Cooking School To Offer Movie

All Are Asked To Attend Free Motion Picture

'Star in My Kitchen' To Run May 3, 4, 5 At The Englert

The Daily Iowan is announcing today the presentation of its second annual cooking school, the new motion picture, "Star in My Kitchen," which will run at the Englert theater May 3, 4 and 5.

Every woman—and man—in the community is cordially invited to see the picture absolutely free. "Star in My Kitchen" is a humorous, romantic story which weaves intelligent lessons in cooking and home-making into its plot.

New Idea

The motion picture cooking school is a new idea, first conceived last year. It met with acclaim from Iowa Citians and from women throughout the country who like the combination of an entertaining story and close-up cooking instruction.

The picture provides possibilities for every woman to star in her own kitchen. It reveals in magnified dimensions on the screen every trick in frosting a cake, making a pie or cooking bananas. The cooking process is traced from flour barrel to oven.

Produced in Hollywood

"Star in My Kitchen" was produced in Hollywood, and Iowa Citians will recognize many of the rising young actors and actresses who play in it.

The motion picture cooking school has graduated beyond the demonstration course in the wide variety of household equipment it uses. All of the practical new tricks in work-saving devices are seen in active use.

New Methods

Experienced housekeepers will appreciate the adventures of young Dedee Abot, who suddenly finds herself with a large home to manage and several mouths to feed—as well as a handsome young movie actor to impress. They will learn cooking quirks even years of housekeeping haven't taught them as they enjoy their experiences.

What happens when she tries to make a fluffy lemon meringue pie or a marshmallow chocolate cake? What happens when the man of the hour drops in for dinner? To unravel the plot in advance would be to rob this clever tale of its novel approach.

Practical Ideas

Every listener will find practical ideas in the suggestions for more efficient home-making, covering such daily problems as laundry, refrigeration, up-to-date entertaining, beauty secrets and news of modernized home equipment.

It will be a real cooking class with all of the popular features of the old-time cooking school retained—free recipe sheets, hints on clever short-cuts, expert demonstration and the distribution of daily gifts and surprises.

Tickets

Free tickets to "Star in My Kitchen" may be obtained at The Daily Iowan office or from any of the following merchants:

R and S shoe store, Hands jewelry store, Kozia and McCollister meat market, Larewe plumbing and heating company, Aldous florists, Stillwell paint store, Iowa City plumbing and heating, Lenoch and Cilek hardware store, Checker electric supply incorporated, Means brothers grocery, Sears, Roebuck and company, Economy cash grocery, Yetter's dry goods store, Gadd hardware store and Wick's grocery.

Gandhi Predicts His Death During Year

BOMBAY, April 23 (AP)—Frail, despondent Mohandas K. Gandhi, who has led India's millions along the troublesome road toward political autonomy, has predicted his own early death.

"My days are numbered," the 68-year-old former Mahatma wrote in the newspaper Harijan. "I am not likely to live very long—perhaps a year or a little more."

MATCH THIS
Reports Robbery While Scantly Attired

PHILADELPHIA, April 23 (AP)—Two men stopped him to ask for a match, John Cunningham told police today, but they took his suit, shoes, shirt and tie as well.

A desk sergeant blinked when Cunningham, in union suit and socks walked into a police station and said:

"I want to report a robbery."

Police caught the pair.

Nazis Require Jewish Boycott

German Officials Begin Purge of Books In Library

VIENNA, April 23 (AP)—Jews in Vienna were forced today to picket their own stores.

Jewish shopkeepers were made to hold upwards at arm's length signs reading "Don't Buy From Jews."

In some instances they remained in this position 40 minutes or longer.

Draped about the necks of persons found in Jewish establishments were placards proclaiming: "This stupid, common person still purchases at Jewish stores."

Hundreds of SA (Brownshirt) Hitler youth directed the mass anti-Jewish boycott while German officials began a purge of the famed Austrian national library.

The chief librarian was supplied with a list of proscribed "non-Aryan" works to be removed and burned from the 1,200,000 volumes in the magnificent collection.

Officials seeking books outlawed by the Nazis visited a private Viennese collection.

Public bookshops already have conducted their own purge.

Destroyed or relegated to cellars were the works of Thomas Mann, Stefan Zweig, Jacob Wassermann, Vicki Baum and others.

In the picketing of Jewish stores, Nazis put up signs, warning, "Aryans, do not buy from Jews."

Windows of a leading coffee shop were smeared with three-foot red letters "Jew."

Spanish Court Sentences Four Men to Death

BARCELONA, April 23 (AP)—The secret court of espionage and high treason today sentenced four men to death—three of them soldiers charged with attempting to desert to France and the fourth a robber.

By special permission of the court, the Associated Press reporter was allowed to view the three-hour proceedings which were of increasing interest as the government pursued its campaign to clean up the rear guard.

Three women were tried on charges of aiding the deserters, but escaped death sentences. One of them, Teresa Veyo Sastré, 38, of Lerida, was given a 23-year prison term for housing and concealing deserters. The other two, clerks in the agricultural ministry, were ordered tried in lower court on lighter charges of disaffection toward the regime.

Free tickets to "Star in My Kitchen" may be obtained at The Daily Iowan office or from any of the following merchants:

R and S shoe store, Hands jewelry store, Kozia and McCollister meat market, Larewe plumbing and heating company, Aldous florists, Stillwell paint store, Iowa City plumbing and heating, Lenoch and Cilek hardware store, Checker electric supply incorporated, Means brothers grocery, Sears, Roebuck and company, Economy cash grocery, Yetter's dry goods store, Gadd hardware store and Wick's grocery.

Gandhi Predicts His Death During Year

BOMBAY, April 23 (AP)—A band of thieves who left no fingerprints entered a Kentish castle filled with sleeping weekend guests early today and carried away half a million dollars worth of paintings.

Five old masters—most precious of which was Rembrandt's portrait of his first wife, "Saskia at her Toilet"—were taken in the biggest British art haul of this century.

They belonged to Sir Edmund Davis, art collector and mining company director, who kept them in a ground floor gallery in his 17th century Chilham castle near Canterbury.

