Dr. Morgan Challenges
Honesty of TVA Board

Ousted Leader
Tells Congress
Of Misconduct

Charges Officials With Deceitful Use Of
TVA Yardstick

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, grim and gaunt, challenged today the "honesty" of the administration of TVA, the vast agency of which he once was head, and charged his former colleagues of the TVA board with many forms of official misconduct.

He told a joint congressional committee investigating TVA that Dr. Harcourt A. Morgan, now chairman, and Director David E. Lilienthal, have been guilty of costly "mismanagement," misrepresentation and intentionally deceitful statements to the president, congress and the public.

They tried deliberately, he said, to make "things easy" for Senator Berry (D-Tenn.) when he filed a claim for damages against TVA for marble land submerged behind Norris dam, a claim later held null and void by a federal commission.

Lilienthal, he asserted, deliberately attempted to build up public animosity against the public utilities by spreading a "false" impression that commonwealth and southern was "arbitrarily" refusing to sell its utility properties to Tennessee valley authority.

The famous "TVA yardstick," a use of TVA power rates for comparison with the rates charged by private utilities, was "dishonest," he said, because it took no account of "hidden subsidies" from other government agencies that should be included in the cost of TVA power.

The former chairman, ousted after he refused to tell President Roosevelt what he told the committee today, was the first witness in an investigation ordered by congress as a result of a spectacular exchange of charges and countercharges between himself and his fellow directors.

The tall ex-chairman, hunched over a witness table for hours today, read in his somewhat high-pitched and sing-song voice from page after page of mimeographed statements. His manner was unperturbed and he read quietly, using for emphasis nervous jerky little gestures of his right hand.

Independent Retailer May Have
Advantage Over Chain Store

Celler Wins Adoption Of Amendment for Wage
Exemption

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Some house members expressed the opinion today that the independent retailer would have an advantage over his most formidable competitor—the chain store system—under the wage-hour bill passed by the house.

Shortly before the house approved the measure last night, Representative Celler (D-NY) won adoption of an amendment which he said assured exemption of local retailers from wage and hour provisions unless a substantial part of their sales moved across state lines.

House members expressed divided opinions as to the status of chain stores under the legislation but most of them agreed it would be a matter of interpretation. The measure directs the secretary of labor to determine what businesses are interstate in character and subject to the legislation.

Celler said he thought the question of whether a nation-wide chain should be required to comply with all provisions of the bill should be determined by the portion of its sales that were interstate.

Representative Ramspeck (D-Ga) said a point to be considered was that many supplied retail outlets in several states from central warehouses.

France Calls Upon Germany to Deal
Gently With Czechs in Minority Crisis

PARIS, May 25 (AP)—France, in her first diplomatic contact with Germany since the outbreak of the current central European crisis, today urged the nazi regime directly to be moderate in its demands on little Czechoslovakia.

A foreign office spokesman said Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet in a conference with the German ambassador, Count Johannes Von Welzsch, reiterated the advice which Britain previously offered Berlin.

This was counsel to Germany to pursue diplomatic negotiations rather than to take military action for settlement of the German minority problem in Czechoslovakia.

The spokesman said Bonnet informed Count Von Welzsch that France was urging Czechoslovakia likewise to make broad concessions in its negotiations with Konrad Henlein, nazi leader of the German minority.

Air Force Prepared for War,
Chamberlain Tells Opposition
In Defense of Arms Program

Labor Motion Put Down
Before Vote In Commons

LONDON, May 25 (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain today fought off opposition attacks on Britain's gigantic but lagging air rearmament program to win a house of commons vote of 329 to 144.

The vote, on a labor motion to censure delays in the air program, came after Chamberlain told commons the British air force was ready to fight "tomorrow" if necessary.

Sir Kingsley Wood, new British air minister, announced today leading but unnamed American aircraft industry representatives were coming to London "at once" for discussions started by the British air mission sent to the United States.

Defending the government's air program, Sir Kingsley also announced Viscount Nuffield, Britain's powerful automobile manufacturer, soon would start large scale production of airplane bodies as a further spur to British aircraft output.

Chamberlain's assurance came as anxious statesmen attempted to appease local European quarrels, particularly between Germany and Czechoslovakia, which might bring a new war.

Answering opposition assertions that both Italy and Germany had more and better planes ready to fly now, Chamberlain said that Britain's air force, "if put to the test tomorrow," would prove to be "one of the most formidable fighting machines in the world."

Figures in European Crisis

Edouard Daladier and George Bonnet of France

Secretary Ickes, Bride
Cross Irish Sea

CORK, Ireland, May 25 (AP)—The bobbing little steamer Innisfallen carried beaming Harold L. Ickes, United States secretary of the interior, and his red haired, freckle-faced young bride across the Irish sea tonight toward London and the continent.

Ickes, 64-year-old widower, and his wife of a day, the 25-year-old former Jane Dahlman of Milwaukee, hurried aboard the Innisfallen, here as "Mr. and Mrs. Woods," with many smiles and a word of praise for Irish eyes that do not pry.

Tanks Mop Up Machine Gun Nest

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., May 25 (AP)—Military engines of destruction—the tanks—mopped up a machine gun nest today as Uncle Sam's mechanized might went on parade before 15,000 spectators.

Witnesses included army dignitaries and a thousand members of the army ordnance association assembled here to celebrate Rock Island arsenal's 75th anniversary. The realistic fury of modern warfare was prefaced by a spectacle in slow motion. Thirteen tanks, 20 combat cars and nine armored scout cars rumbled by the reviewing stand.

A moment later they raced across the turf with a burst of speed, the lighter cars attaining 45 to 50 miles an hour.

An emplacement equipped with four machine guns furnished the objective of 22 units advancing in simulated attack.

Scout cars first converged on the "nest", their machine guns spitting. The gunners resisted stubbornly and succeeded in repulsing the onslaught.

The scout squadron returned to battle fortified by some heavier tanks. Crushing obstacles in their path, the giant machines poured round after round of harmless fire into the emplacement.

Overwhelmed by such might and mobility, the hapless gunners ceased fire and submitted to capture.

The arsenal, occupying an island in the middle of the Mississippi river, is the army chief source of such mechanized equipment as tanks, combat cars and mobile gun carriages. It supplied rifles and artillery during the World War. A union prison for confederate captives was established on the island during the civil war.

Treasury Head
Asks in Vain
For New Taxes

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau sought the support of congressional leaders today for enactment of new taxes to meet any increased farm benefit payments voted at this session, but received little encouragement.

The treasury secretary, Daniel W. Bell, acting budget director, and Roswell Magill, treasury undersecretary, conferred with a group of legislators which included Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the democratic leader, and Representative Rayburn (D-Tex.), majority leader in the house.

The $3,247,000,000 relief bill now pending in the senate includes $212,000,000 for additional farm benefits. The item was written in by the senate appropriations committee.

Blames Cats
Willie Missed Target,
Shot His Wife

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., May 25 (AP)—Willie Buford's tale of two cats—one blue, one white—got him off with a manslaughter verdict and a year in jail today at his trial for murder.

"It was them cats' fault, I didn't go to shoot nobody," plaintively argued the 32-year-old Negro on trial for slaying his common-law wife, last March 1.

