

Mexican Oil Workers Return To Work Under Government Seizure of Petroleum Industry

American Organizations Plan for Attack On Cardenas' Decree

MEXICO CITY, March 19 (AP)—Mexico's oil workers went back to work late today "to collaborate with the government" in operated the nation's expropriated $400,000,000 oil industry.

The workers ended a short "folded arms" strike as 17 American and other foreign owned companies whose property was taken over by the government mapped a legal attack on President Lazaro Cardenas' expropriation decree.

A widening economic crisis faced the government as a result of the extension of its "Mexico for Mexicans" policy.

New labor difficulties brought the possibility national expropriation might be extended to include the equally important mining industries of Mexico.

Financial paralysis followed the dramatic turn in Mexico's long-smoldering oil industry dispute. The Central Bank of Mexico suspended all dealing in foreign exchange, and all Mexico City banks followed suit.

President Cardenas indicated devaluation of the peso was considered and called on congress to appropriate funds to finance the government's newly acquired properties.

Spokesmen for the dispossessed oil companies said they planned an appeal to a district court for an injunction against the expropriation decree and an ultimate appeal to the supreme court against the constitutionality of the 1936 law on which the president based his action.

Most oil officials were frankly skeptical of being able to obtain help from the courts, however.

Foreign observers believed the president's action was attributable as much to his "Mexico for Mexicans" policy as to the exigencies of the conflict with the foreign-dominated oil industry.

United States Ambassador Joseph Daniels hinted at that view in a statement.

Group Uses an Original Play Written By Mrs. Martin

The Iowa City Woman's club cast which presented "The Inner Light" in the class C division of original plays was awarded "superior" by Mrs. Sara Sherman Pryor, director of drama at Grinnell college, critic judge, last night as the annual Iowa play production festival for community and junior college groups ended.

"The Inner Light" is an original play written by Mrs. Grace Martin, 422 Grant street. Mrs. Pryor awarded the Iowa City group two superior ratings, one on the basis of performance, and the other on the merits of the play itself. Besides writing the play, Mrs. Martin also was a member of the cast and director.

Individual acting awards in class C went to Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Harry Segar and Mrs. E. T. Hubbard, all of Iowa City.

In the class A community competition the Marshalltown community theater was the only group to win "superior," with the presentation of "Pink and Patches."

The Davenport Friendly House Masquers who gave "Not Not the Russians" and the Council Bluffs players with "The Rising of the Moon" were given awards of "excellent."

Awards for superior individual acting in class A were given to Marjorie Ahrens, Arlie Wilson and Mrs. C. H. McMahon, all of Robert Wormhoudt of the Council Bluffs cast.

Yesterday afternoon the Mason City junior college cast was awarded superior rating in the junior college division on its performance of "Gallows Gate."

The Chariton junior college players and the Creston junior college cast both won excellent awards.

Individual honors were awarded to Yvonne McGrane and Donald Sobieski of Mason City, Louise Van Dyke of Chariton and Priscilla Lyon of Creston.

Traditional Battle Ends In 9 Arrests

MADISON, Wis., March 19 (AP)—Nine persons were taken into custody after the annual St. Pat's parade here today during which several thousand University of Wisconsin students clashed in a traditional battle with rotten eggs, mud, fish and plain garden variety of garbage providing the principal weapons. Six of the nine later were released and the others were ordered to appear in court Monday on disorderly conduct charges.

Onlookers in the crowded streets of the business and campus sections, as well as police called out to preserve order, were pelted with mud and smelly missiles as the parade of engineering students passed.

Amendment To Constitution Is Asked by Bar

New York Association Seeks to Stabilize Supreme Court

NEW YORK, March 19 (AP)—A drive to amend the United States constitution to guarantee the future independence of the supreme court was pressed today by an influential unit of the American bar.

The federal legislation committee of the New York City Bar association, in a communication to the judiciary committees of both houses of congress, asked these three things:

1. Constitutional amendment definitely setting the number of justices at the present figure, nine.
2. Another amendment making retirement of justices mandatory at a set age, preferably "not less than 75" years.
3. Adoption of a law creating an independent agency to handle the court finances, which now go through the department of justice, an administrative branch of the executive arm of the government.

Action should be taken now, the bar committee report which accompanied the communication said, so that the problem "can be considered calmly on its merits, free from the confusion and controversy" which attended President Roosevelt's sudden court reform campaign of 1937.

Roosevelt's effort was characterized by the report as an attempt "to bring about retirements by other methods intended to be quick but appraised by the people as dangerous."

Behind the committee report was the full power of the bar of the nation's largest city—4,200 lawyers.

The report pointed out that establishment of a specific number of supreme court justices would fill an omission that has been in the constitution ever since that document was written and would also prevent any president from pushing through congress a court enlargement scheme such as the president attempted unsuccessfully last year.

"Putting the matter beyond the reach of congress," the report said, "is one of the surest protections against 'packing' schemes."

"We urge the submission and favor the adoption of an amendment to fix the number at nine."

Seadlund Set To Die April 19

CHICAGO, March 19 (AP)—Attorneys for kidnaper John Henry Seadlund challenged the constitutionality of the Lindbergh law today in a notice of appeal filed 10 minutes after he was sentenced to die in the electric chair on April 19.

Their action, producing an automatic stay of execution, gave Seadlund at least until May 19 to live because Federal Judge John P. Barnes granted the court-appointed lawyers, Floyd E. Thompson and Frederick Burnham, 60 days to perfect the appeal.

Seadlund pleaded guilty to the $50,000 ransom abduction of Charles S. Ross, 72, Chicago businessman, last Sept. 25. Ross and Seadlund's confederate, James Atwood Gray, were slain at the kidnaper's cave hideout near Spooner, Wis.

New Nazi Technique Revealed in Austrian Occupation

By EDWIN SHANKE

BERLIN, March 19 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's occupation of Austria last week revealed the nazis' new war technique in quick movement of troops by land and air to blanket strategic points in a few hours.

Great militant significance was seen in the workman-like demonstration of ability to transport infantrymen swiftly by plane.

It showed modern armies could eliminate tiring and difficult overland marches. The Austrian coup also illustrated other advances of the German war machine on the march for the first time since the World war.

An uneasy world watched Germany move her frontiers within 48 hours to the borders of Yugoslavia, Italy, Hungary and further encirclement of Czechoslovakia.

Military Picture

Apparently troops of the 7th and 13th army corps were sent into Austria. They are part of the 14 corps known to be in the army which the former World war corporal, Adolf Hitler, has built from a force of 100,000 men to a powerful military machine estimated at 850,000 men.

Estimates here said 50,000 German troops were in Austria. Other estimates said there were 100,000.

They entered as conquering heroes without a shot being fired, yet they realized it was the mere threat of their power which made possible the unopposed advance.

16,000 Regular Police

Supplementing this first armed force to step outside Germany since the World war were 16,000 regular police in addition to nazi storm troop units.

Though military observers watched the troop concentrations and movements with intense interest they were not inclined to regard the activity as a rigid test of the army.

They felt there were too many heroics, too much strewing of flowers in the paths of rumbling tanks, too much exuberance and comradesly spirit for a coldly detached military examination.

Technical details, too, had been hidden in the traditional army secrecy and no picture of the scope of the movements was available from official sources.

The interest of military men centered on the apparent discard of old methods of heavy troop concentrations all along the border in favor of swift fanning out from strategically located garrisons.

Significance was attached to that departure as well as the use of planes which showed that Germany was prepared to do in fast soldier transportation.

Two hundred JU52 tri-motored transport planes, which normally carry 18 passengers but which probably had 12 to 15 soldiers aboard with machine-guns and munitions, were counted at Vienna's Aspern airport at one time.

Example of Speed

This is an example of their speed.

Troops of the Berlin garrison had moved into southern Germany March 11. One squadron of JU52 transports took off for Vienna at 9:30 a.m. March 12 from Fuestenfeldbruck, Upper Bavaria.

Shortly after 11 a.m. they landed in Vienna.

Anti-Jewish Riots Hit Poland

President Warns Poland Is Liable to Become Totalitarian to Quell Disorders

By WADE WERNER

WARSAW, Poland, March 19 (AP)—Polish statesmen, victorious over Lithuania, turned to a more urgent problem at home tonight after a wild day of anti-Jewish rioting in which two persons were killed and more than 100 injured.

The windows of hundreds of Jewish-owned shops were smashed and strong police guards encircled Warsaw's ghetto to prevent large crowds from invading it.

President Ignace Moscicki, in an address at a triumphant moment in Polish history, condemned the demonstration as "brutal" and warned that repeated disorders might compel Poland to become totalitarian to maintain discipline.

"I cannot hide my sorrow that so many people who used to stand behind the marshal," the president broadcast in a memorial address on the patron saint's day of the late Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, "are today obstacles to the realization of his aims."

"He who fails to understand our historic developments only creates confusion . . . from confusion and demagoguery cannot establish sound government. . . Chaos serves communism first of all."

