7,500 Expected for Music Contest

Preparing to make musical history, the vanguard of the 7,500 participants in the 13th annual Iowa high school music festival will move into Iowa City this afternoon and evening.

Last minute preparations for the throng of musicians—the largest in the festival's history—were being made yesterday by university officials in charge of the affair, which begins tomorrow and ends Saturday afternoon.

A total of 3,500 army cots are being set up in 20 university buildings to provide sleeping quarters, and an additional thousand students will find shelter in university dormitories, fraternity and sorority houses, and private homes.

A veteran in musical festival activities is Lee Cochran who heads the cot and blanket crew for the 13th year. His helpers are part of the 250 needed to take care of the general management and housing problems and the contest itself.

The offices of Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division, and Prof. Charles B. Righer of the music department, are the activity centers on the campus.

Final instructions were also given yesterday to the matrons, proctors, crew members and other helpers who will supervise the students.

A force of 35 policemen will be stationed at the five music centers, and special trains, busses and automobiles will stream into the

Senate Backs Big Navy Bill By 56-28 Vote

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The administration's $1,156,000,000 naval expansion program received a thumping 2 to 1 endorsement in the senate today.

The 56 to 28 tally on the "big navy" bill came after two weeks of heated debate, largely carried on by foes of the measure who asserted it would plunge the United States into a mad armament race.

The house already has passed the expansion bill, but in a slightly different form. A committee of senators and representatives now will adjust the differences before the measure is sent to President Roosevelt for signature.

17 Demos Oppose

Seven senate republicans joined with 49 democrats in voting for the measure, while 17 democrats, seven republicans, two farmer-laborites, one independent and one progressive lined up against it.

The two-to-one senate ratio for the bill compared with about three to one in the house where the vote on passage was 292 to 100.

The bill appropriates no funds. It merely authorizes construction, the cost of which would have to be provided for by appropriation bills later.

The construction authorized amounts to an increase of about 23 per cent in the present fleet. New warcraft which it authorizes includes three battleships, two aircraft carriers, nine cruisers, 23 destroyers and nine submarines. These are estimated to cost $811,095,000.

Increase Air Strength

In addition, 950 airplanes would be built at a cost of $106,000,000 to bring the navy's minimum air strength to 3,000 planes.

Twenty-six auxiliary vessels are authorized, including three destroyer tenders, two submarine tenders, three large seaplane tenders, seven small seaplane tenders, a repair shop, four oil tankers, one mine layer, three mine sweepers and two fleet tugs.

The senate raised the tonnage total of the vessels beyond the house figure, increasing the estimated cost by $35,000,000.

France Faces Italo-German Strength With Greater Navy, Army, Airforce

PARIS, May 3 (AP)—France today met a new show of Italian-German solidarity by ordering a bigger army, navy and airforce.

The national defense cabinet of Premier Edouard Daladier geared the wheels of French economy and finance to a bigger and stronger war machine by decrees issued just as Adolf Hitler was approaching Rome for his visit to Premier Mussolini.

The long-planned decrees, finally announced on the day of Hitler's trip, emphasized the importance of the Rome-Berlin tieup despite the friendship agreement between Italy and Britain and Mussolini's negotiations with France for a similar accord.

Daladier, who in the years before he became premier won the confidence of the armed forces as head of the defense ministry, issued the edict calling for more sailors, soldiers and aviators.

He opened a new credit of 4,712,500,000 francs (about $141,375,000) for national defense and said it would be used to strengthen the nation's military and naval manpower. This was in addition to the previous 1938 defense budget of 25,000,000,000 francs (about $750,000,000).

The step was part of a series of decrees which boosted France's annual tax bill by 4,000,000,000 francs ($120,000,000) through a flat eight per cent increase in all direct and hidden taxes.

Greeting Rivals In Size, Scope

By The Associated Press
ROME, May 3—Benito Mussolini welcomed Adolf Hitler to Rome tonight with a dramatic display of friendship between the two fascist dictators.

The nation greeted the German Fuehrer with gorgeous ceremony, rivaling those of the days of Caesar in size, scope and grandeur.

Joy of the Italian people was spurred by fascist prodding, and Rome turned out almost to a man to see the glory of Hitler's coming.

Underneath, a deep undercurrent of uneasiness has run through Italy since Hitler absorbed Austria.

Diffidence Camouflaged

Tonight there was an atmosphere of polite enthusiasm. The diffidence of the Italians—often expressed in recent days—was camouflaged somewhat by martial music, waving flags and regal pomp.

Exactly at the appointed hour the German dictator's special train rolled into the station. It ended a triumphant but guarded all day journey of 460 miles from the Brenner pass at 8:30 p.m. (1:30 p.m., CST), in an imitation marble station built especially for the Fuehrer's welcome.

King Vittorio Emanuele and Premier Mussolini stood together on the platform beneath a great swastika outlined in colored neon lights. Mussolini wore on his militia corporal's uniform the order of the German eagle which Hitler had conferred upon him.

Hitler appeared in the doorway of his coach clad in a nazi khaki uniform. His only decorations were an iron cross on his sleeve and the emblem of an honorary corporal of the fascist militia—an award from Mussolini last September.

