Chinese Flood Shows No Immediate Signs Of Abating as Toll Grows

Refugees Face More Dangers From Disease

Rains Increase Menace; Disaster's Peak Not Yet Reached

SHANGHAI, June 18 (Saturday) (AP)—Muddy Yellow river waters, sweeping across the heart of densely-populated Honan province threatened today to engulf 1,500 more villages and hamlets. More than 2,000 communities and countless farms already have been evacuated. Japanese army engineers estimated there are now 700,000 Chinese refugees from the flood. Heavy rains continued and several additional widening streams were reported swirling southward from their normal beds, threatening to widen greatly the 500-square mile flood-wrecked area. Face Dangers With flood damage increasing and with little prospect of immediate relief, the homeless refugees faced imminent dangers of starvation and death from cholera, typhoid and small-pox, diseases which often spread rapidly in the wake of flood. Japanese staff officers at Kai-feng said the task of stemming the flood appeared hopeless as approximately 90 per cent of the great Yellow river's water surged through quarter-mile gaps and rushed southeastward from the Chongchow - Kai-feng region to Chongkiakow, 100 miles away. The engineers pointed out the Yellow river had not yet reached the usual summer peak and said there were growing possibilities the flood may continue and possibly may increase until September.

"Great Crime"

The head of the International Red Cross relief work in Shanghai, John Earl Baker, said "this is the worst thing that ever happened to China—the combination of war and flood." Official Japanese spokesmen in Tokyo and the Japanese press reported the flood as a great crime perpetrated by the Chinese government against its own people. Tokyo newspapers, putting the deaths of Chinese as high as 300,000, charged the Chinese broke the river dikes deliberately. Death estimates by Japanese officers on the scene, originally placed higher, now have been scaled down to 50,000 or less. The death toll was considered extremely small in proportion to the vast area devastated.

Gandhi Prohibition Plan Employs Women As Militant Aides

AHMEDABAD, India (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Women police are being engaged to aid in enforcement of the new prohibition orders in several of the British provinces of India. The dry campaign is sponsored by Mohandas K. Gandhi, India's great reformer, who has set the goal of total prohibition in the country within three years. The new police positions are open to women of all classes, including the so-called untouchables. Many persons believe Gandhi's goal of a dry nation within three years is impossible because of the loss in revenue from the manufacture and sale of alcohol.

Republicans Denounce Congress For Adjourning in 'Severe Economic Crisis'

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Republican leaders denounced congress today for adjourning while the country was in the throes of "a severe economic crisis," and accused administration leaders of determined efforts to "change the American form of government." Senate Republican Leader McNary, of Oregon, and Representative Snell, of New York, the house minority leader, issued a joint statement declaring the first duty of the national legislature should have been to remain in session "and adopt measures to alleviate the paralysis of business." Asserting proposals of the

Report Franco Army Advances

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier), June 17 (AP)—Insurgent dispatches said tonight that Generalissimo Francisco Franco's eastern armies had smashed Spanish government resistance along the Mijares river and resumed a general advance toward Valencia, 35 miles to the south. Insurgents were said to have occupied for the second time the river town of Villarreal, which had been recaptured by the government in a counteroffensive. Besides the column advancing southward along the Mediterranean coast, another insurgent column was pushing in the same direction in hilly territory to the west.

Goebbels Declares Provocations By Czechs Must Stop

KOENIGSBERG, Germany, June 17 (AP)—Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels declared today that Czechoslovak provocations against Germany "cannot continue." Even as he spoke before an East Prussian party rally here reports were received of a new border violation by a Czechoslovak military plane. A dispatch from Byreuth said a Czechoslovak army craft crossed into Germany near the Bavarian village of Lam, about four miles from the frontier.

New Deal Advisers Confronted With Complex Problem as PWA Projects Become More Tangled

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The noted team of Corcoran and Cohen was hard at work today trying to rescue the administration from a power policy snarl threatening to delay $56,780,026 worth of PWA projects. The job entrusted to the two young Roosevelt advisers, Thomas G. Corcoran and Benjamin V. Cohen, is full of political dynamite. It arises, according to inner circle informants, from a recent fight on the floor of the senate. Critics of PWA power policy

Air Used as Muscle Lubricant

New Method of Abating Pain by Injection Is Demonstrated to Medics

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE AP Science Editor SAN FRANCISCO, June 17—Injection of air into muscles to relieve chronic pain was demonstrated here today in the scientific exhibits of the American Medical association. The air goes in through a hypodermic needle and lubricates the spaces along which one bunch of muscles slides over another. The Chinese originated this air grease thousands of years ago, but the modern discoveries demonstrated here have resulted in finding virtually a new field in human anatomy and new explanations of causes of pain. Dangers of air injection by unskilled persons are so great that press releases on this new technique prepared for this meeting were cancelled yesterday when the subject was reported in an open clinical meeting. The discoveries in muscular anatomy were described today by Charles Murray Gratz, M.D., of Columbia university, who gave the scientific exhibit. He demonstrated that there are "joints" in muscles, just as real as those of bones. He showed pictures of muscular fibers separated by bands of tissue called fascia. This tissue normally has the tensile strength of steel. A muscular strain, bruise, or disease causes adhesions to form between the smooth layers of fascia. Under those circumstances they no longer slide easily over each other but stick together like fused joints. Inasmuch as the nerves lie in these fused spaces, pain is likely.

Counsel Charges Mayor Hague With Contempt of District Court After Forbidden Ernst Attack

NEWARK, N. J., June 17 (AP)—Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City was charged with contempt of the United States district court today by Morris L. Ernst, counsel for the CIO and American Civil Liberties union in their "free speech" injunction suit against him. At the accuser's suggestion, Judge William Clark withheld his ruling pending the filing of supporting affidavits and a brief. The contempt charge was made because Hague, at a hastily-called press conference during the noon recess, made an attack on Ernst he was forbidden to make on the witness stand.

Ernst, counsel for the CIO and American Civil Liberties union in their "free speech" injunction suit against him. ### Amazes Reno Millionaire McDonald Breaks Records

RENO, Nev., June 17 (AP)—A young millionaire with an unusual record for marital mix-ups went honeymooning with his third wife today after two divorces and two marriages in as many days. James McDonald, 3rd, of San Mateo, Cal., and Boise, Idaho, set a mark yesterday for other clients of Reno's "quick change" divorce and marriage industries to shoot at when he (1) was divorced by his first wife, (2) married his second, and (3) was divorced by her. And today at Carson City, Nevada's capital 30 miles south of here, he embarked on his third matrimonial venture. Wife No. 1 is Mrs. Alecea Breeze McDonald, formerly of Berkeley, Cal. They were married at Elko, Nev., June 7, 1931, and have a four-year-old daughter, Jacqueline. A few years ago McDonald attempted to have this marriage annulled, contending in the California courts that he was only 18 and his bride 16 when they eloped. Mrs. McDonald successfully contested the action. She won a divorce yesterday on a charge of desertion.

Nicaragua Canal Project Elicits Official Study

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The navy department joined four other government agencies today to oppose construction of a canal across Nicaragua at this time. It recommended, however, that the $1,000,000,000 project be studied further. Admiral William D. Leahy, acting secretary of the navy, outlined the views of that service in a report to the house merchant marine committee. "It is the opinion of the navy department," he wrote, that since the measure has not been included in the current budget, and since it involves a matter of great future consequence, studies relative to the project should be continued without further commitment at this time." Similar reports were made by the commerce and war departments and the maritime commission. The state department sent a secret communication on the subject. Though committee officials refused to divulge its details, they said it opposed immediate action.

