"Another Cup of Sack?"

sided the matter more seriously.
Both looked for an opportunity for the realization of the ambition, and this year they found it. "Henry IV," Part I, Shakespeare's popular history, will be given in University theater this week beginning Tuesday night with Professor Mabie directing. "It's the most exciting thing I've ever done in my life," Ellis exclaims, and in this picture, taken during the tavern scene, he calls for "another cup of sack."

Chamberlain May Get Wish For British-Fascist Accord

Italian Pact A Reality
Within 2 Weeks,
Diplomats Say

By J. C. STARK
LONDON, April 2 (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's earnest hope for a British-Italian friendship pact seemed near realization tonight.
Some informed diplomatic quarters predicted a formal agreement would be signed within two weeks to end the strain that has existed on relations between London and Rome since the Ethiopian war of 1935-36.
Fresh insurgent gains, meanwhile, heightened the prospect of an early end to Spain's long civil war which has been a source of irritation between Britain and Italy.
Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco's swift drive across northeast Spain toward the Mediterranean coast and the mass
flight of refugees from Spanish government territory indicated
final victory might come quickly.
Spain, after 20 months of bitter civil strife which has split Europe
into angry, arming camps, remained a troublesome issue for diplomats.
Franco's forces swept on toward the government-held seaboard, capturing Gandesa, 21 miles from the coast, while the government made a desperate stand to keep its lines open between its principal cities, Barcelona and Valencia.
Chamberlain Faces Opposition
Chamberlain, driving hard for an Italian agreement and for a speedup in Britain's vast rearmament, faced still another opposition attack on his Spanish policy next week.
The labor party planned to offer a motion of censure in the house of commons Monday, again demanding arms for the Spanish government—a step the prime minister is determined not to take
—and also calling for a general election.
But the strong wording of the motion apparently wrecked the possibility of united opposition to the government and caused even the malcontent conservatives to rally behind Chamberlain.
Sir Thomas Inskip, minister for coordination of defense, at the same time, is to meet representatives of the key engineering trade union to seek its support in accelerating the rearmament program.

SINCE 1936 Foundation Reports Sending Serum

PHILADELPHIA, April 2 (AP)—
The Biochemical Research Foundation of Philadelphia reported today that it has been sending shipments of "bacterial filtrate" to Orlando since 1936.
Dr. Ellice McDonald, director of the foundation, said, however,
"investigation in the laboratories
here shows that our bacterial filtrate has no contamination."
"As a precaution in the interests of the public, the lot under investigation has been recalled," McDonald said.
"The lot" referred to was a shipment made March 22, Mc-Donald added.

New Cause For Divorce Seen By Biological Society

BALTIMORE, April 2 (AP)—
A new cause of divorces was announced today before the federated biological societies.
Dr. Richard J. Block of the New York State Psychiatric Institute
declared that the chemical makeup of the male brain is greatly different from that of the female.
Thus it appears that the psychology of women cannot be the same as that of men, not because of environment or education, but because the chemical reactions inside their skulls are different, he declared.

At Last—A Treatment for Gout

Doctors Report New Form of Vitamin Used
Effectively by 25 Patients

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—
Vitamin B-1 was announced here today as a new treatment for gout,
one of man's oldest diseases, that has resisted all forms of medical treatment.
The vitamin used was the new form, tiny crystals manufactured artificially. These crystals are the purest known form of the vitamin.
The treatment was reported to the American Therapeutic society
by Martin G. Vorhaus, M.D., and Milton L. Kramer, M.D., of the Hospital for Joint Diseases, New York City.
The vitamin is given both by mouth and by hypodermic. It has been used on 25 cases. In all of them, the physicians said, the first
result was to increase pain.
But after that all 25 improved.
Gout is a recurrent disease and Dr. Vorhaus said five years must pass before the results of a new treatment can be fully known. Of the 25 a dozen have been taking the vitamin for three years.

Chiang Kai-Shek Elected Head Of Nationalist Party; 1st Leader Since Death of Sun Yat-Sen

Position as Supreme
Leader of Nation
Is Ratified

HANKOW, April 2 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek today was elected leader of the dominant Kuomintang, or nationalist party, a position of great power not filled since the death 14 years ago of Sun Yat-Sen, founder of the party and of the Chinese republic.
This action was taken by the closing meeting of an emergency session of the party congress,
summoned in this provisional capital to place the political organization of the nation on a wartime basis.
Already commander-in-chief of the vast armies resisting the Japanese invasion, Chiang was invested formally with sweeping political authority. In effect his position as supreme leader of the embattled nation was ratified, and the party's elaborate committee system which heretofore has prevented any individual from wielding dictatorial powers was abandoned.
(The Kuomintang's position in China is similar to that of the communist party in Soviet Russia, and the fascist party in Italy.
Although individual leaders have challenged its claims to supreme authority, there are no rival parties.
(Chiang until recently was premier, or chairman of the government's executive committee,
but he relinquished that post to his brother-in-law, Dr. H. H.
Kung, to devote his whole energies to fighting the war.)
The party made Chiang chairman both of its congress and its highest governing organ, the central executive committee.

Russians Punish Five Terrorists; Others Caught

MOSCOW, April 2 (AP)—Five Armenians have been sentenced to death at Leninakan, in the Soviet socialist republic of Armenia, on charges of killing 11 bolsheviks in 1920, and among them Gukas
Gukasyan, hero of the revolution
there.
A newspaper reporting the trial
said the condemned men were terrorists who had managed to hide their identities for almost two decades.
Three other persons have been sentenced to death in Novosibirsk province, Siberia, on charges of disrupting collective farming.
Four officials of a Leningrad lantern factory, including Manager I. Krassin, it was disclosed, have been arrested on charges
of manufacturing defective lanterns.
Ivan Papanin, commander of the recently rescued polar ice campers, was said to have complained by radio during their six months sojourn in the Arctic that their lanterns were smoky and unsatisfactory.
The arrests were made after an investigation disclosed that factory officials picked out six of a stock of defective lanterns instead of supplying a special order placed for the expedition.

A Good Distance Judger in House?

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—
House members wondered tonight
whether Representative Short (R-Mo) is a good judge of distance.
Representative Creal (D-Ky)
had been heckling him a bit in debate on the reorganization bill.
Short stopped it with this remark:
"I've been farther under the barn hunting for eggs than the gentleman has ever been away from home."

Lockjaw Toxin Found in Serum

ORLANDO, Fla., April 2 (AP)— Medical officials announced today tetanus toxin had been found in two vials of a supply of serum used for injection treatment of 10
cancer patients who died this week.
Dr. Horace Day, president of the Orange County Medical society, said the vials were selected at random from a consignment received by Dr. T. A. Neal.
E. F. Bolte, retired vice-president of the International Harvest-er company, died early today.
Nine women died previously. Four other patients were in hospitals.
Coroner Eugene Duckworth,
conducting a separate inquiry,
said Dr. Day reported to him the serum was known as "Rex" and was manufactured by the Biochemical Research Foundation of Philadelphia.
"I will ask officials of the Biochemical Research Foundation of Philadelphia, manufacturers of Rex under the Canadian ensol formula, to come to Orlando to testify at the inquest," said Duckworth.

Roosevelt Confers With Aides About Anti-Monopoly Message

ABOARD ROOSEVELT TRAIN
EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON,
April 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt tonight conferred with two administration aides in preparation for his long-planned antimonopoly message to congress.
Robert H. Jackson, former assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust cases and recently promoted to the solicitor general-ship, and Benjamin Cohen, a public works attorney and new deal
bill framer, boarded the presidential special at Atlanta as the president traveled back to Washington from a 10-day stay at Warm Springs, Ga.
Jackson and Cohen frequently
have been consulted by the president in the past on methods of strengthening the anti-trust laws.

