No Limit To Atrocities

WHEN GERMAN zeppelins first appeared in night skies over London during the Great War to let loose their rain of bombs upon that huge city, men thought that at last the limit to human savagery had been attained.

Yet those zeppelins inflicted little damage compared to that done during the last year by bombing planes attacking Madrid and Barcelona in Spain and Shanghai in China. These are great cities and the death and destruction which came to them has taught further, more terrible lessons on how cruel man can be to fellow man.

Last week the Spanish rebels gave another demonstration that human savagery has not yet reached its limit. Swooping down upon the little Loyalist town of Granollers, with a population of about 12,000, a flock of bombers Tuesday brought death to more than 200 persons and injuries to hundreds more.

Granollers is a small city in comparison to Madrid and Barcelona. Its inhabitants had gathered freely in the market place to obtain their daily rationing of potatoes. Mostly women, children, and old men they knew their death would serve no one and they felt secure in that knowledge.

Yet death sought them out and found them. Coldly, deliberately the Rebels turned from fighting men to attacking defenseless women and children. At Madrid and Barcelona they had had the excuse that those cities were important military objectives. At Granollers they had no such defense. What they did was murder, not warfare, committed in a deliberate effort to break the morale of the Spanish people at any cost.

If we have needed further proof that man's inhumanity to man in time of war can know no limits and will progress step by step until all wars cease, this was surely it.

An Englishman has invented a method for dry-cleaning eggs. We hope no hen reads of this insult to the purity of her product and promptly launches a stand-up strike.

It's a trifle late but the man at the next desk says you've got to give Mussolini credit for being the perfect host. He spent $30,000,000 entertaining a man, some folk whisper, he doesn't like.

France has, according to a cabled dispatch, asked the United States to stop a threatened worldwide war. This is news only because, as far as European countries are concerned, the word "stop" was used instead of "pay for."

Keeping America Free and Liberal

WE AMERICANS pride ourselves on being liberal, free-thinking, forward-looking. This pride sometimes becomes a little questionable, particularly in view of the fight now going on in Congress to kill or butcher the wage-hour bill.

Many congressmen are questioning the value of such a bill; many doubt its practicability. That Europe has known and successfully used such legislation for several generations is apparently unknown or forgotten.

The bill's opponents, many of whom are southerners, attempted to at first defeat a proposal to fix minimum wages at 40 cents and hour and a maximum work week of 40 hours, with provision for a government board to allow differentials in favor of regions where living costs are low.

Now the bill's opponents are saying the minimum requirements are "excessive." They are trying to tell us the majority of southerners think $11 a week is to high a salary.

In addition many holes have already been shot into the bill; there have been exceptions and exemptions by the dozen. Among those who can and will work for less than $11 a week are sailors, farm hands, newspaper men, small factory laborers, salesmen, many others.

In the face of these facts, our talk about being the richest, finest, most progressive country in the world becomes a little silly. We hope our congressmen will take heed. We hope our voters will note and vote accordingly when considering their congressmen's attitude on the basic principles of the wage-hour bill during next fall's campaign.

A New Jersey scientist says fish are easier to catch if music is played. That also goes for the kind which haunt night clubs.

Fishermen now may have a new alibi: "I made a mistake of playing Schubert's Unfinished symphony—that's why he got away."

'Dizzy' Scores Again in Print

'Dizzy' did it again. Once again, the tempestuous Dean, who is almost as famous for his verbal outbursts as for his pitching skill, has been rewarded and given recognition in the newspapers of the country.

In a poll conducted by the Federated Advertising club to select "the city's outstanding attraction for 1938," Dean scored a first place tie with Mei Mei, the only Giant Panda in captivity in the United States.

Each polled 112 ballots. Both winners are "tops" in their respective fields, Dean who pitches baseballs for the Chicago Cubs, and Mei Mei who catches peanuts at the Brookfield zoo.

If 'Dizzy' Dean should regain his pitching mastery again, several leading baseball magnates may well wish him out at the Brookfield zoo along with Mei Mei catching peanuts rather than 'fogin' them past the National leaguers in the race for the pennant.

Europe may have its worries over bomb-proof shelters and gas masks but we've our problem, too. Once more 130,000-000 Americans face summer and no one has invented a true mosquito-proof pair of pajamas.

QUEER PRIMARY

Are Iowa democrats more puzzled, exasperated or amused by the issue involved or, rather, thrown in from the outside and to be disposed of next Monday? Representative Otha D. Wearin, adopted sore against his will by Mr. Harry Hopkins, has sought to represent himself as a tried and true New Dealer and the favorite of the Administration.

Senator Gillette has opposed a few New Deal policies, notably the adulteration of the Supreme Court, a measure on which Mr. Wearin had no chance to vote. "If you are for President Roosevelt," Mr. Wearin says, "vote for Wearin."

Mr. Joseph J. Meyers, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Senator, at first lambasted Mr. Gillette. Upon the appearance of Mr. Wearin, reluctantly blessed by Mr. Hopkins Mr. Meyers began to lambast the approved candidate. He instanced thirteen cases in which Mr. Wearin voted against the administration and one, the Administration Relief Bill of 1935, on which he neither voted nor was paired. The NRA, the AAA and the Guffey Coal Bill were resisted by Mr. Wearin's rebellious spirit. If Mr. Gillette is guilty of heretic pravity, so is Mr. Wearin.

