Europe Forms Strong Alliance

Plan Protects Czechoslovakia Against Attack

Yugoslavia, Rumania, Poland, Russia, France to Link

PARIS, April 6 (AP) — A plan for an alliance linking Soviet Russia, Poland, Rumania and Yugoslavia with France for defense of Czechoslovakia against possible attack from Nazi Germany was presented today by Foreign Minister Joseph Paul-Boncour.

The proposal was outlined to the French ambassadors to Moscow and Warsaw and the ministers to Praha and Bucharest who were summoned hurriedly to Paris after Germany annexed Austria.

Diplomats sound governments were instructed to sound the governments which they are accredited regarding such a line-up. Similar instructions were sent to the French minister to Yugoslavia.

Each was told to ask the four powers to state their exact position in case Czechoslovakia, half surrounded by Germany, is the victim of Nazi aggression.

No Obligation Now It was pointed out that Russia, Poland, Rumania and Yugoslavia all are allied with France in varying degrees, but they have no common obligation at present to each other or to Czechoslovakia.

French officials, however, have declared the four would be threatened more or less directly by any German aggression anywhere in central or eastern Europe.

Officials admitted the keystone to the problem was Poland, strategically situated between Germany and Russia and with strong military forces.

Leon Noel, French ambassador to Warsaw, was told by Paul-Boncour to tell Poland flatly that France must know, once and for all, whether Poland is ready to march with her in case she attacks Germany to aid the Czechs.

Poland has been accused by French officials of flirting with Germany and is suspected by them of having designs which contain a Polish minority.

Mexico Names Export Profits To Pay Debts

MEXICO CITY, April 6 (AP) — The Mexican government announced today that 20 per cent of gross receipts from sales abroad of its excess crude oil would be used toward payment for properties it expropriated from American and British companies March 18.

The announcement came as two foreign promoters — Francis W. Rickett of Great Britain and Bernard E. Smith, New York stock broker, were negotiating with Mexican officials to buy a part of the government's oil output.

Unconfirmed reports were that Rickett and Smith were near an agreement with the Mexican government for purchase of some of the oil which has been collecting in storage tanks since President Lazaro Cardenas issued his expropriation decree.

The government press department disclosed that the president himself had ordered the government company formed to handle export oil sales to deposit 20 per cent of receipts in the national bank of labor credit.

Big Apple May Replace Rabbit Dance

RAPID CITY, S. D., April 6 (AP) — The big apple may soon replace the rabbit dance, traditional Sioux performance, on South Dakota's Indian reservations.

A clipping from the Shannon county News published on the Pine Ridge Indian reservation shows the trend:

"A WPA physical director of Hot Springs was at Pine Ridge last week and gave some instructions to those interested in learning the new steps used in dancing the big apple and the Susie Q. A good time was had by all. Old and young people turned out. The big apple dance and other new steps will soon take the place of the rabbit dance."

Blum Resolves To Wage Fight

Premier Continues His Battle Against Hostile Senate

PARIS, April 6 (AP)—Premier Leon Blum, despite a split in the people's front majority when his dictatorial financial control bill staggered through the chamber of deputies today, resolved tonight to carry his almost hopeless fight to the hostile senate.

Failure of nearly half of the members of the radical socialist party — one of the pillars of the people's front coalition—to support Blum's radical bill led the premier and his socialist ministers to consider resigning.

Deputies, however, said Leon Jouhaux promised Blum "full support" of his general confederation of labor and urged him to go on with the battle to the senate.

Jouhaux is secretary of the labor confederation and says he has 5,000,000 followers.

Blum will take his demand for power to the senate Friday, although he knows he faces almost certain defeat.

Jouhaux declared publicly on March 31 that if the Blum government should resign "under pressure from the financial and nationalist oligarchy," his 5,000,000 followers would "set it up again by our own means."

Bill Scrapes Through The Blum bill scraped through the chamber 311 to 250, but the vote was the smallest on record for Blum's people's front cabinet.

Nearly half of the radical socialist membership in the lower house deserted Blum to vote with the rightist minority or, by abstaining from voting, deprived the premier of their support.

Rightists charged that the bill would "lead to establishment of a regime similar to those of Hitler and Mussolini."

An important event of the day will be the initiation to the Order of Coif, national honorary legal organization, at 10 o'clock this morning in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. The initiation ceremony will be open to the general public.

The Supreme Court day argument will be concerning the blood test for intoxication. In the case the state charges the defendant was driving while intoxicated and upon the trial in the lower court the state introduced into the evidence the result of a blood test drawn from the defendant shortly after the accident by Dr. Durner. The defendant was also administered first aid by the doctor for a superficial cut on his hand. The defendant did not give his name. See COURT, page 5

Browder Denies Urging Votes On Reorganization

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP)—Earl Browder, communist candidate for president in 1936, said tonight he had not been urging congressmen "to vote for or against any particular form of reorganization."

Commenting upon an assertion of Representative Knutson (R-Minn) on the house floor today that Browder "has been calling upon congressmen and urging them to vote for passage of the president's reorganization plan," Browder said:

"Congressman Knutson is not really worried about myself, my party, or even the reorganization bill, except as he can deliver a blow against the president, the new deal, and every move to curb the power of Wall street. I have not been urging congressmen to vote for or against any particular form of reorganization."

Moscardo's Insurgent Troops Reported to Have Captured Balaguer in Northeast Spain

BALAGUER, 15 miles northeast of Lerida, is at the northern end of the government's defense line thrown up to check the insurgent sweep toward Barcelona and the Mediterranean.

Government forces still retained control of the defense line's southern end at Borjas Blancas, but the capture of Balaguer would enable the insurgents to circle around government fortifications to the main Barcelona highway.

While "suicide squads" of militiamen held approaches to the walled city, wave after wave of government troops struck from the heights which hemmed in General Franco's column. They drove insurgents out of several positions previously occupied in bitter hand-to-hand fighting.

Both sides sped reinforcements. (See SPAIN page 3)

Will Enable Forces To Encircle Loyalist Fortifications

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish frontier) April 6 (AP) — Insurgent dispatches tonight announced General Jose Moscardo's insurgent troops had captured Balaguer, in northeast Spain, the town which controls all Catalan hydro-electric power lines.

Senate Approval Given Measure To Allow Funds

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP) — The senate approved today, on the 21st anniversary of America's entry into the World war, a $491,000,000 appropriation for the army, the largest since 1921.

The measure was passed and sent back to the house shortly after the annual "army day" parade, with guns, tanks and marching men, had rolled past the capitol.

