Nazis Persecute Jews; England, France Confer

Germans Plan To Take Over Jewish Capital

Act to Remove Hebrews From Business Life

BERLIN, April 27 (AP)—A high authority tonight disclosed the German government plans to take over all Jewish property "in due course of time" and to encourage Jews to emigrate from Germany.

This disclosure was made in explanation of a new decree requiring the approximately 750,000 Jews in greater Germany to register their fortunes and properties both at home and abroad. The decree was issued today by Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, No. 2 Nazi, as director of Germany's four-year plan to gain economic independence.

"The decree is intended to place on a legal footing the gradual elimination of the Jew from German business life, in that he is to be assured that the properties declared are actually his and will not simply be taken away from him by unauthorized action," the authority said.

Significance was seen in a paragraph of the decree which said: "The controller of the four-year plan (Goering) may take such measures as may be deemed fit to insure utilization of properties falling under these terms in consonance with interests of German economy."

Goering's "stock-taking" action, as put by Nazi observers, was prompted by the government's desire to possess complete information concerning the location of Jewish capital, so that the real owners thereof can be identified readily and protected against any illegal actions.

Being able at any moment to place a finger on any spot where Jewish fortunes or properties are located, significant enough in itself, acquires additional meaning in the light of an editorial published in Das Schwarze Korps, organ of Nazi S. S. troops, which often correctly forecasts intended anti-Jewish legislation.

Written before the decree was in print, the editorial said numerous Vienna Jews were trying to get to Berlin on the assumption that the worst there was over and life would be easier for them.

"On the contrary," said the newspaper, "we must force Jews to remain at their parastatal posts until their money is gone."

"We must persuade them by all means that they cannot remain in the Reich and that it is better for them to pay the flight of capital tax today than to be shipped off tomorrow or the day after to Palestine or Madagascar—a solution which will come about sooner or later as soon as some other nations wake up to common sense."

LOS ANGELES, April 27 (AP)—Slightly more than one-eighth of the $4,000,000 Jackie Coogan says he earned remains.

This was disclosed today in the inventory of the estate filed with the county clerk by John E. Biby, receiver appointed by a court after Jackie filed suit for an accounting against his mother and his step-father, the Arthur L. Bernsteins.

The book value of Jackie Coogan Productions, Inc., formed years ago to handle the investment movie money earned by "The Kid," is $535,923.70, the inventory revealed.

"My mother must not be blamed for this terrible condition of affairs," was young Coogan's first statement on learning of the report. "I have not yet had an opportunity to examine the report fully, but it shows that virtually all of my earnings, except those invested in real estate, have been dissipated."

Pledge Opposition
MACOMB, Ill. (AP)—Farmers from a large section of the Illinois farm belt at a mass meeting here last night pledged themselves to vigorous opposition to federal crop control legislation.

POLITICS OUT!

Religious Paper Lays Down Doctrine

VIENNA, April 27 (AP)—The Wiener Diocesan Blatt, official organ of Theodore Cardinal Inizan, today instructed the Austrian clergy that politics "no longer has a voice in the pulpit."

"Inwardly our lives as priests today must be more than ever deeply religious and holy; outwardly the priest must be unimpeachable and an example as a shepherd and missionary as well as a citizen," the publication said.

Explosion Kills 7; Ten Burned

Blast Shakes St. Clair Coal Company Workings

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 27 (AP)—Seven men died today and 10 were seriously burned in the nation's second major mine disaster in less than a week.

An explosion shook the St. Clair Coal company's anthracite workings only a few days after nearly a hundred died in a blast in a bituminous mine at Grundy, Va.

The explosion, attributed to gas, occurred in a slope four miles from this eastern Pennsylvania hard coal center an hour after 600 men had begun the day's work.

Nineteen were working on the level, 500 feet or more underground, where the blast let go. Two were uninjured.

The day that began normally for families throughout the great mining regions ended in a night of mourning. Funeral crepe hung from the doors of six homes. One wreath on a single home signalled the ending of two lives—the Terris brothers, Michael and John, who came over from Port Carbon each day.

The other dead—all lifeless when rescuers toiled through "black damp," a death-dealing gas that often follows a mine explosion, to reach the scene—were Frank Montgomery, 30, Paul Sikra, 40, Richard Barnes, 43, Wasil Holovak, 45, and Luke Chukran, 40.

Irish Parliament Hears Agreement On Independence

DUBLIN, April 27 (AP)—The lower house of the Irish parliament today gave first reading to six bills which will implement the Anglo-Irish agreement signed Monday.

