

No-Hit Game

Monte Pearson Blanks Cleveland 13-0 to Enter Hall of Fame Story on page 3

The Daily Iowan

Iowa City's Morning Newspaper

Scattered Showers

IOWA—Scattered showers and somewhat warmer today; tomorrow generally fair in northwest.

FIVE CENTS

The Associated Press

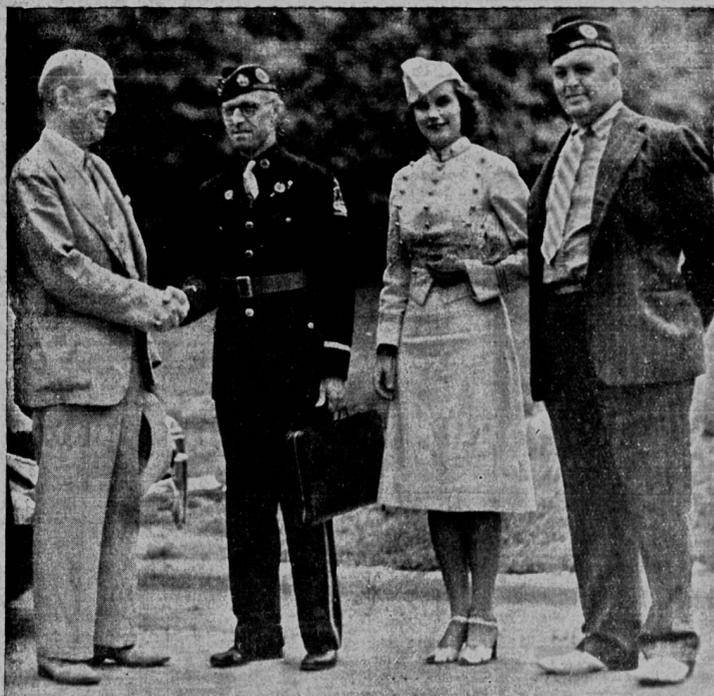

IOWA CITY, IOWA SUNDAY, AUGUST 28, 1938

The Associated Press

VOLUME XXXVII NUMBER 278

GREAT BRITAIN CAUTIONS HITLER

A Few Cheers—And a Beauty!

Mayor Myron J. Walker smiles, shakes hands with Walter Lee, Ricketts, commander of the Roy grand chef de gare of Mississippi's 40 and 8, while Elaine Russell, "Miss American Legion," merely smiles — as beauties are in the habit of doing — as does B. M. Ricketts, commander of the Roy grand chef de gare of the American Legion. The Mississippi flotilla of five cars on their way to the national American Legion convention in Los Angeles, stopped in Iowa City briefly yesterday morning. Its members were briefly interviewed on the air and then paraded through the downtown streets.

Germany Decries 'Incendiary' Speech

BERLIN, Aug. 27 (AP) — High German political quarters took the position tonight that Sir John Simon's talk at Lanark, Scotland, today gave "virtual encouragement for notorious, crisis-causing elements in Czechoslovakia." These circles said certain phrases used by Sir John, British chancellor of the exchequer, gave this "virtual encouragement" or "at least they contained no warning of any kind for those who continually intensify the conflict through planned terror against non-Czech nationals." Keen disappointment was expressed over Sir John's "mere reiteration" of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's declaration of March 24 that Britain would be "unlikely" to be able to keep out of a European war.

"(Sir John also uttered an unmistakable plea to Germany to take pressure off the dispute in Czechoslovakia, where the nazified German Sudeten party demands autonomy.) The high German political circles said it would be "timely to take care that the hearth of European unrest, which present circumstances in Czechoslovakia cause, does not find new fuel." This, they said, was the answer to Sir John's "hints" that any local conflict might spread. They interpreted his suggestions as indicating Britain was encouraging Czechoslovaks to "maintain their thus far unyielding position toward demands of Sudeten Germans even at the risk of such a conflict."

Tells Fuehrer Not to Start European War

Urges 'All Quarters' To Lessen Czech Tension by Moderation

LONDON, Aug. 27—Great Britain today gravely warned Adolf Hitler — without mentioning him — that he must not start a war over Czechoslovakia in which Britain might have to fight. The British government showed its deep concern over the middle European crisis by two statements: 1. The foreign office issued a plea to "all quarters" to lessen Czechoslovak tension and praised the Praha government's "conciliatory attitude" in negotiating with its troublesome nazi-supported Germanic minority.

2. Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, reiterated Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's assertion that Britain would be "unlikely" to be able to keep out of a European war.

At the same time Britain's powerful home fleet was ordered to the North Sea for autumn maneuvers starting Sept. 6. The admiralty emphasized that the order was the fleet's usual three-yearly practice, but it came at a time when Europe is tense in fear of war.

A concerted array of British statesmen moved firmly but pleadingly to halt middle Europe's brewing conflict before it starts. At their head was Sir John, who warned armament-bristling Germany that "the beginning of a fire in a high wind. It may be limited at the start. But who can say how far it would spread. . . or how many may be called upon to beat it out."

Along with Simon and the usually tight-lipped foreign office, Winston Churchill and Defense Coordinator Minister Sir Thomas Inskip bespoke the grave concern of the British empire over the fate of Czechoslovakia where autonomy demands of a 3,500,000 Germanic minority have the support of nazi Germany. Simon used a small conservative party rally at Lanark, Scotland, as a sounding board to warn Hitler.

"This very case of Czechoslovakia may be so critical for the future of Europe that it would be impossible to limit the disturbance that a conflict might involve, and everyone in every country who considers the consequences has to bear that in mind." The former foreign minister's words were an unmistakable warning to Germany against using force to settle the minority issue.

His speech reiterated in even plainer terms the position Chamberlain took March 24, refusing a prior guarantee of aid to the Czechs but warning Germany conflict could not be limited to those immediately involved.

At the same time, Inskip, the minister responsible for coordinating British defenses, predicted events in Czechoslovakia "are moving to a decisive issue." He declared in a speech near Perth that war is not inevitable while Britain is trying to keep the peace "because a nation as united as ours on essential questions possesses strength that nothing can shake."

In tribute to Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator in Czechoslovakia, Inskip said, "How much better that we should send him as mediator and investigator than that we should utter threats as to what we could do in certain circumstances."

The autumn fleet maneuvers, guarding North Sea approaches to the British Isles, will include five battleships, three aircraft carriers, five cruisers and full complements of destroyers, submarines and auxiliary ships.

Starting Sept. 6 they will steam as far north as Scapa Flow, scene of a great World war battle with Germany, and will not return until Nov. 17.

The admiralty said summer and autumn maneuvers have been held by the British fleet in the North Sea virtually every year since 1919. Spring maneuvers are staged annually in the Mediterranean and in the Atlantic off Gibraltar.

Czechs Relax Temporarily After England Takes Stand

PARIS, Aug. 27 (AP) — The foreign office ministry tonight termed Sir John Simon's speech calling for peaceful settlement of the German-Czechoslovak quarrel "very satisfactory" to France. The ministry spokesman disclosed at the same time that the army's general staff had been consulted by the foreign ministry concerning rumors Germany would attempt a coup in Czechoslovakia this weekend. General staff sources said such reports were "absurd" and that reports from French agents indicated "no such eventuality."

Chemical Manufacturing Plant Blast Destroys Factory; One Believed Dead

DETROIT, Aug. 27 (AP)—The chemical manufacturing plant of Wall Chemicals, Inc., was destroyed and one man was believed to have died in a series of explosions and fire tonight. Police Inspector Frank Rode said there were four severe blasts and many smaller ones. Windows in buildings in the surrounding area were broken. Firemen said the fire was under control an hour later. The explosions scattered steel gas tanks over the neighborhood, one going through a window of a filling station 200 feet away. A new two story addition to the plant was destroyed and the older part gutted.

Nazi Threat Dims Optimism

PRAHA, Aug. 27 (AP)—Czechoslovaks breathed easier tonight in the belief that long strides toward peace had been taken by Czech concessions here and Great Britain's implied warning to Germany against making war. Not even the most optimistic in this imperturbable capital, however, believed the threat to central Europe's precarious peace was past.

But there was a general feeling that Great Britain, by her new manifestation of interest in the fate of Czechoslovakia, had put a powerful force on the side of peaceful adjustment of this government's issue with its Sudeten German minority. "The word which was missing in the critical days of 1914 has been spoken," said one newspaper. "Twenty-four years ago the attitude of Great Britain towards continental conflict was unknown. Now there is clarity on that point."

