Czechoslovakia Ignores German Demand

PRAGA, Czechoslovakia, April 25 (AP)—A firm "no" was said by political circles today to be Czechoslovakia's answer to Nazi Chieftain Konrad Henlein's demand that she change her foreign policy to suit Germans within her borders.

These well-informed circles said it was an unacceptable proposition which the government would not consider under any circumstances.

The government was represented as inclined to suspend judgment of Henlein's other seven demands, made on behalf of 3-500,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia, until the leader of the country's Sudeten German party furnished more concrete details.

Henlein's demands constituted an eight-point program calling for self-government with Nazi principles for Czechoslovakia's Sudeten Germans.

The government was said to see in Henlein's demands no new basis for negotiations and would therefore continue on its present course to work out its own proposed minorities statute.

(From Budapest came reports that the Hungarian revisionist league, which is openly demanding return of a portion of Czechoslovakia to Hungary, was making marked membership gains and that interest had been intensified since Sunday's demonstration voicing the demands.

(The revisionists are asking return of a third of Czechoslovakia, carved out of Hungary to help form the war-created republic following the World war.

(In Berlin, Adolf Hitler's newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, described Henlein's demands as moderate compared with the suffering and oppression of the Germans in Czechoslovakia.)

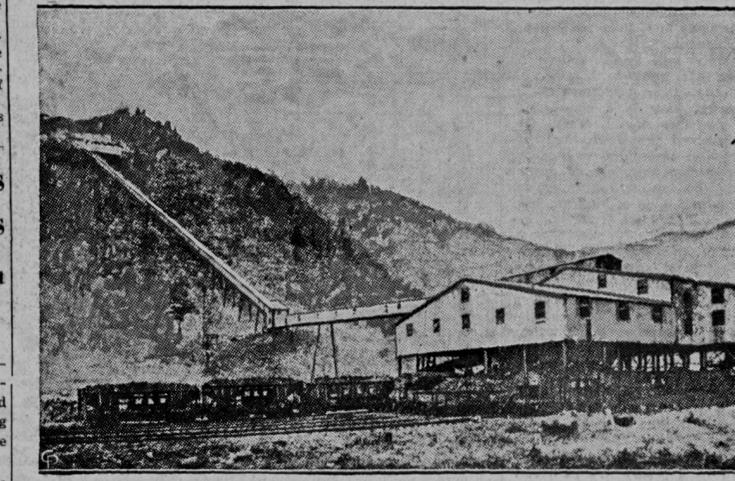

Regarding the Sudeten claims for the right of the same Weltanschauung (world outlook) as that obtaining in the German reich, government circles pointed out there was liberty of conscience in Czechoslovakia.

The profession of Hitler's doctrines, they said, is admissible only so long as they do not interfere with the world outlook of other citizens.

Totalitarianism, therefore, is out, it was added.

Daladier Discloses His Regime's Opposition to Pact With Hitler

Explosion Kills 41 in Virginia Mine Disaster

View of Red Jacket coal mine where 41 died

Forty-one miners lost their lives in a shaft of the Red Jacket coal mine near Hanger, Va., when a terrific explosion sent a wall of flame coursing through the tunnel. When an army of rescue workers finally cleared away the rock and debris blocking the shaft, they found all the miners dead. Spontaneous combustion of coal dust was given as the cause of the explosion.

Indicates Flat Refusal of Any Such Concord

Warns French to Speed Industry or Face Dictatorship

PARIS, April 25 (AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier tonight made known his government's flat opposition to any four-power European pact that would include Nazi Germany.

The premier's stand was disclosed as he warned Frenchmen to unite in speeding industry or face dictatorship.

Office 'Understands'

French officials said the foreign office "understood" the British government had given up its idea for a four-power pact linking France, Britain, Germany and Italy to guarantee European peace.

Such a pact many observers had thought would result from the new Anglo-Italian accord and pending French-Italian friendship treaty negotiations.

Abandoned Plan

Informed sources said the British had abandoned the plan when they saw France was determined to back her Czechoslovak ally and Adolf Hitler equally was determined to keep his hands free in eastern Europe.

In disclosing Daladier's stand, the premier's associates said a four-point plan for Franco-British discussion would be taken by Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet on their visit to London when they depart Wednesday.

Outline

The outline of discussions was said to call for:

1. Reinforcement of Franco-British military cooperation providing for joint purchase of certain war materials in event of war and further economic collaboration.
2. An attempt to get a more explicit statement from Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain concerning British support of Czechoslovakia's independence.
3. A survey of diplomatic questions—the new agreements with Italy, the Spanish war, and league recognition of Ethiopia.
4. Financial matters including the tri-partite monetary accord with the United States.

Daladier's dictatorship warning was discovered by cabinet ministers after they approved his plans for pulling the nation out of economic and financial difficulties.

The "national defense" premier said the first decree carrying out the plan would be ready May 1. This will be the first use Daladier has made of his new powers to rule the nation by decree until July 31.

He did not make public his entire plan, but the parts he disclosed indicated he took tips from both Soviet Russia and the fascist states.

Roosevelt Urges Income Tax On Future State, Federal Bond Issues and Salary Payments

Proposals Receive But Little Opposition In Congress

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—Congress received, with obvious approval, today a message from President Roosevelt urging that future state and federal bond issues and salary payments be made subject to both state and federal income tax laws.

Opposition to the proposals was, in fact, so scanty that leaders of both parties spoke of action at this session as a distinct possibility.

In effect, Mr. Roosevelt asked the supreme court to overturn past court decisions which, he said, had encouraged "men with great tax exempt securities." He said that court decisions had led to a system of reciprocal immunity, under which income from federal bonds were exempted from state taxation, and vice versa.

But, he added, more recent rulings indicated the courts themselves were questioning this position.

"Therefore," he said, "it is not unreasonable to hope that judicial decision may find it possible to correct it."

Mr. Roosevelt's message was one of two affecting business and finance which he had announced would go to the capital this week. The other, discussing the question of monopoly and the anti-trust laws, was expected on Friday.

Save Passengers, Crew of Plane Forced Into Sea

Former Vice-President Stricken in Hotel In New York

KINGSTON, Jamaica, April 25 (AP)—A twin-motored Pan American flying boat was forced down at sea 30 miles from here today and its 12 passengers and four crew members were transferred to a passing steamer.

The plane was reported to have encountered engine trouble while flying from Santiago, Cuba, to Kingston.

The passengers and crew, along with mail and express were transferred to the Elder and Fyffe steamship Cavina.

The vessel headed for Bowen, in East Jamaica, 40 miles from Kingston, where automobiles waited to bring the rescued party on to Kingston.

The tug Killerig set out from Kingston to take in tow the flying boat which was reported in a sinking condition.

Dawes Rallies From Illness

Former Vice-President Stricken in Hotel In New York

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes, former vice-president of the United States, rallied tonight following an operation on Sunday for acute suppurative appendicitis.

Dr. Henry W. Cave, the attending physician, said in a statement issued at 3 p.m. (CST) that the veteran soldier-banker-diplomat's condition was "satisfactory."

General Dawes, now 72, was stricken in his suite at the Waldorf-Astoria after coming from Chicago to New York to attend the wedding last Friday of Francis Warren Pershing, son of Gen. John J. Pershing, to Muriel Bache Richards. Mrs. Dawes accompanied him.

2nd Annual Cooking School Plans Progress For Elaborate Affair May 3-5

The Daily Iowan is making elaborate preparations to entertain Iowa Citizens, both those on the cooking and on the consuming end of a meal, at its second annual cooking school May 3, 4 and 5. The motion picture, "Star in My Kitchen," will be presented at those times at the Englert theater.

In the picture's parade of expert cookery each step in the preparation of many delicious recipes will be shown in a close-up view. Other home problems—laundry, refrigeration, beauty secrets and even the difficult task of presenting spinach in a favorable light before the youngsters—will be treated in the same original manner.

Romantic Story

"Star in My Kitchen" is more than a modern course in home economics. It is a romantic story produced in Hollywood and directed by the same man who turned out many of the leading motion pictures each year.

It involves the experiences of a young heroine who learns the art of home-making from washing dishes to avoiding dishpan hands in order to charm the man of the hour. Iowa City wives and mothers who are "chief cooks and bottle washers" will learn much from the labor-saving suggestions Dede Abot receives during her career.

In the motion picture cooking school a well-cooked meal is elevated from just a three-times-a-day job to an artistic achievement requiring skill and imagination. Its careful planning and correct cooking are outlined step by step.

To the fun of watching expert chefs at work in a model kitchen is added the practicality of the new mechanical equipment that takes the guess-work out of housework.

Solve Problems

Questions asked by the young heroine will solve problems for even experienced Iowa City housewives. Free recipe sheets will be distributed daily.

Free tickets for the three performances of "Star in My Kitchen" may be obtained at The Daily Iowan office or from any of the following merchants:

Wicks grocery, R and S shoe store, Hands jewelry store, Koza and McCollister meat market, Larrew plumbing and heating company, Aldous florist shop. Stillwell paint store, Checker electric supply inc., Iowa City plumbing and heating, Lenoch and Clek hardware store, Means brothers grocery, Economy cash grocery, Sears, Roebuck and company, Yetter's dry goods store, Gadd hardware store and Star beauty salon.

Spanish Loyalist Forces Battle to Turn Tables on Insurgent Offensive in East

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier, April 25 (AP)—Embattled government forces struck furiously to turn the tables today on the insurgent offensive in eastern Spain.

Reports from both sides told of a sustained government attack which halted the insurgent drive toward Castellon de la Plana, coastal objective of the insurgents.

A second attack was launched on the northern front by government fighters in a heroic attempt to rescue their comrades of a "lost division" cut off by the insurgents high in the Pyrenees.

Twenty-five miles north of Castellon, an insurgent Italian column, operating along the seaboard still fought for possession of Alcala de Chivert, which the insurgents officially reported captured two days ago.

(Down the coast, 50 miles south of Castellon, insurgent airplanes resumed air raids on Valencia, former provisional Spanish government capital, killing 50 persons and wounding 200, among them three British sailors.

(The wounded sailors were members of the crew of the Stanland and the Celtic Star, British vessels in Valencia harbor. Reports of the bombing did not indicate whether either was hit directly.)

Kraschel Centers Federal Funds On Road Needs

DES MOINES, April 25 (AP)—Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel said today he would take steps to "get as much as we possibly can for Iowa" as soon as the extent of President Roosevelt's proposed spending program is revealed.