William T. Cosgrave, opposition leader, announced his fine Gael party had supported the accord and declared it was regrettable that such a pact had not been made six years ago.

He spoke after Prime Minister Eamon De Valera, who signed the agreement, asserted the independence of Ireland now had been recognized unconditionally by Great Britain.

'Sage of Emporia' Hates Appellation

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 27 (AP)—William Allen White, editor of the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette, is often referred to as the "Sage of Emporia," but he told a Yale audience today that he doesn't like it.

In fact, he said he "hates" the word "sage."

Opera Receives Enthusiastic Welcome Last Night

By MILDRED HOLLY
Daily Iowan Campus Editor

Opera, missing from the university calendar of events for 11 years, was given an enthusiastic welcome with last night's presentation of the colorful Sicilian melodrama, "Cavalleria Rusticana."

Mascagni's music drama of love and hate, long a favorite with music lovers, was a happy selection for the revival, which was an artistic achievement, from the

Countries Plan Pact to Check Nazi Expansion

To Discuss Situation In Czechoslovakia And Spain

LONDON, April 27 (AP)—France's premier and foreign minister arrived today to pool plans with British ministers for building a bulwark of friendships as a shield against German expansion.

The French ministers—Premier Edouard Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet—were met this afternoon at Croydon airport by Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary, after flying from Paris.

With Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain they will open formal talks tomorrow on how to turn the new Anglo-Italian pact into a triple tower of strength overshadowing the Rome-Berlin axis and serving as a magnet for smaller states.

The two-day "realistic politics" conference will include every pressing problem around the globe affecting the two nations—and there are many of them.

Most important were the powder-box situations in Czechoslovakia and Spain.

Also on the agenda were Anglo-Italian and French-Italian relations, the war in the far east, the forthcoming league of nations council meeting May 9 when Britain intends to seek recognition of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia, and widespread mutual defense problems affecting the two western democracies.

The Czech government is ready to go to war before acceding to Nazi Leader Konrad Henlein's "fantastic" demands that it neutralize the country's foreign policy, which includes alliances with France and Soviet Russia.

Verela, acting on reports that government defense chief, Gen. Jose Miaja, had withdrawn troops and artillery batteries from the sector to defend Castellon de la Plana, quickly sent veteran in-

Cooking School to Teach Iowa Citizens New Things on Familiar Topic—Home

Women of Iowa City will learn something new about the subject closest and most familiar to them—their homes—at The Daily Iowan's second annual motion picture cooking school May 3, 4 and 5 at the Englert theater.

The cooking school is not a routine lecture nor a methodical demonstration. It is a series of intelligent lessons, amusing as well as educational, on the newest methods of preparing foods for the family and making an art of homemaking.

Each lesson is woven into the plot of the picture, "Star in My Kitchen," which tells the story of Dedee Abot who has just graduated from college and faces the responsibility of managing a large household.

Under the guidance of trained home economists and experienced home-makers, she learns how to meet any culinary crisis. The audience will learn with her as they watch the clear and to-the-point suggestions and demonstrations.

There will be close-ups of every step in the cooking process, making it possible for Iowa City watchers to see just what is happening inside the mixing bowls.

"Star in My Kitchen" was filmed and cast in a Hollywood studio. The advice it gives is authentic and timely because the Hollywood cast had the assistance of trained home specialists.

Printed recipe sheets and gifts will be distributed to Iowa Citizens attending the picture each of the three days. Free tickets to the performances may be obtained at The Daily Iowan office or from any of the following merchants:

Wicks grocery, R and S shoe store, Hands jewelry store, Koza and McCollister meat market, Lawre plumbing and heating company, Aldous florist shop, Stillwell paint store, Checker electric supply inc., Iowa City plumbing and heating, Lenoch and Cilek hardware store, Means brothers grocery, Economy cash grocery, Sears, Roebuck and company, Yetter's dry goods store, Gadd hardware store and Star beauty salon.

Spanish Rebels Make Inroads On Loyalist Defense at Teruel

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier), April 27 (AP)—Gen. Jose Varela's insurgent troops suddenly smashed through government defenses north of Teruel today and seized Escorialuela in the Pobo mountains which commanded important Teruel.

The village, 20 miles north of Teruel in eastern Spain, was the government's key stronghold in the Pobo range from which they dominated the Alhambra and Seco river valleys.

The advance relieved government pressure on the left flank of insurgent forces poised for an offensive on the Teruel-Sagunto highway to the Mediterranean.

Front Has Been Inactive

Since March the Pobo front had been inactive after a series of insurgent attacks failed to dislodge government militiamen.

