Southern Group Delays Wage-Hour Bill With Fight for Differentials

Senators Make Threat to Talk Bill to Death

Force Committee To Reopen Minimum Wage Question

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Eighteen southern senators appeared to be getting results to-night in their fight to establish lower wage minima for the south than the north.

Their tacit threat to talk the wage-hour bill to death unless it permitted differentials forced a senate-house conference committee to reopen the whole minimum wage question.

Later Senator Ellender (D-La.) said the conferees had "virtually accepted" certain suggestions of the southerners. He acknowledged, however, that no vote had been taken.

Before today's ultimatum from Dixie, 11 of the 14 conferees had approved a formula under which wages in interstate commerce would be fixed, without exceptions, at 25 cents the first year and 30 cents the second year. These conferees had agreed that from the third to the seventh year, inclusive, the scale would be fixed for each industry separately, between 30 and 40 cents, upon recommendation of special boards. After the seventh year, a general 40-cent rate would be required, excepting only industries in which such a rate would clearly cause unemployment.

Committee On WPA Increase Backs F. D. R.

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt's request that the new WPA appropriation be increased to $1,425,000,000 won approval of a joint senate-house committee late today.

Mr. Roosevelt originally recommended $1,250,000,000 for the work relief organization. This sum was voted by the house but the senate raised the figure to $1,425,000,000. The chief executive wrote Speaker Bankhead yesterday that there had been no improvement in the unemployment situation since he asked the appropriation seven weeks ago, and that the larger amount would be desirable.

The congressional conference committee, meeting today, to adjust differences between the separate lending-spending bills passed by the house and senate, made a preliminary study of most major provision of the legislation. Members predicted a final agreement by Saturday.

Some house committeemen expressed opposition to a senate amendment providing $212,000,000 for farm benefit payments. It was reported, but senate members expressed confidence this would become law.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) author of the amendment, asserted that unless it were approved "we will have a real relief situation on the government's hands this fall, particularly in the cotton and wheat regions."

Hold Mrs. Griebel In Bail to Prevent Flight to Germany

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Weeping and protesting, Mrs. Maria Griebel was held in $5,000 bail today as a material witness in the federal spy investigation to prevent her departure to Germany.

She is the wife of Dr. Ignatz T. Griebel, who fled to Germany as a stowaway on the liner Bremen May 10 while under subpoena as a government witness.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Lester C. Dunigan told Federal Judge Vincent L. Lieblich that Mrs. Griebel's testimony "is material and necessary at the trial which the government feels certain will result from the investigation."

Chiang Asks Friendly Nations to Fulfill Treaty Obligations to War-Torn China

SHANGHAI, June 10 (Friday) (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, leader of war-torn China, called upon friendly powers today "to fulfill their treaty obligations by giving China positive assistance."

Chiang made the plea in a formal statement issued last night at Hankow, provisional Chinese capital, as his people fled before the invading Japanese, evacuating their homes in three cities in one of the greatest mass exoduses in recent history.

While the generalissimo declared China still was confident of "ultimate victory," he asked all friendly nations to aid China by economic sanctions, arms embargoes and trade boycotts against Japan, specifically recalling resolutions adopted by the League of Nations in support of China.

As Chiang made his appeal the roads were black with slowly plodding refugees fleeing Chengchow, strategic Honan province railway junction, while civilians also fled from Hankow, south on the Yangtze river, and Canton, big port of south China.

Prepared to blast out what Chinese defenses remain in Chengchow, the Japanese hauled up field artillery as they maintained a steady airplane bombing of the area.

Twenty-one foreigners, including several American missionaries, remained in Chengchow, from which the main Chinese defenses have been withdrawn. The city is the junction of the east-west Lung-hai railway and the north-south Peiping-Hankow line.

Tour Planned By Roosevelt

Nationwide Stump Trip Expected to Boost Candidates

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt arranged today for a transcontinental stump tour during which he is expected to fight for his program and put in some kind words for certain democratic senators up for renomination.

One speech will be given at Covington, Ky. It would be a complete surprise to all political strategists here if the president failed to include in that address some words of praise for Senator Barkley, senate leader.

Barkley is in a hot fight for renomination, his opponent being Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky. As early as last January, the president gave Barkley a boost in a letter read at a testimonial dinner tendered the Kentuckian in Louisville.

While house officials announced that if conditions permitted the chief executive would leave here July 7.

Cowboy Held

James E. Merritt

Attired in the cowboy regalia he was wearing when taken near Sheridan, Wyo., James E. Merritt, 26, charged with violating the federal Lindbergh kidnaping law, is shown in Cheyenne en route to Cincinnati, Ohio. Merritt is charged with abducting Harley Spruance, wealthy Ohio farmer, early last month, and taking him to a point near Indianapolis and then robbing him. Merritt denies the charge.

Lindberghs In Island Home Off Brittany Coast

PENVENAN, France, June 9 (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh today settled down in their new home on remote Illiec island off the coast of Brittany.

After quitting Long Barn, their Kentish home in England for two and one-half years, they crossed the English channel yesterday to the northwest coast of France.

Residents along the coast said the colonel, his wife, and their two sons, Jon and Land, were installed on the rocky isle they purchased last April.

Czechs, Sudeten German Party Resume Direct Negotiations

Admiral Plans Inspection Trip Of Yangtze River

SHANGHAI, June 9 (AP)—Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander-in-chief of the United States Asiatic fleet, is contemplating an inspection trip up China's great Yangtze river, which was closed to foreign shipping by the Japanese six months ago.

Admiral Yarnell plans tentatively to leave June 23, it was learned today.

Local British and Japanese negotiations regarding opening of the river to foreign shipping have reached a deadlock, well-informed sources said. The Japanese declare it is a matter of military necessity to keep the river closed. It is understood the matter now will be referred to the British foreign office for any further action.

Alabama Court Affirms Terms

MONTGOMERY Ala., June 9 (AP)—The Alabama supreme court affirmed today long-term sentences for Andy Wright and Charlie Weems, Negro "Scottsboro rape case" defendants.

Wright was sentenced to 99 years and Weems to 75 years in Morgan (Decatur) circuit court on charges growing out of the alleged mass rape of two white women near Scottsboro, Ala., in 1931.

The court did not hand down a decision in the case of Clarence Norris, under death sentence in the case, whose appeal was argued along with those of Weems and Wright.

Today's action leaves only the case of Norris, out of nine original defendants before an Alabama tribunal.

Of the other defendants, one is serving 75 years, another is serving a term on a charge of assault; a third is serving a term on a charge of murder growing out of an escape attempt, and charges against four were dismissed on recommendation of the state last year.

'--And Influence Statesmen' Abe Pickus Give Up Fruitless Expenditure In Campaign to Outlaw War

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Abe Pickus of Cleveland, who spent thousands of dollars telephoning world statesmen in a fruitless effort to outlaw war, has decided to try face-to-face persuasion.

He has come to Washington to exert his influence on the White House, the state department and congress.

From his Cleveland home he put in calls to Japanese, Italian, British and other leaders. The fact that he usually got merely their secretaries on the line has not discouraged him. Once, he actually got General Franco on the phone.

"I advised him to make peace," Mr. Pickus said, "and he told me he was in favor of peace. I told him to call a general election, and he said he couldn't understand me as he was a little deaf."

