps the ablest defender of new deal legislation before the supreme court, he nevertheless retained enough conservative tendencies to satisfy all but the most extreme right wingers.

Although never a judge, there is nothing of the acts of prejudice and intolerance in his past which, when dug out, so shadowed the appointment of Justice Black.

His presence on the bench will insure a new deal majority; will forever lay to rest any chance of resurrecting Roosevelt's ill-fated court bill. This does not mean, however, that clearly unconstitutional legislation has any better chance of getting by the court. It means only that, in close 5-4 decisions, the majority will be with the new deal and not against it, as in the past.

The Black fiasco is too recent with us to permit any Roosevelt appointee to undergo any scrutiny but the most careful of scrutines.

The Black fiasco is too recent with us to permit any Roosevelt appointee to undergo any scrutiny but the most careful of scrutines.

Scientists now doubt the theory that the universe is expanding. Hey, don't tell us that the whole universe may be having a recession, too!

Marriage Legislation

THEY LAUGHED when Illinois enacted her pre-marital examination law last July. They laughed, because they knew that Indiana was less than an hour's drive away, that they could get their marriage license in Crown Point without first going through the ridiculous procedure of being tested for syphilis.

You'd think Indiana would have been pleased to death, wouldn't you? Just think of the increased revenue from a dozen towns doing a "hand office" business in the wholesale issuance of marriage licenses! It seems, however, that the Indiana supreme court didn't look at the situation quite from that angle. As a matter of fact, they even went so far as to dig up an old state law (1852) requiring "that a marriage license be purchased in the county in which the prospective bride resides."

In their decision, handed down Wednesday, they "branded loose marriage and divorce laws as 'one of the greatest evils in the country,' and halted operation of the state's border-county 'marriage mills.'

So it looks as though all these impatient young couples who feel that the pre-marital examination laws "unjustifiably restrict their personal liberty" will be forced to travel a considerable distance to avoid answering any silly, embarrassing questions about, or taking any tests for syphilis before getting their marriage licenses.

So much for Illinois. You know, of course, that Wisconsin and Connecticut have had similar laws in successful operation for a number of years. But did you notice that little item in the paper yesterday about a resolution formulated by the Jones County Ministerial association to be brought to the attention of the Iowa legislature?

The Rev. H. W. Farham, secretary of the association, reports as follows: "It is the sentiment of the Jones County Ministerial association that the Iowa marriage law be revised to include a compulsory physical examination of both parties and the requirement of a three-day notice of intent to wed."

What will Iowa do about it? The issue has only one possible outcome, whether that outcome be immediate or postponed. The ultimate advantages to be gained, both individually and nationally, are perfectly obvious and too numerous to be mentioned here. We can only agree with "Mr. Pro," who declared in a recent issue of the Reader's Digest, "Intelligent resistance is unthinkable. Only prudes or those conscious of infection could object."

"The sled is steered by the first man but he only thinks he is steering. He has about as much control over the doing of the sled as you have over the moon.

ADRIFT IN THE ARCTIC

Spring is coming for four men on an ice floe in the Arctic circle. Spring is the season of hope and promise for most men, but for this quartet of strange voyagers it may only mean new perils. Fissures may appear in their floe; it may break up; it may collide dangerously with other floating ice. Nor will April bring them budding flowers and songbirds.

Papanin, Krenkel, Shirshov and Fedorov, Soviet scientists, launched on their hazardous adventure more than six months ago. They were dropped near the north pole by four airplanes. The planes departed and left them there with a small tent for shelter and ample supplies of food. But they have no craft in which to travel, no motor to drive them where they will, no rudder to control their course before the wind. They drift with the ocean currents on a vast raft of ice. It is 10 feet thick and a mile and a fifth in width, so it is big enough to let a man with a travel bag and a sled, but it is too small to let a man with a sled and a sled.

The "tumour" to which the old English physician referred, was the swelling of one of the salivary glands, usually the ones under the ear, the parotid, but sometimes the ones under the jaw. Besides the swelling, the patient suffers acute pain whenever he takes anything into his mouth. A way to test this is to give some lemon juice to sip—it's more like a dirty trick than a test.

How infective is it? They were able to tell pretty well from one experience. A boy returned to school and slept his first night in a dormitory with nine other boys. The next day he came down with mumps. Of the nine boys, five had never had mumps and two of them came down with it. But twenty-three other boys in the school came down with it—all from one contact.

This same experience showed with the incubation period. The first boy came down with it sixteen days after his companion had brought it to school, the last boy twenty-three days after the contact.

Mumps Is No Joke Disease But Serious, Says Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

A famous Dr. Gooch in 1758 named it. He referred to "a species of tumour called by the common people mumps."

You probably think it is a kind of joke disease, but it is far from that. And you would probably assume that we know all about it. But the staid Guy's Hospital Reports, issued by the famous London hospital, have seen fit to renew the whole subject.

I know from my own experience how troublesome it can be. During the war, in an army camp hospital, we often had measles and meningitis and everything else. But at times all of these would die down.

Mumps, however, we had with us always. There were always about ten soldiers quarantined with this apparently trivial complaint.

The "tumour" to which the old English physician referred, was the swelling of one of the salivary glands, usually the ones

The scholarship is given each year to a student standing within the top 10 per cent of the year's graduating class of the college of liberal arts.

Each student in the graduate college who expects to receive the master's degree, or the doctorate, at the forthcoming Convocation, Feb. 1, 1938, is requested, so far as he or she may not have done so heretofore, to procure for us, immediately, the official transcript of whatever graduate work he may have accomplished in another graduate school; so that this may be taken into the account in determining whether he or she fulfills the requirements for the higher degree sought. This should be done immediately since, otherwise, it is possible that we shall be unable to certify for graduation next February, a student who may have accomplished satisfactory graduate work elsewhere, just because we shall not have received the requisite official statement of it early enough.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—After years of interviewing people and writing daily a New York column I am beginning to doubt the old legend that Napoleon knew personally the name of every man in his army. It seems to me that even the redoubtable Addison Simms of Seattle must fail occasionally on an assignment like this. Or maybe, as is more likely, I am one of those flat brains which retains a name only so long as a story is being written. Anyway, during the 365 days of 1937 I made a point of calling on and talking to at least twice that number of peoples, mostly bigwigs—authors, producers, soldiers, explorers, etc. Some half of these found their way into the column. The others, for this or that reason, did not.