Verela, acting on reports that government defense chief, Gen. Jose Miaja, had withdrawn troops and artillery batteries from the sector to defend Castellon de la Plana, quickly sent veteran insurgent forces to the Alhambra valley.

Insurgent reports at Iruin said the drive was not preceded by an artillery barrage, but consisted simply of a large force of infantrymen supported by tanks who took foothill garrisons by surprise.

Insurgent warships and bombing planes hammered steadily at the government's east coast defense lines today, but Gen. Miguel Aranda's ground forces were able to make little headway in their drive toward Castellon.

Hard fighting continued in the Alcala de Chivert sector, where the insurgent advance southward has been blocked for days by Gen. Jose Miaja's strongly reinforced government army. Violent rain storms hampered operations.

Roosevelt Meets Ford In Veiled Conversation

Senate Factions Flay Arms Bill During Session

Decry Building Bigger Naval Units Than Was Planned

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—Senate opponents of the administration's naval expansion attacked the proposal for 45,000-ton superdreadnaughts today after blocking a move to hasten a vote on the measure.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), arguing that a new international arms conference should be held, submitted an amendment to the $1,156,000,000 measure to limit to 35,000 tons the size of three new battleships and to delay a start on their construction until after Dec. 31, 1940.

Threatens F.D.R.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The United States attorney issued a complaint against Keith H. Rapp, Bakersfield, Cal., salesman, charging him with making threats against the life of President Roosevelt.

Court Reigns Newlywed Royalty Wins Acclaim

TIRANA, Albania, April 27 (AP)—King Ahmed Zog and the youthful Hungarian countess who became Queen Geraldine today established their court tonight at a honeymoon palace on Durazzo bay.

The 42-year-old sovereign and his 22-year-old, half-American bride were wildly acclaimed as they left Tirana to drive the 25 miles to Durazzo after the short, civil ceremony.

They were followed by a string of automobiles bearing officials and guests who accompanied the royal pair to a palace high up on a cliff overlooking the blue Adriatic sea.

There Queen Geraldine, the former Countess Geraldine Apponyi, found awaiting her a dainty private suite of three rooms, with a balcony hanging almost over the bay.

Students Strike Against Wars

Nationwide Peace Move Enacted by Youth Of America

By the Associated Press

Students the nation over went on strike yesterday against war, dramatizing their anti-aggression campaign in such stunts as a reenactment of the Boston tea party and organizing a mass exodus to the south seas in the event of fighting.

Even among the peace advocates there was war, however. With eggs and jeers for ammunition, rightists and leftists heckled each other from New York to California and vied for attendance at rival mass meetings.

The American students union, principal sponsor of the fifth annual demonstration, bound its adherents to a new peace pledge, replacing the "white feather" Oxford oath used at previous anti-war rallies. The new oath says: "Because we want to keep America out of war, we pledge ourselves to make our government a force for peace; because fascism would destroy our generation, we rededicate ourselves to the struggle for democracy."

The student groups differed widely on methods of reaching the objectives of the oath.

The White House was equally firm about declining to say what the two had talked about.

"There will be no statement here, either now or later," said Stephen T. Early, the president's secretary.

Bug G. Hall Roosevelt, a brother of Mrs. Roosevelt, who was instrumental in arranging the meeting, and was one of those present, told the reporters the discussion involved "nothing that smacked of commercialism."

"It was just a pleasant family conversation, such as they have at the Wayside Inn," he said, referring to the old Massachusetts hostelry which Ford recently restored.

The automobile manufacturer's visit found Mr. Roosevelt deep in the economic problems arising from the business recession, and preparing to send a message to congress on monopoly and the anti-trust laws. Immediately after Ford's departure he went into conference with Attorney General Cummings and other justice department officials on that message.

Gathering to Sound Out Public Sentiment On 3rd Party

MADISON, Wis., April 27 (AP)—Gov. Philip F. LaFollette, expecting an overflow crowd, has moved to a larger building tomorrow night's meeting to sound out sentiment on a third party in national politics.

The conference of liberals originally was scheduled for the armory, but the response to LaFollette's call, issued last week during a series of radio talks, has been such that larger quarters became necessary.

The governor remained in seclusion, working on the speech in which he is expected to disclose the third party plan. Close friends said he would deal mainly with platform ideas.

What the party philosophy would be has not been revealed, but the governor last week assailed President Roosevelt's recovery program as "tinkering and patching," and on several occasions has declared:

"The test of democracy is whether we are producing more real wealth at the end of each year than the year before."