The bill carries 1938 fiscal year appropriations $75,718,659 higher than those of the present year. The measure now will be returned to the house for action on additions to the bill made by the senate since house passage. These include $16,700,747 for sea coast defenses and $13,694,225 for anti-aircraft guns and ammunition.

Eight Men and Girl Perish as Blazes Sweep Chicago Hotel, Match Factory

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP) — A swift surge of flames in a hotel and match factory brought death to eight men and a girl today.

The men perished in a fire at the Hotel Center in the west Madison street flophouse sector early this morning during the winter's worst snow storm.

Firemen found towering tongues of flame licking up from the roof of the four story structure. They carried 30 of the 70 guests, including 15 women, down icy ladders. Officers hurried other survivors down stairways filled with blinding smoke.

Patrolman Hugh Gillespie, former Notre Dame athlete, made several trips into the building, boosted terror-stricken men to his shoulder and hustled them to safety.

The identified victims were Joseph Bento, 60; Henry Berndt, 45; Edward Hass, 40; Thurew Olson, 50, and Frank Smialek.

Catholics Set New Statement

VATICAN CITY, April 6 (AP) — A new, four-point statement set forth the Catholic church's position in Austria tonight as a sequel to Pope Pius' conference with Theodore Cardinal Innitzer, archbishop of Vienna.

The statement, drafted by Cardinal Innitzer and published in L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper, said that for the future Austrian bishops demand:

That in all questions contemplated under the Austrian concordat no modification shall be made without previous agreement with the Holy See;

That in particular in the application of all rules regarding both schools and education as well as youth leadership the natural rights of parents and the religious and moral training of Catholic youths according to the fundamental principles of the Catholic faith shall be assured;

That propaganda against religion and the church shall be prevented;

That Catholics shall have the right to develop and defend the Catholic church and the fundamental principles of Christianity in every field of human life with every means at the disposal of contemporary civilization."

Solon Would Amend Bill For Reorganization

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP) — An ace card went into play in the government reorganization contest today when Representative Sumners (D-Tex.) arose to demand drastic alterations in the bill empowering President Roosevelt to revamp executive agencies.

If attempts to amend the bill fail, it should be killed outright, said Sumners, who is the influential chairman of the house judiciary committee.

Opponents of the measure had counted heavily on his speech, remembering that an address he made last year helped kill the Roosevelt bill to reorganize the supreme court.

Some Satisfaction However, supporters of the present measure, found some satisfaction in Sumners' speech today, in that he did not go along with those who favored killing the measure forthwith.

The opposition had been rallying its strength for an effort to defeat the bill without proceeding to the stage of amendments. But Sumners said:

"I feel now it would be a mistake not to consider this bill. Let's do the best we can to amend it, and then if we can't amend it as we think it ought to be, let's have the nerve to beat it."

Curb President's Powers Sumners indicated he favored curbing the powers the bill would confer on the chief executive.

The people, he said, were willing to grant emergency authority in emergency periods, but now they instinctively are moving "in the opposite direction."

But Representative O'Connor (D-N.Y.) previously had announced he would move tomorrow to "strike out the enacting clause," a parliamentary maneuver which would strip the bill of all force and effect.

"I know the country wants no bill whatsoever and the most expeditious way would be to kill it at once," he said.

Frome Expresses Robbery As Motive for Torture Slayings

EL PASO, Tex., April 6 (AP) — A belief that robbery was the motive for the Texas torture slayings of his wife and daughter was expressed today by Weston C. Frome, Berkeley, Cal., business man, while investigators studied the possibility of a "revenge or hate" motive.

Frome talked to news men at the California home to which he had taken the bodies of Mrs. Frome and their 23-year-old daughter, Nancy, found mutilated in the cactus studded country east of here last Sunday. Cash and a portion of their jewelry was missing.

"My belief is that revenge or hatred only could have prompted such a brutal crime," said Sheriff Chris Fox of El Paso, directing the widespread investigation.

On this theory Fox has instructed authorities in Berkeley to question friends and acquaintances of the Fromes.

Sheriff Fox said his attention had been directed to New York angles, based on reports reaching him from an El Paso source that Nancy Frome was involved in a romance ending in a New York annulment. He would not go into detail in this respect, however.

The sheriff emphasized he had made no official demand upon New York authorities as yet, but was interested in obtaining information from there pertinent to the case.

Investigators Pursuing 'Revenge or Hate' Angle of Case

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP) — A delegation representing a lawyers committee on American relations with Spain conferred today with officials of the state department in an effort to obtain revocation of the United States embargo against arms shipments to Spain.

The delegation, headed by former Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, and claiming to represent 5,000 lawyers in the United States, declared that repeal of the embargo was "legally possible."

The group submitted a memorandum of law in support of its argument for lifting the embargo.

Renew Efforts to Restore Storm-Crippled Light, Telephone Systems

Iowa City utility officials today will renew desperate efforts to restore crippled power and communication systems—the result of yesterday's sudden sleet storm which caused damage in this vicinity estimated at $250,000.

Last night, while service was being restored at one point and breaking at another, they expressed the fear that a heavy wind might cause greater damage, destroy the temporary repairs that had been made.

Electric lights were out in scattered sections of the city last night. Homes in certain areas depending on electricity to operate oil burners, were cold.

With 12 expert linemen to work on the dangerous "hot wires," the Iowa City Light and Power company threw six crews of 30 men and trucks at the paralyzed power system.

Working at top speed since 5 a.m., the workers reported last night 15 poles had been restored. Damage to the power system will be at least $10,000, Roscoe E. Taylor, general manager, said last night. He estimated it would be several days before service was reestablished.

Iowa Citizens are warned not to touch loose wires. They may be charged with electricity. Power will be shut off whenever a "hot wire" is reported.

Poles on all telephone lines out of Iowa City were down last night. The extent of damage to the phone system was not determined. "But—it will run into thousands of dollars," M. R. Petersen, branch manager, said.

Additional men must come from other towns to aid restoration of the phone system. Twenty-eight men and eight trucks were used yesterday.

Temporary repairs will be made within two days, but material must be shipped in before permanent repairs can be effected. Sole means of communication out of town were three underground cables to Des Moines, Davenport and Cedar Rapids.

Damage to trees alone was estimated at more than $200,000 by university botanists. The sleet, freezing to form a heavy covering, snapped innumerable limbs, crashing them to the ground, endangering the lives of pedestrians.

Several limbs fell on passing cars, and in several cases, penetrated the top. No injuries were reported. In many instances, trees were uprooted and fell, snapping nearby electric light and telephone lines.

City Engineer Fred Gartzke increased the city work crew from 22 to 38 men and utilized two extra trucks to clear debris from streets and sidewalks. Extra men and another truck will be hired today, Gartzke indicated.

