She Tells Story of Insanity

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
SAN FRANCISCO, June 10 (AP)—The inside story of insanity, what a person thinks about when raving, was revealed to the American Psychiatric association today by a woman scientist who had been insane but recovered.

years with a "benign psychosis" that followed pneumonia. The report of her story was made today by J. A. Kindwall, M.D., of Clifton Springs, N. Y., and Elaine F. Kinder, Ph.D., of Letchworth village, Thiells, N. Y. "EFK" did not remember her insanity thoughts at first. She recalled them by going back to the hospital, talking to the nurses and doctors, reading newspaper and other files of the period of her confinement. The story she recalled, bit by bit, covers 500 type-written pages.

co-workers. Her reaction to the news was a series of animal-like howls. She was put in a wet pack as a sedative. But in this case she put up an unusually determined resistance, with extreme violence so that extra nurses had to be called. "During the days and nights that followed," she continued, "the resentment and bitterness of that experience continued. Only when I could get off somewhere by myself did it subside. At times, everything that was said seemed an insult, every nurse who came near me an enemy with diabolical intent."

Summer Session Machinery Ready For New Students

With a staff of more than 100 added assistants prepared to conduct the registration of summer school students, the machinery of registration, from the faculty advisers and fee checkers in Iowa Union to each of the various departments of University hall, was in readiness last night to register upwards of 2,000 students who will enroll today for almost 700 summer session courses.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. this morning, and will close at 5 p.m. During the registration, the deans of the various colleges and heads of the departments will be present in the main lounge of Iowa Union to aid students in planning their study lists.

When study lists have been approved, students complete their registration in University hall, where new students sit for photographs, and fees are assessed. The payment of fees completes the registration procedure.

Roosevelt's Son Refuses Bid To Run for Office

Rejects Request To Be Lieut.-Gov. Candidate In East

BOSTON, June 10 (AP)—James Roosevelt, son and secretary of the president, tonight rejected a citizens' committee's request that he run for lieutenant governor of Massachusetts, declaring, "I feel that I have an obligation above all else to remain at my duties" in Washington.

Another reason for his decision, Roosevelt said, was "based upon the conviction that under the present social and economic conditions in the state of Massachusetts a candidate seeking election as governor or lieutenant governor must possess very special equipment."

Members of the committee expressed regret at the refusal, but said the reasons, as explained in Roosevelt's letter, "are sufficient in themselves."

"I desire, through study and experience, to develop further my knowledge of governmental affairs before considering the possibility of elective office," said Roosevelt.

Made in Letter
Arriving by plane from Washington for the week-end, he made his statement in the form of a letter to Charles Malott, democratic state committeeman, who led a James Roosevelt-for-lieutenant governor movement.

The letter was handed to Malott by Roosevelt.

The president's son parried questions "what about 1940?" with the declaration "in Washington, that's what we call an 'if' question."

Fire Destroys Barn on Farm
Lightning which struck during the heavy downpour of rain at 6 p.m. yesterday caused a large barn on the V. F. Cole farm, four miles north on the Prairie du Chien road, to burn to the ground and killed a horse in the barn.

An Iowa City fire department pumper and crew, aided by the crowd which the huge fire attracted, prevented the blaze from spreading to the other buildings nearby.

All of the Cole cattle and horses, 19 cows, seven calves and six horses, were in the barn at the time of the fire, and all were led to safety but the horse which had been instantly killed.

Mrs. Cole, who was standing on the porch of the house at the time the lightning struck, said at first only a wisp of smoke was noticeable and then the whole barn seemed to be in flames. The barn was partially insured, she said.

F. R. to Fight for New Deal

Vigorous Mid-Term Campaign Arranged Before Congressional Elections

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt's decision to make a trans-continental tour this summer is a notice to democratic foes that he has just begun to fight for continuation of his new deal policies as democratic doctrine in 1940.

Other second-term presidents of modern times have taken little open part in the mid-term struggles within their parties for nominations to congress. But Mr. Roosevelt is answering a challenge by his national party leadership by reasserting that leadership aggressively. The full force of Roosevelt personal popularity is being mobilized.

The president appears to be arranging for a vigorous campaign in this year's congressional primary and election contests. The

Many Express Doubt of Bill's Passage Soon

Southern Opposition To Minimum Wages Causes Delay

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The under-cover struggling over the wage-hour bill became so strenuous today that informed legislators began to express doubts that the labor standards bill would be enacted this year.

A senate-house conference committee trying to reach a compromise between the two chambers dropped the controversial minimum wage question for the time being to "let the situation cool off." It decided to labor on lesser sections of the measure.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla), prominent among the compromise seekers, complained that "pressure groups," whom he did not identify, had been "working on" the conference committee.

Fillbuster in Senate
Another prominent senator said he had heard that, even if the committee reaches a compromise there would be a filibuster against it in the senate. It would be conducted, he said, by a group of northerners and southerners opposed to the whole theory of wage-hour legislation.

In the conference committee a chief bone of contention is the subject of wage differentials. Many southerners are bitterly opposed to applying the same wage minima to the south as to the north.

There were indications that some members of the conference group were ready to yield to the southern demand for lower minimum scales in the south than in the industrial north. Such a concession, if approved, would go far, it was felt, to break the deadlock in which the conferees were caught.

25-Cent Minimum
As the bill stood tonight, the conferees had agreed to a formula acceptable to the southerners in all respects save one. It called for a 25 cent minimum wage the first year and thirty cents the second. During this time there would be no geographical differentials. After the second year the rates would be fixed between 30 and 40 cents upon the recommendation of boards appointed for each industry. The boards could consider southern living costs, prevailing wage scales and railroad rates in arriving at their decisions.

After five years of this, however, a flat and rigid 40 cent rate would be imposed the country over, except in industries which could demonstrate in advance that disemployment would result.

This was the provision opposed by southerners. They demanded that sectional factors be considered in determining what plants should be granted exemptions from the 40 cent minimum.

While the wage-hour conferees were at work, another conference group discussed the differences between the senate and the house on the $3,000,000,000 lending-spending bill.

Police End Probe As McCall Admits Kidnaping, Murder

Solution Takes FBI 2 Weeks

Prosecutors Get Case; Parents Attend Funeral

MIAMI, Fla., June 10 (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, announced Franklin Pierce McCall signed today a detailed confession that he kidnaped and killed James Bailey Cash Jr.

Hoover named the 21-year-old truck driver as the single-handed kidnaper and killer, said the police investigation was closed and turned the case over to state prosecutors today, less than two weeks after the crime.

Attend Funeral
The FBI chief said the eight-page confession was signed shortly before the victim's parents attended funeral services for their five-year-old only child.

State's Attorney George Worley said he would seek both murder and kidnaping indictments against the young minister's son who once roomed in the Cash home at Princeton and frequently played with the boy he's accused of killing.

Both murder and kidnaping for ransom are capital crimes in Florida and Worley said he would seek to speed the case to trial—possibly within three or four weeks—if an already summoned grand jury returns indictments when it meets Monday.

"Will Plead Guilty"
The prisoner was brought by a devious route from FBI offices to the county's skyscraper jail where he was booked on an open charge of "held for the state's attorney."

Sheriff D. C. Coleman expressed the opinion McCall would plead guilty to whatever charge is filed against him.

"At least, in his present state of mind he has indicated that," the sheriff said.

Clad in a gray, double-breasted suit and wearing a white shirt open at the collar, McCall was handcuffed when he was brought in for booking.

"I don't think it's any good, I (See McCALL, page 3)

Bombs Reduce City to Ruins

SHANGHAI, June 11 (Saturday) (AP)—Japanese bombs and the Chinese "scorched earth" policy had reduced Chengchow today from a once prosperous railway center to a city of ruins.

Chinese still held the city, junction point of the east-west Lung-hai and north-south Peiping-Hankow railways, against the Japanese drive for the position to strike south against Hankow, one of China's provisional capitals.