Sen. Royal S. Copeland Dies in Washington; Was Opponent of F.D.R.

Tammany Hall Loses Leader Through Death

Copeland Fought For Life of New York Demo Group

Senator Royal S. Copeland, New York—Democrat

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Tammany hall, fighting desperately for more than a year against a powerful combination out to destroy it utterly, lost one of its top old guard leaders in the death of Senator Royal S. Copeland. Senator Copeland, a persistent critic of many of the policies of the Roosevelt administration, had sought in vain only last year to help the old hall recapture control of the democratic rank and file in New York from the pro-Roosevelt faction headed by James A. Farley. Ran for Mayor Heedless of the danger implicit in his action to his senatorial career, Copeland allowed himself to be put forward by old-fashioned right wing Tammany leaders as their choice for the democratic nomination for mayor. He lost heavily to Jeremiah T. Mahoney, backed by the Farley men, in a campaign that left much bitterness within and outside Tammany hall. Not only did his death deprive Tammany of yet another of its old councillors: it added many complications to an already complicated democratic party situation within the senate. Washington Spokesman The senator had been the spokesman in Washington for the conservative democrats of this state, balancing off, in a sense, the strongly new deal policies of his colleague, Senator Robert F. Wagner. In his unsuccessful mayoral campaign Copeland ran on both the democratic and republican primary tickets, seeking to rally the conservatives against Mahoney on the one hand and Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, then nominally a Republican, on the other. He denounced the Committee for Industrial Organization as a "rabble rousing, blustering, impudent and law-breaking" organization. Gray-haired, benevolent in appearance, he typified the old-fashioned politician. All plans for the election of his successor in the senate were held in abeyance pending word from Governor Herbert H. Lehman.

Overwork May Have Hurried Demo's Death

NAHANT, Mass., June 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt tonight said he was "greatly shocked" to hear of the death of Senator Royal S. Copeland (D-N.Y.). In a telegram to the senator's widow, he said: "We have been greatly shocked to hear of the senator's sudden death. Mrs. Roosevelt joins me in sending to you our very deep sympathy." The president was in Nahant for the wedding tomorrow of his son John to Miss Anne Lindsay Clark. WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Sen. Royal S. Copeland, New York democrat, died at 7:45 o'clock tonight of "a general circulatory collapse complicated by a kidney ailment." He was 69 years old. Mrs. Copeland, two physicians and two nurses were with him when the end came in his suite in the Shoreham hotel. Nationally Known Dr. Harry M. Kaufman, one of the attending physicians, said the illness may have been brought on by overwork toward the end of the congressional session, but added that "the senator hasn't really been well in a long time." The senator was nationally known for his writings and broadcasts on health problems as well as for his activities in Washington. For the past year Copeland had been especially active. He made an unsuccessful bid for the New York mayoralty last fall, and during the congressional session just ended spent much time on maritime labor questions. Once, he almost got into a fist fight when Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) lunged at him during debate on an army bill. Copeland was a member of the senate group of democrats who frequently disagreed with Roosevelt policy. Gasque Dead Copeland was the second member of the 75th congress to die within a day after the historic session ended. Representative Alford H. Gasque (D-SC), succumbed this morning. The New York senator, a blythe and debonair man, was easily spotted by gallery fans because he always wore a red carnation. His wife pinned a fresh flower to his lapel each morning. By overworking during the past session, he failed to follow the prescription he handed freely to colleagues—rest and relaxation. When a session dragged out, he would call for adjournment, on the ground that "frayed nerves, lack of poise and general restlessness" were symptoms of fatigue which made "deliberate thinking" impossible. Opposed New Deal The new deal had not been operating long before Copeland began to display marked aversion to some of its policies. He was, for instance, a leader in the successful fight against senate ratification of a St. Lawrence waterway treaty with Canada. He was open, also, in his opposition to the administration proposal to appoint six new justices to the supreme court. "I applaud the great social ob-

Claim Minister Ordered Raids

BERLIN, June 17 (AP)—Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels himself ordered the raids on Jewish homes and amusement places that have become daily occurrences in Berlin since June 1, a high Nazi source declared tonight. Dr. Goebbels learned that a constant stream of Jews was descending upon this capital because it was regarded as the only oasis left for Jews," the informant said. "Rightly or wrongly, the Jews believed the presence here of a large diplomatic corps and so many foreign correspondents constituted a certain safeguard for Jews. Accordingly Jews have been coming in droves. Fearing difficulties if they reported their presence to police, they sought refuge with relatives and friends. "Dr. Goebbels (as Nazi district leader of greater Berlin) was told many homes which housed five or six persons suddenly sheltered 14 or 15. So he ordered Count Wolf Helldorf, chief of Berlin police, to make a thorough investigation and cleanup." Cafes, restaurants and theaters frequented by Jews and Jewish homes have been raided by secret police since the anti-Semitic campaign stiffened. It was rumored 1,000 persons were arrested. Authorities shrugged their shoulders when asked about this report.

Relief Client's Demonstration Aggravates Crisis in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, June 17 (AP)—Renewed unrest among hungry clients and a demonstration by unpaid demonstration workers aggravated Cleveland's relief crisis today. Extra police were called to a district office, where a crowd estimated by police of about 200 relief clients excitedly shouted "We want food." The group was quieted. A group of 68 union relief employees clumped through city hall during their lunch hour, protesting a month of "payless pay-days." Welfare Director Fred W. Ramsey said the city "faced no other choice" than closure of its seven district relief offices next week unless Ohio's legislators promptly approve a relief program. He said city relief funds would be entirely exhausted tomorrow and no more money was in sight for even emergency food orders. State funds ran out two months ago.

Would Oust Police Officials Following Expose of Practices

LOS ANGELES, June 17 (AP)—Citing the convictions of Police Officer Earl Kynette and Roy Allen as sufficient cause, Councilman James M. Hyde today demanded in the city council that Mayor Frank L. Shaw, Chief of Police James E. Davis and all members of the police commission resign. The resolution declared the police intelligence squad, of which Kynette was head, operated as a "political spying" organization with the knowledge of the mayor and the chief.

Wonders Or, America's Darling Visits Chicago

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—Little Shirley Temple visited Chicago today and said she liked Lake Michigan "and those elevator trains that run way up on stilts." The nine-year-old Hollywood star chatted with reporters in a north side hotel upon arriving with her parents by automobile on a cross-country vacation trip that will include Washington and New York. Asked if Chicago impressed her, she said: "I'll say. Your lake looks just like the ocean, and I liked it when a street rose up right in the middle and there was a river and a boat going through."

Hawkeye Boys State Resolves Against Liquor

DES MOINES, June 17 (AP)—The delegates to the American Legion-sponsored Hawkeye boys state at Camp Dodge here today adopted a resolution condemning liquor. The resolution, adopted by the organization's model assembly and signed by its governor, Max E. Paige, 19, of Waterloo, stated: "The best manhood of Iowa firmly believes that the sale and use of intoxicating beverages is opposed to the general welfare of Iowa and of the United States of America." This week the 570 boys attending the camp are putting to practical use the theoretical knowledge of local county and state government they have gained from textbooks.

