populated entirely by such totalitarian communities. How, he questions, could there be a Moses, a Socrates, an Abraham, a Milton or a Goethe? How could there be a Hamilton or a Washington?

Such men, to survive, must enjoy freedom of thought and action. In totalitarian states they would be imprisoned, exiled or killed. Sooner or later they would probably cease to be born.

That is why, Dr. Butler declares, democracy must struggle for its continuation, must recognize its important problems, the chief of which, according to Columbia's president, is "the moral education and guidance of the individual and not the suppression of the individual in the supposed interest of some mass or group."

That, then, is the problem Dr. Butler sets his own university to solve. It is one that must be recognized and solved by every educational institution.

WSUI—A Real Educational Feat

HERE at the University of Iowa is a radio station of which Iowa City and all Iowa might well be proud—WSUI, one of the foremost educational stations in the country. It's pioneering work has done much to further the development of radio into the great institution which it is today.

As to the benefits WSUI gives, here are a few—besides broadcasting courses of instruction directly from the university classroom, the station includes on its schedule service programs by state, national and local organizations with other news and information being presented in programs by the school of journalism and many university campus organizations.

Last year WSUI contributed to the campaign for safer driving by presenting a series of 20 weekly highway safety programs. The first radio child study club organized in the United States has just concluded its sixth year of broadcasts over WSUI with an enrollment of a new high of over 2,000 members.

Then, during the course of the year six WSUI student workers have left to take positions in professional radio, one with NBC, Chicago, two others with large Chicago stations. They are joining the 80 former university students who have become national radio figures after experience with WSUI.

But at the same time—presenting one of the broadest of educational programs, schedules and offering the widest opportunities to radio-minded students—WSUI cannot reach full attainment of its goal. It cannot of service, either to the student or to the community, because of the limited equipment, power and facilities.

Many listeners are deprived of the opportunity of listening to WSUI because of the small coverage area. Now only about one-third of the state is within the "good reception" area. Besides this, workers are handicapped because of inadequate office space and equipment.

Why not improve the transmitting equipment of the station? Why not enlarge the office space for performers, script writers and announcers? This would mean a great contribution to a larger number of listeners interested in educational programs and a great asset to the plan of training student radio workers.

It would mean that WSUI could move on to real achievement in what is potentially a major front for the university.

DEMOCRACY THE SAFEGUARD

In this new age of dictators is there any safeguard against despotism? The one and only protection for humanity lies in the preservation of democratic government. It didn't save Austria? No, but Austria didn't protect democracy, either. Austria, on the day of its doom, was a helpless, impoverished totalitarian state.

When a people, any people, surrender their rights as free men to one willful autocrat or group of autocrats they sign away their independence and, perhaps their lives. When they permit a one-man government to dictate their laws and their judgments they seal the death warrant of their liberties.

Hitler speaks and acts for Austria-Germany. Mussolini speaks and acts for Italy. Stalin speaks and acts for Russia. The democracies must speak and act to protect themselves.

The first step in protection is the determination to preserve inviolate the representative form of government which guarantees liberty and justice. It is a task to which, in particular, the people of the United States, though remote from old world tyrants, must devote unflinching effort.

Treatment May Restore Full Function to Damaged Livers

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

After I discussed the newer methods of assessing liver damage last week, I was asked what could be done to put a damaged liver back into condition.

We are able now by physiological tests to recognize quite minute amounts of liver damage. And by proper management much can be done to restore a liver to full function.

The liver is, of all internal organs in the body, the one which is able best to regenerate its own cells. When the heart or the brain or the kidneys lose a cell or a group of cells, the defect is filled in with scar tissue and the destroyed cells are forever out. This is not serious in the case of the kidneys because we can get along with about one-third the kidney substance we normally own.

The liver, however, regenerates its own functioning cells, and even if a lobe is destroyed, it is possible to replace it. As with the kidney, only a part of the liver need function at any one time.

But with widespread liver damage, it is worth while trying to replace the damaged cells. Feeding sugar and simple sweets is one way to do this. The liver responds to glucose and thrives on it.

Salt is also a valuable food to assist the liver to regenerate. Several years ago Dr. Rowntree advocated salt and sugar for cirrhosis, and believed that even in that serious condition considerable regeneration occurred.

The elimination of poisons which are absorbed and damage the liver is naturally fundamental. These poisons are absorbed from the intestines, because practically all the contents of the intestines which are absorbed into the blood stream go first to the liver. Among the common poisons, alcohol comes in for most of the blame.

Mason City Band to Play Mason City's high school band, winners of top rating in the national band contest since 1933, will present a concert over the WABC Columbia network from 2:30 to 3 p.m. this afternoon.

The fully instrumented 90-piece band, directed by Carleton L. Stewart, capped its string of national awards last month by winning a first division rating in the class A competition of the regional contest in Minneapolis.

The concert will originate in the Wagner-Mozart music hall, a new building devoted exclusively to the music projects of the Mason City school organization and one of the few of its kind in the American educational system.

