Pro-Roosevelt Demos Lead in Three States

Bulkley Runs Ahead in Ohio; Davey Behind

Sen. Caraway Leads in Arkansas; Had Roosevelt Support

By The Associated Press
Senator Bulkley ran far ahead in Ohio and Senators Caraway and Poe held narrow leads in Arkansas and Idaho last night as returns rolled in from primary elections in which these three sought renomination as staunch pro-Roosevelt democrats.

At the same time, Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio, was running second to Charles Sawyer, supported by labor non-partisan league in a race for the democratic gubernatorial nomination.

In Arkansas, Gov. Carl E. Bailey, also seeking renomination found himself wedged into a tight race with R. A. Cook. Gov. R. L. Cochran of Nebraska, democrat, also running for another term, was leading Franz C. Radke by four to one.

Senator Caraway, to whom President Roosevelt referred as his "old friend" while crossing the state on his recent westward swing, had 18,827 votes to 17,499 for Representative John L. McClellan, who presented himself to the voters as an "independent democrat."

Senator Caraway, the senate's only woman member, had told the voters that the only issue was whether the voters would approve the Roosevelt policies by voting for her. McClellan said he would "not be a rubber stamp senator."

On the same trip west, the president referred approvingly to Bulkley. He received a vote to day which rapidly put him far ahead of former Gov. George White. On a basis of 1,615 precincts out of 6,601, Bulkley had 74,581 votes to White's 38,226.

Reports from Idaho said that numerous republicans voted as democrats yesterday in order to vote against Pope and for D. Worth Clark, who called himself a conservative democrat. Fragmentary returns showed Pope leading 2,800 to 2,580.

The Davey-Sawyer campaign in Ohio developed into a bitter feud. Davey asserted the issue was one of "law and order" and assailed Sawyer as the "puppet" of John L. Lewis, leader of the C.I.O.

The voters in 2,396 of the state's 8,601 precincts cast 114,307 votes for Sawyer and 102,612 for Davey. The Davey figures, however, were showing a tendency to crawl up on those of his opponent.

In the republican senatorial primary in Ohio, Robert A. Taft led Arthur H. Day 57,140 to 44,252 on returns from 1,829 precincts.

Woman Senator Has 4,000 Margin
LITTLE ROCK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Senator Hattie W. Caraway and Governor Carl E. Bailey—both seeking re-nomination—held slight margins over their opponents as returns from the state's democratic primary today neared the half-way mark.

The woman senator, seeking re-nomination on a pledge of continued cooperation with President Roosevelt, continued to lead two other candidates, but only by a margin of about 4,000 votes after 998 of the state's 2,002 precincts had reported.

The count at that point was Mrs. Caraway 37,757; Representative John L. McClellan, 33,586; and J. Rosser Venable, 836.

The governor's race proved to be one of the closest contests in years. Returns from 974 precincts (See PRIMARIES, page 6)

Police Say Bird, Last of Gang Of Bankrobbers, Boasts Crime Career Netted Him $10,000

Bird Captured After Tip Given by Boy; Pleads for Wife

BALTIMORE, Aug. 9 (AP)—Police questioning Charles Bird, 26-year-old desperado and one-time "public enemy No. 2," said today he boasted his crime career had netted "about $100,000," and that he would never be tried here because he was wanted "for better cases in other cities."

Last of a midwestern gang of bankrobbers, Bird was captured here last night as a result of a tip provided by an observant 16-year-old boy. He will be given a hearing tomorrow, officers said. His attractive 24-year-old wife, an expectant mother, who was captured with him, broke into hysterical sobs under questioning.

In the next room, Bird trembled visibly. Detective Captain John Cooney said he pleaded "I'll tell you what you want to know, but please don't be hard on my wife. I love her. She didn't have anything to do with any of these holdups."

"Please let me kiss my wife—I know I'll never see her again. I'll be sent up for life."

Captain Cooney said Bird admitted a $1,000 robbery here and "six or seven" lesser holdups, but with a show of bravado, said he only "fooled with that punk stuff" until he could find a partner to help rob half a dozen banks he had "cased."

William Clarkson, 16, a witness of a liquor truck robbery a week ago, furnished the description of the new green motor car driven by a woman in which the robber escaped. Detectives checked fifty newly purchased cars that fitted the description and traced one to Bird. They watched his home six days and nights to close the trap.

