Baby Undergoes Delicate Operation

CHICAGO, May 9 (AP)—Baby Helaine Colan underwent a delicate and dramatic operation today in a desperate effort to save her life.

In 10 tense minutes her tumor-swollen left eye was removed. "She is doing very well."

That announcement and her quick recovery spurred the hopes of a council of 10 medical experts who had decided the five-week-old infant should be subjected to surgery at once rather than chance death within two months from growths creeping toward her brain.

But the operation was only the initial step in a grim struggle to stave off the advance of glioma, the dread disease which had blinded the child's left eye and impaired the vision of the right.

Little Helaine was borne to the operating room as her mother pleaded:

"Save her life. Whether she has one eye or no eyes, I want my baby."

Dr. Robert H. Good and his assistant, Dr. E. P. Garraghan, removed the left eyeball and about a half inch of the optic nerve.

The eye ball was enlarged. This was regarded as a favorable factor because the cancerous growth was inside the eye ball and indicated a similar, although smaller, tumor in the right eye might be checked before it could encroach upon the brain.

The tiny patient rallied quickly from the effects of the ether and lost little blood.

The eyeball was given to Dr. Edward V. L. Brown. He and a committee of eight X-ray specialists planned to subject it to microscopic study. Then, after further examination of the baby within the next 48 hours, they will decide whether the right eye can be saved by X-ray treatment or must be removed.

Helaine's condition cheered her parents, Dr. Herman Colan, 30, a dentist, and his wife, Estelle, 23. For four days they strove to decide whether the infant should be allowed to die or whether surgeons should attempt to give her a lease on a life of partial or complete blindness.

This morning they placed the baby's fate in the hands of a "jury." Ten X-ray and brain specialists, two rabbis, the father and the maternal grandfather, Dr. Morris Hershman, himself a physician, deliberated for an hour. By unanimous vote they elected to rely upon medical skill.

Japanese Seek Vital Railway

Invaders Battle Against Critical Deadlock In War

SHANGHAI, May 10 (Tuesday) (AP) — After 307 days of bitter warfare at an estimated cost of more than 1,000,000 casualties, about 1,000,000 Chinese and Japanese soldiers fought today for control of China's vast interior.

The struggle centered on the central Chinese front where domination of the Lunghai railway, running more than 600 miles west into the heart of China, and 150 unconquered miles of the intersecting Tientsin-Pukow railway were the principal Japanese objectives.

Three Japanese columns were thrusting northward against the Lunghai — two across country and the center column along the Tientsin-Pukow line — in a desperate effort to circumvent the costly deadlock along the central front from Shantung province, on the north.

The right wing force had driven within 60 miles of the eastern end of the Lunghai in northern Kiangsu province, near Fowning. It was the nearest of the three southern spearheads to the railway.

The battle on the north side of the railway "backbone" of Chinese resistance yesterday saw Japanese airmen desperately trying to blast a hole in the defenses about 35 miles east of Suchow, junction of the Lunghai and the Tientsin-Pukow railroads.

Chinese artillery positions there, less than 10 miles from the Lunghai, were heavily bombed, indicating that was the point of the fiercest fighting — almost the same battle zone in which the previous major offensive of the Japanese was rolled back in disastrous defeat a month ago.

Suchow, nerve center of the Chinese defenses and reported by Japanese sources to be ringed with 400,000 Chinese soldiers, was the objective of one of the three northbound columns. It was reported approaching Kuchen, on the Tientsin-Pukow line, 70 miles south of Suchow.

Seeks Stamp For Centennial

DES MOINES, May 9 (AP)—United States Senator Herring (D-Iowa) today notified Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel that he is complaining to President Roosevelt and Postmaster General Farley concerning the post office department's refusal to issue an Iowa centennial stamp.

In his communication to Governor Kraschel and J. R. Bahne, Iowa centennial committee chairman, Senator Herring said he had told the post office department that its reasons for refusal were "inadequate and without justification."

In his communication to President Roosevelt, a copy of which he sent to Bahne, Herring stated "I am appealing to you in the matter, feeling that a state centennial observation of its first 100 years of territorial sovereignty extra effort necessary to comply with its request."

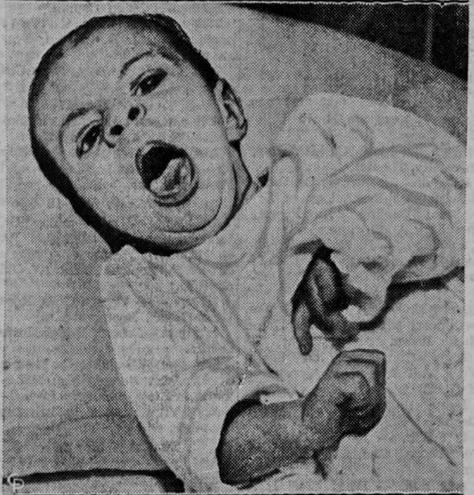

To Ramsey S. Black, third assistant postmaster general, who refused the request for the commemorative stamp, Senator Herring sent the following note:

"If the department is unable to arrange a program which will permit the issuance of a commemorative stamp, then something should be done to make compliance of such request immediately possible."

Disavows Intention

TOKYO (AP) — Foreign Minister Koki Hirota disavowed yesterday any Japanese intention of adopting an aggressive policy toward the United States.

Mothers, What Would You Do?

Helaine Judith Colan . . . life of blindness—or death only eight weeks of life remained for the infant if no operation was performed. And, also, the only way to check the spread of the growth was by removing the eyes. There was one faint glimmer of hope, a chance that removal of one eye might disclose evidence from which a new course of procedure could be deduced, and which might render needless the removal of the other.

Sioux City Contractor Killed After His Auto Goes Off Road

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., May 9 (AP)—C. F. Lytle, 68, large scale Sioux City, Ia., contractor, was found dead behind the steering wheel of his automobile five miles north of here on highway No. 30-75 late this afternoon after the machine veered off the road into a ditch.

L. W. Nygaard, 47, head of a Sioux City automobile firm, riding with Lytle, suffered cuts on his forehead and a lacerated left wrist. He was brought to a hospital here.