The exact status of the battle for the center remained unclear, however, as the two sides gave conflicting reports.

Japanese said they had severed the Peiping-Hankow railway at three points south of Chengchow, cutting off, any Chinese retreat south toward Hankow and facilitating attacks on the railway junction.

They asserted the most effective destruction of the railway line was accomplished by blowing up an iron bridge between Chengchow and Sincheng, 30 miles southeast.

The operations carried out by a picked group of engineers.

NO QUESTIONS

St. Louis Police May Leave Town

ST. LOUIS, June 10 (AP)—for the first time in years, members of the St. Louis police force may take the family out for a spin in the country, and no questions asked.

Previously a rule forbade policemen to go out of the city at any time without permission. The board of police commissioners decided today members of the force may leave the city limits behind for as long as 10 hours without asking.

Government Near End Of Testimony In Harlan Trial

LONDON, Ky., June 10 (AP)—Mrs. Malline Musick, one of the last of the government witnesses in the Harlan anti-union conspiracy trial, described today how shots were fired into the Musick home on a cold night in February, 1937, killing her second eldest son, Bennett.

Her story, punctuated by sobs, virtually closed the chronology of terrorism and violence placed before the jury by the government in its efforts to convict 44 Harlan countians and 20 corporations on charges of conspiring to deprive miners in the rich Harlan soft coal field of the right to organize.

Meanwhile at Harlan, Sheriff Herbert Cawood said the shooting of Lester Smithers, 30, former president of a United Mine Workers of America union at Yancey, Ky., had nothing to do with the London trials. Commenting on the reported kidnaping of John Isom, a union organizer, the sheriff termed it a "publicity stunt."

Verlin Fee, 29, and his brother, Clyde Fee, 27, remained in the Harlan jail tonight in default of $5,000 bond on charges of murder in connection with the Smithers' shooting yesterday. Both men waived examining trials today.

The sheriff said Verlin Fee denied he had accused Smithers, who was under subpoena by the government of "snitching."

Doctor Robbed
DAVENPORT (AP)—Dr. W. F. Skelley, Scott county coroner, reported to police a bandit last night robbed him of $84 in his downtown office here.

F. R. Laughs

Denies Aide Has Too Much Power

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—A burst of laughter was President Roosevelt's reaction today to complaints that Thomas Corcoran, member of the administration's inner circle, was wielding too much political power.

At Mr. Roosevelt's press conference, a reporter brought up the subject of Corcoran, RFC attorney and author of much administration legislation.

Apparently alluding to senatorial complaints that Corcoran and other "left wingers" were trying to purge the democratic party of anti-new deal senators in the 1938 primaries, the reporter asked the chief executive how much political power had been delegated to Corcoran.

After laughing heartily, the president said it seemed somebody was trying to build up a bogeyman.

Tornado Kills Five in Texas
Possibly Others Dead; Thirty or Forty Injured

CLYDE, Tex., June 10 (AP)—A tornado struck this tiny Texas town tonight, killing at least five persons, leaving possibly several more dead and injuring 30 or 40 others.

An estimated 25 homes were destroyed as the storm cut a swath 200 yards wide across the town of about 700 inhabitants.

All available ambulances, nurses, doctors and fire equipment were rushed here from Abilene, 15 miles west, and smaller towns nearby.

The known dead: Mrs. Marian Graham. J. Emmett Graham, her husband. M. E. Sullivan.

Mrs. J. B. Easterling. Mrs. J. B. Bonner. The storm tore off one side of the high school building. The grammar school building was being used as a hospital and relief headquarters.

The storm caught a Texas and Pacific freight train, scattering box cars along the right of way. Ralph Short, newsmen, reported "possibly 10 to 20 were killed and the number of injured is almost impossible to estimate."

Vice Consul Leaves
GANDIA, Spain (AP)—The United States destroyer Claxton sailed last night from bomb-wrecked Gandia, taking Vice Consul Lee Worley, who will undergo an appendectomy in Paris to Marseille.

Spanish Insurgents Continue Air Raids; France, England Avoid Drastic Action

By Associated Press
Insurgent air raiders kept up destruction of British and French ships in the Mediterranean yesterday (Friday) while the two governments remained silent but hopeful that diplomatic pressure would eliminate necessity of drastic action to halt the attacks.

Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet of France was represented as ready to cooperate with London in "extreme measures" to stop the raids, but indications were that Britain was unwilling to risk any measures which might develop international complications.

Increased demands for action and renewed attacks on Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's foreign policy failed to move the British government. A cabinet meeting will be held Monday, however, to review possible steps by his majesty's government.

Insurgent planes, bent on stopping the flow of foreign supplies to government Spain, finished off the British freighter Thorpehaven, bombed three days ago at Alicante, and the French freighter Brisbane, ablaze off Denia since her first bombing Thursday.

The raiders also bomber four eastern Spanish ports, including Alicante, Denia, Castellon de la Plana and the British-owned port of Gandia. The British vessel Isadora sank Thursday.

Eight Soldiers Die in Illinois Airplane Crash

DELAVAN, Ill., June 10 (AP)—A storm-tossed army bombing plane burst into flame and plunged into a farm field today, scattering the broken bodies of its full crew of eight soldiers over the rain drenched prairie.

The huge craft, caught in the onslaught of lightning, thunder, rain and buffeting winds, crashed to the ground with terrific force.

Carey Youle, who witnessed the tragedy on his father's farm, reported the big bomber exploded, bounced high in the air and spewed bits of debris over a half mile area.

Victims of one of the most appalling plane disasters in recent army records were:

Captain Richard B. Reeve, 36, Waukegan, Wis.
First Lieut. Norman H. Ives, 31, Los Angeles.
Second Lieut. Thomas Langben, 27, Galveston, Tex.
Staff Sergeant Edward F. Murah, 32, Denver.
Corp. William H. Housley, 30, Stillwater, Okla.

Private Philip J. Truitt, 23, Galax, Va.
Private Max W. Myser, 21, Villa Grove, Ill.
Private George L. Huntsman, 23, Kankakee, Ill.

Lieut. O. E. Henderson of the army's Chanute field at Rantoul, Ill., said the three officers and five enlisted men left there at 9:25 a.m. (CST) in a Douglas B18 bomber on a "routine" flight back to their home base at the air corps technical school at Lowry field in Denver. They had arrived from Denver yesterday.

Henderson reported Ives was piloting the ship at an altitude of 6,500 feet—Langben was his copilot.

Chanute field's last attempt to establish radio communication with the plane went unanswered at 10:05.

Approximately ten minutes later Youle heard the twin motors above the gathering clouds one mile north of Delavan.

"Then I saw a sheet of flame shooting toward the earth," he related. "The ship dropped. I couldn't see any men jumping.

"It hit with heavy force a half mile from me. Then came the explosion. The plane bounced high. Parts of it flew everywhere. It came down again with terrific force. It settled on top of a knoll in the open field."

Youle told how he drove a team of horses to the shattered bomber. He added:

"One man, wearing a parachute, was still in the wreckage. Other bodies in uniforms, badly mangled, were scattered all over. All had parachutes attached to their backs. Two or three of these 'chutes were opened but charred and burned. It appeared that these men had leaped trying to save themselves and the 'chutes caught fire as they left the ship."

He found all the airmen were dead. Their bodies were taken to a mortuary here in a wagon.

Part of one wing lay a half mile from the main fragment of the bomber.

House Suggests Probe of Radio

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—A proposal that the house investigate charges of monopoly in the radio industry received approval of the house rules committee today despite the opposition of administration leaders.

By a 7 to 6 vote, the committee sent to the house floor a resolution to authorize the inquiry.

If the resolution is approved there, seven representatives will be appointed to make the study.