Benny Goodman is trying out a new clarinet. His old one split down the middle during a recent broadcast.

"Lobby" Replaces Benny" Dave Elman's "Hobby Lobby," which recently concluded a successful CBS commercial run, has been signed to replace Jack Benny on the NBC Red network for the summer months.

Swing versions of the classics is hardly a new vogue. This is revealed by bandleader Al Donahue, after a search through his music files. Twenty years back, he says, Irving Berlin wrote a syncopated version of the "Spring Song" which he called "Smersmerizing the Mendelssohn Tune."

Miss Sullivan Joins Goodman Maxine Sullivan, the diminutive, lazy-voiced girl who broke a bombshell in the nation's music circles last fall when she began swinging folk songs, will make two guest star appearances with Benny Goodman and his orchestra June 21 and 28 over the coast-to-coast CBS network at 7:30 p.m.

Starting in a small New York club, Maxine startled her audience by singing "Loch Lomond" and "Annie Laurie" in swing style. Her records, distributed throughout the country, sold sensationally, and in recent weeks, she has made frequent microphone appearances.

Songstress Alice Cornett thinks that a man who contends that he never does anything by halves must have a tough time with his morning grapefruit.

WASHINGTON WORLD By CHARLES F. STEWART Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON—Republican management has been first rate throughout all the fighting which has been raging in congress in recent months between "pro" and "anti" new dealers.

The G.O.P. senators and representatives are "antis," of course. Even if a few of them are in personal sympathy with certain new deal policies, they are "antis" on partisan grounds. And they all vote partisanly. Sen. Hiram W. Johnson of California, for example, always has been a mighty liberal and occasionally an outright bolting republican. Nevertheless, he has been as consistent a new deal "anti" as any Old Guardsman of late. Sen. George W. Norris of Nebraska might be cited as an exception. He has been very regularly "pro" new deal. However, he was not elected the last time as a republican, but as an independent.

Now, the new deal naturally has been exceedingly repulsive to old-line republicanism all along. It has been a terrible temptation to its spokesmen to give it oratorical hades on Capitol Hill. Yet they have exercised an admirable restraint. Why?

Well, they showed remarkable political good sense. If the democrats had stuck together behind the administration there would have been nothing left for the republicans to do except to yell their heads off impotently as the overwhelming majority proceeded to ram the new deal program through in all its details.

But G.O.P. leadership had the perspicacity to foresee from the first that the enormous preponderance of the democrats virtually assured strife within itself. The republicans had reason to know this, for they have had huge congressional majorities of their own, and were aware, from sad experience, that too big a majority may be a liability; not an asset. So they sat back, kept quiet and waited for the democrats to start their own internal row.

And did the row start? Oh my! Leaders Remained Quiet Had the republicans begun yawning overly soon they probably would have solidified congressional democracy, but they did not make that mistake.

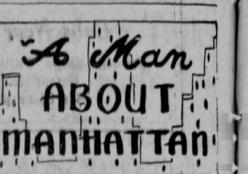

Even since the internal democratic row has started most republican legislators have kept hushed. An occasional republican lawmaker has effervesced—like Sen. H. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire and Representative Clare E. Hoffman of Michigan, in the lower house.

But republican senatorial Leader Charles L. McNary of Oregon and representative Leader Bertrand H. Snell of New York did not want that kind of G.O.P. talk. What McNary and Snell wanted, if a republican thought up a good job to take at new dealism, was to have him suggest it to an anti-new deal democrat to express, thus emphasizing the split in democratic ranks. True, individual republicans have been desirous to get credit for their personal wise-cracks, but McNary and Snell have kept the "husher" on them all they could.

As Stewart Sees It National republican management has been politically awful, it goes almost without saying. Republican congressional leadership, however, has been elegant. It has done more than its fair part toward involving the new deal in a jam.

It is a case of jiu-jitsu—attack your opponent where he is weakest.

Russian) Gordon, Edgar Fairchild and his orchestra, Announcer Walter King, and the new comedy sensation of the air waves, Hattie Noel.

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—The activities of Mr. Adolf Hitler in his endeavor to assemble the German minorities in European countries under the Third Reich, if successful, would present an interesting if complex situation in New York. For Gotham is the second largest German city in the world, bowing only to Berlin itself in the number of citizens with German blood.

Say for the sake of argument, then, that he succeeds and that, by some strange hokus-pokus even the Manhattan minority is included in his plans. That would leave a huge chunk of this town goose-stepping to and from their offices.

Meanwhile, New York also happens to be the largest Italian city in the world. There are more Italians here even than in Rome. And if Mussolini were to get the same idea and cluck to the Roman minorities, we'd have another fine set-up of fascists, cluttering the elevators and the subway trains with black shirts. The Irish, as you may have heard, constitute a vast part of New York's seven millions, and if the Free State likewise started weaning the Irish minorities away from Mr. LaGuardia and Washington, why, that would give the Spaniards an idea, which in turn might inspire the Russians to reach across the sea and do a little special controlling.