An official government statement said the government and the people were well prepared for a "critical September." The statement declared that because of the good will the government had shown in negotiations with Sudeten Germans it "enters the fateful week before the Nurnberg nazi party congress (which begins Sept. 5) with a good conscience."

Sudeten German party circles criticized in their official party organ the address of Sir John Simon at Lanark, Scotland, today, as having failed to blame the Czechoslovak government for "delay in negotiations" for settlement of the minority dispute. Czechoslovak officials interpreted the address as a reiteration of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's stand last March.

(During high tension between Germany and Czechoslovakia, the British prime minister, last March 24, refused Britain's guarantee to back France if she were called upon to fulfill her treaty obligation to aid Czechoslovakia against invasion. But he warned that "if war were to break out it would be unlikely to be confined to those who have assumed such obligations.")

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 27 (AP) — Two sheriff's deputies were wondering today about their I. Q.'s. En route to central state hospital for the insane with a patient, they lost their way in Nashville.

The patient directed them to the street that led to the institution.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 27 (AP) — Two sheriff's deputies were wondering today about their I. Q.'s. En route to central state hospital for the insane with a patient, they lost their way in Nashville.

The patient directed them to the street that led to the institution.

Hurricane Winds Roar Toward Texas-Mexican Border Towns

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., Aug. 27 (AP) — Hurricane winds roared toward the Texas-Mexican coast tonight, trapping at least 10 Texans and threatening to move inland over a sparsely settled sector of northeastern Mexico. Lowering clouds extended along the Gulf coast from Freeport 400 miles down to the southernmost tip of Texas. They crept inland like giant feelers for a blow expected within a few hours.

Apprehension was felt for the 10 Texans reported marooned on the Mexican coast 75 miles below Brownsville. Eight men were reported at the Eighth Pass, a fishing resort, while two others were at Boca Ciega, the third pass along the coast. Reported at the Eighth Pass were Walter Matthews, O. N. Roberts Jr., Rayford McNabb and Griffing Heath, all of Corpus Christi; Ray Phipps, Roy Kingery, Hermann Richards and Vic Stewart of Brownsville. C. E. Moore and Roy Kietz of Brownsville were reported marooned at Boca Ciega.

B. E. Burbank, who operates a commercial fishing camp in the area, said he came north early in the afternoon. Vincent Stevenson, another fishing camp operator on the Mexican side, said unless the tides became excessively high the men were in little danger. The wind here at 10 p.m. was blowing at 20 miles per hour. Rain squalls drenched the streets frequently. The barometer had risen from 29.80 to 29.84 since dusk, leading observers to believe the blow would strike nearer Tampico, Mexico, 400 miles south of here, than to the Texas coast.

The Rio Grande valley, hard hit by a similar storm five years ago, battered down for the strong winds expected on the outer-fringe of the storm.

LONDON (AP)—A freak accident wrecked Great Britain's new trans-Atlantic air liner, the Albatross, late yesterday at the conclusion of a final test flight.

Representatives of the union who signed the contract were William Turnblazer, John Saxton, and George Titler. Company representatives who, spokesmen said, represented the principal Harlan county producers were Arthur Ellison, William Sienknecht, and R. C. Tway.

Spokesmen for both the operators and the United Mine Workers expressed great satisfaction on the friendly and cooperative attitude of both sides in the discussions which led to the execution of the contract and predicted a new era of good feeling and harmony between operators and their employers in the Harlan county coal fields, the statement said.

The agreement calls for a five-day, seven-hour week, and provides for a basic rate of $5.60 a day. Sixteen companies employing 15,000 workers in the Harlan county area are involved, operators and union officials announced.

Storm Warnings Create Near-Panic in Small Coastal Villages

CHICKIE Hitch-Hiking Fowl Raises Hue

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 27 (AP)—As the Rev. H. Hagelanz drove away from a church service, a bystander called: "Hey, you've got a chicken with you!" The minister nodded agreeably. His wife blushed. At home, a bedraggled rooster climbed off the rear spring of the automobile.

OH MAMMA! Boy Competes, Places Third

HUMBOLDT, Neb., Aug. 27 (AP) Score one for curly-haired Gene Kotouc: Gene dressed himself in girls' clothes and entered the "Little Miss Humboldt" child's beauty pageant. He won third place.

