Group Begins Official Study Of Monopolies

Start Investigation Of Firms' Records; Business Practices

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP)—The "temporary national economic committee" took the first step today in a broad investigation of monopolistic practices in business...

O'Mahoney said it was to assume that when the committee completed its work it would recommend to congress a general policy to be adopted by the government toward business.

When O'Mahoney is absent from the city, Representative Summers (D-Tex) will head the subcommittee. Other members are Representative Eicher (D-Ia) and Chairman W. O. Douglas of the securities commission.

Police Report $295 Robbery At Store Here

Two wrist watches, worth about $295, were stolen from the Hauser Jewelry store, 205 E. Washington street, at about 4:40 p.m. yesterday, according to police reports.

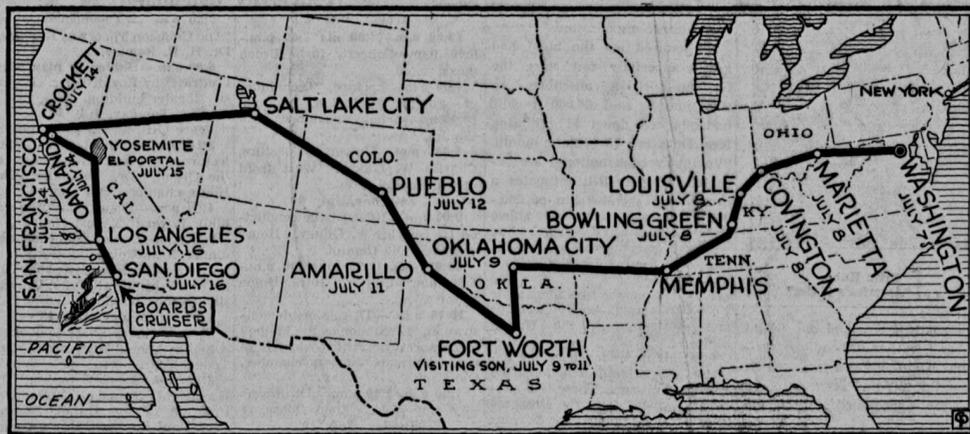

The two thieves, both described as in their early 20's, entered the store and asked to look at the watches, then snatched them off the counter and fled, according to reports.

Five-Alarm Blaze Breaks Out in Freight Company Warehouse

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7 (AP)—A five-alarm fire broke out early tonight in a huge, frame warehouse building housing the Overland Freight Transfer company and the banana importing firm of A. Levy and J. Zentner.

Doctors Threaten Strike LONDON (AP)—British doctors threatened a possible "stay-in-strike" yesterday to prevent admission of additional Austrian physicians to practice in this country.

F. D. R. Leaves on Greatest Campaign To Complete His New Deal Program

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt left tonight on a transcontinental tour in behalf of his unfinished new deal program and of "liberal" candidates for office in the 1938 democratic primaries.

The president boarded his special 10-car train a few minutes before the scheduled departure time amid applause from a large crowd which had gathered.

When O'Mahoney is absent from the city, Representative Summers (D-Tex) will head the subcommittee. Other members are Representative Eicher (D-Ia) and Chairman W. O. Douglas of the securities commission.

Before leaving the White House he wrote an address he will deliver tomorrow morning at Marietta, Ohio.

Three members of the president's cabinet saw him off at the station—Secretary of State Hull, Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau and Attorney General Cummings.

ant secretary of commerce, Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, and Senator Guffey (D-Pa).

The train carried next to the largest crowd which ever made a presidential cross country tour.

There were 80 people aboard, including 27 newspapermen—three times as many as usually accompany the president.

will give him an opportunity, if he chooses to use it, to lay a finger of disapproval on the renomination campaign of Senator George (D-Ga).

He accepted an invitation of a delegation of Georgians to speak at Barnesville Aug. 11 "on any subject you may deem of interest to Georgians."

The Georgia speech will be made after Mr. Roosevelt has completed his swing across the nation and taken a leisurely cruise down the Pacific coast, through the Panama Canal and back to Pensacola, Fla.

McCall Refused Respite From Death by State Pardon Board

Mrs. Cash Refuses To Join Mercy Plea For Son's Murderer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 7 (AP)—Franklin Pierce McCall, 21-year-old kidnaper of Jimmy Cash, a youngster he had often played with, was refused respite from death today by the state pardon board.

Barring interference from an appeal to the state supreme court, McCall's electrocution could be carried out as early as the week of July 18 under Florida's legal requirements.

The pardon board, headed by Gov. Fred P. Cone, took only 13 minutes after a public hearing to decide that McCall's plea to commute his death sentence to life imprisonment should not be granted.

Before the board met, McCall's hands and whispered a request that she join the plea for mercy for the kidnaper. They both cried and Mrs. McCall returned to her place.

"She won't help me," said Mrs. McCall through her tears. "She told me: 'Your son not only killed my son but he has figuratively killed my husband and me.'"

'TOO PEEK-A-BOO' Debutantes Abandon Low-Cut Gowns

LONDON, July 7 (AP)—Flustered debutantes appeared at tonight's court presentation with modest additions to low-cut gowns which court circles had hinted were too peek-a-boo.

Unable to arrange for new costumes in a limited time at least seven debutantes fell back on scarves. Dressmakers hurriedly made the concealing drapes to match the gowns and the debs draped them around their shoulders when curtsying before the king.

Man Confesses, 3-Year Murder Mystery Solved

Shanghai Sees Situation Eased

City Jails Crowded As Authorities Try To End Terrorism

SHANGHAI, July 8 (Friday) (AP)—Japanese soldiers and plainclothesmen withdrew from the International Settlement today easing a situation already made tense by an outbreak of anti-Japanese terrorism.

International Settlement authorities made sharp protests when Japanese soldiers appeared on Nanking road and began patrolling close to British seafaring highlanders on emergency duty after the outbreak inaugurating the first anniversary of the war yesterday.

Another detachment of armed Japanese in civilian clothes boldly took posts on avenue Edward VII, bordering the settlement and the French concession. They stopped and searched numerous Chinese suspected of terrorist activities.

Settlement police and military units continued a patrol, unprecedented for its strictness, in an effort to suppress gunmen and bomb throwers who yesterday killed four and wounded five persons.