Washington Gets Ready to Distribute Billions

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Administration aides busily tuned up the gigantic federal spending machine today for the distribution of the billions appropriated by the departing congress. At the public works administration, officials said they were ready to allot projects totaling $500,000,000 as quickly as President Roosevelt signs the $3,753,000,000 lending-spending bill. The works progress administration was occupied with arrangements for increasing the relief rolls from their present level of something more than 2,600,000 to an estimated peak of 3,100,000, to be reached during the winter months. These and other agencies involved in the lending-spending drive to stimulate recovery had been making their arrangements for weeks, throughout the period that the bill was under consideration in congress. They explain that to be most effective in alleviating the business recession, the money must be distributed with reasonable haste. When Mr. Roosevelt would sign the bill was unknown. Not only this measure, but a big folder of other completed legislation awaited his attention, including the wage-hour bill. He intends to return to Washington next Friday, but meanwhile can sign the measures at his home in Hyde Park, where he will spend most of next week. The spending problem was not the only summer-time legacy left by congress to the executive branch. The administration of the wage-bill must be provided for soon by the appointment of an administrator. In view of the row within the ranks of organized labor, the selection of that official was expected to prove no easy task. The securities exchange commission was left the big job of regulating the far flung over-the-counter market in securities, the volume and ramifications of which far exceed those of the organized exchanges. It will be done, through voluntary associations of dealers, under the SEC's supervision. The navy department was given the task of getting work started on a huge new rearmament plan, involving the eventual construction of 72 new war ships of various types. A billion dollars was voted toward this purpose. Nearly every agency of the government found it had been given some new task to perform, or had had the scope of an old one broadened. At the same time, congress provided some summer-time committee work for its own members.

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The United States, calling on Germany to pay Austria's dollar debt of more than $60,000,000, laid down the principle today that nations which annex other countries must assume the "burdens with the benefits." This country thus took a stand diametrically opposite that of Walther Funk, German finance minister. He recently said Germany was not responsible for Austria's debts, and cited as precedents the refusal of Great Britain to pay the obligations of the Boer state, of the United States to pay confederate debts and of France to assume Madagascar's obligations.

S. U. I. Students

Show Approval Of Summer Advantages

LAST NIGHT summer session students thronged to the west front of Old Capitol to hear Will Durant, philosopher and author, discuss "The World Conflict."

Mr. Durant's lecture, and the attendance of those who heard him speak, would seem to prove rather conclusively that S.U.I. summer students are truly in earnest in searching for further education during these summer months.

It is deplorable that bombings of cities and civilians should be tolerated any place—in China, Spain, Palestine or India—but in the light of these recent happenings, the United States and England might forget their "better than thou" attitudes and give some thought to character as well as reputation in such matters.

As the Great Peacemaker once said to a mob of would-be executioners, "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

Zadok Dumbkopf, who has a nice little place in the country, says he's not sure just when he will go away on his vacation. It depends on just when the wife's folk write they are on their way here.

Europeans, we read, have refused to become enthusiastic over swing music. We can't figure out why—it's a lot easier to listen to than war rumors.

Iowa Mothers and Dads Gather at Iowa City To Discuss Children

IOWA PARENTS will have their annual opportunity next week to find out what experts in child guidance and parent education think about the "bringing up" of children. For the 12th year, the University of Iowa will stage its conference on child development and parent education.

An illustrious speaking program has been scheduled, and visitors will receive advice from men and women who are outstanding in their particular fields. But just as important as the formal lectures are the round table discussion groups, where parents and teachers will be permitted to ask questions. In this way the present trend of child training will be truly detected.

This science of "child rearing" as a science is a comparatively new one after all. It is particularly fitting that the University of Iowa, which was the world's first state institution to provide for a study of the normal child, should be the scene of these conferences.

rector, Dr. George D. Stoddard, the station has become noted among other such institutions throughout the country. Thus the child development and parent education conference Tuesday through Thursday becomes more than just "another meeting."

This is certainly the age of streamlined speed. That last Mexican revolution went by so fast it hardly had time to make the front pages.

When we were a kid the word "beaver" meant a beard. Now it means a government employe. (The WPA is to use some beavers to build a dam.)

Let Him Who Is Without Sin Cast The First Stone

GREAT BRITAIN and the United States recently joined in condemning the bombing of civilians in Spain and China.

The civilized world was shocked at the outrages which were reported by authorities and punitive measures were proposed to make the wars more civilized. Later developments have shown that the United States has been sending large shipments of bombing planes to the Orient—a fact which has thrown a cold shower on the United States' arguments for anti-bombing measures.

We have washed our hands of the matter, excusing ourselves by saying that we would sell war materials to any country having the necessary cash in hand.

Great Britain has not escaped so easily. Critics have attacked England for her bombings in India and Palestine. It seems that England, too, has resorted to aerial thrusts to intimidate and quell her mandatory colonies.

Thursday, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain defended the British attacks saying that the bombings in India took place under special conditions that made them "different and more humane" as compared with the bombings carried out in Spain and China.

When the British parliament arose en masse with cries of "Shame, shame," Chamberlain replied, "I don't think there will be any difficulties for the inhabitants of these places to find refuge. I have read of numerous caves in the vicinity in which they can find shelter."

It is deplorable that bombings of cities and civilians should be tolerated any place—in China, Spain, Palestine or India—but in the light of these recent happenings, the United States and England might forget their "better than thou" attitudes and give some thought to character as well as reputation in such matters.

As the Great Peacemaker once said to a mob of would-be executioners, "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

Zadok Dumbkopf, who has a nice little place in the country, says he's not sure just when he will go away on his vacation. It depends on just when the wife's folk write they are on their way here.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

THE SELF-HELPERS

The thousands of brand-new college graduates who step out this month into a world generally cold and unware of any need for them may find courage, we hope, from the experiences of some of their contemporaries recently in the news.

There is, for example, Morton Bauman, who entered New York University with only $40 in his pocket, who slept in the parks, who later earned his own way by various odd jobs and who has carried on his studies for the past two years flat on his back in a tuberculosis sanitarium. But he is graduating with his class. Discouragements couldn't stop him. During his illness he received help from a benefit dance given by his fellow-students, but in the main he paid his own way.

There are also the four sightless young actresses from the New York Guild for the Jewish Blind, who just won a place in the final round of the Community Drama tournament on a strictly competitive basis. They didn't ask or receive odds, but simply gave a fine performance.

Discouraging as is the prospect for the average graduate in a depression year, still most of them have both sight and health. To be sure the world is all wrong. In a better set-up, the enthusiasm and skill and knowledge of the graduating classes would not be allowed to waste for a minute. And nevertheless we believe that with the uncomplaining courage shown by these handicapped persons, youngsters will make their own places.

And don't forget the Hit Parade at 8 o'clock over CBS. —The New York World-Telegram.

'CEASE FIRING,' 1938!

Tuning In with Loren Hickerson

Bits Here and There For what promises to be an interesting broadcast, tune in on our own WSUI tonight at 7 o'clock to hear the lockdown on numismatics. It's something like philately, which, in good old American, is the collection of postage stamps. Numismatics is the collection of coins, and a program built around that science has been planned for tonight by WSUI.

Appearing on the broadcast will be J. Henri Ripstra of Chicago, president of the American Numismatic association, and Ted Hammer of Burlington, secretary for the southern Iowa district of the Iowa Numismatic association. The Iowa group will hold a convention in Iowa City tomorrow.

And WSUI also has another new program today. It's the "Facts and Fancies" program, and you can hear it at 10 o'clock this morning. The program will be conducted by Laverna Goodman, and will be devoted exclusively to women's interests.

Radio Personality Anne Seymour, heard as the star of the "Mary Marlin" show, probably holds the record for enacting the highest number of different roles in the shortest space of time. She got her first radio audition at WLW in Cincinnati where she remained to play more than 200 diversified parts during a three-month period.