The governor declared he favored spending a large portion of whatever federal money the state gets for bituminous roads in small Iowa communities.

"A lot of our towns need such roads," the governor said. "Their present roads are always kicking up a lot of dust, and while they couldn't afford concrete paving, a bituminous surfacing would suit their needs nicely."

British Cabinet Approves Plans For New Budget, Faces Storm On Lag in Warplane Building

LONDON, April 25 (AP)—The cabinet approved plans today for meeting a year's spending of more than $4,650,000,000 and faced a spreading storm on a lag in warplane manufacturing.

An urgent demand for mass production methods in the air rearmament program threatened to overshadow tomorrow's presentation to the house of commons of the 1938-39 fiscal year budget.

Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, will disclose the budget when the house reassembles after the Easter holiday.

His task will be to explain how to meet not less than $31,000,000 pounds ($4,655,000,000) in expenditures in the current financial year. Spending in the last year totaled 843,794,000 pounds ($4,218,970,000).

Before he speaks there are members from both sides of the house who want to question the government on charges that the domestic aircraft industry is not producing planes fast enough for the royal air force.

Conservative Oliver Simmonds, one of two members of parliament wanting to ask questions about the British air mission which arrived today in New York, said the air ministry would be charged with "confessing failure in its production plans."

Free Press AP Head Leaves Post With Prayer

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP)—In a moving speech to the 38th annual meeting of The Associated Press, Frank B. Noyes said farewell today to his 38-year tenure as its president.

The white-haired maker of a journalistic tradition, the only survivor of the band of three who formed The Associated Press, he stood before his colleagues to ask that they dedicate themselves anew—"just as we dedicated ourselves nearly 50 years ago"—to the principle of a news stream controlled by the newspapers alone.

Japanese Columns Advancing Close to Vital Lunghai Railway

SHANGHAI, April 26 (AP) (Tuesday)—Three Japanese columns advanced today almost within striking distance of the vital Lunghai railway.

A Japanese army spokesman said that Japanese forces were "systematically occupying outlying Chinese positions surrounding Pihshien," 12 miles north of the Lunghai, and that another column had captured Tancheng, 18 miles from the railroad.

A third column was reported locked with the Chinese in a furious conflict at Likwoyi, 20 miles north of Suchow, (junction of the Lunghai and Tientsin-Pukow railways).

While these columns were strung out over a 50-mile battlefront in the biggest drive of the nine-month-old undeclared war, a force of avenging Japanese warriors was striking savagely at Taiherchwang, where the invaders suffered a smashing defeat April 6.

On the Tientsin-Pukow front northwest of Nanking, where the Japanese offensive had been stalemated for many weeks, an attempt was made to renew the drive, but Chinese asserted the attacking Japanese had been annihilated.

These reports said Japanese shock troops from Pengpu and Hwaiyuan had launched a strong attack against Chinese positions on the north banks of the Hwai and Kwo rivers. After a night of attacks and counterattacks, ending in bayonet charges, the Chinese reported, the Japanese force was wiped out.

The column at Pihshien is aiming at Yunho, where the Lunghai line crosses the Grand canal 50 miles east of Suchow. The column at Tancheng is aiming at Sinanchen, just to the east of Yunho.

Official Rejects Wage Proposal

DETROIT, April 25 (AP)—A proposal that the Ford Motor company guarantee its workers a minimum annual wage of $1,500 was received coldly yesterday by the man who directs the employment of its many thousands of hourly rate employees.

Commenting on the proposal, made by the Ford Brotherhood of America, an independent union, Harry H. Bennett, personnel director of the Ford company, termed it a "fine thing," but in the same breath, asked:

"Who is going to guarantee an annual market to support employment for any specific period?"

"It is the market that determines the employment," Bennett explained.

Other labor developments of the day included a new sit-down strike that closed two Detroit plants of Gar Wood Industries, Inc., but progress was reported in settling other Michigan industrial disputes, and tension generally was eased.

Board Decrees Against Coogan

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—Records of the board of tax appeals showed today that income tax returns were filed for Jackie Coogan, his father, mother and the Jackie Coogan Productions, Inc., but the board declared all returns should be lumped as those of the father, the late John H. Coogan.

Jackie, former moving picture star, has filed a $4,000,000 accounting suit against his mother and stepfather, Arthur L. Bernstein. He contends his father intended he should have his accumulated film earnings when he came of age.

In a notice on the 1923 income tax return sent to the father, the board said salaries of $10,400 reported for Jackie and $20,800 for Mrs. Coogan in separate returns had been transferred to the elder Coogan's return.

"There is no evidence," the notice said, "that your minor son has been emancipated. If a minor has been emancipated by his parent, his earnings are his own and such earnings are not required to be included in the return of the parent."

EGGNOGS? Perhaps Biddy Had Laid Plans for a Spree

PORTLAND, Ind., April 25 (AP)—An innocent hen in Charles Bowsman's chicken house was sitting, not on a glass egg or a door knob, but on 30 half-pints of whisky, excise officers reported today. They could see no point in that, so they seized the liquor and arrested Bowsman. He paid a $25 fine for illegal possession.

Late News Bulletins

Bigamy Record

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP)—Charged with marrying two white women within a year, William S. H. Stewart, Negro, 32, was arrested tonight on his return from Chicago, where he obtained warrants last week charging eight men with kidnaping one of the women.

Persing Acquitted

CARROLL, Ia., April 25 (AP)—Richard Persing, 31, was acquitted tonight on a charge of murder in connection with the dice game slaying of Earl Heider.

'Pressure Group'

ST. LOUIS, April 25 (AP)—Discussing that "American phenomenon, the pressure group," Marguerite M. Wells, president of the National League of Women Voters, tonight urged her organization to emulate David and do its legislative fighting "with its own pebble and slingshot."

Stratosphere Not A 'Region of Calm'

Says Physics Head

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 25 (AP)—Science has found that the stratosphere is not a "region of perpetual calm" in which airplanes might fly undisturbed by weather, E. F. George, head of the Texas technological college department of physics, said today in a paper before the physical sciences section of the association for the advancement of science, southwestern division.

Recent experiments, he said, have disproved the previous theory of the stratosphere as an "over-ether" lane for air traffic.

"Instead, it is a region of ever-changing stratification, high winds and turbulence—probably the determining influence upon weather in the lower air."

Movie Star Charges Former Secretary Of Defrauding Her

LOS ANGELES, April 25 (AP)—Simone Simon, pert pouter of the movies, today signed a complaint charging her former secretary, Sandra Martin, with defrauding her of nearly $25,000.

Mrs. Martin, who district attorney's investigators said was living in a lavishly furnished pent house when they arrested her, was arraigned late today in municipal court and her bail was set at $10,000.

Debate Over Naval Expansion Measure Continues in Senate

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—Senate opponents raked the naval expansion bill today with charges that it would implement a "vicious" foreign policy, but supporters replied that the $1,156,000,000 measure was designed only for adequate national defense.

Senator Johnson (D-Col.) led the attack, asserting the measure could be justified only on the grounds that it would give this country "a fleet with which to go overseas to fight a war thousands of miles from our shores."

The Club Is Still There

THERE IS considerable discussion as to whether or not the president's spending program will succeed in allaying the recession.

Those who say not present a strong case. They point to experience and demand that the legislation be abandoned. They feel sure that the program cannot succeed anyway, but they are positive that without the cooperation of business there is absolutely no chance.

Those who favor renewed spending, of course, are confident of its success. But even this group which backs the plan will admit that its favorable outcome depends almost entirely upon the cooperation of business.

All of those arrayed on both sides insist that the only chance of success lies in this cooperation. Even those who favor the project know that the pump priming will be useless unless business begins to expand, credit loosens, turnover increases and capital and business join to put a collective shoulder to the wheel.

The president, too, must recognize this fact. The tone of his message on the spending program is generally conceded to have been conciliatory in reference to business.

The president also has extended the olive branch to the utilities. After his long war with them Roosevelt last week included these groups in his RFC spending program. It can be taken for nothing but an overture for cooperation.

Inviting Henry Ford to the White House is still another indication of the efforts of the president to promote cooperation with business. It seems that the president must realize that cooperation is the only way out.

But in spite of this apparent realization, and in spite of open efforts at conciliation, the president still is creating unrest. His insistent attitude toward the tax bill resulted in the retention of the surplus profits and capital gains tax principles. It is these taxes, probably more than any other single thing, which business objects to, and upon their doorstep is laid much blame for the present recession.

This taxation principle constitutes a constant threat to business. To the mind of business, it means fear and uncertainty. When the principle of governmental punishment of business is retained, cooperation can not be expected.

All threats and all fears must be wiped out if renewed spending is to succeed—both sides admit that. But the president cannot seem to dispense with many of his old attitudes.

We are sincerely skeptical of the success of the attempts to enlist business. For the president to hold a flag of truce in one hand and to wave a club in the other is hardly conducive to cooperation.

Program And Performance

THE NAZIS have announced an ambitious program for the rejuvenation of their new possession, Austria. Millions of marks will be used, they say, for social betterment of that impoverished country.

They hope to produce more babies, have fewer suicides. They plan to step up agriculture and industrial production, provide better homes, feed the poor, end beggary, and establish a social security program which will care for the unemployed and aged.

In other words, they are going to make of Austria a model country. That in itself is an excellent project. Just one model country at the present time would do the world an immense amount of good. Three or four would be better, but that, of course, is impossible as long as the nazis limit their rejuvenating to Austria.

Only one thing bothers us. The nazi program is fine, but so far their performances in Austria have been considerably worse than awful. They have persecuted the Jews, and imprisoned professors, ex-Austrian government officials or anyone else showing intelligence enough to have a mind of his own. They have purged the libraries, destroying works of such men as Mann, Zweig, and Wassermann. They have piled atrocity upon atrocity and applauded the result.

We may be mistaken, but it's our guess that such actions are the wrong approach to the creation of an ideal nation.

"Everyone," writes a philosopher, "should wish to be, at least, two people." Sure! A fellow who enjoyed it and another who can honestly say: "Well, I never!"

Now that the swing version of "The Star Spangled Banner" has been copyrighted it behooves every Scout master to watch that young fellow who likes to end each stanza with an "um-tee-um-tee-dum!"