He was less successful in calling Germany. When he told one of Hitler's secretaries that Germany would be "wiped off the map" if she started another war, the secretary hung up on him.

Likewise, he could get no satisfaction out of one of the prime minister's secretaries when he called London to tell Britain to clean house in Palestine.

The Japanese, Mr. Pickus finds, are real diplomats.

When he told the Japanese ambassador to abandon the conquest of China he was informed, he said, that the Japanese people desire peace with all their hearts. "The Japanese give you nice words," he said, "but they won't put them in writing."

House Refuses To Seat Jenks

Representatives Install Democrat Roy After Long Battle

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—A long and complicated contest came to an end today when the house of representatives deprived Representative Jenks (R-NH) of his seat, and installed in it Alphonse Roy, Manchester, N. H., democrat.

In doing so, the chamber declined to accept a republican contention that 34 "missing" ballots were cast for Jenks in the 1936 election. The vote to remove Jenks, 70-year-old retired shoe manufacturer, was 214 to 122. On a separate roll call, 226 to 109, the house agreed to give the vacant seat to Roy.

Twenty-six democrats, seven progressives and five farmer-laborites joined 84 republicans in voting against ousting Jenks.

RIDIN' HIGH

Attorney's Ancient Car Causes Chuckles

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Justice department officials gaped, then chuckled, today when Thurman W. Arnold, assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust cases, came to work in his "new" car.

A square-topped coupe of ancient vintage, it rolls along on high, wooden-spoked wheels and has green and white striped awnings.

Arnold said his wife thought it "a little silly" for a $9,000 a year government official to drive around Washington in a $45 automobile but, he added: "It suits me fine."

N. B. He paid cash.

Iowa to Send Delegation To Swedish Fete

DES MOINES, June 9 (AP)—In a "five to four" decision, the legislative interim committee voted today to advance up to $1,500 with which to send a delegation to represent Iowa at the American Swedish tercentenary at Wilmington, Del.

One of the features of the celebration, late this month, will be the visit of the Swedish crown prince. The celebration marks the 300th anniversary of the landing of the first Swedish colonists in America.

Governor Kraschel appointed a commission of 11 members to represent Iowa at the celebration, in accord with a resolution adopted by the 1937 legislature.

The legislature, however, made no appropriation to pay expenses of the delegation, and the legislative interim committee at four successive meetings turned a deaf ear to the plea for funds.

The committee today took the position that under the statutes only the executive council is empowered to send persons outside the state to attend conventions.

After the executive council, in extraordinary session had declared an "emergency" to exist in its miscellaneous expense budget, the interim committee voted to reimburse the council up to $1,500 to pay expenses of the Iowa Swedish Tercentenary commission.

Representative Gustave Alesch (D) of Marcus called the procedure "irregular" and warned that the committee "in the future will not even listen" to such requests.

"I think we're just creating emergencies here," asserted Representative Dewey E. Goode (R) of Bloomfield.

Norris Pleased With Stern American Demand That Japanese Stop Noncombatant Bombings

WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—A stern demand by the state department that Japan stop bombing noncombatant property in China, drew an approving statement today from Senator Norris (Ind-Neb.)

Norris suggested the possibility of cutting off American arms shipments to the Orient, in an effort to curb aerial attacks and "slaughter of innocent persons."

He proposed that figures on United States shipments of war materials to both China and Japan be compiled, and said that if they showed Japan was receiving more

Hunt for Kidnapers Of Cash Boy to Continue; Report Two More Held

Here is Franklin Pierce McCall, 21-year-old Princeton, Fla., truck driver, after his arrest as a suspect in the kidnaping-slaying of James Bailey Cash Jr., 5, whose body was found under an orchard tree less than a mile from the spot his father paid $10,000 ransom.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men, announced McCall admitted writing the three ransom notes and accepting the ransom money, which was found in a hole at the corner of the orchard. McCall, federal agents said, led them to the body of the boy.

McCall Denies Taking Part In Kidnap Murder

Five Dollars of Ransom Money Still Missing, Hoover Says

MIAMI, Fla., June 9 (AP)—Police drove ahead with the Jimmy Cash kidnaping investigation today, not satisfied the case had been solved by the arrest of Franklin Pierce McCall, finding of the boy's body and recovery of $10,000 ransom money.

G-man Chief J. Edgar Hoover made this statement to news men today when he said, cryptically, "We have the kidnaper—or one of them," and added "the investigation will actively continue."

Rumor Two Held This announcement was followed by a rumor that two other suspects already were in custody in federal bureau investigation offices here but Hoover declined comment on this report.

Hoover reiterated that McCall, 21-year-old truck driver and minister's son, had admitted writing three ransom notes and collecting the $10,000 paid by James Bailey Cash Sr., in a futile attempt to save the life of his five year old only child.

But the FBI chief indicated McCall continued doggedly to deny any further part in the crime which turned the nation's eyes to nearby hamlet of Princeton.

Five Dollars Missing Hoover disclosed that $5 of the ransom money was missing. Agents found $9,750 Wednesday morning and $245 was uncovered late today at a spot Hoover said was described by McCall.

"In other words," the FBI director commented, "there has been a kidnaping and the kidnaper makes $5."

Hoover indicated he would announce tomorrow circumstances under which the $245 was found. Cash and his brother, Wilson P. Cash, motored to Homestead late today to record their formal identification of all that was left of the child.

The father did not look at the body—only at the shreds of the one-piece pajama suit the boy wore when he disappeared.

McCall and his wife lived for a couple of tomato harvesting seasons in an apartment in the Cash home at Princeton where the kidnaping occurred on the night of May 28. Neighbors said the husky McCall frequently played with the Cash lad.

No Charges Filed No formal charge was filed against McCall but State Attorney George A. Worley had Circuit Judge Arthur Gomez convene a special grand jury for Monday morning. Worley indicated (See KIDNAPING, page 3)

Government Witness in Labor Trial Slain, Another Kidnaped

Free Again Art Jarrett Divorces Eleanor Holm

LOS ANGELES, June 9 (AP)—Art Jarrett divorced Eleanor Holm today, for his part leaving her free to marry Billy Rose, the little man with the big shows.

Jarrett, an orchestra leader, testified the marriage was broken up by Miss Holm's frequent statements that she wants to marry Rose. She also embarrassed him by losing her place on the 1936 Olympic swimming team because of a champagne incident, he said.

One remaining obstacle to a Holm-Rose wedding is Rose's marriage to Fanny Brice, and Miss Brice has been noncommittal about the whole thing.

"We went out in New York one night and she was wearing a mink coat which was insured for $1,800," Jarrett testified. "She didn't want to come home and I had to leave her, so she stayed out all night. She called me the next day and asked me if I had her coat. I asked her not to report the loss of the coat for fear of bad publicity."

Kentucky Miners Fight Over Wagner Act Violation Case

LONDON, Ky., June 9 (AP)—The slaying of a union coal miner who was under subpoena to testify for the government in the Harlan labor trial here and the reported kidnaping of another who had already testified added "bombshell" sensations to the case tonight.

Chief Deputy Sheriff C. N. Nolan in nearby Harlan county said Leslie Smithers, 30, former president of the Yancey, Ky., local of the United Mine Workers of America was shot to death in a fight at Gulston, Ky.