Temperatures during the day were between 28 and 32 degrees. Precipitation during the storm amounted to 1.47 inches.

No planes landed at the municipal airport. Transcontinental flights were not scheduled. Beacon and boundary lights at the airport were out.

A Record We Must Maintain

TWELVE months of freedom from auto accident fatalities—that is the record which has just been established by Iowa City. According to figures given by D. D. Fennell, president of the National Safety Council, only 20 other cities of comparable size equaled Iowa City's accomplishment for the year.

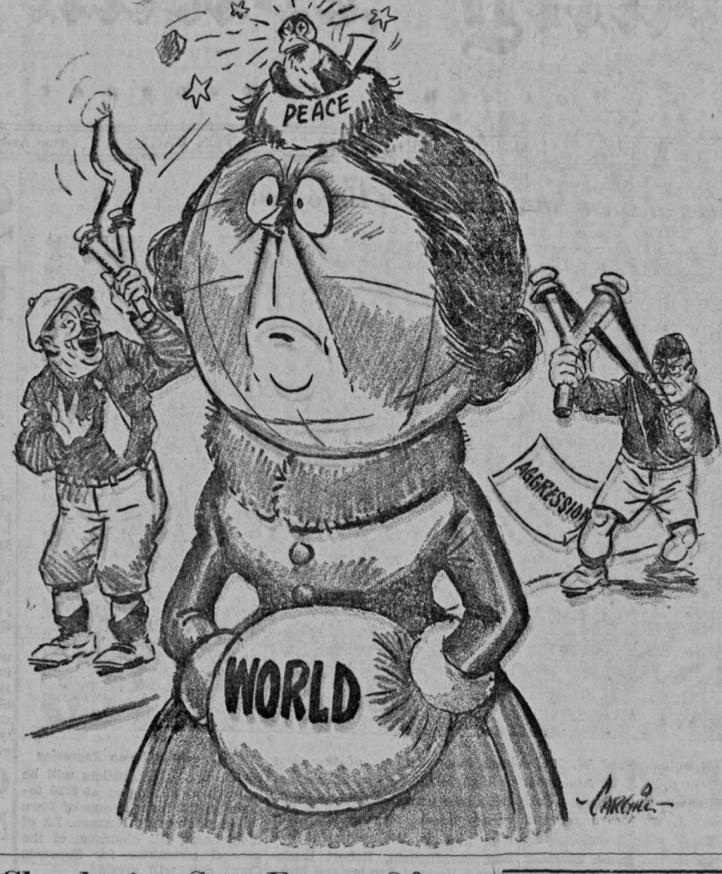

Iowa Citizens should be proud that for 365 days they were free from auto deaths, that there were no children struck down by speeding automobiles at crossings, no adult pedestrians left lying in the streets, no automobiles careening toward each other to end in a tangled mass of wreckage.

True, there is a darker side which shows it might very well have been otherwise. During the year there were 123 auto accidents reported and 1,931 arrests made by local police for traffic violations. Many of those accidents and many of those violations could have had fatal results.

However, the vigilance of the police and the carefulness of many drivers, mixed with a little luck, combined to give Iowa City a blank fatality sheet.

Recent city traffic schools have pointed out the way in which that sheet can be kept blank. Carefulness, courtesy, care of mechanical equipment, and a light touch on the accelerator—these are the guide words by which Iowa City may secure its safety record for many years.

Clendening Says Errors Often Made in Medical Reporting

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. People who write medical news for the newspapers and magazines often get very close to the truth in spite of the fact that they never have treated a patient or been in an operating room in their lives, but exactly for that reason they often just miss the truth.

"Most advanced hospitals now utilize a method of preserving mother's milk (often needed in a hurry for premature babies) for periods up to one year. The milk is drawn from the donors into sterile containers, then poured into metal molds kept by dry-ice packing at 109 degrees below zero."

Of course, no advanced hospitals do any such thing, because it is perfectly easy to feed a premature baby for a while on water and sugar and after that on artificial mother's milk, such as S. M. A. The problem of the premature baby is not feeding, but breathing.

Another statement: "Surgeons have realized since the time of Lister that the air of the operating room is a dangerous source of wound contamination."

This is the kind of a statement that emanates from people who goggle at an operating room from afar. Practical surgeons gave up the idea that the air contaminates a wound before Lister did, and practical surgeons know that if their instruments, towels, etc., are sterile and their hands are clean and uncontaminated, their percentage of wound infection is less than 1-1000 of 1 per cent.

Japanese Face Stiff Resistance In Attempts to Swallow the Vast Lunghai Area of Central China

Center Efforts Around Ruined Village of Taierchwang

SHANGHAI, April 7 (Thursday) (AP) — Japan's war with China, nine months old today, has reached a little temporary stalemate with little indication of how and when it will end.

The Rising Sun army, which swept through the northern cities of Peiping and Tientsin last summer, drove the Chinese out of Shanghai Nov. 9, and captured Nanking Dec. 13, has been unable to swallow the vast Lunghai area of central China.

A stubborn army of 400,000 Chinese has kept the invaders from reaching the Lunghai railroad, China's east-west lifeline through the heart of the area which separates Japanese northern conquests from captured Nanking, Shanghai, and lower Yangtze river valley plains.

Japan's latest effort to sever the Lunghai artery has centered around the ruined village of Taierchwang, 20 miles north of the Lunghai and near its eastern terminus, Haichow.

The village has been the focus of Japanese attacks for 18 days, since the previous Japanese attempt to reach the Lunghai was thwarted on the northern bank of the Yellow river at a point about 300 miles to the west.

to the battle area, where government resistance to the insurgent push brought the fiercest fighting since Franco's forces started their march to the sea March 9.

Insurgents sent new motorized divisions from Gandesa and Alcaniz. From Madrid and Catalonia fronts the government rushed artillery batteries to aid Tortosa's defenders.

Insurgent artillery hurled shells into the narrow, winding cobblestone streets of Tortosa itself and along the coastal highway running south from Barcelona to the rest of government Spain.

This bombardment effectively cut communications between Catalonia, Spain's northeastern corner, and remaining government territory to the south and west.

Franco's legionnaires were fighting to gain control of the coastal highway and use it for a rapid sweep 95 miles northeast to Barcelona, government capital, or to Valencia, Mediterranean stronghold to the south.

In preparation for the final assault in Tortosa, insurgents sent caravans of munitions and supplies down the Ebro river valley to the column striking at approaches to the city.

To the northeast, mechanized columns sped north from Lerida, conquered gateway to Barcelona, through the Segre river valley to attack the seat of Catalonia's power supply, at the great hydroelectric plant at Tremp.

