

Death Awaits 21 Soviet 'Traitors'

Russian Press Says Execution Of 'Spies' Sure

Promise Military Trial Will Give Detailed Crime Exposure

MOSCOW, Feb. 28 (AP)—The official soviet press said today that the firing squad awaited the 21 men who will go before a military tribunal Wednesday in what promises to be one of the most sensational of Russia's trials of fallen leaders.

The newspapers Pravda, Izvestia and Red Star, organs of the communist party, the government and army respectively, all denounced the prisoners as "beasts" and "spies" and said nothing could save them.

Izvestia indicated that past trials such as that of the famous journalist, Karl Radek, had disclosed only a part of the conspirators and crimes, but that a detailed expose would be made in the forthcoming trial.

The press was particularly bitter against Nikolai Bukharin, former editor of Izvestia and Pravda, whose name was linked with that of Leon Trotsky as a leader of the alleged conspiracy.

Included among those involved with Bukharin were Alexis I. Rykoff, former president of the council of commissars—or prime minister—who succeeded Nikolai Lenin, and five former commissars or cabinet members.

Bukharin had been the official chronicler of the red revolution.

"Trotsky and Bukharin gathered forces for decades to overthrow the soviet power," Izvestia said, adding that "nothing and nobody will save" the prisoners.

Red Star charged that Bukharin and the other alleged traitors stole secret army plans which they sold to fascist powers.

Pravda said the accused would "pay dearly" for the lives of Maxim Gorky, the famous writer, Vyacheslav Menzhinsky, once head of the secret police, and Valerian V. Kulbisheff, chief of the first five year plan.

The deaths of these three, previously laid to natural causes, were in part the basis of murder-treason charges on which the accused will be tried.

Surgeon Transfers Disc From Eye Of Dead Man To Living

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28 (AP)—Transfer of part of an eye of a dead man in what was described by the surgeon as the first operation of its kind in America has given partial restoration of sight to Father Antonio Santandreu.

The surgeon, who for professional reasons said he preferred to remain anonymous, expressed belief the priest's sight soon would be improved.

For the operation, the entire right eye of the dead man was removed a few hours after death. It was refrigerated and later the surgeon removed a disc one-sixth of an inch in diameter from the organ. Then a disc of the same size was taken from the priest's eye. The next and final step of the operation was the fitting of the new disc into the patient's eye.

Pershing Talks With Only Son

General's Improvement Called 'Promising' By Physicians

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 28 (AP)—Gen. John J. Pershing improved enough tonight to call his son, Warren, to his bedside for a long talk.

It was the first time Warren had visited with his father since shortly after arrival from Palm Beach, Fla., Thursday morning.

Young Pershing was called here by the serious illness of the general. A few hours after the son reached the bedside the general dropped into a coma, which continued intermittently until within the last 24 hours.

The nature of their conversation was not disclosed. During the day the 77-year-old warrior, with a ruggedness born of life-long battle, cast off some of the ravages of uremic poisoning today and gave evidence of such improvement that his physicians declared themselves "distinctly encouraged."

"General Pershing has improved considerably. . . The outlook is quite promising," Dr. Roland Davison announced in a bulletin that brought smiles of joy to the tired faces of the aged World war commander's family.

Higher-Ups in Spy Ring Sought By Agents of Federal Bureau

Secrecy Veils Inquiry Into Sale of U. S. Military Data

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Extra guards were posted today at important military and naval positions in the metropolitan area as agents of the federal bureau of investigation secretly sought higher-ups in the spy ring accused of selling American military information to an unnamed European power.

The number of persons sought in addition to the three already under arrest was a matter of speculation. Some reports said three, some said six or more. Federal agents themselves were silent and Reed Vetterli, agent in charge of the bureau here, said he would have no statement to make today.

This secrecy was noticeable even in the office of Assistant U. S. Attorney Lester D. Dunigan, in charge of the false passport inquiry being conducted by the federal grand jury.

Dunigan refused to disclose identity of three witnesses called by the grand jury, although he insisted the inquiry had no connection with the spy investigation.

The grand jury investigation, in progress for several weeks, was the result of disclosures Adolph Rubens, known as Donald L. Robinson, and his wife, were being held in Russia on charges of entering by means of false passports.

Three-Point Republican Leaders Adopt Program

CHICAGO, Feb. 28 (AP)—A three-point general program including an "honest objective audit" of the new deal was adopted tonight by the newly created program committee of the republican party.

