Igoe Maintains Lead In Illinois Senatorial Race

Rival Machines Battle for Lead In Primaries

Kelly-Nash Juggernaut Dominates Lucas In Bitter Struggle

CHICAGO, April 13 (Wednesday) (AP)—Michael L. Igoe, spearhead of the Kelly-Nash faction, maintained a lead over Scott W. Lucas, the Horner organization's entrant in the contest for the democratic senatorial nomination this morning.

As returns from the nation's first primary election accumulated, Igoe predicted he would win by 50,000 to 75,000 votes over the candidate backed by Gov. Henry Horner in the center ring fight for supremacy in Illinois democratic ranks.

"Too Early" Horner, avowedly out to "smash the machine" headed by Mayor Edward J. Kelly and National Committeeman P. A. Nash, contended, however, it was "too early to make any statement about the outcome."

Igoe enjoyed a three to two advantage in Cook county (Chicago) although Lucas compiled a two to one margin in the downstate districts, where he was expected to make his greatest show of strength.

Both New Dealers
Both Igoe, U. S. district attorney at Chicago and veteran of 16 years in the state legislature, and Lucas, serving his second term in congress from the corn belt area in the central part of the state, campaigned under the new deal banner.

With 3,281 of the state's 6,286 precincts reported, Igoe had 363,483 votes to 290,131 for Lucas.

Igoe ran his Cook county vote up to 334,047 to 219,434 for Lucas in the 4,377 precincts.

Downstate, however, Lucas was the leader by the wide margin of 70,697 to 29,434 with 884 of the 3,909 precincts reported.

In three of the four other major statewide contests, the Horner favorites forced into leads.

Jarecki Leads
In Cook county's outstanding test, the Horner-backed entrant, County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, maintained a steady lead over the Kelly-Nash candidate, Circuit Judge John Prystalski, in the race for county judgeship — an office of paramount importance since the election machinery is under its jurisdiction.

State Representative Richard J. Lyons of Libertyville, republican candidate for the U. S. senatorial nomination and top man on a regular ticket which gained the support of harmonious party organizations, won the nomination easily on the basis of incomplete returns.

Jacobsen Won't Die Penniless
FT. MADISON, Ia., April 12 (AP) — Franz Jacobsen doesn't want to "go out broke" when he dies on the state penitentiary gallops next week for the slaying of an Ottumwa, Ia., waitress.

The Rev. James P. Gable of West Branch, Ia., revealed Jacobsen's request for pocket money today.

"It's one of the few things Jacobsen has asked for," the Rev. Gable declared. "He asked me for $1 or $1.50 in silver to have in his pockets when he takes the last walk."

The clergyman also said the condemned man had requested him to get one of Jacobsen's suits at Ottumwa so he can die in his own clothes rather than in one of the prison suits.

Jacobsen is condemned to die next Tuesday morning.

Opponents in Illinois' bitter democratic primary for the United States senatorial nomination are pictured. They are Michael L. Igoe, United States district attorney, backed by the party machine

At Sing Sing Whitney Swaps Name For a Number

OSSINING, N. Y., April 12 (AP)—Richard Whitney, until lately a symbol of integrity and power in the world of finance, dropped his name today to become convict No. 94835 in Sing Sing prison.

In a few quickly moving hours, the former broker who served as president of the New York stock exchange for five times had been rushed from the old Tombs prison in New York City, taken aboard a train for Ossining, thence to the big state prison, stripped, bathed, questioned and given a suit of gray shoddy.

As these dismal formalities went on in the prison, bankruptcy schedules were filed before a referee in New York City showing that the combined liabilities of Whitney and the firm he dominated exceeded the combined assets.

Five times president of the New York Stock Exchange, Richard Whitney, well-known New York broker whose firm failed, and who admitted misappropriating securities for years, receives five-to-ten-year sentence in Sing Sing.

Spokesman for Navy Disputes Inventor's Claims for Bomb, 'Aerial Mine' to Disable Ships

Says Similar Bombs Are Being Used Now By Navy

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—A navy spokesman disputed today the contention of Lester P. Barlow, Stamford, Conn., inventor, that his "aerial mine" could wipe out a fleet by disabling auxiliary vessels and thus making battle-ships impotent.

After the inventor, now associated with the Glenn L. Martin company, of Baltimore, had described his device, Commander A. C. Davis told the senate naval committee that there was "nothing revolutionary or startling" about it. The navy, Davis said, now employs bombs similar to those proposed by Barlow.

Barlow explained that his bomb, weighing 2,000 pounds, could be dropped from planes at a high altitude. It would explode 20 feet before it struck the water, he said, hurling large hexagonal pieces of hardened steel 1,000 feet with great velocity.

These steel pieces would disable all except the heavily armed battleships, the inventor declared. A fleet of 50 planes, each carrying two of the "mines," could "blanket" a wide area of the sea, disabling a fleet, he said.

But Commander Davis, head of the plans division of the navy's bureau of aeronautics, said the navy now uses "fragmentation" bombs which are similar to Barlow's, except that they are smaller in size, do not explode until they strike the water and throw fragments instead of the hexagonal pieces.

A fleet of 50 planes, carrying two detonation type bombs each, probably would be more effective in combating a fleet than planes carrying the fragmentation bombs, Davis argued.

LOUDER, PLEASE!

Stop and Go Lights For Speakers

NEW YORK, April 12 (AP)—Stop and go lights for the voices of public speakers were demonstrated to the New York Electrical society here today.

The lights, which tell the speaker whether his voice is too low, or is just filling the auditorium, or whether it is unpleasantly loud, were shown by S. K. Wolf of New York City.

If the speaker's voice is down to a mumble, the bulb shows blue. When the last row in the balcony can hear him clearly, the bulb glows green.

And if his voice rises too high, the color changes to red.

Ringlings Open Despite Strike

Circus Workers Picket Employers' Entrance Before Show

NEW YORK, April 12 (AP)—With a great flourish of trumpets, "the greatest show on earth"—the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus—went on tonight despite a last minute strike that sprouted picket lines around Madison Square Garden.

Just 45 minutes before the scheduled beginning of the evening performance members of the American Federation of Actors (AFL) employed in technical positions and as roustabouts and the like struck for higher pay.

They demanded the same wage scale for their work in the Garden as they are paid under canvas—a $80 a month minimum above subsistence—instead of a $49 minimum.

While the band was thumping away inside the Garden, strikers marched two by two in a continuous circle in front of the employes' entrance.

Patrons entered without being disturbed.

It was the first time in memory of circus fans here that the circus had been interrupted by labor trouble.

It also was the first incident approaching a crisis which young John Ringling North had faced since, along with his brother, Henry Ringling North, he regained for the Ringling family control of the famous old circus last December.

For several years it was in the hands of New York financial interests.

While John Ringling North was accusing the union of refusal to arbitrate through Mayor LaGuardia, Ralph Whitehead, executive secretary of the American Federation of Actors, accused the management of a double contract violation.

He claimed the men not only were being paid less than had been agreed upon, but that the circus also had hired non-union workers.

World Famous Basso Dies Of Kidney Trouble

PARIS, April 12 (AP)—Feodor Chalopin, whose great basso voice raised him from obscure poverty to world renown, died today. He was 65 years old.

The great opera stages of the world revered him, but he remained the tempestuous, unaffected personality of his youth when he was the shoeless, hungry son of a Russian peasant.

Chalopin went to the United States in 1906 to sing at the Metropolitan, but not until his return to New York 16 years later was his art acclaimed.

He was regarded not only as a superb singer, but also as a great singing actor and his genius made him one of the highest paid operatic stars in the world.

Chalopin died in his beautiful Paris apartment after a two-weeks' illness of kidney ailments which became complicated with anemia.

The singer, who frankly said he sang "for money," had treated his illness lightly. Although his condition steadily grew worse, he joked with his nurses until shortly before he died at 5:15 p. m. (10 a. m. CST).

Rejuvenated Loyalist Forces Report Most Success Since Offensive Began

MADRID, April 12 (AP)—Rejuvenated government air forces were reported tonight to have achieved their greatest successes in eastern Spain since the government offensive at Teruel started four months ago.

Supported by machine-gunning planes government troops beat back insurgent forces east of Lerida recapturing one village and forcing the enemy back across the Segre river.

The newly strengthened aircraft were said to have been even more effective southeast of Morella where the insurgents are only 15 miles from the Mediterranean.

Government planes bombed and machine-gunned ground troops in an attempt to check their march to the sea.

A government communique said three insurgent planes were shot down in flames near Balaguer and another downed at Tortosa.

One government plane was lost when it crashed in the Mediterranean near Barcelona while on night patrol duty against insurgent raiders.

F. D. R. Calls Cabinet, Chiefs to White House

Leaders Confer On Slump And Relief Measure

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt summoned five cabinet officers and the chiefs of his major spending agencies to the White House tonight to discuss his forthcoming message to congress on the business slump and relief.

Those called to the conference included: Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of the Interior Ickes, who directed the huge public works program with which the administration sought to "prime the pump" of business in the early days of the new deal.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Postmaster General Farley, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, who said yesterday that the business situation required some government aid.

Harry Hopkins, the work relief administrator, who has been the Roosevelt administration's biggest spender in the past.

Jesse Jones, chairman of the reconstruction finance corporation, which congress recently authorized to make $1,500,000,000 of long-term industrial and public works loans.

James Roosevelt, the president's son and secretary, and Stephen Early, his press secretary.

Republic Steel Leaders State Intent to Fight

Recognition Exclusive Bargaining Agency Sought—Horner

CLEVELAND, April 12 (AP)—Leaders of Republic Steel corporation independent unions announced tonight that they would fight the national labor relations board's order for their abolishment and will seek to be recognized as exclusive collective bargaining agents.

The announcement followed conferences here and was made by P. W. Horner, president of the central council of the northern district of Republic Steel independent employe associations, and Frank T. Bow, counsel for the central council of Republic subsidiary independent employe associations.

Bow asserted that the steel plant and the subsidiary organizations represent almost all of the 50,000 production workers now employed by Republic.

