Japanese Seek To Settle New Marine Dispute

Nipponese Push Efforts To Bottle Up Foes Near Suchow

SHANGHAI, Feb. 16 (Wednesday) (AP)—Japanese sought to settle new difficulties with United States marines in Shanghai's International Settlement today while their armies in northern Honan province continued their drive to bottle up 400,000 Chinese defending the important Lunghai railway.

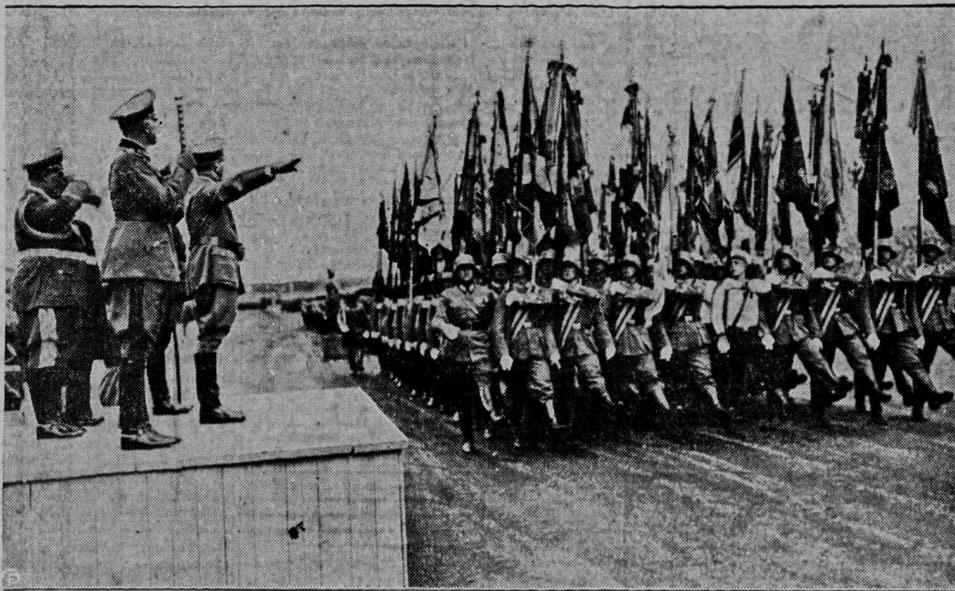

The marine incident arose when Japanese patrols tried to enter the American defense sector of the settlement to "exercise supervision over Japanese, both civilian and military, who informally enter the American sector," a Japanese spokesman explained.

The marines turned the patrols back twice, marine officers indicating they felt capable of patrolling the area without Japanese assistance. They said the Japanese were informed of their attitude and they expected the issue to be settled by today.

The Japanese said their drive in north Honan was "jeopardizing the expected retreat westward" of the huge Chinese force defending Suchow, junction of the Lunghai and Tientsin-Pukow railways north of Nanjing.

As a result of Japanese successes in this sector the newspaper Nippon, organ of the Japanese command in Shanghai, predicted Chinese troops soon would abandon both Suchow and Hankow, provisional Chinese capital, and retreat to southern provinces for a last stand.

Crack Nazi Troops Seem Docile to Hitler Here

World interest is focused on Germany as rumors of unrest have continued following the cabinet and army leadership shakeup which placed Chancellor Adolf Hitler in complete command of crack Nazi legions. Apparently all was peaceful when this picture was taken showing Hitler reviewing troops at Nuremberg, and not much credence has been placed in "revolt" rumors.

U. S. Clamps Secrecy On Warship Program; British Plan Increase

England Ends First Year Of No Profit Plan

1938 Defense Program Includes Jump In Expense

LONDON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Great Britain tonight ended the first year of a $7,500,000 five-year "non-profit" rearmament program and planned a heavy increase in defense expenditures in the second year.

Sir Thomas Inskip, minister for coordination of defense, said the 1938-39 figure would be between 325,000,000 pounds ($1,625,000,000) and 350,000,000 pounds ($1,750,000,000).

A large slice of the increase was expected to be for battleship construction following Japan's formal refusal last week to disclose her battleship and cruiser building plans.

Britain's concern over her far eastern defenses was reflected in maneuvers staged February 2-5 at Singapore.

'Fred Smith Day' In Chicago, 100 Of Them Will Dine

CHICAGO, Feb. 15 (AP)—For some reason or other, tomorrow has been labeled "Fred Smith day."

The idea was originated by one Fred Smith. Acting in his official Fred Smith capacity, he has invited the 100 Fred Smiths in Chicago and suburbs to a banquet tomorrow night at a loop hotel. The stated object of the convocation is to form an association to be known as the Benevolent and Protective and Completely Ununiversal Order of Fred Smiths of America.

The formal announcement said a number of other Fred Smiths would dine at the same time in New York City.

Officials State New Policy Is In Public Good

Monthly Report Omits Details of Ships' Construction

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—The United States navy clamped a lid of secrecy upon its warship building progress tonight—reversing a publicity policy of 13 years standing.

Whether the purpose was to keep certain data from foreign powers was not stated. Officials explained merely that the new policy was "in the interest of the public welfare."

Periodically, in the past, the navy had made public percentage figures showing how much progress had been made with the hull and machinery of ships under construction. Delays in construction were shown.

The monthly report issued today, and dealing with three score men of war now being built, omitted these details. Observers understood the omission was part of a general tightening up on information.

Proposes New Federal Board

'Just Ask Me Anything You Like,' Says Jean Three-Year-Old Proves Right to Title, Walking Book of Knowledge

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—In quick - piping voice, Jean Kathleen Demers, three-year-old prodigy of Tracadie, Nova Scotia, rattled off wisecracks and random facts from an apparently inexhaustible fund of knowledge today.

"Just ask me anything you like," she said. "They call me the walking book of knowledge." She knew all the answers. Boredly, as though impatient for something really hard, she replied glibly that Paramaribo is the capital of Dutch Guiana, that Lake Michigan is the fifth largest lake in the world with an area of 22,460 square miles, that the buffer state between Russia and China is Mongolia, and that the Suez canal was opened in 1869 and built by a French engineer named Ferdinand de Lesseps.

"That's spelled with a small 'd' and a capital 'L,'" she advised gravely, for the benefit of the jaw-hanging newsmen.

She knew that Woodrow Wilson drew up the nine - power treaty, that the United States bought Alaska from Russia in 1867 — "for $7,200,000," she added gratuitously — and that the longest river in China is the Yangtze.

"What are you going to be when you grow up, Jean?" one of the scribes asked after trying vainly to stump her.

"A big girl!" she flashed, and gave the interviewer a fishy eye. "I know that one."

Senator Would Reform Relief Administration

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—Senator Bailey (D-N. C.) introduced a joint resolution today for a "non-partisan administration" of relief funds by a new federal board of five members.

The board would take over all relief activities except those of the civilian conservation corps and the public works administration. It would elect its own administrator, to be paid $12,000 a year.

The preamble to Bailey's resolution declared there is a "grave danger" that relief funds may be used for political purposes. The senator would make it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $500 or a year's imprisonment, or both, to solicit the votes of persons receiving relief or to use any relief office for political purposes.

The resolution also called for an investigation, state by state, of past relief expenditures.

Care of "normally unemployable" persons would be left to the states and their subdivisions. Relief projects would be designed to avoid competition with private enterprise. Wages and hours would be fixed with a view to ending federal relief as rapidly as possible.

The resolution declared unemployment is primarily the concern of state and local governments. It would fix funds available to the new board up to Jan. 15, 1939, at not more than one-third of the expense of administering the WPA for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938.

A request that congress appropriate $250,000,000 immediately to meet increasing demands for relief came today from the house appropriations committee.

The committee said there had been a "drastic" decrease in private employment since September. There is no indication, it added, of a business improvement sufficient to "justify a lesser amount."

Nomination Of Robert Jackson Gets Approval

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—The nomination of Robert H. Jackson, a leading administration critic of big business practices, to be solicitor general, won the approval of a senate judiciary subcommittee today.

The committee acted, however, only after conservatively disposed members—Austin (R-Vt) and King (D-Utah)—had cross-examined Jackson at length about his views on the American form of government, and the relationship of government to business.

In the end, both King and Austin registered their dissatisfaction by voting against a favorable report. Five—McGill (D-Kan), Logan (D-Ky), Dieterich (D-Ill), Borah (R-Idaho) and Norris (Ind-Neb)—voted for confirmation. Senator Pittman (D-Ne) was absent and did not vote.

The question elicited emphatic statements that Jackson thought the American system superior to any other, that he did not purpose to "destroy anything" and that business must be policed by strict enforcement of the anti-trust laws.

"I would rather have our system at its worst than any European form of government at its best," Jackson said in response to one of King's questions.

Prosecutor Will Continue Purge Of Vote Scandal

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15 (AP)—A government prosecutor, whose "box score" now is 50 won, none lost and 112 left, got new authority today to pursue his purge of Kansas City's vote scandals.

The senate in Washington unanimously confirmed the reappointment of Maurice M. Milligan as district attorney while Milligan was busy here drafting a plan of action for his next trial, one opening Feb. 28.

Sen. Harry S. Truman, Kansas City democrat, told the senate a Jackson county (Kansas City) democrat had no more chance of a fair trial in federal court here than "a Jew would have in a Hitler court or a Trotsky follower before Stalin."

Cat Gets Wooden 'Hind Leg Following Hospital Amputation

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15 (AP)—A cat with a wooden 'hind leg' stomped about a veterinary hospital here today.

It was "Billie," pet of Mrs. Bertha Thorn, trying out the pegleg he received after his right 'hind leg' was amputated because of an infection. The leg is a leather sleeve with a wooden peg inserted. The sleeve fits over the leg stump, is held by laces around the body.

Wright's Jury Has Difficulty On Sanity Plea

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15 (AP)—The jury that found Paul A. Wright guilty of manslaughter in less than four hours, deliberated today the apparently more difficult task of determining whether he was sane when he shot his wife and John Kimmel to death.

With more than twice as much time already consumed in deliberation on the airport executive's insanity plea, the four women and eight men who heard the month-long trial and yesterday's brief court session, had given no indication late today when a verdict might be expected.

2 Nazi Sympathizers Added To Austrian Chancellor's Cabinet

New German - Austrian Era of Cooperation Predicted

VIENNA, Feb. 15 (AP)—The cabinet of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg was revised tonight with the addition of two ministers sympathetic toward Nazi Germany.

Arthur Seyss-Inquart, who enjoys the confidence of Adolf Hitler, was named minister of interior, a post in which he will control Austria's police forces.

An exponent of pan-German ideas — closer union of the two German-speaking peoples — Professor Ardampovich, was made minister of justice.

A third German sympathizer, Dr. Edmund Glaise-Horstenaus, was reappointed to the revised cabinet as minister without portfolio.

The cabinet, accepted by President Wilhelm Miklas, after long conferences with Schuschnigg and his ministers, was regarded as a cooperative gesture toward Germany.

The dramatic move carried out plans made by the Austrian chancellor and Hitler in a talk they had Saturday.

Late News Bulletins

Jury Convicts Women

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 15 (AP)—Mrs. Ethel Strouse Sohl, policeman's daughter, and Genevieve Owens, her companion in a $2.10 holdup during which a bus driver was slain, were convicted of first degree murder tonight by an all-male jury which recommended mercy.

Two Killed in Fire

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn., Feb. 15 (AP)—Ernest Carver and his son, Clayton, 24, were undergoing treatment tonight for burns and exposure suffered when two Carver children perished and the nine other members of the family were forced to flee from their burning home near Northome Monday night.

Flight to Find Scientists Fails

MOSCOW, Feb. 15 (AP)—The first rescue flight attempting to locate the camp of four Russian scientists adrift on an ice floe off Greenland failed late today because of poor visibility.

Gennady Vlasoff, piloting a plane from the Soviet rescue ship Taimyr, which earlier had reported herself only 14 miles from the floe and within sight of the explorers' signal fires, flew for two hours during the afternoon without finding the camp.

'Calling All Cars' Switchboard Officer Hears He's a Dad

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb. 15 (AP)—"Headquarters, McCabe," said Detective Joseph McCabe to one of a hundred blinking lights on the police station switchboard today.

"Is this Officer McCabe," asked an excited feminine voice.

"Yes, this is McCabe. What do you want, radio?"

"No. This is Fairmount hospital. I just wanted to tell you, you are the father of a seven-pound girl."

Davies Explains Social Motives of War

By LOREN HICKERSON

Asserting that "economic law, like steam or fire, must be confined to certain channels by those who understand its functions," Prof. George R. Davies last night delivered the last of four weekly discussions of "War and Peace in the Modern World" in the city council chambers.

"This economic motive is the central factor of civilizations, past and present," said Professor Davies. "Although difficult to define, it means primarily making a living."

The speaker pointed out that civilizations are essentially the same, and that today—as in former times—certain economic principles lead to war.

Using the analogy of farmers working with equal force upon tracts of land differing in fertility, Professor Davies pointed out that soon the farmer upon the most fertile tract has achieved wealth, while the one upon the least fertile tract cannot make a living. Through a period of years the richest farmer makes enough to permit him to lend, and through generations our social classes—the rich and the poor—emerge.

