

Roosevelt Enlarges U. S. Refugee Camp

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 25 (AP) — President Roosevelt enlarged the scope of America's political refugee relief proposal today by asserting it provided an asylum here not only for Jews of Germany and Austria, but for other oppressed minorities there and in all other lands.

He replied affirmatively when a reporter asked whether it applied to political and religious groups like the Catholics under the Barcelona government in Spain, Trotskyites in Russia, and anti-fascists in Italy.

He discussed Secretary Hull's proposal inviting nine European nations and 20 other American republics to join the United States in setting up a committee to find private financial help in transferring oppressed people to this and other countries.

He said no new legislation would be required in the United States. In connection with Germany and Italy, he pointed out that, under the present law, the immigration quotas were merged when two countries became one political entity.

Labor Censors British Policies

Attacks Chamberlain's Failure to Defend Democracy

LONDON, March 25 (AP) — The national council of labor, central body of the British labor movement, today issued a sharp condemnation of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's "cynical disregard of the need for defending democracy."

Despite it, some quarters believed labor would cooperate. Reliable sources said Chamberlain had greatly impressed trade union leaders with private information that Britain was rearming solely against Germany.

Trade union leaders declared they were bound to secrecy and refused to confirm or deny the report, however, and belief was widespread the attack indicated labor's united opposition.

The manifesto came from an emergency meeting called to consider the prime minister's declaration of foreign policy yesterday in the house of commons and his interview with labor leaders Wednesday to ask their support for accelerated rearming.

The labor leaders demanded an immediate meeting of the assembly of the league of nations to consider the appeasement of Europe and declared "the government's continuance in office is a grave menace to the peace of Europe."

The manifesto assailed what it called Chamberlain's failure to disclose a "constructive policy" against war and demanded abandonment of the "farical" policy of non-intervention in the Spanish war.

Observers believed this might lead to a labor demand for political and industrial guarantees for support of the rearmament speed-up. Some foresaw labor's refusal to cooperate without further concessions toward a stronger foreign policy.

Farmers Spend Millions to Sell California Fruit

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25 (AP) — Thirty years ago this month a group of California farmers bought their first full page of advertising.

They advertised oranges in the Des Moines Register. Orange sales increased 50 per cent in Iowa that season.

Ralph H. Taylor, executive secretary of the California agricultural council, recalling the incident, said today 40 California farm cooperatives had advertising campaigns this year to aid 70,000 producers.

Taylor reported the California Fruit Growers Exchange, the cooperative which tried that first full page, had spent $25,000,000 in advertising since then and had doubled the national consumption of oranges.

Vain Arctic Search For Russians Ends

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP) — Sir Hubert Wilkins, the explorer, returned tonight from a seven-month search of the Arctic for six Russian flyers missing since they attempted to fly over the North Pole last August.

Wilkins, with his pilot, Herbert Hollick-Kenyon of Toronto, and Al Dyne, a mechanic, landed their bi-motored monoplane at Floyd Bennett airport after a flight from Winnipeg. He said the plane would be crated for shipment to Russia. It is owned by the Soviet government.

Will Liechtenstein be next in line for another Anschluss? Liechtenstein is the small state lying between Austria and Switzerland, comprising merely 65 square miles and with a population of 10,000. The question of the principality's relations with Germany has become acute since Hitler's absorption of Austria. Liechtenstein, ruled over by Francis I, 85-year-old prince, was virtually a dependency of Austria from 1866 to the close of the World war, when it proclaimed its independence.

Senate O.K.'s Probe of TVA

Inquiry Keeps 8 of Bridges' 23 Original Points

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP) — The congressional investigation demanded by Arthur E. Morgan, presidentially removed chairman of the Tennessee valley authority, was near realization tonight.

The senate approved an investigation to be conducted by five senators and five representatives into virtually every aspect of the new deal power agency and efforts of private power companies to defeat its program.

It adopted a joint resolution authorizing the inquiry, and sent it to the house. There, Majority Leader Rayburn said action could be expected as quickly as the rules committee sent the measure to the floor, after hearings scheduled for early next week.

Even then, however, the inquiry cannot begin until President Roosevelt gives his approval. It was generally expected that he would interpose no obstacle.

While Mr. Roosevelt has yet to say that he favors a congressional investigation, he has most emphatically denied statements that he was opposed to it. In his TVA message to congress on Wednesday, he said there could be no objection to such an inquiry.

The last bar to senate action was removed by the negotiation of a compromise agreement between friends and foes of TVA as to just what matters the investigating committee would be directed to look into.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) was insistent that a list of 23 charges against TVA be included also. Norris called them "insulting" but said that if they were phrased more moderately he would have no objection. Bridges finally boiled them down to eight points, which were acceptable to Norris.

D. A. R.'s State Stand on Issues Urge Iowa Members to Send Messages Advising Specific Legislation

CEDAR RAPIDS, March 25 (AP)—Delegates to the state convention of the D. A. R. went on record today urging defeat or recommitment of the government reorganization bill, urged an adequate defense to maintain a "righteous peace," favored an expanded air force and improvements in the army and navy.

In the resolution on the reorganization bill, which may come up for vote in the senate Monday, the D. A. R.'s asked Iowa chapters and individual members to telegraph their congressmen and senators immediately to vote against the bill, or for its recommitment.

The convention resolutions favored special legislation in principle, but went on record for "greater care that the imposition of heavy and unjust taxation shall not defeat the purpose of such legislation."

Other resolutions declared the teacher's oath of allegiance does not infringe on the prerogative of educators to determine subjects of study; favored education and curative work to stamp out venereal disease; urged restricted immigration.

Spanish Insurgents Penetrate Government's Aragon Lines

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish Frontier), March 25 (AP)—Two Spanish insurgent armies, advancing against the Catalan town of Lerida, today broke through the government's Aragon defenses west of Bujaraloz.

An official insurgent report predicted the quick fall of Bujaraloz, the first objective on the line of attack into Catalonia. It said the town already was under artillery and air bombardment.

(Government advices acknowledged the insurgents' new advances but declared they were made at the cost of heavy infantry losses. They said government planes surprised an insurgent motorized column, inflicting enormous losses and blowing up munitions trucks.) Fighting was reported heavy on a jagged front extending more

Senate Rejects Tax Revisions In House Bill

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The senate finance committee performed another major operation on the house-approved tax revision bill today, removing its gift and estate tax provisions.

Leaves Minor Portions Of Measure Intact After Session

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.) of the committee said members were swayed by arguments of state officials that the house provisions would lead the federal government farther into state fields of taxation.

Rejecting the house levies, the committee wrote into the bill those in existing law. Harrison said this would eliminate confusion and would not reduce revenue.

Yesterday, the committee wiped out the house-approved undistributed profits tax and overhauled the capital gains levy. The changes today left only minor portions of the house measure intact.

The house bill would provide a flat $40,000 exemption for both estate and gift taxes, reduce a separate annual exemption for gift taxes from $5,000 to $3,000, and reduce credits allowed for state gift and estate tax payments from about 25 per cent of the federal tax to 16.5 per cent.

The senate committee recommended retention of the present separate $40,000 exemptions for both the estate and gift levies, or a total of $80,000, and eliminated the other changes voted by the house.

Harrison said statements by Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York and other state officials had a great deal of influence on the committee's decision.

"Sovereignty Threatened" Lehman, in a letter to the committee this week, charged that the "independent sovereignty of the states is threatened by federal taxing policies." He said the house provisions would give states "only a one-sixth right" to estate taxes.

The senate committee approved an amendment by Senator Brown (D-Mich.) to exempt banks in liquidation from corporation income taxes.

Officers Seek Clue to Slaying In Labor War

CHICAGO, March 25 (AP) — Detectives turned to labor strife tonight in an effort to solve the "ride" slaying of Edward Shuler, 35, college-educated member of the International Union of Operating Engineers.

His body was found on a north side street early today. Investigators concluded he had been picked up after he completed his work in a loop building at midnight, driven to a deserted thoroughfare and shot four times as he alighted from the machine.

Shuler's widow, Madlyn, and his brother, Russell, told Captain Harry O'Connell they believed his death stemmed from intra-union controversy.

"My husband has told me of threats on his life and we have lived in terror," Mrs. Shuler said. "We have had to move from place to place and have been pestered with mysterious telephone calls."

Sergeant Barney Reilly said he had been informed Shuler was beaten six months ago.

"It was because of the union and because Shuler was trying to take a hand in the management that he was killed," Reilly stated.

Polish Bill Would Curb Jewish Ritual

WARSAW, Poland, March 25 (AP)—Poland's diet today passed and sent to the senate a bill forbidding Jewish ritual slaughter in Poland.

Mexico Bills Foreign Oil Corporations For Two Million Dollars in Back Taxes

MEXICO CITY, March 25 (AP)—The Mexican government tonight presented bills for $2,000,000 back taxes to two of the 17 foreign petroleum companies expropriated by President Lazaro Cardenas.

The amount was alleged due from Aguilera (Royal Dutch Shell) and Huasteca, Standard of New Jersey subsidiary, the two largest of the concerns taken over by the government.

Aguila was charged with failing to pay $1,400,000 "absentee" tax of funds sent out of the country in 1934-35. Huasteca was billed for $600,000 alleged due in absentee and income taxes.

Premier Blum Fails to Halt Self-Inspired Strikes Started To Prevent Cabinet Overthrow

PARIS, March 25 (AP)—Premier Leon Blum tonight failed to halt a wave of strikes which his own supporters inspired to prevent his cabinet's overthrow.

Strikers, estimated to total 26,720, got out of hand and demanded concessions which employers so far have refused. The government sought a method to appease them.