Since then she has been spotlighted on many network shows including "Grand Hotel," in which Don Ameche played opposite her for three years.

Sponsor are also trying to get Philips H. Lord to return to the air in his best liked character, Seth Parker.

It's Saturday Again Saturday seems to be the perennial day of good bands. Tune in on Richard Himber at 6 this evening and Blue Barron at 10:30 on the NBC-Red network; Russ Morgan at 6:30 and Kay Kyser at 9:30 on the CBS system, and Horace Heidt and Freddie Martin at 9:30 and 10:30 respectively on the NBC-Blue network.

kept up for an indefinite period, at least as long as three or four hours. Recovery has been known to take place after four hours of artificial respiration, during which time life is apparently completely suspended.

Proper Method The proper method of artificial respiration is the prone pressure maneuver. The one known to most people is the old Silvester method of putting the patient on the back and raising the arms forcibly over the head. It is probably the least effective of all methods of artificial respiration.

The prone pressure method consists in putting the patient on his stomach, bending one arm so that the forehead can rest upon it, thus raising the nose and mouth from the ground and preventing the tongue from falling into the back of the throat. The operator sits astraddle of the prone patient and alternately places both hands on the sides of the chest, presses the air out, and then sits back, taking the hands off the chest so that it can expand.

The treatment of drowning should be artificial respiration,

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Janet Gaynor's new leading man is 26, a former college instructor of English, a playwright, a stage director and an actor with a firm conviction that six months at a time in Hollywood is enough.

Richard Carlson signed a movie contract only when he got the kind he wanted—six months here, six months away from here. Another thing he wanted in his contract was provision that he could write and direct as well as act. He got that too. That is not unusual. Hollywood frequently gives that type of contract. It is unusual, however, that Carlson seems to be doing something about it. He is already working on his first screen writing assignment, is already making periodical trips to cutting rooms and laboratories and all the studio departments to study the screen business from the inside out.

An Athlete He has been writing plays since high school days in Minneapolis. At the University of Minnesota he kept on acting and writing and took on directing. In high school he had played football and hockey in addition to numerous extracurricular activities. In college he concentrated on golf in the sports line, sailed through his regular courses with time to spare for dramatics. In 1934 he had his M.A. degree, Phi Beta Kappa, $2,500 in scholarship prizes, and a job as English instructor. He stuck it out three months.

"By that time I'd realized the college life was not for me," he says. "It seemed like living in a world apart, behind a high protecting wall. I could look around and see examples of what I was afraid I might become. Professors who talked like pundits, positively, profoundly, dully. All were not like that, but enough were to frighten me away." He took his $2,500 and started the Minneapolis Repertory company. In six months his $2,500 was gone. Merle Potter, Minneapolis drama editor, advised New York or Hollywood. He came to Hollywood, with a letter to Gloria Stuart and her husband Arthur Sheekman, who had been a St. Paul drama critic. They sent him to the Pasadena Community playhouse, where he directed and acted. When he hit New York by bus, he pounded the pavements only three weeks before he got a job that lasted 32 weeks. When he played with Ethel Barrymore in "The Ghost of Yankee Doodle" in New York the picture offers began. He got the one he wanted—from Selznick—after Playwright Sidney Howard read his play, "Western Waters," which had flopped on Broadway.

Contract "Protection" He took his test for "The Young in Heart" from scenes he had dramatized himself from I. A. R. Wylie's novel. This was confusing when he came to play the same scenes for the picture—dramatized differently by Paul Osborn. He would keep reciting the lines he had written instead of Osborn's lines. If he ever gets to write, direct and act in a picture he won't have that trouble.

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—Alfred Hitchcock is back in town. Just stopping over. The British movie director, who turned in "The 39 Steps" and some other superb blood-curdlers, is going to Hollywood. It's his first trip to Hollywood, although he's been in the motion picture game 19 years. He hasn't changed much. He's added seven pounds but you wouldn't notice. He weighs 279 pounds—"stripped and official," he says. He still thinks that the American steak is the best in the world... that hanging's too good for a director of color pictures who'll splash sunsets and red hunting coats on the screen... that the picture-going public, which rightfully prefers steak and ice cream, is being gypped on goulash and chocolate eclairs.

He still likes to shock. Last year, overlooking the city from a friend's penthouse balcony, he told me that the ultimate in color movie drama would be a drop of blood on a daisy petal. This year his fancy is more subdued, but no less free. "Now," he says, "I think the perfect subject for color would be an oyster. A touch of green would indicate that the oyster was bad and there would be your drama. I should like to film rain in color." English Pictures All that controversy stirred up by Sam Goldwyn about whether English pictures are better than Hollywood's leaves Hitchcock cold. "Typing is the real evil," he says. "If you have the same people, you have the same story. If the movies seem to have 'stales,' it's because the same people keep moving through them in the same fashion. "Actors should be permitted to act. The success of fine character actors like Paul Muni and Spencer Tracy should indicate the basis for enduring popularity. George Arliss owed his long-standing success to his willingness to experiment." Hitchcock brought over with him a print of his latest picture, "The Wheel Spins," but he didn't tell me much about it except that it was inspired by the "vanishing lady" story which Alexander Woolcott popularized. Margaret Lockwood, a new star, is in it, and Paul Lukas and Dame May Whitty. Gaumont did it from the Ethel Lina White best-seller. Pastime My favorite interview pastime is picking out Hitchcockisms. In several years of passing the time of day with the director who has our bouquet for being the best across the water and probably the best anywhere if they can ever persuade him to try the Hollywood system, I've collected quite a few. Most recent are: "A worm will turn all right—but if you tread on it, it just spreads. "It's not true that I'm a woman-hater. I hate ladies—on the screen and off.

National Heads Will Be Elected At Iowa Union

Commerce Sorority To End Session With Dinner Dance

Phi Gamma Nu, women's professional commerce sorority, will elect officers at the final biennial session of their fifth biennial national convention this morning at 9 o'clock in the north conference room of Iowa Union.

The election will be followed by a luncheon in the foyer of Iowa Union.

Tonight at 7 o'clock the 55 couples will attend the group's dinner dance in the river room of Iowa Union. Dusty Keaton's orchestra will provide music for dancing.

A color scheme of red and gold will be used in the decorations, flowers, tapers and dance programs.

Chaperoning the party will be Prof. and Mrs. O. K. Patton and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Strong.

Tomorrow afternoon following the installation of the newly-elected officers in the Theta Xi house, Mrs. S. G. Winter, patroness of the local chapter, will entertain the group at a tea in her home, 517 Templin road.

The convention committee will assist her as hostesses.

Yesterday's program included business sessions, luncheon at a night-seeing in the Amama colonies and a smorgasbord buffet supper.

Eight sorority chapters representing Northwestern university, Boston university, University of Denver, Temple university, University of Detroit, De Pauw university, University of Wyoming and University of Iowa have sent delegates to the convention.

White Mountains' Tram Begins

First aerial tramway in North America was opened to the public on Cannon mountain in the White mountains of New Hampshire, June 17, with ceremonies. The rise from the base of Cannon mountain to the summit is 5,410 feet. The trip takes eight minutes. This photo shows one of the two 27-passenger cars which are being used in the year-round service. The girl extending greetings from the car is Lorraine Ledoux of Littleton, N. H., "Miss New Hampshire."

HOSTESS HINTS

Now that ripe strawberries and blackberries are to be had in the markets it's time to fill up the empty pantry shelves with glasses of home-made jams and jellies.