Dagger Salute

Trumpets of the honor guard of the Savoia grenadiers sounded a fanfare. A band swung into "Deutschland Uber Alles." Mussolini's musketeers, with death's heads on their turbans, drew their daggers as Hitler fell into step and together the king and the grim man who rose from humble beginnings to lead a nation of 75,000,000 strode down 300 yards of red carpet.

President Has 'Poor Fishing' Turns to Island

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 3 (AP)—The navy yard was advised tonight the Cruiser Philadelphia, President Roosevelt's vacation vessel, was enroute to Sombbrero island, 50 miles east of the Virgin Islands, after three hours of "very poor" fishing off Cape Rafael, Santo Domingo.

The dispatch from Secretary Marvin H. McIntyre said the party was due at Sombbrero island at 6:30 tomorrow morning.

The president and his party took to small launches at 10 o'clock this morning and after three hours of trolling the tropical waters had a small batch, including two 10-pound red snappers.

'Star in My Kitchen' to Show This Morning for 2nd Time; To End Run Here Tomorrow

Iowa Citizens will again be guests of The Daily Iowan at the second showing of "Star in My Kitchen" this morning at 10 o'clock in the Englert theater. The doors will open at 9:30.

The movie, The Daily Iowan's second annual motion picture cooking school, was shown to Iowa Citizens for the first time yesterday morning. The final performance will be tomorrow. Free recipe sheets are distributed each day.

The audience yesterday saw a succession of tempting dishes parade across the screen as the plot of the picture unfolded. They watched the heroine, young Dede Abot, come home fresh from college and face the management of a large household as well as a Hollywood actor next door.

They watched her follow the expert directions of trained home specialists, and they peered with her directly into the mixing bowls for a clear view of every step toward the final triumph in cookery.

They saw on the screen in brilliant color the finished products—lemon meringue pie, banana fritters, a new and tempting potato salad, Danish breads, cakes and cookies.

Besides the lessons in cooking they listened with Dede Abot to expert suggestions about refrigeration, laundry, the care of children, beauty secrets and all kinds of home problems.

Free tickets for "Star in My Kitchen" are being distributed at The Daily Iowan office and by the following merchants:

Wicks grocery, R and S shoe store, Hands jewelry store, Koza and McCollister meat market, Larew plumbing and heating company, Aldous florist shop, Stillwell paint store, Checker electric supply inc., Iowa City plumbing and heating, Lenoch and Clark hardware store, Means brothers grocery, Economy cash grocery, Sears, Roebuck and company, Yetter's dry goods store, Gadd hardware store and Star beauty salon.

French Confer With Treasury On Franc Value

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—France approached the United States officially today on establishing a new franc-dollar relationship.

Reliable persons said no agreement was reached, however, at the two conferences between Count De Saint-Quentin, French ambassador, and Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr.

Having no fixed value and declining for about a year, the franc currently is quoted in foreign exchange markets at about 3.06 cents in American money.

What new value the French envoy suggested, if any, could not be learned, but Paris reports said 2.7 cents was one figure mentioned here.

At Least Fifty Die in Madrid

MADRID, May 3 (AP)—At least 50 persons were killed and many wounded today when insurgent artillery bombarded the former Spanish capital twice during the afternoon.

Streets were crowded with home-going Madrilenos when the insurgents and government gunners had an artillery duel over the city. Shells roared into all parts but particularly into the central and northwestern sections of the war-scarred city.

It was estimated 600 shells fell during the attacks which started at 5:30 p.m. (11:30 a.m., CST).

At first Madrid's citizens thought the noise was only fighting in the university city sector in the northwest outskirts until shells began dropping inside the city.

One Madrid couple was attempting to rush home to take their children to the basement. A shell burst across the street as they reached their house.

A falling beam killed the woman. As her husband leaned over her a second shell hit, killing him too. They were but two of many.

Radio Control Sarnoff Assailed For Recent Criticism

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—A member of the federal communications commission assailed David Sarnoff, president of Radio Corporation of America, tonight for his recent criticism of government control of the radio industry.

"Mr. David Sarnoff's attack on government regulation," said George Henry Payne, a republican member of the commission, "is amazing not only because of its disregard of the facts and its defiance of public opinion, but because it is evidence of the organized movement of the radio monopoly to mould public opinion to its will, and to control, not only the radio industry, but the regulatory body known as the federal communications commission."

Speaking at the national academy of broadcasting, Payne said that "from the head of the company that was responsible for the Mae West broadcast, one might have expected a milder note."

"There is not a word of apology (in Sarnoff's speech) for the blood-curdling programs that do harm to children, nor for the character of the programs that have been described in so many places as moronic and fit only for the intellect of a child of 12. Heretofore every attempt to reform radio broadcasting, or to loosen its control on the government regulatory body has been fought in secret by the arrogant lobby which Mr. Sarnoff helps to maintain in Washington.

"The only effective answer to Mr. Sarnoff is the long needed congressional investigation."

"Of the many differences between the newspaper and the broadcaster," Payne said, "I might mention the fact that no newspaper forces itself into a man's home, nor does it afflict his children without his wishes and consent."

Bank Issue Is Virtually Dead

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Legislation to impose rigid governmental restrictions on bank holding companies — requested by President Roosevelt — was virtually a dead subject tonight, so far as this session of congress was concerned.