The socialist premier, however, averted a cabinet crisis by withdrawing a plan to divert 3,145,000,000 francs (currently about $95,900,000) from the exchange equalization fund to a special defense fund.

Senate Refuses The senate yesterday refused to approve this proposal and senators demanded Blum quit the office he has held since March 13 in favor of a national union government with another leader.

Blum declined to press his plan. He took to the chamber of deputies the measure the senate had approved for borrowing 5,000,000,000 francs (currently about $152,500,000) to meet immediate bills and received its ratification.

Money Necessary This money was necessary for payment of the governmental payroll of 1,200,000,000 francs (currently $36,600,000) today.

Speaking just before the chamber vote on this measure, Blum announced he would submit a bill to parliament for sweeping reorganization of French economy and finances to strengthen the nation in face of threats of an European war.

He said the new bill would be ready for parliament next week. On the labor front, strikes first were called in Paris and Lille to prevent what labor feared were rightists' efforts to overthrow Blum on financial measures and substitute a dictatorial "public safety" committee such as France previously has had in gravest days.

Japan gave the United States assurance that: 1. She is suspending her three-year salmon fishing survey begun in 1936.

2. She will not issue licenses to boats for fishing in Alaskan waters and will punish offenders. The United States accepted these assurances for the time being.

Nevertheless the bureau of fisheries and the coast guard will keep a sharp lookout over fishing activities off Alaska.

Czech Nazis Ask for Election To Get Their 'Denied Rights'

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, March 25 (AP) — Konrad Henlein, nazi leader in Czechoslovakia, tonight called on the government for new elections to end a system under which he said his followers were "denied their rights."

He coupled his demand with an assertion that he controlled 1,600,000 votes and 81 seats in parliament—55 in the chamber of deputies and 26 in the senate. This would give his party by far the largest vote in parliament.

The government, through a coalition of Czechs and Slovaks, is supported by 163 of the 300 members in the chamber. The largest government party is the Czech Agrarian party with 45 seats. The

Leader Opens Plebiscite Tour In East Prussia

KOENIGSBERG, Germany, March 25 (AP) — Adolf Hitler tonight notified the world that when Germany takes possession of the nazi flag stays put.

"This I swear, and so do all of us: What we once possess we will never under any circumstances surrender," the reichsfuehrer passionately assured some 15,000 wild cheering East Prussians in the opening speech of his plebiscite tour of greater Germany.

This was the meaning of the swift military occupation of Austria, he said. Many Troops Not Needed He explained many troops were not needed there, as the joyous welcome German soldiers received from Austrians showed.

His compelling reason for ordering such large-scale military action was: "I wanted to show the world we were acting in deadly earnest. I wanted to show the world that this problem admits of no further discussion."

Hitler came here by airplane for the speech, the first in his series of 14 talks to be made prior to the voting on April 10 on the issue of Austro-German union and election of a new reichstag.

It was his first visit here in two years and he received a tremendous ovation. Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Hitler's right-hand man, meanwhile was sailing down the Danube to speak in Vienna tomorrow night.

Reichsfuehrer Drops No Hints The reichsfuehrer, creator of the greater Germany, dropped no hint as to where he planned his next move.

Many of his followers in this region however saw hopeful significance in the fact he voiced strong faith in direct action in this Baltic city which is midway between the Free City of Danzig and Memel, formerly German but now Lithuanian.

Hitler did not specifically mention Danzig or Memel or the German minority in Czechoslovakia.

Germany Will Decide But he emphatically declared that when decisions affecting the destinies of German populations were to be made, they would be made by Germany without asking the permission of anyone.

"If the world is deaf to all pleas for justice," he exclaimed, "then the reich must take justice into its own hands."

"Our test is 'help yourself and God will help you' and God has helped us."

His audience roared approval. Justifying his annexation of Austria, Hitler compared the regime of former Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg with the counter-reformation in Austria centuries ago.

The fuehrer said he called the Austrian chancellor to Berchtesgaden, for the conference held Feb. 12, and added: "I told him 'Herr Schuschnigg, you are oppressing a country without justification and that country is my country just as much as it is yours.'"

Orders Military Action To Show World Earnestness

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Richard Whitney, fallen pillar of Wall street, listed his personal assets at a bankruptcy hearing today and here are some of the things he mentioned:

Pigs, cattle, horses, dogs, some old work clothes, "disreputable but comfortable," and one cock pheasant.

Four Chevrolet sedans, two trucks, a ten-year-old second-hand Cadillac, two hunting guns, and a 16-foot sloop which hasn't been in the water for five or six years.

A rambling old 27-room house on a 500-acre farm in Somerset county, N. J., an assortment of patent rights, and a portfolio of stocks in a wide variety of companies, some of which:—

Made spray guns for blowing powdered metal on ship hulls to prevent rust. Owned an Arizona copper mine which has not been operated for 20 years.

Made applejack. Developed plant products for animal food and for treatment of sores. Experimented with peat humus as a fertilizer.

Made insecticides. U. S. and Japan Settle Quarrel Over Fisheries

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—The United States and Japan settled tonight their quarrel over Japanese salmon fishing in Alaskan waters.

The dispute had threatened to lead to "an undeclared war" between Japanese and American fishing fleets.

Japan gave the United States assurance that: 1. She is suspending her three-year salmon fishing survey begun in 1936.

2. She will not issue licenses to boats for fishing in Alaskan waters and will punish offenders. The United States accepted these assurances for the time being.

Nevertheless the bureau of fisheries and the coast guard will keep a sharp lookout over fishing activities off Alaska.

READY BUT WAITING Lithuanian Delegation Goes to Poland

KAUNAS, Lithuania, March 25 (AP) — Former Defense Minister General Stasys Dirmantas declared in a bristling statement to the diet today that Lithuania was ready to fight Poland when the time arrives, but "for the present let the diplomats speak."

Dirmantas, who headed the defense ministry in the cabinet which resigned last night, said Lithuania accepted the Polish ultimatum to settle their longstanding differences after analyzing the present situation in Europe and the condition of the nation's armaments.

The School For War

THE WORLD has looked with awe at the Civil War in Spain. But whether the world has approved or not, some governments have at least been grateful for it. The battlefields have been a great proving ground for modern methods of warfare.

Ever since General Giulio Douhet came out in 1926 with his book called "Mastery of the Air," in which he forecast the important part that airplanes were to play in future wars, the war lords of every nation have been anxious to try his theory out. The Douhet theory is that bombing planes can paralyze cities; civilian populations whose lights, water, communication and transportation systems had been destroyed would sue their leaders for peace. The situation in Spain, however, has not furnished much evidence of this.

Franco, the first military leader to have modern war planes at his disposal in attacking a city, has given them a thorough test on Madrid. Because many people have been killed, Madrid today fears air attacks. But in spite of their frequent occurrence, business still goes on. The senoritas still dance and are happy. Babies are still being born and life goes on as usual.

Madrid's answer to air attacks is founded on fast-working reconstruction crews. The wreckage from one raid is quickly cleared away and all is happy until the next one comes.

Airplanes as a defense have again been found wanting. Foreigners watching rebel planes swoop down on Madrid before there was a chance to take to the air in defense have put greater reliance on anti-aircraft guns. Especially they are relying on the new type of automatic fire gun that shoots tracer bullets making it as easy to spot down a flying airplane as turning a stream of water on a flower.

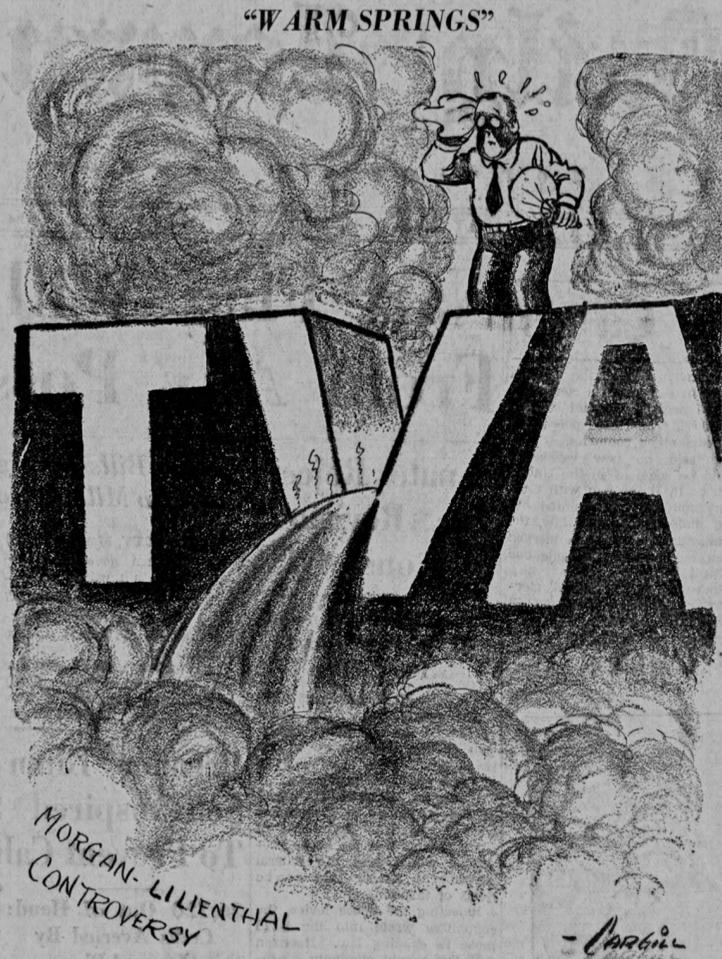

Foreign military forces have watched all developments and are rearming accordingly. They are even watching their own equipment and their own men in action. This, of course, leads only to the fact that when real war does come we will have less experimental stage to pass through. The battle will be thicker from the start, and because it will be thicker, we can only hope that it will be shorter.