What had been a spontaneous celebration of Lithuania's capitulation to a Polish ultimatum, turned into a fierce anti-Jewish demonstration.

Orators talking about Lithuania hardly could be heard above crowds shouting "Down with Jews!" and "To Madagascar with the Jews!"

Hitler Demands Abandonment Of Russo-Czechoslovakian Link

Czechs Demonstrate No Indication Of Complying

PRAHA, March 19 (AP)—Adolf Hitler was said by diplomatic sources today to have demanded that Czechoslovakia abandon her military alliance with Soviet Russia—but the Czech government showed no indication it would comply.

Hitler's demand was said to have constituted der Fuehrer's basic condition for talking terms with the little republic, now two-thirds surrounded by the expanded Reich.

Czechoslovakia's existence virtually rests on her alliances with Russia and France, apart from sturdy reliance on her own military resources.

The Russian alliance never has been extremely popular, and if Germany offers good compensation, political circles believe there might be some reorganization of Czech policy.

Hitler's long-expected move, said to have been made through diplomatic channels, came as the Czech government capitulated to another German demand.

By action of the cabinet council, the 3,500,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia were given a greater voice in the war-created republic's government. The move permits administration of German districts by German nationals.

Although the concession apparently would not satisfy completely the Czech Germans, headed by 39-year-old Konrad Henlein, it was evident Czech leaders were in the mood to compromise.

The haste with which they announced the administrative measure indicated that, although the Czech government insisted the measure was under preparation a long time, announcement at this time was significant.

The Henlein party has remained silent thus far, but Czech government circles do not expect Henlein to be satisfied with the steps already taken.

Lithuania Accepts Peace With Poland; Terminates Old Feud

Polish-Lithuania Dispute Brings New Trouble

In an effort to prevent Polish invasion of Lithuania, Europe's so-called democratic nations urged Poland to mediate its differences with the small Baltic nation and warned Lithuania they would not come to her aid. The matter came to a head following a border incident. The Polish government sent an ultimatum to Kaunas, the Lithuanian capital. While Polish troops, artillery and motorized units marched on to the Lithuanian border, Polish dictator, Marshal Smigly-Rydz, went to Vilna, trouble spot in the dispute. Among the demands made by Poland was the withdrawal of Lithuanian constitutional claims to Vilna as Lithuania's capital. While foreign ambassadors talked with Poland's foreign minister, Joseph Beck, in Warsaw, there were rumors that Germany was prepared to march into Memel, former German city now Lithuanian, if Poland invaded Lithuania.

Soldier's Death Brings End To Armed Border

Diplomatic Relations To Be Established By End of Month

By The Associated Press

KAUNAS, Lithuania, March 19 (AP)—Lithuania surrendered in advance today to the Polish bayonets on her border, yielding angrily to Poland's ultimatum to prevent blood spilling.

Her parliament in a special session, heard the government announce it already had been "forced" to extend its unwilling hand in diplomatic "friendship." The decision was received in stony silence in parliament.

No Alternative
But the legislators had no alternative except to endorse the government's compliance with Poland's terms—an exchange of ministers by March 31 and re-establishment of rail, air, postal and other relations.

Lithuania's forced friendship ended a feud of 18 years in which neither country had diplomatic or other relations with the other. It started when Poland, Oct. 9, 1920, seized about one-third of Lithuania, including the city of Wilno, her historic capital.

Comes to Crisis
The issue came to a crisis after a Polish guard was killed March 11 on the armed frontier between the neighbors. Poland insisted border friction be ended and declared the only possible way was unconditional acceptance of her ultimatum.

A wave of bitterness spread through the little Baltic country in whose lap suddenly had been dumped her own and possibly Europe's peace. Despite government efforts to calm the nation and suppress demonstrations, the settlement increased bitter anti-Polish feeling.

Lithuanians generally believed they had been forced to choose between two evils. They regarded acceptance of the ultimatum as a surrender to Polish threats of invasion behind which lurked the greater menace of a German coup in Memel, Lithuania's seaport.

Reacts Favorably
(In Berlin, the German government reacted favorably to the Lithuanian capitulation. Indications were that Reichsfuehrer Hitler would "sit tight" awhile before attempting any new move.

(Before Poland's ultimatum was answered, it had appeared Germany would keep hands off Polish territorial aims if Poland would acquiesce in German seizure of Memel or the free city of Danzig.)

Lithuania's capitulation amounts to virtual admission that Wilno, which her constitution still claims as capital, is Polish.

Reported Ice Gorge Causes Concern In Dakota Flood Area

BISMARCK, N. D., March 19 (AP)—Reports of a new ice gorge forming south of here on the Missouri river complicated Bismarck's flood picture late today as steadily rising waters inundated hundreds of acres of bottomlands, forcing residents from their homes.

Rising slowly throughout the day, the river gauge showed 20.13 feet at 2:15 p.m. and the weather bureau predicted the crest would reach at least 22 feet tonight. Officials said the river was the highest since 1929 when 22.5 feet of water was measured and thousands of acres flooded.

Rebels March Almost to The Mediterranean

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish frontier), March 19 (AP)—Spanish insurgent vanguards today penetrated almost to the seaboard province of Castellon in their drive toward the Mediterranean.

They reported they still were encountering no great resistance from the government's troops. The speed of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's three main armies was reduced however, to prepare for a major thrust across the coastal Sierras which he was expected to launch shortly.

The day's actual fighting was limited to minor engagements between Franco's advance guards and the government rear guards.

Most insurgent activity was in mopping up operations in the vast territory taken during the past week, establishing communications and moving supplies up to the new front.

Insurgents said they had reached virtually to Castellone, about six miles from Castellon province which lies along the Mediterranean coast just north of Valencia.

The point of the wide angle wedge Franco's armies form in northeastern Spain is only 45 miles from the Mediterranean. It is aimed between Valencia and Barcelona, the government's main strongholds.

The right flank was based tonight just east of Raimundo on the road to Gandesa.

Cancer—A Modern Plague

THE DEATH of cancer of a 13-year old girl in an Iowa City hospital yesterday should give added local significance to the launching of a nation-wide spring drive by the American Society for the Control of Cancer and the Women's Field Army against that dread malady.

Cancer, as has been demonstrated repeatedly, may strike anyone in any age group. It is one of the strongest foes with which medical science has to cope.

Luckily enough, however, it derives the greater part of its strength from the lack of knowledge of its victims—ignorance which may in time be remedied.

Sponsored by the American Society for the Control of Cancer, the Women's Field Army within the last year has proved that proper educational methods may do much to reduce cancer mortality.

The purpose of the field army, to which 87 more Johnson county women have just been appointed as lieutenants, are simple.

As stressed in the second annual campaign beginning this spring they are:

1. To teach every man, woman and child in America that early cancer is curable and that the cancer mortality rate can be reduced.

2. To educate the people in cancer danger signals and teach them that any delay between the appearance of these signs and a visit to a doctor may be fatal.

3. To emphasize the importance of a complete annual examination by a god physician.

4. To interest citizens in all aspects of the cancer problem, including diagnosis, treatment, research and the needs of the under-privileged sufferers from the disease.

While science continues to use all its resources in attempts to discover the causes and cures for cancer, those who are wise will not wait for a scientific miracle but instead will remember the old proverb, "A stitch in time saves nine," and make definite, personal efforts to cooperate with cancer fighting agencies.

Such a program as that advanced by the Women's Field Army can do much to reduce cancer mortality in the nation to far below the 153,000 deaths in 1937.

Investing in Wildlife

IN RECENT months the public has been so deluged with all manner of special "weeks" that we suspect many a poor mortal has burned a joss stick in his secret heart, petitioning the gods of publicity for a brief respite.

In spite of this, we feel no hesitation in announcing today as the opening date of National Wildlife week, for the cause of wildlife is the concern of every red-blooded American.

And wildlife today is in desperate need of a champion.

Everywhere acquisitive man with his modern civilization has passed over virgin land like a flight of locusts, stripping the acres bare as he goes.

sufficient to transform a natural garden into a desert.

And there is no place for wildlife in such man-made wastes. Drained lakes and sewer-polluted rivers offer no habitat for fish. Small animals of the forest find neither food nor shelter among the blackened stumps of newly cleared land.

Former marshes, now beds of mud, offer no sanctuary for wild ducks and geese.

Within the last decade farmers have come to realize that in exploiting their land they were selling their birthright for a mess of pottage.

Sportsmen and nature lovers likewise hold that wild life is their birthright and demand that something be done to preserve it.

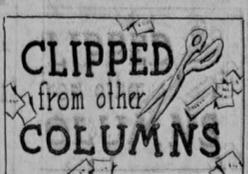

The mallard, teal, the heron and countless other wild creatures are the heritage of future generations and it is the obligation of nature lovers to make wildlife a permanent part of the American picture.