There is dissension among the Iowa Democratic Representatives in Congress. Mr. Eicher of the First District has gone to Mr. Wearin's help. Mr. Eicher and Mr. Wearin have the honor, we believe, to be enrolled in Mr. Maury Maverick's little group of serious and radical thinkers. Shouldn't Otha of the Vale of Nishna change his tune? "If you want to vote for Maury Maverick, vote for me." Neither Mr. Gillette nor Mr. Wearin is a perfect supporter of the Administration. The primary will be no test of political orthodoxy. Perhaps to the Democratic farmers Secretary Wallace's silence will mean more than the compelled utterance of an outlander. —The New York Times

HANDS ACROSS THE SEAWAY?

Superstitions Concerning Eyes Corrected by Dr. Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

To cure a sty on the eye rub it with a wedding ring.

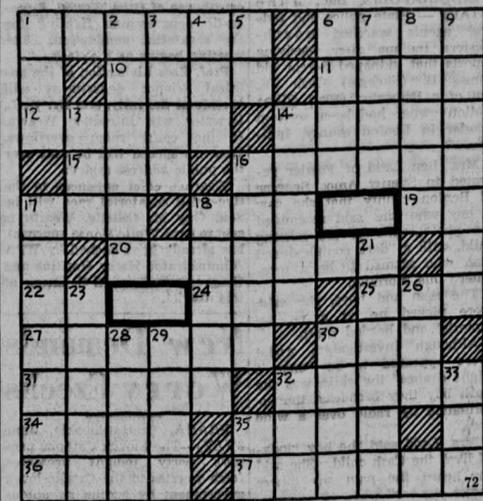

I had this practiced on me pretty regularly when I was young with my mother's wedding ring, and I can testify that it is purely superstition and, as a matter of treatment, does no good.

As a matter of fact, it is probably harmful. The sty is merely an infection of one of the hair follicles in the eyelid, and it is a general principle of surgery that an infection should not be irritated or rubbed because that will spread the pus through the tissues.

I am frequently asked for a remedy to prevent sties. I inherited one from an old doctor, which was to get a tincture of pulsatilla and dip a camel's hair brush in it and lightly paint the edge of the eyelids. I told this to an eminent oculist on the Pacific coast, who told me that for years he had advocated using a 5 per cent solution of alcohol in water, using this on a camel's hair brush in the same way. Since we are on the subject of superstitions about the eye, we should notice the widely held belief that when a person becomes blind, the other senses are made more acute in order to compensate for the loss of eyesight.

Francis Galton in his "Enquiries Into Human Faculty," investigated this and examined a number of boys in a large educational blind asylum. He found that although they were anxious to do their best, their performances were by no means superior to those of other boys. The blind boys who showed the most delicacy of touch barely reached the mediocrity of the various sighted lads of the same age.

Bill Lee Turns in Third Consecutive Shutout

Chicago Hurler Blanks Boston By 4-0 Score

Victory Helps Cubs Gain Ground on Failing Giants

CHICAGO, June 3 (AP)—Bill Lee, the Chicago Cubs' tall right-hander, pitched his way within one game of the National League record for consecutive shutouts today by blanking the Boston Bees, 4-0, on three hits.

It was his third straight shutout and his fourth in five games. The exception was a 4-1 triumph over the Bees May 23.

Ed Reulbach, another Cub hurler, established the record of four back in 1908 and it was equaled by Grover Cleveland Alexander of the Philadelphia Phils in 1911.

Including one inning before Lee was removed for a pinch-hitter on May 15, he has allowed only one run in 47 innings, and none in his last 32 straight.

Five Reach Base

Only five Bees reached base today as Lee registered his sixth victory of the season and none reached third. "Rabbit" Warstler, Debs Garms and Vincent DiMaggio singled and Tony Cuccinello and Elbert Fletcher walked.

The Cubs clubbed Lou Fette, who was removed in the eighth inning for a pinch-hitter, for all eight of their hits, Augie Galan and Bill Jurgas splitting four of them. It was Fette's sixth defeat.

Victory advanced the Cubs within a game and a half of the league leading New York Giants.

Ruffing Is Hero As Yanks Beat Bengals Again

Big Red Chalks Up 7th Victory of Season; DiMag Homers

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Red Ruffing carved himself another pitching masterpiece today, posting his seventh win of the year in hurling the Yankees to a 5-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Rufus the Red had some timely hitting help from Joe DiMaggio, who snapped out of his slump with a single and his seventh homer of the year; Tommy Henrich, who drove in two runs, and Bill Dickey who batted in another.

But from start to finish, big Red was the hero. He allowed just seven hits. He walked only one, and he fanned five. Except for the fourth, when the Tigers scored their tally, not a man passed first base off the big right-hander, who hasn't been beaten since the opening day of the season.

The victory was the third straight for the Yankees over the Tigers in the four-game series.

Indians Repeat 10 to 5 Victory

Late Rally Again Wins For Loop Leaders; Allen Hurls

PHILADELPHIA, June 3 (AP)—For the second straight day the Cleveland Indians went on a batting rampage in the late innings to score an uphill 10-5 victory over the Athletics today.

Coming to bat in the eighth inning trailing by 5-3, the Indians slammed out six consecutive hits to win the game with a six-run rally. Bud Thomas was chased to the showers after Hale and Heath singled. Earl Averill and Hal Trosky then tripled off Nelson Potter to make him the losing pitcher. Al Williams came in and gave up five hits in two innings, including a homer by Ken Keltner in the ninth.

Chiefly by virtue of home runs by Rookie Sam Chapman and Frankie Hayes the A's were ahead when Thomas wilted in the eighth.

It was the seventh victory of the season for Johnny Allen who pitched the entire game for Cleveland.

Pirates Down New York By 6 to 5 Margin

Rookie Bob Klumper Stopped Bill Terry's Troupe with Eight Hits in Going the Route for the First Time

PITTSBURGH, June 3 (AP)—The New York Giants added a pitching collapse to their hitting slump today and lost a 6-5 decision to the Pirates.