Representatives O'Connor, (D-NY) and Connerly (D-Mass), sponsors of the proposal, said the investigation, if undertaken, would extend to activities of the federal communications commission.

Abe Pickus Comments

On Diplomacy "THE JAPANESE," said Abe Pickus, "are real diplomats." And Abe should recognize diplomacy when he hears it for he has spent thousands of dollars telephoning world statesmen in his fruitless effort to outlaw war.

Calling from his Cleveland home, Abe has urged Spanish, Japanese, British and German leaders to give up their wasteful practices of war and substitute peaceful measures.

"I advised him to make peace," said Pickus, referring to his talk with General Franco, "and he told me he was in favor of peace. I told him to call a general election, and he said he couldn't understand me as he was a little deaf."

Little success rewarded his efforts to pacify Germany. When he told one of Hitler's secretaries that Germany would be "wiped off the map" if she started another war, the secretary hung up on him.

When he attempted to speak to England's prime minister regarding the situation in Palestine, an indignant secretary gave him little or no satisfaction.

But the Japanese, when called by Pickus, were more than cooperative. When he told the Japanese ambassador to abandon the conquest of China, he was informed that the Japanese people desire peace with all their hearts.

"The Japanese," said Pickus, "give you nice words, but they won't put them in writing." After almost a year of Japanese "diplomacy," the United States, Great Britain and France could tell Abe Pickus all about the diplomatic skill of the Nipponese.

The earth, rotating on its axis, is gradually slowing down. But don't worry, the bombing planes in Spain and Asia are doing their best to streamline the old globe again.

Zadok Dumbkopf, who has been reading that book, "The Rains Came," says he found it so realistic he got up in his own sleep last night and borrowed his own umbrella.

Such an occurrence is by now an old story to Cleveland, which all winter has had a perplexing relief problem. Yet the situation there can do much to provide a focus for understanding the relief problem in this, our second depression of the decade.

Men debate the question of out-and-out relief. Charity, they call it, and claim that its continuance will create a nation of parasites feeding off the government. Yet when other men and their families are facing starvation, as many have been in Cleveland, the whole problem becomes admirably simple.

The question of theory is tossed out the window. The men, their wives and their children are fed. No one likes direct relief, least of all those who receive it. It is a pretty well-proven axiom that most people, given the chance, will exercise their natural right to work. Yet when our economic system flies out of joint, when that opportunity to work no longer exists, men still must live. There is no agency, other than the government, to make sure that they keep both their chances to labor and to exist.

Our thinking on this point is apt to become confused. We are told that when a government undertakes to nourish as well as to protect its citizens it is taking upon itself a new and unacceptable activity. The newness of the idea is stressed. Yet here in the United States it is not a new idea. Our government for almost 100 years provided aid to the needy in the form of free or low-priced lands. For a century it held out to the poor and the brave the promise of a freer and a better life across the mountain ranges and beyond the rivers where good black dirt awaited plow and seed.

Now that the free soil is gone the government borrows from its wealthier citizens money to feed its needier. The principle is the same. Only the means are different. Rather than discussing the ethics of relief we should be preparing to solve its problem by so regulating our industrial system that it may develop and grow to utilize our great supply of reserve labor.

And that the supply may still be there when we need it we must continue to face, without quibbling, as Cleveland has been doing, the question of relief for those unfortunate persons who, for reasons beyond their control, have been caught in a maladjusted economic machine.

MAYBE THE reason the Japanese pay no attention to our protests is that they are so busy bombing helpless Chinese they haven't time to read their pan mail.

All this controversy over the shirt of PITCHER Johnny Allen of the Cleveland Indians must certainly interest the man on the park benches who wishes he had one.

The lammergaier, which can fly 110 miles an hour, is said to be the world's fastest flying bird. Well, how about the dove of peace, which can vanish from Europe in the twinkling of a dictator's eye?

Odds and Ends You can expect to hear Bob Burns allude to his wife's relatives for the next few weeks.

Bob and Mrs. Burns just returned to Hollywood after spending two weeks with the latter's folks in Independence, Kan.

Kay Kyser note—"Anyone entering a broadcasting station for the first time certainly would be stumped at the terms used by producers during rehearsals," says Kyser, bespectacled professor of his "Musical Class and Dance" program.

"Just imagine being told to 'sneak it in' and 'clean it up' because an actor is 'in the mud.' 'However, those who know would begin the music 'quietly,' 'render it perfectly,' because the actor is giving 'a lifeless delivery.'"

Florence Eldridge is the leading lady who will be in the CBS Radio theater June 20, and the leading man will be Frederic March.

In private life the two are Mr. and Mrs. March. The Marches do a large part of their rehearsing at home before they meet Producer Cecil B. DeMille and the supporting cast at the studio.

From Hollywood—There are few hands quicker than Bob Burns' eyes when it comes to card tricks. Bob once worked in the same vaudeville bill with a card expert and consequently there are few tricks he doesn't know.

When Irene Rich returns to the movies next month it will have been nine years since she faced the cameras, but she'll play to more movie fans than ever. Millions have followed her dramatic series on the air since she left motion pictures.

One of Hollywood's friendliest threesomees is Tyrone Power, Don Ameche and Fred Ibbett. Ibbett produced the airshows "Grand Hotel" and "First Nighter" in Chicago in which Ameche and Power acted before attaining stardom in the movies.

There'll be no vacation for Paul Taylor's choristers this summer. They've been renewed on both the "Music Hall" and Marian Talley's programs and will continue on the air throughout the hot months. Incidentally, they're among my favorite singing groups.

Oriental Diet of Fruit, Cereal Alone Denied by Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

"That some primitive peoples live on fruit and cereal alone and are thereby very healthy" is an idea that is given wide publicity by health faddists.

In one form this idea is that great races of Oriental people are more healthy, live to greater age and have lower blood pressure, less kidney disease and other of the degenerative diseases of middle age than Europeans and Americans of the western world. And all because these Orientals live on rice and fruit, vegetables and cereals, and never touch meat or animal protein like the Occidentals.

In the first place, it is not true that these people have more longevity or that they escape the high blood pressure and other "results of civilization." It is true that Chinese probably have, on the average, a lower blood pressure than the Europeans, but this is possibly a racial hereditary trait and not due to any difference in diet. By some it is ascribed to the placidity of the Chinese, the fact that they are far removed from the excitements of civilization. If that be true, we will probably soon find that the Chinese have just as high blood pressure as their Occidental brothers, because lately they seem to be enjoying the benefits of enlightenment to the full.

In the second place, however, it is not true that Orientals disdain animal food and live exclusively on vegetables, even if they appear to do so. When seen at mealtime they eat rice, cereal or vegetable almost exclusively. But "though rice is the staple food of many Oriental peoples, as bread is of western mankind, it is always supplemented by something with high protein content," says an observer who has lived long in the Orient. "All travelers remember the smell of Oriental markets, mostly caused by dried fish and other seafoods, which in this condition may be shipped to the remotest places. When traveling in out-of-the-way places, remote from the sea, one may have occasion to supply the need for protein from the strangest sources." — (Richard Goldschmidt - "Ascasis" - the Biologist's Story of Life.)

WASHINGTON WORLD

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON—Iowa's recent primary result is being acclaimed by anti-new deal democrats as a victory for their political group, but the situation is not quite as simple as that.

Representative Otha D. Wearin, seeking the democratic senatorial nomination, presumably by the new deal's blessing, was, indeed, badly beaten by Sen. Guy M. Gillette, who was renominated under circumstances which implied that the new deal opposed him. As a matter of fact, except on the supreme court issue, Wearin's and Gillette's congressional records have been much the same on the new deal. But let that pass; assume that Gillette's victory was, as anti-new dealers contend, a triumph for their bunch.

On the opposite hand, ex-Sen. L. J. Dickinson, attempting to return to Washington as a republican, was nominated in a primary which gave nearly twice as many republican as democratic votes.