Now, after such a year, I have been attempting to recall names, and it has been arduous work. The names are reluctant to come—many, of course, are sharp and vivid, but others—well, let's see if we can recall a few:

Just Names: H. G. Wells (aboard S.S. Bremen); Helen Rubinstein, the beauty expert; Kenyon Nicholson, playwright; Leslie Howard, actor; Dizzy Dean, ball player; Sinclair Lewis, novelist; John Nance Garner, vice president of the U. S.; Frank Case, hotel impresario; Claudette Colbert, actress; John Golden, producer; Paul Whiteman, musician; Jean Lurcat, French painter; Jose Hurbis, pianist; Jack Dempsey, ex-pugilist; Mabel Boll, the "Queen of Diamonds"; Ernest Hemingway, author.

Among actresses have been Talulah Bankhead, Loretta Young, Ruth Gordon, Frances Farmer, and Madge Evans. Of writers there have been Carl Carmer, who wrote "Stars Fall on Alabama"; Stephen Vincent Benet, who wrote "John Brown's Body"; Sidney Howard, "The Ghost of Yankee Doodle"; Ben Hecht, "To Quito and Back"; Sidney Kingsley, "Men in White"; Stanley Walker, "Mrs. Astor's Horse"; and John Steinbeck, "Of Mice and Men."

One can't spell but whom I remember very well was an Italian count, who is a famous speedboat racer and vermouth manufacturer; there was Angelos Metaxas, the Greek brandy king; and Yarr Vosmik, a foreign engineer.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—If Greta Garbo and Leopold Stokowski wed—and many in Hollywood think they will, despite insistent denials from both—you can take the movie colony's word for it that it will be an ideal match.

Garbo, visiting her family in Stockholm, told a reporter there is absolutely nothing to her rumored romance with the symphony conductor. Stokowski, seeing her off in New York, said: "She's absolutely no question of marriage."

Hollywood shrugs, says: "Maybe not, but they have a lot in common."

She Likes Music, Too: Considering possible marriage of the screen's great Swedish lady and the Philadelphia, who recently was divorced by his wife in Reno, film city friends call attention to characteristics common to both and differences in their make-ups which would make them ideally suited.

Garbo is quiet, sympathetic and understanding. Due to these attributes, she would fit well the Stokowski scheme and temperament. She also has a deep appreciation of music.

He has a flair for meeting people, although they say he is most discriminating in his choice of friends. Garbo finds it extremely difficult to make friends. He could draw her out of her cage, they say, and teach her to enjoy meeting others.

Stokowski, an artist in his fingertips, is one of the few men who could understand a person of Garbo's temperament. The Gable or the Taylor type could never understand such a person as Garbo. Although he has lived most of his life in America, the Polish-Irish Stokowski is regarded as the true "continental" type. He thinks like a European. Certainly Garbo thinks the same way.

Some Problems The Same: The few people who have met her say that she is completely lost among a group of Americans. She finds it hard to translate mentally the forthright expressions of Americans, and particularly of outspoken Hollywoodites.

Both long have been in the public eye. Both could appreciate the other's problems. "Stokowski" being in a sense an actor—and a very good showman—would not attempt to alter Miss Garbo's life as, say, a business man might.

Big Ten Committee Decides Ohio State Star Is Ineligible

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 15 (AP)—Coach Francis A. Schmidt of Ohio State university said today a Big Ten committee had ruled Johnny Raab, star fullback, ineligible for further competition because he participated in two games while a freshman at Fordham university.

The committee overrode Ohio State's contention that at Fordham the eastern contests were against prep school eleven.

In six games last season, before a knee injury benched him, Raab carried the ball 65 times for 324 yards.

"It's quite a blow, naturally," Schmidt said, "to me it seemed that Johnny was due for his greatest season in 1938."

The Wolverines, in marking up their third straight triumph of the campaign, were behind by 13 to 11 at the half, but came back with a strong defensive game that held the Gophers without a point until only three minutes of the second half remained.

Crisler Princeton Coach To Michigan?

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Despite lack of confirmation, reports circulated in Tigertown and Ann Arbor Saturday that Fritz Crisler, Princeton's scholarly head football coach, might shift his moleskin mannerisms to Michigan as Harry Kipke's successor.

Even in the absence of any direct word from Crisler on the rumored offer, campus dopsters believed the report. Speculation had it that Crisler would return to the Big Ten arena provided the athletic directorship of Michigan was combined with the coaching post.

"I'm happy here in Princeton," said Crisler. "Everybody seems worried about this except me."

Campus chatter, which rose to a great crescendo, had it figured out that Crisler, although satisfied with his Princeton post, was anxious to broaden his career. Feeling here is that Crisler, whose five year contract has two years to run, would go to Michigan only on the condition he became athletic director, the post held by the veteran Fielding H. Yost.

Yost's term has three years to go and Ann Arbor sources asserted there was little chance Yost would retire in the interim.

Crisler is well known in the Big Ten. He was a football star at the University of Chicago from where he was graduated in 1922. He served as assistant coach to Amos Alonzo Stagg until 1929. He was head coach at Minnesota in 1930-31 and came to Princeton in 1932.

Lewis Dehner Ties Record As Illini Win

Chicago Drops Listless 51 to 34 Contest To Illinois Team

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Jan. 15 (AP)—Lewis (Pick) Dehner, Illinois center, tied the Big Ten single game scoring record of 29 points here tonight to lead the Illini to a 51 to 34 victory over Chicago.

Dehner scored 12 field goals and five free throws to equal the record tied by Jewell Young of Purdue here last year and originally set in 1933 by Joe Reiff of Northwestern.

Dehner's shooting featured a listless game witnessed by a capacity crowd of 7,018.

The loss was the third straight for Chicago in Big Ten competition this season and the second victory in a row for the Illini, who have lost that many.

'Hub' Signs Giants' Star Hurler Is In Fold

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—The signed contract of Carl Owen Hubbell arrived in the New York Giants' office today from Oklahoma.

Even the fact that this year, with a salary estimated at $24,000, he will be the highest paid pitcher in baseball made no difference to the mild man from Meeker. He just looked at the contract, which gives him an increase of about $1,500, nodded his head and crawled his name wherever an "X" indicated "sign here."

