Dead Totals 22 As Tornadoes Leave Damage

Casualties Rise as Men Search Ruins In Eight States

By The Associated Press
The dead in a series of trans-Mississippi tornadoes numbered 22 last night. In sections of eight states there was heavy damage.

The storms struck Tuesday, following an erratic but generally northward course, and yesterday the list of casualties rose as men searched all day through the far-scattered ruins.

The Belleville, Ill., area was the hardest hit. There nine died. Eight were killed in the region of Kennett, Mo., four in Alabama and one in Georgia. Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas and Iowa, other states affected, reported no deaths.

There were unofficial estimates that the homes of at least 1,000 persons were destroyed. Much of the affected area was semi-isolated farming country.

Heavy winds and high rains followed the storms in some areas.

Belleville Begins

Sad Repair Work

BELLEVILLE, Ill., March 16 (AP) — Recovered from the shock of the storm's impact, Belleville calmly undertook relief and rehabilitation today in the wake of a spring tornado which killed nine persons and seriously injured 27 others last night.

Property damage in the hardest-hit area — west end residential district five blocks wide and nine blocks long — was estimated by Mayor George Remsnyder at $400,000 to $500,000.

The violent wind tore through 60 frame and brick cottages and bungalows, a canning factory, a grade school, two gasoline filling stations and several taverns. Many of the buildings were smashed into fragments. Debris filled the streets.

U. S. Bargains For Ownership Of TVA Power

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP) — Wendell L. Willkie, utility executive, and David E. Lilienthal, power director of TVA, went through the preliminaries of driving a bargain for government purchase of privately owned power facilities in the TVA area today.

A discussion, carried on throughout the day, resulted, Willkie said, in "no change in the general situation."

He added that the conference was confined to methods of procedure and to the presentation of statistical data.

A recent supreme court decision placed the federal government and municipalities in a position to install publicly owned power facilities in competition with the private utilities.

Willkie exhibited a readiness to dispose of 18 private power properties, if he can get his price. "It's either sell or have our system duplicated," he told reporters with a rueful grin.

Frank Discusses New Deal Trend

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 6 (AP) — An assertion that the new deal was "tending toward a totalitarian state" came tonight from Glenn Frank, chairman of the national republican program committee.

"I refer to both the successful and unsuccessful attempts to shift more and more the authority of congress, the courts and the people themselves, first into the hands of the federal government and then into the hands of the chief executive," Frank said.

Here to address a closed meeting of Harvard students, the former head of the University of Wisconsin said in an interview "the greatest factor" in the present depression is "an increasing ground swell of scepticism and doubt" from all sections of the American people in "the evident failure of administration policies."

Casca Hudson Dies

GALESVILLE, Wis. (AP) — Casca Hudson, whose health was too frail to permit service in the Civil war, died today at the age of 98 after outliving every veteran of that war in this area. He died of heart disease.

Abductor-Slayer Gets Death Penalty

Kidnaper John Henry Seadlund Condemned To Die in Electric Chair by Federal Jury

CHICAGO, March 16 (AP) — A federal court jury tonight condemned kidnaper John Henry Seadlund — the man who told government agents he'd rather "burn" than languish in prison — to death in the electric chair.

The jurors answered "yes" to the question of whether the extreme penalty should be imposed on Seadlund, 27-year-old former Ironton, Minn., lumberjack, who pleaded guilty to the $50,000 ransom abduction of Charles S. Ross, 72, retired Chicago greeting card manufacturer.

The trial, which began Monday, was solely on that question. If the jurors had decreed otherwise, Seadlund would have been sentenced to imprisonment up to life by Judge John P. Barnes.

Tax Collections Reported High

18% Gain Shown Over Similar Period Last Year

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP) — Record-breaking income tax collections brightened the federal budget picture tonight.

The treasury announced that the unprecedented sum of $615,947,718 was collected in the first 15 days of March, an increase of 18 per cent over the similar period last year.

If this rate of payment is maintained to the end of the fiscal year, the treasury will wind up with about $170,000,000 more income tax money than was predicted in President Roosevelt's January estimates. This surplus would provide, officials intimated, a badly needed offset against the probable failure of excise taxes and customs duties to meet estimates.

Grand Jury Indicts Men in Polk County 'Back Door' Slaying

DES MOINES, March 16 (AP) — The Polk county grand jury today indicted three men in connection with the "back door" slaying of Floyd Alloway, 36.

The three, all indicted on charges of first degree murder, are James Burget, 58, Keith Young, 20, and Irving Hildreth, 19. All were ordered held for trial without bail.

Alloway, a WPA worker, was killed last Dec. 18 by a person who fired at him just inside the kitchen door at his home.

3 Detained For Investigation In Abduction Case

NASSAU, Bahamas, March 16 (AP) — Police records showed Forrester Scott, Philadelphia attorney, and two fliers were detained today in connection with an attempted airplane abduction of Scott's two daughters.

The girls, Eva, 6, and Zoe, 3, are here with his divorced wife, now Mrs. Harry Clarke Boden.

Scott and the pilots, Stanley Boynton of Philadelphia and F. B. Miller of Miami beach, were booked for investigation.

Scott retained two of the foremost Nassau barristers.

The girls' nurse said they were playing in a park on the waterfront when two men drove up in a taxicab and attempted to seize them. The nurse and spectators who were watching a yacht race intervened and the men returned to the cab and sped to a pier where a seaplane waited with motors running, a third man in the cockpit.

Chinese Check Enemy's Drive

Recapture Land From Japs and Begin Strong Attack

SHANGHAI, March 16 (AP) — Chinese guerrilla raids and smashing counteroffensive attacks appeared today to have pushed the Japanese back in several sectors and stopped them in the others.

From Shansi province, which the Japanese overran in a big offensive a week ago, came reports that Chinese had recaptured Linfen and were making strong attacks on Chaocheng and Hwobin. These cities are in the southern part of the province.

In northwest Shansi the Chinese said they were sweeping through a triangular area between Koku, Paoteh and Kolan where desperately resisting Japanese were trying to hold their ground.

Britain Promises France Naval Aid Along Mediterranean Sea

Mussolini OK's Hitler's Move Within Austria

Warns However That To Invade Italy Means War

ROME, March 16 (AP) — Premier Benito Mussolini approved Adolf Hitler's absorption of Austria today, but warned that any invasion of Italian frontiers would mean war.

"Our frontiers are sacred!" Il Duce shouted in a nation-wide broadcast. "We will not discuss them. We will defend them!"

His words clearly were an effort to stifle the anxiety of the Italian people, with Austria now only a province of Germany and the Nazi frontier at the Brenner pass.

Italy, he proclaimed, is not frightened by "the global figure of millions of Germans present on our frontiers."

"First of all Italy, this Italy, does not allow itself to be easily impressed," he declared. "This Italy has a firm will, a firm spirit. It marches straight ahead."

Mussolini defended Italy's acquiescence to the annexation of Austria as consistent with her past policy of defending Austria's independence. But, he declared, it would have been "an historical and political absurdity" for Austria, a German state to have existed independent and anti-German.

The previous policy, he told a crowd that jammed the chamber of deputies, was based on the premise that Austria wanted independence.

Recent events, he declared, proved Austria no longer desired her freedom and, therefore, it would have been pointless for Italy to intervene against her ally in the Rome-Berlin axis.

Bitterly Attack Great Britain's Foreign Policy

LONDON, March 16 (AP) — Opposition parties bitterly attacked Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's foreign policy of "perpetual drift" tonight as his foreign secretary warned Germany to respect Czech independence.

Apprehension over the Spanish crisis and Hitler's absorption of Austria touched off unexpected debate of the government's foreign program.

Viscount Halifax, successor to Anthony Eden, told the house of lords Britain expects Germany to respect assurances given Czechoslovakia that the union of Austria and Germany is not aimed at her.

The assurances given last week must be honored "if they (the German government) desire to see peace maintained," Halifax declared.

While oppositionists flayed Chamberlain's policy in the house there were unconfirmed reports in parliamentary lobbies of a cabinet split over meeting the threat of Italo-German action on the continent.

Some ministers were said to be urging Chamberlain for a clear-cut statement backing France to meet reports of additional German and Italian troops with the Spanish insurgents.

Nazi Masters in Austria Sweep Away Last Traces of Country's Sovereignty

VIENNA, March 16 (AP) — Austria's Nazi masters swept away the last traces of her sovereignty today with the efficiency of a new broom.

Customs, institutions, men vanished. Nazi regimentation appeared and with it worry, rumor, denunciations and sober second thoughts — less tangible, but no less real than the control of theaters, money, schools, police and hospitals.

Major Emil Fey, anti-Nazi and iron man of the Dollfuss regime, was found dead in his home. Beside him were the bodies of his wife and 20-year-old son. Newspapers said he killed them and then shot himself.

The newspaper Neves Wiener Abendblatt reported the arrest of Louis Rothschild, banker member of the great banking family. The official gazette carried a long list of "traffic accidents."

