Leftists Protest With Renewed Metal Strikes

Daladier Asks Dictator Power for French Defense Cabinet

PARIS, April 11 (AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier, determined to strike before the opposition could consolidate against him, drew a revised plan today to make his "national defense" cabinet dictator of France's destiny for the next three months.

As the new premier worked on his program, rapidly spreading strikes paralyzed the metal industries in the Paris region despite his appeal to the nation for discipline. Workers from a dozen of the capital's largest factories joined some 60,000 strikers already out, swelling the total to nearly 130,000.

Leaders of the strike, which up to tonight had closed nearly 100 factories including a number of nationalized plants working for the national defense, appealed to workers in other industries to join the movement. The huge Renault automobile motor plant was occupied by its 35,000 workers.

Red flags flew from many factories while heavy forces of police and mobile guardsmen moved into industrial districts in the Paris region to preserve order.

Employers said the strikes were purely political, designed to show leftist workers' discontent at the resignation of Leon Blum's people's front government. Strikers, however, blamed the walkouts on the employers' failure to keep wages up to the rising cost of living.

The time limit on the proposed powers was cut from six to three months as a concession to leftists in parliament who let it be known they would vote against such long-term powers.

Daladier's new program, as drafted at present, provides that the cabinet shall have decree powers over all of France's internal and external affairs.

Sources close to the premier said he had abandoned his plan to limit the request to financial and economic affairs since he was convinced the cabinet needed wider powers to get at the bottom of France's troubles.

The premier's associates said that in any event his immediate task was to get parliament to take a vacation of at least a month or longer, if possible, to permit him to tackle France's problems in peace.

CREDIT, LOANS Many Aids To Be Given Iowa State Women

AMES, April 11 (AP)—The coeds who were victimized by the fire in Margaret Hall, Iowa State college women's dormitory, may not profit by the fire, but they'll lose little if projected plans for relief materialize.

Many Ames merchants offered credit to replace burned clothes, equipment and other goods, college officials said.

President C. E. Friley said that no girl would have to leave school because of the fire—money would be lent to all those with chances of repaying it and other arrangements made for those too hard hit.

Key City Taken By Insurgents

Loyalist's Forces Drop Back Before Fierce Rebel Onslaughts

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier), April 11 (AP)—Spanish insurgents striving to open a direct way to Barcelona today swept into La Rapita, controlling important crossroads in Lerida province.

La Rapita is a short distance east of Balaguer, 14 miles north-east of the city of Lerida. The fierce government resistance which disputed the insurgent crossing of the Segre river at Balaguer yesterday diminished as Generalissimo Francisco Franco's forces pushed east.

Dogged bands of militiamen still were clinging to mountain positions, however, making clean-up operations necessary to protect the flanks of the advancing column.

With La Rapita the heights commanding Balaguer on the east were taken, putting that city outside the range of enemy bombardments.

La Rapita is a key point on the road connecting Balaguer with Agramunt, 15 miles to the east, where another road angles south-east to Cervera and thence, in serpentine fashion, to Barcelona.

Insurgents reported minor successes by troops operating south of this section, in the region of Tortosa, where a final drive to the Mediterranean was being shaped.

In the north, Franco's columns were drawing steadily nearer the French border from Trempe.

Refugees continued to flock into France, bearing on their backs what personal effects they could.

Rowboats Used in Streets to Make Rescues in South

Flood waters, invading Alabama towns, cause rescues to be made by rowboat, as in this photo, taken at Wetumpka, Ala. More than a score died, hundreds were injured and thousands driven from their homes in three southern states, due either to tornadoes or floods following torrential rains. Approximately 2,000 persons were evacuated from Wetumpka and surrounding lowlands.

England Shows Willingness To Recognize Ethiopian Status

Move Indicates Stronger Basis In Rome Pact

LONDON, April 11 (AP)—Great Britain laid the groundwork today for a new friendship with Italy which she hoped would wean Premier Benito Mussolini from his working agreement with Adolf Hitler.

She showed her willingness to recognize the conquest of Ethiopia against which in 1935 she led the League of Nations' 52-country boycott of Italy.