Emporia (Kan.) Gazette Publisher Honored By Metropolitan Journalists

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—William Allen White, the small town editor whose writings have brought laughter and tears to millions, was elected president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors today.

Newspapermen from the largest cities joined in honoring the 70-year-old proprietor of the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

White has edited the Gazette since 1895. Honored with degrees from several universities, and the author of humorous books and magazine articles, he has shunned all offers to leave Emporia for metropolitan journalism.

The society of editors, at the final session of its annual convention today, also urged the American people to enlist in its fight to preserve freedom of the press and to oppose any attempt of the government to enter the field of news distribution.

Although the Iowa City affirmative team lost to Burlington in the first final debate yesterday morning by a 92 to 90 percentage, the Iowa City negative defeated Burlington in the second final round by the same percentage, and a compilation of percentages of the morning's semi-final round revealed Iowa City the champion with a total of 181 points to Burlington's 176.

I.S.T.C. H.S. Wins

The Iowa State Teachers high school affirmative of Cedar Falls and the Mapleton high school negative won the class B championship by defeating Laurens and Hardwick respectively.

Immaculate Conception high school of Cherokee won the Class C championship for the second consecutive year, winning all five of the debates in which it participated.

Northwestern Academy of Orange City and Primghar tied for second place with four wins each.

By capturing Aliaga, insurgents said, and breaking through government lines near Valdeconejos to the northwest and Molinos to the northeast, insurgent columns had encircled six brigades of government militia men.

Insurgents on this front pushed government troops back along the highway leading to the coastal city of Castellon de la Plana.

At the same time their comrades along the coast advanced southward toward the city despite a stabbing government counteroffensive.

Government dispatches from Barcelona, 152 miles northeast of Castellon, confirmed reports of the Teruel drive on the strategic provincial capital, new objective in Generalissimo Francisco Franco's attempt to widen the area separating Catalonia from the remainder of government Spain.

No details of the drive were given.

Burlington Speakers

The Burlington affirmative speakers were John Meyer and Robert Fine, and their negative team was Mary Towne and Sam Goldenberg.

The Iowa City and Burlington teams entered the final rounds of competition yesterday with one per cent wins in the semi-finals over Oelwein and Abraham Lincoln of Council Bluffs respectively.

Iowa City won and lost to the Oelwein teams, while Burlington won and lost to Abraham Lincoln in the semi-finals, making a compilation of percentages necessary to determine the finalists.

City High Reaches A Long-Sought Goal

WHEN YOU land in a for several long years, the resulting glow lasts quite some time. Iowa City high school's ambitious young debaters are still glowing this morning from yesterday's triumph.

A debate doesn't take much time. You speak for 10 minutes and your partner speaks 10 more; then you each have five minutes to let off the steam the other fellows have boiled up in you. After that you feel empty and look nonchalant until the judges lets you know which team steamed the more impressively.

But the drudgery that comes before the 10 minutes takes a lot of time. And when you lose—and start over again next year—and repeat the process the year after that, the months mount up.

Iowa City high school speakers won the class A state debate championship here at the university yesterday, a championship that hasn't stayed in Iowa City for many years. They have a right to glow.

A Silver Lining In the War Clouds

THOSE WHO have insistently and perhaps stubbornly held to the belief that there will be no general war in the future—today view the situation in Europe with a new feeling of assurance.

Looking back on events of the last few years, one can see many incidents that a decade or so before would inevitably have launched the world on a parade of human slaughter.

There was Italy's conquest of Ethiopia, Japan's invasion of China and her consequent flagrant insults to several world powers (such as the wounding of a British official and bombing of the Panay), Germany's annexation of Austria, the sinking of British vessels in the Mediterranean, the launching of foreign troops and war materials in Spain, and several other events.

But there has been no war. Why? Because, as one authority puts it, nations are like little boys who have learned their lesson in a previous disastrous battle—some are afraid and the others "daren't."

If two nations were today to become involved in war, it is a foregone conclusion that both would lose. There can be no victor when each side would lose thousands of able young men, millions of dollars, and immeasurable ground in progress toward a stable economic condition.

The new Anglo-Italian agreement in the silver lining in the cloud over Europe. There is much expectancy that soon there may be a Franco-Italian pact, a British-French accord, and even German-British and German-French understandings.

While there have been the Rome-Berlin axis and the Paris-Moscow link for some time, Hitler has made no secret of the fact that he desires an accord between Germany and England, and as a crowning glory, a French-German agreement.

If such pacts were to be realized, and it is not unlikely that they will be, those optimists who say there will be no war in the future will find their beliefs better founded than they thought.

Starting in Young To Make His Million

ONE OF the most enterprising young business men we know in Iowa City is the tow-headed youngster who takes his stand every Friday noon at the intersection of Clinton and Bloomington streets with an armful of magazines.

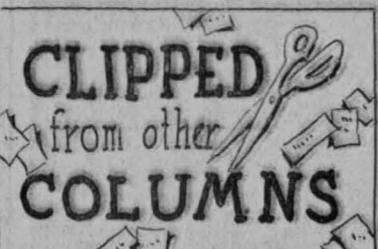

He can't be more than 11 or 12 years old, but the subtlety of his little scheme bespeaks an ingenuity and originality that might well be the envy of a more seasoned entrepreneur. As his scene of operations he has chosen a street corner that is busy—but not so busy that prospective customers can hurry by without taking notice of him. Moreover, he wisely offers the public one of its favorite inexpensive periodicals, and already he has cultivated the brisk-but-not-too-aggressive approach that is characteristic of most successful salesmen.

"A bright kid!" you are likely to say to yourself, whether you buy one of his magazines or not (and the chances are greatly in his favor that you will).

He certainly is a bright kid. So bright, in fact, that he restores our flagging faith in the old-fashioned idea that American youth is perfectly capable of finding and inventing opportunities for itself.

Now that the Chinese have administered such a terrific beating to the supposedly all-powerful Japanese army, Yawn Yawson says he wouldn't be surprised to find Eddie Bergen sitting on Charlie McCarthy's knee.