Bird, his brother Frank, 30, and James Widmer, 31, escaped from the Cleveland jail while awaiting trial on kidnap charges following a Cleveland bank robbery. A woman pedestrian was killed in the ensuing automobile chase. Widmer and Frank Bird were recaptured and now are in Alcatraz Island federal prison.

Legion Meeting To End Today With Election

DAVENPORT, Aug. 9 (AP)—Although footsore and weary after their annual parade, Iowa legionnaires enjoyed a final fling at convention festivities today preparatory to terminating the conclave tomorrow with election of officers.

With an estimated 1,000 lining the streets and hundreds watching from store and office buildings and roofs, the legionnaires marched in their annual colorful parade this afternoon. Evidently caught by the spirit of the Douglas Corrigan festivities in eastern cities, spectators showered the legion men with scraps of paper, shredded books and magazines.

Among the notables in the reviewing stand were National Commander Daniel J. Doherty of Woburn, Mass.; State Commander James I. Dolliver and several state officials.

F.R. Returns Full of Talk About Fishing

PENSACOLA, Fla., Aug. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt landed at the naval air station at 5:45 p.m. (CST). Today after a sea voyage that started in San Diego, Calif., in mid-July. He was greeted by a delegation of Pensacola and Florida officials and Gov. Leche of Louisiana.

A navy band played as he came ashore. The official party began an inspection tour of the air station, nearby Port Barrancas and the navy's Corry landing field. The presidential special left for Warm Springs, Ga., at 8:10 p.m. (CST).

Shortly before his arrival, Mr. Roosevelt told reporters that Senator Alben W. Barkley's renomination in Kentucky was about what he expected.

The president said he had been working on two speeches he will deliver at Athens and Barnesville, Ga. Thursday.

He said he did not know whether the talks would be political, because they were in the rough draft stage and he would have to go over them again. The chief executive laughed when a reporter asked whether the talks would be made rougher when the rough drafts were examined.

In Georgia Senator Walter F. George is seeking re-nomination against three opponents—former Governor Eugene Talmadge, W. G. McRae, Atlanta attorney and Lawrence S. Camp, U. S. district attorney at Atlanta.

Will Subpoena 12 for Maytag NLRB Hearing

Back-to-Workers Will Be Asked to Testify About Organization

DES MOINES, Aug. 9 (AP)—Thurlow Smoot, National Labor Relations board attorney in the Maytag labor practices case, said tonight 12 members of the Maytag back-to-work committee would be subpoenaed to testify tomorrow about formation of the organization.

Smoot said the writs would be served late tonight or early in the morning by the United States marshal's office.

Names of the committee members, Smoot said, were F. A. Woodrow, Clifford Conn, Henry Elliott, Joe Gorgas, Al Gove, Cliff Longnecker, Dave Anderson, Guy Rinehart, Ralph Beals, Ivan Atwood, Art McMahon and Al Griffin.

Smoot announced plans to subpoena the men shortly after trial examiner Madison Hill today adjourned the Maytag labor practices hearing a few minutes ahead of time to enable Woodrow, back-to-work leader, "to go home and try to remember" who first gave him the form that served as the model for the back-to-work cards circulated among Maytag employees.

Woodrow, on the witness stand all day, had said he could not recall who gave him the printed form at the first back-to-work meeting in a woods near Newton about June 7.

Smoot tried in several lines of questioning to refresh Woodrow's memory but to no avail. The attorney then moved to adjourn the hearing until the names of all 97 persons attending the timber meeting could be determined.

To Talk to No One
Hill asked Woodrow to try to recall over night "what people, if any, you invited to the meeting, what number of those people attended, and if you can by any process of elimination, recollect who handed you that card."

Woodrow also was told not to talk with anyone about the case during the over-night recess. Smoot called the identification of the person responsible for preparation of the card "vital to the testimony of this and other witnesses." The labor board attorney is seeking to link the Maytag company with the back-to-work movement.

Sentence Deleted
Woodrow testified he arranged to have the cards printed at the Newton Daily News office. He said he did not recall the nature of a sentence deleted from the original form except that it "referred to something about a number of men." He said he did not know the nature of the objection to having it on the forms.