One of the saddest sights of the current American scene is a spring poet trying to find a word that rhymes with April.

Editor, The Daily Iowan: When I was eating breakfast in Denver yesterday, I saw a little Associated Press story that brought sorrow to my heart as I suppose it did to thousands of other Iowans. It told of the passing of Clyde Williams.

I want to add a tribute to this man, who of course, needs none. I first knew Clyde Williams when I was in high school in Iowa City. This little man—he did not weigh over 150 pounds—was the hero and friend of every boy in the community. In the day when football demanded little less than brawn, he dominated the Western conference through inspiring leadership and sheer courage. I have watched football for 40 years, and I never saw a better player.

95 Per Cent of Overweight People Simply Eat Too Much

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. I am convinced by experience with my "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet" and the study of mildly obese individuals, that at least 95 per cent of all people who are overweight are that way because they eat too much. They may not think that they do and they may blame it on glands or some mysteriously constitutional factor, but when they go on an even moderately reducing diet they begin to lose weight, which proves the point.

Tuning In with Betty Harpel. Speaking of fans and fan letters, there are some pretty good accounts. That mysterious and attractive young man who came to the stage door of CBS Playhouse III during "Song Shop" rehearsal was one of Nadine Conner's suitors who had come all the way from California just to see her for a moment.

The funniest fan letter that Al Garr has received since joining the Phil Baker show came from a feminine admirer who enclosed a false mustache. Said she: "I like to think of my favorite tenor as a he-man with a nice black mustache."

When the Voice of Experience first went on the air he neglected to inform his family or friends. About 10 days later he got a note from his father: "Listen to the man who calls himself the Voice of Experience. You'll learn things from him that will be of value."

Col. Stoopnagle takes over the spot now held by Harriet Parsons, film commentator, on the NBC-Blue net-work April 3. He will be supported by a singer and a piano duo.

From both coasts come telephone calls for Jack Fulton, tenor star of the new "Sing and Swing" program. A New York producer wants him to play the lead in a Broadway musical comedy scheduled for early June and Hollywood movie scouts are making him handsome offers, too.

Broadway producers have long lamented the motion picture companies habit of grabbing off their most proficient playwrights. Now the radio has to undergo the same talent raids. Fred Alens scrippers, Jack Benny's writers and Ben Bernie's men have all deserted them in favor of Hollywood.

New airs scheduled to panic the country according to reports are revivals of classical songs done over in the swing motif. "Martha" is one of the best and "I Dreamt I Dwelt In Marble Halls" isn't far behind.

June Graduates To all students who expect to graduate at the close of the present semester — June 6, 1938: Every student who expects to receive a degree or a certificate at the university convocation to be held Monday, June 6, should make his formal application on a card provided for the purpose at the Registrar's Office on or before Saturday, April 2, 1938. It is of the utmost importance that each student concerned comply with this request immediately, for otherwise it is very likely that a student who may be in other respects qualified will not be recommended for graduation at the close of the present semester.

Making application for the degree, or certificate involves the payment of the graduation fee ($15) and also the cap and gown fee ($1) at the time the application is made — the payment of these fees being a necessary part of the application. Call at the registrar's office for the card.

The petition of the association of senior class presidents that a fee of $1 be assessed to cover the cost of the caps and gowns for commencement has been granted. Therefore, hereafter this additional fee of $1 is to be paid by each candidate for a degree at the time he pays his graduation fee.

(Heretofore the normal rental fee for bachelors' caps and gowns has been $2.00 and for doctors' caps and gowns and hoods $4.00-$5.00.) The service for handling the taking of orders, and the distribution of the academic apparel, will be explained to students when information about Convocation is sent out from the Alumni Office.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK — William Seabrook thinks the foreign element in America is something to rejoice over and not, as you may have supposed, a matter to be cogitated in moments of anger. But whatever your private opinion may be, it is a hide-bound fact that New York owes much of its wealth, its culture, its building and its humor to visitors from overseas. Here are a few pertinent observations gleaned from the pages of his new book, "These Foreigners": There are 20,000 Italian barbers in New York and last year they did a $35,000,000 business. There are 45 Italian Roman Catholic churches and something like 100 priests. Alfred Salmaggi, an ex-cobbler, is head of the Hippodrome and presents popular priced opera there, with elephants. WOV is the only pure Italian radio station in America and all of its programs are broadcast in Italian. Fiorello LaGuardia, the mayor, is also Italian.

350,000 Russians Then there are 350,000 Russians in greater New York, three-fourths of which are Russian-Jews. Many of these are White Russians, including executives of shipping lines, noted engineers and doormen. At least 10 members of the Romanov family are in this country and former Russian generals are a drug on the market. Hurok, the famous tour manager, is Russian, Eddie Cantor and Irving Berlin are Russian. The doorman at the Savoy-Plaza is a former Czarist general, said to be the greatest living authority on Russian aristocracy. Another general is night watchman at a match factory and an admiral is the elevator man.

Washington World

By CHARLES P. STEWART WASHINGTON, D. C.—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler of Montana is developing into something strongly suggestive of a possible presidential nominee. I do not exactly know upon what ticket, if any, he might most appropriately be nominated. Democrats and republicans are so jumbled now that a democrat conceivably could be nominated by a republican convention or a republican at a democratic convention.

Or perhaps there will be a third party. Senator Wheeler would be a first-class suitability to lead such a group. He has had experience at it. He was the nominee in second place with the elder Sen. Robert M. La Follette on the progressive ticket in 1924.

Age is 'Right' When a presidential possibility is discussed in the United States the question always arises: "How old is he? Old enough to have some sense? Not old enough to have no reasonable expectancy of living out a term or two in the White House?" Senator Wheeler is 56—a very satisfactory presidential age.

There is nothing the matter with his geography. These little details signify somewhat. They are all in the Montana solon's favor, for however much they may amount to. Not an Orator The point frequently is made that the senator is a poor orator. It is true that he does not bring down the roof with a crash. He has not a big roar. His periods do not ring.

Nevertheless, he is a wonder in debate. He delivers not a bad, but an indifferent, speech, from the standpoint of elocution. Yet, by occasional cross-questioning interruptions, he can knock a rival's best elocutionary effort into "pi" to the best effect of any rip-snorting orator I ever listened to.

Punches Holes Wheeler's legal career has been mainly as a defender in criminal cases. His job has been principally to punch holes in the prosecutor's furious denunciations of the prisoner at the bar—not to speak FOR the prisoner, but to show how weak are the charges AGAINST him.

That has been his mission in the senate—not to defend democracy, but to pooh-pooh what he believes to be the new deal's attacks against it.

Lamb Stars as Iowa Trackmen Annex 5th Straight State Title; Drake Bulldogs Grab Second

The University of Iowa track team climaxed its indoor season at the fieldhouse last night by winning the mile relay and with it the meet and a fifth straight state quadrangular meet title from Drake university. Iowa outscored Drake 58 1-2 points to 51. Iowa State was third with 28 1-2 points and Grinnell was fourth with 25.

Co-captains Bush Lamb and Jimmy Lyle led the Hawkeyes by shattering two meet records. Lyle bettered the half mile record by two-tenths of a second when he broke the yarn at 1:57.5, and Lamb bounded over the 60-yard high hurdles in :07.4 to set a new meet record and to equal the fieldhouse mark.

Three of Iowa's six victories in the 12 event card were garnered by Lamb, who placed first in the high hurdles, broad jump and low hurdles. In addition he ran second on the Iowa mile relay team which won the last and deciding event of the meet.

The outcome of the meet was unknown until the very last event. After sweeping the first three places of the two mile race, the Drake team assumed an eight point lead which was narrowed to 1 1-2 points when results of the broad and high jumps were tabulated and only the relay was left on the program.

Billig, leadoff man for the Hawkeyes, grabbed the lead with Grinnell, Iowa State and Drake trailing in that order. It never changed. Lamb took the baton, passed it to McCollister who maintained his lead until Carl Teufel took charge and won easily with a 20 yard lead.

The most spectacular event on the program was the half mile relay, won by Iowa. In that event Carl Teufel again outstepped his opponents but his lead was lost on a bad pass of the baton. The final lap was started with Fred Teufel behind. Positions were switched again on the last turn and Fred finished with a burst of speed to break the tape only a yard ahead of the Iowa State anchor man.

Seven of the Iowa track men will compete again tonight when they run in four events at the Chicago relays at the invitation of the Chicago Daily News. The men, Lyle, Graves, Lamb, Billig, McCollister, and Fred and Carl Teufel, will run in the company of some of the nation's greatest stars. The Iowans are entered in the "600" yard run, 1,000-yard run, the hurdle series and the mile relay.

Irish Derby Pays U. S. Citizens Five Million

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—The Irish hospital sweepstakes, mainly supported by Americans, paid Americans $5,087,346 today on the outcome of the Grand National steeplechase at Aintree, England.

Battleship, plucky son of Man o'War, won the race, the first time in 100 runnings an American horse finished first.

With him rode the happy hopes of 14 Americans who collected $150,000 each—$2,100,000. Eight other Americans won $75,000 each on Royal Danieli, second, and eight more $50,000 each on Workman, third.

The American winnings were about 65 per cent of the $7,522,000 Americans paid for tickets. In all, purchasers throughout the world paid $13,730,010 for $2.00 chances to get rich quick. The total winnings were $8,057,600, leaving a balance of $5,672,410.

