End Leniency Toward Japan, Russian Urges

Official Demands Soviet Stop 'Hooliganism' In Orient

MOSCOW, Jan. 17 (AP) — Andre Alexandrovitch Zhdanoff, one of Joseph Stalin's right hand men, called on the commissariat of foreign affairs today to take "drastic measures" to end Japanese "hooliganism."

Addressing the supreme soviet, Russia's new red parliament, Zhdanoff said Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff deserved credit for carrying out "the Soviet policy of peace" but that he was too lenient toward "the hooligan agents of Japan in her puppet state, Manchoukuo."

"I believe it is our common opinion," he declared, "that drastic measures should be taken which would put an end once and for all to the hooliganism of the agents of Japanese imperialism."

Zhdanoff spoke as chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the Soviet Union and a member of the new presidium of the supreme soviet. His speech was cheered lustily by the deputies.

Today's joint session of the two houses—the soviet of the union and the soviet of nationalities—was devoted to reorganization of the highest administrative organs of the state under the new constitution.

Michael Kalinin and Vyacheslav Molotov, president and premier of the Soviet state, were chosen for similar posts in the new setup—Kalinin as chairman of the new presidium of the red parliament and Molotov chairman of the council of people's commissars, the Soviet cabinet.

Molotov was empowered to name a new council of commissars which, it was indicated, would be the same as the old, with one or two exceptions. The deputies gave a rising vote of confidence to the commissars after a joint message offering their resignations had been read.

Stalin, dominant figure of the Soviet state as secretary-general of the communist party, was elected a member of the presidium, a post equivalent to that held on the former central executive committee.

Anti-Lynchings Will Demand Night Sessions

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—Sponsors of the anti-lynching bill said today they would demand night sessions later this week in an effort to get a vote on the measure.

Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind) asserted supporters of the bill could muster enough votes to force such procedure.

Southern senators have been talking steadily against the bill for 10 days.

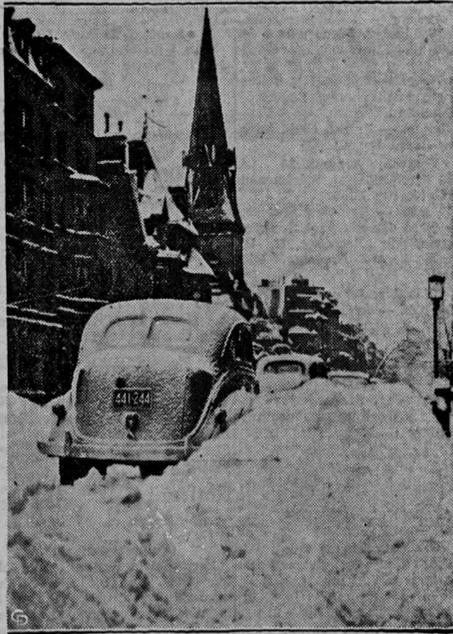

"I will ask that sessions start an hour earlier (at 11 a.m.) and run as late as possible at night," Van Nuys, one of the introducers of the bill, said. "All this talk on the merits is a joke. Whether the senate kills or passes this bill, we want a vote."

Van Nuys said he had delayed his request for night sessions pending return of Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.), co-author of the measure. Wagner had been confined to his apartment with a cold, but was expected back on the senate floor Tuesday or Wednesday.

Senator Connally (D-Tex), who has served as floor-leader for southerners talking against the bill, said they would not oppose night sessions.

Senator Van Nuys said supporters of the bill would resist any attempt to sidetrack it, even temporarily, for other legislation.

Big-City Mayors Urge Relief To Be Continued and Expanded

Increased Applications Prompt Demands To Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—Four big-city mayors told congress of increasing relief demands today and urged, one and all, a continuation and expansion of federal work relief to meet the emergency.

Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia told the senate unemployment committee relief applications on file in New York rose from 2,780 in September to 6,500 or 7,400 now.

Cleveland's jobless increased from 93,000 Sept. 15 to 175,000 Jan. 6, said Mayor Harold H. Burton.

Detroit's automobile factories and other industries have laid off 155,000, Mayor Richard W. Reading testified.

The number on relief in San Francisco is 26,700, said Mayor Angelo J. Rossi, and an increase is expected there.

New York city could not have existed during the depression without federal aid, LaGuardia said, adding that in his opinion it was the federal government's responsibility to take care of all employables, preferably by work relief.

"There seems to be but one answer—a greater federal appropriation to handle this emergency now," said Reading.

WPA should be expanded to include all the unemployed who are "capable of doing productive work," said Burton.

"It is highly important," Rossi told the committee, "that the federal government continue participation either in a work relief program or in some other related program, either on the same, or, preferably, on an increased or expanded basis."

Saturday's Phi Delta Theta-Delta Tau Delta snowball battle, a traditional fraternity event, will be investigated by the interfraternity council, it was decided at a special meeting yesterday.

The decision was reached after it was learned a window in the Phi Delta Theta house had been broken with "four or five" rifle shots. The fight previously was believed solved with both sides accepting their losses good-naturedly.

"There is no foundation to the rumor that bullets were fired. The only damages that resulted were from snowballs. Some of the boys must have been kidding," Neff Wells, A4 of Davenport, president of Phi Delta Theta, said last night.

COMPETITION Church Schools Fight For Existence

CHICAGO, Jan. 17 (AP)—Dr. Gould Wickey, general secretary of the council of church boards of education, said today the growing competition of state universities was a "serious threat" to the existence of the more than 700 church-supported colleges and universities in the United States.

Despite already large enrollments, he said many state colleges used student canvassers to boost enrollments as a means to larger tax appropriations. Some state universities also are soliciting endowment funds which "otherwise would go to the denominational schools," he added.

Witness Asks For Execution Of Profits Tax

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—The first business spokesman at public hearings on the administration-approved tax revision plan advised congress today to kill the undistributed profits tax instead of modifying it and to broaden the base of income taxes.

M. L. Seidman, chairman of the tax committee of the New York board of trade, was the first private witness before the house ways and means committee.