Recognition of Italy's African empire is one of the chief terms of the Anglo-Italian friendship agreement being drafted in Rome.

Without waiting for formal signing of the pact, the British government asked the League of Nations to put the question of Ethiopia on the agenda of the league council meeting opening May 9.

Britain intends to request that the league free its members of the pledge not to recognize the results of the Italian conquest.

Formal recognition of Ethiopia as Italian then could follow. Britain's action today took the form of a note to Geneva in which she called attention to an "abnormal situation" which should be "cleared up."

The note pointed out "many states which are members of the league, including not less than five represented on the council, recognize that the Italian government exercises sovereignty over Ethiopia or have taken decisions implying such recognition while other member states have not."

France's new government, headed by Edouard Daladier, was expected to act quickly to seek better relations with Italy in an apparent move by the two allied democracies to draw Rome away from the Berlin influence.

20,000,000 Flying Autos Engineer Suggests Government Subsidy Of Civilian Reserve Air Force

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Edwin L. Rice, a Silver Springs, Md., engineer, suggested today that the government supply 20,000,000 citizens with "flying automobiles" as a means of training civilian aviators for military emergencies.

Appearing before the senate naval affairs committee to discuss the $1,221,000,000 naval expansion bill, Rice also proposed that $1,000,000,000 be spent to start a transcontinental waterway development that would permit shifting the fleet right across the country from coast to coast.

At first some of the committee members questioned him, but as he proceeded they subsided into astonished silence.

The waterways project could be put through, Rice said, by linking the Columbia and Missouri rivers by "one cut of four miles at say, Butte, Mont." As a result the nation would require only one fleet for both coasts and $5,000,000,000 could be saved on warships.

As for the flying automobiles, which he called "triphobians," Rice said they could be built "under high mass production for as low as $20 apiece" and that if the government would give away 20,000,000 of them it could develop a large reserve of aviators.

Ruined Broker Sent to Prison

NEW YORK, April 11 (AP)—Richard Whitney, slightly haggard but nonetheless composed waited in a cell in dingy old Tombs prison tonight to be taken up the river to Sing Sing tomorrow to begin a 5-to-10 year term for grand larceny.

Pride and urbanity unshaken, the ruined broker stood in general sessions court today, heard his counsel, Charles H. Tuttle, plead for leniency, heard Judge Owen W. Bohan briefly and acidly summarize his speculations, and finally pronounce the sentence that will keep him behind the bars for at least three years and four months.

Throughout the whole proceeding, which consumed about 40 minutes, Whitney, five times president of the New York stock exchange, scarcely moved a muscle.

Before Judge Bohan lay the report of the chief probation officer of the city, describing Whitney as "proud egotistical and obstinate," as a man to whom the notion of personal and financial failure "was apparently inconceivable."

On the judge's bench also lay a psychiatric report which stated Whitney possesses "superior intelligence," is unimaginative, and never believed "he could run afoul of the law." An intelligence test, the report said, showed Whitney rated so high that only "one percent of the people of the world could score as well."

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, elderly advocate of old age pensions, must serve 30 days in a District of Columbia jail unless President Roosevelt intervenes in his behalf.

F. D. R. Leaves Railroads' Ills To Legislature

Refrains From Sending Own Proposals To Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt told congress, in effect, today to figure out for itself how to cure the ills of the nation's $21,000,000,000 railroad network.

Pointedly, he refrained from sending any recommendations of his own to capitol hill, where his reorganization bill was defeated and where he received other blows.

He did transmit a mass of recommendations from his advisers, including proposals for lending $300,000,000 for the purchase of railroad equipment and other millions to rescue the carriers from their plight.

Displaying perhaps a trace of impatience over the recent house vote on government reorganization, he suggested it would be the part of "common sense" to consolidate the seven federal agencies dealing with transportation into two, one handling executive functions; and the other all activities of a judicial, or legislative character.

He also chided past congresses for clothing the interstate commerce commission with "purely executive functions," declaring that this was, "in all probability, unconstitutional."