The labor board last week found Republic Steel corporation guilty of "a long series of unfair labor practices" and ordered the company to rehire workers who took part in the "little steel" strike last summer and to break up the employe representation plans at its plants in five Ohio cities.

Bow said he interpreted the order as applying to all independent employe organizations.

Nazis Indict Him

The Nazi campaign against foes continues with the latest target being Archduke Otto of Hapsburg, the pretender to the once proud Austrian throne.

According to reports from Vienna, Otto has been indicted for high treason and a warrant issued for his "extradition." Under German law high treason is punishable by death. Otto consequently would be liable to arrest and trial for his life if he ever appeared on German territory, which is not likely now.

Japanese Placed on Defensive By Chinese in South Shantung

Birthplace of Confucius Reported Retaken By Defenders

SHANGHAI, April 13 (AP)—(Wednesday) — Foreign military observers believe the Japanese are in an extremely difficult military position in south Shantung province, where persistent Chinese counterattacks have put the Japanese on the defensive along the 150-mile battlefront.

Continuing their aggressive tactics, the Chinese said today they had retaken Chufu, birthplace of Confucius, on the Tientsin-Pukow railway. The Chinese said they scaled the walls of Chufu and engaged the Japanese in hand-to-hand combat.

The Chinese said they occupied hills surrounding Yihsein, on a spur line east of the railway, in a night attack and were engaging the Japanese defenders of that city in a sanguinary battle. The center of fighting shifted to the Chinese, after they drove the Japanese from Taierchwang, 25 miles to the southeast.

Reinforcements by the thousands were being rushed into the Shantung war zone by the Japanese in an effort to repel the Chinese offensive and make possible the continuance of the Japanese campaign against Su-chow and other strategic cities along the Lunghai railway.

The transportation artery of central China, the Tientsin-Pukow line joins the Lunghai at Suchow, about 50 miles southwest of Taierchwang.

Roosevelt Wins Late Victory For Reduced Highway Funds

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt won a belated and possibly temporary victory today in the campaign he began last winter for reductions in highway appropriations to help balance the budget.

The house appropriations committee, approving a $797,785,515 appropriation for the fiscal year starting July 1, included $100,000,000 for roads — only enough to finance the current highway program until congress reconvenes in January.

But Chairman Cartwright (D-Okla.) of the house roads committee immediately began an effort to have the fund increased to more than $200,000,000, the approximate amount congress has authorized annually for many years.

"I expect that almost the full amount will be contained in the bill when it passes the house," Cartwright said. "The bureau of roads has informed me that it needs $101,500,000 more than the $100,000,000 the bill carries to meet the obligations for which it already has contracted."

Since President Roosevelt urged curtailment of highway spending in a message to congress Nov. 29, business has been in a slump and he now is considering a huge new "pump-priming" program of public works. In view of that, some legislators said, it was likely the house would restore the road appropriation to its normal level.

Truck Loses Trailer

A semi-trailer drawn by a truck driven by Thure Peterson dropped from the tractor at Court and Dubuque streets last night. A wrecker from a local garage was unable to lift the trailer, but it was raised up and re-engaged with the truck by the use of jacks.

Leaders Confer On Slump And Relief Measure

President Denies Any Expenditure 'Tiff' With Garner

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt summoned five cabinet officers and the chiefs of his major spending agencies to the White House tonight to discuss his forthcoming message to congress on the business slump and relief.

Those called to the conference included: Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of the Interior Ickes, who directed the huge public works program with which the administration sought to "prime the pump" of business in the early days of the new deal.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, Postmaster General Farley, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, who said yesterday that the business situation required some government aid.

Harry Hopkins, the work relief administrator, who has been the Roosevelt administration's biggest spender in the past.

Jesse Jones, chairman of the reconstruction finance corporation, which congress recently authorized to make $1,500,000,000 of long-term industrial and public works loans.

James Roosevelt, the president's son and secretary, and Stephen Early, his press secretary.

President Roosevelt interrupted his work on the new relief spending recommendations today to deny in cheerful but emphatic terms that he and Vice-President Garner had engaged in a "tiff" about "pump priming" expenditures or anything else.

In answer to questions of newspapermen, he said he had called Garner's attention to a published article saying the vice-president thought the administration should let business alone. Garner denied having given such an interview, the president added, and that was all there was to it.

Meanwhile, on Capitol Hill, some usually well-informed legislators were inclined to doubt that Mr. Roosevelt would recommend "pump priming"—that is, outlays for heavy public works programs, slum clearance and the like—in his coming message to congress on relief spending and the general economic situation.

CRASH MYSTERY Rescuers See 'Ghosts' In Wreckage

BRAZIL, Ind., April 12 (AP)—Ambulance crewmen thought they saw two "ghosts" in the wreckage of an automobile-truck collision near here.

The "ghosts" turned out to be John Williams and George Williams. The crash had broken a large jar of mustard and tarragon open a sack of flour which they had with them in the automobile. The mixture covered them from head to toe. George Williams was injured seriously.

Mussolini Assures Welcome of British Minister

LONDON, April 12 (AP)—Italy virtually has sealed in advance a British-Italian friendship pact which diplomats said tonight "might avert an otherwise inevitable major war within two years."

Premier Mussolini did this by promising a welcome to British War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha, who is to arrive in Rome April 22 to round out the new alignment.

Great Britain's cabinet was expected to give final approval tomorrow to the pact designed to alter radically the course of world diplomacy and reduce European tension. The agreement is to be signed Saturday.

When Hore-Belisha reaches Rome it will be the first time in nearly three years that a British cabinet minister has visited Italy.

Mussolini's promise of a welcome came as a quick response to Britain's pledge yesterday to work through the League of Nations for recognition of Italy's two-year-old conquest of Ethiopia.

essential for Britain to sell British-Italian cooperation to Mussolini before Reichsfuehrer Hitler visits Rome in May.

Hore-Belisha will be able to stress the advantages of an Italian-British understanding. He is the one British cabinet member who rivals Mussolini himself in dynamic energy.

Stopping off on his return from an inspection of the British-Italian Mediterranean island of Malta, he may be able to iron out any conflict in British and Italian interests in the Mediterranean and Red seas, one of the points to be reconciled between the two countries.

Diplomatic observers said the meeting of Mussolini and Hitler which is to follow may decide Europe's fate.

This was the picture they drew: An advancing Nazi Germany menaces Europe's peace as ominously as Imperial Germany did during pre-war years. Mussolini faces a choice between the German and the British-French camps.

His understanding with Great Britain is a bargaining move, timed to impress his partner in the Berlin-Rome diplomatic axis. He holds the key to the situation.

Mussolini realizes that if he decides to keep the Rome-Berlin axis intact, he probably would have to let Hitler push Germany's sway eventually to the Black sea. In return, Germany might supply (See PACT, page 6)

Going Home For Easter

HUNDREDS of towns all over the state will be besieged again today by the vacationing college and university students.

Once more the weary, careworn seekers after wisdom will wend their ways into the old home town in search of rest, a home-cooked meal and a chance to wear the new bonnet.

O happy day! When there is no 8 o'clock to make and no lesson due in the morning. O wonderful vacation! When mother drags the sleepy offspring out of bed with a call for lunch instead of breakfast.

So, parents—open your arms and kill the fatted calf; and students—throw the dirty clothes into your bags; and, well—here's a happy Easter to all of you!

The Prisoner At The Bar

WITH PRIDE unshaken, Richard Whitney calmly stood in court Monday, heard his counsel plead for leniency, and heard the judge briefly pronounce sentence which will keep him behind bars for a minimum of three years and four months.

He will soon be taken up the river to Sing Sing prison where he will be confined and made to mingle with men who in free life could never have attained a fraction of the respect which once was his.

It was this man who was given credit for saving the stock market in 1929. Singlehanded he bought a block of stock at a price which astounded all speculators who heard of it. Since that memorable day in financial history this bold transaction of Whitney's has been recognized as the "saving deal."

Such foresight and success must be attributed to something. In the case of this man his unusual intelligence is no doubt responsible for the rapid strides he made upward. A psychiatric report shows that the man possesses superior intelligence, rating so high that only one per cent of all the people in the world can compare with him.

But brilliance, position or riches are neither excuses nor escape from crime, so this financial leader must live and labor with common criminals for his delinquencies to society. His master mind will be useless until he is freed, and only his physical strength will be needed as he takes his place beside his prison mates to do the work required of them.

Safety—On a Bicycle

OF COURSE every red-blooded boy must at sometime own a bicycle. The joys of gliding along under the power of one's own restless muscles is as much a part of the American birthright as the "sole swimmin' hole" and the fishin' pole. But while these latter remain within the boys' own world, the bicycle daily intrudes itself among the very best adult company, a company which frowns upon riding on sidewalks and scolds at the violation of laws.

Apparently there is no other course but to ride on streets and highways and so some 700 bicycle riders were killed in collisions with automobiles last year—twice as many as in 1935. This would seem to indicate that, in an age of high-speed motor cars, the bicycle is a misfit on the highway as well as a threat on sidewalks.

But probably the fault more often lies with the carelessness of the rider rather than with the hybrid mechanical nature of the bicycle. Figures show that more than three-fourths of the deaths due to automobile-bicycle collisions in 1937 involved boys from 10 to 19 years old. Among women and girls, accidents of this kind were almost negligible.

In Iowa City cyclists were recently asked to cooperate with the police department by observing 10 rules of bicycling safety as compiled by the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Among them were provisions requiring lights and reflectors for night riding, signals before turning, a corner and prohibiting such dangerous practices as "cutting in," carrying a second rider on the handle bars or crossing the street in the middle of the block.

Police cannot adequately enforce such rules, helpful as they may be. Neither can parents force safety upon their bicycling sons and daughters by edicts and canons of safe riding. In the end it rests upon the cyclists themselves—and the motorists. Both must realize that on the street and highway they share the responsibility for safety.

During the next few months cycling will reach its seasonal peak. Whether it is to be a safe season for motorists and bicycle riders alike depends upon whether both groups take pains in being good "drivers."

As though increasing taxes, war scares and recessions were not enough, harrassed mankind now faces a new threat. Style experts say the ankle-revealing peg-top pants are coming back in style!