"The undistributed profits tax stands before the country today thoroughly convicted as an undesirable tax and as harmful to business and to confidence," he said. "It has earned its execution. Let it die."

The recommendations on which the committee is conducting hearings would lift the levy from corporations having incomes of less than $25,000 a year, but retain its principle for big corporations.

Seidman also called for abolition of the present system under which capital gains are lumped with a taxpayer's other income and subjected to income taxes.

As a means of making the people conscious of taxes and of the fact it is their money the federal government spends, the New Yorker proposed a broadening of the income tax base.

Extended Chinese Resistance Compels Japan to Resort to Another 'Serious' Course, Premier Tells Political Heads

Action Seeks Recovery of School Site Costs--Delay in Construction Looms

L. Smith Files Demand Notice

Will Bring Suit Unless Board Gets Back Money Spent

By MERLE MILLER
Daily Iowan City Editor

Iowa City's new high school—an issue here for seven years—is still an uncertainty this morning, the result of a notice given School Board President George Maresh last night.

The notice demands that the local school board recover money for land on the Morningside site east of Iowa City which will be the location of the new school.

The action—a surprise to the school board—was started by Lewis L. Smith Sr., 1106 Keokuk avenue, on grounds that the school board in purchasing the 29-acre site in 1931 and 1934 exceeded its authority.

If the money spent in the two purchases, about $30,000, is not recovered, Lewis will bring a taxpayer's suit in district court, Attorneys D. C. Nolan and R. C. Davis, representing him, declare.

Thus two possible delays in the building of the new school are on the horizon. Twelve other taxpayers have already appealed to County Superintendent Frank Snider the decision to build the school on the east side site. He will hear the appeal beginning at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Bonds for the new school were voted Nov. 4 after a vigorous, name-calling campaign which ended in a defeat for a proposal suggesting a central site and an overwhelming victory for the proposal that the school be built at Morningside.

The same issue had been defeated twice before—both times lacking the required 60 per cent majority necessary to issue bonds in Iowa. After the last election many local residents declared the questions had been "misleading" and "wrongly worded."

"Dec 7 the board was notified a petition had been filed with Snider, questioning the validity of the election results.

John G. Fink—one of the 12 protesters—later filed an amendment to the original petition also through Attorney Nolan, charging the Morningside site is "illegal." He declares school sites, according to state law, should not exceed five acres and that the proposed site is 29 acres.

Moreover, Fink alleges, the estimated cost of the 1,000-pupil building is "excessive." Of the $725,000 cost, 45 per cent was contributed by the government through a PWA grant.

School board members would not comment last night, but it is unlikely they will grant either Lewis' or Fink's demands. Thus, no matter how Snider decides, his decision will probably be appealed to Agnes Samuelson, state superintendent of instruction.

Should Lewis—as he probably will—appeal for a temporary injunction when he takes the case to court, and if it is granted, no work can be done on the building. The district court decision also will probably be appealed no matter what the decision.

How long will be the delay no one can say. A pessimistic observer last night estimated, "Six months at the least, probably a year."

OIL WELL BLAZE Threatens City

KILGORE, Tex., Jan. 17 (AP)—Flames 150 feet high roared unchecked out of a wild oil well in the heart of this east Texas city today, while thousands watched frantic efforts to keep the fire from spreading to downtown buildings.

'Revelations From God' Cause Fire

Use of Gas Spray to Protect 'Message' Reader Starts Blaze

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 17 (AP)—Asserted "revelations from God" to gray-bearded, 71-year-old George Otis were blamed today by Captain of Detectives E. A. Hedman for a fire which threatened the famous Latter Day Saints (Mormon) tabernacle.

With two small spray tanks filled with gasoline, Otis and two followers tried to hold a crowd back yesterday while Paul A. Millet, a farmer, attempted to read the "message" beside the wooden tabernacle. Mormons and visitors at the tabernacle overpowered them.

"Otis says he did not intend to set fire to the tabernacle," Hedman said. "He maintains that God told him to use the fire to hold back the crowd. None of the men—Otis, Millet, William H. Wall or Archie Millet—regret their action."

Hedman said Otis told him the "revelation" was that present leaders of the Mormon church were not fulfilling their duties and that the church "must get back to the teachings of Joseph Smith" (founder of the church in 1830).

While attempting to deliver "the word," which Paul Millet said "would have taken only half an hour to read," gasoline was sprayed on a wall of the tabernacle and the sidewalk. When the crowd rushed them, the fuel was ignited.

Hedman said the four men were being held for investigation.

Capital Locked Out--Not On "Strike," Banker Declares

Says Business Recession Caused by Loss Of Confidence

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17 (AP)—A Morgan banking partner, Thomas W. Lamont, today declared the current business recession was not caused by any "strike" of capital.

"Quite contrary to the views apparently held in some quarters," the financier said, "the entire business community has, according to my observation, made the most strenuous efforts to maintain the improvement that marked 1936 and early 1937."

Lamont spoke at a luncheon meeting in connection with the University of Pennsylvania's bi-centennial endowment campaign.

"In a great country like America, if enterprise is to continue to advance," he continued, "fresh capital must be made constantly available for it. Now the capital markets, the fields of private investment, are practically closed. That does not mean there is a strike of capital."

"There is just as little reason in such a phrase as there would be to say that 30,000 employees who had lost their jobs because of slack orders had gone on strike. No! Would it not be nearer the mark to say that capital was on strike, but that it had been 'locked out' by such things as the surplus profits tax which has given warning to investors that no longer are businesses to be permitted to conserve a fair measure of their earnings for bad times; 'locked out' by the continued unsettlement of the problems of the public utilities, the needs of which, for new capital to be expended in material and labor for improvements, are crying aloud and cannot be answered?"

MINUS COMMUNISTS Chautemps Omits Reds From Cabinet

PARIS, Jan. 17 (AP)—Camille Chautemps today attempted to form a modified people's front government without communist support.

The radical-socialist leader was called on to succeed himself after four days of fruitless effort by former Premier Leon Blum and Georges Bonnet. Chautemps' cabinet fell last Friday in the face of communist opposition to his labor and financial policies.