By using the following short-boat recipes you'll have no failures, more glasses and perfect flavor.

Ripe Strawberry Jelly
4 cups (2 pounds) berry juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
8 cups (3 1/2 pounds) sugar
1 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare juice, crush thoroughly or grind about three quarts fully ripe berries. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Squeeze and strain juice from one medium lemon.

Measure sugar and fruit juices into large saucepan and mix. Bring to boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one-half minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes 12 glasses (six fluid ounces each).

Ripe Strawberry Jam
4 cups (2 pounds) prepared fruit
6 cups (2 3/4 pounds) sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, grind about two quarts fully ripe berries, or crush completely one layer at a time so that each berry is reduced to a pulp.

Measure sugar into dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure prepared fruit into a five to six quart kettle, filling up last cup or fraction of cup with water if necessary; place over hottest fire. Add powdered fruit pectin, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar, stirring constantly. (To reduce foaming, one-fourth teaspoon butter may be added.) Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard one minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 10 glasses (six fluid ounces each).

Ripe Blackberry Jelly
3 cups (1 1/2 pounds) juice
4 cups (1 3/4 pounds) sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare juice, grind or crush thoroughly about two quarts fully ripe berries (not black caps). Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. (If there is a slight shortage of juice, add small amount of water to pulp in jelly cloth and squeeze again.) Measure sugar into dry dish and set aside until needed. Measure juice into a three to four quart saucepan and place over hottest fire. Add powdered fruit pectin, mix well, and continue stirring until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once pour in sugar, stirring constantly. Continue stirring, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard one-half minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about seven glasses (six fluid ounces each).

Ripe Blackberry Marmalade
3 cups (1 1/2 pounds) prepared fruit
5 cups (2 1/4 pounds) sugar
1/2 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, peel off yellow rind of one orange and one lemon with sharp knife, leaving as much of white part on fruit as possible. Put yellow rinds through food chopper; add one-half cup water and one-eighth teaspoon soda, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 10 minutes. Cut off tight skin of peeled fruit and slip pulp out of each section. Add pulp and juice of cooked rind. Crush or grind about one quart fully ripe blackberries. Combine with orange mixture.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, filling up last cup with water if necessary. Mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil gently five minutes. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just five minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot marmalade at once. Makes about eight glasses (six fluid ounces each).

Ripe Blackberry Jelly
3 cups (1 1/2 pounds) juice
4 cups (1 3/4 pounds) sugar
1 box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare juice, grind or crush thoroughly about two quarts fully ripe berries (not black caps). Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. (If there is a slight shortage of juice, add small

Margaret Farrish Will Marry Hasse in Single Ring Service

Mr. and Mrs. Rehder To Attend Couple Tonight

The marriage of Margaret Farrish, daughter of Mrs. John Farrish of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., and Leo W. Hasse, son of Mrs. Otto Hasse, 1025 E. Burlington street, will be solemnized at 8 o'clock tonight in the bride-elect's home. The Rev. Hyslop will read the single ring service.

Attending the couple will be Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Rehder, 1181 Hotz avenue. A brother, Donald Farrish, will give the bride away.

The bride will wear a floor-length gown of light blue silk net fashioned with short puffed sleeves and a full skirt. Blush pink bows will trim the square neckline and the skirt of her gown. Her accessories will be blush pink and she will carry a bridal bouquet of white roses and syringas.

Mr. Rehder's gown of white organza is fashioned along princess lines with ruffles bordering the hemline. Accenting her gown are a pink sash and pink accessories. She will carry a bouquet of white roses and pink sweet peas.

Mr. Farrish, mother of the bride, will wear a blue and white printed dress with a navy blue redingote. Mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Hasse, will wear a dress of navy blue lace with a matching full-length coat.

After the ceremony a wedding reception will be held in the bride's home. Later the couple will leave for a wedding trip in the north. They will return to Iowa City July 15 and will make their home at 706 College street.

Miss Farrish received her B.A. and M.A. degrees from the university and since her graduation has been an art instructor in Waldorf college at Forest City. She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, Mortar Board, and Phi Beta Kappa fraternity.

Also a graduate of the university, Mr. Hasse is a member of Beta Sigma Gamma fraternity and was a member of the university tennis team. He is now an accountant in the university business office.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reynolds . . . seek return of son

Mrs. Helen Fortescue Reynolds, wife of the tobacco heir, is undecided what her next step will be in an attempt to regain possession of her year-old son from Julian Louis Reynolds from whom she is seeking a separation. She has turned down an invitation to join Julian and the son at the Richmond, Va., home of her mother-in-law. Mrs. Reynolds went to court in New York to gain custody of the child, who was bundled off to the Reynolds estate at Richmond from her temporary home at Glen Cove, L. I.

Wilma Leeney Bride of Lantz At St. Patrick's

Wilma Leeney, daughter of Mrs. Sadie Leeney, 215 E. Prentiss street, and Wilbur Lantz, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lantz, 128 1/2 N. Gilbert street, were married Thursday in the St. Patrick's rectory at 8:30 p.m. The Rev. Patrick J. O'Reilly performed the ceremony.

Bernice Bradley of Iowa City and Cyril Leeney of Davenport, cousins of the bride, were the attendants. The bride wore a white tailored suit with a corsage of yellow roses, and Miss Bradley wore a frock of powder blue crepe with a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Lantz is a graduate of St. Patrick's high school, Brown's Commerce college and the Paris Academy of Beauty Culture in Cedar Rapids. She is manager of the Johnson beauty salon. The bridegroom is a graduate of Iowa City high school and is now employed by the Iowa City Coach company.

Colorful Festivities Precede Wedding

John Roosevelt, Anne Lindsay Clark Honored by Celebrations

NAHANT, Mass., June 17 (AP) — The nation's first family, in one of its rare en masse gatherings, tonight celebrated colorfully the wedding eve of its youngest member, tall John Roosevelt, and his bride-to-be, Anne Lindsay Clark.

With the flurry of pre-nuptial events lending an electric air to this normally quiet old town, President Roosevelt stepped in himself to climax the swift round with a formal dinner to the bridal party aboard his yacht, the Potomac, anchored just off shore.

The final scene was splashed with color, as the Potomac, ablaze with lights and guarded by a rakish navy destroyer, rocked the bridal party in a gentle swell less than 500 yards off the rocky shore of this seascouraged town.

At high noon tomorrow, John and Anne, Harvard senior and Boston debutante, will join hands at the altar of the quaint, 107-year-old Union church here to provide the real climax of the number one wedding of the year.

The young couple will go through the standard Episcopal, single-ring ceremony. The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox

Local Women On Committee For World Fair

Among the hundred Iowa women who will receive certificates of membership in the advisory committee on women's participation for the New York World's Fair 1939 are six local women.

Mrs. Eugene A. Gilmore and Mrs. Mildred W. Pelzer have been named vice-chairmen, and Mrs. W. F. Boiler, Mrs. William Larabee Jr., Mrs. William H. Morgan and Mrs. Benj. F. Shambaugh are members of the committee.

Mrs. Hiram C. Houghton Jr. of Red Oak, chairman of the committee in Iowa, is planning an organization meeting at which sub-committees will be appointed to work to interest the populace of Iowa in the fair.

Women's committees have been formed in each state under the national leadership of Mrs. Vincent Astor with a national membership of 5,000 women. This committee works closely with the men's advisory committee headed by Winthrop W. Aldrich. A building to be known as Advisory Committee's building will be headquarters at the fair.