In the end it would amount to New York's being governed by about 20 nations. There are 40 or 50 thousand Frenchmen in New York. There are hundreds of thousands of Jews, thousands of Poles, a lot of Scandinavians plus a goodly group of Dutch; there are Assyrians, Lettes, Lascars, Chinese, Japanese, Gypsies, Moors, Latins from all the South American republics, Rumanians, Hungarians, Arabs, English, Scotch, Canadians, Hawaiians—in fact, it's the largest and most complete international settlement in the world.

With all these conflicting religious and political creeds jostling each other, another "little World War" might break out.

This won't happen of course, but in the minds of a lot of people this is what, unofficially has taken place. I mean the German-American Bund, etc., has caused a widespread belief among outsiders that New York, really, is a rallying ground for alien causes.

Indians Wallop Senators, 11-4

Feller Relieved In 4th Inning

Loop Leaders Continue Slugging Tactics; Averill Stars

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—The league leading Cleveland Indians walloped the Washington Senators 11 to 4 today.

Let down without a hit during the first three innings, the Indians hopped on Elton Hoggsett in the fourth and scored 8 runs.

When the fire works came, the Senators were leading 2 to 0, after picking up a run in the first frame and another in the third.

Bob Feller—who started for the tribe—became wild as the game progressed and was lifted in the fourth with nobody out. Dennis Galehouse finished, hurling good ball.

Ken Keltner, Cleveland's sensational third baseman, hit a home run into the centerfield bleachers in the fifth. It was his 10th round-tripper in his first season in the American league.

Larry French Holds Phils To Six Safe Blows

Joe Marty's Home Run Aids Chicagoans In 5-1 Tilt

CHICAGO, June 4 (AP)—Chicago's Cubs climbed within a half game of first place in the National league today when Larry French turned in a six-hit, 5 to 1 victory over the Philadelphia Phils as the league leading New York Giants bowed before Cincinnati's Reds.

Joe Marty, ailing Cub center fielder, returned to the lineup for the first time since May 18 and celebrated the occasion with a home run that helped Chicago to a 4 to 0 lead in the first inning.

French was touched for the Phils only run in the sixth inning. Victory was his fourth of the season.

Claude Passeau allowed seven of the eight Cub hits and all their runs before he went out for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning. Bill Hallahan permitted the other blow in the ninth he pitched.

Gabby Hartnett, Cub catcher was forced out of the game in the seventh after he was struck on the left arm just above the wrist by one of Passeu's pitches. Dr. John F. Davis, Cub physician, said he did not believe the wrist was broken, but planned to have an X-ray picture taken of the injured member.

Trojan Cindermen Win 3 Records Fall In I.C.A.A.A. Championships

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—Rain and records, a rare track and field combination, fell in large quantities today as Southern California's invincible Trojans spread-eagled the field in the 62nd Intercollegiate A. A. A. championship meet at Randall's Island stadium.

Three meet marks were shattered, among them the classic one mile record that has stood for 25 years, and two others were equalled in a dazzling battle for individual titles that accompanied Southern California's one-sided team triumph.

Dean Cromwell's Trojans, picking up where they left off in 1935, had not the slightest trouble recapturing the team trophy. They tallied in 10 of the 15 events, nearly doubled the point score of their nearest rivals, Michigan State, and won the championship for the eighth time since 1929.

Michigan State Second
 Southern California tallied 47 1-2 points, Michigan State 24 and the University of California 22 1-2 to make it 1-2-3 for the invading forces from the west. Pittsburgh, 1937 victor, led the eastern brigade by finishing fourth with 20 1-2 points. Manhattan was fifth with 15 points, Harvard sixth with 12 points, with the others scattered as follows:

Princeton, 10 1-2; New York university, 10; Rhode Island State, 9; Columbia, 8 1-2; Cornell and Penn State, 7 each; Yale, 6 1-2; Brown, 5; Boston college and Maine, 4 each; Syracuse and U. C. L. A., 3 each; Fordham and Colgate, 2 each; West Virginia and Pennsylvania, 1 each.

Double triumphs for Long John Woodruff, Pittsburgh's great Negro runner, and Michigan State's crack hurdler, Harvey Woodstra, shared the individual spotlight with the record-breaking mile victory of Edgar Howard Borck, Manhattan college star, as a series of amazingly fine performances was unfurled in the rain before scarcely 2,000 spectators.

Borck came from behind with a beautifully-timed finish to beat Alex Northrop, Harvard's favorite, by 20 yards, and wipe out the record of 4:14.4 set by John Paul Jones of Cornell at Cambridge in 1913. Borck clipped a half-second from the long-standing mark, oldest on the meet's books, when he was clocked in 4:13.9.

Reds Lambast King Carl For 11 to 2 Victory

CINCINNATI, June 4 (AP)—Even King Carl Hubbell, the old meet ticket, couldn't stop the Giants' losing landslide today, and the New Yorkers had their National league lead cut to a slim half game by dropping an 11 to 2 decision to the Reds.