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

"BATTLES LONG AGO"

There have been other ages of the world when civilization seemed to be going to pieces. One of them was the latter part of the 16th century, during which there flourished near Bordeaux a quiet country gentleman of literary tastes, named Michel de Montaigne. Montaigne did not care enough for either side, in his ripe years, to fight for it. He saved his house, as he tells us, by the simple expedient of not defending it. Professing the old religion, he managed by the kindness and simplicity of his heart to keep on good terms with his neighbors, who had mostly taken up with the new. He had narrow escapes from being plundered or killed, but his good nature or his lucky star always saved him.

Half-humorously, half-bitterly, he reasoned (as Marvin Lowenthal translates him in "The Autobiography of Michel de Montaigne"): "Let us thank fortune we are not born in an effeminate, idle and effete age. Some who could not have achieved it otherwise will be famous by their misfortunes. I seldom read in history the turmoils of other days without the regret that I was not there, the better to examine them. And today my curiosity gives me a certain pleasure in seeing with my own eyes the notable spectacle of our public death. Since I can't hinder it or prevent it, I am content to be present and learn from it what I can."

The "public death" of Europe in Montaigne's time and after has points in similarity with our own predicament. Society seemed to be falling to pieces. Old institutions were being shattered and the new ones did not bring peace or security. No one of the warring ideas was finally to prevail. In so far as the world got back to peace it was on a basis of tolerance.

In our own day, as in Montaigne's, absolute tolerance has a flavor of weakness. Tolerance of cruelty and injustice must always seem cruel and wicked. But Montaigne tolerated other people's thoughts, not their wild deeds. It seemed to him "great presumption and conceit to set one's own ideas in such high esteem as to overthrow the public peace in order to establish them." One dips into his pages with a certain bewilderment. Here was actually a man more civilized three centuries and more ago, before the idea of "progress" was invented, than many millions of people and a number of great nations seem to be today. In the end he meant more to the world than the Duke of Guise or Henry of Navarre. What would he say, one wonders, of our own generation? And will his ideas, and those of the other philosophers, have their way again when the fireworks have been shot off and grass grows again on what are now fresh battlefields?

Amusing Book by Dr. Hertzler Classifies Female Complaints

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. "My Life as a Country Doctor" from many complaints, chiefly because she is middle-aged. Then there is the adolescent girl, Christian lady and plain animal sometimes wage a terrible subconscious battle. Many of these girls can be relieved by a method which appeared as long ago as Hartshorn's "Practice of Medicine," which described it, by the use of potassium iodine, because these patients have small goiters and when they disappear the dysmenorrhea does likewise. Quite a large group of female complainers come to the doctor's office accompanied either by husband or mama. Mama has had all the symptoms and daughter unconsciously imitates her. When there is a strong nervous element in such cases, as there usually is, operation should be avoided if possible because the result will be disappointment. There is a story about a woman who told her mate that she had just had a talk with daughter, Papa asked, "What new did you find out?"

Tuning In with Betty Harpel

Jack of All Trades That George McCall fellow, the one who does the "Hollywood Screenscoops," is really a most remarkable man. His list of occupations include practically everything on the books from acting in vaudeville to being society editor of a paper.

His first job was as copy boy on the Buffalo Express. He soon was graduated to the obituary column, then turned society editor and police reporter. From there he joined Sells Floto circus as publicity man and filled in slack winter seasons with a vaudeville act. As George says—"It wasn't good but it fed me." Trekked to Hollywood as publicity man for "Preferred Pictures" but the company went broke and so did McCall. He teamed with Paul Fejos to write, direct and produce the art picture, "The Last Moment," on $1,700 capital. The film won the French academy award but failed to make money. His next job was on Variety, then with Universal News service where he was film editor and then commentator. He says he will be content to keep commenting for the rest of his career.

Battle of the Century Dating from Easter Monday, the great mustache race of 1938 is on. In one corner we have Malcolm Meacham, "Margot of Castlewood" star, and his second, Les Tremayne, "First Nighter" leading man, and in the other corner, Spencer Bentley, "Bob" of "Betty and Bob," and Verne Smith of "Arnold Grimm's Daughter."

It all started very innocently. Bentley thought aloud that he might grow a mustache like Meacham's. Meacham belittled the thought. Smith took up the battle and Tremayne joined in. Meacham shaved off his mustache and now they're off, starting from scratch. The deadline is Monday, May 16. A mustache cup to the winner!

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—One day a young man presented himself before the head of one of New York's smartest jewelry houses. "I have here a very unusual pearl," he said, "and I am anxious to get another to match it, for my wife. I got this in India last September." The jeweler took the pearl and examined it carefully. It was indeed a curious stone. "I never saw one just like this," the gem expert admitted. "Yes," said the young man. "That's why I want another to match it. My wife is crazy about it, and I want its twin for her birthday."

Black Pearl Again the specialist examined the pearl. It was black and in the center was a small crescent, just like an eye. "I can't promise you anything; but we'll try. How much will you pay for it?" "Oh, I don't know—I picked that up for a song, for $2,000. I'll go as much as $5,000, if it's a duplicate of this one."

Weeks went by. Then one day the man called: "Any luck?" "Nothing yet," was the reply, "but we are leaving nothing unturned." And, like that, they met with success. Brilliant success. "We have it," cried the jeweler into the transmitter. "Our agent in Cairo found the perfect match." The young man was frankly delighted. "Marvelous," he exclaimed. "And what is this going to cost me?" "That's just it," said the jeweler, "it's a steep price, but we are unable to do any better. The owner demands $15,000." "Whew!" whistled the purchaser. "That's a lot of money. Still, it's for my wife, and she shall have it. It's a deal."

Fleeced But when the triumphant jeweler telephoned his client that good man could not be found. And then the jeweler began studying that pearl. And weighing it. And, finally, he realized that this pearl with the crescent eye, this "twin," was the same pearl that the young man had brought in months before. He realized also that he had been fleeced, for though the pearl was genuine, his agents had paid $15,000 to the young "husband's" confederates in Cairo. And his pearl itself was worth about $1,500.

DiMaggio's Unconditional Surrender Becomes Official

By PAUL MICKELSON
NEW YORK, April 25 (AP).—The unconditional surrender of holdout Joe DiMaggio took place at 10:45 a. m. today. Giuseppe the Great arrived at the New York Yankee downtown baseball office five minutes late, received a contract calling for $25,000 from Colonel Jake Ruppert, and he signed it.

None of the typical Ruppert fare and ballyhoo attended the signing ceremony. Except for the presence of a few baseball reporters, press photographers and newsreel men, it might have been the signing of Joe Foul Ball with Terre Haute.

"Here is your contract, Joe DiMaggio," said Colonel Ruppert icily. "Now go ahead and sign it." Giuseppe signed without a word, and handed the papers back to the colonel.

"Now go ahead and play ball, Joe DiMaggio," ordered the colonel like a stern country judge. "Do your best. I hope you have a great year."

"Thanks," said Joe. "I'll do my best."

Someone asked if Joe was getting a bonus for signing.

"Joe DiMaggio," barked the colonel, "are you getting any bonus for this?"

"No bonus," gulped Joe.

"Make Your Bet"

"That's right," continued the colonel. "And furthermore Joe DiMaggio will not get a cent of pay until he starts to play ball.

Now go ahead you fellows (newspapermen) and bet that $2,000 with the fellow (Sports Editor Jimmy Powers of the New York Daily News) who says Joe signed his contract last fall."

"Yeh, but where are we going to get the money?" asked a reporter, "besides, Powers' bet is $5,000."

"I'll loan you the money," offered the colonel.

No one made a move to borrow the dough or to try to place the bet with Powers so the matter was forgotten. However, the colonel was so riled about the assertion DiMaggio had been signed all along and that his holdout was a publicity stunt that the old gentleman could hardly talk.

Might Look Bad

"He didn't want any mention made of this signing today," explained General Manager Ed Barrow, "but I convinced him it would look bad — as if Joe had been signed — if we didn't announce the time of signing in advance. But Colonel Ruppert absolutely refused to let Joe sign at the brewery as he usually did with Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig."

DiMaggio's comments were the usual stuff. He said he still thought he was worth $40,000 but that he was out to have his best season this year. He guessed it would take him a week to get into shape.

Barrow, at the request of newspapermen, had his secretary figure out how much Giuseppe will lose daily until he returned to the lineup. She figured on the basis of 168 days, instead of 154 games, and put the figure of DiMaggio's daily loss at $148.81, beginning with April 18. He already has lost $1,339.29. If he stays out until next Sunday, he'll lose $2,253.15. However, if Joe has another great year, Colonel Ruppert may give it back to him. Last year, he returned Red Ruffing's losses and gave Lefty Gomez a $2,500 bonus that brought his total to $15,000, the same full season's salary as Ruffing received.

Not a Chance

After DiMaggio and the colonel had departed, Barrow talked contracts. Most of the salaries baseball players are supposed to be making are over-estimated, he said. He asked if anyone stood a chance of equalling Babe Ruth's top salary of $80,000 a year, Barrow replied:

"Not a chance. There isn't that much money in the game for one ball player any more because of all the competition we are getting from other sports plus the upward revision of baseball salaries. Why, salaries, generally, have increased 50 per cent since 1920. I would say the very most any ball player ever can expect would be $50,000. Maybe not that much."

DiMag Gets a Laugh

"The highest payroll in baseball history was the one we had in 1930. And then we didn't even win the pennant."

This afternoon, Joe DiMaggio got some laughs anyway for the day. He practiced batting with comedian Al Schacht doing the pitching at Yankee stadium.

Touring Hawkeyes Win Third Straight Contest

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 25 (Special to The Daily Iowan).—Slamming out 17 hits, Iowa's touring baseball team continued its winning ways here today by slugging its way to a wild 13 to 9 victory over Notre Dame in a free hitting contest. It was the Hawkeyes' third straight triumph on their present road trip, coming on the heels of two wins over Northwestern last week end.

Big Inning

Losing no time in getting under way, the Iowans jumped into an 8-0 lead in the initial half of the first inning on eight hits, a walk and a sacrifice, driving Arboit to cover. They added a run in the second and two in the third to amass an 11-1 margin and, despite a five-run rally by the Irish in the fourth inning, coasted in with the victory.

Keith Wymore, starting on the hill for the Hawks, gave way to Howard Miller with two out in the third, in the midst of an uprising by the losers. Haub relieved Miller with two away in the next frame and hurled shutout ball, limiting the home team to three bingles and receiving credit for the victory.