A senate banking subcommittee headed by Senator Glass (D-Va) shelved the issue, in spite of the president's recommendation last week for quick action.

Glass himself had introduced legislation to curb such holding companies several weeks ago, but he said today that he had become convinced that not enough time remained before the prospective June 1 adjournment of congress to pass the legislation.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, democratic leader, indicated no further attempts would be made in the senate this session to seek holding company legislation.

The Glass bill is less drastic than the recommendations of the president. It would forbid formation of any new bank holding companies and would have provided rigid regulation for those in existence. The president has called for eventual elimination of such concerns.

Star's Mother Promises Him A Fair Settlement

LOS ANGELES, May 3 (AP)—A "fair settlement" with her son, Jackie Coogan, in the event she retains control of the youthful actor's earnings as a child star of the silent screen, was promised today by Mrs. Lillian Bernstein.

Young Coogan has sued his mother and step-father, Arthur L. Bernstein, for the money he earned while a minor.

"Those proceedings are unnecessary," said Mrs. Bernstein. "If Jackie had contacted me before filing the suit, I am sure we could have ironed out the difficulties."

"For some reason or another, it has been made impossible for me to reach my son. After all he is my son, and we were very close up to the day of filing."

"Jackie's charges against my husband are groundless and unfair. He knows that Mr. Bernstein has never claimed an interest in the money he earned — and never will. He also knows that my husband never exerted undue influence over him or myself. If he was so bitter against Mr. Bernstein, why didn't he say or do something about it when my marriage was pending?"

In the race for the democratic nomination in the first congressional district, Emil Loriks led the field of six in the early returns, but Mark Sheafe, Watertown, was on his heels.

Claude Pepper Leads Florida Demo Election

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 3 (AP)—United States Senator Claude Pepper, seeking renomination in today's democratic primary on his record of down-the-line support of President Roosevelt's policies, took a big lead over Representative J. Mark Wilcox of Florida, frequent critic of the new deal.

Reports from 305 of the state's 1,376 precincts gave Pepper 54,359 to Wilcox's 35,098. Former Gov. Dave Sholtz, another Roosevelt supporter, received 10,937; Finley Moore of Lake City 821 and T. C. Merchant of Madison 548.

Pepper's campaign on a straight pro-Roosevelt platform and Wilcox's attacks on the senator as the president's "rubber stamp" gave the contest the spotlight in the day's four-state election picture.

Poison Slayer Saved 'til Fall

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 3 (AP)—A legal maneuver late today, spared at least until fall, the life of Anna Marie Hahn, convicted poison slayer.

His action automatically stayed her electrocution Wednesday night for the poison murder of 78-year-old Jacob Wagner, Cincinnati gardener.

Joseph H. Hoodin, an attorney for the Bavarian blonde who asserted she was unafraid to die but wanted to live for the sake of her son, said it might be October before the United States supreme court decided whether to review the case on its merits.

Ramsey and Sheriff Harry George of Danville led a force of Illinois and Indiana state highway policemen on the raid. Earlywine was killed and his seven-year-old son, Virgil, was shot through the chest.

Two men and a woman were questioned today by federal agents about the bank robbery and a series of other robberies in eastern Illinois and western Indiana. They were John Heulet and Fred Steffler and a woman Steffler said was his wife. This she denied.

Claude Pepper Leads Florida Demo Election

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 3 (AP)—United States Senator Claude Pepper, seeking renomination in today's democratic primary on his record of down-the-line support of President Roosevelt's policies, took a big lead over Representative J. Mark Wilcox of Florida, frequent critic of the new deal.

Reports from 305 of the state's 1,376 precincts gave Pepper 54,359 to Wilcox's 35,098. Former Gov. Dave Sholtz, another Roosevelt supporter, received 10,937; Finley Moore of Lake City 821 and T. C. Merchant of Madison 548.

Pepper's campaign on a straight pro-Roosevelt platform and Wilcox's attacks on the senator as the president's "rubber stamp" gave the contest the spotlight in the day's four-state election picture.

Forty of the 87 counties and more than 100,000 of the approximately 400,000 qualified voters were represented in the early reports.

Poison Slayer Saved 'til Fall

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 3 (AP)—A legal maneuver late today, spared at least until fall, the life of Anna Marie Hahn, convicted poison slayer.

About 24 hours before her scheduled death in the electric chair, Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio supreme court allowed her counsel to appeal to the United States supreme court.

His action automatically stayed her electrocution Wednesday night for the poison murder of 78-year-old Jacob Wagner, Cincinnati gardener.

Joseph H. Hoodin, an attorney for the Bavarian blonde who asserted she was unafraid to die but wanted to live for the sake of her son, said it might be October before the United States supreme court decided whether to review the case on its merits.

Star's Mother Promises Him A Fair Settlement

LOS ANGELES, May 3 (AP)—A "fair settlement" with her son, Jackie Coogan, in the event she retains control of the youthful actor's earnings as a child star of the silent screen, was promised today by Mrs. Lillian Bernstein.

Young Coogan has sued his mother and step-father, Arthur L. Bernstein, for the money he earned while a minor.

"Those proceedings are unnecessary," said Mrs. Bernstein. "If Jackie had contacted me before filing the suit, I am sure we could have ironed out the difficulties."