He accepted "in principle" the invitation of President Albert LeBrun while awaiting a decision by the socialist party whether it would enter his cabinet or at least support him in the chamber of deputies.

Expect Senate To Ratify Reed By Next Week

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—Conservative Justice George Sutherland completed his service on the supreme court today and there were increasing indications that Solicitor General Stanley Reed, President Roosevelt's choice to succeed him, would be seated quickly and without controversy.

Senator Logan (D-Ky) considering Reed's qualifications, forecast his nomination would be confirmed by the senate next week.

That would permit the veteran defender of administration legislation to take his place on the supreme court when it reconvenes two weeks hence.

Logan called a meeting of the sub-committee for Thursday to hear any protests that anyone might wish to make against the appointment. But he said he had heard of no opposition, and unless some developed Thursday the sub-committee would report the nomination to the full committee immediately and favorably.

As solicitor general, Reed attended today's session of the court, at which Sutherland delivered his final opinion as a member of the high tribunal. The two faced each other across the bench, the nominee sitting in his usual place in the first row, directly below the bench.

Officials Look For Weapons Following Attempted Escape

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 17 (AP)—The yard of the old state penitentiary was searched for weapons today in the wake of an abortive break for freedom by five convicts.

Guards reported only one knife was found.

Four of the prisoners managed to scale the 22-foot wall with ladders. Tower Guard Thomas Shaw shot Donald Loutus in the shoulder and Harry Gerken in the leg.

Official Policy Fails to Reveal Scope of Plan

Prince Will Reorganize His Cabinet, Report Indicates

TOKYO, Jan. 17 (AP)—Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye today was reported to have told Japanese political leaders frankly that the undeclared war against China was becoming increasingly grave.

Domei (Japanese news agency) said Konoye informed leading members of both houses of parliament that failures to bring China to terms had "compelled the government to resort to another course of serious nature."

What this might mean was not disclosed.

It was learned authoritatively that yesterday's governmental statement on the new imperial policy had not disclosed the full scope of the decisions.

The official statement said the Japanese cabinet and naval authorities were in complete accord on pursuing the war until complete pacification of eastern Asia was achieved. Japan withdrew recognition from the national government of China, declaring her "responsibilities for peace in east Asia now are even heavier than before."

The newspaper Yomiuri said the opinion was growing among those close to Konoye that the premier shortly would reform his cabinet to meet the situation created by China's protracted resistance.

The war and naval ministries invoked the munitions industry mobilization law giving the government fuller control of armament production.

Spokesmen for the army and navy said the step was necessary to make the production of munitions adequate for the military and naval requirements.

(Dispatches from China indicated the Japanese were suffering setbacks in central and north China. The newly organized eighth Chinese army of former communists was said to have routed the Japanese in central Shansi province, 50 miles south of Taiyuan.

Food Omitted Clergyman Makes Trip Despite Fasting

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 17 (AP)—With 16 days of absolute fast behind him, the gaunt dean of St. Mary's cathedral made plans tonight to attend the diocesan convention of his church at Knoxville, Tenn., 500 miles across the state in eastern Tennessee.

The Very Rev. Israel Harding Noe, who says he is entering into a "new higher plane of spiritual life" taking his food from "the father's life within," will journey by train, leaving here tomorrow night. He will arrive in Knoxville Wednesday morning.

Friends disclosed he had made his reservation. The Episcopal church requires that its clergymen attend the diocesan convention.

Declaring there would be "no turning back," the 46-year-old cleric asserted that "nobody" could say he was taking food "on the sly" in his search for spiritual perfection and immortality.

It was revealed today that the dean places ice cubes in his mouth at frequent intervals to relieve the dryness of his throat and lips. However, he quickly expels the water from his mouth when the ice has melted.

His only material food is the sip of wine and communion wafer he takes three times weekly.

It was known that he subsisted all of last year on oranges, but today he said that in 1936 he lived on oranges and raw cashew nuts. The latter, he said, supplied the protein he needed then.

"The test is, will I be afraid, and he said, "Will I be afraid and turn back? No, I know that I won't. I've been through all of this. I worked it out potentially, now I have to experience it. I know I can do it."

House Committee Approves Navy Appropriations

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17 (AP)—An appropriation of $553,266,494 for the navy won approval of the house appropriations committee today after that body had heard the chief of naval operations call world conditions "more threatening" than at any time since the World war.

The committee sent to the house the regular naval supply bill, providing funds for navy department expenditures in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. The total involved was $26,723,388 more than the navy's appropriation for the current year. It included funds to start construction of 18 new warships and four auxiliary vessels.

Portland Strike Not Settled Yet

PORTLAND, Jan. 17 (AP)—E. P. Marsh, federal labor conciliator, said tonight he did not expect immediate settlement of a dispute over wages, hours and arbitration which led to a strike of 245 printers and closing of Portland's three daily newspapers last Saturday.

"It may take some days to get the parties together," Marsh said. The effects of the strike grew today. The big Hawley pulp and paper mill, doing $80,000 a month business with the three newspapers—Oregonian, Oregon Journal and News-Telegram—laid off 100 employees.

Rebels Launch New Offensive

MADRID, Jan. 17 (AP)—A powerful insurgent counter-offensive tonight suddenly struck back at Spanish government battalions who clipped off the insurgent salient at Teruel, 135 miles east of Madrid.

Five insurgent and two government warplanes were shot down in a large scale sky battle, while below the new attack forced government lines back slightly at one point.

An official government communique disclosing the counter-offensive reported that two of the downed insurgent planes were of Italian manufacture.

"After a truce forced by their heavy losses," the communique said, "the enemy launched a new counter-offensive in the direction of Teruel. The attack began about 10 a.m. (4 a.m. CST) with a powerful attack upon the heights of Celadas, aided by heavy artillery and a large concentration of airplanes."

Prosperity For Iowa City

OF ALL THE NEWS that has come to Iowa City since the new year began, none has been more encouraging than yesterday's announcement by officials of the National Hybrid Corn company that the three-story factory recently destroyed by fire will be completely rebuilt.