However, he did not press the point, declaring it was "more important for all of us to cooperate in preventing serious bankruptcies among a large number of railroad companies, great and small." He said immediate legislation was necessary pending formulation of a "permanent program."

Congress seemed in no hurry to act. One leader said there probably would not be much in the way of legislation this session, unless it was a bill dealing with court procedure. Some Roosevelt adviser suggested speeding up of reorganization procedure, and the possible establishment of a single court in charge of reorganization.

INDUCTION BONER Accepts Job Before His Reappointment

KANSAS CITY, April 11 (AP) City Manager H. F. McElroy "laid 'em in the aisles" today when he pulled a boner at the inauguration of the new city administration.

The minute he was nominated and the three succeeding speeches were given he was on his feet deeply appreciating his reappointment.

Then he suddenly realized nominations had not been closed. "Of course," he stammered, "if someone else is appointed this speech is all of."

A roar drowned out his other remarks.

War Rumors Hold Attention

Japan, Russia Conflict Believed Pending Along Border

TOKYO, April 11 (AP)—The danger of war with Soviet Russia is increasingly claiming the attention of Japanese leaders and the public.

Persistent rumors of war preparations—lacking official confirmation—and bellicose statements on both sides have intensified public anxiety.

In informed quarters it was understood Japan recently moved some regular army units from China battlefronts to Manchoukuo to man the troubled border of Manchoukuo and Soviet Russia.

Many Japanese leaders have been described as advocates of an attack on Russia before the Soviet army could strike.

The foreign office spokesman expressed widespread feeling when he said, in comment on alleged mistreatment of Japanese in Russian Sakhalin:

"If Russia cares to aggravate the situation we will not hesitate to respond."

MOSCOW, April 11 (AP)—The Soviet government today protested against the flight of Japanese troops from the Japanese-occupied territory of Manchoukuo.

Great Britain Charges Mexican Action Motivated by Politics

British Note Demands Return of Property Expropriated

MEXICO CITY, April 11 (AP)—Great Britain charged in a note made public tonight that Mexico was motivated by "political desire" in expropriating the $400,000,000 foreign oil industry.

The note, presented to the Mexican government last Friday by Owen St. Clair O'Malley, Britain's minister to Mexico, demanded return of the properties of British-owned companies taken over March 18.

"The expropriation was tantamount to confiscation and was carried out under a veil of legality formed by basing it upon labor issues," the British note said. "The consequence has been the denial of justice and transgression by the Mexican government of the principles of international law."

"The real motive of the expropriation was a political desire to acquire for Mexico in permanence the advantages of ownership and control of the oil fields."

Britain charged the Mexican supreme court in denying the appeal of the companies against the arbitral verdict, which paved the way for the expropriation, "ignored the fact that essential evidence has been improperly excluded, inadequately considered or unjustifiably overridden by experts and the labor board."

MODEST MALES Men Picked as Tops In Dress Resent Honor

CHICAGO, April 11 (AP)—The State street council's selection today of Chicago's best dressed men and women thrust the males into a flurry of self-effacement.

"I don't want it," growled Daniel Frey in response to the accolade.

"I don't like it," snapped Albert Wetten.

Garner Reported Leading Fight Against 'Pump Priming' Outlay

WASHINGTON, April 11 (AP)—Vice President Garner, some legislators said today, apparently has taken the lead in a vigorous congressional fight against resumption of government spending of the "pump priming" variety.

The vice president voiced opposition at a White House conference today, it was said, to a proposal to make non-interest bearing public works loans. Some reports were to the effect that there was acrimonious discussion of the whole prospective spending program. Garner was said to have made it plain he was not in favor of any "pump priming" that would add to the federal deficit.

One congressional leader who attended a subsequent conference, at which it was determined to ask congress for a $1,250,000,000 appropriation for the WPA for the first seven months of the new fiscal year, said the public works lending proposal was brought up briefly there.

President Roosevelt indicated, he said, that no decision had been made on the type of program which might be followed.

Austria Says 'Ja' to Hitler

BY A majority which would have been more convincing had it been smaller, Austria has answered a tremendous "ja" to Hitler's question "Are you in favor of the Austro-German union?"