Only the "hunting crank," the "fishing fanatic" or the enthusiastic lover of nature can appreciate the full tragedy of future generations having to go to the zoo to see a beaver or to the aquarium to admire a mountain trout.

Others with less personal experiences will join sportsmen in desiring to preserve a portion of the frontier flavor which is so much a part of the American tradition.

In no sense are wildlife stamps, or other forms of conservation promotion, tickets to an immediate Nimrod's paradise.

The very principle of conservation demands self-denial and waiting. But these stamps that are being offered this week are an investment in wild life with dividends payable to future generations of Americans in terms of outdoor sport and enjoyment of nature.

INTERNATIONAL CENSORSHIP

THERE HAS been a rumor that the Fuehrer would include among the conditions of "appeasement" in the relations of Germany and Great Britain the discipline of the British press.

Herr Hitler seemed to lay the foundation for such a novel demand in his speech the other day in which he bitterly complained of foreign press report and comment.

No dictator or even would-be dictator likes the free newspaper. He suppresses or takes control of them as soon as possible or if he is in the would-be stage he abuses and threatens them.

Hitler, like his ally, Mussolini, and his rival dictator, Stalin, has what remains of the press completely in hand.

But none of them has yet been able to direct publicity outside of his realm. Foreign correspondents have been badgered, threatened, and sometimes expelled from Germany, Russia, and Italy.

Their messages have been censored and held up. But, even at the worst, the press in foreign lands could not be prevented from printing what it could get or for saying what it pleased.

Control of British publicity and comment in the interest of the Nazi regime would be a glittering prize. It is doubtful if even at a time when the arrogance of the dictatorships in Germany and Italy has seemed to thrive beyond expectation Hitler would put his wish in a belligerent form.

The British press is susceptible to government influence where foreign affairs are concerned and Hitler might well hope to bring about through timely pressure an amelioration of critical press comment and even the elimination of embarrassing news reports.

Indeed, the British government has already taken note of his point and it has been suggested to the English newspapers that they consider their responsibility and keep in mind the effect which provocative articles can have on foreign relations.

The foreign reporters in Germany have been a great freer than the German editors, and they have been freer in Germany than they have been in Italy.

Russia is a sealed country. Nothing comes from the land of the Soviets except what the dictators want to have sent out, and that in the form in which they want to send it.

Nearly all the news in Russia is suppressed and what gets out is merely Stalin's story and nothing else.

The possibilities of press censorship in international relations are an interesting subject of speculation. How far can the suppression of information which all the dictatorships have accomplished in their own countries be spread beyond their borders?

Tyranny cannot tolerate free knowledge or free thought. Free peoples that are expected to have relations with those that have given up freedom have a right to knowledge of the latter and a vital interest in it.

It is an essential to any tolerable communication or co-operation. It cannot be limited or manipulated if the welfare and security of free peoples are to be preserved.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It seems to me that the art galleries in New York are defeating their purpose in patterning themselves after funeral parlors.

When you walk into a haberdashery or real estate office you are practically overwhelmed with kindness and attention. They turn on the salesmanship, offer helpful little suggestions, and are so persuasive that you usually walk out with far more than you intended to buy.

You will find nothing approximating this in the art galleries in Manhattan. To me they seem gloomy, inhospitable and depressing. Nobody greets you or inquires after your wants. Nobody smiles. Nobody says, "Would you like to see 14th century portraits? They are in the left wing. Or perhaps you are interested in current pastels—they are on the floor above but I will be glad to show them to you."

Attendants: As a matter of fact, the only people you see besides a few visitors are a number of attendants, dressed in a sort of uniform and standing with their backs against great white marble pillars, lost in melancholy detachment. What their function is I do not know, being no mind-reader, but probably they are there to keep you from dropping live cigarette butts on the rugs or walking out with a Rembrandt concealed under your coat tails.

Recently, to verify an earlier opinion, I dropped by the Anderson galleries in 57th street, where most of the important galleries are situated. Here again was the same vague disinterestedness, nobody saying anything, solemn-faced guards staring moodily into space.

No Salesmen: For nearly half an hour I dallied amid old world treasures whose accumulated value would finance a Balkan kingdom. I had never been there before. Nobody knew that I wasn't a prospective buyer with money in my pocket to spend. Of course, the fact that I wanted a shave and wore the gaunt hungry look of a newspaperman might have had something to do with this indifference.

Nevertheless, after 30 minutes of tiptoeing around like a timid rabbit I got out of there without a single soul so much as saying, "Here's a snappy little van Gogh. Couldn't I wrap it up for you?"

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Life goes on more or less serenely in Hollywood and then, all of a sudden, there is somebody to whom Hollywood wants to attest its deathless affection.

Time was when messages of the sort could be conveyed simply. A goodly bonus, a nicely dictated letter, or a telegram of love, gratitude, and all that—and that would get over the idea.

No more. Nothing short of a testimonial banquet will do. That means Hollywood must drop what it's doing that evening, put on its glad rags, and assemble to do honor to One Who.

Joe Schenk (or somebody else) arises, clears his throat, and with quite a few well-chosen words presents the toastmaster, who is always George Jessel (never anybody else).

Mr. Jessel, if it was Mr. Schenk, remarks jovially that he and Mr. Schenk have the same tastes in some things. This brings a big laugh because everybody knows that Mr. Jessel's wife was first Mr. Schenk's wife. Then Mr. Jessel makes other remarks by way of introducing various people who need no introduction, and at length—invariably—he gets around to Mr. Will H. Hays.

Some Listen: By this time occasion is offered to observe the famous in the throes of listening to a speech. Over there sit Frank Borzage and Rudy Vallee, covertly exchanging (you suspect) wisecracks; Mrs. Borzage, with her eyes closed, may be listening intently but you suspect she's catching 40 winks; Gloria Youngblood, with Rudy, is looking dully beautiful. Dorothy Lamour is looking beautiful. Iona Massey is looking beautiful.

At last the guest of honor has his innings—and the game already has taken 13. If he is Eddie Cantor, he arises humbly and says he owes it all to Ida; if he is Louis B. Mayer, he arises humbly and says he owes it all to loyal friends—and takes up where Mr. Hays left off.

After all this, of course, there is entertainment. And then—along past midnight—the party's over—until—until next time.

Bob Sandler Stars Despite Handicap One-Armed Sophomore Tennis Candidate Has Envious Record

By HOWARD GROTHE Daily Iowan Sports Writer Probably the greatest handicap an athlete can incur is an injury to an arm or leg. Yet today on the Iowa campus, bidding for a high-ranking position on the varsity tennis team is sophomore Bob Sandler from Des Moines, who lost his right arm in an automobile accident eight years ago.

BOB SANDLER

Only eleven years old at the time, Sandler's future as an athlete of any kind seemed finished. The plucky lad, however, was undaunted and when he recovered after months in bed he took up tennis.

Slender Chance At that time, his chances of ever becoming an expert at the game appeared very slim, because tennis requires perfect coordination and balance, which many with no physical shortcomings fail to attain even after years of practice under the tutelage of experts. In addition to this, Sandler was naturally right-handed and was faced with the difficult task of having to switch to using his left hand for everything.

Star in High School During his junior and senior years in high school he played the number one position for the Roughriders and annexed the City high school doubles and singles titles both years. His outstanding performance as a prep player came in 1935, when he won the state interscholastic singles championship. Largely through the points he scored in this meet his school won the State team title.

uphill battle it was to acquire the grace and coordination he now possesses. Many experts have, after seeing him perform, expressed admiration for the near perfect form he displays on every shot. An honor student in high school and a three-point student at the university, Sandler couples his intelligence with stroke mastery on a tennis court—two qualities which made him the best junior player in the state two years ago and today mark him as one of Iowa's most promising sophomore candidates.

Is Naturally Fast In watching him play, it is difficult to imagine that he is ever anything but an expert player. Naturally fast (at one time he was the second best hurdler in his high school), he does not seem to be handicapped at all by the loss of his arm. Only Sandler will ever know what an singles championship in 1936 and the Missouri Valley junior doubles championship in 1936. In 1936 he ranked 14th nationally in the junior doubles.

Last year, his first in men's competition, he was the finalist in the Des Moines district singles and doubles, finalist in the Des Moines city singles, Northwest Missouri singles champion and number one man on the University of Iowa freshman team.

In addition to his activities on the tennis court, Sandler swims, dances, drives a car and plays basketball. No obstacle has seemed insurmountable for this 19-year-old sophomore to overcome, and some close followers of tennis predict that if Sandler's game continues to show its steady improvement the University of Iowa may expect to have a Big Ten tennis champion some time within the next three years.

Cedar Rapids Thinclads Prove Easy Feud For Locals

Iowa City's Little Hawk tracksters encountered little trouble in annexing a victory in their first meet of the year, as they grabbed nine first places in the 12 events to outscore Wilson of Cedar Rapids by a 76-20 score at the field house yesterday.

Hensly, speed merchant of the Parlor City school who paced the field in the 50-yard dash, low hurdles and high hurdles, was the only member of the visiting team to edge out a first place over the local cindermen.

