Confesses to Mattson Kidnaping

Officers Hold Man to Check Slaying Story

Authorities Report Confession Does Not Tally With All Facts

TACOMA, Wash., July 12 (AP)—A man who State Patrol Chief William Cole said confessed the Mattson kidnap-slaying of 1936, was held tonight by authorities who reported the confession did not tally with all known facts in the case.

The man, identified by Cole as Frank Olson, 32, arrested at Ritzville, Wash., yesterday, was held in a downtown hotel while authorities checked his story in the death of Charles Mattson, 10, who was slain by his kidnaper.

R. C. Suran, agent in charge of the Seattle federal bureau of investigation office, hurried here to participate in the questioning of the man. He said he had "no comment" to make as he left Seattle.

Cole said Olson's story involved several other persons, but added it did not check in several details with known facts in the kidnaping case.

"For that reason," Cole said, "Olson is being questioned further and is being held without charge."

The patrol chief said several persons mentioned by Cole had produced alibis covering the period of the kidnaping. One man who was detained for investigation was released after some questioning.

Cole said Olson would be held "for several hours, perhaps all night" while investigation of the case was conducted.

Mrs. Mattson, reached on the telephone at 7:25 p.m., said her family had had no notification an arrest had been made in the case.

She said her husband was "out in the country" and would not be home until about 9 p.m. He could not be reached by telephone, she said.

Neither the state patrol nor Tacoma police had been in touch with her, she added.

Asked about the newest break in the long case, she said:

"I don't want to comment on it."

Cole described Olson as rather slender with sharp, dark features. His clothing were old and his two days growth of beard heavy. He wore a cap and shuffled as he walked, his head thrust forward and his eyes darting from side to side nervously, Cole added.

In Olson's confession, Cole said, the man broke into the Mattson house and seized the child in the presence of Charles' brother, sister and a young Seattle girl acquaintance.

Then he said he dashed with the boy down the precipitous cliff behind the sumptuous Mattson home and reached the beach in pitch blackness. A rowboat was moored there and he rowed with the boy for several hours across Commencement bay to Dash Point, where he had parked his car.

He then drove to Everett while the manhunt for him was being organized.

Cole said Olson insisted he had (See KIDNAP, page 6)

Employees Will Protest Action With Marching

WIERTON, W. Va., July 12 (AP)—An organization of steelworkers appealed today for presidential and congressional investigation of the labor board's 11-month-long Weirton steel inquiry as merchants and workers rallied for a "protest march tomorrow against the exclusion of a company attorney from the hearing. The employees representation plan, independent union of Weirton steel company employees, in a sharply worded resolution declared "immediate and full" investigations were necessary to satisfy justice and the people of the United States "that despotism, passion, partiality, partisanship and corruption shall have no place in American judicial proceedings."

Will Spend $8,985, 157,600

Expenditures Soaring to New Levels For Peacetime Record

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt estimated today that the administration's spending program and other government activities would cost $8,985,157,600 in this fiscal year and pile up a $3,984,887,600 deficit.

The president made public a revision of his January budget estimates for the year which began July 1, 1938, saying the January figures were based on a hope for a decided improvement in business, he added.

"Business conditions not only did not improve, but gradually grew worse. This made it necessary to request additional appropriations to provide work relief for the unemployed and to lay out a program of federal public works which would not only aid the unemployed but would at the same time provided a needed stimulus to business. The business recession will likewise affect our revenues (for the present fiscal year) and they will be materially lower and our expenditures much greater than were expected seven months ago."

The expenditures for this fiscal year will set a peace-time record.

Iowa State Child Welfare Division Gets $10,000 Grant From Legislative Committee

State Board Asks Emergency Funds For Narcotic War

DES MOINES, July 12 (AP)—Iowa legislative interim committee members voted a $10,000 appropriation to the state child welfare division today after a heated clash in which the angry farm delegation days of 1933 were recalled.

The appropriation, which has a $900 a month limitation, was passed by a five to three vote, with Representatives Gustav Alesch, Dewey Goode and Morgan J. McEneaney dissenting.

Alesch objected to what he called the "inefficiency" of the state social welfare board in sending seven persons as a "sales force" to convince the committee that the money should be allotted.

Representative Leroy S. Mercer of Iowa City took exception to the statement.

"Speaking of coming in droves," he exclaimed, "I can remember when a delegation of Plymouth county farmers visited the legislature. And one of the fellows had a rope to hang a guy unless their bills were passed."

Alesch denied the farm invasion of the 1933 legislature was composed largely of his Plymouth county neighbors.

"They were the farmers of the state of Iowa," he retorted. "They were not on state salary."

State Senator Roy Stevens, committee chairman, asked approval of the measure "even though there are a lot of things I don't like about this program. It still is in its infancy, you must remember."

The senator explained that the social welfare board discovered it would need $10,000 a year to augment a $5,000 legislative appropriation after the last legislature had adjourned. The child welfare program received $100,000 from the committee for the same purpose a year ago.

The welfare delegation said it needs the appropriation to satisfy the requirements of the federal government which contributes $37,000 a year to the Iowa child welfare program.

Representative McEneaney, one of the dissenters, declared the plan calls for an average financial outlay of $414 a child "not including clothing, care or upkeep for any of them."

Propose New Radio Set-up For S. U. I.

Three-story Studio And New Equipment Planned for WSUI

Plans for the construction of a radio studio building for station WSUI, in addition to new transmitting equipment, were announced by university officials yesterday following the approval of a $90,000 project for expansion of radio education at the University of Iowa by the legislative interim committee.

A new three-story studio, 32 by 105 feet, is planned on the south side of the engineering building, where the station's Old Gold studios are located. In keeping with the architectural design of the building the new studio will be connected with the building.

Transmitter Obsolete
The obsolete transmitter now in use, will be replaced by a new, modern transmitter. New transmitting equipment and towers, located outside of the city to eliminate electrical interference, are also under consideration.

Application for a PWA grant of $40,500 is on file in Washington, which will augment the $49,500 approved by the interim committee.

WSUI began broadcasting in 1919 as one of the nation's first radio stations. The station is still using the same transmitter.

Carl Menzer, WSUI director, pointed out that a similar transmitter is on display in the Smithsonian institution at Washington, D. C., as a relic.

Known as Progressive
Even though WSUI has achieved the reputation as one of the most progressive educational stations on the air, its obsolete transmitter permits service to only a limited area, Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division and chairman of the radio board, revealed. He pointed out that the appearance of powerful stations of late years has cut down WSUI's service area so that only a small section of this part of the state is served.

WSUI now operates under 1,000 watts day time and 500 watts night time. If the proposed plans mature, Menzer said, the university will apply to the federal communications commission for 5,000 wats day time power.

Directional Antennae
If an increase in power is authorized, he revealed, WSUI will have to install directional antennae insuring an absence of interference with stations on adjoining frequencies and will permit sending university programs in a northwesterly direction across the state.

More than 500 students received radio training last year in the university's studios, overtaxing its facilities and requiring rehearsals and classes at night when the station was off the air.