Spanish Rebel Bombers Rain Destruction on Railway Line

4,000 Refugees Return to Fight For Loyalists

JACKSON, Mich., April 2
(AP)—Upwards of 1,000,000 lower Michigan residents were dependent tonight on striking workers of the Consumers Power company for electricity or gas.
The populous Saginaw valley,
twice plunged into darkness in the past year by shutdowns ordered by a Committee for Industrial Organization union of utility workers, witnessed an unusual strike in which the strikers continued working to maintain service unimpaired.
Gov. Frank Murphy, who last summer warned the workers that
"the state will not tolerate" further power interruptions, hastened back from a Florida vacation to confer with representatives of the company and the Utility Workers Organizing Committee
in Detroit at 10 a.m. Sunday.
The strike proceeded peaceably
at all points today, with dwindling picket lines guarding closed gates at the plants from which foremen and company officials were ousted. "Flying squadrons"
of the CIO-affiliated United Automobile Workers aided the U.W.O.C. members in picketing duties at the huge power "bottle-neck" plant at Zilwaukee, near Saginaw, where switches control the flow of power from Au Sable river dams to distribution lines serving a population of 400,000.

Union of Germany and Austria Endorsed by Catholic Bishop And German Lutheran Church

BERLIN, April 2 (AP)—A Catholic co-bishop and the German Lutheran church today endorsed the union of Germany and Austria while ministers of the protestant confessional synod issued a prayer of thanksgiving as a prelude to the April 10 plebiscite.
(The confessional synod is the organization of a majority of Lutherans formed in opposition to nazi domination of the church.)
Dr. Johannes Baptist Dietz,
Catholic co-bishop of the diocese of Fulda, made his endorsement in an appeal, issued in advance by D.N.B., the official news agency, which he will make tomorrow to the Catholics of the diocese.
He expressed the hope that "the creator of the new and irrevocable
greater Germany (Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler) will combine the achievements of national unity
with a generous religious appeasement and thereby make complete the joy of the new and greater German people."
Lutheran bishops met and formulated an endorsement of the plebiscite in which emphasis was laid upon the necessity of continuing to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ in Germany.
"As brethren of the same faith,"
their declaration said, "we greet the Evangelical church of the eastern march of Germany (Austria)
now returned to its home."

Draw Appeal to Supreme Court Charging Constitutional Wrong

DON'T WE ALL
Izaak Waltons Ask For Lower Taxes

SIOUX CITY, April 2 (AP)—
The amendment of a state law limiting the tax valuation of forest areas to include farm land set aside for wild life sanctuaries, water conservation purposes and soil erosion work was advocated by delegates to the state convention of the Iowa division of the Izaak Walton league here Saturday.
The suggestion, made as a recommendation to the state league,
came at the closing session of the annual conference in the Martin hotel during which the group re-elected J. H. Frenchick of Sioux City as president and gave G. A.
Peterson of Burlington another term as secretary-treasurer.

Foreign Oil Companies List Grounds For Making Charge

MEXICO CITY, April 2 (AP)—
An appeal to the supreme court embracing 22 charges of constitutional violation was drawn up by foreign oil company executives seeking to regain their $400,000,000
properties expropriated by the government.
Officials of the 17 American and British companies taken over by President Lázaro Cardenas said they would ask the supreme court Monday to declare his March 19
decree unconstitutional on grounds
which included:
That article 27 of Mexico's constitution authorizes expropria-
tion of land and water only;
whereas they lost their tools,
plants and equipment.
That the companies were deprived of their properties without due legal procedure.
That no indemnification was paid at the time of the expropriation.
That the properties expropriated
were not designated beforehand
in accordance with law.
That a government monopoly of petroleum was set up in violation of article 27 of the constitution.
Peso Improved
In addition to the supreme court appeal, the officials said they would petition the department of national economy for administrative revocation of the Cardenas decree.
Meanwhile, the peso improved in view of the United States government's recognition of Mexico's right to expropriate foreign-owned property and its willingness to see the companies' claims scaled down.
The peso was quoted in unofficial trading at 4.50 to 4.60 to the dollar, an improvement of 10 to 15 points over yesterday's quotations. Transactions have been carried on by private banks
since foreign exchange dealings were suspended at the time of the expropriation.
Some observers said, however,
last night's exchange of courtesies
between the United States and Mexican governments had done little to improve Cardenas' difficult economic situation.
This was complicated by depreciation of the peso following the expropriation and the subsequent discontinuance of United States
silver purchases from Mexico.

Soviet Protests Jap Attempt to Enlist Minister as Spy

MOSCOW, April 2 (AP)—The Soviet Russian government today protested to Japan that the Japanese charge d'affaires at Kabul, Afghanistan, attempted to enlist
the new Soviet minister to Afghanistan as a Japanese spy.
K. A. Mikhailoff recently replaced Boris Skvirsky as Soviet minister at Kabul.
(Skvirsky, well known in the United States as one of the first Soviet diplomatic agents in Washington, was not mentioned in the
Dec. 24, 1937, announcement of Mikhailoff's appointment to the post he formerly held.)

Miss 4 Trains Of Militiamen By Few Hours

CERBERE, France, April 2
(AP)—Spanish insurgent bombing planes rained explosives on the railway line between the French frontier and Port Bou, Spain, tonight just a few hours before four trainloads of refugee Spanish government militiamen arrived at the border en route to Spain.
More than 4,000 of the Spanish government's fighting men who fled across the Pyrenees into France rather than surrender to insurgents came to Cerbere from Bagneres de Luchon after a secret vote.
Port Bou is just across the border from Cerbere, Mediterranean port at the eastern end of the French-Spanish frontier.
Although officials quarters earlier tonight had said Monday's session of the French cabinet
would decide what should be done with the refugees, those who chose to remain loyal to the Spanish government entrained at Bagneres de Luchon for Cerbere
during the night.
Railroad employes here said they would cross over into Spain
early tomorrow despite the earlier announcement that a cabinet decision was awaited. The announcement, it was said, was made "only to fool the fascists (insurgents) and prevent bombardment of the frontier as the militiamen crossed.
The refugees' only means of entering Spain tonight at Cerbere would be a long march through the frontier railroad tunnel. Bombardments have made the passage of trains impractical.
From the other side of the border, 65 French refugees from Barcelona arrived here during the night.

Insurgents Seize Strategic Gandesa

By The Associated Press HENDAYE, France (At The Spanish Frontier), April 2—Seizure of strategic Gandesa by the Spanish insurgents today capped the concentrated drive in eastern Spain which was added an estimated 2,600 square miles to their conquests in a week.
The fall of Gandesa placed the
on-rushing insurgents within 21
miles of the blue Mediterranean, their objective in the offensive to split in two the territory controlled by the government.
The official insurgent announcement of the city's fall said 2,000 prisoners were taken and other government troops were surrendering.
Only six miles of mountains that make up the Sierra de Pandos southeast of Gandesa separated its Navarrese captors from the wide valley of the Ebro river which forms a natural highway to Tortosa and the sea.
The advance was described by some military observers as one of the most important of the civil war, now in its 21st month.
At the northern end of the insurgent front, Benabarre, important road center in the northern Aragon, also fell to Generalissimo Francisco Franco's forces.

In Exchange Proposal Would Have Student-Exchange

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—
A fund of $140,952,766 would be provided for the exchange of students between the United States and Europe if a proposal advanced by ex-President Hoover were adopted, some officials said today.
In a speech Thursday at New York, Hoover proposed that countries which owe this government relief debts be permitted to erase them from Uncle Sam's books by depositing in their own banks an equivalent amount of money to finance a wholesale exchange of students and professors between themselves and the United States.
Relief debtors are distinct from war debtors. They are countries to which this nation extended aid and sold food and other supplies
on credit after the World war,

Compromise Reorganization Measure Proposed

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—
Administration lieutenants, reputedly with President Roosevelt's consent, proposed a compromise
on the government reorganization bill today in an effort to save that bitterly-fought measure from threatened house defeat.
The compromise would give congress the right to veto presidential reorganization orders by a simple majority ballot. As the bill now stands, a two-thirds vote of both houses would be necessary to block such orders.
The concession on this point, and another which would keep the education bureau in the interior department, followed a victory for opponents of the bill, who had succeeded in stalling off any attempt to end debate.
Terms Announced
Terms of the compromise were announced to a packed and wildly cheering house by Rep. Warren (D-NY), a member of the special reorganization committee. Reliable persons said his declaration was decided upon after house leaders had conferred by telephone with President Roosevelt, who has been vacationing at Warm Springs, Ga.
This is what the compromise on congressional overruling of executive orders would do: Give congress the right, within a 60-day period, to accept or override a presidential reorganization order by adopting a resolution which would not require the president's signature to become effective.
The guarantee to keep the education bureau in the interior department, thereby assuring that it would not be transferred to a proposed new department of welfare, was an outgrowth of protests that the bill would let the government control the education of the nation's youth.
Amendments
The two features of the compromise must be passed upon as amendments to the bill after the house ends debate and starts considering changes. That will not be until some time next week, leaders said.
After the house voted 191 to 149 last night against a motion which would have paved the way to end debate immediately, leaders agreed to let the discussion
continue uninterrupted through the entire afternoon.
Warren said the amendments
would have the approval of the reorganization committee but made no reference on the floor
to the president's attitude toward them.