Some units of the huge installation, 45 miles north of Lerida, were believed to have been damaged by air attacks in view of reports that Barcelona was suffering a loss of power.

Tremp supplies Barcelona with at least 60 per cent of its current and provides about half of that of the rest of the province.

Aside from the Tortosa battle, most insurgent activity was said to be a completion of mopping up operations and a consolidation of positions preparatory to a general offensive.

Francisco's legionnaires were fighting to gain control of the coastal highway and use it for a rapid sweep 95 miles northeast to Barcelona, government capital, or to Valencia, Mediterranean stronghold to the south.

Spring Storms Damage South

Louisiana and Alabama Report Floods And Spring Tornadoes

MOBILE, Ala., April 6 (AP)—Spring tornadoes struck sections of Louisiana and Alabama today as reports of flood damage, torrential rains and forecasts of freezing weather came from other areas of the south.

A severe thunder squall hit Mt. Vernon, 30 miles north of here, and damaged scores of homes and several buildings at the Searcy state hospital for mentally deficient Negroes. The 1,650 inmates escaped unhurt.

Lightning struck the Bayou la Batre school south of here and two children were slightly stunned.

Five persons were injured and about eight homes damaged near Mexia, Ala., by a tornado, a heavy rain forced creeks out of their banks. Communication lines were put out of order.

In far northeast Arkansas, the St. Francis river broke through its levee near Bertig, Ark., flooding several thousand acres of rich farms.

In west Texas and Oklahoma, ranchmen were warned of the approach of severe cold. Arkansas fruit and truck farmers were worried because below-freezing weather is predicted there by tomorrow.

thanking the law enforcement agencies of Texas and California, voicing appreciation of the attitude of the press, and urging the people of Texas to allow the law to "take its course" in event of the slayers' capture.

Echoing earlier expressed theories of Texas officers, Frome said he believed "my wife and daughter were followed from El Paso and forced off the road by criminals."

"Whatever the circumstances may have been," he asserted, "I am convinced that the law enforcement agencies will continue to bend every effort to find those responsible."

Meanwhile, one by one, clues and suspects which have cropped up in the case were being eliminated methodically.

Fox said no connections with the crime had been shown by a suspect at Rankin, Tex., arrested when he attempted to sell some women's clothing; an army deserter held at Alamogordo, N. M.; or a filling station operator arrested and released at Cordell, Okla.

He likewise was of the opinion a man held in Arizona, and a California couple questioned at Laredo, Tex., had no connection with the case.

Bill on Wages Fixes Minimum; Wins Approval

House Sub-Committee Democrats Draft Measure

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)

—A revised wage-hour bill, designed to make present wage averages the initial legal standard and establish gradually a 40-cent minimum hourly wage and a 40-hour week, won approval today of the democratic members of a house labor subcommittee.

Democrats on the subcommittee drafted the measure without republican aid because they had failed for weeks to reach an agreement with the minority members.

The bill would prohibit employers engaged in interstate commerce from paying wages lower than the average in their industry.

It would create an independent board empowered to increase the minimum wage not more than five cents an hour in any 12-month period until the wage reached 40 cents an hour. The board could fix the length of the work week anywhere between 40 and 48 hours.

The bill would prohibit interstate shipment of the products of child labor, defined as those made by children under 16, or under 18 in hazardous occupations.

England paid Hessian troops almost $9,000,000 to fight in the Revolutionary war.

Snow Storm Ties Up Traffic And Disrupts Communication

driving snow storm snarled traffic and disrupted communications along a 1,800-mile trail today.

Vestiges of spring vanished under a wintry mantle as high winds whipped the flakes across northern states from southwestern Montana to the Atlantic seaboard.

The unseasonable fall reached a maximum depth of 17 inches. It surpassed last winter's marks at some places and buried all time April records at others.

Blocked roads prompted officials to close rural schools in Iowa and South Dakota. Between 1,000 and 3,000 telephone and telegraph wires snapped under a burden of ice and sleet. Many communities there, without light or power, faced a night of dark isolation. Hundreds of poles toppled in Nebraska.

Snow enveloped the state of South Dakota. It ranged up to 17 inches at Wessington Springs and to 12 inches at Huron and Chamberlain.

Lander, Wyo., reported a 14-inch deposit and Charles City, Ia., 10. Measurements varied between eight inches and a foot in northern Indiana.

Chicago, with eight inches, and Cleveland, with 7.3, recorded the heaviest April snows in the history of their weather bureaus. Toledo, with six inches, had the heaviest for the month in 50 years.

Know Your MAJOR LEAGUERS

YANKEES

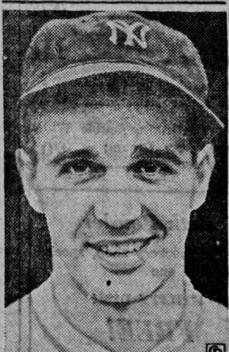

If Joe DiMaggio continues his holdout siege much longer he may find it difficult to get his center-field job back from Myril Hoag, shown above. Last year Hoag played in 106 games and had a batting average of .301 at the season's end. He was one of the better fielding outfielders in the American league, boasting of a .978 average.

One reason why Bill Dickey was known as a big factor in the Yankee attack last year was his run-batted-in record. Dickey, above, finished the season with 133 runs pushed across the plate, a feat that gave him fourth place in the American league in that department. Dickey's .991 fielding average made him tops among the regular receivers for the year.

Monte Pearson, shown above, won nine games and lost three of the world's champion Yankees last year, is being depended upon for lots of good pitching by manager Joe McCarthy. Pearson, a right hander, had an earned-run average of 3.17, eighth in the junior loop.

Although Frankie Crosetti hit only .234 during the pennant race last year, he was one of the most dependable "clutch" hitters in the Yankee lineup. Playing shortstop for the Ruppert Rifles, Crosetti had a fielding average of .948. He bats and throws right handed.

Vogelmen Leave for South Tomorrow

Iowa Mentor Announces Names Of 14 Men Who Will Make Trip, Rest to Be Announced Today

Fourteen members of a proposed travelling squad of 17 or 18 men to make the southern road trip were named yesterday by Coach Otto Vogel. Three or four additional players will be named some time today. The squad will leave tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Those chosen yesterday were: Kenneth Reid, Howard Miller, Harold Haub and Robert Speedy, pitchers; David West, catcher; Capt. Ed Kadell, Elmer Bratten, Erwin Prasse, Andy Kantor, infielders, and Art Manush, Jim George and William Vogt, outfielders.

Four pitchers, only two of whom are veterans, will shoulder the greater part of the mound duties during the tour.