"The folks next door had a white cat always pesterin' our blue cat. Martha told me to kill the white cat.

"I borrowed a shotgun and tried to shoot that cat from under the bed. I slipped on the floor, all wet from a scrubbin', and Martha got shot."

Germany Regards Frontier Situation As
Having Taken New Turn for the Worse

BERLIN, May 25 (AP)—Germany regarded the situation on her Czechoslovak frontier tonight as having taken a new turn for the worse because of repeated border violations by Czechoslovak military planes.

The feeling here was that the Czechoslovaks were playing a dangerous game. Apologies, it was feared, would not remove the causes of tension which, the Berliner Tageblatt warned, might be brought to the point of explosion at any moment by the reckless act of some Czechoslovak soldier.

Dr. Ernest Eisenlohr, German minister to Praha, protested to the Czechoslovak foreign minister, Kamil Krafta, and was given assurances all efforts would be made to prevent recurrences of the border violations.

A sixth incident in which Czechoslovak army planes flew over German territory within the past 24 hours was believed to have occurred after publication of a Deutsches Nachrichtenbuero (D. N. B.), official German news agency, report of five border violations.

Strains of Music Ring In Building

LONDON, Ky., May 25 (AP)—The strains of "When The Roll Is Called Up Yonder" and "In The Sweet Bye And Bye" rang through the federal building today during a recess in the Harlan labor conspiracy trial.

They were coming from the jury room on the third floor. United States Marshal John Moore explained the jurors most of whom are farmers, were permitted to "do their own mind."

"They like to forget the trial once in a while," he said.

Insurgent Planes Attack
Loyalist Cities On Eastern Coast

ALICANTE, Spain, May 25 (AP)—Six insurgent bombing planes swooped down upon Alicante today in a ferocious bombardment which killed at least 250 persons and wounded more than a thousand.

It was the most disastrous single raid of the Spanish civil war. Toll High

The death toll was exceedingly high because two of the heaviest bombs fell squarely into the market place, in the center of the city, where hundreds of women were lined up to buy foodstuffs.

Alicante caught the worst of day-long raids in which it was estimated more than 100 insurgent bombers shuttled bombs from the insurgent-held island of Mallorca to Spain's east coast ranging from Alicante north to Castellon de la Plana.

More than 50 Killed
More than 50 were killed and hundreds injured outside Alicante. In the crowded market place more than 100 victims were killed, officials said. Many bodies were blown to bits.

Tonight rescuers were working feverishly to extricate bodies by flashlight.

Walls Topple
Man-made earthquakes sent the walls of high buildings toppling into dugouts into which men, women and children had run for safety.

Casualties in Alicante, a city of about 70,000, proportionately far exceeded those in Barcelona's disastrous series of air raids in March, when 3,000 were killed. Barcelona is a city of over a million.

Sent Message
The 28 consular representatives in Alicante sent a message of condolence to the civil governor tonight, deploring the deaths among civilians and agreeing to fly flags at half mast for a three day period of mourning.

The message said, in part: "The fact that unfortunately the attack was in the center of the city, far from military objects, and that the victims principally were civilians only increases our sorrow over the great tragedy.

"Aside from all political interests, we must in a community of all human sentiments join in mourning over this tragedy."

Nations Steering
Dangerous Course
Charges Hull

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull said tonight that "too many nations," by making excessive efforts toward self-sufficiency, were "steering straight in the direction of an economic, political and social Niagara."

Hull, speaking on a national radio (NBC) hookup in connection with foreign trade week, read a message from President Roosevelt. It said:

"This annual observance throughout the country of foreign trade week is an altogether fitting recognition of the vital role of foreign commerce in the economic life of this nation. Our own experience, no less than that of other nations, is living testimony to the fact that a healthy and vigorous flow of trade between nations is an indispensable requirement for general and lasting prosperity.

"We have profited by that experience. For four years our government has been engaged in a major effort to reopen the channels of trade.

Sailor Killed by Plane

TOKYO, May 26 (Thursday) (AP)—A sailor sitting on the top-mast of a steamship in Nagoya bay was killed in a freak aviation accident today.

The airplane dove into the sea, and all five were saved.

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP)—Fire and a series of explosions aboard the oil tanker Elwood, tied up here yesterday, left two men missing and at least 25 others injured last night.

Ten Persons Die in Fire
Following Ship's
Plunge

CLEVELAND, May 25 (AP)—Two engines, which unaccountably failed eight miles from port, were blamed tonight for the plunge of a luxurious United Air Lines plane into a suburban gully and the fiery death of 10 persons.

James Brandon, veteran pilot, was making a left turn apparently trying to lift the falling craft over a clump of trees into a small field as the ship struck late last night, airline officials said.

Seven passengers, a co-pilot and the stewardess died with him in the fire that followed. Coroner Samuel R. Gerber said all the victims apparently died from fire rather than the smash.

As department of commerce investigators sought causes for the plunge airline officials completed a preliminary inquiry and blamed failing engines. The plane was bound from Newark to Chicago.

W. A. Patterson, president, said evidence indicated "quite conclusively that neither of the two engines was in operation at the moment of impact."

Citing 140,000,000 miles of passenger flying between New York and Cleveland without a fatality, Patterson said "this is the first time the company has experienced what appears to be spontaneous power failure of both engines."

With one engine functioning the ship would have been able to make the airport. Instead Radio Operator James C. Wynne in the airport control tower, frantically trying to contact the ship, saw its landing lights slip down and disappear.

10,000 Chinese
Try to Hinder
Japanese Push

SHANGHAI, May 26 (Thursday) (AP)—Ten thousand Chinese soldiers who escaped Japan's encirclement of Suchow attempted to brace today for new resistance to the Japanese campaign inland through central China.

These forces, scattered by the collapse of China's defenses at Suchow, were converging near Mengcheng, about 80 miles southeast, in Anhwei province.

Apparently they had salvaged enough rifles and machine guns to menace the Japanese westward drive along the Lunghai railroad.

Japanese acknowledged a strong Chinese force was mobilizing near Mengcheng but declared it had no artillery. A spokesman said Japanese forces were preparing to "obliterate this detachment," indicating they planned intensive aerial bombardments.

Catholics Hear
Plea for Peace

BUDAPEST, May 25 (AP)—A hundred thousand devout Catholics today heard a papal plea for peace at the opening of the 34th eucharistic congress.

The holy father's message, which called the eternal laws "the safest foundations for justice and peace," was read by Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, vatican secretary of state, before a lofty altar in heroes' square.

The reading of the papal bull formally opened the congress after a gorgeous pageant enacted in the vast square. Thousands upon thousands of priests wound in solemn procession past the royal box where Regent Nicholas Horthy and Lady Horthy waited.

Browder Wants
United Front

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—Earl Browder called for a "common democratic front" against "torians and reactionaries" tonight, declaring that the communist party, U. S. A., of which he is general secretary, "is fully in the current of the majority of the American people."

His remarks were contained in a speech prepared for a broadcast (NBC) on the eve of the party's 10th national convention.

Asserting the republican party is "representative of the economic royalists and political reactionaries," and the democratic party is "split in two sections," new deal and anti-new deal, Browder said two new camps were taking shape.

