ARBITERS ADVISE RETURN TO WORK

Iowa G.O.P. Looks to Election

Places Hopes For Victory On State Ticket

Ten Men, One Woman To Represent Party For Executive Offices

By GEORGE S. MILLS
DES MOINES, July 16 (AP)—Iowa republicans today had pinned their hopes for next fall on a statewide executive ticket of 10 men and one woman after "amending" the Iowa direct primary law in state convention last Friday.

The convention nominated Bourke B. Hickenlooper, Cedar Rapids legislator, for lieutenant-governor after Harry B. Thompson of Muscatine, the primary winner for the office, filed his withdrawal with the state central committee.

Thompson had beaten Hickenlooper in a two-man race for the nomination in the June primaries.

Talk of sponsoring legislative revision of outright repeal of the direct primary law has been heard in both democratic and republican circles since two-thirds of the eligible Iowa voters stayed away from the June 6 polls.

"Lack of Support"
If the primary law is changed, all statewide nominations probably again will be made in state convention.

Thompson charged lack of support from various republican newspapers in his withdrawal statement.

The republican state ticket will be completed here next Saturday when the G. O. P. judicial convention selects four nominees for the state supreme court. Democratic state and judicial conventions will be held July 27 and Aug. 4, respectively.

Leading the tickets in the Nov. 8 general election battle for political control are Democratic Senator Guy M. Gillette, seeking re-election, and L. J. Dickinson, former republican senator who lost to Sen. Clyde L. Herring in 1936.

Both Name Women
The G. O. P. convention's action in nominating Miss Jessie Parker of Lake Mills for superintendent of public instruction assures an all-feminine state administration of school problems after Jan. 1 no matter which side wins.

The democrats have nominated Miss Lucy E. Hall of Newton to oppose Miss Parker. Miss Agnes Samuelson, retiring superintendent, will become executive secretary of the Iowa State Teachers association when she leaves office. The state superintendent secretary work in close harmony on public school questions.

Most noticeable developments in the republican state platform compared with that adopted by the 1936 G. O. P. convention were the plank condemning the sit-down strike and the omission of all reference to the state sales tax.

Two years ago the G. O. P. affirmed the right of labor to bargain collectively but said nothing about the sit-down weapon. The 1936 platform "deplored the need for a sales tax in Iowa" and urged its discontinuance as soon as possible.

Friends of F.D.R. Fear Labor Troubles Will Affect Election

NEW YORK, July 16 (AP)—Friends of President Roosevelt are trying to end the civil war in American labor before the November elections.

Unless they succeed, they fear troublesome effect on the president's plans for the campaign.

Up to today, they were worried chiefly by one thing—

William Green's pronouncement that the American Federation of Labor would oppose, as a matter of principle, any candidate endorsed by John L. Lewis and his

Sener Accepts New Position

Bill Sener, leading staff announcer at the University of Iowa radio station for the past two years, leaves this week for the University of Minnesota, where he will become program director for WLB, that university's 5,000 watt radio station. Since he first began appearing for WSUI in 1936, Sener has been connected with every broadcast aired by the local station. He has announced various programs ("Rhythm Rumbles" is an outstanding example), broadcast sports events, wrote continuity and trained new announcers. He will begin his University of Minnesota duties July 25.

Bill Sener, WSUI Announcer, To Be WLB Program Director

Iowa Graduate Will Begin Duties July 25 At University of Minn.

Bill Sener, WSUI staff announcer for the past two years, yesterday accepted the position of program director at radio station WLB, the broadcasting unit of the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis.

Sener will assume his new duties July 25. He will leave Iowa City some time this week, going first to Chicago to spend a few days with his parents.

Sener received a master of arts degree in history last month.

First associated with WSUI in October, 1936, Sener has during the past two years been connected, in one way or another, with every one of WSUI's broadcasts.

He first took part in such shows as "Parade of Events," and soon became WSUI's leading announcer. As well known in the sports field as anywhere else, Sener has handled football, basketball and tennis broadcasts.

He is probably best known for "Rhythm Rumbles," the noon broadcast of dance music which has been presented with "Bill" at the microphone.

More recently, Sener has written all of WSUI's continuity, and has been active in the training of new announcers.

Station WLB at the University of Minnesota is a 5,000 watt station, with new, up-to-date equipment.