Undoubtedly Hitler and his lieutenants are duly elated over the 99.75 per cent of the total Austrian vote which approved the combination. "God appointed me to bring about." To a world grown weary of watching an ever-expanding Nazi power there is but little consolation in the contemplation of the methods by which such a majority was obtained.

Austria could do nothing else. To have voted "no" to what is an accomplished fact would have been an absurdity which would have only succeeded in keeping the Austrian government disorganized. Another plebiscite would have been arranged—under such conditions as would disclose the true feelings of the Austrian people.

Frede Grofe, as a matter of fact, looks upon Jack as a collaborator in the composition of his famous "Grand Canyon Suite," which was born in a gymnasium. Grofe had planned his musical description of the Grand Canyon but lacked a suitable theme for the composition. It came to him as Fulton hummed an improvised tune against the rhythmic thud of the medicine ball, as the two men worked out. In the finished composition, that thud becomes the measured beat of the burro's hoofs.

ularity of the new music room. We think Cavalleria Rusticana a particularly fortunate choice in view of the movement to popularize opera. It is a short opera, written in a single act and full of the dramatic intensity of Sicilian love and hate and passion. Since the libretto is to be in English, all this will be as available to the non-linguist as to the one who understands Italian.

There is no good reason why the university should not enjoy the benefits of producing and hearing at least one opera a year. Certainly the work of vocal and instrumental groups does not indicate lack of either talent or leadership. These things, added to the stage facilities of the new theater, bring opera within the scope of university producers.

Thus we hope that student-produced opera has returned to the campus to stay, that the trend towards appreciation of classical music as shown in our little cultural corner is more than skin deep. No doubt each performance next month will be attended by those who are musically educated and fully appreciative. But we hope that there will also be present as many operatic neophytes in whom good music itself has won a place along with the rhythms and harmonies of the moment.

Two Men— Two Purposes

FROM THE official journal of the American Association of Military Surgeons comes the report that medical science is now better prepared to meet the catastrophes of war than at any other time in history.

These men of the medical profession are making ready to mend the broken bodies of soldiers coming from the front. They are prepared to patch gaping wounds, set broken legs and heal burned-out eyes and lungs. Their ingenuity at mending these torn bodies can be matched only by the skill of another group of men.

These other men are as ingenious as the doctors, but their skill goes another way. They have been kept busy devising more horrible ways to keep these surgeons busy. Newer guns, more powerful gasses and higher explosives have been the fruit of their experiments and labor.

The efforts of both sides are unending. As one progresses, so does the other—with a result that the discoveries of one merely offset the findings of the other. One man wants to live and let live; the other, to kill and be killed.

NEWS COMES from western Kansas that the years of drought and low prices for farm crops have restored the cow and the hen to their rightful place of power in the economy; that they are being used for the production of meat and milk.

Continuous Spring Cold Might Be Chronic Bronchial Infection

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. About this time of year a number of people find they can't lose their winter cold. They keep coughing and spitting and getting chilled. They constantly announce that they are catching cold again. If this happens to a person spring after spring so that the winter cough is prolonged into the hot weather, it probably is bronchitis or bronchiectasis, which is a dilation of the bronchial tubes, and strenuous steps should be taken to treat it in the early stages. This chronic bronchial infection is not well understood by the medical profession, I am afraid. I know a great many people who have gone to doctors with a plain case and have been told that there is nothing really the matter with them. It is true that you cannot find very much by an ordinary examination of the lungs, but the symptoms and general picture are sufficient to make a diagnosis if one is familiar with the condition. It usually begins in young adult life with a series of colds in the nose and chest. They are not really colds in the ordinary sense, but an infection of the nose which keeps lighting up the chest condition. In the course of time the "cold" becomes continuous. Treatment consists in, first, clearing up the nasal condition; second, postural drainage of the bronchial tubes by hanging over a chair with the head down so that the lungs and bronchial tubes are drained; third, change of climate. Tuning In with Betty Harpel

Some suggestions on how to sing come from Jack Fulton, tenor star of the new "Just Entertainment" series. He feels that many young singers doom themselves to shortened careers by adopting "artificial" voices, which are a constant strain on the vocal cords. "A singer whose voice tires can be sure he is abusing it," says Fulton. He feels that correct placement is a solution to the whole problem. A nasal voice is unpleasant to the ear of the listener and tiring to the singer, and the same is true of a throaty voice. "I know it sounds silly, but I find that if I repeat the words, 'meaning, mining, moaning' in a humming tone, my voice naturally goes into air passages, where it belongs for comfortable singing."