Armaments in 1937 are estimated to have cost the world more than $12,000,000,000. If civilization does commit suicide, at least no one can accuse it of being a cheapskate about it.

BIRDS OF PREY

There are now solid grounds for hope that the campaign for establishment of an enlarged Mount Olympus national park, with its consequent preservation of magnificent stands of virgin timber and of the winter feeding grounds of the diminished Roosevelt elk, waged by the Emergency Conservation committee, will bear fruit in legislation. At the turn of the year, however, when against windswept skies the wheeling flight of a hawk brings a sudden breath of wider horizons to urban and suburban dweller, another and less widely known activity of this energetic group of conservationists comes sharply to mind. This is its tireless fight for better understanding and protection of our birds of prey. By a long series of pamphlet publications setting forth the facts and by its establishment of Hawk Mountain sanctuary in eastern Pennsylvania, the committee has done yeoman's service in emphasizing the value of the hawks and owls in the balance of nature.

Scientific study has shown that few indeed of our wild creatures have been so maligned as the predacious birds. The bald eagle, our national symbol, and the golden eagle have been reduced almost to the point of vanishment not merely by their natural retreat before the incursions of settlement but by ruthless persecution as a result of mistaken theories concerning their threat to livestock and of fantastic old wives' tales of child stealing and the like. Both are now so uncommon as to make debate of their characteristics largely academic. Of the hawks, the studies of Dr. A. K. Fisher of the biological survey, supported by the more recent work of Dr. John B. May and other specialists, have shown conclusively from the examination of stomach contents that most species are definitely beneficial, by the destruction of harmful rodents, insects and reptiles. Only the duck hawk—too rare to be important economically—the prairie falcon, the goshawk and Cooper's hawk are seriously destructive to game birds and poultry and the sharp-shinned hawk to small birds. The owls, with the exception of the great horned owl, which is sometimes a menace to poultry and game, confer benefits on man, especially the farmer, by their feeding habits.

It is men and not the raptors that destroy our game; more, we have come to learn of late, by encroaching upon its breeding and feeding grounds than by shot and shell. We should learn to prize as parts of our heritage the silent flight of the mousing owl, the falcon, "to-wing" in her pride of place, the thrilling pitch of the hawk down out of the blue.

Clendening Describes Values Of Drinking Acidophilus Milk

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. ACIDOPHILUS milk seems to be coming back into fashion after a period of decline. In about 1925 it was all the rage, and then we heard very little about it and now, at least in my neighborhood, it is finding favor again. Acidophilus milk is a sour milk which is made by culturing the bacillus acidophilus in ordinary milk. The result is a sour milk, but a very pleasant taste, and in the opinion of most people a great improvement on buttermilk. Now, I do not believe by any means that acidophilus milk will prolong life so that the user may be assured of living to be 100 (nor, indeed, am I sure that that would be advisable if it could be done). Of course, that was the idea of the famous bacteriologist, Metchnikoff, with his Bulgarian sour milk. No, I don't believe that, but I do believe that acidophilus milk makes a good many people who are inclined to have digestive disturbances, feel better. It is recommended in the treatment of intestinal disturbances due to putrefactive changes, in chronic colitis, constipation, and some skin diseases such as eczema. Most dairies sell acidophilus milk as a routine, but tablets or cultures of the bacillus can be purchased and anyone can make their own acidophilus milk. It drives out all the other organisms in the intestines, although unfortunately it does not perpetuate itself in the intestine and is soon supplanted by the ordinary organisms as soon as its use has been discontinued. Tuning In with Betty Harpel

Something new in radio features will be offered Tuesday when George McCall brings his listeners to the "Hollywood Screen-scope," the high school graduation ceremony of a film star. The girl in the case is Olympe Bradna, Paramount actress, who has just completed her course of studies at the studio school. Gracie Allen reported the theft of four of her surrealist paintings "valued at an undetermined figure" in a complaint filed with the Los Angeles police department this week. According to the complaint the pictures were taken during the early morning hours of April 4 from the Rancho Golf club in Hollywood, where they were on exhibition. The stolen pictures were titled: "Man with Mike Fright," "Moons Over Manicurist," "Dogs Gather on Street Corner to Watch Man-fight," and "Gravity Gets Body Scissors on Virtue as Night Falls Upside Down."

Washington World

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist WASHINGTON, D. C. — President Roosevelt probably can afford to slur his opponents in congress. They are his opponents anyway. It is more doubtful that he could so well afford to slur the whole rank and file of voters who found fault with his government reorganization bill, and besought their various states' and districts' senators and representatives to cast their ballots against it on Capitol Hill. The president comes pretty close to having a congressional majority against him. In fact, he does have such a majority against him on some main issues. However, the home folk have stayed with him minding well. He appears to have lost a bit of popular support since last election day, but not enough of it to leave him without a comfortable margin in his favor up to the time of his declaration that senatorial emity to his reorganization plan could not be purchased by organized telegrams based on direct misrepresentation. A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Somebody surely must be wrong. Somebody must have their dates, or their writers, or their something mixed. I was thinking of Ernest Hemingway, and Jed Harris, and the new magazine Ken.

In the first issue of Ken Mr. Hemingway writes an article about his favorite subject, the Loyalist cause in Spain. After publishing the piece, the editors, in a little aside to the reader, say: We would like to have Mr. Hemingway become one of our editors, if our editorial opinions do not come into too much conflict. We do not know whether he will become one of our editors or not, for he has been in Spain ever since this magazine was first conceived. But whether or no, he will continue as one of our contributors until he quits or is fired! Now let's go back three or five weeks, to an afternoon last February, in an office on Broadway. Mr. Jed Harris, the producer, is facing this correspondent across a wide desk. He has just come in from a junket from the deep south, and his bags are still unpacked. He says: "I've been hunting and fishing with Ernest Hemingway down in Florida. We had a great time and I dizzled him with my marksmanship. We also discussed his new play, 'The Fifth Column,' which I may produce. I think he really has something there. Then I came back to New York."

Like Cleek, the man of 40 faces, nobody can get together on his exact whereabouts. Whither, Mr. Hemingway, Spain or the Everglades? There is something hilariously cheering in seeing old Pearl White thrillers of 20 years ago, and the villains with curled mustaches emitting silent but cruel "Ha's" whenever the fragile heroine hove into sight. The Hotel New Yorker has begun a series of revivals for dinner guests and show several of these ancient movies each week. I am a sucker for the early film adventures of Helen Holmes, leaping off trains, and of Ruth Roland, who faced a thousand deaths every Sunday night in the old serials, each episode ending with the iron claw clutching at her throat, or the hero hurtling—so you thought—to a horrible death in the abyss below.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — There is going to be a scarcity this year of those admirable little pictures some producers delight in making for the "artistic prestige" they bring. In any year no picture is made purely for art's sake, but sometimes that consideration weighs about equally with the hope of commercial returns. A producer figures he can get by with something "fine" and, if it flops badly, charge it up to "prestige." But in times like these, the prestige-budgets are low. Some of the lots will shoot the works for a combination of prestige — and box-office, but the accent has to be on commerce. That the two can go hand in hand is indicated in last year's "Zola" and "The Good Earth" and in many successful films of other years. Sometimes Creates Stars Pandro S. Berman, newly in charge of RKO's production plant, has undertaken in his time such choice bits as "Of Human Bondage" and "Winterst," both in the nature of artistic gambles. They're the type of thing that as a producer he would prefer to do. Neither lost money, but neither was a big-money picture. But now, in consideration of the times and of the stockholders, he plans to concentrate on the more obviously sure — fire box — office materials. (Having done the Astaire-Rogers things, and other money-grossers, he knows how.)

In defense of the "artistic" picture—regardless of how it fares at the public purse — Berman points out the commercial values that frequently ensue. "Of Human Bondage," for instance, while it returned a profit and enhanced RKO prestige, actually made a star of Bette Davis. Unfortunately, from the RKO point of view, the star was created for Warner Bros. from which studio she was borrowed. The boys, too, naturally, took up the sport and soon northern America became one vast panorama of youthful, graceful couples flashing across the soft blue sheen of gleaming ice. But — alas! — the fad did not reach its peak here. Papa and Mama took it upon them Grandpa and Grandma. The floundering fifties had crashed the gate distinctly marked: "Reserved for the Talented 'Teens.'" From Hercules K. Margin, ex-broker, Sauerkraut Center, Me., almost immediately countless numbers of high school chickadees and college co-eds, not to men-merciful kind Spring drew a burlesque of the Body Beautiful at Play. But not before Zadok, Dumbkopf, wisecracker — large had made comment. "The pointed paper cap," quoth he, "no longer is the insignia of the aged clown. It's a pair of ice skates."

St. Patrick's Has Eight Runners in Today's Competition

Eight members of the St. Patrick's track squad and 22 U-High thinclads will be carrying Iowa City's laurels in the fourth annual Mechanicsville relays at Mechanicsville today. The meet was previously scheduled for last Saturday but was postponed until today because of unfavorable weather conditions.

Coach Carpenter's hopes of victory for the University High runners depend largely on the showing his boys make in the two-mile relay and the high and low hurdles. The Blues' two-mile relay team is composed of Spencer, Krogh, Robbins and Campion while Bruce Blackstone will run in the hurdles events.

The chief hopes of Louie Loria, Irish coach, rest on his mile relay team of Miller, Demery, Fitzpatrick and Bradley. Demery and Fitzpatrick may also pick up points in the broad jump and high jump while Beasley will take care of the weight events. Bradley will also be entered in the low hurdles.

There has been a slight change in the schedule of events, moving both the preliminaries and finals of all events except the hurdles up to the afternoon. The preliminaries in the hurdles will be held in the morning. Approximately 300 boys are entered in the relays.

Baer Sued Name Former Champ In $20,000 Suit

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 12 (AP)—Frank R. McKeely of Binghamton today started a legal punch at the pocketbook of Max Baer, former world's heavyweight champion.

Papers filed in the Broome county clerk's office named Baer as a defendant in a lawsuit brought by McKeely to recover $20,000 for injuries which he claims to have suffered in the collapse of a grandstand at Speculator, N. Y., Sept. 15, 1935.