Kidnaper's Days Are Numbered By Judge's Decision

CHICAGO, July 7 (AP)—Kidnap John Henry Seadlund will learn tomorrow how much longer he has to live. Federal Judge John P. Barnes was scheduled to set a new date then for the electrocution of Seadlund for the $50,000 ransom kidnaping last Sept. 25 of Charles S. Ross, retired Chicago manufacturer.

Faces Choice Of CIO Bargaining Or Fighting Examiner

WASHINGTON, July 7 (AP)—Henry Ford faced the choice tonight of bargaining collectively with a CIO union at St. Louis or fighting the recommendation of a labor board trial examiner that he do so.

T. E. Dudley, the trial examiner, reported to the board that the right guaranteed workers in the interstate industries by the Wagner act, to organize and bargain collectively without interference or coercion, had been violated at the Ford assembly plant in St. Louis by statements attributed to the automobile manufacturer in a published interview.

Dudley reported that the union in question, the United Automobile Workers, represented 68 per cent of the 837 production and maintenance employes in the plant. The Ford Motor company had refused union demands for bargaining negotiations, he said.

Officials Must Stand Trial For Interference

Picket Lines Dwindle To Few Workers; Peace Continues to Prevail

NEWTON, July 7 (AP)—A group of about 40 picked business men and farmers from Jasper county resolved tonight to secure a force of 1,000 deputy sheriffs to "restore and maintain law and order in the city of Newton and Jasper county."

Organizing its work, it voted to hold its third public session Saturday morning, when further statements of policy will be presented by national delegations, and approved appointment of two sub-committees.

One sub-committee, headed by T. W. White of Australia, will deal with private refugee organizations; the other, to be directed by Michael Hansson of Norway, will be a technical group to supervise a compilation of immigration laws.

British Troops Speed to Stop Race War

JERUSALEM, July 7 (AP)—Arab tribes from Trans-Jordan were reported massed on the Palestine frontier tonight as British sped warships and troops to smash the bloodiest Jewish-Arab race outbreak in the Holy Land's recent history.

Simultaneously, Jewish leaders warned their people against being "drawn into civil war."

Jordan, east of Palestine and a part of Britain's Palestine mandate but governed by a local Arab administration.

Five Arabs were reported killed and eight wounded. There were no British casualties.

The tribesmen were said to be massing south of "Tegart's wall," the $500,000 electrified fence recently completed along the Syrian border, north of Palestine, to keep trouble-makers out of the country.

The news of Arab reinforcements was received as Britain ordered two battalions of troops, each normally consisting of more than 800 men, from Egypt at "the earliest possible date."

Already at Haifa were the British cruisers Emerald and Enterprise, each of more than 7,500 tons. Both arrived as the result of an emergency call.

En route to the scene was the mighty 32,000-ton cruiser Repulse, detached from its Mediterranean patrol duties at Malta to relieve the Emerald whose homeward journey from the East Indies was interrupted by the summons for reinforcements.

Violence in Palestine continued despite a constant patrol by troops and police.

The German-American Bund—Another Attempt to Scare Us?

ALTHOUGH statistics show that there are many more spies and secret agents at work in the world today than at any other time in history, and although intrigue and sabotage have been found at our very door-step, the American public as a whole has been prone to laugh off the so-called "menace" and to shrug its shoulders at the talk of another war.

A Word About Politics

WE HEARD some criticism of Saturday's political conventions. A lot of people charged it was "arranged beforehand," that it "wasn't representative," that not enough people took part, that a machine" managed the whole thing.

Maybe it's true. We wouldn't know.

Only we're not particularly worried. It seems to us that politics as a whole is pretty bad, but we don't know of anything better. We do know of several things worse.

We're rather inclined to agree with the statement of Thomas Smith, philosophy professor who gave such an intelligent speech on the campus last Friday:

"The politicians themselves are only the bridge builders. They are the only ones capable of spreading the cement of sociology over the crevices created by this division of labor."

Politics is an open field, except in a few rare districts in the United States. Those who don't like the way affairs are being conducted can join in any time.

It was rather encouraging to us to notice that not one of those complaining attended either of Saturday's conventions.

These All-State Groups of Ours—A Worthy Investment

ALL-STATE music groups gave their first public concert Wednesday night, and it went over in a big way!

Not until the chorus had sung an encore number and the orchestra had been forced to repeat the last movement of the concluding number on the program would an audience that filled all the available seats let the young musicians go.

All of which shows that all-state groups at the university are becoming a tradition, and that the training they receive here is obviously worth while.

But there's a deeper value than that in the university's all-state groups—a value to the university itself.

For living, as they do, for six weeks on the university campus, those high school people have an admirable opportunity to get a taste of what university life is like.

They stay in the university's dormitories; they get acquainted with the campus; in short, they find out what it's all about.

The groups, in speech as well as in music, are here on the campus for their 10th consecutive year. Statistics in the past will show, as will those in the future, no doubt, that a very large proportion of those students who come to the University of Iowa go to school.

It would seem that the all-state students, from Iowa and surrounding states, are a good investment, both from a standpoint of improving individual excellence in music and speech, and from the standpoint of the university.

Charlie Chaplin Does Not Break His Silence

WE SEE Charlie Chaplin's going to make another movie, a talking picture this time. Only Charlie won't do any of the talking.

To us this is pleasant news and a little comforting. Charlie has been silent throughout his career, just being a wordless waif. We're glad he's going to continue.

In a world that's filled with talking, too much of it, it's nice to have one silent being. We have enough talkers—dictators in Europe, politicians on stumps, radio announcers and orators.

Japan Stands Aghast At French 'Conquest' Of Parcel Islands

MONDAY, France announced to the world that she had taken possession of the unclaimed Parcel islands off the coast of French Indo-China.

Thursday, Japanese officials announced to the world that they were "horrified" at this piracy and that they would protest this "seizure" of an unprotected group of islands.

(Reported Japanese designs on the islands were believed to have caused the French to act, preventing the Japanese from gaining a foothold so near French territory.)

The irony of the situation arises in the Japanese protestations over France taking possession of an unclaimed group of islands—protestations which were released to the world at the same time Chinese diplomats were protesting the Japanese invasion of China. To keep up the irony of the situation, the French officials really should answer the representatives of Japan with their own stock answer, "So veree sorry, offer humblest apologies," and then fortify the new acquisitions.