Those chosen yesterday were: Kenneth Reid, a southpaw who twirled only three games last spring, and Howard Miller, who did not attend school last year but won two of three Big 10 games in 1936, both came out of the Bradley games with sore arms and much of the Hawkeye success this season depends on how well the ailing wings respond to treatment.

David West, a senior, will probably do most of the receiving on the trip. The outfield will be patrolled by two able veterans, Arthur Manush, leading hitter of 1937, and William Vogt, who played in more than half of the 1937 games. Jim

George, a sophomore, will be the third man in the outfield. The infield, which should prove to be one of the better inner defenses in the league, will be made up of Capt. Ed Kadell at third, Andy Kantor at short, Erwin Prasse at second and Elmer Bratten at first.

Louisiana Tech, which dropped two games to the touring Hawkeyes last year, will provide the opposition in a three game series this trip, and if their pitching isn't of a better calibre than it was in last year's games when the Hawks piled up 16 runs in the two game series, they will probably find themselves on the short end of some hefty scores, as the Old Gold sluggers demonstrated in their games with Bradley Tech that powdering the apple is likely to be one of their specialties.

The keystone situation seems to be well in hand with Andy Kantor and Erwin Prasse cavorting around the sacks like veterans. Both of these boys are also heavy hitters, which makes it appear, for the present at least, that they will hold down their respective jobs quite capably.

Nile Kinnick, sensational football and basketball star and candidate for a catchers job on the baseball team, announced yesterday that he had withdrawn his name from the roster. He made this decision because of a heavy scholastic schedule to which he felt he could not do justice and still compete in three major sports.

Merten Planning Track Meet for Thinclads Tomorrow

Shrader field has been the scene of determined action this week as Coach Cormack is sending his City high football candidates through spirited drills and Coach Merten is working with the track team.

Merten plans to have a squad meet tomorrow if the weather permits. As to what class will total the most points is a problem that even Merten cannot solve. This meet will be a tune-up for a triangular meet at Muscatine April 22.

Cormack has been working with approximately 26 members this week in passing and blocking drills.

Junior Heacock, junior backfield ace, has been devoting all of his attention to football, having previously participated on the track team.

Other football lettermen include Walsh, Hirt, Beck, Parker, Wright and Backs Bob Buckley and Jay Walden, former St. Pat's star.

Forfeit Cleveland Refuses To Play, Loses

LONGVIEW, Tex., April 6 (AP) — The natives of Longview got a look at big league baseball today and it will be remembered. The New York Giants beat the Cleveland Indians, 9 to 0, by forfeit when in the middle of a ninth inning commitment over a decision, Umpire Claude Tobin gave the bitter 4-4 ball game to the Giants.

There were 5,000 fans on hand, when Oscar Vitt, the Tribe's manager, charged out of the dugout to ask Tobin why he had ruled Joe Moore's long fly to Julius Solters in the crowd in left a double when Solters had caught the ball, the crowd rushed out to get an earful.

Tobin explained that the team had agreed on a ground rule that made any ball hit into the crowd a double. Vitt, who had seen Solters pursue the ball into the citizenry and catch it near the foul line, protested violently. The crowd took sides. In the midst of the confusion Tobin conferred with Lou Kolls, the base umpire.

Cleveland, (A) .010 001 200-0 8 1 N. Y. (N) .120 100 000-9 8 0 Humphries, Feller and Helf, Hemsley, Schumacher, Coffman and Danning. (Game forfeited with one out, last half of ninth, Cleveland refusing to play after argument.)

Hod Shots

by G. K. HODENFIELD

(The following article was taken from the editorial pages of "Sporting News," a weekly newspaper devoted entirely to organized professional baseball. It is being reprinted below because it should cast some light on the ever-present troubles between the professional clubs and the colleges and universities from which they draw many of their players.)

Baseball and the Collegian

Whether it will establish any facts on which both parties to the controversy can arrive at a satisfactory solution of the problem, the questionnaire on professional baseball and its relationship with college athletics, which was recently sent out by the National Collegiate Athletic association, should at least furnish a basis for negotiation. If truthfully answered — and we do not suggest that any collegiate authority would dodge the truth — the questioning, undoubtedly, will show that both sides have been indulging occasionally in a bit of sharp practice that is no credit to either.

Of course, the question will remain as to which is more ethical: For a manufacturer to finance the education of a supposed young genius, whom he expects to join his organization after graduation, for an alumnus, interested in the athletic standing of his alma mater, to see that a prominent high school athlete has his expenses paid through college, or for a baseball club to give the parents of a promising young player, or the boy himself, funds that will enable him to attend college. The open-minded, impartial individual will concede there isn't much difference, but it must be admitted that some hold a contrary view, although the government itself subsidizes students in its military and naval academies to keep up the supply of future officers in the armed forces.

The colleges contend — and rightly in some instances — that the only aim of these baseball clubs is to assure themselves of a lien on the services of the students, if they should prove to be capable of holding down positions in the majors. Yet it is acknowledged that in few instances is the youngster induced to give up his college education; in most cases, the clubs insist that such players continue to graduation, thus receiving the benefits that higher education and physical development can give to them and their clubs later. If education and the promise of a job are the reasons for anyone going to college — and all will agree they are prime requisites, although educators differ as to whether the education or the job should be stressed — then the ball club is performing a meritorious service by seeing that a certain number of youths get those advantages, which, otherwise, they might not attain.

It is true that eligibility rules sometimes bar young men receiving such support from participation in varsity sports, but whose fault is that? The young chemist, subsidized by an industrialist, can play on the college team; the band member, given a free scholarship because of his musical ability, is not barred from athletics; even the athlete financed by the alumni is rarely held ineligible. The only difference is that many educators still cling to the old English idea that no gentleman accepts emoluments in sports and that only gentlemen seek a higher education — a belief that might be all right across the water, but is not in accordance with the American idea, which has a different definition for a gentleman.

Men high in baseball have made the charge that football mentors frown on their boys going into baseball and that diamond coaches demand their pot of gold before permitting the youngsters to sign with any club. Some of the coaches even admit such a practice, contending that inasmuch as they develop the boys, they should profit by so doing, forgetting that they are paid salaries by the colleges for that very purpose. It has been confessed by some baseball men that certain coaches are in the pay of clubs for the purpose of diverting talent to those clubs, which, of course, is a reprehensible practice and should not be permitted.

However, an agreement satisfactory to both sides cannot be brought about, nor can the necessary entente cordial be established,

An Old Sports Trailer in Dixie

Mickelson Makes Spring Nominations on Return From Southlands

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP) — Spring nominations of an old sports trailer upon his return to snow-blown Broadway after a month and a half in the sunny, hospitable southland:

Happiest Man . . . Most amazing of all changes noted was the new temperament of Frank Frisch, chief Gashouser of the St. Louis Gashouse Gang. "Onkel" has changed like a woman's spring hat. Though his Cardinals appear to be a misfit outfit with but slight chances of grabbing the National league pennant, Frisch seems happier than he's been since he was a freshman at Fordham. Maybe it means something.