McKeely said he was seated in the grandstand watching Baer train for his fight with Joe Louis when he was injured. Also named as defendants are Ancil Hoffman, Baer's manager; Jerry Cassale, a trainer, and Robert and Iva Osborne of Speculator.

The complaint said, the Osbornes rented training quarters and the grandstand to the fighter and his associates.

Whizzer's Dad Sure Son Will Not Join Professional Ranks

WELLINGTON, Col. (AP)—Whizzer White's dad won't come right out and say so, but he appears to think Colorado's all-America will choose Oxford over professional football.

Recently, when a newspaperman said he believed White would sign with the Pittsburgh Pirates for their $15,000 offer, A. A. White looked quizzically at him and murmured: "Son, you're crazy."

STAGEHAND BOPPED Carpenter Accidentally Hits Horse

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 12 (AP)—Being nosy got Stagehand, Maxwell Howard's Kentucky Derby favorite, a bop on the nose with a hammer today.

While a carpenter was busy making repairs at the stable occupied by Stagehand, the big bay colt, which won the Santa Anita handicap by a nose from Seabiscuit, stuck his valuable snout around a board wall, just as the carpenter swung. The horse caught the blow on the nose, much to his amazement and the consternation of the carpenter.

However, the big bay, except for his pride, was not hurt.

Iowa Thinclads Move Outdoors

Spring Weather Permits First Outside Drill Of Season

The return of balmy weather sent the University of Iowa trackmen to the cinder track west of the fieldhouse yesterday for the first outdoor drill of the season.

Coach George Bresnahan's shot put hopes took an upturn as the men concentrated yesterday on field events. Bill Leuz, sophomore shot putter, reached the best mark of his career with a 43 foot, 8 inch heave, and a newcomer to the track squad, wrestler Wilbur Nead, consistently reached the 43-foot stake.

Bush Lamb, Big 10 javelin tiler, started his campaign toward another crown. Discus throwers also saw some action yesterday.

Coach Bresnahan's charges are pointing toward defense of the medley relay title at the opening of the outdoor season in the Kansas relays April 22 and 23. Two other top-notch relay teams are expected to represent the Hawkeyes at the meet.

The mile relay team, which may run the event close to 3:17, will be made up of Carl and Fred Teufel, Milton Billig, and John Graves. Billig holds the present state quarter mile record of 48.3, and all the other three are capable of running the quarter under 50-seconds.

The champion medley relay team will include the Teufel twins as the 220-yard dash men, Billig as quarter miler, and either Co-captain Jimmy Lyle or Graves as half miler.

Coach Bresnahan, who for 18 years has guided Iowa track destinies, also hopes to make a good two mile relay team using Graves, Lyle, Ernie Grosser and John Schmidt with Billig as an added possibility. All of the Hawkeye half milers are capable of bettering 1:57.

Lamb and sophomore John Collinge will give the Hawkeyes strength in the 120-yard high hurdles, both being capable of running the event under 15 seconds. Lamb is also a broad jumper, consistently leaping better than 22 feet.

Date Set For 'Rich' Race At Belmont Park

War Admiral to Race Against Seabiscuit Memorial Day

NEW YORK, April 12 (AP)—The Westchester racing association today posted a $100,000 purse for a match race between War Admiral and Seabiscuit at Belmont park, but selected Memorial day instead of the September date previously proposed.

The board of directors, headed by Vice-President C. V. Whitney, agreed unanimously that the "race of the century" should be run as soon as possible. They pointed out that right now public interest is high, the two horses are sound and at the top of their racing form.

Samuel Riddle, owner of War Admiral, immediately accepted the new date but Charles S. Howard, California owner of Seabiscuit, said he would "take it under consideration."

"A four-year old would stand a better chance against a five-year old in the fall, but we're willing to take a chance," said Riddle.

Down The Sports Trail

By PAUL MICKELSON
NEW YORK, April 12 (AP)—Next time some sour soul bawls you out for making excuses for a dubbed golf shot and gives you the bromide that alibis never count, bet the 19th hole checks he's on the wrong side of the street. For there is a sport where the alibi is as good as a straight win ticket on the New York Yankees.

The glorious haven for the alibi singers is pistol shooting, probably the last sport you'd expect to find it. There, mates, is a sport that's going places. Not only is it fascinating but its rabid boosters have made room for that old failing—the alibi. In fact, the pistol gang goes out of its way even in the biggest tournaments to ask for excuses.

"Any Alibis?"

"Two-gun" O. B. Keeler, the sage from Atlanta's distillery hill who spent most of his time writing up the golf exploits of Bobby Jones before he fell in love with the shooting stuff, led the sports trailer to alibi paradise. Nothing unusual was noticed as a large field raked the targets with their forty-fives until the firing ceased and a voice boomed out:

"Alibis? Any alibis?"

It was almost incredible to one who has seen ball players and golfers get the bum's bounce for making too many excuses. But there it was. Several marksmen stepped from the firing line, held up their hands and complained about jammed guns or defective bullets. The examiner, a kindly man with love in his heart, studied each case separately and sympathetically and ultimately allowed each alibi shooter a chance to fire the shots that didn't go off within the regular space of time.

Growing Sport

Any sport nice enough to accept excuses must be worth an investigation, so I delved into the records and gossiped with the two-gun boys as "Two-gun" Keeler tried to hit the broadside of a farmer's barn some 40 feet away. The results were interesting for pistol shooting in this country today is one of the fastest growing of all sports. Already, more than 10,000 pistol shooters are registered for competition with the ranks swelling by the day.

Hofer Checks Marians With Seven Safe Blows

The St. Mary's baseball team suffered its second successive setback yesterday, dropping a 2-1 decision to the Solon high school nine on the City park diamond in an extra inning.

The Marians did, however, show some improvement over last week's debacle at Lone Tree, where they were held hitless, by combing the deliveries of Hofer, Solon hurler, for seven hits, two less than their opponents.

Bock, St. Mary's shortstop, was the Dutchmen's slugging hero, getting two hits in two official times at bat for a perfect record.

Zenishek, Hofer and Novy shared hitting honors for the Solons, each getting two safe blows.

Chicago Blackhawks Trounce Toronto Maple Leafs, 4 to 1, To Win World's Championship

CHICAGO, April 12 (AP)—fighting spirit which marked their battle from sixth place at the close of the regular season to rulers of the ice game world.

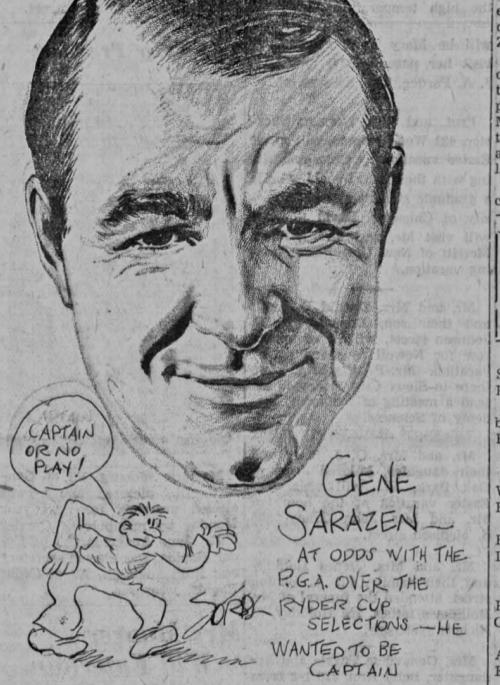

Scoring within the first six minutes on Cully Dahlstrom's counter, the Hawks saw the high-geared Toronto club, overwhelming favorites to win the cup before the final skirmish began, roar back for the tying goal, scored by Gordon Drillon, with help from Jimmy Fowler.

Undaunted, the Chicagoans battled the Leafs evenly through three-quarters of the second period and then scored two goals on two spectacular plays within one minute and 13 seconds, Carl Voss, veteran obtained by the Hawks from Montreal's Maroons, literally stole the puck from under the noses of defensemen Fowler and Reg Hamilton and rifled a 10-foot shot past Goalie Walter Broda to put the Hawks out in front.

The Hawks, who "backed into the playoffs by losing their last three games of the regular national hockey league season, defeated the Leafs, holders of the title, on two sensational second-period goals by Karl Voss and Jack Shill. The tallies, which broke a 1-1 deadlock indirectly led to an unneeded third period counter to clinch a third victory for the Chicagoans in four starts against Toronto in the final playoff series, determined on a best-of-five basis.

Quad Finishes Volleyball Play

Lower A won the Quadrangle volleyball title Monday night, by defeating the undefeated Upper D team in three out of five games, all of which were closely contested with the deciding game going into extra points before the winner was determined.

Russell Busk and Roland Boyesen led the Lower A team while Hal Born and Bob Kelly were Upper D's stars. Lower A became the first section of the dormitory to win two titles during this year's sports tournaments. They won the touch football crown last fall.

Closing dates for entries in the tennis and horseshoe singles tournaments will be April 20, Athletic Director Joe Lebeda announced this week.

This year's opening date for the annual softball league play is expected to be named shortly after the vacation period. All section managers have been filing the names of their rosters this week.

Mako Denies Taking Money For Exhibition

Laughs off Reports He And Budge Asked To Be Paid

LOS ANGELES, April 12 (AP)—Gene Mako, tennis partner of Donald Budge, laughed off published reports tonight that he and the famed Oakland red-head "demanded 20 pounds" before appearing in an exhibition match in Auckland, New Zealand, several weeks ago.

Budge and Mako, en route to the United States after a tour of Australia, spent one day in Auckland.

"Sure, they gave us 20 apiece, but we didn't demand it," Mako declared. "We'd have played whether they gave it to us or not."

The Los Angeles Times reprinted a different version of the incident, as published by the New Zealand Sportsman.

"In a radiogram from Budge on an American liner, the world tennis champion demanded 20 pounds each for himself and Gene Mako. The cable left no doubt that they would not fulfill their advertised appearance in Auckland unless they were paid."

Budge could not be reached for comment tonight.