Japan Agrees To Let U. S. Owners Return

Citizens Can Regain Property in Areas Held by Nippon

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—The state department announced tonight that Japan had promised to allow gradual return of Americans to their properties in Japanese-occupied Chinese territory.

Japanese authorities reserved the right, however, to decide whether actual conditions in any given area warranted the return of United States citizens there.

The policy of permitting slow American re-infiltration was explained by Foreign Minister Kazushige Ugaki in a note to Joseph C. Grew, the American ambassador to Tokyo. It said that although all possible would be done to meet American expectations on the subject the American and Japanese views on re-entry were "fundamentally divergent."

Replies to Grew
The note, dated July 6, replied to Ambassador Grew's protests of May 31, in which he contended:

1. That despite cessation of fighting in Shanghai the American Baptist university there had been occupied continuously by Japanese troops since last August, and that the troops had damaged and looted the property.

2. That Japanese troops had prevented the return of American business men and missionaries to their stations in the Lower Yangtze valley, either for re-establishment of residence or checking up on damage to their properties and stocks.

Promises Troop Removal
3. That missionaries had been excluded from stations along the lower Yangtze even though Japanese troops had evacuated them.

In reply, Ugaki promised that Japanese troops would be withdrawn from the University of Shanghai on July 5. He said the school could not be reoccupied, however, until "no hindrance to military operations" might ensue.

The withdrawal from the university was with the stipulation that the damage incurred because of its occupation by Japanese be given "further consideration."

Japanese in Nanking
Ugaki said the presence in the lower Yangtze valley of "remnants" of defeated Chinese soldiers made the police of the Japanese consulates insufficient to protect nationals of third countries.

Although about 800 Japanese civilians were living in Nanking, Ugaki said, they were subject to frequent "violence, robbery etc.," at the hands of "lawless" Chinese. Under the law of public order, he continued, it was extremely difficult to permit Americans to return to such places.

He reported that 35 permits had been issued to American missionaries and physicians to re-enter Nanking. He said the Standard Oil and Texas companies had received one permit each, and that 14 missionaries had been authorized to return to Soochow.

Treasury After 'Little Fellow'

WASHINGTON, July 16 (AP)—The treasury intends to make an intensive study this summer of the feasibility of levying heavier income taxes on the "little fellow."

No decision has been made as to whether the administration will sponsor any change in the low income tax brackets, but a study of the subject was one of the items of "homework" that Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau assigned his experts before leaving Friday for France.

Although more taxes for the "little fellow" are believed by some administration advisors to be politically inexpedient, Secretary Morgenthau has hinted at a process which might ease the sting of such a change.

Ex-Monarch Insull Dies a Poor Man

Former Utility Magnate Stricken With Heart Attack in Paris Subway

PARIS, July 16 (AP)—Samuel Insull, white-haired ex-monarch of a $4,000,000,000 utilities empire he created in the United States, died today from a heart attack in a Paris subway station.

Seventy-eight years old, Insull had suffered from a heart ailment for several years and had been asked by his wife "never to take a subway because it was bad for his heart."

Mrs. Insull herself tearfully disclosed this when she learned of his death. She had left him to go shopping just two hours before.

But the aged Insull, true to his frequent declarations of recent years that he was "now a poor man," had gone to take the subway train to go out for luncheon.

We walked alone down a long flight of stairs into the Place de la Concorde station and stepped toward the ticket taker.

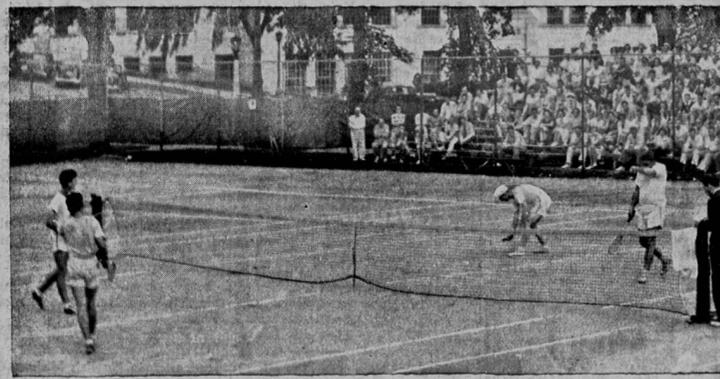

"Just as he extended his hand to present his ticket to be punched," the ticket taker said later, "he threw his hands up in the air, his knees gave way under him, and he fell forward upon his face with a crash. His glasses were smashed into a thousand bits."