Hubbell's autographed papers have a pleasant habit of showing up around this time of year, a week or so after Secretary Eddie Brannick has dropped the unsigned documents in the outgoing mail box. This is the third year in a row that King Carl has been the first of Bill Terry's hirings to accept terms.

On his record he deserves to be the big leagues' top-salaried pitcher. His 22 victories and eight defeats for .733 led the National league last season, and his earned run average of 3.19 per game put him ninth in that classification.

In addition, at the start of the year he won eight straight to run his consecutive-victory streak, began with his last sixteen games in 1936, to 24. On May 31 before a crowd of 60,000 at the Polo grounds, the Brooklyn Dodgers finally put an end to a record that topped by four Rube Marquard's performance in 1911-1912.

The half ended as Stephens intercepted a pass and dribbled in for his lone field goal of the night to make the score read—Ohio State 20, Iowa 13.

Lash Fails To Break Record Set By Nurmi

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—Don Lash, Indiana's durable track star, failed in an attempt to beat Paavo Nurmi's international record for 3,000 meters but turned in a remarkable performance over the flat boards to win the two-mile run at the 69th regiment indoor track and field meet tonight.

Running over a 10-lap and near-circular track, Lash hit the 3,000 meter mark in 8:36.6 and then went on to cover the two miles in 9:11. While failing by several seconds in an attempt to match Nurmi's 3,000 meter mark of 8:26.4 and the American performance of 8:27.4 set by Archie San Romani last week, Lash's race was a great exhibition in view of the shape and size of the track.

Lash's time for two miles was as remarkable as his 3,000 meter performance. It compared with Nurmi's world record of 8:58.2, and Raymond Sears' U.S. standard of 9:07.4. Both of the latter were made on Madison Square Garden's banked track.

Glenn Cunningham, world indoor mile and 1,000 yard record holder, easily won the 1,000 yard run although his time of 2:14.6 failed to threaten his international standard of 2:10.1.

Hawkeyes Lose Second Straight Big Ten Tilt in Rough Contest; Officials Call 35 Personal Fouls

Stephens Tops Hawk Scorers with 9 Markers

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 15 (Special to The Daily Iowan)—The University of Iowa's hapless cagers suffered their second straight Big Ten basketball defeat here tonight as they lost a rough and tumble game to the Ohio State Buckeyes, 48-29.

Thirty-five personal fouls were called on the two teams with the Hawkeyes being guilty of 17 miscues as against 18 for the Buckeyes. In one mixup under the basket, with six minutes left to go in the first half, Benny Stephens, high-point man for the Hawks, collided with Captain McDonald of the Ohio Staters and fell to the floor, cutting his mouth. He was able to continue after a short rest period, however.

Hawks Lose Two Kinnick Two Iowa guards, Nile Kinnick and Kenny Suesens, were sent to the showers with four personal fouls. John Schick of the Buckeye team, also was charged with four miscues.

Stephens, who has been held closely in check since he went on a 23-point scoring spurge against Indiana a week ago, was limited to one lone field goal but cashed in on seven of his nine free throws to lead the Iowa scorers for the game. Capt. Sam Johnson was next with six points, made on two baskets and two free throws.

The Buckeyes' scoring was well distributed with Hull and Boughner getting 10 points each and Baker collecting nine.

Just as in their encounter with the Northwestern Wildcats last Monday, the Hawkeyes found trouble getting set for their shots. The hard-driving victors crashed through the Iowa defense for set shots, making most of their points from under the basket.

First for Buckeyes A crowd of over 5,000 fans watched the Buckeyes win their first conference game of the year by the simple expedient of grabbing an early lead and holding it. Hull opened the evening's scoring with a short shot from the foul circle but Kinnick eluded his guard and went under the basket for the tying points.

Hull and Baker sank free throws for Ohio State and Johnson checked in two for the visitors to keep the score tied. After Hull sank another short one, Johnson again knotted the count on a pretty hook shot, but at that a pass from Jack Drees, but taking the Hawk attack began to bog down and the Buckeyes pulled away to victory.

Iowa Trails at Half The half ended as Stephens intercepted a pass and dribbled in for his lone field goal of the night to make the score read—Ohio State 20, Iowa 13.

With Kinnick and Suesens sent from the game in the second period, the Hawks fell farther and farther behind. At the end of the game Coach Rollie Williams had nearly all sophomores in the contest.

Iowa will travel to Bloomington, Ind., where they meet the Indiana Hoosiers in a return match Monday night. Iowa beat the Hoosiers in the conference opener, 48-39.

Houston Golfer Leads Tourney

DEL MAR, Cal. (AP)—Whacking four strokes off a par that was hard to get, Young Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Texas, moved into the lead of the $3,000 Bing Crosby golf tournament at the halfway mark Saturday.

Demaret played through rain and sunshine to hand in a 68 for the first round, carding 33-35 for the 36-36 par on the Rancho Santa Fe course.

One stroke back was Jimmy Hines, long hitting pro from Garden City, Long Island, while two other famed golf swatters, Sam Snead of West Virginia, who won the event last year, and Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, took 72.

To Dick Metz, Lake Forest, Ill., fell the honor of being the first man to break par with a 71 after almost half of the field of 150 pros and amateurs had failed.

Branch Rickey Expects Dizzy To Sign Pact

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 15 (AP)—Branch Rickey, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, predicted today Dizzy Dean's salary difficulties would be ironed out "without any trouble."

"In fact," Rickey added, "there never has been any trouble." The Cardinal official said he expected a reply from the eccentric hurler "in a few days and after that we may see each other."

Dean has been offered $10,000. He has announced his 1937 salary as $25,500. At Bradenton, Fla., "Ol' Diz" declared the next move in the 1938 version of his holdout act was "up to Mr. Rickey." He said he had returned the contract unsigned.

Cardinal officials announced outfielder Don Padgett, whom Rickey expects to fashion into the club's No. 1 catcher, was the first man on the roster to agree to terms. He informed Rickey he would sign and return his contract.

Wildcats Win Overtime Tilt From Hoosiers

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 15 (AP)—A free throw by Currie and an under-the-basket field goal by Mike McMichael gave Northwestern university a 32 to 29 victory over Indiana in an overtime basketball game here tonight.