Several thousand liberals, mostly from the middle west, have been invited to the conference. The list has not been announced, the governor saying the pavilion would be open to all.

General Motors Head Discusses Difficulties

DETROIT, April 27 (AP)—Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of General Motors corporation, told the nation's organized automobile dealers tonight that the motorcar industry "stands at the crossroads" on the question of solving its difficulties "from within through a spirit of cooperation," or from without, "by government edict."

Withhold Gist Of 2-Hour Talk In White House

President Confers About Recession Problems After Meet

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—President Roosevelt and Henry Ford, a leading dissenter to Rooseveltian policy, devoted two hours to a "pleasant family conversation" today and then covered their discussion with a heavy lid of secrecy.

For an hour they talked at luncheon in the little "family dining room" at the White House and continued the conversation for another hour in the president's study, the oval room upstairs.

Then, with associates elbowing newspapermen aside, the motor magnate left the White House and drove to Union station to keep an engagement tonight in New York.

"What did you talk about?—How did you get along?—Did you give him any advice?—The reporters shouted at Ford during his scramble across the broad front portico of the White House.

"We didn't do that?" was Ford's reply, and he waved his questioners away with jerky little gestures of his right arm. He apparently meant that he didn't divulge his discussions with presidents.

"Was it pleasant?" a reporter asked.

"Sure."

The White House was equally firm about declining to say what the two had talked about.

"There will be no statement here, either now or later," said Stephen T. Early, the president's secretary.

Bug G. Hall Roosevelt, a brother of Mrs. Roosevelt, who was instrumental in arranging the meeting, and was one of those present, told the reporters the discussion involved "nothing that smacked of commercialism."

State Charges Secret Service

LOS ANGELES, April 27 (AP)—Many persons prominent in public life have been subjected to espionage activities of the police secret service squad, the state charged today at the bombing trial of three suspended leaders of the squad.

Most of these persons, prosecutors contended, were "investigated" because they were at odds with the city administration.

From wax recordings discs seized from the "spy" squad were read the names of state and national legislators, local office holders, writers and editors, a candidate for governor, a woman evangelist and others. Chief Deputy Dist. Atty. Eugene Williams said the discs contained speeches and conversations of persons "who didn't like the Shaw administration" (referring to Mayor Frank L. Shaw).

Three hundred discs were brought into court as prosecutors questioned Police Chief James E. Davis for the second day.

Capt. Earl Kynette and Lieuts. Roy Allen and Fred Browne are accused of conspiring to murder Harry Raymond, private vice and political investigator. A bomb in his automobile exploded and nearly killed him last January after Kynette's squad had admittedly spied upon him for three months from a bungalow near his home.

Criticism And The Government

"HONEST ACHIEVEMENT of men has been belittled and attributed to improper motives. Ideals embedded in our patriotism are smeared with contempt."

Thus spoke former President Hoover Tuesday, blaming the administration for the moral "recession" which he says has taken place.

Now the ex-president has often been an excellent and useful critic of many of the new deal's measures. And much of what he has to say concerning "smearing" and "belittling" is undoubtedly true. Yet his statement Tuesday was too broad, too sweeping in its implications.

There is an old axiom that if we do not progress we move backwards, as Mr. Hoover says we are now doing. Progress is but a form of change, and the fountainhead of change is criticism.

If we are to progress, to maintain and improve our traditional institutions, we must have criticism—criticism of both the economic and political powers which together control the country.

Mr. Hoover expressed his disapproval of the bitterness of the attacks upon economic power and control. And in that he was absolutely right. Bitterness and hatred should play no part in the functioning of a democratic government.

It is too bad, however, that he neglected a good opportunity to register his disapproval also of the unfairness of many of the charges which are today being made against the president and his administration.

Hitler Looks Toward Czechoslovakia

WHEN HITLER sent the German army into Austria and established complete control of the Austrian government, foreign observers believed it was only a matter of time before a similar fate would befall the Republic of Czechoslovakia.

Recent reports from the Czech capital indicate that the nazi steam roller is already preparing for some form of intervention. Konrad Henlein, the nazi chieftain of Czechoslovakia's 3,500,000 Germans, has just demanded complete independence for these German nationals.

It is characteristic of Hitler's policy that a flood of nazi propaganda always precedes armed intervention. This is what happened in Austria. Czechoslovakia is now going through the propaganda stage. The German people in Czechoslovakia are being aroused to social unrest and simultaneously indoctrinated with nazi philosophy.