The defeat, fourth in a row for the National League champions, shaved the New Yorkers' league lead to a game and a half over the Chicago Cubs. The victory boosted the Pirates to fourth place.

Rookie Bob Klumper stopped Bill Terry's troupe with eight hits in going the route for the first time this season and posting his second victory. He was handicapped by four errors his mates made afield, but pulled out of the tight spots effectively.

Ferrell Checks Chisox, 5 to 1

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—"No Ferrell" — master of the "nothing ball" — pitched the Senators to a 5 to 1 victory over the slipping Chicago White Sox today.

Jimmy Dykes, White Sox manager, sent Thornton Lee to the box in an effort to stop the Sox' losing streak, but the Senators got to him for 9 hits, most of them in the pinches. It was Chicago's ninth straight defeat.

Lightning Kills Two Golf Fans

KANSAS CITY, June 3 (AP)—Lightning struck dead two spectators and injured six others, one seriously in a spectacular storm that blotted out the first round of Kansas City's $5,000 golf tournament today.

William D. Boyle, 60, widely known contractor, and E. M. Critchfield, 38, a credit manager, were killed near the ninth green of the Hillcrest Country club course. Thomas J. Cunningham, a board of trade employee, was severely burned.

The tragedy occurred midway of the afternoon while the nation's "big names" of golf were driving through a downpour of rain. Play was suspended and the tournament was curtailed to 54 holes of competition tomorrow and Sunday.

Boyle, Critchfield, Cunningham and Lester Allen were standing with a separate group of about 15 spectators hard by the ninth green, watching a threesome made up of Horton Smith, Chicago; Leonard Dodson, Springfield, Mo., and Leland Gibson Kansas City, all pros, come up the ninth fairway.

There was a vivid flash which one witness called a great mass of greenfire, and a tremendous crash. The victims dropped as if shot. Boyle was killed instantly and heroics work on the part of George Combs, a boy scout, failed to revive Critchfield.

Then from the darkened skies came a crash of thunder and a streak of lightning. Smith was holding an umbrella. It flew out of his hand. Dodson danced around on one foot. At first he believed the bolt had struck his other foot.

Cunningham's coat sleeve and collar were ripped apart. Allen was singed and thrown to the ground. Joseph Allee, a radio engineer, was burned on the hand by a "kickback" from the bolt. He was holding headphones for a broadcast and for a moment he could not release the metal contact.

Some yelled for a doctor. Others sought a priest for Boyle. He was dead when taken to the clubhouse.

Cards Win in Eleventh

Mickey Owen's Single Scores Winning Tally

ST. LOUIS, June 3 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals finally downed the fighting Phillies in the 11th inning today, 8-7, for a sweep of their three-game series.

Mickey Owen, Cardinal catcher, singled with the bases loaded and two out in the second extra frame to score Terry Moore with the winning run.

Bob Weiland, who held the Phillies scoreless until the seventh, was knocked out of the box in the eighth. Four runs behind, the Phillies tied it up in the ninth after Chuck Klein, batting for Pete Sivers, blasted out a homer.

The Cardinals took what appeared to be a safe lead in their half of the seventh when Sivers passed Owen, Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize after two were out and then fed a home run ball to Don Padgett. Enos Slaughter hit for the circuit in the third.

Brooklyn Beats Out Cincy, 5-4

CINCINNATI, June 3 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers spotted the Reds four runs in the first inning today and then came from way behind to beat them 5-4 for their second straight victory of the series.

A two-run rally in the ninth, with Cookie Lavagetto and Dolph Camilli driving the tying and winning runs across, drove Paul Derringer to the showers and put the game on ice for Brooklyn.

Van Mungo started for Brooklyn and gave up the four first-inning runs, but thereafter pitched two-hit, shutout ball until he was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

Iowa's 12-game conference schedule, which has already been announced, includes two games each with Indiana, Northwestern and Minnesota, and single games with Ohio State, Illinois, Michigan, Chicago, Purdue and Wisconsin. NEWARK, N. J., June 3 (AP)—Lightweight Boxing Champion Lou Ambers has already agreed to fight Henry Armstrong July 26 but a $25,000 offer for him to defend his title against Garfield's Tippy Larkin 12 days before that went to his manager today.

Hector Thomson and Gordon Peters used the tricky greens and the alternate stroke Scotch foursome technique, turned back United States Champion Johnny Goodman and Marvin (Bud) Ward of Olympia, Wash., 4 and 2, and the all-England duo of Leonard Crawley and Frank Pennik triumphed at 2 and 1 over Slim Fred Haas Jr., of New Orleans and Stocky Reynolds Smith of Dallas, who were completely baffled by the mirror-slick greens.

In the other match, the United States No. 1 pair of Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati and Charles (Chuck) Kocsis of Detroit finished all square at the end of 36 holes with Jim Bruen, 18-year-old Irish sensation, and Harry Bentley, after the Americans had been three up at 18 holes and two up at 27.

Louis 'Relaxes' In Preparation

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 3 (AP)—Joe Louis took a busman's holiday today.

The heavyweight champion, preparing for his title defense against Max Schmeling June 22, had no boxing or gymnasium session scheduled so spent nearly two hours rowing around the lake adjoining his camp. He will go through two strenuous boxing drills tomorrow and Sunday.

Francis Heydt Has Chance To Go to Europe

A chance to compete in eight meets in Europe this summer with a team of American swimmers has caused Francis Heydt, star University of Iowa back stroker, to resume training.