Fritz Kuhn, Who Marched With Adolf Hitler, Prepares to Lead 'Nazi' Bund Into Politics

"Un-American" activities in the U. S. will be investigated by a house of representatives committee this summer. During debate on the resolution, which authorized $25,000 for the investigation, the German-American Bund was often referred to. What is this bund? What is it trying to do? Who leads it? Because the organization has been in the news before and will be there again, the AP Feature Service assigned Jack Stinnett to find the answers to these questions. Here is the first story in his two-part report.

Fritz Kuhn... 'America's Hitler'

By JACK STINNETT AP Feature Service Writer NEW YORK — Behind a plain wooden desk in a shabby old Yorkville building sits Fritz Kuhn.

Kuhn is a big man. His skin is rough. His bearing reminds one of the drill grounds of Europe. It is no surprise when he tells you he served in the Bavarian guards during the World war and marched with Hitler in the beer putsch of 1923.

Today Kuhn is national fuhrer of the German American Bund. Brusquely, with a hissing German accent, he tells about his recent visit to Germany.

"I didn't see Mr. Hitler," he says. "I did not see Mr. Goering. I did not see anyone on any matter pertaining to the bund. We never have got any money from Germany."

(Anti-nazis assert Germany is spending large sums—as much as $30,000,000 a year—for propaganda in the United States. For propagandists the bund gets its share.)

I asked Kuhn about the bund. He told me—

"We are an organization of law-abiding Americans of German stock. Our purpose and aims are set forth in a pamphlet you can get across the hall. Now, what else?"

I asked him about the eventual goal of the bund.

"You can say this," he boomed. "The German American bund will never do anything outside the law or in violation of the Constitution."

He's An American That of course does not preclude political activity. And one of the things I learned at headquarters—from Kuhn himself as well as from the national secretary—is that the bund plans to enter politics.

For the rest, Kuhn insists the bund has no ritual, no secret initiation, no vows.

Kuhn came to America in 1927, went to Detroit where he became a chemist at the Ford plant. Now an American citizen, he is married, has a daughter 14 and a son 11.

When he became the bund's national leader a little more than two years ago, he put away his retorts, moved to New York. Since then the bund has grown.

It has become so well known that Kuhn recently was summoned before a New York state legislative inquiry. Kuhn recited a list of charges against Jews in the United States that sounded much like those made by nazis against German Jews.

Once he told his inquisitors that "all the Jews are enemies of the United States." As a result, a $30,000 slander suit was filed against him on behalf of members of the Jewish faith.

Across the hall from Kuhn's small, littered office and double-locked door, I learned more about the bund. Across the hall is the reception room. Its principal decoration is a large portrait of Hitler flanked by American and swastika flags. And at one side is the desk of James Wheeler-Hill, the small and active executive secretary of the national organization.

He assured me the bund had grown especially fast since the German-Austrian Anschluss. In that time, he said, 80,000 recruits had planned down $1 initiation fees. Dues are 75 cents a month.

"Voluntary contributions" are accepted. Wheeler-Hill estimates a present-day membership of 260,000. This was somewhat above Kuhn's estimate and far out of line with the assertions of some anti-nazis that the bund has only 8,000 to 80,000 members.

(The 1930 census says there were 2,000,000 foreign-born Germans and Austrians in the United States.)

Officials make much of the assertion that bundsmen must be American citizens. There is a subsidiary organization, the Prospective Citizens' League, for persons who haven't their papers yet.

Into Politics This Fall "We expect to go into politics this fall," says Wheeler-Hill. "Already we have assembly district democratic party. We will co-operate with various patriotic organizations in forming an independent party, with our own candidates. From now on we will be active in national, state and municipal elections throughout the country."

Wheeler-Hill says there are 98 bund units in 91 American cities. Chief centers of bund activity, he says, are Chicago, Detroit, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, San Antonio, Philadelphia and New York.

But even with such an organization, the bund will have to have more influence than its quarter of a million votes might provide, if it were to be a weighty factor in a major election. However, I learned that the bund has various means of influencing people.

(Tomorrow: Stinnett tells how the nazis in America are trying to win friends and influence people.)

WASHINGTON WORLD

By CHARLES F. STEWART Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON — Even a new deal sympathizer, if a veteran in Washington, is entitled to feel a certain sort of sentimental pang at Representative Bertrand H. Snell's announcement of his retirement from congress simultaneously with James E. Watson's defeat for another nomination as a senatorial candidate in Indiana.

As republican old guardsmen it is unimaginable that Capitol Hill ever again will see that pair's equals.

Each was a perfect specimen of the G.O.P. old guard species.

And it is a sad thing to see the last two samples of an already almost extinct race vanishing into complete oblivion.

Watson's End "Jim" Watson's case is the more tragic of the two.

WHY? I've never been able to fathom the interest of radio fans in the personal lives of the stars. At times it almost reaches the height of fanaticism.

Perhaps you heard the recent broadcast on which Bob Burns mentioned that he had started a modest collection of smoking pipes over a period of years. Now Burns has had to build several cases to hold his pipes—gifts from fans who heard the program.

And how must Robert Taylor feel, possessing a face that he can hardly transport safely from the shore to the deck of an ocean liner because of screaming women who try to get near to him. That happened not long ago, you'll remember.

Were you among those who heard the ah's and oh's that were uttered by feminine members of the audience during the Al Jolson show last week when Martha Raye came on the stage?

The cause of the disturbance was a flat, turban-like hat the songstress-comedienne was wearing, with gadgets sticking up that resembled horns. It was the chapeau especially created for her in the bull-fight scene of her latest picture, "Tropic Holiday."

I WONDER WHY... one of the most attractive and talented sopranos on the air, Jessica Dragonetti, doesn't appear as a movie headliner as well as a radio star? It should be a cinch!

... why numerous dance bands so obviously imitate Herbie Kay?

... why a few more people who pretend to be swing fans don't understand what swing really is?

... why there aren't more original theme melodies for radio shows, rather than the classic numbers so universally used?

... why Rose Dawn continues to roll 'em in the aisles with her dollar psychic readings?

... why the Hour of Charm's vocal numbers are consistently so styled?

... why there aren't more serial broadcasts as attractive and as constantly interesting as One Man's Family?

... why Bergen never arranges a McCarthy skit in which Charlie gets splinters from sliding down cellar doors?

AROUND THE TOWN

BY MERLE MILLER

MILLER ANNOUNCES

Columnist Candidate For Congress Iowa City Agog!!!!