Woodrow declared there was no mention made of a back-to-work card in a conversation he had with A. H. Taylor, Maytag superintendent, sometime before the woods meeting. He said Taylor told him that everyone on the payroll still had a job and that the doors were open for the men to return to work. Asked why he did not return to work, the witness replied:

"I wasn't going to run the picket line by myself." The witness said he and his group recognized that Maytag CIO union as the collective bargaining agent for all workers but that during the deadlock, "we could see no reason why we should be kept away from work."

The Maytag factory closed May 9 and remained out of production except for two days, until Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel ordered it opened under martial law last Thursday. The factory operated for two days during the strike with a reduced force of back-to-workers.

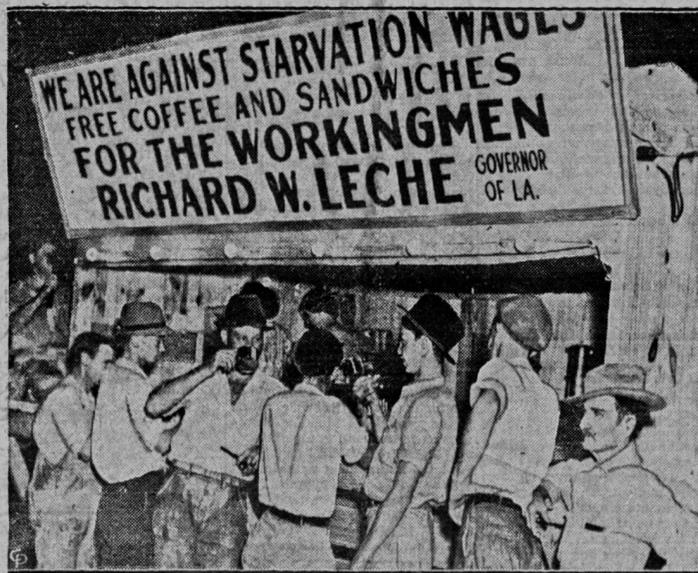

Three Men Injured In Automobile Crash East of Wales, Ia.

RED OAK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Three men were injured, one seriously, in an automobile collision on a highway intersection two miles east of Wales, Ia., today.

Stanley Engle, about 33, Glenwood, Ia., salesman, suffered head injuries and a crushed knee cap. R. L. Vest, Red Oak, driver of the other car, suffered back injuries and bruises and Earl Robinson, Red Oak, riding with Vest, suffered head injuries. All are in a hospital here.

sandwiches, the food being prepared by wives of the strikers who are paid $3 a day for their cooking.

Diplomats May Fail in Talks Toward Peace

Patriotic Defiance Of Japan Continues In Mass Meetings

MOSCOW, Aug. 9 (AP)—The government of the Soviet Union tonight kept a watchful eye on the Changkufeng incident and continued preparations for a vigorous defense of its territory if the conflict should outgrow its present vest pocket limitations.

Inasmuch as there still was danger that diplomatic conversations might fall, there was no tendency to discourage patriotic expressions of defiance toward Japan in mass meetings and resolutions in all parts of the Soviet Union.

Unnecessary stirring up of popular indignation by frequent bulletins from the 4,000-mile-distant zone of conflict, however, was avoided. The last military communique came on Sunday and no casualty list has yet been published.

While Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff and Japanese Ambassador Mamoru Shigemitsu had not resumed peace talks at a late hour this afternoon, there was another diplomatic exchange between the two powers.

Russians Begin Heaviest Bombarding

YUKI, Korea (Near the Siberian frontier), Aug. 9 (AP)—Soviet heavy artillery pounded the whole four-mile Japanese front today.

This correspondent watched the bombardment—the most intensive since the current border trouble started July 11—from a ringside seat. It was warfare in dead earnest.

It seemed unlikely that men could remain alive under such shelling. Six-inch projectiles came over at the rate of at least six a minute.

Today's cannonade removed all doubt in the minds of observers as to the accuracy of Soviet artillery. Invariably one or two sighted shots were followed by a series of direct hits which continued until the shelling had shifted to another point.

At the foot of Changkufeng hill a village blazed fiercely. Hundreds of shells had scored direct hits. On the Korean side of the Tumen river only one spot was the target of Soviet guns in the afternoon bombardment, a hill which was struck by probably 30 big shells.

Both Soviet and Japanese machine-gun and rifle fire was heard early in the afternoon. Then Soviet guns started a bombardment of "hill 82" at the southern foot of Changkufeng. Approximately 30 shells landed on the height.