Lose Against Government
WASHINGTON (AP) — Pierre S. Du Pont and John J. Raskob lost a major round yesterday in their fight against government income tax claims which they had denounced as "political persecution."

Believe Death Suicide
ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Assistant Police Chief Charles Manson said last night he believed that Elmer Gideon Swanson, 45, found today in a hotel room, had committed suicide.

Divorce Babs' Mystery Man Not Disclosed

LONDON, July 12 (AP)—English court custom is expected to keep off the record the name of the "gentleman in London" figuring in matrimonial troubles of the former Barbara Hutton.

Court Count Haugwitz-Reventlow, the Woolworth heiress' Danish husband, prepared to take his side of the dispute into Bow street police court tomorrow, but whether he would take the stand to defend himself against a charge that he had threatened his wife was uncertain.

Despite Mayfair's curiosity and speculation, few believed he would go so far as to name the man he was represented in testimony as wanting to "shoot like a dog." The accusation was made by the countess' lawyers, who said the count demanded tearfully in an interview whether his wife would marry the "gentleman in London" if she got a divorce.

The sole issue before the court was whether the count had threatened his wife. In such cases, lawyers tend to avoid naming third persons not directly involved.

Abandon Hope Of Stopping Flood Waters

BARTLETT, Ia., July 12 (AP)—Bartlett residents abandoned efforts late today to build a protective levee along a 2 1/2 mile highway stretching eastward to the Missouri river bluffs — the town's only outlet from the angry flood-swollen river which surrounds it on three sides.

D. A. Richardson, grain man, said water is backed up about six miles north of the road and is within a foot of the highway.

"It looks like the road may go," he said, "whether the river rises any more or not."

Colorado Crowd Cheers President for Saying American Government Is Good Enough for Us

ABOARD PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S TRAIN EN ROUTE TO SAN FRANCISCO, July 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt drew enthusiastic cheers from a Pueblo, Colo., crowd today with a statement that "we don't want and are not going to copy other forms of government. Ours is good enough for us."

Mr. Roosevelt, speaking under a glaring sun, made the assertion after saying he thought that if states could work out their problems on the "common meeting ground" of the federal government it would mean "we can make democracy work."

The president had nothing to say about Colorado's democratic senatorial primary, in which the incumbent, Alva B. Adams, is opposed by Judge Benjamin C. Hilliard of the Colorado supreme court.

Adams stood on one side of the president during the speech from the rear platform of Mr. Roosevelt's special train. Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) stood on the other. Hilliard was in Kansas at the bedside of a brother.

Mr. Roosevelt's silence on politics, even though he was speaking in Senator Adams' home town, left Colorado as one of but few states through which he had passed without intimating preference in democratic primaries.

Senator Adams told reporters the president's speech was all right in every way. Senator Johnson, an Adams supporter, said the talk was "completely satisfactory" to Adams backers.

At Spearville, Kan., Judge Hilliard expressed pleasure the president did not mention the senatorial contest.

Hughes Hops to Moscow After Paris Acclaim

This radiophoto from Paris shows Howard Hughes, millionaire sportsman and flier at Le Bourget airport, near Paris, following his record breaking transoceanic flight as he was greeted by the airport commandant, M. Girardot, left, and United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt, right. Hughes is in the center.

After his plane was refueled and repaired, Hughes left Le Bourget with a spectacular take-off for Moscow in a second lap of the round-the-world speed dash.

Flier Reports Plane, Crew Condition O.K.

Heads Toward Last Stop in Siberia At Top Speed of 210

MOSCOW, July 13 (Wednesday) (AP) — Howard Hughes was 1,500 miles out north of Lake Baikal, on his flight from Omsk to Yakutsk at 8 a.m. (11 p.m. CST).

Maintaining an average speed of more than 200 miles an hour, he reported by radio he was traveling at 11,600 feet. His top speed was 210 miles an hour.

Heading for Yakutsk, Hughes asked more precise data on conditions over mountain ranges between there and Anadyrsk. This is one of the most dangerous districts along his route, with practically no emergency landings available.

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—The Howard Hughes plane racing around the world reported by radio relayed to night headquarters tonight that it expected to land at Yakutsk, Siberia, at 4:20 a.m. (CST), 11 hours 43 minutes after the takeoff at Omsk on the fourth leg of the journey.

The message came from Radio Engineer Richard Stodart aboard the plane and was relayed by overseas telephone from a Russian official named Demchenko, in Moscow.

Demchenko, assigned by the Soviet government to assist the flight through Russian territories, said he had been in constant communication with the plane by radio since it left Omsk and that Hughes told him the plane had not changed course.

Hughes said his party was flying at 10,500 feet and 210 miles per hour after the first 800 miles of the 2,177 mile flight.

He requested weather information which was to be forwarded prior to the arrival at Yakutsk.

Hughes reported "crew and machine in perfect condition" but reports of the weather he was encountering were lacking here.

In one contact, Stodart reiterated in reply to a question by the Russian official that the landing gear was in good condition.

The plane passed over Novosibirsk, 400 miles out of Omsk, 2 hours 5 minutes after the takeoff, cruising at an estimated speed of 193 miles per hour.

Hughes on Second Half of Flight

OMSK, Siberia, July 13 (Wednesday) (AP) — Howard Hughes and his four "round the world" flight companions roared into the Siberian dawn today at 4:37 a.m. (4:37 p.m. CST) Tuesday on the fourth leg and second half of their globe-girdling flight.

The American fliers headed their silver monoplane east across the vast Soviet steppes toward Yakutsk, 2,177 miles away.

They were still almost a day ahead of the 1933 flight schedule of the late Wiley Post who circled the world in seven days, 18 hours and 49 minutes.

Remote Yakutsk, on the Lena river which empties into the Arctic ocean, is the last Soviet stop Hughes has scheduled on his dash around the world.

From there he plans to soar over the tumbled mountain ranges of far eastern Siberia and then across the Bering sea to Fairbanks, Alaska, a hop of 2,456 miles.

Politics Indiana's Van Nuys Renominated

INDIANAPOLIS, July 12 (AP)—Without a murmur of opposition, a sweltering democratic state convention today renominated Sen. Frederick Van Nuys, fighting foe of some new deal measures, who until a week ago had planned to wage an independent campaign for re-election.

Thus was completed a rapprochement—in which figured Paul V. McNutt's 1940 presidential chances—between Van Nuys and the party's Indiana organization, headed by Gov. M. Clifford Townsend.

Not a ripple of dissent was heard as Senator Van Nuys, estranged from the McNutt-Townsend organization for many months, was declared renominated by acclamation. If there were any objections, they were drowned by a thunderous outburst of cheering into which the heat-oppressed convention broke.

The convention brought Van Nuys and Townsend together for the first time since their feud came into the open at a meeting of the Indiana Democratic Editorial association at French Lick last summer. There, with Van Nuys in the audience, the governor declared Indiana democrats would not support for re-election "those public servants who have not been loyal to the president." That was right after Van Nuys' bitter fight against President Roosevelt's court bill.