Subway attendants rushed to the stricken man and called a policeman who hurried him to a nearby emergency hospital. He was pronounced dead on arrival at 1:30 p.m. He had died without uttering a word.

In 1932, after Insull had amassed a personal fortune estimated at $100,000,000, his vast empire collapsed, and he fled to Europe as embezzlement proceedings were started against him and his brother Martin. He eventually returned to face trial and was acquitted.

As Black-Davis Win Their Second Championship

While Ken Black, left, in an attempt to retrieve Forest Hainline's lob in the final game of their doubles match yesterday, big Ed Davis takes a moment to wipe his perspiring brow. In the near court, Forest (right) and

Dick Hainline are racing to the net in anticipation of Black's return. The action was snapped yesterday in the finals of the men's doubles match in the Mississippi Valley Tennis tournament. Although the Hainline duo were conceded the championship by almost all the spectators, the surprising Black-Davis combination thoroughly mastered the opposition to win the crown for the second time. The scores were 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

State Sends 48,000 Checks a Month To Pensioners; 19 1/2 Billion Paid Since '34

DES MOINES, Ia., July 16 (AP)—The state has paid aged Iowans 19 1/2 million dollars in pensions since November, 1934, Comptroller C. B. Murtagh said today.

From $50,000 a month during the first two months the system was in operation, the amount has grown to nearly a million dollars a month.

The comptroller's office sends out approximately 48,000 pension checks a month, and, Mr. Murtagh said, "not one has ever gone out late."

Source of the money with which to pay the pensions in the beginning was the old age pension "head tax" and penalties accrued on delinquent payments.

The 1937 legislature repealed the head tax, and approximated part of the revenue from the two per cent state sales tax for old age pensions.

To the 12 3-4 millions which the state has put up in this manner, the federal government has added nearly 8 1/2 millions.

Administration of this huge pension fund has cost $1,005,919.91, of which $380,000 went to the counties to pay expenses of county investigators, following a supreme court ruling that the state had to pay expense to the counties of handling the old age cases.

Univ. of N. D. To Remain On Accredited List

GRAND FORKS, N. D., July 16 (AP)—The University of North Dakota will remain on the accredited list of the North Central association of colleges and secondary schools, the association's board of review informed President John C. West late today.

Acting on a favorable report from its committee of inquiry, which investigated the university early in May, the board of review voted to continue the university's rating unqualifiedly.

Details of the report were not available tonight, pending further word from George C. Works, who was executive NCA secretary and handled the university case.

Action of the board, taken at a Chicago meeting, does not affect the North Dakota agricultural college, which was suspended from the NCA's accredited list on April 6.

The continuance of the university's rating also was without regard to Gov. William Langer's suit seeking to restrain the association from removing the rating and restore the agricultural college to good standing. The suit, dismissed by U. S. district court at Danville, Ill., has been appealed to the federal circuit court.

State Fair Time for Exposition Draws Near

DES MOINES, July 16 (AP)—State fair time is nearing. A week earlier than usual, Secretary A. R. Corey of the Iowa exposition, moved his office and attaches yesterday from the Iowa statehouse to administration quarters at the eastside fairground.

Five weeks remain before the exposition gets under way Aug. 24th, but greater preliminary preparation is necessary this year, Corey explained, because of the Iowa centennial theme around which the 1938 fair will be fashioned.

Some of the centennial displays are in Des Moines now and others will take three to four weeks to assemble, he said.

Headquarters for farm and livestock departments, the secretary's office, the accounting and concession departments, all will be open Monday for business at the fairgrounds, Corey said, announcing that livestock entries will close on Aug. 1.

Says Germany Interfering

Praha Denies New Troop Movements As Agency Charged

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, July 16 (AP)—The Czechoslovak government tonight charged Germany with "brutal and disturbing" interference in the republic's negotiations with her German minority.

The charge was included in an official statement denying a report by DNB, German official news agency, of alleged new Czechoslovak troop movements.

Czechoslovakia intends to give the Germans as well as other minority groups every possibility to cooperate in solving the minorities problem which enters a decisive stage Monday, the statement said.