From "hill 52," a half mile to the south, a battery of Japanese mountain guns began firing to the east, apparently against a Soviet tank charge.

Then the Russians laid down a blanket of fire along this hill-crest, after a half-hour's bombardment the formerly green ridge was scarred and smoking from the impact of at least 150 heavy shells.

Soviet gunners, meanwhile, did not neglect the Tumen river fords northwest and west of Changkufeng. Shell after shell sent columns of dirty water into the air. The Russians never left off firing for more than two minutes at a time.

Sight Restored by Corneas That Served Woman 80 Years, Men Weep for Joy

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9 (AP)—Eyes that for 80 years served their original owner today brought partial sight to a middle-aged man and a youth, and the surgeon said complete vision might be theirs.

The eyes were those of Mrs. Margaret Carr, who died at Berkeley at the age of 80 last July 31 after murmuring: "This is heaven—how beautiful!"

Three days later the corneas were transplanted to the sightless eyes of the Rev. U. E. Harding, Portland, Ore., Nazarene minister, who had been blind 43 years, and Arthur Morton, Sacramento pianist.

Today the surgeon, who would not permit use of his name, entered Harding's room and removed the bandages.

"I can see!" the minister cried. "I can see your fingers and count them. I can see colors." He trembled and wept for joy.

The surgeon strode to Morton's room and uncovered the eyes that had been sightless since 1932. Morton gazed up at the doctor.

"Things are blurred—reddish," he whispered. "But I can see!" Then he fainted.

The surgeon said that of seven transplantations he had performed these two alone could be termed successful.

The two men will remain in the hospital for at least another week.

Oxford Stock Buyer Drowns In Iowa River at S. Amana

Body Recovered By Amana Colonists; Rescue Attempt Fails

Tim McGriffin, about 47 years of age, was drowned at 4 p.m. yesterday while swimming in the Iowa river a mile northwest of South Amana.

McGriffin is a well-known stock buyer of Oxford. He had been swimming with three other men when he is believed to have stepped into a hole. One of his companions attempted to rescue him but failed as McGriffin was being dragged to shore.

The body was found at 8 p.m. yesterday by two Amana colonists who used grappling hooks. It was brought to Iowa City last night.

Iowa Farmers Got 267,335,000 In Six Months

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—The bureau of agricultural economics reported today Iowa farmers received $267,335,000 for their principal farm products, including government benefit payments, during the first six months of this year, compared to $251,542,000 for the like period a year ago.

June receipts showed a decline, however, amounting to $43,826,000 compared to $47,594,000 for the same month in 1937.

Government benefit payments to Iowa farmers amounted to $16,024,000 during the first six months of this year compared to $22,945,000 for the same period in 1937. June payments totalled $1,646,000 compared to $2,559,000 for June 1937.

Corrigan Gets Aching Hands In N. J. Reception

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 9 (AP)—Little Doug Corrigan survived his latest manhandling today with only minor casualties and, as he put it, had a lot of fun but still no job.

The reception, a 250,000-persons affair by the city of Newark and 80 organizations, wound through 10 miles of city streets and five hours of time.

The casualties were two aching hands — from handshaking and autographing—and a slight bruising of an injured chest, memento of the welcome New York gave the wrong-way flier last week.

PARIS, Aug. 9 (AP)—The air ministry announced today that Gen. Joseph Vuillemin, chief of France's air force general staff, and a staff of experts would fly nonstop to Berlin in three modern warplanes Aug. 16.

Vuillemin is scheduled to talk with Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, German minister of aviation, but the extent of their conference was not disclosed. The mission will return Aug. 21.

Japanese Send Reinforcements To Yangtze River Battle Front

SHANGHAI, Aug. 10 (Wednesday) (AP)—Twenty thousand Japanese reinforcements were ordered today to the Yangtze river battle front where sharp Chinese counterattacks had stalled the Japanese drive on Hankow, China's provincial capital.

The troops were on their way from Hobei, Anhwei province capital, to Kiukiang, Yangtze river port, and Japanese advance base 150 miles to the southwest of Anhwei and 135 miles downstream from Hankow. Twenty-five miles north of Kiukiang Chinese forces assaulting Japanese at Hwangmei said 6,000 Japanese were encircled but that Chinese could not dislodge them because it was impossible to bring up artillery in the flooded Yangtze valley area.