If Heydt can win the back stroke in the National A.A.U. outdoor championships in July, he probably will be named on the team, Coach David Armbruster said Friday. The Americans will compete in Germany and Austria between Aug. 15 and Sept. 7.

The Iowan's chances for making the team appear to be good, for Adolph Kiefer of Texas, the 1937 outdoor backstroke champion, is reported to be in poor condition and Al Vande Weghe of Princeton, indoor titlist, has contracted to spend the summer at a boys' camp.

Heydt has become known as the "champion runner-up," for he was second to Kiefer in the National A.A.U. outdoor meet last September, and second to Vande Weghe in the National Collegiate and National A.A.U. indoor meets of 1936. He has travelled the 150-yard distance in 1:37.4 in a 75-foot pool.

Schmeling Has 10-Mile Workout

SPECULATOR, N. Y., June 3 (AP)—Ten miles of roadwork comprised Max Schmeling's preparations today for his heavyweight championship match with Joe Louis June 22. He plans six round boxing drills tomorrow and Sunday.

HOSTESS HINTS

What life-savers and time-savers fresh fruits are! They're life-savers because they are so extremely important both in building appetites and healthy bodies and time-savers because they seldom need more preparation than cleaning, chilling and sweetening.

They are especially suitable to serve as the first course in any meal, either in their natural form or in juices.

Here are some suggestions for tasty combinations of fruit juices, calling for equal portions of each: grapefruit, orange and lemon; grape, pineapple and lemon; peach, raspberry and pineapple; apple, orange and grapefruit; apricot, lemon and loganberry, or prune, orange and lemon.

A few hints for serving fruit juices are as follows: To prevent dilution of flavor due to melting ice, freeze some of the fruit juices into cubes and use them instead of water ice in the glasses used in serving.

Keep fruit juice glasses in the refrigerator until time for service. A few drops of lemon juice will improve the flavor of nearly any fruit juice combination.

Top each glass of juice with a scoop of fruit sherbert, some candied ginger or fresh mint leaves. Serve the juices partially frozen.

In preparing fruit cocktails from fresh fruits, select varieties that contrast in flavor, texture and color. Chill them thoroughly before serving. Make generous use of garnishes—candied fruits, preserved berries, fresh mint leaves, coconut or assorted gum drops.

As for fruit cocktail ideas, here are some:

Heap small cantaloupe halves with raspberries and diced pineapple.

Fill fresh peach halves with blueberries mixed with red raspberries.

Combine diced peaches, sliced bananas and pineapple.

Serve apricots, cherries and pears together.

Cut pineapple in half lengthwise, remove the pulp, chill and combine it with diced oranges, peaches and cherries. Refill the pineapple cases.

Roll strawberries in confectioner's sugar and use them to fill and surround pear halves.

Chill and serve together watermelon, honeydew and pineapple balls. Top with honey.

Combine chilled orange slices with red cherries, pears and apricots.

S. U. I. Library Books Placed Upon New Shelves Yesterday

Two Floors Give Much Needed Expansion To Library

University library books were being placed upon new shelves in the basement of Macbride hall yesterday, and through the availability of two floors of new book shelves, a long recognized need by the libraries for additional book space is filled.

By removing the concrete floor of the former stack room below the general library reading room, sufficient space was provided for the construction of two floors of shelves to replace the one floor previously available. The project has provided expansion space for some 35,000 volumes.

Completion of the construction, which was begun during the Christmas holidays, has doubled the shelf space of the particular section of the book stacks involved. The additional space will mean less congestion in the stacks throughout Macbride hall, according to Grace Van Wormer, acting director of university libraries.

Books removed from the former shelves during the construction, were stored temporarily in Macbride hall auditorium, where they were available for library use, and are now being returned to the new shelves.

The new stacks utilize all of the available floor space. Effective lighting arrangements provide adequate illumination. Seven study desks will be installed in the window space of the new stacks for the use of graduate students.

The new shelves are of standard steel, and were purchased from the Art Metal Construction company of Jamestown, N. Y.

The bride wore a blue sheer dress embroidered in dusty pink. She wore dusty pink accessories and carried a bridal bouquet of Johanna Hill roses.

The maid of honor's dress was of beige lace. Her accessories were parisian and her shoulder corsage was of Talisman roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the wedding party and the immediate families in Reich's pine room.

The couple left yesterday afternoon for Mendota where Mr. Schroeder is employed. Mrs. Schroeder's going away outfit was a brown suit with which she wore beige accessories.

Republicans, Demos Contrast Sharply in Senatorial Battle

(Following is the first of a series of two articles on primary candidates from whom Iowa voters Monday will select finalists for next fall's general elections.)

DES MOINES, June 3 (AP)—Can the onetime, "hell raiser for agriculture" stage a comeback?

What is the value in the eyes of Iowa's republican voters of seven straight year terms in congress?

Next Monday the Iowa G.O.P. will select its senatorial candidate and general election standard bearer from two aspirants, Former Senator L. J. Dickinson of Algona and Fifth District Congressman Lloyd Thurston of Osceola.

The white-thatched Dickinson, who was keynoter of the republican national convention in 1932, served 12 years in the lower house before he was elected senator in 1930. He was renominated in 1936 and lost to Clyde L. Herring in the fall elections by 36,000 votes while President Roosevelt was carrying the state by a 133,000 majority. He centered his attention on agricultural matters during his Washington career.

Thurston has served as an Iowa congressman since 1924, the longest continuous service of any member of the present Iowa delegation. He triumphed in 1932, 1934 and 1936 despite substantial new deal victories elsewhere in Iowa. He was elected in 1932 despite an 18,000 vote majority in the fifth Iowa district that year. He was re-elected by 5,750 votes in 1934 and by 3,831 votes in 1936. Roosevelt carried the district two years ago by 11,896 votes.