Harry Hopkins Makes A Political Blunder

THERE are two good reasons why the endorsement given Otha Wearin's candidacy for the Iowa senatorship by WPA Administrator Hopkins was, at best, unfortunate.

Representative Wearin, it will be remembered, is running against the incumbent senator, Guy Gillette. Both men have made good records during the last two sessions of congress. Wearin, however, has consistently supported the new deal, while Gillette, in most respects only a moderate new dealer, opposed the court reorganization plan.

At the time of his defeat on the court project, the president gave assurance that during coming elections no discriminator would be made against opponents of the bill. Perhaps Hopkins' statement was merely the idle political gossip of an interested native Iowan. But rightly or wrongly, that is not the interpretation that most people will give. They will rather take it to mean that the administration has gone back on its word and is actively seeking retaliation against those men responsible for its most crushing defeat.

Then too, it will be remembered that Hopkins once emphatically stated that relief should be kept out of politics. In this case, as Senator Wheeler of Montana has said, the relief administrator might "just as well have put a slip in the pay envelope of every Iowa relief worker" telling him how to vote.

We agree with what Mr. Hopkins said the first time — most definitely he has no business attempting to influence state elections. After all, there is only one way to keep relief out of politics and that is to keep it out of politics.

The Missionary's Place in China

NEARLY everywhere the white man has set foot, three groups have followed, inevitably helping to shape the destiny of the country. On the heels of the explorer has come the shrewd, independent — often lawless trader. He has been followed by the missionary and later by the foreign business man. It has been so in Tahiti, in Central Africa and South America. It has been so in China. The trader frequently met with trouble and, being a hardy, self-reliant sort of fellow, he was able to cope with almost any emergency. Natives soon learned to respect his power if not to trust his word. The missionary was different. To the unscrupulous he was often an easy mark. His only weapons were kindness and good will. When these were not enough to win his point, he won it by dying courageously. Through the quality of his living and the unselfishness of his service, the missionary gradually came to occupy an important place in Chinese life.

Today there are more than 6,000 American missionaries in China. Investments of United States missionary and philanthropic groups total $43,000,000 with an annual expenditure of millions of dollars. All this has been greatly affected by the Chinese-Japanese war and will be influenced no less by its outcome. Americans and other foreigners have seen their mission compounds bombarded by planes of both belligerents. They have stood at the gates and successively turned away armies of Chinese, Japanese and guerrilla raiders. They have gone out and, without regard for race or creed, worked side by side to relieve misery and suffering.

It has always been their misfortune to occupy the middle ground of humanity and justice. They suffered in 1900 with the tide of feeling which rose up against all foreigners in the Boxer rebellion. A few have met violent deaths in recent months. But for them the real crisis is still approaching. No matter which country wins, their position under the new government will be difficult.

If China wins, they may suffer from a backwash of nationalistic sentiment. A great revival of Chinese national consciousness such as would follow a decisive victory might show itself in violent efforts to free the country of foreign interests. There is every possibility that the missionary would again fail to be distinguished from other foreigners and that the killings of other years would be repeated.

If on the other hand, Japan should win, the new government would probably see a dangerous rival in foreign missions. For it is well-known that Japan is interested not only in occupying new territory, but also in spreading her "new culture."

Neither Japan nor China, however, can fail to recognize that missions are a good thing from the point of view of the government. They are the backbone of the medical system with their mission hospitals and their staffs of foreign attendants. More than this, they have shown themselves to be of inestimable value as philanthropic and relief agencies. Loss of foreign missions would also be a serious blow to the educational facilities of China.

For these reasons alone, we think any organized attempt to exclude foreign missionaries in the near future is unlikely. But just as good an argument against exclusion is the respect and admiration for men and women who consistently practice a clean-cut brand of Christian living which transcends language, creed or flag.

Astronomers now report the star known as Wolf 424 is really several times more distant than originally believed. Well, it's a comfort to learn that in stellar matters, at least, the wolf is not at our door.

PETTICOAT KNIGHTS

STEEL RANG on steel. Men died where they stood. Famine pinched and hope fled, until even the bravest drooped. How much longer might the little town of Beauvais oppose its garrison of 300 haggard men to Charles the Bold of Burgundy and his mighty force which smote upon wall and tower? But no! The hook of a scaling ladder clung to a battlement. Up climbed a soldier to plant the hated flag. Ah, then a mere girl, Jeanne Fourquet, tore down the banner, and with her ax chopped the invader deep down into the moat. When a woman can do so, shall any man surrender? No, by the splendor of France!

So, in the 15th century, a woman fired men to win. Even penny-clutching Louis XI instituted the Procession of the Assault, sponsored the girl in rich marriage to her lover, and named her Jeanne of the Hatchet on the bright role of fame. Nor today need we call up Jeanne of the Hatchet or Jeanne of Arc as the only petticoat knights inflamed to righteous fury. When the frontier built America from swamp and woods, did not obscure, unsung heroines guard home and hearth by exchanging the spindle for the musket?

Woman the Lion-Hearted is contented only by scholars deep-browed in laboratories rather than rampant in real life. At the expense of weak and tender woman, a well-known psychiatrist — only the other day — sought to explain Hitler. "What happened to his artistic, Viennese, softer nature of earlier years?" inquires the sage. "The answer to the riddle appears to be that Hitler's present militancy is an abnormally exaggerated attempt to suppress the feminine side of his nature."

Pish and posh! It would do the good doctor no harm to look up the ways of Spartan mothers, Roman wives, Cavalier sweethearts, and the daughters of . . . In point of fact, on the very same day wherein the psychiatrist discoursed, the two young daughters of President Vargas of Brazil stood armed to repel the rebels who were machine-gunning the palace of their father. And, by their pictures, they appear as sweet, pretty and feminine girls as the eye of man should wonder at. Nor are the women of Madrid and Barcelona sitting down for a good cry while the invaders ravage Spain.

Fie, my psychiatrists and lords of orotund words! A woman — and afraid? — Chicago Daily News.

Cancer Is Incurable by Serum; Surgery, X-Ray, Radium Potent

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

A capable and conscientious physician at Orlando, Fla., has been using a serum called "ensol" in his practice for some time. On Friday, March 25, he received a special form of it called "R 152" and used it on several patients with cancer. Some reported a sore arm on March 26. On March 28 they were very sick. By March 31 seven had died with symptoms of lockjaw. Four more were seriously ill. Tried out on guinea pigs R 152 killed them promptly. They died of tetanus or lockjaw. The product had been contaminated.

Irrespective of any other feature of the situation, it seems unfortunate that persons would allow themselves to be treated with a serum for cancer. There is not the slightest evidence that cancer is a germ disease or an endocrine disease or responds in any way to antitoxic treatments. We have three methods of dealing with cancer—surgery, the X-ray and radium. No case is too late for these treatments to be tried. The results of these treatments in such an institution as the Memorial hospital in New York have been that about 75 per cent of all cancers are cured, allowing a five-year period to elapse as a definition for the word "cure."