The Hawklet thinclad squad will face West Liberty here Tuesday in the second meet of the current season.

'Asthmatic Attack' Has 'Poss' Parsons Under Oxygen Tent

DENVER, March 19 (AP)—Placed under an oxygen tent last night to alleviate what his doctor called an "asthmatic attack," C. L. (Poss) Parsons, sports editor of the Denver Post, was reported "rested and improved" today.

Dr. Frank J. Evans said he did not believe Parsons' condition was serious. Parsons was a nine-letter man at the University of Iowa.

Fenske Races Mile in 4:08.9

CHICAGO, March 19 (AP)—Charles (Chuck) Fenske, Wisconsin's great distance star, tonight raced the fastest indoor mile in midwestern track and field history — 4 minutes, 8.9 seconds — in the feature event of the 10th annual Armour Tech relay games.

Fenske, who won the Big Ten title with a 4:11.1 performance last week, set out to beat 4:10 tonight in preparation for his meeting with Master Miler Glenn Cunningham next week in the Chicago relays, and did it with astonishing ease.

Paced through the first half-mile by his teammate, Walter Mehl, the bespectacled Badger star then moved out on his own, winning by about 70 yards. The other two starters in the university division of the event, Ernest Klann of Kansas university, and Charles Mitchell of Kansas State college, never were contenders.

Fenske followed Mehl through a 61-second first quarter, and took the lead after a 2:04.5 half-mile. He sped past the three-quarter post in 3:06.8 and finished with a fine 62.1 quarter, slowing up a trifle at the finish.

Denver Quintet Beaten Out In Crown Defense

DENVER, March 19 (AP)—Kansas City, Kan., Healeys rallied in the second half tonight to beat the Denver Safeways, defending champions, 40 to 38, and win the National A. A. U. basketball championship.

The Healeys won out in one of the most exciting finishes in a final game in the history of the tournament.

With the score tied, 38-38, in the last 30 seconds, Fred Pralle, Healey star guard from Kansas university, drove in under the basket and sank a one-handed shot for the winning goal.

Throughout the bitterly fought, second half the lead changed hands with nearly every basket. The Safeways held a 23-17 lead at the half but Healeys came back to tie the score, 24-24, with four minutes played in the second half.

Denver Rallies Healeys ran up a 35-30 lead with four minutes to play. Then Denver rallied to tie the score, 35-35. The teams matched baskets in the furious closing minutes until Pralle, all-Big Six guard this season, drove in at top speed for the winning goal.

The Healey victory cost Safeways a second straight national title, something which only four teams ever have won two years in a row.

Bartlesville Phillips won third place by defeating the Wichita Gridleys, 45 to 32, in the consolation game.

Table with columns: Team, FG, FT, PF, TP. Rows include Denver (38), Bishop, McCracken, Grunig, Frank, Wells, Colvin, Bauer, etc.

Michigan Wins First Place In Butler Relays

INDIANAPOLIS, March 19 (AP)—The University of Michigan's well-balanced track team scored in 10 of the 11 events it was eligible to enter to win its fifth consecutive Butler university indoor relay team championship tonight with a total of 40 1-2 points.

Don Lash, who for three years broke distance records for Indiana university, won a special 3,000 meters run but failed to break any records. He ran the distance in 8 minutes, 32.8 seconds. The world record of 8 minutes, 26.4 seconds was set by Paavo Nurmi of Finland in 1925. Joe Ray holds the American indoor record of 8 minutes, 31.2 seconds.

Max Baer Is Now A Fight Manager

OAKLAND, Cal., March 19 (AP)—Max Baer, former heavyweight champion, became a fight manager today. He purchased the contract of Henry Woods, Negro lightweight from Yakima, Wash. Baer said his share of Woods' ring earnings would go into a fund for his infant son, Max Jr.

Dr. T. Z. Koo Will Speak At Vesper Tonight

Public To Be Admitted To Union Lounge After 7:45

Dr. T. Z. Koo, Chinese leader in religion and education, will speak on "A Christian Looks at Life" at a university vesper service tonight at 8 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

Admission tickets will be taken until 7:45, after which time the general public will be admitted.

The Rev. I. T. Jones of the Presbyterian church will act as chaplain for the service. Music will consist of the Adagio from quartet op. 71, No. 1 by Dorothy Johnson, G of Oak Park, Ill.; violin; Virginia Agrell, A4 of Des Moines, violin; Gertrude Isenberg, A4 of Davenport, viola, and Lucile Nafus, A2 of Nashua, cello; and "My Soul is Afloat for God" from "The Holy City" by Thomas Muir of the music department.

Dr. Koo will devote a part of his talk to the undeclared war in China. He was trained to be an engineer and has been closely related with the development of railroads in China. Joining the staff of the Young Men's Christian association, he became interested in civil and educational work with special responsibilities for colleges and universities.

During this trip to America, Dr. Koo has been speaking at the larger universities and colleges and at a few conventions and assemblies. He has been acclaimed as one of America's most capable and interesting oriental visitors.

After hearing him speak Dean Wiley B. Rutledge of the college of law said, "I have never heard anyone of any nationality speak more impressively on a religious subject than Dr. T. Z. Koo."

Entry Deadline For Art Salon Is Tomorrow

The deadline for entries in the sixth annual salon of photographic art is tomorrow. The contest is open to university students and faculty members.

Contestants may submit a maximum of four entries each. The prints chosen as the best will be exhibited at Iowa Union from March 28 to April 13.

In addition, a selection of 20 pictures will compose the traveling show to be exhibited in various cities during the next year.

Entry blanks and rules can be obtained at the union desk.

1938 Mecca Fun to End

Engineers Will Give Banquet and Show At Union Tomorrow

The 1938 Mecca celebration will end tomorrow with a Mecca banquet in Iowa Union at 6:30 p.m. followed by the traditional Mecca show.

Entertainment in the Mecca show will include the Mecca German band whose membership is composed of James Taylor, E2 of Cedar Rapids; Charles Coffee, E1 of Dubuque; Curt Lindholm, E2 of Iowa City; Joe Ferrell Jr., E1 of Allerton; Parke Woodworth, E2 of Ipswich, S. D.; William C. Metcalf, E2 of Knoxville; Richard O. Braun, E1 of Dubuque, and Gerald L. Simon, E4 of Rome, N. Y.

The second act will be the premiere of the 1938 world famous Mecca chorus — the kings and queens of the Tango — including Senioritas Paul M. Keyes, E2 of Cedar Rapids; Loyd E. Keil, E2 of Marengo; Robert G. Pe-tranek, E2 of Cedar Rapids, and Robert Arnold, E2 of Shrub Oak, N. Y. Seniors in the chorus are Jack D. Dunn, E1 of Iowa City; Franklin Eddy, E3 of Marengo, and Mathias A. Brunning, E1 of Buffalo, N. Y.

"The Parade of Famous People," featuring imitations by Ronald VanArsdale, G of Greenwood, Ind., will follow the performance of the chorus.

"Prof. Jack Hinman Jr. will offer 'Foulk's Law as a Basis for Predicting Curricular Achievement' for the benefit of the engineering students. Following the lecture the presentation of awards will take place and then the Mecca quartet, correct to four pieces—x, x, x, and x—will sing.

"The engineering faculty will turn to the more dramatic things in life when they present the dramatic interlude, "Green Grows the Grass," as the next act on the show. Concluding the festivities will be a musical duet, featuring Werner Moeller, E3 of Iowa City, and Arthur B. Arent, C3 of Badger, on the piano accordion and the marimba.

The master of ceremonies for the evening will be Paul Weber, E4 of St. Louis, Mo.

Rivers to Open Lectureship As Guest Speaker

New York Doctor Will Speak on 'Viruses' Tomorrow

The annual Paul Reed Rockwood lectureship of the college of medicine will open tomorrow when Dr. Thomas M. Rivers, director of the Rockefeller institute hospital of New York, makes two appearances here as guest speaker.

"Viruses" will be discussed by Dr. Rivers before students and faculty members of the college of medicine at 4 p.m. tomorrow in the medical amphitheater of University hospital. At 8 p.m. he will speak on "Polymyelitis" at an open lecture in chemistry auditorium.

The Rockwood lectureship is financed by an endowment given to the college of medicine by the late Dr. Paul R. Rockwood, an alumnus of the university, who died in 1927. The endowment was accepted by the university in 1936.

Dr. Rivers is well known for his research work in the bacteriology of respiratory diseases and the classification of influenza bacilli. He received his M.D. degree from Johns Hopkins university in 1915. From 1912 to 1913 he served as assistant bacteriologist at the Santo Thomas hospital in Panama.

Dr. Rivers joined the faculty of Johns Hopkins university in 1917 as an instructor in pediatrics and became an associate professor there in 1920. In 1931 he accepted his present position with the Rockefeller institute.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the lectureship include Dean E. M. MacEwen, Dr. M. E. Barnes, Dr. C. S. O'Brien, Dr. J. T. McClintock and Dr. E. D. Platt, all of the college of medicine.