Several correspondents and other foreigners fled. Others thought of fleeing and some who remained heard hints they would not be welcomed much longer.

Foreigners pinned flags of their countries to their lapels for protection.

Friends were afraid to talk to friends. Business colleagues were suspicious of each other, fearful they had made too loyal or too disloyal utterances in the past. Telephone users made elaborate codes to assure themselves of the identity of their listeners.

Jewish stores were placarded. Trucks drove up to them and carted away clothes, perfume, shoes, hats, soap, toothpaste.

France Drops Activities For Spanish Truce

Navy Plans Addition Of Four More Ships To Patrol

PARIS, March 16 (AP) — Great Britain promised France naval aid tonight if Italian and German forces in Spain menaced France's north African communications.

In return, Premier Leon Blum told his cabinet France would maintain non-intervention in Spain.

By this decision, France kept her border with government Spain shut to men and munitions and dropped her plans for an immediate effort with Britain to negotiate a Spanish truce.

That the Spanish government appeared to have stopped the insurgents' drive toward the Mediterranean, at least temporarily, also was cited by Blum as enabling France to keep her frontier shut.

Preparations, nevertheless, went ahead to assure the security of France's Pyrenees border as well as the freedom of communication on the Mediterranean, vital sea roadway of French and British empires.

The army, it was said, judged the 70,000 troops now garrisoned on the Spanish border as sufficient under any circumstances.

The navy, however, was planning to add extra ships to its Mediterranean patrol. Four destroyers will be based at Port Vendres, closer to Spanish waters than the Toulouse base.

Chamberlain's answer to Blum's urgent appeal was taken to the French foreign office by Sir Eric Phipps, the British ambassador, before the prime minister announced to commons that Britain would adhere to Spanish neutrality.

But, it was said, the armistice plan was held in abeyance and might be made at any time. French officials had said that France would have "no alternative" but to open her frontier to aid Spain's harassed government unless Britain joined her.

The British government, it was learned, also asked more time to take a definite stand on Czechoslovakia. Blum had told London there was "not a moment to lose" in the formation of a French-British agreement on Czechoslovakia.

Chamberlain's answer to Blum's urgent appeal was taken to the French foreign office by Sir Eric Phipps, the British ambassador, before the prime minister announced to commons that Britain would adhere to Spanish neutrality.

Hitler Returns to Berlin To Settle His Immediate Problems

BERLIN, March 16 (AP) — Adolf Hitler came back to Berlin in triumph tonight and suddenly called the reichstag to meet Friday to hear "a declaration."

A Lithuanian-Polish crisis at Germany's back door, Czech-German warnings to the Czech parliament, the Spanish war situation, and hurried French and British conferences persuaded Hitler to return to Berlin earlier than he had planned.

A frontier clash last Friday in which a Pole was killed precipitated the tension between Poland and Lithuania.

Polish official sources admitted that "certain demands" had been made in categorical form but there were flat assertions in Warsaw that no ultimatum had been issued.

Caspe Overrun By Insurgents In Hasty Drive

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, March 16 (AP) — Spanish insurgent forces, front lines dispatched reports tonight, have encircled Caspe in their drive across the last mountain barrier to the government-held Mediterranean coast.

Most of the city was reported occupied by the insurgents after heavy fighting.

(Earlier reports at Hendaye, France, on the Spanish frontier, said the insurgent forces were threatened with delay because they overran Caspe in their haste without properly mopping up and still faced government resistance there.)

Insurgent dispatches reported 10,000 government prisoners, including American and Canadian volunteers, had been captured in the first four days of the offensive.

In Barcelona insurgent planes tonight inflicted the heaviest bombing on Barcelona the city has yet suffered.

Casualties still were not completely counted but at least 14 were known dead and 20 injured.

Livestock Drown As River Floods Dakota Lowlands

BISMARCK, N. D., March 16 (AP) — Thousands of acres of bottomlands were flooded and about 200 head of livestock drowned as crest waters of the Missouri river swept downstream from northwestern North Dakota tonight.

The bulk of the damage was reported near Sanish, where water released by the crumbling of a long ice jam rolled across nearly 8,000 acres of low land and drove 15 families from their homes. No one was reported injured.

The high water moved on toward Bismarck after the ice went out at Elbowoods, about 40 miles below Sanish, late today.

3rd Mystery Blaze Breaks Out Aboard British Sea Liner

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., March 16 (AP) — A third mysterious fire aboard the 52,101 ton British liner Berengaria broke out tonight while she was in her berth here.

The blaze, in a tourist cabin on C deck, was extinguished by the ship's staff. Damage was slight.

Company officials said the cause was not known and began an investigation.

The Berengaria had just arrived from New York without passengers after a fire there swept the first class lounge and caused damage estimated at more than $10,000.

Europe Acts to Avert Further Trouble

By JOHN EVANS
Associated Press General Foreign Editor

Adolf Hitler's armed might and his personal ability to use it has brought a fearful Europe into open action to avert further trouble.

Britain, France, Italy, Poland, Lithuania, Czechoslovakia and Spain are involved in a maze of war preparations and diplomatic threats intended by some to get what they want and by others to prevent them from getting it.

The situation is this: When Hitler and his army and air force took over Austria, the world learned he meant business when he said all Germans belonged to Germany. They realized he might soon assert his avowed right to rule the 3,500,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia.

At the same time, the sudden weakening of the Spanish government army before the present vast advance of Franco's insurgent force, again offered problems to all Europe. The Spanish government at Barcelona pleaded for French aid to prevent what the French fear may be another authoritarian government if Franco wins. They think Franco will be influenced by Nazi Germany and fascist Italy who made possible his twenty months campaign that has given him three-fourths of Spain.

Here is what the various nations did or are doing about their war fears:

Spain: Socialist Premier Leon Blum of France told Britain he would send aid to government Spain unless England helped halt the Spanish war and thereby prevented a dreaded collapse of the Barcelona forces.

Britain instead promptly promised naval aid to France if her sea lanes to Morocco or her colonies were threatened (presumably by Germany or Italy, the two Nazi and fascist allies).

France thereupon promised to remain neutral toward Spain. That means in plain language France won't help her sister republic. It may mean defeat soon for the Barcelona government because Franco's forces are driving victoriously and have almost divided the one-fourth of Spain held by the Spanish government.

However, the Spanish government, like France in 1914 at the Marne, may stiffen when cornered and hold out yet awhile.

Fear Reigns In Little Lithuania

Baltic Nation Anticipates Polish, German Movements

KAUNAS, Lithuania, March 16 (AP) — Little Lithuania tonight feared both Poland and Germany might take advantage of European ferment to settle old scores with Lithuania.

The Baltic nation was apprehensive Poland's troops would be used to settle renewed border trouble between the two nations, friction which increased after a frontier clash March 11 in which a Polish guard was killed.

Lithuanian officials said Poland has refused an offer to discuss the issue through Estonia, Lithuania's Baltic neighbor.

The situation was made more difficult by the fact Lithuania and Poland have been without normal diplomatic relations for the past 18 years due to Poland's seizure of Wilno (Vilna).

Lithuania's fears were also increased concerning her once-German city of Memel, included in Lithuania by the post-war settlement but regarded by Germany as "unredeemed territory."

Today Is Ireland's Day

NATION-WIDE observance of St. Patrick's day in America is truly a remarkable phenomenon. That 22 million Americans should, simultaneously, dig deep into bureau drawers or burrow into hazardous closets to search out a bit of green ribbon or an emerald tie to wear on March 17 is one of those great human mysteries.

Perhaps the whole thing is instinctive, just like breaking out last year's fishing tackle three weeks before the season opens or testing a favorite driver while the ground is still too solid to admit a tee. Perhaps it is instinctive, we say, but we are inclined to believe that it is something else—an outgrowth of a whimsical fondness for Ireland and all that is Irish.

As a nation, we like the Irishman. We like Irish wit and Irish songs, and jokes about Pat and Mike. There is something irresistible in their ready banter, their quick, fiery temper masking an impulsive, warm-hearted sympathy. Pioneer America grew up to the strains of "The Irish Washerwoman," and as for "They Kept the Pig in the Parlor," who at one time or another has not caught himself humming a few bars of that ridiculous but wholly democratic piece?

We've cheered the Irishman as a fighter, we've admired him as a policeman, "cussed" him as a politician and praised him as a laborer. In short, we have taken him in, but he has, in his own way, made us a part of his big, likeable self.

And that, we think, is largely the reason why Russians, Roumanians, Poles, Germans and countless others will be wearing Erin's colors today. And that, too, is why we hasten to pin a shamrock in our own editorial button hole and join in a friendly salute to the good saint, to Ireland and to all the Pats and Mikes and Bridgets who will be wearing the green this day.

Power Politics In Central Europe

NOW THAT the political storm over Austria has somewhat subsided, it is possible to view in retrospect the havoc it has caused with the diplomatic policies of European nations. The clouds of war and uncertainty are temporarily dispelled, but they linger ever in the atmosphere—ready to crystallize at a moment's notice.