WASHINGTON WORLD

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist WASHINGTON—It is a bit difficult to understand what David L. Lawrence's reasoning was when, as democratic state chairman in Pennsylvania, he telegraphed to the White House that the recent nominating primaries in the Keystone commonwealth amounted to "another victory for Rooseveltism." In the first place, voting by the republicans for their candidates was considerably heavier than the democrats' voting for theirs, which suggests the possibility that the state may swing back into the G.O.P. column in November. True, in these mixed-up times there are some quite new dealers in republicanism. But the republicans who won the republican gubernatorial nomination in Pennsylvania is not one of them; he is Arthur H. James, a conservative. Gifford Pinchot, the new dealer in republicanism, was beaten overwhelmingly. And for the republican senatorial renomination James J. Davis was an easy winner. Despite his trades union affiliations no one ever accused "Puddler Jim" of being a new dealer. It isn't such bad betting that James and Davis will be victor-

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Years ago a hard-boiled editor who is now in Washington fixed me with a baleful eye and said: "Mister Cub, people like to read about a lot of things, but the things they like best are food and money. They may not think this is true, but it is true. They are always interested in food and money. Remember that." That was a long time ago. And today comes a note from him, saying: "I'll be in your town Thursday and I'm not interested in chorus girls or looking out of skyscraper windows. Just lead me to a nice, quiet place where the emphasis is on the dinner." Well, I ought to give him a big build-up and then take him to the noisiest honky-tonk in town and get him ill on greasy, poorly prepared hot-dogs. Swedish Cafe But I won't. I'm going to take him to what in this correspondent's opinion is the most gratifying restaurant in all New York to dine. It's a Swedish cafe. The only thing in the world to recommend it is (1) its food, and (2) its service. You drift in, say, about eight o'clock. And you give your hat to a Viking's daughter, and then a nice person in a perfectly casual way says, "Good evening," and leads you to a comfortable table. And you sit down. You sit down in a chair that is actually comfortable. Then, when if the passing thought that a few hors d'oeuvres might be acceptable prods your attention, you get up—unhurriedly of course—and wander over to a sea of complex, undefinable, nameless, but tasty dishes. There are perhaps two hundred of these to choose from, and so you make a careful circumference of the table, piling your plate with far more than you really desire, and back to your nice comfortable chair you go, there to munch and taste and toy with them until the main dinner comes along. The dinner? This is a simple but elegantly prepared dinner of your own choice of meats and vegetables. . . . But, alas, you have gorged on so many hors d'oeuvres (putting away a duck, or shall we say a portion of sugared Virginia ham, is quite out of the question. But you touch a steak with your knife and it falls open. It is so delicious and tender it melts in your mouth. So you quite contentedly (here and make a supreme pig of yourself.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Scarcely cheerful reports from the Hollywood economic front lately would seem to indicate a general state of doldrums and a sorry outlook for the year's screenings, but here and there is brightness, bigness and even a nostalgic touch of the colossal. "Marie Antoinette"—about $2,000,000 worth—is completed but can scarcely be counted as this was ready to go before the monetary scare set in. But Metro is sinking approximately a million in "The Great Waltz," elaborately costumed and staged version of the musical play based on the life of Johann Strauss. Fernand Gravet is playing that role, with Louise Rainer opposite, and Miliza Korjus and George Houston for the singing. Miss Korjus, her seven years preparing for her screen debut, looks like a different person. Dieting and exercise have removed approximately 45 pounds of excess baggage, and now—she might call her Gorgoneous. If sound track I heard her voice can be trusted, Miliza may give Jeanette MacDonald, the lot's present queen of song, some bad moments. In "Too Hot to Handle" the studio is out to out-thrill "Test Pilot." This is Clark Gable with Myrna Loy again, Walter Pidgeon and Leo Carrillo assisting. It is newsreel cameraman stuff, conceived by Laurence Stallings and a young newsreeler named Leonard Hammond. The two thought it worthwhile waiting for things to happen in Ethiopia a couple of years back. By fictionizing freely a number of things that almost happened with things that did—like the Morro Castle disaster—they have produced a big, quick-action script which will run into real money. Costume epics, which might have been made even if "Robin Hood" hadn't been, are on the cards here and there. Paramount's entries include "The Texans," now completed, and the newly inaugurated "If I Were King," with Ronald Colman as the poet Villon. Frank Lloyd producing and directing.

Home Runs By York, Greenberg Defeat Yankees

DETROIT, May 25 (AP)—Those home run twins, Rudy York and Hank Greenberg, hit a pair of four baggers apiece today to account for all the runs as the Tigers trampled the New York Yankees 7 to 3.

York hit his first in the third with two mates aboard, and was followed by Greenberg's first poke. Rudy's second came with one on the fifth, and again Greenberg followed with a round tripper. All the scoring came off rookie Joe Beggs, the Yankee starter.

Principals in Title Fight Tonight

HENRY ARMSTRONG

BARNEY ROSS

Henry Armstrong Will Battle Ross in Ring 'Natural' Tonight

Barney Picked At 7 to 5 Odds

Welterweight Title Bout To Be Broadcast At 8 o'Clock

By ALAN GOULD. NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the greatest fighting men, pound for pound, that the ring has produced in at least a decade are primed to settle the first major argument of the 1938 outdoor season.

Unless bad weather beats them to the punch, Barney Ross and Henry Armstrong will give fistic fandom a much-awaited thrill over the 15-round title distance in Madison Square Garden's big wooden saucer in Long Island City, tonight. If it rains, as the official forecaster suspects, the show will go on tomorrow night.

It's theoretically an unprecedented "handicap match," with Ross defending the 147-pound or world welterweight championship against the dusky young whirlwind who holds the featherweight title, at 126 pounds, but actually the bout is a "natural" in which the disparity in weight has been thoroughly minimized.

Weight Agreement. The agreement between the principals calls for Ross to make 142 pounds and Armstrong no less than 136 on the official scales this noon. When the pair finished light training yesterday, Ross at a mid-town gym and Armstrong at his Pompton Lakes, N. J., camp, there was no indication either would have difficulty tipping the beam inside the prescribed limitations.

Ross, confident, crafty and apparently in first class condition, rules the 7 to 5 choice to stop the winning streak of the Negro who has been blasting his way through the little fellows for nearly two years. Notwithstanding some suspicion he has passed the peak and isn't the dynamic fighter of his days of rivalry with Irish Jimmy McLarnin in 1934-35, Ross has a flock of staunch backers. They figure the Chicagoan, ringwise and a sharp puncher, has the antidote for Armstrong's rushing, windmill style of fist throwing.

37 Straight Wins. They may be right but there are just as many critics who doubt the ability of Ross to survive 15 rounds of the kind of punishment Homicide Henry usually administers. Armstrong figures to throw three or four punches to every one his opponent tries. The Negro's string of 37 consecutive victories, 35 of them by k. o., sounds more impressive than it actually is. But it emphasizes Armstrong's finishing ability and can't be entirely discounted.

Ross may, as some of his handlers assert, elect to stand and slug with the Negro, in which case it may not last long. It is more plausible to expect that Barney will exploit cagier tactics.

Ohio State Baseball Team To Invade Iowa City for First Time in History Tomorrow

Propaganda? Even in Japan Track Meet

A recent issue of the Japanese American, a paper published in New York which seems to have as its main goal the spreading of propaganda for the XIII Olympiad in Tokyo in 1940, recently came to this desk and several of the items therein are well worth passing on.