The triumph enabled Northwestern to keep its Big Ten conference lead. The score was tied, 29-all when regulation play ended. Marvin Huffman, Indiana guard, fouled Currie, Northwestern guard, who made the point. McMichael's two points came on a "sleeper" play.

In the last five minutes of the regular game, the lead passed back and forth until Jake Nagode, the Wildcats' lanky center, fouled by Johnson, connected with a free throw.

Women Hear Movie Speech

Mrs. Glen M. Waters Tells Film Points To A.A.U.W.

"A good movie cannot be a faithful reproduction of a novel or a play," was the statement made by Mrs. Glen M. Waters of Minneapolis, Minn., as she addressed the Iowa City branch of the American Association of University Women yesterday. The group met for luncheon at 12:15 p.m. in the University clubrooms in Iowa Union.

Speaking on "The Movies for Better or for Worse," Mrs. Waters pointed out the obstacles of the film as real art and its advantages and disadvantages over the legitimate stage.

Quoting Alla rdyce Nicoll's statement printed in the January issue of the "Atlantic Monthly," she said, "A really fine film will have a clearly told significant and arresting story or a theme of major importance; human characters will be there and a pictorially beautiful setting, and it will employ montage adapted to the film art."

Montage is the putting together of scenes related emotionally rather than intellectually or the use of realistic detail in a symbolic manner, she explained.

"People don't look at a picture as a work of art," the speaker said. "They leave nothing to the imagination. Art and life are not the same thing. Art takes material from life but it doesn't use it all."

Personalities
Mrs. Waters stated further that persons attend movies to see the personalities of the actors and actresses rather than the roles which these people are playing. "Practically mythological standings have been given to the people in Hollywood," she said.

In regard to the commercial aspect of motion picture production, Mrs. Waters explained that too many people are dependent upon the industry for a living for movies to be taking many chances at artistic interpretations.

When pictures do accomplish anything skillful, she attributes the success to the director who can make the public see whatever he wishes. A distinct disadvantage of the motion picture, she believes is that it is merely two dimensional which tends to produce psychological distance resulting in a separation of the actor from the audience.

Mrs. Waters emphasized that a film production of a play and the actual performance of the play on the legitimate stage should be thought of as two separate things.

Speaking briefly on A.A.U.W. fellowships before presenting the main address, she stated that the north west central section of A.A.U.W. had raised more than half of its goal and had in addition been giving a yearly fellowship since 1929.

The local chapter decided to consider bringing to Iowa City the film, "The River," which the "Atlantic Monthly" rates as the best motion picture of the year.

Hostesses at the luncheon were Mrs. Christian A. Ruckmick, Mrs. J. H. Allen, Aleene Baker, Jean Richards Cassel, Mrs. Ada L. Miller, Effie Elizabeth Mullin, Mrs. Ralph Ojemann, Elizabeth G. Robb, Mrs. Paul Ruth and Alice White.

TIPS on the Shopping Market

By Marion Lamar

THE days are getting longer — we look forward to spring and STRUB'S FASHION FLOOR is ready now with the correct new 1938 fashions which means suits and more suits! But with a variety in color, style and materials never seen before — among the latest finds are the brand new three-piece suits of Lustre-tone, casual suits with new swagger or fur-cuffed coats, and the La Mur coats to be worn over suits or new spring prints. The last word in colors are skillfully blended into these outfits—you'll find spun gold, nude, strawberry rose, molasses, come blue and lido grey among the most prominent as featured in the latest January 15th issue of Vogue and other fashion magazines. At STRUB'S you'll find new Bench made mannish tailored suits, everyone of them hand finished, in fine gabardines, men's worsted woollens that look grand under those new swagger topper coats or your fur coat! Another new suit that will be seen on the campus is the casual one with a plaid top and contrasting plain skirt. To top off these outfits come the new felts and straws—bowlers, boat-shaped, berets, and sailors. Just the thing, and while you're in STRUB'S get your purse, gloves and shoes to complete the perfect ensemble.

You have no idea, freshmen, what exam week can do to your P. A. You people who have been through it, have, no doubt, forgotten the real gravity of the situation. One way to take care of the matter is to have ETHEL GILCHRIST BEAUTY SHOP do a fine job of your hair and nails before it begins. A facial does things for your outlook, too.

HATS will be even more elaborate with ribbons, miles of it, binding the crown and hanging down the back.

Between semesters, gals, you are going to have time to get the ole wardrobe in shape again. When you run across a formerly favorite costume that could do with a little rejuvenation, barrel down to MRS. G. F. OEHLE'S RESTYLE SHOP with it. She will put back in high style and you'll love wearing it again.

There is no percentage whatever in sitting here and chinning these wintry blasts when tomorrow you could be sunning yourself on the sands of Pacific shores. I said TOMORROW. Board that UNITED AIRLINES plane tonight in Iowa City—change an hour later in Omaha to the UNITED AIRLINES sleeper plane — and wake up in warm weather. It sounds like a good deal to me.

Term papers and notebooks do pile up, don't they? The solution for that problem is to have MARY V. BURNS type them off in great shape for you in almost no time at all. She will have your footnotes absolutely accurate and the finished product will be a work of art. MISS BURNS will do your mimeographing, too, and a fine job of it.

Before you go home after classes and settle down for a week-long session with the books, stop at the KARMEL KORN SHOP for a sack of chewy KARMEL KORN, pop-corn or a fresh sticky taffy apple. It will keep you from feeling sorry for you while you are cramming mentally.

SUITS—the strategic point for strengthening your wardrobe at this time of year is the suit point. BAGWELL'S has a smart new line of the basic man-tailored suit. Every one is hand-somely tailored of the finest men's worsteds, and they come in pin stripes, oxfords, brown, black, navy and banker's gray. Wouldn't it give you added courage during exams to be wearing a smart new suit from BAGWELL'S.

And how's this? Phyllis Wasam, Tri Delta, is now sporting a diamond on the finger where it means something. The donor is Hugh Kelson.

Don't neglect Ruby the Roadster when she is proving such a good pal these cold days. Keep her warm and jolly with anti-freeze and the right winter oil, not to mention the tops in petrol, from JONES STANDARD SERVICE.