Will McKechnie's rude Reds landed on King Carl early, piled up seven runs in the first four innings, belted him to the showers and then coasted in behind Big Jim Weavers' classy five hit fling to stretch the Giants' losing streak to five straight.

With the help of Ival Goodman's 13th homer of the season and Ernie Lombardi's fifth, Weaver had enough edge to loosen up in the late frames and gave the Giants both their runs. One of these was Mel Ott's ninth circuit clout of the season, with the bases empty in the ninth inning, but it did little damage as Weaver went the route for the first time this year.

It was Hub's second defeat of the year, against six wins, and was only Weaver's second victory.

It was obvious almost from the start that Hubbell wasn't "right" in the second, a pair of consecutive doubles by Lombardi and Harry Craft sent the Reds out in front. In the third, Billy Myers began with a triple and four runs were in before the inning ended. In the fourth, the Reds kept it up at the expense of Dick Coffman, with Weaver's double, and singles by Alex Kampouris, Lee Gamble and Goodman bringing two more runs in. After that it was just a walkaway.

Boston's Ambitious Bees Halt Victory String Of St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, June 4 (AP)—The Cardinals' winning spree was broken at four games today by Casey Stengel's Boston Bees, who collected fourteen hits for an 8 to 5 victory in the first of a four-game series at Sportsman's Park.

For six innings Jim Turner, one of the prize finds of last season, held the Cards scoreless, doling out only three scattered hits. He weakened as the Birds threatened with two runs in the seventh and three in the eighth and was relieved by Ira Hutchinson.

Grove, although tagged for 10 hits, blanked the Tigers for eight innings and fanned nine in challenging his ninth win of the year against one defeat.

Foxx, driving in four of the Sox's five runs, hit his 12th and 13th homers of the year off Tommy Bridges, and added a single before he wound up.

Arthur Fitch, '83,' Returns Again

Massachusetts Resident Comes Back for 5th Time Since Graduation

"L83."

Five years ago a Massachusetts car with two flags mounted on the fenders, one with the above caption and the other bearing a significant "Iowa," rolled into the city during preparations for the 73rd annual Commencement week ceremonies at the University of Iowa.

Two days ago the occupant of that car was back, this time for the 78th Commencement week ceremonies. He'll be reunited today with other '83's' talking over an era of which today's students at the university cannot readily conceive.

He is Arthur E. Fitch of Palmer, Mass., a direct decedent of the family with whom resides the honor of having constructed and navigated the first steamboat in America.

He's back on the campus for his fifth reunion with his classmates, having returned in 1913, again in 1923, and in 1928 and 1933.

Plans to Return

"I hope to be back for my 60th anniversary," he says. "I fully expect to be here for my 65th, and I'll be here for my 70th if they have to carry me on a stretcher!"

Mrs. Fitch nodded her head. She really expects him to do it.

This year's trip to the university is Mrs. Fitch's third.

"I enjoy the trips," she said, "but I can't keep up with him. I get tired, and he never does."

Mr. Fitch graduated in a class of about 100 students. He was in a Ft. Dodge law office for a year and with a firm in Liverpool for five years before he went to Palmer, Mass.

He has for 41 years served as clerk of the district court in Palmer, and he expects to continue until he is pensioned. He writes a great deal of poetry and prose.

"I'm 81 year old," he volunteered. "Health? Perfect. Lungs? Perfect. Blood Pressure? Perfect. Heart? Perfect."

Campus the Same

"There hasn't been much change in the campus and the university in the last five years," he said, "but we miss many of our old friends." And he mentioned them, with the things that had made them outstanding as university figures.

He's lived a lot of life in his 81 years, and he's still living it. Short, with long, graying hair and bushy eyebrows, he nevertheless has the essence and spirit of youth.

He laughed as he related tales which served to prove that he is still very much able to hold his own against nature and mankind. When he was 66 years old

Return for '83 Reunion

Among the members of the class of 1883 at the University of Iowa was Arthur E. Fitch of Palmer, Mass., who returned to the campus a few days ago for his 55th anniversary. He expects to be back for his 60th, 65th and 70th as well, and to enjoy every one of them. He is shown here with Mrs. Fitch, who enjoys the trips to Iowa as much as her husband.

—Daily Iowan Photo, Engraving but who complains that he has more pep to climb stairs and "keep on the go" than she does.

Mr. Fitch is a direct descendant of Massachusetts' John Fitch, the inventor and navigator of the first American steamboat. He is 81 years old, and this year marks the fifth time that he has returned to be with his former University of Iowa classmates.

he walked to the Colorado river and back through the Grand Canyon. All kinds of bets were made he said, by persons who were there — bets that "that old man from Massachusetts would never make it." But he did.

Still Spry

He likes to climb, he says. "Height doesn't bother me. I never get dizzy." He's almost as hale as the days when he fought fire as one of the first firemen Palmer ever had.

He was a member of the Springfield yacht club for 36 years. He built his own boat and lived on board for some time, sailing up and down the Connecticut river.