Even in the gymnasium, during such strenuous undertakings as lifting weights, punching the bag and playing badminton, he sings and hums, and frequently works out an entire arrangement.

Frede Grofe, as a matter of fact, looks upon Jack as a collaborator in the composition of his famous "Grand Canyon Suite," which was born in a gymnasium. A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK — You can blame the likes of Gladys Brunel, lady, if that $500 spring coat looks like a million on the model but like 30 cents on you. You can blame her, but it really isn't her fault. Nor the model's, nor the coat's. Actually, it may not be yours, but it probably is. That's why so many wives, debs and aspiring mannequins go to schools for models. And so Miss Brunel — French and in her early thirties—does her best to show women how to come downstairs elegantly (pertly, demurely, vivaciously) instead of tripping over the fifth step and landing at the bottom in a heap of limbs, lace and lingerie. How to Walk To a couple of housewives who confessed their husbands had rather look upon Myrna Loy in a fur coat than upon themselves in clinging silk jersey, Miss Brunel replied: "You must learn not to lope across a room blindly, shove out a hand, and say 'Howdy, Butch.' If you do, you not only look like an animated saw-horse—your outstretched hand might conceivably end up in the punch bowl instead of in the other person's hand. "Then there is the matter of walking. Imagine you are carrying a basket of eggs on your head—but easily. To walk carefully is to walk erect, even glidingly, but never swaggeringly. Use the hands judiciously to accentuate the curve of the body and fit of the gown. Put one foot so, the other so, to turn gracefully. Carry the head at this angle for an entrance of state; at that angle for arriving at an informal function. There is more; much more. There is a whole school of thought and action, of which calisthenics are not the least part. Graceful models stroll up and down her studio. At regular intervals her own models go back to school. This is quite necessary. You can play baseball 20 years and be a star, yet did you ever hear of Dizzy Dean starting a season without a spring training campaign? Miss Brunel points out that even actresses study modeling to brush up on stance, pirouettes, exits. Hotel restaurant hostesses study modeling. So do smart wives and debutantes.

P. G. Clapp Announces Presentation of 'Cavalleria Rusticana'

Cast to Give Italian Opera On April 27, 29

Orchestra, Choir Will Provide Background For Soloists

The popular one-act opera, "Cavalleria Rusticana," by Mascagni, will be presented by the music department April 27 and 29 in the dramatic arts building, Prof. Phillip G. Clapp, head of the music department, announced yesterday.

Prof. Herald I. Stark will be the director of the Italian opera, the first to be given under university auspices since 1927.

Carolyn Leland, G of Moline, Ill., in the soprano role of Santuzza, and Thomas Muir, an associate of the music department, as the tenor Turiddu, will have the leading roles.

The other solo parts will be taken by Hugh Cockshoot, A4 of Wilton Junction, baritone, as Alfio; Maxine Tipton, G of Carson, mezzo-soprano, as Lola, and Margaret Brandt, G of Hastings, Neb., and Madge Jones, A4 of Cedar Rapids, altos, double-cast as Lucia.

The opera, written by the Italian composer, Pietro Mascagni, was first given in Rome in 1890, winning first prize in a competition offered by the publisher, Sonzogno. By 1895 it had become so widely known that it was included in the repertoire of almost every opera house in the world.

"Cavalleria Rusticana" is a dramatic story of love and hate, set in a small Sicilian town on an Easter Sunday morning.