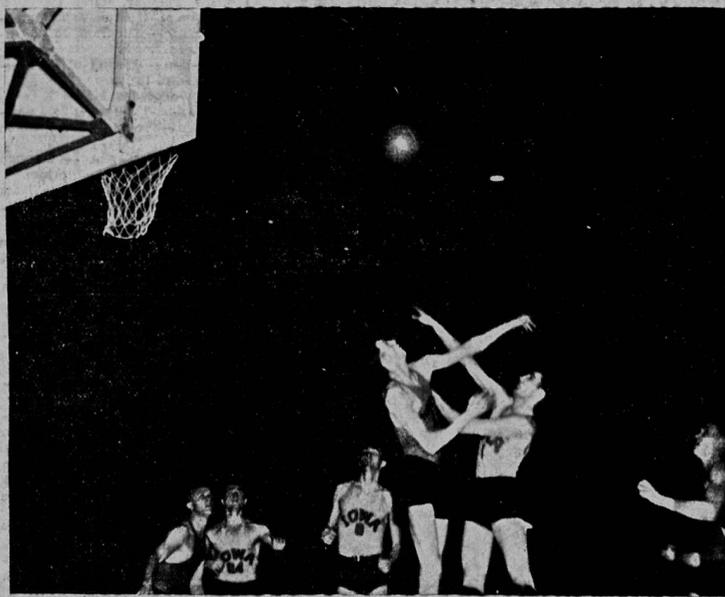

This action was announced by Dr. Glenn Frank, the committee's chairman, at a press conference following an executive session of the first meeting of the committee since its creation at St. Louis a few months ago.

Other points in the program, recommended to the committee by Dr. Frank, former president of the University of Wisconsin were:

A comprehensive report of policy on agriculture, labor, business, taxation, unemployment and other questions.

A reinterpretation of the "political and economic philosophy with which the republican party faces the new circumstances of this new age."

Benny Stephens Tries a Hard One

Debate Begins On Bill Asking Reorganization

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Critics began peppering the government reorganization bill today even before Senator Byrnes (D.-S.C.) could finish his speech inaugurating debate on the administration measure.

After Byrnes had pleaded with the senate to give President Roosevelt power to revamp the executive branch in the interests of efficiency, Senator Bailey (D.-N.C.) asked whether the measure was designed to save money.

Byrnes replied in the affirmative, but Bailey declared there was "no promise, no assurance," that economies would be effected. Critical queries also came from Senator Byrd (D.-Va.), who has emphasized the need of economy, and from Senator Walsh (D.-Mass.).

Byrnes said that by giving reorganization authority to the president congress would prevent "lobbying" by federal officials seeking to thwart revamping of their own agencies.

Besides granting this authority, the bill would substitute a single commissioner for the present three-member civil service commission, would abolish the general accounting office and substitute a new auditor general, would create a department of administrative assistants.

Germans in U.S. Ordered to Stop Nazi Affiliations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Germany has ordered its citizens in America to refrain from joining the American Nazi organizations, the German embassy said today.

German Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff called on Secretary of State Hull and told him the German government had issued the following statement:

"On account of numerous inquiries being received from German citizens living in the United States, the German government reiterates that German citizens must not belong to the Amerika-Deutsche Volksbund or to possible substitute organizations of that kind. German citizens who in ignorance of this standing order have become members of the Amerika-Deutsche Volksbund or the so-called prospective citizens league must resign from these organizations at once."

Gopher Surge Brings Victory Late in Game

By G. K. HODENFIELD
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

In a thrill-packed, nerve-tugging basketball spectacle, played before a near-capacity crowd of 12,000 fans, the University of Iowa basketball team ended its 1937-'38 season in the fieldhouse last night, falling before the slow, deliberate Minnesota Gophers, 30-29.

The game changed from a slow-breaking contest in the first half to a fast-breaking scoring spree in the second stanza. When Blazing Benny Stephens, who earned high point honors with 15 points during his stay in the tilt, left the game on personals with eight minutes to go, the Iowa attack bogged down and the Gophers pulled into the lead to stay.

Diminutive Paul Maki was the Gopher hero as he tossed in two quick baskets to bring the northerners into the lead in the last minutes of the game. Iowa was leading, 27-25, with only three minutes to go when Maki sneaked behind the Hawkeye defense to cash in on a short shot. Just seconds later he sent the Minnesota crew ahead with a long shot from the side. John Kundla, Gopher forward, supplied the margin of victory on a free throw after Suesnes fouled him.

Austria, Nazis Prepared To Take Quick Action

Britain, France Try Secretly To Help Austria

Negotiations Aimed To Enlist Italian Help

By The Associated Press
LONDON, Feb. 28 — Britain and France are pursuing secret diplomatic negotiations aimed at the possibility of enlisting Italian aid to safeguard Austrian independence.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, faced with truculent opposition in commons, however, was reported to be still undecided how far he could go along with the French demands for action to halt Nazi inroads in Austria.

Bring Germany in Line
As one step toward aiding Austria, the prime minister was believed anxious to bring Germany into line through a four-power pact with France, Italy and Britain that would limit her central European ambitions.

Today Chamberlain told commons Britain could take no official action under present conditions as no treaties were broken by the Berchtesgaden conference between Fuehrer Adolf Hitler and Austrian Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg.

It was as a result of that conference that Nazi ambitions to control Austria were intensified and today 80,000 Austrian Nazis were reported awaiting a call to action despite heavy troop reinforcements rushed by Schuschnigg to their Graz stronghold.

British concessions to Italy in the forthcoming friendship negotiations at Rome might, however, drive a wedge into the Rome-Berlin axis. Austria reported today Premier Mussolini had given Schuschnigg his guarantee Austria would remain independent.