Both Dickinson and Thurston are lawyers and both are native Iowans.

Five Candidates
In sharp contrast with the quiet republican contest is a riproaring democratic senatorial battle among five candidates. Democratic party leaders last fall said the party apparently was "growing up" because contests were beginning to develop for statewide nominations.

If willingness to do battle for the party's general election posts is a sign of maturity, the democratic party state organization is in the prime of its life. Old-time political observers who recall the Herring-Meredith-Sullivan-Marsh battles of the old days say those contests for control were good-natured and mild-mannered compared with the current party conflagration.

Claims Support
Senator Guy M. Gillette, seeking renomination, is opposed by Congressman Otha D. Wearin, the later claiming that he is the President Roosevelt candidate in the Iowa nomination battle. Gillette many times has declared the president to be neutral in the primary fight. Repercussions have sounded on the United States senate floor in Washington, and a band of new dealers close to the White House have been charged with promoting Wearin's candidacy.

Gillette, a lawyer-farmer, said he would not give that much power "to my own father" when he voted against the president's supreme court reorganization bill. He was elected in 1936 to fill out the unexpired term of the late Senator Louis J. Murphy of Dubuque, who was killed in an automobile accident.

Gillette was elected to congress in 1932 and re-elected in 1934.

'Not Meddling'
Wearin, three times congressman from the seventh Iowa district, created the inference that he had the blessing of the White House when he announced his candidacy against Gillette. President Roosevelt, replying to press questions, declared through his secretary that he was not meddling in any state primary. The Congressman, however, has attempted in his own speeches and those of his supporters to continue the impression that the president is back of his candidacy. Wearin circulated throughout Iowa copies of pictures of himself and James Roosevelt, the president's presidential son, taken at Harpers Ferry, Va. Letters have gone out to prominent democrats calling their attention to Wearin's association with "Jimmy."

Complications
The national administration's stand on the Iowa situation became still more complicated several days ago when WPA Chief Harry L. Hopkins endorsed Wearin. Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel objected to Hopkins' statement. The governor's entrance into the affair was followed by a statement by State Treasurer Leo J. Wegman commending Hopkins for backing Wearin.

Wearin, known as the "boy orator of Nishnabotna," is 35 years old. He was 25 when first elected to the Iowa house in 1928. He lives on the farm settled by his grandfather near Hastings in 1854. He is known as a farmer by occupation, with books as a hobby and politics as a career.

Joseph J. Meyers of Carroll, another of the aspirants for the senatorial nomination, has been identified with democratic activities in Iowa many years. He was the democratic nominee for attorney general in 1918 and the same year was keynoter of the democratic state convention.

Meyers has taken exception to the allegations of administration support for Wearin. Running on a new deal platform himself, the Carroll attorney has aimed broadsides at both Wearin and Gillette for their records in congress.

Only Woman
Mrs. Ellsworth Richardson of Eddyville is the only woman candidate ever to have her name printed on a major party primary ballot in Iowa. A Farm Bureau women's organization leader, she was the first woman to receive the national medal for distinguished service to agriculture, given by the American Farm Bureau Federation. She served 17 years as chairman of home and community work for the state federation. She also is campaigning on a new deal platform.

Objects to Statements
Wilson G. Eyerhoff of Fort Dodge joined Meyers in objecting to Hopkins' statement supporting Wearin. He pointed out that he himself, Meyers and Mrs. Richardson also sought the nomination by campaigns based on new deal principles.

Eyerhoff joined the democratic party in 1932 and made 335 speeches on the Roosevelt caravan throughout Iowa in 1936. He traveled 9,000 miles in nine weeks on a democratic central committee sound truck. He has been a republican, progressive and democrat. He was a LaPollette for president congressional district manager in 1924.

Golfers All Agree Course Is Tough

DENVER, June 3 (AP)—Three of golf's leading gunners—Ralph

Guldahl, National open champion, Jimmy Hines and Henry Picard—agree on at least three things in connection with the 42nd National open at Cherry Hills next week:

1. The rough will cause headaches for straying hitters.
2. The greens are excellent—once you get on.
3. The 470-yard dogleg 14th, with a narrow green beside a ditch, is the best hole on the course.

with other nations in exploring all other methods of revitalizing the spirit of international cooperation and in making use of every practicable means of giving it substance and reality through the numberless forms of concrete application of such principles of international political, economic and cultural relations as those to which I have referred."

At another point, Hull asserted: "I am convinced of the falsity of the doctrine that armed conflict is the natural and inevitable state of man."

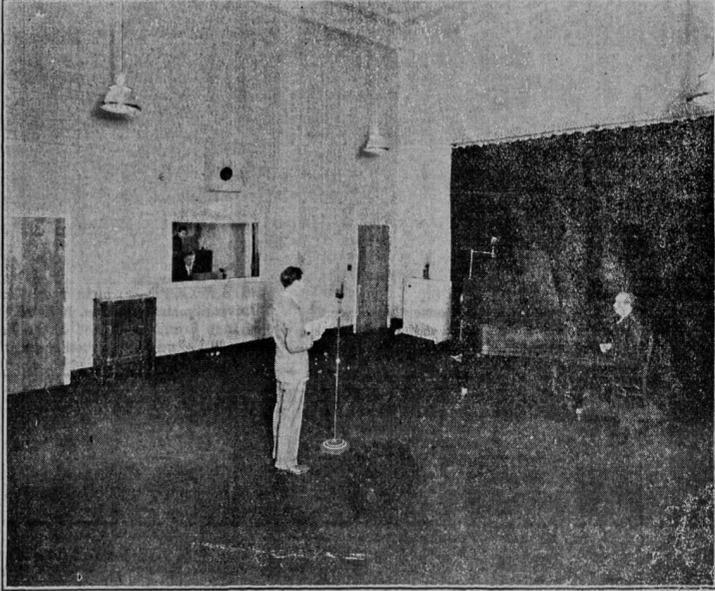

"I, for one, have an abiding faith that eventually resort to armed force as an instrument of national policy will become so odious and revolting to the conscience of mankind that war will be relegated to the limbo of things forgotten."