The chamber orchestra and the symphonic choir will provide the musical background for the story interpreted by the five soloists. Rehearsals have been started. Work on the set, designed by Edward Kyvig of Iowa City, a graduate student in dramatic art, will begin immediately. The University theater stage will be used.

Miss Leland was a soloist with the Augusta college choir for five years and studied one year at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. She is a former member of the Blackhawk Opera company in the Tri-Cities and is now teaching music in Moline and is director of the First Christian church choir there.

Muir, who joined the music department staff this fall, has sung with the Detroit Opera company, the Palermo Opera company in Sicily, the Philadelphia Civic Opera company, and has appeared for 10 years on National Broadcasting company radio programs. He has also appeared as soloist in many oratorios and with several symphony orchestras.

Cockshoot played the role of Judas in the Easter oratorio, "Judas Iscariot" presented here last week and a solo part in the "Holy City" oratorio Sunday at the First Presbyterian church, where he has been a soloist for the last two years. He will sing in Dubuque May 16 and Muscatine May 2.

Also a soloist in "Judas Iscariot" and "Holy City" oratorios is Miss Brandt. She studied under a scholarship at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y., and will appear as soloist at the spring concert of the Dubuque symphony orchestra May 16. She was graduate assistant in voice last year.

Miss Jones has studied under Professor Stark for four years. She has appeared in radio programs over WGN and WBMM, Chicago, and the university station, WSUI. Miss Tipton played the lead in Noel Coward's "Young Ideas," at Kansas Wesleyan college in Salina, Kan., two years ago.

Soloists in the Opera, 'Cavalleria Rusticana'

When the music department presents "Cavalleria Rusticana," the popular one-act opera by Mascagni, April 27 and 29, these six university musicians will appear as soloists. Left to right, back, are Hugh Cockshoot, A4 of Wilton Junction, baritone, as Alfio; Maxine Tipton, G of Carson, mezzo-soprano, as Lola, and Margaret Brandt, G of Hastings, Neb., and Madge Jones, A4 of Cedar Rapids, altos, double-cast as Lucia.

Mrs. William Wiese, 302 Melrose court, senior regent of the Iowa City order of Women of the Moose, is shown in The Daily Iowan club picture series.

The lodge has 900 orders in the United States and Canada. There are 165 local members. A project of the order is to maintain a home at Mooseheart, Ill., for orphaned children whose fathers were members of the men's orders, and a home for aged men who have no means of support in Moosehaven, Fla. The children at Mooseheart are given a home, educated and trained for a trade.

A part of the club dues is contributed to the support of these two places. The members meet two times a month for a business meeting and social evening. The care of flowers, and especially roses, is one of Mrs. Wiese's chief hobbies. She is pictured here with her rose trellis. She is also interested in knitting and sewing, and is a member of the Pythian sisters as well as the Women of the Moose.

IN REFRIGERATION, TOO, Electricity is the MODERN WAY

Electric LIGHT throughout the house
... and Electric COLD in the kitchen

"WITH ELECTRICITY available, would you be satisfied with anything less efficient than electric light?"
"No," answer the 22,000,000 women who live in wired homes.

"WITH ELECTRICITY available, would you be satisfied with anything less efficient than electric cold?"
"No," say almost half of those 22 million, "We bought electric refrigerators because they are so safe... so swift... so simple, and we consider electric cold as much a part of our modern kitchens as electric light."

NO WONDER more than ten million women keep food safe electrically. It is the modern way. Electric cold keeps food constantly and faithfully below the danger point set by the Bureau of Home Economics, U.S. Department of Agriculture—even when outside temperatures go up into the 90's and 100's. Electric cold provides plenty of ice cubes and produces delicious frozen salads and desserts in record time—because it freezes faster than any other type of refrigeration. Electric cold is so economical that it actually saves, on food kept safer, enough to pay for itself.

SEE THE NEW Electric REFRIGERATORS TODAY. Look at the many amazing improvements that feature them. Escamine their gleaming, enduring finishes; the roomy, brightly lighted interiors that are so inviting. You'll surely want to modernize your kitchen with a modern electric refrigerator. And you can... for very little money... and on convenient terms. Ask your electric refrigerator dealer all about it. Then do what over ten million families have already done... BUY AN Electric REFRIGERATOR.