That's where the sailor in him makes its appearance, for its in the blood of the Fitches. Massachusetts' John Fitch, the inventor of the steamboat, was one of four brothers who came from Holland to settle, one in Massachusetts, two in eastern United States, and the fourth in Canada. Mr. Fitch is a decedent of that Canadian stock.

What does he like to do better than anything else? Why, get possession of something that no one else has or has any chance of getting. And he's done pretty well at it.

"You should see his Oriental carved furniture and his Oriental antiques," said Mrs. Fitch. "The house is full of them." He collects that kind, because Colo-

Announcement of the engagement was also made to a group of Miss Arn's friends at a party in the home of Anna Fisher, 202 E. Bloomington street, Friday evening.

At both parties the engagement was revealed by a series of questions which spelled out the engagement.

Warner, Mr. and Mrs. William Ruppert, and their daughter, Mary Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ruppert, Mr. and Mrs. William Bright Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ruppert, and their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farrow, Mrs. Scott Dickens and Harry and Alice Dickens, John Ruppert, Mr. and Mrs. John Arn and their sons, Robert and William, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Arn and their daughter, Marilyn Jean, and Mrs. Louise Jones of Detroit, Mich.

Following their marriage, the couple will make their home in Iowa City.

Helen Hughes, Calhoun Marry

Married Friday morning in Ottumwa were Helen Hughes, daughter of Mrs. D. Webb Hughes, 331 S. Lucas street, and Larry Calhoun of Mendota, Ill., formerly of Iowa City. The wedding was solemnized in the Congregational parsonage with Mr. Calhoun's mother and sister attending the couple.

Miss Hughes was attired in a street-length dress of peach lace over peach satin. Her accessories were white.

Following the wedding ceremony the couple returned to Iowa City. They left Friday afternoon for Mendota, where they will reside.

Mrs. Calhoun's going-away outfit was a tailored suit of London gray with white accessories.

The bride was graduated from Iowa City high school and attended the university for three years. Mr. Calhoun is a graduate of Ottumwa high school.

The Scottish Parliament of 1661 was called the Drunken Parliament.

And he has part of the skeleton of a whale. It's a very old whale, dating back to 1880 when relatives of the first Mrs. Fitch carried it about the country on two freight cars to display. It has been in Mr. Fitch's possession since 1886.

Not long ago Mr. and Mrs. Fitch had an experience with the whale, however, which was anything but pleasant. On one of Lowell Thomas' news broadcasts, reference to the very whale was made, and at the insistence of Mrs. Fitch, Thomas was notified that the skeleton of the whale to which he had referred was then in the back yard of the Fitch home in Palmer.

A few days later came a reply from Thomas, awarding to Mr. Fitch the rank of High Ananias in the Tall Story club for the biggest lie that has been sent in. "You just can't tell some people the truth," says Mr. Fitch.

Gifts to University

Sarah Bernhardt possessed one of the fins of the whale, and the other fin, with several of the animal's ribs and vertebrae, is to become the possession of the university this summer, along with other of Mr. Fitch's possessions.

Two quarts of water, taken from the spot in Boston harbor where the historical tea was dumped overboard, came with Mr. Fitch from Palmer. That also is the university's.

After the 78th Commencement is over, Mr. Fitch will go back to Palmer, but they plan to return in 1943.

Band Will Play Tomorrow For Commencement

To Present Classical And Semi-Classical Numbers

A continuous theme of classical and semi-classical music, played by the university band under the direction of Prof. Charles B. Righter, will form a characteristic background to the impressive pomp of the 78th annual Commencement exercises of the University of Iowa tomorrow morning in the fieldhouse.

A colorful prologue concert which will continue as candidates for degrees are seated will be presented by the band, beginning at 8:15 a.m.

In addition, characteristic numbers will be played by the band as graduates of each college file

Plotow's "Stradella" overture. Graduates of the college of law will receive their degrees to the strains of the official song of the college, the "United States Field Artillery" march by Sousa, and "Serenade" by Curzon.

As graduates of the college of medicine move forward, the band will play Colby's "March of the Pioneers," the famous "Pilgrim Chorus" from Wagner's "Tannhauser," and Coerne's "Exaltation." The band will play the "Entrance and March of the Peers" from Sullivan's "Iolanthe" as graduates of the college of dentistry receive their degrees.

Pharmacy, Engineering "The Pilgrim Chorus" from Verdi's "Lombardi" will be the theme as graduates of the college of pharmacy march to the platform. The song of the engineers, "When Johnnie Comes Marching Home," will be played by the band as graduates of that college get their degrees. Jessel's "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" and "March Pontificale" by Gounod will also be presented at that time.

Herbert's "Festival March" will be the theme of the college of commerce, and Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance" of the graduate college.

The concluding musical note of the performance will be the singing of the university hymn, "Old Gold," by the audience.

The musical background of the Commencement ceremony by Professor Righter's scarlet-clad bandmen is designed to form an impressive supplement to the traditional ceremony.

State Ticket Deluged Under Senatorial Fight Avalanche

(This is the second and last of a series of articles on major primary campaign contests to be decided at the Iowa polls Monday.)