The suggestion is rather strong that, though Gillette beat Wearin in June, Dickinson will beat Gillette in November.

I am prepared to believe that many anti-new deal democrats in Iowa and elsewhere, prefer republicans to pro-new deal democrats. Which makes it seem all the more likely that the Hawkeye commonwealth, historically normally republican, is about to swing back to the G.O.P. column.

AROUND THE TOWN

BY MERLE MILLER

HEADED UPWARD — Ross Taylor, because his first novel's a success, because he can take it, because he's sticking to his dreams... Wilbur Schramm, because he's probably the most intelligent man I've met, because, despite that, he's thoroughly human, because he's most of all humane...

Hans Pawlak — because his energy amazes me, because those who know say he hews figures out of stone that are already amazing, because he knows where he's going, how he's getting there...

Bill Sener—because he's sensibly level-headed, because he has the most keenly analytical mind of anyone I know, because he's real... Bob Graham—because he's the only near "universal" man I've ever known, because he knows so much about so many things... Tommy Horn, because he's young, because he has a good band, a personality...

Bill Bartley — because he happens to be a friend of mine, because he's well-grounded, because he can make the most of all breaks, good ones, bad ones...

Max McCullough, Marvin Chapman and Dorothea Carlson—for reasons already mentioned here...

AMERICANA — At the BBC, I frequently chewed my fingers thin while casual news casters read their scripts at a quarter-minute before air time. "Weren't you going to be late?" I'd frantic... "What difference does it make?" was the inevitable reply. I didn't answer... I didn't know... I don't...

Note to Franklin Roosevelt—(Just Before the Next Supreme Court Bill) — In Sparta every senator had to be 60, was usually 70... Men were not old enough or wise enough before that, Lycurgus thought...

An amazing group, ours—Every year some 30,000,000 of us go to schools and colleges... That's almost as many as listen to Jack Benny or attend Charlie Chan movies...

President Bob Hutchins of Chicago says a college degree is worth just about its actual cost in sheepskin — about 18 cents...

THRILL — CRITIC Edward J. O'Brien telling me, in London, "Iowa is the only campus I know where the people believe it's not necessary to go to New York to create art..."

I'm surprised no one's mention in all the talk about NASTY THREATS to democracy that, though 1,000,000 persons voted in Iowa's 1936 presidential election, only about 400,000 last Monday... Why the other 600,000 decided to let the politicians and their cohorts make their decisions, no one seems to know...

Democracy sounds like such a grand idea... Why doesn't someone try it some time?...

LAUGHS—Certain news sheets booming Guy Gillette so enthusiastically no one's certain about the republican's identity... By the way, who is he?

Just casually, how many Iowa Citizens have read Vardis Fisher's "Forgive Us Our Virtues"?... Fisher was on the campus in the summer of 1935, threatened, they say, to write a book about us... His new novel concerns a certain mid-western state university...

Iowa City is mentioned nostalgically in Louis Adami's "My America."

OVERHEARD—"It always satisfies the mediocre to call the exceptional lucky"... "My dear, she was breath-taking at a quarter-past-two..."

HAPPY — Collegiate married couples... I've never met those who aren't — which is saying much...

CHARACTERS—"Deacon" Redfield, our janitor... He's read more books and talks more intelligently about them than most college professors I've met...

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Jetta Goudal, who was once described in a court suit by her then employer Cecil B. DeMille as a "cocktail of emotions," won the legal right to be "temperamental" as a result of that battle. The court held that an actress' "temperament" was part of her equipment. It was a fine victory, although by coincidence Jetta never worked importantly again. She has been happily married for some years now to Harold Grieve, prominent interior decorator, and she works with her husband at his profession. Not long ago one of her former studio associates, with whom she had tangled more than once, encountered her and was greeted most pleasantly. Jetta's friendly remarks, as reported by him: "It is so much fun not being in pictures any more. I can enjoy life — and just think! — I don't have to be mean about anything!"

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK — The manager of a downtown night club has hit on a novel plan for keeping his floor shows up to the minute. He is Benito Collada, and instead of bringing in a complete new show, as other night clubs do, he simply changes one act at a time. This gives El Chico a new dash, pep up the other artists on the bill, and permits patrons who frequent the place to have something new every time they drop in for a late supper. Collada is one of those off-to-far-places boys... Sometimes it is to Spain and sometimes it is to Cuba, the Argentine or Mexico... But he always returns with a load of new talent... His Spanish revues are a melange of Flamenco dancers, guitarists, clicking castanets, Latin comedy, and Spanish music. The current show under its present plan, requires about three months to change... Once about every three weeks a new star is imported, the latest one being Senorita Gloria Belmonte, Spanish dancer.

It's An Old Story

It would be interesting to trace the rise of the school of stellar thought that holds a star, to be successful, must be "difficult." It certainly ante-dated Jetta Goudal, for some of Hollywood's best temperament tales reached circulation in the period from 1915 to 1920 when stars were first feeling their oats. The director, Josef von Sternberg, was a disciple, if not the high priest of the theory. Joe had made a quickie called "Salvation Hunters" which won the support of the quick-growing colony of "intelligentsia." Even before that, showman that he was, he had made it his business to be as spectacularly insulting as possible to the right people. "I've just made five new enemies," he once chuckled confidentially, to some cronies. It was Pola Negri's own idea, apparently, as she came before Joe. Her battles with Gloria Swanson became Hollywood legend. Pola's campaign, as she admitted privately when pressed, was logical. "There are many girls in Hollywood prettier than Negri — so Negri must be different!" But Marlene Dietrich, who can be as sweet as pie when she wants to be, undoubtedly took instruction direct from her mentor, von Sternberg.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

Scratched Violin Those who regard a fine finish to pianos and violins as the utmost importance would suffer agonies if they caught a glimpse of a violin owned by Joseph Rines... On it has been scratched the dates of all his important opening nights during the last 20 years... Originally the violin cost $100 but Rines estimates he has spent an additional $1,000 restringing it and applying new varnish every year. The peach season is swinging along fast in Manhattan... Hurrying for a Hudson river ferry-boat last night, about 11, I ducked through Chambers street and the peaches were mountain high on the sidewalks... I stopped to count 700 bushel baskets before I wearied and went home. Sometimes at night when it isn't too raw you can see a dozen different colored lights in the harbor — red, green, blue, yellow, salmon, etc. — but I don't know what they are for. They appear to move slowly, close to the water, far out towards the Narrows. They aren't buoy lights and they aren't on tugs, although vast barges carrying freight cars sometimes cross the waterfront when the traffic is slack, which means between dusk and daylight, and this may account for them. I'd like to know what those lights are for.

College Physicists Will Have Colloquium Here Next Week

Many Expected To Be at Open 3-Day Meeting

Will Discuss Topics of Interest to Active Physicist

The annual colloquium for college physicists will meet on the campus of the University of Iowa Thursday, Friday and Saturday next week. College physicists from all over the middle west are expected to attend.

The colloquium, which is open to all teachers without charge is somewhat unique among physics conferences. The discussions this year will not center about some of the profound technicalities of the subject, but will select several aspects of great interest to the active physicist.

This year, three aspects will be emphasized: (1) certain remarkable performances of the electron, (2) economical and instructive demonstration experiments, and (3) physical phenomena in living things.

Round Table

Round table discussions will follow the presentation of these topics. Registration for the colloquium will be Monday morning. The afternoon session will begin at 1:30 with a lecture on "Electron Emission." At 3 p.m., a second lecture will be heard, "New Uses of Surface Effects in Electron Emission."

Following a 6 o'clock supper will be a round table, with "Undergraduate Instruction and Electronics" as the topic. At 8:15 the latest physics movies will be shown, and at 8:45 p.m., all of the physics laboratories will hold open house.