Chinese also struck at Susung, 20 miles east of Hwangmei, and Taihu, 35 miles north of the encircled town. With Yangtze waters receding and reinforcements on the way, however, Japanese were expected to intensify their drive on Hankow in the near future.

Loyalist Troops Make Surprise Advance Into Rebel Territory

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish frontier), Aug. 9 (AP)—A government army began another unheralded offensive on the Catalan front in northeastern Spain today when troops crossed the Serge river between Lerida and Balaguer and advanced "deep" into insurgent territory.

Dispatches reaching the border said militiamen crossed the river by pontoon bridges about sundown, surprising Insurgent General Franco's forces north of Lerida and south of the bridgehead which they held at Balaguer.

The drive apparently was over a front of about 14 miles. If able to hold the conquered territory on the western side of the river and establish strong defense lines, the government would duplicate its feat of July 25 when militiamen began a surprise attack farther south, crossed the Ebro river and advanced in a southwesterly direction 12 miles to the outskirts of Gandesa.

The Lerida-Balaguer front has seen little activity since the insurgent spring offensive which resulted in splitting government Spain by a drive to the sea.

Another Murder—And The World Scene

THE WORLD ALMANAC reports there are about 50,000 murders in the United States every year. Nobody's bothered to keep count on those abroad, but there must be a good many.

That's why we're a bit incredulous when the Nazi press of Germany makes a political incident out of a murder in Czechoslovakia. "Present conditions in Czechoslovakia have reached the limit of what is bearable," Herr Hitler's personal journalist's organ declared.

Maybe the Commission Will Make the Air Safe for Democracy

DURING every political campaign in recent years, charges of favoritism have been levied at broadcasting stations—contending that unfair and unethical practices have been used by or against various candidates.

However, the Federal Communications commission has come forward with a rule which may eliminate much of these comments. We refer to the rule which enables stations to sell or donate time to politicians—if both sides are given the same proportion.

Good News From New York

THAT WAS a rather fundamental story that came from New York last night, the one explaining that representative business men the country over believe business is good now, and will be better this fall.

We say it's significant because it's been in countries where business has been bad that they've tried something new—usually communism or fascism.

Doctor Tells Why Bananas Are Good Food for Human Beings

LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D. The banana bears fruit but once. When it is garnered, the tree is cut down. Such want of her usual prodigality on the part of nature would seem to argue that the banana has special virtues.

When used as a continuous diet, one or two large bananas are dried with a glass of milk for breakfast and lunch. For the evening meal, the diet may be modified by serving a clear soup, a slice of lean meat, one or two portions of a green vegetable, a slice of bread and butter and a portion of uncooked fruit.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—More about screen supervisors: The Screen Director's Guild "analysis"—blaming the "inept" among associate producers for much movie waste—said it one way. That was the serious, or we-mean-business way.

Without the supervisor, the Hollywood jokebook would be a poor thin volume devoted to the malaprop classics of Samuel Goldwyn, Harry Cohn, Jack Warner, "Uncle Carl" Laemmle, an occasional director or star. With the supervisor, the jokebook's encyclopedic. Wanna sample it?

The granddaddy of all movie jokes is this hoary classic, vintage 1911, when Hollywood hadn't yet annexed Los Angeles. The director had ambitions. He was going to do a BIG outdoor epic. He was going on location. He had picked the spot.

"Just think—gorgeous trees, wonderful rocks!" "How much?" said the producer. (The supervisor hadn't been spawnee yet but was on his way.) The director told him. Said the producer: "A tree's a tree and a rock's a rock—shoot it in Griffith Park!"

IS THE 'GETAWAY' AS HIGH POWERED AS WE THINK?

Tuning In with Loren Hickerson

DUKE ELLINGTON . . . whose "I Let a Song Go Out of My Heart" is riding at the crest of the popular song wave, turned his attention from his convalescence from a recent operation to the completion of a musical saga on the history of the American Negro from the jungles of Africa to modern Harlem.

The elaborate musical work, as long as an opera, has occupied all of Ellington's spare time for five or six years. No definite plans have been made regarding its presentation, but it will be adaptable in form to mediums of either stage, screen or radio.

The famous Negro composer-director, whose "Solitude," "Mood Indigo," "Caravan," and others have taken the nation by storm, has completed the score for a musical show which will be produced this autumn on Broadway.

THE STROUD TWINS . . . have aroused science! The boys are puzzling over the letter-of-the-week.