More than 100,000 (count 'em) baseball fans turned out recently to watch two amateur teams battle for the championship of the All-Japan secondary school invitational tournament. And that was only an average crowd.

Baseball Fans. The paper goes on to tell of the great interest in baseball in Japan this year and predicts that the 1938 season will be the greatest ever. The writer says that Japan, as usual, is well on its way to surpass the United States in the matter of baseball madness.

Baseball news from the United States is very closely followed by addicts of the diamond sport in Japan. Conversations in cigar stores and on street corners concern the trade of Dizzy Dean, the chances of the Cubs to win the National league pennant and Joe DiMaggio's holdout. (The piece was written before the Yankee outfielder had come to terms with Col. Jake Ruppert).

Some of the problems being considered by the Japanese as they prepare for the Olympics include a powderless starting pistol, motion picture devices for photo-finishes, apparatus to prevent waves in the swimming pool, measuring the effect of the wind velocity on the runner, best kind of sand for the jumping pits, and replacing the finish line tape with a woolen yarn which will be constant in air currents, visible in photographs and cut instantaneously by the touch of the runner.

Can't Make It. Bushy Lamb, Big Ten javelin champion will be eligible to compete in the track meet between the Western conference and the Pacific Coast conference next month but for the second straight year he will be forced to pass it up. Lamb has accepted a position with a New York company and will report to work soon after Commencement.

Fred Teufel, newly-elected co-captain for next year, will be eligible to compete and will take part in the 220-yard dash.

Charles Evans Abandons Golf. CHICAGO, May 25 (AP)—Charles (Chick) Evans, the only man ever to win the national open and western amateur golf titles, said farewell today to major competitive golf.

Evans, who will be 48 years old next month, announced he will never again play in the national or western championships, either open or amateur, and will restrict his tournament activities to Chicago events.

"When I remember I played good golf some 33 years ago and still was playing good golf in 1937, I guess it's time I was stepping out," he said. "The most you get out of that grand game, I've come to believe, is the companionship of great fellows, a lot of memories that can't be taken from you and a lot of thrills you never are able to forget."

Today's Hurlers. NEW YORK (AP)—Probable pitchers in the major leagues today (won-lost records in parentheses): American New York at Detroit—Ruffing (4-1) vs. Rowe (0-1).

Philadelphia at Chicago—Caster (2-5) vs. Dietrich (1-2). Washington at St. Louis—DeShong (2-2) vs. Newsum (4-2). Boston at Cleveland—Wilson (2-4) vs. Galehouse (1-1).

National St. Louis at New York—McGee (2-1) vs. Melton (6-1) or Hubbell (5-1). Pittsburgh at Philadelphia—Klinger (1-0) vs. Sivilis (1-0). Cincinnati at Boston—Hollingsworth (2-1) vs. Turner (3-3). Chicago at Brooklyn—Bryant (1-2) vs. Hamlin (3-3).

Title Hopes of Hawkeyes Depend on Series With Buckeyes

When Ohio State invades Iowa field tomorrow, it will be the first time in conference baseball history that a Buckeye nine has played on the Iowa diamond. In fact, the two schools have met but once on the diamond and that game was at Columbus, Ohio, in 1925.

The Ohio State outfit, although in sixth place, is one of the toughest in the conference at the present time, being one of the two teams that has been able to defeat Indiana's powerhouse.

Tough Schedule. The principal reason for the Buckeyes' lowly estate in the standings is due to a schedule that called for games with some of the better nines in the Big Ten. Illinois, last year's champions, along with Indiana and Purdue—with whom the Bucks managed to secure an even break—constitute a tough assignment for any ball club.

The Iowa team, although it has had an easier schedule, isn't a soft touch. Improved hitting and the pitching of Matt Faber and Harold Haub, has done much to make the Vogelmen one of the most dangerous title contenders in the circuit.

Purdue Beaten. Purdue's Boiler-makers, who were but one half game behind the Vogelmen in the standings, dropped an 8 to 6 decision to Chicago yesterday which leaves them trailing Iowa by a full game.

Tomorrow's game, originally scheduled for 3 o'clock, has been moved back to 4 o'clock.

Larry French Beats Brooklyn

Hurler Hits Double With Bases Loaded To Help Win, 7-2

BROOKLYN, May 25 (AP)—Larry French, the Chicago Cubs' southpaw ace, pitched a three-hitter today to trounce the Dodgers 7 to 2 and win his third straight hurling victory.

In addition to his flinging, he struck the most damaging blow in the 10 hit attack the Cubs fired at Pressnell by doubling with the bases loaded in the eighth to send the final three Chicago runs across. Ripper Collins hit his sixth homer of the year in the second inning.

Johnny Graves and Fred Teufel, shown above, were elected co-captains of next year's Hawkeye track team at a squad meeting last night.

Teufel, standing, became the first man in Iowa track history to snare points in three events in the annual Big Ten meet when he scored in the 100-yard dash, the 220-yard dash and the 220-yard hurdles last week at Columbus, Ohio.

Graves holds the state collegiate and high school records for the half mile run. During his sophomore year in high school he won the national interscholastic 800 championship.

Both men were members of the Iowa mile relay team which took first place at the Drake Relays last month in the record-breaking time of 3:15.9.

The two men, both juniors, succeeded Jimmy Lyle and Bush Lamb as co-leaders of the cindermen. The names of the two men will be submitted to the board in control of athletics for formal approval.

Class of 1938 Announces Plan to Light Union Bridge

As a memorial to the university, this year's graduating class will light the Iowa Union footbridge. The arrows point to the location of four specially designed lights, which will illuminate the bridge its entire length. Costing $1,500 the lamps will be equipped with auxiliary lights above the main lanterns throwing a shaft of light upward. George L. Horner, university architect, has drawn up the plans for the lights.

'Five More Days, and Exams Will Be No More'