One such British concession would likely be recognition of Italy's Ethiopian conquest, long a sore point in relations between the two countries. Four more nations agreed today to recognize the conquest and Belgium indicated she was ready to take the same step.

The Balkan entente's action ranged Greece, Yugoslavia, Rumania and Turkey alongside Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Hungary, Albania, Insurgent Spain, Japan Manchoukuo and Yemen.

House of Commons Approves Halifax

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's choice of tall, angular Viscount Halifax as foreign secretary succeeding Anthony Eden, tonight received a hearty vote of confidence in the house of commons.

Opposition attacks against the peer who is destined to play a leading role in Chamberlain's planned European peace negotiations were smothered under a vote of 226 to 99 in favor of the government.

Albanian Princesses Aren't Looking For American Husbands

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Three sisters of King Zog of Albania, the Princesses Myzejen, Ruhie and Maxhide, reached New York today, a little agog over their arrival, but serenely indifferent alike to New York night clubs and prospective American husbands.

They aren't interested in getting American husbands or in seeing the frivolous side of this or any other American town, the princesses said through an interpreter.

But they are interested in seeing how Yellowstone National park lines up with Albania generally in the matter of scenery. Albania, the princesses indicated, is a country one ought to see if one likes scenery like mountains and trees and peasants and wild goats.

Aircraft Falls Short -- Martin

Plane Pioneer Advises Build-up in Aerial Defense Lines

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Congress received a warning today from Glenn L. Martin, pioneer airplane manufacturer, that the United States was not keeping up with the development of aircraft as well as the national defense required.

Testifying at hearings on the administration's proposal for a $1,050,000,000 expansion of the fleet and a $106,000,000 increase in naval planes, he declared:

"We must have supremacy in the air to maintain a line of battle ships. You must have supremacy both in size and number to be safe."

A Possible Target
Asked what would happen if the fleet were in the Pacific and a "possible target" approached off the southeast coast, Martin replied:

"The airplane might be the only weapon that would turn the trick."

He endorsed a suggestion of Chairman Vinson (D.-Ga.), of the house naval committee, that congress add from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 to the naval expansion program for experimental aircraft work, not only concerning planes but also such munitions ordnance as the "aerial mines" which Lester P. Barlow, inventor, says he has developed.

Barlow contends these mines will revolutionize battle tactics. Plans For 250,000-Pound Plane
Martin told the committee his company was studying plans for a 250,000-pound airplane which could carry two 2,000-pound bombs 11,000 miles at a speed of 380 miles and at an altitude of 25,000 feet.

He said he believed the company could deliver such a craft in about three and one-half years. Its initial cost would be between $6,500,000 and $7,000,000, he added, although such planes would cost between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 if manufactured in "reasonable quantities."

Vinson Adjourns Hearings
Chairman Vinson adjourned the naval committee's hearings on the armament program shortly after Martin testified.

Barlow, the inventor, threatened to reveal the secrets of his "aerial mine" in the presence of foreign military representatives here if the committee did not delve deeper into defense needs.

Armed Truce Balks March Of the Germans

Graz Garrison in State Of Preparedness—Scene Tense

GRAZ, Feb. 28 (AP)—Both the Austrian army and mutinous nazis were ready for instant action tonight in the tense atmosphere of the armed truce that balked yesterday's Nazi march on Vienna.

Police patrolled the streets in the metropolis of the province of Styria, 90 miles southwest of Vienna, to prevent the assemblage of more than three people. Armed soldiers cruised on motorcycles.

Graz garrison, reinforced by federal troops from Vienna, was in a continuous state of preparedness for action.

Headquarters Active
Nazi headquarters was the scene of intense activity with messengers constantly coming and going with orders to and reports from field workers.

In the three provinces of Styria, Carinthia and Upper Austria which form a belt across the center of the country 80,000 nazis were reported to be in uniform at their homes awaiting the call to action.

No overt disorderly acts by nazis were reported outside Linz, provincial capital of Upper Austria which lies along the German state of Bavaria.

Windows Smashed
At Linz the windows of three large Jewish stores were smashed. A boycott against Jews was started and nazis were stationed before each Jewish shop to take down the names of customers.

Nazis all through the provinces, especially at Graz, however, were in hair-trigger temper. They resent hotly that troops were sent to Graz yesterday to halt the march on Vienna. Throughout Sunday planes circled low over the city, machine guns and batteries of light field artillery were placed in strategic positions outside the city.

Nazi radioels declared mutinously they might or might not follow any demands made on them by the minister of the interior, Arthur Seyss-Inquart when he arrives in Graz, perhaps tomorrow.

Appointments Misleading
The appointment of Seyss-Inquart, Nazi friend of Fuehrer Adolf Hitler of Germany, and four other nazis to the cabinet had led Austrian nazis to believe their day had arrived as a result of the Feb. 12 conference between Hitler and Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg.

But last Thursday, Schuschnigg's ringing declaration of Austrian independence before parliament dashed Nazi hopes and at Graz, hotbed of nazidom, plans began for the march on Vienna.