Manush, George Hit

Art Manush, junior outfielder, and Jim George, sophomore gardener, led the Old Gold attack with five and three hits, respectively. Winders, Wymore and Miller were the only three players out of 12 used by Coach Otto Vogel that failed to connect safely.

The two teams will conclude their two-game series tomorrow.

U-Point Bluehawks Pin for Dual Meet With Monticello Here

Satisfied with University high's showing in the Iowa State Teachers college relays Saturday, where their two mile relay team took a first and the mile relay team took fourth, Coach Carpenter is drilling his thinclads for the dual meet with Monticello here next Thursday.

Although Monticello's track team has started slowly this season, they have improved rapidly each week, and are expected to be at their peak when they meet the Blues Thursday.

As usual, University high hopes for winning hinge on Bruce Blackstone's ability to capture the high and low hurdles, Miller's ability to win the high jump, and the ability of the mile relay team to capture its event.

The dual meet of 15 events is scheduled to begin at 4:15 p. m. Thursday on the stadium track.

in the 145-pound class to complete the first round of competition.

Today's matches include two bouts in the 136-pound class with Sherman and Gibbs tangling in one match while Agnew and McMahon will exchange holds in the other.

One 145-pound scrap will bring together Dougherty and Thomas while two heavyweight bouts will find Noll and Cad-cod opposing each other and Bennett and Mann struggling in the other bout.

Barney Ross Stops Venner in Seventh Round

Nebraska 'Schoolmaster' Is No Match for Welterweight Champ

Chicago Scrapper Has Easy Time With Nebraskan

DES MOINES, Ia., April 25 (AP).—Barney Ross, the fast-punching welterweight champion, tonight got in six and a half practice rounds for his title meeting with Henry Armstrong next month before he stopped Bobby Venner, the former Hastings, Neb., "schoolmaster."

The rugged Chicagoan, after putting the 23-year-old Nebraskan boy on the floor four times, wound up his night's work with a vicious crack to the jaw which sent Venner spinning into the ropes and down to the canvas. Before the referee could start his count, Venner's second threw in the towel.

Ross, who weighed 141 3-4 pounds, was a perfect marksman tonight. He smashed a hard right to Venner's head in the second round and Bobby, undefeated in his brief professional year previous to tonight, took an eight-count.

The champion rattled rights and lefts to Venner's head and body in the third and fourth rounds but Bobby weathered the attack after being all but one late in the fifth round.

Venner was down for a seven-count with only 20 seconds remaining in the sixth round and was on the floor twice in the seventh round before Barney got the punch that stopped the fight.

The Nebraska boy, seven pounds heavier than Ross, was a game fighter, but didn't have the offensive guns or the defense to combat the sharp-shooting champion.

Pairings Announced For University And Frosh Golf Tournaments

Pairings were announced yesterday for both the University and freshman golf championship tournaments. Sixteen men qualified Saturday morning for the University championship and play will start this week for the Kuever-Bye trophy, which is donated every year to the winner.

Twelve men entered the freshman tournament to compete for the trophy donated yearly by Dr. Clarence Van Epps.

The first round pairings for the University championship are: Pittman vs. Colver, King vs. Dick Hoak, Pettit vs. Jim Hoak, Fults vs. Miller, Skow vs. Estey, Kehrer vs. Everson, Foerster vs. McRoberts, Thomsen vs. Bohlin. First round matches are to be played by Thursday.

Thomsen Posts Low Golf Card

Hawkeye Captain Scores 306 in Two-Day Squad Meet

Capt. Willie Thomsen finished the last nine holes of the 72-hole intra-squad tournament in 33 Sunday, two strokes better than par to post a 306 total for the two-day tournament, and nosed out Clayton Pittman, who carded a 308 total, with his brilliant finish.

High winds and low temperatures kept the scores well above par Saturday, and although the temperatures rose Sunday there was still a strong wind which carried many would-be good shots from the greens.

The highlight of the tournament was Thomsen's par-breaking 70 Saturday afternoon. This came after a poor morning round when he carded an 81, and enabled him to tie Pittman at the half-way mark.

Frank Miller, Harold Skow, Don Fults, Jim Hoak, Ralph Bohlin, and Elbert Estey finished in that order behind the two leaders. The team will travel to Champaign, Ill., this week end for a match with the Illini.

Upper A Beats Upper B, 16-9 In Softball Tilt

The Quadrangle's outdoor spring sports program gained momentum yesterday afternoon on the intramural softball diamond when the third game of the season was played with Upper A trouncing Upper B, 16 to 9, in the opening game for both sections.

Upper A collected 16 hits from Howard Ely, who did the hurling for the Upper B outfit. Upper B collected 13 hits from the pitching of Ben Morris but was unable to push across the needed scores for victory.

Saturday's two opening games of the schedule were exact opposites of yesterday's slugfest as outstanding pitching featured both tilts.

Roland Boysen, doing the throwing for Lower A, struck out 18 opposing batters before retiring from the game with an injured finger on his pitching hand. Victims of Boysen's control and speed were Lower B's diamond-men who went down to defeat by the score of 9-2.

Lower D Wins

Lower D, behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Van Horne, outscored Lower C, 9-1, to win the second Saturday afternoon game. Van Horne, in pitching Lower D to victory, registered 13 strikeouts, with the only run scored from his hurling coming as a result of an error.

The singles competition in both tennis and horseshoes will get underway this week with opening matches scheduled for the early part of the week. Thirteen men have entered the shoe flinging tourney while 32 filed entries in the tennis tournament.

Butler Girl Picked as Queen

Marjory Zechiel Selected to Reign at Drake Relays This Week End

DES MOINES, April 25 (Special to The Daily Iowan).—A sportswoman, beauty, student and leader, blue-eyed blonde Marjory Zechiel, of Butler university, will reign as queen of the 29th Drake Relays April 29 and 30.

According to Margaret Stone, editor of the 1938 QUAX, Drake junior yearbook, Miss Zechiel was selected queen of the Relays from a score of candidates of other colleges and universities entering teams in the Relays.

Judging was done on the basis of photographs and questionnaire material submitted by editors of yearbooks, and on consideration of the four requisite points: intelligence, beauty, personality and poise.

A true queen, Miss Zechiel is five feet six inches in height and weighs 125 pounds. She is 20 years old and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

Brains Too

Throughout her college career, she has excelled in scholarship, having been a member of sophomore, junior and senior honorary organizations, all requiring superior grades and active participation in school activities. The honorary groups are, respectively: Spurs, Chimes and Scarlet Quill. She was treasurer of the two latter organizations.

She is active in the Women's league and president of the Y. W. C. A. At the Y. W. C. A. regional summer conference, Miss Zechiel was chosen by leaders to represent the Indiana area as a member of the Geneva council for this year, an honor evidencing high type of character as well as capability and leadership.

This Relays queen excels in athletics, naming tennis and swimming as her favorite sports. She is president of the Bluegills Swimming club, and earned a sweater in the Women's Athletic association.

Selected by Powell

Another honor was added to her long list of laurels when Dick Powell, Warner Brothers movie star, selected her as one of the five most beautiful women on the Butler campus.

From the time the queen arrives in Des Moines early Friday morning, April 29, until she leaves late Saturday night to return to her home in Indianapolis, her program will include a whirl of events,

Hawkeye Track Team Expected To Place High in Drake Meet

Hawkeye relay teams, after a sensational championship showing at Kansas Saturday, will be one of the strongest aggregations among the array of the country's greatest track stars, including 10 national collegiate champions, who will invade Des Moines this week end to participate in the 29th annual Drake relays in Drake stadium.

The squad, headed by the Kansas relays champion mile and two-mile relay teams, will number more than 20 athletes to compete in five relays and about seven special events.

Trials This Week

Trials during the next two days will determine the personnel of the Hawkeye contingent. Since 1929, when the Iowans won three relays, the Hawks have failed to win more than one race at Drake. But this week end they expect to erase that record by excelling their performance at Kansas.

Iowa's mile and two mile teams should better the time of the Kansas victories with better weather conditions and another week of conditioning, and the sprint medley team, second at Kansas, is expected to exhibit winning form. The shuttle hurdles team should also place high.

12 Men Place

Of the 13 men competing at Kansas, 12 were place winners. Bush Lamb was eliminated in his section of the 120-yard high hurdles heat when he placed third. His time was :14.7, one-tenth of a second faster than the second place-winning time of his teammate, John Collinge. The hurdles events were made especially difficult by the addition of preliminary races for the first time in the history of the Kansas relays.

Cameron Campbell, whose brilliant darkhorse performance to take second place in the 3,000-meter steeplechase event at Kansas proved the Hawkeye two-miler a man to reckon with, will meet Drake's Bill Feiler, National A. A. U. Junior collegiate 10,000-meter champion in an attack on the record of Don Lash of Indiana set in the two-mile run two years ago.

● Cubs Will Profit
● Six and Six
● Tunney Cautious

Baseball, just as in every other spring, is taking the spotlight away from other sports. The way it shapes now, the Chicago Cubs made two of the best deals of the year when they signed Tony Lazzeri and traded for the loquacious Dizzy Dean. And don't think the Cubs' front office was looking for another "manager." There's plenty of power left in that Lazzeri bat and the Bruins can use it. And if the Cubs should get into the world series against the Yanks, who could be of more aid than Tony—who played with the latter for so long a time.

If the Cubs fail to draw good crowds this season you can look for the price of chewing gum to go to three-for-a-dime.

Haub Looks Good

And while on the subject of baseball, why not a word about the 1938 edition of the Iowa diamond team? Yesterday's victory over the Notre Dame Irish brought the Hawkeyes' record to six wins and six losses.

Harold Haub, sophomore speedballer, has been turning in some fine performances so far and looks to be the "comer" on the Iowa nine. If only that power hitting can be continued.

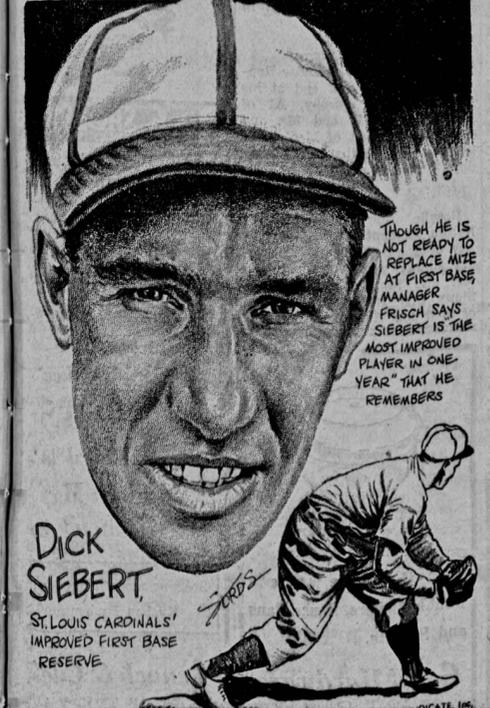

The strangest thing about the Hawks so far is that they haven't run into any bad weather — that is bad enough to cause the cancellation of a game. Remember last year?