Today, Governor Townsend strode to the rear of the convention platform and shook hands with Senator Van Nuys. Both wore broad smiles.

Before getting to the business of picking a senate nominee, the convention staged a riotous demonstration for McNutt for president.

Kraschel States Board Should Work Without Interference

Governor Says Peace Still Being Maintained Without Armed Agents

DES MOINES, Ia., July 12 (AP)—Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel late tonight issued a statement concerning the Maytag Washing Machine Co. controversy in which he said the three-man arbitration board "should be permitted to hear all evidence and reach a decision without interference by anyone."

The governor's statement also said "notwithstanding the criticism by Newton and Jasper county officials, we are still maintaining peace with unarmed agents."

In Newton today District Judge Homer A. Fuller, who is conducting contempt proceedings against CIO union leaders, told A. H. Taylor, Maytag factory manager, that "hereafter, no one can keep you and the office managers from the plant."

Temporarily, State Agents Frank Moorhead and Charles Croghan withdrew efforts to regulate entrance into the company plant.

The governor, however, said the agents, after talking to him by telephone, reassumed their duties of checking office workers and foremen admitted to the plant as a part of maintaining law and order during the process of arbitration.

"As governor of Iowa," Kraschel's statement said, "I am not concerned about the details of the settlement, but I do feel obliged to protect the arbitration board, which under the authority of the Iowa code, I created last Saturday."

"The board should be permitted to hear all evidence and reach a decision without interference from anyone."

"I am, therefore, continuing (See MAYTAG, page 6)

F. D. R.'s Man Thomas Leading In State Vote

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 12 (AP)—Senator Elmer Thomas, called "my old friend" by President Roosevelt, maintained a steady lead tonight in his race for renomination on the basis of scattered primary returns.

He pulled away from Representative Gomer Smith, who voted against the president's reorganization bill, and E. W. Marland, new deal governor.

Three hundred thirty-six of the state's 3,522 precincts gave Thomas 17,618; Smith 12,806 and Marland, 8,429.

Leon C. Phillips, cigar-chewing Okemah legislator and new deal supporter, ran ahead of four major rivals in the race for democratic nomination for governor.

ARBITRATOR President Will Judge Chaco Fight

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—President Roosevelt has agreed to act as an arbitrator of the Chaco peace dispute between Bolivia and Paraguay and delegated Ambassador Spruille Braden to represent him.

The state department announced today receipt of a telegram from Argentine Foreign Minister Jose Maria Cantillo, asking if President Roosevelt would accept the post as one of the arbitrators under article two of the draft treaty of peace, friendship and boundaries, which recently was approved by Bolivia and Paraguay.

Late News Bulletins

'France Prepared'

PARIS, July 13 (AP) — Premier Edouard Daladier tonight delivered a warning that France is prepared whenever necessary to repeat the strong action which last May kept a German-Czechoslovak clash from bringing new war to Europe.

Jensen Nominated

RED OAK, Ia., July 12 (AP)—Ben Jensen, Exira lumberman, was nominated republican candidate for congress from the seventh district on the convention's 37th ballot today, after opponents released pledged delegations.

Thomas Still Leads

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 12 (AP) — Senator Elmer Thomas, whose new deal record drew praise from President Roosevelt, led his two rivals by a good majority tonight in returns from more than a third of the precincts in Oklahoma's primary election.

Japanese Stopped

SHANGHAI, July 13 (Wednesday) (AP)—Chinese reported today that Japanese had been stopped seven miles downstream from Kiukiang, Yangtze river port 135 miles below Hankow, and were attempting to bring up reinforcements.

Expecting a resumption of the drive toward Hankow, China's provisional capital, however, Chinese strengthened their defenses in Kiukiang.

Cleveland Desperate Again

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland re-established its emergency four-day food order system among 60,000 relief clients yesterday as the relief fund dwindled.

Politicians Think Allred Appointment Is Prelude to Career of Elliot Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, July 12 (AP)—Washington politicians wondered today whether President Roosevelt's appointment of Gov. James V. Allred of Texas to the federal district court bench might be a link into a chain of events leading to the entry into politics of Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president.

Some observers felt that if the younger Roosevelt chose to run for some high office in Texas, he might be assured of the support of many political followers of Allred.

Although Elliott has given no public indication of political ambitions, there was speculation here that he might be groomed to oppose Senator Connally (D-Tex), one of the original foes of the president's supreme court reorganization proposal, in the 1940 senatorial primary.

There also has been talk among Texas democrats that the younger Roosevelt might become a candidate for governor two years hence.

One informed person credited Allred's appointment to the influence wielded in his behalf by Elliott, a close personal friend of the governor.

Highlights in the Life of Howard Hughes

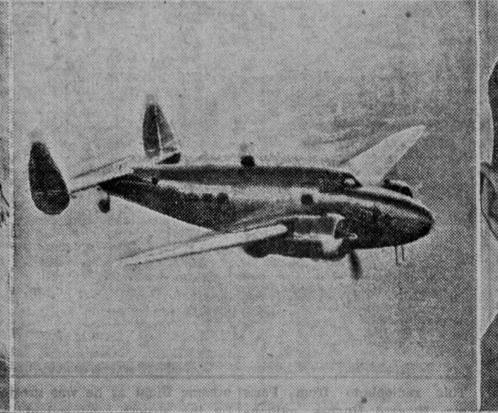

Howard Hughes, 33, was born in Houston, Tex., Dec. 24, 1904. His father, Howard Robert Hughes Sr., a pioneer in the development of the southwest's oil fields, had become a millionaire by inventing a drill with 166 cutting edges. Young Hughes made his first flight at 14 in a battered seaplane which took passengers aloft for $5. Within a year, young Hughes had a flying license. Then his father died, and the youthful speed pilot-to-be went to Los Angeles to live with his uncle, the author, Rupert Hughes. At 20, young Hughes came into full con-rol of his fortune. He soon began producing pictures by himself. His most famous production was "Hell's Angels," which alone made a $3,000,000 profit. Hughes formed the Hughes Aircraft company and won a sportsman pilot race in Miami in January, 1934, his first air victory. In 1935, flying a plane built by his own company, he set a new land plane speed record of 352 miles per hour. In April, 1936, Hughes flew from Miami, Fla., to New York in four hours, 21 minutes and 23 seconds, lowering the previous mark by 40 minutes.

Prior to this, Hughes had set a new transcontinental record and then on Jan. 19, 1937, he zoomed across the U. S. from Burbank, Cal., to Newark, N. J., in 7 hours, 23 minutes for a new mark. This was a speed of 332 miles per hour. In recognition of his achievements, Hughes received the Harmon trophy as outstanding flyer in 1936. The sportsman-pilot now caps all accomplishments with the record-breaking flight to Paris, making the trip with four companions in a new $200,000 monoplane weighing 25,000 pounds.

Hughes' time from New York to Paris, a distance of 3,610 miles, was 16 hours and 35 minutes. After arrival at Paris, Hughes continued on the projected world flight. Hughes is a six-footer, but lean. He is no lover of the spotlight. He resembles Col. Charles A.