MARRIAGE ASSET Indiana Instructor Gives A Few Tips

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Feb. 28 (AP)—Co-eds who expect to marry should not pay so much attention to home economics that they forget about English, advises Mrs. Cecilia Hendricks of Indiana University's English department.

"A woman who majors in English," Mrs. Hendricks said today, "should be able to make a good marriage. English gives a woman poise, ability to express herself, conversational ability and understanding of the intellectual and cultural heritage of the race."

Deadlock Over Labor Problem Threatens Chautemps' Regime

PARIS, Feb. 28 (AP)—The government of Premier Camille Chautemps was threatened tonight by a tightening deadlock between the senate and the chamber of deputies over how closely the French workingman's salary should be tied to the cost of living.

The life of the government was staked on reaching a compromise. But neither branch of parliament appeared willing to make concessions on the first of two bills designed to replace the arbitration law and collective contracts expiring at midnight tonight.

The principal point of difference was over a change the senate made in the measure yesterday despite the premier's warning that such action might block agreement with the chamber of deputies and force his government to resign.

As approved by the senate the bill authorizes an adjustment of workers' wages every six months in the event living costs increase 10 per cent. The chamber previously had passed a similar measure fixing five per cent as the living cost increase at which wages would be readjusted.

Bandits Sing Arias to Unappreciative Victim

Gunmen Use Revolvers for Batons During Four-Hour Wait for Manager to Open Safe

By CHARLES E. HARNER
NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Two patient bandits sang arias within earshot of the metropolitan opera house, received a lecture on honesty from a victim, stole $600.75, and tangled up all the traffic in Times Square today.

As far as Edward Jerome, 25, is concerned, they ruined opera for him forever. Beating time with revolvers for batons, they made him listen to Traviata, La Boheme and Il Trovatore for four solid hours.

All that time they were waiting for someone who could open the safe of the Economy sandwich shop executive office on the ninth floor of a building at Broadway and 42nd street.

When the two gunmen first jammed pistols into Jerome's ribs at 10:30 a.m., he assured them he didn't know the combination. "You look honest," said the short, thin bandit. "I guess maybe you don't."

Decide to Wait
"We'll wait for the boss," decided the other bandit, who, to make things confusing, was short and thin also. "Let's sit."

So they sat. For a while they all looked at each other, which wasn't very entertaining. Then the first short, thin bandit started singing: "O solo mio—"

"No good," said the second. "No harmony. How about 'Vesti La Giubli'?"

So they harmonized on Pagliacci for some little time. As harmony it was strictly coincidental, owing to the fact that first and second robber sang first tenor, respectively. But it was good and loud.

It went on and on. People in several adjoining offices thought seriously about writing a letter to someone about it, but they realized it isn't proper to complain about opera.

Came noon and both gunmen said they were hungry. Jerome brightly volunteered to go out after food. The gunmen vetoed that suggestion. They borrowed 40 cents from Jerome, dug up 80 cents between them, and one went out and bought sandwiches and coffee.

The three ate together. Over the coffee, Jerome censured them for their life of crime.

"You can't get away with it," he assured them. "Remember, crime doesn't pay. What would your mothers say if they knew what you are doing?"

"It's too late now, pal," said either the first or second gunman. "We can't change. We met you too late."

So they sang some more operas, starting the matinee performance with "Celeste L'Aida."

Manager Arrives
At 2:30 p.m., the company manager, Joseph Stutz, 48, came back and walked into a revolver muzzle. Abandoning their singing, the bandits forced him to open the safe and remove $500. Then they took his pocketbook containing $106.

"But that leaves me without money," complained Stutz. "O.K.," said the short, thin bandit. "Here's a five. And you, Mr. Jerome, shall have back this quarter of the 40 cents we borrowed."

They bound their captives hand and foot and walked away. Stutz wriggled over to a window and kicked out a pane. The glass rained down on pedestrians below. A traffic cop looked up, saw the foot sticking out of the ninth story window, and Times Square was jammed with police squad cars within five minutes. Traffic couldn't move again for half an hour.

It Might

Have Been— IOWA SHUT THE lid on her Big Ten basketball season last night with an exasperating one-point loss to the Golden Gophers of Minnesota.

Another 30 seconds, and Iowa might have finished in fourth place with an outside chance at second.

Another eight minutes, and Benny Stephens might have made the six points he needed to break Iowa's ancient scoring record.

But—that's basketball, and in basketball, as in any other competitive sport, defeat goes hand in hand with victory.

As it was, it was not so bad. Stephens played sensationally enough to insure all-conference recognition. The referees made enough mistakes to keep the crowd noisy. The team showed that it was well coached and good enough to meet the toughest competition of the toughest conference in the country.

And if Iowa did not win, at least she could not have come much closer.

Double Diplomacy In the United States

INVASIONS OF privacy are always irritating, but when the nation's privacy is violated and the safety of 122 million people is threatened by espionage, the matter takes on a graver aspect.

These roads supposedly would be built for military purposes and it is said they would not duplicate existing transcontinental highways, many of which need widening and separation of lanes of traffic at the more congested points.