From a professor of psychology in an eastern college, the missive in question was delivered to the twins just after their program left the air last Sunday.

"I have followed your progress with a great deal of interest," it read, "and am convinced that you are the most perfect schizophrenic phenomenon of the century. Only in fiction—in 'Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde'—has your case been paralleled."

The professor plans a trip to Hollywood, he wrote, and has asked the Strouds to reserve several hours for an "examination." Clarence and Claude aren't too happy about the whole thing.

And won't the professor be surprised when he finds two of them!

HELEN JACOBS . . . will appear on the "For Men Only" program over NBC at 7:30 tonight. . . also on the program will be John J. Sullivan, director of safety at the New York World's Fair and Allan Kingsley, a ghost writer for prominent people.

Washington World

BY CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist WASHINGTON, Aug. 9—Of course every decent human being would be delighted to be convinced by recent London dispatches to the effect that efforts to rid the world of the chief threats against its peace really are gaining ground.

I do not discover, however, from chats with our managers of America's overseas relationships, with army and navy men and with such members of the foreign diplomatic corps as I happen to be confidentially acquainted with that these experts are much impressed by the latest optimistic forecasts from the British chancellery.

Naturally all hope for the best, but hopefulness is the most that many of them express, not confidence.

Pacifist Now But—? The present British government (or administration, as we would call it), to be sure, is adhering rather strictly to what is fairly describable as a pacifistic policy; a disposition to make plenty of concessions to more belligerent powers to avoid trends in the direction of international friction.

Nevertheless, British pacifistic sentiment is in a majority by a very NARROW majority. Indeed the harder boiled element maintains that what it deems a wishy-washy attitude on John Bull's part is dangerous.

And the hard-boiled folk may gain control almost any time. If so, it may precipitate matters. Moreover, the pacifists themselves have just warned Japan to keep hands off British interests in the Orient or take the consequences. It was not exactly an ultimatum, but it verged on one.

Threats "Everywhere" With Japan and China already at war, Japan and Russia, as we know, are having actual warfare on the Manchukuoan-Siberian border. Even Britain has "warned" Japan recently.

True, the Japanese have their hands so full with China as probably to hesitate to take on Russia, too, let alone Britain. But, on the opposite side, Russia is a bit hesitant to tackle Japan lest it be jumped on from the rear by Germany. And Britain doubtless is hesitant to do much in the Orient lest it expose itself to attack in the Occident.

That is to say, threats of war in one spot are, to a certain extent, antidotes to threats of war somewhere else. Yet it is war or threatened war everywhere.

Readers Tom Marshall Finds Different Tastes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Tom Marshall, retiring from the White House staff after 38 years, observes that various presidents, all doing the same job, have had reading tastes as far apart as the poles.

Woodrow Wilson, for instance, "was very careful about his reading—chose only fine literature," while with President Harding, "all was grist that came to his mill—good and bad," the 72-year-old veteran recalled.

Marshall was dubbed "librarian of the White House" back in Theodore Roosevelt's administration. He not only has catalogued many presidents' personal libraries, but checked out the books they wanted from the congressional library.

An ex-bookbinder with library training, he joined the staff in McKinley's time as a messenger. There were only 10 White House employes then. Letters were written in longhand. Tom became alternately doorkeeper, newspaper clipper, social bureau assistant, file clerk and general handy man," he said.

"President McKinley—I answered the telephone when the call came about his death—wasn't much of a reader, Marshall recalled. "He let Mark Hanna do most of it for him."

"But Theodore Roosevelt loved books more than any man I ever saw," the little man with the white mustache continued. "I've known him to absorb a book's contents in an hour and discuss it page by page with the author. But no trash, mind you."

President Taft, Marshall said, "had a legal complex." "I honestly believe he never read a book while in office but legal books," Marshall asserted.

The White House librarian described Calvin Coolidge as "a very austere man" who "had no use for anything frivolous—no humor."

Marshall said he had done little library work during the Hoover and Franklin Roosevelt regimes. "But Hoover read very little—scientific things mostly," he said. "And I don't see how President Roosevelt has any time to read," Marshall observed. "He's the dumbest stamp collector I ever saw—even has them bring them to him in bed."

Marshall said President Roosevelt once took him to Oyster Bay when he moved his library there. "He was so devoted to those books that he helped me rip the boards off the boxes down in the basement and carry the books upstairs to the library."