Dr. J. P. Cogley of Council Bluffs, who examined Lytle's body said the exact cause of death could not be determined without an autopsy. He said Lytle's injuries included a crushed chest and body bruises. Coroner Tom Belford said there would be no inquest, and an autopsy would be held only if requested by the family.

C. F. Lytle Meets Death While Driving Near Council Bluffs

Nygaard said he and Lytle left Sioux City about 11 a.m. today for Louisville, Neb., where they looked over some trucking equipment at the Ash Grove Lime and Cement company. He said they were on their way back to Sioux City, driving along a level stretch of road, when he noticed the car veer across the road to the left. A moment later it plunged in the ditch.

Akers Announces Arrest of Mexican, Des Moines Man

DES MOINES, May 9 (AP)—W. W. Akers, head of the Iowa bureau of investigation, today announced the arrest of Tony Perez, 47, Des Moines Mexican, after, he declared, agents found 32 marijuana cigarettes in his possession.

Akers said he would file a charge of violating the state narcotic law against Perez.

Extend Hitler Grand Farewell

Big Chorus, Fireworks, Bands Part of Exit Spectacle

FLORENCE, Italy, May 9 (AP)—Adolf Hitler tonight headed across the Alps toward Germany ending a dramatic six-day visit with his close collaborator, Benito Mussolini.

The German Fuehrer's train pulled out of Florence just at midnight (5 p.m. CST) to start for Brenner pass, the Alpine gateway to Italy he pledged his nation forever would consider inviolate.

Mussolini told Hitler goodbye with a surprise spectacle which rivalled all the other grandiose events of his stay in Italy.

As the fascist and Nazi dictators reached the railway station a barrage of fireworks burst from the station roof illuminating the sky for miles around.

A chorus of 10,000 children, uniformed and lined up row on row against the nearby fountains, sang a farewell to Hitler. Colorful floodlights played on the square, bands played and thousands of troops formed a final honor guard for the departing guest.

Hitler wore an expression of boyish pleasure and bewilderment when the fireworks shot up and the singing began.

It was Mussolini's final gesture before bidding him goodbye. Then Hitler stepped aboard his special train and headed for home.

The program in Florence in his honor was a crowded one. The last event was a special opera performance at which he arrived a half an hour late and left after the first act.

The first civil mobilization in Italy since the Ethiopian war of 1935-36 was decreed in the city so all Florentines could welcome the Nazi leader.

Premier Benito Mussolini, who was at the station in Rome when King Vittorio Emanuele and Hitler exchanged farewells, had dashed to Florence to receive the Fuehrer on his arrival.

Together they drove through historic streets, lined with cheering Italians, to see the city's prized art.

Florence gave Hitler the warmest reception since his arrival in Italy and provided decorations which rivalled those of Rome and Naples in beauty and originality.

Employees Refuse to Return To Jobs With Paycut; Picket Plant

NEWTON, May 9 (AP) — Picket lines stood in front of the idle Maytag washing machine company late today after 325 union workers refused to return to their jobs at a paycut of 10 per cent.

The plant had been closed down for several days when the company this morning ordered the 325 men to report back to work.

The contract between the company and a local CIO affiliate, representing the workers, expired May 1. Negotiations have been underway for a new contract since a national labor relations board re-certified the CIO as a bargaining agent.

Senate Approves Billion-Dollar Outlay For Federal Farm, Highway Program

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—It took the senate less than three hours today to discuss and approve the expenditure of $1,104,000,000 in federal funds for farm and highway programs.

The agricultural appropriation bill, which would provide this record sum for use in the fiscal year beginning July 1, then was sent back to the house for consideration of some $50,000,000 the senate added to it.

Few changes were made in the measure as previously approved by the senate appropriations committee.

Congressional Leaders Hope For Early-June Adjournment

Rayburn Balks Modification In Neutrality Act

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Presidential conferences with Secretary Hull and congressional leaders produced no outward sign today that the administration would support the Nye resolution to lift the embargo on arms shipments to war-torn Spain.

On the contrary, Representative Rayburn, of Texas, the house democratic leader, emerged from the White House with the statement to reporters that he personally was firmly opposed to modifying the neutrality act at this time.

Nye Resolution Receives No Outward Sign Of Approval

The proposal to lift the embargo was made recently by Senator Nye (R-ND) after many friends of the Barcelona government had appealed to the state department and members of congress for such action. They contended the present policy handicapped the Barcelona government, while General Franco was able to get supplies from Italy and Germany.

Rayburn said that the Nye resolution was mentioned "incidentally" during the talk of congressional chiefs with the president. Secretary Hull said "routine" matters were discussed by him with Mr. Roosevelt.

Ford Company Wins Point In Labor Contest

COVINGTON, Ky., May 9 (AP)—The Ford Motor company blocked today efforts of the national labor relations board to withdraw from court the record of its case against the firm, and question arose immediately whether it also had halted the NLRB's promised vacating of an order charging Wagner act violations.

Amending its ruling of last Friday—permitting the board to withdraw the documents—the sixth U. S. circuit court of appeals directed that the papers be made a part of the Ford company's suit to set aside the contested order of last Dec. 22.

Martin Widens Labor Breach

DETROIT, May 9 (AP)—Conflict among members of the United Automobile Workers' International executive board was intensified today by the disclosure that President Homer Martin had demoted Assistant President Richard T. Frankenstein.

Although Martin said he expected the board meeting, which opened today, to be entirely harmonious, some observers predicted a bitter fight over Martin's action and on other proposals to end factionalism within the union by curbing Martin's power.

Man Offers to Pay For Chance to Lend Uncle Sam Money

WASHINGTON, May 10 (AP)—The treasury discovered today a citizen who not only wants to lend money to the government but is willing to pay the government to take it.

This man, whose name was not disclosed, offered $10,001 for a $10,000 loan bill, part of the treasury's weekly $50,000,000 offering. Officials said he probably wanted to get the $10,000 into non-taxable federal securities. His offer was accepted with alacrity.

Against Policies

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Miss Marion E. Martin of Bangor, Maine, assistant chairman of the republican national committee, declared here last night that the women of the west are in revolt against Roosevelt policies.