The office conservative tells of a communist baseball team which opened its season with a flag razzing ceremony.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

THE SHEIK OF ARABY

FIERCE-TALONED and crook-beaked as hawk, the Bedouin sheik loosens the glare of his hot eyes that pry the desert sands for the least sign of a female victim to be found. At least three times a week—and invariably on alternate Thursdays—he holds up his nightshirt and his tent, bestrides his slim coursier or galumphing camel, and swoops clockwise and counterclockwise over the sun-kissed and wind-smacked wastes of the Sahara or Arabia.

Ha! There she goes, and white at that. So long as she has blue eyes, blonde hair and not sense enough to stay home with her big white father, it is all one to the sheik whether she be English, American or Scandinavian. Leaping from his horse upon the one hand, and seizing the overtaken maiden upon the other, he huffs and puffs her back to his tent, caravan, oasis, or long summer days. Oh, missie, oh, pretty missie! The Sheik of Araby: he rules his world and thee!

More curious and, in fact, inexplicable, is the disappearance of diseases which are not infectious in origin. For instance, chlorosis, a form of anemia in young girls, that used to be frequent—it has practically disappeared from the face of the earth and nobody knows why.

The New York City park department will sell a tree to any householder for $30, but it's up to the New Yorker, of course, to find a place where he can plant it.

That army officer who thinks the United States should have an unbeatable navy meant, of course, unbeatable by anyone except the army football team.

HANDWRITING ON THE GREAT WALL OF CHINA

Clendening Writes of Diseases That Have Almost Disappeared

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

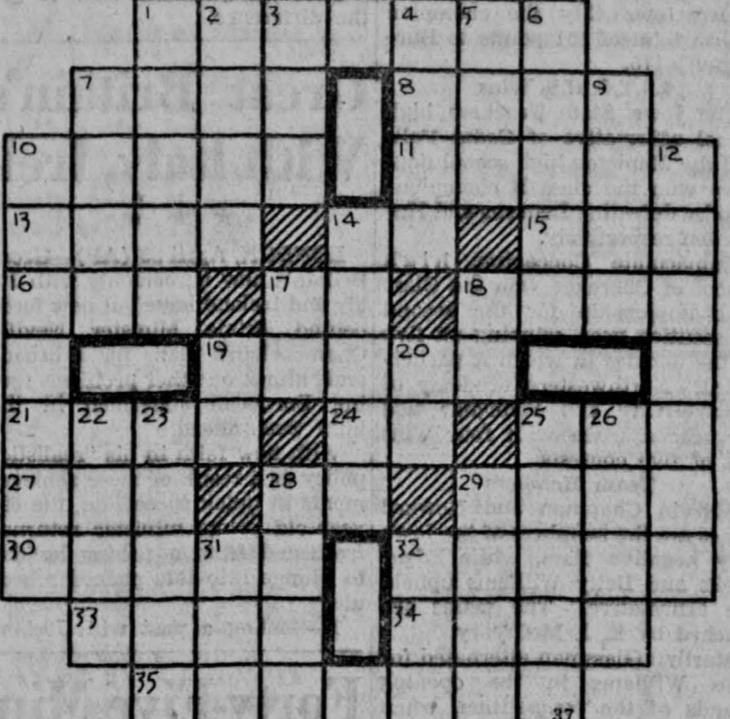

Modern doctors are completely unfamiliar with such diseases as cholera, yellow fever, bubonic plague and many other diseases which were commonplaces to the doctors of 50 or 100 years ago in America. They have disappeared. It is easy to understand why these are rarities today: they were infectious diseases and their disappearance has been due to improvements in sanitation, mosquito and insect control—yellow fever and malaria are carried by insects; cholera and typhoid fever are carried by infected water.

More curious and, in fact, inexplicable, is the disappearance of diseases which are not infectious in origin. For instance, chlorosis, a form of anemia in young girls, that used to be frequent—it has practically disappeared from the face of the earth and nobody knows why.

When the music is given its world premiere Grover Whalen, president of the World's Fair, will broadcast on the program, being picked up from his office in the administration building in Flushing Meadow Park at the Fair.

That army officer who thinks the United States should have an unbeatable navy meant, of course, unbeatable by anyone except the army football team.

Matt Faber Hurls Eight-Hit Game as Iowa Wins Second Consecutive Big Ten Contest

Manush, Kadell, Prasse Lead Attack on 2 N. U. Pitchers

Evanston, Ill., April 23— (Special to The Daily Iowan)—With Matt Faber, sophomore pitcher, hurling eight-hit ball, the University of Iowa baseball team won its second straight Big 10 game here today by taking the finale of a two-game series with Northwestern's Wildcats, 7-2.

Faber struck out four Wildcat during the game and was in trouble at no time. The only runs scored off him were in the eighth inning when Sampson, the Purple left fielder, hit a home run with Cleo Diehle, the home team's first baseman, on base. By that time, however, the Iowans had built up a lead of 7-0 and they coasted on to victory.

Second Straight

The second straight Western conference win, rather a surprise after the six straight games the Vogelmen lost on their southern campaign, was largely due to Faber's good pitching, Wildcat errors, and the newly-found batting punch of the Iowa team.

The Hawkeyes scored single runs, put on a four-run scoring burst in the fifth and tallied their final marker in the sixth. Art Manush, Capt. Eddie Kadell and Erwin Prasse each knocked out two hits, with the first two connecting for doubles.

The Hawkeye nine hits were well placed and they took good advantage of seven Wildcat miscues, two of them committed in the Northwestern outfit. The Iowa defense was guilty of only two misplays, both of them by Kadell.

Coach Otto Vogel shifted his lineup a bit today as he placed Erwin Prasse, who has played second base all season, at the initial bag and used Bratten and Belger at second. Keith Wymore, who has pitched in several games this year, played most of the game in right field.

The Hawks end their road trip with a two-game series with Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., Monday and Tuesday.

Boston Defeats Phillies, 3 to 1

BOSTON, April 23 (AP)— Spurred by the cheers of 10,180 fans, Boston's hustling Bees officially opened the National league baseball season in Beantown today by turning back Philadelphia 3 to 1 and starting their hurler, Lou Fette, on the victory path again.

Fette, who beat the Phillies three times last year and has yet to lose a game to them, limited the opposition to four hits while his teammates were making their six hits count.

The Bees scored all their runs in the first inning, against Bill Hallahan, veteran southpaw.