Women Given High Rankings

Awards Presented At Association's Play Day Contests

National and local ratings as basketball officials were renewed and others awarded yesterday at the Women's Athletic association basketball play day.

Women who received renewed national ratings were Jeannette Smalley, A4 of Muscatine; Marian Smalley, A4 of Muscatine; Dr. Gladys Scott of the women's physical education department, and Esther French of the University elementary school in Chicago. LaRue Firman, G of Pasadena, Cal., received the award for the first time. A local rating was awarded Ruth Ann Riegel, A4 of Davenport.

The judges included Bernice Cooper of Wisconsin high school, Madison, Wis.; Mary Vincent of Aledo, Ill.; Miss Scott and Miss French.

Other ratings received during the last six weeks include Marion Robinson, G of Knoxville, Tenn., and Leaneor Morgan, A2 of Norfolk, both national, and Mary Evelyn Witt, A4 of Oskaloosa, local.

Two basketball teams from Cornell college and one from Iowa Wesleyan attended the play day. The Iowa teams won all of the games. The "Little I's" won from Cornell 21 to 12 and the Iowa "Rockets" won from Cornell again 28 to 24. In the game with Iowa Wesleyan the "Hawks" won 27 to 13. The final game between the faculty members and graduate students of women's physical education department and the "Flashes" was won by the "Flashes" 22 to 27.

Other sports participated in including badminton, swimming, devil in the deep and table tennis. At the play day luncheon Prof. Elizabeth Halsey discussed play days in contrast to interscholastic and Prof. David Armbruster of the men's physical education department showed movies of the Dolphin club members' recent trip to Florida. A movie of the Iowa-Welsh hockey game was also shown.

Burns Mantle Praises New Conkle Play; Critics Disagree on 'Prologue to Glory'

Burns Mantle, dramatic critic for the New York Daily News, gave four stars to Prof. Ellsworth P. Conkle's play, "Prologue to Glory," which opened on Broadway Thursday night.

Reviewers differed on the merits of the play, written by a member of the University of Iowa's dramatic arts faculty, which depicts Lincoln being persuaded by his first love, Ann Rutledge, to aspire to the presidency. The critics also could not agree on the performance of Ann Rutledge, the Ottumwa girl, namesake and distant relative of the play's heroine.

Mantle was the most enthusiastic of the critics, writing "No citizen of these United States, native or in the making, should be permitted to miss seeing 'Prologue to Glory.'"

John Mason Brown of the New York Post did not like the play. His comment was, "If it were not for Stephen Courtleigh, Lincoln would, I suspect, be very much hidden in 'Prologue to Glory.' Even his fine playing can not disguise the fact that a good deal is missing in the young Lincoln Mr. Conkle has written. May I add that matters are not helped by having Ann Rutledge entrusted to an actress who bears her name."

"Prologue to Glory" is a project of the federal WPA theater.

Praise was extended the university playwright by Brooks Atkinson writing in the Times, "Out of his love for Lincoln, E. P. Conkle has written an absorbing idyll. 'Prologue to Glory' has much to recommend it and is worth treating with respect," he wrote.

"An unassuming and affectionate narrative" was the description John Anderson gave the production in the New York Journal. Sidney Whipple of the World-Telegram called the play "a touching and at times dramatic relation of events preceding Lincoln's rise to national prominence."

"Prologue to Glory" is a worthy successor to "200 Were Chosen," Robert Coleman wrote in the Mirror. "Two Hundred Were Chosen" is Professor Conkle's drama which opened in the new University theater and on Broadway simultaneously last season.

Professor Conkle, who has been in New York for the last month helping with the production, returned to Iowa City last night.

Class Will Edit Four Weeklies

Instructor Will Appoint Editors, Business Managers

Members of the community weekly class of the school of journalism will be in charge of editing and publishing one edition of four Iowa weeklies within the next month, Prof. Frank L. Mott, director of the school, announced yesterday.

The papers and the dates of publication are the Davis County Republican, Bloomfield, April 26; the Bloomfield Democrat, April 28; the Belle Plaine Union, April 28, and the Jackson County Sentinel, Maquoketa, May 3. One staff will be in charge of the two Bloomfield papers.

Student editors and business managers will be appointed Tuesday by Earl F. English, instructor of the course. They in turn will appoint their own staffs. Several members of the advertising class taught by Prof. Charles L. Sanders will also assist in the publication of the weekly papers.

The students will be in charge of collecting and writing all news, feature material and advertising.

By Marion Lamar

FOR Club Cabaret you will want to don something startling and becoming, something to equal the moment of the occasion. STRUBS are leading the season with spring formals that are absolutely made for the grand evening that will be this coming Friday and that will be equal to anything that may happen for the remainder of Spring and a glorious summer. You will feel absolutely right and beautiful if you are wearing any one of their Voguish laces, cleverly demure nets or taffetas, or a chiffon in the astonishing color combinations that the season has produced. Many of them come with clever little boleros and novel jackets that make them adjustable to any degree of formality.

That smart new print you have chosen for spring calls for something novel and clever in dressy shoes. DOMBYS have them in superb cuts of all the season's shades and leathers. Their SORORITY pumps in gabardine, toeless and trimmed with reptile, will be grand with almost any print, and will go well with all of the unusual new plain colors that are hard to match or contrast. Classic plain patent pumps with the season's variations of Y-shaped vamp and tiny peep holes for the toes are really a necessity to a well-planned shoe wardrobe. DOMBYS' showing of surprise modes in odd shades of gabardine and doekin is a grand opportunity to perfect your personal shoe line.

These week-ends are just made for little jaunts hither and thither by air. Try seeing the spring and the scenery between here and wherever you are going from a UNITED AIRLINES plane. It will be quick, inexpensive and safe. You can be insured by air the same as by rail or by steamship. Start studying a UNITED AIRLINES time-table right now.

We're all up in the spring air about the hosiery innovations at STRUBS! Just in time for Club Cabaret their lovely new evening hose have arrived. We recommend the fragile look that can be attained in VAN RAALTE'S sandal hose. Glory is the shade. Equally exciting are VAN RAALTE'S ombres — they shade from a pale beige in front to a copper in back — so very gradually that you notice nothing but a slenderizing effect. If you are being ultra fragile you will wear VAN RAALTE'S petal shade in queens lace. If you're wearing black you will startle the people with a gorgeous copper shade called radiance. Whatever you are wearing, STRUBS have the perfect hosiery complement for it.

Vogue says white formal shoes and STRUBS are right there with the goods. Their foot-wear for spring evening or formal ity comes in the smartest of sandal cuts in whatever height heel pleases you. Again we say white is the thing.

Nita Shearr's Anchor is chained to Johnny Byee's Sigma Chi pin.

DON'T give your spring cleaning another serious thought. Just call KELLY CLEANERS and arrange to have your rugs cleaned the HILD way. KELLYS are licensed operators of the HILD SYSTEM and they will do the work either on your floors or in their plant. It's no trouble at all and they do a grand job.

For a real week-end do yourself proud with a coiffure that is super. Club Cabaret and fraternity and sorority parties are sure to be successes if you look your better than best. Dialing 2233 will give you the STAR BEAUTY SALON, who can wave, cut and shampoo to your complete satisfaction.

You can't miss it—you owe it to yourself and to your grandchildren to see DEANNA DUR and HERBERT MARSHALL in "MAD ABOUT MUSIC" at the STRAND. This youthful little actress has what goes to make a marvelous picture plus a voice that is a thrill to anyone. Set aside the time to see it right now.

Boys—plaid jackets to you, too.

When you are whipping up your rugs and scrubbing up your floors you can make a clean sweep of your spring cleaning by arranging with STILLWELL'S PAINT STORE to hang handsome modern wallpaper in those rooms that would otherwise continue to wear a drab look. A little change of indoor scenery will change your family's outlook on life. It's fun choosing from STILLWELL'S smart new papers.

Now that the weather man has gone and done it, wouldn't it be fun to have a car at the U? If you will barrel down to NALL'S and have a look, you'll find just the little number that you'd like to carry you over the hills to the quarries and out to the woods where picnics are really fun. Yes, sir, you can actually afford to own and to run a nice little jobby from NALL'S USED CARS and it would add no end to your fun at the U.

Soft, hand-drawn-work blouses.

Let the Easter bunny bring her a picture of you and you can be sure that you'll rate higher the rest of the year. Let SCHARF'S take the picture for you, and you'll have a real likeness to offer of you taken at your very best.

YOUR spring suit and your new print are crying for the handsome accessories that are to be found at YETTERS.

They are sporting in their show cases the smartest of pastel bags in patent and suede—pink, soft blue and violet—and the classic black suedes are even more clever than ever. To wear with these are new KAYSER gloves in high shades and in combinations of fabric and pigskin. Wear with your soft new spring sweater a very peasanly belt imported for YETTERS from Hungary — actually peasant-made.