Brothers Jailed Nolan said two brothers, Verlin Lee, 29, and Clyde Lee, 27, were jailed at Harlan, Ky., in connection with the case.

Smithers had been subpoenaed as a government witness in the trial in which 66 Harlan county coal corporations, individuals and present or former peace officers are charged with conspiracy to violate the Wagner act.

George Tittler, international representative of the U. M. W. A., said tonight at Harlan that John Isom, a union organizer, who testified for the government, reported he had been forced into an automobile and driven from Cumberland, Harlan county, Ky., to a mining camp.

"Damn Union Man" Tittler said Isom told him three men cursed him as a "damn union man" and shoved him into the automobile. Isom said he escaped when the car stopped at the camp where the men sought to have him identified. Tittler said.

The latter added that Isom said the men approached him in a restaurant and remarked about his having testified as a government witness in the trial here.

When Isom denied his identity, Tittler recounted, the men said they would take him before Harry Bennett, general manager of the Harlan Central Fuel company.

Plot to Seize Nuffield Told

OXFORD, England, June 9 (AP)—A sharp-eyed retired major told an Oxford court today of a "corseted would-be kidnaper's plan" to seize Viscount Nuffield, millionaire automobile manufacturer, for $500,000 ransom and perhaps drown him at sea.

Maj. Arthur G. F. Ramsden, a former royal artilleryman, testified before four magistrates against John Bruce Thornton, 50, the alleged author of a bold scheme which had as its elements a rented yacht, the Pierrette, threats of torture with surgical instrument and an array of disguises.

Thornton, charged with inciting Ramsden to help him abduct Lord Nuffield, was arrested May 24 through the combined efforts of Ramsden, Scotland Yard, and Nuffield himself.

The court heard today that Thornton at the time of his arrest carried two revolvers and a kidnap note and was gasping inside tightly-laced corsets which were a part of his disguise of a red wig, false moustache, artificial eyebrows and gold teeth.

Thornton was remanded without bail until a further hearing June 13. Lord Nuffield did not attend today's hearing.

We Who Are The Young

TOURISTS returning from Europe these days, particularly from those countries under the iron hand of a dictator, usually express amazement at the apparent enthusiasm among young people, boys and girls of college age and younger, for a form of government which seems to lead to ultimate disaster.

Of that age ourselves, we believe we have at least a partial answer. We have before us as we write a report just issued by the American Youth Commission of the American Council on Education. The report—"Youth Tell Their Story"—is the voice of some 13,000 Maryland youth, both men and women, aged from 16 to 24.

The study of these several thousand lives, the report concludes, gives a fair picture of a cross-section of young America. "A large part of the youth today is apathetic, disoriented, increasingly prone to look to the federal government to do its thinking and planning for it. Three-fourths think the government should regulate wages and hours; nine out of 10 think it should give unemployment relief. Only one out of 10 is a rugged individualist, one in 25 a radical."

In view of such facts, the report finishes off with a warning to democracy. Youth, with few opportunities, turns to any promise for better chances. These promises are made by fascism, by communism, by nazism. German and Italian youths, for example, are not idle today. Three years of their life is spent in service to the government. During this time they are reasonably well-fed, well-housed, well-clothed. They listen to emotional speeches, harrangues telling them of the greater future of their country and themselves. They are made to feel important and necessary. These things are important to the young. We know. We, too, are young.

No wonder that youth in uniforms turn out to cheer and applaud The Man and The System which does these things for them. Therein lies America's biggest problem. It is a problem not only of the present but more pressing of the future. Apathetic editorials and books about the problems of the "lost generation" are not enough. Serious difficulties call for immediate action and probing study.

Consider, then, the ominous warning of the report we have just been reading: "Unpleasant stories are told of operators of coal properties who . . . mine only the richer veins and leave the smaller ones to cave in. This coal, it is said, is forever lost. Somehow this sort of thing reminds us that youth, too, never comes again."

Speaking of suppressed minorities, why doesn't someone come to the aid of those Sudeten New Yorkers—the down-trodden followers of the hapless Brooklyn Dodgers?

The Argentine Ministry of Agriculture has begun the compilation of a meteorological chart covering South America, the South Atlantic ocean and a portion of Africa.

A Boy's True Friend—His Dog

TWO insignificant little clippings might have caught your eye if you chanced to read the inside pages of the metropolitan dailies carefully yesterday.

The first item, buried on an inside page of this particular paper, related in simple concise fashion that Betsy, a Chesapeake Bay dog, saved the life of her 12-year-old master by seizing him and towing him 300 feet after his boat had capsized.

The second story, written from a slightly humorous feature angle, concerned the account of two boys, dubbed "Paul Revere's," who sped through a New Jersey town on their bicycles warning dog owners that "the dog catchers were coming" and shepherding "strays" into hidden sanctuaries.

Two different items from two different sections of the country—in one, dog saves boy, in the other, boys save dogs—both are news for today, forgotten tomorrow. Forgotten? Yes, by the sophisticated older who has outgrown his mental and physical youth. Forgotten? No, not by the boys of today and yesterday. They need no clippings or glowing press accounts to tell them of their friendship for each other—boy and dog care little for publicity—they are true friends.

Hitler, we read, does not play pool or billiards. Of course not! Der Fuehrer couldn't afford to. Just one look at the eight-ball would assure anyone that it is distinctly non-Aryan!

An Appeal To Humanity

DESPITE THE fact that work-relief costs and needs in America have increased, it is encouraging to note that citizens of this country, living in the world's wealthiest nation, are not overlooking the plight of 50,000,000 refugees in war-torn China.

China has appealed to the civilized world for aid in feeding her starving millions, and religious and private groups have responded nobly with their limited resources. But today, the money and supplies raised by these public spirited citizens and organizations is almost exhausted.

According to dispatches received from Mrs. E. F. Henry, Southern Methodist church relief leader in Shanghai, 1,600 babies born in Shanghai refugee campus during the last four months are threatened with starvation and disease. Mrs. Henry reported that the 1,600 infants and thousands of other Chinese children are receiving only the barest sustenance owing to lack of food.

"Our relief funds are diminishing rapidly and we are able to permit only the smallest rations to thousands of children," said Mrs. Henry in her cablegram to Col. Theodore Roosevelt Jr. "Most of the refugees are subsisting on thistles, poplar buds and blue clay mixed with leaves. Conditions are much worse than the 1921 famine."

"The summer conditions in the maternity centers are appalling," Mrs. Henry continued. "There is insufficient pure water for any purpose and milk—a luxury—spoils almost as soon as received. The heat is dreadful, and we are hampered by lack of medicine and sanitation equipment. We must have quick help from Americans if we are to save the lives of millions of these innocent victims of Japanese invasion."

China and her friends are calling for help, and her cries have not fallen on deaf ears. More than 1,500 cities and towns, including Iowa City, are cooperating with the United Council for Civilian Relief in China and its allied agencies in staging nationwide "Bowl of Rice" parties on the night of June 17.

The American public has another challenge to face in its effort to ease pain and suffering in this troubled world. Humanity is challenged by the hardships imposed on these innocent non-combatants in China.