The danger of the issue was emphasized anew today by reports on both sides of the German-Czechoslovak border of troop movements.

President Eduard Benes on Monday will conduct a decisive meeting of the cabinet's subcommittee on constitutional reform.

Three Die in Crash
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Three persons were killed and at least 12 others injured, some seriously, when a city bus and a small automobile collided head-on in a blinding rain near here yesterday.

Quiet prevailed in the strike-torn city tonight.

The board was unanimous in all points of its recommendations except the one dealing with wages.

In connection with its recommendations, the board submitted a series of "findings" in which it said that the C.I.O. union engaged in "unlawful" picketing from the inception of the strike.

The board said "nothing it had seen and nothing it had heard" led it to believe it is necessary to send national guardsmen to Newton.

Board Named By Kraschel Makes Report

Suggests Maytag Workers Go Back Monday at Old Wages

By JOHN H. CHAPMAN
DES MOINES, Ia., July 16 (AP)—The Maytag strike arbitration board recommended tonight that 1,400 idle employes of the Newton, Ia., Washing Machine company return to work Monday at their old wages and let the company and the C.I.O. union settle the issues of the prolonged strike by a series of peace talks or arbitration.

There was no immediate indication as to what would happen Monday morning.

Union Reaction Unknown
John Connolly Jr., attorney for the union, said the union's reaction to the recommendations would not be known until after the negotiating committee had studied them tomorrow.

Back-to-work leaders said they were ready to return to work.

Officials of the Maytag company refrained from any immediate comment on the report of the board, named by Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel a week ago to seek a solution to the strike that began May 9 when the company ordered a 10 per cent cut in wages after negotiations with the union on a new contract failed.

'Work 60 Days'
The arbitration board recommended that the workers return to work for a period of 60 days, at the same wages they were receiving when the strike began. During the 60-day period, the company and the union would negotiate on a wage adjustment.

If no agreement was reached, the company could, on its own motion, adjust wages within a range of 10 per cent of the scale provided in the old contract.

The company could not, however, under the terms of the recommendations cut wages more than 10 per cent without submitting the reduction proposal to arbitration. No adjustments would be allowed that would reduce an employe's earnings to less than 50 cents an hour.

Fuller Signs Warrants
There would be no closed shop or checkoff system under the board's recommendations.

Meanwhile in Newton, Judge Homer Fuller signed bench warrants for the arrest of 21 persons charged with violating an injunction granted the Maytag company restraining the C.I.O. union from interfering with the operations of the plant. Some of those named in the warrants had been arrested late tonight and all were expected to be in custody by time of hearing set for Monday morning. Those arrested tonight were released after a telephone conversation between Judge Fuller and Chief Justice E. A. Sayer of the state supreme court.

Quiet prevailed in the strike-torn city tonight.

The board was unanimous in all points of its recommendations except the one dealing with wages.

In connection with its recommendations, the board submitted a series of "findings" in which it said that the C.I.O. union engaged in "unlawful" picketing from the inception of the strike.

Roosevelt Sails for Fishing Trip After Endorsing Sen. McAdoo

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt sailed aboard the naval cruiser Houston at 7:18 p.m. (central standard time) today on an extended fishing trip after endorsing U. S. Senator William C. McAdoo's re-election campaign in a Los Angeles talk and alluding cordially to him in another speech here.

The president boarded the Houston at 5:50 p.m. It later put out to sea as a 21-gun salute sounded.

As President Roosevelt lunched at San Clemente state park en route here, Sheriff Logan Jackson for Orange county and secret service agents arrested a man they said was carrying a .38 caliber pistol, near the president, and a partially empty whiskey bottle in his brief case.

Sheriff Jackson and secret service men took him to the Orange county jail at Santa Ana for further investigation.

They identified him as William N. Bond of Altadena, near Los Angeles, holder of a retired police captain's badge.

BITS about Sports

After the finals in the men's doubles yesterday I was talking to Ed Davis, larger member of the winning combination who had spent a few minutes just before the match driving between Iowa City and Cedar Rapids.

It seems that Ed and his partner were in Cedar Rapids during the early part of the afternoon and happened to tune in their radio to WSUI, which was carrying an account of the match between Forest and Dick Hainline.