AND Margie Ann Hallgren is wearing a sword and shield next her D G anchor. The donor —Phi Delt John McElroy.

The lovely spring pastel colors of the new season present a definite cleaning problem. LE VORA'S VARSITY CLEANERS can solve it for you with quick and quality service. Send your light suits there, to keep yourself trimly groomed.

Front fullness in your spring coat.

THE place to quench your spring thirst is at JOE'S PLACE, just around the corner on Dubuque street. You can have your refreshment there or take it with you for a picnic.

Vegetables on a bracelet.

HAVE you been noticing the uplifted corners of everyone's mouth these lovely days? And what helps lift the corners is that feeling of being nattily dressed which comes from freshly cleaned and pressed apparel done by BALL'S UNIQUE CLEANERS. They'll pick up the drooping garments and return them in record time in band-box condition.

To book collectors and sophisticated readers—that delayed consignement of publisher remainder books has arrived at WILLIAMS IOWA SUPPLY. The values are surprising and the selection is unique. They are now on display in WILLIAMS book section and it's a rare opportunity that all interested parties should take advantage of now.

Bowling is entering the field of most popular sports. Hollywood producers have installed alleys on the lots to keep their stars' figures and nerves in condition. Women's colleges in the east and west are turning fans. The PLA-MOR BOWLING ALLEY furnishes wonderful opportunity to Iowa City girls to keep up with times and have a bowl of fun with their boy friends or by themselves!

CLUB CABARET is THE night for springing a new formal and YETTERS have just the one in which you'll want to blossom forth on Friday for a big evening. You may choose from myriads of pleats in chiffon, satins or floral prints, flowing nets and laces or sweeping taffetas. Little quilted boleros and smart tucked jackets make gowns that are otherwise supremely and extremely formal. The height of the semi-formal mode. Trot down tomorrow and select the dress that will make Friday a beautiful evening and raise your spirits to a new high for the entire spring season.

These days are too wonderful to stay at home and prepare your Sunday dinner. Why not take a little drive in the afternoon and end it with a gorgeous meal at SMITH'S CAFE? The food is grand, the service excellent and the atmosphere is delightful.

I. C. H. S. Wins 18 Superiors Out of 20 Events at Kalona

High Ranking Musicians Enter District Meet At Davenport

Iowa City high school concluded a two-day sweep of the sub-district round of the state music contest at Kalona yesterday by winning with 18 "superior" ratings out of the 20 events entered. Yesterday the Red and White instrumentalists took "superiors" in 12 of 13 events.

Soloists judged in the highest bracket were Marjorie Sidwell, clarinet; Fletcher Miller, saxophone; James Reeds, snare drum; Katherine Ruppert, flute; Warren Burger, oboe; Robert Simpson, trombone; Russell Sapp, baritone-euphonium; Cleo Thomas, tuba; Patricia Trachsel, viola; and Jean Opstad, violin. Ruby Alley, French horn soloist, was judged "excellent."

Both small chamber groups—brass sextet and woodwind quintet—were judged superior. Those in the sextet are William Voelckers, William Raymond, Ruby Alley, Cleo Thomas, David Armstrong and Joseph Poulter. In the quintet are Robert Caywood, Donald Key, Ann Serup, Warren Burger and Katherine Ruppert.

Superior rating entitles the contestant to continue to the district round at Davenport, April 8 and 9.

Friday, four soloists, boys' quartet and girls' sextet, were judged "superior" in the vocal competition.

Judges for the instrumental contests were Ronald Searight, Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls; Lloyd Oakland, Cornell college, Mt. Vernon; and Maurits Kessner, Augustana college, Rock Island, Ill.

101 Members Of A. A. U. W. Meet at Union

Mrs. W. F. Bristol addressed 101 members of the American Association of University Women and presented a reading from her play "Jane Carlyle," at the meeting of the club Saturday noon in Iowa Union.

One of Mrs. Bristol's plays, "N.I.R.A.," won first prize in the state play festival in 1935. Since 1921, when she began writing, the University players have enacted several of her plays.

Members of the A. A. U. W. branches from Cedar Rapids, Mt. Vernon, Tipton, Muscatine and Clarence attended the luncheon and meeting. Two state officers, Mrs. Willetta Strahan, secretary, who is head of the Junior college at Muscatine, and Mrs. C. A. Ruckmick of Iowa City, state chairman for international relations, were present.

Luncheon hostesses were Mrs. William Petersen, chairman, Mrs. Paul Ruth, Mrs. O. S. Morse, Prof. Ise Laas, Helene Miller, Prof. Genevieve Stearns, Prof. Clara Daley, Eleanor Metheny, Alma Hovey, Louise Probst and Mrs. Homer Dill.

Women's Meet Opens
WICHITA, Kan., (AP)—Action for five of eight seeded teams is scheduled for tomorrow night, opening the six-day national women's A. A. U. basketball tournament.

from the crack regiment "General Goering" were likewise taken to Graz, Austria's second largest city.

The general order to push across the Austrian border in the air, by motor and on foot came at 5:30 a.m. March 12, although German troops reportedly crossed the border at 10 a.m. March 11 at Salzburg, Mittenwald and Klustein.

Col.-Gen. Feodor von Bock directed the advance.

Motorized Units

Motorized units were commanded by General Guderian and the air force by General Sperrle.

The mobilization order had been issued to the seventh army corps late on March 10. Early the next day first detachments left Munich by road using army trucks principally but also some commandeered commercial trucks.

They carried with them bridge-building materials, pontoons, motorboats, barbed wire and sandbags but did not use them. Blank or disguised number plates made it impossible to determine the identity of the various units.

First Troops to North

The first troops went north from Munich toward the garrison at Ingolstadt but it is believed they turned in an easterly direction soon after toward the section of the Austrian frontier between Passau and Braunau formed by the river Inn.

Later the road to Garmisch-Partenkirchen leading to the frontier at Griesenleermos and Mittenwaldschanz as well as the super-highway (Autobahn) to Kufstein and Salzburg and the side road to Fussen were alive with army trucks carrying motorized infantry, cavalry, and heavy and light artillery with ammunition.

Reinforcements

From the afternoon of March 11 through the next day reinforcements pushed into Munich from Ulm, Stuttgart, Ludwigsburg, Wurzburg, Bamberg, and Regensburg, all in southern Germany.

By breakfast time Saturday one report said 100 troop-conveying planes already had landed at Vienna while the vanguard of motorized equipment, tanks and marching soldiers had moved well into Austria in several columns.

The super-highway from the Inn river bridge on the border back to Siegsdorf, Bavaria, carried an unbroken stream of military conveyances at a speed of 32 miles an hour.

The outpouring of troops did not slacken appreciably until Sunday night.

Alpine Detachments

At noon Saturday Alpine infantry detachments reached Innsbruck.

By 1:30 p.m. troops had entered Lenz and at 3:30 p.m. German and Italian troops exchanged greetings at historic Brenner pass on Austria's southern frontier.

Motorized equipment reached Vienna, a distance of 187 miles from the border, late Saturday.

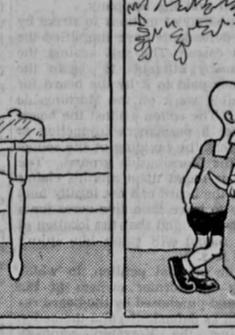

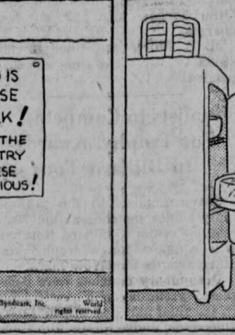

Infantry progressed at the rate of 25 miles a day. By the following Tuesday approximately 400 tanks and 500 planes were in Vienna according to published reports.

Gaffney to Hear City School Injunction Suit Tomorrow

Lewis L. Smith To Attempt To Restrain Board

Case of Morningside Site Will Go to Trial At 10 A. M.

At 10 a. m. tomorrow, Judge James P. Gaffney will hear the suit of Lewis L. Smith Sr., against the city school board for an injunction to restrain the board from constructing the new $725,000 high school building on the Morningside site.

Attorney D. C. Nolan, who with Attorney R. C. Davis represents Smith, said yesterday that very little testimony will be presented. The plaintiff may call only one or two witnesses, he explained.

The school board yesterday through its attorneys, Dutcher, Ries and Dutcher, filed its answer to Smith's petition. The six page pleading alleges Smith is guilty of laches because he failed to take action to prevent the purchases of real estate within 30 days after the decisions of the school board to make such purchase. The 30 day appeal period is prescribed by state law.

School Board Answer

The answer claims that Smith can not question the right of the board to locate the school in Morningside because he has not appealed the decision of the county superintendent of schools, Frank J. Snider, who upheld the decision of the board on the location. An appeal may be made to the state superintendent of schools. Because none has been taken, the county officer's decision stands, the motion said.