DES MOINES, June 4 (AP)—Deluged under an avalanche of senatorial developments, 63 nearly forgotten men and women Monday will bid for state ticket primary nominations in the two major Iowa parties.

Observers listed two causes for the state ticket apathy, the democratic senatorial race with its Washington repercussions and the lack of pivotal battles for primary nominations on both sides.

Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel, busy helping Senator Guy M. Gillette in the latter's campaign for re-nomination, is unopposed for the gubernatorial nomination. George A. Wilson, republican candidate for governor, likewise has no spring opposition. The latter's present activity, which he terms "building for fall," includes roasting the democratic party in general and the present state administration in particular.

Torrid Battle
Recalling the torrid battle of 1936, observers expect Kraschel and Wilson to touch off another "knock-down contest when the summer wanes and the general election of November approaches.

Lieut. Gov. John W. Valentine is unopposed for re-nomination on the democratic ticket. Vying for the right to compete for the position with Valentine in the fall are B. B. Hickenlooper of Cedar Rapids, republican whip in the Iowa house last session, and Harry B. Thompson of Muscatine.

Hickenlooper, a candidate for the house speakership two years ago, is a Cedar Rapids attorney. Thompson was high man in the G. O. P. lieutenant governor race in 1934 but failed to get the required 35 per cent of the total vote. The convention nominated George W. Patterson of Burt.

Has Three Foes
Dr. R. E. O'Brien of Sioux City, appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Alex

Miller in 1937, has three foes in his quest for the democratic nomination for secretary of state. One of them is his home townsman, Dr. E. W. Neenan, also a member of the state conservation commission. Rachel W. Wormhoudt of Mt. Pleasant is Henry county recorder. Mrs. Lois Etter was a Davenport works progress administration historical project worker when she announced her candidacy.

The WPA immediately forced her to resign because of a rule prohibiting political activity on the part of its employees.

The three republican aspirants for secretary of state include one woman, Mrs. Raymond P. Conner

DES MOINES, JUNE 4 (AP)—Six women Monday will vie to succeed Mrs. Alex Miller and Miss Agnes Samuelson as the queens of Iowa politics.

Mrs. Miller, who died more than a year ago, piled up a majority of 128,000 over her G. O. P. opponent for secretary of state in 1936. Her margin was exceeded only by that of President Roosevelt who captured Iowa by 133,000 voters.

Miss Samuelson, thrice elected superintendent of public instruction is not a candidate this year. Women aspirants include:

United states senate — Mrs. Ellsworth Richardson. Secretary of state — Rachel W. Wormhoudt, Lois Etter and Mrs. Raymond P. Conner. Superintendent of public instruction — Lucy Hall and Jessie M. Parker.

In the fifth district democratic congressional race, Mrs. Ruth Hollingshead is a candidate for the democratic nomination.

of Denison. She has been active in Crawford county welfare work. Pierce Baker of Clinton is a tax accountant and Earl G. Miller of Des Moines, a former state agent, is in the loan business.

Neither Leo J. Wegman, the democratic incumbent, or W. G. C. Bagley, republican aspirant, has opposition in the primaries for the state treasurer nominations.

C. W. Storms, state auditor, and Attorney General John H.

Mitchell similarly are unopposed for re-nomination, but the competition is keen for those offices on the republican ticket. G. O. P. state auditor aspirants include C. E. Akers of Ottumwa, C. L. McClurkin of Wapello, Seth Silver of Cantrill and Cor. Van de Steeg of Orange City.

Three candidates seek the G. O. P. nomination for attorney general. They are John E. Mulroney of Ft. Dodge, James E. Scovel of Montezuma, and Fred D. Everett of Albia.

Convention possibilities exist in races for secretary of agriculture, commerce commissioner and superintendent of public instruction. Iowa's election laws require the candidate polling the most votes to pile up at least 35 per cent of the total cast for all candidates. Otherwise, the party's state convention makes the nomination.

Four Democrats
Four democrats are contesting Thomas L. Curran's office of secretary of agriculture. They are Elmer G. Carlson, James P. Flanagan, C. E. R. Fuester and Ralph W. Smith. Curran, running for re-nomination, rounds out the ticket. Three republicans, C. A. Benson, Mark G. Thornburg and Dr. E. C. Wolff are seeking the privilege of contesting the office in the general election.

Seven democrats and eight republicans are running for commerce commission nominations, two from each party to be elected. The democrats are Harry E. Cornish, Harry B. Dunlap, John A. Green, Roy E. Hollenbeck, George A. Huffman, Robert L. Jones and Ronald L. Ryan. The republicans are A. E. Gane, N. C. (Dolly) Gray, J. W. Hastings, Barr Keshler, David B. Long, John Olson, B. M. Richardson and Howard R. Stewart.

Public Instruction
The race for superintendent of public instruction has summoned three democrats and four republicans to the post. The democratic candidates are George A. Brown, G. B. Ferrell and Lucy E. Hall. The republican ticket includes Cornelia C. Hodges, P. C. Lapham, Charles F. Martin and Jessie M. Parker.