An architect suggests a moving sidewalk for use of congressmen, between the capitol and the house office buildings. Many a taxpayer would feel the cost, $175,000, small indeed if it is a one-way affair, heading out.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

FREUD IN EXILE Though psychologists and psychiatrists still argue about the validity of psychoanalytic theory and practice, not one among them but will rejoice that Sigmund Freud has found a haven in England. His case is especially hard. A recluse of 82, buoyed up by a fervent desire to finish a monumental interpretation of the Bible and by the courage that so often triumphs over illness and thrusts even death aside, his case must be marked with an especially heavy black cross in keeping account of the nazis' cruel indifference to reputation and achievement in carrying into practice the absurd doctrine of Nordic superiority. To the eternal credit of an international association of disciples, he is able to take up his pen again with the likelihood that the remaining years of his life will be spent in something more than sad contemplation of Europe's ruin, his country's degradation and the humiliation of scholarship at the hands of ruffians and madmen.

Clendening Tells How Noises Affect Health, Nervous System

Tuning In with Loren Hickerson

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D. Besides the effect of continuous intensity in producing mental fatigue. Experiments at Colgate university show that the annoyance effect of noise is dependent more on high frequency than on intensity. In other words, a low, frequent noise is more fatiguing than a loud, infrequent noise.

In England the attempt to control noise by the public health authorities is much more active than in this country. The English public health service is convinced that although noise does not induce organic disease, it does cause a condition of functional weakness and disability. And this state of fatigue, although it is not a disease, opens the door to disease.

Proper air conditioning is a factor tending to diminish the ill effects of noise of all types. The procurement of closed windows, doors and other sound barriers commonly associated with artificial climates in public buildings, office buildings, department stores and theaters, may eliminate as much as 75 per cent of the noises of extraneous origin.

WASHINGTON WORLD

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON—The railroads brotherhoods can show that a good deal of this property might just as well be water.

"My own opinion is that there was a lot of foolishness in railroad capital expenditures, based on the careless assumption that things would go on forever as they were up to 1926. Still, it appears unfair for the brotherhoods to generalize loosely about watered capitalizations."

Second point: "The investigation sponsored by the late Senator LaFollette," relates Mr. Shaw, "proved conclusively that the existing railroad plant could not be replaced by the expenditures of an amount equal to the total capitalization of the railroads."

"In other words, on a replacement-less-depreciation basis, the roads were not and are not over-capitalized."

"On a value-in-use basis, perhaps they are. So are a lot of businesses."

"If the roads could have foreseen the severity of obsolescence to which many of their properties would be subject, they would have avoided many expenditures and written off many others. I readily can share criticism of them for not being more conservative on this score, but it hardly seems to justify name-calling."

Third point: "Since no one," says Mr. Shaw, "can GUARANTEE the profitability of a given investment, and since the roads MUST raise a certain amount of money from time to time (maybe not so much as they think) there always will be the innocent third parties—the bond holders."

Merle Miller

AROUND THE TOWN BY MERLE MILLER I WONDER—what people mean when they long for "the good old days" . . . Do they mean those charming mornings in late 1931 with banks bursting in air and suicides raining cats and dogs—or something?

RECOMMENDED — A London trip for Frankie Hague, the little rascal. . . And a walk of a Sunday afternoon through Hyde Park, to hear the boys threatening, h e l l, high water and general revolution. . . Then quietly folding their boxes and going to sleep on the grass.

PREDICTION—Franklin Roosevelt will not be a candidate for the presidency in 1940. . . Charles Evans Hughes will not remain on the supreme court bench for time immemorial. . . Otha Wearin will not run for reelection as congressman from his district, will not retire to his Mills county farm. . . You figure them out. . . A talk with the BBC biggie who told me, "England's never had an internal revolution because the ruling classes always knew when to give way."

Dripping with sobs, this month's dollar-per-issue of Fortune has the sad tale to tell. . . Roosevelt's popularity hasn't dropped an iota since 1936. . . There will be a general five-minute silence for loud wailing. . . OBLIVION—Ex-soldiers who remember the war as "not so bad" — who find, in fading memory, some shade of glory in that mass murder of 1918—who, if you listen carefully, can be heard observing it "might not be so bad" if we had to go over and show those Germans—or what have you—how a real country is run. . . Skeptic He's a little skeptical about this "lost generation" talk. . . Also he's, no doubt, one of the town's biggest, best known men. . . He started out at $7 a week when he was graduated from college, wonders how many of my colleagues would do the same. . . I couldn't answer. . . If you can't get to the "Bowl of Rice" dance — and I, for one, will be laboring, you can drop half dollars, quarters, even nickels in tiny blue plates on one of the downtown booths. . . It will go for the cause—and as worthy a one as I know. . . Hozaanas to Marvin Chapman's five-minute valedictory word at last night's commencement, such minutes making such events reasonable. . . I wish more I know had heard the Chinese proverb I like to remember—"Great men never feel great; small men never feel small."

Data On idle evenings University hospital's Dr. Avery Lambert takes up his pen, scratches out quite the loveliest verse you hear in these parts. . . He'll be airing it this summer. . . I promised not to tell, but the Kurt Steel whose mystery plot is headlined in Scribner's is not unknown on the campus. . . Could he be a sociologist?

A GOOD NEWS STORY—One explaining why the United States trails England by at least a decade when it comes to television-naming names and firms. . . Telling how the English have 9,000 actively used sets, daily BBS broadcasts from Alexandra Palace. . . What first-class entertainment it all is. . . GOOD RIDDANCE — People, who at 60, write autobiographies exposing the business from which they've garnered a fortune. . . Around and about you can buy hand-knitted woolen covers for your favorite wooden golf clubs—also lace-edged shorts, in case anybody's interested. . . In a way it's a great pity dueling hasn't acquired the dueling habit from the French. . . For example, the d. a. student who only threatened to knock my block awry would have had such a nice chance to be a martyr. . . I like the Harvard professor who said, "Copying one book is plagiarism; copying three books is research."

S. U. I. Men in Hawaii

Capt. Leland B. Kuhre of the department of military science and tactics of the University of Iowa and two hydraulic engineering graduates of the university held responsible positions in the recent construction of new military roads and trails in Hawaii, it is reported in the June issue of "Civil Engineering" magazine.

Captain Kuhre acted as administrative assistant of the work, and Capt. Harry O. Paxson, who received a bachelor of science degree from the university in 1933, had the responsibility for purchases, contracts, property and supplies.

Lieut. William F. Cassidy, who received his master's degree in hydraulics at the university in 1934, was in local charge of six of the sub-projects of road construction.

Areas vital to the defense of the Hawaiian islands, which hitherto have been inaccessible or accessible only over vulnerable approaches, have now been joined to the maneuverable area of Schofield barracks, according to the article.

The work was carried out under weather conditions varying from the dry climate of the lee side of the island to that of the rain belt in the Koolau mountain where a rainfall of 25 inches has been recorded in as brief a time as 24 hours.

Commenting upon the work of Captain Kuhre and Captain Paxson, Col. Robert S. Thomas writes: "A most fortunate circumstance that enabled the administrative and supply function to operate smoothly was the fact that the two engineer officers in charge of administration and purchases had special aptitude for their duties and previous experience on similar assignments on river and harbor work of the corps of engineers."

"This is a marked example of the wisdom of the laws and policies that afford to engineer officers the opportunity to gain practical experience on large civil engineering works connected with the improvement of the nation's rivers and harbors."