Members of the city school board will meet at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow to organize the board for the new year.

Dr. George Maresh and Verne L. Miller, recently re-elected, will be installed as members. A president to serve for the ensuing year will be elected. Dr. Maresh was president last year.

John Hamilton of Chicago, architect who is designing the plans for the new $725,000 school building, will meet with the board. Final approval will be given to specifications, which will then be taken to Omaha for PWA approval. The contract will be let following a 15-day period in which bids will be asked.

A paragraph of the answer reads, "The defendants, (the school board) further allege the action is not brought in good faith, but is brought in an attempt to harass the board in the performance of its duties and to discourage prospective bidders for the contracts with the hope that a delay in the performance of the PWA grant conditions will ensue, and the loss of the grant will result. With the loss of the grant, the entire project will fail."

The Morningside site issue started in the school bond election of 1935 when the first attempt to obtain the approval of the voters for a new school was made. Since then it has been an issue in each school election.

Dec. 11, 1937, the school board passed a resolution designating the Morningside area as the location for the new high school. Snider's

City Will Issue 1938 Directory

Publication to Contain Complete List of Residents

Distribution of the 1938 Iowa City directory to subscribers will begin tomorrow. The directory is published every two years by the R. L. Polk company of Detroit, in cooperation with the Economy advertising company and the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce and business interests.

The 1938 directory contains an alphabetical list of more than 15,000 Iowa Citizens, giving name, marital status, occupation and address.

All streets in the city are listed alphabetically, with every number on each street, and opposite each such number, the name of the occupant, showing whether owner or tenant and whether they have telephone service.

The street list shows all intersecting streets and the numbers where they intersect. The first street listed is "A" avenue, the last Yewell street.

Other sections in the directory show all city, county and township officials, school and university officials, apartment buildings, churches, a directory of federal buildings, and a historical sketch showing every business house in the city and also a buyers' guide.

A directory of Johnson county shows the name, township and postoffice address of all persons in the county outside of Iowa City. The directory contains 686 pages.

School Board To Reorganize

Members of the city school board will meet at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow to organize the board for the new year.

Dr. George Maresh and Verne L. Miller, recently re-elected, will be installed as members. A president to serve for the ensuing year will be elected. Dr. Maresh was president last year.

John Hamilton of Chicago, architect who is designing the plans for the new $725,000 school building, will meet with the board. Final approval will be given to specifications, which will then be taken to Omaha for PWA approval. The contract will be let following a 15-day period in which bids will be asked.

A paragraph of the answer reads, "The defendants, (the school board) further allege the action is not brought in good faith, but is brought in an attempt to harass the board in the performance of its duties and to discourage prospective bidders for the contracts with the hope that a delay in the performance of the PWA grant conditions will ensue, and the loss of the grant will result. With the loss of the grant, the entire project will fail."

The Morningside site issue started in the school bond election of 1935 when the first attempt to obtain the approval of the voters for a new school was made. Since then it has been an issue in each school election.

Dec. 11, 1937, the school board passed a resolution designating the Morningside area as the location for the new high school. Snider's

Andy Erickson Fined by Judge For Speeding

Andy Erickson, 718 N. Dubuque street, was fined $30 for speeding by Police Judge Burke N. Carson yesterday. All but $10 of the fine was suspended on condition that he attend traffic school.

Erickson was arrested by local officers upon information given by Marshall J. A. Brandstatter of Coralville Friday night. Brandstatter said he attempted to stop Erickson Friday afternoon as he was speeding west on U. S. highway 6, but that his orders were ignored.

Pay $33 in Bounties For 330 Starlings

Sacks, boxes and baskets containing the bodies of 330 starlings were brought to County Auditor Ed Sulek yesterday by Johnson county residents and exchanged for $33 in bounties.

This is the largest number yet received in a single day this year. The starling is an outlaw bird and bounty payments are paid in all counties in Iowa under state law. One of the recipients brought in 68 birds, and received $6.80.

AROUND THE TOWN

With TOM JOHNSON

Food for Talk

Unfortunately for European politics, our interest in it has increased about 10,000 per cent. That is, if you care to compare last month's "almost total ignorance" with today's "a vague idea," as I do.

Persons whose last contact with "Europe" came via the soiled pages of a fifth-grade geography, are now expounding knowingly on "the situation," as they call it.

Since Germany and Austria committed "Anschluss," last week, they have gleaned all available information from the newspapers, glanced at maps and standing-army charts, and rambled through a few books "on the subject."

It would be unfortunate to be left in the conversational lurch nowadays, and they've resolved not to be. It's quite interesting, anyway.

They—who couldn't tell you two weeks ago that Hitler would annex Austria—now glibly proclaim which country will be next to fall.

Yesterday, for instance, there was gloom. It was deep and dark, because "Lithuania really shouldn't have acquiesced to Poland, don't you know?"

Their knowledge is based upon such a book as Hitler's "Mein Kampf" (pro), or perhaps it was attained by studying "I Knew Hitler" (con). "When one reads an authority, one acquires a sound, unbiased viewpoint, doesn't one?"

There's only one danger now—the increasing fear that everything will be quiet in Europe for a long long time. Perhaps next week it will be a faux pas to discuss Europe. It might be a closed issue. No one will be interested.

So, I'm warning you, if you wish to get a head start on your friends, start studying "the Mexican situation." It promises to be good for another nine days or so. You can argue from one of two angles. Either that American property rights should be respected, or that Mexico has a right to control its own natural resources. It's really quite interesting.

In fact, I believe our interest in Mexican politics will increase about 10,000 per cent.

Ten Fined For 1937 Licenses

Ten persons were fined $10 by Police Judge Burke N. Carson yesterday for driving with 1937 license plates. The fines were suspended and the violators were assessed court costs of $1.

Those fined were Lowell Harsock, Helen Ruppert, John Goldman, Jack Dale, G. Heinsus, T. A. Poote, Charles Vermaec, M. Sheridan and the Beck Motor company. Offie Trospier paid $2 on two charges.

H. B. Miller was fined $1 for street storage. The fine was suspended.

Finalists to Compete For Trophy, Awards In Billiard Tourney

Seven finalists in the preliminary senior matches at the Recreation center's billiard tourney will compete for a trophy and other awards tomorrow night.

Preliminary matches were completed yesterday and participants in the final matches will be Lindy Hickerson, Judge Smith, Jim Daly, Bruce Beasley, Earl Secor, Ted Sullivan and J. Vandenberg.

The consolation, or class B tournament, played by second place contestants in the preliminaries, will also begin tomorrow. The players will be Albert Schmidt, Walter Figg, Carl Williams, Robert King, Tom Wurru and Jack Mathes.

Thiel Discusses Cub's Program

Scout Executive Owen B. Thiel discussed the cub den program and made a list of activities to be used in den meetings, at a den chiefs' meeting yesterday in his office.

Nine Boy Scouts made Indian rings of various colors. They were Norton Smith, Louis Bate, Howard Brown, Edward Capen, Kenneth Bennett, Scott Willson, Clarence Konkin, Hubert Hoeltje and David Cassat.

Moose Will Hold Dinner Tuesday

The Moose lodge will hold its annual sea-food-stag Tuesday at 6:45 p. m. in the Moose hall. Seven kinds of sea foods will be served.

Howard Stimmel is chairman of the entertainment and the dinner will be served by the Women of the Moose.

Troop I to Convene For Drill Tomorrow

The weekly meeting of Troop I, 113th cavalry regiment of the national guard, will convene at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the armory.

Cavalry men will participate in a mounted drill and such cavalry activities as map reading and marksmanship.

Greater Smith Says 674 More Autos in County

Johnson county residents have registered 674 more passenger cars and trucks in 1938 than for the same period last year, according to County Treasurer W. E. Smith.

Licenses have been issued for 7,982 passenger cars and 1,126 trucks. In 1937 only 7,481 passenger cars and 953 trucks were registered by this date.

The county treasurer believes the heavier registration is caused by the drive against delinquent registrations which began Tuesday—two months earlier than usual. This has made the delinquent list smaller, he said.

Motorcycle registration has declined slightly, from the 51 licensed last year to 49 for this year.

Kentucky Starlet Now Movie Moonshining

An organization very much in the market for bright shiny cinema starlets is Darryl F. Zanuck's 20th Century-Fox. Having found Marjorie Weaver of the University of Kentucky campus, this company is now dipping into its coffers to get you and me to know her better. The alumnae of Kappa Kappa Gamma at Kentucky already know her well.

It is one of those stories. A fan magazine was offering a dance scholarship to the prettiest face in the country. Judy Parks, her Kappa roommate, sent in Marjorie's picture. That was practically all there was to it. Zanuck's boys were around soon after winner Miss Weaver arrived in New York to claim the prize. So you'll see her dancing in Sally, Irene, and Mary, Marjorie playing "Mary," Fred Allen doing the comedy.