American ticket holders had been assured a least $1,641,406 even before the race was run.

Drawings from the drum of fortune in Dublin, Ireland, had given Americans 699 tickets on horses entered in the race. Those whose horses won were paid the large prizes. Holders of chances on non-starters and non-winners won $2,302 each.

Expect Great Duel in Relays

Cunningham, Fenske To Race in Indoor Carnival

CHICAGO, March 25 (AP)—The making of a spectacular new rivalry for the star role in that stirring foot-racing drama, the great American mile — between Glenn Cunningham and Chuck Fenske — will be tested tomorrow night for the first time.

Cunningham who has donned his spiked shoes in the star's dressing room for years, and Fenske have met before, but not since the young Wisconsin speedster suddenly established himself as a definite threat. Tomorrow night they will get together under the new setup in the famous bankers' mile, feature of the Chicago Daily News relays at the international amphitheater.

The brilliant Kansan will seek to bring his greatest indoor season to a fitting climax against Fenske. He has won 14 races this year on the boards, including the greatest of all miles, his 4:04.4 at Dartmouth college a month ago. He has run the distance ten times under 4:10. Against this stunning record, Fenske has youth and a fine 4:06.9 mile, achieved last week, to offer.

They will run over a new track, 11 laps to the mile and banked. Special 7-8-inch spruce stock was used in its construction to make it the fastest board oval in the country. The field includes another pair of stars, Archie San Romani and Gene Venzke, in addition to Fenske.

The bankers' mile will be flanked by a half-dozen other events with all-star fields. Ben Johnson, fleet Columbia Negro, will tackle Bill Clifford of Notre Dame, John Davenport of Chicago, and Eulace Peacock of Temple in a sprint series at 40, 50 and 55 yards. Sam Allen of Oklahoma Baptist, and Allan Tolmich of Wayne university, will hook up in a hurdles series over the same distances.

Jimmy Herbert of New York university who holds the world indoor mark of 1:11.1 for 600 yards, and Chuck Beatham, former Ohio State star, who beat him here last year, will try it again at the same distance. Indiana's Don Lash, world record holder at two miles, goes against Joe McCluskey, durable former Fordham distance man, over that route.

Cornelius Johnson, Dave Albritton of Ohio State, Eddie Burke of Marquette, and Chuck Bechel of Northern Illinois Teachers, will try for a new top in the high jump, and Earle Meadows, co-holder of the world pole vault mark, meets Milt Padway of Wisconsin, and Dick Ganslen of Columbia.

Hawkeye Baseball Team Prepares for '38 Season

The cry of "Play Ball" will soon echo over the new University of Iowa baseball diamond as the Hawkeyes prepare for the invasion of Western conference opponents.

and shortstop on last year's edition of the baseball nine.

Lower left is Elmer Bratten, Waterloo junior who had charge of first base most of last season. Bratten is a left hander and will be valuable to the Hawkeye offense.

Nile Kinnick, lower right, has transferred his talents from the football field and basketball court to the diamond and may find a place as the regular catcher if he sharpens up his batting eye. Kinnick was formerly a receiver for Bob Feller when the latter was pitching at Adel high school.

Backstroker In Brilliant Race Of 1:38.6 Time

Hawkeye Swimmers In Fifth Place in The Preliminaries

Records were smashed and champions were dethroned yesterday in the Rutgers tank in New Brunswick, N. J., as the cream of the nation's swimming crop met to decide who would be crowned national swimming champions.

Ohio State, pre-meet favorite, got off to an impressive start, and when the results of the first day's competition were in they were leading Michigan, defending champions, 22 to 20.

Princeton and Harvard were tied with 16 points each with Yale and Iowa trailing in that order.

Frances Heydt was the first Hawkeye to garner a place when he finished second behind Albert Vande Weghe, of Princeton, in the 150-yard backstroke. His time was 1:38.6.

The combination of Heydt, Allen and Reed had to be content with fifth place in the 300-yard medley relay event which was won by Princeton in 2:54.7, two-tenths of a second better than the listed American record.

Mertenmen To Seek 1st Title

Hoping to enter the scoring column of a Mississippi Valley conference track meet for the first time since the league was organized, Coach Francis Merten will pit his City high entrants against loop rivals in each of the 11 events of the meet to be held at the Iowa fieldhouse tomorrow afternoon.

Although Coach Merten's squad has swamped Wilson of Cedar Rapids and West Liberty thus far this season, it is not likely that the Hawkeyes will place high in the conference meet. The Red and White's chances of scoring probably rest with the mile medley relay team, composed of Kimmel, Markovitz, McLaughlin and Mason. Ed Mason, half miler, is the only Little Hawk performer to gain two firsts in the two meets held this

Hawk Golfers Hold Intra-Squad Tourney Today

Seventeen members of the University of Iowa golf squad will tee off today at 12:30 at Finkbine field in the first intra-squad match of the season. Two teams, one captained by Capt. Willie Thompson and the other by Tom King, will battle it out on a medal play basis.

The regular greens were used for the first time Wednesday, and since then several rounds below 80 have been turned in.

The match held tomorrow is the first of a series of competitive matches, the outcome of which will help Coach Kennett pick the team. Another of these events will be round-robin, in

Victor Ghezzi Wins North-South Open With Score of 279

PINEHURST, N. C., March 25 (AP)—Victor Ghezzi, hard-hitting Deal (N. J.) professional, won his first golf tournament of the year today when he bagged the 36th annual North and South open with a 72-hole score of 279. Just three strokes over the record set by Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., the 1935 victor.

Ghezzi, shooting steady, consistent but none the less redhot golf, dominated the proceedings from the start. He led in three of the four rounds and tied for the lead in the other. He was over par in only one round.

Lewis Decisions Bud Mignault In 10 Round Fight

ST. PAUL, March 25 (AP)—In a 10 round non title bout, John Henry Lewis, light heavyweight champion of the world, pounded out a referee's decision over Bud Mignault, Brockton, Mass., tonight.

The rugged New Englander provided the hardest sort of a test for Lewis and though receiving more than he delivered, he was still punching hard at the final bell and had damaged Lewis' right eye.

Lewis smashed hard rights to Mignault's jaw after the third round and finally floored him for a nine count in the seventh round just before the bell.

Sulek and Eddie Bisenius Lost For Iowa Road Trips

Hawkeye diamond hopes took a definite slump yesterday when it was learned that Emil Sulek and Eddie Bisenius, two vets, will be unable to make any of the trips because of pressing school work. Bisenius has been highly regarded as a member of this year's team either as an outfielder or infielder. Coach Vogel has been training Sulek for mound duty in hopes that the veteran infielder would be able to do his share of the reserve pitching duties.

The Hawkeyes used a regular diamond for the first time last night when Coach Vogel put them on the recently conditioned freshman field near the hospital.

Colored Eggs Get Ready for Easter, Advises Bunny

By HELEN RIES "Easter is the time for eggs, the time for eggs is the Easter time," so croon all the hens in the country as they speed up egg production to aid the Easter bunny with his task of providing brightly colored eggs to children Easter morning.

This year the bunny has a number of suggestions for his helpers about the way to color eggs. For instance, gold, silver, red and blue stars from a bookstore, pasted to eggs of various colors, make prize eggs from ordinary ones.

Tiny pictures cut from magazines and shellaced to an egg, or water colors applied with a small brush make a varicolored specialty that is different from the usual run of the mill.

Legal seals, also from a bookstore, pasted on like the colored stars make amusing designs. It may take a few eggs for experiments, but a face painted on the egg will provide fun as long as it lasts.

Rumor has it that eggs will be inexpensive this Easter. Whites look best under water color but the browns take every dye in fine style. Boil them until they are hard or, by putting a pin hole in each end, blow the contents out. Then use your best imagination and slap on stars, seals and cut-outs.

Looking Glass Reflections

By VERA SHELDON

Spring's loveliest gowns will be worn tonight to the university's most formal party of the year, the Club Cabaret.

As strictly feminine as the young ladies when grandmother was a girl will be the dancers in their gowns of soft chiffons, crisp marquisettes, fine nets and shimmering satins and taffetas.

There could be no gown more lovely for a formal party than one of white lace and black net—not net which falls limply but that stands out crisply from its slender bodice. From its low V neckline to the hem of the skirt the dress is a series of rows of net interspersed with wide rows of fine white lace.

Equally feminine is one of moire taffeta with tiny white dots on its black background. A crisp ruffle outlines its low shoulderline and the skirt, falling from a high, snug waist, reveals yards of material when its wearer whirls as she dances.

Like a beautiful sunset is a dress of marquisette with many shades of lavender blending from light to dark. Shirring holds the bodice into soft folds, and two bows at the shoulder add to the charm of the dress. Over the gown is worn a sleeveless jacket of the palest pink lace.

It looks like a dream—this pale peach chiffon with its high bodice and shirred neckline bordered by a fluffy ruffle. Two small bows of peace and dream blue are almost hidden beneath the full puffed sleeves. Two others tie demurely at the neckline.

But not all gowns worn to formal parties will be full and flouncing. Others may be of gay patterns and designs, and though semi-fitted will have a few pleats or folds to give them fullness.

Of the latter type is a floral print with a white background. Made of heavy silk it fits snugly to the waistline, but there are yards of material in the skirt which falls into soft folds. A full ruffle outlines its square neckline.

Another gown of plain black crepe is fitted below the waistline to flare slightly in the skirt. Over it is worn a brief bolero made of rows and rows of creamy white lace. With an equally stunning white crepe evening dress a black lace bolero is worn. Another boasts a frothy white net bodice above a tiered skirt of black net.