Relief Clients Receive Government Aid As Cleveland Faces Acute Food Crisis

CLEVELAND, May 9 (AP)—Solemn-faced women and children piled government rations of cabbage and potatoes into baby carriages and toy wagons to replenish their bare cupboards today as city officials grappled with the food crisis among Cleveland's 87,000 direct relief recipients.

Long lines formed at five federal surplus commodities distributing stations. The vegetables and butter issued there comprised the only food for many families. At one station, a line extended from several city squares.

Mayor Harold H. Burton, meanwhile, had several conferences with officials on transferring money from municipal funds to replace an exhausted $50,000 stop-gap appropriation. A special relief session of the Ohio legislature meets next week to discuss appropriating state moneys in the crisis.

Flood Waters Hit Minnesota; National Guardsmen Evacuate 4 Farm Families Near Aitkin

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 9 (AP)—Lowland residents near Aitkin, Minn., fled tonight before the rising Mississippi river as national guardsmen evacuated at least four farm families near that village and federal flood warnings were posted for points downstream from Aitkin.

Northern Minnesota streams, choked to the highest levels in 20 years in some cases, dumped their overloads into the main channel which was three feet above flood stage at Aitkin early tonight and creeping upward.

Choked Streams Dump Overload Into The Mississippi

More than 800 WPA workers bolstered weakened bridges and piled sandbags along threatened dikes, as they took cheer from forecasts there would be no rain tomorrow. Damage to highways in northern Minnesota alone already was reported to Gov. Elmer Benson at more than $1,500,000.

National guardsmen distributed boats to families faced with leaving their homes by morning after an aerial survey showed the normally 125-foot wide river had spread seven miles wide at one point.

Death Sentence Pronounced To Slayer of Two

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 9 (AP)—The death sentence was pronounced today upon Miller Ollie Johnson, 48-year-old interdenominational preacher, for the "unwritten law" slayings of his estranged wife and an automobile salesman.

Circuit Judge King Swope ordered Johnson executed in the state's electric chair June 24. He probably will be taken to Eddyville penitentiary tomorrow.

Expectant Father's Job Pointed Out

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—A prospective father, said Dr. James Knight Quigley of Rochester, N. Y., tonight, should eat what his wife eats—"even if it is stale bread and applesauce instead of beer and pretzels"—and eat it with a smile.

Dr. Quigley offered this and other hints to husbands in a speech prepared for radio delivery in connection with the current 132nd annual meeting of the medical society of the state of New York.

Pa'ternity' Expectant Father's Job Pointed Out

A man whose wife is to have a baby, he said, should hold her hand—"fill the same functions for his wife that a manager fills for a singer or a lecturer and itinerant."

Also, he should:

"Help to quiet fears, to soothe nerves."

"Be the kindly watch dog of his wife's daily routine."

Plans Evolved To Hurry Bills For Legislation

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Congressional leaders cautiously talked of an early-June adjournment today and hopefully pointed their arrangements to that end.

One principal factor of uncertainty was offered by the wage-hour bill and to hurry that much-disputed measure along, the leadership evolved a program under which, if rules committee republicans agree, the measure may be expedited by a week or 10 days.

Expect House Approval Of Tax Measure Report

Meanwhile the senate, with a minimum of debate, finally approved a conference report on the compromise, $5,000,000,000 tax bill, which removed all but a remnant of the controversial tax on undistributed corporate profits. Approval by the house, expected tomorrow or Wednesday, will send the measure to the White House.

The house schedule called also for the beginning of debate on the president's $4,500,000,000 program for combating the depression with $4,500,000,000 of federal loans and expenditures. The leadership looked for passage by the end of the week.

'NO BASIS' Secret Service Probes Alleged Plot

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Secret service agents investigated a report that a man held by Washington metropolitan police had plotted the kidnaping of President Roosevelt.

An official of the treasury department, under which the secret service operates, said the federal officers had decided there was "no basis" for their further activity and had dropped the case.

Washington Police Continue To Hold Man Tonight While They Investigate What They Said Were Complaints of Fraudulent Checks Issued by Him

Members of the latter group said Mr. Roosevelt offered no objections when told all appropriations would be made direct to the agencies which will use them, as contrasted with the previous practice of appropriating a lump sum to be allocated by the chief executive.

Chairman Taylor (D-Col) of the House Appropriations Committee Told Reporters Little Change from the Old System Would be Evolved

Since Mr. Roosevelt has the power to pass finally on all projects to be undertaken, he said, the president would, in effect, still have the right of allocation.

The scheme for hurrying up the wage-hour bill was evolved by Chairman O'Connor (D-NY) of the house rules committee, which had twice refused to send such legislation to the house floor.

In Each Instance Its Refusal was Followed by the Signing of a Petition by a Majority of the House Forcing the Committee to Relinquish the Bill

GENEVA, May 9 (AP)—The fate of conquered Ethiopia was sealed tonight in a single three-hour secret session of the League of Nations council.

Great Britain and France, despite violent opposition of Soviet Russia, won assurances they would be freed of the obligation not to recognize Italy's conquest of the east African empire.

Italy Annexed Ethiopia Two Years Ago Today After a War for Which the League Condemned Her as an Aggressor and 52 Nations Applied Financial and Economic Penalties from Oct. 31, 1935, to July 15, 1936

League members were pleaded not to recognize the fruits of aggression but France and Britain, as a part of their wooing of Italian friendship, have undertaken to have the ban lifted.

Delegates from New Zealand, China and Bolivia joined Maxim Litvinoff, the Soviet commissar, in refusing at today's session to back the Franco-British proposal but other members of the council agreed.

Liberty And Jersey City

AMERICANS, as a class, do not approve of dictators, or fascism, or any other forms of tyranny. Yet, despite this, in recent weeks it has been demonstrated repeatedly that such methods of government can not only grow, but also flourish, in our own front yard.

In other words, something is very, very rotten in Jersey City where Frank Hague, mayor of the city and vice-chairman of the democratic national committee, has for many years held autocratic power.