A New Yorker at Large

It's been a long time since I walked down Canal street. . . Almost 11 years, and that's too long. For days now I've been thinking about crayfish, and the old French market, and the river. . . And there are 50 things I want to do, and 50 people I want to see. . . I want to see Marguerite Clark, and Roark Bradford and Herman Deutsch, and Lyle Saxon. I want to stroll along the old street of the duelling academies, and look in on that prize-fighters museum, and visit the Absinthe House, and look at those rooms where Lafcadio Hearn wrote so movingly of New Orleans.

With MERLE MILLER

WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE? Nuts to that "spontaneous applause" talk they're putting out on the chains. . . I attended one radio showlet in NBC's Rockefeller Center that was so odorous in rehearsal the announcer threatened, "We'll clear the studio unless there's better cooperation."

Expect a slightly spectacular tale of the Newton inside in a quite soon New Republic. . . One of the best men was sent.

About three-dozen localities get first-day cancellations on all the new stamp issues. . . And that FWAer who was overcome with yesterday's humidity probably would have had to be carried home even if privately employed. (It happened on Iowa avenue.) . . .

There MAY be news at tonight's school board meeting. . . I'm watching. . . And so many of this year's degree-holders are answering, "Oh, I'm just resting at home this summer."

And a thesis-writer's finding about one per cent of the campus marriages are with wives who don't work. . . The average income's NYA, office stenography, ditch-digging and quite occasional meal cuts. . .

Saturday Review readers'll recognize the white Spitz with George Abbe on the cover. . . It was an Iowa City favorite last winter. . . Probably there are half-a-dozen to-be-published novels being created on the campus these days. . .

Noise Those angry noises about are usual at this time of year. . . Delinquent sewage disposal bills are about to be added to taxes. . .

I like those hanging these days in the fine arts building. . . Newspaper men better read the Joseph Medill Patterson career outlined these weeks in the New Yorker. . .

THE SUNSETS, evening skies make these days worth living. . . Last night's full-moon was lyrical. . . And the police car—in its fourth month—has about 25,000 miles on the speedometer. . . All local! . . .

Make a note that Iowa City's writing men have been featured in eight of the last 52 Saturday Review of Literature. . .

"Says My Heart" suits me as pleasant rhythm. . . And "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town" is still top-notch. . .

And might I mention a minor matter (they all do it)? . . . Seems to me, when a good feature's completed running, the memory'd be fresher, more lasting if the screen were blank for a minute or more. . . Then on to the news and Donald Duck. . . Just a suggestion.

One clothier sold six palm beachers yesterday afternoon. . . And Lake MacBride, Coney Island last night would have been indistinguishable. . . It was five degrees cooler than last week's high. . .

Of course, George Wilson's safe on the Newton situation. . . Schopenhauer said, "It's better to be silent than inadequate," but he may have been wrong. . . The state's had both.

And must up betimes this day to farewell Hudson Strode, who's off for Alabama again. . . My nomination, in passing, for the summer's most stimulating personality. . .

Seems to me part of an educator's job is to discourage the inadequate who are always with us. . . It's less tragedy to discover mediocrity young, change fields. . .

And, of course, on most days I'd wish all children were born adult. . . Wasn't it Wilde, who quipped, "Youth is so grand; it's a shame to waste it on the young?" . . .

True Confession Really, there's a summer school student—He teaches in a small Iowa town—who hasn't rented a room. . . Really, he's slept most nights on the river bank, in a certain campus building where he knows the janitor (when it rains). . . And he likes it. . .

LEXICOGRAPHY—"Perplexed" means an anti-editorial writer trying to explain away yesterday's primaries. . .

Pirates' Rookie Hurler Allows But Two Hits

Pitcher Scores Lone Run of Day as Bucs Maintain Win Streak

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 9 (AP)—Russ Bauers, six foot three inch question mark of the Pirate's pitching staff, put the St. Louis Cardinals through a two hit wringer today as Pittsburgh's National league leaders squeezed out a 1 to 0 triumph.

Bauers started the winning rally in the third inning off Lefty Roy Henshaw with a single. The pitcher moved to third on Handley's double and scored as Lloyd Waner punched his second single of the day into right field. A slingshot throw by Slaughter caught Handley at the plate.

Only 31 batters faced Bauers in nine innings, Johnny Mize's single to open the fifth being the first safe hit he allowed.