Louis to Win

Gene Tunney, the former heavyweight champion of the world, the one that always goes way out on the limb and picks the wrong man in every big fight, seems to be getting cautious with advancing age. Gene wants a chance to look the men over before announcing the winner of the Louis-Schmeling fight in June.

I haven't guessed right on a sporting event since I took the Yanks over the Giants last year, but I do think that the "Detroit Destroyer," the "Brown Bomber," the "Sepia Slugger" — call him what you please — will have little trouble with the German batter when the two meet in June. Age may improve some things (like cheese) but it isn't going to help Herr Schmeling a bit.

Judges Give 29 Quality Awards In Annual Student Salon of Art

Public Vote Determines Popularity Awards In 4 Groups

Twenty-nine quality awards and four popularity awards were presented Sunday afternoon at the formal opening of the Union Board's fifth annual student salon of art in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

From the 66 works by university students, nine awards went to the oil division, 12 to the water colors or pastels, six to the monochrome group and two quality awards to the sculpture division. The display will continue to May 6.

Works of art selected for quality awards were judged by Aden Arnold and Edith Bell, both of the graphic and plastic arts department, and Marvin D. Cone, head of the art department at Coe college.

The popularity awards, determined by public vote, are given to one work in each of the four divisions of the display. The winners are "Joe" by Mrs. V. Work Jones, A4 of Iowa City, in oil; "Industry" by Billy Cox, A2 of Washington, Ia., in water colors or pastel; "Portrait of a Young Farmer" by Raymond Hotka, A4 of Iowa City, in monochrome, and "Book Ends" by Shirley Briggs, A3 of Iowa City, in sculpture.

Ribbon winners of quality awards in the oil division include "Portrait of Mother" by Ruth Adair, A4 of Indianola; "Study Window" by Josephine Barker, A2 of Des Moines; "1896" by Orville W. Boeck, G of Davenport; "Naomi" by Betty Braverman, A4 of Iowa City; "Sunflowers" by Aron Dejez, U of Iowa City.

"Railroad Embankment" by Richard Gates, G of Cedar Rapids; "Joe" by Mrs. Jones, A4 of Iowa City; "Nude" by James McConnell, G of Chicago, and "White Glads" by Gretchen Patzig, A4 of Iowa City.

Theola R. Greenfield's "Still Life No. 1" and "Still Life No. 2" won quality awards in the pastel or water color division. Paul Mehrens, A3 of Mondamin, received ribbons on "Four O'clock" and "Drapery." Other quality awards in this group include "Margaret" by Miss Barker; "Mexicana" by Mr. Boeck; and "First Snow" by Mr. Dejez, all of whom received awards on oil paintings; "Girl and Flowers" by R. V. Cassill, A3 of Lovilia; "Industry" by Mr. Cox; "Hobby Class" by Helen Miller, G of Iowa City; "April" by Ida Helen Olin, A3 of Iowa City, and "Brown Pitcher" by Mr. Hotka.

In the monochrome group William Stipe, A3 of Clarinda, received awards on "Night Light" and "Union Labor." Other winners include "Portrait of a Young Farmer" by Mr. Hotka; "Transportation Predictions" by Harold

Legion Hears Plan for Boy's State Discussed by Sieverding

Five Iowa City Youths To Represent Post At Des Moines

Plans for the Hawkeye boy's state, which will be sponsored by the Iowa American Legion June 12 to 19, were discussed by Vic Sieverding, Grundy Center, one of its organizers, at a dinner meeting of the Roy L. Choepel Post No. 17 of the American Legion in the community building last night. Sieverding is state Legion chairman of the Americanism committee.

Approximately 80 members of the post and guests attended. The dinner meeting is the first to be held by the group in its new rooms in the community building.

Five Iowa City boys, who will represent the local post at the Boy's state events in Des Moines were guests. They were William Bolter, University high school; William Fischer, Iowa City high school; James Bradley, St. Patrick's high school; Cyril Black, St. Mary's high school; and Russell Hirt, Iowa City high school.

The five youths were nominated from the upper half of the junior class scholastically and were elected by the remainder of the boys in the class. B. M. Ricketts was in charge of arrangements for selecting the boys.

The boys and several of their parents and instructors were introduced by Judge Harold E. Evans, who also introduced the speaker.

The boys will be given an insight into the machinery of state government, Sieverding said, in beginning his explanation of the boy's state and plans for it.

A complete system of state government will be set up at Camp Dodge in Des Moines with the boys as administrators, he said.

Every phase of state politics from city offices to the highest state position are to be established and run by the boys.

Every boy upon arrival at the camp will be selected as a politician for a certain city. Each youth will then elect the city officials and select delegates for a county caucus which will in turn name delegates to a state caucus. These latter caucuses will nominate state officials and a state election will be held, according to the plan outlined.

Positions as attorneys will be given some of the boys after tests are passed. Other boys will be selected for judicial positions.

Boys will also be selected as heads of state bureaus, as state patrolmen and as city inspectors, the speaker said. Every boy will be given a position and a certain amount of responsibility.

The objective of the plan, he explained, is to show the boys that the American form of government is a feasible and sound.

"We want the boys to learn a love for our government. We want the boys to know the American government is the best form," he said.

The boy's state has been successfully operated in several mid-west states during the past three years. He said the plan had many merits for creating a stronger appreciation of the American form of government.

"The boys will sell the American program to the public," he asserted. "All the posts of the state should get behind the movement." Aims and purposes of the National Airmail week were given by Postmaster Walter Barrow.

George Zeithamel, commander of the local post, presided at the meeting. The ladies auxiliary served dinner for the group.

Few Ask For Food Licenses

Only seven applications for food dispensing licenses have been made, City Clerk Grover Watson reported yesterday. Under the new ordinance adopted recently by the city council, it is necessary for every food dispensing establishment in Iowa City to have a license.

There is no fee to secure this license, but the permits are liable for consent or rejection after the establishments are inspected by a city health commissioner. Licenses may be revoked for any violation of the sanitation provisions of the new ordinance.

Edward Ford Files Papers of Candidacy

Edward Ford, 116 E. Benton street, filed an affidavit of candidacy for the democratic nomination for Iowa City constable at the June 6 primaries, with County Auditor Ed Sulek yesterday.

Five other democratic candidates have filed papers for the office so far.

Parents to See Demonstrations By Each Grade

University high school faculty committees under the supervision of Kenneth W. Vaughn, assistant principal of the high school will select two classes today from each junior high school grade which will be of most interest to parents visiting the school Friday, at the annual open house.

Following the class demonstrations, there will be a short program in the gymnasium. Orchestral selections, under the direction of Walter L. Haderer, music director, will be "Two Guitars" by Horlick, "Pizzicato Polka" by Strauss, and "Hungarian March" by Berlioz.

League Hears E. Richardson

Candidate for Senator Commends Work Done by WPA

Mrs. Ellsworth Richardson, democratic candidate for United States senator, was present at last night's meeting of the Roosevelt Non-Partisan league at the Johnson county courthouse, as the first of the state's democratic candidates to be presented before the league and its friends.

In its effort to introduce democratic primary candidates to Iowa Citizens, the league has urged all other democratic primary candidates to appear at the courthouse before the election.

Mrs. Richardson has been associated with the Farm Bureau for 15 years. Recently she was one of four farm women to visit the president. She stressed the part of farm women in economic problems. "Women," she said, "want liberty and freedom to work along with men in important tasks." In praising the constructive work of the WPA in Iowa, Mrs. Richardson said, "This is no time for criticism; it is the time for constructive work and ideas."

Prof. George Keller, head of the WPA in Iowa, stressed the role of WPA in Johnson county. Calling attention to the airport and the campus projects as outstanding examples of construction, he cited the airport as the largest in Iowa, having three 3,500-foot runways, each 100 feet wide. He stressed the fact that the airport had in no way disturbed the industrial balance in Iowa City, and that it was of great interest to the army and navy here, at the present time.

In connection with the $400,000 campus project, he cited only one example, the skating rink that is under construction near the dramatic arts building. "This work," he declared, "took no money away from the contractor, and the legislators would never have appropriated enough money to clear those swamps."

Other speakers were Nora Donohoe, head of the Johnson county sewing project, under the WPA, who revealed that in her project, 18 women worked 128 hours a week for 35 cents an hour, providing bedding and clothing for the Johnson county needy according to the County home.

Harry Shulman, Iowa Citizen who was recently called to a conference with Gov. Philip LaFollette in Madison, Wis., elaborated on his plans for a cross country highway construction project to balance the budget, provide employment for 5,000,000 men at a minimum of $100 a month, and eliminate danger of accidents through one-way roads and paving of gravel roads all over the country.

Other speakers were County Supervisor Frank J. Krall on road construction projects, and O. D. Cash, in charge of cornerstone finding in Iowa.

Nash to Speak This Morning

"Ten Second Selling" is the topic C. A. Nash of Chicago will discuss at 8 o'clock this morning in the Iowa City Community building auditorium as a feature of the Employer-Employee Reveille meeting under the auspices of the retail trade division of the Iowa City Chamber of Commerce.

Nash is vice-president in charge of sales for the United Light and Power company.

William Bock's Funeral Service Will Be Today

Funeral service for William Bock, 80, of 930 E. Jefferson street, who died Sunday morning in a local hospital, will be at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Hohenstuh mortuary. The Rev. C. Rollin Sherck will officiate and burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

Mr. Bock was a member of the Eagles' lodge. He was employed by the Miller Brothers' Monument works.

His survivors are the widow; one brother, John Bock, Chicago; and two sisters, Mrs. Mike Villhauer, 804 E. Jefferson and Mrs. Marie Mahana, Chicago.

3 to Represent Local School Will Compete in Finals Of Speech Events At Muscatine

Three speakers will represent Iowa City high school against five other schools in the finals of the Iowa Nine extemporaneous and original oratory contests at Muscatine today, Lola Hughes, head of the dramatics department, announced last night.