With Hitler in control of Austria, the transference of German domestic policy to Austrian territory follows naturally. This is already noticeable in religious intolerance, the suppression of democratic freedom, liquidation of political opposition, press censorship and the sundry other restrictive regulations of dictatorial government. The iron hand of the German Fuehrer has become heavier now that it has a larger arm behind it.

On the European continent, the Austrian coup has awakened the democratic nations to the increasing danger of war entailed by Hitler's foreign policy. If Hitler could take Austria by a show of force, he could just as well intimidate the other small nations in central Europe by similar tactics. Czechoslovakia, the "dagger" pointed at the heart of Germany, will probably be the next victim of German aggression unless some way is found to protect her political independence.

The European nations are slowly awakening to realities and are drifting closer together toward cooperation in maintaining world peace. France has pledged military aid to Czechoslovakia in the event of German attack. Russia has a similar treaty agreement with the Czech republic. England is bringing its foreign policy into closer alignment with that of its channel neighbor, France. The German dictator will find intensified resistance to any further political changes on continental Europe.

German control over Austria brings with it added power to Hitler and Der Fuehrer will probably become even more aggressive and arrogant. On the other side, the nations opposed to Germany will become even more determined in their resistance. The old game of power politics is being played again. Twenty-four years ago, the "joker" was drawn at Sarajevo. It might be drawn again in some small Czechoslovakian town. Europe had best stop playing now.

Goodbye To Coney Island

GOOD OLD Coney Island, known for a quarter of a century as the greatest amusement center in the world, is going to have its face lifted. Formerly a barker's paradise, visited by millions of people each summer, it will become a "refined, healthy park by the sea" under the direction of Robert Moses, New York park commissioner.

"There is no use bemoaning the end of old Coney Island, fabled in song and story," declares the efficient Mr. Moses. "There must be a new and very different resort established in its place... less overcrowding, stricter enforcement of ordinances and rules, better transportation and traffic arrangement, less mechanical noise-making and sideshows and a more orderly growth of year-around residents."

He's right, of course, but his logic can not prevent the sentimental pang that strikes us as we learn of the passing of that garish, boisterous, rowdy legend that was the old Coney Island. Last summer almost 40,000 visitors thronged her 57 acres of beach and patronized her shooting galleries, freak shows, roller coasters and hot dog stands. Hitherto, a trip to New York has almost invariably included a jaunt to the famous Coney Island.

We have an idea that it will be "interesting" rather than "thrilling" to visit the Coney Island of tomorrow, when new, clean sand, athletic facilities and strict sanitary regulations have become the rule. The queen of amusement parks is dead—long live the queen of improved beaches!

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

THE PROBLEM OF RIVERS RIVERS are like railroads—natural monopolies which cannot be broken up and which therefore have to be regulated. A river may be a state line, but it does not otherwise pay attention to boundaries. Even as a boundary the Mississippi has been fickle in comparatively recent times, shifting territory from bank to bank as it cut through necks of land and made and unmade islands. The whole problem of running water is at least regional and in many aspects national. The ruination of vast areas of fertile land may begin where the "little waters" come into play, but the end results are of continental proportions. Consequently, little fault can be found, in principle, with the proposals of the National Resources committee, as laid down in its report made public last Friday.

The report carries a recommended expenditure of $2,124,867,000, of which $891,091,000 would be federal funds, over a period of six years. Even for contemporary federal, state and local budgets these are large figures, and most of us will want to reserve judgment on specific projects until there has been time to examine them in detail. There is a sound argument for water control, however, not as an expense but as a means of saving money. The country simply cannot afford destructive floods.

The cloud which just now envelops TVA should not obscure the significance of the policy of multiple uses developed on the Tennessee river. It is good business practice, whether the business is public or private, to make a natural resource do as much good and as little harm as possible—to stop a river from washing away the soil and flooding farms and communities; to utilize what value it may have for navigation; to put its power to work. These basic considerations need have nothing to do with questions of politics, with the issue between public and private ownership or with personalities.

IT'S HIS BABY NOW!

Pacific Coast Mussels May Cause Fatal Illness in Summer

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

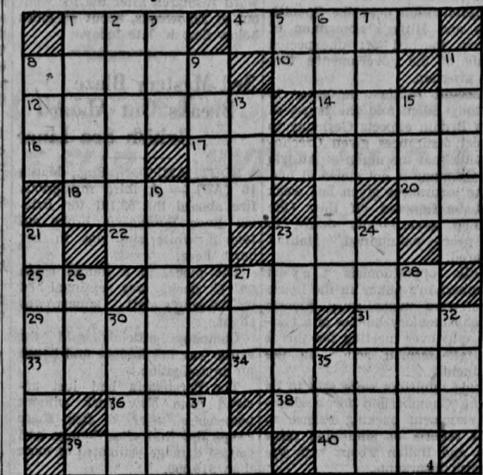

One day in July, 1927, a man of 35 years of age went into a restaurant in San Francisco and ate a dozen and a half mussels for supper. About a half hour later he began to feel aching and tired all over; then he was sick at his stomach and began to have trouble with his breathing. He became unconscious, his breathing gradually became shallower and slower, until all the muscles which move respiration were paralyzed, and he died five hours after the supper of mussels.

The experience was repeated on a 12-year-old boy, who ate raw mussels and died three and a half hours later. A boy of two years drank a small glass of broth with three mussels and died in five and a half hours.

Every year since then there have been deaths and severe sickness following eating of raw mussels along the Pacific coast. Three cases and two deaths were reported in 1936. Laboratory experiments have been made which make it plain that the poison comes to the mussel contained in the ocean water. It is probably the food of the shellfish.

Mussels feed on plankton. The Texas fig-canning industry, which hit an all-time low during the depression, is making a rapid comeback, the Texas planning board reports.

Tuning In with Betty Harpel

Things to Come With radio bringing the voice of the president into our homes for fireside chats, the abdication speech of a king and talks by such outstanding men as Albert Einstein, Sinclair Lewis, H. G. Wells and George Bernard Shaw, the thought comes that perhaps it won't be such a far distant time when students will lose text books aside and listen to electrical transcriptions of noted political, literary and scientific wonder workers of the past.

It's a pleasant thing to think about. The pity of it all is that radio couldn't have been invented decades earlier so that we could hear Lincoln's Gettysburg address or Patrick Henry's "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death."

Hearing an actual speaking voice of an important historical figure would make him seem so much closer to us than does reading about him in a dusty text book. But perhaps we can go a shade further and learn more of our history through the news reel in a decade or two.

Charles Arnold, younger brother of Edward Arnold of the screen, is getting a thrill from meeting Chicago radio names under the direction of Jim Ameche, younger brother of Don, in whose "Attorney at Law" show he is making his radio bid.

Ralph Rainger and Leo Robin, composers whose last radio appearance was on Jack Benny's program, are conferring with a Raymond Paige who plans to present them in a special sketch on a forthcoming "Hollywood Hotel" airing. Rainger and Robin have written "Thanks for the Memories," "Tonight We Love" and "You Took the Words Right Out of My Heart."

Milton Berle, an absentee from radio, makes a guest appearance on the last Jack Oakie show March 22.

The original Sourdough McGee, immortalized in the ballad, "The Cremation of Sam McGee," will be featured on the "We, the People" program tonight.

Eddie Cantor may have Henry Busse as his bandleader in the new show starting March 28. Busse flew all the way from Chicago to New York this week to discuss the proposition.

Francis X. Bushman has hit upon a profitable combination of business and pleasure. He will lay aside his work in the "Stepmother" and "Margot of Castlewood" serials during the summer months and will spend the time conducting a tour of his fans throughout Europe, earning a young fortune during his holiday.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—It was only a night ago that, walking up Vanderbilt avenue, I glimpsed George Olsen, the orchestra leader, dining with abandon in a spicy French provision counter.

Olsen has grown blonder and richer in recent years but he is one of the few successes who has always remained his natural self. His friends of yesteryear are his chosen companions today. His chief hobby, next to palming around with them, is hunting up strange, exotic food counters.

Indeed, one of the favorite stories of the Rialto about Olsen has to do (theoretically at least) with food. A colleague was visiting him in his private office at the International Casino the other night. "Say," he said, walking over to a tempting looking ice-box, "I've got something here you'll like."

Visualizing a squab or at least some cheese and cold beer, the caller was licking his lips when Olsen drew forth a new arrangement of one Cole Porter's songs... The ice-box, it seems, is used strictly as a musical filing cabinet.

Ice-Cream Soda Which reminds me of something that happened at the drugstore this morning. I was sitting at the counter admiring the new orange juice mixer when a lady came in and said to the soda-clerk: "I'll have a soda please... All my life I've wanted a soda, and now I'm going to have one."