Saturday Crowd Surpasses Record At State Fair

DES MOINES, Aug. 27 (AP)—A hair-raising thrill program today drew 63,696 visitors to the Iowa state fair, the largest crowd to visit the exposition on a Saturday since 1922. Crowds began pouring through the turnstiles early this morning and continued until the evening performance was well underway. By 5 o'clock, the attendance had passed all previous Saturday marks with the exception of 1922, when 69,000 persons jammed the grounds. The Saturday attendance last year was 55,552. Iowa farmers, taking advantage of the "pause" between harvest seasons, made up a large part of today's crowd.

Four Swiss Planes Crash Mountain In Air Maneuvers

SCHWYZ, Switzerland, Aug. 27 (AP) — Four of five Swiss army planes flying in formation crashed into a mountain in a fog near Schwyz today. Six flyers were reported to have been killed and two seriously injured. The five observation planes left Dubendorf field in the afternoon to participate in an air show at Lugano airport on Sunday. As they passed near Schwyz they ran into a dense fog. Four planes crashed into a mountain top of a range, some of whose peaks are 8,000 feet high. An Alpine searching party, organized by aviation authorities, sent back word it had found the wreckage of one plane with two of the occupants injured and that those in the other planes were dead.

Plane Wrecked

LONDON (AP)—A freak accident wrecked Great Britain's new trans-Atlantic air liner, the Albatross, late yesterday at the conclusion of a final test flight.

Which One? Report Liquor, Bank Books Confusing

DES MOINES, Aug. 27 (AP)—Iowa bank tellers are getting tired of this business of trying to deposit money on liquor books. Probably liquor store managers have just as big a kick coming, although no complaints have been heard as yet of people attempting to buy liquor on their bank books. It all traces down to the similar size and color of the Iowa liquor commission's new dark red permits to deposit books used in many banks. One teller here said in one week he had had four persons seek to have deposits recorded in permit books.

Blueprint For Utopia

Just as 30,000,000 school children are making ready for a new term, the U. S. Commissioner of Education has detailed his idea of a perfect system of education. Perhaps you won't agree that the prime object of education is a job, not a degree, but you will want to read John W. Stuebner's frank article today on page 4.

Agreement Is Reached in Kentucky Coal Feud

CINCINNATI, Aug. 27 (AP)—An agreement presaging peace in "bloody Harlan county," Ky., was signed today by attorneys for the United Mine Workers of America and the Harlan County Coal Operators' association. As part of the agreement, the National Labor Relations board consented to "dismiss finally" all charges of violation of the Wagner act against 16 coal companies, some of which are not members of the association. The agreement, still to be approved by the membership of district 19 of the UMW, was contingent upon board approval, which was given by Philip G. Phillips, ninth regional director. It provides for seven-hour day and five-day week, a basic rate of $5.60 a day, improvement of working conditions, standard check-off, and is effective from Sept. 1, 1938, to March 31, 1939. Union attorneys estimated that from 13,500 to 15,000 miners were affected by the agreement, which confirmed a contract tentatively drawn up at Tate Springs, Tenn., last week in a private conference. The agreement calls for the UMW and the operators to form a pool to arrange reemployment of all men allegedly discharged in violation of the Wagner act "before any new employees are taken on." Spokesmen said that the contract, tentatively drawn up at Tate Springs, Tenn., last week, was signed here by a committee of operators and union representatives.

Republicans Rally Along Mighty Front Make a 'Mighty Effort to Save the U. S.'

WASHINGTON, Ind., Aug. 27 (AP) — Embattled republicans, tenting in a colorful "cornfield conference" on the farm grounds of an Indiana-born manufacturer, rallied today to what John Hamilton, the party's national chairman, called "the beginning of a mighty fight to save the United States." It was the formal opening of the party's drive to gain congressional strength in the November elections and reinforce its lines for the 1940 presidential campaign. Republicans came from many states for the event and party officials estimated the attendance would exceed 25,000. Copious quantities of Hoosier fried chicken, baked clams, roast-

Semi-Automatic Rifles for Army? So-Called World's Best Infantry Weapon May Get Trial