"For some reason or another, it has been made impossible for me to reach my son. After all he is my son, and we were very close up to the day of filing."

"Jackie's charges against my husband are groundless and unfair. He knows that Mr. Bernstein has never claimed an interest in the money he earned — and never will. He also knows that my husband never exerted undue influence over him or myself. If he was so bitter against Mr. Bernstein, why didn't he say or do something about it when my marriage was pending?"

Dizy Dean Wins Again; Defeats Phillies, 5 to 2

Hurler Retires in 7th Frame; Allows 3 Hits

Phillies' Defeat Makes Former Cardinal's Third Win

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP)—Dizy Dean won his third game of the season against no defeats as Chicago's Cubs defeated Philadelphia 5 to 2 today, but the pitcher whose high priced arm has all baseball talking...

DIZZY DEAN, CUB PITCHER

Dean, who had to retire from a Cubs-Cincinnati game last week when his pitching arm developed soreness, worked seven innings, allowing all eight of the Philly hits and both of the runs. He tired during his last frame on the mound and gave way to a pinch hitter as the Cubs came to bat in the seventh. Charlie Root finished, setting down the Phillies in order in the final two innings.

A's Win, Take Sixth Place in American Loop

PHILADELPHIA, May 3 (AP)—The Athletics jumped into sixth place in the American league today by beating the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 2, behind the five hit pitching of Buck Ross.

A six run outburst in the third inning that sent Sugar Cain to the showers won the game for the A's. Frank Haynes, first up, singled. Wayne Ambler doubled to left, scoring Haynes. Ross bunted and was safe on Sugar Cain's error. Lou Pinney walked, filling the bases. Bill Werber fouled to Kuhel. Wally Moyer tied to Walker. Ambler scored after the catch. After Bob Johnson walked to again fill the bases, Gene Hasson tripled off the right field wall. Dario Lodigiani singled to score Hasson but was nipped off first to end the rally.

Delta Upsilon Downs Betas To Annex Frat Volleyball Crown; Take Deciding Contest, 15-11

Winners Take Two Out Of Three Games To Triumph

After splitting the first pair of games with Beta Theta Pi, Delta Upsilon pulled through in the third and deciding contest by a close score of 15 and 11 to win the interfraternity volleyball championship for 1938 in the fieldhouse last night. Beta Theta Pi finished in second place and Sigma Chi in third position.

Although completely outclassed in the first card, 15-5, the Betas hit the comeback trail to squeeze through to win over the confident D.U.'s in the second game by a score of 15 to 12. Starting off in smooth style they piled up an 8 to 1 lead before the new champions began to function as a team. Here the D.U. outfit began to slowly climb within threatening distance but before it could tie it up the Betas dropped over the winning point.

The last game proved to be a battle royal between the two evenly matched teams. Benny Stephens and Dar Hine were the main cogs in the winner's offense while Ralph Bastian and Jim Knipe played bang up games for the losing side.

Delta Upsilon will meet Lower A. Quad champs, Tuesday evening in the all-university play-offs.

The Line-Ups: D.U.—Betas: Stephens—Bastian; Hine—Knipe; Jordan—Jamson; Nyemaster—Kreichbaum; Hitz—Mudge; Joiner—Smith.

Team to Play Luther College This Afternoon

Seven Pitchers Named By Coach Vogel To Make Trip

Eighteen members of the Hawkeye baseball team are scheduled to leave this morning for Decorah and a game this afternoon with Luther college, the first opponent of a four game tour into the northland. The current road jaunt will be climaxed with two games against Minnesota, to be played Friday and Saturday.

Much of the Hawks' success or failure in conference play will depend on the Gopher series. At the present time the Vogelmen share the top spot with Chicago, each having won two games while dropping none. Minnesota has been far less fortunate, failing to win a game in four Big 10 starts.

The Hawks make one more road trip after the Minnesota series and then play the six remaining games of the schedule at home: Manush Leads

In the official averages released by Coach Otto Vogel yesterday, Art Manush was disclosed as the leading hitter on the club. His mark of .391 leads his nearest rival, Jim George, by three points. Erwin Prasse is the third man on the list with a .314 mark.

Exhibition Has Variety

Etchings, Woodcuts, Lithographs on View At Fine Arts Building

The etchings, woodcuts, and lithographs of the American Artists Group now on view in the halls of the fine arts building offer the public a chance to see a range of subject matter satisfying all possible tastes.

Examples of conservative and so-called modern art, of realistic, abstract, and even surrealist art are included. There are landscapes, humorous, and genre pictures; pictures for those who like sailing and other sports; pictures of animals, nudes, industrial scenes, marines, and still life; pictures for those who want purely decorative prints for their walls. In variety of subject matter and treatment the exhibition in the fine arts building comes very close to being a complete cross-section of the whole range of contemporary American art.

In assembling the American Artists Group a deliberate attempt was made to bring together representative artists of every school and style of art.

No matter what one's taste or inclination may be, an opportunity to satisfy it should be found among the widely diverse offerings of Rockwell Kent, John Marin, Allen Lewis, J. J. Lankes, Adolph Dehn, Mabel Dwight, Ernest Fiene, Wanda Gag, Howard Cook, Emil Ganso, William Gropper, Yasuo Kuniyoshi, George Biddle, Reginald Marsh, Kenneth Hayes Miller, Miguel Covarrubias, Conrad Buff, Paul Landacre, Arnold Ronnebeck, Waldo Peirec, Agnes Tait, and the 28 other famous artists represented in the exhibition.