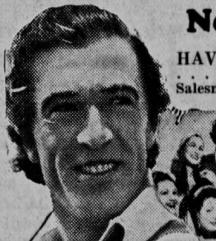

NEW YORK—"It seems that I just took my bike, kissed my mother goodby, and took a little trip to see my grandmother," says Eyvind Earle.
But there was more to Eyvind's trip than that.
Eyvind is the 21-year-old painter whose 40-odd "transcontinental" watercolors were hung February 21 for his first New York one-man show. The pictures, exciting though some of them be, are only part of the story.
Eyvind got them by pedaling (or walking) every foot of the distance between Hollywood and Monroe, N. Y. Eyvind's mother lives in Hollywood; when he left he asked her to drive him into the outskirts "because I thought all my friends might see me and tag along."
The grandmother lives in Monroe. Eyvind pedaled and walked 142 miles the last day of his trip, and when he finally found the right house he was too tired to wake up the household. He pulled out his worn sleeping bag, once more, and fell asleep on the front lawn.
Began Painting at Six
Banging around the world is nothing new to this boy. Since childhood he has been painting—usually one thing every day under the eye of his painter-father, Ferdinand Pinney Earle. The last 6 years Eyvind has painted seriously.
His boyhood was spent in a boarding school near Belfort, in France. He rode bicycles then. He saw most of Europe as a child, later went to California. His latest venture was a year in Mexico, painting on $25 a month furnished by Mrs. Grace Tibbett, first wife of Lawrence Tibbett, the baritone.
Then he decided to try the bicycle trip. The wind was the hardest thing to fight on the 3,268-mile journey, with the possible exception of cars and trucks "A truck hit me in Arkansas," Eyvind explains. "The driver wasn't going to stop but the sheriff made him, you bet. It cost $10 to fix the back end of my bike and the truck man had to pay it."
47 Days on $31
Rain was his next greatest difficulty. It rained five days at a stretch once. But Eyvind never missed painting what he wanted to paint and writing in his diary every night by the light of a candle. There are 30,000 words in the diary.
Eyvind's bike carried 108 extra pounds, divided three ways. One part was tied on front, one on the luggage rack and the rest on Eyvind's husky back. He had a change of clothes, a raincoat, a variety of pup tent, sleeping bag and cooking utensils (very simple).
He had two cans of "canned heat" too, but he only used them to dry out his water color paintings. "In Virginia," he says, "it was so cold they would freeze before they would dry and that makes them do tricks."
Eyvind is a genius at making a little dough into a dog biscuit. He started from Hollywood with $21, a day's tip money for many of Eyvind's neighbors. He had to send for $10 more; he lived 47 days on $31. He doesn't count his accident money.

1,100 Will Take Part in Annual Brains Contest

Approximately 1,100 pupils from more than 325 schools will enter the state scholarship contest at the University of Iowa June 6 and 7.
Creston leads in number of pupils entering with a number of 26 qualifying, followed by Red Oak and Newton, each with 24.
Lois Mayhew of Red Oak, who won the individual championship first as a freshman in 1935 and repeated last year, will return for the last time, qualifying in 12th grade literature, American government, and English correctness. Last year, Lois was first in biology, second in English correctness, tied for third in literature, and seventh in American history.
Claude Welch of Fayette, participating in five events, has the honor of qualifying in the greatest number of subjects.

Young Artist Pedals Way to Fame On Bicycle

By JOHN SELBY
AP Arts Editor

NEW YORK—"It seems that I just took my bike, kissed my mother goodby, and took a little trip to see my grandmother," says Eyvind Earle.
But there was more to Eyvind's trip than that.
Eyvind is the 21-year-old painter whose 40-odd "transcontinental" watercolors were hung February 21 for his first New York one-man show. The pictures, exciting though some of them be, are only part of the story.
Eyvind got them by pedaling (or walking) every foot of the distance between Hollywood and Monroe, N. Y. Eyvind's mother lives in Hollywood; when he left he asked her to drive him into the outskirts "because I thought all my friends might see me and tag along."
The grandmother lives in Monroe. Eyvind pedaled and walked 142 miles the last day of his trip, and when he finally found the right house he was too tired to wake up the household. He pulled out his worn sleeping bag, once more, and fell asleep on the front lawn.

Began Painting at Six
Banging around the world is nothing new to this boy. Since childhood he has been painting—usually one thing every day under the eye of his painter-father, Ferdinand Pinney Earle. The last 6 years Eyvind has painted seriously.
His boyhood was spent in a boarding school near Belfort, in France. He rode bicycles then. He saw most of Europe as a child, later went to California. His latest venture was a year in Mexico, painting on $25 a month furnished by Mrs. Grace Tibbett, first wife of Lawrence Tibbett, the baritone.
Then he decided to try the bicycle trip. The wind was the hardest thing to fight on the 3,268-mile journey, with the possible exception of cars and trucks "A truck hit me in Arkansas," Eyvind explains. "The driver wasn't going to stop but the sheriff made him, you bet. It cost $10 to fix the back end of my bike and the truck man had to pay it."
47 Days on $31
Rain was his next greatest difficulty. It rained five days at a stretch once. But Eyvind never missed painting what he wanted to paint and writing in his diary every night by the light of a

Iowa Primary Campaign Explodes Into Major Party Scrap

WPA Politics Enter Election For Senators

Leaders in Washington Flareup Following State Action

DES MOINES, May 25 (AP)—Iowa's lethargic primary campaign exploded with a roar today into a major democratic party scrap whose repercussions were heard on the senate floor in Washington, D. C.

Party leaders nervously awaited further developments tonight to a 24-hour period which saw WPA Director Harry L. Hopkins endorse Otha D. Wearin for the United States senate, Governor Nelson G. Kraschel express his resentment at Hopkins' statement, and blistering attacks on the WPA leader's stand by Senators Wheeler (D-Mont) and Johnson (R-Cal) in the United States senate.

Violates Policy
It is particularly regrettable that Mr. Hopkins is the first to violate his declared policy of keeping WPA out of politics, Governor Kraschel said.

In Washington Wheeler launched two attacks upon the alleged interference of national officials in state primaries. He read a telegram from Kraschel protesting Hopkins' stand in the Iowa democratic senatorial race.

Wheeler said he would use the senate floor to inform the public "every time I hear of anything of this type."

Denounces Statement
Senator Johnson denounced the Hopkins statement as "incredible." Senator McCarran (D-Nev), however, chided the objectors as taking Hopkins "too seriously." He recalled that the WPA chief once had backed Upton Sinclair in a California gubernatorial race.

Meanwhile, Senator Guy M. Gillette, democratic candidate for renomination in the Iowa primaries, took the senate floor to express "regret" that Hopkins by his statement had been "unjust and unfair" to President Roosevelt. The president, Gillette said, "has again and again stated his neutral position as to contests for nomination within the democratic party."

"Corrects Position"
"I hope Mr. Hopkins will see fit to correct the position in which he has perhaps unwittingly placed the president and the national relief organization," the Iowan concluded.

Meanwhile, in Iowa, W. G. Byerhoff of Fort Dodge reminded the battlers that the senatorial primary is a five-candidate race and not limited to the aspirations of Gillette and Wearin.

"There are three other candidates in the race who are new dealers," Byerhoff said in a statement. Besides Byerhoff, himself, the other candidates are J. J. Meyers of Carroll and Mrs. Ellsworth Richardson of Eddyville.

Particularly Critical
Meyers has been particularly critical of Gillette's record.

Party leaders tonight awaited a possible statement from Rochester, Minn., where James Roosevelt, son and secretary of the president, is undergoing a series of physical examinations. The younger Roosevelt, who accompanied Wearin into Virginia on a political trip, made a speech before the Florida primary endorsing Senator Pepper. The senator foresaw been using news pictures taken of the congressman and Roosevelt in an effort to create an impression that the administration is backing the Hastings, Iowa man.

The flareup, among other things, changed democratic leaders from meteorologists into politicians again. The apathy previously had been so general that the party bigwigs had been wondering 10 days ahead of time what effect primary election day weather would have on the size of the vote.

Is Television Ever Coming?

Experts Say It's Here, But Money and New Equipment Needed

What's holding up television? It has been on its way for eight years or more, and isn't available to the public yet. To get a plain explanation of the television situation today, the AP Feature Service put an experienced reporter on the trail of the people who should know—technicians, communications executives, program experts. Here is what he found.