The methods of the mayor are beautifully simple. If you are a business man living in Jersey City and officials find you don't approve of the mayor and his regime, you are likely to find your business melting away like a snow drift in May. If you are an outsider such as Norman Thomas, or a congressman bent on making a speech for civil liberties, or a C.I.O. organizer, you are classified immediately as a "red" and escorted unceremoniously to the outskirts of the city. If you object too much, the police have ways of silencing you.

Latest Hague move is the denial to Congressmen O'Connell and Bernard of the right to conduct a free-speech test mass-meeting in Jersey City Journal square, on the grounds that the congressmen were "personally obnoxious to a great part of our citizens because of their communistic endeavors," and that such a meeting would "tend to create disorder and disturbance."

Now we refuse to believe that every attempt to challenge corrupt and entrenched power can be classified as a "communistic endeavor." That such attempts do create disturbance we must agree, but it is a kind of disturbance that is badly needed.

The constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech is one which can not be disregarded by any official in any position of power. Although they may be slow in beginning, free men will in the end always fight to retain their liberties—a fact which Mayor Hague will eventually discover to his sorrow.

The Blind Can Also Live

IN OUR self-created maze of economic complexities, international friction and political unrest, it is a healthy sign of human sympathy when an entire nation thrusts aside its own petty worries to think of a baby who may live only at the cost of blindness.

All those problems which are as vital as life itself faced the parents of little Helaine Colan and later the jury who made the final decision. The operation may not save the child. Even modern science can make no promise. But this was not important in reaching a decision. Essentially the choice was between death, quick and sure—and life without light.

There is tragedy in the fact that she whom the decision affects most could have no part in making it. But from over the nation advice has been pouring in, some of it from persons who know the moments of black bitterness intermingled with the joy of living which is the heritage of the sightless person.

Those who have known suffering and blindness in others advised letting nature take its course. But, strangely, those who have experienced a life circumscribed by sightlessness pleaded for the baby's right to live. Helen Keller was one of the foremost in this group. "Blindness is not the greatest evil," she wrote. A 24-year-old mother, blind since infancy because of the same disease which threatened the baby, declared that "Life is too full to miss."

There is some question as to just how much weight this advice had in the jury's decision. There is no question, however, about its reflecting a wide difference between the life of a physically handicapped person as it seems to the person himself and as it seems to others.

More than ever before there is a place for the blind, deaf, dumb or crippled man and woman in business and social life. The blind read, the deaf "hear" through lip reading and the aid of science, and the cripple is master of magic-carpet distances in his specially equipped car. Within the last three decades blind men and women have even taken their places in factories and shops beside those who were physically whole.

Certainly Emerson's law of compensation works to make up for sensory deficiencies. People shut out from the visual world, for example, have turned to sources within themselves and have given the world some of its best music, its finest poetry.

So we agree with those who say that the baby should not be denied any chance to live and we join that great group of thoughtful people in science, business and education who are working to place a full and rounded life within the reach of every handicapped person.

PATENTS AND MONOPOLIES

YANKEE INGENUITY became a byword the world over because of patent laws of unprecedented liberality. Thanks to them, invention flourished. In return for a complete disclosure of his ideas the inventor was granted a monopoly for a limited period, with the result that enormous natural resources were developed by farmers, mechanics, miners and scientists, and that the achievements of Morse, McCormick, Bell, Edison and scores less distinguished made technological history.

Though the laws serve their purpose well generous interpretations made it possible for monopolies to grow of a very different character from those contemplated when the constitution was formed. Organized research conducted by hired scientists who have on occasion spent millions in the systematic improvement of processes, products and machines is supplanting the garret inventor and his haphazard ways.

With all this in mind the president, in his recent message to congress, called for measures to prevent the suppression of patents and the creation of industrial monopolies. It is doubtful whether any revolutionary invention can be suppressed. Indeed, it usually takes longer than 17 years, the life of a patent, to introduce remarkable technical innovations. On the other hand, the creation of perpetual monopolies through organized research and patent pools is a stern reality to the small business man.

"Future patents might be made available for use by any one on payment of appropriate royalties," suggests the president. But few voices have been raised in favor of compulsory licenses. The president also speaks of "open patent pools" which "have voluntarily been put into effect in a number of industries with wholesome results." If he means the force licensing arrangements in cross among members of certain manufacturing associations, the term "open" hardly applies.

Whatever may be urged against patent monopolies perpetuated through research, it is undeniable that industries have been developed by them with a rapidity and efficiency unattainable by unorganized engineers or small companies. To prevent the amalgamation of related inventions and discoveries through the acquisition of patents is simply to retard technical progress. Yet it is intolerable that small companies should be reduced to the status of mere licensees, hedged about by the restrictions of a monopoly. Courts, government agencies, congressional committees have struggled with the problem, only to discover that compulsory licenses and similar remedies are swords that cut two ways—that the inventor to invent is stifled in the very man who needs patents most.

The machine world of today is vastly different from that of the founders of the republic. Patent reform is urgently called for in the light of new social and economic exigencies. But it should be undertaken only after exhaustive study of the present system by an impartial commission of experts.

Not Much Difference Between Modern Medicine, Homeopathy

By LOGAN GLENDENING, M. D.

I have been reading with a great deal of interest lately the journal of the homeopathic medical profession, the Hahnemannian Monthly. There was a time when homeopathy was widespread and popular.

The founder, Dr. Samuel Hahnemann, had a good medical education. He founded his system of medicine after he had done some experiments with quinine, which is the cure for ague. By way of experiment he took four drachms of it on successive days, being at that time in the enjoyment of his usual health. In a few days he experienced all the symptoms of ague. He then came to the conclusion that medicine cured diseases in proportion to the extent to which they could reproduce the symptoms of the disease. The principle of like cures like.

Another part of the system was the practice of giving extremely small doses of a drug. Fifty years ago there was a great deal of debate as to whether homeopathy was a sound system or not, but it is not much in evidence now because the homeopaths have about died out. The thing that quashed it more than anything else was the advent of surgery. Homeopaths used surgery as much as anybody else and they got away from the idea of the importance of drugs.