"This process of building societies on the basis of property always leads to war," the speaker said, "for war acts today upon the same physical and psychological principles that it acted upon centuries ago."

The attempt to stem the growth of a wealthy aristocracy was one of the most important in history, even though it failed," the speaker stressed.

War sometimes arises from the economic motive of putting people to work by forming armies and exploiting other countries, as Italy did Ethiopia, in order to maintain an economic balance. Or in some cases we maintain order by fostering hatreds for those with whom conflicts might arise.

Free Competition

"From a civilization which rested on the power of man's muscles came the miracle of a civilization resting upon power," Professor Davies said, "and the theory that the interests of all must be watched carefully to preserve prosperity was cast aside."

But the 1929 depression, twice

Two Petitions Filed in Court

Smith Protests Against Building of New High School

Two petitions protesting the construction of the new $725,000 high school on the Morningside site, were filed in district court yesterday by Lewis L. Smith Sr.

The first petition alleged that the Nov. 3 election approving a $398,750 bond issue, was "invalid," and asked that the board be restrained from contracting for the building's construction.

The second petition maintained that the purchase of the 29-acre school site was "contrary to state law" and asked that the William Horrabin Contracting company return money obtained by completing a preliminary improvement contract.

In his first new petition Smith asserts the school election was invalid and of no legal force because:

- 1—The petition upon which the election was called was defective and not of the form required by law;
- 2—The special election was not properly or legally authorized by the school board prior to the vote by the people;
- 3—The notice of the election was defective and did not conform to the statutory regulations;
- 4—The form of the ballots used was defective for the following reasons: (a) the form did not conform to statutory provisions, (b) the ballots contained dual proposals in the same public measure, (c) the ballots were misleading, confusing and uncertain, (d) the ballots were so worded and phrased as to deny the free and certain expression of the wishes and desires of the voters, (e) the ballots were worded and phrased so as to mislead and confuse the voters, and (f) the ballot forms were ambiguous, uncertain and failed to state clearly the public measures to be voted upon.

Smith claims in the petition, "The defendants, unless enjoined and restrained from proceeding with the building of the aforesaid school building upon the premises described, will cause to be illegally spent the funds belonging to the school district and the taxpayers thereof, upon premises and real estate not owned by the school district."

Smith sets out in his second petition that the purchase of 29 acres in east Iowa City by the school board, is contrary to the state law, and the school board does not hold title to the land.

He maintains that since the school board does not hold title to the property, any contract for work upon the land is not legal. He asserts the grading contract was not valid and the contracting firm is holding the money paid by the school board, in trust for the board.

U. S. May Enlarge Ships

The possibility has been discussed that the United States may join other powers in building battleships larger than the present treaty limit of 35,000 tons.

(Japan has refused to comply with a request from the United States and Great Britain that she disclose whether she is building ships larger than 35,000 tons.)

Today's navy report listed 63 warships and two auxiliaries under construction, five fewer than a month ago. Since last month's report the light cruiser Brooklyn and other craft have been completed.

Report Indicates Delay

The January report had indicated that the completion of 15 destroyers and the aircraft carriers Enterprise and Wasp would be delayed.

The navy now has building, today's report showed, two 35,000-ton battleships, the North Carolina and Washington, two aircraft carriers, the heavy cruiser Wichita, seven light cruisers, 16 submarines, three 1,850-ton destroyers, 32 1,500-ton destroyers, a seaplane tender and a destroyer tender.

Bordwell Feted At Law Dinner

The oil portrait of Prof. Percy Bordwell, painted by Edith Bell of the graphic and plastic arts department, was formally presented to the college of law by Attorney Donald D. Holdoegel of Des Moines at the "Percy Bordwell" dinner last night at the Law commons.

In accepting the painting for the college, Dean Wiley B. Rutledge said, "I accept the portrait for two reasons—for what the thing is itself, a work of art, and because it is in recognition and appreciation of the artistic performance of teaching which Professor Bordwell has done during his 27 years of teaching."

The portrait of Professor Bordwell was presented to the college in honor of his 25 years of association with the college, and will be hung in the law library.

In addition to the painting, the alumni presented Professor Bordwell with a watch as a token of their high regard.

The evaluation of education by scientific measurement was commended by President Eugene A. Gilmore, who expressed appreciation on behalf of the university for Professor Bordwell's contributions to the college of law.

Miss Bell, the artist, was introduced by Prof. Mason Ladd of the college of law and commented informally upon the conditions under which the portrait was painted.

One of the features of the dinner came when Professor Bordwell after numerous requests recited "Casey at the Bat."

Mob Tries to Lynch Accused Murderer

TIJUANA, Mexico, Feb. 15 (AP)—A frenzied, vengeful mob of 800 men and women demolished a jail, fired a federal building, threatened jailers with hanging, and exchanged bullets with soldiers today in a futile attempt to lynch the man who ravished and killed an eight-year-old girl.

We Are All Out of Adjectives

THE ADVERTISEMENTS say "age limit—eight years." With the memory of last year still sounding in our ears, it seems a shame to exclude the six-and seven-year-olds.

Your mental mentality may be at the level at which the radio producers place mass America. You may not know a thematic fragment from an organic whole. Allegro, to you, may mean the reason why Aunt Susy can't eat strawberries. Don't think that will diminish your pleasure.

Do you harbor a secret bent toward Irving Berlin and a secret shudder at the thought of Beethoven? Do you think in Jiggian terms of opera and turn the radio to blasting volume when the hill-billy hour comes on? Does a ballet suite from Cephale and Procris sound to you like something smart in curly maple from a mail-order house? Don't let that keep you away.

To many Iowa Citizens, as well as to many students and professors, the concert course is the best and most worthwhile of the university year's entertainment. Without adequate musical knowledge, however, its performances cannot always be appreciated.

To extract pure delight from the music of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra, all you need is a pair of ears. Qualify that even further. Just to watch the exquisite movement of Mr. Golschmann's guiding fingers, just to see the first violinist tuck his fiddle under his chin and tenderly lift his bow—that's enough.

Because it carries us thus to heights of unequalled beauty, we are grateful for the St. Louis Symphony—yes, and grateful too for the concert course that brings it here.

Discontent In Germany

RUMBLES of discontent are slowly emerging from Nazi Germany as Chancellor Hitler tries to reconcile the opposition forces within his dictatorial regime. The army "purge" brought to a head the disaffection of high standing German army officers with certain aspects of Nazi foreign policy; namely, those relating to Spain and Italy. This "purge," which curiously enough coincided with the opening of the Rev. Martin Niemoller's trial, also served to awaken all the elements of opposition which had previously remained dormant.

The discontent within Germany is due to various causes. Hitler in his effort to make the Reich a totalitarian state has ridden roughshod over all those who would not relinquish their independence and bow before his iron will. Hitler through his religious bigotry has openly antagonized the Protestant and Catholic churches in Germany. He sought to curtail their power in the interests of the Nazi state and has not been as successful as he wanted to be. German pastors have not hesitated to preach their opposition to Nazi doctrine openly from their pulpits. Hitler, with all his suppression and imprisonment could not stop their demands for religious freedom. The church is thus the greatest political force opposing Hitler in Germany today.

The high army officers who could not see eye to eye with Hitler regarding German foreign policy and the spread of Nazi paganism within the army form another minority group against Der Fuehrer's actions. Small and large business concerns in Germany have also been ranked by the iron grip and oppressive state regulations of the Nazi regime.

These, then, are strong opposition elements which are spreading discontent throughout the German nation. Force will not silence them. Hitler will have to make some concessions and certain compromises if he is to restore unity within the Reich. Discontent that is stifled by the use of force is never secure and lasting. Hitler must make a temporary retreat now if he is to march ahead with greater strength later on.

Teacher: Name the American ambassadors and the countries they are credited to. Bright Pupil: You mean as of this morning or this afternoon?

The likeness of Thomas Jefferson will appear on the new five-cent pieces soon to be minted. Thus, in a jiffy the jitney becomes a jeffy.

More Blue Sky For Iowa City

IOWA CITY officials are now carrying on a smoke abatement campaign in an attempt to lessen the local smoke nuisance. Although a municipal ordinance provides a fine of $100 or 90 days imprisonment for violators, residents have in the past taken little heed and enforcement efforts have not been effective.

According to the city ordinance, smoke is a nuisance when it is so dense at the top of the stack that it is impossible to see blue sky through it on a clear day.

As a result of enforcement being rather futile without a knowledge of firing technique on the part of residents, the mayor has appointed an advisory committee to carry on instructional meetings which offenders will attend by request—others by invitation.

Aside from the distasteful results of court action, Iowa Citizens should want to learn correct furnace firing methods for other reasons.

Economically speaking excess smoke signifies wasted fuel. From a health standpoint medical men agree that smoke-laden air is harmful particularly during winter months when general health conditions are lower.

Iowa City is not an industrial center. There are no factories belching forth clouds of smoke. The local smoke nuisance can be materially lessened—similar campaigns in larger cities have been successful. This improvement can be brought about by an increased knowledge of combustion principles, a realization of the economic waste and health hazards, and cooperation with civil leaders in the drive to see "more blue sky in Iowa City."

Knee-length pajamas will soon be the fashion, according to a style announcement. This is small comfort to those of us who still cling even to the old-fashioned bed socks.

Among others losing their jobs are the Indian and the buffalo on your nickel. They might have known, when they first appeared in 1908, that the position wasn't permanent.

'Thirty' For Odd McIntyre

O. O. McINTYRE, the cub reporter and small-town boy who achieved what every true newspaperman yearns for—fame and fortune in the Big Town—is dead.

Daily for the last 25 years he had brought rich, vivid glimpses of New York as he saw it to an estimated group of from seven to fifteen million readers. Few other newspapermen have attained the popularity which was his for so long; which made him one of the highest paid of all columnists and brought him a fortune of nearly a million dollars.

Perhaps the secret of his success was that in his writings, and probably in his heart, he remained the timid small-town boy, fresh from his native Gallipolis, scared, but eager to draw character sketches of New York and its inhabitants.

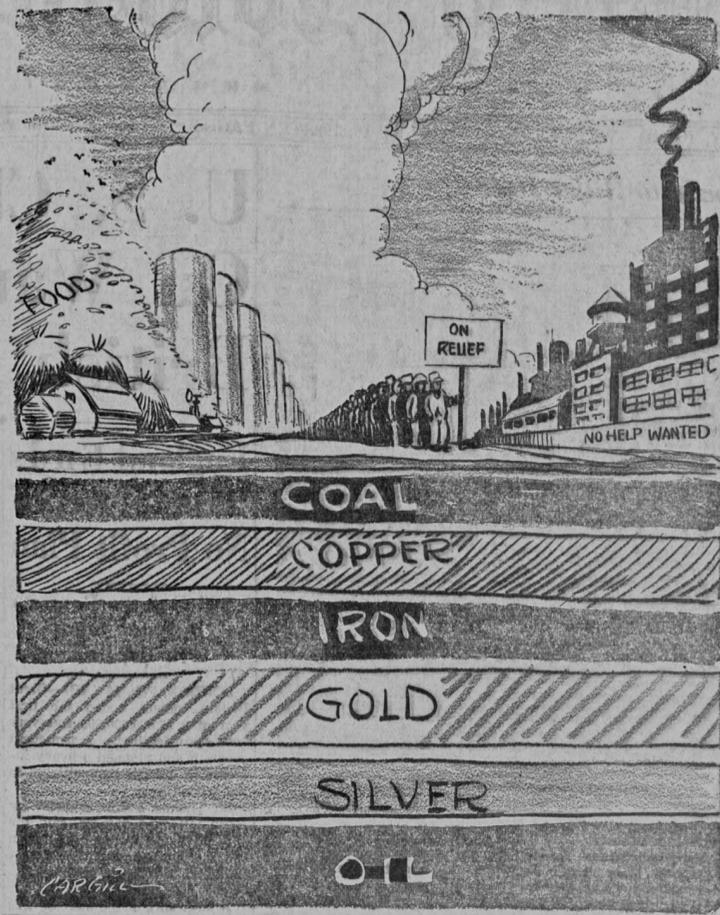

His familiar talk of the great and the near-great, interwoven in his column with bits of homespun philosophy, brought America's famous people down to a level which the average reader could understand and appreciate. He wrote of dogs, food, clothing, life, homesickness and friends—simple topics, to be sure, but with a lasting appeal.

There were many in late years who criticized his comments on New York. It was a grimmer, harsher city, they said, than he ever showed it to be. Perhaps they were right—perhaps he was still writing of New York as seen through the eyes of a naive country boy.

But even so, we would not have wished it otherwise, for the New York he gave us was the New York we wanted it to be—vigorous, alive, celebrity-packed, the symbol of greatness.

And O. O. McIntyre himself, he too was the way we wanted him to be—the home-town boy who made good and thus fulfilled the dreams of all of us.

TROUBLE IN PARADISE!