The Friday session will begin at 9 a.m. with a lecture on the "Physical Basis of Valence," to be followed at 10:30 a.m. by a lecture on "A Stroboscopic Demonstration and High Speed Moving Pictures."

Saturday Sessions

"Twenty-five Experiments for Twenty-five Cents" is the topic of a lecture at 1:30 p.m., and "Mechanics of Rotation," a demonstration lecture, is scheduled for 3 p.m. Followed by an exhibit of new lecture experiments.

Following the evening supper, the second round table will take place, with a social hour scheduled at 10:10 Woodlawn for 8 p.m. The topic of the Saturday sessions is "Physical Phenomena in Living Things," and will get underway with a lecture, "In Animal Life," at 9 a.m., and a second lecture, "In Plant Life," at 10:30 a.m.

The colloquium will close with a noon luncheon and round table discussion. Arrangements have been made for reservations at the University dormitories. Recreational facilities or visits to any part of the university will be arranged on request.

caused the crash of the year-old ship, an army investigating board, headed by Major Roy W. Camblin and including Capt. Hugo P. Rush and First Lieut. Samuel Stephenson, was sent here from Chanute field.

"I'm pretty sure the weather caused the crash," Capt. Rush announced after the members of the investigating board examined the wreckage and questioned witnesses.

Asked if he meant lightning had struck the plane, he said: "Well, we've had several planes struck by lightning, one recently." He deemed it "very unlikely" the wing found 200 yards from the major portion of the bomber had twisted off because of "structural failure."

Col. Davenport Johnson, commandant of Chanute field, and Col. Gerald C. Brant, commandant of the air corps technical school here, also questioned all witnesses. Then Colonel Brant said:

"We have practically discarded the lightning theory. The weight of witnesses' statements seems to be that there was no lightning bolt at the time of the crash."

Colonel Brant said the plane "partly disintegrated" in the air, that one wing and part of the tail came off, but that the explosion did not occur until the crash itself—"That was the gasoline."

He added there was "no apparent explanation" as yet for the "disintegration." The bomber carried no bombs or explosives on the fatal flight, he said.

Fay to Teach This Summer

Prof. Eliot G. Fay, instructor in the Romance languages department of the University of Wisconsin, will teach two courses in French composition on the University of Iowa campus during the summer session, it was announced yesterday.

Professor Fay will offer instruction in intermediate and advanced French composition, courses which originally were scheduled to be taught by Prof. Francoise Dony of Belgium and by Prof. Catherine Miller of the regular faculty of the University of Iowa.

Professor Dony cabled not long ago that she would be unable to teach at the Iowa summer session because of illness. Professor Miller has renounced her position on the summer staff to teach at Allegheny college in Meadville, Pa.

The courses which Professor Fay will teach deal with various stages of composition, adapted to the needs of the individual student. The course which Professor Dony had been scheduled to teach is a study of French style through translations taken from American authors.

Students Meet In Lounge To Begin Session

The summer session assembly, opening gathering of summer session students and faculty members of the University of Iowa, will be in the main lounge of Iowa Union at 11 a.m. Monday.

Prof. M. Willard Lampe of the school of religion will deliver the invocation. Marianne Witschi of Iowa City, who will teach on the staff of the music department this summer, will play two violin solos, Stravinsky's "Pastorale" and "Siciliano et Rigaudon" by Kreisler, accompanied by Prof. Philip G. Clapp, head of the music department.

The greetings to summer session students will be presented by President Eugene A. Gilmore. The session will end with the singing of the university hymn, "Old Gold," and the benediction.

Solved and Unsolved Major Child Kidnapings in Recent Years

Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.—Kidnaped March 1, 1932. Found dead near Hopewell, N. J., May 12, 1932. Bruno Hauptmann, convicted as abductor-slayer and recipient of $50,000 ransom, electrocuted at New Jersey state prison at Trenton.

June Robles—Taken from her Tucson, Ariz., home, April 25, 1934. Found three weeks later chained in a desert pit. No ransom was paid. There have been suspects and trials in this case, but it still is classed as an unsolved mystery.

Peter Levine—Vanished Feb. 24, 1938, from his New Rochelle, N. Y., home. Kidnap notes received demanding $30,000. No contact ever made with kidnapers. On May 28, 1938, Peter's headless body was found floating in the water not far from his home.

Charles Mattson—Kidnaped from his Tacoma, Wash., home, Dec. 27, 1936. Two weeks later his naked, beaten body was found near Everett, Wash. Scores and scores of suspects have been questioned but the case remains unsolved.

George Weyerhaeuser—Seized May 24, 1934. Returned to his Seattle home, June 2 of same year after payment of $200,000 ransom. William Mahon and wife convicted of the crime, both sent to prison, Mahon getting 60 years.

James Bailey Cash Jr.—Kidnaped May 28, 1938, from Princeton, Fla., home. Ransom of $10,000 paid on promise of return of boy. On June 8 young Jimmy's body was found near the spot the ransom was recovered. Franklin P. McCall has signed a confession.

Adams to Give First Graduate College Lecture on Wednesday

Duke University Man To Talk in Senate Chamber

Prof. Donald K. Adams from the psychology department of Duke university in Durham, N. C., will present the first of a series of graduate college lectures at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Professor Adams will be affiliated with the Child Welfare Research station of the University of Iowa until after July 1, when he will return to Duke university to re-assume his duties as instructor.

For the past year, he has been on leave from Duke university on a Guggenheim fellowship. He spent the first part of his leave in Europe, principally in Switzerland, and more recently at Swarthmore college in Swarthmore, Pa. During the past year he has written extensively on developmental psychology.

Interested primarily in investigations on learning and learning theory, Professor Adams was an undergraduate at Pennsylvania State college. He received his master of arts degree from Harvard, and his doctor of philosophy degree from Yale.

For two years, Professor Adams was in Berlin with Prof. Kurt Lewin of the psychology department of the University of Iowa, as a national research fellow. With Prof. K. E. Zener, he translated Professor Lewin's "Dynamic Theory of Personality" into English.

In his lecture, Professor Adams will deal with the difficulty of attempting to construct a theory of character development. He is not a stranger on the campus of the university, having taught on the summer session staff here in 1939.

won't make a statement," he said when asked if he cared to comment.

Forestall Suicide
He was taken to an inside, windowless cell after being searched and having his belt and shoelaces taken from him, presumably to forestall their possible use in a suicide attempt.

McCall, who had no previous criminal record and was regarded as "well behaved," was arrested last week but his detention was not made public until the badly decomposed body of little Skeegie was found early Thursday.

At that time Hoover said McCall admitted getting the $10,000 ransom which also was recovered, but denied any further part in the crime. The G-man chief said the prisoner broke and began his detailed confession today after an all-night grilling.

"Two Other Victims"

In his summary of the confession, the full text of which was not made public, Hoover said McCall considered two other victims before settling on the Cash boy when he first decided on the kidnaping about two weeks before it was carried out May 28 in an effort "to get some of the better things of life for himself."

He said also the prisoner attempted to involve R. A. Cash, an uncle of the slain boy, in the crime, but the G-men questioned and completely exonerated Cash.

Hoover's statement said McCall claimed he killed the child accidentally, presumably by suffocation, when he was carrying the boy from the Cash home to McCall's cottage while holding a cloth over Skeegie's mouth to prevent an outcry.

First Degree Murder

Attorneys said even if this claim of accidental killing were accepted it would not preclude a first degree murder indictment since death occurred during commission of a felony.

About 40 of the Cash clan assembled at Homestead for funeral services today, the mother weeping and the father dry-eyed but grief-bowed. The pitiful little body was brought here for burial.

"He prepared the ransom note a week before the kidnaping on May 28, and about 9:30 that night McCall entered the Cash store, asked Mrs. Cash the time, saw that both Mr. and Mrs. Cash were there," said Hoover in summarizing the confession.