These original prints were created as a part of the American Artists Group's program of making the best contemporary art of America available not only to the wealthy art collectors but to all those average Americans who enjoy good books, good music, and other of the finer things in life.

The contest will begin in earnest tomorrow morning and continue through Saturday afternoon, closing with the marching band pageant in Iowa stadium. More than 1,500 musicians, including the university band, the Scottish Highlanders, Pershing Rifles and Pontoniers, will march on the field.

Clothes Do Not Make the Artist

Talent a Product of Craftsman Heredity and Directive Learning

By DONALD MORRISON

Flowing silk tie, corduroy slacks and an untidy crop of hair do not make the artist despite popular notions to the contrary.

Prof. Norman C. Meier of the psychology department, reviewing his 10-year studies of art talent in children and adults, reveals the artist to be a product of craftsman heredity and directive learning.

"Most, if not all, artists have a definite craftsman ancestry, which means that they are products of selective mating going far back in regions where craftsman activities were prominent," says Professor Meier.

There is a close relation between the satisfaction which a craftsman gets from a well-turned chair leg or hammered out copper ornament and the kick which a competent artist gets on completing a well-organized painting, he declares.

Six factors, essential to artistic ability, are enumerated by Professor Meier. There are three which are primarily, but not entirely, of a hereditary nature—manual skill, involving fine eye-hand coordination, a high energy output, and average or better, general intelligence.

Those three which are primarily acquired are listed as perceptual facility or how adequately a person responds to his environment; second, creative imagination—the manner in which the artist manipulates his perceptual experience to put it in the form of an artistic creation, and lastly, aesthetic judgment or the critical factor of recognizing relationships and unsatisfactory parts of an organization.

Experiments with children and records kept over a period of 10 years show that the artistic child shows an interest in painting early in life. This output may change in character from time to time—including modeling, working with wood, building toys, carving soap—but the character of workmanlike matter runs through it always.

Almost every artist studied by Professor Meier disclosed this early interest and activity in drawing.

In order to learn more regarding the nature of creative imagination, a special apparatus was constructed capable of producing compositions by means of clay forms and colored lights which can be varied in any intensity and played in any direction.

When a 15-year old girl, untrained in art, made a showing superior to advanced art students, the problem was complicated rather than solved. Further work, however, tended to show that the ability to fabricate elaborate compositions and to interpret those constructed by another is a rather uncommon ability which may need years of additional study to fathom.

The more successful artists have developed their own individual ways of working creatively; these ways being obtained only after years, sometimes even a decade, of experimentation.

The ability to identify the cue to the correct interpretation of abstractions was found also to be a rather rare ability and only partly related to high productivity. In fact, some of the non-art groups showed up just as well as the art students.

That no one function seems to measure or describe artistic talent is the only conclusion that can be drawn from such contrary evidence. "When there is found in the same person a high degree of manual skill, energy, general intelligence, perceptual facility, creative imagination and aesthetic judgment do we find the competent artist," Professor Meier says.

"Practically speaking," he further observes, "it is unlikely that any artist has all of these in a superlative degree, but may be high in some and average in others."

Colorful Year-Around Garden Here

Mrs. Arthur Steindler Makes Conspicuous Success of Hobby

By YERA SHELDON

Blooming daffodils, patches of tiny violets, bleeding hearts, giant trillium and a profusion of white and purple violets dot the beautiful flower garden of Mrs. Arthur Steindler, 103 Melrose avenue, while other plants, shrubs and flowers wait their turn to bloom.

The garden, which extends far beyond the house in back, around the sides and down steep embankments to the street below, is a literal haven of beauty, the result of 10 years of work on the part of its owner, Mrs. Steindler.

"I spent much time in my garden," said Mrs. Steindler who only yesterday spent the entire morning repairing primroses. "The garden requires constant care," she answered in response to questions.

"I knew little about gardening when I began," said Mrs. Steindler, but now she knows the name and growing habits of every bit of life on the grounds.

Centers Efforts

"Each year I center my efforts upon a particular project," she explained. One year it was the round moongate which forms the focal point of the garden at the back of the home. The flight of stone steps which one climbs to reach it is lined with colorful flower beds.

The work of another year was a series of pools. Especially interesting as one looks down upon them from the spacious terrace above are the three central pools in the front yard.

"This garden," explained Mrs. Steindler, "is called spring garden." It was so named by Mrs. E. A. Rogers, the former owner of the grounds. There used to be a natural spring which originated near the house on the west side and flowed to the farthest corner of the garden below.

"Here, during Civil War days, Mrs. Rogers' mother, Mrs. E. W. Joy, who now lives at 513 Linn street, used to stop to water her pony enroute to Iowa City to get the latest war news. Soldiers also often stopped there to drink from the spring, according to Mrs. Rogers."

Water has been piped from this spring so that it produces a steady stream from one pool to another. Overflowing from the large back pool, it trickles under a small natural bridge of stone to its right, flows on to form a tiny waterfall into the ravine and finally empties into the third pool which is marked by a small foodbridge.