I'm announcing myself as a candidate for congress of the first district on the "liberal" party platform. My friends, pointing to my birth in a Tama county log cabin, my poor but honest parents, my long finger-nails and over-size nose and my long years of experience as a political observer have urged me, against my will, to announce.

Not for hope of personal gain or profit, then, but because I consider it a "public duty." I am allowing my name to be used.

I will appreciate your votes, my friends, in 1944, the year after I reach the age requirement. . . I thank you.

I'll not be a democrat or republican, because those words have lost their meaning. . . Do Herbert Hoover and Bob LaFollette belong to the same party, George Norris and Carter Glass?

I'll be a "liberal" . . . Let me explain that.

That means I'll worry more about human rights than property rights. . . I'd probably be more disturbed about the one-third of a nation's food, housing and clothing than its billion dollar increase in the national debt. . . That men were eating would loom larger than unproved "graff" in relief administrations.

I'd stick to fundamentals and try to leave personalities out. . . I'd start out by a hurry-up campaign to remove all vestiges of the high protective tariff, so-called. . . That's because I'd want to protect the Iowa farmer more than United States steel.

I'd never lose much sleep over the supreme court or the constitution. . . I'd realize that the founding fathers were human, even as I. . . I can't know what we'll be needing in the year 1997.

I'd remember Matt Quay's "If you've no campaign issue, wrap yourself up in the constitution and wave the American flag."

If anyone called me a "communist" and the Chicago Tribune and its ilk no doubt would—I'd say, yes. . . Meaning I'd rather be a communist than a fascist, would prefer a Russian residence to an Italian or German one.

(I'd let them headline that, knowing all along I think the communists as unbalanced as the fascists (reactionaries) but at least human.)

I think I'd remember labor unions are not likely to out-strengthen industrialists, that they never have. . . That the Wagner act, the NLRB are piddling-puddles compared with European labor laws.

(Just because I believe in this democracy, I'd vote for the Nye-Kvale bill, or one like it, to eliminate and prohibit compulsory R. O. T. C. units in colleges.) . . . Because I'd ask where's freedom of belief in such a set-up???

I'd advocate joining the League of Nations, realizing it's pretty bad—but that nothing better's yet offered itself. . . I'd not vote for or fight a war, any war. . . I've never known one that was either justifiable or sane. . . I wouldn't expect history to turn a somersault.

I don't think I'd lose much sleep over the national debt (This year's increase of $4 and cents for every United Statesian fed 15,000,000. . . I'd just say we're the world's richest country and let it go at that. We are.)

I think I'd let the Nazi bunds, the Silver Shirts and their kind alone. . . They're no more threat to American democracy than I. . . I'd worry a bit more about the Alva Johnstons, the Frank Kents, the Mark Sullivans and their newspaper kind. . . And the organizations that beat their chests over their "Americanisms."

PRIMARILY — I'd not worry about doing something new, something unprecedented, something expensive, something "crazy" and "radical." . . I'd get worried if those things weren't being done.

I'd be a darned good congressman, in case you've any doubts. I'd NEVER be elected.

Iowa to Have 16 New Tennis Courts

U. C. L. A. to Have Strong Grid Team

Editor's Note—This is the first of a series of eight articles that will appear in The Daily Iowan between now and the opening of the football season, dealing with Iowa's 1938 football opponents.

By SCOTTY FISHER
Daily Iowan Sports Editor

When the 1938 edition of the University of Iowa football team trots out on the field at the Coliseum in Los Angeles on the night of September 23 to open its schedule against the U. C. L. A. Bruins, it will be facing a team well-stocked with both veterans and promising sophomores from last year's prize crop of yearlings, a team that expects to figure very prominently in the Pacific Coast conference race next fall.

Coach William Henry (Bill) Spaulding, who will retire as head football coach at the end of the coming season in order to devote all of his time to his job as director of athletics, has handled the reins at the Bruin institution since 1925 and is determined to produce a conference winner with his last team.

Lettermen Numerous

One reason for Spaulding to have an optimistic outlook is the fact that 22 of last year's 30 lettermen are returning, including 13 linemen and nine backs, along with 15 returning non-lettermen. Add to this powerful nucleus the members of last year's freshman squad which won the championship of the Stanford-California-Southern-California-U. C. L. A. league and the outlook is far from dark.

Advance information from the U. C. L. A. camp puts lack of experienced linemen as the main difficulty standing in the way of a successful season. According to Spaulding, "We have one layer of old linemen returning. Improvement, if any, must come from new players. They LOOK good. The question is 'how fast can they learn.'" But look at the list of lettermen—three ends, four tackles, four guards and two centers.

Captain at Guard

Co-Captain George Pfeiffer, a husky 208-pound veteran with plenty of stamina, is the only experienced right guard. Reserves will be chosen from three sophomores—Dave Gaston, 195, Henry Savolan, 190, and Robin Williams, 190. The left guard slot, running guard under Spaulding's system, is more or less open with Jack Cohen, 196, John Frawley, 200, and Don Brown, 190, all lettermen from last year, battling it out with 205-pound Jack Sommers who backed up the line sensationally for last year's frosh.

A graduate of Mercersburg, Pa., Academy and former Norristown, Pa., high school student, he held the world's prep record for the breast stroke and recently set a senior American record of 28.4 in the 50-yard breast stroke. Brown, son of the famous movie comedian, Joe E. Brown, is president of the student body and may not compete this season.

Four Centers

At center, John Ryland, a two-year letterwinner, scaling 186 pounds, is almost a certainty, with Sherman Phinny, 180, another member of last year's team, fighting it out with Douglas Schwartz, 190, and Leo McGuire, 210, both ex-frosh, for the reserve job.

Although four big, rough and tough letterwinning hoppers are coming back to man the tackles, they will get plenty of competition from a quartet of equally ambitious incoming sophs that tip the beam at an average of 220 pounds. The veterans are C. M. "Slats" Wyrick, 212, and Ernest Hill, 206, on the left side, while on the right side are Mladin Zarubica, 201, and Brewster Broadwell, 222. The soph candidates for this position are Willard Lynch, 225, Cecil Dye, 225, Del Lyman, 215, and Jack McDonald, 215. Hoft is certainly not lacking at these positions.