Rev. Robert Little Introduces Inter-Denominational Services

Speaks on 'Pain of Innocent' At First Presbyterian Church

More Than 250 Hear Initial Sermon Of Holy Week

The Rev. Robert Little, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Cedar Rapids, introduced the inter-denominational community Holy week services last night with a sermon on "The Pain of the Innocent" at the First Presbyterian church. More than 250 attended.

The Rev. Richard E. McEvoy, pastor of the Trinity Episcopal church, presided at the service, while music was presented by the adult and children's choirs of the Episcopal and Baptist churches.

The Rev. Mr. Little used as the theme of his sermon the verse found in the first book of Chronicles: "Lo, I have sinned and I have done wickedly, O Lord, but these sheep, what have they done?"

The speaker pointed out that there are too many men who repent for the slices of the afternoon's golf game; that there are too many women who repent for the errors of the most recent bridge game, and that there is too little repentance for the genuine shortcomings of the soul.

He spoke of those who assert: "I'll pay my own accounts and meet my own responsibilities. I'm going to live my life as I wish and it isn't anyone else's business."

"But," the Rev. Mr. Little revealed, "our lives are too closely knit together to allow such individual action. Our sins are not our own personal affairs, and when our sins pass from us they are injurious to others."

He used as illustrations the banker, the merchant, the lawyer or the doctor who commits a crime. It is not the individual who suffers most from his crime—it is the members of his profession, or the members of his immediate family, who must bear the burden. As the guiltless Christ died upon the cross, so do the modern innocents suffer from the crimes of all.

"Society is wounded for our iniquities," said the Rev. Mr. Little, "and the punishment which is due us is given to others."

But the greatest wrong of all, the speaker asserted, is the wrong done to God. He illustrated with the words of Whittier: "The wrong of man on man on Thee inflights the greater wrong."

"No matter how much society may atone for our evils," he said, "there is a limit against atonement to the kingdom of Heaven."

The musical background of last night's service was provided by Mrs. C. B. Righter at the organ.

Committee O.K. Put on Report

Fire and Police Pension Committees Hold Joint Meeting

The financial report of the fire and police pension committees was approved at the annual joint meeting of the two committees yesterday afternoon at the city hall.

The meeting, presided over by City Attorney Robert L. Larson, was adjourned until April 25 to allow investigation on two questions.

The questions Attorney Larson will look into are: first, if a man desires to continue serving on either the fire or police department after he has reached retirement age, what happens in regard to the payment fund?

Secondly, who pays for the physical examination of a candidate for either a position on the police force or fire department, the applicant or the city?

Police representatives on the pension board are Chief William H. Bender, Ben Hauber and Joe Dolezal. Chief J. J. Clark, H. T. McNabb and W. A. Vorbrich represent the fire department. Attorney D. Tom Davis and Prof. H. L. Rietz also serve on the pension board.

More Than 100 Veterans Meet At New Hall

More than 100 legionnaires attended the first meeting of Roy L. Chopek post 17 in the new legion quarters on the second floor of the newly reconstructed community building last night.

While the meeting was in no way a dedication ceremony for the new quarters, it was a significant event from the standpoint of being the first function to take place in the new community building since the structure was gutted by fire in July, 1936. Post 17 has met during the past months in the Moose clubrooms.

A new house committee, with Delmer Sample as chairman, was appointed by Commander George Zeithamel at the meeting. Other members of the committee are Charles C. Fieseler and George Kanak.

The five boys who will attend the "boys state" which will convene under the auspices of the legion in Des Moines June 12 will be guests of the local post at the monthly dinner meeting April 25, which will be held, it is hoped, in the new quarters. The five boys, who were named by their classmates on the bases of scholastic ability, are Russell Hirt and William Fischer of Iowa City high school, Cyril Black of St. Mary's high school, James Bradley of St. Patrick's high school, and Bill Boiler of University high school.