If the fantastic plan for super-highways were carried out, what would be the effect upon the roads already built at public expense?

Here would be government in business once more, in destructive competition with business it had helped to encourage itself.

This is consistency and planning with a terrific vengeance. If congress fails for it that body, or the majority consenting, will be a big sucker than the country had imagined it could become at its worst.

A Common Meeting Ground

STUDENT and professor will again get together on common ground as the annual fireside chat series under the auspices of the religious activities commission begins this week.

These informal conversations have proved popular in the last few years with both students and faculty. The size and diversity of an institution of learning such as the university makes for but few close contacts between faculty and students.

The friendly feeling created by the fireside chats means a better understanding and intensified interest between the two groups, and organized discussion of student problems leads to better cooperation within the student body.

Complete unity is almost an impossibility within a university student group, but it can be approached if students will cooperate in projects such as this.

In furthering tests, building material manufacturers are now erecting "artificial weather" laboratories. Just as though we don't have enough real weather, as it is.

Pastel-tinted fly paper will be on the market next summer, we read. From now on flies may die in the most aristocratic of surroundings.

SUPERHIGHWAYS FOR WAR!

Only a few weeks ago the administration was calling upon congress to reduce by more than one-half the annual federal aid of 200 to 300 million dollars for highway construction.

Tuning In with Betty Harpel

Here it is Tuesday, and what's your favorite song? If you agree with the consensus of opinion you will answer "Thanks for the Memory."

You can't seem to get away from the "Memory" tune, at least if you own a radio. It's the first on this survey for the second time this week and Rainger and Robin are raking in plenty for it, so it must be okay.

Although they all call "Thanks for the Memory" the tops, here's five dollars that says that you'll soon hear people singing "Loch Lomond" three times to once for "Thanks for the Memory." Just keep track.

That Mexican hit, "Ti Pi Tin," is going strong. Noticed three or four mentions of it as near favorite already. "Always," tune from "Mannequin," is getting raves, too.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

BY GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — Every cop between Pell street and Lenox avenue is wondering how George M. Cohan keeps it up.

"Hell, George," he broke out the other day when Cohan urged him to join him for a hike. "I don't believe in exercise."

"But why not?" inquired Cohan smoothly in the manner of a convert who wishes to win everybody over to his side.

"Well, I'll tell you. I see eye to eye with the late Sir Joseph Chamberlain on that subject."

"And what did Chamberlain see?" "He thought walking downstairs for breakfast and upstairs to bed at night was enough exercise for any gentleman," Taylor explained.

This gave Uncle George pause. "Gee," he murmured wistfully. "We got elevators where I live and so I couldn't be an English gentleman if I wanted to. Taylor, you've ruined my day."

Incidentally, another famous walker in New York is George S. Kaufman, the playwright, but whereas Mr. Cohan walks for exercise, Mr. Kaufman walks only to think.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Unreel parade Ray Bolger, the rubber-legged dancing comedian, is becoming a cutting-room star.

There's a boy who's going to click big when he gets the part—if the part stays in.

Mary Astor tells about the curious but probably natural reaction of a movie-bred child to her first glimpse of a stage performance.

The little girl exclaimed excitedly as the first curtain rose: "Oh, Mama—they look like real people!"

Wonder what Claire Trevor was thinking at the preview of Annabella's first Hollywood picture?

Arleen Whelan, a few years ago a beauty-shop girl and manicurist, all but had the role of Scarlett O'Hara but Selznick would not give it unless Zanuck sold her contract, which Zanuck wouldn't.

Al Werker, directing this number, is a rarity among directors. He does all kinds of films, taking on an "epic" like "The House of Rothschild," then turning to a lowly "B" and doing the same kind of job.

At least he's a little fed up with "epics" at present, what with "Marie Antoinette," "Epics," said he, "are just a lot of gird."

Hawkeyes--

turn when Erwin Prasse, sterling defensive guard, swished one through the net from far out with only 20 seconds remaining in the game, but from that point the Gophers controlled the ball until the gun sounded.

Blazing Benny Stephens surpassed anything seen on the Iowa court in several years just as the first half ended. With Iowa trailing, 12-8, and the timekeepers gun in the air, Stephens took a pass from under the Iowa backboard while standing just over the center line, wheeled in his tracks, and shot at the basket. The ball dropped through without even touching the rim.

The Hawkeyes out-scored the Gophers, 11-10, from the field but the victors won their victory by cashing in on the 13 Iowa miscues.

Stephens and Kinnick scored the only Iowa field goals in the first half, Blazing Benny hitting for two long ones and the Iowa soph connecting from far out to the side.

Minnesota, in the meantime, made all its first period baskets from far out, Spear-making three and Maki two.

The lead changed hands five times during the first half and only twice in the second period. In the last half Iowa took the lead with seven minutes gone and held it until Maki's game-tying bucket.

Part of the Hawkeye's failure to win was due to the fact that only three Hawkeyes were able to hit from the field. Stephens, Kinnick and Prasse were the only Iowa players to score field goals and Prasse's came in the last half-minute of play.