Many all-white gowns will appear as a part of the spring picture. An original white vision of Chanel's is of organdy with yards of baby white ribbons covering the skirt and extending on to the bodice. Alix' white organza gown is striped with a romany band of yellow, blue, red and green taffeta ribbon. Underneath it is worn a crinoline petticoat.

One's dress might be of ethereal silk tulle silhouetted by hand shirring and tiered with narrow ruffles from shoulder to hemline. It might be a net of hyacinth blue with shirred bodice, puffed sleeves, decollette back and full skirt. A wide sash of dubonnet and pink winds around the waistline to tie in a large bow at the back.

Spring Touches Add Smartness To Neckwear

Neckwear which can be acquired at a nominal cost is proof that smartness depends mainly upon accessory touches. A winter dress can be given a spring touch by adding a distinctively styled lace, pique or sequin collar.

Tailored pique with hand-made fagotting gives a smart appearance to the mannish suit. For an afternoon dress, a dainty lace in a deep collar finished with a low jabot is flattering.

A soft ruffled lace collar dresses up an otherwise unassuming dress. A bow of gold braid not only accents a black dress but adds lustre to your hair.

A "Lace de Venise" bolero worn over a black velvet evening frock makes a distinctive costume.

A black dinner dress has a smarter appearance if a gold braid collar and gold buckle are added as accessories.

'Only One Person Can Make Iowa Highways Safest -- You'

Police Judge Carson Speaks on Legion Safety Program

"There is one person in this state who can make Iowa the safest state in which to drive. That person is you!"

With this challenge to the motorists of the state, Judge Burke N. Carson of the city police court began the seventh weekly American Legion highway safety broadcast over WSUI last night.

"It is up to each individual to see that he improves his own driving," Carson said. "Hoping that others will do so will not help. The ability to handle a car safely and sanely should be the goal of every driver."

Iowa Not First
Iowa ranks eighth among the states on a basis of auto fatalities per 100,000 population, Judge Carson pointed out and third on a basis of auto fatalities per ten million gallons of gasoline consumed.

"But the important thing is that we are not first in either case," he explained. "Skill in handling a car, plus common sense, must replace skill alone. The emphasis must change from 'I drove 30 miles in 30 minutes' to 'I took my time and got there safely.'"

"Parents and teachers are in a position to do the most good," the speaker explained. "If they will improve their own driving and at the same time teach the younger people safe driving, the benefits will be multiplied."

Judge Carson suggested that safe drivers should be recognized and rewarded, in addition to punishing drivers. "Figures show that a small percentage of our drivers cause the largest part of our accidents," he asserted.

Join Safety Groups
"Don't be content with the knowledge that there are safety organizations in your community," the judge said as he spoke of the Iowa City traffic school and the important part such schools play in eliminating highway accidents. "Join with them and take an active part in their efforts to promote highway safety."

In addition to such factors, the speaker pointed out that "unless we make revolutionary changes in licensing our drivers and rule drivers off the road for lesser offenses, the improvement in highway safety will be a slow process."

"Let me call your attention to the fact," he exclaimed, "that enforcement of the laws by arrest and conviction is the slowest and most expensive method of improving the conditions on our highways. It will take very little time and cost you nothing to obtain a copy of the motor vehicle law, to learn and observe it."

Six Safety Rules
Judge Carson offered six rules that will help to keep you out of court: (1) Regular mechanical inspection of your car, and in addition make sure that it is equipped as the law requires; (2) Repair any mechanical breakdown immediately; (3) Proper licensing for you, your car, and others who drive your car; (4) Learn the motor vehicle laws, drive and walk according to their spirit as well as their letter; (5) Drive your car at a moderate rate of speed, even though you are on the open highway, and (6) Remember that driving after dark is the most dangerous."

Patrolman Richard Hohl of the ninth district of the Iowa highway patrol will speak on the broadcast next week, discussing highway safety from the standpoint of the officers of the open highway.

Don Davis, chef de gare of Forty and Eight, honor legion society which sponsors the weekly broadcasts, introduced the speaker. The programs are presented under the direction of Ellis Crawford, district radio chairman for Forty and Eight and the legion, and H. I. Jennings, local highway safety chairman for the two groups.

State Officials Approve Sewer

The state department of public health has approved the plans for the proposed Sunnyside sewer project, City Engineer Fred E. Gartzke said yesterday.

Additional work must be completed on the blueprints before they will be laid before the city council, or WPA aid requested, Gartzke said.

The area which would be improved if the project is approved, is south of Kirkwood avenue and east of Summit street.

Cannot Communicate With Spirit World
All things, apparently, come to the city clerk, and Iowa City's is Grover Watson. Yesterday, for instance, he was trying to decipher the meaning of a Minneapolis woman's letter.

It read, "I am interested in the Iowa cemetery fund or association. I would like to carry out my deceased husband's wishes in this matter. Please send me information."

Grover, being cooperative, puzzled a while, but was unable to think what her deceased husband's wishes might have been. He wrote back, for "more specific information."

Greeley, Mark Twain Among Lecturers At Iowa During 1800's

By ELAINE ABRAMS
J. B. Priestley, John D. Craig, John Mason Brown, Julien Bryan and Phillip Quedalla are not the only notable speakers who have lectured in Iowa City. Since the founding of this community, Iowa Citizens have been interested in hearing the opinions of many notable persons.

Although there was no university lecture series during the early part of the 19th century, the speakers who came to Iowa City were the famous persons of their day. Instead of an university series, there were lecture courses and lyceums.

Between 1850 and 1860, such famous personages as Horace Greeley, John G. Saxe, Horace Mann, Wendell Phillips, Ralph Waldo Emerson and John B. Gough made appearances here. Most of these men returned several times during the years following their first appearances.

Such notables as P. T. Barnum, Carl Schurz, Bayard Taylor, Louis Agassiz, Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Mark Twain and Horace Greeley lectured to Iowa City audiences between the years 1860 and 1870.

In the 1870's, the State Historical Society provided a lecture course by Iowans. In the list of speakers were Chancellor William G. Hammond, Judge George G. Wright, Hiram Price, Dr. George F. Magoun and the Rev. Henry Clay Dean. This proved a very popular move and the Baconian lecture series grew out of it.

Among the lecturers in Iowa City between 1870 and 1880 were Susan B. Anthony, Julian Ward Howe, the Rev. David Swing, Henry Watterson, Mark Twain, Henry Ward Beecher, Oscar Wilde and Josh Billings. These lecturers from out of the state were "a greater attraction" than the local speakers.

Of more interest to many Iowa Citizens of the 19th century than what the lecturer said—was what he was "honored" with for saying it. Wendell Phillips received $110 for a single lecture, except when he spoke on slavery—then it was free!

John B. Gough and Anna Dickinson each received $200 for a lecture. Henry Ward Beecher received $500 for a lecture in 1877.

Violators Hear Smoke Speech

Prof. H. O. Croft Advises Education to Solve City Problem

"Smoke reduction in Iowa City is largely a matter of education," Prof. H. O. Croft of the college of engineering, told violators of the city smoke ordinance in the city hall council chambers yesterday afternoon.

Yesterday's meeting was the second in an attempt to rid Iowa City of the smoke nuisance. Mayor Myron J. Walker appointed Professor Croft chairman of the committee to carry on the educational campaign early this year. Serving with Professor Croft are M. E. Rice and George Zeithamel.

Two violators who were absent yesterday will receive notices of the next meeting, which they must attend or be subject to arrest. Only one person yesterday was a repeater. This in itself would indicate that the campaign is serving to reduce the smoke nuisance.

Professor Croft outlined two rules for intelligent and economical firing:
1. Never cover up the whole fire area when adding new fuel, because there must be some live fire to burn the volatile matter, thus reducing the smoke loss.
2. In building a fire put the coal on the bottom and the kindling and paper on top. This method of firing also serves to lessen the smoke waste.

Mercury Climbs Beyond Normal
Iowa City's temperatures were from 12 to 16 degree above normal yesterday as the mercury registered between 48 and 66 degrees, according to the hydraulics laboratory report.

Asks Unlimited Federal Loans

Administration Asks Congress 'Aid Business'

RFC Chairman Asserts Franklin Roosevelt Approved Plan

By JOHN W. HENDERSON
WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—The administration asked congress today to authorize a virtually unlimited program of government loans to business and a resumption of self-liquidating loans to public bodies.

The administration's proposal would enable the Reconstruction Finance corporation to make business loans on a long-term basis, meeting directly the complaint of many business men that such credits were not available.

The RFC would be given power also to buy securities of private corporations, opening the way for capital loans for expansion and new construction. Small business men have complained to the government that capital for those purposes was difficult to obtain except in large quantities.

Making public a letter from Jesse Jones, RFC chairman, requesting that the new authority be granted, Senator Glass (D-Va) said he already had introduced legislation designed to carry out the administration's recommendations.

Jones said in his letter that President Roosevelt had authorized him to make the request.

Under existing law the RFC is prohibited from making loans maturing later than Jan. 31, 1945. The total of all private loans outstanding can not be more than $300,000,000. Both restrictions would be eliminated under the administration proposal.

The new provision would empower the RFC to "purchase the securities and obligations of and to make loans to, any business enterprise when capital or credit, at prevailing rates for the character loan provided for, is not otherwise available."

The corporation would be restricted only by its judgment as to the solvency of the borrower and the soundness of the loan.

It would be required to determine that the loan or security was of a nature "reasonably to assure retirement or repayment."

The corporation would be permitted to lend money to states, municipalities and other public agencies for projects authorized by federal, state or municipal law.

Under the emergency relief act of 1932, the RFC was authorized to make such loans, but the authority was rescinded when WPA was established. Subsequently PWA authority for such loans was taken away also.