Luckiest Guy . . . For the third year running—and maybe longer than that—Colonel William Harold Terry of the New York Giant Terrys wins the prize. As soon as the colonel stepped off the train at the spring festival base at Baton Rouge, the town was hit with an oil boom. And his Giants look great.

Angriest Clubowner . . . Colonel Jake Ruppert wins the nomination in a walk. Don't get fooled: the old colonel really is sore at

By PAUL MICKELSON

Joe Di Maggio for his holdout tactics.

Saddest News . . . Bernice Wall, golf star from Oshkosh, Wis., had to give it out. Bernice received a letter from Joe Kirkwood, trick shot artist who's touring the world with Walter Hagen, and the news was all bad. Hagen has contracted a bad case of malaria while Joe is nursing a broken shoulder. How he got the broken arm, Joe did not say but the hunch is he got it trying a trick shot off the elephant's trunk. Both are almost hopelessly homesick, wrote Joe, and hope to start back home as soon as they get better. They're in Calcutta, India.

Greatest Ribber . . . Lou Murphy, manager of the House of David baseball team, wins the prize after a close battle with Pepper Martin of St. Louis. Lou spends most of the night thinking up tricks. One night, he clipped a rookie outfielder's beautiful beard while the player slept and the next morning threatened to fine him for breaking training.

Fall Guy . . . Mickey Cochrane, head man of the Detroit Tigers, has been going for the "works" since he hit the Lakeland, Fla., spring camp. Everybody's been sending him fake telegrams—collect—from Lou Mandel, the world's worst ball player, who still wants a job. Micky's finally wise. Today, he received this wire from him—collect: "Have signed Mandel to five year contract at Alcatraz. Many thanks for your great scouting job. I believe I can use you in the Piedmont league. You have not had quite enough experience for the majors. Your pal."

Most Serious Man . . . Lowell "Red" Dawson, maestro of the Tulane football team, wins it like War Admiral cops a hoss race. "Red" went to Augusta for the Masters Golf championship to get his mind off Georgia. The first night, he jumped out of a nightmare and groaned:

"Gosh, I just dreamed they discovered oil on the Georgia campus and spent it all on football players!"

Biggest Surprise . . . To come back to New York, expecting some of that summer weather we've been hearing about and then running into a snow storm. And the baseball season only a week and a half away!

57 Receive Major 'T' in Four Sports In 1937-38 Season

Major letters awards to University of Iowa athletes are running slightly ahead of those earned last year. The major "T" has been granted to 57 men in four sports during 1937-38.

Fifty-four major letters were awarded for the same four sports last year. Twice as many swimmers were rewarded in 1938, one more football players, the same number in basketball, but declines were noted in wrestling and gymnastics.

Totals to date are football, 26; swimming, 14; basketball, 11; wrestling, four; and gymnastics, two. Letters in track, baseball, tennis and golf will be granted in June.

by the pot calling the kettle black. It would appear that the proper approach to the entire problem is the laying down of uniform regulations, satisfactory alike to colleges and organized ball, that will permit all athletes to complete their educations; the establishment of equitable eligibility rules that will place the athlete on the same basis as all others attending the institution of higher learning; the elimination of emoluments to coaches from baseball and the recognition by the colleges that any policy which permits needy lads to receive both an education and training for the diamond profession is worthy of encouragement and support.

Neither the colleges nor organized ball can profit by the cut-throat methods that have been employed in some instances and neither can hope to reach an enduring solution until hard and fast rules are laid down, so that both may understand what they can and cannot do. That seems to be the only method that will assure justice to the boy, as well as to the colleges, to baseball and to the vast public which they must serve.

'Can't Bear the Idea of Sitting on the Bench Again This Year,' Reveals Davis

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., April 6, said: (AP) — George (Kiddo) Davis explained today he quit the Cincinnati Reds baseball club in Savannah, Ga., because he "could not bear the idea of sitting on a bench again."

The Bridgeport veteran of 12 years in organized baseball, which included six in the majors and participation in two world series with the New York Giants, said shortly after arriving at his home here that his voluntary retirement from baseball announced yesterday had been made with the full consent of the Reds' management.

Although he asserted baseball "had no future for me," Davis

All-University Freshman Mat Tournery to Be April 25, 26, 27

The all-university, freshman wrestling tournament to be conducted by Hawkeye mat coach Mike Howard and scheduled for April 25, 26 and 27 will be different than tournaments of former years in that one important rule change, passed by the national collegiate rules committee, will be used.

The new rule affects the first three weights which have been official divisions in the past. Instead of the 118, 126 and 135-pound classes the three divisions have been changed to the 121, 128 and 136-pound weights.

The reason that the three lighter weights were changed, according to Howard, was to make it easier for college wrestling coaches throughout the country to find material for the lightest weight, which will be 121 pounds in the future. Coaches have had considerable difficulty in obtaining men for the 118-pound class in the past because

Cage Mentors Approve Two Rules Changes

Five Time Outs to Be Allowed; 3-Second Rule Adopted

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP) — The rules committee of the National Association of Basketball Coaches today applied "brakes" to last season's "racehorse" game. The committee increased to five the permissible number of timeouts for the college game and provided for optional use four 10 minute quarters instead of the usual 20 minute halves.

The "three-second rule," used last season by National A.A.U. teams and recommended unanimously yesterday by the coaches, also was adopted.

Other rule changes approved included: optional use of a 4-foot, instead of a 2-foot, out-of-bounds margin behind the face of backboards and barring of substitutions after a goal is made until the ball is back in play.

The outer half of the foul circle was exempted from present provisions of the "three second" rule in the case of a player who does not have possession of the ball, bringing the collegiate regulations in accord with those of the A.A.U. The change eliminates last season's penalty for lingering in the area by players without the ball. The rule remains unchanged in regard to players having the ball.

"Sudden Death" For high school games, next season's rule on ties will make the first overtime a "sudden death" period — the first score will decide the game. In addition, although no extra time-outs were added, high school officials were instructed to take an official time-out in the second and fourth quarters provided no time has been called during the first four minutes of play by either team.

The practice of making substitutions during the brief interval between the scoring of a goal and putting the ball back in play, which Tower said the committee found in frequent use last season will be banned next year. Unless one team has taken time out, substitutes and the scorer's horn must wait until play is resumed.