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The army has proposed to President Roosevelt, reliable persons said today, that steps be taken now toward arming troops quickly with its new semi-automatic rifle in the event of war. The semi-automatic rifle, which the army calls the world's best infantry weapon, is made at present only at the Springfield, Mass., armory. Congress authorized this year, however, a $10,000,000, five-year program of "educational orders" to private manufacturers to train them for the production of vital military equipment in vast quantities in war-time. Well-informed persons said that the semi-automatic rifle was at the top of a list of equipment the army had submitted to the president as the basis for such orders. A special war department board, headed by Brigadier General Harry A. Arnold, air corps assistant chief, selected the infantry weapon as important for emergency mass production. First of the educational orders are expected to be placed next month. Unlike other war department contracts, they will be awarded arbitrarily without competitive bidding to manufacturers whom officials decide would best fit into the army's industrial mobilization plans. Extraordinary precautions will be taken, it is believed in military circles, to prevent plans of the rifle from reaching foreign powers. Though European armies

Which One? Report Liquor, Bank Books Confusing

DES MOINES, Aug. 27 (AP)—Iowa bank tellers are getting tired of this business of trying to deposit money on liquor books. Probably liquor store managers have just as big a kick coming, although no complaints have been heard as yet of people attempting to buy liquor on their bank books. It all traces down to the similar size and color of the Iowa liquor commission's new dark red permits to deposit books used in many banks. One teller here said in one week he had had four persons seek to have deposits recorded in permit books.

Republicans Rally Along Mighty Front Make a 'Mighty Effort to Save the U. S.'

WASHINGTON, Ind., Aug. 27 (AP) — Embattled republicans, tenting in a colorful "cornfield conference" on the farm grounds of an Indiana-born manufacturer, rallied today to what John Hamilton, the party's national chairman, called "the beginning of a mighty fight to save the United States." It was the formal opening of the party's drive to gain congressional strength in the November elections and reinforce its lines for the 1940 presidential campaign. Republicans came from many states for the event and party officials estimated the attendance would exceed 25,000. Copious quantities of Hoosier fried chicken, baked clams, roast-

Agreement Is Reached in Kentucky Coal Feud

CINCINNATI, Aug. 27 (AP)—An agreement presaging peace in "bloody Harlan county," Ky., was signed today by attorneys for the United Mine Workers of America and the Harlan County Coal Operators' association. As part of the agreement, the National Labor Relations board consented to "dismiss finally" all charges of violation of the Wagner act against 16 coal companies, some of which are not members of the association. The agreement, still to be approved by the membership of district 19 of the UMW, was contingent upon board approval, which was given by Philip G. Phillips, ninth regional director. It provides for seven-hour day and five-day week, a basic rate of $5.60 a day, improvement of working conditions, standard check-off, and is effective from Sept. 1, 1938, to March 31, 1939. Union attorneys estimated that from 13,500 to 15,000 miners were affected by the agreement, which confirmed a contract tentatively drawn up at Tate Springs, Tenn., last week in a private conference. The agreement calls for the UMW and the operators to form a pool to arrange reemployment of all men allegedly discharged in violation of the Wagner act "before any new employees are taken on." Spokesmen said that the contract, tentatively drawn up at Tate Springs, Tenn., last week, was signed here by a committee of operators and union representatives.

Blueprint For Utopia

Just as 30,000,000 school children are making ready for a new term, the U. S. Commissioner of Education has detailed his idea of a perfect system of education. Perhaps you won't agree that the prime object of education is a job, not a degree, but you will want to read John W. Stuebner's frank article today on page 4.

THE DAILY IOWAN

Published every morning except Monday by Student Publications Incorporated, at 128-130 Iowa avenue, Iowa City, Iowa.

Board of Trustees: Frank L. Mott, Odie K. Patton, Ewen M. MacEwen, Karl E. Leib, Amos Pearsall, Robert Dalbey, Ben M. Stephens, David B. Evans, Orval Q. Matteson.

Fred M. Pownall, Publisher Donald J. Anderson, Business Manager

Entered as second class mail matter at the postoffice at Iowa City, Iowa, under the act of congress of March 2, 1879.

Subscription rates—By mail, $5 per year; by carrier, 15 cents weekly, $5 per year.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT John Mooney, Editor James Fox, Managing Editor Merle Miller, City Editor Wayne Fisher, Sports Editor Loren Hickerson, Campus Editor Eulalia Klingbeil, Society Editor

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT Tom E. Ryan, Circulation Mgr. Agnes W. Schmidt, Office Mgr.

TELEPHONES Editorial Office 4192 Society Editor 4193 Business Office 4191

SUNDAY, AUG. 28, 1938

A Warning From The British Lion

IT WILL BE interesting to watch developments in central Europe during the coming fortnight. The Nazi party congress, meeting in Nuremberg Sept. 5, is expected to climax the German-Czechoslovakian situation.