"Pardon me," I said, butting in, "but did I hear you say you had never tasted an ice-cream soda?" "That's right," she admitted. "When I was a little girl I always wanted one, but my mother would never let me have it. Then we moved to China and lived in out-of-way places, so that by the time I grew up there were too many things of a serious nature to warrant brooding over drugstore sodas.

Longing "I was married in Paris and shortly thereafter we moved to South Africa, after which we lived mostly in frontier outposts. Three years ago my husband was transferred to Mexico, and we have lived there until last week. And now we're in New York. In all those years I never forgot how badly I wanted a soda as a little girl, and just now, passing this drugstore, I was almost overwhelmed with longing for it. You see, I know how much I'm going to enjoy it."

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — Youngsters who might envy Deanna Durbin ought to know about the meals the 18-year-old singer misses for her art. Unlike Tommy Tucker, Deanna sings but gets no supper.

She goes supperless every Wednesday when she sings on the air for Eddie Cantor, nearly every Saturday, when she records for her films, and on odd nights when she sings at banquets or benefits. Wednesdays she takes a glass of orange juice about 4:30 p.m. and eats no more until she's off the air, about 9. When she sings at a banquet she may be surrounded by food—but can't touch a bite until she finishes her numbers, long after other banqueters have topped off their meal. By then it's too late for food, as she mustn't eat a heavy meal before retiring. She drinks a cup of hot chocolate and goes to bed.

Conrad Letters Lost Ralph Bellamy, whose house with practically everything in it went crumbling off down the Los Angeles river during the flood, can work hard and in time replace most of the valuables he lost. All he saved was three suits of clothes and a typewriter. But he can't replace Mrs. Bellamy's collection of original Joseph Conrad letters.

Ralph is playing the movie producer in "Boy Meets Girl," the picture that marks James Cagney's return to the Warner lot. The film got under way, immediately after the flood, with no special celebration heralding the prodigal's return. Ingenious souls had three trumpets on the set, according to more or less reliable report, the idea being that three Warner brothers should sound off a welcome to Cagney. But no Warner brothers showed. Cagney and crew went to work untrumpeted.

Christen Withdraws As Entry in National Meet

Studies to Keep Iowa Ace Out Of Competition

Surprise Decision To Prove Great Loss For Team

Little Arnie Christen, great Hawkeye diving stylist, made one of the toughest decisions possible yesterday when he asked that his name be withdrawn from further consideration as a possible entry in the national swimming championships to be held at Rutgers university, New Brunswick, N. J., a week from tomorrow.

The nature of his studies, chemical engineering, is such as to demand his presence at each class period if he is to complete them successfully, and inasmuch as he is graduating in June, he thought it best to hand in his suit and bring to an end a collegiate swimming career that has been a brilliant one indeed.

His decision came after several days of pondering, and although not entirely unexpected, was somewhat of a surprise.

Absence Hurts Team

That his absence will be felt by the Old Gold crew goes without saying. Arnie didn't win them all, but he was never outclassed and never admitted defeat until the final returns were in. He provided many thrills for swim fans all over the Big 10 circuit and seemed to possess the certain something that captured the hearts of the fans, whether at home or in the field.

His superb exhibition in the Big 10 meet last week in Chicago was perhaps the greatest in his career, although he finished third behind Patrick and Capt. Jim Patterson, of Ohio State, who, so it seemed to a good portion of the crowd, got none the worst of it in the judge's final decision.

Finishing third, however, was no mean task when the caliber of the competition is taken into consideration. Patrick, who placed first, is the A.A.U. high and low board champion as well. Jim Patterson, who placed second, was the defending Big 10 champ, and in addition, holds the national collegiate championship on the high and low boards.

Arnie tendered winnings yesterday at a rather tender age by copping the Indiana high school diving championship while attending Hammond high, in Hammond, Ind.

In collegiate circles, he has rated all-American ranking in each year of competition. This year, in dual meets, he bowed to no man, copping first place in every start.

In the last Dolphin show, he displayed enough clowning ability to keep the crowd in a continuous uproar. His laugh-provoking antics will long remain in the minds of the spectators, a constant reminder of his versatility.

The little fellow will be missed and it will be a long time before he is forgotten.

Owls Win Temple Outclasses Colorado, 60-36

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—Temple's high geared basketball team, champion of the Eastern Intercollegiate conference, tonight won the national invitation tournament with a 60-36 victory over Colorado university at Madison Square Garden.

A crowd of 14,500 saw the giant Temple five completely outclass the co-champions of the Big Seven conference after Oklahoma A. and M. had whipped New York university, 37 to 24, in the consolation game.

Mixing a deadly short game with a long style that was almost as effective, the easterners jumped into a 10-1 lead in the first five minutes, built up a 33-18 advantage at the half-time and then widened the margin in a last half scoring spree.

The Owls' effective zone defense had "Whizzer" White of all-America football fame and his teammates bottled up. White himself connected with five field goals but none of his mates were able to match the whizzer's performance from the floor.

Giants Win Again LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—The New York Giants stretched their Grapefruit league winning streak to six straight yesterday, walloping their Jersey City farmhands 11 to 4.

Down The Sports Trail

By PAUL MICKELSON ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16 (AP)—Spring tintypes of the St. Louis Gashouse gang as they whoop it up at their spring training base at beautiful St. Petersburg.

Although the club is a question mark that can finish anywhere from first to fifth place in the National league it is in its gayest mood since 1931. Reasons for the high spirits are many. Dizzy Dean helped by falling off his high horse and becoming one of the boys and so did the Cardinal bosses who were more liberal this year with the contracts. Bainbridge Hayward, St. Pete hotel man, also did his bit by giving the Gashouses the run of his hotel where the boys have their own dining room and can dress and eat as they please. And how they can store away the groceries.

Manager Frankie Frisch, who has done more worrying since '31 than all other big league pilots together, also is a changed man. "Onkel" Frisch is excited about several good-looking rookies. "Onkel" has a bad ankle, but enjoys it more than a headache. "It's a pleasure to be a manager this year," says "Onkel."

No one is worrying about Dizzy's comeback though the guess among the boys is that of Diz is liable to pop off any day after the season gets started. Paul Dean also is trying a comeback, but it's too early to tell. Paul amazed everyone by coming to camp 25 pounds lighter, but the Gashouses aren't giving him the credit for his weight reduction. "When those pay checks stopped coming," wisecracking the gang, "Paul had to stop eating hogback and beans—and here he is in shape." However, it is doubtful if a pitcher can lay off two years and still come back, especially Paul who does all his pitching with his arm and not much of it with his head.

If Sammy Baugh could hit, he'd grab a regular third baseman's berth right now. Slingin' Sam of Washington pro football fame has a great arm and is a genius at field, but will wind up with a minor league team this season, probably Houston. Sam's interested in a baseball career. "There's more immediate cash in pro pigskinning because baseball lasts longer."

Ducky Medwick and Johnny Mize rate to run another close race for the National league batting championship. Although Ducky won the title by 10 points over Johnny last season, the gang thinks Mize will outslug Ducky this year. The big Card first sacker, who once was told by a Cincinnati doctor that a growth on his pelvic bone would kill him if he persisted in playing baseball, looks greater than ever. Last season, he didn't have a single slump. Even a bean ball couldn't stop him. After the whack on the head he came back and was out-slugging Medwick as the race ended.

Hit of the camp, of course, is Pepper Martin. The wild boss of the Osage has assembled his greatest orchestra this spring with Bob Weiland blowing the jug, Lon Warneke doing the guitar, Bill McGee fiddling, Frenchy Borgedagay on the washboard and ol' Pepper tooting the harmonica. Frenchy is the sensation. His washboard has the works—a three-tone hone, bicycle bells and even an electric light for special renditions.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16 (AP)—Dizzy Dean still is in bed.

The St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, ordered to bed when sinus infection developed from a cold, is following doctor's orders—under protest.

"There's nothing wrong with me," Dean said today as he tossed about his hotel bed, but he'll remain confined for another 24 hours at least.

Times Have Changed Colorado's All-Americans Prove That Gridiron Jobs Are Better Now

By ALAN GOULD DENVER, March 16 (AP)—Colorado's two all-America football heroes, Earl Harry (Dutch) Clark and Byron Raymond (Whizzer) White, illustrate how startlingly times have changed in the gridiron business. Dutch, the trail blazer, had to make good in the big leagues the hard way, but now he's happy to hold a $7,500 job as playing coach of the Detroit Lions. White, meantime, is considering a $15,000 contract for only one season, with the Pittsburgh club, as an alternative to a Rhodes scholarship at Oxford.