Such an announcement speaks well for Iowa City's future well-being and for the company's faith in our community.

Some $50,000 will be spent in actual construction, and several hundred carpenters, plumbers, brick layers and day laborers will be employed for about six months.

After the building is completed next fall, about 300 local laborers and experienced workers will have partial or full-time employment in a factory with a payroll of more than $50,000.

So, unless all indications fail, prospects for the next 11 months point to an upturn in local business. Iowa City unemployment now is at a new low for recent years; and with workmen busy on an new school building, a community center and the hybrid corn factory, relief will be cut to a minimum.

For these accomplishments no one person or institution deserves full credit, but thanks is due to the chamber of commerce and other loyal Iowa Citizens who are selling our town to outside interests.

One thing the Japanese high command probably has overlooked is that naturalists say that among all insects the bees are true communists.

That being the case the Nipponese war lords may find that scrapping with the Chinese is as peaceful as a game of checkers compared with trying to put down a nation-wide mutiny in the hives.

Japan has gone a long way in our lifetime. It's a far cry from Madame Butterfly to Private Bum Bill Bee, army dispatch carrier.

Why Turn 'Em Loose?

IT IS ONLY a matter of time. Perhaps tomorrow's headlines will carry the story of a revolting crime and among its details may appear the words, "The man held by the police is on parole." Then the system that "frees criminals as fast as they can be arrested" will again be stoned by leaders of public thought and opinion.

Those who wish to cast stones against the parole system will not have to search far for weapons. Superficial evidence against it is not wanting. Nevertheless, parole systems with their acknowledged weaknesses and defects are not operating against the interests of modern society.

Many critics forget that under our present system of law only two or three per cent of criminal offenders may be confined for life. The others must be released sometime, most of them within a few months. These may either be confined up to the last hour of their sentences, then thrust abruptly back into society "on their own," or they may be paroled early and a part of their sentences be devoted to adjustment under sympathetic state supervision. Imperfect as such supervision may be, it is still infinitely better than none, whether regarded from the viewpoint of reform or of crime prevention.

Parole is not in conflict with our penal system. Rather, it is an important part of its machinery. Society can benefit through intelligent criticism of parole administration; it can only lose when parole as an integral part of our penal system is attacked.

Those who cast stones at parole also overlook its relation to economy and tax burden. Iowa taxpayers pay $450 to $500 annually for the support of each prisoner confined in the men's reformatory and the state penitentiary. Parole administration and supervision, including the cost of returning parole violators, costs only $38 a year for each man paroled. In addition, the parolee as a working man relieves the state from the burden of supporting his family. At a time when 22 cents out of every dollar go to pay taxes, economy in every branch of government is not merely expedient, it is essential.

Parole is no more perfect than human nature, but it is much better than abrupt discharge. We hear about the few who violate parole; little is said about the many who are rehabilitated through its agencies. Viewed from the standpoint of need and economy, the parole system is not a threat to society nor the parole board a naive and sentimental Pandora.

Pedestrians have no right in the streets of Buenos Aires. If injured by a car they have no come back. That must sound like heaven to a Sunday driver.

The Japanese government having insisted it has but the friendliest feeling for the Chinese people should go all the way and call those devastating Jap air raids good will flights.

Japanese military experts are now working out a scheme whereby they would send messages during a battle in form of microscopic notes attached to bees. Looks as though someone is going to get stung.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

DARK STAR: If it were just another double star, Epsilon Aurigae, the object of a fine study made by Dr. Otto Struve, director of Yerkes observatory, and his associates, Drs. Kuiper and Stroemgren, would never have shared the front page with the war in China or the conferences which the president is holding with business men. But it happens to be a rare kind of double and, for all we know at present, a unique double. Nothing so huge as its dark member has ever been reported. Three thousand times the diameter of the sun—the figure leaves one gasping. Drop the mighty bulk into the solar system and it would fill all the space between the sun and the orbit of Uranus. Nor is this all. A record-breaker for chilliness is this black orb, with its surface temperature of 1,000 degrees centigrade, which means that it cannot be seen or photographed for lack of a glow.

A stellar giant of this order would be impossible if it were even as dense as smoke puffed from a cigarette. Yet it periodically obscures its bright, smaller, visible companion. Here is a puzzle to be explained. And Dr. Struve explains it with an ingenuity and plausibility that command admiration. Just as there is an invisible electrical mirror in our own sky, which is called the ionosphere and which reflects radio waves back to the earth, so this dark member of Epsilon Aurigae has an ionosphere which sheds light from its brighter companion. Never before has such an ionosphere been associated with a star. Indeed, neither the size of the dark "sun" nor its coolness is so impressive as this intangible light-shedding layer. Though the mass below that layer is as clear as glass, the bright star was partially obscured when the dark companion passed in front of it in 1929-30. It was just as if a phantom hand had cut off some of the light between the eye and an electric lamp.

All this flows out of the application of pure theory and mathematics. A binary star so distant that it takes 3,000 years for its light to reach us is thrown on the scales and weighed. An intangible thermometer is thrown across that vast gulf and the temperatures of both the bright and dark bodies read. The state of the two atmospheres is deduced. Mathematical tape measures are passed around the double girth. If we need any proof of the mind's power, we have it here. Despite the news of death and destruction that comes from Spain and China, there is hope for a race that can plumb space in this fashion.

THE 'DOG HOUSING' PROBLEM

Do You Say -- 'Safe at Home?' List of Don'ts in Household

THE RED CROSS lists a number of "don'ts" for householders: Don't leave toys on the staircase. Don't open cans with a knife. Don't turn on the light from the bathroom. Don't leave your medicine chest open. Don't smoke in bed. Don't use a rocking chair for a ladder. There are several others that apply more to summer than to winter. These emphasize that "safe at home" is just a phrase. The home is almost as dangerous as the automobile. I list them by request, but I am not sanguine that the warnings do much good. Even when people have had a warning, there are plenty of people who will smoke in bed tonight immediately after reading this article. And there are even people on record who have set fire to the bed, and then two weeks later set fire to the sofa downstairs, and a month later set fire to the pillows on a chair, and then set fire to the bed again. Somebody once remarked, "The bed is not green even if you are."