SUNDAY, APRIL 3, 1938

magazine's advisers hatched what seemed a dramatic and important idea. Why not, he said, isolate a small city in the United States, discover its balance sheet and study it as Fortune studies corporations. Find, in other words, the net profit of an American community.

Oskaloosa was the chosen guinea-pig. The process involved setting up the equivalent of a tariff wall around it, examining the value of all the goods and services it imported and all it exported, and then striking its balance of trade. The result was optimistic for Oskaloosa.

Fortune's staff members ran into a little difficulty at first. Oskaloosa showed a tendency to suspect them of being in reality undercover agents for the U.S. treasury department. But by and large, the most impressive thing about Oskaloosa was its cooperation—that and its prosperity.

The final result of six months' industrious legwork and head-splitting statistical analysis showed that Oskaloosa occupies a profitable segment of the economic circuit that goes from farmer to industrial regions to little city to farmer and around again.

Fortune cast up Oskaloosa's balance of trade with regard to the great outer industrial world, to which it loses money, and with regard to the nearby but still "outer" farming world, from which the city takes it. Oskaloosa did very well in 1937. It ended the year with a net favorable balance—a net profit, to speak loosely—of $339,000.

To you, Podunk may be the place you hang your hat. But in a significant sense the small American city is the focal point and the solid factor of the American economic system.

ALT WIEN PASSES: What will become of Vienna now that Austria has been "co-ordinated"? The war left the town shabby, worn down at the heel, a grande dame living on a glittering past. Manners robbed the shabbiness of its pathos—the courtliness of the eighteenth century. On every hand it was "Kuss! die Hand, gnadige Frau," or "Ich habe die Ehre," and all that was lacking was the sweep of a plumed hat. Neither socialists nor Dollfuss nor Schuschnigg could loosen this hold on the past. "Hofrat," every old privy councillor insisted on being called, though the court was swept away. Even the Flaker, in his two-wheeled vehicle, an incorrigible flatterer, addressed his unknown fare as "Herr Baron" or "Herr Graf," just as in the days of Franz Schubert. And there was the Spanish riding school in the old palace—the Hofburg—to remind the tourist that once the rule of the mighty Habsburgs extended to the very Atlantic. It's farewell to the blooded horses. They are a useless extravagance now that every Pfennig must go for guns, a glorification of a dynasty which once saw Marie Antoinette bidding her mother, Maria Teresa, a tearful farewell to marry the young Dauphin of France and make history in her own tragic way.

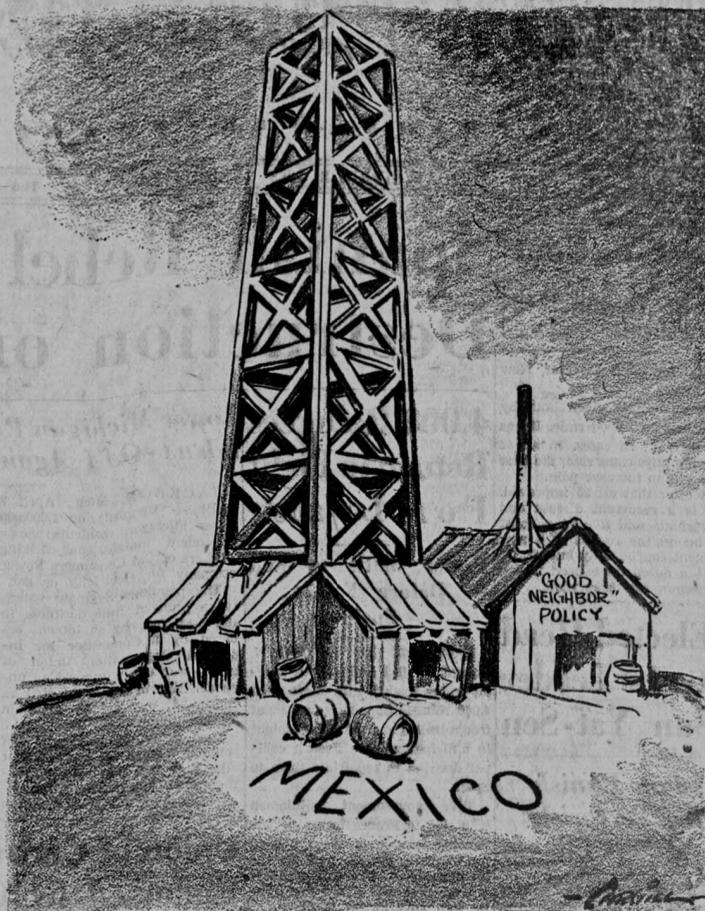

Will the Viennese continue to take the tram for Grinzing, there to sample this year's wine—the famous Heuriger—at some tavern which displays the traditional bush? For that, too, belongs to the romantic past. Will life in the cafes go on in the old leisurely way, a coffee with a "Schlagobier" at one's elbow? And what is to become of the "Herr Ober," the headwaiter who knew every old habitue's private business and could tell you what Schuschnigg had for breakfast yesterday and how Anna Konetzni sang at the opera last night? Will the bakers still make crescents for breakfast as ever since they drove the Turk from their walls?

Vienna was too witty to be contented with mere Gemutlichkeit. Its wit was the wit of the Kaffeehaus rather than of the Bierhalle. Even to his adherents tragic little Dollfuss was "Millimeterlich." In the black days after the war, when the town was starving and the city could not even afford to supply electricity through the night and the cafes burnt a few wretched acetylene lamps, jokes were still cracked over the coffee.

With the tramp of Hitler's men an era ends. A tyrant is crushing the beauty, the wit, the charm that was Alt Wien and substituting it for race hatred, the ponderous slanders and obscenities of Streicher, cruelty masked "justice" the brutalities of Gauleiter. "Heil Hitler," instead of the old "Gruss Gott," as if God were no longer good enough for man. To this has it come. Alt Wien was an anachronism doomed to go the way of Dickens's London or Daudet's Paris. But to be booted into a modernity which takes the form of fascist savagery—Alt Wien deserved a transition less ignominious than this.

ANOTHER 'GUSHER' GONE DRY?

Manipulation Probably Is Best Treatment for Back Aches

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. A man who is hanging a picture for his wife, stoops over from the stepladder to pick up his hammer on the chair beside him. He experiences a sudden catch in the lower part of his back. The pain is excruciating. He straightens up and comes down from the ladder but finds he cannot bend over without severe pain. He goes to a doctor, who finds nothing that shows on the X-ray. The trouble is probably a microscopic dislocation of one of the articular processes of the last vertebra or of the sacrum. The best treatment is probably by manipulation. The patient is put flat on his back on a solid table and asked to brace himself, holding on to the sides. The doctor or operator stands at the foot of the table and with a firm grip around one of the ankles pushes the leg upward until it rests on the trunk. Then the patient is told to give a violent kick on command. As he kicks, the operator makes a sudden strong pull on the ankle. The direction of the force should be in the body line and at a slight angle of the horizontal plane. The kick and the pull should be timed so as to give a maximum force when the leg is fully extended. This same procedure is done on the other leg and then on both together. After two or three such kicks, the patient is again asked to sit up. If before the treatment he was able to sit up only 10 or 20 degrees, he should now be able to attain 40 to 50 degrees. Treatment is continued until only soreness remains in the lower part of the back. The average treatment required is five to 10 kicks. Reducing Diet for Thursday—Second Week: BREAKFAST: Grapefruit, one slice gluten toast and Golden Spread butter, one cup black coffee. DINNER: Hot chicken broth, cleared: veal cutlet, asparagus, bead salad with vinegar, fresh fruit whip, coffee.