So far as I can see from the articles in this homeopathic magazine, their practice is not very much different today from that of the regular medical profession. To a certain extent they stick to their own drugs, but even here they have come over pretty largely to the practice that prevails everywhere. I find, for instance, a surgical clinic in which the treatment of appendicitis with peritonitis is given as the classic Ochsner treatment, which consists in holding off operation, putting the patient in a sitting position and giving no food or water by mouth until the acute condition has subsided, and I wish that more surgeons of every kind would use this treatment more extensively.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—There is, it appears, an inexplicable tendency on the part of actors, even among stars and the more celebrated players, to jumble their lines on opening night. They seldom muff cues or forget their lines, but they frequently say them backward and thus provide audiences with laughs not intended by the authors and directors.

One such contretemps occurred the other evening and the audience completely broke down. I have in mind that scene in "The Circle," a revival starring Grace George, where one of the actors has a line which goes: "Why, Lady Kitty, she had a beauty that would take your breath away." The momentarily befuddled actor said it this way: "Why, Lady Kitty, she had a beauty that would take your beauty away." It was nine minutes before quiet was restored.

Blacksmith: The Hapsburg, a Viennese restaurant in the Fifties with a doorman who looks like Franz Joseph, is owned by two copy writers of the firm of Young and Rubicam. Mel Graft, the comic artist, has been on a two-month fishing jaunt to Florida. Does his work between casts. . . Carl Hubbell, the pitcher, throws left-handed but signs his contracts with his right. . . That blast against the high salaries of film stars whose pictures don't make money has been brewing for month. . . A distributor told me to expect it last January. . . But I ignored it, and thereby lost a good story. . . Got four more Indian head pennies today. . . A news dealer swapped 'em for a pass to the movies.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The "tank" on the back lot is covered over with cloth to keep out the sunlight, and the cloth—hundreds of yards of it—billows and flaps loudly in the wind.

The "tank" is an over-sized swimming pool, surrounded on three sides by a cyclorama of grey which substitutes admirably for far horizons in sea scenes. For waves gasoline motors on the far side, out of camera range, can churn up a stiff running surf.

The other day Loretta Young and David Niven, both fully clothed, spent hours being "dunked" after the collision of their sailboats. Joel McCrea, wearing swimming trunks and a flannel beach robe, spent hours on a rocky, dry projection in the corner of the tank, all ready to help out in the rescue under William Seiter's direction for "Three Blind Mice."

Preparations All Wet: By lunch-time the collision business, and the scene in which Loretta (who really can't swim) knocks out Niven to lug him to shore had been finished. What had to be done in the afternoon was the scene in which Loretta and Niven crawl up on McCrea's rock.

Clad in dry duplicates of their morning costumes—sailing guds—the pair descended gingerly down the rock into the water where several prop-men, in trunks, worked and swam. Niven dunked himself completely, his head emerging dripping. Loretta threw back her head to sop her hair thoroughly, and they were ready. Sitting on the rock, feet dangling in the water, both splashed water over themselves to stay dripping. There wasn't a hair-dresser in sight.

Moving the Rock: Then for a second "take" they wanted to move the rock, or the little rock beside the big one. This should have been a tough job: we waited around to see the fun. We pictured a half dozen prop-men in there pushing and groaning. But what happened? They slung a long rope over the rock, did a little easy tugging—from the dry floor—and the heavy business glided along smoothly—on casters. (But it wasn't so heavy, at that—just a framework rock.)

All this time Loretta Young and David Niven staid in the water, up to their chins—"We've got to," called Loretta, "we were freezing up there!"

Coaches Drive Gridders Through Long Practice

Ray Murphy Is Changed Over To Black Team

Niles, Clinton Soph, Is Impressive During Offensive Play

Coaches Irl Tubbs, Ernie Nevins and Pat Boland, the trio that will guide the 1938 Hawkeye football machine through as difficult a schedule as has ever been arranged for an Old Gold team, drove their spring football charges through two hours of hard drill yesterday afternoon.

The coaching triumvirate ordered a short dummy scrimmage at the outset and after a little rest ran some kicking drills into the grid diet. Jerry Niles and Ed McLain were used considerably in this drill, and Niles particularly got off a number of long booms.

After announcing that Ray Murphy, the Des Moines freshman, would be transferred from the Gold to the Black team for the practice game Saturday, Coach Tubbs issued orders for a scrimmage session.

Removal of Murphy to the Black squad augments the backfield of McLain, B. Kelly, Blandin and Busk for the Saturday practice game, and leaves Enich, Echerly and Niles as three of the backs that will start for the Golds. The fourth position will be named before the game.

The Gold line includes Pettit, Snider, Brady, Edling, Allen, J. Kelly, and Jens Norgaard. Norgaard and Snider are both Iowa City products. The Black forward wall is composed of Smith, Conrad, Vergamini, Andruska, Herman, ToSaw and Evans.

Minnesota Next For Hawkeye Cinder Artists

The last dual meet of the season and the final tune-up for the conference championships of May 20 and 21 is scheduled for next Saturday when the Hawkeye track team meets the University of Minnesota track team.

A 2-1/2 point margin cost the Iowa a victory over Wisconsin last Saturday, but Minnesota does not have a Chuck Fenske to ride roughshod over Iowa's fast mile and half-mile men.

The Gophers lack outstanding men in the sprint and middle distance events, but can exhibit strength in the field events. Captain Bob Hubbard is the big hope for Minnesota in the broad jump, and is able to hit the 25-foot mark.

Charlie Schultz is only a rookie to the Gopher weight sector, but is able to approach the 490-foot stake in the shot put, about 5 feet better than the Hawkeye shot put men are capable of making.

Another trophy will be given to the winner of the Ida Grove run. The run will be for varsity reserves over a 1-3/8 mile course. Last year's winner was Carl Heesch with a time of 6:52.7.

The Canby Pole vault travelling trophy was won by Glenn Benke with a vault of 11 feet, 1-1/2 inches. Don Parrish was second with a vault of 10 feet, 6 inches, and Karl Ryerson was third with a jump of 10 feet.

Last year's winner was Dale Roberts, who vaulted 11 feet, 8 inches.

Are They Really Faster? Robertson's Opinions Four Flat Next

In these days when almost every really important track meet that is favored by decent weather produces at least one new world record, cinderpath enthusiasts are inclined to take it for granted that the runners of today are much better than were the runners of yesterday and the day before yesterday.