First Candidates for Fine Arts Degrees Will Enroll in Courses Next September

First candidates for the University of Iowa's newest degrees, bachelor and master of fine arts, will enroll in their courses next September, ready to study music, dramatic art, or graphic and plastic arts.

These semi-professional programs will be offered in the school of fine arts, under the direction of the new executive, Prof. Earl E. Harper, who joins the faculty July 1.

The bachelor of fine arts degree offers opportunity for greater concentration in the freshman and sophomore years than is possible in a bachelor of arts degree. The degree is intended only for talented students with a serious interest in art, dramatics, or music.

Pioneer Boom For Education

Schools Erected To Attract New Settlers From East in 1838

There was a boom for higher education in 1838—a hundred years ago, not only for the purpose of benefitting early pioneers, but also to attract easterners to the Iowa territory.

Iowa pioneers developed enthusiasm for seminaries and academies, a distinct step above the log cabin school in the late thirties, according to W. J. Petersen, a lecturer in Iowa history at the University of Iowa.

The first institution was the Dubuque seminary, for "instruction of young persons of both sexes in science and literature." A statute of the Wisconsin territory provided for the creation of 10 seminaries, seven of them west of the Mississippi river.

Only four days after the Dubuque seminary was established, the Davenport Manual Labor college was started to "qualify young men to engage in the several employments and professions of society."

S. U. I. Alumni Group Has Received 38,078 Degrees

Its ranks swelled by the largest June class in history, the alumni body of the University of Iowa now is made up of recipients of 38,078 degrees.

From the time that the late Dexter E. Smith won the first award in 1858—80 years ago—36,932 degrees have been granted by the university, the annual report of the alumni office previous to June 1 showed.

At the June commencement Monday, 1,095 degrees were granted, but some of these went to persons who already had won at least one award at the university.

The total number of living alumni, including those of the 1938 class, has not yet been computed, but before last Monday the group included 28,445 now living and 3,812 deceased.

Of the degree winners before June 1, 27,598 were awarded one degree, 4,191 two, 441 three, 22 four, and five students individuals qualified for five degrees.

The report also shows that 114 honorary degrees have been granted, 85 to persons who are not alumni of the university.

BOSTON, June 9 (AP)—Lefty Grove's Red Sox mates backed him up with a 14-hit attack today, but he didn't need it for he blanked the Cleveland Indians, 8-0, the year's first 10-game pitching winner in the major leagues.

Only four Tribe base runners got as far as third base off the southpaw ace. He fanned eight and gave up only nine hits as the Sox took the series from the league-leaders, two games to one. The defeat shaved the Indians'

American league lead to 3½ games over the Sox and Yankees, who are deadlocked for second place.

Two homers by Jimmy Foxx's 18th and Ben Chapman's third—six doubles and a triple went into the Sox assault on Mel Harder, who was charged with his fifth defeat of the year. Chapman collected a homer, double and single, altogether. Grove, who hit a single, drove in three of the Sox runs. Bobby Doerr connected for three of the doubles.

Singles by Joe Cronin, Pinky Higgins and Lefty Grove, Doc Cramer's double and Ken Keltner's error sent the Sox away to a three-run lead in the second inning. Cramer's double, Chapman's triple and Foxx's homer added another trio in the fourth. Doerr's double, a sacrifice and Grove's grounder produced another in the fifth, and Chapman wound it up with his round tripper in the sixth.

Although the Browns scored on him in the first inning—due to a walk and an error—they failed to make a hit until the sixth.

Track Stars in Action Today

JOHN WOODRUFF—PITTSBURGH—880 YDS.
WILBUR GREER—MICHIGAN STATE—SPRINTS—
CHARLES FENWICK—WISCONSIN—880-MILE
DEANE FRARY—ILLINOIS—WEIGHTS
JOHN FRANCIS—NOTRE DAME—MID-DISTANCES

Above are shown 11 track stars who will compete today and tonight in the preliminaries this afternoon and the finals this evening.

Greer of Michigan State has been one of the outstanding sprint men of the season, while the record of Woodruff, Pittsburgh's Olympic 880 meter champion, speaks for itself. Wisconsin will be well represented in the distances with Walter Mehl handling the two-mile and the well-nigh unbeatable Fenske running the mile. John Francis, half-miler from Notre Dame, has traversed the distance in 1:52.7 this year and is also a threat, while the Illinois giant weight man, Deane Frary, and Marquette's mile relay team can also be counted on to place high.

Iowa's best bets for possible firsts appear to be Lamb in the javelin and the mile relay team.

Athletes Getting Record Number of Boos This Year; Allen Likes It

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—This, my hearties from Hester street to Gangway alley, is the year of the great hiss, the big boo, the hoamathee hoot. Everybody's doing it and everybody's getting it. Even honest animals haven't escaped.

For some strange reason, more boos have descended upon our athletic heroes this spring than in all the years since the bronx cheer came into being. Some investigators blame it all on satiated wrestling fans who now are going elsewhere to exercise their vocal organs.

Many a ball player, unaccustomed to jeers, has weakened steadily under the anvil chorus while others, long targets for angry, noisy boos thrive on it.

Allen Likes It
"Me?" demanded Pitcher Johnny Allen of the Cleveland Indians. "I'm used to boos. Fact, if I don't hear 'em I get a bit lonesome out on that hill. Only boo that gets me is when those guys boo me with those scratch hits."

Chief victim this year is Joe DiMaggio. The fans around the circuit, especially those at Yankee stadium, have been giving Giuseppe the Hester street hoot since he surrendered his holdout role and decided to take the 25 grand from Colonel Jake Ruppert. Evidently feeling sorry for the Colonel, who isn't quite sure whether he's worth 50 or 100 million bucks, the fans have been giving Giuseppe a ride. Joe still is an impressionable kid, and the boosing has got him down. He's glum and blue and not playing his usual game. To an old friend from San Francisco, he said: "Maybe I ought to play for nothing. To hell with it."

War Admiral Gets It
But the height of the cat-calling art was reached at Aqueduct Monday when War Admiral paraded to the post for his first start since March. The crowd, sore because his owner had scratched the great champion from the suburban handicap at Belmont, gave the horse the bronx cheer. One railbird dashed up to the fence and yelled at the Admiral: "Aw gwan, yuh big bum!" But when the Admiral ran a gallant, beautiful race to win he was given an ovation that shook the stands.

It's a pity Jack Sharkey isn't fighting any more. Jack thrived on the boo. If none was forthcoming when he climbed into the ring, Jack would do something, scowl at some fan or make faces so the crowd would "get on him."

And the louder the boos, the better Jack liked it.

Zaharia's Best
It was the wrestling business, of course, that cashed in on hoots and boos. On every card, the promoters had one "mean guy" who would commit some "dastardly" foul against his opponent. Chief of these "mean guys" was George Zaharias. He packed the house with righteous folk who wanted to see him slaughtered. On one particularly rousing evening, after he had made an enemy out of everybody in the house, George left the dressing room and was bumped by a fellow half as big as himself.

"Oh," apologized George. "I am so sorry. Pardon me, please."

Grimm to Give Dizzy's Arm An Indefinite Rest
CHICAGO, June 9 (AP)—The $185,000 right arm of Dizzy Dean of no use to the Chicago Cubs since May 3, is to be rested again, this time indefinitely.