Lindbergh in the manner in which he shuns interviews and publicity. He has found time, however, to be seen with a procession of film stars and has been linked romantically with Katharine Hepburn. His fortune is said to be $75,000,000.

Stoopnagle Tonight When Colonel Lemuel Q. Stoopnagle appears as "guest wizard" on the "Town Hall Big Game Hunt" at 7 o'clock tonight over the NBC-Red network, he'll be returning to the scene where he became famous. As one-half the comedy team of Stoopnagle and Budd, the colonel reached the heights of fame at the Old Town Hall two years ago this summer when Fred Allen went on his vacation. Some months ago, Stoopnagle and Budd agreed to a parting of the ways, and, as is often the case with those things, both have yet to find the success alone that they gained together. In his summer series at the town hall, the Colonel dabbled in definitions, amateurs and poetry, but it was his many "inventions" that are best remembered. It was he who campaigned for the upside down lighthouse for submarines, the revolving fish bowl for tired gold fish and wet envelopes to save the trouble of licking stamps. One of his inventions actually came to pass—a cellophane umbrella so you can see when it's raining. One of the best known and loved of American composers, he wrote the musical scores for "Maytime," "Blossom Time," "Student Prince," "Desert Song" and "New Moon." You're right—it's Sigmund Romberg. An Orchid... Did you see "Stolen Heaven" which played on an Iowa City screen recently? With one of the finest musical backgrounds I've heard, the music of Strauss, Moszkowski, Grieg, Chopin, Liszt, and Wagner was threaded throughout the picture.

Healthful Summer Routine Aids In Keeping Infants Fit Today

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D. The old dread that mothers had of the baby's second summer is fast disappearing. There is no reason for it any more. Tradition had it that the second summer is very critical and that the baby must be sick some time in that period. But the situation has changed, and, as a matter of statistics, the summer months show less sickness for those under five years of age than any other part of the year. None of us need as much food in the summer, and this includes the baby. "Less to eat and more to drink in the summer time," is the slogan of a wise old practitioner of my acquaintance. The summer is a fine time to let the skin get acquainted with the air. Take all the baby's clothes off and let it roll around in the good air and sunshine on these warm days. Fruit juices are important foods and should be added liberally to the diet of any baby during the first and second summer. Any fruit is all right, but oranges and tomato juice have the best supply of Vitamin C. A half cup to a cup

A New Yorker at Large

By George Tucker NEW YORK—Brooklyn Bridge at night continues to be a favorite vantage point for artists who wish to capture something of Manhattan's after dark eminence. The arch of the bridge just beyond midstream affords a magnificent view of the sleeping city with its winking windows and folding tiers of skyscrapers. John Barrymore, who aspired to art long before he became an actor, once sketched the island from this point. And rare is the exhibit that does not contain at least one canvas wrought in the spell of white stars over blue water with the long length of the island behind. But personally I prefer the Hudson view to any from the East River side. Manhattan at dusk from a ferry in midstream or from any of the Palisade promontories is so breath-takingly beautiful as to defy description. It hangs in a haze of unreality, almost a mirage which is tinged with a blue that makes one think of Maxfield Parrish. As the blue deepens the lights wink on like millions of fireflies, and then it is that New York takes on an enchantment to be found only in a fairy tale or a Walt Disney picture. A handwriting expert reveals that sporting people almost invariably write in a bold, straightforward style. Gene Tunney's signature, for instance, is expansive which probably indicates unbounded confidence. Jack Dempsey's is rather cramped but steady. Lou Gehrig and Carl Hubbell both write with an even flow. However, this same authority explains that theatrical folk are usually just the opposite from people of the sporting world. It is well known that Sir Henry Irving possessed the worst scrawl on record. There is a story about Sir Henry which you may have heard, but since it illustrates this thesis you will have to bear with it again. It is said that Sir Henry once wrote a note to the box-office man in his own theater, requesting a pair of tickets for a friend. When the note was delivered the box-office man shook his head. "I'm sorry," he said, "but you must want the drugstore next door. We don't mix prescriptions here." Helen Hayes who is just back from a coast-to-coast theatrical tour, says the most beautiful flowers she saw anywhere were the bluebonnets in Texas. The best she saw, she says, was found in Memphis, where she ate fried chicken, and New Orleans, where they ate pompano.

Two Words—One of Thanks, One of Congratulation

WE'D LIKE TO say just two words this morning, with a little adornment. We want to thank the legislative interim committee for approving the $90,000 project for improvements at WSUI. We think there'll be no regrets. We're sure the station's headed for bigger things now. At first we planned to mention the names of all those who've helped build the campus—and, incidentally, Iowa's—radio into what it is. But we've decided against that. There's just too many. First of all there's Bruce Mahan, who is chairman of the radio board and who has taken a far-reaching, intelligent interest in WSUI for many years; then there's Carl Menzer, who's been at the station since its beginning, always working quietly for its general improvement; of course, there's Pearl Bennett Broxan, of whom everyone who knows about radio at Iowa thinks of immediately and who is, as someone put it, the sparkplug that makes many of the wheels go round, and there's Prof. Charles Sanders, whose program ideas, particularly his news casts, are big time radio. But these are just the surface names. There are others, the members of the radio board, the heads of the departments, members of the speech and music departments, and so many more. WSUI is an all-campus project. With increased facilities, better equipment we believe it's going to cinch that title—"the nation's best in educational radio."

America's 'Playboy' Aviator Merits World's Applause

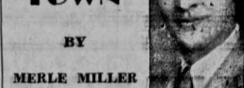

AMERICA salutes Howard Hughes, a millionaire sports man and a playboy with a purpose, for his record-breaking achievements in the field of aviation. Bequeathed 17 million dollars by his father a little over 12 years ago, Hughes went to Hollywood to enter the moving picture field and was dubbed "another millionaire playboy" by the movie colony. Although he had only been in Hollywood a short time, the word soon got around that Hughes might be a playboy, but that if he was he was a playboy with a purpose. After several successful ventures as a picture producer, he turned his attention and his millions to aviation and became not-

SURRENDERING TO THE MOSQUITO

Once in a while some one does something about the mosquito, but in these climes it is never enough. Over a period of years the mosquito comes out on top. As a restriction of property use this is a tyranny. The cool of evening falls. The wood thrush sings. The nightingale opens its petals and sends abroad its perfume. The fireflies sparkle in the brush and through the vistas. The moonlight floods the scene and man flails the air two or three times and runs for the protection of his screens, surrendering his premises to a hostile possessor. The mosquito does not even need the householder for meat and drink. It can get along without him. The householder is merely a luxury. His only protection is in flight and hiding. The surrender is about as abject as anything in history. —The Chicago Tribune

WASHINGTON WORLD

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist WASHINGTON—Fresh interest in national complications of a financial nature have arisen. The Germans bet their heads off on Max Schmeling against Joe Louis. They lost—the Germans did. Now how are they going to settle? Fifty marks (a mere bagatelle) is as much as can be shipped out of Germany without special permission and Herr Hitler shows no inclination to grant such permission in this particular instance. Hundreds of thousands, maybe millions, of marks were staked in Berlin and thereabouts on Schmeling in foreign countries for of course no takers were to be found in the fatherland itself. Had Schmeling won the other countries' losses would have poured into Germany. Louis having won, however, foreign gamblers cannot collect. The Germans admit that they owe the money but under their regulations they are powerless to remit it—except 50 marks, apiece, which is not enough to be worth having. One cannot but wonder if the Teutons did not think of all this when they were doing their betting. Of course we ourselves were suckers for not thinking of it. For that matter it is said that some of the British were stuck similarly. They did not think of it either. But we are the principal victims. Naturally Germany's Schmeling fans turned this way with most of their offers. And when American bookmakers received cables from Germans whom they took to be financially trustworthy they were glad to get the business. So far as can be learned not a single German bet was placed on Louis.