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER: NEW YORK—Practically everyone has a favorite restaurant, yet few are so wholly monopolized by great names of the theater as Ralph's Place, a small cafe in West 45th street, where every other door is a house of drama. Here most of the actors and actresses on Broadway congregate after midnight or snatch fast meals between performances. Ralph knows them all, intimately and well. He knows their middle names, the names of their children, and the color of their neckties. Yet, it is surprisingly inexpensive, no more costly than a thousand other restaurants scattered throughout the city.

Success Reasons: There are various reasons for Ralph's success in the restaurant trade. He knows Broadway. He has been a part of it for 25 years. Then, too, his food is always excellent. But more important than this, I suspect, is his great tolerance and his willingness always to give sympathetic attention to one and all.

There are frequenters of his house of food who are now great names in the arts. They spend their money lavishly now, but perhaps a few short months ago, they were eating on the cuff. Ralph never turns an actor away unfed—or anyone else. They come into his place and eat on the cuff. When they get off Hard Times Creek they come pay the bill and then, showing their gratitude, continue as his guests.

There is one actress on Broadway, a talented creature, whose luck only recently has turned towards the better. For eight months she was out of employment, yet Ralph urged her to make his cafe her home and she dined there for eight months without paying. She is in the money now and you may be certain that this bill has been settled and that she continues to bring her friends there for lunches, dinners, and late suppers.

You will know Ralph's place, if you wander through West 45th street, not by its ornate appointments or luxurious tapestries—for it has none, but by an unusual number of stuffed birds which line, very life-like, the walls.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS: HOLLYWOOD—Tricky business: In the Jack Holt film, "All Were Enemies," there's a scene in which Beverly Roberts' face must be "drained slowly of its color." To make her face "go white," she first goes blue. In her sky-blue make-up, she is "lighted" with a series of color filters. These, changing slowly from deep magenta to pale vermilion, turn the trick for the camera. (It's a variant of the old trick by which blackface comes go white on the screen—mixing colored lights with colored make-up.) Heiress Geraldine Spreckles acquired the screen name of Anna Johns and her release from contract about the same time. . . . Chili Bouchier from England arrived and departed before the name-changers could get to work. . . . But Ellen Clancy (who is pretty and looks exactly like Ellen Clancy) now is called Janet Shaw. . . . Nice business! . . .

Bea Clicks: Times have changed, or audiences. . . . One of the first Fox talkies was "Are You There?" It starred a famous British comedienne, whose name was — and still is—a byword in the theater. . . . About the only release her picture ever won was at previews. . . . Whenever a theater hereabouts needed a preview attraction and couldn't get a real one it showed "Are You There?" . . . Audience reaction was always the same: bewilderment. . . . But now Beatrice Lillie is one of the hits of the Bing Crosby picture, "Dr. Rhythm." . . . Audiences have caught up with the Lillie style, for she hasn't changed it! . . .

James Cagney's first picture since he made up with Warner Bros. will be "Boy Meets Girl"—and if Marie Wilson isn't in the girl role she'll be broken-hearted. The nice child gets jittery every time there's a rumor to the contrary. . . .

Bette Really Worked: Larry Crabbe's hair has undergone so many dyes for various roles that they're calling him the "chameleon." . . . Sentiment lurks where you least expect it: Big Victor McLaglen was among those who simply had to rush home for the holidays. . . .

Bette Davis, to work her way through schools and preliminaries to a theater career, at various times waited on tables (Cushing Academy), coached plays, did kitchen duty.

Wolverines Trail Entire Game as 10,400 Watch Tilt

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 17 (AP)—Wisconsin humbled Michigan's Big Ten conference basketball leaders tonight by a score of 39 to 30.

The defeat was the first Michigan has suffered in four games. Wisconsin took the lead at the start and held it to the end, piling up a 21 to 14 advantage at half-time.

Capt. John Townsend, the Wolverine high scoring forward, was held to one field goal and two free throws, relinquishing the game scoring honors for his team to Thomas, forward, who made seven points.

George Rooney, forward, led the Wisconsin sharpshooters with 15 points on six field goals and three free throws. Howard Powell, forward, was second with 10 points.

A crowd of 10,400, the largest of the season, saw a Wisconsin team that handled the ball cleaner and set up its plays better than the tall Wolverine quintet.

HOD SHOTS

By G. K. HODENFIELD

Dear Basketball Team:

Last November we played Iowa and a young sophomore powerhouse, Nile Kinnick, turned out to be papa, mama and sonny trouble. We understand this driving athlete heads a strong Iowa five which has a "date" with you Monday in the field house.

Wishing you goals of luck, The Indiana Football Team.

That letter appeared last week in the Indiana Daily Student under a two column picture of Nile Kinnick. From the box score of last night's game it would appear that the Hoosier cagers failed to take the advice to heart.

Kinnick scored eight points, one less than Jack Drees who was the high point man for the evening, and tied Joe Van Ysseldyk for second place honors.

Your guess is as good as any, just who will win this mad cap Big Ten basketball race? Last night Northwestern and Michigan, the only undefeated teams left in the dog-fight took it on the chin.

Wildcats Suffer First Big 10 Loss to Boilermakers, 37-26

Jewell Young Collects 16 Points During Close Game

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 17 (AP)—Purdue university's Boilermakers snapped Northwestern's Big Ten victory chain here tonight by turning back the Wildcats, 37 to 26, in a hard-fought basketball battle.

The defeat was Northwestern's first in five conference starts. The Wildcats were hot on the heels of Purdue until the final four minutes, when Jewell Young, Boilermaker forward, made two "sleeper" shots that broke the Northwestern morale.

The first half ended 21 to 16 in favor of Purdue. The victory was Purdue's third in four conference tussles.

AMES, Jan. 17 (AP)—The Iowa State college wrestling team won from the University of Illinois grapplers here tonight, 18 1-2 to 7 1-2.