Tuning In with Betty Harpel

Leave it to Gracie Allen to do the unexpected. Just now she is tackling the field of surrealist painting. Last night she held the first exhibition of her pictures at the Rancho Country club in Los Angeles. This preview showing of the comedienne's initial efforts will be a highlight of the annual ball of the American Artists' congress. Eight of Gracie's paintings will be on exhibit—six completed in pastels and two with poster paint. They include such masterpieces as "Dogs Standing on Corner Watching Two Men Fight" and "George Burns' Impression of Gracie Allen if George Burns were Gracie Allen and not George Burns." What inspired Gracie to go to this length? That's simple and logical—just some painters who were working on her house. Immediately after the local showing, the eight pictures will be shipped to New York for exhibition at the Julien Levy galleries. Lum and Abner are the second best ad libbers to Bob Burns on the radio. They have been known to make up an entire program as they went along. Do you know where the name of the Gabriel Heatter program, "We, the People," came from? Bandleader of the show, Mark Warnow, lost a bet the other day when he wagered that the name came from Lincoln's Gettysburg address. In reality it is lifted from the Constitution. The Humanist Society: The Humanist society will meet in the northwest conference room of Iowa Union at 8 p.m. Monday. Prof. Eugene A. Joliat of the Romance languages department will discuss "French Romanticism." ARTHUR N. STUNZ, Secretary. Botany Club: Prof. Walter F. Loehwing of the botany department will speak at the regular meeting of the botany club Monday, April 4, at 4 p.m. in room 408, pharmacy-botany building. He will discuss "Nascent Growth Concepts in Plants." COMMITTEE: Pi Lambda Theta: Pi Lambda Theta will meet Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. in Iowa Union. Prof. Sam Sloan of the English department will speak on "Modern Trends in the Novel." PRESIDENT: Ticket Sellers: Students interested in selling tickets on a commission basis call extension 729. HERALD STARK: Canoeing Club: The first meeting of the canoeing club will be held in the social room of the women's gymnasium, Monday, April 4, at 4 p.m. Everyone interested in canoeing this spring is urged to attend. MARION WHINNERY: It is estimated that the history of the A. E. F. now being prepared by the federal government, will require 40,000,000 words. Yawn Yawnson, local World War veteran, estimates that is one word per 1,000 crotches.

Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Ever since a prominent film studio announced that "Marie Antoinette" would be made into a motion picture the characters of Stefan Zweig's book have been coming to your correspondent's attention around town. On upper Broadway there is the Marie Antoinette hotel, which was named for that unhappy queen. A few strides away is the Dauphin, another hotel representing the crown prince or heir to the throne. And down in the village, at 9th street on University Place, is the Hotel Lafayette, commemorating "the eager boy" who crossed the seas to help Washington against the British. The tall figure of Lafayette moves like a futile ghost across the last days of Marie Antoinette's reign. He wanted the revolution, although he remained, in a sense, loyal to the queen and her royal consort. He makes a last dramatic entrance on horseback, attempting to turn the tide after the Paris mobs have been unfettered. But his plans go haywire—he makes a few fumbling gestures—and gains nothing, not even a nod from the doomed queen who has grown to despise him. The palace at Versailles where Louis and Toinette held court has its Manhattan counterpart in an East Side nightclub. Its walls are adorned with murals which depict the royal gardens and the gaming rooms where "that Austrian woman" dallied with the "friends" who were first to desert her when the showdown came. It was there that the fatal incident of the diamond necklace took place; there her children were born, and there she met the two people whom, respectively, she loved and despised more than any she ever knew. These were Ferson, the Swede, the only man who ever won her heart, and Madame Dubarry, whom she characterized as lickspittle and refused to address. If Stefan Zweig never wrote another book he would deserve a place in letters for this tremendously moving biography of one he calls "An average woman." And now Hollywood steps in with the sad, wistful beauty of Norma Shearer in the title role. I cannot pass those hotels on Broadway or drop into the Lafayette for coffee without seeing her face and wondering if, in real life, the queen herself was ever half so beautiful.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Time creeps along, the movies grow up, and the "second generation" of movie actors is producing a third generation. Not very fast. But one of the little girls in "Of Human Hearts" was Barbara Bushman, whose father played the blacksmith in the picture and whose granddaddy used to be the feminine America's premier heart throb—Francis X. Bushman. If that's a bit startling, it won't be when you reflect how thoroughly Hollywood's second generation has implanted itself in the film world—and, in many cases, how successfully. One of the quick-rising stars of last year was Tyrone Power, most lime-lighted of the present "second generation." His father, the late Tyrone Power, was a noted character actor in pictures after a long career as a stage star. Then there are the Benetts, Constance and Joan, daughters of Richard of stage and screen; and Dolores and Helene Costello, daughters of another pioneer heart throb, Maurice Costello. Douglas Fairbanks Jr. is again a much-in-demand leading man. But throughout Hollywood the children of movie "names" can be found, both before and behind the camera. And it isn't often, as you might think, a case of dad's getting the kids a job and hoping they'll keep it. Jesse Lasky Jr. writes scripts on his own, and his producer papa can merely well bid on them like the rest if he's interested. That goes for Budd Schulberg, son of producer B. P., whose last script went not to papa but to Selznick (Selznick himself a second-generation actor—his dad was the late Lewis J. Selznick, under whose banner Clara Kimball was a star.) Diane Rochelle, newcomer at M-G-M, is the daughter of Producer Hal Roach; Katharine DeMille is the adopted daughter of Cecil B.; Fred Kohler, the late Wallace Reid, Erich von Stroheim, the late Lon Chaney, Carlyle Blackwell, Harry Woods all have sons active in films, all as actors except von Stroheim Jr., who is a technician.

Conquest In Music

IT'S CONTEST time again. To the uninitiated this means nothing, but to Iowa City high school musicians it means just one thing—last-minute grooming for the district contest this week and for succeeding meets that will assuredly carry many of them into national competition.

For student participants the contest means final moments of diligent practice, a last smoothing up of minute details. It means tense moments, moments when every nerve rebels and must be mastered to assure the muscular coordination that is the mechanical side of good music. In reality many of the contestants have been preparing for this spring's competition since grade school days. Perfection in music cannot be acquired over night. There is no shortcut, no substitute for hard, persistent, purposeful work over a long period of time.

Each note in turn must be coax-ed, coaxed, and brow-beaten thousands of times until the first harsh sound becomes accurate in pitch and pleasing in tone. Then, and only then, is the student ready to risk his interpretations in contest competition.

For music contests have become more than a means of rating amateur players. Each year competition is keener, standards are higher and "superior" musicians more and more deserving of the title, "artist." In this milieu of increasingly high standards, Iowa City high school has won an enviable position with national championship band and orchestra as well as with nationally recognized soloists and chamber groups. These honors have been won in the past. There is every reason to expect similar conquests this spring.

We understand that sectional contests have been substituted for the single national meet, but no doubt there will be a special coach leaving Iowa City for that contest next month. So, for the interval between now and the day when City high contestants leave to compete in the top contest of them all, lots of good luck—the kind that comes from hard work, skill and conscientious preparation.