U. High Team Finishes First

Blues Win Two-Mile Relay at Annual Track Meet

Under adverse conditions, the University high two-mile relay team of Spencer, Campion, Krogh and Robbins finished first in the 17th annual Iowa State Teachers college relays at Cedar Falls yesterday. In addition to this the Blues mile-relay team composed of Blackstone, Bowery, Berry and Krogh placed third.

Two high school and five college marks were shattered, while one new college freshman mark was established. In the high school division, Bruce Erickson, Traer's "one man track team," tossed the javelin 174 feet, 6 inches for a new record, and the Valley high team of West Des Moines set a new class "A" mile record of 3:33.9.

In the college division Coe's quartet, H. Wedgbury, L. Wedgbury, Moore and Elsager, set records in the half and mile relays. Don Blue, Teachers weight man, hurled the discus 128 feet 2 inches for a new record, while his teammate, Jim Trotto, set a mark of 10:16.4 for the two-mile.

Fleming and Douthett of Iowa and Petrich and Brain of Minnesota was the deciding match when the score stood four to four a crowd of 10,895.

Within five minutes after Governor George Earle had tossed out the opening ball, the slugging Red Sox had chased Edgar Smith from the mound to give Grove a three-run lead on Vosmik's double, Jimmy Foxx's homer, Cronin's walk and Higgins' two-bagger.

With the exception of Bob Johnson's homer in the second, Grove limited the A's to four hits in six innings, striking out eight in the first four frames. In the fourth after Werber and Haas had led off with singles, Grove fanned Johnson, Hasson and Lodigiani in succession. Manager Cronin replaced Grove with a pinchhitter in the eighth.

Machine Grades Exams

Examinations have been made easier—physically, not mentally—for both student and instructor by the mechanical marking student by eliminating the essay examination. It aids the instructor in grading the examination papers at the rate of 300 to 400 per hour. Each student uses a graphite pencil and a special examination sheet. All he has to do is to make a pencil mark about a quarter of an inch from the top of one of the five answer columns accompanying each question. In the machine, the examination sheet is pressed against 750 sets of contacts corresponding to the 750 answer positions on the paper. A mark on any of the answer positions on the sheet closes an electrical circuit and with the graphite acting as the conductor of current, the machine automatically records whether the answers are right or wrong. A student instantly knows the number of answers the student got right and wrong.

One of the first institutions to install this boon to the academic world was Purdue University, where these pictures of the grader in operation were taken.

Work Progresses on Opera Stage Sets

Edward Kyvig Designs Scenery for 'Cavalleria Rusticana'

Under the direction of Edward Kyvig, G of Iowa City, right, Cecil Kersten, G of Deerfield, Kan., applies paint to a part of the stage set for the Italian opera, "Cavalleria Rusticana," which will be presented for the first time in the dramatic arts building Wednesday.

Under the direction of Edward H. Kyvig, G of Iowa City, the stage sets for the Italian opera, "Cavalleria Rusticana," are taking form in the studio annex. The one-act melodrama by Mascagni will receive its premiere showing in the dramatic arts building Wednesday night under the direction of Prof. Herald Stark.

This business of making a stage set isn't as simple as the finished product looks on the night of the opening performance," Kyvig remarked as he wielded hammer and saw in the construction of the 30 odd pieces which make up the complete set.

Plans for the "Cavalleria Rusticana" set were begun before Christmas, when Kyvig first sought material on Sicilian architecture in the various libraries on the campus. Material wasn't easy to find. There was plenty to be had on Sicilian

George Sokolsky Will Lecture On Current Economic Situation

Famous Authority Has Analyzed Problem
In America

George E. Sokolsky, international authority on public affairs, will deliver the final university lecture of the year Thursday at 8 p.m. in the main lounge of Iowa Union on some subject of economic importance.

Admission to the lecture will be by tickets which faculty and students may secure Tuesday and Wednesday from the Union desk. All tickets remaining Thursday will be available to the general public.

Sokolsky has devoted the last several years to the study of the economic situation in America. He has approached the problem from the standpoint of an American who, as he says, "missed the war-time boom, the Harding and Coolidge prosperity, prohibition, flappers and other manifestations of the period of national inflation."

As a part of his objective study of the situation, Sokolsky has travelled more than 100,000 miles in the United States, visiting nearly every state. During the summer of 1933, he went to London to observe the economic conference and to analyze the economic and political position of the United States in relation to the rest of the world.

Numerous articles dealing with his conclusions have been published in the Atlantic Monthly, New Outlook, Vanity Fair, and other magazines.

He is a member of the department attending meetings in Washington, D.C.

in general education at Columbus.

Prof. Alexander Elliott, Donald S. Bayley, Robert D. Huntoon and James A. Van Allen are the members of the department attending meetings in Washington, D.C.

Four members of the physics department will attend sessions of the American Physical Society in Washington, D.C., Thursday and Friday. Three other members of the department will attend conferences in Pittsburgh, Pa., Omaha, Neb., and Columbus, Ohio this week.

Prof. G. W. Stewart, head of the department, will lecture to two groups at the University of Pittsburgh tomorrow. In the afternoon he will speak at a physics colloquium on "The Structure of Ionic Solids." In the evening he will address a meeting of Sigma Pi Sigma, national honorary physical society, on "The Growth of Ideas."

Prof. John A. Eldridge will represent the American Physical Society at the fourth annual chemurgy conference in Omaha, tomorrow, Tuesday and Wednesday. Saturday Prof. C. J. Lapp will attend the initial meeting of a committee on the improvement of science.

Plans for the "Cavalleria Rusticana" set calls for a church on the left, with a wine shop on the left, with a picturesque stone wall between. The setting of the opera is in a small village in Sicily.

After obtaining material on the type of construction he wanted, Kyvig made his own water color drawing of how the set would look. Then he consulted the blueprints of the stage of the new University theater and drew up his own specifications for the set.

Actual work has been carried on in the studio annex the last two weeks with the assistance of members of the university chorus appointed by Professor Stark, the actual cutting, gluing and nailing began. Pasteboard, cheesecloth, lumber and nails combined to produce fronts of church and wine shop. Paint skillfully applied is transforming commonplace materials into a Sicilian street scene.