For several reasons Clark, who coached the Whizzer as a freshman at Colorado university, believes he's better off in his pro job than he would be handling a college outfit. "There's no alumni or changing policies to worry about," says the Pueblo Dutchman. "Then, too, we can count on good material. . . . But it's also true we need to win." Dutch says player salaries average around $1,750 in the National league now but they are going up. Detroit's payroll for last season, including 11 games, exceeded $40,000. Clark wants to retire but will remain on the active list, for pinch-hitting purposes, unless he gets the man he wants to share this year's tail-back job with Vernon Huffman, Indiana product and ex-Big Ten star. Whizzer May Accept The best guess, based on what we have heard here and at Boulder, where C. U. is located, is that the Whizzer will take the $15,000. White won't decide until after he's finished his college athletic career this spring, as a ball player, but the feeling seems to be (1) that the money is too much to refuse, (2) Whizzer will be a sure-fire hit in the big league, and (3) that he will be well enough fixed financially, after two or three pro seasons, to finish off his law studies at Harvard. . . . White's grid coach, Bunny Oakes, hesitates to compare his fair-haired pro either with Clark or Red Grange (whose sophomore year coincided with Bunny's last season at Illinois) but says: "The Whizzer has shown me everything a great ball player needs, plus the finest possible spirit. . . . The headlines and the hurrah haven't affected him. . . . He's a natural. . . . And the tip-off is that the rest of the boys think he's swell. . . . Probably the girls do, too, but if Byron has any heart interest we don't know about it."

Semi-Finals of All-University Boxing Tournament to Start This Afternoon at Field House

Champs of 4 Leagues Begin Competition For Crowns

All-university boxing bouts get under way today at 4:30 in the north gym of the fieldhouse with boxers representing the four leagues, fraternity, Quad, town and dormitory. All of today's matches are semi-final bouts. The finals are scheduled for Tuesday.

With champions of all four leagues competing, the event promises to show some fast and determined battling. Those competing this afternoon are:

- 126-pound—Harry Ryder (Town) vs. Bill Sherman (Upper C). 135-pound—Don Purvis (Upper B) vs. Bob Conrad (Sigma Nu); James Funk (Manse) vs. Jack Haney (Town). 145-pound—James Tate (Town) vs. Kermit Ruppemkamp (Upper A); Boyd Walker (Wilson) vs. Tommy Locker (Sigma Nu). 155-pound—Ten Hinman (Phi Kappa Psi) vs. John Young (Jefferson); Delos Schrader (Town) vs. Dan Richmond (Quadrangle). 165-pound—George Falk (Town) vs. Vincent Mayberry (Lower D); Charles West (Phi Kappa Psi) vs. Phil Young (Whetstone). 175-pound—Howard Hargrave (Town) vs. Roland Moores (Whetstone). Heavyweight—Robert Herman (Town) vs. Carl Conrad (Lower B).

Three Falls In Greek Matches At Field House

Fraternity and Quad men continued their matches in the wrestling tourney yesterday with three of the seven Greek matches and the only two Quad bouts resulting in falls. Two matches were decisions and two were forfeits.

The results: 126 pounds—Parrish (Phi Kappa Psi) won by forfeit from Doss (Phi Delta Theta). 145 pounds—Smith (Phi Kappa Psi) won by a fall from Nelson (Phi Gamma Delta) in 5:44. 155 pounds—Brooks (Delta Upsilon) won by decision from Blum (Sigma Nu).

155 pounds—Lorenzen (Delta Chi) won by decision from Morehouse (Sigma Alpha Epsilon). 155 pounds—Muhl (Delta Tau Delta) won by a fall from Mischke (Delta Upsilon) in 3:39. 175 pounds—Schenk (Phi Gamma Delta) won by a fall from Kerr (Sigma Nu) in 1:35. Heavyweight—Byers (Phi Delta Theta) won by forfeit from Carlson (Delta Chi).

Dick Metz Wins MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Dapper Dick Metz, the hard luck kid, and Ky Laffoon blazed to victory in the 15th annual $4,000 international four-ball golf tournament yesterday with a convincing 6-and-5 conquest of Willie Goggin and Ben Hogan in the 36-hole final.

37 High Schools Have Accepted Meet Invitations

The number of Iowa high schools accepting invitations to the 17th annual state interscholastic track and field meet has reached 37, Coach George T. Bresnahan said yesterday.

More than 50 schools are expected to enter over 500 athletes in the games to be held in the Iowa fieldhouse April 2.

Schools indicating that they will be present are: Newton, Vinton, Villisca, Garner, Keota, Thomas Jefferson of Council Bluffs, Valley high of West Des Moines, Wilson of Cedar Rapids, Grinnell, Roosevelt of Cedar Rapids, Fairfield, Oskaloosa, Ft. Madison, Oelwein, Britt, Davenport, Winterset, New London, Dubuque, Clinton, West Liberty, Brighton, East Waterloo, West Chester, Washington, Mechanicsville, Lyons, Clinton, Storm Lake, Mt. Pleasant, Monticello, Carroll, North Des Moines, Roosevelt of Des Moines, Franklin of Cedar Rapids, McKinley of Cedar Rapids, East high of Des Moines, Lincoln of Des Moines.

Hawkeye Track Team to Be Idle This Week End

The University of Iowa track team, which annexed third place at the Big Ten meet in Chicago Saturday, faces its first week end without a meet since the season opened at Iowa City Feb. 11.

The open date does not mean rest for the Hawkeye tracksters, however, because Drake, Grinnell and Iowa State are due to invade the fieldhouse for the annual state quadrangular meet March 25. The affair is the last meet on the Hawkeye indoor schedule before the outdoor program starts April 23, with the Kansas relays at Lawrence, Kan.

John Graves, Hawkeye middle distance stand-by, is rapidly getting into shape after the recent illness which has kept him out of competition since the opening encounter with Minnesota. Coach Bresnahan's injury worries will not be over, however, with Graves' recovery. Ed Wiggins, dashman, strained a muscle at Chicago Friday and will probably be on the sidelines during the quadrangular meet.

The Hawkeyes won the quad meet last year and are favored to repeat the performance at the fieldhouse again next week.

Fraternity Volleyball 7:30—Beta Theta Pi—Phi Epsilon Pi. Triangle—Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Sigma Phi Epsilon—Phi Gamma Delta. 8:15—Phi Kappa Sigma—Phi Kappa Psi. Phi Kappa Alpha—Delta Chi. 9:00—Sigma Nu—Phi Delta Theta. Sigma Chi—Phi Epsilon Kappa.

Olympic Committee Confirms Tokyo As Site of 1940 Games; Dates Changed

CAIRO, Egypt, March 16 (AP)—Defeating opposition from China on the one hand and the United States, Great Britain and France on the other, the international Olympic committee today confirmed Tokyo as site of the 1940 Olympic games and changed the dates to September 21 to October 6.

Japan's right to hold the games was upheld despite a proposal by the Chinese delegate, Dr. C. T. Wang, that the games not be held in any country at war. A communique from the I. O. C., said the proposal did not come to a vote. The communique stated that in view of the Olympic charter and assurances Tokyo was able to prepare for the games, the I. O. C. was "unable to consider" the request to hold the games elsewhere.

The change in the dates, originally set for Aug. 25 to Sept. 8, was regarded as a serious blow

Injuries Prove Big Handicap For Iowa Ace

Milwaukee Athlete Has Good High School Record

Adam Vogel, sophomore all-around man, was chosen captain of the next year's University of Iowa gymnastic squad by his team-mates yesterday afternoon. Vogel, a Milwaukee product, came to the Hawkeye institution after starting in gymnastics for West Division high school in his home town. His school held the city championship for two of the three years in which he performed. Vogel was high point man during his team's two successful seasons. He took up fencing but later dropped it to concentrate on his favorite sport, gymnastics.

The first of the series of tough breaks which he has suffered in his athletic career at Iowa occurred when he dislocated several bones in his foot while doing a difficult trick on the high bar during his freshman year. In spite of the injury, Adam continued to work at his chosen sport.

Came his sophomore year and Vogel seemed about to fulfill predictions of becoming the star that he actually is. In the triangular meet against Minnesota and Nebraska at the start of the season, Vogel was high point man while competing in four events. Then disaster again overtook him in the dual match at Illinois and he tore his hand in the first event. He courageously went through the other three events in which he was entered but to no avail. The handicap was too much for him in competing against the classy Illinois stars, Edwards and Giallombardo.

During the first work-out after the ill-fated Illinois meet, Vogel fell and injured his shoulder while working on the bars. This mishap was sufficient to keep him out for the rest of the season and the team struggled through the remainder of the stiff schedule minus his valuable and much-needed assistance.

University of Iowa teams will take the high road and Hawkeye sports fans will take the low road in April for the home schedule contains less than four contests. About all the fans will know will be what they read in the papers.

The baseball team will play 14 straight games away from home before it meets Michigan State April 29 and 30 on the local diamond. There are no home track or golf meets and the tennis team probably will play only one or two small non-conference foes.

In May, the situation for the home fans will be reversed, for the total of 11 contests is a month's record for the year, exceeding February's 10.

Golden Gloves Go East CHICAGO (AP)—Thirty-one Chicago Golden Gloves boxers were en route east last night for the annual inter-city bouts with the New York champions Monday night in Madison Square Garden.