By JACK STINNETT
AP Feature Service Writer
NEW YORK—Ask experts when television will emerge from the laboratories and the answers will be evasive as a rent-a-dodger's promise. No one will deny that television is here. Neither will any predict a definite time when it will be released to the public.

Ask business men that question, and you may find a few who say: "When public demand cracks the whip, as it did when it wrecked of silent movies, both science and the television industry will clear all existing hurdles."

Ask interested persons at random why television must continue crystallizing in test-tube studios, and you will get 100 different answers, but all boil down to one of these:

1. Television is too costly and the financing hasn't been solved.

2. Television has stubbed its toe on certain technical difficulties, prime among which is a practical solution of a picture network.

3. Television promoters hesitate to launch an industry that may scrap radio receivers now in use.

4. There is a shortage of television program material and lack of knowledge of program production.

Ask C. W. Farrier, who coordinates and interprets all television activities for the National Broadcasting company, and he answers: "Those considerations (above) are partly true and partly false, but the dominant reason why television is withheld is rarely stated. It may be expressed in one word—standards."

And apparently it's true that if some leaders in television experimentation have their way, there will be no public television until it more nearly approaches perfection.

It is certain that television receivers must fit the transmitters as keys must fit locks, and any basic change in either necessitates change in the other.

Some of the big experimentalists (and they are supplying the money) insist the public must wait, and that it should wait, for absolute standardization of transmitting and receiving equipment, so that any receiver can tune in any transmitter. Such standardization is determined by regulations of the federal communications commission.

Some dissenters, mostly business men in the entertainment or manufacturing fields, and radio editors, say: "Bosh! Toss television into the public stream and let it sink or swim." Public interest and encouragement, scientific ingenuity, and plain American business shrewdness, they assert, will see that it swims.

And there the matter rests.

New York Fair Plans Television

At present, it appears that the public will get its first open demonstration of television at the New York world's fair in 1939, when RCA-NBC will present its system now undergoing field tests in New York.

Centers of the television industry are Camden, N.J., Philadelphia and New York. Most of the scientific experimentation is centered in the first two cities. Most of the studio and field tests are conducted in New York.

Principal television research activities are those conducted by:

1. RCA-NBC. In laboratories at Camden, scientists and engineers are working constantly to improve the transmitter and receiver. There also the "telemobile," the two-truck portable transmitter, is being prepared for field tests in March. In New York, from the Empire State building studio, experimental television broadcasts are soon to be resumed on a daily schedule and received on 100 field test receivers in the metropolitan area. Specialists are concentrating on program development and the studio problems of lighting, ventilation, make-up, stage setting.

New 'World War' of Words Rides Radio's Short Waves

European Stations Shoot Out Endless Streams Of Propaganda

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN
AP Feature Service Writer
LONDON—The short wave broadcast, little more than a toy 10 years ago, is today a major weapon in the world-wide propaganda war of increasing bitterness.

Italy is adding power, England is adding transmitters and, once the effectiveness of these improvements is established, you can be sure other nations will rush to bring their space-annihilating propaganda mills up to the new standard.

The ether battle reached its highest pitch recently when Italy's anti-British broadcasts to Arabic speaking sections of Africa and Asia spurred John Bull to action.

But for more than six years, the short wave has been increasing in fury until now England, Germany, Italy, France, Spain and Russia are sending out daily multi-language broadcasts that virtually cover the world.

Most powerful short wave stations in Europe are the German station at Zossen, about 22 miles from Berlin, and the British Broadcasting company station at Daventry, England.

From Zossen, the nazis keep up a steady stream of German propaganda. Six to eight hours a day the broadcasts are directed at North, Central and South America. The programs, though full of political harangue, are considered more palatable than some others because of their good music and entertainment.

From Rome an Italian short wave station, soon to be increased in power, has been flashing daily programs of biased news and entertainment to the Arabic-speaking near east, to Ethiopia, Eritrea, Italian Somaliland, Australia, the far east, Russia and the Americas. Two medium wave stations in Rome and Bari complete the fascist propaganda network with daily broadcasts in Arabic, Rumanian, Bulgarian, Serbian, Albanian and Greek.

Russia broadcasts daily from an all-direction short wave station at Moscow. The programs, in English, French, German and Italian, usually describe Soviet achievements, give the Soviet view of foreign affairs, and a glowing picture of life under communism. Apparatus is lacking, however, for concentration on any one country, and the broadcasts scatter out in all directions.

France transmits news and propaganda from Paris daily in French, English and German to the Americas, Africa, Egypt, the far east, with special emphasis on Indo-China.

Government Spain sends news of the war and anti-fascist propaganda daily from Madrid in all principal European languages, concentrating its focus on Germany, Italy and the Americas. Approximately 200 letters reportedly are received monthly from American listeners.

Last to get into the short wave war, Britain today is broadcasting in all directions. Six transmitters have been functioning at Daventry and two more are being added especially for South and Central American programs, intended to counteract German and Italian broadcasts held harmful to British interests there.

Daily Arabic broadcasts of "objective" news and music were started in January. Since 1932, the BBC has been sending daily Empire programs of news and entertainment to Australia, New Zealand, the far east, South Africa and Canada and occasional programs to the United States.

In European countries, a favorite method of counteracting radio propaganda broadcasts is "jamming"—simply drowning out the offending program by transmitting a static hum on the same wave length. Russia, Italy and Germany all have practiced jamming.

Big Three Senate Oldsters Still Hold Spotlight

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
AP Feature Service Writer
WASHINGTON—Younger men pop into—and out of—the Washington arena but there are three old senatorial gladiators who have the national spotlight any time they feel like swinging a political broad-axe or hurling an economic javelin.

They are: Idaho's 72-year-old William E. Borah, the Thunderer, starting his 32nd consecutive year in the Senate, and still the most listened-to orator on Capitol Hill.

Nebraska's 76-year-old George Norris, winding up 25 years in the senate, and virtually unchallenged leader emeritus of those who seek "to put more humanity on the statute books of the nation."

Virginia's 80-year-old Carter Glass, serving his 19th year in the senate, "the gallant, uncompromising fighter" for old-fashioned

Jeffersonian democratic principles.

All three "elder statesmen" have had tremendous political strength in their home states and impressive influence among the voters at large.

They have dramatized economic issues—and incidentally themselves—by hammering away at broad governmental principles. Borah, the isolationist and anti-monopolist, urging the regulation of business by government, with the national spotlight any time the advocate of rigid control of the electric power industry, demanding a better deal for the farmer and workers. Glass, the father of the federal reserve bank system, citing the perils of government meddling in private business.

All three have been party rebels. Borah, the independent republican, and Glass, the old line democrat, have never bolted their parties. But Norris, formerly a progressive republican, who now bears the independent label, left the G.O.P. fold to back Alfred E. Smith in 1928 and has been a Roosevelt supporter since 1932.

Owing to their prestige, they frequently exert an important influence on the course of government.

Beta Sigma Phi To Meet Tonight

Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the Jefferson hotel. An educational program will be in charge of Wilma McKee.

Alma Geiger, local president, will report on the recent state convention to which she was a delegate.