But if Hitler believes he can seize Czechoslovakia as easily as he has taken Austria, he is mistaken in many respects. Czechoslovakia, unlike Austria, has many friends and allies. Czechoslovakia has a military alliance with both France and Russia which provides for armed assistance to the Czech nation in the event that it should be attacked by a hostile power.

Both France and Russia have recently reiterated their readiness to defend the Czechoslovakian republic. Czechoslovakia has other friends in central Europe, notably Rumania and Yugoslavia which are linked with Czechoslovakia in the Little Entente.

Whereas Austria was unopposed by European states, Czechoslovakia has many nations which are ready to fight for her in the event of a German invasion.

Hitler is fully aware of the extent of the opposition facing him in Czechoslovakia. He is proceeding cautiously, feeling out the sensitivity of foreign nations with regard to the Czech question. Should Hitler rashly attempt military intervention in Czechoslovakia in the near future, he might well precipitate a general European war. Czechoslovakia is ready to fight whereas Austria was unprepared.

William Allen White—The 'Old Editor'

ON JUNE 3, 1895, a young editor wrote in his newly acquired newspaper, "The new editor hopes to live here until he is the old editor, until some of the visions which rise before him as he dreams shall have come true."

To realize how fully those dreams did come true, one has only to say that the editor was William Allen White—the paper, the Emporia Gazette of Emporia, Kan.

William Allen White is the boy who made good in the small town—whose writings, tempered with the sly, gentle wit and philosophic plainness of "just folk" are as widely laughed and cried over in metropolitan areas as in Emporia.

In an era where powerful newspaper names are built on managerial genius, William Allen White is a giant exponent of "personal journalism." His editorial page is not only a reflection of himself and of the humanness of his beloved middle-west but genuine, sham-hating people the country over.

He had no desire to build up a gigantic, monopolistic newspaper dynasty and he once wrote after some neighbors had brought fresh garden vegetables to his office, "It's more fun to live in Emporia and be neighborly than it is to ride about the city on rubber-tired carriages with copper-colored drivers with a bank account that never needs red ink and a paper that circulates everywhere. Bring in your greens and loving kindness and let power and glory go hang."

William Allen White has never left Emporia, but his writings have. Last Saturday the American Society of Newspaper Editors added another laurel to his ever-lengthening list of honors by electing him their president.

The world has beaten a path to the editorial door of William Allen White's Emporia Gazette.

Hitler's next move has all Europe guessing. It seems the swastika points in every direction at the same time.

A sure way to get politicians interested in the people is to have the people suddenly interested in politicians.

HOW ABOUT SOME PUMP-PRIMING HERE?

Speeding on Highways One Of Spring Dangers, Doctor Says

Now that the winter snows and the winter sorrows have melted away, the early summer wanderlust is upon us, and soon the highways and the lanes will be filled with people in a big hurry to get from here to there.

We wish we could teach all those who are going on fishing trips or on automobile vacations, to understand the principles which are contained in the work of J. R. Hamilton and L. L. Thurstone, which they have embodied in a little book called "Safe Driving: Human Limitations in Automobile Driving."

Driving accidents divide themselves, roughly, into two groups. First, accidents on highways where speed is the principal factor. Forty per cent of all accidents occur here.

Second, accidents in crowded traffic lanes, where high speed is seldom the principal factor. Sixty per cent of all accidents occur here.

The cause of both kinds of accidents in most cases is ignorance of certain definite human limitations. On the highway, most accidents occur through the limitations of human vision. This does not mean a person whose vision is especially bad, but any human being's limitations in the field of vision.

Photographs of the eyes of a driver taken while the car is standing still and then taken when the car is going 65 miles an hour, show a great change. The speeding eye is set to do just one thing—concentrate. It cuts out everything except a spot on the road which is over 1,800 feet away. The driver sees nothing in the foreground, such as inequalities in the road, bumps, or other things, and he cannot see them no matter how good his vision.

The conclusion of those who have made a careful study is that the only rate at which reasonable safety is assured is from 45 to 50 miles an hour, and yet many people will be very angry because they are stopped on the highway this year and made to slow down this speed.

A Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—This reporter, who plays hooky whenever a chance to go hunting or fishing towns up, slipped quietly out of town the other day for a 48-hour survey of some favorite fishing waters, and while the fishing was good and the strikes were frequent, the trip turned out to be a very costly one. He lost a friend.

I will not mention this man's name, because I think a lot of him and he might not like it. Nevertheless, you have heard him many times on the radio.