Dr. Clendening Discusses Uses Of Ultraviolet, Infra-Red Rays

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

We spoke briefly the other day of the uses of ultraviolet light, either artificial or from the sunlight. Its most important uses are in tuberculosis of the bones and joints and in skin diseases. Tuberculosis of the lungs is usually not benefited by ultraviolet light. In fact, great injury has been done patients by too prolonged and extensive treatment of this kind.

Treatment by ultraviolet light, properly applied, and of not too long duration, should be followed by a sense of well being and exhilaration. Headache, lassitude and vertigo are indications of too prolonged or too extensive treatment.

In tuberculosis enlargement of the lymph nodes of the neck, X-ray and ultraviolet lights have offered the quickest and most uniform results. They are especially valuable after surgical removal of lymph nodes to prevent recurrence.

In tuberculosis of the skin, Finzen's work was epoch making. Ulcers and indolent wounds get well in the majority of cases under irradiation of this kind. Ringworm and various ulcers yield to the bactericidal properties of the ultraviolet rays.

Although extravagant claims have been made for the infra-red rays, they are not very much supported by scientific proof. The form of heat which they produce is soothing and gives speedy relief in muscular rheumatism and neuralgias.

"It's just a suggestion to drive carefully," the coroner explained.

MacEwen of the college of medicine will go to Sioux City; Dean Wiley B. Rutledge of the college of law will speak at Burlington; Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts will appear in Omaha, Neb., and Prof. Forest C. Ensign of the college of education will address the Chicago club.

Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, executive secretary of the alumni association, will possibly stop in Rochester, N. Y., on his way east for the convention of the American Association of School Administrators.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

NEW YORK — Occasionally there shuffles up to the curb a pan-handler with a new and refreshing argument. Such a browser stepped smartly up to Bob Ripley and touched him on the arm.

"Pardon me," he said, "can you let me have 35 cents for a cup of coffee?"

"Thirty-five cents! Coffee costs only a nickel." "Yeah, I know," replied the bum, "but I've got to get my tuxedo pressed."

It is Joe Rines who tells this one on himself. Joe was pretty much in need of sleep and was gratefully pounding his ear the other night when a terrific racket brought him angrily back into this world.

Donning his robe, the band leader rushed next door and gave the unthinking merry-makers a blistering dressing down. "Say," ejaculated the fellow, "aren't you Joe Rines?" "Well, yes I am," replied Rines, somewhat mollified, "what about it?"

"Gosh, I think you're the greatest band leader in New York. I was just playing some of your records. . . . Tell me, when that trumpet goes ta-ta-te-te-ti, what is that bell-like noise in the background?" Several hours later, when Joe got back to his own room, he wasn't a bit mad.

Legend There's a legend that a fortune has been accumulated in a downtown bank, small sums left there by sailors who were lost at sea or otherwise disappeared. At least, so the story goes, they never came back and all efforts to communicate with heirs have met with failure.

Except for the trifling drawback of being untrue, this is a charming fable and belongs with the rest of Broadway's Mother Goose stories. I have heard also and read in the reports of my colleagues from time to time of garbled old hag out of witches tales who brew nameless potions in blackened pots under the gloomy arches of Brooklyn Bridge, but I have never been so fortunate as to encounter them. They have been described as toothless and leaning on crooked sticks and mumbling incantations while stirring these mysterious broths. I guess I don't get around enough.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — Movie research departments, which bother themselves about the most insignificant details, generally keep hands off one vital film component: the movie kiss.

They made quite a fuss about the way Sigrid Quire should react to Gary Cooper's Occidental kiss in "Marco Polo" but that was a Chinese exception. Miss Gurie, as the Oriental princess, wasn't supposed ever to have been kissed that way before.

Ordinarily, the researchers don't specify how a kiss should be delivered and receipted for—even in period pictures. Directors and players, too, take it for granted that the kiss is timeless, that Helen of Troy, Cleopatra, Maid Marian of Robin Hood's time and Joan Crawford in her most modern roles should react the same way.

Michael Curtiz, directing kiss scenes between Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland in the "Robin Hood" picture, simply rehearsed them in their lines, placed them in a romantic setting, and left them to their own devices. De Mille did the same with Fredric March and Francisca Gaal in "The Buccaneer," and William Wyler made no hard-and-fast rules for the kissing scenes of Bette Davis and Henry Fonda in "Jezebel," period 1850.

But this seeming laxness in research never affects the kissing problems of the movie cameraman. Period Now or Period Then, that worthy has a job with every kiss.

He must never, for one thing, allow the hero's nose to hide the heroine's face. (He is saved from the reverse problem by the fact that any heroine with a nose capable of hiding a hero's face would not be in pictures.) He must also, in certain cases, so arrange his light and angle that what appears to be a kiss on the screen really need not be a kiss at all but merely a post designed to look like a kiss to the camera.

The least of his kissing problems, however, remains Fred Astaire. Fred is a kissless star, no matter how romantic, in all his pictures. When John Ford is directing a picture, you can visit the set and be fairly certain in advance you'll see a prison or dungeon or other dreary scene.

Orchestra Will Give Concerts At Union Today

St. Louis Symphonic Group to Present Many Pieces

Combining compositions from different periods and contrasting moods and styles, the St. Louis symphonic orchestra will present selections by such masters as Mozart, Strauss, Sibelius, Tansman and Ravel in its concert here today.

The orchestra under the baton of its regular conductor, Vladimir Golschmann, will be heard at 3:15 this afternoon and 8:00 o'clock tonight in the main lounge of Iowa Union as part of the university concert course.

Opening this afternoon's program will be Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," and orchestral work for strings. The technical perfection, the simplicity and instrumental art of Mozart speak for themselves. Included also in this concert, in addition to Dukas and Borodin is Richard Strauss' tone poem, "Don Juan."

Strauss in the 1890's produced a series of tone-poems which through their electric quality, vitality and magnificent beauty startled the entire music world and established fame for their composer. Having enriched symphonic music with his remarkable tone-poems, Strauss turned to the song form and opera and to his crowning masterpiece, "Der Rosenkavalier," waltz selections from which have been included on this evening's program.

Other highlights of this evening's concert will be the Overture to "Coriolanus," the most famous of Beethoven's violin-piano sonatas, and Sibelius' "Second Symphony." Symphonic fragments from Ravel's "Daphnis and Chloe" constitute the closing selection.

The afternoon program follows: "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," for String Orchestra (Kochel 525).....Mozart, Allegro

Romanza: Andante Menuetto: Allegretto Rondo: Allegro "Tone Poem, "Don Juan" (After Nicholas Lenau), opus 20 Strauss

INTERMISSION Ballet Suite from "Cephele et Procris".....Gentry-Mottl Tambourin Menuetto Gigue Scherzo: "L'Apprenti Sorcier (The Sorcerer's Apprentice)".....Dukas Folovtsian Dances from "Prince Igor".....Borodin The program for tonight follows: Overture to "Coriolanus," opus 62.....Beethoven Symphony No. 2, in D major, opus 43.....Sibelius Allegretto Tempo andante ma rubato Vivacissimo; Lento e soave Finale: Allegro moderato

Nix Will Speak To Honor Frat On Advertising

Edward J. Nix, advertising executive from Chicago who teaches a course in advertising in the college of commerce, will speak before Sigma Delta Chi, honorary professional journalism fraternity, Saturday noon in the S. P. C. S. hall above Smith's cafe.

Members of the advertising departments of The Daily Iowan and the Iowa City Press-Citizen will be guests.

Nix will discuss the vocational aspects of advertising and the means of preparing for a future in this field.

Every other week end Nix comes to Iowa City to teach four hours on Saturday and then returns to Chicago where he is account executive with Erwin Wasey company, Limited.

Thomas Poulter, Former Student, Receives Medal

Thomas C. Poulter, a graduate student here in 1932, has been awarded by a special act of congress the congressional medal "for scientific accomplishment unequalled in Polar exploration."

He is director of Armour Institutes' Research foundation. Dr. Poulter taught physics at Iowa Wesleyan university. He had a Guggenheim fellowship in 1933 and 1934 and was in charge of scientific work on the Byrd Antarctic expedition in 1933-35.

Parker Holbrook, Long-Time S.U.I. Official, Dies in Onawa

Served on University Directory Boards For 28 Years

Parker Kimball Holbrook, 73, a great friend and long-time official of the university, died yesterday at his home in Onawa following a long illness.

Funeral service for the man who spent more than 28 years as a member of the board of regents and later the state board of education will be tomorrow in Onawa.

He was born in Monona county Sept. 23, 1864, and attended the University of Iowa as a member of the class of 1886 but was forced to drop out of school his senior year because of poor health.

Within 10 years he became a member of the board of regents of the university, a position which he held for 14 years when the present board of education was organized. Thirteen of the 14 years he was chairman of the executive committee. When the state board of education was organized in 1909, he was the only member of the board of regents to receive a place on the new board.

Upon leaving school Mr. Holbrook became engaged in banking and stayed in the profession for the remainder of his life. He was president of the First Trust and Savings bank and the Onawa public library board. He was first associated with the Weare-Allison bank at Sioux City and in 1892, Sept. 23, 1864, and attended the University of Iowa as a member of the class of 1886 but was forced to drop out of school his senior year because of poor health.

He is survived by his widow; two sons, one of whom is Wade Holbrook of New York, a graduate of the University of Iowa, and a sister.

Engineers Will Convene Here

29 Men Will Speak At Annual Meeting Of State Society

Approximately 200 Iowans are expected to attend the 50th annual convention of the Iowa Engineering society here March 9 and 10. The Iowa City Engineers' club will be host to the convention, which has not met in Iowa City for 18 years.

Plans for the convention, including inspection trips, luncheons, the annual banquet, a dance and general business and discussion meetings, were announced yesterday.

T. R. Agg, dean of engineering at Iowa State college, will preside over the general business meeting, and several members of the society will make reports in their different sections.

Dean F. M. Dawson, of the college of engineering, will announce special awards at the banquet meeting, and Prof. H. O. Croft, Prof. C. T. G. Looney and Prof. T. J. Caywood will partake in the discussions.

Other speakers will be W. O. Price, L. W. Mahone, P. E. Damon, W. M. Dunagan, L. J. Murphy, H. O. Hickok, Bert Myers, T. R. Perry, W. H. Root, W. E. Calligan and C. O. Alexander, all of Ames.

L. L. Flint of Shenandoah; A. H. Cunningham of Storm Lake; W. L. Perking of Chariton; C. H. Young of Muscatine; E. A. Kerkow of Bancroft; H. E. Berger of Oakville; W. H. Behrens and H. R. Green, both of Cedar Rapids.

L. N. Hintgen of Sioux City; Carl Bartek and W. H. Cullen, both of Dubuque; A. H. Wieters and Leslie Forsyth, both of Des Moines.

High-grade cement is screened through a mesh so fine it will hold water.

We Are All Out of Adjectives

THE ADVERTISEMENTS say "age limit—eight years." With the memory of last year still sounding in our ears, it seems a shame to exclude the six-and seven-year-olds.

Your musical mentality may be at the level at which the radio producers place mass America. You may not know a thematic fragment from an organic whole.

Do you harbor a secret bent toward Irving Berlin and a secret shudder at the thought of Beethoven? Do you think in Jiggian terms of opera and turn the radio to blasting volume when the hill-billy hour comes on?

To many Iowa Citizens, as well as to many students and professors, the concert course is the best and most worthwhile of the university year's entertainment.

To extract pure delight from the music of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra, all you need is a pair of ears. Quality that even further. Just to watch the exquisite movement of Mr. Golschmann's guiding fingers, just to see the first violinist tuck his fiddle under his chin and tenderly lift his bow—that's enough.

Because it carries us thus to heights of unequalled beauty, we are grateful for the St. Louis Symphony—yes, and grateful too for the concert course that brings it here.

Discontent In Germany

RUMBLES of discontent are slowly emerging from Nazi Germany as Chancellor Hitler tries to reconcile the opposition forces within his dictatorial regime. The army "purge" brought to a head the disaffection of high standing German army officers with certain aspects of Nazi foreign policy; namely, those relating to Spain and Italy. This "purge," which curiously enough coincided with the opening of the Rev. Martin Niemoller's trial, also served to awaken all the elements of opposition which had previously remained dormant.

The discontent within Germany is due to various causes. Hitler in his effort to make the Reich a totalitarian state has ridden roughshod over all those who would not relinquish their independence and bow before his iron will. Hitler through his religious bigotry has openly antagonized the Protestant and Catholic churches in Germany. He sought to curtail their power in the interests of the Nazi state and has not been as successful as he wanted to be. German pastors have not hesitated to preach their opposition to Nazi doctrine openly from their pulpits. Hitler, with all his suppression and imprisonment could not stop their demands for religious freedom. The church is thus the greatest political force opposing Hitler in Germany today.

The high army officers who could not see eye to eye with Hitler regarding German foreign policy and the spread of Nazi paganism within the army form another minority group against Der Fuehrer's actions. Small and large business concerns in Germany have also been rankled by the iron grip and oppressive state regulations of the Nazi regime.