When the set has been completed, it will be transferred by truck to the stage of the University theater and will be set up there under Kyvig's direction. Approximately 400 board feet of lumber have gone into the set.

A graduate of Iowa City high school in 1930, Kyvig entered the dramatic arts department of the university, receiving a B.A. degree in February, 1935. He is at present working on a Ph.D. degree, and his construction of the "Cavalleria Rusticana" set is just a part of the job to him.

"Cavalleria Rusticana" will be presented Wednesday and Friday nights under the auspices of the music department, with Professor Stark conducting the performance.

A limited number of tickets are now on sale.

Judge H. Evans Upholds Board

Declines to Reduce Tax Assessment On Property

Judge Harold D. Evans yesterday upheld the decision of the Oxford board of assessment and review refusing to reduce the assessed valuation on the property of D. A. Rose, 914 Highwood street.

Rose was appealing the decision of the Oxford assessor and the board of review, both of whom refused to reduce the valuation of his property from $4,750 to $2,500. Rose said in his petition that the $4,750 valuation was more than twice the property's selling price because he had advertised it for sale at $2,500 and had not been able to sell it.

In denying the appeal, the judge said, "There is no evidence to establish the actual value of the real estate involved. The court realizes that both the sale value and rental value have decreased and the taxes on the property have not decreased accordingly, but have increased."

"No evidence has been introduced that the property is assessed for more than other property of similar character in the taxing district of Oxford. It does not appear that the property is assessed higher, proportionately, than other property or that the assessment is inequitable, unjust or discriminatory."

Judge Evans heard the evidence in the appeal April 11, and has had the case under advisement since then. Attorneys P. A. Korab and E. P. Korab represented Rose, and Attorney E. A. Baldwin appeared for the town of Oxford. Mayor William E. Henderson, Oxford, J. W. Floerchinger, clerk of the board of assessment and review, and the members of the Oxford town council which is also the board of assessment and review.

Gathered in front of the Iowa stadium, a group of Iowa City boys eagerly scanned the prospects of a kite in the contest for the highest flier, in yesterday's kite meet. Each enterprising kite owner was surrounded by a group of assistants, second assistants, second assistants and a board and the Chamber of Commerce, the meet was supervised by Eugene Trowbridge, director of the Recreation center, and his assistant, Clifford Williams, A4 of West Liberty, who judged and distributed the prizes.

Norton Smith and Don Walter, who entered the meet as partners, won four out of the eight events. They received awards for the best constructed home-made box kite, the best box kite, the largest kite — six feet long and five feet, 11 inches wide, and for the 100 yard kite dash, with a two-stick red and black kite having no tail.

John Smith, twice a winner, was the owner of the best single plane flier, a two stick kite and no tail, winning first place in that event, and second place for the best single plane kite constructed. John's father, H. J. Smith, served as his assistant.

Bob Wilson, also a double winner, flew his three stick, blue cellophane kite highest, releasing 1,000 feet of string. The kite took third place in construction and in the 100-yard kite dash.

The prize for the smallest kite that could fly was won by Leland Novotny. Only two inches long and one and three quarters inches wide, the kite was released at the end of 40 feet of silk thread, and floated a three foot tail.

Jack Teefy, whose six point star kite had a two and one half foot radius, won the best novelty kite prize.

Hugh Anderson, five years old, the youngest participant at the meet, won second prize for the hundred yard kite dash. Working enthusiastically at his son's side, was W. A. Anderson

Ferrell Checks Yanks in 7-4 Victory

Senators Take Weird Contest From Champs

Hurler Limits Ruppert Rifles to Seven Scattered Hits

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Wes Ferrell pitched himself into a spot in the ninth inning today and then pitched himself right out again to save a 7 to 4 victory for the Washington Senators over the Yankees before a crowd of 24,949 in Yankee stadium.

From start to finish it was a freak game. The Nats went out in front 4-2 in the first three innings at the expense of Lefty Gomez and finally belted him out in the seventh with their game-winning rally. The Yanks tied it up in the sixth, but Ferrell survived to win his second game of the season.

Score Without Hits

The Yanks tallied two runs in the sixth without a hit, and the Senators scored the two winning tallies in the seventh on just one hit.

In the ninth, Ferrell loaded the bases on three walks, and then got Bill Dickey on a long fly, which Jonathan Stone took with his back against the right-field barrier for the third out.

Examination Schedule

Second Semester, 1937-1938

Monday, May 23, 8 a.m., to Tuesday, May 31, 4 p.m.
 The regular program of class work will be suspended and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (1), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below).

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation in the case of any examination, from this Schedule, except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed at ample time supported by the recommendation of the department concerned, to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviations for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted. Students should prepare and deposit such petitions in the offices of the Deans of Men (men) and Women (women).

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

If the student takes the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double, vertical line.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) The instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him or her, not later than the regular class hour May 19 or 20; if possible, May 12 or 13.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first regular meeting is, consequently Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Tuesday, May 24, 2 p.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (126) meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination, is, therefore, Saturday, May 28, 2 p.m.

N. B. All sections of "Principles of Speech" (1), (2) and (4) (Except Section J*) will meet during Examination Week on the days and at the periods designated below. Consult the bulletin board, Room 13 S. H. for room assignments.

Mon, May 24—Section H, 8-10
Speech (1), 8-10
Speech (3), 3-5

Tues, May 24—Section A, 1-3
Section E, 3-5

Sat, May 28—Section D, 10-12
Section B, 1-3
Section F, 3-5

*Section J will meet as announced by the instructors.

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination, as announced to each such class, by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 23 to May 31 inclusive.—Sunday and Memorial Day excepted.