Closed Season

As you know, the season is now closed on bass and pickerel. But one may legally take yellow perch, which are a choice fish, and game fighters on light tackle. Suddenly a bass took the hook. When you take a bass out of season you carefully release him, if he isn't hooked in the gills. They die, you know, when the gills are punctured, and in small lakes it is not good to throw back fish that will die.

Furthermore, I had been instructed by some friends of mine, two ladies who own the lake, that if such a contraband took place not to return any injured fish to the water. So I waded the bass on the head and tossed it among the yellow perch.

And just then my friend drove up. He had come down to look over his cottage and make plans for summer occupancy. It was good to see him, and we chatted enthusiastically for some minutes. His wife was in the car, and while I walked out on the dock to see the fish.

Angry

In about five minutes he strode back to the car. He was livid with rage. He gave me the sort of look a cop gives a sneak-thief, and then said: "You're a fine one to take bass before the season opens. I think it is a cheap, lousy trick. I don't suppose you know what sportsmanship is."

Well, how to explain... Any excuse I would have made would have sounded unconvincing. So I made no explanation whatever. Later, I related the experience to the owners of the lake, and they said, "Well, don't let it bother you. Besides, we own this lake. It has never been stocked by the state or the government, and if we give you permission to fish all year round that is our business."

SENIOR INVITATIONS COMMITTEE

On the Spot

"Garden of the Moon," although not identified as such, is supposed to represent a Los Angeles night spot like the Coconut Grove. That spot, however, already is featured by name—in another current film, which will be previewed in the hotel housing the nifty, with subsequent festivities in the Grove itself. This trick of previewing in the actual locale of a picture is being carried to extraordinary lengths, what with the premiere of "Gold Is Where You Find It" in Weaverville, and some talk (mostly funny) about taking "Spawn of the North" to Alaska, for first showings.

The idea, fortunately, didn't occur to anybody for "Dante's Inferno," but "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea" is coming up. (James, my diving suit!)

Isn't Life Wonderful department: Kay Francis quoted in a studio piece—"My role in 'Dr. Monica' taught me the beauty and way of self-sacrifice, etc., etc." Some day a star is actually going to say something like that but it won't reach print—because the interviewer will pass out from shock.

Pirates Defeat Cubs Again, 6-5

Arky Vaughn Wins Tilt With 4-Run Homer

Slugging Shortstop Has Perfect Day With Three Hits

PHILADELPHIA, April 27 (AP)—Floyd (Arky) Vaughn, 1935 National league batting champion, unwound his big bat for a home run with the bases loaded in the seventh inning today and brought Pittsburgh's Pirates a 6-5 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

The slugging shortstop completed a perfect day at bat, three hits and a base on balls in four trips to the plate, by picking out Larry French's fast ball with the count three and two and parking it in the second tier of the right field stands. It was his second homer this season and both brought the Pirates from behind to victory.

Champions Crowned Yesterday in Last Round Of All-University Frosh Wrestling Tournament

Championships Won By Geppert, Sherman, George, Shirley

Champions were crowned in five classes of the annual all-university freshmen wrestling tournament yesterday afternoon at the Hawkeye fieldhouse in the finals of Coach Mike Howard's grappling meet.

Bill Sherman, mighty little 136-pounder from Council Bluffs, came through as expected in his division by nosing out Dean Agnew, Latimer, in a rough and close match.

In the 145-pound match Louis George, Cherokee, threw Bill Thomas, Marion, in six minutes and 50 seconds for the championship of the division.

Dave Shirley, Minburn, had a tough time with Howard Ericson, Ft. Dodge, but succeeded in winning a decision over the latter after a real battle in the 165-pound class.

In the light-heavyweight class Ralph Geppert of Council Bluffs, scored the second fall of the afternoon by disposing of Paul Whitmore, Batavia, in four minutes and 50 seconds of the scheduled nine minute bout.

For the heavyweight title, Harold Mann, Vinton, and Francis Noll, Arthur, went at it tooth and nail for the full nine minutes, Mann receiving the referee's nod.

The five winners in yesterday's meet will be awarded freshman "41" sweaters for their work. No matches were held in the 121, 126 and 155 pound classes.

The much-travelled Hawkeye baseball team, fresh from a successful road trip on which it garnered three wins while dropping only one, and that to a strong Notre Dame nine after 10 innings of play, makes a rather belated home debut Friday, engaging Michigan State's powerful squad in the first of a two-game series.

Aside from a few minor bruises and aches, which are part and parcel of the baseballer's life, the Hawks appear to be in good condition and figure to make it tough for any and all future opponents.