Last night's defeat left the Iowans in fifth place with six victories in 12 games. They can do no better than fifth, but have a change to advance, depending on the outcome of the other conference games.

Stephen's 15 points left him in third place in the conference scoring race with 136 markers in 12 games. He is likely to fall below third, however, as Iowa has finished its season and all the other leaders have at least one game to go.

Five seniors played their last game for the Hawkeyes last night, Capt. Sam Johnson, Jack Drees, Joe Van Ysedyk, Kenneth Suesens and Howard Ely.

'I Appeal' Colleges Assailed For Proselytizing

By EDDY GILMORE
WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—When a man bites a dog it's news and when professional football accuses college football of proselytizing pro gridmen—well, it's George Preston Marshall. "I'm appealing," wailed the owner of the professional champions, the Redskins, "to the sportsmanship of college presidents to protect us from the commercialism of their institutions."

Irked when Columbia university signed his ace ball toter, Cliff Battles, for a coaching job, the sartorially resplendent Marshall flushed the same hue as his tinted shirt when he took stock of what else is happening along this line. "Look," he snorted, "what Navy's done—it's taken Keith Molesworth from the Chicago Bears. Think of it!"

Last year, he pointed out with rising ire, New Hampshire snagged the fast-running, hard-blocking George Sauer from the Green Bay Packers.

"Professional football," said the Redskins owner, "has a rule to protect the colleges. We can't sign a school player during the four years he's schooling. They ought to draw up something like that to protect us."

'Nice Going, Jack'

Three years of service on the Iowa basketball team ended last night for Jack Drees, lanky center. Jack has been starting center on the Iowa quintet since his sophomore year and his work this year has been a big factor in the Hawkeye's success. Drees is shown above shaking hands with Coach Rollie Williams just after the game.

Still Going Cunningham Will Run In K. of C. Games

By ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—March comes blustering in like a lion but Dizzy Dean's still acting like a lamb. . . Apropos of the differences of opinion, as publicized, between Manager Bill Terry of the Giants and his ailing pitcher, Cydell Castleman, Jimmy Jones of the Richmond Times Dispatch asks: "Could this be Terry speaking to Castleman in 1938 or the ghost of McGraw speaking to Terry back in 1924?" . . . This sudden blast of cold weather is liable to drive the last of the baseball holdouts into southern servitude. . . Glenn Cunningham, greatest running machine since Paavo Nurmi, will top off his farewell for this season to the Madison Square Garden boards with a double-barreled bid in the K. of C. games March 12. . . The mile king thinks he can lower his own world indoor mark to around 4:06 for his favorite distance. . . An hour later he will hook up with the New York university Negro flier, Jim Herbert, in the "Casey 600," by popular request. . . Nurmi was persuaded to essay a similar stunt in 1925 at the close of his fabulous American tour. . . Paavo was matched with Penn State's Alan Helffrich at the latter's best distance, the half-mile but took a licking. . .

Young Scores 29 Points To Equal Record

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 28 (AP)—Purdue shot into a game and a half lead over Northwestern in the Big Ten basketball race tonight by crushing Chicago, 64 to 33, while the Wildcats were losing to Ohio State.

It was "Jewell Young night," the high scoring Boilermaker forward hitting 11 field goals and 7 free throws for 29 points. Young's rampage, staged mostly in the second half, tied the Big Ten record for individual scoring in one game held by him, Lew Dehner and Joe Reiff, brought Young's season scoring total to 174—a new mark—and advanced his three-year conference record, set Saturday, to 455 points.

All the boys on tomorrow's show have won one match, either by default or by actually slugging it out, and will be in their pushing leather in an effort to maintain their unblemished records.

Gonne of Sigma Chi and Loeker of Sigma Nu who will appear on the card showed that they had plenty of spunk by winning their first matches in toe-toe combat and will undoubtedly furnish some fast work when they meet McGarvey of Phi Kappa Psi and Galer of Beta Theta Pi respectively.

The bouts scheduled are: 126-pound—Tompinkin (Pi Kappa Alpha) vs. Summerwill (Sigma Nu). 135-pound—Cunnick (Sigma Chi) vs. Maplethorpe (Phi Kappa Psi); Conrad (Sigma Nu) vs. Morgan (Sigma Chi). 145-pound—Galer (Beta Theta Pi) vs. Loeker (Sigma Nu); Early (Sigma Nu) vs. Oppenham (Phi Epsilon Pi); Gonne (Sigma Chi) vs. McGarvey (Phi Kappa Psi). 165-pound—West (Phi Kappa Psi) vs. Newton (Phi Delta Theta); Buckles (Sigma Nu) vs. McMeyer (Delta Chi). 175-pound—Classen (Delta Upsilon) vs. Humphrey (Phi Kappa Psi); Stoddard (Phi Gamma Delta) vs. Repass (Phi Delta Theta).

Lecture Tickets Now Available

Philip Guedalla to Give Talk Here Thursday Evening

Students and faculty members may obtain tickets to the university lecture Thursday at 8 p.m. by Philip Guedalla, English historian and biographer, on "March of Freedom," today and tomorrow at the Iowa Union desk. Any tickets remaining Thursday will be available to the general public.