"I am certain that no legitimate differences that may arise among nations are incapable of settlement by peaceful means."

Just prior to stating his four-point program, Secretary Hull said the United States was duty-bound to exert moral force toward peaceful settlement of disputes.

"Within the limitations of our traditional policies, and without entangling alliances or involvements, we should cooperate, sincerely and resolutely, with like-minded nations working toward the same goal toward which we ourselves are striving," he said.

ment. Courses in announcing, radio drama, program planning and production, radio organization, management and continuity writing are offered. All of the work of broadcasts from the Drake campus and local radio stations is under the direction of the students of the department, who during the past year have produced six coast-to-coast programs. The work of the department will continue this summer, with 10 nationally known plays scheduled to be entirely produced by the students of the department.

Texan Denies Meddling With Race in State

Biermann Indignant As Maverick Uses Name Of Gillette

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—The Iowa senate race provoked an exchange of indignations in the house today between Representative Maverick (D-Tex) and Representative Biermann (D-Ia) to the accompaniment of a series of parliamentary rulings by Speaker Bankhead.

Maverick was indignant because Senator Gillette (D-Ia) had accused him of attempting to influence the race with Representative Wearin (D-Ia) for the democratic senatorial nomination. Biermann was indignant because Maverick named Gillette's name in his denial.

Named Maverick

In a speech at Dubuque, Ia., Gillette charged "Tommy Corcoran and his crowd of non-Iowans" were attempting to influence the primary. In addition to Corcoran Gillette named Maverick, Governor LaFollette of Wisconsin, Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, and Homer Martin, of Detroit, president of the United Automobile Workers, CIO affiliate.

Biermann Wins Point

References to Gillette earlier in Maverick's speech had brought Biermann to his feet with a point of order that under house rules "a member of this body has no right to involve the name and actions of a member of another body in a controversy here."

Bankhead sustained the point, despite Maverick's statement that "I should like to know whether, if a member of another body goes out to the state of Iowa or to the state of Texas or any other state and on the political stump makes odious reference to me, I am prevented, according to the ordinary and reasonable rules of fair play, from mentioning the fact that I had nothing to do with the situation he mentions."

Ruling Tempered

Bankhead tempered his ruling, however, to permit Maverick to proceed "if he does not refer to the statement as having been made by a member of the senate of the United States."

Maverick proceeded:

"Since a certain gentleman has brought my name into Iowa politics without any reason, all I can say is that a certain gentleman introduced in a certain body a farm

Optimistic Rickey Picks Cards To Win Flag

ST. LOUIS, June 3 (AP)—The Cardinals are shooting for the National league pennant this year and Boss Branch Rickey believes they will make it despite their poor early season showing.

"We won't be content with sixth, fourth, third or second," Rickey declared in a luncheon club address today.

"We are aiming for the pennant and although we have our head in the stars, we believe we'll make it. I still stick to my original statement that the Cardinals of today are the best ball club we have had in 12 years, with the exception of pitching — and I believe that was underestimated at the start." (The Cards were in sixth place in the standings before today's game.)

Just as a matter of record, Rickey's speech was given before the optimist club.

Terry Seeking Second Sacker

PITTSBURGH, June 3 (AP)—Bill Terry, the fellow who once wasn't sure all eight clubs were in the National league, went knocking on another door tonight in search of a second baseman for his New York Giants.

Manager Pie Traynor of the Pittsburgh Pirates, feeling frisky at his team's 6-5 triumph over the big city slickers, rejected a proposed deal which would bring Outfielder Wally Berger and Second-baseman Utility Man Lou Chiozza here for Lemuel (Pep) Young.

"I would still like to have Berger," Traynor admitted after the game. "But I couldn't afford to wreck my infield by giving up Young."

Another Pirate office - hand chimed in:

"Hell, we're not gonna win any pennants for New York."

What Terry's next step would be remained in doubt as he snapped out a final:

"The deal's cold."

Terry intimated he would talk to Bill McKeechie in Cincinnati about Alex Kampouris and later might talk to Frank Frisch at St. Louis about Jimmy Brown.

He already has tried for Tony Cuccinello of Boston.

bill, in which I joined, with a rigid curb on the supreme court far more drastic than the president's bill. Then this certain gentleman ran out on the farmers and also on the supreme court bill."

Mayor Walker Scores Board

Declares Civil Service Committee's Choices To Be Rejected

Mayor Myron J. Walker last night let loose with a verbal barrage against the Iowa City civil service board, declaring the board's two recommendations for police sergeant will not be used.

"The board's action in recommending only two men leaves the department administration no choice in the matter," Mayor Walker said. Patrolmen G. R. Hall and Laurence Ham were the board's recommendations.

"Not only did the board set 85 per cent as a passing grade when the usual satisfactory mark is 75, but I understand a third man, not listed as qualified, also received a mark above 85," the mayor disclosed.

As a result of Mayor Walker's statement, the board's report was merely received and placed on file by the city council.

Three members of the civil service board are Cyril P. Katzenmeyer, Frank Belger and Delmer Sample.