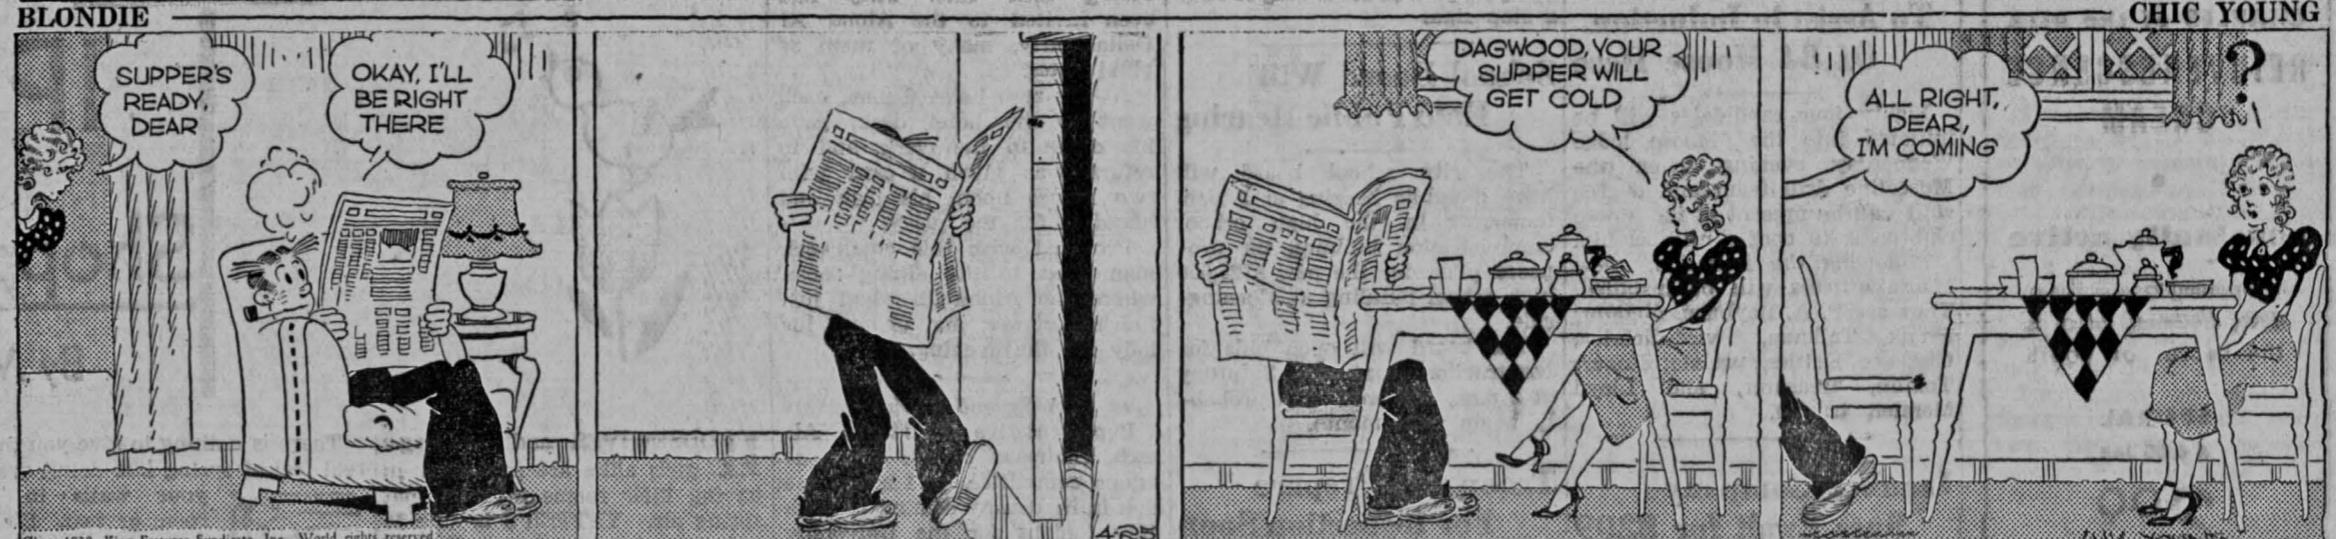

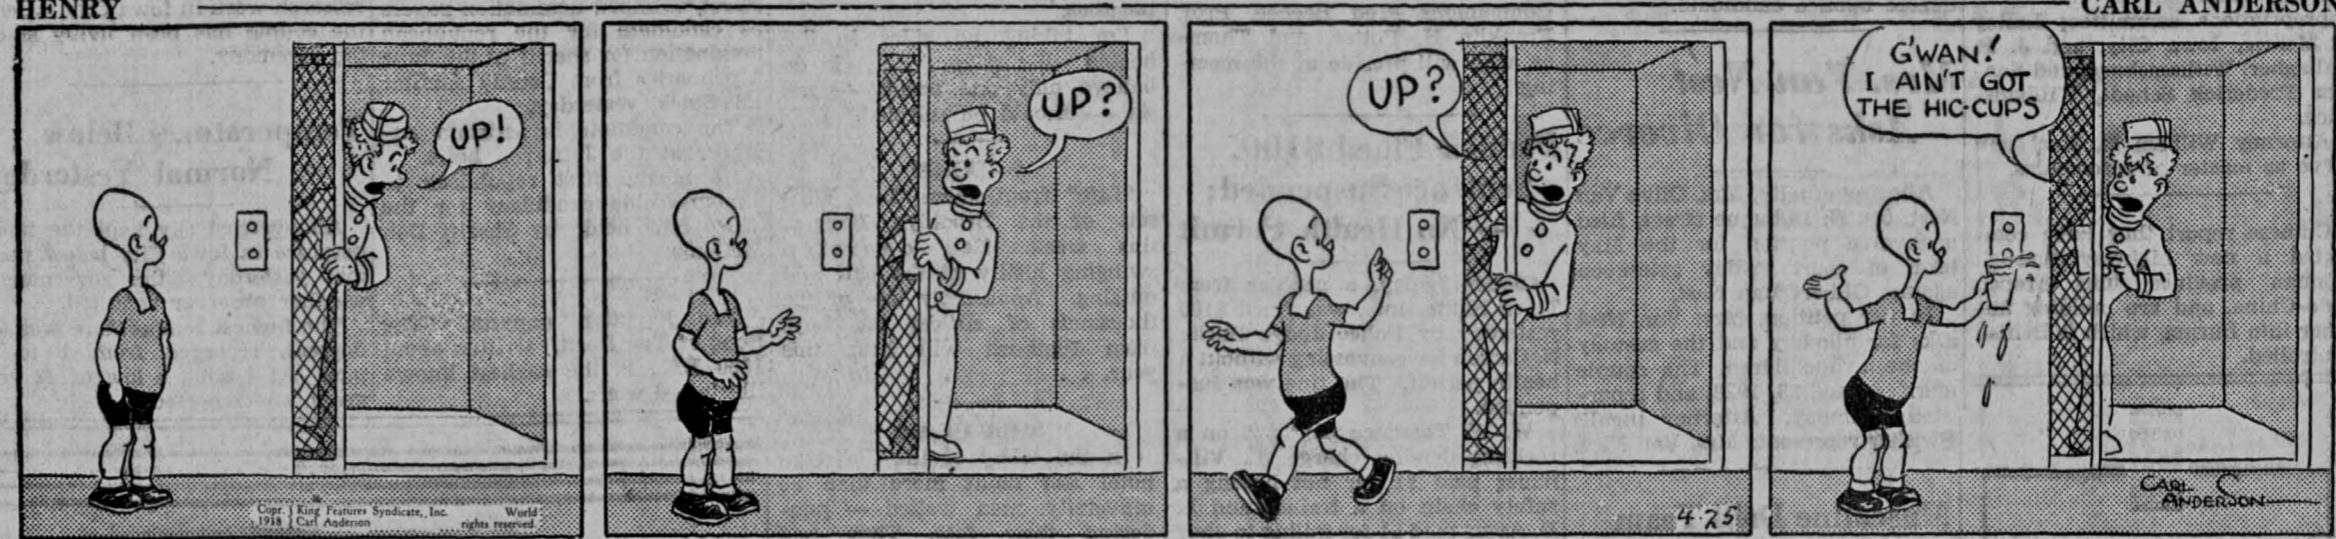

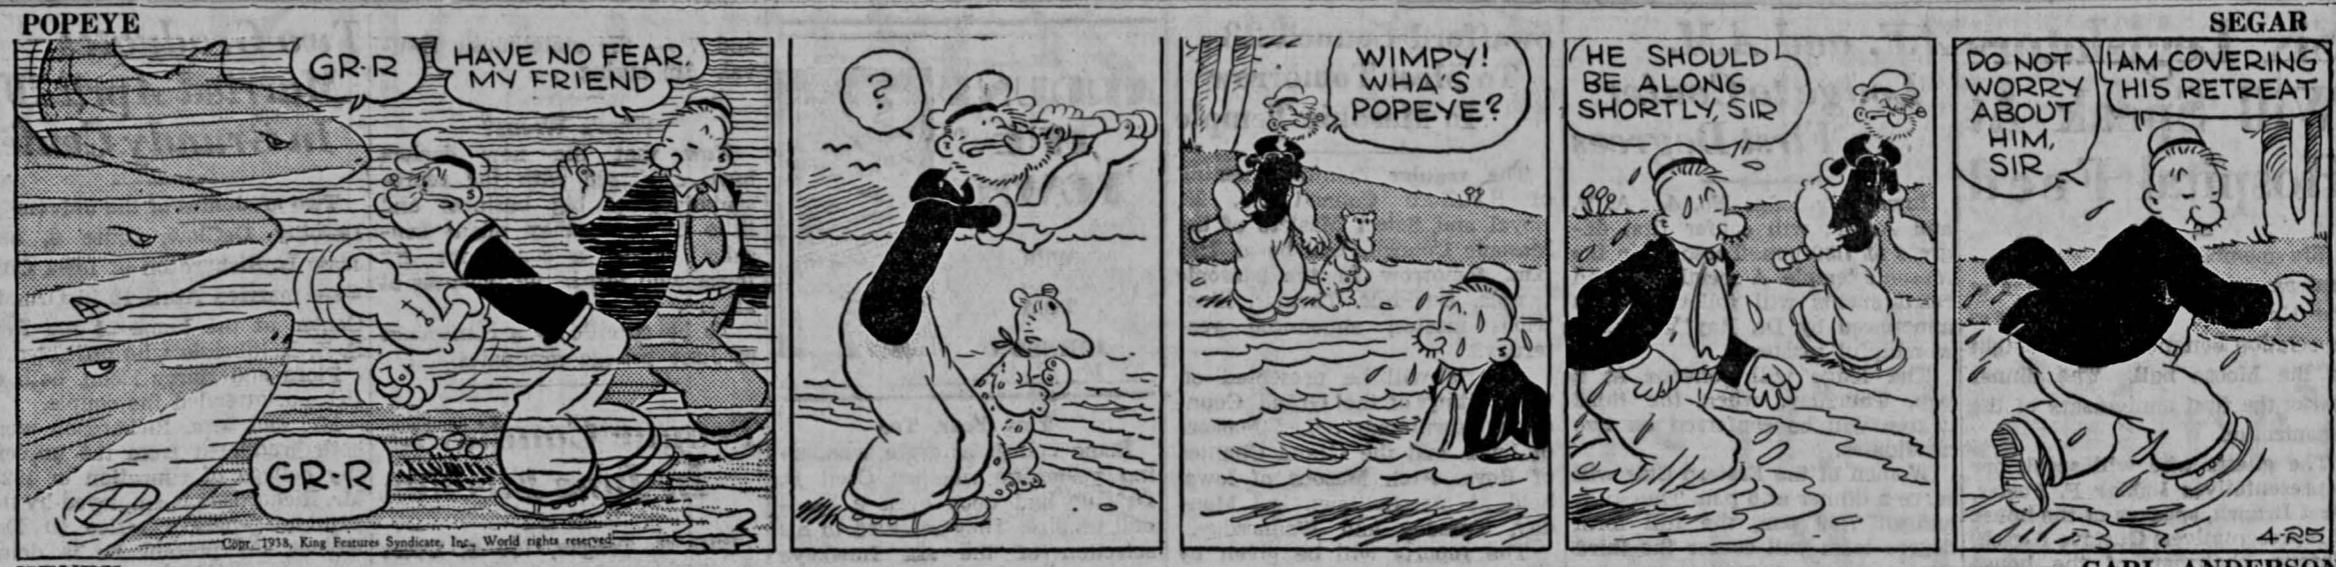

2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F and G, since for such "odd" classes these seven examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period." He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time.