Legion Auxiliary Will Have Picnic

The families of the American Legion auxiliary members will be entertained at a picnic supper Monday at 6 p.m. in the community building. Each is expected to bring sandwiches, table service and covered dishes.

A Fidac program will follow the dinner and prizes for the poppy program will be awarded.

Russell Hirt, who attended the boys' state camp at Des Moines will give a short talk. The nomination and election of officers will be completed before the close of the program.

'Chuck Out Romance' Marriage Is War, Professor Tells Brides, Grooms

By AURELIUS KINSEY AP Feature Service Writer CHICAGO—Marriage is war, says Dr. Joseph C. Rheingold, University of Illinois psychiatrist, and the sooner the bride and groom "chuck out romance" the better chance they will have.

"All marriages involve a struggle for power," Dr. Rheingold holds. "Sometimes it is waged in so subtle a way that husband and wife are not aware of any disagreement. If a compromise is not reached the marriage fails."

The wherefores Dr. Rheingold explains the struggle for power thus: "The lot of woman has undergone a revolutionary change in the last generation. She has not yet attained equal rights with men but she has gone a long way . . . and her new freedom has altered her relations to her husband in ways she does not clearly understand."

On the other hand, he says the average man is brought up with the traditional idea that he is superior to woman, cannot adjust himself to her new sphere and resents any move she makes to gain equality.

Marriage on a partnership basis does little to solve the difficulty, the doctor believes, because although a man and his wife may agree to keep their marriage on an equal footing the man still expects the wife to do the housework, or he resents her greater business prestige, greater income, greater need for love or differences of opinion.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Forwald of Port Arthur, Tex., are visitors in the home of Mr. Forwald's mother, Mrs. John Forwald, 835 Dewey street. Mr. Forwald is athletic coach in the Port Arthur high school.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kuenzel of the Hotel Jefferson spent Thursday in Burlington, where they visited Mrs. Kuenzel's parents.

Roy W. Weekes, George Koudelka Jr., Philip Krouth, all of Iowa City, and Lee Krouth of Cedar Rapids, are on a week's fishing trip at the Lake of the Woods, Lake Mary, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Rouse and their son, Tommy, have returned to their home in Cleveland, Ohio, after visiting with Mr. Rouse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Rouse, 900 N. Johnson street.

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Bowman and their son, Charles Kenneth, of St. Louis, will arrive in Iowa City today to visit in the home of Mr. Bowman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bowman, 319 Hutchinson avenue.

Van Phillips, a student at Harvard college, has arrived in Iowa City to spend the summer in the home of his parents, Dean and Mrs. Chester A. Phillips, 721 N. Linn street.

Pre-Nuptial? Bride-groom Gets The Courtesy Instead

Similar to the pre-nuptial courtesies that customarily fete a bride-elect, so was the party given—Mr. Hasse June 8 in Iowa Union by a group of his university business associates.

According to one of the hosts "the strictly informal affair was planned more for the entertainment of the group than to impress the honoree with the solemnity of the step he was about to take."

Louis C. Zopf, assisted by Lee Cochran at the projection lantern, presented a fictitious life history of the guest of honor with other members of the group interrupting him to read alleged clippings from home town newspapers concerning the activities of Mr. Hasse's childhood. In the course of the evening, appropriate "shower" packages were opened by the guest of honor amid much amusement at his expense, followed by a presentation of a wedding gift from the group.

Those honoring Mr. Hasse were W. H. Bates, L. A. Bradley, D. W. Bray, Edward Briggs, W. H. Cobb, Lee Cochran, R. J. Connor, V. S. Copeland, Joseph Glennon, F. L. Hamburg, Lawrence Hard, F. E. Humeston, E. T. Joffille, Carl McLachlan, Ernest McConkie, Wilbur McLain, Loren Peterson, C. R. Rasley, T. M. Rehder, R. J. Sleznik, M. E. Steele, D. R. Thomas, L. C. Zopf, John Uthoff and N. E. Welter.

At the Department of Justice in Washington half the criminal finger prints received are found to have had previous police records.

Physical Education Leaders to Attend 2-Day Meeting Here

Three Guests Will Speak At Annual Affair

Conference Thursday, Friday Open To All Teachers

Three leaders in the field of physical education are scheduled to appear at the ninth annual conference on problems in physical education on the University of Iowa campus Thursday and Friday.

Guest speakers at this year's conference are A. O. Anderson, director of physical education and recreation at St. Louis, Mo., and past president of the central district of the Physical Education association; Gertrude Baker, associate professor of physical education at the University of Minnesota; and Dr. L. B. Cheonweth, professor of hygiene at the University of Cincinnati and national president of Phi Epsilon Kappa, honorary physical education organization.

No Fee
As in past years, there is no conference fee in connection with the meetings, which are open to all persons interested in the teaching of health and physical education in schools and other social institutions. Attendance is not limited to those who are enrolled in the university.

A feature of the conference, the program states, is the full discussion of subjects of importance and interest and of important questions arising in the field, with guest speakers contributing.

Members of the staff of the University of Iowa who will appear on next week's program are President Eugene A. Gilmore, who will welcome the gathering Thursday morning, Prof. E. C. Schroeder, director of the physical education departments, Dr. M. E. Barnes, professor and head of hygiene and preventive medicine, director of the university health department and the state bacteriology laboratory.

Prof. Halsey
Prof. Elizabeth Halsey, head of the women's physical education department, Prof. J. W. Kistler of the men's physical education department, Prof. C. H. McCloy of the departments of anthropometry and physical education, and Dr. M. Gladys Scott, an instructor in the women's physical education department.

The Thursday morning program will include an address of welcome by President Gilmore at 9 a. m., a discussion of "Physical Education in Progressive Schools" by Professor Baker at 9:15 a. m., and a discussion of "Educational Possibilities in Athletics" by Professor Kistler at 10:40. Professor Schroeder will be the morning chairman.

The afternoon program, under the direction of Professor Halsey, will feature addresses by Mr. Anderson and Miss Scott, who will speak on "Around the City With the Supervisor" and "Organized Methods of Improving Officiating" respectively. The lectures are at 2 and 3:30 p. m.

Friday Session
Professor McCloy will direct the Friday morning session, when Mr. Anderson will speak on "Better Planning of Our Program" at 9 a. m. and Professor Baker will discuss "Teaching Fundamentals in the Elementary School" at 10:30.

The concluding afternoon's program will be under the direction of Dr. Barnes. Its highlights will be a discussion of "Health Education" by Dr. Chenoweth at 2 p. m., a health education round table led by Dr. Chenoweth at 3 p. m., a summary of the conference by Professor McCloy at 4:45 p. m., and a picnic at Finkbine field at 5:30 p. m., to officially close the conference.

Former President Of University Gives Pension in Will

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—The will of Dr. George E. MacLean, clergyman, author and educator who died May 3 last at his Washington, D. C., home, provides a monthly income for his housekeeper, Martina Brohaugh, that specifies the pension is to terminate on the day of her marriage "in order to protect her from being married for her money."

The testament, filed for probate today, disposes of an estate valued at "more than $20,000" and bequeaths one-third of the residue to a sister, Mrs. Minnie MacLean Lewis, of Brooklyn and two-thirds to a nephew, Edwin

Bandit Lashes Escort to Tree, Abducts Girl

Rosanna Sandberg ... left for dead

Mark Cain, Jr. ... lashed to tree
An armed bandit accosted Rosanna Sandberg, 21, honorary cadet major of the Kansas State college R. O. T. C. unit, and her escort, Mark Cain, Jr., son of a prosperous Lyons, Kas., merchant, near Wichita, and after lashing Cain to a tree, abducted, beat and attacked the girl and left her for dead in a field. Miss Sandberg is expected to recover.