DI MAG SAYS NO Will Not Sign Unless He Gets Raise

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12 (AP)—Joe Di Maggio reiterated today he would "not budge from here" until the Yankees "upped" his baseball contract from $25,000.

To the suggestion he sign with the promise of a bonus of $2,500 or so predicated on a good season, the San Francisco restaurateur declared:

"I don't want a bonus. I just want an increase."

The deadline for Di Maggio's departure by train is tomorrow night if he intends to be in Boston for the opener April 18. He has insisted he will not travel by air.

Touring Iowans Drop 2nd Straight Game On Road Trip

JACKSON, Miss., April 12 (Special To The Daily Iowan)—Millsaps college made it a two-game sweep of its series with the University of Iowa Hawkeyes here today, scoring all its runs in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings and winning, 4-2.

Matt Faber was on the mound for the Iowans for the entire game and had the home team well under control until the late stanzas. He struck out eight men and didn't give up a single base on balls. The Hawkeyes led 2-1 until the seventh.

Kantor Gets Two

Selman, the Millsaps pitcher, gave the Hawks only five safe blows and kept them scoreless in eight of the nine innings. Only one of the blows was good for extra bases, Andy Kantor connecting for a triple. Kantor also had a single to his credit.

Hawkeye errors again proved costly to the Iowa team's cause. Three miscues in today's game brought the Vogelmen's total to eight for the two games.

Frosh Practice Outside Again

Coach 'Pops' Harrison Has Squad of 40 Candidates

After a week's layoff due to bad weather, the freshman baseball squad returned to practice yesterday and was put through a strenuous session of infield drill and batting practice under the direction of Coach "Pops" Harrison. Most attention is being given to form and fundamentals with the infielders getting the bulk of the early season workouts.

The squad of about 40 men includes: catchers: Carl Pokken, Kingsley, Owen Blehrud, Iowa City; Tom Locker, Des Moines, and Francis Noll, Arthur; pitchers: Edward Beisser, Des Moines; W. W. Hamstreet, Tipton; John Kemp, Mapleton; Edwin Prizler, Iowa City; C. L. Robinson, Sergeant Bluff; O. M. Wickes, Pomeroy; Elmer Berg, Rockwell City, and Robert Blaylock, Osceola.

Infielders: Don Ahlf, Muscatine; Angie Anapol, Chicago, Ill.; Ralph Appleby, Eldon; Lowell Baker, Sharpsburg; William Boshart, Wayland; Harry Bulow, Clinton; Forrester Carlson, Des Moines; Quentin DeNio, Cedar Rapids; Rex Harrington, Maquoket; Frank Kocur, Slater; Sid London, Merville; Kermit Ruppenkamp, Garwin; Ralph Arnold, St. Louis, Mo., and Richard Klingler, Cedar Rapids.

Utility Men: Morrie Rosenberg, New York, N. Y.; Max Groves, Eagle Grove, and Dan Larzelere, Buffalo, N. Y.

Men showing greatest possibilities, Harrison said yesterday, are Harrington, first base; Klingler, second base; Bulow, third base; London, short-stop; Kocur, short-stop; Kemp, Hamstreet and Schommer, pitchers; Smith and Kopp, outfielders, and Hankin, catcher.

Iowa City Hostesses Entertain For Sherman M. Woodward

Former City Residents Are Visitors At Root Home

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman M. Woodward of Knoxville, Tenn., and their daughters, Mary and Sarah, are being entertained at several parties during their visit in town. The Woodwards and Sarah are visiting Prof. and Mrs. Winfred Root, 214 Church street, and Mary is a guest at the C. W. Keyser home, 128 E. Fairchild street.

The visitors were formerly residents of Iowa City for several years. Mr. Woodward, now chief engineer of the water planning division of the TVA, was formerly head of the university mechanics and hydraulics department.

Last night Mr. and Mrs. Woodward were the guests of honor at a formal dinner party given by Dr. and Mrs. Everett Plass in their home, 407 Melrose avenue. Mrs. Plass used a variety of flowers to decorate her table. Bridge was played during the evening.

Other guests at the party were Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Plant, Dr. and Mrs. H. Dabney Kerr, Prof. and Mrs. Edward Bartow, Professor and Mrs. Root and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cox.

As their parents were entertained last night at the Plass home, Mary and Sarah Woodward were guests of honor at a bridge party given by Betty Keyser.

Miss Keyser's other guests were Mary Caroline Kuever, Dorothy Keppeler, Ruth Plass, Jean Livingston, Mary Lambert, Jean Taylor, Barbara Kent, Dorothy Jane Welt and Shirley Hegg.

Saturday morning Miss Plass will entertain in Mary's honor at a breakfast in her home. Her guests will be girls who were schoolmates for eight years during the time the Woodwards lived in Iowa City.

The visitors expect to be in town until the coming week end.

Governor Day To Be May 14 Dailey Reports

Military Department's Pageant to Honor Gov. Kraschel

Governor's day, annual spring pageant of the military department, has been scheduled for May 14, with Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel and other state officials as guests, Col. George F. N. Dailey, professor of military science and tactics, announced yesterday.

This will mark the 57th year that this affair has climaxed the activities of the department and ranks second to commencement among old university ceremonies.

A feature of the program will be the regimental review in which more than 1,400 R.O.T.C. members will pass in review before the governor and state officials. This will take place on the parade ground between the fieldhouse and the stadium at 10 a.m. Awards for proficiency in various kinds of military work will be made just before the "pass in review" order is given.

A reception and luncheon in honor of Governor Kraschel and attended by approximately 500 guests will be held at noon in Iowa Union.

Included among the guests will be the governor's staff, Iowa executive officials, United States senators and representatives from Iowa, members of the state supreme court, state senators, the speaker of the house of representatives, members of the board of education and university executives.

'Iowa City in the Spring'

Sports and Outings Galore Await Funsters Stimulated by the Weather

pleased with the weather, the trip and spring in general. The river is dotted with canoes each day spring pays another visit.

If there's a better way to spend a warm afternoon than paddling up the river in a canoe, Jane Myers, A3 of Marshalltown, and Richard Clay, G of Birmingham, Ala., aren't aware of it. When the camera caught them in front of the fine arts building as they were coming in from an hour's trip they seemed well

The thermometer is going up by degrees, the air is balmy and to judge from the smiles, their wearers are congratulating themselves on living in Iowa City in the spring.

Golfers are beginning to swing clubs, swimmers are turning their thoughts quarry-ward and bicycles are a common item on the roads.

One of the favorite pastimes on warm days is to canoe up the river and drift placidly back down. The girls wear sport dresses or if they come from class, skirts and sweaters, flat-heeled shoes and something to keep the hair in place.

Later in the season there are sun-burn enthusiasts who canoe in shorts and halters. A trip up the river is lots of fun if you take a lunch with you and stop off at one of the wooded parts to eat in comfort.

Golf, of course, plays a large part in the sports field. Golf shoes, a sweater and skirt and a hat with a brim to shade your eyes—and you are ready to make a hole in one.

Picnicking is always a good source of fun; all you need is a hungry crowd, a tasty lunch and someone who can build a fire. Wienies and buns are the usual food items; that's why it's so special to have steaks over a blazing fire.

Potato salad of all varieties, potato chips, olives and marshmallows to roast are other stand-bys. If you want to do something a little different, try angels on horseback. This picnic special consists of cheese wrapped with bacon and toasted on a stick until the bacon is done to a nice crisp. Place the angel in a bun spread with mayonnaise and butter and you have a delicacy fit for its name.

The best guess for clothes at a picnic is any old skirt, a shirt-waist or a sweater, anklets or sturdy stockings and comfortable walking shoes. Be sure that nothing you wear will ruin easily and then throw clothes — consciousness to the winds for the day.

For enthusiasts with lots of energy to work off, who like their sports active, tennis is the ticket. The courts are always full of players garbed in light colors who are having the time of their lives.

Badminton players are also enthusiastic in the spring. As a costume rule for this sport, remember that anything that you wear to play tennis will be suitable for wear when you bat the birds around.

If you are looking for sports that require little equipment and almost no special skill, try hiking and roller skating. A good skate as dusk is falling is cooling and gives one a free, exhilarated feeling.

Hiking, like picnicking, has the prerequisite of a lunch. A knapsack that straps over the shoulder is a good thing to have on hand if you do it very often. Slacks, shorts or culottes are the correct costume for tramping, and high-top boots are a recommended piece of clothing.

For bicycling, wear shorts; they don't get tangled up in the chain as frequently as slacks. Bicycling in a large party is grand if you can round up enough bikes for everybody. Bicycling or canoeing, peddling or paddling, it's spring and sports time.

Iowa Clinical Medical Group To Meet Here

More than 50 Iowa physicians will attend a meeting of the Iowa Clinical Medical Society here Saturday. The society will hold sessions at the Jefferson hotel and in the medical amphitheater of University hospital.

Dr. W. M. Fowler of the college of medicine will act as chairman at the morning session in the medical amphitheater. There will be case presentations from the pediatrics, dermatology, neurology and medicine departments.

Dr. Aldis A. Johnson of Council Bluffs, president of the society, will preside at a 1 o'clock luncheon meeting at the Jefferson hotel. A program will include speeches by Dr. D. J. Glomset of Des Moines, Dr. A. D. Woods of State Center and Dr. H. P. Smith and Dr. A. E. Feller, both of the college of medicine. Following the program a business meeting will be held.

60,000 Students To Take Tests In Competition

More than 325 schools will enter at least two contestants each in the 10th annual scholarship contest sponsored by the University of Iowa June 6 and 7.

About 60,000 scholars will take "every pupil" tests May 9 and 10 to determine the qualifiers for the scholarship test. The contestants in the final test will compete in 11 subjects, and from 60 to 70 students are expected to be eligible in each subject, making the total about 1,100.

Dr. Sudhindra Bose Has Article About Masaryk Published

Dr. Sudhindra Bose of the political science department is the author of an article entitled "Masaryk — The President Liberator" which appears in a recent issue of the publication, the Modern Review. The article was written in commemoration of Dr. T. G. Masaryk, one time Czech President, who died recently.