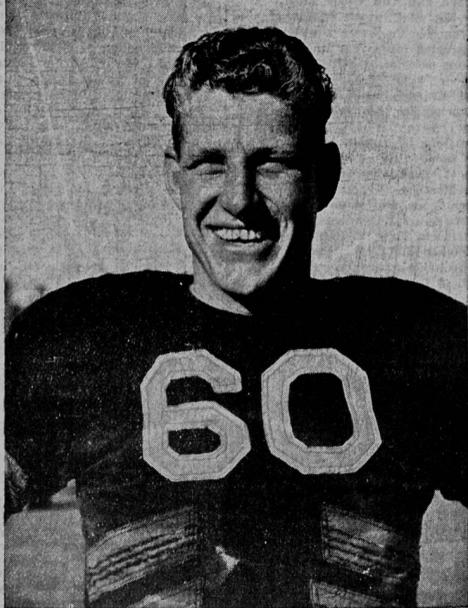

Strode All-Around

Woodrow Strode, 196-pound Negro who held down right end last year, is fairly certain to get the call again but will have plenty of competition from Robert Simpson, 175, and Frank Simms, 200, both newcomers, and Jessen Calleri, 175, and Charles Cascales, 185, reserves last year.

Strode, an all-around athlete, has also made a name for himself in track. He placed fourth in the shot put in the national meet at Minneapolis this spring

Ready to start his 12th consecutive year, as well as his last, as head coach of the Bruins, Coach Spaulding admits his boys "LOOK good" but qualifies that statement by saying that in order to win they must "learn fast."

He's smiling now but C. M. (Slats) Wyrick, 212-pound senior tackle on the U.C.L.A. eleven will probably be rough, tough, and and won first in the same event, at the recent dual meet between two picked teams representing the Pacific Coast and the Big Ten. Hubert Stovits, nationally known artist, calls Strode the most perfectly built athlete in America.

Joe E. Brown's Son

Favorites for the left wing post are Bob Nash, 170, who was a first stringer and punter last year, and Sophomore Joe Brown, 195, another son of the screen comedian. Other candidates are Jim Mitchell, 165, who lettered last year and two more first-year men—James McPherson, 175, and Bob Cress, 180.

Spaulding's one specific problem in the backfield is to fill the fullback position which has been vacated by the graduation of Schell and Billy Bob Williams.

Present fullback candidates from the 1937 championship freshman team are Warren Haslam, 185, and Bill Overlin, 185. Overlin's strong points are speed and kicking ability while Haslam is outstanding as a line backer and passer.

Returning from last year's varsity squad are Lester Sutherland, 180, two-time letterwinner, Don Hesse, 185, and John Zaby, 210.

Three Quarterbacks

No less than three quarterbacks—Jack Montgomery, 184, John Baida, 171, and Francis Wai, 181—will be back from the 1937 varsity. Sutherland and Baida have each lettered twice and divided the job last year though Wai was pushing them hard at the end of the season. Among the ex-frosh bidding for the job are Pat Webb, 185, a converted end because of his punting ability, Calvin Aarons, 185, Robert Howell, 170, and Ned Matthews, 170.

Shown here in an action pose is John Baida, one of U. C. L. A.'s three quarterbacks returning from last year's varsity. Baida, a 175-pounder is expected to see a good deal of action this fall but will have plenty of competition, particularly from several ex-members of last year's championship freshman outfit.

Kenny Washington, star 190-pound Negro passer and ball-carrier, who was one of the best backs on the coast last year as a sophomore, will return at left half and will probably give the Iowa line plenty to worry about when the Uclans and Hawkeyes tangle.

Two Quick Scores

In the game with Southern California last year, the passing combination of Washington to Hal Hirshon scored two touchdowns in 26 seconds as the Trojans won a 19-13 decision. The second pass was 60 yards in the air, followed by a 22-yard run and was the longest throw ever authenticated by motion pictures.

Two other veterans from last season, both monogram winners, are Izzy Cantor, 168, and Dale Gilmore, 165. With Sophomores Charles Fenenbock, 175, and Rex Frazier, 170, also on hand, Spaulding's material for the left halfback post is more than plentiful. Fenenbock, like Washington, is noted for his long range aerial heaves.

At right half, Co-Captain Hal Hirshon, 180, will be back for his final year. Understudying him will be Merle Harris, 180, who was not in school last year, and Louis LaRusso, 195-pound blocking and kicking star, and Leonard Stafford, 180, from last year's freshman group.

Young School

A comparatively young school, the University of California at Los Angeles was founded in 1919. Weak on the gridiron for a number of years, U. C. L. A. has been in a process of gradual improvement, especially during the Spaulding regime, which began in 1925. In 1928 the Bruins joined the Pacific Coast Conference and, although more or less of a door-mat for Stanford, Southern California, etc. at first, in 1935 they reached the top of the heap, tying with California and Stanford for first place. That year they nosed out Stanford's Rose Bowl team, 7 to 6.

The records show that since the founding of the school, the Bruins have won 69 while losing 77 games but Spaulding's teams have a mark of 65 victories and 47 defeats. Since going into the Coast loop in 1928, the Uclans have won 49 while dropping 39.

To Retire as Coach

In 1925 Spaulding was named to the position of head football coach and director of athletics at U. C. L. A. He has held both titles since that time but his duties as director of athletics will be increased when he finishes his coaching career this year.

He has been in the coaching business longer than any head coach except the venerable Alonzo Stag of College of the Pacific, Glenn (Pop) Warner of Temple, Gil Dobie of Boston college and W. L. (Fox) Stanton of the California Institute of Technology.

Playing Fields To Be Built Near Stadium

PWA Funds to Help Athletic Improvements; Courts To Be Paved

Permanent improvements to the University of Iowa's athletic plant, which include 16 hard-surfaced tennis courts and a new playing field west of the stadium, will be completed sometime in the fall, Athletic Director E. G. Schroeder announced yesterday.

Aided by PWA funds, the tennis court project probably will be started next month, while the construction of the new playing fields, to provide space for three additional football gridirons, already is under way.

Courts To Be Good

The space just south of the field house will be hard-surfaced with nearly four inches of new paving material having an asphalt base. This can be rolled absolutely smooth, will not soften in the sun, and has a springiness not found in concrete.

Court boundary lines will be painted while posts for the backstops will be removable. The space can be used for parking at football and basketball games without injury to the surface.

Not only will the new courts greatly relieve the cramped tennis conditions at the university, but also various intramural games will be played in the area and the baseball team can drill there in early spring.

Planned for Months

Realizing the need for all-weather tennis courts and a hard-surfaced parking space, Schroeder has been working on plans for the project for months. The area now is surfaced with fine crushed rock and once was used for tennis, but parking during spring thaws ruined it for tennis this year.