The only fall accomplished in the tussling was in the 135-pound division, John Kirstein of Iowa State throwing Emmons of Illinois in three and a half minutes. Four of the matches were decided on points, Iowa State winning three of them. Three matches were draws.

Minnesota Wins First Conference Game This Season

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Jan. 17 (AP)—Minnesota won its first Big Ten basketball game of the season at the expense of Illinois here tonight 41 to 29. Last year's co-championship teams battled to a 16 to 16 tie the first half before an over-capacity crowd of 7,177, but Minnesota started pulling away after five minutes of the second half and from there on was never headed.

It was the third defeat in five games for the Illini and the first in four tilts for Minnesota. Dehner Gets 14 Pick Dehner, Illinois leading Big Ten scorer, paced both teams with 14 points. He was closely followed by Gordon Addington of Minnesota who had 13 points.

Illinois lead for 18 minutes of the first half until a basket by John Kundla put the Gophers in the lead. A free throw by Gordon Spear and field goal by Dehner ended the first half, 16 to 16.

Minnesota sported a tight man-for-man attack that kept the last Illini attack well in check. Addington, Kundla and Paul Maki spurred forward offensively to give Minnesota its victory.

Medwick Joins Holdout Crew

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 17 (AP)—Outfielder Joe Medwick of the St. Louis Cardinals said today he had reluctantly joined the early season crop of baseball holdouts despite his club's voluntary offer of a raise in pay.

Medwick was voted the "most valuable player" award for the National league last season, but said he based his claim for more money on his record as the league's champion batter.

Joe received his contract from the Cardinals Saturday. He said today he had returned it unsigned. It carried a boost in salary but Joe thought the raise was not enough. He declined to say how much he received last year and how much increase had been offered in 1938.

The Lineups

Table showing lineups for Iowa (36) and Indiana (32) with player names and FG, FT, PF, TP statistics.

Free throws missed: Drees 2, Stephens, Birt 2, W. Johnson, Evans, Kinnick, Huffman, Platt. Officials: Referee, Frank Lane, (Cincinnati); Umpire, Stanley Feezle (Indianapolis).

Coach Rollie Williams started Nile Kinnick, sophomore football sensation, at forward and inserted Joe Van Ysseldyk at Kinnick's old guard post. The strategy worked in fine fashion as the second year man pushed in four field goals to tally eight points and Van Ysseldyk got two baskets and four free throws to him for second place scoring honors.

The Hoosiers started out as if determined to avenge their defeat at the hands of the Hawks a week ago Saturday, and at one time held a 9-2 lead. Birt opened the scoring with a one-handed shot and Bill Johnson scored for Indiana a moment later after dribbling the entire length of the floor. Kinnick gave the Iowans two points with a beautiful long shot and then the crimson-clad Hoosiers started pulling away.

Free throws by Andrew and Huffman and Johnson's basket boosted the Indiana lead to seven points before Stephens registered his first field goal of the evening.

The rest of the first half was an uphill battle for the Iowans and at the rest period they were trailing by only one point, 20-19.

Drees Hits It Up Seconds after the second stanza opened the Iowans pulled the game into a tie for the first time when Jack Drees, high-point man for the evening, cashed in on a charity toss after being fouled by Andrew. Birt and Platt hit for long ones to make the count 24-20 for Indiana but Stephens sank one from the free throw line and Drees went under the basket on a "sleeper" to again put the Hawks into the running.

From that point on the stands were in a constant uproar as first one team and then the other took the lead. With the clock ticking away the final three minutes, the Iowans finally broke into the lead to stay for the rest of the game when Van Ysseldyk took a nice pass from DeHeer and went under the basket to score. Moments later Stephens was fouled by Huffman and sank his free throw. Stevenson fouled Drees in the last minute of the game and Stephens batted in a tip-in when the tall Iowa center missed his free throw.

Tonight's victory was the first time that an Iowa quintet has won a game on the Indiana court since 1921. The Hawkeyes are now holding undisputed possession of fifth place in the Big Ten standing with two victories and two defeats. Both of their victories were over Indiana and they have lost games to Northwestern and Ohio State. Indiana is tied with Illinois for sixth place with two victories and three defeats. The Hoosiers' two victories came at the expense of Illinois and Minnesota and they have lost to Iowa twice and Northwestern once.

The next game for the Hawks will be against South Dakota Jan. 21, the first day of the second semester.

Tallies Eight Points

Pictured above is Nile Kinnick, the Hawkeye's speedy 165-pound forward and guard, who hit the Indiana basket four times last night at Bloomington, Ind., as the Iowans made it two straight over the Hoosiers with a hard-fought 36-32 win.

St. Pat's to Play St. Mary's On City High Floor Tonight

Iowa City's premier sports classic will get under way tomorrow night as the St. Patrick's, Irishmen invade City high gym to tangle with their great rivals, the St. Mary's Ramblers. This game is hoped to be a nip and tuck affair with the outcome never decided until the final gun.

In comparing records the Blue and White aggregation has a slight edge over the southside these two teams. Last week the Irish eked out a 26 to 25 win over the Parlor City Shamrocks, the quintet which earlier in the season, beat the Ramblers by a score of 34 to 18. This is offset by the drubbing St. Pat's received at the hands of St. Wenceslaus of Cedar Rapids, whom the Marians forced into two overtime periods before losing, 33 to 32.

The last-minute win over the Cedar Rapids outfit has raised the faltering morale of the luckless Irish and they have been improving rapidly with their passing and shooting. Two weeks ago they were defeated by a clever Parnell team. The improved basket eye of Junior Bradley, who dumped in the long one hand shot to steal the game from the Parlor City outfit, is a welcome sight to Coach Ryan and he believes Bradley's showing in tomorrow's battle will bear a decided influence in the outcome.

Up at the Rambler's camp Coach Francis Suplee is striving hard to find a man who can fill the shoes of Paul Hennessy, who probably will see the game from the sidelines because of a leg injury suffered in a vacation tilt. Hennessy was the sparkplug of the Blue and White quintet and should he play, it would boost St. Mary's chances of victory.