"These pools are most beautiful in the month of July," Mrs. Steindler said. Then they are filled with small fish and water lilies. A mass of evergreens which shade from bright to dark form the background for this scene, which is interspersed with blooming flowers, trees and shrubs.

Ways to Pools

There are three points of access to the pools—one by way of the primrose path from the front entrance—so named because hundreds of primroses line its banks. At a bend in the path stands the base of a massive elm. Encircling its base is a wooden bench where one may pause and enjoy the beauty of the scene below.

Another means of entrance is from the stone steps which wind from the terrace down into the garden.

Mrs. Steindler's project this year is the building of hoops for honeysuckles and roses along the east wall from which one looks down into the ravine below and beyond at the Iowa river.

Interesting also in this part of the garden is the sumac thicket which extends from the northeast side along the entire bank. It forms an undergrowth of brilliant red to harmonize with autumn oak tree leaves as they turn and growths of barberry shrubs near the ground. "The entire side of the bank becomes a profusion of red and green color," Mrs. Steindler said.

When it began to rain Mrs. Steindler invited The Daily Iowan reporter and photographer to view the garden from the back entrance of the home. From there one looks beyond the trellis fence to the moongate and the trellis above it. In the distance is a huge oak tree and nearer the fence is a large apple tree. Later in the Returning home from a busy afternoon, Mrs. Arthur Steindler, 103 Melrose avenue, pauses beside the sundial to gaze about her lovely flower garden. The sundial was presented to Mrs. Steindler two years ago by Dr. and Mrs.

Joseph Milgram of New York who were married in her garden. Dr. Milgram was former assistant to Dr. Steindler, and his wife, the former Alta Belle Willard, is an alumnus of the college of medicine.

Along the Mississippi river," our hostess informed us.

In the back garden is also a beautiful Japanese quince which Mrs. Steindler brought from a Japanese garden in San Francisco.

Now blooming in the garden are lilac trees which form the northern border near the street, Japanese quince, bleeding hearts, violets, tulips, blue anemones and violas, white narcissus, Virginia blue bells and lilies of the valley which are about to burst into bloom.

There is hardly a time of the year from spring until Thanksgiving that something isn't in bloom. Chrysanthemums, asters and Japanese anemones carry the season into Thanksgiving, Mrs. Steindler said. "I have picked roses until the first of November," she added.

DOCTORS' WIVES USE SOAP THAT REMOVES GERMS AS WELL AS DIRT

Helps keep children healthy, they tell investigator

Doctors' wives are alert to the danger of germs on hands. A recent investigation among doctors' wives shows that many use Lifebuoy Health Soap for themselves and for their children.

That may be clinging to their hands. Mothers who understand the great menace of germs insist that their children wash their hands regularly with Lifebuoy, especially before meals.

Orchestra Presents Brilliant Numbers in Spring Concert

By LOREN HICKERSON With numbers which illustrated adequately the technical skill of its soloists and the group as a whole, the university symphony orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Philip G. Clapp, gave a brilliant performance at its annual spring concert in Iowa Union last night.

extremely effective changes from forte to piano illustrated the control which Professor Clapp had over his responsive musicians.

It is difficult to pick a high spot in last night's concert, for each number was executed with finesse and was thoroughly appreciated by the audience.

Not until Professor Muenzer had played Beethoven's "Romance in G Major" as an encore would the crowd allow the program to proceed.

With Mendelssohn's "Hebrides" overture, which opened the concert, Professor Clapp and his musicians gave their first hint of the excellence which was to come.

But from the standpoint of technical skill and effectiveness, Tchaikovsky's "Francesca da Rimini" unquestionably marked the high spot of the performance.

Noble Grand

The noble grand of the Iowa City Rebekah lodge, Mrs. C. D. Grecie, 1814 H street, pictured above in The Daily Iowan club president series, takes an active interest in the lodge and its work.

Mrs. Grecie has belonged to the lodge seven years and during that time has held the offices of inside guard and vice-grand. The vice-grand is appointed for a term of six months before becoming the noble grand.

Besides her lodge activities, Mrs. Grecie finds work at the Grecie studio one of her best-liked hobbies. In her spare time, she does most of the sewing for her two daughters, Louise, who will be 17 in June, and Mary, 15.

When the Rebekahs were started many years ago, it was under the name of Carnation Rebekahs, but as a more active interest was taken in the group, it was divided into two—the Iowa City Rebekah lodge and the Carnation Rebekah lodge. At present, there are about 175 active members belonging to the Iowa City Rebekahs.

Mrs. William A. Boone, captain of the degree staff, is to a great extent responsible for the interest taken in the group, Mrs. Grecie said. She has about 40 members in the degree staff, which puts on the initiation work of the Iowa City lodge as well as for lodges out of town and for conventions.

U-High Produces Play Kuever, Neff and Wilson Display Talent; A Vivacious Presentation

University high school play-actors outdid themselves last night in their best presentation of the season, the three-act comedy, "What Happened to Jones" by George H. Broadhurst.

effects in the vivaciously acted play. An outstanding performance was given by Richard Neff who played the gangsterish bishop-imposter to save himself from the gallows. Caught in many ticklish situations, he acted them with delicacy and dexterity.

Presented in the school gymnasium, under the handicap of imperfect acoustics and lighting, the actors surmounted the problems of bad make-up and sound.