IT DEPENDS TVA Inquiry Rests On Personnel

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) said today that the proposed congressional inquiry into the TVA "can be a whitewash, a farce, or a real investigation, depending upon the personnel of the investigating committee."

Bridges recently sponsored a resolution to investigate the power and planning agency, and some of its provisions were included in an investigation resolution approved by the senate yesterday.

Japs Get More Totalitarianism

Parliament Ends After Granting Power To Government

TOKYO, March 26 (AP)—Japan's parliament ended an historic session tonight, having taken the nation far along the road to totalitarianism.

The last bill enacted was a government measure to transfer entire control of Japan's huge electric industry from private hands to the state.

Also voted was the bitterly contested national mobilization bill to give the government unlimited power to draft Japan's manpower and economic resources in a war emergency.

The whole session, the regular 1937-38 meeting, was marked by conflict between the cabinet and the legislature, dissension between the houses and strife among the parties in the lower house.

The session was to have ended yesterday but a rescript from Emperor Hirohito was necessary to prolong it one day so that a deadlock over the electric power bill could be broken.

The bill was the last of 86 which the government introduced. All but ten were adopted. The session already had approved the regular 1938-39 budget of $833,000,000, of which about half goes to the army and navy, and also a supplementary budget of about $1,400,000,000 for expenses of the war in China.

Evidence of strain on the nation's financial and material reserves was seen in a sharp rise in the commodity price index, published today.

The ratio for March was 106.7 based on last July as the normal and showed increases in the cost of all essential commodities.

For a year before July, 1937, however, Japan had been importing heavily and planning industrial expansion. Living costs, therefore, had reached a peak by then and, despite the war, had declined until the new rise this month.

Goering Warns Jews to Leave Austria in Vienna Speech

VIENNA, March 26 (AP)—Field Marshal General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, No. 2 Nazi, warned Jews tonight that they must get out of Austria.

In a smashing, plebiscite campaign speech to 50,000 Austrians who welcomed him to Vienna as "Our Hermann" he declared—

"Vienna was not a German city because 300,000 Jews live here. Vienna must become German again. The Jew must know we do not care to live with him. He must go."

Then Goering outlined Germany's greater Austria program, said the courts would consider the circumstances of "Schuschnigg's fake plebiscite plan," and announced with a derisive filing at the Hapsburgs that the monarchist movement is forever dead.

He said national socialism has no desire to destroy the church or religion but warned "there will be no compromise if religion meddles in politics."

He disclosed that a vast public works program has been planned. He spoke in the northwest railway concourse, turned into a stadium for the occasion.

Traffic in the district was completely blocked while all of former Austria heard the speech, a part of the campaign for a "yes" vote in the April 10 plebiscite on union of the two countries, from loudspeakers scattered throughout the nation.

"This plebiscite fake will come before the courts," he said in discussing the vote former Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg had scheduled just before Nazi threats forced him out of office.

Goering was not specific as to whether Schuschnigg himself might face trial. However, he promised a court airing of the cloudy political developments between the Feb. 12 Berchtesgaden conference of Schuschnigg and Hitler and Schuschnigg's startling announcement of the plebiscite which was to have been held March 13.

He termed Schuschnigg's plebiscite plan a "plain swindle," and continued: "God did not let the fuhrer come into the world for nothing. He had a high mission. The Austrian government had suppressed the people with foreign bayonets."

The crowd greeted every reference to Schuschnigg with noisy derision. It made its greatest demonstration, however, when Goering assailed Jews and clerics who participate in politics.

It was implied that elimination of Jews would go hand in hand with Austria's participation in Germany's four-year-plan, and the Jews could consequently have four years to eliminate themselves from the German scene.

When he spoke of the church, Goering declared:

"We have no desire to destroy religion. In Germany we did not destroy the church but (we destroyed) the clerical party. And once this is understood, perhaps clerical opposition will be ready to make peace."

"There will be no compromise with the church organization which goes outside its proper sphere."

Insurgent Forces Reach Coast Province on Eastward March Toward the Mediterranean

Shattered Loyalist Line Gives Ground On Many Fronts

By DWIGHT L. PITKIN
With the insurgents at Alcorisa, Spain, March 26 (AP)—Insurgent forces tonight reached the coastal province of Castellon on their march eastward to the Mediterranean.

A new push brought forces of Insurgent General Miguel Aranda toward the Castellon village of Zorita, about 40 miles from the coast, between the vital government strongholds of Valencia and Barcelona.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Aragon line moved up also in the Gaspé sector, north of Zorita. An insurgent column broke through strong government defenses on that front along the river Guadalope, southeast of Gaspé, driving the enemy back toward Gandesa.

Another insurgent army advanced from Bujaraloz along the Zaragoza-Lerida highway more than 12 miles, occupying the crossroads town of Candanos. Bujaraloz, an important government base, was captured yesterday.

The troops moved beyond Candanos with Fraga, on the east bank of the river Cinca, their next important objective.

Government forces were believed to hold heavily fortified positions along the Cinca to block insurgent access to Catalonia, the province of Barcelona.

Insurgents mopping up in the Huesca sector, on the north, advanced beyond the village of Siatamo on the road to Barbastro after penetrating strong government entrenchments.

East of Gaspé, where strong defenses were encountered, insurgents crossed the Guadalope under protection of an artillery barrage and routed government troops in a pitched battle.

Government troops, advised here said, fled under withering machine-gun fire, leaving hundreds of dead and wounded.

Indian Women Veto Appeal to Congress On Legal Beer Bill

MAYETTA, Kan., March 26 (AP)—Pottawatomie Indians decided today by a large majority vote, 80 to 23, that they wouldn't appeal to congress to make legal 3.2 beer sales on their reservation near here.

The women's faction, observers said, caused the downfall of the beer proposal.

Josie McKinney, rotund and serious, marked a negative ballot.

"Beer would mean trouble for the Indians," she said.

Susie Wahbnosah, one of the younger women, agreed with her.

"We can get along without beer."

Wrinkled John Shob-O-Ney, 79, told translators, in his native tongue, "I like my beer but I voted against selling it to Indians."

Urges Political Refuge Colony

Congressman Suggests Paraguay Is Place For Persecuted

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—Representative Dies (D-Texas) proposed today that political refugees from Germany and Austria be colonized in Paraguay, South American republic which he said has thousands of unpopulated acres.

The Texan directed his suggestion to Secretary Hull, who three days ago called on other governments to join the United States in aiding such refugees.

In a letter to Hull Dies said that unless his proposal or something like it were adopted the United States would be flooded by the persecuted and jobless of Europe.

He asserted most European countries had basic laws denying aliens the right to work except under conditions which "in most instances prove impossible of compliance."

"I, therefore, fear that while other nations will enthusiastically agree to the proposal (of Hull's) yet the effect will be merely to open our doors for these unfortunate peoples with little or no reciprocal action on the part of the other countries involved."

Dies recalled that he introduced legislation several years ago to provide for colonization of Paraguay with unemployed and persecuted persons, and said he was assured by the South American country at that time that such colonists would be welcomed with free grants of land.

Rescuer Searches For Boy He Saved Half a Century Ago

MILWAUKEE, March 26 (AP)—If you're one of the Jones boys, you might read this.

Otto Becker of 59 Stevens street, Far View beach, Woodmont, Conn., would like to get in touch with the Jones boy he fished out of Lake Michigan at the foot of E. Wisconsin avenue, in Milwaukee about 50 years ago.

Becker communicated with John R. Jones, register of probate on a court matter, and inquired whether he was the Jones boy, Jones replied no, "because I'm not 50."

The Jones boy had slipped between ice floes and was going under a field of ice when Becker caught him. "I'm just curious as to what happened to the boy later in life," Becker wrote.

Makes Second Talk at Leipzig

Denounces League Of Nations, Plebiscites Before Mob

LEIPZIG, Germany, March 26 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler again took up the cudgels against the tattered Treaty of Versailles today, sarcastically scolding German frontiers set up by the pact.

"Who imagined the great German reich would stop at the ridiculous frontiers drawn at Versailles?" he shouted.

A crowd of 28,000 Saxons cheered the fuhrer in the second appearance of his electrifying swing around the reich to convince the masses that his union of Austria and Germany was the "fulfillment of a thousand year old dream."

"Does anyone believe the League of Nations was founded to help small and big nations?" he thundered.

"Does anyone believe there is any such thing as international conscience?"

Crowd Cheers

To the "hells" of the wildly cheering crowd, Hitler explained the reasons for Austro-German union along lines expounded yesterday in his first speech of the campaign at Koenigsberg.

He scorned both the Versailles and Saint Germain treaties, which he said forbade the plebiscite on self-determination in Austria because the powers of Europe did not regard it expedient that Germans should unite.

In the other hand, he said, he insisted on the Saar plebiscite because 150,000 Frenchmen lived there. (The rich Saar region, taken from Germany after the World war and set up under League of Nations control, was returned to Germany in the 1936 plebiscite.)

Minority Party Would Reduce Judges' Term

DULUTH, Minn., March 26 (AP)—An amendment to the United States constitution to reduce the term of office of federal judges from life to a term of not more than ten years is proposed in the 1938 platform submitted to the state farmer-labor convention tonight by the platform committee.

The platform as approved by the committee also favors enactment of an anti-lynching bill and "an adequate" wage and hour bill.

Among other proposals are:

Reduction of taxes on small incomes and small businesses; favoring enactment of legislation granting congress the exclusive and constitutional power to coin money; urging constitutional amendment giving the state the right to enact an adequate wage and hour bill.