St. Patrick's will be out to avenge the two defeats that the Ramblers gave them last year, while St. Mary's will be striving to extend its winning streak.

Both teams will use the fast break which is likely to turn the tide of battle any moment. From early season reports it would seem that St. Mary's had the edge, but the Irish have been coming along fast while St. Mary's seems to have slipped, so it is, as it always, has been, anyone's ball game.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester 1937-1938

Saturday, Jan. 22, 8 a.m., to Saturday, Jan. 29, 12 m., 1938

The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the room in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (1), (2), and (3) as shown at N. B. below).

The program committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation from this schedule, in the case of any examination—except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification on the student's written petition, filed in ample time and supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of completing examinations earlier will not be permitted.

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

If the student takes the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card. In the cases of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the Schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examinations during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double vertical line.

Unless students are reasonably sure that their semester's work, including final examinations, is successful they are requested to call within the 24-hour period following the conclusion of their final examinations at the offices of the deans of men and women, appropriately, in order to learn whether any of their instructors have reported for them; and if any student has reason to suspect that he will be his record for one or more courses, he is requested not to register until he learns that he has passed.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) This instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour Jan. 17 or 18; if possible, Jan. 10 or 11.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T, Th, S at 8. The first meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Monday, Jan. 24, 2-4, according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (125) meets twice each week, T, F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Friday, Jan. 28, 2-4.

N. B. All sections of freshman Speech (1), (2), and (3) will meet during the examination week on the days and at the periods designated below. Consult the bulletin board in room 13, Schaeffer Hall, for room assignments.

Saturday, January 22—Section H, 8-10; Speech (2), 8-10.
Monday, January 24—Section A, 1-3; Section E, 3-5.
Thursday, January 27—Section I, 8-10; Section C, 1-3; Section G, 3-5; Speech (3), 3-5.
Friday, January 28—Section D, 10-12; Section B, 1-3; Section F, 3-5.

Saturday, January 29—Section J, 10-12.

"OOD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

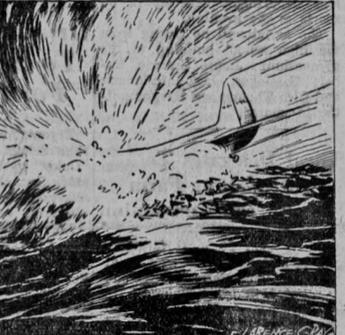

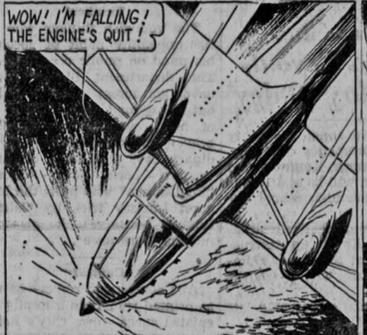

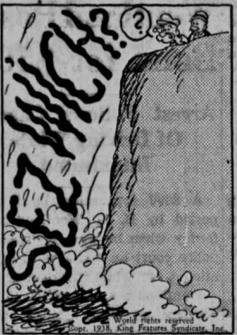

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from January 22 to January 28 inclusive.

2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, since for such "ood" classes these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is absent from the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable.

According to another faculty regulation, which is in record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs." unless the instructor, after his work up to the examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F," even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, except for such "ood" classes, to a student who has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

H. C. DORCAS, Secretary Program Committee.

Celebrate Paul Harris Night

Club to Honor Founder Here

Groups Throughout The State to Attend Rotary Banquet Jan. 27th

Paul P. Harris

Paul Harris night, at which Attorney Paul P. Harris of Chicago, founder and president-emeritus of Rotary International, will be the honored guest of Iowa City Rotarians, promises to be one of the largest events ever sponsored by the local Rotary club, it was announced yesterday by J. J. Swaner, chairman of the arrangements committee.

The special dinner honoring Attorney Harris, who was graduated from the university college of law in 1891, will be in Iowa Union Jan. 27 at 6:30 p.m.

More than 1,600 personal invitations have been extended to guests from surrounding cities and towns.

A delegation of 50 representatives from the Cedar Rapids Rotary club will attend the program on a chartered interurban.

Members of Iowa City Kiwanis and Lions clubs, former university classmates of Attorney Harris and the faculty of the college of law will also be guests at the dinner.

A highlight of the program will be the presentation of a portrait of the guest of honor by District Governor William Brandon of Davenport to President Eugene A. Gilmore. The portrait will hang in Iowa Union.

Following his graduation from the university, Attorney Harris spent five years in seeing the world and learning to know his fellows by "actual" contact with them.

He worked as a reporter on daily papers in San Francisco and Denver, rode the range in a cow country, picked oranges in southern Louisiana, sold marble and granite, crossed the Atlantic twice on cattle ships and made a third trip to Europe on business.

In 1896 he opened a law office in Chicago. By 1905 he had formulated a definite philosophy of business relations. Calling together three of his friends, each of whom was engaged in a different line of business, he explained his theory to them.

This group was the nucleus of the Rotary club of Chicago. The novel organization soon had counterparts in other cities in the United States.

After a few years the necessity for some organization to bind these different clubs together led to the organization in 1910 of the National Association of Rotary Clubs in America. Later, through the extension of the movement into Canada and Great Britain, the International Association of Rotary Clubs, called Rotary International, was formed.

Attorney Harris was the first president of the international association. He has served as chairman of the committee on professional ethics and as a member of the board of managers of the Chicago Bar association at the international congress of law at the Hague. He has also served as a member of the international committee of the American Bar association.

Members of the arrangements committee for the program at the dinner here are Roland Smith, Harold Hands, Dean Francis M. Dawson, Roscoe Taylor, Attorney Dan Dutcher and Chairman Swaner.