These, then, are strong opposition elements which are spreading discontent throughout the German nation. Force will not silence them. Hitler will have to make some concessions and certain compromises if he is to restore unity within the Reich. Discontent that is stifled by the use of force is never secure and lasting. Hitler must make a temporary retreat now if he is to march ahead with greater strength later on.

Teacher: Name the American ambassadors to the countries they are credited to. Bright Pupil: You mean as of this morning or this afternoon?

The likeness of Thomas Jefferson will appear on the new five-cent pieces soon to be minted. Thus, in a jiffy the jitney becomes a jeffy.

More Blue Sky For Iowa City

IOWA CITY officials are now carrying on a smoke abatement campaign in an attempt to lessen the local smoke nuisance. Although a municipal ordinance provides a fine of $100 or 90 days imprisonment for violators, residents have in the past taken little heed and enforcement efforts have not been effective.

According to the city ordinance, smoke is a nuisance when it is so dense at the top of the stack that it is impossible to see blue sky through it on a clear day.

As a result of enforcement being rather futile without a knowledge of firing technique on the part of residents, the mayor has appointed an advisory committee to carry on instructional meetings which offenders will attend by request—others by invitation.

Aside from the distasteful results of court action, Iowa Citizens should want to learn correct furnace firing methods for other reasons.

Economically speaking excess smoke signifies wasted fuel. From a health standpoint medical men agree that smoke-laden air is harmful particularly during winter months when general health conditions are lower.

Iowa City is not an industrial center. There are no factories belching forth clouds of smoke. The local smoke nuisance can be materially lessened—similar campaigns in larger cities have been successful. This improvement can be brought about by an increased knowledge of combustion principles, a realization of the economic waste and health hazards, and cooperation with civil leaders in the drive to see "more blue sky in Iowa City."

Knee-length pajamas will soon be the fashion, according to a style announcement. This is small comfort to those of us who still cling even to the old-fashioned bed socks.

Among others losing their jobs are the Indian and the buffalo on your nickel. They might have known, when they first appeared in 1908, that the position wasn't permanent.

'Thirty' For Odd McIntyre

O. O. MCINTYRE, the cub reporter and small-town boy who achieved what every true newspaperman yearns for—fame and fortune in the Big Town—is dead. Daily for the last 25 years he had brought rich, vivid glimpses of New York as he saw it to an estimated group of from seven to fifteen million readers. Few other newspapermen have attained the popularity which was his for so long; which made him one of the highest paid of all columnists and brought him a fortune of nearly a million dollars.

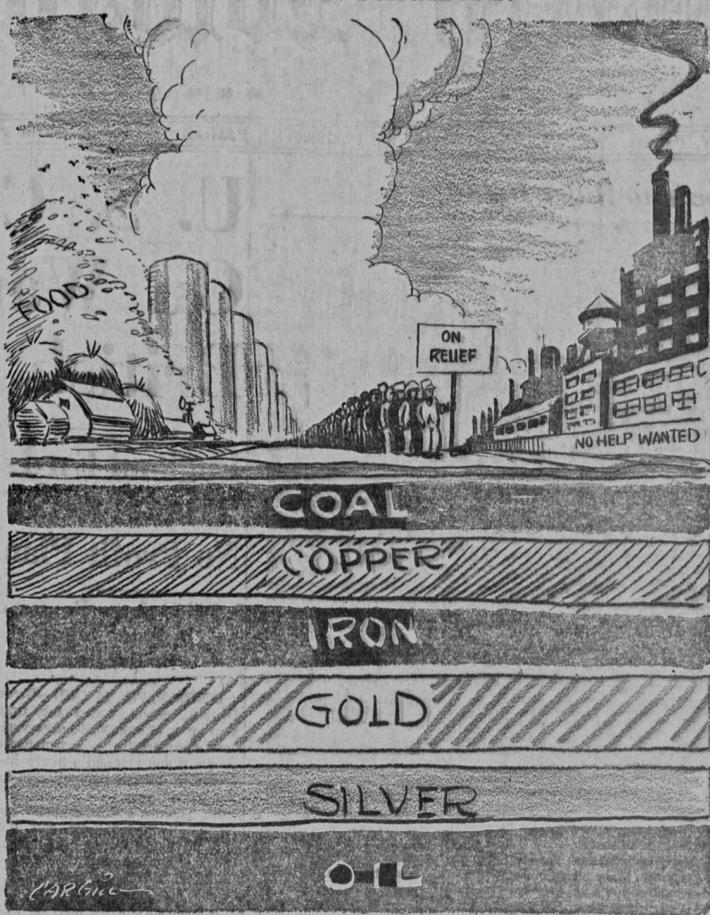

Perhaps the secret of his success was that in his writings, and probably in his heart, he remained the timid small-town boy, fresh from his native Gallipolis, scared, but eager to draw character sketches of New York and its inhabitants. His familiar talk of the great and the near-great, interwoven in his column with bits of homespun philosophy, brought America's famous people down to a level which the average reader could understand and appreciate. He wrote of dogs, food, clothing, life, homesickness and friends—simple topics, to be sure, but with a lasting appeal.

There were many in late years who criticized his comments on New York. It was a grimmer, harsher city, they said, than he ever showed it to be. Perhaps they were right—perhaps he was still writing of New York as seen through the eyes of a naive country boy.

But even so, we would not have wished it otherwise, for the New York he gave us was the New York we wanted it to be—vigorous, alive, celebrity-packed, the symbol of greatness.

And O. O. McIntyre himself, he too was the way we wanted him to be—the home-town boy who made good and thus fulfilled the dreams of all of us.

TROUBLE IN PARADISE!

Dr. Clendening Discusses Uses Of Ultraviolet, Infra-Red Rays

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

We spoke briefly the other day of the uses of ultraviolet light, either artificial or from the sun. Its most important uses are in tuberculosis of the bones and joints and in skin diseases. Tuberculosis of the lungs is usually not benefited by ultraviolet light. In fact, great injury has been done to patients by too prolonged and extensive treatment of this kind.

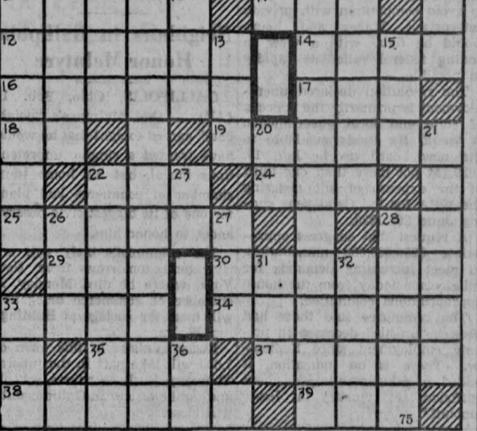

Treatment by ultraviolet light, properly applied, and of not too long duration, should be followed by a sense of well being and exhilaration. Headache, lassitude and vertigo are indications of too prolonged or too extensive treatment. In tuberculosis enlargement of the lymph nodes of the neck, X-ray and ultraviolet lights have offered the quickest and most uniform results. They are especially valuable after surgical removal of lymph nodes to prevent recurrence.

In tuberculosis of the skin, Finzen's work was epoch making. Ulcers and indolent wounds get well in the majority of cases under irradiation of this kind. Ringworm and various ulcers yield to the bactericidal properties of the ultraviolet rays. In whooping cough, the ultraviolet rays given as a general body radiation give relief in a great many cases. Fractures which have not knitted, are frequently helped in this way.

The infra-red rays, at the opposite end of the spectrum, produce a reaction in a short time, with local congestion in the skin and sweating due to dilation of the small vessels. Although extravagant claims have been made for the infra-red rays, they are not very much supported by scientific proof. The form of heat which they produce is soothing and gives speedy relief in muscular rheumatism and neuralgias.

Safety Hint GOLDEN, Col. (AP)—"Compliments of the county coroner," says the printing on a neat little case which is being given Jefferson county automobile license purchasers. The case holds the 1938 automobile license cards and bears the coroner's telephone number. "It's just a suggestion to drive carefully," the coroner explained.

Tuning In with Betty Harpel

Yesterday's column of campus favorite tunes brought a few repercussions. It seems that there are those who do not feel that the poll is a thorough indicator of campus taste.

Inquiries were made as to how many people were interviewed for the survey. The dope is just this—On Monday, after the results of the Hit Parade are known, your columnist interviewed some 35 or 40 students, chosen at random over the campus.

This poll is in reality only a recording of preferences of a cross section of students. It is not and does not pretend to be an accurate vote of some 6,000 students enrolled in the University.

Suggestions about good programs have been coming in since the column on favorite programs. Some of the contributors have rather novel ideas on the subject and recommend programs which most of us have overlooked.

Some of these tips are worthy of notice. Among them is a recommendation for the "Hour of Charm" heard on Monday at 8:30 p.m. This will provide the listener with a quiet hour of beautiful melodies sung by an all-women's chorus and played by an all-girl orchestra.

The Shadow at 4:30 is another program which is worth looking into. It is a series of dramatizations of detective stories from the magazine of that name. Our old friend the Shadow, does the announcing.

The Day Dreamer program over which poetry is recited was mentioned by one girl who listened faithfully every day because her room-mate liked it.

Another girl listens to the Hill Billy program every noon because there is nothing else on.

NEW YORK — Occasionally there shuffles up to the curb a pan-handler with a new and refreshing argument. Such a browser stepped smartly up to Bob Ripley and touched him on the arm.

"Pardon me," he said, "can you let me have 35 cents for a cup of coffee?" "Thirty-five cents! Coffee costs only a nickel."

"Yeah, I know," replied the bum, "but I've got to get my tuxedo pressed."

It is Joe Rines who tells this one on himself. Joe was pretty much in need of sleep and was gratefully pounding his ear the other night when a terrific racket brought him angrily back into this world.

Donning his robe, the band leader rushed next door and gave the unthinking merry-makers a blistering dressing down. "Say," ejaculated the fellow, "aren't you Joe Rines?" "Well, yes I am," replied Rines, somewhat mollified, "what about it?"

"Gosh, I think you're the greatest bandleader in New York. I was just playing some of your records. Tell me, when that trumpet goes ta-ta-te-te-ti, what is that bell-like noise in the background?" Several hours later, when Joe got back to his own room, he wasn't a bit mad.

Legend There's a legend that a fortune has been accumulated in a downtown bank, small sums left there by sailors who were lost at sea or otherwise disappeared. At least, so the story goes, they never came back and all efforts to communicate with heirs have met with failure.

Except for the trifling drawback of being untrue, this is a charming fable and belongs with the rest of Broadway's Mother Goose stories. I have heard also and read in the reports of my colleagues from time to time of gnarled old hags out of witches tales who brew nameless potions in blackened pots under the gloomy arches of Brooklyn Bridge, but I have never been so fortunate as to encounter them. They have been described as toothless and leaning on crooked sticks and mumbling incantations while stirring these mysterious broths. I guess I don't get around enough.

Orchestra Will Give Concerts At Union Today

St. Louis Symphonic Group to Present Many Pieces

Combining compositions from different periods and contrasting moods and styles, the St. Louis symphonic orchestra will present selections by such masters as Mozart, Strauss, Sibelius, Tansman and Ravel in its concert here today.

The orchestra under the baton of its regular conductor, Vladimir Golschmann, will be heard at 3:15 this afternoon and 8:00 o'clock tonight in the main lounge of Iowa Union as part of the university concert course.

Opening this afternoon's program will be Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," and orchestral work for strings. The technical perfection, the simplicity and instrumental art of Mozart speak for themselves. Included also in this concert, in addition to Dukas and Borodin is Richard Strauss' tone poem, "Don Juan."

Strauss in the 1890's produced a series of tone-poems which through their electric quality, vitality and magnificent beauty startled the entire music world and established fame for their composer. Having enriched symphonic music with his remarkable tone-poems, Strauss turned to the song form and opera and to his crowning masterpiece, "Der Rosenkavalier," waltz selections from which have been included in this evening's program.

Other highlights of this evening's concert will be the Overture to "Coriolanus," the most famous of Beethoven's violin-piano sonatas, and Sibelius' "Second Symphony." Symphonic fragments from Ravel's "Daphnis and Chloe" constitute the closing selection.

The afternoon program follows:

"Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," for String Orchestra (Kochel 525) ..... Mozart
Allegro
Romanza: Andante
Menuetto: Allegretto
Rondo: Allegro
Tone Poem, "Don Juan" (After Nicholas Lenau), opus 20 ..... Strauss

The program for tonight follows:

Overture to "Coriolanus," opus 62 ..... Beethoven
Symphony No. 2, in D major, opus 43 ..... Sibelius
Allegretto
Tempo andante ma rubato
Vivacissimo; Lento e soave
Finale: Allegro moderato

INTERMISSION

Parker Holbrook, Long-Time S.U.I. Official, Dies in Onawa

Served on University Directory Boards For 28 Years

Parker Kimball Holbrook, 73, a great friend and long-time official of the university, died yesterday at his home in Onawa following a long illness.

Funeral service for the man who spent more than 28 years as a member of the board of regents and later the state board of education will be tomorrow in Onawa.

He was born in Monona county Sept. 23, 1864, and attended the University of Iowa as a member of the class of 1886 but was forced to drop out of school his senior year because of poor health.