In case they haven't yet come your way, look hard for Marjorie in This Is My Affair and Life Begins at College. It won't be hard to find her in Tyrone Power's arms as they play "Second Honeymoon." Judy Parks, who sent that picture from the Kappa house, is Marjorie's stand-in and roommate in Hollywood.

And just to make you believe more in her Kentucky loyalty, she's shown below reading her alma mater's newest picture bulletin while resting between takes on Kentucky Moonshine.

ONE SMOKER TELLS ANOTHER

"Camels agree with me"

"Camels are preferred by the tobacco growers, who know leaf tobacco from the ground up"

according to the observation of tobacco planters themselves

Thomas Middleton and his twin brother James have been growing tobacco for 14 years. "The Camel people bought up my best tobacco last year," Tom Middleton says. "They have for 12 years. When anyone talks about finer, more expensive tobaccos, that means Camels to me. I smoke 'em—my brother smokes 'em—and so do most of us around here who grow and know tobacco."

Henderson Carroll has been growing tobacco for 18 years. "For my own smoking," he says, "I like Camels. I know the Camel buyers purchased just about every top-grade lot of tobacco at the sales I went to last year. My own crop was a dandy. And, as usual, Camel got the best of it."

"I've been planting tobacco for 20 years," says Harry C. King, a successful grower, who knows tobacco from the ground up because he grows it. "Camel bought the choice lots of my last tobacco crop—paid more for my best leaf tobacco. So I know they use finer, more expensive tobaccos in Camel cigarettes. That's one mighty good reason why my cigarette is Camel."

"Down at the tobacco warehouse they told me they'd never seen finer tobacco than my last crop," says J. E. Jenkins, veteran tobacco grower. "Camel bought all the top grades. It shows that the Camel people make sure to get the choice lots of tobacco. I prefer Camels every time."

Twice As Far

In tests made at De-Pauw University by Psychologist Paul G. Fay and Physical Education Instructor L. L. Messersmith, it has been found that basketball players travel almost twice as far under the new rules as they did in the past. A metal "follower" (left), attached to recording instruments, is moved on a miniature court to correspond to the movements of each player. In four games tested it was found each man averaged four miles, as compared to 2 1/2 miles under old rules.

Get Cold Feet?

The answer to that question and many more about how the atmosphere affects you are being sought by University of Illinois college of medicine researchers. Scene of the tests is an almost perfectly air-conditioned room, where humidity and temperature can be regulated. Here are a few of the tests given one subject.

First, the amount of oxygen required to develop energy for the body's work is measured. They have found that the higher the temperature, the greater is an individual's oxygen requirement. Most persons consume 60 to 100 gallons of oxygen every 24 hours.

Next comes a test of maximum lung capacity. The average person breathes only about a pint of air with each breath, although he may have a lung capacity of 3 1/2 quarts. Maximum lung capacity increases as temperature rises.

F. R. Threatens Suspension Of A. E. Morgan

TVA Chairman Spurns Suggestion That He Resign

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt threatened to suspend or remove Arthur E. Morgan from the chairmanship of the Tennessee valley authority today and promptly was confronted with a blunt declaration from Morgan that he was powerless to do either.

The determined chairman declined to participate further in Mr. Roosevelt's personal investigation of TVA and spurned a suggestion that he resign or retract the charges he had made against his fellow members of the TVA board of directors.

"It is my judgment," Morgan told the president in a third and apparently final session of the chief executive's inquiry, "that my resignation at this time would not be in the public interest. Therefore, I do not tender my resignation. I wish also to say that I challenge the suggestion and deny the right and power to remove or suspend me."

He persisted in his refusal to give the president facts supporting his accusations that Vice-chairman Harcourt Morgan and Director David Lilienthal had been guilty of malfeasance, or to defend himself against their charges that he had sought to "rule or ruin" the TVA.

Mr. Roosevelt said that on the basis of the record of his hearings he was "obliged to find" that:

1. Chairman Morgan had failed to sustain "grave and libelous charges of dishonesty and want of integrity" against the two other directors.

2. The charges of the other directors that Chairman Morgan had "obstructed the work and injured the morale of TVA . . . must be accepted as true."

3. That Chairman Morgan was "guilty of insubordination and contumacy (resistance to authority) in refusing to submit to the chief executive's demand for any facts upon which he based charges of dishonesty and want of integrity on the part of his fellow directors."

In addition, Mr. Roosevelt, after saying that unless Morgan resigned or retracted his charges he would take action to suspend or remove him, gave the chairman until 2:30 p.m. tomorrow to present in person or in writing any reasons why executive action should not be taken.

Morgan told reporters he would not take advantage of this opportunity.

At a press conference an hour after he left the White House, he disclosed that he was leaving at once for Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Hull Concerned Over Seizure Of U. S. Oil Interests

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—The administration pressed today for a modification of Mexico's expropriation of $400,000,000 worth of American oil properties.

During a long telephone conversation with Ambassador Josephus Daniels at Mexico City, Secretary Hull expressed this government's serious concern over the possibilities that might arise from the seizure.

He also told Daniels of his hope that some adjustment of the differences resulting from the expropriation might be made on the basis of fairness to all concerned.

Secretary Morgenthau said, meanwhile, that the expropriation had not affected the treasury's purchase of Mexican silver. He added the treasury had agreed to buy another 5,000,000 ounces of Mexican silver in March, in the same quota that has been taken at once for Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Chinese Assert Japs Lose 1,700 Within 2 Days

With the Chinese Red army in Central China, March 21 (AP)—The commander of the Chinese red army today asserted 40,000 Japanese troops in southern Shansi province were cut off from their supply bases and in greatest danger of defeat since the Chinese-Japanese war started.

The red commander, Yu Cheng-Tsao, drew a grave picture of the Japanese military position in Shansi where forces have been moving south toward the red capital, Sianfu.

At his field headquarters in central Hopeh province, south of Peiping, Yu also recounted a series of red victories in the past month which put the Japanese in a precarious position.

His headquarters are behind the lines Japanese columns have thrust farthest southward into central China.

Japanese troops in southern Shansi have been fed for the past six days with food dropped from planes, red military reports said. Their mountainous communication lines eastward along the Peiping-Hankow railway were cut by 30,000 red Chinese troops.

In two places behind their Shansi lines Chinese troops of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek cut another railway, leaving the Japanese severed from all supply bases.

Three Japanese transport columns, attempting to take supplies to the beleaguered army, were annihilated as they struggled through Shansi mountain passes lined with red snipers.

Meanwhile, General Chiang's armies were reported by the reds to have recrossed the Yellow river northward in four places pushing back Japanese attempting to unite their conquests in northern and central China.

The Shansi fighting has resulted in killing 1,700 Japanese in the past two days, the reds stated. A congratulatory telegram from Chiang to his red allies caused wild rejoicing.

Hull Approves Power Parley, Refuses Monopoly by Canada

Wants Agreement For Joint Development Of Resources

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—The United States government reiterated tonight its willingness to enter into an agreement with Canada for a general development of power in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence river basin, but it balked at a particular Canadian proposal.

Secretary of State Hull, in a note to the Canadian government, refused Canada's request of Jan. 17 for exclusive water power rights in connection with a proposed diversion of the Kenogami river into Lake Superior.

"It is only because this government desires to see the mutual needs of both countries fully provided for, and is convinced that this can best be done through a jointly planned development of their extraordinary natural resources in the Niagara and Saint Lawrence rivers, that it finds it necessary to convey an adverse decision on the specific request set forth in your note," Hull said.

"As the Canadian government is already aware, this government is ready and eager to enter into and push to a speedy conclusion negotiations looking towards a mutually satisfactory agreement dealing with the varied and important problems of the Great Lakes-Saint Lawrence river basin."

In a memorandum accompanying his note, the secretary said that importation of power from Canada, unless accompanied by the development in this country of an equal amount of power, was undesirable.

97TH SOLON?

Wire Stumps Garner For a Moment

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—Vice-president Garner wondered for a moment today if the United States had suddenly acquired a 97th senator.

He received this telegram: "Remember you got your wish. I am a senator now."

He finally remembered. He once told Zeke Bonura—a baseball player—that he'd like to see him in a Washington uniform. Last Friday the Washington Senators obtained Bonura from the Chicago White Sox in a trade.

House Approves Bill

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—The administration's billion-dollar naval expansion bill won house approval today by a majority of nearly three to one.

Thirty republicans joined one progressive and 261 democrats in swamping the opposition, 292 to 100.

The measure, which by this vote reached the half-way point in its journey through congress, would authorize construction of 46 warships, 22 auxiliary vessels and 950 airplanes. Experts say its authorizations could be carried out in four to six years.

It now goes to the senate, where Senator La Follette (Prog.-Wis.), Senator Borah (R-Idaho) and some others have indicated they will fight it vigorously, and administration leaders have predicted passage by another large majority.

As approved by the house, the bill carried no actual funds for construction. President Roosevelt has recommended, however, that work be started this year on