Of course, those who say Jesse Owens is a better sprinter than was Arthur Duffy, and that Glenn Cunningham is a better miler than was John Paul Jones, have the figures on their side of the argument.

The records prove that Owens can run the "100" faster than Duffy could step the distance, and that Cunningham can run the classic mile faster than Jones could run it. But records aren't entirely trustworthy guides to the comparative abilities of athletes of different sport generations.

Better Watches Lawson Robertson, famed track coach at the University of Pennsylvania, estimates that the use of the tenth-second watch often gives the runner of today a tenth-second advantage over the competitor of the days when the fifth-second watch was used for timing, and sometimes gives him a fifth-second advantage over the ancients who timed with quarter-second watches.

Robertson also figures that the modern crouch start gives the 1938-model runner a tenth-second advantage over the old-timers who took their starts standing up.

Away back in 1883, W. G. George, a British professional, ran the mile in 4:12 1/2. Undoubtedly the Dartmouth track on which Cunningham established his sensational 4:04.4 record for the mile is faster than the English track on which George ran 45 years ago; but there is no way of telling how much faster it is.

Another important factor that cannot be overlooked is a psychological one. The runners of today are running comparatively faster than runners have ever traveled before, not because they are fundamentally better athletes, but because they are geared up mentally to higher speeds. They run faster because they think they can run faster.

Going Faster Again take the mile as an example. In George's day, and for many years afterward, milers considered the 4:10 mile the ultimate limit of human endurance. Then Paavo Nurmi came along and showed the world that the mile could be run faster than 4:10. So the milers began shooting at 4:05. Since Cunningham's performance last winter in running the distance in 4:04.4, they have started shooting at four minutes flat.

Fundamentally, the great athletes of yesterday probably were every bit as good as the great athletes of today. But sport has progressed with the march of the years, and the athletes of today are more effective than were the athletes of any other day.

Today At The Fieldhouse Beginning at 4:10 this afternoon with the second half of the interfraternity track meet, several events of importance will take place as intramurals head into their last stiff week of competition.

The track meet will pick up where it left off last Monday afternoon with Delta Upsilon holding a slender one-third point lead over Sigma Chi. The events, which will begin promptly at 4:10, include the 110-yard low hurdles, the 50-yard dash, the discus throw, the running broad jump, and the 440-yard relay.

Semi-final contests between the sectional winners in the interfraternity softball league will take place immediately following the finish of the track meet. Nu Sigma Nu, who won its division yesterday by default from Beta Theta Pi, will meet Phi Epsilon Pi while Phi Gamma Delta will tangle with Phi Delta Theta.

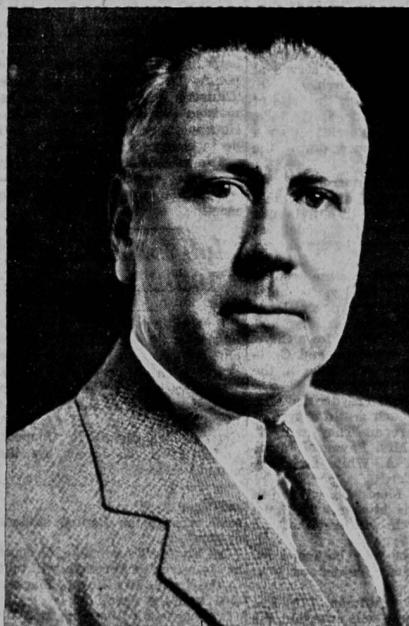

At 4:30, the inter-dormitory track meet will get under way with only the first half of events being run off.

At 7:30 p.m., Delta Upsilon, fraternity volleyball champs, will play the Quadrangle winning team, Lower A, in the all-university playoff game.

Speaker at Sports Dinner

Major John L. Griffith, pictured above, athletic commissioner of the Western conference, will make his first appearance on the Iowa campus on May 17 when he will be the principal speaker at the first annual Sports Dinner at the —Daily Iowan Engraving Iowa Union. Others on the list of speakers include President Eugene A. Gilmore, Athletic Director E. G. "Dad" Schroeder and Bob Lannon, all-conference football end who also took part in intramural athletics.

Intramurals Began in 1909 Faculty Team Competed in 1910; Medals From Ice Carnival Remain

Editor's Note—Following is the last of three articles dealing with intramural athletics of the University of Iowa campus. The 1938 intramural program will be climaxed May 17 with the all-university men's sports dinner.

By FRANK BRANDON In honor of intramural sports which have become firmly rooted as a tradition at Iowa since their inconspicuous beginning in 1909, the all-university sports dinner will be held in the main lounge of the Iowa Union May 18.

All of which brings up some question as to the history of intramural sports. The first intramural event to start the ball rolling on this campus was that of wrestling. Some 35 odd contestants turned out for the first rounds and it quickly became a popular occasion.

It was a far cry from the large regulation mats used today to those which were first used by these pioneer matmen. With few facilities available, they pulled together a bunch of small mats and arranged them to cover a sufficient amount of floor space. Not infrequently the bouts had to be rearranged in position as they were pushed this way and that and the wrestlers found themselves struggling on the bare floor.

Out for Blood With the following year came a demand for intramural football. Five teams shared the honors of the first season as grid squads from the medics, dents, laws, pharmacists and engineers competed. The championship game proved to be a little more than was bargained for as the medics and the dents fought tooth and nail for the title. An ambulance was kept waiting on the sidelines and not in vain as it made several trips to the hospital. Needless to say, this form of sport was dropped for some few years until touch football made its way into popular demand.

The same year, 1910, baseball made its debut. Competing in addition to the usual fraternity teams, who were the first to organize for competition, was a faculty team made up of several men who are still at the university including Prof. Percy Bordwell, in the college of law; Prof. Byron Lambert, Prof. Frederick Higbee and Prof. Raymond Kittredge, all in the college of engineering; and Athletic Director E. G. (Dad) Schroeder.