Fred Hohenhorst, Harold Haub and Matt Faber, in their performances against Northwestern and Notre Dame, gave ample evidence of sufficient ability to take regular turns on the hill. Their steady hurling, along with a definite improvement in hitting and fielding, has given the Hawks no little confidence and the fans something to cheer about.

Especially cheering was Hohenhorst's fine performance in Monday's game at South Bend. Although he lost, it was only after 10 frames of masterful hurling and on a tough fielding break that he was forced to accept defeat.

His curve ball was breaking in a manner that rendered the bats of the Irish rather futile, and, all in all, he appears ready to take his regular turn in the remaining games on the schedule.

This development in the pitching situation is a boon to the Hawkeyes as the injuries to the pitching arms of Reid, who has been unable to pitch, and Miller, who has not yet flashed the form he exhibited two years ago, had left the pitching staff in a rather deplorable condition.

The reason for the sudden about-face on the recent road trip is rather obvious when one scans the record of the four games. In batting the team rapped out 41 hits good for 26 runs, boosting the team average 20 points to a .251 mark.

The pitchers, who were so liberal in the issuance of passes in the southern games, tightened up and restricted the opposition to nine bases on balls while fanning 18 would-be hitters.

Art Manush, slugging leftfielder who led the hitters in 1937, continued his sensational clouting, raising his batting average to a robust .400.

Giants Swamp Phillies Twice

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—The Giants mowed down the futile Phillies, 7-3 and 11-6, in both ends of the year's first big league doubleheader today to stretch their winning streak to seven straight and climb into a tie for first place in the National League.

A crowd of 21,829 turned out to see them do it.

George Sokolsky to Give Last University Lecture of the Year

To Discuss Question Of Economic Value In Union

George E. Sokolsky, international authority on public affairs, will give the last university lecture of the year tonight at 8 o'clock in the main lounge of Iowa Union. He will discuss some question of economic importance.

GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

All tickets which have not already been taken by students and faculty members will be released to the general public this morning.

Sokolsky, whose articles and books on the occult and the occult have attracted international attention, has devoted the last several years to the study of the economic situation in the United States. As a part of this study, he has travelled more than 100,000 miles, visiting nearly every state. During the summer of 1933 he went to London to observe the economic conference and to analyze the economic and political position of the United States in relation to the rest of the world.

He approaches this problem, he says, from the standpoint of an American who "missed the war-time boom, the Harding and Coolidge prosperity, prohibition, flappers, and other manifestations of the period of national inflation." Away from the United States nearly 14 years, and back after the depression had entered its second year, he therefore views conditions in America objectively.

The conclusions which he reached in connection with his subject have been published in the Atlantic Monthly, New Outlook, Vanity Fair, American Magazine, American Mercury, Esquire, International Rotarian and other publications. "Some of these articles have since been collected and published under the title "Labor's Fight for Power." He is also the author of "We Jews" and the "Tinder Box of Asia." His latest venture in the field of opinion is a two-column article in the New York Herald-Tribune, which appears every Monday and discusses topics of current interest.

Wylie Writes 'Our Starland'

Professor Edits Volume For General Study On Astronomy

Professor C. C. Wylie, university astronomer, has had a book on astronomy published entitled "Our Starland." This is designed for use in high school general science classes or for an introductory book to astronomy for adults who have studied little science.

The book is published by Lyons and Carnahan of Chicago. It is 378 pages in length and contains more than 100 illustrations, a great number which appear in this book for the first time.

The cover of the book shows the Great Bear with the well known Big Dipper. The lining shows a picture of the old dragon before the Greeks removed one wing to make Ursa Major.

The style of this book is simple with short sentences and paragraphs, so that children can read it, or that adults reading for their own pleasure can enjoy it. It contains more historical material than does the average book on astronomy.

Urge Study On War Problems During Meet

Prof. J. Van der Zee, Thornton Speak To Students

"If there is any single political, social, economic and psychological problem in the world that deserves study and demands a solution, it is the war problem!" Prof. J. Van der Zee of the political science department said before students gathered on the west approach of Old Capitol in observance of national peace week yesterday afternoon.

Prof. Harrison J. Thornton of the history department and John Barnes, A2 of Lamoni, student representative also spoke, both urging world wide peace.

In regard to the Peace week movement, Professor Van der Zee said, "The important thing is that you students have made a beginning." He said that the older generation would rejoice if college and university students would take more than one week each year to focus their attention on the oldest and strongest human institution in the world—war.

"If the world's students of today do not learn to become the politicians and the statesmen of tomorrow, able to devise and manage ways and means to keep the peace anywhere in the world community, the lot of the future generations will be no better than our own right now," he said.