Hitler, according to Friday's dispatches, has decided to issue an ultimatum, to threaten the use of a semi-mobilized army unless the Nazi Germans are given full autonomy by the Czech government.

It appears he may change his mind. Neville Chamberlain's government in England has apparently decided to abandon its eye-closing attitude toward Herr Hitler's actions (meantime increasing England's own armament expenditures).

Sir John Simon, spokesman for the Chamberlain government, yesterday issued Great Britain's ultimatum to Germany, indirectly:

"It is," he said, "the duty not only of us—but of all others concerned in world peace—to do nothing to imperil a satisfactory solution of the Czechoslovakia dispute."

And then he added, "If war were to break out it would be unlikely to be confined to those who have assumed previous obligations still holding good."

That means Britain will stand by with France and Russia if Czechoslovakia's rights are not observed. It's an encouraging statement Sir John has made, and we agree with Great Britain:

"For our part we shall at all times bring the whole weight of our influence to bear with a view to the prevention of the outbreak of war in any part of the world, and we shall always be ready to make our contribution to the maintenance of peace."

The best way to keep peace in Europe—and in the world—is to let Adolf Hitler know where Britain stands, for peace but also for justice. We think he will not ignore that warning.

The chances of a general European war seem less this week than they were last week at the same time.

A Chicago boy spent $940, representing his father's life savings, found in a jar he dug up in the yard. Yes, it was quite a jar for the old man.

Humanity And All That EVER SO OFTEN we like to forget the headlines, turn to the tiny items the rush of events pass by.

For example, Neville Chamberlain last week hurried back from his week end to consult his nose doctor.

Premier Negrin of Republican Spain flew from Barcelona to Zurich to, allegedly, have a tooth pulled.

Herr Schaeft suddenly comes back from a vacation in Norway; nothing serious, mind. He'd just developed a sad case of catarrh.

It gives a small, queer kind of pleasure to read that even while war brew men take time off to be human. We were considerably cheered up last week to find that Bette Davis has stepped preliminary work in her newest super-cosmos picture to treat an early fall cold.

Which reminds us, Keer-choo. The danger of sticking out one's hand when making a turn was suggested the other day when a motorist suffered a fracture as his hand hit a mail box. Then, too, there's always the chance that a political candidate may happen along and shake it.

OFFICIAL DAILY BULLETIN

Items in the UNIVERSITY CALENDAR are scheduled in the office of the President, Old Capitol. Items for the GENERAL NOTICES are deposited with the campus editor of The Daily Iowan, or may be placed in the box provided for their deposit in the offices of The Daily Iowan. GENERAL NOTICES must be at The Daily Iowan by 4:30 p.m. the day preceding first publication; notices will NOT be accepted by telephone, and must be TYPED or LEGIBLY WRITTEN and SIGNED by a responsible person.

VOL. XII, No. 75 Sunday, August 28, 1938

Men May Swim The fieldhouse pool will be open daily from 2 to 5:30 p.m. for recreational swimming for all men registered in the independent study unit.

General Notices Employment Bureau, Old Dental Building, immediately. LEE H. KANN, Manager. Library Hours From Aug. 27 through Sept. 24 the Library reading rooms will be open from 8:30 a.m.-12:00 m., and 1:00-5:00 p.m. Special hours for departmental libraries will be posted on the doors.

Employment Board, three meals a day, can be earned at the University Hospital from the present time until Sept. 25. The work occurs at mealtime hours. In order that we may retain the maximum number of student jobs during the school year, these openings must be filled now. We urge men and women students, non-students, and others available for this work to inquire at the Recreational Swimming The pool in the women's gymnasium will be open the following hours for recreational swimming for all women registered for the independent study unit. Monday to Friday—4:30 to 5:30 p.m. Saturday: 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. GLADYS SCOTT

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

HOLLYWOOD — It's another Family Week in pictures — and what a family we have in "Four Daughters!"

It's a good honest picture, with some of the best acting seen in the past few hundred reels. I'm afraid it's also an artistic triumph, but don't let that scare you.