Oskaloosa Plays Guinea Pig

CHILLICOTHE, KEOKUK, Kankakee, Oskaloosa—just so many synonyms for Podunk. The place you grew up in and knew every quirk of—just as everyone in it knows every quirk of you. It's the old home town, with a Main Street running through its center, a courthouse at one end, the Bijou or the Strand at the other and a miscellany of Jones' pharmacies and Smith's groceries down the middle. There's nothing glamorous about Podunk. There's nothing romantic about the factory on its outskirts or the railroad yards across the other side of the tracks where its daily bread. There's nothing worthy of comment about the farmers who surround it and whose cars line even its outlying streets every Saturday. To those of us who have lived our lives in a small town it's an open and well-read book. To Fortune magazine the little city—the city of Oskaloosa in particular—has been for the last six months the absorbing object of an intensive research. It all began when one of the

Jim George Gets Homer With Bases Loaded in First Inning; Faber Gets Credit for Victory

Heavy Hawkeye Attack Nets Six Runs in First

By CHARLES McCLENAHAN

PEORIA, Ill., April 2 (Special to The Daily Iowan)—A heavy-hitting band of University of Iowa baseball players won their season's second straight game here today, taking the second of a two-game series from the Bradley Tech Engineers, 10-9.

A six-run splurge in the first inning, featured by Sophomore Jim George's home run with the bases loaded, gave the Hawks a lead which they never relinquished. The Engineers kept pecking away at the Hawkeyes, however, and threatened to win the game in their half of the ninth inning when they pushed across two runs. Jim Cook, southpaw Iowa sophomore, whiffed Epperly, however, to end the game.

Faber Wins
Matt Faber was the winning pitcher, leaving the game in the sixth inning with the score 7-4 for the Hawkeyes.

The potent Iowa offense, which connected for 15 hits in Friday's game, was good for 12 hits today. Art Manush, junior left fielder who registered three base knocks Friday, repeated his performance this afternoon.

Four miscues were chalked against the Iowans today, four more than they had yesterday. All of the Iowa miscues were instrumental in the Bradley scoring and one in the ninth almost cost the Iowans the game.

Congratulations "Dear Dad" Thrilling Deal

Congratulations to George T. Bresnahan and the Monday Morning Quarterbacks club. To Bresnahan, Iowa track coach, for the splendid way in which the 17th annual high school track and field meet was conducted.

With well over 500 athletes competing in the 15-event meet it might well be expected that the carnival would be far off schedule. As a matter of fact, however, the proceedings were over 15 minutes before the scheduled time and there was nary a hitch throughout. As has been said before, few but Bresnahan would be able to put it over.

The Monday Morning Quarterbacks club deserves plenty of credit for the fine reception given the visiting sports writers at a local hotel yesterday. Introduced to the assemblage were the four markers of the Iowa High School Athletic Association including George Brown, secretary, and O. C. "Pops" Varner, coach of the state title-winning Diagonal basketball team.

Varner brought with him to the track meet three of his regular cagers from the season just over—Davenport, Nichols and Pine. They were later introduced to the crowd at the track meet.

Pay-Off Time

Bush Lamb will be sending home for additional money any day now. During an intermission at the state cinder meet last night, the Iowa co-captain's mile relay team was defeated by Johnny Graves. Graves passed Lamb in their leg of the "grudge battle" to give his team the advantage but that is far from being any discredit to Lamb. Graves ran one of his best races of the year and both men were really stepping.

The reason Lamb is going to need more money is because he will have a few bets to pay off. The Hawkeye hurdler made a few too many bets about the outcome of the race and now the time has come to pay up.

Upsets Brother

Carl Tufel and his twin brother Fred put on a thrilling battle in the last 40 yards of the battle. Carl holds the University of Iowa record for the quarter mile, .49.8, but brother Fred stepped the distance in .49.5 to lead him to the tape. Despite the banter, sarcasm, bet-laying etc., a fine time was had by all. As the announcer put it—"It's all in the family."

Outstanding Stars in Prep Track Meet

Shown above are two outstanding trackmen, Dean Rasmus of Garner high school and Bill Green of Newton high, who displayed their wares yesterday afternoon and evening in the Iowa fieldhouse, where the 17th annual state indoor track and field meet was held. Rasmus, pictured at the left, set a new record in the one mile run as he ran his favorite event in 4:37.4 to shave more than four seconds from the old record.

Clinton Y. M. C. A. Team Wins Iowa State Swimming Crown

Cedar Rapids Gets Runnerup Honors in Meet

Scoring firsts in 11 of the 30 events, Clinton's well-balanced swimming team won the state Y.M.C.A. swimming championship in the fieldhouse pool yesterday by outpointing the Cedar Rapids tank squad, 131 to 123.

The leaders were followed by Des Moines with 87 points, Davenport, 56; Newton, 44; Marshalltown, 16; Ottumwa, 13; Waterloo, 11; Oskaloosa, 8, and Burlington, 1.

Eight new state marks were established and two records were equalled in the championship events. The largest reduction of a record time was made by the Clinton intermediate 180-yard medley relay team. A mark of 1:49.4 was established by the team composed of Cave, Becker and Dillon who clipped 3.9 seconds from the old record. Becker of Clinton swam the 100-yard back stroke in the intermediate class in 1:06.8, bettering the old record by 2.2 seconds.

AUSTIN, Tex., April 2 (AP)—Tow-headed Fred Wolcott, Rice institute's six-foot, two inch sophomore, bettered the accepted world's 120-yard high hurdle record with a downwind burst of 13.9 seconds at the 11th annual Texas relays today.

East High of Des Moines Wins State Track Title

Two Records Fall; One Tied

Davenport Blue Devils Second in Prep Carnival

By ROBERT SCHAAL

Daily Iowan Sports Writer East Des Moines, defending state indoor champions, retained its team title last night in the Hawkeye fieldhouse by scoring 33 points to finish out in front of the other 52 schools entered in the meet by a comfortable margin.

As in former years the Red and Black team, coached by silent Mike Augustine, used the strength of its relay teams to gain the necessary points to hold the crown. The capitol city eastsiders won two first places and tied for first in another event, but picked up enough points by seconds and thirds to finish ahead of Davenport, one of the pre-meet favorites, who scored 27 points.

Roosevelt of Des Moines and Ft. Madison followed closely on the heels of Davenport, tying for third place with 26 points. Burlington and Ames were co-holders of fifth place in the meet as each chalked up 18 markers.

Individual star performers of the 17th annual carnival were Bill Green, Newton's all-around athlete; Dean Rasmus, Varner distance artist, and Vollenweider, outstanding hurdler from Dubuque.

Green ran his preliminary heat and semifinal section of the 50-yard dash in .054, equalling the record made by Carl Nelson of Clinton in 1933. In addition to his victory in the dash, Green won the broad jump to lead the field in individual points scored.

Rasmus set a new record in the mile run by stepping off the distance in 4:37.4, bettering the old time of 4:42, set by Woods of Mechanicsville in 1934, by more than four seconds.

Vollenweider lowered the 60-yard high hurdle record by running the event in .077 in one of the preliminary races. The old hurdle record was credited to Connolly of Dubuque in 1933.

Harley of West Chester in 1934 and Carl Teufel, at present a member of the Iowa track team, Teufel ran for the Davenport Blue Devils in 1935.

Roosevelt of Des Moines earned out of its 26 points by winning the mile and two mile relays.

Joe DiMaggio Sees Old Team Win Game SAN FRANCISCO, April 2 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, the hold-out outfielder of the New York Yankees, was among nearly 40,000 fans who helped usher in the Pacific coast league baseball season today.

He watched his old team, the San Francisco Seals, defeat Portland, 6 to 4.

Approximately 90 per cent of all persons enrolled in school go to public educational institutions and 10 per cent to private schools.

Undecided Site for Title Bout Not Set Yet

CHICAGO, April 2 (AP)—No site for the world heavyweight championship battle between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling, will be named until after Schmeling engages Steve Dudas in Harburg, Germany, April 16, Promoter Mike Jacobs announced tonight.

Jacobs said he would return to Chicago after the forthcoming Illinois state-wide election 20 days hence to pursue negotiations for Soldiers Field. He said he had been assured that members of the south park board, which controls the lake front area, would give him every consideration and possibly would grant him a flat rental for use of the field which drew a record breaking crowd for the memorable fight between Gene Tunney and Jack Demsey 11 years ago.

The impression prevails, however, that Jacobs still was favorable to the Yankee stadium in New York.

"I cannot name the spot until Schmeling licks Dudas," Jacobs said. "Schmeling may get licked himself then I'd be left holding the bag."