Durant Says War Inevitable, Blaming 'Nationalistic Rivalry For Material Goods' in Lecture

Author Speaks Before 3 Thousand About 'World Conflict'

That another war is inevitable, but that its cause will be primarily the "nationalistic rivalry for material goods," and not a war between diverse forms of government, was strongly asserted by Will Durant, nationally famous lecturer and author, before an audience of more than 3,000 who gathered on the west approach of Old Capitol to hear the noted speaker last night.

His lecture centering about the contemporary struggles between democracy and dictatorship and the rivalry between Eastern and Western civilizations, Durant answered three fundamental questions raised by him as an index to a discussion of the present world crisis.

Will democracy and dictatorship, and the differences and disputes between them, be the essential cause of the next world war?

"No," answered Durant, "fascism, communism and dictatorship will have nothing to do with the next war." The speaker pointed out that when leaders come together, they talk about the material things of the world, the economic commodities for their people, and not governmental types.

"Democracy is not a form of virtue," he explained, "it was a historical accident. Fascism and communism are not forms of vice, they exist because historical conditions paved the way for their existence."

Durant regarded autocracy and serfdom in Russia as traditional systems, and he regarded communism as those two systems "applied to industrialism."

"I do not denounce communism," he urged, "I would denounce it in America, but it was the thing to do in Russia because of the historical conditions that existed there."

In exactly the same way, Durant pointed out, the Italian and German forms of government were the inevitable result of historical conditions acting through space and time.

"Human beings are not divided into good and bad," he said, "but into warriors or groups fighting against one another. It would be foolish to fight Italy because she has a fascist state. If fascism is bad, it will knock itself down."

A round table on the topic, "The Problems of Philosophy," will be conducted by Will Durant, who spoke at the first of the summer university lectures last night, at 9 o'clock this morning in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

Durant will introduce the subject, and the meeting will continue with an open discussion.

Durant denounced the looting of a mob upon the minority, with reference to recent conditions in Germany. Germany was justified, he said, in forming a fascist state, and dictatorship is a natural thing in conditions of chaos.

The speaker pointed to the community of interest between order and liberty. "Take order away," he said, "and man will give his liberty to get order back again." This was the fundamental cause which led to the setting up of dictatorial states in Europe, he said.

"When order has been restored," he continued, "the cry for liberty will again be heard in those dictatorial countries."

What will be the causes of the next war?

"The next war will be a war to protect the material goods of one nation against another," Durant exclaimed.

There are nationalistic rivalries for material goods, he explained—for land, for minerals, for markets, for spheres of investment and for trade routes.

"The next war will be fought by the 'have-not' nations, trying to get the things they need, with the 'have' nations trying to keep them from getting those things."

Can these causes be in any measure controlled?

"Yes," Durant answered, "if you look them in the face, if you do not fool yourself with 'isms,' and if you are willing to sacrifice."

Durant proposed concessions on the part of the "have" nations. He did not blame the "have-not" nations for "mustering forces in an effort to get the things they need."

"I am willing to do evil if a greater good will come," he said, "although that is a dangerous principle."

75 Outstanding High School Musicians Enroll in Courses

5-Weeks Work to Begin Here Monday; 90 Expected

The enrollment of outstanding high school musicians for the five weeks summer courses in the all-state band, orchestra, and chorus, offered by the University of Iowa reached the 75 mark Thursday. Late registrants are expected to push the total of 90 or more when class work starts Monday.

Twenty-nine Iowa towns and five out of state cities will be represented. Iowa City, Burlington, Des Moines, Marshalltown, Davenport, Decorah, Dubuque, Marengo, Sigourney, and Columbus Junction will all be represented by more than one student.

Students will also arrive from South Amana, Clarksville, Conesville, Corning, Council Bluffs, Edgewood, Ft. Madison, Greene, Knoxville, Le Mars, Mechanicsville, Milton, Newton, Oseola, Rock Rapids, Shenandoah, Tipton, Waukon and West Liberty.

Out of state students from the following towns will attend Idaho Falls, Idaho, Wabash, Ind., Galatin, Ill., Galena, Ill., Lincoln, Neb., and Parkville, Mo.

Prof. Cahrlis B. Richter, director of the university band, will be in charge of the all-state orchestra; Prof. Harold I. Stark, director of the university chorus, will conduct the chorus; and Paul C. Dawson of Thomas Jefferson high school in Council Bluffs, will direct the band.

Activities for the students will include weekly solo and ensemble and public concerts and broadcasts over WSUI. Students will receive group and individual instruction in both vocal and instrumental fields.

The students will be housed in the Quadrangle and at Eastlawn. Throughout the summer, picnics and parties have been arranged to augment a sports and recreational program under the supervision of members of the staff.

Why Do Children Go Wrong?

Bates Will Discuss Problem Next Week In Broadcast Over WSUI

Why do children "go wrong"?

This puzzling question will be considered at the University of Iowa's child development and parent education conference next Tuesday at 8 p. m. by Sanford Bates of New York, N. Y. The lecture will be broadcast over station WSUI.

Mr. Bates has come into contact with boys all over the United States ever since he was appointed executive director of Boys Clubs of America more than a year ago. And he has supervised the rehabilitation of thousands of "boys who have gone wrong." For 19 years he served successively as commissioner of the Massachusetts department of correction, superintendent of federal prisons, and director of the bureau of prisons.

Nationally and internationally he is known as an eminent penologist and criminologist. Mr. Bates' term as director of the bureau of prisons brought about a number of significant changes in the penal system.

Alcatraz and other penitentiaries were established or developed for the various states to follow, and the number of institutions was increased from six to 22. The much headlined "special privileges" for wealthy prisoners were abolished, and a humane disciplinary system was installed.

After he had bent all his efforts toward establishing a better prison system, Mr. Bates turned to a task which he believes is even more important — the prevention of crimes while potential criminals are still boys.

To this end, he brought the character building program and facilities of the Boys' Clubs of America to every boy in the neglected, high-delinquency areas, particularly in the larger cities. A total of 291 clubs function in 153 cities throughout America, with a membership of 255,162 boys. They range in age from 6 to 18, and a comprehensive program is outlined for all ages.

Among honors that have come to Mr. Bates are the presidency of the American Prison Congress and appointment as commissioner to three sessions of the International Prison Congresses in Europe.

Mr. Bates will appear three times on the program here. Besides the Tuesday evening lecture, he will take part in a round table discussion on what children need in the community Tuesday afternoon, and will lecture on "Your Town and Your Child" that morning.

The penologist is one of seven speakers scheduled to appear on the three-day program of the 12th annual conference on child development and parent education.

Two Engineers From England Visit Lab Here

Two English engineers were on the University of Iowa campus yesterday, visitors at the college of engineering's motion and time laboratory.

They were N. G. Moss, mechanical engineer for the Metropolitan-Vickers company, Ltd., Manchester, England, and J. O. Holt, electrical engineer for the British Thomson Houston company, Ltd., Rugby, England.

The two men are spending a year at various United States plants of the General Electric company, and came to Iowa City because of their interest in motion and time study research and its practical applications to manufacturing work. Mr. Moss and Mr. Holt consulted with members of the faculty on research work now under way in the department laboratory.

Physicists Will Hear 2 Speak At Colloquium

With "Physical Phenomena in Living Things" as the topic for the day, two guest speakers from other departments are scheduled to appear on the final session programs of the annual colloquium for college physicists which opened on the campus Thursday.