Reva Wilson displayed as much talent in her absurd Swedish maid role as she did earlier in the season as an irascible schoolmarm. Mary C. Kuever, the pretty and worldly member of a professional family played her part with more poise than the remainder of the group.

his transcription in the fall of 1937, and last night's performance of the toccata was the first by modern symphony orchestra.

In general, the cast cooperated to produce what the audience acclaimed the best play of the year. The characters, coached by Prof. M. F. Carpenter and a staff of assistants were members of his special English class. They are Herbert Ries, Eleanor Colony, Barbara Kent, George Miller, Dorothy Jane Welt, Marian Fountain, Edward Burns, Charles Robbins, Bruce Alderman, Harold Webster, Mary C. Kuever, Reva Wilson and Richard Neff.

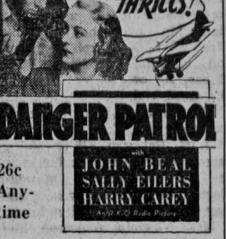

Without exception, the numbers of the program were effectively and impressively executed, and the result was thoroughly appreciated.

Stockings Most Expensive Single Item in Clothes Budget

by Ruth Dennis

AN INQUIRING REPORTER asked six women, picked at random, to name the most expensive single item in their clothes budget. Five promptly answered: "Stockings!"

Even the New York State Department of Labor, working out a minimum budget for women who work, allowed 20 pairs of stockings a year—a new pair every two and a half weeks.

Making even a 4-thread stocking last that long is a problem for some girls. Frequent runs are the most common complaint.

Secret of longer wear Two girls may start with the very same stockings, yet one will often get twice as long wear.

Here's an important factor: the way they're washed! Stockings should be washed in lukewarm Lux suds after each wearing.

Lux guards elasticity, on which the life of a stocking depends. When the silk is "lively" it gives under strain without breaking easily, then springs back into shape. When this elasticity is weakened, as it may easily be by rubbing or by harsh soaps, runs are apt to pop!

the mercury ranged between 84 and 82 degrees, compared to a normal high of 68 and a normal low of 44 degrees.

During April temperatures were one and one-half degrees above normal, hydraulics laboratory weathermen reported. The highest temperature during the month was 83 degrees, and the lowest, 24 degrees. Precipitation during April averaged .27 inch above normal.

The Colorado (Ariz.) river is 1,360 miles long.

Examination Schedule

Second Semester, 1937-1938

Monday, May 23, 8 a.m. to Tuesday, May 31, 4 p.m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (1), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below).

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation in the case of any examination, from this Schedule, except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time, supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day, deviation for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted. Students should prepare and deposit such petitions in the offices of the Deans of Men (men) and Women (women).

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether in examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (1), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below).

If the student takes the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double, vertical line.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) The instructor will arrange for a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour May 19 or 20; if possible, May 12 or 13.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first regular meeting is, consequently Tuesday at 8,—and the class will meet for examination Tuesday, May 24, 2 p.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics 126 meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory course, 1-4. The period for the examination, is, therefore, Saturday, May 28, 2 p.m.

N. B. All sections of "Principles of Speech" (1), (2) and (4) (Except Section J*) will meet during Examination Week on the days and in the periods designated below. Consult the bulletin board, Room 13 & H for room assignments.

Mon, May 23—Section H, 8-10 Speech (1), 8-10	Fri., May 27—Section I, 8-10 Section C, 1-3 Section G, 3-5 Speech (4), 3-5
Tue., May 24—Section A, 1-3 Section E, 3-5	Sat., May 28—Section D, 10-12 Section B, 1-3 Section F, 3-5

*Section J will meet as announced by the instructors.

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination, as announced to each such class, by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

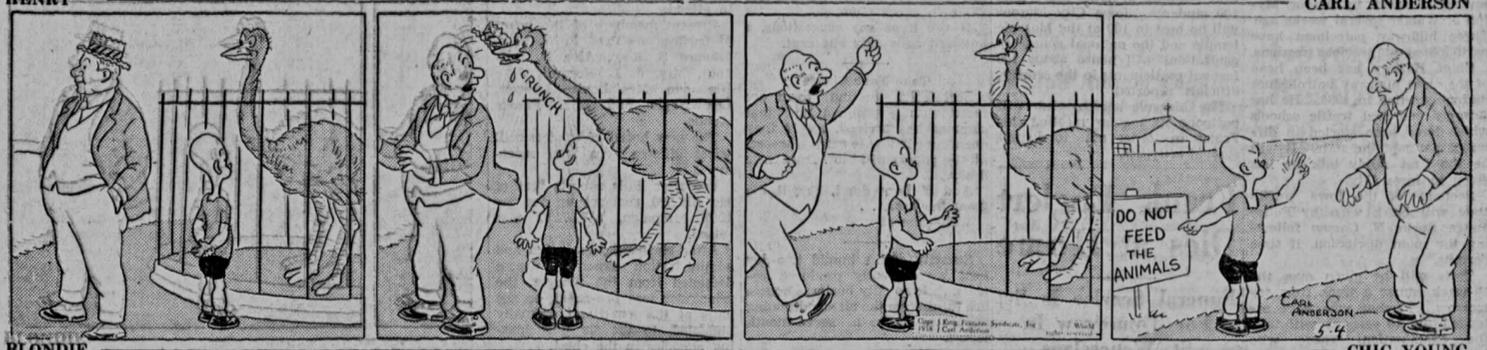

- From 4 to 6 on any day from May 23 to May 31 inclusive,—Sunday and Memorial Day excepted.
- Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, since for such "odd" classes these seven examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time.