Pirates Extend Victory String to Thirteen Straight as Todd Stars

CHICAGO, July 12 (AP)—The rampant Pittsburgh Pirates rode their seasons' record breaking winning streak into first place in the National league today by trouncing the Chicago Cubs 14 to 6 as New York lost to Brooklyn.

It was the Bucs 13th victory in a row, their best since 1922 when they hung up a similar string, and they used 13 men in achieving it.

Budge, Mako Beaten By Czechoslovakians

BELGRADE, July 12 (AP)—Don Budge and Gene Mako dropped singles decisions to Yugoslavians' Davis cup tennis stars, Franz Kukuljevic and Ferenc Puncce today.

Kukuljevic won from Budge, 15-13, 7-5. Puncce defeated Mako, 4-6, 6-3, 9-7. In doubles, however, the Americans defeated Kukuljevic and Drobny of Czechoslovakia, 6-2, 6-2.

The Croats and Serbs settled their bitter argument over where the exhibitions should be played by agreeing to have the Americans appear here today and tomorrow and then shift to Zagreb Thursday.

NEW YORKERS CLIMB CLOSER TO TOP WITH 7-3, 10-5 TRIUMPHS

NEW YORK, July 12 (AP)—The New York Yankees advanced within a half-game of first place today when they trimmed the St. Louis Browns in both ends of a doubleheader while the pace-setting Indians were losing to Washington.

The Yanks took the first game, 7 to 3, with Charley (Red) Ruffing leading the attack in quest of his 12th victory of the season. They won the nightcap, 10 to 5, through some concentrated slugging and nine bases on balls issued by Howard Mills and Ed Linke.

Guldahl Loses In P.G.A. Meet

SHAWNEE - ON - DELAWARE, Pa., July 12 (AP)—Before the largest crowd of the tournament and one that turned against him for what it considered an un-sportsmanlike display, Ralph Guldahl, winner of the last two United States Open golf championships, today became the major casualty in the "sudden death" stage of the National P. G. A. championship at the Shawnee Country Club.

Guldahl, who just a month ago at Denver nosed out Dick Metz of Chicago for his second open crown, lost a 1-up decision to Metz in this afternoon's second round of competition which cut a starting field of 64 down to 16 survivors.

Joseph B. Keenan, Crime Expert, to Discuss Newest Detection Methods Friday

Iowa Peace Officers Will Hear Attorney General's Assistant

Joseph B. Keenan, assistant to the attorney general of the United States, will fulfill a double duty in Iowa City this week end when he appears as the fifth speaker on the university's summer series of lectures and round table discussions.

Keenan will appear in conjunction with the second annual Iowa peace officers short course which is in session on the campus. Speaking on "New Horizons" on the west approach to Old Capitol Friday night, the noted attorney will direct the weekly round table session at 9 a. m. Saturday in the house chamber of Old Capitol.

Iowa peace officers will attend the two sessions as a regular unit of the instruction of the short course.

Keenan was appointed special assistant to the United States attorney general to investigate crime in July 1933, and was named assistant attorney general of the United States in charge of the criminal division of the department of justice in October of that year.

A graduate of Brown university, Keenan received his M.A. and LL.B. degrees from Harvard. He was admitted to the Ohio bar in 1913. He was appointed special assistant to the attorney general of that state to investigate crime in 1919.

Cited by General Pershing "for meritorious service" during the World war, the speaker was also honored "for distinguished service" by the French government.

The Hon. Joseph B. Keenan, assistant attorney general of the United States in charge of the criminal division of the department of justice, will speak on the west front of Old Capitol at 8 p. m. Friday as the fifth speaker on the summer series of university lectures. In the University of Iowa student body whom he will address will be Iowa peace officers who will attend the assistant attorney general's lecture, and the round table which he will conduct Saturday morning, as a part of the activities of the second annual short course which is now in session on the campus.

Dormitory Benefits 1,700 S.U.I. Students To Live on Campus During Coming Year

Benefits of living in modern dormitory buildings next fall will be extended to about 1,700 University of Iowa students, nearly one-fourth of the University of Iowa's total campus student body.

And the total is more than ever before, because Hillcrest, the men's dormitory accommodating 241, will be opened for the first time.

Included in the students who will live in six dormitory structures are about 1,050 men and 650 women, a survey showed Tuesday. They will pay from $80, without board, to $337, with board, depending upon the style of accommodations.

In addition to the hundreds who will live in the dormitories, scores of others will be housed in seven co-operative dormitories, former private homes where students defray part of their lodging expenses by work.

As usual, the Quadrangle, men's dormitory, will have its capacity of 700 students, and Currier Hall will house about 300 women. Westlawn, home for students in the school of nursing, cares for some 250.

About half of the law students, 125, will live in the law commons and 85 girls will reside in Eastlawn, some of them helping to reduce the cost by working an hour and one-half daily.

So popular has dormitory life at the university become that another addition to Currier Hall is on the proposed list of university building projects.

Music Group Will Present Noted Violinist

Florizel von Reuter Will Play Concert At Methodist Church

Presenting a program of both old classics and modern music, Florizel von Reuter, noted violinist, will appear in a concert here Saturday night under the auspices of the Music Study club. The concert, which will be given for the benefit of the club's newly-created scholarship fund, will take place in the auditorium of the Methodist Episcopal church.

A precocious child, von Reuter began to play the violin when three years of age. His mother gave him his first lessons, but, in view of his rapid progress, he was placed under the tutelage of Max Bendix, who at that time was concertmaster of the Chicago orchestra. At the age of seven he advanced sufficiently to make it advisable for him to study in Europe. It was President William McKinley who provided him and his mother with free passages to Europe and Mrs. McKinley had their cabin decorated with flowers from the White House.

The boy received his graduation diploma from the Conservatory of Music in Geneva when 10 years old, being, it is stated, the youngest child ever awarded such a diploma.

In Europe his teachers were Emile Sauret of London, Carsar Thomson and Eugene Ysaye, both of Brussels, and Henri Marteau of Geneva.