Charlie Grimm, manager of the Cubs, announced today that Dean, who has been gradually conditioning his arm now for five weeks, will not pitch in any of the games during the Cubs' home stay, which concludes on Sunday.

Dean, after warming up yesterday for relief pitching duty, reported to Grimm that his arm was tired and ached. He said, however, there was no acute pain in the shoulder, which laid him up after four starting efforts.

Mace Brown Is Winner Again In Relief Role, 5-3

PITTSBURGH, June 9 (AP)—Relief Pitcher Mace Brown limited the Boston Bees to only two hits in seven innings and hit a scratch single with the game deadlocked and the bases loaded in the sixth today to give the Pirates a 5-3 victory and sweep the two-game series.

Brown's hit was Jim Turner who passed Pep Young intentionally, filling the bases. Brown slapped a grounder that took a bad hop and rolled away from Rabbit Warstler as two runs counted.

The victory was Brown's seventh in the relief role. He replaced Jim Tobin. The Pirates outthrew the Bees, 10 to eight.

Paul Wamer, Pirate star who has slumped recently, nicked Turner for a double and two singles in four trips.

Menzel to Meet Don Budge In Tennis Finals

AUTEUIL, France, June 9 (AP)—Giant Roderich Menzel of Czechoslovakia was the final barrier tonight between Red-headed Don Budge of California and the second trick in his hoped-for tennis grand slam.

Budge and Menzel, who is making a comeback after a year's absence from big time tennis, are finalists in the French hard court singles championship. Budge, already winner this year of the Australian crown, intends to add it to the French, British and United States titles this summer.

The finalists gained their brackets with straight set semi-final triumphs. The Californian, whose every shot packed dynamite, blasted away Josip Pallada of Yugoslavia, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3. Menzel eliminated Pallada's countryman and Davis cup partner, Ferenc Puncce, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Pallada spent much of the time dodging Budge's blistering shots. In the final set the Californian set such a pace that, at one point, the Yugoslavian put his foot through his racket in seeking to "escape" a Budge placement.

Menzel's victory avenged at least in part the defeat handed him by Puncce when Yugoslavia eliminated the Czechs in the first round of European zone Davis cup play.

While Budge went into the singles final his doubles mate, Gene Mako, teamed with Mrs. Harry Hopman of Australia to reach the mixed doubles semi-finals. They whipped Jacqueline Horner and Jacques Sanglier of France, 6-1, 6-0.

Mme. Simone Mathieu, No. 1 French woman player, and Nelly Adamson of Belgium reached the women's singles final, with straight set victories over Mme. Half of France and Mme. Rollin Couquerque of Holland, respectively.

Terrymen Get Three Runs In Ninth Inning to Break Deadlock And Win, 8-5; Bartell Homers

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP)—Bill Terry's New York Giants, champions of the National league, swept to a game and one half lead over the Chicago Cubs today by winning the final game of their important series, 8 to 5. The battle was witnessed by 14,317.

The Giants, with the score deadlocked at 5 to 5, charged home with three runs in the ninth inning to achieve victory, their third over the Cubs in four games. With two men out, Walter Brown, a relief pitcher singled and took second when Tex Carleton was charged with a balk. That was the turning point in the battle.

After the Giants had scored two runs in the third, the Cubs came back in their half of the inning to push three markers home. With one out, New York counted its first two runs on a single by Kampouris and Bartell's homer into the left field bleachers. It was his second of the season.

The Cubs got their three runs on four passes and a pair of singles. Three of the walks and both hits sent Clyde Castlemen to the showers. Bill Lohrman took his place and subdued the Cubs without trouble.

The Giants scored twice in the fourth to take a one run margin on a walk and three hits, but the Cubs went ahead with two runs in their half of the inning. Two walks, an error and two hits figured in the markers. The Giants then came back to knot the score at 5-5 in the fifth. Lou Chiozza, pinch hitting for Lohrman, singled, went to second on a wild pitch, advanced to third on a sacrifice and romped home on Moore's double.

Brown, who pitched the last five innings to get credit for the victory, allowed only two of the six hits the Cubs collected. The Giants had a total of 13.

Winners Add Full Game To League Lead; Brown Wins

Yankees Defeat White Sox, 5-3

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—The Yankees saved the final game of their four-game series with the Chicago White Sox by coming through with a 5-3 victory today with the aid of five Sox errors and Bill Dickey's seventh homer of the year.

After Rookie Joe Beggs spotted the Sox three runs in the first frame, he pitched shutout ball the rest of the way. Lou Gehrig was his major defensive help, making 19 of the putouts.

Dickey's homer came with one aboard in the fourth

Picard and Hines Score 70's to Pace National Open Field

Poor Weather, Hazards Prove Big Handicaps

Many Favorites Falter On Tough Cherry Hills Course

By ALAN GOULD
DENVER, June 9 (AP)—Jimmie Hines, Metropolitan New York Open title holder, tied Henry Picard, fellow professional from Hershey, Pa., for the first round lead in the United States Open golf championship late today at 70, one under par for Cherry Hills.

While most of the day's gallery of 5,000 spectators scrambled for a peek at his finish, Hines tossed a great chance to get undisputed possession of the lead by taking a six on the par-four 18th or "lake hole." He overshot the last green, then three-putted from 15 feet, just before a thunderstorm broke over the course.

Out in 34 and with a bag of six birds through the 14th, Hines faltered at the finish of a brilliant round as the climax to a bizarre opening day as the Open championship has witnessed in years. The weather ranged from scorching sunshine to wind-swept rain. The scores shuffled from a handful of par figures, on either nine, to the 90's and the officials were run ragged trying to untangle disputes.

Snead Tails
Five-star victims of the day's terrific toll of casualties in a battle that lasted until 8 p. m., (CST) included Slammin' Sammy Snead, the West Virginia mountaineer who started out as the 5 to 1 favorite and wound up seven strokes off the pace, with a 77. Snead never was able to get his long game under control.

The defending champion, Ralph Guldahl of Madison, N. J., was within range of the pace makers with a 74 but the hazards of Cherry Hills, especially on the last three holes, wrecked the chances of more favorites than the oldest tournament follower could recall.

Nelson Finds Trouble
Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., concentrated his errors on the 535-yard creek infested fifth, where he took a nine. He finished with 77. Victor Ghezzi, Deal, N. J., sharpshooter, finished with a seven on a 79. Jimmy Thomson, the siege gun from Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., blew himself to an 82, despite the fact he was using irons off most tees to try to keep out of trouble.

Scarcely a dozen scores, on either nine, equalled or bettered par figures. John Rogers, the Denver pro who occupied third place at 71, had the best outgoing nine, 33. Picard's incoming 34 was the only subpar performance in the incoming half of Cherry Hills.

Two former champions, Gene Sarazen, the Connecticut farmer, and Bill Burke of Cleveland, missed chances to stick closer to the pace by failing to hurdle the final obstacles successfully. Each dropped three strokes to par on these holes to finish with 74 and 75, respectively.

76 for Cooper
"Light Horse Harry" Cooper, Chicago stylist who has repeatedly come close but never finished on top, wound up his first foray with a 76. Cooper had a weird round. He was six over par after 11 holes, then shot three birdies in the next five holes, only to falter again on the last two holes.