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "abs"; unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F"—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

H. C. DORCAS, Secretary, Program Committee.

Everyone of the nearly 2,000 Iowa Citians who have attended the banquet and dance in the new community building since it opened last week will tell you one fact, "It's a swell place."

Czechoslovakia Ignores German Demands

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, April 25 (AP) — A firm "no" was said by political circles today to be Czechoslovakia's answer to Nazi Chieftain Konrad Henlein's demand that she change her foreign policy to suit Germans within her borders.

These well-informed circles said it was an unacceptable proposition which the government would not consider under any circumstances.

The government was represented as inclined to suspend judgment of Henlein's other seven demands, made on behalf of 3-500,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia, until the leader of the country's Sudeten German party furnished more concrete details.

Henlein's demands constituted an eight-point program calling for self-government with Nazi principles for Czechoslovakia's Sudeten Germans.

The government was said to see in Henlein's demands no new basis for negotiations and would therefore continue on its present course to work out its own proposed minorities statute.

(From Budapest came reports that the Hungarian revisionist

league, which is openly demanding return of a portion of Czechoslovakia to Hungary, was making marked membership gains and that interest had been intensified since Sunday's demonstration voicing the demands.

(The revisionists are asking return of a third of Czechoslovakia, carved out of Hungary to help form the war-created republic following the World War.

Roosevelt Urges Income Tax On Future State, Federal Bond Issues and Salary Payments

Proposals Receive But Little Opposition In Congress

AT LAST, DIOGENES

Chicken-Thief Repents After 21 Years

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP) — Congress received, with obvious approval, today a message from President Roosevelt urging that future state and federal bond issues and salary payments be made subject to both state and federal income tax laws.

Opposition to the proposals was, in fact, so scanty that leaders of both parties spoke of action at this session as a distinct possibility.

In effect, Mr. Roosevelt asked the supreme court to overturn past court decisions which, he said, had encouraged "men with great tax exempt securities." He said that court decisions had led to a system of reciprocal immunity, under which income from federal bonds were exempted from state taxation, and vice versa.

But, he added, more recent rulings indicated the courts themselves were questioning this position.

"Therefore," he said, "it is not unreasonable to hope that judicial decision may find it possible to correct it."

Mr. Roosevelt's message was one of two affecting business and finance which he had announced would go to the capitol this week. The other, discussing the question of monopoly and the antitrust laws, was expected on Friday.

Kraschel Centers Federal Funds On Road Needs

DES MOINES, April 25 (AP) — Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel said today he would take steps to "get as much as we possibly can for Iowa" as soon as the extent of President Roosevelt's proposed spending program is revealed.

The governor declared he favored spending a large portion of whatever federal money the state gets for bituminous roads in small Iowa communities.

"A lot of our towns need such roads," the governor said. "Their present roads are always kicking up a lot of dust, and while they couldn't afford concrete paving, a bituminous surfacing would suit their needs nicely."

The revised law provides a bankruptcy system under which debts can be scaled down under certain conditions, if courts approve. It was enacted last year

Save Passengers, Crew of Plane Forced Into Sea

KINGSTON, Jamaica, April 25 (AP) — A twin-motored Pan American flying boat was forced down at sea 30 miles from here today and its 12 passengers and four crew members were transferred to a passing steamer.

The plane was reported to have encountered engine trouble while flying from Santiago, Cuba, to Kingston.

The passengers and crew, along with mail and express were transferred to the Elder and Fyffe steamship Cavia.

The vessel headed for Bowen, in East Jamaica, 40 miles from Kingston, where automobiles waited to bring the rescued party on to Kingston.

The tug Killerig set out from Kingston to take in tow the flying boat which was reported in a sinking condition.

British Cabinet Approves Plans For New Budget, Faces Storm On Lag in Warplane Building

LONDON, April 25 (AP) — The cabinet approved plans today for meeting a year's spending of more than $4,650,000,000 and faced a spreading storm on a lag in warplane manufacturing.

An urgent demand for mass production methods in the air armament program threatened to overshadow tomorrow's presentation to the house of commons of the 1938-39 fiscal year budget.

Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, will disclose the budget when the house reassembles after the Easter holiday.

His task will be to explain how to meet not less than $31,000,000 in expenditures in the current financial year. Spending in the last year totaled $43,794,000 pounds ($4,218,970,000).

Before he speaks there are members from both sides of the house who want to question the government on charges that the domestic aircraft industry is not producing planes fast enough for the royal air force.

Conservative Oliver Simmonds, one of two members of parliament wanting to ask questions about the British air mission which arrived today in New York, said the air ministry would be charged with "confessing failure in its production plans."

Supreme Court Upholds Bankrupt Planned to Adjust Debts of Mu

Official Rejects Wage Proposal

DETROIT, April 25 (AP) — A proposal that the Ford Motor company guarantee its workers a minimum annual wage of $1,500 was received coldly yesterday by the man who directs the employment of its many thousands of hourly rate employees.

Commenting on the proposal, made by the Ford Brotherhood of America, an independent union, Harry H. Bennett, personnel director of the Ford company, termed it a "fine thing," but in the same breath, asked:

"Who is going to guarantee an annual market to support employment for any specific period?"

"It is the market that determines the employment," Bennett explained.

Other labor developments of the day included a new sit-down strike that closed two Detroit plants of Gar Wood Industries, Inc., but progress was reported in settling other Michigan industrial disputes, and tension generally was eased.

Board Decrees Against Coogan

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP) — Records of the board of tax appeals showed today that income tax returns were filed for Jackie Coogan, his father, mother and the Jackie Coogan Productions, Inc., but the board declared all returns should be lumped as those of the father, the late John H. Coogan.

Jackie, former moving picture star, has filed a $4,000,000 accounting suit against his mother and stepfather, Arthur L. Bernstein. He contends his father intended he should have his accumulated film earnings when he came of age.

In a notice on the 1923 income tax return sent to the father, the board said salaries of $10,400 reported for Jackie and $20,800 for Mrs. Coogan in separate returns had been transferred to the elder Coogan's return.

"There is no evidence," the notice said, "that your minor son has been emancipated. If a minor has been emancipated by his parent, his earnings are his own and such earnings are not required to be included in the return of the parent."