Since he began his artistic career he has played over 3,000 concerts in all countries of Europe, South America and the Orient. He has appeared before as many as 10 of the ruling monarchs, being repeatedly decorated. An especial distinction conferred upon him by the Queen of Roumania was the permission to use the baronial title. Queen Carmen Bylva was a great patroness of his, as were also King Ferdinand of Bulgaria and Queen Alexander of Greece.

He has written four operas, many orchestral and violin works and has published a guide to violin music, as well as three books of psychic subjects.

When he appears here he will play his Maggini violin, valued at $25,000.

The concert, which will be given for the benefit of the club's newly-created scholarship fund, will take place in the auditorium of the Methodist Episcopal church.

A precocious child, von Reuter began to play the violin when three years of age. His mother gave him his first lessons, but, in view of his rapid progress, he was placed under the tutelage of Max Bendix, who at that time was concertmaster of the Chicago orchestra. At the age of seven he advanced sufficiently to make it advisable for him to study in Europe. It was President William McKinley who provided him and his mother with free passages to Europe and Mrs. McKinley had their cabin decorated with flowers from the White House.

The boy received his graduation diploma from the Conservatory of Music in Geneva when 10 years old, being, it is stated, the youngest child ever awarded such a diploma.

In Europe his teachers were Emile Sauret of London, Carsar Thomson and Eugene Ysaye, both of Brussels, and Henri Marteau of Geneva.

Since he began his artistic career he has played over 3,000 concerts in all countries of Europe, South America and the Orient. He has appeared before as many as 10 of the ruling monarchs, being repeatedly decorated. An especial distinction conferred upon him by the Queen of Roumania was the permission to use the baronial title. Queen Carmen Bylva was a great patroness of his, as were also King Ferdinand of Bulgaria and Queen Alexander of Greece.

He has written four operas, many orchestral and violin works and has published a guide to violin music, as well as three books of psychic subjects.

When he appears here he will play his Maggini violin, valued at $25,000.

50 Kansas Alumni To Attend Dinner

About 50 alumni of Kansas State Teachers college in Emporia will attend a dinner at 6 p. m. tomorrow in the River room of Iowa Union, honoring Dr. J. B. Stroud, head of the Kansas school psychology department and visiting lecturer in the college of education of the University of Iowa this summer.

J. Reece Stewart, G of Manhattan, Kan., is in charge of arrangements for the dinner.

The delinquency rate among New York children has declined more than half in the 35 years' existence of the Children's Court.

S.U.I. Grads Are Married

Knowlton-Avery And Kenline-Schrup Are Latest Ceremonies

Married Saturday in Dubuque were Harriet Kenline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Charles Kenline of Dubuque, to Attorney Eldon Peter Schrup, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Nicholas Schrup, also of Dubuque.

Attending the couple were Mary Kenline of St. Paul, a sister of the bride, and Maurice Schrup, a brother of the bridegroom.

The bride was graduated from the university, where she is affiliated with Chi Omega sorority. For the past year she has been women's page editor of the Dubuque Telegraph-Herald.

Attorney Schrup attended Harvard university and received his J.D. degree from the Northwestern university college of law. He is an attorney in the office of the Chief Counsel of the Federal Trade Commission in Washington, D. C., where the couple will reside.

The marriage of Jean Elizabeth Knowlton, daughter of Mrs. Myrtle E. Knowlton of Floyd, and Dr. Karl Avery, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Avery of Cherokee, was solemnized June 25 at the home of the bride's mother. The Rev. Mr. Challis of Osage performed the single ring ceremony in the presence of immediate families and friends.

Doris Knowlton served her sister as maid of honor. Herbert H. Knowlton, a brother of the bride, was the best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, J. W. Clay of Osage.

Mrs. Avery is a graduate of Stephens college and of the university. During the past year she has been employed by the Wapello county relief administration at Ottumwa.

Dr. Avery was graduated from the college of medicine of the university last month and will serve his internship at Salt Lake City, Utah, where the couple will reside.

To Direct Symphony

Prof. Modeste Alloo, right, guest instructor on the music department staff this summer, will appear as guest conductor when the university summer symphony presents its annual concert in Iowa Union Sunday evening. Professor Alloo will direct Franck's "Symphony in D Minor," the final number on the program.

Prof. Philip G. Clapp, left, head of the music department and regular director of the symphony, will direct the 95-piece symphony, the largest summer group in history, in the overture to "Romeo and Juliet" by Tchaikowsky and Dvorak's suite for small orchestra.

S.U.I. Symphony Orchestra Will Present Concert Sunday

Group Will Play At Annual Affair at 8 In Lounge of Union

The annual summer concert of the 95-piece university symphony orchestra will be presented at 8 p. m. Sunday in the main lounge of Iowa Union under the direction of Prof. Philip G. Clapp.

Prof. Modeste Alloo, visiting instructor in brass instruments on the music staff this summer, will appear as guest conductor.

The program will include Tchaikowsky's "Romeo and Juliet" overture, Dvorak's "Suite for Small Orchestra," Op. 19, and Cesar Franck's "Symphony in D Minor." Professor Clapp will direct the first of the three numbers, and Professor Alloo the last.

The "Romeo and Juliet" overture, while a concert rather than a theater overture, does follow the plot of the play. Three easily recognizable motifs appear in the number: a chant which is descriptive of Friar Lawrence, music designed to typify the conflict between the Montagues and the Capulets, and the love music of Romeo and Juliet.

The Dvorak suite is typically Czechoslovakian. Although no folk songs are included in the score, three of the five movements represent dances—the well known polka, the slow minuet (sousedska) and the rapidly active tauriant. The other two movements are the prelude and romance.

Professor Alloo, who will direct the Franck symphony, is a graduate of the Brussels Royal Conservatory of Music and the Verviers conservatory in Belgium. Until 1910 he was professor of brass instruments at the Bruges conservatory there.

He played first trombone in the Boston symphony orchestra from 1910 to 1918; directed military music at Camp Devans during the World war, and was associate conductor of the Cincinnati symphony orchestra from 1918 until 1922.

During that time he organized and conducted the Cincinnati municipal band and gave instruction in brass instruments at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music.

Professor of music at the University of California from 1923 until 1934, Professor Alloo has been active as a guest conductor in Europe and America since that time.

Free tickets for Sunday's concert are available at the Union desk.

This year's summer orchestra, Professor Clapp announces, is the largest summer organization in history.

Study Unit Graduate Students To Enroll August 8

Graduate students only will be the rule for enrollment in the University of Iowa's three-weeks independent study unit which opens Aug. 8.

Not only will men and women undergraduates be entirely excluded, but also the graduate students will form a selected group, admitted only upon recommendation of the head of a department.

Summer session officials yesterday stressed the fact that only graduates students who were enrolled in the university during the eight-weeks teaching period of 1937 or 1938, or during the regular academic year, can apply for admission. The unit ends Aug. 26.

Scholars must be judged competent to carry on their special study-projects independently and shortly after the session they submit their results. Successful work on these study-projects, rated by the department head, will yield not more than three semester-hours of credit.