Dr. Masaryk wrote the Czech Declaration of Independence and modeled the government of his native land in large part after the American, Dr. Bose writes. His wife was an American girl whom he met while studying at the University of Leipzig. His son, now the Czechoslovakian ambassador to London, also married an American.

For a time, Dr. Masaryk was a professional lecturer at the University of Chicago and his daughter, Alice, was a resident of Hull house, famous Chicago settlement house.

Born the son of a coachman and apprenticed to a blacksmith, Thomas Garrigue Masaryk rose to both academic and political distinction in fairly early life, and today is known as the father of his country, Dr. Bose describes.

Starr Yelland Finds Ping-Pong Matches Fast, Exciting Sport

"Seeing the world on a ping-pong ball—and I might add, it's a good way to see it, too." With these words, Starr Yelland, former WSUI announcer and university alumnus, bid Iowa City goodbye after a week end visit with Sigma Chi fraternity brothers.

It's "back on the road" for him, back to traveling around with Stevens and Clark, famous table tennis playing team. Where does Starr come in? As announcer and master of ceremonies for the team as they play in floor shows of clubs and hotel room rooms.

"Sounds like mild sport up here," explains Starr. "And it is compared to the way it's played by the team." For Coleman Clark, is former national champ, and Mark Stevens, his opponent in the games, is a worthy match. When they go to battle, it becomes a full-fledged sport.

"You'd think so if you were behind the mike," he added, "trying to keep up a running description and calling the points, when you can hardly see the ball bouncing back and forth. It makes basketball and football look sick for speed."

Mickelson made the following statement yesterday about the plans of the council, "It is only through the cooperation of all campus groups that this movement is possible. Recognizing the fact that there are many forces at work in the United States today that could drive us to war, let those of us who would fight in that war show our determination to maintain peace."

The next meeting of the Iowa peace council will be April 20 at 4 p.m. in the north conference room of the Iowa Union.

Daykin Names Job Requisites

Will Give Merit Exams For Positions On Commission

Merit examinations for positions in the Iowa unemployment compensation commission for next year were announced yesterday by Prof. Walter L. Daykin, of the college of commerce, supervisor of examinations.

All positions in this organization are open to both men and women with no specified age limits. Minimum requirements of experience and education vary in accordance with the responsibilities and duties of the position applied for. The general requirement is that the applicants must have had a background of full-time, paid employment in work which has been of the same nature as that for which they are applying.

In addition they must have been legal residents of Iowa and citizens of the United States for at least two years. Applicants who meet these specifications will receive an admission card to the written test. Those rejected will also be notified.

Individuals who are interested may apply by card or letter requesting information concerning the type of position in which they are interested and necessary materials for application. The applications completely filled out must be postmarked not later than midnight of May 6 and addressed to Professor Daykin's office, room 309A, University hall.

Receives Judgment

Dr. George H. Scanlon, 220 Lexington avenue, was given a $109.50 judgment against Leo J. Knepper, Escavac, by Judge Harold D. Evans. The money was claimed to be due on a promissory note.

year was slow in comparison, he said. After graduating from the University of Iowa last June with a B.A. degree and a certificate in journalism, Starr announced at WMT before he began traveling with Stevens and Clark.

While in Chicago, Ill., he joined the team with two days before the first match. "It was a nightmare, to put it mildly," recalled Starr. "For a week it was ping pong balls wherever I looked—even in my dreams. But after a while they became almost a habit."

So far the team has traveled in the south, with most matches in Texas. How does Starr like the south? "It's swell." Southern hospitality, he says, is more than just part of a song.

Bartow Returns From Meeting

Prof. Edward Bartow, head of the chemistry department, has returned from the 30th annual meeting of the Illinois section of American Water Works association, at Decatur, Ill.

Professor Bartow was one of the founders and secretary for many years of the Illinois section. Twenty-three of the 26 living past presidents were present.

New Books

Twenty-five new books have been added to the University libraries. They are "Famous American Athletes of Today," Leroy Atkinson; "The Proletariat," Goetz A. Briefs; "Masters of Russian Music," Michel D. Calvocoressi; "The Man Who Was Chesterton," Gilbert Keith Chesterton.

"After the Genteel Tradition," Malcolm Cowley; "British Policy in Kenya Colony," Marjorie Ruth Dilley; "Famous Leaders in Industry;" "The Renaissance," Frantz Funck-Brentano; "Inspired Amateurs," Kevin Guinagh; "William Shenstone," A. R. Humphreys; "Christianity, Capitalism and Communism," Albert Hyma.

Union Board and Publication Elections Changed to May 12

Move Filing Deadline On Board of Trustees To April 28

The election date for members of the board of trustees of Student Publications, Inc., and liberal arts representatives of the Union Board has been changed from April 28 to May 12, it was announced yesterday.

The deadline for filing applications for membership on the board of trustees has also been moved forward from tomorrow to April 28. The deadline for Union Board is still Friday.

All university students will be eligible to vote for three members to serve on the board of trustees — two serving two-year terms and one serving for one year. Only liberal arts students may vote for the three men and women to be elected to Union Board. Separate elections will be held for Union Board representatives from other colleges.

Each candidate for membership on the student publications board must be nominated by a petition signed by not less than 25 students enrolled in the college in which he is registered.

The petitions should be filed with Loie M. Randall, secretary of the board of trustees of Student Publications, Inc., room 101, journalism building.

Each student wishing to run for membership on Union Board must file his intention at the Union desk Friday, if he is a liberal arts student, or with the dean of his college if he is enrolled in one of the other colleges.

Students who are eligible for the board of trustees must have 26 semester hours credit and must have a grade point average equal to that required for graduation. At the time of election, each student running shall have the same number of years to complete in the college in which he is registered as for which he is elected.

Upperclassmen having a sufficient number of points earned on sub-committees and a grade point average equal to that required for graduation are eligible for Union Board.

The Hippocratic oath is a pledge of professional ethics taken by graduates of medical schools.

Rev. John T. Stone Delivers Second Sermon of Holy Week

Pastor Reveals Man's Religion Needs Mystery

Seminary Head Says Mysticism of God All Important

Vividly portraying the mystery of God as the Creator of imagination and the inspirer of vision, the Rev. John Timothy Stone, president of the Presbyterian Theological seminary in Chicago, delivered the second sermon in the interdenominational Holy week services last night at the First Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Mr. Stone dealt with the importance of mystery in religious faith. He spoke of those who believe that religion isn't as forefetched because God cannot be analyzed and because religious philosophy is not clear.

"The very mystery of life creates the romance of life," the Rev. Mr. Stone remarked, "and what would romance be if it could be defined?"

The Rev. Mr. Stone stressed the fact that mystery is the mother of inquiry and the developer of science. He pointed out that only through ignorance of actual truth can one be stimulated to discover truth, and that only when one cannot see and understand the deep-seated principles of religious philosophy is there an incentive to the imagination.

"Heathenism," he said, "is without vision. It is the mystery of God that inspires that vision." The speaker illustrated the mystery which adds beauty to life, using, among other examples, that of the French artist Carot, whose masterpieces were mysterious and therefore stimulating.

"The mystery of God," the Rev. Mr. Stone said, "results in victory." He spoke of the significance of the events of Holy week, and of the importance to our religious philosophy that the crucifixion of Christ, His resurrection, and Christ himself are shrouded with the mystery which stimulates imagination and fosters vision—the attributes of the Christian faith.

The Rev. Caspar C. Garrigues, pastor of the Christian church, presided at the service. Donald R. Mallett, director of the university housing service, sang the offertory solo. Mrs. C. B. Righter furnished the organ background to the service.

The Rev. Mr. Stone has been president of the Presbyterian Theological seminary in Chicago for the past 10 years. He is a graduate of Amhurst and Auburn Theological seminaries.

Banquet Continues Holy Week Services

A banquet for junior high and high school students at 6 o'clock this evening in the Methodist Episcopal church will continue the Holy week services.

The Rev. Harold Bosely from Iowa State Teachers college will speak on "Youth Faces the World" at the meeting.

Special Holy week services will be held by a number of churches tomorrow night.

The interdenominational Good Friday service will be held at noon Friday in the Englert theater, with the Rev. Glenn Rowley of Mt. Vernon, superintendent of the Davenport district of the Methodist Episcopal church as the speaker.

Surgeon Will Visit Regiment

Col. John R. Hall, assistant surgeon of the 7th corps area, will pay his official visit of federal inspection to Company G, 136th medical regiment of the national guard at 8 p.m. April 20—one week from today.

The present activities of Company G are by way of preparation for the federal inspector's visit. Next week's meeting of Company G will be held on Wednesday, rather than Tuesday.

Lieut. Col. J. J. Hinman Jr., a 34th divisional chemical warfare officer, continued his instruction of the use of the gas mask in chemical warfare at last night's meeting of Company G. Lieutenant Colonel Hinman instructed one section of the company, while the other participated in rolling packs and displaying equipment.

All 57 officers of Company G, and 57 of the 61 enlisted men were present at last night's meeting.

The fire, started by smoldering brush, was extinguished before any material damage was done.

Political Housecleaning Attorney Blames Roosevelt, Congressmen For 'Economic Mess'

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12 (AP)—John Francis Neylan blamed President Roosevelt and congress today for getting the country into "the worst economic mess in all history" and implored voters to clean the nation's political house.

Neylan, prominent San Francisco attorney, attacked the administration in an address before the San Francisco bond club.

He denounced the president's economic policies, said he received "grants of arbitrary and dictatorial power" from a "cowardly congress" and appealed to citizens to "examine the record of every congressman and senator who comes up for reelection."

"If he is one of those creatures who took an oath as a senator or congressman, and then voted away the powers of congress and senator for the crazy-quilt legislation and taxing schemes which have hamstringed the country, do not trust him."

Jack Coogan Files Suit Against Mother, Stepfather for Earnings as Child Star

LOS ANGELES, April 12 (AP)—Jackie Coogan asserted today that during the Santa Anita racing season he sat in the dollar seats and made $2 bets, while his stepfather, Arthur L. Bernstein, sat in the clubhouse "with the rich people" and made $100 bets.