Ed starred in three sports — football, basketball and baseball — at Bradley Tech during the years of 1933, 1934, and 1935, playing against Iowa in both football and basketball.

Wisconsin, Iowa's opponent at the Hawkeye Homecoming Oct. 8, will lose only five lettersman from last year's eleven and will have 19 major award winners returning, including Bill Schmitz, slippery, halfback who turned the tide in favor of the Badgers when Iowa played at Madison last year.

Incidentally Wisconsin will also run up against U.C.L.A., Iowa's first game opponent next year, journeying to the coast for an inter-sectional battle in the Los Angeles Coliseum Nov. 12.

The Badgers dropped but three games last year, losing to Minnesota by a close 13-6 score and expect to be even stronger this year.

And Chicago expects this year to have its best team since Coach Clark D. Shaughnessy took over his reins in 1932.

Iowans on the Maroon roster include John Davenport of Cedar Rapids, Russell Parsons of Davenport, Hugh Rendleman of Davenport, Allan Shackleton of Cresco, Richard Salzman of Dubuque, Baird Wallis of Dubuque and Robert Wasem of Fort Dodge.

Today's Hurlers

NEW YORK (AP) — Probable pitchers in the major leagues today:

American League Detroit at New York — Auker (6-7) vs. Chandler (7-2). St. Louis at Boston (2)—Newson (9-7) and Linke (1-5) vs. Dickman (3-2) and Bagby (6-4). Cleveland at Philadelphia—Feller (9-4) vs. Caster (9-9). Chicago at Washington—Stratton (7-4) vs. Kelley (4-4).

National League New York at Pittsburgh (2)—Hubbell (9-6) and Castelman (4-3) vs. Tobin (7-3) and Bauers (4-7). Brooklyn at Cincinnati (2)—Pressnell (8-7) and Butcher (3-4) vs. Davis (5-4) and Derringer (11-6). Boston at Chicago (2)—Macfayden (6-2) and Turner (8-8) vs. Dean (3-0) and Lee (10-5). Philadelphia at St. Louis (2)—Passeau (7-9) and Hallahan (0-3) vs. Davis (7-2) and McGee (2-9), 6-1.

Picked by the seeding committee to finish second to the Hainline combination, the mammoth Davis and his cohort, Black, took command of the situation at the outset, winning the first game behind Davis' terrific service, and stayed in front from then on. It was the second doubles victory for the winners, their previous championship coming in 1935.

Davis Blasts 'Em Features of the match were the steaming drives of Davis, his backhand being particularly powerful, and the great net play of the victors, who laid away point after point with terrific smashes from the net. Although he was often trailing by as much as two or three points on his own service, Davis always managed to rally and pull out the game, winning all seven of the games that he served during the afternoon.

The Hainlines' chief threat came in the first set when they won the seventh game to pull up to a 4-3 score but in the next game Davis and Black started lobbing the ball to the baseline and then stormed the net for kills to take a 5-3 lead. They ran out the set at 6-3 with Big Ed serving the last game.

A Rout The second set assumed the aspects of a rout with the winning pair working together smoothly to jump off to a 4-0 lead before their opponents won a game. Davis served next and put the count at 5-1 and the victors went on to win, 6-2.

In the last set the losers won the first game but Davis and Black took the next six and the championship. Several of the games in the first set went to deuce but the losing team scored scarcely a point as the winners engineered their victory march in the final set.

Dick Hainline Wins The final match in the singles went as expected with Dick Hainline, seeded No. 1, winning his first 'Sippi Valley crown by outscoring his brother, Forest, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3. The match was shortened to a two out of three affair since the two contestants were competing in the doubles competition later.

The first game went to deuce several times with Forest finally taking it to go into a 1-0 lead. Dick won the next game but Forest rallied to knot the score at 2-2 all only to see his brother breeze through the next four games to take the set, 6-2.

3-0 Lead Champion Dick started auspiciously in the second set, sweeping the first three games to take a 3-0 lead, none of the games being deuced. Forest broke the ice in the fourth game to win and went on to take the fifth to pull up to 2-3. Dick won the next game but Forest stayed close by winning the seventh to make the score 4-3.

At this point Dick's consistent stroking proved too much for his brother and he ran out the next two games to win, 6-3, taking a love game to end the match.