This is the only time during the year that undergraduate students cannot enroll.

Today With WSUI

Today's Highlights

Prof. Paul R. Olson of the college of commerce will be heard over WSUI at 3:10 o'clock this afternoon, as he speaks and conducts a round table discussion of the United States' reciprocal trade agreements at the weekly campus forum in Old Chapel.

Harry Cooper of the United States secret service will be interviewed at 5:30 this afternoon by Merle Miller. The broadcast will present additional highlights of the week's meetings of the peace officers short course.

George Schulz-Behrend will appear at 7:45 this evening on the "Poetic Interlude" broadcast.

Mr. Behrend will present a program of low German poetry. Low German is spoken throughout northern Germany, and the dialect is rich in literature. Like the Scottish dialect, the low German is different than the High German taught in the schools.

The broadcast, heard every two weeks, is of particular interest to farmers and other persons who have immigrated to this country from northern Germany.

FBI's Special Agent Gives Movie Hero, Fiction Detectives Setback in Short Course Talk

L. Boardman Speaks To Peace Officers In University's 'School'

Movie heroes and popular fiction detectives, and their dramatic ways of solving crimes, received a setback at the hands of L. V. Boardman of Detroit, Mich., special agent in the field division of the federal bureau of investigation, in the opening meeting of the second day of the peace officers short course yesterday.

The distorted conception of detective methods that people in general have acquired from movies and novels were mentioned by both Boardman and Dr. H. P. Smith, head of the pathology department of the college of medicine, who followed Boardman with a talk on pathology.

Detective Technique
A demonstration at the scene of a crime concluded yesterday morning's session, with visiting officers trying their skill at detective technique under Boardman's direction.

A lecture on case histories and report writing, followed by a 50-minute period turned over to Chief H. A. Alber of the Des Moines police department and Sheriff H. T. Wagner of Black Hawk county, began the afternoon session.

Today's Program
8 to 8:50 a.m.—First Aid, Dr. Fred Jarvis.
9 to 9:50 a.m.—The Four Point Program, Prof. R. M. Perkins.
10 to 10:50 a.m.—Blood and Urine, Alcohol and Intoxication, Dr. R. B. Gibson.

11 to 11:50 a.m.—Counterfeiting, Harry Cooper of the United States Secret Service.
1 to 1:50 p.m.—The Mental Workings of Law Breakers, Dr. A. H. Woods, Dr. H. E. Shirley.
3 to 5 p.m.—Pistol practice, care of firearms, chemical warfare against criminals.

7 p.m.—Laboratories open to the public, dental building.
The daily period of pistol practice, care of firearms and chemical warfare against criminals completed the afternoon session.

Under the direction of E. F. Brown of the Iowa Bureau of Investigation, the mobile unit was demonstrated at last night's meeting.

The mobile unit, a car equipped with a two-way radio in communication with the short course laboratory, police headquarters in Iowa City and cruising squad cars throughout the city, relayed orders from headquarters to police cars, ordering them to particular street intersections, with the "unseen" laboratory audience taking note of the proceedings.

Open Laboratories
Following the mobile unit demonstrations, the various laboratories were open for the inspection of the officers.

Short Course Administrator Perkins yesterday issued an invitation to the public to inspect the short course laboratories which will be open at 7 o'clock this evening in the dental building.

Those who will take part in today's short course activities are Harry Cooper, supervising agent of the United States secret service; Prof. R. B. Gibson of the biochemistry department of the college of medicine.

Dr. Fred Jarvis of the surgery department of the college of medicine; Professor Perkins of the college of law, administrative director of the course; H. F. Shirley of the psychiatry department of the college of medicine, and Dr. A. H. Woods, head of the psychiatry department.

Open Examinations For Civil Service Positions Announced

not put the body where it subsequently was found in newly fallen snow in a thicket near Everett 15 days later.

"I wrapped the body up and buried it," Cole quoted him as saying. "One other man knew where the body was buried and he must have dug it up and moved it."

The patrol chief said Olson gave him the name of the ascertained accomplice and was arrested later today. Olson implicated the accomplice in several robberies.

Cole quoted Olson as saying he strangled the Mattson boy, then beat the child on the head and stabbed him. It was recalled the condition of the body at the time it was discovered indicated the stab wounds were inflicted after death.

Olson originally made a statement to Sheriff Melvin Oestreich of Adams county Sunday. He had been working on a farm near Ritzville, and Cole said he understood Olson had questioned his employers as to "what kind of man the sheriff is."

Olson was placed under arrest by Oestreich and State Patrolman Jack Crooks after he had paid a call to the sheriff's office. He was then brought to Tacoma, where, Cole said, today's admission of the kidnaping and killing was made.

16,000 Questioned In Kidnap Hunt

TACOMA, Wash., July 12 (AP)—More than 16,000 suspects were questioned by the federal bureau of investigation in its search for the bearded man who abducted 10-year-old Charles Mattson, son of a Tacoma physician, from his home here Dec. 27, 1936.

The boy's body, nude and beatear, was found in a thicket in newly fallen snow near Everett, Wash., 15 days later.

The kidnaper, masked and waving a pistol, held three other children at the home of Dr. W. W. Mattson at bay while he seized the boy and disappeared through a basement window into the darkness of the five-acre estate outside.

Behind him, the man, whose mask had slipped enough to give all three remaining children a clear view of his face, left a soiled note printed with rubber type and demanding $28,000 ransom for release of "the boy." The Mattson family was not mentioned in the communication, which was signed "Tim."

William Mattson, 16, frantically called police as the man vanished with his captive; while Muriel Mattson, 14, and Virginia Chatfield, 15, a house guest, peered after the fugitive. Dr. and Mrs. Mattson, absent at the time, returned home a few minutes later.

Group Named To Plan Tour

Committees for the annual 4-H club boosters tour, to be held Aug. 12, were announced last night by County Agent Emmett C. Gardner.

The committees will plan and organize the trip made each year by Iowa citizens to advertise the 4-H club show.

The committees follow: Transportation, V. W. Nail, J. G. Gartner and E. J. Lenthe; entertainment, Dale Welt, E. C. Kuenzel and Alva B. Oathout; extra car, Attorney Robert L. Larson and Attorney Will J. Jackson; dinner, Charles A. Bowman, Irving B. Weber and Lyman Burdick; publicity, William T. Hageboeck.

Tentative plans call for visits to North Liberty, Solon, West Branch, Lone Tree, Hills, Riverside, Kalona, Oxford and Tiffin.

Mickey Bevans Gets Sentence Of Jail Term

CIO Leader Sends Kraschel Telegram

NEWTON, Ia., July 12 (AP)—Wilbert Allison, president of the Maytag Washing Machine Co. CIO union, advised Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel in a telegram tonight "the Maytag company is violating your instructions to maintain status quo pending recommendations of your arbitration board."