The $38,500 gate for the theoretical heavyweight championship fight between Louis and the Minnesota swing man, Harry Thomas, at the Chicago stadium last night, was the smallest a title contest has drawn in 25 years. The customers remained away presumably because they figured that Thomas didn't have a chance to even threaten the champion.

Revised figures today disclosed Lewis received $16,659, with Thomas drawing a check for $5,206. Total attendance was 10,473, and the paid admission was 9,978. Gross receipts were $49,734 including $3,500 tossed in for the broadcasting rights.

West Virginia And Virginia Take Four Crowns in Tourney

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., April 2 (AP)—Rugged fighters from the Universities of Virginia and West Virginia captured four of eight individual titles in routing finals of the fourth annual National Collegiate Boxing tournament here tonight.

Ray Schmidt, who won the light-heavyweight championship at San Diego last year, took a close decision over Blond Karl Killian, of Idaho, and Maynard Harlow, hard-punching 145-pounder, outpointed Louisiana State's Heston Daniel in the closest dual of the finals to give the host Virginians two crowns.

Bishop J. Ryan To Give Final Vesper Speech

'University in Search Of Truth' Topic At Service

Bishop James H. Ryan of Omaha, Neb., former rector of the Catholic University of America, will speak on "The University in Search of Truth" at a university vesper service at 8 o'clock tonight in the main lounge of Iowa Union. This will be the last vesper of the year.

Archbishop Francis G. Beckman of Dubuque will act as chaplain for the service. Music will be furnished by Prof. Arnold Small of the music department, violinist, and Prof. Philip G. Clapp, head of the music department, pianist. They will play a duet of "Adagio from Opus 189" by Brahms. A mixed chorus will sing "Panis Angelicus" by Franck.

Acclaimed as a teacher and educator, Bishop Ryan was a member of the North American board for study of religion in higher education which was instrumental in the founding of the University of Iowa school of religion. In his talk this evening he is expected to refer to the role which a university should play in a world which is increasingly restricting the freedom of thought. In doing this he will refer to his experiences as rector of the Catholic University of America.

Bishop Ryan has spoken at a number of educational and religious meetings throughout the country. He is the author of several books in the fields of philosophy and religion and has been particularly interested in interfaith relationships.

His visit here this week end is the occasion of a meeting of several prominent religious leaders of the state. Among them are Archbishop Beckman, Bishop of Henry P. Rohlfman of Davenport and Bishop G. T. Bergan of Des Moines.

Wagon Stages

The set was designed by Prof. Arnold S. Gillette. Five different interior combinations are used, and the exterior setting is used in five different ways. The purpose of the revolving stage is to approximate the speed of the old Elizabethan theater and at the same time use a colorful background, instead of a drab colorless one.

By using the wagon stages, other settings can be created easily. Everything that shifts is mounted on rollers, minimizing the time and effort needed in scene-changing.

The exterior setting may look like a mountain, but in reality it consists of wood, chicken wire, newspapers, muslin, canvas and paint. Starting with a wooden frame, the set next utilizes chicken wire, easy to mold to shape, topped by paper mache and then canvas.

The roof of the tavern, where Falstaff and his pals spend hours drinking sack, must be strong enough to support the armies of the king and the rebels. Making construction sturdy enough was the big problem, because space had to be left for a stairway through the interior for the armies to march up and down.

Members of the army had to take a special course in fencing for the production. Their instructors were Prof. Hunton D.

Vardis Fisher's Brilliant Novel Has Thought-Provoking Moral

Is History of Monster That Is Destroying Useful People

"FORGIVE US OUR VIRTUES" by Vardis Fisher. (Caxton Printers, Ltd., 1938, $2.50.)

Not so many years ago, a brilliant Austrian Jew — Sigmund Freud by name — announced to an astonished world that sex was the mainspring for most human actions.

And now already we have men such as Jim Jones, one of the central figures in this novel, telling us that the world is obsessed with sex. This, then, is the brief history of the Frankenstein monster that is yearly destroying thousands of otherwise useful people, that is ominously threatening our whole civilization.

Sane and Sound Attitude Vardis Fisher recognizes the monster and presents a thought-provoking moral as well as a brilliantly written novel. What the world needs, individually and collectively, is a sane and sound attitude toward sex.

That is the conclusion finally reached by Ogden Greb, and he gives the book its "happy ending" by discovering himself and love after a pagan holiday in the Sawtooth mountains of Idaho.

The book is packed with other interesting characters — some comic, some tragic and some downright despicable. There is honest John Smith who doesn't know he is not in love with his wife and ends up in an insane asylum. There is homely Professor Griffin who turns from his original naivete to promiscuous adultery.

Pompous President Ledwidge There is pompous President Ledwidge who yanked coeds out of cars and called them harlots because they were sitting in men's laps. There is Art Spikeman, the campus cut-up who has a heart of gold when sober, but who becomes wild and spiteful when he drops his glasses to get drunk. There is beautiful Jerry Young, cold and competent but unable to find love because she is too independent for any man. There is Harrison Hawke, the brilliant Manhattan psychiatrist who tries to seduce his women patients.

There are all these, and many others — too unnatural to be typical and yet it is still possible that they are.

Character Extremes Just as the author carries us from one character extreme to another, so does he fly about geographically. We are taken from the big city to the small town and back again; from a cultured midwestern university campus to the mountain fastness of the far west.

It is a strong book, for Author Fisher is not a man to pull his punches. It was, in fact, too strong for eastern publishers, enabling the Caxton Printers of Caldwell, Idaho, to add another coup to their rapidly increasing list.

Good Novel

Lecturer Here in 1935 Wins Success

"INNOCENCE IS DROWNED" by Walter Allen. (Michael Joseph, Ltd., London, 1938.)

A great many Iowa Citizens will be glad, I know, to hear that Walter Allen is the author of a newly published novel, not only that but a very good novel and better still, one that is successful. It was published about six weeks ago and by now all the London newspapers, bookshops and critics are acclaiming it. Almost immediate publication in America seems imminent.

Iowa Citizens will be glad to know this because so many of them know and respect Walter Allen, the young Birmingham author who was on the campus during the summer of 1935 as a lecturer in the English department, a broadcaster on station WSUI and a university student as well. He has been in London since September and completed his novel here.

Like all really earnest young writers, he is still very poor and earnest. Besides writing book reviews for two nationally circulated magazines every week and turning out numerous articles, he is at work on a second novel. He hopes to be able to return to America — and Iowa City — sometime in the early fall.

After reading "Innocence Is Drowned," it's easy to understand the enthusiasm of the Londoners who know it. It is a good, honest and sincere story. I feel sure it will repeat its success in the United States.

The plot deals with three days in the life of the Gardiners, an average small English family — three days that are quite like any others, and yet strangely dramatic.

By the simple method of dealing with the thoughts and actions of each member of the family individually, Allen tells his story. There is Joe Gardiner, consumptive, old and about to die, who cannot face the thought that give because he gave up school at 14 to enter business, who is now an underling and a loud-mouthed braggart, who before the story ends has turned to blackmail and serious trouble. Sydney, still in secondary school and unhappy because he hasn't memorized his Wordsworth and because his favorite master gives him a detention; Then, of course, there is Mrs. Gardiner, happy in her over-work because she hasn't time to think of her own troubles, ironically listening to the petty difficulties of her well-to-do mistress.

Around these Allen has woven his plot, a story that is not alone of England or America but that might be of any family anywhere.

Theater Facilities to Combine for First Time In Staging Spectacular Production of Henry IV

When Falstaff, Prince Hal, Hotspur and the rest of Henry IV's court appear in University theater's production of Shakespeare's history this week, all the facilities of the new University theater will be used for the first time.

The revolving stage will be given its first trial, along with the wagon stages, trap doors and the fly loft, enabling the university producers to equal and even out-do the old Elizabethan theater in playing speed.

By MILDRED HOLLY Daily Iowan Campus Editor

Colorful costumes — including the regal robes of two of England's royal families and the colorful tabards of the king's and the rebels' armies — will further enhance the pomp and pageantry of court life.

"Henry IV," Part I, which opens Tuesday night and continues all week with a Saturday matinee, is the spectacular production of the year, and because it is spectacular many technical problems had to be solved.