Frosh Gridster Suffers Injury

Strom Fractures Wrist While Working On Parallel Bars

Phil Strom of Ft. Dodge, one of the more promising line candidates of Coach Pat Boland of the University of Iowa football coaching staff, fractured a wrist while working out on the parallel bars during a gym class yesterday and will be unable to workout during the remainder of the spring season.

This is the third injury that has struck at the ranks of the freshman squad which has been drilling for several weeks at the fieldhouse. Warren Jung of Davenport, another promising freshman, and Bruno Andruska, a Chicago product, are the other two men that have been incapacitated for the remainder of the spring drill season because of untimely injuries.

Andruska's loss is especially felt since Line Coach Pat Boland has been grooming him as a candidate for the center position vacated by Dick Anderson, stalwart veteran lost by graduation. Anderson's defensive strength in backing up the line will be sorely missed next fall, and Andruska had shown some promise of filling Anderson's shoes. Andruska's injury consists of a compound fracture and dislocation of a finger.

Strom's absence from spring practice further complicates the tackle problem that confronts the Hawkeye coaches. Wilbur Nead and big Henry Luebeck, sophomore who suffered a broken ankle after the first game of the 1937 season, will probably return, and Jim Kelley, a veteran of the Oesie Solem era, has also come back to school, but more than three tackles are needed for a gruelling Big Ten season.

Surprise Decision To Prove Great Loss For Team

Little Arnie Christen, great Hawkeye diving stylist, made one of the toughest decisions possible yesterday when he asked that his name be withdrawn from further consideration as a possible entry in the national swimming championships to be held at Rutgers university, New Brunswick, N. J., a week from tomorrow.

The nature of his studies, chemical engineering, is such as to demand his presence at each class period if he is to complete them successfully, and inasmuch as he is graduating in June, he thought it best to hand in his suit and bring to an end a collegiate swimming career that has been a brilliant one indeed.

His decision came after several days of pondering, and although not entirely unexpected, was somewhat of a surprise.

Absence Hurts Team

That his absence will be felt by the Old Gold crew goes without saying. Arnie didn't win them all, but he was never outclassed and never admitted defeat until the final returns were in. He provided many thrills for swim fans all over the Big 10 circuit and seemed to possess the certain something that captured the hearts of the fans, whether at home or in the field.

His superb exhibition in the Big 10 meet last week in Chicago was perhaps the greatest in his career, although he finished third behind Patrick and Capt. Jim Patterson, of Ohio State, who, so it seemed to a good portion of the crowd, got none the worst of it in the judge's final decision.

Finishing third, however, was no mean task when the caliber of the competition is taken into consideration. Patrick, who placed first, is the A.A.U. high and low board champion as well. Jim Patterson, who placed second, was the defending Big 10 champ, and in addition, holds the national collegiate championship on the high and low boards.

Arnie tendered winnings yesterday at a rather tender age by copping the Indiana high school diving championship while attending Hammond high, in Hammond, Ind.

In collegiate circles, he has rated all-American ranking in each year of competition. This year, in dual meets, he bowed to no man, copping first place in every start.

In the last Dolphin show, he displayed enough clowning ability to keep the crowd in a continuous uproar. His laugh-provoking antics will long remain in the minds of the spectators, a constant reminder of his versatility.

The little fellow will be missed and it will be a long time before he is forgotten.

Owls Win Temple Outclasses Colorado, 60-36

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—Temple's high geared basketball team, champion of the Eastern Intercollegiate conference, tonight won the national invitation tournament with a 60-36 victory over Colorado university at Madison Square Garden.

A crowd of 14,500 saw the giant Temple five completely outclass the co-champions of the Big Seven conference after Oklahoma A. and M. had whipped New York university, 37 to 24, in the consolation game.

Mixing a deadly short game with a long style that was almost as effective, the easterners jumped into a 10-1 lead in the first five minutes, built up a 33-18 advantage at the half-time and then widened the margin in a last half scoring spree.

The Owls' effective zone defense had "Whizzer" White of all-America football fame and his teammates bottled up. White himself connected with five field goals but none of his mates were able to match the whizzer's performance from the floor.

Giants Win Again LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—The New York Giants stretched their Grapefruit league winning streak to six straight yesterday, walloping their Jersey City farmhands 11 to 4.

Women Elect Mueller, Stanley

Third Election Declared Void; To Vote Again

Doubt in Membership Status Arises In Y.W.C.A. Poll

The women on the campus elected Barbara Mueller, A3 of Davenport, president of University Women's association in a university-wide poll at Iowa Union yesterday. Members of Women's Athletic association elected Kathryn Stanley, A3 of Oskaloosa, to the office of president of that organization in a similar poll.

Because of a doubt which arose as to the Y.W.C.A. membership of a number of voters in that organization's election at the same time and place, and because the results of the voting were close enough to make the doubt appreciable, another election will take place.

Mildred Maplethorpe, A3 of Toledo, president of Y.W.C.A., has announced that the election will be within the next week.

Harriet Ludens, A3 of Morrison, Ill., was elected vice-president of U.W.A.; Betty Holt, A3 of Iowa City, secretary; Genevieve McCulloch, A2 of Cedar Rapids, treasurer; and Margaret Kuttler, A1 of Davenport, freshman representative. Eulalia Klingbeil of Postville and Ruth Subotnik of Cedar Rapids, both A2 and Annabelle Hinkle, A1 of Valparaiso, Ind., were also on the ballot.

Other officers in W.A.A. include Charline Saggau, A2 of Denison, vice-president; Katherine Pesek, A3 of Cedar Rapids, secretary, and Isabelle Armstrong, A2 of Hutchinson, Kan., treasurer. Leane Morgan, A2 of Norwalk, Jane Norman, A3 of Keokuk, Marion Whinnery, A3 of Iowa City, and Carol Dunger, A1 of Aurora, Ill., are the defeated candidates.

The candidates for Y.W.C.A. offices are Annabel Anderson, A3 of Cedar Rapids, and Nancy Patton, A3 of Davenport, president; Lucile Mullen, A2 of Davenport, and Mary Margaret Schwab, A2 of Winchester, Ill., secretary; Jane Hart, A3 of Des Moines, and Phyllis Wassam, A3 of Iowa City, treasurer.

Regent Announces Conference Plans to City D. A. R. Members

Will Meet in Cedar Rapids for Four Days During Next Week; Registration Will Begin Thursday at 9 A.M.

The program for the state Daughters of the American Revolution conference in Cedar Rapids next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday has been announced to Iowa City members by E. Belle Durant, local D. A. R. regent. All sessions of the conference will be at the Roosevelt hotel in Cedar Rapids. An Iowa City delegation will be present.

At 7:30 p.m. Wednesday the state officers will meet in executive meeting.

Thursday at 9 a.m. registration will begin and at 10:30 a.m. the color bearers will meet for practice. Instruction for pages will begin at 11 a.m. At noon Thursday a luncheon honoring the executive board will be given by the four D. A. R. chapters of Linn county.

The board of management will meet at 1:30 p.m. All those interested in the board have been invited to attend this session.

Memorial Hour
The state conference will convene at 2 p.m. A memorial hour will start at 4:30 p.m. and at 6 p.m. a dinner will be given for the Daughters of 1812, D. A. R. and D. S. P. A.

Thursday evening will be guest night. Mrs. Vinton Earl Sisson, chairman of national defense, will speak at 8:15 p.m. on "The Road to Peace."

The conference activities Friday will begin with a "good morning" breakfast from 7 to 8:30 a.m. A round-table discussion at 9 a.m., with the state historian, state registrar and state treasurer present, will be concerned with the Junior group.

Mrs. C. Harve Geiger will speak on "Early American Furniture" at 9:30 a.m.

The general conference will convene at 9:45 a.m. Mrs. Sisson will lead a round-table discussion on "National Defense" at 10 a.m. A luncheon for past officers will be at noon.

General Reports
General reports will be given at 1:30 p.m. Attorney George E. Farmer of Cedar Rapids will address the conference on "History of the Pledge of Allegiance" at the afternoon session.

An informal tea for guests will be at 4 p.m. At the banquet at 7 p.m. Mrs. William A. Becker, president-general, will speak on "Youth."

The winner of the good citizenship pilgrimage contest and Vivian Freeman, Tamassee scholar, will be presented at the banquet.