Indians Divide Two Contests With Browns

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 9 (AP)—Earl Whitehill handcuffed the St. Louis Browns with nine hits in the nightcap of a double header today giving the Cleveland Indians a split for their long day with an 8 to 1 victory. The Browns took the opener, 4 to 3.

It was a big second inning, worth five runs and climaxed with Bruce Campbell's circuit smash with a mate on, that put the game on ice for Oscar Vitt's crew. Bill Cox, third of the Browns moundsmen to see service, held the Indians in check until the eighth.

In the first game, Bob Feller was replaced by Denny Galehouse in the eighth after allowing two straight hits. Then the Browns hopped on Galehouse and Johnnie Humphries for three runs and the ball game.

Giants Defeat Boston's Bees By 5-4 Margin

New York Flashes Old 'Fighting Spirit' To Nose Out Victory

BOSTON, Aug. 9 (AP)—Flashing their long dormant fighting spirit, the New York Giants scored three runs in the seventh inning today and beat out the Boston Bees 5 to 4 in the first game of a three-game series.

Deacon Danny MacFayden, the Bees' starter, suffered his first defeat here this year when he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth after the Giants had won the game in their half of the seventh.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 9 (AP)—Southpaw Larry French handcuffed the Cincinnati Reds with a 3 to 0 shutout today and helped the Chicago Cubs into third place in the National league before a sweltering ladies' day crowd of 16,303.

Allowing but six hits and fanning five, the big portside allowed but one Red to reach third.

French and Paul Derringer were locked in a tight mound duel, each allowing but two hits until the sixth, when Rip Collins opened with his ninth homer of the year.

Patty Berg Still in Lead

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (AP)—Patty Berg of Minneapolis, nipped at the wire for three years in a row, went "to the whip" in the Women's Western Medal Play golf derby at Butterfield Country club today.

The freckle-faced clubby Minnesota star, runner-up in the event to Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., from 1935 through 1937, held a 36-hole total of 151 strokes in the longest medal play tournament sanctioned for women. With 36 holes to go she was a standout favorite to down the jinx held over her by the Lexington player, who finished today's second round 10 shots off Miss Berg's blistering half-way pace.

WHO'LL WIN? Armstrong vs. Ambers Tonight

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—Lou Ambers or Henry Armstrong? You pay your money and you take your choice.

The spectacular western Negro and the titling "Herkimer" NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (AP)—A blow-by-blow account of the Henry Armstrong-Lou Ambers outdoor battle in New York for the lightweight championship has been scheduled by WJZ-NBC for 8 p.m. (CST) Wednesday.

Hurricane are ready to tear into each other at the Polo Grounds tomorrow night, with the lightweight championship of the world at stake.

Armstrong, who has captured the featherweight and welterweight titles within the past nine months, will be shooting for the honor of being the first man in boxing history to wear three world crowns at the same time. He is almost a 1 to 3 shot to make good his threat. However, there is a small, determined group which firmly believes the wiry Ambers has the answer to Homicide Henry's challenge.

For a fight in which two champions will be at each other's throats, interest has been at surprisingly low ebb. If the show does $100,000 Promoter Mike Jacobs will be tickled to death.

Red Sox Win Freak Contest From Macks

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox staged a seven run rally in the seventh inning to win the first game of a series with the Athletics 16 to 4. Rookie Jim Tabor provided the big blow of the seventh by hitting a home run with the bases filled.

Previous to the blow-off, Nelson Potter had pitched perfect ball for six innings, not allowing a hit or a man to reach base.

If Snakes Are There They Don't Irk Him

SACRAMENTO, Cal. (AP) — Snakes are no danger to jungle explorers, and pith helmets and knee pants are a nuisance, says Dr. Victor Wolfgang von Hagen, exploring entomologist.

"Animals are not bad fellows, and if they smell you they will leave your neighborhood," he says. "As for snakes, I've poked around in every conceivable place looking for insects and I seldom see these monsters that authors tell about."

Clown Gets Fine

KINGSTON - ON - THAMES, Eng. (AP)—Four members of a theater audience testified against a clown accused of cruelty to a mule in a bucking performance. He was fined $25.

To Drink in Music

SALEM, India (AP)—With coming of prohibition in this district it was suggested that former drink addicts could find recreation by listening to evening radio programs.