For example, there are 17 scenes in the play, necessitating frequent changes in settings. By using the revolving stage, changes from one scene to another can be made in less than 30 seconds.

The use of the revolving stage in this Shakespearean production is unique. Prof. E. C. Mabie, who is directing the production, believes that this is the first time

Among sheer marquisettes and chiffons, light prints, prints with white backgrounds and the pastels that are so good this season you are certain to find the thing that "looks like you." Have fun selecting your costume for the P. E. P. jamboree from STRUBS.

PEP YOU've no idea what fun you have in store for you when you drop in at the MODERN PAINT STORE to pick out new wall-paper and paints for your spring spree of redecorating. Their stock is smart and extensive and within reach of your pocketbook. You are certain to find just the thing that will suit you and your home.

PEP They're really bonnets that we're wearing for Easter this year! ESTELLA ZIMMERMAN has them in supreme natural bakus, pastel felts, and smart blacks and navys. She has some surprising little (I mean little) businesses that just cover the top of your head and some handsome broad brims turned either up or down. You must see ESTELLA ZIMMERMAN'S line of hats before your very style and color walks out on somebody else.

PEP P. E. P. up for Friday night in a clever something informal from TOWNERS. They are showing smart chiffons in navy, brown and black, bright and light prints and flattering pastels in sugar sacking. You will feel right if your new street length costume is from TOWNERS.

PEP GIVE your artistic intuition a good fling. Trot down and choose smart new wall-paper from STILLWELLS' PAINT STORE for those rooms that need doing this spring. They have a marvelous selection and you will enjoy your home so very much when STILLWELLS have helped you to redecorate.

A way to make a hit, boys, is to take your girl out to Sunday night supper either before or after the show. The DINETTE CAFE is just the place for a cozy tete-a-tete, with good food and service to help the cause along. Dine her at THE DINETTE!

PEP YOU have no idea how much better work you can do with a good study lamp. If you are wanting to come out with a good average in June, trot right down and get an I. E. S. LAMP for your desk at the IOWA CITY LIGHT AND POWER COMPANY. They are good looking, too, and will improve the appearance of your room.

PEP THE sporting goods department of WILLIAMS' IOWA SUPPLY can furnish kitten ball equipment to all who are interested in raising their batting averages this spring—bats, mitts and balls for the interfraternity games.

PEP The place to order out late at night is LUBIN'S because you get quick perfect service. At coke time LUBIN'S scores again. A sandwich or a sundae at LUBIN'S is sure to be good, and the prices are definitely low.

PEP April showers may bring May flowers, but they also bring April cleaning and pressing needs. Just send your needs—I mean clothes—to BALL'S UNIQUE CLEANERS and get them prepared to take their places in the Easter style parade.

PEP YOU'll want to look top of the mornin' for the Pep Jamboree and all the parties that are going on over the week end, so the thing to do is to make your appointment early by phoning the STAR BEAUTY SALON, 2233. You will have a hair-dress that will turn all heads and will really offset your new dress.

PEP The accessories and personal touches are the thing that give charm to a street length dress—the kind you will want to wear to P. E. P. Jamboree. YETTERS have innumerable little gadgets that will change your costume with a simple turn. A bolero of lace, or white pique added to a black or a navy will make it new and striking—a little flower, if you are wearing a suit put it in the pocket. Speaking of suits, YETTERS have the blouse that you have been looking for. It may be a LINEN LADY (they come in every color of the spectra) or it may be a white, pastel or bright colored crepe, but they have it.

PEP Fine hosiery is important to a street length costume such as the one you will be wearing to P. E. P. Jamboree. TOWNERS have the thing that is absolutely perfect for that occasion and for all of spring. It's the new Ombre shade of cob-web-sheer two threads in HOLLYVOGUE ringless stockings. Their subtle shading from brown to beige—back to front—is flatteringly slenderizing.

PEP Boys—wear a short and handsomely tailored camel-hair coat.

PEP DON'T forget to remember your friends this Easter. A good way that is lots of fun is a nice chocolate egg with the name written on or a basket or a nest. Just look in KRESGES. If you are entertaining at a dinner or an Easter party of any kind, you will find table decorations, favors and candies to fit the occasion at KRESGES.

All for Pep! Jamboree Tickets On Sale Monday

It's a far cry from directing a four-piece orchestra for the amusement of one's friends to directing a full-sized musical unit which has been heard nationally over CBS and NBC networks and in personal appearances all over the country.

That's the progress that has been made by Art Kassel who will bring his "Kassels in the Air" orchestra to Iowa Union April 8 to play for the annual Pep Jamboree.

Tickets for the informal party will go on sale to the public at the Union desk tomorrow at 8 a.m.

The genial leader made his debut at the head of a four-piece unit composed of a few high school friends in a small hotel on the south side of Chicago shortly after the World war. Before that time he had hoped to be a commercial artist, but with his first musical appearance a success, he threw over his artistic tendencies in favor of his band.

Completing an engagement at the Bismark hotel in Chicago, he will come to Iowa City and will go on a short tour before replacing Sammy Kaye and his orchestra at the Statler hotel in Cleveland.

Marion Holmes, attractive young songstress, is one of the headliners with Art Kassel and his orchestra. In 1934 she won a singing contest for Chicago high school girls at the College Inn, which earned her a job there for eight months. She left Chicago to sing at the Coconut grove in Los Angeles before joining Art Kassel.

AROUND THE TOWN With TOM JOHNSON

"More Fun" Just seeing that fellow walk around with the sandwich sign advertising the Pep Jamboree indicates plenty about university parties. The committees must be down to dad's last dollar when they can't present more forceful advertising than that.

Students are kicking, too, about the mediocre parties this year. Only one, possibly two, have been worth mentioning. The rest have been pretty dull. No name bands — no crowds. . . And they'll only attend when there is a good band, you know.

In fact, if a fellow buys a ticket, and finds he can't go, he can't get rid of the thing at a loss.

If Eddie Duchin does play for the Junior Prom. . . that's one of the rumors floating around. . . there might be a sell-out.

But then, a year or two ago they were ruminating Benny Goodman, so don't get excited.

Crab Apples? At Ohio State university, collegians see a reversal of the customary procedure. A prof there distributed a big red apple to each of his students the day of an exam. . . I wonder if it did any good. . .

Crack Shot Bender Leads Pistol Shooting Score

Police Chief W. H. Bender led the police department in pistol shooting during the last 23 weeks with an average score of 79.4. He was followed closely by Patrolman Laurence Ham, who scored an average of 79.2, and Assistant Chief Joe Dolezal, scoring 79.

Each policeman is required by Chief Bender to fire a target of 10 shots each week. The men fire with either hand, and slow or rapid fire. The firing positions are varied each week.

The averages for the 23-week period were, Bender, 79.4; Ham, 79.2; Dolezal, 79; George R. Hall, 75.8; Art A. Schneebelen, 75.6; James L. Ryan, 74.2; Edwin J. Ruppert, 72.5; Ben A. Hauber, 70; Frank J. Burns, 68.7; Harold F. Sprinkle, 68; G. J. Mulherin, 44.3, and H. F. Beranek, 37.6.

See, Hear, Speak No Evil That's the Life of a Taxi Cab Driver, Local Cabbie Explains

"We're like those three monkeys you see perched on people's desks," wryly commented a young taxi driver. "See no evil, hear no evil, and most important of all, speak no evil—that's us!"

He settled down in the driver's seat and flipped on the radio.

"To many people a cab driver is their best friend—or so it would seem from all the stories they tell us," he chuckled. "We listen to every kind of story. This morning a young married woman was telling me all about Junior's cutting his first teeth—just an hour ago a business man asked me how to pop the question to his secretary. So it goes." He paused to light a cigaret. "Yet to others—sometimes to the same people—we're just another form of animal life."

"Now you take tips. The best come from fares from the depot—not many from local customers. They just don't tip around here, or when they do it's usually small." He chuckled again and he smoothed his hair and placed his cap on the back of his head.