The convention adopted a wide variety of resolutions. Among them were:

Supporting Governor Elmer Benson in his effort to overcome opposition to the WPA weed project by Victor Christgau, WPA administrator, opposing reduction in the tariff on butter, favoring a state adult education program to cooperate with the federal WPA adult education program.

Favoring enactment of legislation to the end that all present tax exempt securities be made subject to taxation. Opposing shipments of war materials to aggressor nations, protesting passage of Shephard-May bill, pending in congress, known as the industrial mobilization plan; favoring equal pay for equal work in both public and private employment.

Requesting Harry L. Hopkins, federal WPA administrator, to do everything in power to increase wages of WPA workers in Minnesota.

Negro Gunman Kills 2 Officers

DETROIT, March 26 (AP)—Two patrolmen dispatched to investigate a grocery store holdup were shot and killed in their cruiser and fellow officers fatally wounded a Negro gunman tonight.

The policemen killed were Seymour H. Lawler, 38, and Hiram Reno, 33. They had driven to the store, at Hamilton and Forest avenues, with Patrolmen Martin Greiner and Robert Finn.

While Greiner and Finn were in the grocery, operated by George Rashid, the Negro ran out a back door and around the building. Upon seeing the police car he dashed up to it and shot Lawler and Reno through the heart before they could fire at him.

Shooting Attracts Other Officers

The shooting attracted the other officers from the store and they chased the killer into an alley. At about the same time Sgt. Harvey Ferris, who had left his police car on the other side of the block, approached the opposite end of the alley.

In the subsequent gunfire the Negro, unidentified and about 35 years old, was wounded. He died an hour later at receiving hospital. It was not known which of the policemen fired the fatal shot.

The officers said a trail of blood leaving the alley indicated that another person had been wounded and fled. There were reports that the robber who entered the grocery had one or two accomplices,

French Communists Propose Nationwide General Strikes

Claim It Would Aid Popular Front Rule In Struggle

PARIS, March 26 (AP)—Communists tonight proposed organization of nationwide general strikes as the best means of backing the popular front government's fight for life.

The Paris communist party unit declared in a letter to Paris metal workers that the senate's "reactionary" opposition to Premier Leon Blum must be met by a "powerful demonstration by the masses."

The communist letter was considered by many labor leaders as an open demand for strikes greater than those of June, 1936, when an estimated million and a half workers occupied French factories.

It came as a rising tide of strikes and France's chronic financial troubles put high obstacles in the government's path.

Paris communists agreed to join socialists and the general confederation of workers in strikes "not only in Paris but throughout France."

Paradise Lost Soldiers Miss Luxury Of North China

TACOMA, Wash., March 26 (AP)—Eight hundred soldiers, sleek from many years of low-cost luxury in China, today began figuring how to live like mandarins on $21 to $45 a month.

It was good to be home—insofar as America could be considered home to the 15th infantry, which had spent 35 years in the orient—but several things appeared a little out of line.

Beer, for instance, was 30 cents a quart. They got suds in Tientsin for 6 cents, and servants at $5 or $6 a month.

Between international "incidents" non-coms lived affluently in rented homes. The privates hired barracks boys to do menial tasks. The officers leased attractive Tientsin homes and had whole staffs of servants.

All this ended several weeks ago when Washington decided to withdraw its army forces from Japanese-dominated North China.

Predict Inflation Of Mexican Peso

MEXICO CITY, March 26 (AP)—Financial circles predicted today Mexico would be forced to resort to controlled inflation to ease the monetary situation precipitated by expropriation of the foreign oil industry.

Their views coincided with an assertion by Minister of Finance Eduardo Suarez that the exchange rate of 3.60 pesos to the dollar, in effect before President Lázaro Cardenas' expropriation decree, "probably could be restored in two or three weeks" provided "the people respond to the necessities of the situation."

Primary Fight Splits Illinois Demos in Two

CHICAGO, March 26 (AP)—A highly controversial primary campaign has split Illinois democrats.

The party faithful were definitely divided into two state-wide camps today as the fight for supremacy moved toward a decision at the polls on April 12.

One faction is captained by Gov. Henry Horner. The other is built around the organization dominated by National Committeeman P. A. Nash and Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago.

The feudists have two things in common. Both have raised the cry of "bossism." Both have voiced allegiance to the new deal.

National administration chiefs have remained on the side lines.

To be nominated are candidates for a seat in the U. S. seat in the U. S. senate, 27 places in congress, including two at large, and several state offices.

The rival democratic tickets are topped by the senatorial aspirants—Michael L. Igoe, district attorney at Chicago, who served 16 years in the state legislature, and Representative Scott Lucas of Havana, who took the post in the national house vacated by the death of the late Speaker Henry T. Rainey. Igoe was endorsed by the Kelly-Nash group and Lucas by the Horner wing.

The Horner campaigners accused the Kelly-Nash "machine" of attempting to bring the entire state under its control.

Bruce A. Campbell, chairman of the state central committee, who seeks nomination as state treasurer, contended Gov. Horner sought to "become the Adolf Hitler of Illinois."

Army Experts Estimate Aerial Fighting Danger

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—Five days of extensive bombing of Barcelona by Spanish insurgent planes killed about 1,000 civilians and wounded twice as many while nearly four years of World war air raids on London took 541 lives.

This and other comparisons have strengthened the conviction of many American army officers that aerial fighting in a new world war would take heavy toll of civilians.

They are not ready to accept, however, the predictions once widely current that a new Armageddon would convert great capitals into dust heaps and that gas would wipe out whole populations.

Casualty reports from Spain, experts said today, have been under scrutiny here in studies of the fighting and other special factors, those from the Sino-Japanese and Italo-Ethiopian conflicts have been of lesser value.

While reports to the war department from Colonel Stephen O. Fuqua, Madrid military attache, and other official observers are confidential, here are what officials termed "educated guesses."

Loyalist civilian losses from air raids and other direct military causes—12,000 killed, 30,000 wounded. Insurgents—1,500 killed, 4,000 wounded.

Madrid—3,000 killed, 9,000 wounded. Population reduced by evacuation from 1,050,000 to less than 700,000. In 10 weeks Madrid was bombed 33 times; other losses were suffered from shells on suburban battlefields.

Barcelona—3,000 killed, 5,000 wounded, mostly in a five-day series of raids this month.

Russian Vessels Drifting Helplessly In Northern Seas

VADSO, Norway, March 26 (AP)—A group of merchant vessels and ice-breakers carrying 800 Soviet Russians were reported in a wireless message today to be in a critical position and drifting helplessly in polar seas off Siberia.

The group originally included seven merchantmen and two accompanying icebreakers. Four additional icebreakers which set out to aid them subsequently became stranded.

Youths Find Gold in Sewers Early Morning Panning in 'Bonanza' Creeks Nets Profitable Income

NEW YORK, March 26 (AP)—A gold rush that might have developed into a subterranean Klondike was averted today when Magistrate Irving Ben Cooper ordered three young 1938 forty-niners to quit panning the city sewers.

An early rising resident of the Bronx, taking a brisk one-two-three in front of his bedroom window, was horrified to see three dark figures skulking around an open manhole.

Bounding to the telephone, he shrieked an alarm of murder. At that very moment, he said, the assassins were lowering the body of their victim into the sewer system.

Police seized the three skulkers. Several hours later they turned up, considerably bewildered and somewhat muddled, in front of Magistrate Cooper.

After ascertaining that their names were, respectively, Louis Cassano, 25, Anthony Cassano, 20, his brother, and Joseph Marrone, 20, he inquired the nature of their nocturnal prowling.

"We were just looking for gold," said Louis Cassano. "You know, old gold."

"Gold, old gold?" inquired the magistrate archly.

It developed then that the Cassano brothers and their fellow argonaut, Marrone, had discovered that the sewers were indeed nothing less than bonanza creeks.

During the last eight months, working in the early morning hours when traffic was light, they had panned enough old gold to yield them an average weekly income of from $35 to $50 a week.

Their equipment consisted of high boots, shovels, rakes, flashlights, a pan with a screened bottom and the ability to ignore unpleasant odors.

Justice Department Asks Investigation Of Kangaroo Court in Denver Jail

WASHINGTON, March 26 (AP)—The justice department denounced prisoner-conducted "kangaroo courts" today as an example of "indiscreetly revolting" conditions in some county jails.

It ordered a United States district attorney to determine whether such a court existed in the county jail at Denver and if so "whether criminal proceedings in federal court" should be instituted.

The department acted after receiving a complaint that 16-year-old George H. Coover, a prisoner in the Denver county jail, died in a fit of epilepsy following punishment at the hands of fellow prisoners who conducted a mock tribunal. Coover was not a federal prisoner, but there were federal prisoners in the same jail.

Officials explained that "kangaroo courts" were a system of authority practiced by groups of prisoners over the majority of their fellows. They said some jailers considered them an aid to discipline but that "in the main" they fell into the hands of the most "unregenerate and brutal" prisoners.

Another War Threat Gone

JAPAN AND the United States yesterday ended their quarrel over Japanese salmon fishing in Alaskan waters. Easily and with no hard-feeling on either side was settled a question which not so long ago was a main cause of tension between the two countries and which had pessimists gloomily predicting war.

The agreement, which saw Japan backing down from the position she had hitherto maintained, stated that: 1. Japan will suspend her three-year salmon fishing survey begun in 1936.

Important, indeed, is the easing of the strained relationship between the United States and Japan. Even more important, perhaps, is the fact that Japan has now shown that either she is not as fool-hardy and irresponsible as the Panay bombing would leave us to believe, or that the sinking of the United States war vessel and the resulting protests have taught her a much-needed lesson.