Prof. J. H. Bodine, head of the zoology department since 1928, will speak on phenomena "In Animal Life" at 9 o'clock. Prof. W. F. Loehwing, since 1931 a member of the botany department staff, will speak on the topic, "In Plant Life," at 10:30 a. m.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

9 a. m.—Lecture, "In Animal Life," Prof. J. H. Bodine, of the zoology department, room 301 in the physics building.

10:30 a. m.—Lecture, "In Plant Life," Prof. W. F. Loehwing of the botany department, room 301.

12:15 p. m.—Luncheon in Iowa Union, followed by round table led by Prof. C. J. Lapp.

A luncheon in the private dining room of Iowa Union is scheduled for 12:15 p. m., and a round table led by Prof. C. J. Lapp of the physics department will close the meeting of the colloquium.

With the arrival of Prof. R. R. Hancox from Olivet college in Olivet, Mich., yesterday, a total of 12 states are represented at the colloquium.

District Court Suit Announced By Board Not Yet Instituted

Struggle Between Police Chief, Commission Lulls

A lull appeared yesterday in the heated controversy between Police Chief W. H. Bender and the Iowa City Civil Service commission over the appointment of the two police sergeants when the announced appeal by the board of Chief Bender's action to the district court failed to materialize.

Cyril P. Katzenmeyer, chairman of the three-man commission, announced after a special meeting of the board late Thursday night that the board would meet again last night and today and would request that City Attorney Robert L. Larson institute a writ of mandamus proceedings in the district court to test the police chief's appointive power.

The board did not meet last night, and the petition for the writ of mandamus was not filed yesterday with County Clerk R. Neilson Miller.

Chief Bender announced yesterday morning that unless the court declares the appointments illegal, Sergeants Herbert F. Beranek and Ben A. Hauber will continue to discharge their new duties.

The promotion of the two patrolmen was made by the chief Thursday noon after he had obtained an opinion from the city attorney that both men were eligible because they had been certified by the board a year ago after taking the tests for assistant chief of police and night captain.

The city attorney's opinion held that, although the commission had certified the names of two other patrolmen for advancement after a test last month for the sergeant appointment, the five men who were on the previous list were eligible because they had passed an examination for a higher rank.

The proposed mandamus proceedings will determine from which eligibility list the promotions should be made and whether Chief Bender exceeded his authority in making the appointments from the year-old list.

Time Changed For Broadcast By Dan Doherty

The address of Daniel J. Doherty, national commander of the American Legion, to be given in Iowa City next Wednesday, will be broadcast at 9 p.m. instead of the previously scheduled time of 8:30 p.m., Carl Menzer of station WSUI and chairman of the Dan Doherty day radio committee announced yesterday.

Menzer made the announcement after receiving word from Douglas Grant of station WMT, who also represents stations KSO and KMA, that the change was necessary to remove a conflict with the broadcast of the Louis-Schmeling championship fight which goes on the air at 8:30 p.m.

It is expected that Doherty will speak from 9 p.m. until 9:30 p.m.

Couples Attend Bowl of Rice

More than 175 couples attended the "Bowl of Rice" party last night in the community building, one of the several hundred given simultaneously throughout the nation for the aid of the Chinese refugees.

Thomas M. Farrell, in charge of finances for the party, said an estimate of the proceeds of the dance could not be made until today after the members of the sales committee turn in their unsold tickets.

Chinese students of University sold personal donations of Chinese handicraft at the dance to aid the United Council for Civilian Relief in China in raising funds.

Iowa Drug Group Picks Iowa City For District Picnic

Members of Group 16 of the Iowa Pharmaceutical association, composed of druggists from Iowa, Johnson, Cedar, Muscatine and Washington counties, voted Thursday evening to hold their annual district picnic in Iowa City the last of July. H. H. Gibbs, Iowa City, president of the group, announced yesterday.

Nearly 50 druggists and their wives attended the meeting at Homestead, D. W. Eckenbon, Oskaola, chairman of the legislative committee of the state association, spoke to the group on "Proposed Changes in the Pharmacy Laws."

Nolan Says Simmons Case Settled Out Of Court

Dismissal notices in the four suits of Ozzie Simmons, Don Simmons, W. F. Burghardt and Wilbur Wallace against the Keshin Motor Express company, with damages totaling approximately $25,000, were filed yesterday by Attorney D. C. Nolan.

The plaintiffs' attorney said that the cases, which developed as the result of a car-truck accident near Wilton Junction Feb. 4, 1937, in which Elmus J. "Red" Strickler was killed, had been settled out of court.

The actions were originally filed for trial in the Johnson county district court, but were transferred to the federal court at Davenport because of the diversity of citizenship. The federal court remanded the suits to the district court for trial.

To Hear Smith Case Saturday

Petitions Charge Liquor Nuisance Being Maintained

The hearing on the temporary injunctions against Arthur Smith for maintaining a liquor nuisance and bootlegging at the Skelly tavern, on U. S. highway 6 outside the east city limits, will be at 9 a.m. next Saturday, Judge Harold D. Evans announced yesterday.

County Attorney Harold W. Vestermark yesterday morning filed petitions which alleged that Smith kept the tavern as a place for the sale of intoxicating liquor. Included in each petition was an affidavit by a state investigator who testified that he purchased alcohol Jan. 8 at the tavern.

F. E. Frazier, owner of the property on which the tavern is located, was also named a defendant in the action to obtain the liquor nuisance injunction.

The action against Smith is similar to the one which was brought against George and Stella Coan, former operators of the Red Ball inn, earlier this year. In the Coan case, permanent injunctions were issued against both defendants to restrain them from bootlegging in Iowa.

Three Licenses Bring Month's Total up to 34

New Car Registration Total for Year Falls Behind 1937 Figure

Three more marriage licenses for June weddings were issued yesterday by County Clerk R. Neilson Miller to bring the month's total to 34.

Thomas Keeley, 18, and Wanda J. Anderson, 18, both of Mt. Pleasant; George Lucht, 26, and Kathleen Russell, 25, both of Iowa City, and Wilbur F. Lantz, 23, and Wilma Leency, 22, both of Iowa City, were the couples who received licenses yesterday.

A sharp decline in new car registrations has dropped this year's total licenses issued to 28 cars behind the 1937 figure for June 17, B. V. Bridenstine of the county treasurer's office announced yesterday.

The gain in trucks licensed, which may boost the 1938 registration above the total for 1937 within a few days, offsets the decline in the car registrations, he added. Truck license 52-1218 was issued yesterday.

WHITE ON BLUE Announce Colors For License Plates

White numerals on a dark blue background will be the color scheme for Iowa automobile license plates for 1939, according to information received yesterday by County Treasurer W. E. Smith from Horace Tate, acting motor vehicle commissioner.

Next year's colors will be the reverse of the 1938 plates which have blue figures on a white background.

"FIVE MINUS TWO LEAVES FOUR"

WRONG? Well, yes—and no. The arithmetic of your school days taught that "If Mary had five dollars and spent two . . ." three dollars remained.

But that is mathematics—not shopping! In managing a home . . . guarding a limited family income . . . we've simply got to do better than Mary did. We must sharpen our buying wits . . . ascertain where the dollars of extra value lurk . . . take five dollars to town and get much more for the money spent.

Fortunately, there are ever-willing guides right at hand—the advertisements in this newspaper. Advertised merchandise is often exceptional value merchandise. It makes dollars S-T-R-E-T-C-H.