6-Month-Old Girl Flies Everywhere With Her Parents

By The AP Feature Service

HANOVER, Pa.—Margaret Ann Hostetter is only six months old but in air travel she's a veteran.

She's a regular passenger on the pleasure flights of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hostetter, of Hanover, and recently completed her longest trip—a junket to Spokane, Wash.

With improvised ear muffs to deaden the roar of the two-cylinder motor, the flying baby isn't particular whether she sleeps or plays with her toes in flight. She is apt at both. She has been flying since she was two and a half months old.

"She likes it," said Mrs. Hostetter, the former May Morbeck of Kingston, Idaho. "We use the muffs to insure against any possible harm to sensitive ears."

Margaret Ann rides atop baggage and blankets just behind the two-passenger seat, and within easy reach of her mother. The plane is a 40-horsepower Aeronca. The Hostetters often

Towards Advanced Degrees

Two-Thirds of S. U. I. Summer Students Will Earn Credits for Them

More than two-thirds of the University of Iowa's summer session students, beginning in their respective courses on the campus Monday, will be earning credits toward advanced degrees.

As classes begin Monday, between two and three thousand students will begin work in some 700 courses. The university's summer session is its 39th.

Most of the summer session students are teachers, busy through the fall session with their respective teaching jobs in all parts of the country.

About 1,200 students will study this summer by correspondence, it is estimated.

As in 1937, the summer session will have an eight weeks' teaching period, followed by three weeks of independent study for graduate students only. The first term will end with the summer convocation Aug. 5, and the study unit will run from Aug. 8 to Aug. 26.

It is expected that the students in the graduate college will exceed 2,600, of whom some 2,000 actually will be present upon the campus. A maximum of 11 semester hours of credit may be earned during the entire summer session. Students of college rank and all-state high school pupils in music and speech will enroll for courses.

A corps of nearly 40 visiting lecturers from 16 states will augment the regular faculty for the summer session period. The student body for the period will represent almost all of the 48 states and several foreign countries.

The summer session will be highlighted with lectures by six outstanding contemporary leaders in various fields, conferences on child development and parent education, secondary education, physical education, and a second annual short course for peace officers.

junior medical students who will receive their degrees and their commissions as first lieutenant, Medical Reserve corps, United States army, upon completion of their medical courses.

Other University of Iowa students who are listed among those present at the camp are Robert W. Baker of Davenport, Milton E. Barront of Sioux City, Edward L. Croxdale of Fond du Lac, John S. Downing of Cedar Rapids, Andrew T. Engelmann of What Cheer, Robert A. Hayne of Des Moines.

Frederic G. Loomis of Waterloo, John J. Maloney of LaPorte City, Carroll J. Martin of Cromwell, Urquhart L. Meeter of Hawarden, Berwyn H. Moen of Inwood, Eugene F. Ritter of Centerville, Roland T. Smith of Des Moines, Charles B. Sokol of Collins, James W. Standeven of Oakland, John R. Standbury of Cedar Rapids, and Charles A. Waterbury of Waterloo.

Will Durant To Open Summer Lecture Series

Philosopher Will Speak, Lead Discussions Next Week

Will Durant, American author and philosopher, will open the University of Iowa's summer session of public lectures and round table discussions next Friday and Saturday.

Durant is well known for his varied writings, outstanding of which is his "Story of Philosophy." He will present a lecture Friday evening and will lead a round table discussion Saturday morning.

Each of the six lectures of the summer session will be presented on the west front of Old Capitol. The Saturday morning round table sessions are scheduled in the House chamber of Old Capitol.

Continuing the university's policy of presenting noted American men of affairs during the summer session, the 1938 schedule includes E. A. Hottel, Harvard anthropologist; Glenn Frank, a republican party leader, and Joseph Keenan, attorney general in charge of the criminal division of the department of justice.

Educators Will Hear Experts At Conference

Four significant current developments in secondary education, each to be discussed during a half-day session, will be presented by experts at the University of Iowa's conference on secondary education June 23 and 24.

Material to be presented at the conference will be presented by individuals who have been closely associated with the development of secondary education. It is announced.

These are the topics and their leaders: "The New York Regents Inquiry," by Herbert G. Espy of Western Reserve university; "The Cooperative Study of Secondary School Standards," by Paul A. Rehms of Grosse Pointe high school, Detroit; "The Eight-Year Experiment of the Progressive Education Association," by Wilford M. Alken of Ohio State university, and "Experimental Developments in California," by William E. Brown of the Los Angeles public schools.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

DID YOU know that you can get more blooms from certain plants by binding their feet? Heliotropes and agatheas respond especially well to this queer treatment.

The method is illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Sink the plants into the ground in the original pots in which they come from nursery or greenhouse. When thus left in the pots, the roots become "pot bound," and this in turn induces heavy flowering. When this method of planting is used, the plants will require a heavy feeding of liquid cow manure about once a month. The appearance of the pots in the ground can be concealed by a surface dressing of peat.

Planting the pots in the ground is a great help where the flower bed is hemmed in by roots of trees or by a shrub planting. It also has the added advantage of keeping the plants firmly secured in the Root binding for more blooms. This prevents top-awing during windstorm and possible loosening of the roots.

Doin' The Jubilee Dip

Birthplace of The Blues Produces New 'Big Apple'

By The AP Feature Service
Negroes started the Big Apple, and now they're pushing a successor to that dance craze. It's the Jubilee Dip, born at the recent Cotton Makers Jubilee of the Memphis Cotton Carnival, on Beale street — where the Blues began.

A boisterous dance that can be performed either by a couple or a group, the Dip goes like this: First you jump and then you squat.

Clap your hands and then you glide. You stop and point your fingers up. And rock yourself from side to side.

You step over here, and you step over there. Then you push the things away that get in your hair. You walk all around and you dip for joy.

And shout, "Shoot the rhythm to me, Johnny Boy!"

The directions are the work of Nat D. Williams, a high school teacher, and Rex Jackson, dancer. The idea came from Lieut. George W. Lee, Beale street author.

Will the Dip be popular? White folks who reviewed it say yes — with energetic dancers.

Hal Schumacher Pitches Airtight Contest; Henshaw Fails

ST. LOUIS, June 10 (AP)—Behind Prince Hal Schumacher's airtight pitching, the New York Giants stretched their winning streak to four straight today with a 3-1 victory over the Cardinals.

For eight innings, Schumacher was invincible. In that stretch, not a man passed first base. In the ninth, he weakened, was tagged for a double by Joe Stripp and a single by Ducky Medwick for the first Gas House Gang tally.

The other Giant tally was scored in the second inning, when Johnny McCarthy singled and came home on Harry Danning's double.

After George Scharein had made his third single of the game in the seventh and moved to second on Woody Jensen's error—one of four Pirate misplays—Mulcahy scratched a single to move the speedy shortstop to third. He scored the winning marker on a force out play at second.

Henry Picard Keeps Lead in National Open With 140; Metz 2nd

Jimmie Hines Falls Back In Mad Scramble

Metz Puts on Brilliant Rally to Trail By One Stroke

By ALAN GOULD
DENVER, June 10 (AP)—From the second round barrage that blasted the previously near-impenetrable defense of Cherry Hills' par today, Henry G. Picard, 30-year-old Massachusetts-born professional from Hershey, Pa., emerged with a one-shot lead over Handsome Dick Metz of Chicago at the halfway stage of the tightly drawn National Open championship golf battle.

Tied after the first round with long-hitting Jimmie Hines, the Metropolitan Open champion, Picard shook himself loose from all challengers with a second successive subpar round of 70. His total of 140 for 36 holes, however, was barely enough to stave off the challenge of Metz, who came through the dusk at the very end.

DENVER, June 10 (AP)—The United States Golf association announced today the 1939 National Open championship will be played at the Spring Mill course of the Philadelphia Country Club, June 8, 9 and 10.

close of the day's pyrotechnical show with a three-under-par 68, for a total of 141.