Guedalla was born in 1889. He first attended Rugby, then Balliol college at Oxford. He received a master's degree in 1913 and began practicing law at Inner Temple, London. During the World War he served as legal adviser to the contracts department of the war office and Ministry of Munitions.

In 1923 he retired from the law profession and devoted his time exclusively to writing.

As an author and lecturer, Guedalla has won fame for his interpretations of monarchs, soldiers and statesmen. His character studies of Washington, Napoleon, Disraeli, and of Kitchener, Baldwin, MacDonald and others among the moderns have won for him a rank possessed by few biographers.

He has also written several books dealing with the makers of history and renowned literary figures. The books include "Supers and Supermen," "Masters and Men," "A Gallery," "Palmerston," "The Second Empire," "Wellington" and his latest, "The Hundred Years."

George L. Hossfield holds the record for speed typing with 8,658 words an hour.

To Hold Third Annual Big Ten Art Show Here

Each School May Enter 6 Original Works By Students

The third annual Big Ten art exhibition will be held in the main lounge of Iowa Union from May 15 to June 12, it was announced yesterday.

The exhibition was established at the University of Iowa in 1936 to foster student interest in art in the Big Ten universities and to provide an opportunity for student artists to exhibit their work.

The official seal of the Big Ten art exhibition designed by Jonas Lie, president of the National Academy, will be awarded for each work displayed.

Six original works done in any of these fields may be entered by each Big Ten school—oil and tempera painting, watercolors and pastels, graphics, sculpture, mural and architectural designs and architectural sculpture, ceramics, and applied design.

Resident undergraduate and graduate students in all colleges and departments of a Big Ten university are eligible to submit entries to the jury members of their university. The classification of "student" will apply to resident students of a university.

From the six works entered in the exhibition, each jury member should designate three pieces to be included in the traveling exhibition. The second annual Big Ten traveling circuit is now at the University of Michigan.

The jury of selection will include Prof. L. D. Longman, head of the graphic and plastic arts department, University of Iowa; Prof. John Shapley, University of Chicago; Harry Engel, University of Indiana; Prof. Wells Bennett, University of Michigan; Prof. Clara MacGowan, Northwestern university.

L. Schantz-Hansen and Lloyd Valley, Purdue university; Prof. C. V. Donovan, University of Illinois; Curator Ruth Lawrence, University of Minnesota; Prof. James R. Hopkins, Ohio State university, and Prof. W. H. Varnum, University of Wisconsin.

Dean Stoddard Has New Plan

Ph.D. Candidates Must Pay $25 in Place Of $200 Bond

Candidates for Ph.D. degrees will no longer have to post $200 bonds guaranteeing publication of their dissertations within three years from the time of graduation, Dean George D. Stoddard of the graduate college announced yesterday.

The new regulations go into effect June 1, 1938. They provide that the candidate pay a $25 fee for publication costs before the degree is conferred.

Publication of the thesis will be guaranteed by one of three options, subject to the approval of the major department. If the thesis is published in one of the university studies within three years, the deposit of $25 will serve as a first payment on the printing bill. The deposit will be refunded if the dissertation is published elsewhere. If at the end of the three years, the publication requirement has not been met, the university will print the 4,000 word abstract, required at the time of convocation, in an annual volume of "Doctoral Dissertations; Abstracts and References," relieving the author from further publication requirements.

Formerly Ph.D. degree candidates posted a $200 bond, and if the thesis was not published within three years, the bond was forfeited.

Basketball In Your Parlor

WSUI Brings Action Of Hawkeye Quintet To Radio Listeners
By LENORE DE VRIES
The whistle blew, the ball was tossed up, and another basketball game had begun. And while audiences were witnessing the action that followed, radio listeners during the basketball season could follow the ball as it went "round and round" by tuning in to station WSUI. Each game found announcer Bill Sener, G of Chicago, behind the mike with a rapid-fire account of what was happening on the floor. The last game was broadcast last night. With many broadcasts he was just as far from the floor as were the listeners, for all the out-of-town Big Ten games were broadcast from telegraphic reports sent from the foreign fieldhouse through the cooperation of the junior chamber of commerce and a group of Iowa City merchants. It was a large corps of men who were needed to complete the route of the notes before they were aired in the "cage broadcast" originating in the journalism building. Stationed at a vantage point above the floor a telegraph operator began by sending a bird's eye view of the floor, the audience and the players, then describing the quintets as they went to battle. At the receiving end of the wire in the journalism building Harris Young, Western Union operator, typed off the notes as they came through the sounder. They were then edited by Arthur Snider, A4 of Iowa City, and Gaylord K. Hodenfield, A3 of Glenwood. The sheets were numbered in order and checked again by Frank Huber, C3 of Davenport. Mr. Sener took it up from there, speaking directly from the numbered sheets. Russell Murphy, A3 of St. Louis, Mo., kept statistics of the game. Guarding against the danger of a telegraph line accident causing the game to go off the air, copies of the reports were kept at the sending point, again at relay stations along the way. Then if anything went wrong the notes could be sent after repairs had been made. It was only once that such notes were used—during the Minnesota game when the line broke just as the game was starting. Always present in the cage during the broadcast was assistant WSUI operator, Robert Whitmore, A2 of Inglewood, Cal., who kept check with the operator at the control board in the engineering building. Much the same procedure was followed in the home game broadcasts, Mr. Sener giving an eyewitness account from the special booth high above the floor. It was almost a one-man job except for the verification of details by Mr. Murphy who sent up official pronouncements through ear phones and the between-half summaries by Mr. Huber.