The "boys state" will attract boys from all over the state who will be sent to Des Moines, expenses paid by the American Legion, to receive training in citizenship and government procedure. The boys will elect their own state officials and will conduct their own governmental affairs during the week period.

A new all-time high in membership for post 17 was announced by Commander Zeithamel following last night's meeting. There are 332 members in the post, and the possibilities of greater increases, due to the excellence of the legion's new home in the community building, are very fine, according to the commander.

Moving pictures of the functions of the United States navy in peace time were shown.

Construction of the new building, if the vote is successful, will be started the latter part of May.

To Begin City-Wide Sale of Tickets For 4-H Club Banquet

Ten Iowa City business men and 10 Johnson county farmers will begin a city-wide drive this morning to sell tickets for the 4-H benefit club banquet to be held April 18 in the Iowa City community center.

The Farmers' Livestock Marketing association in cooperation with the Farm Bureau and the Junior and Senior Chambers of Commerce expect to sell 1,000 tickets which will be good for the banquet at which one of the prize baby beavers from last year's 4-H club show will be served and for the program and dance following the dinner. Dusty Keaton will play for the dance.

Arrangements for the ticket sale drive were made at the all-committee meeting in the farm bureau office last night. Each committee reported the progress they had made on arrangements.

An announcement was made that another all-committee meeting would be held in the farm bureau office Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at which final reports would be expected from each committee.

Rare Set of Lyceumite, Talent Given To University Library by Mrs. Vawter

A rare periodical set of Lyceumite and Talent which belonged to the late Keith Vawter of Cedar Rapids, originator of the circuit chautauqua, has been given to the University libraries by Mrs. Vawter, Grace Van Wormer, acting director of the University libraries, has announced. This 24-volume set which includes issues from 1902 to 1922 contains many valuable facts about the lyceum and chautauqua, those instructive amusements of the pre-movie era.

According to the records, the only other two complete sets of this periodical are in the Library of Congress and the St. Louis public library.

Many Iowa City people will recall with pleasure the "good old days" of the chautauqua, of the visiting speakers who lectured under the "big top" of a great, hot tent, of quartets playing the whining "sweet potatoes" and of the home talent plays, laboriously and proudly presented by the townspeople. Keith Vawter was the originator of this national chautauqua movement.

The chautauqua, however, is only the "off-spring" of the ly-and expanded in 1933, divides the state into four districts, each providing three classes of competition for schools of varying enrollment.

The debaters this year will argue the same question in the final contest as they have throughout the year, "Resolved, that the several states should enact systems of unicameral legislatures."

Iowa City high school competing in class A under the direction of E. J. McCreary, will be represented in debate by John Matill, Bruce Blackstone, Cyrus Beye, and Paul Bordwell.

University high school, competing in class B under the direction of E. C. Chenoweth, will be represented in debate by John Matill, Bruce Blackstone, Cyrus Beye, and Paul Bordwell.

University high school, competing in class B under the direction of E. C. Chenoweth, will be represented in debate by John Matill, Bruce Blackstone, Cyrus Beye, and Paul Bordwell.

AROUND THE TOWN

With TOM JOHNSON

Well, Sunday's plebiscite wasn't unanimous after all! But, it made the Roosevelt "landslide" look like a photographic finish...

Maybe Austro-Germans were under the impression they were voting for independence. Hitler will soon solve that doubt...

And, an election tale, concerning two Nazi storm troopers: "Have you voted yet?" questioned the first. "I voted twice," was the proud reply.

Incidentally, if you have any doubts — there will be no recount!

Left Early George Eastman, the kodak magnate, you'll remember, committed suicide a few years ago... before photography achieved popularity and became one of America's favorite pastimes.

At least one university student has snapped a candid shot which is bound to raise consternation in certain quarters...

The student, W. W. by initial, glimpsed his father-in-law taking an afternoon nap, placed a few bottles on the reclining relative's lap, and snapped away...

Packing? There probably are professors unsympathetic enough to give tests today and tomorrow... just before spring vacation starts.

Well, they'll either be given before or after, so don't become disgruntled.

By the way, don't tell me you're taking your books home to study... You'll never use them... spring is returning.