Work of leveling and seeding the new practice field is proceeding rapidly, he said. Another project which soon will be started is the construction of additional dressing rooms in the stadium for use of teams between halves.

Nov. 12—Wisconsin at L. A. Coliseum

Nov. 24—So. Calif. at L. A. Coliseum

Dec. 10—Oregon State at L. A. Coliseum

First in History

The Iowa-U. C. L. A. game, first in history between the two schools, is the first of the year for both teams and should go a long way toward revealing the strength of each eleven, besides being one of the best intersectional battles on the coast next fall. A large number of Iowa Legionnaires are expected to see the contest as the National American Legion convention is being held in Los Angeles at that time.

U. C. L. A. has not been generally considered to be as powerful in the past as Stanford, California and the Bruins' 1937 record is not overly impressive. The Bruins, however, have improved tremendously in the last few years under Spaulding's tutelage and, with 22 lettermen returning, bolstered by a brawny bunch of gridirons from the best freshman squad on the coast last year, have a good chance to annex the Coast championship this fall and certainly will be nobody's pushover.

Iowa, in comparison, is more or less of an uncertain quantity. After a dismal season last year, the Hawkeyes will be relying largely on sophomores this fall and just how they will react under fire remains to be seen.

At any rate, Eicherly, Enich, Kelley, Allen, Brady, et al will probably spend a very busy evening in the Los Angeles Coliseum on the night of Sept. 23.

First Comedy Written in U. S. Will Be Produced As Initial Play in Summer Series of Four

Cast Announced For Satire; W. D. Coder Is Visiting Director

University theatergoers will see the first comedy written in America next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, as the summer community series of University theater opens. The play is "The Contrast" by Royall Tyler.

The cast for the production, the first of a series of four community plays, was announced yesterday by Director William D. Coder, visiting lecturer in the dramatic arts department.

"The Contrast" is famous for its introduction of the comic character, the stage Yankee. A satire on the manners of the time, it was first produced in the John Street theater in New York in 1787. It is the second play written by an American to be produced in America.

Heading the players is Hollister Smith, G of Spirit Lake, as Jonathan, the shrewd but unrefined New England farmer. The feminine lead is being taken by Dorothea Carlson, G of Battle Creek, as Maria, the heroine.

Other members of the cast include Cecil Kersten, G of Deerfield, Kan., as Colonel Manly; Henderson Forsythe, A of Monroe City, Mo., as Dimple; Albert T. Cordray, G of N. Wilmington, Pa.; as Van Roush; Ronald Hopkins, G of Williamsburg, Kan., as Jessamy; Warren Lee, G of Iowa City, as the servant; Susan Dwyer, G of Omaha, as Charlotte; Peggy Reagan, A of Fort Arthur, Tex., as Letitia; and Mary Hardin, G of Springfield, Mo., as Jenny.

In addition to the play, two novelty features will be included on the evening's program. The first is "A celebrated, serio-comic satirical lecture on 'heads,' in two parts by Mr. Lee, and Ed Kyvig, G of Iowa City.

A pantomime, "Humpty Dumpty," will be given at the close of the play. Appearing in the number will be Mr. Hopkins as Humpty Dumpty, Mr. Smith as Old One Two, Rodney Erickson, A of St. Joseph, Mo., as Doctor Currell, Miss Hardin as Goody Two Shoes, and Miss Reagan as the Villager.

Old Capitol Picture May Go On New Stamp

Old Capitol, historic seat of Iowa's first territorial and state government and now the University of Iowa's administration building, may be pictured on the three-cent Iowa centennial stamp, it was learned here Thursday.

Widely known for being an example of almost perfect classic architecture, the building was the seat of the Territorial government in the early forties and of state government from 1846 to 1857.

It was designed by Father Samuel Mazzuchelli, a Catholic priest from Italy who had studied architecture in his native country. At a period when few pioneers had any knowledge of architecture, Father Mazzuchelli offered his services to create a masterpiece of Doric style.

The centennial commission submitted the Old Capitol design to the postoffice department and models are being given favorable consideration. The commemorative stamp will go on sale in Iowa Aug. 24.

Engagements, Weddings Of Former S. U. I. Students Told

Jane Dunn Becomes Bride of William T. McClintock at Clarinda

Of interest to Iowa Citizens are the many announcements of the summer weddings and engagements of former university students and graduates.

Dunn-McClintock
In a wedding solemnized June 27 in Clarinda Jane Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dunn of Clarinda, became the bride of William T. McClintock, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McClintock of Sioux City.

The bride is a graduate of Stephens college and of the university. Since receiving her degree, she has taught in Porto Rico, Chicago, and Ann Arbor, Mich.

Mr. McClintock was graduated from Northwestern university. He traveled for a year in Europe before associating with the firm of Booz, Frye, Allen and Hamilton of Chicago, with whom he has worked for the past three years.

The couple will reside in Evanston, Ill., upon returning from a western wedding trip.

Hickenlooper-Peterson

Madalyn Hickenlooper, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Hickenlooper of Winterset, became the bride of John E. Peterson of Des Moines June 18 at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. M. R. Talley, pastor of the Winterset Methodist church, read the wedding ceremony.

The bride was gowned in white silk net over taffeta, fashioned with tight-fitting bodice and with four shirred flounces forming the skirt and train. A small spray of orange blossoms and lilies of the valley was caught at the front of the square-cut neckline. The veil was finger-tip length, and the bride's bouquet was made up of gardenias, orange blossoms and lilies of the valley.

Miss Hickenlooper wore a pink gown with a tight-fitting lace bodice and full net skirt. She carried a bouquet of pink briar-cliff roses, delphinium and sweet-peas, and wore pink roses in her hair.

Mrs. Peterson was graduated from the Winterset high school in 1932. She attended Grinnell college for two years and received a B.A. degree in 1936 from the university. She is affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. She taught in the Buffalo high school near Davenport for one year and has recently been employed at the Y. W. C. A. in Des Moines.

Anderson Will Visit Campus

Dr. R. M. Anderson, famed Canadian scientist, who holds M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Iowa, will be the guest of the University of Iowa today as he stops in Iowa City enroute to California.

A reception for the alumnus will be given at 8 o'clock this evening in the rooms of the Triangle club in Iowa Union, where Dr. Anderson will meet any of his old friends or others interested in his work.