Oswald Townner of Andover, Mass., editor of the National Basketball Committee of the United States and Canada, who announced the changes, said the "brakes" were applied to allay the "apprehension of so many" that the game's increased speed was detrimental to the athletes.

The additional time-out had been added, he said, to provide any necessary extra rest for the players.

Bombshell Buc Pilot Fines Men For Roughness

CLOVIS, N. M., April 6 (AP) — Manager Pie Traynor hurled a bombshell among his Pirates today when he herded them together on short notice, fined several of them for breaking training rules and sent Russell Bauers by airplane to St. Louis for treatment of an injury suffered in a scuffle.

Bauers was being groomed to pitch the opening game against the Cardinals one week from next Tuesday, but hurt his knee so badly he may be unable to play for some time.

After Monday's exhibition at Barstow, Cal., the citizens showed their hospitality to such an extent that some of the athletes failed to sidestep liquid refreshments and were feeling playful when they boarded their three pullman cars late that night.

Six gathered in a smoking compartment and a friendly wrestling match developed. Bauers, reports said, proved to be so powerful that his five companions were needed to pin him upon the linoleum.

He wrenched his knee falling. Traynor refused to name those fined.

Challenges Steele
NEW YORK, (AP)—Larry White, manager of Fred Apostoli, today filed with the New York State Athletic commission Apostoli's challenge for a middleweight title match with Freddie Steele. The commission forwarded the challenge to Steele without comment.

There were 5,000 fans on hand, when Oscar Vitt, the Tribe's manager, charged out of the dugout to ask Tobin why he had ruled Joe Moore's long fly to Julius Solters in the crowd in left a double when Solters had caught the ball, the crowd rushed out to get an earful.

Tobin explained that the team had agreed on a ground rule that made any ball hit into the crowd a double. Vitt, who had seen Solters pursue the ball into the citizenry and catch it near the foul line, protested violently. The crowd took sides. In the midst of the confusion Tobin conferred with Lou Kolls, the base umpire.

WOOD CARVINGS

Odd Collection Portrays Human Types

Because they are amusing and form an array of characters representative of human types, Prof. Charles Sanders of the school of journalism has made the collection of wood carvings now on display in the lobby of Iowa Union.

The old sea captain with the pipe in his mouth, an original wood carving autographed by C. J. Trywg, is the most expensive of the collection. Mr. Trywg is well known for the individuality of the facial expressions hewn on the wood.

From the dealers in wood carvings come the stories of the mythical characters. When Professor Sanders sought the significance of the fat little Chinese figure, the Chinese dealer replied, "Mr. Lee Tai Ba he was born on the Tang dynasty." After tracing his life in difficult English, the dealer concluded, "After few years he just go back to his country as retire by himself, he can drink as much as he can, as the Chinese book stated that he can drink more 100 cups of wine by each meal."

The figures of Chinese, Japanese, Italian, Swiss, Indian, Mexican, Canadian, Russian, German, English and American men and women in the display are of uniform size.

Since he was in Cologne, Germany, in 1928, Professor Sanders has collected wood carvings. He hopes to have a pair of wood carvings representing each of those nations whose people work at wood craft.

U.S. Demands That Nazis Pay Austrian Debts

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—A note reluctantly recognizing the concrete fact that Germany has annexed Austria went from Washington to Berlin today, accompanied by a bill for $64,493,480.

The bill took the form of a demand that Germany assume Austria's debts to the United States. Firmly, the United States note said:

"This government will expect that these obligations will continue to be fully recognized and that service will be continued by the German authorities which have succeeded in control of the means and machinery of payment in Austria. The welfare of numerous American citizens is directly affected and this government will appreciate prompt assurances on the subject."

The Washington government displayed no enthusiasm in accepting the fact that Austria had disappeared from the ranks of independent nations.

"The government of the United States," it told Germany, "finds itself under the necessity, as a practical measure, of closing its legation at Vienna and of establishing a consulate general."

State department officials hastened to spread the word that the note did not mean recognition in the legal sense, but merely acceptance of something that had occurred.

It was said the acceptance marked no departure from American policy. The United States, by proclamation and treaty, is committed to the principle of withholding recognition from the acquisition of territory by armed forces.

John C. Wiley, Indiana, becomes consul-general in Vienna. He has been charge d'affaires of the legation.

C. C. Ries and other past exalted rulers of the lodge were in charge of the installation ceremony.

Reports of committees of the past year were given by committee chairmen.

There were several guests from out-of-town lodges.

Thirty Pieces of Silver

University Orchestra, Chorus Presents Oratorio, 'Judas Iscariot'

The bold discordant tones of violin-solo passages rendered by Arthur C. Berdahl's oratorio, 'Judas Iscariot', given its premiere last night by the university orchestra and chorus, provided a unique background for the biblical tale.

Under the baton of Prof. Philip Greeley Clapp, to whom the work is dedicated, the orchestra effectively told the story in a modern, outspoken theme.

The low, forbidding orchestral introduction, contrasted with the calm theme given to Christ's words, and succeeded by a fervent choral passage, sets the tone which continues throughout, that of a restless people and a strifetorn Judas.

Prof. Herald Stark, tenor, sang the stoical, resigned Christ themes with perfection. Hugh Cockshoot, baritone, gave the stormy part of Judas an unlimited pathos and depth.

Notable additions to the performance were the outstanding

Fifty Members Sign for State Farm Bureau

Fifty classification cards for membership in the state Junior Farm bureau organization were signed at the Johnson county Junior Farm bureau meeting last night in C. S. A. hall. Twenty of the members enrolled were present at the meeting.

The talk to have been given on the Federal Reserve System by Frank Williams, secretary of the First Capital National bank, was postponed because of limited attendance due to inclement weather.

Following checking of the standard goal card of 1938, the group enjoyed games and refreshments.

The death of the 10-year-old son of Louis de Casbianca, a French naval officer, inspired the poem of "the boy who stood on the burning deck."

By CLARA BARATZ

Although the oratorio was shorter than most musical-biblical classics—only one and one-half hours in duration—it was in no sense incomplete or superficial. Despite the few doubts expressed as to the suitability of the rather hectic, modern theme for so classical a subject, this reviewer believes the discordant undertones lent a vivid, sincere background to the tale of betrayal which might have occurred today.

As the oratorio approached its climax when Judas sang, "What are ye willing to give me, and I will deliver Him unto you?" and the chorus ominously chanted: "Thirty pieces of silver," the words were introduced with an unprecedented rumbling of the entire bass section of the orchestra and the discordant clashing of cymbals. This, the last word in modernity, executed with perfect precision by all groups involved, left no doubt as to the musical legitimacy of the modern theme for the old and ever new bible story.