The most spited races for congressional seats are expected in the fifth, seventh and ninth districts.

In the fifth district three republicans and three democrats have places on the ticket. The democratic candidates are George A. Brown, G. B. Ferrell and Lucy E. Hall. The republican ticket includes Cornelia C. Hodges, P. C. Lapham, Charles F. Martin and Jessie M. Parker.

The 1888 class of medicine and the 1913 class in law won second and third honors respectively. Six of the seven living members of the class of nursing were present yesterday. Five of the 10 living members of the class in medicine returned, and 17 of the 37 members of the law class.

Katzenmeyer Defends Action

Head of Civil Service Board Replies To Mayor's Attack

Chairman Cyril P. Katzenmeyer of Iowa City's civil service board last night defended his board's action in naming only two patrolmen as eligible for police sergeant, answering Mayor Myron J. Walker's attack at Friday's council meeting.

"The board did not, as Walker charged, arbitrarily raise the grade to 85," Katzenmeyer said. "In all first class cities, the passing grade for promotion is set at 85. Entrance exams are 75 per cent."

Recently, according to Katzenmeyer, "certain city officials attempted to tell the civil service board which men to certify and why."

According to Katzenmeyer the board acted as it did in certifying only two patrolmen for advancement to the position as sergeant because "The Iowa City civil service board operates under laws passed by the state legislature and certifies men because they are eligible, not because they have a political pull."

"Whether Iowa City wants the two sergeants is entirely up to the mayor and council which created the positions. They must either approve the commission's certifications or abolish the positions within 30 days," Katzenmeyer said.

Katzenmeyer's statement came in answer to Mayor Walker's charge that the board had exceeded its authority in leaving the chief of police no option in the selection of men for promotion.

'Private Tutor'

TOWNSEND, Mont. (AP)—Varick Doig was swamped with applications after eastern newspapers published a story about his school district's one-pupil problem. The child can go to school only in the summer because of winter storms in the mountain country where he lives, and he's the only child in the district. He wants the world to know the vacancy has been filled. A Montana teacher took the job.

F.D.R. Behind Iowa Fight?

President Roosevelt himself is believed to be behind the battle to eliminate anti-new deal democrats in the primaries. The next test is tomorrow in Iowa. There, Representative Otha Wearin, 35, full-fledged new dealer, has the endorsement of Harry Hopkins, WPA administrator and native Iowan, for the democratic senatorial nomination in opposition to Sen. Guy Gillette. Senator Gillette lined up with the anti-new dealers in the senate, opposing Roosevelt measures. Similar battles impend in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, Maryland, Georgia and Nevada and other states. The president is thought to be "speaking" through cabinet and department heads.

College Prexy Hitch Hikes

Wisconsin President Thumbs Ride After Car Breaks Down

The University of Wisconsin president, Clarence A. Dykstra, hitch hiked into Iowa City yesterday to be with his classmates of the class of 1903. He found the hitch hiking fairly good.

President Dykstra's car slipped into a ditch near West Liberty yesterday, and while his chauffeur sought aid, the president stepped to the side of the road to try his luck at thumbing.

A car in which two ladies and a girl were riding slowed down and stopped. They asked Dykstra where he was going.

"To the Commencement exercises at the University of Iowa," he replied.

"Well, we don't usually pick up hitch hikers," one of the ladies hesitated.

But Dykstra got the ride, and the incident was a topic of much discussion for Dykstra and the nine members of his class who returned for their fifth-year reunion on the campus yesterday.

Wearin--

friend of Gillette, but politically "I oppose all the things for which he has come to stand."

Certain newspaper statements made by the Iowa senator, attacking the new deal, have harmed the "progressive spirit" of the Roosevelt program as much as his votes, the young politician declared.

Closing by renewing his pledge of close friendship and faith in President Roosevelt, Wearin said that one night last winter, just before he left the White House, Roosevelt said to him:

"Wearin, there's something I want to do from this country. I want to save it from fascism on one side and bolshevism on the other."

"And I said to him, 'Mr. President, I'm with you all the way,'" Wearin concluded.

Dr. W. L. Bywater, Iowa City democrat, presided at last night's rally, which more than filled the court room.

Called upon to speak, Mrs. Eicher endorsed Wearin's candidacy "because I know Ed would have wanted me to." Judge Gaffney's letter was read by Dr. Bywater.

American Plumbing Moistens Sahara

ALGIERS (AP)—Ghardaia, capital of the seven sacred cities of the Mزاب plateau in the heart of the Sahara desert, thirsty for centuries, is being supplied with water through American plumbing.

The Mزاب plateau, known as "the desert within a desert," receives rainfall only once in seven or eight years. Apart from a small oasis in the hollow of a narrow valley in which Ghardaia, city of a thousand inhabitants, is situated there is nothing but sand and blackened stone, burned through thousands of years by the sun.

After centuries of long journeys in search of water, the Mohammedan inhabitants, said to be the most devout in all Islam, now drink and irrigate their gardens with water from an artesian well, 450 feet deep, dug by American engineers. It is pumped to them by American machinery.