He was discussing the suit he has filed against his mother and Bernstein demanding they turn over $4,000,000 he said he made while a child film star.

"All I know is that I earned millions of dollars and don't have anything now," Coogan said, "while my stepfather is rolling in wealth."

"Two times last winter I went to the Santa Anita race track and sat in the dollar seats, but I could look up and see my stepfather in the clubhouse with the rich people."

"I made my bets at the $2 window and he was making his bets at the $100 window. That's how it has been with everything else."

Coogan, now 23 and married to Betty Grable, film actress, filed his suit yesterday, quoting his mother as saying "It's all mine and Arthur's, and so far as we are concerned you will never get a cent."

"I am deeply hurt by Jackie's actions," Mrs. Bernstein said. "He and I have always been so close and there never was any trouble between us. I am sure he has been misguided by outside influence."

"He says he has nothing and that I refused to give him any part of the estate. No promises were ever made to give him anything."

Through his lawyer, Charles J. Katz, Bernstein said: "All of these charges are absurd. The young man is suffering from hallucinations. He has received every cent he is lawfully entitled to, and a great deal in excess of that."

But for the first 10 days, as a member of the recruiting and reception company, he will live in solitude, save for brief exercise periods, meals and the interviews.

Along about October, Lawes said, Whitney ought to be fairly well adjusted and won't mind the prison routine so much.

For the first two weeks he may have no visitors. After that close relatives may visit him, he may receive and send mail which will be censored, and may spend $3 a week. His pay in prison may vary from 5 cents 30.

"I put men in that cell block only because I have to," Warden Lawes said. "The block was condemned 25 years ago. Two years ago money was appropriated for its demolition and $750,000 was appropriated for a new cell block. This money was later turned over to the world's fair."

When Whitney was questioned as his pedigree was taken he smiled once. That was when he was asked if he could read and write.

"To what do you attribute your criminal actions?" he was asked. "I have no criminal intent," he answered.

No Dictators In U. S. Declares Prof. Robeson

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP)—The treasury announced today they had arrested two men in connection with an attempt to smuggle opium into the United States from the navy transport Chaumont.

Treasury agents said that in cooperation with California officers, they also had under questioning a woman companion of one of the prisoners. They said a woman customs inspector found a large sum of money, in $500 and $100 bills, pinned to the woman's underclothes, and quoted the woman as saying the bills were intended to pay for the narcotics.

Eighty-one tins of smoking opium were seized on the Chaumont when she docked at San Francisco after a trip from China, Hawaii and Honolulu.

Plato's republic was not under a dictatorship for if we were Roosevelt's reorganization plans would already be a reality," Prof. George F. Robeson of the political science department declared last night in an English lecture on "Plato's Republic and the Totalitarian State."

He explained this statement by saying he did not mean that if the bill had gone through we would be under a dictatorship but rather if we were under dictatorship the bill would have been "mutely passed by congress." Bills always go through with a dictator.

Continuing his proof of non-dictatorship in the United States by showing what conditions would be under one man rule he declared that congress, if there was one, would be called by Roosevelt whenever he chose and would always vote "yes."

"It probably would be composed of henchmen chosen by Farley," he added. "Political parties would be forcibly suppressed. Landon would be in Alcatraz and Hamilton would rule the republican party from Mexico. Senator Borah and Al Smith would probably be shot. Father Coughlin would no longer be on the air but would be given the air."

Professor Robeson compared fascism to a pyramid standing on its apex.

"No real democracy whatever its faults has ever given away to fascism. Fascism is barren of promise and has nothing for France, Britain or America to imitate," said the university man.

Plato's republic was a description of the ideal republic and was written in criticism of the government of his day. He believed only the best should rule, harmony between the classes, universal education, women as capable as men and complete equality to go to the top.

Tyranny or fascism was the lowest in Plato's ranking of types of governments.

We Don't Know How Much To Eat, Club Told

"We know about nothing as to quantities a human being should eat," said Dr. Amy Daniels of the child welfare research station when she addressed members of the Child Conservation club yesterday at 2:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. A. J. Pudgil, 23 Olive court.

"We have just started experimenting on individuals and we have been experimenting with animals for nearly 30 years," she continued.

Announcement was made at the meeting that the annual husband's dinner of the club will be April 26 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Burdick in North Liberty. The committee in charge of the dinner includes Mrs. Harold McCarty, Mrs. Bradley Davis, Mrs. H. A. McMaster and Mrs. Ellis Crawford.

Dr. Daniels declared in her talk that too many mothers feed their children what they were fed by their mothers when they were young, not realizing that changes have been made in diet.

"There is a psychological side to feeding children," she continued. She explained that when a child eats a food regularly and then declares one day that he dislikes it, the child has evidently tasted the article of food when it was spoiled and thinks from then on that that is how the food is going to taste.

"Children eat too much candy," she warned. She advised that all mothers feed their children more protein and fruits.

Dr. Daniels explained to the club members how she has conducted experiments with children to determine what kind and quantities of food they should have.

Assistant hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Owen Thiel, Mrs. Elza Means and Mrs. Ernest Bright.

Traffic School Will Meet For Eighth Session

Browning Will Discuss 'Accidents Between Intersections'

"Accidents Between Intersections" will be discussed by Staten Browning, editor of The Daily Iowan, at the eighth session of the Iowa City traffic school at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the city council chambers.

Six major problems of accidents between intersections will be given consideration. Charts showing drivers' errors leading to such accidents will be used to illustrate the points considered.

Parts of the Iowa traffic code which apply to driving between intersections will be discussed by Police Judge Burke N. Carson. The audience may ask questions.

Fifty-four persons are enrolled in the course. Twenty-two are traffic violators sentenced to the school in lieu of paying fines.

All interested persons are invited to attend the sessions, whether enrolled or not. Persons who enroll and attend part of the sessions the first term may complete the course during the second 11-week term.

Petition Seeks $1,000 Damage

Damages of $1,000 are asked by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Roberts from Charles A. Louck and Delia Louck, 908 Webster street, in a petition filed yesterday for the May term court. The petition alleges the Loucks broke a lease on a farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts claim to have leased a farm from the defendants for occupancy March 1, but another person was in possession of the farm and refused to move.

The delay in tenure of the farm caused them damage to stock and crops, the Roberts' petition claims.

To Hold Wachs Funeral Service At Zion Church

Funeral service for Henry Wachs, 84, 929 Maiden lane, will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow in the Zion Lutheran church. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Wachs died early yesterday morning after a two-week illness. He was born in 1853 and came to Iowa City from Germany 55 years ago. He was a retired Rock Island lines' employe.

Surviving are the widow; one son, Fred, West Liberty, and six daughters, Mrs. Frank Boats, Mrs. Howard Ellis, Mrs. Ira Amer, Mrs. Max Stoner, Mrs. William Schindhelm and Anne Wachs, all of Iowa City.

New Stamps To Appear April 25

Postmaster Walter J. Barrow announced yesterday that the first of the new issue of the presidential series of postage stamps will go on sale in Washington, D. C., April 25.

The first issue will be one cent stamps bearing the portrait of George Washington. They will be green in color with the years he served as president, 1789 to 1797, beneath the picture.

Stamp collectors may send covers to the Washington, D. C., postmaster for first-day cancellations.

Executor Named

Charles B. Nutting was appointed executor of the will of Mrs. Eloise W. Nutting yesterday by Judge Harold D. Evans. He will serve without bond. Mrs. Nutting died March 30.

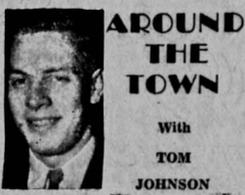

More Speed City Introduces New Parking Stalls

In an attempt to speed up Iowa City's parking turnover in the business district, two white stalls in each block on both sides of the street carrying a 15 minute parking limit are being painted under the supervision of Police Chief William H. Bender.

The two city workers are expected to finish the 36 stalls today, according to Chief Bender. The time limit holds good day and night, with the exception of Sunday, he said.

"This innovation is an attempt to take care of the short-time shoppers, and thus relieve double parking congestion and needless cruising about the block looking for a parking space," the chief said.

Chief Bender warned motorists that with the short-time parking spaces available there will be little lenience shown in double parking cases brought before the police court.

AROUND THE TOWN

With TOM JOHNSON

Another Fad?
Every spring brings a new fad... Each lasts a season... is replaced. Wasn't it "knock knocks" last year? I forget.

Latest seems to be Golliwoggs, and if you're interested, read on... "Do you want good luck in passing exams? Do you want good luck for your team? Do you want good luck on your next date? Then, Golliwoggs will help you."

Such is the propaganda sweeping the Iowa campus.

Golly!
It's obvious that every student would not object if Golliwoggs could fulfill its boasts. The question is, "Can it?"

If it can, Golliwoggs will be a success... the fad of the season. If it cannot, Golliwoggs will be a flop. At any rate, it will probably be forgotten next spring.

Official Confirmation
Shortly after F. D. R. announced he had no intention of becoming a dictator, the statement was confirmed by congress...

At least one congressional action the president will approve, though, is the date for adjournment!

Camera Cannot Lie
For printing accurate, instructive, essential pictures of real life, the publisher of "Life" now awaits service of a warrant of arrest... "Obscene literature," the warrant charges...

"I'll grant that the pictures were anything but esthetic, nothing more. Publisher Roy Larsen, I'm predicting, will go scot free if the charge is pressed..."

Changes Environment
For misusing securities, Richard Whitney, former president of the New York Stock exchange, entered Sing Sing yesterday to serve a five to 10 year sentence.

He'll be eligible for a parole in three years four months...

The question now is "How long will he be in prison?" There have been instances, you know, where influential persons have not fulfilled their sentences...

Chop Chop
At that, Whitney should consider himself lucky. The offense occurred in America.

In China, if the legend still holds, bankers are beheaded for failing to keep the books straight.

R. Jones Collects $1,090.35 for Fees, 1st Quarter 1938

Fees amounting to $1,090.35 were collected by County Recorder R. J. Jones during the first quarter of 1938, according to a report filed yesterday with County Auditor Ed Sulek.