CAN you think of anything more tempting than a nice thick juicy steak with onions or mushrooms and french fries to go with it? If there is anything better it's a pinkish roast of beef. POLEHNA BROS. have all the best beef so if you order it at POLEHNA'S you can be sure of a wonderful dinner.

Black is being worn in new ways; for example, black unrelieved except by one single, dramatic jewel.

The BOOK PARADE

Carmer's Book of Fairy Tales Relates American Folk-Lore

Reviewer Says Volume Will Appeal to All Age-Groups

"THE HURRICANE'S CHILDREN" by Carl Carmer. (Farrar and Rinehart, Inc., 1937, $2.50.)

For an evening around a fire-side, reading aloud from Carl Carmer's fourth book "The Hurricane's Children" would be perfect entertainment. The folklore included is a series of fairy tales that will appeal to children of every age — up to 60-year-olds.

Here you will find a collection of folk tales, tall, unbelievable tales that are a part of the section of the country from which they come. If you've heard of Paul Bunyan, Annie Christmas, Johnny Appleseed and Bob Taylor, you will find their stories complete and well-told. I'm inclined to believe Carmer's latest is also his greatest book because it deals with all the country instead of an isolated section.

Carmer calls this volume "a group of American fairy stories. The people of almost every nation have liked to make up stories about the 'little people.' Even the American Indians tell some beautiful tales about them. But Americans have been so busy doing big jobs they never have taken time off to let their minds play with the tiny folk who have magic powers. At the end of a hard day's work the American cowboys or miners or lumberjacks or applejacks have had their fun out of making up stories about men who could do jobs that just could not be done, and in an impossibly short time with one hand tied behind them. The dreams of American workers, naturally enough, have never been delicate, exquisite or polite — like most fairy tales. They have been big and powerful and a strong wind is always blowing through them. And so I have discovered that this is not an American fairy-book at all, but an American giant book."

For pure, unvarnished joy, "The Hurricane's Children" is highly recommended. It's a sort of antidote for the over-long histories, novels and "important" books that have been coming out. The harmless quality of the tiny volume is the best part of it, it seems to me.

Can You Review It?

Bob Benchley Offers New Entertainment In His 10th Book

"AFTER 1903 — WHAT?" by Robert Benchley. (Harper and Brothers, 1938, $2.50.)

There are two ways to review a Robert Benchley book. In the first place you can — as most writers do — attempt to imitate the Benchley manner — which you can't. Or you can just say Bob Benchley has written another book. For the initiated that is enough.

The initiated, may I add, are usually those who did NOT like "How to Win Friends and Influence People," Beard's "History of the United States" or even "Gone with the Wind." Benchleyites haven't time for such trivialities.

We who know and love Mr. Benchley go to the core of life and to a consideration of such problems as he treats in his latest book — "Tattooing," "Symptoms of Intoxicated Drivers," "The Ten Most People," "Let Yourself Go" and "My Face." Important subjects all, these are likely to be ignored in the general run of book-writing. That's why we need a man like Robert Benchley.

For entertaining his is a book that can't be missed by the really smart hostess. Consider the new Benchley game called "Footies" — put your left foot over your right arm. What is it? "Foot over Mi-armi."

Anyway, Bob Benchley's 10th book is just as good as the other nine, and it made this writer laugh, guffaw, giggle and scream. May there be 10 more Benchley books — and then 10 after that.

Bombard Frat Houses

Men Battle 2 Hours To Win Traditional Grudge Snow Fight

Nearly 100 windows were smashed as nearly 100 fraternity men were drawn into a two-hour snowball battle yesterday that originated in an annual grudge battle.

The traditional Phi Delta Theta-Delta Tau Delta snowfest involved at least seven fraternity houses yesterday after the battle started on the 700 block on North Dubuque street.

Only three unbroken windows remained in the Delta Tau Delta house as the fight drew more participants and moved successively, across the street to the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, and to the Sigma Nu, Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Chi and Sigma Phi Epsilon houses.

The Delta Upsilon and Phi Gamma Delta houses on Ellis avenue, across the Iowa river, were also subjected to the snowball bombardment.

The damage amounted to approximately $100, and a settlement will probably be reached at the interfraternity council meeting next week.

Biography Gives Picture of Life In 19th Century

"LUCIE DUFF GORDON" by Gordon Waterfield. (E. P. Dutton and company, 1937, $3.75.)

Lucie Duff Gordon died in 1869 when she was 48; at her death she was admired, respected and loved by almost all of the famous and important men who were her contemporaries.

George Meredith was inspired by her tremendous force and energy; he wrote of her radiant beauty, scholarly training, philosophic humor and independence of judgment, of her "manly nature" and sparkling, comradely qualities as hostess, cordial in welcome, calm and cogent in argument, greeting good things from others with "a triumphant smile" or "the laugh that rocks the frame."

Tennyson wrote "The Princess" with her in mind, but Kinglake said it was feeble to compare her with mere royalty.

She developed "consumption" at 30 and had to leave England to travel in the east. Her "Letters from Egypt" and "Letters from Cape" are not generally known today, but the author of her biography declares them to be among the most searching analyses of a people and a time ever written by a woman. Many of her remarks are included in her biography.

Lucie Gordon came of remarkable forebears who had views of life that were the antithesis of "Victorian" and who are interesting enough to absorb us with their own story. John Austin, handsome, erudite, overconscientious and oversensitive, wrote one great book, dull but important, and owes his fame as the originator of the Austinian theory of law to the editorial labors, after his death, of his heroic and brilliant wife, Sarah.

Honorable, pessimistic and humorless, he wrote her what must have been the strangest letter of proposal ever recorded, detailing all of the misfortunes that might result from their engagement and advising her to consider them. But, despite the hardships, Sarah stood by him, and brought up her Lucie in an atmosphere of refinement and liberalism — even, at times, radicalism. As a child Lucie knew Sidney Smith, John Stuart Mill and Heine.

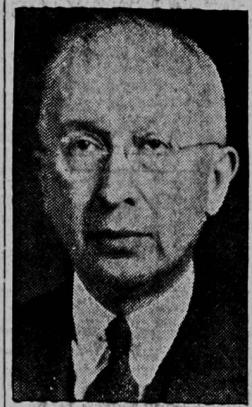

This, her biography, is written by her grandson, and it is an interesting book — if an unimportant one. For those who want to know the literary and social life of three-quarters of the 19th century it is recommended reading.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester 1937-1938

Saturday, Jan. 22, 8 a.m. to Saturday, Jan. 29, 12 m., 1938

The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the room in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (1), (2), and (3) as shown at N. B. below).