Curtain for 2nd Night of Play Will Be at 8:15

The curtain for the second performance of the Commencement play, "Call It a Day," will rise at 8:15 this evening in the dramatic arts building.

The sophisticated comedy of English family life by Dodie Smith was presented for the first time last night. The same cast will present tonight's performance.

Last night's performance was significant in that it was the first Commencement play to be presented in the University theater which has utilized the revolving stage.

Eight complete scenes, designed by Prof. Arnold S. Gillette, were used in the nine scenes of the play, offering ample opportunity for the stage to be demonstrated. Following the final curtain, a demonstration was given for the benefit of Commencement visitors.

Seven seniors who will receive degrees at Monday's Commencement exercises took part in "Call It a Day," the final performance of the fall and winter season by the university theater. They were Florabel Houston of Nevada, who portrayed the Catherine of the Hilton family; Dorothea Carlson of Battle Creek, who took the part of Mrs. Hilton; Marianne Woodhouse of Port Arthur, Tex., Ann Hilton; Nancy Strickland of St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. Milsom; Ruth Marie Morrison of Washington, Ia.; Ethel Francis; Catherine Noonan of Chicago; Muriel Weston, and Ruth Morgan of Burlington, the cook.

Other parts were taken by Henderson Forsythe, A3 of Monroe City, Mo.; Cecil Kersten, G of Deerfield, Kan.; Anita Williams, A3 of Iowa City; Paul Robinson, A3 of Portland, Ore.; Lemuel Ayers, G of New Rochelle, N. Y.; Marion Whinnery, A3 of Iowa City; Mary Elizabeth Winbigler, U of Iowa City, and Catherine Cobb, A3 of Marshalltown.

Shares Post In Cabinet of War

TOKYO, June 3 (AP)—Lieutenant General Seishirotagaki, who shared honors with Lieut. Gen. Kenji Doihara in carving out Manchoukuo's independence in 1931-32, today became minister of war in the reorganized "win the war" cabinet.

He succeeded 58-year-old Gen. Sugiyama, who was appointed to the supreme war council after having been minister of war since June 3, 1937.

Emperor Hirohito formally installed the two generals in their new positions.

The appointments completed the cabinet shakeup begun May 26 when Gen. Kazushige Ugaki became foreign minister, Gen. Baron Sadao Araki became minister of education, Harvard-educated Sei-hin Ikeda took the finance portfolio and Marquis Koichi Kido relinquished the ministry of education for the new post of minister of public welfare.

The new war minister also assumes the presidency of the Manchurian affairs bureau.

'38 Yearbook City High Issues 'Red And White'

Dedicated to the class of '38, the Iowa City high school yearbook, the Red and White, was issued to the student body by the business staff yesterday afternoon.

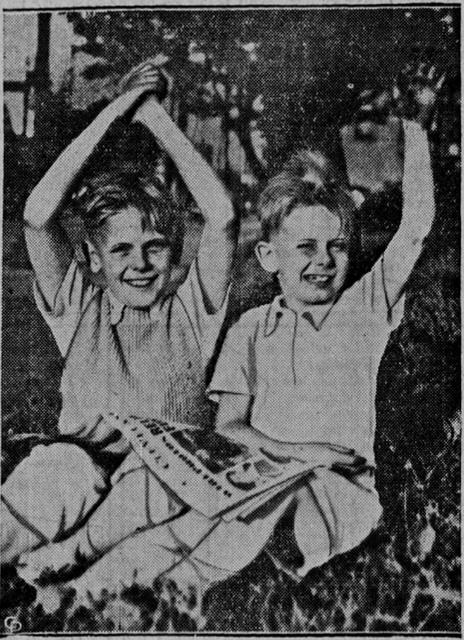

Carrying the theme of Milton's "twin" poems, the book is divided into two sections, "Il Penseroso" and "L'Allegro"—work and play.

The annual is published each year by the journalism staff. Robert A. Jones, editor-in-chief, and Marvin Chapman, business manager, assisted by Florence Churchill head of the English department, were in charge.

Crow Certiorari Action Taken Under Advisement by Evans

Judge Harold D. Evans yesterday took under advisement the certiorari action of Dr. F. J. Crow to test the validity of the city board of adjustment's cancellation of a building permit issued to Dr. Crow for the construction of an apartment building and veterinarian's office at 512 S. Dubuque street.

Dr. Crow, City Inspector Harold J. Monk and Harry Abbott, former owner of the site of the proposed building, testified for the plaintiff.

Dr. Crow said that as many as nine dogs were kept in the kennels at his present location without complaints from the neighbors. Barking dogs are muzzled, he explained.

On cross-examination by Attorney Ed Rate, Dr. Crow admitted that remedial feeds for livestock will be sold from his office. After the plaintiff rested his case, Attorney Rate made a motion that the court dismiss the proceedings because the city zoning ordinance prohibits dog hospitals in class B residential areas and the sale of the livestock feeds constitutes the operation of a business.

Mrs. Aaron Braverman, 522 S. Dubuque street, one of the intervenors in the action, admitted that within a block of her home were located Henry Sabin school, the Rock Island railroad, and a skating rink.

She testified that she didn't like the idea of having a dog hospital near her home because she had talked to some persons in Cedar Rapids who had had experience with one.

Attorney Arthur O. Leff, representing Dr. Crow, asked if she had any objections other than the noise. She replied, "Well, there probably would be odors, and some people said a dog hospital would depreciate our property."

Mrs. Braverman said she owned a dog.

The board of adjustment did not call any witnesses, and after closing arguments by the attorneys, Judge Evans took the case under advisement.