The fees listed were for recording deeds, $159; real estate mortgages, $302.20; chattel mortgages, $422.75; releases, $79.55; dangerous weapon permit, $2, and other fees, $124.85.

Firemen Put Out Blaze at Rivera

Firemen extinguished a blaze at Rivera roadhouse south of town yesterday at 11:20 a.m. The fire started in the basement and burned a small hole in the floor of the building.

The origin of the blaze was not known, but firemen expressed the belief that a pile of straw might have been accidentally ignited.

160 Rural 8th Grade Pupils to Take State Tests on May 5, 6

State examinations will be given approximately 160 Johnson county eighth grade rural pupils May 5 and 6, according to F. J. Snider, county superintendent.

It has not been decided whether to hold the tests at the courthouse or at individual schools.

The majority of county schools will close shortly after the examination date. A number of schools will finish the school year within the next two weeks.

Boy Scouts to Go On Overnight Camp

Troop 2 of Longfellow school will go on an overnight camp tomorrow to the Rotary club Boy Scout reservation camp, four and one-half miles west of Iowa City on U. S. highway 6, Scout Executive Owen E. Thiel said yesterday.

Parking Meter Representatives, Bender, Businessmen Confer

Iowa Citizens Express Interest in Meter Parking Idea

Representatives of a parking meter company met with Police Chief William H. Bender and several Iowa City businessmen yesterday to discuss the possibility of installing the meters in Iowa City.

The businessmen expressed their interest in the meter system of parking, stating that it was entirely possible that local merchants generally would endorse the plan, and submit a petition to the city council.

Pointing out that Iowa City, with a population of 15,000, has a traffic problem comparable to a town of 30,000, one of the representatives said that in cities installing the parking meter system the traffic turnover was accelerated 20 to 25 per cent. This means an opportunity for more people to park in the business section during the day.

Traffic congestion surveys show that Iowa City's business district is one of the most congested in the state regardless of the size of the city. This is due, it is believed, to the great number of student cars, and the motorists brought in by university activities.

The nickel-in-the-slot parking meters could be set on a time basis varying with the amount of congestion in the block. The motorist deposits a nickel in, let us say, a half-hour zone. At the end of the period the dial on the meter shows red, and a passing patrolman has use for his ticket book.

In towns now utilizing the system, the city treasurer has charge of all meter collections, collecting the nickels periodically. No one else has access to the money box which is behind two locks within the box.

Chief Bender believed the plan would work out and "would do much to alleviate the congestion and double parking in the business district." He said that under the present system a motorist must cruise around and around the block until a parking space opens up. This causes more congestion and also wastes gasoline, he said.

The meter company is willing to install the machines for a one month's trial without any cost to the city, and will sign a bond to remove the meters if they are not desired at the end of that period.

The meters are made of stainless steel and are mounted on steel alloyed posts at each stall. They are impervious to weather conditions, it was said.

Many cities throughout the country are turning to the meter system as a solution to the parking problem, among them Omaha, Neb., Oklahoma City, Okla., and Dallas, Tex.

Marijuana Sold in Iowa City?

'Yes-But the Traffic Causes Less Trouble Than In Other Towns'-Bender

By LUTHER BOWERS

Marijuana! "I personally know that some is being sold in Iowa City," said Police Chief William H. Bender in discussing the marijuana traffic which is sweeping the country today.

He went on to say, "Marijuana has not caused the trouble in Iowa City that it has in many towns of the same size - particularly college towns."

The first marijuana arrest in this state was made in Iowa City last December. The man was caught by state and federal agents - on a tip from the local police - selling the drug to high school and college students from a "headquarters" up in the north end of the city.

Chief Bender reminded Iowa Citizens that under the new federal law it is illegal to grow, transport, sell or have on one's person marijuana. Violation of this law is punishable by a jail sentence of from 20 months to five years with or without a $2,000 fine. The fine is left to the discretion of the judge but the jail sentence is mandatory.

Even though a person may not be aware that the weed is growing on his property, he is still liable to a fine, Bender said. A state law was passed last year with essentially the same provisions as the federal act.

Bender spoke of a field of 40 acres of marijuana outside his jurisdiction which the owner will be told to destroy. "Highway maintainers have been authorized to destroy the weed when they find it along the roadside," he said.

The United States Bureau of Narcotics has described the effects of the drug: "While its effects are variable with different individuals, it usually produces first an exaltation with a feeling of well-being, a happy, jovial mood, and an increased feeling of physical strength.

"There is also a stimulation of the imagination followed by a more or less delirious state characterized by vivid kaleidoscopic visions, sometimes of a pleasing or sensual kind, but occasionally of a gruesome nature."

The report went on to say that the greatest effect of the drug is on the mind, which seems to lose the power of directing and controlling thought. "Its continued use produces pronounced mental deterioration in many cases."

Chief Bender described the plant as being found usually in patches and growing to about five feet in height. It flowers out into six to nine petals with saw-tooth edges leaning forward. Bender said that dealers in this drug sometimes have it grown in the center of large corn fields where it is hidden from view. The weed is cut and carted away at night and peddled throughout the country by the same methods used with other dope.

"I recommend that people having bird seed about the house burn it - don't throw it out," said Chief Bender. He pointed out that many brands of bird seed have the seed of the marijuana weed in the mixture. The weed is often spread in this manner, he said.

People at first criticized any publicity given to the marijuana scourge, but Chief Bender fully believes that the way to attack the problem is through publicity. Educate the public to the evils and dire consequences of using marijuana, and the spread of its use will be checked, he believes.

Rev. C. Sherck To Officiate At Peach Funeral

Private funeral service for Frank Peach, 67, 613 N. Van Buren street, will be at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Hohenschuh mortuary. The Rev. C. Rollin Sherck will officiate. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Peach, a life resident of Iowa City, died late Monday night at his home. He was a Rock Island Lines' employe for 19 years.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. George Grissel, Iowa City, and a nephew, Edward Peach, San Francisco, Cal.

Mrs. Patterson Of Memphis, Mo., Dies in Iowa City

The body of Mrs. Anne Patterson, 55, who died Monday while visiting her sister, Mrs. Cordelia Whaley, 219 E. College street, was shipped to her home in Memphis, Mo., last night.

Mrs. Patterson had been visiting here for the last few months. In addition to a sister, a daughter survives.

Arrangements were made by the McGovern funeral home.

Judge Takes Under Advisement Rose's Appeal of Decision

Judge Harold D. Evans yesterday took under advisement the appeal of D. A. Rose, 914 Highwood street, from the decision of the Oxford board of assessment and review which refused to lower the assessment on his property in Oxford.

Rose claimed the assessed valuation of his property was raised from $4,750 to $5,000 in 1937 by the city assessors.

Gold Watch, Mother's Gift

Judge Gaffney Gets Watch Made Between 1815-25 in England

By BUD CARTER
A hand engraved gold watch, more than 110 years old, was presented to Judge James P. Gaffney last week by his mother, Mrs. Bridget Grimes Gaffney. The watch has been in the Grimes family for 92 years, the judge said. It was purchased by the judge's grandfather, Philip Grimes, when he was 17, and has remained in the family since then.

"I have checked its time every morning for a week, and it hasn't been wrong yet," the judge said. The watch, which is larger than those manufactured today, was made entirely by hand.

The case is solid gold, and the figures upon it are hand engraved. The back opens to expose the two openings through which a key is inserted to wind or set the watch.

The crystal of the watch is nearly an eighth of an inch thick. The Roman figures indicating the hours are raised in gold on the watch face.

H. L. Hands, Iowa City jeweler, whose grandfather made watches in Coventry, England, more than a century ago, received word yesterday from Donald McNeil, associate editor of the Jewelers' Circular-Keystone, that the watch was made by M. I. Tobias in Liverpool, England, sometime between 1815 and 1825.

Hands said the watch was an early English lever type. "The English watchmakers desired to put out a watch of the highest quality and beauty and used the lever escapement, but the Swiss watchmakers of that time, striving for sales, used a cylinder escapement," he said.

The round-table discussion for activity committee members and scout leaders, originally scheduled for tomorrow night, has been postponed to April 21 and will be held at the Rotary club Boy Scout reservation camp, Scout Executive Owen B. Thiel said yesterday.

The purpose of the meeting is to make final plans for the Boy Scout field meet to be held in June, Thiel said.

O. Thiel Announces Change in Date For Discussion by Group

The round-table discussion for activity committee members and scout leaders, originally scheduled for tomorrow night, has been postponed to April 21 and will be held at the Rotary club Boy Scout reservation camp, Scout Executive Owen B. Thiel said yesterday.

The purpose of the meeting is to make final plans for the Boy Scout field meet to be held in June, Thiel said.

H. Altorfer Records Candidacy Affidavits

Herman Altorfer, 819 Third avenue, democrat, filed affidavits of candidacy for nomination as Iowa City constable at the June 6 primaries with County Auditor Ed Sulek yesterday.

Evans to Rule On Bond Case

To Decide if Judgment Shall Be Entered Against Scalise

Judge Harold D. Evans will determine at 10 a.m. Monday if judgment shall be entered against T. J. Scalise, Des Moines, who signed the $2,000 appearance bond of Sebastian Vinciguerra.

Vinciguerra subsequently failed to appear for trial on a charge of illegal transportation of liquor at the September, 1937, term of court.

County Attorney Harold W. Vestermark yesterday obtained an order from Judge Evans setting aside a previous court order which released Scalise as bondsman. A bond signed by Albert Ortale, Des Moines, was substituted for Scalise's bond, but Judge Evans ruled that the state law does not allow the release of a bond until the trial is held.

Judge James P. Gaffney entered judgment against Ortale during the last term of court. An appeal from this judgment has been made by Ortale to Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel because Vinciguerra is in Ft. Leavenworth penitentiary and is not able to appear in the Johnson county district court.

Carson Fines Two For Illegal Parking

J. G. Neighbor was fined $1 by Police Judge Burke N. Carson yesterday for parking his car in a prohibited zone. Mrs. Charles McNamara paid $1 for parking and blocking a private drive.