Gillette to Talk To Hobby Class Tomorrow at 7

Prof. Arnold S. Gillette of the dramatic arts department will speak to the hobby class tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the main lounge of the fine arts building. His subject will be "stage models." Professor Gillette will explain the work of making stage models from the beginning sketches, through the working drawings, to completion of the models. He will explain the two types of models, historical and modern. The historical models require abundant research on the part of the designer in order to construct authentic scenes of the periods. The modern settings of unusual design like that of Hator are often too complex to be constructed from technical drawings. Professor Gillette will tell how such stages are developed from plastic models.

Iowa City's Recreational Center Attendance Shows Increase

January Mark Is Boosted By 396 Enrollment

New Projects Planned For Program In March

The Iowa City Recreation Center had a total February attendance of 1,939, an increase of 396 above January, Eugene Trowbridge, director, said.

February's enrollment of 508 was boosted 20 per cent, figures reveal, and the average daily attendance was 82, an increase of more than 20 each day over January. The weekly attendance averaged 365 for the first week, and 526,537 and 511 for the last three weeks.

New projects have been planned for March, adding to the program of basketball, ping-pong, wrestling, boys' and girls' craft classes, tap-dancing and gym classes.

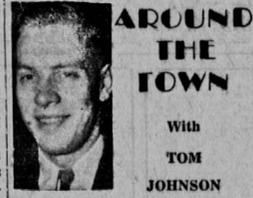

In order to increase craft class facilities and accommodate larger groups, the crafts shop has been moved from the rear of the building, to the front section of the second floor, providing additional space and light.

During the next few days, Trowbridge said, a softball league will be organized under Bill Wittenstein, athletic coach. Wittenstein will also direct the free-throw basketball tournament. Plans will be announced next week.

A series of city-wide billiard matches for older boys have been announced for March activities. The center has also made tentative plans for a kite-flying meet, open for boys and girls.

The girls' craft group, meeting Monday and Saturday afternoons, and the boys' group, which meets Monday and Wednesday at 4:30 p.m. and Saturday at 9 a.m., all under the direction of Clifford Williams, A4 of West Liberty, are completing their glass painting projects and will turn their attention to plaster modeling. Any Iowa City boy or girl, between 8 and 18 years, who wishes to attend the center, may join now for any activity.

AROUND THE TOWN
With TOM JOHNSON

Afraid to Talk

Just to show you how suspicious the race is becoming, you should have heard the silence when this question was propounded at a get-together of Iowa City businessmen recently:

"What state is south of Minnesota and bounded on the east by the Mississippi river?"

It was fully 40 seconds before one ventured timidly, "Iowa."

That, of course, is the answer. But, according to college of education students who were asked the same question recently, it may or not be. Some of them weren't certain at all.

It was all part of a quiz, I was told.

Another question asked — and bungled by some of our future educationists was, "What is the population of Iowa?"

The answers ranged between 25,000 and 125,000,000—if I remember correctly. Some of the would-be tutors didn't...

And another question asked—I got the biggest kick out of this—was "What is the population of the United States?"

I forget the lowest figure—but the highest was 250 billion!!

Names Ames

A last question asked, "What school benefited by the Morrell act?"

One answer, no doubt an attempt to embroil Iowa in civil war, was "Ames..."

I for one, sincerely hope the fellows who gave the wrong answers are in the minority. Their transfer from the college of education to a mythical "college of knowledge" might not be out of order...

Forbidden Fruit

WSUI and nearly every other radio station does not allow "The Sow Song" nor "With Her Head Tucked Under Her Arm" on the air.

Down at Iowa Union though, the WSUI-ers while away their spare time by playing the forbidden records. That is, when the powers-that-be are out of hearing...

Fruits of Victory

Albert Sidwell, proprietor of Sidwell's Dairy, won a basket of food at the refrigerator exposition last week—and discovered products of the Iowa City Creamery company were inside!

No Softies Allowed

I like to read the shipping news of New York newspapers, because it isn't hard to find an obscure item like this:

"S. S. West Kebar, sailing 11 a.m. March 1 for French Guinea, Ivory Coast, Senegal, Gold Coast, Sierra Leone and Liberia. "Ports of call: Dakar, Conakry, Freetown, Marshall, Port Bouet, Takoradi, Accra and Lagos." Take it from me—that's no vacation cruise...

Dancing Class To Begin Work On New Project

A newly formed experimental class in the American Country dance under Agnes Best, physical education instructor at the University high school, will meet every Friday at 1 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

The dance group, composed of boys and girls of University Junior high school, will begin work on a square-dance project.