The program Committee directs the attention of both students and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation from this schedule, in the case of any examination—except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification on the student's written petition, filed in ample time and supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of completing examinations earlier will not be permitted.

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

If the student takes the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examinations during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double vertical line.

Unless students are reasonably sure that their semester's work, including final examinations, is successful they are requested to call (within the 24-hour period following the conclusion of their final examinations) at the offices of the deans of men and women, appropriately, in order to learn whether any of their instructors have reported Fd. for them; and if any student has reason to suspect that Fd. will be his record for one or more courses, he is requested to register until he learns that he has passed.

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) This instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour Jan. 17 or 18; if possible, Jan. 10 or 11.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Monday, Jan. 24, 2-4, according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (125) meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Friday, Jan. 28, 2-4.

N. B. All sections of freshman Speech (1), (2), and (3) will meet during the examination week on the days and at the periods designated below. Consult the bulletin board in room 13, Schaeffer Hall, for room assignments.

Saturday, January 22—Section H, 8-10; Speech (2), 8-10.
Monday, January 24—Section A, 1-3; Section E, 3-5.
Thursday, January 27—Section I, 8-10; Section C, 1-3; Section G, 3-5; Speech (3), 3-5.
Friday, January 28—Section D, 10-12; Section B, 1-3; Section F, 3-5.
Saturday, January 29—Section J, 10-12.

"ODD" classes,—namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from January 22 to January 28 inclusive.
2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, since for such "odd" classes these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs." unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F."—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

H. C. DORCAS, Secretary Program Committee.

Society Offers Winning Prizes

Will Award Two Best Papers Submitted By Engineers

The tri-cities section of the American Students of Mechanical Engineering will award two prizes for the best and the second best papers written by members of the student branch during the year, it has been announced.

The first prize will be a junior membership in the A.S.M.E. with all dues and fees paid for one year, an award equivalent to $10. The second prize of $5 in cash will be awarded to the student writing the second best paper during the year.

The papers must take no longer than 15 minutes to read and must be submitted to the college of engineering not later than March 1. They will be judged by three members of the mechanical engineering faculty.

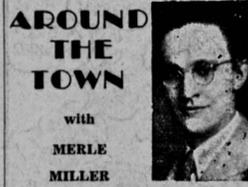

The offer of awards is being made to the student branch of Iowa State college as well as to that of the University of Iowa.

Students in the tri-cities section are planning to take an all day factory inspection trip next spring in the tri-cities. The trip will be followed by a joint meeting of the two student branches and the tri-cities section in Davenport. At that time the two prize papers from each student branch will be presented.

'The Wind May Blow' Wintry Blasts Mean More Furnace-Firing For 'Vulcan' In Early Morning

Another shovel of coal goes into one of his eight furnaces as E. E. Norton, 920 E. Fairchild street, works to keep more than 200 students warm. Up at 4 a.m. and to bed at 11 p.m. Norton "hopes we have a mild winter."

By LUTHER BOWERS until the last one is banked for the night at about 11 p.m.

The approaching final exam week is a trying time not only for students but for "Vulcan" as well. Then he must keep the fires roaring all night long so perennial crammers may keep at their books in cozy warmth.

During past examination weeks, he explained, "I've seldom slept more than an hour at a time and then curled up in front of one of the furnaces." He doesn't expect this year to be an exception to the routine, but philosophically adds, "I have learned to take the weather as it comes. It doesn't do any good to complain."

Norton is frequently assisted by one of his four boys, but he admits with a chuckle, "I can still make the young fellows step at 53." The small fireman, who planned to become a minister before circumstances intervened, appears to be in fine health in spite of long hours of hard work.

"Vulcan" estimates that he shovels about 20 tons of coal each week, and when asked if he ever has furnace trouble, he said, "In the entire 10 years the only trouble has been caused by an occasional load of poor-grade coal."

So day in and day out he makes the rounds, and most of us second his fervent hope that "the rest of the winter will be mild."

Glass-Painting Project Begun By Crafts Class

The crafts class at the Iowa City Recreational Center started last week with an attendance of 25 girls.

Amy E. Williamson, A4 of Fairfield, who directs the crafts class for girls of grade school age, has started the group on a glass-painting project.

Yesterday's class promised an encouraging display of the glass-painters' art.

The young members of the group silhouetted figures on plate glass. The model may be any object, animal or human figure. The conventional black paint or a variety of colors are at the girls' disposal. These may be applied to suit their creative fancy.

Once completed the painting is placed over a piece of tin foil or cardboard, matching the size of the glass plate, clearly outlining the painted object. Decorative tape binds the edges, and the finished product is ready for a place on the wall.

The plates may also be built into a projecting frame and serve as the base of a tray.

There will be no costs involved in any of the projects, Eugene Trowbridge, director of the center declared.

City Council To Consider New Armory Plan

An ordinance which would place management of the new $85,000 national guard armory under control of the Iowa City Armory board, incorporated, will be considered by the city council at a meeting tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

The board consists of commissioned officers of the local cavalry and medical guard units, and if the ordinance is approved, they will be directly responsible to the city council for management of the armory.

The proposed health ordinance, which would place more stringent health requirements on Iowa City dairies and dairy farms, may also be considered at the meeting.

Traffic Violators Fined Yesterday

Six traffic violators were fined yesterday by Police Judge Burke N. Carson.

Parking a car with the left wheel to the curb brought a $1 fine to Lyle Frantz and George Brown. Fines of $1 each were paid by John Piper, LeRoy Anderlink and Bernard Miltner for parking in a prohibited zone.

Ray Haberkorn's fine for having two spotlights on his car was suspended by Judge Carson on the condition that Haberkorn remove the lights.

Changes Recommended in Proposed State District Soil Erosion Control Bill

Members of the Johnson county agricultural planning committee have recommended several changes in the proposed state district soil erosion control bill.

Erosion problems in Johnson county, all on farms near creek and the Iowa river, were recognized by the committee.

In its recommendations, the committee stated it would be difficult to have the 25 signers required for application for a district erosion control set up and asked that the number be reduced.