Examination Schedule

Second Semester, 1937-1938

Monday, May 23, 8 a.m., to Tuesday, May 31, 4 p.m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (1), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below.

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation in the case of any examination, from this Schedule, except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time, supported by the recommendation of the department concerned, to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of getting through earlier will not be permitted. Students should prepare and deposit such petitions in the offices of the Deans of Men (men) and Women (women).

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

If the student takes the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double, vertical line.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) The instructor will arrange for a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour May 19 or 20; if possible, May 12 or 13.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first regular meeting is consequently Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Tuesday, May 24, 2 p.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (126) meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination, is, therefore, Saturday, May 28, 2 p.m.

N. B. All sections of "Principles of Speech" (1), (2) and (4) (Except Section J*) will meet during Examination Week on the days and at the periods designated below. Consult the bulletin board, Room 13 S. H. for room assignments.

Mon., May 23 —Section H, 8-10 Speech (1), 8-10	Fri., May 27 —Section I, 8-10 Section B, 1-3 Section G, 3-5 Speech (4), 3-5
Tues., May 24 —Section A, 1-3 Section E, 3-5	Sat., May 28 —Section D, 10-12 Section F, 1-3 Section F, 3-5

*Section J will meet as announced by the instructors.

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, or Saturdays, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination, as announced to each such class, by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

- From 4 to 6 on any day from May 23 to May 31 inclusive, Sunday and Memorial Day excepted.
- Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in the SPECIAL GROUPS, A, B, C, D, E, F and G, since for such "odd" classes these seven examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times, if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time.

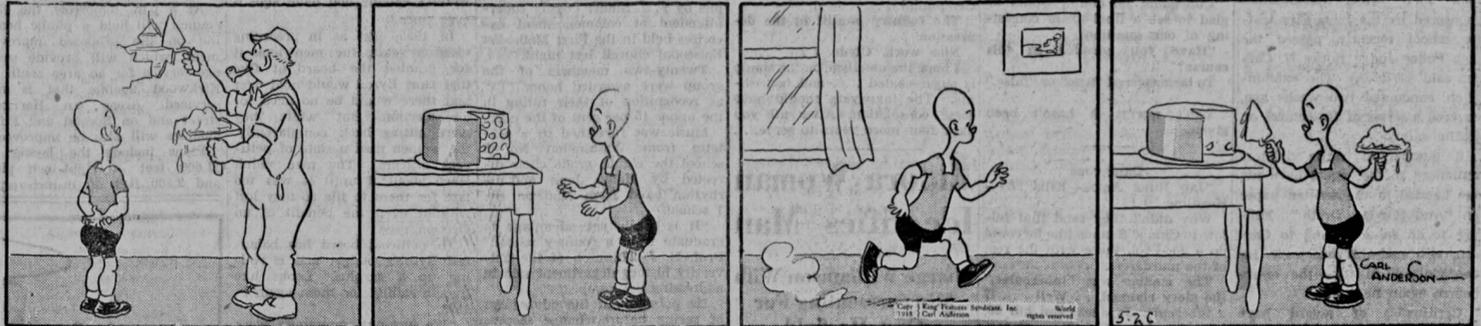

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs." unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "Fd."—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card, signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

27 Pass Safety Examination by Iowa City Traffic School

Series of Ten Lectures Here Basis of Test

Will Award Certificates On Completion Of State Tests

Every one of 27 persons who took the safety examination sponsored by the Iowa City traffic school recently, passed the test, Police Judge Burke N. Carson said yesterday. The examination, conducted two weeks ago, covered a series of 10 lectures on traffic safety.

A number of traffic violators sentenced to the school have not yet handed in the written paper on "And Sudden Death." Failure to do so, according to Carson, will make it necessary for the violator to take the entire course again next fall.

Certificates of award have been printed and arrangements are being made for their distribution.

Traffic violators are required to take the state driver's examination at the courthouse before being issued a certificate. Due to the large number of drivers being given examinations at the courthouse now, violators will be given several months to complete the state test.

Violators taking the test were Paul Nolan, Owen Meredith, F. J. Bjork, Charles O'Donnell, Woe Matthes, Nyal Jones Jr., Robert Watts, Edward Allport, Andrew Erickson, Glen Fitzpatrick, Vernon Capen, Paul Prybil, Robert Sieh, John R. Montgomery, Edwin McLain, Frank Balz, Emil Carson and Sumner L. Beck.

Voluntary enrollees who took the test were Vera Hansen, Louis Maher, Adele Hughes, Dorothy Watson, Vernon Coffey, Carroll Sample, George Barte Jr., Mrs. George Barte and Harold Olson.

Eldora Woman Identifies Man

Charge Williamson With Misrepresenting Fur Coat He Sold

Charging that Thomas Williamson misrepresented a fur coat he sold her, an Eldora woman yesterday identified him at the Iowa City police station and he was returned to Eldora by the Hardin county sheriff. He was arrested here Monday night.

Police Chief W. H. Bender said last night that Thomas T. Williamson, arrested with Thomas Williamson, had been released, but the seven fur coats found in their car will be held until word has been received identifying Thomas T. Williamson from the company he claims to represent.

The pair were arrested Monday night near the Strand theater. In the trunk of one of their cars parked in a tourist camp were found seven fur coats.

The men told Chief Bender that they had been traveling about the country buying horses. The chief said more than 12 driver's licenses and car registration cards were found in their possession.

Give Diplomas To 148 Eighth Grade Students

Award 22 With Honor 'I's For High Rating

Diplomas were awarded 148 Johnson county eighth grade pupils by F. J. Snider county superintendent at commencement exercises held in the First Methodist Episcopal church last night.

Twenty-two members of the group were awarded honor "I's" as recognition of their rating in the upper 15 per cent of the class.

Music was furnished by a sextette from Washington No. 5 school the eighth grade choir directed by Helen Jenn and the rhythm band from Madison No. 1 school.

"It is a distinct advantage to graduate from a country school," Prof. H. J. Thornton of the university history department said in addressing the group.

He pointed out the advantages of seeing nature change seasons and of the opportunity offered to see the beauties of the country. He said, school children living on Iowa farms with its fertile soil and fine school system were particularly fortunate.

The advantages of good schooling and the outlets for developing friends, mental growth and the right attitudes in school were stressed by the speaker.

"You have learned how to live with others. You are taught how to give and take in school," he affirmed.

The group was advised to continue with their studies, to gain education both out of daily experiences and out of books.

He urged the group to go on to high school and, if possible, continue their education in college. "It is not necessary to have a

PROFITABLE Town Pays Profit When Women Rule

BYRON, Okla. — Men had run this town for more than 40 years and thought they had it sewed up. Then three years ago, some women who had decided things could be operated more efficiently, took control when they weren't looking and have kept it ever since.

In 1935, just as in preceding election years, the men took it for granted the board of five that runs Byron would hold over and there would be no need for an election. But while they were sitting back complacently, the women filed a slate of petticoat officers. The men didn't learn about it until it was too late for them to file so they lost without even the benefit of an election race.

The town's principal revenue comes from the sale of electricity. It's not hard to balance the budget. Byron buys current for three cents a kilowatt hour and sells it for 10 cents.