Dr. Anderson, of the mines and geology branch of the department of mines and resources of the national museum of Canada, has achieved distinction as an arctic explorer. During the years from 1908 to 1912 and from 1914 to 1918, he worked with Vilhjalmur Stefansson, famous Arctic explorer, who graduated from the University of Iowa with Dr. Anderson in 1903.

The scientist will stop here on his way to Berkeley and San Francisco, Cal., where he will read scientific papers at the meetings of the American Society of Mammalogists and the American Society of Ichthyologists and Herpetologists.

He plans to visit the University of Iowa museum during his brief stay here.

Mrs. Anderson was also graduated from the University of Iowa. She has written extensively and studied various phases of the arctic history.

Miriam Judiesch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Judiesch of Des Moines, and C. W. Donnelly of San Angelo, Tex., were married June 23 at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Stuart Hebbson, in Ft. Worth, Tex. The Rev. S. A. Wall performed the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Coe college and of the University school of nursing. Mr. Donnelly received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from the university, and is now employed with the Ohio Oil company as a geologist. The couple will live in San Angelo.

Snedden-Dautremont

In a wedding solemnized Friday in Cedar Rapids, Dorothy Snedden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Snedden of Granger, became the bride of Adrian Dautremont, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Dautremont of Riverside.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Malloy officiated in the single ring service in the rectory of the Immaculate Conception church at Cedar Rapids.

Attendants were Marjorie Burgen and Raymond Younion.

The bride was gowned in pale green crepe with Parisian accessories and wore a corsage of tea roses. Miss Burgen's gown was (See WEDDINGS, page 6)

Bryson to Talk This Afternoon

Will Speak on Role of Discussion; Also To Lead Round Table

The part that discussion plays in the democratic institution will be the theme of a public lecture by Prof. Lyman L. Bryson of Teachers college, Columbia university, at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Appearing here under the auspices of the University of Iowa speech department, Professor Bryson will also lead a round table discussion of next year's high school debate question, "Resolved, that the United States should form an alliance with Great Britain," at 10:15 a.m. tomorrow in the senate chamber.

Professor Bryson is chairman of the adult education board of the Columbia Broadcasting system, and was forum leader in the preliminary meetings of the air on America's Town Meeting of the Air last year.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, the professor has taught at the University of Michigan, the University of California and at Columbia. He is well known as a forum leader.

Beginning July 20, he will be in charge of a new program, the People's Platform, which will feature public discussions of national problems over CBS.

The symposium type of discussion will be demonstrated at tomorrow morning's forum by graduate speech students. Directors of debate teams and others interested in public discussion are invited to attend.

Party in Honor Of Mrs. Lantz Given

University Bagpipe Unit Will Perform At Ft. Crook, Neb.

The University of Iowa's Highlands, the bagpipe unit which is rapidly becoming known throughout the country, left yesterday for Ft. Crook, Neb., where they will give an exhibition at the R.O.T.C. camp.

Other demonstrations by bands and visiting organizations are arranged for the Ft. Crook exhibition. The Highlanders, who are traveling to Ft. Crook in army trucks, will return tomorrow night.

Gilkey Will Discuss 'Faiths That Undergird Democracy'

Chicago Dean Will Present Lecture At 8 O'Clock Tonight

"The Faiths that Undergird Democracy" — that will be the subject of the Rev. Charles W. Gilkey when he addresses the summer session students of the University of Iowa at 8 o'clock tonight on the west front to Old Capitol.

At 9 a.m. tomorrow, the Rev. Mr. Gilkey will lead a discussion of "Practice in Democracy" at the weekly round table session in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

The speaker, since 1928 the dean of the Chapel at the University of Chicago, has appeared often as speaker at the University of Iowa, filling engagements on the programs of summer convocations and university vesper services.

A graduate of Harvard, the speaker has studied widely in Europe. Since 1926 he has been professor of preaching at the University of Chicago divinity school. He was pastor of the Hyde park church in Chicago until 1928.

He was appointed Barrows lecturer to university centers of India during 1924 and 1925 by the University of Chicago.

The author of "Jesus and Obedience," "Perspectives," and other works, the Rev. Mr. Gilkey has served as university preacher at Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Stanford and other universities.

In case of unfavorable weather tonight, the university lecture will be held in Macbride auditorium.

Grandmother Dodd Gets Law Degree

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Mrs. Howell Dodd Sr., who was graduated from the Woodrow Wilson college of law at the age of 56, does not know which gave her the biggest thrill—receiving her law degree or becoming a grandmother.

"Both are wonderful," she said as she contemplated her graduating presents of perfume, flowers, bags, handkerchiefs and a trip to New York, the latter given her by her son, Howell.

She plans to take her bar examination in December preparatory to taking up her law practice.

Hoppers Unfazed After Being Frozen

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col. (AP) — Take it from Leon Gahart, storekeeper, you can't kill a grasshopper by freezing.

Farmers sat in Gahart's store and argued whether the unusually cold spring weather had destroyed any of the millions of young grasshoppers that agricultural agents said infested southeastern Colorado.

Gahart captured several 'hoppers and put them in his refrigerator. Several hours later they were taken out, frozen stiff.

Gahart put them in the sun and a few minutes later they stretched their legs, rolled over and hopped away.

Conservation Club Plans Wildlife Project for Johnson County

Organization Would Distribute Birds to Farmers as 'Plantings'

Quail, Pheasants For Game Havens Would Be Given by State

Johnson county may become one of the game havens of the state if plans laid by the Johnson County Wildlife Conservation club last night are carried out.

"There won't be a better place in this district for quail," E. W. Sybil, state conservation officer, declared to the group last night, "if advice of the state conservation board is followed."

According to plans, farmers and sportsmen will cooperate in the project. Johnson county sportsmen will be organized through the club and will agree with farmers to assume joint responsibility for provision of environmental improvements if necessary. Birds will be furnished by the State Conservation commission through the club.

Farmers will post signs prohibiting hunting until the birds have had an opportunity to reproduce and will agree to allow hunting once a surplus stock has been achieved. Conservation of a seed stock for future years will also be part of the agreement.

"The club will foster and protect wild life of the county," Jack Swamer, Iowa City, secretary-treasurer of the group asserted.

"The plan is to secure 'plantings' of birds from the state conservation board at the age of two weeks and rear them in breeders until they are 12 weeks old. Then these plantings will be put out among farmers, on application."