Until after the last tone of the violins, drawn out for an endless minute, when the chorus had brought to a hum the words: "... he cast down the 30 pieces of silver, and went away to hang himself," did the restless, energetic mood of last night's performance remain.

Artist Grant Wood Depicts Iowa in Its Realism

—Daily Iowan Engraving which it is possible to obtain signed, original works of nationally known artists.

Prof. Grant Wood of the graphic and plastic arts department depicts typical Iowa in his lithograph, "January," — his first effort in a new field of art. The work has recently been awarded first honors in the International Prints survey, conducted semi-annually by Prints Magazine, and orders submitted through the American Artists association have already exceeded the number of original prints it is possible to produce from a lithograph stone. Two other lithographs, "Tree Planting Group" and "Seed Time and Harvests," complete the work done by Professor Wood in this field of art. The three lithographs are black and white studies from the corn growing series of a group of paintings planned by the Iowa artist to tell the story of Iowa's famous crop from planting to harvesting. The jury choosing "January" for first honors included Hyatt Mayor of the Metropolitan museum, Edward Alden Jewell of the New York Times, Carl Schneiwind, curator of prints of the Brooklyn museum, and Dr. Samuel P. Baily, collector. Mr. Mayor has recently acquired "Tree Planting Group," the second lithograph done by Professor Wood. Professor Wood has recently been made a member of the American Artists association, an organization through

Sleet Storm Inflicts $200,000 Damage on Trees in Iowa City

Beautiful Landmarks Ruined By Worst Storm in Recent Years

Budding Trees Increase Material Losses To Owners

More than $200,000 damage was done to trees in Iowa City and vicinity in the ice and sleet storm during the last 36 hours, according to estimates made by experts in the botany department of the university.

The estimate is based on an average value of $100 for a full-grown elm or oak tree such as grow on city lots.

Prof. W. P. Loehwing of the botany department said this was the worst storm he had seen in his 13 years in Iowa City.

Many beautiful old trees that have been admired and cultured for years were virtually ruined by breaking limbs. Symmetry of top boughs was destroyed when trees gave under the dead weight of the ice and broke at the crotch.

Damage was increased materially by the fact that elm trees were in fruit. Small branches and twigs were as brittle as glass from being frozen and snapped off under an increasing weight.

The loud cracking noise that accompanied the fall of limbs showed the intense strain under which the fibers of the tree finally gave way.

Unless winds develop or temperatures drop, it is probable that the worst damage is over, in the opinion of botanists.

C. Mason Files Suit for $2,657

Carmen L. Mason, 119 E. Prentiss street, yesterday filed a $2,657 damage suit against William T. Hills, 731 E. Bowery street, and the Hills Trucking company in County Clerk R. Neilson Miller's office for the May term of court.

Mason alleges he was injured Feb. 13 when he was pinned between the truck driven by Hills and the one from which Mason was unloading hogs. Attorney Will J. Hayek represents Mason.

Recover Stolen Car

Cedar Rapids police reported yesterday that they had recovered the Studebaker sedan, stolen from Robert McCollister early yesterday morning.

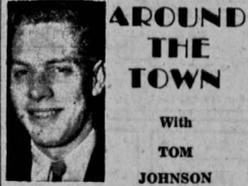

Ice Storm Causes Widespread Damage

Scenes of this nature were not uncommon in Iowa City yesterday as a severe ice storm caused widespread damage to telephone and power lines and private property. Damage to trees alone was estimated at $200,000 by members of the botany department. This tall tree at Muscatine road and Iowa avenue became so heavily weighted with ice that it fell, crashing into power lines. The city was strewn with large limbs. Many trees had only ragged butts of limbs jutting into the air where top branches had crashed to the ground under the heavy load of ice. Radio station WSUI was silent for six hours yesterday when ice broke aerials atop the —Daily Iowan Photo, Engraving engineering building. Several cars were damaged as the heavy branches fell from trees along the streets. Electric power in the city was cut off for several hours while linemen worked to repair damage. Iowa Citizens walked warily along the streets as high winds caused ice-laden branches to sway and crack.

Weather Notes
I was reminded yesterday of the old saying... "If you don't like Iowa weather—wait a minute..."

Jack Frost, noted American artist, swept into the midwest—unheralded. By the time keen-eyed weather observers had picked up his trail, it was too late.

Even if we had been warned, we could have done nothing. No warning that nature is running on a different schedule has ever lessened the damage.

There was damage, too... no matter how beautiful you considered the scene to be. Trees, communication lines—anything the tentacle-frost could grasp, was covered with ice...

Take pencil—thin telephone lines, for example. They gathered ice three-quarters of an inch thick... 17 pounds on every hundred feet.

Many wires snapped, but most of the time it was the poles carrying 30 or more lines that fell first.

Iowa City's only communication with the outside world was three narrow cables—buried underground. Frost couldn't reach there.

Light? Power?... A mockery when nature forgets...

Trees... burdened by hundreds of pounds of ice... suffered. Young trees, strong... bent, their crowns touching the ground... to resemble medieval catapults...

Older trees... stately—but brittle, lost their limbs, or over-balanced and plunged uprooted from the ground.

Was it a bad storm? No. There was no blizzard. Had there been... Well, there may be one next year. We'll see then.

It may come with a warning. Like yesterday's storm, it may not. But when it does, countless Iowa City will reckon the damages in hundreds of thousands of dollars...

No Fatalities City Congratulated On 1937 Records

Police Chief William H. Bender received word yesterday that Iowa City was one of the 21 cities with a population of from 10,000 to 25,000 which didn't have a fatal auto accident during 1937.

The letter received by Chief Bender from the National Safety council said in part, "To your city as one of these 21 the National Safety council extends its hearty congratulations on this splendid safety achievement and expresses a sincere hope that your record will remain unblemished in 1938 and that your traffic safety program will carry you into the ranks of the winners in the seventh annual national safety traffic contest."

C. Broadway Files Petition for Divorce

Charles E. Broadway yesterday filed a divorce petition against Mrs. Leonora M. Broadway, for the May term of court with County Clerk R. Neilson Miller. The petition alleges desertion. The couple married in Davenport Sept. 28, 1929, and separated March 12, 1936. Attorney B. F. Carter represents Broadway.

Auto Collision Caused by Ice On Windshield

Snow and ice on the windshields was the cause of an auto accident at Washington and Gilbert streets at 1:15 p.m. yesterday. There was a total damage of $275 to the two cars.

A 1937 Pontiac sedan driven by Dorothy M. Mengel, 41 of Davenport, was traveling west on Washington street when it collided with a 1937 Dodge driven by Mabel Holt, 411 E. Bloomington street.