Marilyn Glassman and Marvin Chapman, speaking in the girls' and boys' divisions respectively, will compete in the extempore section. Charles Beckman will be entered in the oratory division with "Our Heritage."

Other schools entered in the meet are Muscatine, Fairfield, Ottumwa, Davenport and Burlington.

Following a business meeting of school officials at 9 o'clock, a luncheon at noon, and the drawing of topics by extempore speakers at 3 o'clock, the three contestants will begin at 4 o'clock in the Muscatine high school.

Principal W. E. Beck, Miss Hughes and Gordon Christensen will also make the trip.

Judges will be Eugene Chenoweth, Loretta Wagner and Otto Dieters, all of the speech department.

Moline Man Fined For Reckless Driving

George Coakley of Moline, Ill., paid a $25 fine before Justice of the Peace J. M. Kadlec yesterday on a charge of reckless driving.

Coakley was arrested by state highway patrol officers on U. S. highway 6 west of Iowa City for passing on hills and speeding in slow-speed zones.

Young, Edward Wilkinson, Otto Dolezal, Cecil Armstrong, Frank Spratt, Dennis Maier, Harold Lenz, Glen Cochran, George Emmons, Donald Egan and Alvan Dale Hyde.

A dance was held to the music of Cracky's Hill Billies from 9 to 11 o'clock. An exhibition was given by the Ladies' Auxiliary drill team. A buffet lunch and refreshments were served.

The entertainment committee was headed by Managers Joe McGinnis and George Floerchinger.

Funeral Service For Mrs. Cook At Beckman's

Funeral service for Mrs. Emma E. Cook, 61, 1173 E. Court street, who died Sunday morning, will be at 7:30 a.m. tomorrow at Beckman's. A second service will be held in the Christian church at Vermont, Ill., at 2 p.m. tomorrow and burial will be in Vermont.

Her survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Frieda Eickelkamp, 1173 E. Court street, and Mrs. Doris E. Kondell, Vergil, S. D.; three sons, Morie G. Cook, Ray, Ill., Glain F. H. Cook, Hills City, S. D., and Everett Cook, Vergil, S. D.; five sisters, Mrs. Hein, Mrs. Augusta Oestrich and Mrs. Albert Zebel, all of Huron, S. D., and Mrs. William Quiram, Vergil, S. D., and two brothers, Otto Horn and Gustav Horn, both of Vergil, S. D.

Kadlec Collects $125.75 in Fees

J. M. Kadlec, Iowa City justice of the peace, collected $125.75 in criminal case fees during the first quarter of 1938, according to a report filed with County Auditor Ed Sulek.

The report showed collection of fines of $51.50 and costs of $74.25.

Botanist Gives Graduate Talk

Dr. Ralph W. Chaney Lectures to Two S. U. I. Clubs

Dr. Ralph W. Chaney, internationally known paleobotanist, gave a graduate college lecture last night in chemistry auditorium on "Forest Migrations Around the Pacific." Dr. Chaney is chairman of the department of paleontology at the University of California and a research assistant of the Carnegie Institution.

In the afternoon Dr. Chaney lectured to both the geology and botany clubs. He was a guest of the geology club at a dinner at Iowa Union in the evening.

He was a member of the Asiatic expedition to Mongolia for the American Museum of Natural History. Dr. Chaney was a member of the University of Iowa geology department from 1917 to 1922.

While in Iowa City Dr. Chaney was the guest of Dean and Mrs. George F. Kay, 6 Bella Vista place.

Pays Fine on Truck

L. H. Billick of Iowa City paid a $5 fine before Justice of the Peace T. M. Fairchild yesterday on a charge of operating a truck without a state railroad commission permit.

Tickets to Last S. U. I. Lecture Available Now

Tickets will be available to students and faculty members today and tomorrow at Iowa Union desk for the last in the series of university lectures—that presented by George E. Sokolsky, international authority on public affairs. Sokolsky's subject has not yet been announced officially, but he will discuss some question of economic importance.

Sokolsky, Speaker, Will Discuss Economics Question

Sokolsky has in the last few years travelled more than 100,000 miles in the United States, visiting nearly every state, in an effort to study the economic situation in this country. During the summer of 1933 he went to London to observe the economic conference and to analyze the economic and political position of the United States in relation to the rest of the world.

He has had several articles collected and published by Doubleday, Doran and company under the title "Labor's Fight for Power." In 1935, another of Sokolsky's books, "We Jews," was published. One of his latest ventures in the field of opinion is a two-column article in the New York Herald-Tribune which appears every Monday and discusses topics of current interest.

The speaker was born in Utica, N. Y., and attended the school of journalism at Columbia university. He was a brilliant student, and in 1917 he left this country to see the Russian revolution. While in Russia he edited the Russian Daily News of Petrograd and continued in this capacity until he was asked to leave Russia. He then went to Peiping and became assistant

City Tax Costs Are Disclosed

The per person cost of operating Iowa City's municipal government for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1937, was $12.20, the fourth highest expense of any city in the state of more than 5,000 population, according to reports of the Iowa Taxpayers association. Only Des Moines, Sioux City and Dubuque had greater per person costs.

Muscatine, with 1,400 more population than Iowa City, had an operating cost per person of $7.03, only 63 per cent of the local cost. Iowa City's figure was the highest in the state for all cities of less than 40,000 population.

The state's total of $9,333,749 showed an increase of $392,390, or 4.4 per cent over the 1936 expenditures. The average per person cost increased from $11.03 to $11.51 in 1937.

Age Limit To Pension Fund

Continued Working Until Seventy

Payments made by the city and by individual firemen or policemen into the pension fund would stop at either age 55 or 60, as chosen by the individual, according to an opinion by City Attorney Robert Larson at a meeting of the fire and police pension fund trustees yesterday afternoon in the city council chambers.

The pensioner may continue working until age 70, but the pension remains as fixed at age 55 or 60.

City Treasurer E. B. Raymond was instructed to invest the funds of the pension fund in United States "baby bonds."

Prof. H. L. Reitz, a member of the board and its actuary, offered to continue the actuarial work on an expense basis and without salary. His offer was accepted.

To Sing Leading Male Roles

Hugh Cockshoot, A4 of Wilton Junction, left, and Thomas Muir, an associate in the music department, will sing the leading male roles of Mascagni's one-act opera, "Cavalleria Rusticana," which will be presented for the first time tomorrow night in the dramatic arts building. Cockshoot, baritone, will portray Alfio, a wagoner, in the Italian melodrama, while Muir, tenor, will sing the part of Turiddu, the ill-fated lover. "Cavalleria Rusticana" will be presented under the auspices of the music department, with Prof. Herald Stark conducting. Robert Whitehand of the dramatic arts department is stage director for the production, which will place emphasis upon dramatic action in the story in addition to the traditional excellence of vocal and instrumental music.

'Cavalleria Rusticana' To Illustrate Newer Trend in Presenting Operatic Production

One of the newer trends in opera will be illustrated by tomorrow night's presentation of "Cavalleria Rusticana" in the dramatic arts building.

The Sicilian melodrama by Pietro Mascagni, which is under the direction of Prof. Herald Stark of the music department, will place emphasis upon the dramatic significance of the play, in addition to musical excellence—a step away from the set methods of action customary in operatic presentations.

According to the traditional plan, the action of a particular opera is fixed, no matter where or by whom it may be given. The simple purpose of such a plan is to enable any European or American actor to appear upon short notice in any role of an opera with which he is familiar, knowing that the stage action will be the same for that particular drama under any circumstances.

The result of such a procedure is that operas often lack the vitality and dramatic quality afforded by diversified action upon the stage.

The modern trend toward emphasis upon action, rather than upon the singing voice alone, began in Russia about five years ago with the presentation of an opera in which the old method was discarded.

The stage direction of "Cavalleria Rusticana" is under the supervision of Robert Whitehand of the dramatic arts department. The presentation of the opera will conform to this modern trend in operatic production, and "Cavalleria Rusticana" will be a production of dramatic action, as well as of music and song.

The only pause in the action will take place when the orchestra plays the popular intermezzo while the curtain remains raised upon the Sicilian village scene where the action takes place.

A select chorus of 34 voices and the university chamber orchestra will provide the musical background for the production, augmented by a small chorus and an organ which will be used in the church scene.

"Cavalleria Rusticana," a one-act melodrama of love and hate, will be presented tomorrow and Friday nights in the dramatic arts building. A limited number of tickets is now on sale.

The leading roles will be sung by Mrs. Carolyn Leland, soprano, as Santuzza and Thomas Muir, tenor, as Turiddu. Other soloists are Hugh Cockshoot, A4 of Wilton Junction; Maxine Tipton, G of Carson; Margaret Brandt, G of Hastings, Neb.; and Madge Jones, A4 of Cedar Rapids.

The May Frolic, which will open festivities Friday evening at Iowa Union, is the successor to "Iowawa," annual spring festival staged by Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. the week end of Mother's day in 1928.

Other activities, with the exception of the Sports Review to be presented by the women's physical education department Saturday afternoon, will be similar to the events on the original program. Events which will follow the cus-

Daley, Porter To Give Talks

Program on Movement For Peace Will Be Broadcast

Prof. Clara M. Daley of the history department and Prof. Kirk H. Porter of the political science department will be the two faculty speakers appearing before the microphone tonight from 9 to 9:30 in a discussion of peace. The program, the first event of National Peace week being observed on the University of Iowa campus this week, will be broadcast over WSUI. Don Olsen, A2 of Council Bluffs, will also talk as a representative of the student body.

Tomorrow at 4 p.m. the Old Gold demonstration and mass meeting will take place on the front steps of Old Capitol. A program showing the interest university students have in the nationwide peace movement will be presented. Prof. H. J. Thornton of the political science department will be one of the speakers.

A debate Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol will mark the closing of Peace week. The issue to be discussed will be "Resolved, that compulsory R. O. T. C. should be abolished in American colleges and universities." Those debating include Baker Waterman, A4 of Des Moines, Edward Freutel, A3 of Los Angeles, Mal Hansen, A4 of Dixon, Ill., and Robert Schulz, A4 of Davenport.

The University libraries are also cooperating with the peace observance. Ruth Dipoye is in charge of the displays which include pamphlets and magazines exhibited in the periodical room of reserve library and a shelf of books in general library. The shelf is made up of recent stories on peace and peace movements.