The 31 towns to which invitations were extended are Albia, Anamosa, Belle Plaine, Bloomfield, Burlington, Cedar Rapids, Chariton, Clinton, Davenport, Fairfield, Ft. Madison, Keokuk, Marengo.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester 1937-1938

Saturday, Jan. 22, 8 a.m., to Saturday, Jan. 29, 12 m., 1938
The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the room in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (1), (2), and (3) as shown at N. B. below).

The program committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation from this schedule, in the case of any examination—except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification on the student's written petition, filed in ample time and supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of completing examinations earlier will not be permitted.

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

If the student takes the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card.
In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the Schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examinations during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double vertical line.

Unless students are reasonably sure that their semester's work, including final examinations, is successful they are requested to call (within the 24-hour period following the conclusion of their final examinations) at the offices of the deans of men and women, appropriately, in order to learn whether any of their instructors have reported Fd. for them; and if any student has reason to suspect that Fd. will be his record for one or more courses, he is requested not to register until he learns that he has passed.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) This instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour Jan. 17 or 18; if possible, Jan. 10 or 11.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T T S at 8. The first meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Monday, Jan. 24, 2-4, according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (125) meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Friday, Jan. 28, 2-4.

N. B. All sections of freshman Speech (1), (2), and (3) will meet during the examination week on the days and at the periods designated below. Consult the bulletin board in room 13, Schaeffer Hall, for room assignments.

Saturday, January 22—Section H, 8-10; Speech (2), 8-10.

Monday, January 24—Section A, 1-3; Section E, 3-5.

Thursday, January 27—Section I, 8-10; Section C, 1-3; Section G, 3-5; Speech (3), 3-5.

Friday, January 28—Section D, 10-12; Section B, 1-3; Section F, 3-5.

Saturday, January 29—Section J, 10-12.

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from January 22 to January 28 inclusive.

2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, since for such "odd" classes these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if a student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time."

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs.;" unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "Pd.," even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

H. C. DORGAS, Secretary Program Committee.

Snider to Hear Appeal Against Site of High School Tomorrow

Fink Alleges Location Is 'Illegal'; Cost, 'Excessive'

An appeal protesting the location of Iowa City's new high school building on the Morning-side site, will be heard by Frank J. Snider, county superintendent, at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the Johnson county courthouse.

John G. Fink alleges in his appeal of the city school board's decision that the site chosen is "illegal." He claims that school sites should not exceed five acres and that the Morningside site is approximately 29 acres.

The Morningside site was selected as a result of the Nov. 4 election when Iowa Citizens voted not to bond $90,000 for the purchase of a central site. Fifty-two per cent of the voters approved a central site but 60 per cent approval was necessary for passage of the question.

Fink also charges that the estimated cost of the 1,000-pupil, $750,000 building will be "excessive." He alleges that the cost will approach $800 per student and that it should not exceed $500.

Attorney D. C. Nolan will represent Fink and Attorney Herbert J. Ries the city school board. Snider has sole jurisdiction in the matter, although his decision may be appealed to the state superintendent of education.

The Johnson county Junior Farm Bureau has entered the quartette contest to be held tomorrow morning. The local quartette consists of Orrin Alt, Everett Windborn, Glenn Yoder and Lesley Pickett, all of Sharon.

Public Forum Will Meet Tonight For First Discussion

It will be one of four lectures presented weekly by university faculty members. The forum is sponsored by the Iowa City Peace council.

AND why not when he could just as well be comfortable while the house is getting warmed up? Gas, the ideal fuel, will supply the answer. A radiant gas fireplace heater, for instance, provides soothing, sun-like warmth with the turn of a valve.

But that's not all. Even though you do not have gas heat all over the house, comfort can be obtained at the breakfast table by simply preparing the toast on the broiler of your gas range with the oven door open. The same heat that does the toasting fills the kitchen with caressing warmth. The meal is far more pleasant. Try it. See for yourself.

Wentland Posts Bond for $500

Arrest Follows Charge Of Driving While Intoxicated

A $500 appearance bond was posted by H. M. Wentland yesterday when he was arraigned in police court on a charge of operating a car while intoxicated.

Wentland's arrest followed an accident on North Dodge street Sunday morning. His machine sideswiped a car driven by George Zeithamel.

Patrolmen George Hall and Haulan Sprinkle, who investigated the accident, said that marks in the snow indicated the Zeithamel car slid nearly 100 feet before it hit and broke off the electric light pole on the north side of Dodge street.

The Wentland car skidded nearly 150 feet before stopping against the front porch of the James E. Fisher residence, 1102 N. Dodge street, the patrolmen said.

Wentland was given a blood test at the police station by Dr. E. W. Paulus, city health officer. Chief of Police W. H. Bender said that Wentland had not indicated whether he will waive to the grand jury or have a preliminary hearing.

Council Hears 3 Health Laws

Ordinances Receive 1st Readings—Aldermen Take No Vote

Three proposed health ordinances, which would create a city health department, place more stringent sanitary regulations upon restaurants, and order a report of communicable diseases to be made, were given their first readings by the city council last night.

The first ordinance would place the city nurse, the city inspector and two health department inspectors under the supervision of a commissioner of health.

The salary of the two health inspectors would be $1,440 a year, and the commissioner would receive $750 a year. The health inspector detailed to inspect dairies would receive $120 extra a year for automobile expenses.

The department would have complete control over sanitary and health regulations and would serve to consolidate the present city health officials.

The second proposed ordinance provides for inspection of all Iowa City eating places and their employees. Food dispensers would be given a physical examination, and restaurants would be closely supervised. The proprietor would pay $5 a year for a sanitary restaurant permit.

Dishes and all eating utensils would be subject to sterilization or to chemical cleansing. Dispensers would also be subject to sanitary laws.

It provides a fine of from $1 to $100 for violation of the ordinance. Thirty days in jail would be the penalty if the fine was not paid.

The third ordinance would make mandatory the immediate reporting of 46 separate communicable diseases to the board of health or the city health officer.

No vote was taken on any of the three ordinances because only five councilmen were present. Six must attend before a vote can be taken.

Dr. E. W. Paulus, city health officer, drafted the proposed ordinances which are modeled from the approved state laws.