Within 10 years he became a member of the board of regents of the university, a position which he held for 14 years when the present board of education was organized. Thirteen of the 14 years he was chairman of the executive committee. When the state board of education was organized in 1909, he was the only member of the board of regents to receive a place on the new board.

Upon leaving school Mr. Holbrook became engaged in banking and stayed in the profession for the remainder of his life. He was president of the First Trust and Savings bank and the Onawa public library board. He was first associated with the Weare-Allison bank at Sioux City and in 1892, he and his father, C. D. Holbrook, organized the bank of which he was president at the time of his death.

He is survived by his widow; two sons, one of whom is Weare Holbrook of New York, a graduate of the University of Iowa, and a sister.

Engineers Will Convene Here

Approximately 200 Iowans are expected to attend the 50th annual convention of the Iowa engineering society here March 9 and 10. The Iowa City Engineers' club will be host to the convention, which has not met in Iowa City for 18 years.

Plans for the convention, including inspection trips, luncheons, the annual banquet, a dance and general business and discussion meetings, were announced yesterday.

T. R. Agg, dean of engineering at Iowa State college, will preside over the general business meeting, and several members of the society will make reports in their different sections.

Dean F. M. Dawson, of the college of engineering, will announce special awards at the banquet meeting, and Prof. H. O. Croft, Prof. C. T. G. Looney and Prof. T. J. Caywood will partake in the discussions.

Other speakers will be W. O. Price, L. W. Mahone, P. E. Damon, W. M. Dunagan, L. J. Murphy, H. O. Hickok, Bert Myers, T. R. Perry, W. H. Root, W. E. Calligan and C. O. Alexander, all of Ames; L. L. Plint of Shenandoah; A. H. Cunningham of Storm Lake; W. L. Perking of Chariton; C. H. Young of Muscatine; E. A. Kerkow of Bancroft; H. E. Berger of Oakville; W. H. Behrens and H. R. Green, both of Cedar Rapids; L. N. Hintgen of Sioux City; Carl Bartek and W. H. Cullen, both of Dubuque; A. H. Wieters and Leslie Forsyth, both of Des Moines.

High-grade cement is screened through a mesh so fine it will hold water.

Hawk Cagers Get Set For Saturday's Clash With Lowly Maroons

Ben Stephens Second High In Big 10 Scoring

Hapless Chicago Team Loses 33 Straight Loop Battles

Determined to show the home folks some of the skill displayed in winning three out of four road games, the University of Iowa basketball team will resume action here Saturday night against the University of Chicago in the Iowa fieldhouse.

The Maroons were handed their 32nd Big Ten straight defeat last Saturday night by the Hawkeyes and dropped another game to Wisconsin Monday. The Maroons are the underdogs and as such are liable to kick the dope bucket for a loop in any of their league encounters.

Play Wildcats Monday
Remarkable improvement on offense and defense, together with old-fashioned determination on the part of the players has marked the recent play of the Hawkeyes. They are going to need all of the above qualities they can summon together for after the Chicago game they must invade Evanston, Ill., for a game with Northwestern, present conference leader, and then return to Iowa City for games against the tough teams from Michigan and Minnesota.

Iowa teams do not usually enjoy even average success on road trips but this year's aggregation seems to be the exception. They have won three of their four games on foreign courts, Indiana, Chicago and Michigan providing the opposition.

Sterling Defense
Minnesota, Chicago and Michigan, the last three foes scored 28, 29 and 30 points respectively, and the feat of holding the powerful Michigan team to eight field goals, two in the first half, is regarded as a tribute to the sterling defensive development of the Iowans.

On attack, the scoring is beginning to be better distributed, with Jack Drees, the center, and Joe Van Ysseldyk, guard, figuring prominently. Van Ysseldyk, after several weeks of indifferent play, now is in top form and his work has been a big factor in the newly-found drive of the Hawkeyes.

With 95 points in eight games, Ben Stephens is second high conference scorer. He has 144 in all games. Nile Kinnick, despite his recent scoring slump is second on the Iowa team with 90 points in all games and 44 in conference competition. Iowa has outscored its opponents, 616 to 614, making 240 field goals and 136 free throws.

Marians, Irish To Meet Again In Return Tilt

Coach Francis Suplee gave his St. Mary's cagers a rest last night but they will undergo a tough scrimmage session tonight in anticipation of their intra-city fracas with the St. Patrick's Irish Friday on the southside court.

The Marions will have Big Paul Hennessy, star guard, in the starting lineup. Bespectacled Hennessy was absent in the last tussle with the southsiders because of an injured ankle. He has played in the last few games and has shown up well and should prove to be an important cog in the Ramblers' attack.

In the last two starts the Blue and White machine has scored impressive victories over the tough St. Patrick's team of Cedar Rapids and the Wilton Junction Beavers. St. Patrick's of Cedar Rapids scored a lop-sided victory over the local Shamrock outfit last week.

A starting lineup for the Ramblers is speculative as yet but Coach Francis Suplee is expected to name the starters tonight.

Teachers Lose
CEDAR FALLS (AP)—Hamline college defeated the Iowa State Teachers, North Central conference basketball leaders, here last night, 33 to 30.

Showdown Jacobs to Investigate Max's Foes

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—Mike Jacobs prepared today for a showdown with Max Schmeling on "der schlagers" future tune-up bouts for his June heavyweight title battle with Joe Louis.

Mike left off a little steam when cables brought the news that Max has agreed to fight Steve Dudas of Edgewater, N. J., in Hamburg, Germany April 19.

"I don't mind him fighting Dudas, but he'll have to fight him in March," Mike said. "I want that fellow over here in April. I want him ready to start work just as soon as I name the site for the June fight."

The Dudas bout, if it goes through, will be Max's third preliminary before meeting Louis. He knocked out Harry Thomas of Chicago in eight rounds in the Garden last December and last month fought 12 rounds in Hamburg with Ben Ford of South Africa.

Statements by Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's American representative, that the June bout likely will be sent to Chicago were laughed off by Jacobs.

"It may go there, it may go to Detroit or it may stay right here," he said. "I don't have to name the site until 40 days before the fight. But I may do it earlier."

"John Roxborough, one of Louis' managers, favors Detroit. Julian Black wants Chicago. But I'll do the naming."

Taking in more territory, Jacobs repeated his purpose to drive the chiselers out of the boxing game.

"Some of these fellows have been trying to out-smart me, but I'll show 'em. One of these nights I'll get up there and tell the customers to stop by the box office and get their money back. I'll pay the fighters off, too. Boxing is going to be 100 per cent on the level as long as I've anything to do with it."

Kansas Flyer Defeats Venzke
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 15 (AP)—Mighty Glenn Cunningham continued his mastery over the nation's milers tonight, winning the Bishop Francis P. Keough mile by five yards from Gene Venzke, who, in turn, was 30 yards ahead of Don Lash. Archie San Romani and Joe McCluskey trailed. Cunningham's time of 4:14.8, the fastest mile ever run in Rhode Island, was considered exceptional under the conditions.

Manhattan's speedy relay quartet trounced Rhode Island State, Dick Lundell, Joe Zeitzer, Lou Burns and Howard Borek reeling off a 3:29 mile.

Basketball Writers Plan to Pick Best Team and Player

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Metropolitan Basketball Writers association, drafting plans for its first national invitation intercollegiate tournament at Madison Square Garden March 9, 14 and 16, today decided to set up permanent team and individual trophies and suitable medals for all contestants.

The winning team in the tournament, which will include four eastern and two representative western colleges, will get a replica of the team trophy. To the outstanding, or "most valuable," player in the three-night competition will go a replica of the individual award. Gold medals will be given to the members of the winning team; silver medals to the beaten finalists; and bronze medals to the others.

Tilt With Streator, Ill. To Wind Up Card For Locals

Davenport high school finished its Mississippi Valley conference schedule Friday night with both the varsity and freshman-sophomore teams undefeated and in possession of the championship berth in the tough basketball league. Iowa City high ended the league season in fourth place by virtue of its six wins and four losses.

Several perennial rivals of the cage court will ring down the curtain on league competition next week, as the East and West representatives tangle in an intra-city game at Waterloo, Franklin travels to Clinton, Dubuque goes to McKinley and Roosevelt plays host to Wilson in another intra-city game at Cedar Rapids.

Meanwhile the Little Hawks began preparation for the invasion of the highly rated Streator, Ill., quintet Friday evening. Coach Francis Merten sent the Red and White through a long scrimmage, anticipating a tough evening in store for the locals this week. Iowa City lost a heart-breaker last week to the Franklin aggregation and will probably be a vengeant band of basketeers as they try to make up for it Friday.

All the members of the squad participated in the intra-squad scrimmage that occupied yesterday's practice session. Streator will mark the end of the regular season's schedule for the Hawks. Next week Coach Merten will begin drills for the sectional tournament, which opens Feb. 25.

Today At The Fieldhouse

Meeting of the athletic managers of town leagues at fieldhouse office to discuss plans for a volleyball league.
7:00—Madison, Southeastern and Southern.
8:00—Eastern, College and Northwestern.
9:00—North, Central and Western.

High School Foes Meet Again

It was as one fullback to another in the Iowa fieldhouse the other afternoon as Carl Blandin (right) and Mike Enich got together to talk things over during spring football practice. Blandin, who hails from Grinnell, was a rival of Enich's in high school when Mike played on the Boone eleven. Both schools are members of the Central Iowa conference. After opposing each other for their entire prep school career on both the gridiron and the basketball court the two athletes are now teammates, both freshmen, on Iowa's spring football squad. Both boys have outstanding high school records and much is expected of them in the football next year.

More than 50 men have answered Coach Irl Tubbs' call to the annual spring practice session and are working out three times a week in the University of Iowa fieldhouse in preparation for the grueling schedule that will face the Old Gold warriors next fall, beginning with a game against the University of California at Los Angeles gridders to be played at Los Angeles Sept. 23, and including non-conference games with Colgate and Nebraska as well as conference contests with Minnesota, Indiana, Purdue, Wisconsin and Chicago.

Questions and Answers for Sport Fans

Time Limit, 10 Minutes; If You Can Hit Seventy Percent You're Good

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—If you're the kind of a guy who pokes fun at experts in the winter as well as summer, try your luck! The 1938 sports year is only a month and a half old but if you can answer 70 per cent of the following questions on the happenings since the turn of the year you'll be qualified to get Bill Terry's home telephone number.

Stagehand Wins Derby To Loom as Threat In Santa Anita Race

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15 (AP)—Stagehand, chalking up his third straight victory here won the featured $1,500 derby trial today and lived up to expectations of the Maxwell Howard stable as a formidable threat in the $50,000 Santa Anita derby February 22.

Jockey Jack Westrope booted the frisky 3-year-old son of Sickle and Stagecraft under the wire a bare whisker to the good over Myron Selznick's Can't Wait, while the Foxcatcher farm's Dauber finished third, a length back.

Browns Trade Knickerbocker To Yankees for Heffner, Cash

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns, champion David Harms of the current big league market, today completed another deal by sending infielder Bill Knickerbocker to the New York Yankees for utility infielder Don Heffner and an unannounced bundle of cash.

There isn't much difference between Heffner and Knickerbocker on the basis of records though the Yankees evidently believe Knickerbocker would be handier to have around for utility than Heffner, whose duty has been confined mostly to the Yankee bench. Last season, Heffner batted 249 and fielded 980 while Knickerbocker, formerly with Cleveland, batted 261 and fielded 958 in 121 games.

Today's deal was the third completed by the Browns since they wound up last in the 1937 American league race. They have traded three players away, receiving seven players and cash in return.

They swapped Southpaw Ed Hogsett to Washington for El Linker, right hander, traded Outfielder Joe Vosmik to Boston for Pitcher Buck Newson, infielder Red Kress and Outfielder Buster

Bill Knickerbocker

Mills, and sent Catcher Rolie Hensley to Cleveland in return for Infielder Roy Hughes, Catcher Billy Sullivan, Pitcher Ed Cole (rookie from the Texas League) and cash.

M. Billig Drops From Hawkeye Cinder Squad

Mid-Distance Runner Leaves Thinclad Team

Was One of Five Men Planning to Make Eastern Trip

By G. K. HODENFIELD
Daily Iowan Sports Editor
Milton Billig, middle distance runner on the University of Iowa track team, yesterday turned in his suit and announced that he was resigning from the Iowa cinder team.

The action came upon the heels of an announcement by Coach George Bresnahan that there was only an "outside" chance remaining for Iowa to be represented at the National A.A.U. meet in New York City Feb. 26.

Billig was one of the five men who were planning to make the eastern invasion. He was being counted upon by Bresnahan to anchor the medley relay team. The other members of the team are John Graves, Fred and Carl Teufel and Jimmy Lyle, co-captain of this year's track team.

The trip was being called off because of an injury to Fred Teufel, who slipped on the icy streets several weeks ago and suffered brain concussion. The Iowa team has a dual meet scheduled with the University of Chicago for Feb. 25, and Billig contended that the eastern trip was being called off so that the Hawkeyes would not be too severely weakened by the loss of the five men.