The talk will be given in the auditorium of the electrical engineering building. It is being sponsored by the student branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Can You Read This? How Well? Graduate Finds Many College Freshmen Have Poor Reading Ability

By SOL FRIEDMAN

The university freshman followed the printed line slowly, laboriously. He shifted uneasily in the East hall laboratory chair and read carefully, haltingly, from the text before him. The clinician, looking up from the metronome before him, glanced at a chart.

"Young man," he declared decisively, "You have the reading ability of an eighth grade student. —Now just a moment, that's no disgrace—from 10 to 20 per cent of all college freshmen can read no better."

The student was one of 110 who have passed through the University of Iowa's reading clinic since last September. The clinician was Robert Larsen, G of Spencer, who has made the ironing out of reading disabilities his specialty and basis of study for a Ph.D. degree.

According to a survey of 3,000 subjects of all ages taken at random from various sections of the nation, not more than 25 per cent of the population reads with any real efficiency. The average high school student reads 295 words per minute; the average college enrollee reads 325 words per minute; but one-third of the adult population of the United States cannot read with ease material designed for 12-year-old sixth grade pupils.

Eye defects are responsible for only a small percentage of reading disabilities, Larsen declares. More frequent culprits are mental, emotional, environmental and educational troubles.

To show the effects of emotional and environmental maladjustments on reading abilities, Larsen cites the cases of several young children mentally normal or superior, proficient in other studies but far sub-normal in reading ability. Careful investigation and study of the case histories showed too indulgent parents had never permitted the patients to assume responsibilities of their own—with a consequent lack of effort on the part of the children to attempt to read for themselves.

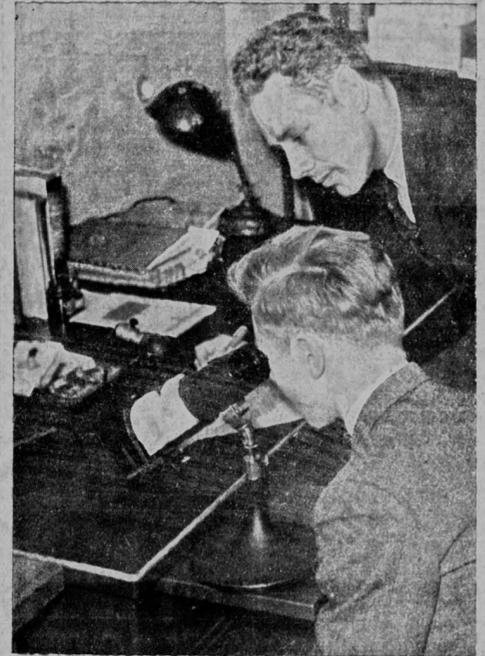

One child, asserting he "didn't need to read because mother reads to me," countered the clinician's reminder that "mother wouldn't always be with you" with the assertion that "by that time my mother will have read everything to me that I could possibly want to know about or ever want to read!"

Even in higher education, reading plays a vastly underestimated role in scholastic achievements. A study of the lowest third (in reading ability) of a freshman class showed that 63 per cent revealed delinquency reports at mid-semester, 49 per cent of their grades were below C, and 32 per cent of the group were eliminated at the end of the semester. Over 80 per cent of all study activities require reading, Larsen points out.

There is no magical "mumbo-jumbo - presto - you're - cured" formula in use, Larsen explains. University students who make relatively high scores in every-thing but reading ability in their freshman qualifying examinations are referred to the clinic for diagnosis and treatment. A careful study is made to discover the reason for the apparent discrepancy between mental and reading abilities.

"Psychological and physical tests are given," Larsen explains. "The clinician also takes a case history of the poor reader and makes careful observations."

Major troubles are stopping (fixating) on certain words, stopping at the end of lines, re-reading lines, looking at single words rather than at phrases and eye wandering up and down the page at the beginning of lines. All these defects in reading efficiency are discovered by use of an ordinary hand mirror by which the clinician is able to follow the eye movements of the reader as his eye travels the printed line. Word pronunciations and lip movements also slow up reading speed, Larsen declares.

To overcome such reading defects, Larsen and his staff teach patients to read within time limits, read phrases spaced so that the entire group of words must be taken in at once glance and use other such corrective methods.

"Reading comprehension however is much more important than reading speed," Larsen emphasizes. "Many educators and psychologists tend to place too much emphasis on speed and not enough on understanding what is read."

In general the faster readers tend to comprehend better, he said. To increase the understanding of material read, Larsen urges students to use definite

Prof. Longman Will Give Talk

To Compare Classical, Renaissance Art At Lecture

Prof. Lester D. Longman, head of the graphic and plastic arts department, will conclude the special English lecture series tonight at 7:15 in room 221A, Schaeffer hall, with a talk on "Classical and Renaissance Art."

Professor Longman will compare the art of the two periods and will interpret the works of famous artists as a manifestation of the culture of the period. He will illustrate his lecture with slides of famous masterpieces.

This is the second year Professor Longman has served as head of the graphic and plastic arts department. He was graduated magna cum laude in the history of philosophy at Oberlin college in 1927. During 1928 to 1930 he was a Carnegie fellow in fine arts at Princeton university, where he received an M.A. degree in art and archaeology. In 1930 he was a lecturer in the history of art at Ohio State university.

The graphic and plastic arts head was a fellow of the American Council of Learned Societies for research in Europe on the history of Spanish painting of the 14th and 15th centuries in 1930 to 1931 and continued this study in Europe and Harvard university during the next two years.

Chinese Mohammedans in Peking have been organized into an anti Communist federation, drawing conclusions and inferences.

Patients come to the clinic twice a week for treatment and advice. One student, with an I.Q. of 152—well within the genius category—showed high school freshman ability in reading speed and only normal ability in reading comprehension. After but seven conferences, a re-test showed that he possessed a reading rate placing him in the upper 15 per cent of college seniors and a reading comprehension equal to that of the upper twelve per cent of the same classes.

Sixty-two cases, from second grade pupils up to and including graduate students are now being treated in the clinic. Twenty-one other reading deficient cases have applied for help but cannot be accommodated because of limited facilities. The clinic is the state center for care of reading deficient. Cases are referred to Larsen by social workers and schools, besides those who voluntarily come to the clinic for aid.

"Nearly everyone can improve his reading efficiency," Larsen asserts. "Very few read as well as they might. To the extent that the potential ability is there, our job is to bring it out."

Pirates Roll Merrily Along Unbeaten Path by Nosing Out Chicago Cubs, 8-6

Two Four-Run Rallies Result In Triumph for Buccaneers

Bauers and Mace Brown Fling Pittsburgh To Seventh Win

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 25 (AP)—Exploding two four-run drives from behind, the Pirates defeated the Chicago Cubs today in the first clash of the two clubs this season. The score was 8 to 6, Pie Traynor's club thus recording its seventh straight victory in the new season.

The home team had a two-run deficit when they unleashed a four-run drive in the fifth inning. The Cubs flashed with a four-run offensive in the seventh, when Tony Lazzeri, making his National league debut in Pittsburgh, drove a long homer over the left field wall with Augie Galan on the bases, the score tied and two out.

Two Big Innings

Ten Pirates went to the plate in the fifth and nine more went up in the eighth as they won the ball game. Todd opened with a single and Dickshot, hitting for L. Waner, walked with the tying run. P. Waner forced Dickshot, but Recruit Southpaw Bob Logan let go a wild pitch that let P. Waner advance and then he walked Rizzo to fill the bases.

Vaughan came through with a single to score two runs, Suhr singled to score another and after Lee had relieved the kid left-hander, Brubaker doubled to score Vaughan with the fourth run.

Deep Strategy

Manager Pie Traynor engineered a smart play in the seventh when in placing a new battery in action he moved Pitcher Mace Brown into the eighth notch, so that he could start the home half of the inning with Catcher Al Todd leading off, Jim Tobin having batted for Ray Berres in the seventh. Todd, hitting in the ninth spot, started the eighth with a single to make the Traynor strategy look very good.

In starting his first game of the season, in opposition to Clay Bryant, Russell Bauers was off on his control. Brown received credit for the victory. Bryant gave way to Al Epperly in the midst of the Pirates' fifth-inning rplurge.

Cubs Score First

The Cubs were first to score in the see-saw battle. Galan's ringle in front of O'Dea's double and a two-sacker by Bryant gave the Bruins two runs.

Cincinnati Reds Buy Jim Weaver From St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, April 25 (AP)—Big Jim Weaver, St. Louis Browns pitcher, has been sold to the Cincinnati Reds, the Browns' office announced tonight. No price was divulged.

Weaver, 6 feet, 6 inches tall and weighing 230 pounds, is noted as one of the tallest pitchers in baseball. He was obtained from Pittsburgh on waivers last winter, the announcement said.

The big pitcher was with the Senators in 1928, the Yankees in 1931, the Browns and Cubs in 1934, prior to going with the Pirates, the announcement added.

Paul Derringer Blanks Cards

St. Louis Suffers Third Straight Shutout In 5 to 0 Game

CINCINNATI, April 25 (AP)—Hurling three-hit ball, Paul Derringer inflicted a third successive shutout upon the hapless St. Louis Cardinals today, Cincinnati winning 5 to 0 to shove Frankie Frisch's men into the National league cellar.

It was the second victory of the season—both for the Reds and for Derringer. Last Thursday the big Kentuckian pitched four-hit ball to down the Cubs 6 to 2.

Cincinnati got to Bob Weiland for four runs on six hits in the first two frames—including a homer by Kampouris in the second—and were well on the way to other scoring in the third until subdued by Little Roy Henshaw, who allowed not a hit and walked but one man through three innings.

Henshaw gave way for a pinch hitter in the sixth, however, and the Reds resumed their batwork at the expense of Bill McGee and the aged Guy Bush. Enos Slaughter, playing the outfield during the absence from the lineup of Joe Medwick, got to Derringer for two safeties, the first by any Cardinal in the fourth and again in the seventh.

Johnny Mize tripled to open the fifth, but got no farther as Derringer bore down with Padgett Terry Moore and Owen going out in order.

Tigers Uncork Batting Power To Win, 10 to 1

Detroit Hammers Three St. Louis Hurlers; Kennedy Wins

ST. LOUIS, April 25 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, in a batting slump since the start of the season, uncorked a mighty attack in the opening game of their series with the Browns here today and won easily, 10 to 1.