An undetermined number of quail and pheasants will be distributed among Johnson county farmers in this manner.

The state commission has about 25,000 birds available for distribution, but the number each county will receive depends on the demand and the facilities available, according to Sybil. Distribution to farms, however, will begin in about three months. About 40 or 50 farmers will receive the birds in this county, Swamer estimated. These farms will automatically become game areas.

The activities of the local organization will be financed through sale of membership cards. Boys under 16 will be admitted to membership without charge.

Officers of the club include H. J. McPherson, president; Swamer, secretary-treasurer; Frank Smith, William Ruppert, Earl Krutz, McPherson, Swamer, Richard Burline, Donald Spencer and Emmett Gardner, directors; Gould Keeley, Pete Russell and Fred Paintin, Coralville, rearing committee; Stub Kinney, William Russer and Emmett Gardner, environmental committee, and Pete Russell, Claude Shelladay and Walter Deich, Hills, membership sales committee.

Wilson-Joines

The marriage of Fila Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wilson of Newton, and Gerald Joines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Joines of Peterson, was solemnized June 26 in the First Methodist church in Newton.

The single ring service was performed by the Rev. G. R. Gilbert of Ft. Dodge, an uncle of the bridegroom. The Rev. Mr. Gilbert also officiated at the wedding of the bridegroom's parents 27 years ago.

Attending the couple were Lucille Tigges of Peterson and Lorne Joines, also of Peterson. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Joines is a graduate of Newton high school and Iowa State college at Ames. She has been teaching since her graduation at Brooke Consolidated school and in Calumet.

Mr. Joines is a graduate of Larrabee high school and Coe college in Cedar Rapids. He received his M.A. degree from the University of Iowa. He is principal of the junior high school in Cherokee, where the couple will be at home after August 1.

Play--

whose attempts at a story and picture of the religious drama were foiled by the Penitentes on the morning of the crucifixion.

With the ink of the final drafts of the script scarcely dry, "Calvario" should not be considered "finished." To Prof. E. C. Mabie, who directed the production, credit should be given for much of the play's effectiveness.

Three impressive sets, designed by Lemuel D. Ayers, also added much to the performance. Prof. Hunton D. Sellman's excellent lighting unquestionably aided the dramatic intensity of the play.

The play was well received last night was evident throughout by unusual quiet throughout the performance. The production was neither gruesome nor frightening, as it might have been. Mr. Bach deserves credit for his impartial portrayal of this extremely interesting theme.

The play had its obvious faults. Necessary explanation made of the first act a somewhat dragging opening to the true action of the play. A dramatic prologue might be one solution to that problem.

The finish of the play was also somewhat prolonged; the chanting of the Penitentes needs the more careful attention of a musician; a revision of lines for the old man, Carlos' father, would perhaps detract less from his suitable facial and bodily expressions.

Most dramatic scene of the play was the dimly lighted finale to the second act. The frenzied song of the Penitentes rose in volume; Carlos, chosen by the brotherhood for the Easter crucifixion, ordered that he be given 30 lashes. But as the third blow fell upon his bared back, torn between his religious frenzy and his love for Benita, he rose and cried "Enough!" The wild song of the brotherhood instantly died and the curtain fell.

"Calvario" was what critics are always seeking, a "different" production. Its author made several visits to New Mexico, and it is from first hand personal observation that this play results. Mr. Bach has not taken sides, either for or against, the "self-crucifixions." He has presented them as he has seen them — a group of human beings seeking to worship as they feel they must.

This theme, carefully written and directed, makes of "Calvario" a really fine dramatic play.

Sick Animal To Be Treated As An Individual

NEW YORK, July 7 (AP) — A sick animal is as much a "person" requiring individual treatment, as a human being, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical association, told the American Veterinary Medical association convention tonight.

"The great advances that have been made in medical science have tended to make many a physician, and practically all social workers, believe that the diagnosis and treatment of disease may be reduced to a purely mechanical system. Never was there so little truth in any theoretical expression of life and living offered for public consumption," he said.

"Indeed, the veterinarians know that animals must be individualized to secure the best possible results in the diagnosis and treatment of a disease. Exactly as there are no human beings alike in their reactions, the animals of the higher order vary one from the other.

"True, it is possible to practice mass tuberculin studies of cattle to secure pure milk, and it is also possible to do 3,000 Schick tests on 3,000 school children, but it is not possible to select a certain dosage of diphtheria antitoxin for every one of those children."

Now He Remembers Where He Left It

HYANNIS, Neb. (AP) — John Yauncey was exploring under his house while his wife held the lamp.

Suddenly something bit Yauncey and he yelled. The shouts and commotion frightened Mrs. Yauncey. She dropped the lamp and dashed to a neighbor's home for help.

They found Yauncey sitting in a coyote trap planted under the house so long it had been forgotten.

In Come the Bees; Family Moves Out

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP)—A swarm of bees that liked it indoors better than out dispossessed the family of Timothy M. O'Brien.

The bees came down a chimney and swarmed on living room furniture. Finally, they were driving out by burning sulphur.

8th District Delegates Name Attorney Olsen, Harold Evans As Candidates for Judgeship

Republicans, Democrats Hold Short, Methodical Nominating Gatherings

In short, methodical conventions—neither lasting more than half an hour — delegates of the eighth judicial district yesterday morning named Attorney F. B. Olsen, democratic candidate for judge, Incumbent Harold D. Evans, republican candidate. Judge Evans' present term expires Dec. 31.

Democrats About 20 delegates, most of them Johnson and Iowa county lawyers, attended the democratic meeting, naming Attorney P. P. White of Williamsburg chairman, Attorney Ingalls Swisher, secretary.

Attorney Paul A. Korab, also chairman of the credentials committee, placed Attorney Olsen's name in nomination, and there were quick seconds by Rudolph Prybil, F. S. Hite, Iowa county central committee chairman, Attorney O. A. Byington and Dr. W. L. Bywater.

Attorney Byington — an Iowa City democrat for nearly 70 years — called Olsen a "man of character and one who in every way can grace the bench of the district court."

"Olsen is a good citizen, a man who helped clean up the legal profession," Dr. Bywater said.

Attorney Olsen was escorted to the convention by Dean Wiley B. Rutledge, Attorney J. M. Otto and Mr. Hite. The candidate later was host to convention delegates at Reich's pine room.

Republicans, meeting an hour after the democrats, named Attorney R. E. Hatter of Marengo