The proposed bill requires that two of the state erosion control committee be dirt farmers. Johnson county recommended that three members of the committee be dirt farmers.

A majority of the voters in a district will be able to apply for a district erosion control set up under the proposed legislation. The committee changed the requirement to 75 per cent of the voters of a district.

The committee made no recommendation on the enforcement program of the bill. It desired further study.

The recommendations will be

First All-American Dance Band

When the All-American season was at its peak and football fans were lying awake nights worrying about the standings of their favorite grid greats, our special New York correspondent for things musical caught the fever and on this page we have the result—the world's first All-American Dance Band. Composed only of orchestra leaders who attended college and play instruments, it is a band that would please swingsters and waltzers alike. COLLEGIATE DIGEST is particularly proud to be the nation's first publication to honor these men of note in this manner—and we only wish we could get them all together to entertain you at a super-deluxe swing session.

Of course we would include in this band a number of other musical aces, but space limitations prevented our presenting their photographs.

DRUMMER GEORGE OLSEN studied law at the University of Michigan. He led the college band and was the first drum major to twirl a baton and throw it over the goal posts.

BUNNY BERIGAN (Wisconsin) left the university to join Hal Kemp, now plays one of finest hot trumpets in the land with his own band.

EDDIE DUCHIN (Mass. State '30) began working on his now-famous piano style while playing in a campus band.

NYE MAHEW attended college after establishing his orchestra. Studied at N. Y. U. while playing in a New York City hotspot.

OZZIE NELSON (Rutgers '27) also organized a band while in college.

JOHNNY GREEN (Harvard '28) composed Body and Soul while an undergraduate, studied music to almost complete exclusion of other courses.

RUDY VALLEE (Yale '27), dean of singing orchestra leaders, also attended University of Maine.

First All-American Dance Band

When the All-American season was at its peak and football fans were lying awake nights worrying about the standings of their favorite grid greats, our special New York correspondent for things musical caught the fever and on this page we have the result—the world's first All-American Dance Band. Composed only of orchestra leaders who attended college and play instruments, it is a band that would please swingsters and waltzers alike. COLLEGIATE DIGEST is particularly proud to be the nation's first publication to honor these men of note in this manner—and we only wish we could get them all together to entertain you at a super-deluxe swing session.

Of course we would include in this band a number of other musical aces, but space limitations prevented our presenting their photographs.

DRUMMER GEORGE OLSEN studied law at the University of Michigan. He led the college band and was the first drum major to twirl a baton and throw it over the goal posts.

BUNNY BERIGAN (Wisconsin) left the university to join Hal Kemp, now plays one of finest hot trumpets in the land with his own band.

EDDIE DUCHIN (Mass. State '30) began working on his now-famous piano style while playing in a campus band.

THREE VIOLINS add rhythm and melody to our All-American band. Peter Van Steeden (top) studied chemical engineering at North Carolina and Alabama Poly, Garber (left) attended North Carolina and Alabama Poly, Mahue (right) studied law at Boston University.

JOHNNY GREEN (Harvard '28) composed Body and Soul while an undergraduate, studied music to almost complete exclusion of other courses.

LUD GLUSKIN (Yale '20) played drums in the football band, switched to piano when he organized his band.

Beginners learn from bone models

Freshmen begin the dental course by carving blocks of bone into the shape of teeth. These models must be made with exactitude, and by the time the student has completed the work to the instructor's satisfaction, he has learned the exact shape of each tooth in a normal jaw.

Training America's Dentists

Just how modern U. S. dentists learn the practices and procedures that make them important and indispensable members of our communities' puzzles many collegians and average-citizens alike. In this chapter of This Is College, COLLEGIATE DIGEST tells the picture story of the purely mechanical side of a dentist's education, reminding its readers that there is much more to dental training than mere chiseling and drilling. Follow this interesting and informative series taken in the University of Iowa's famed dental school.

Post Box Romance

And a Test for True Love

A lot of publicity and very little romance was started when R. M. Brandin and W. A. Gilroy (at left) began Princeton's Lonely Hearts Club. When they advertised in the Vassar newspaper, "Hundreds of men are lonely in Princeton. Are you lonely, too? Find your post-box lover by writing the Lonely Hearts Club," they received stacks of responses. But Vassar venuses (below) claim it was all in fun and are shown giving the razzberry to the melancholy Tigers. Meanwhile, University of Toledo's Edmund Keefer (right) invented a "cupidoscope" which allegedly tests "true love." The prospects for matrimony hold hands, hold electrodes on the machine, and a meter tells them whether or not they should proceed with the affair.

The camera flashed and clicked just as the speeding ball slid past the goalie's arm in a water polo game played between two teams of the Ohio University swimming team. Their coach, Raymond Paul, is now working to have the game approved by the officials of the Buckeye Athletic Association for intercollegiate competition.

By pointing his camera upwards and northwards, and leaving its shutter open for a considerable period of time, he obtained this record of what, to the earthly observer, seems to be star motion. Patience and intelligence are necessary to take this type of photo, says Photographer Humphrey, for there are many complications that arise to plague the amateur in this type of work, not the least of which is the formation of dew on the camera's lens.

End Leniency Toward Japan, Russian Urges

Official Demands Soviet Stop 'Hooliganism' In Orient

MOSCOW, Jan. 17 (AP)—Andre Alexandrovitch Zhdanoff, one of Joseph Stalin's right hand men, called on the commissariat of foreign affairs today to take "drastic measures" to end Japanese "hooliganism."

Addressing the supreme soviet, Russia's new red parliament, Zhdanoff said Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff deserved credit for carrying out "the Soviet policy of peace" but that he was too lenient toward "the hooligan agents of Japan in her puppet state, Manchoukuo."

"I believe it is our common opinion," he declared, "that drastic measures should be taken which would put an end once and for all to the hooliganism of the agents of Japanese imperialism."

Zhdanoff spoke as chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the Soviet Union and a member of the new presidium of the supreme soviet. His speech was cheered lustily by the deputies.