The Tigers clubbed three hurlers for 13 hits, two of them home runs, and the last one by Chet Laabs came with the bases loaded in the fourth. Vern Kennedy won the distance for Detroit.

If the Browns are superstitious today can be considered an extra bad one. Just a year ago they were at the 500 mark, as they were before today's game, but they lost and never again reached the even-Stephen line.

Ben Chapman Leads Red Sox To 7-0 Victory

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—Lefty Ostermueller of the Boston Red Sox— an old Washington jinx—whitewashed the Senators today, 7 to 0.

Ben Chapman, former Washington outfielder, led the Sox at bat with three hits, one a double. Jimmy Foss and Joe Cronin also collected doubles.

Ostermueller held Washington to four hits. His mates collected nine off Dutch Leonard, who was making his second American league start.

Baseball's Big Six

By The Associated Press

Though he's on the disabled list temporarily, Cookie Lavagetto, third baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is leading the big league batting race by such a margin he still should be on top when he returns to action, probably later this week. The Dodger slugger tops the averages at the end of the first week with a mark of .688.

Two other National leaguers, Al Todd of Pittsburgh and Ernie Lombardi of Cincinnati, are tied for second at .474, while Henry Steinbacker, rookie outfielder of the Chicago White Sox, tops the American league list at .444.

The big six (top three hitters in each league):

Player	Club	G	A	R	H	Pct
Todd, Pitts.		5	19	4	9	.474

PHILADELPHIA CLUBS OUT 6 TO 1 VICTORY OVER NEW YORKERS

PHILADELPHIA, April 25 (AP)—On the combination of Lee Ross' seven-hit pitching and Dario Lodigiani's consistent clouting, the Philadelphia Athletics today routed the New York Yankees, 6 to 1, in the opener of a three-game series.

All of the champions' hits were singles, three by Flash Gordon, Pitcher Joe Beggs and Red Rolfe giving the Yanks their lone run in the fifth. Meanwhile Lodigiani, recruit second baseman from Oakland of the Coast league, was pounding out a home run and a pair of singles in four trips to the plate.

His four-bagger in the second, put the A's out front and there they stayed. Lodigiani's first single in the fourth, drove home Hasson, who had doubled, and he scored the final run himself, in the eighth, on a two-bagger by Hayes.

In the seventh the Athletics got three runs on two singles, a base on balls and an infield out. Mule Haas' smash to left brought in two of the tallies.

Examination Schedule

Second Semester, 1937-1938

Monday, May 23, 8 a. m., to Tuesday, May 31, 4 p. m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (1), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below.

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation in the case of any examination, from this Schedule, except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time, supported by the recommendation of the department concerned, to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted. Students should prepare and deposit such petitions in the offices of the Deans of Men (men) and Women (women).

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must be accompanied by a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

If the student takes the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double vertical line.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) The instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour May 19 or 20; if possible, May 12 or 13.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first regular meeting is, consequently Tuesday at 8, and the class will meet for examination Tuesday, May 24, 2 p. m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (126) meets twice each week, T, F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination, is, therefore, Saturday, May 28, 2 p. m.

N. B. All sections of "Principles of Speech" (1), (2) and (4) (Except Section J*) will meet during Examination Week on the days and at the periods designated below. Consult the bulletin board, Room 13 S. H. for room assignments.

Mon, May 24—Section H, 8-10 Speech (1), 8-10	Fri, May 27—Section I, 8-10 Section C, 1-3 Section G, 3-5 Speech (4), 3-5
Tues, May 24—Section A, 1-3 Section E, 3-5	Sat, May 28—Section D, 10-12 Section B, 1-3 Section F, 3-5

*Section J will meet as announced by the instructors.

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination, as announced to each such class, by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

- From 4 to 6 on any day from May 23 to May 31 inclusive, Sunday and Memorial Day excepted.
- Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F and G, since for such "odd" classes these seven examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times, if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time.

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs.," unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "Fd."—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

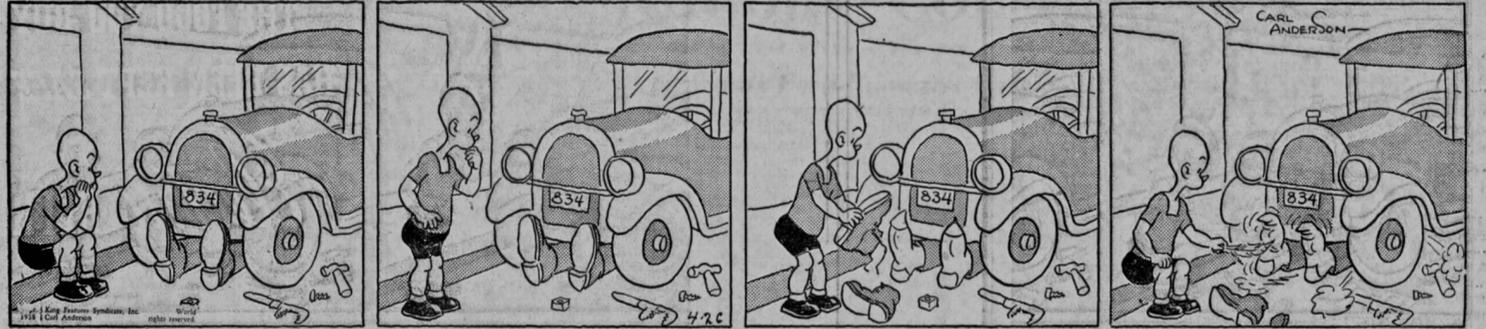

H. C. DORCAS, Secretary, Program Committee.

Nest of the Killdeer

Mother Nature is a camouflage artist. These speckled birds eggs can scarcely be seen from a distance by the casual observer. In the center of the football practice field west of the fieldhouse, a stake marks the location of the killdeer's nest, containing four eggs, which is shown above. The four spotted, buff-colored eggs lie in a shallow hole dug by the bird in the turf. Throughout the nesting season the plaintive penetrating call of the killdeer, "kil-dee," can be heard in the vicinity of the field. The killdeer is nearly 10 inches long, is brown on top and light gray on its breast with two black rings around its neck. Harold Brown and Joe Shimon, university caretakers, have been marking the killdeer's nests with stakes for more than 19 years.

School Board Encounters No Objection to Construction Plans

Four Building Contracts Scheduled To Be Let Saturday

No objectors appeared before the city school board yesterday afternoon at a public hearing for the plans and specifications of the new $725,000 high school, and the board decided its next official act will be to let the construction contracts. At 2 p.m. Saturday, four contracts for erecting the building will be let. They are for general construction, electrical work, plumbing and sewers, and steam heating, ventilating and temperature control. A grading contract will also be let Saturday afternoon. Value of the contracts to be let has been estimated at $600,000, exclusive of ground improvements. The structure must be completed April 1, 1939, according to terms of the contract. Bidders must post a five per cent bond with their estimates, which will be on the basis of payments in cash by monthly payments. Architect John L. Hamilton, Chicago, Ill., will be at the contract-letting Saturday.

Will Hold Rites Tomorrow For Mrs. Kelleher

Funeral service for Mrs. John Kelleher, 67, 1137 E. Burlington street, who died Sunday evening in her home from a heart attack, will be at 9 a.m. tomorrow at St. Patrick's church. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. The body has been removed from Riley chapel to the home. Mrs. Kelleher was a life long resident of Johnson county. She was a member of St. Patrick's church. Her survivors are one son, Paul Kelleher, Iowa City; four daughters, Helen Kelleher, 1137 E. Burlington street, Mary Kelleher, Baltimore, Md., Dorothy Kelleher, Des Moines, and Mrs. Hamilton, Ft. Dodge; three brothers, T. J. Walsh, 224 N. Johnson street, Rob Walsh, West union, and Ed Walsh, Morning Sun, and four sisters, Mrs. W. T. Burke, Mason City, Mrs. L. P. Graham, 112 1-2 S. Dubuque street, Mrs. Catherine Smith, Hills, and Mrs. A. J. Black, 626 Bowery street.

County Farmers To Receive Plans For Soil Conservation

Starting this morning, notice of soil depleting acreages and corn quotas for 1938 will be mailed to Johnson county farmers, County Agent Emmett C. Gardner announced yesterday. The mailing will probably be completed by the end of the week. The cards being mailed contain the total soil depleting acres for each farm which includes the corn quota. The farmer can determine the amount of soil depleting crops other than corn which he may grow on his land, by subtracting the corn quota from the total figure. Farmers will be paid this year according to how closely they keep to their individual allotments. Last year the payments were made on the percentage the farmer did not grow.

Judge Evans Admits 2 Wills to Probate

Two wills were admitted to probate yesterday by Judge Harold D. Evans. Mary Brown and Katherine Kalene, 615 S. Dubuque street, were appointed executrices of the will of Mrs. Bridget Kalene. They will serve without bond. Mrs. Flora A. Langenberg, Iowa City, was appointed executrix of the will of Louis H. Langenberg. She will serve without bond.

Daykin Will Discuss Scouting Programs

Prof. Walter L. Daykin of the college of commerce will speak on "How Scouting Programs Meet the Needs of the Boy" at an Iowa district committee meeting at 6:30 p.m. in the Cinderella club at Victor. Scout Executive Owen B. Thiel will also attend.

University Club To Hear Engle Thursday Noon

Paul Engle of the English department will speak on "Modern Poetry" to the members of the University club Thursday following a noon luncheon at the club-rooms in Iowa Union. The committee in charge of the meeting includes Mrs. J. Van der Zee, Mrs. James Burns, Mrs. Homer Dill and Mrs. Forest Ensign. The monthly business meeting will be Saturday at 1 p.m. in the club-rooms.

May 13 Set For Univ. High Party

Dusty Keaton's orchestra will play at the University high school all-school party the evening of May 13. Suggested by the date, the theme of the party will be ladders and black cats as hard luck symbols. Under the direction of Paul Kambly, acting head of biological sciences, the committee is Mary C. Kuever, chairman, Bill Boiler, Joe Bodine, Bruce Adams, Jane Beye and Jane Alcock.

Mrs. Eduburn Files Petition for Divorce

The first case for the September term of court, the divorce petition of Mrs. Helen Ruth Eduburn against John Jackson Eduburn of Perry, was filed yesterday. Mrs. Eduburn charges cruelty. The couple married Aug. 19, 1937, and separated Dec. 25, 1937.

The first paper mill in the United States was built at Germantown, Pa., in 1690.