Bresnahan said last night that the trip was being cancelled because he did not feel the Iowa team would be able to turn in a creditable showing in the national meet and it would not be fair to the A.A.U. committee or the Iowa fans in New York to take a team that was not at full strength.

The track coach stated the decision not to make the trip had

St. Pat's Star Eligible Again

Down in the Irish stronghold last night enthusiasm struck a new high when it was learned that lanky Glenn Fitzpatrick, regular St. Patrick center, will be eligible to play in the second intra-city battle with the St. Mary's Ramblers on the southside court Friday night.

Fitzpatrick's absence in the last few games greatly weakened the Shamrock defensive play and offensive punch.

Revenge is in the hearts of Coach Ryan's southside aggregation as they go through their daily workouts. In the last meeting earlier in the season the St. Mary's outfit rolled over the Irish by an overwhelming score, but with the St. Pat's team in the best condition they have attained all season, they have their hearts set on a win this time.

The Shamrocks have not defeated the Marions since the 1935-36 season when they swept both games in their rush for runnerup honors in the state parochial basketball tourney.

It is probable that new faces will appear in the Irish lineup although Coach Ryan has not definitely picked his starting five.

Two in a Row

Coach Rolie Williams brought his University of Iowa basketball team back to Iowa City yesterday afternoon after a two-game road trip—and he was about as happy as he has been on such an occasion in several years. Rolie had nothing but the highest praise for members of the Hawkeye squad who turned in victories over Chicago and Michigan.

Williams gave as the real reason for the fine showing of the team the return to form of Joe Van Ysseldyk, the fine all-around play of Jack Drees, the high-scoring antics of Benny Stephens and the good defensive work of Erwin Prasse. But Rolie still "fears" Chicago.

Chicago Trackmen Swamp Loyola

CHICAGO, Feb. 15 (AP)—University of Chicago's track team won all but one even tonight in defeating Loyola university 77 to 18 in an indoor meet. The event was a warm-up for the Maroons triangular affair with Purdue and Wisconsin at Lafayette Saturday.

White Turns Down Pittsburgh's Pro Football Overture

Hod Shots

by G. K. HODENFIELD
● No Revolt
● Happy Mentor
● A Foul Game

Despite all reports to the contrary, there is no "revolt" going on in the Iowa track team and at latest reports all the men with the exception of Milton Billig and possibly Johnny Graves will compete in the Northwestern-Iowa dual meet here Friday night. Graves has been stricken with a slight touch of the flu and will probably not see action against the Wildcats.

Billig turned in his suit yesterday after hearing that the proposed trip to the National A.A.U. meet in New York had been almost definitely called off. The other members of the team are naturally disappointed but as yet have planned no drastic action.

Center Glenn Fitzpatrick Rejoins Team; To Play Friday

Down in the Irish stronghold last night enthusiasm struck a new high when it was learned that lanky Glenn Fitzpatrick, regular St. Patrick center, will be eligible to play in the second intra-city battle with the St. Mary's Ramblers on the southside court Friday night.

Fitzpatrick's absence in the last few games greatly weakened the Shamrock defensive play and offensive punch.

Revenge is in the hearts of Coach Ryan's southside aggregation as they go through their daily workouts. In the last meeting earlier in the season the St. Mary's outfit rolled over the Irish by an overwhelming score, but with the St. Pat's team in the best condition they have attained all season, they have their hearts set on a win this time.

The Shamrocks have not defeated the Marions since the 1935-36 season when they swept both games in their rush for runnerup honors in the state parochial basketball tourney.

It is probable that new faces will appear in the Irish lineup although Coach Ryan has not definitely picked his starting five.

Rough and Tough

Here's one for the books. When Montana State and Oregon State clashed in a recent basketball game, the officials had what might be called a busy night. The Montana quintet was guilty of 36 fouls and lost six men via the miscue route. Oregon State made 27 free throws, 14 of them being made by one player. When the gun sounded ending the regulation game the two teams were tied up at 43-43. In the five minute overtime Montana lost four men on fouls. The game ended with Oregon State ahead, 57-47.

Don't overlook the Sac City cagers when you make your predictions on the winner of the state high school basketball tournament. They have rolled up an average of 44.6 points per game and have limited their opponents to an average of 17.6 points. Winners of 15 straight contests, they meet Ida Grove Friday night in what should be a peach of a game. The Ida Grove team has lost only one game this year and that was to the Sac City crew, 39-19.

Beebee Announces Plans for 2nd Half of Intramural Season

Varied Sports Are Scheduled This Semester

All-University Basketball Tournament Starts Tomorrow

Plans for the second half of the University of Iowa intramural program were mapped out yesterday by Dr. Fred Beebee, intramural director.

Among the first, and one of the largest annual affairs, will be the all-university basketball tournament which will get under way tomorrow night when the Madison street Mad Caps, powerful champions of the town league, tangle with the Phi Kappa Psi pledges in the first game. The other game of the evening will find the speedy Lower B outfit, Quadrangle champs, taking the floor against the high-scoring Wilson aggregation, co-op dorm winners. Beebee said the double elimination system will be used this year. Thus a team is not out of the running until it has been defeated twice.

Additional Sports
In addition to the continuation of the basketball tourney next week, handball, free throw, volleyball, wrestling and boxing events will get under way. The interfraternity free throw contest will start Monday night. All houses will be able to enter as many men as they desire, with the total score of the 10 highest determining the score of their house. The highest 10 men will be awarded medals and the fraternity house winner a trophy.

Fraternity and co-op handball will swing into action next week between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock. Beebee said that plans for a volleyball league will be formulated this week.

Boxing and Wrestling
Several scores of intramural boxers and wrestlers are whipping into shape this week in anticipation of the all-university championships which will start Feb. 22. Boxing and wrestling shows will be staged on alternate nights, with men from fraternity, Quadrangle, town and co-op loops battling it out with contestants from their respective intramural units.

Director Beebee said that entry blanks for the boxing tourney have been mailed to fraternity, co-op and Quad athletic managers. Town league entrants should contact Beebee at once for registration.

Not Standard Weights
Coach Francis Cretzmeyer said that the boxing weights will be 118, 126, 135, 145, 155, 165, 175 and heavyweight with the pugilists weighing in just before their first bout. Unit winners and all-university champions will be awarded first and second place medals.

All squad men engaged in the sport of their season, which includes basketball, swimming, gymnastics, golf, track and wrestling participants, will not be eligible to compete in either the boxing or wrestling tournaments. Beebee said that a physical examination will be required of all entrants.

New York Giants Advance Guard Off

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—The advance guard of the New York Giants left tonight for Hot Springs, Ark., and preliminary exercise before reporting to the Giants' spring training camp at Baton Rouge, La.

In the party were Pitchers Hal Schumacher, Don Brennan and Bill Lohrman; Catchers Ted Duay and Jimmy Sheehan, and Secretary Eddie Brannick and Treasurer Leo Bondy.

Phi Psi's Down Delta Chi's By 26 to 15 Score

Seeking to place a third team in the all-university basketball championship competition, Phi Kappa Psi fraternity's class B team defeated the Delta Chi outfit, also sectional winners, by a score of 26 to 15.

Jumping into the lead from the start, the Phi Psi's swept their opponents off their feet with a barrage of well-aimed shots. John Brown led the winners by dropping in seven shots from the floor and more than half of their total points. Teammates Bud Dunn and Jack Powers were able assistants with their passing and defensive work.

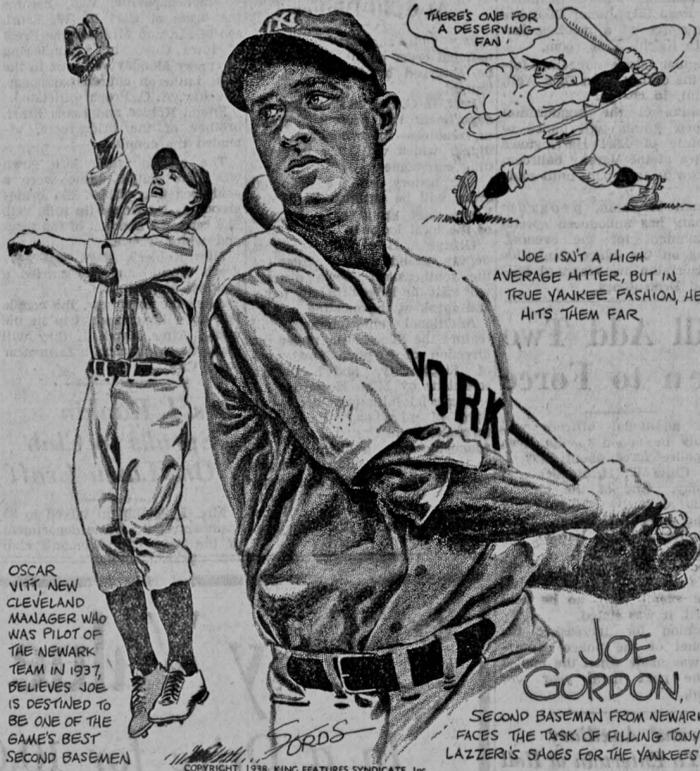

Jack McKinnon and Jim Van Heel played well for the Delta Chi's but could not pull their loosely organized quintet into a smooth functioning team.

Phi Kappa Psi will meet Delta Upsilon in the championship game of the class B league. The winner will enter the all-university championship.

The last two scheduled games in class B resulted in forfeits with Gamma Eta Gamma credited with a win and Phi Kappa Alpha, Sigma Chi and Sigma Phi Epsilon with losses.

Creighton Loses Thriller
TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The hopes of the University of Tulsa in the Missouri Valley conference basketball race took an upturn last night as the Hurricane won out over Creighton, 41 to 38, in a thrilling game. The Tulsans matched rally for rally with the Bluejay throughout.

Bluehawks Need Victory Over Mount Vernon to Capture Title

'El Goof' May Start Suit For Divorce in Reno

RENO, Nev., Feb. 15 (AP)—Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, star baseball pitcher with the New York Yankees, had completed six weeks of residence in Nevada today, but still evaded questions as to whether or not he will seek a divorce from his estranged wife, June O'Dea, New York actress-singer.

"I came here to buy a ranch and make Nevada my home," he told questioners.

Meantime, at Carson City, the baseball star's attorney, Thomas Craven, also declined to comment on any possible divorce action.

Gomez would be eligible to file suit for a Nevada divorce at any time in the immediate future, Craven admitted. He indicated, however, attorneys are still negotiating concerning a separation suit filed by Miss O'Dea in New York City.

The lanky California pitcher recently became a Yankee "hold-out" when he turned down a $15,000 salary offer for the coming baseball season.

Buddy Baer Called Fine Prospect By Former Champion

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15 (AP)—Buddy Baer, Oakland boxer, is a "fine prospect for a future heavyweight champion," Gene Tunney, former titleholder, said here today.

"Baer has been brought along slowly, at the right development tempo," Tunney said. "He packs a terrific punch in his right hand. That punch of his will carry him far. He hasn't reached the peak yet, but when he does he appears to be potentially invincible."

Buddy is a younger brother of former Champion Max Baer.

Sarron Decisions Britton

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP)—Pete Sarron of Birmingham, Ala., former world's featherweight boxing champion, won an easy 10-round decision over Bobby Britton of Miami last night. Sarron weighed 134 and Britton 136. Britton is the son of the former welterweight champion.

Tipton	1	7	191	239
West Branch	1	7	178	279

Having hurled the West Liberty menace to a Little Eight conference basketball championship, University high needs only a victory over Mount Vernon when the two teams meet this Friday to clinch the first loop cage title for U-high in recent years.

At the present time, the Bluehawks are in the best position of any team in the conference. They can win the conference title by defeating Mount Vernon — any other team in the league still eligible for the championship must depend on defeats and victories of other teams.

Carson Steadies Team
Coach Wood was especially impressed by the fine performance that Big Bob Carson turned in at West Liberty last Friday. The husky guard was inserted into the lineup near the end of the game when one of the regulars was taken out on fouls. He proved to be a steadying influence and pulled the Bluehawk defense together to help them win in the overtime.

According to statistics, U-high will be facing the strongest defensive team in the conference in Mount Vernon Friday. The Little Cornelians' opponents have averaged only 17 points a game against them.

Mount Vernon is, however, the weakest offensive quintet in the conference. They have averaged only 21 points per game. U-high has averaged 29 points per game against 20 points for its opponents.

Hirt Leads City Scoring Race

George Chadek In 2nd Place

Russell Hirt, City high's high-scoring center, continues to lead the Iowa City prep scorers as George Chadek of St. Mary's and George Covert, City high forward, fight it out for second place.

Chadek, who scored 17 points against Wilton Junction Monday night, is now in second place with 93 points. Covert follows him closely with 88 points.

Hirt also leads the prep cagers in average points per game with an average of 7.06 points per game against 7.00 points per game of Ed Burns, lanky U-high star. Hirt's average is for 15 games while Burns has played in only 11.

Jack Bock, diminutive St. Mary's forward, has the best free throw record in the city having dropped in 29 from the charity line. Hirt follows with 22 gift tosses.