Albright Announces Cast for Presentation of 'Stage Door'

Visitor From Cornell Will Direct Comedy

Ferber-Kaufman Play Second in Community Series for Summer

The cast for "Stage Door," comedy of stage life which will be presented Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in University theater, was announced yesterday by H. Darnes Albright, director.

The play by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman was given last year in the university drawing room series. Mr. Albright, who will direct this week's performances, is a visiting lecturer from Cornell university in Ithaca, N. Y.

"Stage Door" deals with the Footlights club of New York, and the problems of the girls of the theatrical world who lived there. It is the second play of the summer community series.

HOSTESS HINTS

A long cold drink remains everybody's favorite recipe for cooling off on a long hot day. July is the month when the mercury aims for the sky, so juleps are in order in July!

Drinks that the whole family can enjoy together are those liked best—and that means they should be made with wholesome, chilly fruit juices. The citrus juices are thirst quenchers that rate an A from both health and taste standpoint. Stock up with several cans of grapefruit and orange juice; then try the combination blend of the two. Use plenty of ice. And mint, berry juice and sugar will help you to turn out a truly delicious drink.

Mint Citrus-Ade
1-2 cup sugar syrup
6 stalks fresh mint
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup canned grapefruit juice.
1-2 cup water
2 cups ginger ale

Remove tips from the mint; crush the stalks in the hot sugar syrup (made by stirring 1-2 cup sugar and 1-2 cup water in a saucepan over direct heat until sugar is dissolved). Let tips stand 1-2 hour; strain. Add lemon juice, grapefruit juice, and water if necessary. Chill, and just before serving, add the ginger ale. Garnish with additional mint and serve cold.

Ruby Julep
2-3 cup sugar syrup
1 cup canned orange juice or orange-grapefruit juice blend
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup canned cranberry juice
1 cup water

Mix all together and pour over cracked ice. Serve cold in tall punch cups or tall glasses.

Florida Freeze
Make a grapefruit sherbet, according to the recipe below. When ready to serve, put a large spoonful or scoop into each glass. Fill the glasses with ginger ale, garnish with mint and serve.

Florida Grapefruit Sherbet
1 tablespoon gelatin
1-4 cup cold water
3-4 cup sugar
1 No. 2 can grapefruit juice
1-2 cup lemon juice
1 egg white
1 cup boiling water

Soak the gelatin in cold water. Cool and add the fruit juices. Freeze the mixture to a mush. Fold in beaten egg white and continue freezing until firm.

Coveted His Neighbor
 BERLIN (AP)—On a lonely island in the Chiemsee, in Germany, stands one of the most amazing palaces in Europe — an almost identical reproduction of the chateau of Louis XIV at Versailles. The copy was built at tremendous expense by Ludwig II, the mad king of Bavaria, who cherished a great admiration for the French king and his famous country estate.

Work to Start August 1 On New Building

Hybrid Corn Company To Have Structure In East Iowa City

By Aug. 1 construction work on a steel drying building for the National Hybrid Corn company of Anamosa will be underway in east Iowa City officials have announced. About $10,000 will be spent.

The new building will be located on the same site as the corn company's factory building which was destroyed by fire last December at $500,000 damage.

Construction of the seed corn drying building will be the first of a series of buildings to be erected in east Iowa City to comprise the company's local branch.

The building will be so designed that it will be impossible for seed corn stored in the structure to draw moisture from floors and surfaces.

Work of demolishing the remains of the former factory building now is underway. The huge chimney has already been razed.

The Anamosa concern — which also has factories in Center Junction and Muscatine — is completing construction of a corn-drying business at Onslow.

When the local factory is rebuilt, an annual pay-roll of about $50,000 will be re-established here. The Iowa City Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in bringing the factory here and in getting it to re-locate here after the fire.

Council to Have Public Hearing

Objectors to Paving Project Must Appear Tomorrow Night

The public hearing on a paving project to improve Iowa City's downtown streets will be at the city hall tomorrow at 7:30 p. m., City Clerk Grover Watson announced last night.

Objectors to the proposed street improvement program must appear before the council to present their disapproval.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the council will be July 25 when the public hearing on the proposed budget for next year will be held. The budget, even if it is revised, will probably be passed the same evening.

Condition of Earl Hagenbuch Reported Better

The condition of 18-year-old Earl Hagenbuch, badly injured when he was struck on the head by a falling timber while working atop a hay stack, was reported as "improved" last night.