Slide! An amusing but rather painful incident was recalled by Dad about one year they were playing in the old gym. It seems that as the school dances were also held there, the floors acquired a gloss not at all suitable for baseball and someone thought it would be a good idea to use resin. Resin, for those who don't already know, has a high quality of stickiness. In the midst of one such game Byron Lambert was tearing for second base and as the play looked close, tried to slide the last 10 feet. He hit the floor travelling at a considerable speed and stuck. The results were rather painful and Mr. Lambert regretted the occurrence for several succeeding days.

Volleyball, basketball, track and boxing made their entries about 1911. Fencing, horseshoe pitching, rifle shooting and canoeing also found their way into being within the next few years. In 1916 with the building of the swimming pool, swimming was added to the schedule and water polo was tried for several years thereafter.

Mass Track Meet At one time about 1920, an idea of having a mass intramural track meet by wire with another school was attempted. About 500 participants turned out for the meet with Illinois and a bedlam of activity dominated the intramural sports field for the greater part of a day. Although the attempt was successful and was carried on the following year it was dropped after that and no one can remember why.

A very successful ice carnival was run off one year when the ice on the river was in excellent condition. Encouraged by the vast amount of favorable comment on the affair, Mr. Schroeder bought some medals for next year's winners. The weather took a change for the worse and has failed to produce favorable conditions ever since. The medals still await their winners.

New Sports Added Cross-country, basketball freethrow and an athletic ability competition were added in rapid succession. In 1937 handball made its first appearance and this year squash and badminton are being tried.

Year after year, new sports are finding their way into intramural competition. A few old ones have been dropped. However Mr. Schroeder believes that we have but barely scraped the surface in the possibilities which intramurals leave open. New changes can be expected for quite some years yet to come.

In describing the problems which arise, Secretary O'Brian said that the greatest problem probably was law enforcement for "no law can be enforced beyond the willingness of the people to obey."

Leader of a discussion of the motor vehicle department, particularly concerning the highway patrol, Secretary O'Brian explained and answered questions for the league members. He told of the patrol's growth and progress in its size and powers of enforcement.

S. A. E.'s, Delts, Betas Council Meets, Elects President For Next Year

Mildred Maplethorpe, A3 of Toledo, was elected president of the student religious council for next year at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

The council includes representatives from the Interchurch Council, Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., Newman club, Philo club and Negro forum. The purpose of the council is the facilitating of united action on issues of common concern to these groups. It also fosters understanding and good will among various student religious societies.

Miss Maplethorpe is making appointments for commission chairmen who will be announced within the next few weeks.

Finnan haddie, smoked haddock, is a favorite breakfast dish in Great Britain. It is popular in New England but elsewhere in the United States its sale is small.

The Tri-Delts will attempt to retain possession of the loving cup they have had since last year when they were winners of the song fest. The Quadrangle, last year's winner of the men's division, is not entered this year.

The loving cups will remain with the campus organizations winning first place three times in succession. They were presented to the song fest by Mortar Board two years ago. They were won the first year by Delta Gamma and Sigma Chi.

The committee in charge of the Sing includes Betty Bauserman, A4 of Des Moines, chairman; Jane Hart, A3 of Des Moines; Madge Jones, A4 of Cedar Rapids; Orval Matteson, A4 of Elgin, Ill., and Eliot Waples, A4 of Cedar Rapids.

Realizing a Two-Year Dream

Mr. and Mrs. Camille Le Vois to Leave for a Year in France

By BERNARD HURWITZ
"To France on a freighter—a long trip," says Camille J. Le Vois. "Fourteen days—that's a long trip for the first one, and I hope we will both be good sailors."

Mr. Le Vois was discussing the trip he and his wife will take this summer. "And if we aren't good sailors," he continued, "the suffering we'll do!"

A two-year dream will be fulfilled when the two leave about the middle of June from either New Orleans or Mobile for a year in France. A few weeks visit with Mr. Le Vois' parents in Louisiana will precede their sailing.

Hesitant at the first of the school year, Mr. Le Vois, a French instructor at University high school, has decided that the war scare has subsided sufficiently to warrant a safe sojourn in Europe, and the contemplated trip will now become a reality.

Mr. Le Vois could mention many reasons for going to France. Among them is the desire to exchange his Louisiana French accent for a Parisian one.

Examination Schedule

Second Semester, 1937-1938
Monday, May 23, 8 a.m., to Tuesday, May 31, 4 p.m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (1), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below.

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation in the case of any examination, from this Schedule, except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time, supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted. Students should prepare and deposit such petitions in the offices of the Deans of Men (men) and Women (women).

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

If the student takes the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double, vertical line.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) The instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour May 19 or 20; if possible, May 12 or 13.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first regular meeting is, consequently Tuesday at 8,—and the class will meet for examination Tuesday, May 24, 2 p.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (128) meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination, is, therefore, Saturday, May 28, 2 p.m.

N. B. All sections of "Principles of Speech" (1), (2) and (4) (Except Section 3*) will meet during Examination Week on the days and at the periods designated below. Consult the bulletin board, Room 13 S. H. for room assignments.

Mon., May 23—Section H, 8-10 Speech (1), 8-10	Fri., May 27—Section I, 8-10 Section C, 1-3 Section G, 3-5 Speech (4), 3-5
Tues., May 24—Section A, 1-3 Section E, 3-5	Sat., May 28—Section D, 10-12 Section B, 1-3 Section F, 3-5

*Section J will meet as announced by the instructors.

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays, or who meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination, as announced in each such class, by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 23 to May 31 inclusive.—Sunday and Memorial Day excepted.
2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F and G, since for such "odd" classes these seven examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time.

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs.," unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F.,"—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

H. C. DORCAS, Secretary, Program Committee.

Board of Adjustment Revokes Veterinary Hospital Permit

Vote to Favor Objectors' Plea Is Unanimous

Building Right Is Voided Over Dissent Of City Attorney

By a unanimous vote the Iowa City board of adjustment elected to revoke the permit of Dr. F. J. Crow to build a veterinary hospital at 512 S. Dubuque street at a public hearing in the city council chambers last night.

The board dissented the opinion of City Attorney Robert Larson who held that under the terms of the city ordinance it was permissible to build a veterinary hospital in the proposed location.