Cunningham And Venzke to Meet In Baxter Mile

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP)—A select four-man field consisting of Glenn Cunningham, Archie San Romani, Gene Venzke and Blaine Rideout, will go to the post Saturday night at Madison Square Garden in the Baxter mile, "main event" of the New York A. C. track meet.

San Romani, kept on the sidelines last week by a spike wound received in the Millrose meet, informed the games committee today that he would be ready for his start in the Baxter mile. He was invited the two previous years, but studies kept him out in 1936 and bad flying conditions grounded him in Kansas a year ago.

Cunningham is unbeaten at the mile this winter. If anyone can check his all-winning pace, the experts — and San Romani — feel it must be the chunky little Kansan, now, like Glenn, a post-graduate student at New York university and, also with Cunningham, running in the colors of the Curb Exchange A. A.

Blaine Rideout, his twin brother Wayne, and Elmer and Delmer Brown, all of North Texas State Teachers, will return to New York from Denton, Tex., by plane on Friday or Saturday morning. Wayne is entered in the 880 against Olympic Champion John Woodruff, Delmer Brown in the Buermeier 500 against Jim Herbert, and Elmer Brown in the 60-yard dash against Ben Johnson.

The Yale bowl covers 25 acres.

Will Address Reserve Officers Corps At Banquet

Mayor Myron J. Walker will address members of the Reserve Officers Corps and guests on the international relations of the United States at a banquet in observance of National Defense week at 6 p. m. tomorrow in the Jefferson hotel.

Col. George F. N. Dailey, head of the military department, will also speak. Mayor Walker will consider the international problems of this country from the point of view of a naval commander, while Colonel Dailey will present the army phases of such relations.

Col. Frank L. Love will act as toastmaster at the dinner. The committee in charge of arrangements is Lieut. W. Fred Roberson and Capt. Edward C. Patton of the Reserve Officers association.

Hold Cooling Units Exhibit Here Feb. 23

The first refrigerator exposition in Iowa City will be Feb. 23, 24 and 25, it was announced yesterday.

Sponsored by the Radio and Refrigeration league of Iowa City, the exposition, featuring the new 1938 models of electric refrigerators, will be at the Iowa City Light and Power company office.

Former plans for the holding of the exposition at the new national guard armory were changed for the public's convenience, J. M. McNamara, president of the league, announced. A national feature of an electrical nature will be a special attraction at the exposition, he said.

Iowa City's Radio and Refrigeration league sponsored the "House of Magic" from the Century of Progress at the field-house, and the "Painting With Light" demonstration at Iowa Union.

Hohl Goes To Traffic School

Highway Patrolman Richard Hohl, who will be one of the instructors at the Iowa City traffic school, is attending the Detroit traffic school.

He began the two-weeks course Monday. Several years ago he took a similar course at the school.

Patrolman Hohl started the first traffic school in Iowa at Waterloo three years ago. He is stationed at West Liberty.

Mrs. Chase Woodhouse Will Arrive Tomorrow to Direct Vocation Guidance Conference

To Discuss Opportunity For Women Next Two Days

Mrs. Chase Woodhouse will arrive here tomorrow to preside as guest lecturer and adviser at the University Women's association vocational guidance conference on "Women's Work and Opportunities" tomorrow and Friday.

Mrs. Woodhouse, who will open the conference with a lecture tomorrow night and who will be present at the round-table discussions Friday, is a professor of economics at the Connecticut College for Women and is managing director of the Institute of Women's Professional Relations. In the latter position she also serves as editor of the institute's clip sheet and news letter, Women's Work and Education.

Mrs. Woodhouse is also a member of the medical board of the Southern Women's Educational alliance and a member of the board for the national occupational conference of the Carnegie foundation.

Formerly she was professor of economics at Smith college, senior home economist of the national bureau of home economics and personnel director of the women's college of the University of North Carolina.

Mrs. Woodhouse' affiliations include Altrusa club, of which she was at one time national president, League of Women Voters, American Association of University Women, Business and Professional Women, American Sociological society and American College Personnel association.

Known as an author, Mrs. Woodhouse has written "After College—What?" "Dentistry—Its Professional Opportunities" and "Married College Women in Business and Professions." She also collaborated with Ruth Frances Yeoman on "Occupations for College Women." Some of these books along with other vocational guidance literature are on display in the dean of women's office.

After the conference here, Mrs. Woodhouse will go to the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia to preside. Mrs. Woodhouse has also been among the lecturers at vocational guidance conferences at Iowa State Teachers college, the University of Ohio and Purdue university as well as at city conferences.

The Story of Twenty-Eight Children

Iowa City's Juvenile Home Shows Need of Community's Attention

Orange crates masquerade for bookcases, chairs and tables. The toys are discarded leftovers that luckier children have thrown away. The room is large and half-filled, pipes going up its pictureless walls. In this home live 28 orphaned or neglected children in whom the rest of the world has apparently lost interest. Pictured above is a scene in the girls' play room at the juvenile home, 518 N. Gilbert street. With the accompanying article, The Daily Iowan begins a series of descriptive stories on the home.

By BETTY HARPEL

The number of children at the juvenile home was swelled yesterday by the addition of four new members. The home, located at 518 N. Gilbert street, is open to children who are neglected or orphaned. The four new residents, youngsters from a farm home, were definitely in the neglected class. They had been so poorly cared for before they arrived that Mrs. E. C. Orr, who with her husband is in charge of the home, found it impossible to wash their clothes, but burned them.

The new home into which the children have gone is anything but prepossessing. The house was formerly a private home, but it looks more like a disintegrating schoolhouse now. The red bricks are smoke-stained, the once white trim is dingy and gray. The lawn is poorly kept and most of it is gravel.

Entering the front door, one notices first the absence of panes of glass, permitting a lusty gale to enter. The rooms are high and bleak, the walls without redeeming pictures, the gray plaster dirty, cracked and fallen in spots.

There is only one room in the house in which any attempt has been made to introduce a pleasant atmosphere. That is the room kept for visitors. The children are not allowed there except on special occasions.

The boys' play room is a dark blue room with a minimum of furniture. If you didn't understand you would think it had been cleared for dancing. The girls' play room, shown in the picture, is in better order. It contains mostly articles of toy furniture made from orange crates.

The children do all the work for this large house aside from that taken care of by Mr. and Mrs. Orr and a cook. Disobedience on the part of the children is punished by extra work.

The plan of doing extra work for disobedience seems to work out well. One Saturday afternoon when the Y. W. C. A. committee had planned to take the children to a movie, the boys had got into the mud and the ruling was that they would stay home and clean up the house.

"Children are allowed to remain at the home until they are 18, if they want to study; otherwise, if they get jobs, they take care of themselves," said Mr. Orr, flicking his match to the floor after lighting his cigaret.

"No child has been adopted from here in the last year," he continued. An older child is rarely if ever adopted. Some of the babies who are left with the hospital and brought to the home are taken.

The children attend Iowa City public schools and the high school. Their clothes problems will be treated in a later story.

Twenty-eight children, tucked away in a dingy home with the minimum of furniture and conveniences, no family to take an interest in them, only two women, busy with the management of a large house, to mother them—surely these are worthy of the community's interest and attention.

The home itself, is deserving of a good bit of concentrated thought on the part of civic-minded persons. The estate from which the home is rented has not done adequate repair work to the dirty walls and the broken window panes. "The county can't be expected to do the whole job of repair to a rented house," Mr. Orr said sadly.

Johnson county has often considered buying its own home, but such a plan is forestalled by the ruling that counties of less than 40,000 population shall not own their own juvenile homes, if they are to be bought with taxpayers' money.

The taxpayers may not buy a new house. But there is nothing to prevent Iowa City from substituting furniture for orange crates, fresh, bright walls for cracking paint and falling plaster, and a home instead of a house for 28 children.

Mrs. Clark Woodburn Has Unusual P.T.A. Club Record

Mrs. Clark Woodburn is pictured at her home at 915 E. Washington street in The Daily Iowan's picture series of local club presidents. Mrs. Woodburn has been for two years president of the Iowa City Council of Parents and Teachers. Her record of service in P.T.A.

—Daily Iowan Photo, Engraving also includes two years as president of the Shimek school association and two as vice-president of the council. Jane, one of Mrs. Woodburn's two children, is pictured with her mother.

President of the Shimek school Parent-Teacher association for two years, vice-president of the Iowa City P.T.A. council for two years and president of the council for two years is the record held by Mrs. Clark Woodburn, 915 E. Washington street, who is now president of the council.

Although Longfellow and Henry Sabin schools established P.T.A. organizations some 25 years ago, the council was not organized until four associations had been founded. Today, the council has a membership representative of all local Parent-Teacher associations.

The purpose of the association is to promote child welfare in the home, school and church, while the purpose of the council is to serve as a clearing house for the local groups. The council has been instrumental in securing a school nurse for Iowa City schools. It also cooperates with the peace forum and local welfare agencies. One of its major projects is the supplying of milk, toothbrushes and handkerchiefs to needy school children.

Mrs. Woodburn is the mother of two children, Robert, 10, and Jane, 6. She enjoys working and playing with them, finding much pleasure in their interests.

Gardening is Mrs. Woodburn's hobby, and the whole family joins her in the cultivation of a large flower and vegetable garden.

Mrs. Woodburn specializes in the growing of gladiolus and dahlias.

City Club Women to Entertain County Federated Clubs Feb. 26

Women to Meet for I. P. M. Luncheon at Youde's Inn; Mrs. William Larrabee Jr. To Be Principal Speaker

Iowa City clubwomen will be hostesses at a meeting of the Johnson county federated clubs here Feb. 26, Mrs. O. E. Van Doran, county chairman of the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs, has announced. Mrs. William Larrabee Jr., past state president, will be principal speaker at the meeting.

The women will meet at a luncheon at 1 p. m. at Youde's inn. Annual reports will be given by the club. Among officers of the federation who will be present are Mrs. R. L. Evans of North English, district director; Mrs. Emil Hesselshwerdt of Kalona, state treasurer; Mrs. J. R. Knerr of Kalona, Washington county chairman, and Mrs. V. L. Pemberton of West Branch, Cedar county chairman.

Week's Parties Honor Guests, Anniversaries

While the youngsters entertain at Valentine parties, their elders prefer the time-honored excuses for parties—anniversaries and houseguests—this week.

Mrs. R. A. Kuever, 4 Melrose circle, entertained at a luncheon Monday at her home honoring the birthday of her mother, Mrs. Charles Baker, 628 N. Linn street.

The guests were seated at a table decorated with iris in a centerpiece.

Mrs. John Kimball of West Liberty was an out-of-town guest at the luncheon.

Mrs. Vance M. Morton, 445 Garden street, was hostess at a luncheon yesterday in honor of Mrs. Dorothy Brugere of Rockwell City. Guests at the luncheon were intimate friends of the honoree.

Mrs. Brugere is the houseguest of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Scheldrup, 16 Olive court.

On their silver wedding anniversary Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kessler, 117 1-2 S. Dubuque street, entertained at a card party.

Guests at the party presented a silver gift to the host and hostesses.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cochenour, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bothell, Mr. and Mrs. James Pelechek and their sons, Donald and Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Potter and their daughter, Jacquelyn, and Mrs. Rose Boss.

Prof. and Mrs. Moses Jung, 1 Oak ridge, entertained a group of 18 students at a buffet supper Sunday at 6 p. m.

Prof. and Mrs. Louis Pelzer, 27 Ferson avenue, spent yesterday in Des Moines.

Mrs. Mozelle Russell of Winfield, district instructor and associate grand conductress of the Order of the Eastern Star, is spending the day at the local chapter for the annual school of instruction. Mrs. Russell will be a guest tonight of Mrs. Charles A. Beckman, 406 Reno street.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mushrush, 910 S. Summit street, returned from Duluth, Minn., yesterday. They attended the funeral of Mrs. Mushrush's father, Frank McMillan.

Prof. and Mrs. Alexander Ellett, 1514 Muscatine avenue, spent last week end in Madison, Wis., at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Gregory Breit. Professor Breit is a member of the physics department at the University of Wisconsin. Professor Ellett lectured at the university.

Mrs. Frank Patterson left Sunday for her home in Peabridge, Ark., after a short visit with Mrs. Neva Davis, 1903 E. Court street.

Mrs. Paullina Schmidt and her daughter, Laura, of DeWitt were guests at the home of Rose and Nell Schmidt, 313 N. Linn street, over the week end.

Genevieve Watson of Reinbeck is a guest of Esther Schue, 511 E. Washington street, this week.

Frank Lane and Mrs. Jerry Bennis of Delmar and Linn Kinrade of Clinton visited Mrs. Linn Kinrade, who is a patient in University hospital, last week end.

Prof. Lee E. Travis, head of the psychology department, will address approximately 2,000 teachers of Kansas City, Mo., Saturday morning. His subject will be "The Teacher's Role in Speech Training."

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Strub of Maywood, Ill., are visiting relatives in Iowa City.