Not even the pace setters were exempt from the chapter of grief written on the last few holes, particularly the 18th, as tough a par four as they come.

It was there that Picard spoiled his opportunity to break 70 by overplaying the green and carding a bogey five. That Rogers scrambled to take a six when he still had a good chance himself to move into the driver's seat, and that Hines muffed his big chance by three-putting from 15 feet.

Several Golfers Close
The only thing that seemed wide open, after the first round firing, was the snow capped background of Rocky mountains, but nearly a score of players remained within a five stroke range at the top of the scrambled heap.

Most of these in closest pursuit of the twin pace makers were of the "dark horse" variety. Besides Rogers, a 35 to 1 shot in the local books when he teed off, there was Emery Zimmerman of Portland, Ore., in fourth place with a 72, Willie Hunter of Los Angeles and Dick Metz of Chicago tied in fifth position, at 73.

It appeared likely the qualifying deadline tomorrow night, at the end of 36 holes, would be either 159 or 157. After the second round only the low 60 and ties for 60th play compete in the concluding 36 holes Saturday. Last year the top qualifying score was 152 at Oakland Hills, near Detroit.

Above is shown a view of the clubhouse at the Cherry Hills golf course in Denver where the difficulty of the course, coupled with bad weather conditions yesterday, resulted in higher-than-usual scores for entries in the national open golf meet.

Mackmen Spoil Kennedy Mark With 8-5 Loss

Four-Run Home Run By Lodigiani Is Big Factor

PHILADELPHIA, June 9 (AP)—The Athletics spoiled Vernon Kennedy's bid for his 10th straight victory today, handing the Detroit star right hander his first setback of the season, 8-5, with the help of Nelson Potter's great relief pitching in the ninth. Kennedy was lifted for a pinch-hitter, at the start of the seventh after Dario Lodigiani's sixth inning homer with the bases full had wiped out a 4-3 Detroit lead. Rudy York smashed his 13th homer off Chubby Dean in the eighth, but Bob Johnson matched this with his 11th circuit blow to set the stage for Potter's relief act in the ninth after Detroit had filled the bases with one out. Potter fanned Hank Greenberg and got York on a grounder to Ambler.

Pete Fox hit a homer for Detroit in the second off Edgar Smith.

Alva Bradley To Attempt to Patch Allen-Vitt Quarrel

CLEVELAND, June 9 (AP)—President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians left for New York tonight with the announced intention of mending a break between Pitcher Johnny Allen and Manager Oscar Vitt by having Allen mend the torn sleeve of his pitching sweat-shirt.

Allen walked off the field at Boston Tuesday and refused to pitch when Umpire Bill McGowan ordered him to remove his shirt because it had been slit on the right sleeve in violation of American league rules. "Of course Allen can't wear that shirt, it's against the league rules," Bradley said. "Or, if he does wear it, at least he'll have to sew it up."

Wightman Cup Team is Still Favored to Win

WIMBLEDON, England, June 9 (AP)—Despite the loss of Helen Jacobs, who pulled a nerve in her right arm and may be unable to play for two weeks, the United States women's tennis team was favored tonight at 5-1 to win the Wightman Cup series for the eighth straight time in the two day matches starting tomorrow.

Miss Jacobs, who developed a stiff neck and shoulders yesterday, injured her arm in a practice set against Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan of Boston, who was named to the No. 3 singles spot in her place. Today, with her arm in a sling, the California veteran watched Helen Willis Moody beat Alice Marble in a terrific set in the last practice before the matches. The score was 6-3.

After the workout Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, captain of the U. S. team, said: "I have never seen Mrs. Moody or Miss Marble play better. Naturally I am confident."

Miss Marble, American champion in 1936, will lead off in tomorrow's singles against left handed Kay Stammers. Mrs. Moody meets Margaret Scriven. In doubles Miss Marble and Mrs. Fabyan will play Fred James and Margot Lumb.

On Saturday Miss Lumb will play Mrs. Fabyan, Miss Stammers will meet Mrs. Moody and Miss Marble will face Miss Scriven, while the doubles will send Mrs. Moody and Dorothy May Bundy against Evelyn Dearman and Joan Ingram.

Miss Jacobs really is worried about the possibility of not being able to play in the all-England championships opening at Wimbledon July 20.

"I won't know until tomorrow," she said.

Brundage Replies To Statement Of Harvard Director

CHICAGO, June 9 (AP)—Avery Brundage, chairman of the American Olympic committee, said tonight that the "relations of the United States with the Japanese government are quite outside the province of the American Olympic committee and in the hands of the state department in Washington."

In a statement replying to William J. Bingham, Harvard athletic director and chairman of the 1936 U. S. Olympic track and field committee, Brundage said the committee regretted it would not have the support of Bingham, who yesterday disassociated himself from all connection with the 1940 games, awarded to Japan.

Louis Appears Listless, Slow In Boxing Drill

Bomber Gives His Ring Followers Little To Cheer About

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 9 (AP)—Joe Louis looked like anything but a world's champion today as he went through another six round drill for his heavyweight title scrap with Max Schmeling in Yankee Stadium, New York, June 22.

Ringsiders who saw both workouts said the brown bomber was much better than Tuesday when he turned in his saddest performance of the current training grind, but even that gave his associates and backers little to cheer about.

Louis was listless, slow and apparently was easily hit by his sparring partner. Most of the licks he took in stride, but a left hand "Deacon" Leonard Dixon of Philadelphia sank into the pit of the stomach partly doubled Louis up and caused him to grunt loud enough to be heard in the rear of the arena.

Schmeling's Right Working Fine

SPECULATOR, N. Y., June 9 (AP)—Maybe it's not news but Max Schmeling's sparring mates agree the German heavyweight has one of the fastest right hands now extant.

"Max has a straight right which is hard to guess," said Al Albin, one of Schmeling's sparring mates, today. "He never gives any intimation when he is going to throw it. It carries plenty of power too."

Schmeling, preparing for his 15-round title bout with Champion Joe Louis, rested today save for his usual road work. He won't resume boxing until Saturday.

Four Veterans Advance Again In Trans Meet

TULSA, Okla., June 9 (AP)—Four seasoned campaigners of women's golf put on the pressure where it was needed today and played their way into the semifinals of the 12th annual Trans-Mississippi tournament.

The winners in the third round were this year's champion, Betty Jameson, San Antonio; Mrs. Opal Hill, Kansas City, who has held the title four times; Mrs. Patty Newbold, Wichita, Kan., who held the championship in 1932 and Patty Berg of Minneapolis, co-medalist in 1936 and 1937 and runner-up for the title last year.

Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Ft. Worth gave Betty Jameson a dogged battle that went on to the 17th where the champion closed the match, two and one.

Miss Berg went into the semifinals at the expense of Mrs. Lillian Zech of Chicago, 6 and 5. Tomorrow Miss Jameson will meet Mrs. Hill while Miss Berg goes up against Mrs. Newbold for the right to enter the finals.

Cincinnati Redlegs Recall Don Lang To Plug Gap In Infield

CINCINNATI, June 9 (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds recalled Don Lang today from the Albany club of the Eastern league to fill the gap among utility infielders left by the trade of Alex Kampouris to the New York Giants. Lang, a California native, trained with the Reds in the south this spring and was sent to Syracuse of the International league and then to Albany for seasoning.