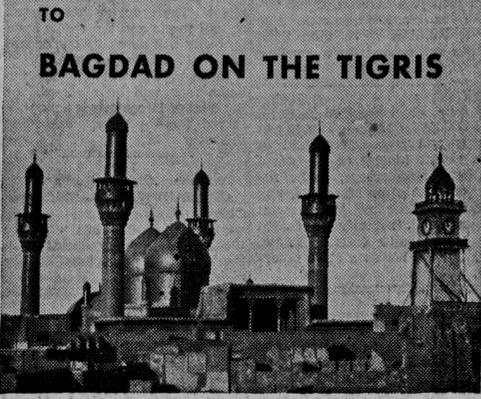

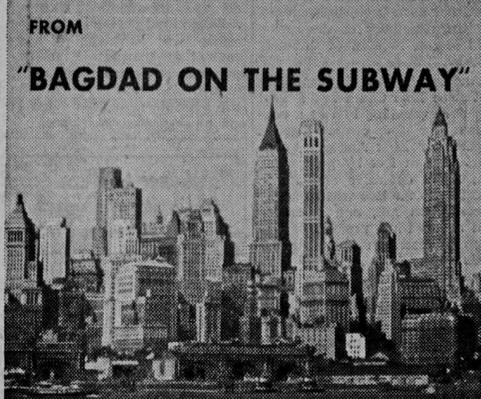

Breakfast for All
The breakfast at 8:30 a.m. Saturday will be open to all delegates. The Junior assembly will meet with Mrs. William H. Pouch, national chairman, at 9:30 a.m. The Junior group will report to the state conference. Mayflower chapter, D. A. R., of Cedar Rapids will give a demonstration of its toy library at this time.

Election of officers will begin at 11:30 a.m. and the conference will adjourn about 4 p.m.

The Cedar Rapids Interurban company will furnish a special car to go to Cedar Rapids and return to Iowa City at a special rate if 40 members of D. A. R. wish to make accommodations. Miss Durant has announced.

Prof. Godeke Speaks

Prof. H. L. Godeke of the college of engineering spoke on "Modern Trends in Diesel Engines" at a luncheon-meeting of the engineering faculty club yesterday noon.

From Paris Artists to Iowa

Fine Arts Party Takes the 'Bohemian Era' Of France as This Year's Theme

From the left bank of the Seine to the left bank of the Iowa! This is the idea behind the second annual Beaux Arts Ball being organized by the students in the three departments of the school of fine arts. The party will be in the main lounge of the fine arts building March 26 with Vette Kell and his orchestra furnishing the music.

In contrast to last year's Surrealist party, the 1938 version gets its theme from the "Bohemian Era" in Paris. In the 90's a community of artists and writers gathered in the Latin Quarter. They lived and starved in the garrets, defying the conventions of the rest of the world. They spent hours arguing in the cafes and occasionally produced a bit of art and literature.

That rebellious spirit will characterize the atmosphere at The Bohemian Ball. Decorations will be a satire on those artists who were thumbing their noses at respectable society 40 years ago. Satirical "murals" now being made by members of the art guild will line the walls of the lounge which

Winning Window Display

Boerner's pharmacy window display for the week of Oct. 17 has been chosen one of the 12 best in the United States by the national pharmacy week window display committee of the American Pharmaceutical association.

Boerner's Window Display Selected As One of Twelve Best in United States

Boerner's pharmacy window display for the week of Oct. 17 has been chosen one of the 12 best in the United States by the national pharmacy week window display committee of the American Pharmaceutical association.

The week of Oct. 17 was designated as National Pharmacy week when pharmacies in the United States sent in photographs of a specially planned window display. Edward S. Rose, who was graduated from the college of pharmacy here in 1904, was in charge of the display.

In 1935 Boerner's pharmacy placed one of the 10 best in the United States, and in 1935 and 1937 was awarded first place in Iowa.

The theme of this year's display was built around the statement "Confidence in American Pharmacy Because of High Standards."

Fifty official preparations from the two standard books, "The United States Pharmacopoeia" and "National Formulary" were placed on each side of the poster. A representative library a druggist should have was also included in the window display.

Other new books are "Action at Aquila" Hervey Allen; "Tale of Ball" Vicki Baum; "The Story of Tunnels" Archibald Black; "Camera Around the World," Heyworth Campbell; "Attractive Clothes," Frances H. Consalus; "From Anne to Victoria," Bonamy Dobree; "The World in Maps," W. W. Jervis.

"Morocco as a French Economic Venture," Melvin M. Knight; "Correspondent in Spain," H. Edward Knoblauch; "The Public Assistance Worker," Russell H. Kurtz; "Joseph in Egypt," Thomas

Miller to Talk To Conference

Meeting Sponsored By IERA for New Workers

A. G. Miller, supervisor of selection for the Iowa CCC, and F. L. Huller, supervisor of surplus commodities division of the IERA, will address members of the orientation conference for new Iowa emergency relief workers today. The conference, which began Monday, will last for two weeks.

Mr. Miller's talk, "Civilian Conservation Corps," will deal with the CCC from the standpoint of its social service work for young men on relief. Mr. Huller will talk on "Surplus Commodities," discussing the economic policies underlying the distribution of surplus commodities to families on relief.

Tomorrow Lydia Montgomery, nutrition adviser for the IERA, and K. D. Casey, state supervisor of insurance for the IERA, will address the conference.

In her talk on "Nutrition and Budgeting" Miss Montgomery will emphasize the insurance of minimum nutrition needs on relief allowances. Miss Casey will discuss "Insurance Service and Procedures."

The purpose of the conference, sponsored by the IERA, is to acquaint new social workers and case aides with the problems of the IERA and related fields.

Sunnyside Sewer Project Will Go to State for Approval

Gartzke Says Local Council Will Act Soon

Believes Cost to City Only $11,000 With WPA Help

Plans for the proposed $20,000 Sunnyside sewer project will be sent to the state department of health for approval within the next few days, City Engineer Fred Gartzke said yesterday.

Gartzke said he expected the city council to consider the feasibility of the project at an early meeting. Several taxpayers from the Sunnyside area appeared before the council recently and said the sewer was "necessary."

Gartzke said the cost to the city could be reduced to approximately $11,000, if aid from WPA was obtained by the city council.

If the city council approves the project, financial aid from WPA will probably be requested.

It is required to send plans of proposed sewer projects to the state health department before submitting them for municipal approval.

Society Elects Dean Stoddard

Child Welfare Director Made New Head Of Sigma Xi

Dean George D. Stoddard of the graduate college, director of the Child Welfare Research station, was elected president of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific research society, at a meeting of the society last night.

Other officers elected were Prof. E. W. Chittenden, the mathematics department, vice-president; Dr. W. F. Mengert of the college of medicine, secretary, and Prof. H. W. Beams of the zoology department, treasurer.

Ten representatives were also elected from the departments concerned to serve as a nominating committee for the fraternity.

Those elected were W. A. Anderson of the botany department; Prof. W. G. Eversole of the chemistry department; Dean George D. Stoddard, director of the Child Welfare Research station and dean of the graduate college; Prof. H. O. Croft, head of mechanical engineering department.

Prof. A. K. Miller of the geology department; Professor Chittenden of the mathematics department; Dr. Mengert of the college of medicine; Prof. E. P. T. Tyndall of the physics department; Don Lewis of the psychology department, and Professor Beams of the zoology department.

Blarney Stone Will Arrive

Engineering Students Will Welcome Rock Of Health, Happiness

The Blarney stone, the symbolic stone of health and happiness, that was formerly included in the ceremonies of the college of engineering, will arrive at 3:18 this afternoon.

The German band, a horse and buggy escort, and a large representative body of the engineers will be down at the station to welcome the stone which has not been used here for 26 years.

A representative student from the college of engineering was sent to Chicago to bring the stone back here. The stone will be taken to the engineering building and will be used in the ceremonies at the smoker tonight.

The main feature of the smoker will be the selection of the 1938 Mecca queen from the six final candidates. Her identity, however, will be kept secret until the Mecca Ball tomorrow night.

The six candidates eligible to reign as queen are Betty Garland, A3 of Oskaloosa; Margaret Walter, A3 of Carrolltown, Ill.; Harriet Ludens, A3 of Morrison, Ill.; Edith Leahy, A3 of Fort Washington, N. Y.; Roberta Miller, A2 of Waterloo, and Maxine Shay, A3 of Maloy.

Corinth Lodge No. 24 of the Knights of Pythias will have a business meeting in the K. P. hall this evening at 7:30.

Campus Adopts Religion Week

Program for Next Fall Passed Yesterday By Committee

A proposal for a religious emphasis week to be held on the campus next fall was accepted yesterday afternoon by a committee of faculty members and students who met with Dr. Jesse Bader of New York, member of the federal council of churches.

Dr. Bader explained the plan which will bring men and women of national and international fame to the campus to lead discussions with student groups and speak on many religious subjects.

The program for the week will include convocations, individual conferences with students, discussion groups at sororities and fraternities and social functions.

A nominating committee elected to suggest members for the general committee in charge of the program for the week includes Prof. M. Willard Lampe and William H. Morgan, both of the school of religion; The Rev. Edwin Voigt of the Methodist church, Mildred Maplethorpe, A3 of Toledo, and Hillis Hauser, A3 of Marshalltown.

The movement is sponsored by a national university mission committee composed of members of five national organizations, Y.W.C.A., Y.M.C.A., the student voluntary movement, the council of church boards of education and the federal council of churches.

Religious emphasis weeks have been held this year at Ohio State university, the University of North Carolina and the University of Wisconsin.