Work on the hospital was ordered suspended May 2 after a petition signed by 28 residents was filed. The permit was issued April 29.

In his opinion favoring issuance of the permit, Attorney Larson said the proposed structure would be in a class "B" residential district which permits construction of hospitals and sanitariums. A veterinary hospital, according to Attorney Larson, should be construed as a hospital in the sense used in the city ordinance.

Representing the objectors, Attorney E. F. Rate declared the term "hospital" means a place intended only for human beings and not for animals. He contended animals in such a hospital were liable to annoy neighbors.

Harry Abbot, former owner of the property said a house on the land had been razed and the proposed hospital would improve the property.

N. F. Schmidt, who represented objectors at the meeting of the board last week, identified the signers as residents of the neighborhood.

Dr. Crow said he purchased the lot and made plans for the hospital only after obtaining a permit and apparent sanction from the city attorney. Attorney Henry Negus, chairman of the board termed the affair, "an unfortunate circumstance for which there seems to be little remedy."

The board set May 16 as the date for a public hearing on two petitions for establishment of filling stations — the first on a petition of W. F. Goodwin for a station on South Riverside drive, and the second on petition of the Hurd grocery, 1027 Rochester avenue.

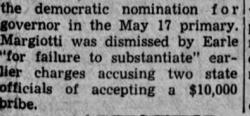

Moon Receives 11-Day Term

Jesse Moon, charged with petty larceny, was sentenced to 11 days in the county jail by Police Judge Burke N. Carson yesterday. Moon allegedly stole a camera from an automobile April 29, and officers found the article in his room at 416 S. Clinton street the next day.

John Mabe was fined $5 and costs for driving without a chauffeur's license. Carl L. Chipley was fined $5 and costs, on a charge of intoxication.

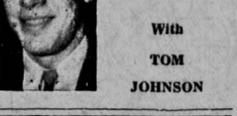

Robert Roberts and Robert Jones were each fined $3 and costs for speeding. Lyman Hughes paid $1 for driving on the wrong side of the street, and J. L. Branan was fined $1 for parking with the left wheel to the curb.

That Black Book

Charles J. Margiotti ... carries "black book" Charges of bribery, made by Charles J. Margiotti, dismissed Pennsylvania attorney general, against several prominent Pennsylvanians contained in a black book Margiotti was carrying when this photo was taken in Pittsburgh. Such is the claim of Margiotti, independent candidate for the democratic nomination for governor in the May 17 primary. Margiotti was dismissed by Earle "for failure to substantiate" earlier charges accusing two state officials of accepting a $10,000 bribe.

AROUND THE TOWN

Friar John?
A youngster in New York City is being credited with supplying one of the year's classic cracks. In an essay he quipped, "My favorite hero is Robin Hood. He robbed the rich and gave to the poor—just like Roosevelt!"

In addition to furnishing the republicans with a talking point, it is also a plug for Errol Flynn's "Robin Hood," ready for release. This verse was "inspired by the recent deluge of high school musicians in our fair city," the letter enclosing it declared.

State Music Festival
High school students in silks and lace; Rushing madly from place to place, Dashing out in front of cars, Heedless ever—these music stars!

Some in natty uniforms,
Seen emerging from the dorms, All expectant with the yearn, That with the prize they may return.

Others, free from all their cares, Looking o'er the dime store wares; Fondly handling souvenirs; Buying some to keep—these dears!

Some in Whetstone's, drinking cokes; Laughing gaily, telling jokes; Reminiscing o'er the day, Filled with joys of work and "play."

Girls in fancy hats with veils; Wearing coats with swagger tails; Playing five-cent flutes—just toys; Making eyes at all the boys.

Violins, violas, drums appear—
Clarinets and cellos here; Band and orchestra and flute— Trombone, bass and horn they toot.

High school students in silks and lace; Rushing madly from place to place, Dashing out in front of cars, Heedless ever—these music stars!

League Meets Democratic Candidates

Secretary of State O'Brien Explains His Duties At Roosevelt Non-Partisan League's Program

Secretary of State Robert O'Brien of Sioux City, was the principal speaker at the Candidate's Night program of the Roosevelt Non-Partisan League in the courthouse last night.

Devoting his talk chiefly to the historical and modern duties of his office, Secretary O'Brien listed a few of his problems and duties. Introducing a human interest element into the legal problem of the violation of the securities law, he cited cases of unscrupulous securities salesmen who cheated people of their savings. "One of our greatest problems," he said, "is trying to educate not to buy securities that have no value whatever."

In citing the $48,000 increase in the 1937 corporation fees over the preceding year, O'Brien lauded the work done by the state to extract taxes from previously non-taxpaying "foreign" corporations.

Asserting that he had never seen "a state's money handled as carefully as it is in the state of Iowa," O'Brien concluded his address. It was announced that O'Brien would be in Iowa City at the Governor's day celebration Saturday.

A short address by Dr. W. L. Bywater, president of the league and county relief supervisor, explained the problem of unemployment caused by the rapid installation of machinery. Declaring that "shortening hours doesn't help very much in the unemployment situation," he suggested remedial measures, such as the taxation of machines, and the replacement of older men by younger ones. The plan included pensions for the aged ex-job holders.

One of the greatest changes installed into the government of this state by democrats, according to Representative LeRoy Mercer of Iowa City, was the elimination of a treasury deficit at the end of each fiscal year.

"With the new pay-as-you-go plan, no money is spent until it reaches the treasury," he said. "If the state can't spend more money than it has taken in, there won't be a deficit," he explained.

Democratic candidates introduced were Louis Rittenmeyer, F. J. Floerchinger, C. W. Lacin, Dan J. Peters, Fred J. Seemann, and J. P. Burns, for county supervisor; Attorney E. A. Baldwin, Attorney Lee Farnsworth and Attorney A. O. Leff, for county attorney; C. M. Sims, sheriff; Ed Sulek, county auditor; R. N. Miller, county clerk; and M. Frank Sullivan, county treasurer.

Prof. W. Ross Livingston, co-president, presided. Fifteen new members enlisted in the league after a membership appeal by F. W. Meyers, secretary. Membership rolls now hold more than 100.