Allison's telegram said "we will feel free to protect our rights under state and federal laws in order to maintain our freedom of organization and collective bargaining." He asked for an immediate reply to the message which also stated:

"In the past two days the number of plant employees has been steadily increased and now includes production and maintenance employees numbering about 200 who are being used to do production work involving shipment of repair parts amounting to 150 crates of tub repairs, machinery repairs, etc., and is being increased steadily.

"The present injunction citation trial now is going on. It is impossible for us to participate in assisting your board, facilitating a settlement of this controversy.

"It is quite apparent the local court in defiance of your order, is encouraging the back-to-work movement and the sheriff's vigilante troops to back the company to disregard your orders and reopen the plant."

The message expressed the union's confidence in the arbitration board, but added:

"We cannot stand by and see ourselves and the welfare of our membership become the sole parties to your order and efforts to settle this dispute.

"We urge immediate action on your part to enforce your orders. We pledge our continued observance of the status quo, pending the findings of your board and stand ready to join with the company in compliance with the findings of the board.

"Should the company continue its violation of your order, and should the welfare of our membership be threatened by civil and vigilante terror, we will feel free to protect our rights under state and federal law in order to maintain our freedom of organization and collective bargaining."

Art Most Permanent Factor in Nation's Intellectual Life Says Bose in Lecture

Defining art as "the most permanent factor in the intellectual life of a nation — the universal language which explains all that is most vital in the cultural life of a people," Dr. Sudhindra Bose yesterday continued his series of lectures on Oriental contributions to civilization.

Almost 50 lantern slides, depicting architecture, sculpture and paintings of India, China, Korea and Japan were used with the lecture.

"The Orient can be understood by the Occident," Dr. Bose asserted, "if it wills to do so. The Oriental is no more inscrutable than is the American."

He pointed out that the aesthetic standards of a nation are the result of climate, natural environment, time, racial traditions and the racial spirit, and that "it is true that the aesthetic standards of a nation are not those of Europe."

aminers reported to the committee today that its narcotics agents saved a three-week-old baby from the morphine habit "after being breast fed by a mother who was an addict."

The board asked the committee, which hears requests for emergency appropriations during sessions, for $5,000 to fight illegal narcotics traffic in Iowa during the rest of the year ending next July 1.

"We have been complimented by the federal government on the way our setup is working," a board statement said. "The money granted by your committee is enabling us to drive the dope peddler into the open."

The board used a $1,250 appropriation from the interim committee for its narcotics drive during the April, May and June quarter.

Amateurs May Enter Picture Contest Here

Any amateur photographer is eligible to enter the open class of the picture contest held in connection with the University of Iowa's short course on new photography and engraving.

Prof. F. L. Mott of the school of journalism said that any sort of subject matter will be accepted. All pictures must be mounted and prints are preferred. Last date for reception of entries is July 27.

Other classes of competition are for news pictures which have been published in daily papers and those printed in weeklies or semi-weeklies, each accompanied by a clipping showing publication.

Rehm, Missing Man, Found by Police In Barber Shop Here

J. H. Rehm, aged man who was reported missing Monday, was found yesterday by local police seated in a barber shop.

Rehm strayed from his family while visiting at the University hospital. Rehm strolled into the barber shop and sat down.

Police found him there yesterday morning and returned him to his family.

Blue Ribbon Group Will Meet Tonight

The coming 4-H club show will be discussed, and plans will be made for the live stock exhibition.

Will Consider Budgets Today

City Council, School Board Meet to Pass Estimates of Expense

Tonight at 7:30, and probably for several hours after, Iowa City will be involved in high finance when the school board and the city council—both of whose budgets affect the general tax levy—meet to pass a budget.

The city budget, most of which was outlined at a council meeting Monday, will probably be about as large as last year with a possible small increase in some funds.

The millage rate of the Iowa City school district will probably be slightly larger during the coming year, according to preliminary surveys. A two-mill increase in the levy is anticipated.

Prof. Olson Speaks Today At 5th Forum

Prof. Paul R. Olson of the college of commerce will appear as the speaker at the fifth campus forum in Old Capitol at 3:10 p.m. this afternoon, on the topic, "The Reciprocal Trade Agreements Program of the United States."

Professor Olson will give the historical background of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements act passed in 1934, the conditions which led to its passage and the general manner in which the act functions.

In addition, the speaker will consider the provisions of the act, and will discuss the nature of concessions which have been made by and to the United States in agreements with other countries.

The possibility of trade agreements with Great Britain, the most current development in the field of international relations under the act, will also come up for discussion.

Prof. Kirk Porter of the political science department will preside at the forum.

Time Set For Kuebrich Rites

Funeral service for George Kuebrich, 68, resident of Johnson county for 65 years, will be tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in the St. Mary's church. The Rev. Leo Kuebrich will be celebrant of the mass; the Rev. Herman Strub, deacon, and the Rev. Frank Barry, sub-deacon.

Burial will be in St. Peter's cemetery in Cogrove. The body is at the Hohenschuh mortuary.

'Bowl of Rice' Party In Iowa City Clears $590, Farrell Reveals

Net proceeds from the "Bowl of Rice" campaign and party, held recently in Iowa City, totaled $590.69, it has been announced by Thomas Farrell, treasurer.

Total funds during the campaign reached $663.16, and expenses were $72.47.

The Rev. Evans A. Worthley was general chairman of the campaign, climaxed by the "Bowl of Rice" party June 17. Assistants were Mr. Farrell, Attorney Dan C. Dutcher, Mrs. Andrew H. Woods and Mrs. Frank Stromsten.

To Show Films This Afternoon To Librarians

Two films depicting phases of book binding and the use of the university library will be shown at 2 o'clock this afternoon in room 3, engineering building, under the direction of Emma Felsenthal, acting director of the library school.

"Long Live the Book," the first film, will be shown from 2 until 2:30 p.m. The film illustrates the binding process, and was prepared in the binding department of the New York public library.

The second film, "Found in a Book," will be shown from 2:30 until 3 o'clock, and this film will show the humorous and interesting procedure of a college student looking up references in the University of Illinois library.

Neff Appointed To Committee

Administrator Robert E. Neff of University hospitals has been appointed by President Roosevelt to a committee of 100 citizens to hear a report on the coordination of health and welfare activities in Washington, D. C., next week.

The administrator will also lead a discussion on "Hospital Facilities" Tuesday afternoon. The session will meet Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The president appointed an interdepartmental committee in 1936 to coordinate health and welfare activities. The committee was asked to study and make recommendations concerning specific aspects of health and welfare activities of the government, with complete coordination the ultimate goal.

A technical sub-committee on medical care was then appointed to study provisions for medical care throughout the country and to make a report. The committee will report before the interdepartmental committee at the national conference next week.

The technical committee on medical care will submit to the conference its analysis of needs and recommendations for meeting them. These recommendations have been submitted to the president and at his suggestion will be submitted for the consideration of the national conference.

Board Opens Grading Bids

The Johnson county board of supervisors at 1:30 this afternoon will open bids for grading 4.61 miles of new road in Clear Creek and Madison townships.

The grading is part of a three-year county road improvement program.