Motorist Fined By J. M. Kadlec

Vermace Is Ordered To Produce Plates, Take Test

Frank Vermace, route 5, was fined $10 and costs for driving without a driver's license and operating a car equipped with delinquent license plates, in Justice of the Peace J. M. Kadlec's court yesterday. He had been brought in by Highway Patrolman E. W. Cummings.

Kadlec suspended the fine on condition Vermace produce new license plates and take his driver's test within a week.

1937 license plates expired Monday and all highway patrolmen have been instructed to stop motorists having old plates on their cars, Kadlec said.

Charles A. Iseli and Cecil Alberhasky, both of Iowa City, have been ordered to appear before Kadlec to answer charges of delinquent licenses.

Both were stopped by Highway Patrolman Richard Hohl yesterday.

Iowa City's Moisture Is Above Normal

Precipitation in Iowa City since the first of the year has totaled 4.6 inches—almost an inch above normal, the hydraulics laboratory reported yesterday.

During the first 16 days of March, there was 1.86 inches of rain. This is greater than January or February totals.

This year's 4.6 inches is two inches below the 6.61 inches reported at this time last year, however. More than four inches of rain fell during January, 1937, while only 1.59 inches were recorded in January this year.

A total of 1.15 inches of rain fell during February, as compared to 2.1 inches during the same month last year. Only .39 inches of rain fell during March last year.

Scarlet Fever Causes Scare In Horace Mann School District

1 Family Quarantined, 12 Pupils Isolated At Home

One family is under quarantine, 12 school pupils are isolated at home, and children in rooms 5-A and 1-B of Horace Mann school are being given daily inspections by Public School Nurse Margaret Cannon, as a result of a scarlet fever scare in the Horace Mann neighborhood.

Dr. E. W. Paulus, city physician, has quarantined the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nova Burnett, 1129 E. Church street, where their daughter, Joan, has scarlet fever. Joan is 12 years old and a pupil in grade 5-B in the Horace Mann school. A sister Betty and a brother Donald also attend the school.

Twelve children who are known to have played with the Burnett children over the week end were dismissed from school to be held under observation at home, in order to avert any possibility of an epidemic breaking out in the school, Willis P. Porter, principal of Horace Mann school, said.

Daily inspection of all pupils in the rooms attended by the Burnett children was undertaken by the school nurse in order to learn at once if more cases are imminent. No new cases had been reported last night.

City Physician Paulus directed attention to the state and local laws requiring immediate reporting of communicable diseases to health officials. This must be

Charles C. Fieseler Elected Exalted Ruler of Elks Lodge

Will Succeed Gus Pusateri In Lodge Post

Newly-Chosen Officers Will Be Installed April 6

Charles C. Fieseler was elected last night to succeed Gus A. Pusateri as exalted ruler of the Iowa City Elks lodge.

Ray Justen succeeds Fieseler as esteemed leading knight, Norwood C. Louis became esteemed loyal knight to replace Justen, and Attorney Burke N. Carson was named esteemed lecturing knight to succeed Louis.

M. E. Taylor was reelected secretary, and Delmer Sample replaces Attorney H. W. Westmark as treasurer. Irving J. Barron was named trustee for three years and Louis L. Kenyon became tiler. Officers will be installed April 6.

Eleven candidates were initiated at last night's meeting. They were William M. Edwards, Edwin B. Green, W. T. Hageboeck, LeRoy Hanson, Ray L. Kauffman, Paul J. Kelleher, Ernest C. Kuenzel, E. J. Liechty, G. B. Pearson, Adam W. Sheetz and Charles F. Smith.

The Keokuk degree staff conducted the initiatory ceremony, with Dale E. Carrell, editor of the Keokuk Gate City, acting as exalted ruler. Other members of the degree staff were J. W. Winger Jr., R. J. Connable, Scott D. Brumback, G. E. Off, W. R. Kinamon, Frank Loewenstein, H. C. Phillips and Dr. Charles R. Logan.

Carrell was affiliated with Iowa City newspapers from 1904 to 1922, and is a past exalted ruler of the local Elks lodge.

It was voted to send a drum corps to the state convention of

Iowa Citizens Celebrate St. Patrick's Day With Green Clothes, Food, Decorations

Iowa Citizens will not only wear "a bit of green" today, but they will eat something green to celebrate St. Patrick's day!

One Iowa City housewife said she will prepare green mashed potatoes, green bread and green cake for a St. Patrick's day dinner. Others said they will use food coloring or green vegetables in preparing an "appropriate" meal. Local groceries and bakeries report that many Iowa Citizens have inquired about the preparation of "green foods."

Local stores are emphasizing green in clothes at this time. Many salespeople say that because Easter comes so late in the season this year, St. Patrick's day may have to take its place as far as the matter of spring clothes is concerned, regardless of the weather.

In addition to appropriate clothes and food for the occasion, flowers have suddenly increased in popularity, florists report. St. Patrick's day greeting cards are now more popular than formerly. All types of humorous and sentimental cards for the occasion are now available.

Most popular of all the St. Patrick's day "green things" is the shamrock, of various sizes and materials. If an Iowa Citizen does nothing other than wear a small shamrock today, he is celebrating St. Patrick's day.

AROUND THE TOWN With TOM JOHNSON

Dale Carrell, an Iowa City newspaperman between 1904 and 1922, and an exalted ruler of the Iowa City Elks lodge in 1916, returned here last night for a visit. He acted as exalted ruler at the initiatory ceremony for a class of candidates at the Elks club last night.

Carrell, editor of the Keokuk Gate City, told of some of the changes in newspaper work since he started in as a reporter.

Teletypes, electric printers, now carry the news for press associations twice as fast as the old telegraphs did. Consequently, many telegraph operators lost their newspaper jobs when the teletypes were installed, he said.

Carrell cited the case of an operator who had only one more year to serve for a pension, but was displaced by the new automatic printers.

Editors tried to work the operator into the new system, but it was impossible. So, now he's rounding out his days as a proof-reader.

Carrell was a sports editor during "the days" when Iowa football teams were contenders for western and national honors. "Back in '21, when Jones was here," as Carrell put it.

Jottings: Iowa newspapers came through the depression in fairly good shape. . . . College graduates have better chances to get newspaper jobs than ever before. . . . Cargo is increasing on the Mississippi river boats. . . . The European situation: "It looks bad."

St. Patrick's Day Today being St. Patrick's day, I'll start the morning by searching for my bright green tie. It's worn only once a year — on this day. To preserve the tradition, I hope I find it. . . .

Fair Warning Those who tuned in on Tommy Dorsey's program on the NBC Red network at 7:30 p.m. yesterday were slightly surprised when it was announced the band would play "Annie Laurie" as a swing tune. It had been cut off last week when the Dorsey outfit played the same tune — with swing. A Detroit station which carried the program on a sustaining basis must have believed it would offend Canadian listeners. You can't deny the fact that many of the tunes your grandparents dance and jigged to had plenty of swing, or at least the Victorian equivalent of it. . . .

Rev. Jones To Continue Services

The Rev. Iliot T. Jones will continue the series of pre-Easter services on "The Sermon on the Mount" at 7:15 this evening in the First Presbyterian church. Dwight Agnew, G of Delta, Colo., will sing several selections. He will be accompanied on the piano by Mrs. William Huey.

Gaffney Issues Enjoining Writ

Restrains Iowa Citizens From Suit Outside Of State

A temporary writ of injunction which restrains two Iowa citizens, William Haigh and Marie Gross, from suing the White Line Motor Freight company in any state but Iowa, was issued yesterday by Judge James P. Gaffney.

Haigh and Miss Gross have filed suit in the superior court of Cook county, Ill., each asking for $25,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received in a car-truck accident Oct. 24, 1937, near Atalissa.

The company maintains in its petition for the injunction that it is a resident of Iowa. The accident happened in Muscatine county, adjacent to Johnson county, and Haigh and Miss Gross are residents of Iowa City.

Because of this, the petition claimed the suit should be instituted in this county to have proper jurisdiction and to prevent excessive costs which would arise from having the trial 230 miles from the scene of the accident.

Workers Surface Four, One-Quarter Miles in February

During February, WPA workers surfaced four and one-quarter miles of county trunk roads with rock from the Solon quarry, according to R. H. Justen, county engineer.

Four miles of county trunk road L, extending east from Solon, and one-quarter mile of the Lake Macbride-Solon road were improved. More than 1,465 cubic yards of rock were used, the engineer said. Workers also quarried 418 cubic yards, to be placed in reserve. About 27 men have been working on the quarrying and surfacing project.

Second and third places were taken by Edgar Hicks, speaking on "The United States' New Armament Program," and Charles Beckman speaking on Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek.

Other speakers and their topics were Howard Hines, "Shall the United States Boycott Japan?"; Marilyn Glassman, "United States' Neutrality Act and Possible Japanese Entanglements"; John McGreevey, "What Chance Have the Spanish Insurgents?"; and Dorothy Smith, "The Anti-lynching Bill Filibuster."