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs.," unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F.,"—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

H. C. DORCAS, Secretary, Program Committee.

Musical Goosestep

The "Horst Wessel Lied" apparently has replaced "Deutschland uber Alles" as Germany's rallying anthem. . . It's said to be a marching song as stirring as "Dixie" or the "Marseillaise."

In case you're interested in the title, it was the composer's name. I say "was" because he was killed during a brawl in 1930. . .

Since then, the nazis have depicted the slain 23-year old storm trooper as a hero and a martyr. Musicians say the tune was derived from an old German folk song. . .

Village Smithies Growing Rare

G. L. Gibson, Owner of Shop Here, Says He Does Mostly Repair Work

G. L. GIBSON

The blacksmith, forge and hammer craftsman of bygone days, finds only a small nook for his declining trade in the mid-western city, once his old stronghold.

If you search Iowa City's byways you will find his shop in a downtown alley, 26 E. College street, wedged in between the rear exits of groceries and cafes.

"Horse Shoe and Repair Work, G. L. Gibson" reads the sign. Sliding the door over an unstable rail, you step into a dimly lit smithy which has served its owner for 30 years and brought his father a substantial income before him.

Scarcely discernible through the haze in his shop, George Gibson, (above), 50-year-old Iowa City native stands over a glowing forge. He is a strong, slightly greying man. Demonstrating his vitality, he swings a mammoth hammer easily over the red hot lump of iron just removed from the forge. Sparks fly from the anvil as the metal bulk is rhythmically moulded into shape.

Frank Gibson, the smith's father, only slightly less agile than his son, frequently pursues his old trade in the shop he has known for more than 50 years.

An assortment of 20 hammers, some weighing more than 25 pounds, are lined up in the rear of the shop "for different kinds of pounding," Gibson explains. The very large hammers aren't of much use anymore. The trip hammer, a more recent invention, replaces them in most cases. Electrically driven, it depends over the object, pounding it with regulated speed and intensity.

Heavy metal, in order to be shaped, must be heated to an almost white glow. This is done over the old forge, on a bed of burning coals. In back of the age-old forge, a recent improvement has been added.

An engine electrically generates air into the pipe connected to the forge, regulating the smith's fire to the desired degree.

In the rear of the shop is another forge. This one has no electrical connection — it is operated by a hand pump, circulating air among the burning embers.

Most of Gibson's trade is repair work. He handles all kinds of blades, from kitchen knives to plow shares. He rebuilds cultivator shovels and even heavy ornamental metal objects.

Out of place in the rusty background, used horseshoes, is an automobile. Years ago, Gibson says, he not only repaired wagons, he built them. Now, he reflects, most of his income is

3 Released On Bonds; Two For One Thousand

George Paul, Earl Amelon and L. W. Callahan, against whom County Attorney Harold W. Vestmark recently filed information charging driving while intoxicated, were released on bond yesterday.

Callahan was arraigned before Judge Harold D. Evans and pleaded not guilty. He posted a $300 appearance bond.

Paul and Amelon were released on $1,000 bail bonds and will be arraigned later during the May term of court.

City Per Capita Cost Is $3.74

Improvement of Capital Costs Less Than Last Year

Iowa City's per person cost of capital improvements for the fiscal year, ending March 31, 1937, was reduced from $28.15 in 1936 to $3.74 last year, according to reports from the auditor of state.

Cities of comparable size had the following per person costs last year: Muscatine, $14.69; Marshalltown, $1.57; and Keokuk, 97 cents.

The average expenditure per person in the 35 cities of more than 5,000 population in 1937 was $5.07, as compared with $3.50 in the previous year.

Iowa City ranked 15th in amount of total expenditures, listed at $4,113,089, with $57,337. The total increase of the combined capital improvements was $1,278,088, or 45.1 per cent over the previous year's expenditures of $2,835,001.

derived from mending springs and axles of automobiles.

"I'm lucky if I shoe 50 horses a year," he declared. "Long ago, it used to be that many each day."

Automobiles, he asserted, ruined many a family's financial stability. "For the price of a car and a few years of its upkeep, a hard working man could buy a decent home." On the other hand, he continued, there isn't a horse that hasn't earned his cost and keep.

Despite the mechanical age, Gibson has worked contentedly in his smithy for 30 years, and is an energetic, healthy man today.

"I manage to make a living," he said, regretfully eyeing the auto, "and I'll probably stay here the rest of my life."

Rural Students To Take Tests

11,500 Feet of Dirt Ordered Placed On School Playground

Eleven thousand-five hundred cubic feet of dirt near the gymnasium site of the new $725,000 Iowa City high school building was ordered to be placed on the playground and tennis court sites north and northeast of the new building, the city school board of education decided yesterday at a special meeting.

The playground and tennis courts sites will be situated five feet lower than the ground floor of the new building.

The William Horriban Contracting company received the excavating work contract at a special meeting of the board last Saturday.