Prehistoric Tooth Found in Wisconsin

BALSAM LAKE, Wis. (AP)—A shark's tooth found in a gravel pit near here has been identified by the University of Minnesota geology department as belonging to the Tertiary era of about 55,000,000 years ago.

The tooth was 4 1/4 inches long and 3 1/4 inches wide. Geologists estimated it came from a shark 80 feet long with a mouth five or six feet wide.

Bar Meeting To Be Addressed By R. Perkins

DES MOINES, Ia., June 4 (AP)—Nationally prominent speakers will appear on the program of the Iowa state bar association's 44th annual meeting, which will be held here for three days, beginning Wednesday.

Among the speakers will be William Shaforth, Chicago, director of the legal education division of the American bar association, and Arthur T. Vanderbilt, Newark, N. J., president of the American bar association.

Prof. Rolling M. Perkins, Iowa City, will speak at the meeting Friday.

Drunken Driver?

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—An elephant driver was fined $1.58 here recently for being drunk in charge of an elephant.

A crowd was watching an elephant procession in which the intoxicated native was riding. Suddenly he swerved his giant mount and started charging the spectators.

He nearly precipitated a riot before he finally was dragged down and turned over to the police.

Keen Contests in Primaries Expected to Draw Record Vote

Race for Demo Nomination For U. S. Senate Is Highlight

9 Precinct Polls Will Be Open for 11 Hours Monday

Iowa City joins the rest of the state tomorrow when it goes to the polls to cast its ballots in the bi-annual party primaries to nominate candidates for township, county, state and national offices.

In Iowa City precincts, polls will be open from 7 a. m. until 8 p. m., for what is expected to be a record vote. Keen contests in several county as well as one national race—that of the democratic nomination for United States senator—will probably bring out a record-size vote. Between 5,000 and 6,000 ballots were cast in the 1936 primary here.

"Of particular county interest is the race for the county attorney

AROUND THE TOWN

BY MERLE MILLER

DIARY OF A DILETTANTE
A COLUMNIST'S NOTEBOOK
I had dinner with a professor this week. . . He said, "I never read a newspaper, haven't the time."

See by the radio columns where the first of the NBC Toscanini broadcasts drew about 800 letters. . . Kate Smith claims, no doubt gets, 10,000 weekly. . .

To those who're shouting "Repetition!" I ought to quote Oliver Wendell Holmes, "I shall use the same types when I like—but never the same stereotypes."

Some day I shall write a novel about war called "The Glorious Dead," remembering Seneca's "We punish an individual guilty of assault or murder, but the massacre of a people is considered a glorious deed."

Happy to hear Dale Carnegie's air programs are quite as lousy as I expected. . . From 9 a. m. until 5:50 p. m. WHO broadcasts 20 15-minute serials, all of them below the idiot I. Q. rating. . .

Perhaps it's because I haven't heard him lately, but Jack Benny still seems to be up among them. . . Fred Allen is as un-funny as I always remembered. . .

Must remember to wish "good-luck" to Journalist Art Snider, who's headed for the top of the heap. . . To Margaret Gordon, known to every Iowa Citian, because she's one of the few real characters still about. . . Who had more adventures in Iowa City than I had in all Europe. . .

Note in the margin that the senatorial back-talk will be continued in convention. . . The democratic county convention will bring one surprise to most folks. . .

If I see Max McCullough about, must wish him luck. . . If he's lucky, the movies are crying for the Nick Potter kind of thing he did in last summer's "Holiday." . . Those who saw it said nice things about Florabel Houston's "Call It a Day" performance. . .

And Dorothea Carlson's graduating too. . . Bet some day I'll brag I caught her University theater debut, praised it. . .

Probably I've already jotted it down—That the only people who say money isn't important are millionaires, liars and fools. . . Agree with Virginia Woolf's estimate that a writer needs a guaranteed $2,500 yearly to write. . .

If I'm invited to any, must remind the hostess of my next party of the new I. Q. game—To name the three people living in this generation most likely to leave a mark on history. . . The English name Psychologist Freud, Communist Lenin and Mary Stopes, who does for England what Margaret Sanger tries for the United States. . .

Must try to keep in mind Robert Browning's warning, "When it comes to matters of taste, there is no argument." . . Saves bloodshed. . . Must remember to berate the old saying about experience as a teacher, which it's not. . . Most people repeat their errors 'til death do them part. . .

Remind me to find out who said, "Everything that's fun is either illegal, immoral or fattening"? . .

Might make a column note on the info that only 50 M. A. degrees are issued in all England per year, about one-third the Iowa number. . .

Good crack to critics—Shaw's—"Those who think I'm severe or even malicious, ought to see the things I don't write."

Ought to check up on that rumor about the three-plateon police system. . . Sounds like a good idea, out with the 12-hour shift.

Somebody says there's a sign on the town's edge, "You are now leaving Belle Plaine. Thank you."

Might mention that I've been reading William Saroyan's "Love Here Is My Hat," the best quarter's worth I've ever bought. . .