Picard enjoyed a three-shot lead over his nearest rivals and looked to have commanding control of the quest for Champion Ralph Guldahl's crown until the curly-haired Metz brought the second round to an electrifying climax.

Metz Comes Through
Standing on the home green in the gathering twilight, with only a small percentage of the day's 6,000 spectators remaining to see him finish, Metz barely missed a difficult sidehill putt, from eight feet, as he made his bid for a birdie three and a 67 that would have pulled him level with Picard.

Metz, who once was offered a $50,000 movie contract if he sealed the open championship heights, made as grand a finish as the tournament has yet witnessed by negotiating the terrifying last nine in 34, two under par. He had five birdies with putts ranging only from three to 10 feet. His only setbacks came on the ninth, where he was stymied behind a tree after his drive and on the short 15th, where he missed a four-footer for his par.

Three under par, with the last three holes to go, Metz rimmed the cup for a birdie on No. 16, played safe on the 17th "island hole" for his par five, and then fired his final bid on the home green.

Sixty Qualify
Sixty players, out of starting field of 165, qualified with scores of 155 or better for tomorrow's 36-hole struggle for the title now won by Burly Ralph Guldahl of Madison, N. J., last year it took 152 to qualify.

Guldahl himself matched Picard's 70 today, notwithstanding Lady Luck again deserted the champion on the putting greens. This gave the titleholder a total of 144, fifth place and at least a strong fighting chance of becoming the first champion to repeat since the great Bob Jones retired in 1930.

McSpaden Close
At least nine players, bunched within a five-stroke range, remained in the quest for the title and first prize money of $1,000. Three strokes back of the pace-maker, at 143, were Harold (Jug)

DENVER, Colo., June 10 (AP)—Ray Ainsley, lanky professional from Ojai, Cal., won't win the 1938 National Open golf championship, you bet, but he set one record in the second round that the boys will be shooting at for a long time to come.

He carded a 19 on the 16th hole of the Cherry Hills course. Normally the 197-yard layout is a par 4.

Two thousand fans deserted star matches on other fairways to watch the performance during which Ainsley threw his club at the ball four times and the scorer lost count.

McSpaden, Kansas-born pro from Boston, and the No. 1 "dark horse" threat of the field, 28-year-old Emery Zimmerman of Portland, Ore.

McSpaden shared a new course record of 31 for the outgoing nine with "Light Horse Harry" Cooper and posted a four-under-par 67, the best round of the tournament thus far, as he rallied from his 76 of the previous day. Jug's score was only one shot from the open championship record of 66, set by Gene Sarazen in 1932 and equaled by four other players in recent years.

Detroit Tigers Nip Washington In Tenth Inning

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers came from behind for a 7-6 victory over the Washington Senators today in a 10-inning opener of a three-game series.

A collision between Second Baseman Ossie Bluege and Rookie Centerfielder George Case, both going after Rudy York's pop fly, let in the winning run. The ball dropped safely for a double and York traveled the rest of the way around the bases on Fox's sacrifice and Laabs' grounder to the infield.

The Senators took a 6-3 lead in the fifth inning. In the seventh the Tigers filled the bases on walks and with two out York emptied them with a double off Monte Weaver.

Vernon (Lefty) Gomez not only regained his hurling form, allowing the Indians eight hits, but blew himself to two of the Yanks' 13 hits, by all odds the game's most miraculous clouting. Bill Dickey, his battery mate, dropped his eighth and ninth homers into

Iowa Trackmen To Go to Minneapolis For National Meet
Not more than six athletes, and possibly fewer, will be entered by the University of Iowa in the National Collegiate track and field championships at Minneapolis next Friday and Saturday.

Coach George Bresnahan will decide Monday which men will compete in the most important intercollegiate meet of the season, the clash of sectional stars from two dozen conferences of 31 states.

It is quite likely that the athletes who competed yesterday in the Central collegiates in Milwaukee, with the exception of Bush Lamb, who is starting upon a job with a gum concern, will be named. They are Jim Lyle, John Graves, John Collinge, Fred Teufel, and Carl Teufel.

Iowa, after taking third in the N.C.A.A. meet since the first one in 1921, has not scored in the last five affairs. The meet was held on the Pacific coast in 1934, 1935, and 1937 and Iowa had no men in last year's meet and only two in the others.

Mrs. Opal Hill To Meet Patty Berg in Final

TULSA, Okla., June 10 (AP)—The steady, experienced golfer of Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City and the vigorous, youthful style of Patty Berg of Minneapolis won them today the right to meet tomorrow in the championship of the twelfth Women's Trans-Mississippi tournament.

Mrs. Hill eliminated the 1937 champion, Betty Jameson of San Antonio, 19-year old University of Texas coed, four and three. Miss Berg won from Mrs. Patty Newbold of Wichita, Kan., 1932 Trans-Miss. title, two and one.

Mrs. Newbold made it a real tussle on the back nine for Patty Berg. They rounded the turn with Patty one up. They halved ten, eleven and twelve and Mrs. Newbold won the thirteen and fourteen to go one up.

Then Miss Berg put on the steam. She won the fifteenth with a par four and then on the 546-yard sixteenth, longest on the course, she canned a 12-foot putt to card a five, one under par. That put her one up.

On the seventeenth, Patty had a 230-yard drive and laid her next wood shot on the green while Mrs. Newbold's drive found the rough and put her on the green in three. Patty's 40-foot putt for a three bounced across the cup and hung on the lip and Mrs. Newbold missed a downhill putt that would have given her a half and carried the match another hole.

Handsome Marines Find Welcome Mat

SHANGHAI (AP)—"My husband was born on the high seas. Send us some sailors." This is the way an American housewife in Shanghai invited to dinner some sailors from United States warships anchored here. The invitation was for Mother's Day, when American civilian families in Shanghai open their homes to the men of Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

This year, housewives specified the type of guest they wanted. A few samples follow: "Send us a tough marine gunner so my husband, who is in the Shanghai Volunteer Corps, can learn about guns." "Send me some marines from Texas." "Send me some of those nice-looking marine bandmen." In most cases, the orders were filled.

Council Discusses Legalization of 15-Minute Parking Stalls

Mayor Recommends Extension Of Area for One-Hour Parking

Would Allow Police To Make Additional Restrictions

Legalization of 15-minute parking stalls established last month in the business district by Police Chief W. H. Bender and the extension of the one-hour parking area were discussed last night by the city council.

A preliminary draft of an amendment to the parking ordinance which would give the police chief the authority to establish from three to five 15-minute parking stalls in every block in the business district was presented at the meeting by City Attorney Robert L. Larson.

The city attorney pointed out to the council that this will not only give the police chief the power to establish the stalls downtown but also near the stores in the outlying business areas.

Before the council referred the question to the ordinance committee, Mayor Myron J. Walker recommended that the present one-hour parking zones be extended. He asked that all of the streets lying within the area bounded by the west side of Capitol street, the south side of Burlington street, the west side of Gilbert street and the north side of Iowa avenue be included in the limited parking area.

This extension would include parking stalls which front on the state property on Iowa avenue, Clinton and Washington streets.

Mayor Walker and Attorney Larson both expressed the opinion that there was no state law to prevent the city from regulating the parking along state property within the city limits.

Long Live The Champ

Red Oak Honors Her 200 State, National 'Best'

RED OAK, Ia., June 10 (AP)—Red Oak turned out en masse today to honor the state and national champions of the last five years living in this community. The champions numbered more than 200.

Several thousand persons saw the parade this afternoon in which champion bands from Griswold and Red Oak took part and then gathered at the city park where Dr. W. S. Reiley, mayor, gave the address of welcome. Dr. F. C. Armstrong, a father of a champion, introduced each of the champions.