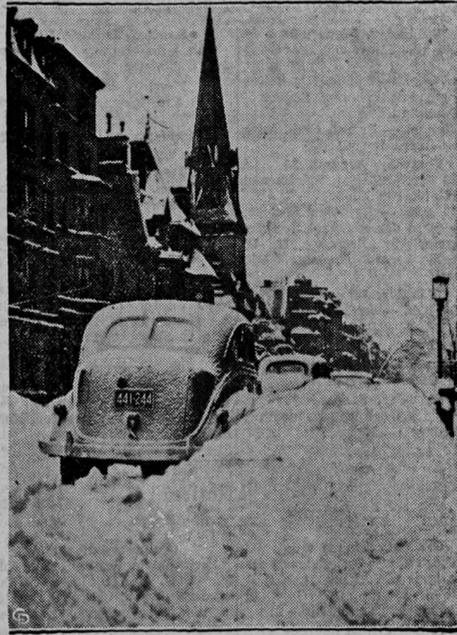

Today's joint session of the two houses—the soviet of the union and the soviet of nationalities—was devoted to reorganization of the highest administrative organs of the state under the new constitution.

Michael Kalinin and Vyacheslav Molotoff, president and premier of the Soviet state, were chosen for similar posts in the new setup—Kalinin as chairman of the new presidium of the red parliament and Molotoff chairman of the council of people's commissars, the Soviet cabinet.

Molotoff was empowered to name a new council of commissars which, it was indicated, would be the same as the old, with one or two exceptions. The deputies gave a rising vote of confidence to the commissars after a joint message offering their resignations had been read.

Stalin, dominant figure of the Soviet state as secretary-general of the communist party, was elected a member of the presidium, a post equivalent to that he held on the former central executive committee.

Big-City Mayors Urge Relief To Be Continued and Expanded

Increased Applications Prompt Demands To Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—Four big-city mayors told congress of increasing relief demands today and urged, one and all, a continuation and expansion of federal work relief to meet the emergency.

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia told the senate unemployment committee relief applications on file in New York rose from 2,780 in September to 6,500 or 7,400 now.

Cleveland's jobless increased from 93,000 Sept. 15 to 175,000 Jan. 6, said Mayor Harold H. Burton.

Detroit's automobile factories and other industries have laid off 155,000, Mayor Richard W. Reading testified.

The number on relief in San Francisco is 26,700, said Mayor Angelo J. Rossi, and an increase is expected there.

New York city could not have existed during the depression without federal aid, LaGuardia said, adding that in his opinion it was the federal government's responsibility to take care of all employables, preferably by work relief.

"There seems to be but one answer—a greater federal appropriation to handle this emergency now," said Reading.

WPA should be expanded to include all the unemployed who are "capable of doing productive work," said Burton.

"It is highly important," Rossi told the committee, "that the federal government continue participation either in a work relief program or in some other related program, either on the same, or, preferably, on an increased or expanded basis."

Alleged Rifle Shots In Snowball Battle To be Investigated

Saturday's Phi Delta Theta-Delta Tau Delta snowball battle, a traditional fraternity event, will be investigated by the interfraternity council, it was decided at a special meeting yesterday.

The decision was reached after it was learned a window in the Phi Delta Theta house had been broken with "four or five" rifle shots. The fight previously was believed solved with both sides accepting their losses good-naturedly.

"There is no foundation to the rumor that bullets were fired. The only damages that resulted were from snowballs. Some of the boys must have been kidding," Neff Wells, A4 of Davenport, president of Phi Delta Theta, said last night.

The council recommended to the interfraternity court that an injunction be served on the two fraternities, preventing them from repeating the traditional snowball fight and that disciplinary measures be taken punishing the person or persons responsible for the rifle fire.

Anti-Lynchers Will Demand Night Sessions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—

Sponsors of the anti-lynching bill said today they would demand night sessions later this week in an effort to get a vote on the measure.

Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind) asserted supporters of the bill could muster enough votes to force such procedure.

Southern senators have been talking steadily against the bill for 10 days.

"I will ask that sessions start an hour earlier (at 11 a.m.) and run as late as possible at night," Van Nuys, one of the introducers of the bill, said. "All this talk on the merits is a joke. Whether the senate kills or passes this bill, we want a vote."

Van Nuys said he had delayed his request for night sessions pending return of Senator Wagner (D-NY), co-author of the measure. Wagner had been confined to his apartment with a cold, but was expected back on the senate floor Tuesday or Wednesday.

Senator Connally (D-Tex), who has served as floor-leader for southerners talking against the bill, said they would not oppose night sessions.

Senator Van Nuys said supporters of the bill would resist any attempt to sidetrack it, even temporarily, for other legislation.

Navy Planes Begin Mass Honolulu Flight Tomorrow at 8 A.M.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 17 (AP)—

Eighteen navy patrol planes will take off at 8 a.m. (11 a.m. EST) tomorrow, weather permitting, on a massed flight to Honolulu, Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of aircraft, scouting force, announced today.

Admiral King said he expected the planes to fly the 2570-mile great circle route in about 18 hours.

Twelve of the same type planes made the hop last April in 21 hours, 21 minutes.

Seventeen of the planes will carry seven men each, with eight aboard the other.

COMPETITION

Church Schools Fight For Existence

CHICAGO, Jan. 17 (AP)—Dr. Gould Wickey, general secretary of the council of church boards of education, said today the growing competition of state universities was a "serious threat" to the existence of the more than 700 church-supported colleges and universities in the United States.

Despite already large enrollments, he said many state colleges used student canvassers to boost enrollments as a means to larger tax appropriations. Some state universities also are soliciting endowment funds which "otherwise would go to the denominational schools," he added.

Witness Asks For Execution Of Profits Tax

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—

The first business spokesman at public hearings on the administration-approved tax revision plan advised congress today to kill the undistributed profits tax instead of modifying it and to broaden the base of income taxes.

M. L. Seidman, chairman of the tax committee of the New York board of trade, was the first private witness before the house ways and means committee.

"The undistributed profits tax stands before the country today thoroughly convicted as an undesirable tax and as harmful to business and to confidence," he said. "It has earned its execution. Let it die."

The recommendations on which the committee is conducting hearings would lift the levy from corporations having incomes of less than $25,000 a year, but retain its principle for big corporations.

Seidman also called for abolition of the present system under which capital gains are lumped with a taxpayer's other income and subjected to income taxes.

As a means of making the people conscious of taxes and of the fact it is their money the federal government spends, the New Yorker proposed a broadening of the income tax base.