A Real Crossroads For the Railways

TO AN observer of today it would seem that the American public is greeting the railway crisis with considerable nonchalance. We believe that its great significance is generally overlooked, that its import is underestimated. Although we have thousands of miles of fine highways, the railroad as a transporting agent is still a vital part of our economic setup and it is doubtful even that it can be displaced in the distant future. For this and allied reasons, the crisis is important.

But of far greater concern at the present is the danger of grave financial repercussions. The railroads may fail and be taken over in some way to serve the country, but their failure means that the nation's financial stability will take it on the chin. The recent five per cent freight rate increase is woefully insufficient. Since 1920 the government has kept freight rates at the same level, regardless of the constantly rising costs. As a result the roads are far in the red. Of $13,500,000,000 in railroad bonds, $3,500,000,000 are in default.

Who holds all of these bonds? Banks, insurance companies and individuals are the holders. If the railroads should go into bankruptcy, the economic health of the whole country would suffer.

In the last depression it was a banking crisis which gripped us; unless something is done, a railroad crisis will take its place in a new depression. Banks and insurance companies depend on solvent railroads. If banks and insurance companies do, so do all of us.

is most improbable. What is to be done, we don't know, but we hope it's effective; the railroads are at a real crossroads now—and so are we.

Looking In On a Crusade

HOW'D YOU like to take some time off to see and hear a crusader?

He probably won't be clothed in shining armor nor armed with sword and shield, but Dr. F. L. Rector, who will lecture on cancer control at the chemistry auditorium tomorrow night, does represent a national crusade against a scourge which takes an annual toll of 150,000 victims in the United States alone.

The speaker will be presented in Iowa City under the auspices of the Women's Field army of Johnson county, the women's section of the American Society for the Control of Cancer. As a co-worker with the state-wide group, Dr. Rector is furthering the education of the American public to the realization that cancer is curable in its early stage and that every sane adult should be able to recognize the signs and symptoms of the disease.

The lecture is open to the public? Do you have an hour or so tomorrow night? You'll have plenty of time before 8 o'clock to finish your work and read a chapter in that book you can't tear yourself away from. And bridge games can wait.

Cancer isn't particular about where it strikes—anyone can have it, even you. So take a hint. If you listen to what Dr. Rector has to say it may be worth your life or the life of someone you know.

A Matter Of Stick-to-itiveness

THE SAME versatile article that could prevent mistaken identity between a Rockefeller heir and a nursery neighbor from Shantytown also makes for bathing-beach modesty in this day of rubber suits.

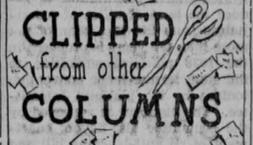

It's a boon to masculine modesty, too—and to chilly ankles—when garters follow collar buttons under the bureau and the 8 o'clock whistle is blowing.

It's quite a family matter, in fact. It holds grandfather's toupee in place, bolsters son's vanity as it taces back his barndoor ears, keeps Bridget's rugs from slipping on polished floors and holds the cow's tail out of Hiram's face in the milking process.

It has 1,043 purposes already discovered. It labels new-born babies, repairs worn action on a piano and holds on a sprinter's shoes in a foot race. You can even catch fish with it if you run out of grasshoppers.

It makes almost anything stick anywhere—outside of professional pronouncements in weary brains.

Does your inner tube need patching? Has your swimming suit sprung a leak? Quick, Henry, the adhesive tape!

BISHOP AND REPORTER

MANY eminent and noneminent persons, caught in print as saying something which they regret to have said, if their remarks have been criticized, immediately make the reporter responsible. These denials, too often sneered at by an unbelieving generation, may sometimes have a queer element of sincerity. Man is a forgetful animal. Public characters may have to themselves something of an institutional nature. They may deem themselves incapable of offending because they don't wish to offend. So the attribution to them of opinions which they have expressed too carelessly must be the offense of the reporter or some devil of a copyreader or editor.

The bishop of London is a recent case in point. In a sermon he dwelt sorrowfully upon the fact that public school and university men were averse to becoming curates. The church had to depend on retired business men and city clerks. In the report of the sermon, the bishop complains, he was made to say "business men, clerks and men like that." He wrote to the guilty newspaper, sympathizing with the reporter's hard task in trying to sum up a 20-minute sermon in five lines. "The effect is sometimes disastrous." The summary treatment of his discourse had "given great offense to the excellent men who often at a great sacrifice have given up a business career to be ordained," and so on.

Unfortunately for the bishop's theory, the reporter's shorthand notes were examined. "Business men, clerks and men like that" was found to be an exact rendering. The courteous explanation is that what a man says, speaking extemporaneously, looks very different to him when he reads it next morning. He feels that he couldn't have said what he did say. Reporters make no pretense to infallibility, but they are often blamed for "misunderstanding" when they have understood too well.

Lunch Is Easy Time to Reduce If Menu Is Planned for You

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

It's very easy to reduce any person any amount if you lock him in a room, to which there is only one key, and see that nothing goes out that the dietitian supervises goes into that room. This has been abundantly proved. I know of a man who was reduced in this way from 500 odd pounds to 190—entirely without exercise, only by reducing the food intake. But the point is, he was locked in a room. So I print today six reducing lunches.

Tuning In with Betty Harpel

Eddie Cantor's new program for Jack Oake's former sponsor takes to the air tomorrow night.

Eddie Davis, one of the writers for Jack Haley's "Jamboree," is working on a play to be produced next fall in New York. Working title for the new brainchild is "Poo Poo Pulitzer," one of two plays in which Haley may be starred. The other is "Vocal Boy Makes Good."

Realizing that his new task of baton-waving on the Burns and Allen broadcast will be one of the most important assignments during his career as bandleader, Jan Garber has been making frequent visits to the Burns and Allen broadcast rehearsals in order to study the style and tempo of the famous comedy team.

Jan believes that dance music should keep the audience entertained—so he does his best. One of his favorite tricks is to hand his baton to one of the young swains dancing in front of the orchestra and dance off with the young lady. Russ Brown's curly shock of hair is the constant target during a romantic set of lyrics, with Jan shoving his baton through the singer's hair and leaving it there for a few minutes.

"The Chinese Nightingale" will be featured on the Mickey Mouse Theater of the Air broadcast today. Mickey will take his entire gang, including Minnie Mouse, Donald Duck, Goofy and Clara Cluck, through the magic mirror and back into the days of old China, 3,000 years ago.

Princess Snow White will make a guest appearance and sing "With a Smile and a Song."

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—You can talk to a dozen explorers, travelers, and scientists and not find a more primitively intriguing story than the one Charles Rochester brought back from Hawaii.

This is the one about—not, as you suppose, tropic maidens swimming in blue lagoons—but about birds, the minah birds which flock on the streets of Honolulu just as our sparrows do here.

They live by a strange code of ethics, Rochester says, and when one of them gets in bad he is brought to justice. They hold kangaroo court in the street, and it is a commonplace to see them gathered angrily in a circle, debating the case, while the culprit stands alone and dejected. If they decide he should be punished they peck out his brains. However, if his good name is cleared they fly away happily together.

Penguins Your correspondent can remember another bird story that deserves a place next to the minah. This concerns penguins, of which it is claimed there is no more curious fowl to be found.

In their Arctic habitat the penguins live on ice-floes. Each morning when they waken they waddle down to the water to take a bath. However, they like to be certain nothing will harm them. So they get together and slowly press towards the edge of the iceberg. Finally one of their number is jostled overboard. If nothing happens to him they all dive in for a swim. But if he disappears, they know a big fish is waiting for his breakfast, so they hurry off to a safer spot.

Question: why doesn't some enterprising cameraman make a motion picture of minah and penguins? Such a film would clean up a fortune.

New Gags There is always a couple of new gags born when John Anderson likes a play. For he is more frequently displeased than any critic in New York.

All of which is by way of explaining this flip overheard in a 45th street cafe: "He certainly is hard to please," observed a gangling after reading one of Anderson's derisive screeds.

"So tough," agreed his pal, "that when he goes to Heaven and knocks on the pearly gates, St. Peter will say to him, 'You can come in, but you won't like it!'"

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Thing that's appalling about the town's recurrent minor hoaxes is the fearful amount of good rehearsing that must go to waste in the end.

Speaking of the glamorous Gurie, of course, latest in a goodly parade of gay deceivers, and recently revealed by divorce court as Sigrid of Norway via Cucamonga, Cal.

A girl doesn't drop a couple of years from her life without some study—especially when the period includes marriage in Cucamonga. Try forgetting Cucamonga yourself and see how far you get.

But with study and rehearsal, from a good script, it could be done. Even without a script, it could conceivably be accomplished. I like to think of blonde Sigrid assiduously hearing lines like these: "Sigrid, old girl, you're a Goldwyn discovery. You came out of Norway to take up Mr. Goldwyn on his offer of a screen test, that time you met him in London. As a prospective glamor girl you couldn't possibly have married an American in Cucamonga, Cal., on Oct. 4, 1935. You've been kept out of the public eye—Mr. Goldwyn's boys already have explained that for you—because Mr. Goldwyn wanted to keep your Norwegian freshness untouched by the Hollywood atmosphere. Now honestly, Sigrid, have you ever heard of Cucamonga, Cal.? Of course you haven't!"

And I like to think—I hope at least—that after arduous study of her role the charming Sigrid really began to believe it herself.

And come to think of it, Sigrid never deliberately deceived anybody. She never once denied, to my knowledge, that on Oct. 4, 1935, she was married in Cucamonga, Cal., to an American.

"Were you, or were you not, on Oct. 4, 1935 married in Cucamonga to an American?" is not exactly a stock question with reporters.