There was a profusion of champions—in many and varied fields. Jeanne Mayhew, brain derby queen in 1935, 37 and 38, and Florence Gee, who won similar recognition in 1932, 33 and 34, were among those honored. There were champion baton twirlers, spellers, musicians, and declamatory champions. There were also flower queens.

It took from 10 to 15 years with the cooperation of teachers and parents to make the champions, Supt. J. R. Inman said.

Will Observe Children's Day

First Christian Church To Give Program Tomorrow

The First Christian church and Bible school will observe Children's day tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. with a special program including a pageant "Seeking the Way."

The exercises will be in the church auditorium, directed by Mrs. Philip Norman and her associates. A free will offering will be made for the world program of the church.

The program will include a prelude, "Impromptu No. II by Schubert; two songs, "The World's Children for Jesus," sung by the primary children, and "Watchman Tell Us of the Night," sung by George Gay and Richard Stening. Alma Ruth Findly and Mrs. Chester J. Miller will read.

The junior boys will present a pantomime, "Fishermen by the Sea at Dawn."

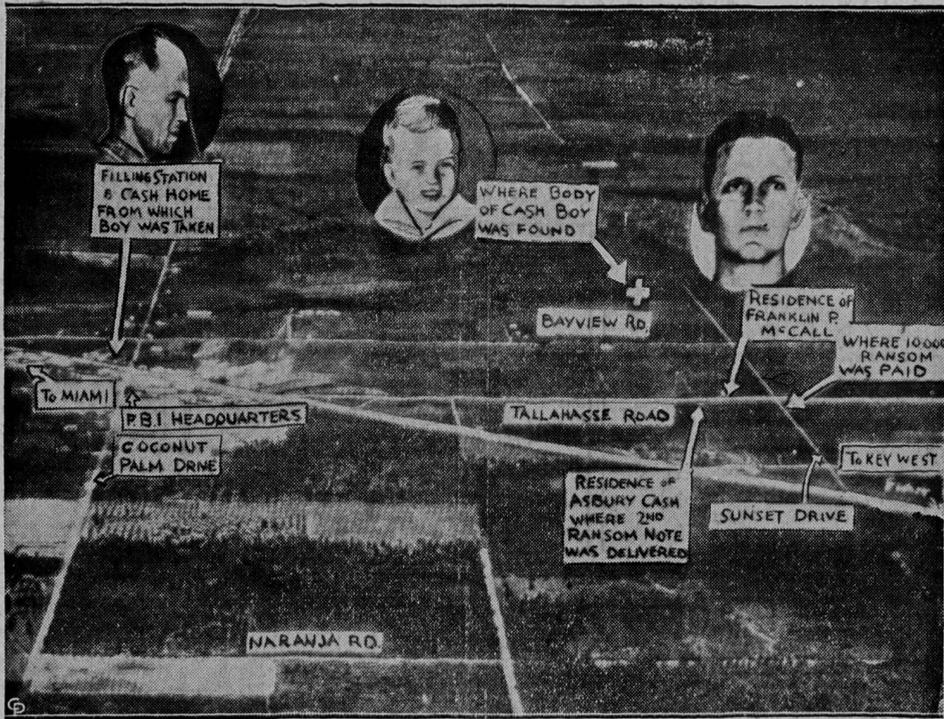

Four Squadrons Attack Canton

CANTON, China, June 10 (AP)—Four squadrons of Japanese planes roared smoothly over Canton tonight and, unattacked by Chinese defenders, dropped cargoes of bombs on an electric powerhouse and waterworks in the suburb of Saichuen.

The invaders' craft were clearly silhouetted in the moonlight, terrifying citizens of Canton, who have been subjected to an even two weeks of aerial bombardments in which thousands have been killed and wounded.

The usual sputter of machine-gun fire of Chinese guards did not greet the attackers tonight.

Air View of Scene of Florida Kidnap-Slaying, Principals in Tragedy

This air view-diagram of Princeton, Fla., shows the scene of the kidnaping-slaying of five-year-old Jimmy Cash Jr., and the three leading players in the tragedy. The diagram shows where Jimmy was kidnaped for $10,000 ransom which was paid by the father, James Cash Sr., and it shows the spot where Jimmy's body was found. Federal agents held Franklin P. McCall, 21-year-old truck driver, at Miami after he had led federal agents to the boy's body and admitted the kidnap-murder.

Shall City Furnish Urban Fire Protection? Council Debates Question After Receiving Check From University Heights

The question of whether Iowa City shall furnish fire protection to neighboring communities was debated last night by the city council after a $60.63 donation from University Heights was received.

After defeating a motion by Prof. John F. Reilly to return the check, the council voted 4 to 1 to accept the donation and place the money in the general fund. The check bore no inscription to designate the fund to which it was to be applied.

During the discussion on the motion accepting the check, Profesor Reilly said: "I don't think we should accept money in advance for services because it will place us under a moral obligation." He added that if the city did perform some service for University Heights a donation might be accepted afterwards.

Mayor Myron J. Walker said that he had sent the city fire department into the country yesterday afternoon to bring this question before the public. He commented:

"A resolution passed 10 years ago gives the mayor the authority to send fire equipment outside the city limits if he sees fit. No mayor could be so hard-hearted that he would not aid a man whose house is burning.

"However, these persons who move just across the road from the city limits and yet depend upon the city for protection are parasites on the taxpayers of the city."

The mayor recommended that the communities outside the city cooperate in the purchase of fire-fighting equipment for their protection. The city will provide free housing for such equipment, he declared.

Postpone First Reading, Vote On Zoning Bill

The final reading and vote on the passage of a zoning ordinance which would change property at Muscatine and Second avenues from business to a class-A residential district was postponed until its next meeting by the city council last night.

Mayor Myron J. Walker told council members that a vote on the ordinance would be unequitable because six votes are required to pass the motion against the recommendation of the city planning board. Only five members of the council were present at the meeting.

Property effected by the proposed change in the zoning ordinance includes that of Della Grizel. Negotiations for the construction of a super-service station upon Miss Grizel's property have been made during the last two months.

Certain proceedings are pending in the Johnson county district court to test the validity of the city board of adjustment's denial of a building permit to Miss Grizel for the construction of the oil station.

The city planning commission recommended that the city retain its outlying business areas and that the proposed ordinance, which would remove one, should be defeated.

she was notified the Home Owners Loan corporation, a government agency, had started proceedings to foreclose on her home.

Expiring Cigaret, Beer Permits To Engage Council

Renewal of beer and cigarette permits which expire July 1 will be next by the city council at its next meeting at 7:30 p.m. June 27.

Department heads will be notified to have their budget estimates prepared before the July 1 meeting, Mayor Myron J. Walker announced last night.

He said that the city council should prepare the budget at the July 1 meeting, adopt the budget and hold a public hearing on it by the middle of July and file the final budget with the county auditor before Aug. 1.

Books for children and youth are especially desired—fairy tales and good fiction, science volumes, books on coal, iron, animals, birds, flowers, Bible stories, poetry and used school books including dictionaries are wanted.

The shipment will be made Wednesday. Further information may be obtained by calling E. Loraine Lawyer, whose phone number is 6987.

Commission May Put New Surface On Road to Solon

Although no definite announcements have been made by the highway commission, it is reported that U. S. highway 261 from Iowa City to Solon—a distance of about 10 miles—will be hard-surfaced.

Surveys have already been completed, and grading work is now in progress preparatory to paving the road.

Several changes will be made in the present route of the road. At the site of the Greazel property, where Dodge street runs into Dubuque road in northeast Iowa City, the new road will run straight northeast connecting with the road in place at the Newport-East Lucas township boundary lines instead of continuing north from the Greazel property. This change will take a dangerous curve out of the road. It has also been reported that another "loop" will be taken out of the road between here and Newport.

Plans call for the construction of an overhead bridge this side of Solon.

It is expected that the job will be completed this summer.