In conclusion he pointed out "It takes only two nations to start a war but all nations to keep and preserve peace."

Barnes expressed the attitude of youth toward war, "The youth of the world does not want war; you and I do not want war—we do not want to fight!"

He said that all nations were dependent upon each other and that no one nation could subsist were she to be cut off from the rest of the world. "Were America to follow a policy of isolation at least 44,000,000 men would be unemployed, starvation would reign in every home, and a depression such as you and I can never imagine would seize America in her grip resulting in eventual revolution."

Professor Thornton presented the concluding speech in which he surveyed the history of America and outlined the American relations to the Old World. He cited these relations as the colonial year—the period of subservience to Europe; the middle years—those from the beginning of the national period to the Civil War, the period of relative American isolation and the modern years—the period since the Civil War.

He said that at the present time there appeared to be a prevalent desire to return to the detachment of the middle years. "I know that there is a certain fatalistic contention that this cannot be done. Maybe it can be done, and I am for making the effort!" he maintained.

Examination Schedule

Second Semester, 1937-1938

Monday, May 23, 8 a.m. to Tuesday, May 31, 4 p.m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (1), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below).

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation in the case of any examination, from this Schedule, except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time, supported by the recommendation of the department concerned, to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted. Students should prepare and deposit such petitions in the offices of the Deans of Men (men) and Women (women).

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

If the student takes the examination this authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double, vertical line.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column). The instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour May 19 or 20; if possible, May 12 or 13.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T, Th, S at 8. The first regular meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8, and the class will meet for examination Tuesday, May 24, 2 p.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics 126 meets twice each week, T, F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination, is, therefore, Saturday, May 28, 2 p.m.

N. B. All sections of "Principles of Speech" (1), (2) and (4) (Except Section J*) will meet during Examination Week on the days and at the periods designated below. Consult the bulletin board, Room 13 S. H. for room assignments.

Mon., May 24—Section H, 8-10
Speech (1), 8-10
Fri., May 27—Section I, 8-10
Section C, 1-3
Section G, 3-5
Speech (4), 3-5
Tue., May 24—Section A, 1-3
Section E, 3-5
Sat., May 28—Section D, 10-12
Section B, 1-3
Section F, 3-5

*Section J will meet as announced by the instructors.

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination, as announced to each such class, by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 23 to May 31 inclusive.—Sunday and Memorial Day excepted.

2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F and G, since for such "odd" classes these seven examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times.—If no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program: "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time.

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs.," unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F."—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

AROUND THE TOWN With TOM JOHNSON

And—It Did Rain It was cloudy yesterday... threatening to rain. Consequently, attendance at the peace mass meeting was held down.

To some, that's a bad sign—letting weather stand between you and your ideals. But, to me, it's a good omen. Had it been pouring rain, and ten thousand standing in it—all yelling for peace, I'd have been frightened.

That's the way it was before the World war broke out, I'm told. Huge mass meetings... and smiling assurances of everlasting friendship...

Price of Fame I never can think of the first name of that man who's speaker of the house down at Washington, D. C. Yet, it's easy to remember he's Tallulah Bankhead's father.

If you ponder it, you'll find the title "Speaker of the House" is a misnomer. He doesn't speak... serves only as referee.

Your Announcer Has Been— Jack Drees will present his last WSUI program at 8 o'clock tonight—The University of Iowa Sports Review...

Jack's radio work here the past two years has been the type they want in the larger towns... So that's why he's leaving to go with WJZZ, Chicago. Good luck, Jack...

No Place Like Home You probably believe by now that the Coogan rumpus wasn't caused because "Jackie was a spoiled boy." You very likely hold the opinion that his elders were spoiled by his earnings...

And, since Coogan started the suit to collect a share of his earnings, perhaps other child actors are taking notice...

More than one mother of Hollywood's child actors is anxiously awaiting Mother's day... and will breathe easier if she isn't served with a summons! (Attorneys say such service would be invalid, unless it can be proved service would be impossible at any other time.)

No Damage, Though Street Scene: The fellow in Whetstone's No. 3 the other night who listened as the fire engine raced by... then heard the police radio announcer drone, "Fire at 21 N. Dodge street."

"That's my house!" he shouted, running out of the store and down the street...

You're Tellin' Me? I wonder who did most of the tellin' at the Ford-Roosevelt conference yesterday... Too bad there wasn't a microphone there so the nation could listen to the fireside chat.

At any rate, no matter what their differences may be, they parted with smiles. The axe, apparently, is to be buried. But neither would say in whose head...