"Half the time they'll have you carry a trunk and five suitcases down from the fourth floor and yell for more speed all the way to the depot—even if there's 15 minutes until train time. And when you get them there, they'll dash of throwing you a dime tip—such as much to say, 'Here, go buy yourself a Rolls-Royce!' Yes, we meet all kinds. We sure do."

A shouted address from the office girl sent us to the west side. Here we picked up an elderly woman and delivered her to a department store. She asked to be called for later in the afternoon.

"She's one of my regular customers—even remembered me at Christmas. I wish they were all like that." The car once more slid to a stop in its parking stand. Every company has its regular customers who always ask for the same drivers, he explained.

"Of course we cater to all their whims just as soon as we discover them. She doesn't happen to like the radio. Yet I always have a certain program turned in for a certain young professor' each morning."

"Peevish? That's easy — guys

Each driver is responsible for his car and takes especial pride in keeping it shined up. "We really become attached to our cars," the young cabbie explained as he gave the steering wheel an affectionate pat. "You can't help it after driving the same car 12 hours a day for months at a time. After piloting a car for 100,000 or 125,000 miles—the average life of a cab—it's just natural."

"Yes, I like driving," he decided as he tuned in a popular swing band, "but I'd go crazy if it wasn't for that thing—" He indicated the radio. "It's a God-send!"

Seek Reaction to Ordinance Proposed Law Would Inspect and License Food Dispensing Establishments

Mayor Myron J. Walker and the city council are seeking the reaction of the public to a proposed ordinance which would provide for inspection and licensing of food dispensing establishments in Iowa City.

The proposed law has received two readings by the council and is now in the hands of the ordinance committee for further study.

The bill provides for the licensing of all food dispensing establishments, after these establishments have been inspected by health department officials. No license fee would be charged.

The license would be revoked if the licensee did not operate a business of food dispensing according to provisions of the law, or if he operates in a manner endangering to public health or health of his employees.

Inspection of employees and premises would be required before any license could be issued. If a health officer found any employee in apparently unhealthy condition he could require the employer to produce a health certificate from a reputable physician within 12 hours, or he would be released by his employer.

All eating and drinking utensils which are used more than once shall be thoroughly washed and cleaned in such a way as to remove completely all visible foreign matter by either of the following methods:

1.—By mechanical dish washing machines which have a direct connection to the hot water supply and which spray a fresh supply of hot rinse water direct on all sides of such utensils. 2.—By handwashing, which shall be done in warm water containing soap or some other effective cleansing agent, and followed by rinsing in clean boiling water of a temperature not below 170 degrees F. for at least one minute, followed by draining. In lieu of rinsing in boiling water, such utensils may be immersed for at least one minute in water containing approximately 100 parts per million of chlorine disinfectant. This solution shall at no time be less than 35 parts per million. 3.—By hand washing done in warm water containing an inorganic cleansing agent to which has been added chlorine disinfectant to give approximately 200 parts per million of chlorine. The mixture shall at no time be less than 35 parts per million of chlorine.

BETTY MIDDLETON ASKS RAY WINTERS, THE ANNOUNCER:
"RAY, ARE CAMELS REALLY SO DIFFERENT FROM OTHER CIGARETTES?"

WHEN RAY WINTERS SIGNED OFF (above) he had a long, hard day behind him. Ray has thought a lot about which cigarette best fits in with the nerve-and-energy-consuming work he does. "Camels are different from other cigarettes," is his verdict. "In the ten years I've been enjoying them, I've never known Camels to make my throat feel scratchy, my nerves ragged. That says mildness, doesn't it? There are so many ways in which Camels agree with me!"

And many millions of other smokers find what they want in Camels, too.

HE'S AFTER A "STRIKE"! Off duty, bowling is one of Ray Winters' pastimes. "And when I'm tired," Ray says, "I get a 'lift' with a Camel—a feeling of renewed energy."

"CAMELS AGREE WITH ME"

"The majority of tobacco growers favor Camels because we know what choice tobacco goes into them,"

TOBACCO PLANTERS REPORT

"The favorite with most men who grow tobacco," is what Vault Snowden, veteran planter, calls Camels. "Camel doesn't buy just any tobacco—they get the best. The Camel buyer bought all the choice grade tobacco of my last crop. I've been a steady Camel smoker myself for 19 years."

B. F. Bivins, another experienced tobacco grower, knows what cigarette pays more for the choice leaf tobacco. "The Camel people sure do get the best grades," he says. "Take my own crop last year. Camel bought the best lots. And other planters will tell you the same. You bet, I smoke Camels."

He's been growing tobacco for 10 years. "I'm in a position to know a lot about the quality of the tobacco that goes into various cigarettes," James Graves, another well-known planter, says. "Most of the growers around here—myself included—sold the best leaf tobacco of their last crop to Camels. I know tobacco so I smoke Camels."

"I'm the fellow who gets the check so I know they use more expensive tobaccos in Camels," Harold Craig starts out. "I had a fine grade of leaf tobacco last year. At the auction, Camel got the best of my tobacco. That was true with most planters I know, too. Yes, sir, Camel is my cigarette."

FIVE CENTS The Associated Press

Billion Dollar Loan Bill Passed by House, 339-6

One Provision Will Return To Senate for O.K.

Section of Bill Would Permit Long-Time Business Loans

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP)—The Roosevelt administration virtually received a "blank check" enabling it to lend $1,500,000,000 to combat the new depression when the house passed today, 339 to 6, a bill increasing the loan powers of the reconstruction finance corporation.

The bill did not actually go to the White House immediately, because the senate had yet to act on a house amendment, but it was considered certain that it soon would be sent to President Roosevelt.

Although it grants wide powers to the RFC to help business, the administration has not announced a specific program to apply the powers. A committee of officials headed by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has been working on a lending program.

One major section of the bill permits the RFC to make long-term loans to business. The agency is now restricted to loans maturing in 1945. The long-term credits may be of a character that banks won't touch. In the words of Jesse H. Jones, the government "can afford to take a chance that the banks cannot."

Another important feature of the bill is that it revises the power of the RFC to make loans to states and municipalities which demonstrate ability to pay for work-giving projects.

Considered significant was an amendment tacked on by the house, permitting the RFC to lend money to railroads without the approval of the interstate commerce commission. Present law requires that before such a loan can be made to a going railroad, the I. C. C. must certify that it is not in need of reorganization.

The administration is now considering means of alleviating the distress of railroads. The RFC bill would enable it to go to their aid speedily with loans, if that course were decided upon.

House Democratic Leaders Confident Reorganization Bill to Pass This Week

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP)—House administration leaders, expressing confidence that the reorganization bill would be passed this week, welcomed a break in debate on the measure today and hoped it might help the controversy to "cool off some."

By the operation of the routine program of the house, rather than by the design of the leadership, the chamber spent the day discussing other matters. There was a possibility that, excepting a short period tomorrow, the bitterly-contested bill might not come up again until Thursday.

The leaders based their predictions of passage upon the compromise made over the week end, which President Roosevelt did not oppose.

Although they agreed to one more compromise today, they were inclined to say with some emphasis that no more concessions would be made. From the ranks of the bill's opponents came statements that there would have to be additional compromises before the opposition would be relaxed.

Report Control Of Government Seaboard Road

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish frontier) April 4 (AP)—Spanish insurgent officers tonight announced Generalissimo Francisco Franco's forces had cut Catalonia off from the rest of government Spain including Valencia and Madrid.

Officers at Irun said insurgent advance columns were at the gates of Tortosa, 130 miles southeast of Barcelona, and had set up machine-guns and field artillery commanding the last highway to link the two sections of government territory.

In sight of the Mediterranean and touching the French border on the north, insurgent armies tonight began closing the jaws of a giant trap about Catalonia, seat of the Spanish government.

While the center columns swept past Lerida for a frontal attack on the strongest line of Catalan defenses, other corps on a widely extended flank pursued fleeing government troops toward the sea and toward the Pyrenees.

General Jose Moscardo's troops in the far north took village after village. In the south General Garcia Valno's Moorish legionnaires sped down the natural highway made by the Ebro river to Tortosa, only seven miles away and looking down on the coast.