Iona Halsch To Wed K. Mann

Ceremony Will Take Place at Church Rectory Today

Iona Halsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Halsch, 525 S. Johnson street, will become the bride of Kenneth Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Mann of Oxford, at 9:30 today in a single ring ceremony in St. Mary's rectory. The Rev. Herman Strub will officiate at the ceremony.

The bride's gown will be an aqua-marine silk celanese afternoon frock worn with black accessories. She will wear a corsage of Joanna Hill roses. Marion Halsch, her sister, will attend her. She will wear a roseberry silk celanese afternoon gown with black accessories and Joanna Hill roses.

Charles Mann, brother of the bridegroom, will be best man. After the wedding, the guests will be entertained by the bride's parents at a wedding breakfast. The decorations on the table will be in white and aqua marine, with a large bridal cake in the center.

Miss Halsch was graduated from St. Mary's school and for the last two years has been employed at University hospital. Mr. Mann was graduated from Cosgrove high school and has been engaged in farming since.

After the wedding, the couple will go on a short trip and after March 1, will be at their home on Mr. Mann's farm near Oxford.

Speaking Choir To Give Poem

The Iowa City Woman's club 15-voice, verse-speaking choir, the first of its kind to be organized in Iowa, is practicing every Wednesday at 9 a. m. in the public library on a production of "Hiawatha," by Longfellow.

The choir will present the production at the state community theater festival at the university theater March 18 and 19.

The unique feature of the choir is that the members speak verses in unison. Mrs. M. M. Crayne is director of the group.

Mrs. Ansel C. Martin, 422 Grant street, will enter a one-act play of her own composition, entitled "The Inner Light," in the state play contest.

The cast includes Mrs. Harry Seger as Phoebe Adams, a religious old Quaker woman who has scruples against the "play-acting" aspirations of her granddaughter, Nancy, whose part Mrs. Martin will take. Mrs. Eugene Hubbard is cast as Drusilla, Phoebe's devoted spinster daughter.

Incidents in the play, the scene of which is laid in an old-fashioned country home, finally convince Phoebe that Nancy should be allowed to continue her career.

Ten-Day Sale Begins Today

Seek Increase In Retail Sales

Iowa City Merchants Cooperate to Win Customers

At 8:30 this morning Iowa City merchants will open their doors for an intensive 10-day sale in an effort to increase the retail sales area of the city. This cooperative movement is sponsored by the retail merchants division of the chamber of commerce.

Nearly all the retail merchants are cooperating to bring "10,000 new customers into Iowa City stores." The sale is a departure from the usual technique in that it comes at the beginning of the season rather than at the end.

A. A. Aune, co-chairman of the committee of the retail trade division of the chamber of commerce, has emphasized that the sale is not for the purpose of getting rid of "odds and ends" but to offer the public an opportunity to buy the latest merchandise at greatly reduced prices.

L. D. Wareham, head of the retail merchants division, has termed the event, "The most important cooperative movement carried on for the purpose of making Iowa City a better and greater shopping center."

"Local merchants have all cooperated to make the 10-day sale a real value-giving affair," said Jay McNamara. He added that special merchandise and prices will make the event a "carnival of values."

Harry Bremer, head of Bremer's Clothing store, believes the campaign will materially increase the local trading area. The city-wide sale will close Feb. 26.

Jersey Group Elects I. Gates New President

Ivan Gates, West Liberty, was elected president of the Fourth District Jersey Cattle Breeders association at an all-day meeting in Youdes Inn yesterday. Edwin Hauer, Davenport, was elected vice-president; Allen Spencer, Downey, secretary-treasurer; Leonard B. Smith, Iowa county, D. Garret, Keokuk county, L. A. Whitacre, Muscatine county and W. D. Scott and Son, Clinton county, directors.

William J. Keegan, Boonville, Mo., field man for the Jersey Breeders association, spoke to the group on "The 1938 Outlook for Jersey Cattle Breeders" and presented motion pictures on Iowa and other parish dairy shows. Floyd Johnson, extension dairyman of Iowa State college, spoke to the group on the merits of testing.

Plans were made to hold the Fourth District Jersey Parish show at West Liberty the last week in May.

Bender Warns Bicycle Riders

Bicycle riders were cautioned by W. H. Bender, chief of police, yesterday that a city ordinance prohibits carrying passengers on bicycle handle-bars, and hanging on to moving vehicles. Lights are required on the front and rear of bicycles when ridden in the dark.

Chief Bender gave 10 rules of safety that should be observed: "Obey traffic regulations, including stop and go signs; ride in a straight path with no weaving over the road, carry a white light on the front and a red light on the rear for night driving; have a good horn or other signaling device.

"Give pedestrians the right of way; watch for cars at intersections and backing out of parking places; keep your bicycle in good repair; do not ride double on a bicycle, and always ride carefully.

Mercury Stays Below Normal Here Tuesday

Subnormal temperature continued in Iowa City yesterday as the mercury ranged between 28 and 17 degrees, according to the hydraulics laboratory weathermen.

With a normal high temperature of 31 and a normal low temperature of 12 degrees, there was only a small deviation, they said.

2 Couples Receive Marriage Licenses

Two couples received marriage licenses yesterday from County Clerk R. Neilson Miller. They were Lyle Buzzell, Rio, Wis., and Dorothy Roe, Maxwell, and Leo J. Fisher, Iowa City, and Irene Dohnalek, Oxford.

AROUND THE TOWN

With TOM JOHNSON

New Location
The Reserve Officers corps has selected the Jefferson hotel for the National Defense week banquet at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Mayor Myron J. Walker, retired naval officer, and Col. George Dailey will discuss the effects of the foreign situation upon America.

Peace Council
Prof. George R. Davies' lecture, "Economic Causes and Effects of War," was the last of four at the public forum in the city council chambers last night.

His lecture was a proper subject for discussion. Most of us find it not difficult to realize the old slogan, "trade follows the flag," lacks the truth of a newer one, "the flag follows trade."

An Iowa Citizen yesterday explained his theory of sensory perception. "All material substance falls into one of two categories, acute and obtuse," said he.

"Words and personalities, for example, are either acute or obtuse—except in cases of ambivalence. Then they are entitled obtuse."

June Primary
My opinion of candidates for Johnson county nominations will drop about 100 per cent if they bring national issues into the campaign.

We'd rather have our analyses of the foreign situation from F. D. R. and Cordell Hull, certainly not from a candidate seeking his party's nomination for Waubesa township assessor.

Active Legionnaires
And, Iowa Citizens should congratulate Commander George Zeithamel and Adjutant George Sheets for leading Roy L. Chopek post 17's successful membership drive.

Iowa City's American Legion post now has 324 members, an all-time high, and will retain the Robert W. Colflesh membership trophy. Here's hoping the post also wins the Barton award.

Sherman Was Right
Every year, shortly before probation starts, the Pi K. A's have one day known as "pledge day," in which the neophytes are given the upper hand as a calm before the storm—and the storm hits hardest on those who take the most advantage of it.

As pledge Bob Tompkins quipped yesterday while getting his shoes shined, "One moment of ecstasy—followed by a lifetime of regret."

Judge Upholds Demurrers In Sweeting Case

School Board Left As Only Defendant In Damage Suit

Two demurrers in the $4,325 damage suit brought by Noble J. Sweeting against the city school board for the death of his daughter, Myrna Lois Sweeting, were sustained yesterday by Judge James P. Gaffney.

In his rulings, Judge Gaffney removed Wallace B. Packman, William H. Wagner and the members of the school board as defendants in the action. This order left only the school board as a corporation, as the defendant.

Myrna Lois Sweeting fell through an open manhole on the Horace Mann playground Nov. 16, 1936. Her skull was fractured in the fall. She died in the Mercy hospital Dec. 8, 1936. Sweeting alleged in his petition that the defendants were negligent because they allowed the manhole to be uncovered without guard.

At the time of the accident, the Packman-Wagner Lumber company was delivering materials to the school and an employee of the company is alleged to have left the manhole open.

County Officers To Have Party

Approximately 60 Johnson county officers and employees will have a roller skating party on the Iowa City rink, 317 E. Bloomington street, at 10:30 tonight. Deputy Sheriff Preston Koser is in charge of the party.

Will Assist Taxpayers
Iowa City taxpayers will be assisted in filing their current income tax returns by a Cedar Rapids deputy collector at the post office today. He will remain here for three days.

Mayor to Talk Over Radio On Traffic School

Weekly Safety Talks Are Sponsored by Legion Group

Mayor Myron J. Walker will discuss various phases of the newly-organized Iowa City Traffic school when he appears as the third speaker on the American Legion highway safety broadcast over WSUI at 7:15 p.m. Friday.

The series of weekly broadcasts is sponsored by the Forty and Eight, honor society of the American Legion.

Dr. T. J. McCabe of Mt. Pleasant, highway safety chairman of the first congressional district of the American Legion in Iowa, opened the series Feb. 4 with a general discussion of the problem of safety on public roads.

H. I. Jennings, local highway safety chairman for the American Legion and the Forty and Eight society, continued the series Feb. 11.

Ellis D. Crawford is chairman of the radio committee.

School Board Will Let Two Pipe Contracts

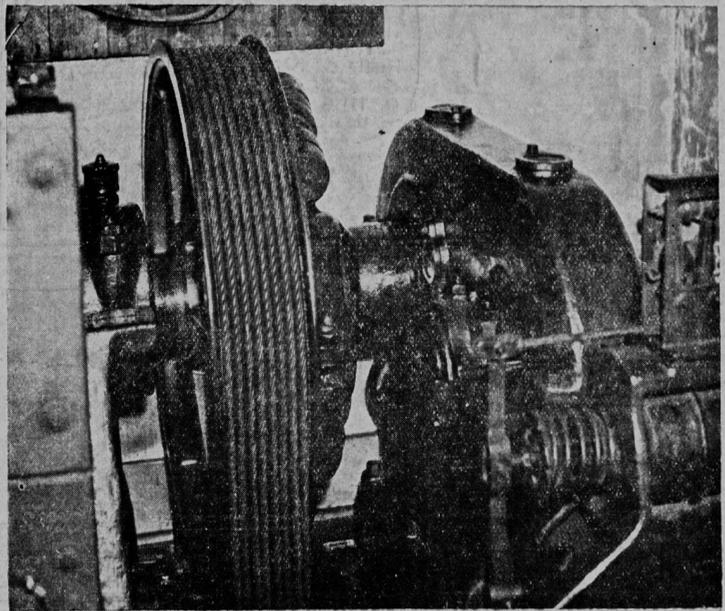

The city school board will award two contracts for improving the Morningside site at a meeting at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the high school administration building.

The work, estimated at $8,000, will be to lay 180 feet of 18-inch corrugated drainage pipe, and to grade the site to an elevation of 175.

Mathematical calculations show that 949,200 passengers travel 5,085 miles annually in the elevator installed three years ago.

Fifteen Miles Straight Up and Down

That's Daily Journey of Elevator in Iowa State Bank, Trust Building

Pictured above is the generator-driven cable which raises and lowers the elevator in the Iowa City Bank and Trust company building a distance of 15 miles each day. One slim cable supports the weight of the cab and its passengers. Yet there is slight chance of its breaking, as four small cables—each capable of supporting the full load—are intertwined in the cable. Each Tuesday morning the machinery is inspected as a precaution, but since the elevator was installed three years ago it has never been necessary to apply the emergency brake to forestall disaster. More than 900,000 passengers demonstrate their faith in the cable as they travel 5,000 miles up and down the elevator shaft each year.

By LUTHER BOWERS

Up and down! Up and down! It's the same old story day-in-and-day-out for the elevator serving offices in the Iowa State Bank and Trust company building at Washington and Clinton streets.

Each week day the elevator carries more than 2,000 people 15 miles during the 14 hour run from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. On Sundays, service stops at noon.

Early in the morning, before and after lunch, and late in the afternoon are the busiest times for the operator. "Then," as one operator said, "they really keep the bells ringing."

The stairs in the six-story building don't suffer much wear and tear, for as the operator pointed out, "Even people going to the second floor ride up!"

Once a week the elevator is inspected, and occasional repairs mean a walk for the usual riders. "They kick like everything then," an operator said. Beatrice Schmitt, regular operator, works from 7 a.m. until 5 p.m., and Elton Wilson, P4 of Arispe, runs the elevator until 9 p.m. Anyone in the building after that hour has to walk. In spite of the monotonous work, Miss Schmitt said, "I would miss the daily trips, for the people are usually so pleasant." She admitted that occasionally someone who seems to have risen from the wrong side of bed is disagreeable and impatient. Conversation is usually limited to "the weather," because lengthy topics couldn't be discussed in the few seconds a passenger is in the elevator. The elevator is run by a generator and can travel from a dead start at the sixth floor to the basement in 16 seconds. Modern in every detail, the safety factor has not been overlooked. The cab is suspended by four intertwined cables, each capable of supporting the elevator when filled to the capacity of 2,500 pounds. In addition to the cables, the operator has but to apply the emergency brake which stops the elevator instantly by cutting off the generator. No, even the most timid soul may be assured that he won't be plummeted to the basement should anything go wrong! So, day after day the huge cable winds and unwinds as the elevator goes from one floor to the next. And each night the elevator is right back where it started 14 hours before.