He is at the Rohrbacher sanitarium.

The boy was struck by a two-by-six piece of lumber when a knotted rope on top of the framework of the stack, slipped, causing the lumber to fall. He received a serious skull fracture, doctors said.

War-Scared Europe Unites in a Safety Drive

--To Make the Homefolks Safe From Bombs

LONDON — Picture the soldier up in the front line trenches anxiously awaiting news from the folks back home and you picture the next war as experts see it.

It used to be the other way around. But that was before the perfection of bombing planes.

The boys in the trenches, if French or Italian, will have one consolation—they will know that the folks back in Paris and Rome probably got out of town ahead of the bombers.

If they are English or German, however, they may just have to pray that the air raid shelter held.

Head For The Hills

Mussolini already has urged every Italian who doesn't have to live in the cities to clear out when war comes.

The French have plans to evacuate more than half of Paris at the first sign of trouble.

The Germans think evacuation a good idea but are appalled at the job of planning. The British haven't yet made up their minds.

Mussolini is banking mainly on population dispersal because:

1. Italy's geographical vulnerability makes evacuation, in his mind, the most effective safeguard.
2. The need for utmost economy in air raid precautions.

Evacuations will be at the citizens own expense unless he is too poor. He is to arrange to stay with friends in the country.

There are Italian plans for underground shelters but few have been built yet. The government leaves it up to the civilian whether he will have a gas mask.

The French plans for quitting Paris have been worked out so minutely they even include time leaders writs of certiorari, lifting their contempt of court cases in Jasper county court to the higher bench for review next September.

3. Decision of Federal Judge Charles A. Dewey remanding the injunction case brought by the company against the union back to Jasper county court for a second time and denying that federal court has any jurisdiction in the matter.

Principal morning event was the supreme court's decision which set bond at $2,000 for James B. Carey of New York City, national president of the CIO union, William Sentner of St. Louis, Mo., regional CIO head, and Hollis Hall, vice-president of the Maytag local union.

The court granted the men hearing of their convictions of contempt of court held last Wednesday by Jasper County District Judge Homer A. Fuller. Judge Fuller sentenced them to six months in jail and $500 fines each and then offered to parole them if they would call off the Maytag strike. The union officials refused.

Pharmacists Plan Summer Picnic At City Park July 24

The annual summer picnic of group 16 of the Iowa State Pharmaceutical association will be at the City Park July 24, H. H. Gibbs, president, announced yesterday.

A golf tournament will be held in the morning at Finkbine field, followed by a picnic dinner at noon at the park and games and contests in the afternoon.

Group 16 includes pharmacists from Johnson, Iowa, Washington, Cedar and Muscatine counties.

Leland Stanford university was partly ruined by the earthquake of 1906.

Landlord's Expense. Few have been fixed yet.

No plans have been made for evacuation because of the prodigious problem involved but some sources are urging that it be tackled soon.

The public is compelled to buy gas masks which cost approximately $2 apiece. Five million have been distributed in vulnerable areas of 100 towns.

The Germans declare everybody in Berlin knows what to do if an air raid should start tomorrow.

That's more than you can say for London.

Public apathy and government indecision combined to make Britain's ARP (Air Raid Precautions) a complicated muddle.

But now the government has set an end-of-summer deadline for the enrollment of a million volunteers and the completion of an ARP organization in every important area. An ARP "dictator" has been appointed.

Up to recently only 400,000 volunteers, by the highest estimates, were enrolled. Approximately one-third of these are trained, another third in training.

The London County Council is considering evacuating the 500,000 schoolchildren in greater London. But such a scheme would only come under a city-wide policy of evacuation, which the government is not sure would be feasible. At the moment it is emphasizing a shelter program along German lines. Householders are urged to equip one room as a refuge, or, if they can't spare the space, to dig a six-foot trench in the garden. The government plans to dig long trenches in public parks.

In such shelters, people would have to wear gas masks, and Britain leads the world in mask manufacture. Thirty million (including a device for the tiniest baby) already have been stored. They can be distributed within eight hours.

Air raid wardens in scattered areas are conducting house-to-house canvasses, giving instruction and fitting masks. Ultimately, every house in Britain is supposed to be visited.