Iowa Gridders Will Have Heavy Conference Cards

Ohio State Only Absentee During Next Four Years; Big Games at Iowa City Next Fall

Ohio State is the only Big Ten absentee from the University of Iowa football schedule of the next four seasons, as the Hawkeyes play the other rivals from one to four times.

An analysis of the bookings of major games for 1938, 1939, 1940, and 1941 shows that Iowa will play 22 conference contests, nine at home, as well as seven non-conference affairs, four at Iowa City.

Next fall Iowa faces four big home games, the greatest number in many years. Wisconsin and Purdue are the league rivals and Colgate, the tricky eastern team; and Nebraska, Big Six perennial champion, also will play in the stadium.

In 1940, the Hawks play three of their five Big Ten affairs on the home field and in the years when only two conference games are set for home, the schedules are improved by the addition of such teams as Colgate and Nebraska in 1938, Notre Dame in 1939, and Nebraska in 1941.

Far-rolling Stones Are Gathering Moss

ABERDEEN, Wash. (AP) — In Antwerp, in the 14th or 15th century, the burghers paved their streets with rounded cobblestones. By 1907, the paving was getting worn so the stones were piled on a dock.

A Dutch ship picked them up for ballast and sailed here to take on cargo, dumping its ballast on dock. Mark Sherwood, who was building a house, hauled them away and cemented them into walls of his place.

Aberdeen grew, the Sherwood house aged. This spring, workmen tore the house down, piling the Antwerp stones on the lawn. Once again they traveled, this time coming to rest to gather moss as borders for a dozen Aberdeen peony beds.

Harper Names Seven Basic Values for Life and Education To Iowa City High Seniors

Education Board Head Presents Diplomas To Graduates

Seven fundamental values, making life and education worthwhile, were named by Earl E. Harper, former president of Simpson college and new director of the university school of fine arts and Iowa Union, at the Iowa City high school commencement last night.

"Economic, physical, recreational, social, intellectual, aesthetic and spiritual values" Dr. Harper called "those fundamental and basic values that make life and education worthwhile." These values are essentially worth a part in anyone's life.

"In economic values we are dealing with life itself," he said. "Integrity of character is reflected by the attitude toward conservation and saving."

"The soul is the essential self or person," Dr. Harper continued. "When the body dominates the person, he is a beast; when the body is subordinate to the soul, that body is a man." Physical education puts a fitting machine at the disposal of the self and provides a change for generations to come, Harper said.

One should never allow interest in the spirit of play and recreation to be dimmed. Recreation is the rejuvenation of the soul and should be fostered and encouraged, he maintained.

One needs a practical education in addition to book knowledge, Harper declared.

"A man who does not respond to fine arts," Dr. Harper said, "is an aesthetic illiterate. Any man born with normal endowments will know something of line, color or song," he quoted. "One must be interested in some sort of fine art to get something worthwhile out of life."

Two musical selections, "String Quartette in D Minor" by Smetana, played by the string quartette, and "Night Song" by Clokey, sung by the girls sextette, were included in the program. The Rev. Ilion T. Jones delivered the invocation and the benediction. Salutatorian Dorothy Soucek and Valedictorian Marvin Chapman spoke.

John M. Kadlec, president of the board of education presented the diplomas.

3 Cents Daily for Refugee

Missionary Letter States That Amount Will Feed One Nanking Resident

By "BUD" CARTER

Asserting that it costs only three cents a day to feed one refugee in Nanking, a letter received recently from a missionary in China by Prof. and Mrs. C. L. McCloy asks that the Americans hasten the work of raising funds for Chinese civilian relief because in Nanking alone 200,000 persons look to a group of 22 foreigners — 14 of them Americans — for food.

The letter, from which the name had been deleted because of fear of Japanese reprisal, is one of three which the McCloy's have received from the missionary since the first of the year.

The letter said that a section of Nanking, including Ginning college and the University of Nanking with its mission hospital, had been set aside by the mayor of Nanking as a safety zone.

"Motor cars have had the American flag torn from them and then been seized. What we have just read of the slapping of Allison's face is typical of the lack of respect for foreigners and their property."

At the time of the establishment of the safety zone, the committee was given 2,000 tons of rice, 10,000 bags of flour and $80,000 by the mayor of Nanking.

At the time of the letter, the missionary received word from the committee that it had rice and flour for about three weeks and coal enough for 10 days.

The missionary said that he had read the Jan. 10 issue of Life magazine describing a "week of hell in Nanking." He explained that all that the magazine had said was true except that the hell was not over in a week.

Mrs. A. Haworth Will Replace Williams in Directorship Here

Mrs. Agnes Haworth, formerly recreational director at Cedar Falls, will replace Clifford Williams as one of the directors of the Iowa City recreation center playgrounds, June 20, under the sponsorship of the Iowa City recreation board.

Ramona Swan of Madrid and Darrell E. Latham, who has just completed a four-year course in the men's physical education department at the university, have also been appointed playground directors.

Assistants are Dorothy Ahern, A4, of Iowa City; Earl Crain of Iowa City, and a person as yet unnamed to be selected from a list of applicants.

The directors will be assisted by part-time workers employed by the National Youth administration. They are Maxine Teefy, Pauline Crossett, Jean Hanlon and Agnes Costello.

Kathryn Stanley, a senior from Oskaloosa, has been selected to take charge of the teen age craft program at all the playgrounds.

The playgrounds will be located at Horace Mann, Longfellow and Henry Sabin schools. All Iowa City boys and girls between the ages of five and 18 are urged to take part in the summer activities, according to Eugene Trowbridge, center director.

St. Mary's Pastor Appointed Consultor To Bishop Again

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. J. Schulte, P. A. V. F., pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church here, was reappointed Diocesan consultor to the bishop for a term of three years, according to an announcement yesterday by Bishop Henry P. Rohlfman of Davenport.

The board of parish priest consultors includes the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jacobsmeier, pastor of St. Mary's church of Riverside, and the Rev. W. E. Carroll, pastor of St. Patrick's church of Marengo.

zone, and negotiations were made with both the Chinese and Japanese armies to respect the area.

The 22 westerners, 14 Americans, six Germans and two Russians, remained in the zone throughout the siege, the letter claimed.

Describing the siege of Nanking by the Japanese, the letter from the missionary reads:

"On Dec. 10, refugees began streaming into the zone. Sunday, Dec. 12, airplanes were zooming overhead all day long, but the committee (the foreigners) did not heed them. The shell fire was terrific; the wall had been breached, and the damage in the southern part of the city was enormous.

"The store of what happened after that is not complete. But in part, disarmed soldiers who had sought sanctuary in the safety zone were taken out and shot by the thousands. Even hundreds of civilians have been taken from the zone for bayonet practice.

"Our own home with both American and Japanese military seals on the doors has been looted, but so had every

A $125 donation to the recreation center fund to aid in the summer playground program in Iowa City has been made by the Iowa City Woman's club, the executive committee of the Iowa City Recreation board announced last night.

The committee also announced the receipt of a gift from the Altrusa club. Both organizations have made annual donations to the recreation fund.

One of the board members said that the financial assistance given by these groups to the recreation has made possible the development and growth of the community recreation program in Iowa City.