Dr. Crow was issued a building permit for the proposed building April 28 after the city inspector obtained an opinion from the city attorney.

The owners of property adjoining that of Dr. Crow appealed to the board of adjustment which voted unanimously May 9 to cancel the permit issued to Dr. Crow.

Dr. Crow's action contends that the board acted without authority in cancelling the permit because the city zoning ordinance permits hospitals, sanitariums and professional offices in residences in the class B residential districts.

Ex-Chancellor Of Austria Wed

VIENNA, June 3 (AP)—Kurt Schuschnigg, former chancellor of Austria whose fate at the hands of his Nazi captors still is uncertain, was married to beautiful Countess Vera Fugger von Babenhausen today at a ceremony he could not even attend.

Dr. Arthur Schuschnigg, his brother, took the place of the former chancellor as proxy at the wedding in the private chapel of the Dominican church.

Schuschnigg, champion of Austria's lost independence and a foe of nazism, has been detained by the Nazi authorities since Germany annexed Austria March 13.

He disappeared May 28 from Belvedere castle, his home in detention, but authorities have insisted he still was "somewhere in Vienna."

AROUND THE TOWN

BY MERLE MILLER

Mornings After—
An Iowa Citizen Looks at Fascism
He'd said it couldn't happen, that we were too smart... Of course he'd never been a politician, hadn't time to read any of the headlines but on the sport pages... In 1940 he deserted the republican party to vote for The Chief because he was working for $14 a week and was dissatisfied... He had a wife and two sons, one five, one 18...

The American Civil Liberties Union, some officials of the A. F. of L., many of his former G. O. P. colleagues and big business wigs backed The Chief, said his program pointed the way to "real prosperity..."

William Randolph Hearst, David Lawrence and the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin were in charge of "propaganda"... As a result The Chief badly defeated Senator Arthur Vandenberg, G. O. P. candidate, and Governor Earle, democrat... Later "propagandists" met every afternoon in Washington to decide which papers would still be issued, what news printed...

On the day of The Chief's inauguration martial law was declared... More than a 1,000,000 "peace-time soldiers" marched on Washington, vowing their loyalty to The Chief, who protectively arrested a few hundred newspaper men, all opposing candidates...

Heywood Brown and Jay Franklin were unceremoniously shot... Walter Lippman jumped from the 64th story of a New York hotel—but he was a Jew... Dorothy Thompson and Mark Sullivan still wrote, and the Hearst publications and another Chicago journal were "recommended" to all citizens...

The Des Moines Register, Iowa City Press—Citizen and The Daily Iowan were suppressed... A former Daily Iowan columnist was accidentally shot when he tried to board a Tahiti-bound vessel without a ticket...

The songs "America" and "Star Spangled Banner" were banned, particularly because of the lines, ironic, "sweet land of liberty..."

More than 2,000 Jews, Catholics and Negroes were imprisoned... It was whispered 100,000 more escaped into Canada...

Some changed their religion, had their background proved "American..."

One son, the 18-year-old, came home one day wearing a uniform with a black cross on the arm... When he, the father, later complained because The Chief's promises of a better job, immediate prosperity did not materialize, the son looked at him queerly, suspiciously...

Three days later a loud knock on the door awakened him from his early-evening slumber... Inside stepped his son, half-a-dozen uniformed boys he'd watched grow up, seen around pool halls, questionable resorts... Each carried a bayonet...

They asked him to put on his coat and come along... When he asked why, one of the boys knocked him down... His son looked away but did nothing... His wife wept while they searched the house, found certain seditions and forgotten literature in the furnace room—forgotten copies of Ken, long-since suppressed, and the Saturday Evening Post.

At the courthouse a judge, one who'd smiled pleasantly at him in the days when there were still elections, asked him his plea to the charge of treason... He replied, "Not guilty..."

They took him to the Iowa City police station... A new police chief, a man he'd never seen before, renewed his memory with a four-foot piece of rubber hose...

He changed his plea, was hurried off to a smaller concentration camp just outside of Cedar Rapids... The sentence was from "1-10 years... In his second year, at the age of 54, he died of over-exposure, under-nourishment, malnutrition, general ill health... He was one of the luckier..."

Cofesses Guilt In Three Thefts

Confession of three livestock thefts in three years in Johnson county was obtained yesterday by Sheriff Don McComas from Arthur L. Johnson, who is being held in Vinton for a Benton county cattle theft.

McComas said Johnson admitted taking a truckload of sheep from the W. A. Gay farm three miles north of Iowa City Nov. 21, 1935, and another truckload of sheep from there Oct. 19, 1937.

The third theft admitted by Johnson was from the Joe Krehlich farm seven miles east on U. S. highway 6 where a truckload of hogs was taken Dec. 17, 1936, McComas said.

The livestock was allegedly taken to Peoria, Ill., and sold.

The sheriff reported that Johnson could not remember whether he had taken hogs from the farms of John Dwyer and John Bothell in June, 1935, until "he saw the places."

Iowa City Taverns May Remain Open On Election Day

Iowa City beer taverns may stay open during Monday's primary election, the city council decided last night. Five councilmen voted "yes" to the tavern-owners' petition, and Alderman John F. Reilly voted the single "no."

Before the council's vote Mayor Myron J. Walker declared that, since the primary is a regular and not a special election, the council's ruling closing taverns on elections would have to be set aside.

Alderman Reilly opposed the Iowa City Beer Tavern association's petition because Monday is commencement as well as primary day.

Douglas, in a talk to reporters following a conference with stock exchange officials which he called the "first real meeting of minds" between Washington authorities and the exchange's new governing group, said "the old so-called crack-down" was far removed from joint action now being undertaken by the commission and the exchange.