Claude Rains is the music-teacher father of four girls—Priscilla, Rosemary and Lola Lane, and Gale Page. Priscilla's the youngest. She can't imagine ever getting married. Lola's the eldest — she wants to marry money and have things. Rosemary is the girl who can't be bothered much, either with beaux or with her singing. Gale Page is the sister who dreams of a "knight in shining armor" — but has for her steady the bumbling Dick Foran from the florist's shop.

May Robson, as Aunt Etta, is all the rest of the family—until Jeffrey Lynn comes to town and, what with his winning ways, moves right in. All the girls, even Lola who has her rich and bumbling Frank McHugh, fall for Jeffrey.

Then one day Priscilla announces that she and Jeff are going to be married. Three things happen: Lola says she's going to marry her Frank right now; Rosemary announces she's going away to study voice seriously after all; and Gale Page just weeps.

Into the story now breezes—or maybe strikes like lightning would be better—John Garfield. He's the lad the fates always frowned on, kicked around. He's cynical, sardonic, crude — but Priscilla gets under his skin. And just before Priscilla and Jeff are getting married, Priscilla learns how Gale Page wept, and so—

It's a believable, human movie, loaded with human touches, some humorous, some pathetic. It's from Fannie Hurst's "Sister Act" and Michael Curtiz directed it with a sympathetic touch you scarcely expect from a fellow who's done "Charge of the Light Brigade" and

Birthplace of Hitler Bought by Nazi Party BRAUNAU, Germany (AP) — Adolf Hitler's Austrian birthplace here will be restored by the Nazi party which recently bought the house in which he was born.

The Hitler family lived on the second floor of a hostelry. It will be rebuilt as Mrs. Babette Hoerl, 70, who worked for the Hitlers as a girl, recalls it. Pictures of Hitler's youth and souvenirs of his life will be assembled in the home.

Strictly Fresh Berries Flown to Londoners PARIS (AP) — Londoners who are fastidious about their food can eat wild strawberries picked in the forests near Paris at lunch time on the same day they're gathered in France.

The "frais-du-bois" (wild strawberry) express leaves Le Bourget airport near Paris promptly at 8 a.m., and the strawberries picked at 4 a.m., are at London specialty shops before noon.

Washington World By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—If I were an anti-New Deal democrat and consequently on the New Deal's "purge list" (it's denied that there is one but it's perfectly obvious that there is) I wouldn't insist, as most anti-New Dealers do, that a New Dealer is what I really am.

For one thing, it's an inaccuracy on the anti-New Deal democrats' part, however unintentional. Secondly, it's an unnecessary claim for them to make; they could make a better one.

HOW THEY VOTED For candidates like Senators George Tydings, "Cotton Ed" Smith and others to assert that they are, in the main, New Dealers of course is mighty unconvincing.

They may have voted for administration measures 30 or 40 times to three or four times that they have voted against the administration. The 30 or 40 times were upon issues of small consequence and the three or four times were upon issues of vital importance to the administration.

In short, they have helped, with considerable success, to "throw a crimp" into vital New Deal policies; they have backed the New Deal numerously, perhaps, but immaterially.

NO DISCRETION Why, then, should they argue that, principally, they are New Dealers? And why shouldn't President Roosevelt reason that, essentially, they are "antis"?

But it doesn't follow that it is to a democratic statesman's discredit to be anti-New Deal. Plenty of New Deal theories are UN-democratic, according to all past reckonings.

Thus, why shouldn't an anti-New Dealer say? "Sure I'm an anti-New Dealer, I'm a DEMOCRAT." A NEW PARTY However, the anti-New Deal democrat doesn't say that. Instead he says, "I'm a 90 per cent democratic New Dealer."

Health Hints

By Logan Clendening, M.D.

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D. Once more the breath of fall is in the air, the haze hangs on the hill, the breezes rustling through the trees make a dry sound which hints that the sap of spring is gone from the leaves.

And there are other signs—returning vacationists bringing the young home from lake and mountain and seashore; wardrobes being prepared for the classroom; teachers bracing themselves for another session; text-books making their appearance in the office.

And so once more it becomes my duty—and I think it is the most important function of a column like this — to advise about preparation of the child for the school year.

I often am asked to name the most important health rules. And my interlocutors are invariably surprised, when instead of outlining a course of prohibitions for diet and dress and recommendations for exercise and sleeping on porches, I say instead, "Immunization of the body against contagious diseases."

This is especially true of the very young. And to send a young child to school for the first time without immunization against diphtheria, is like sending him into a den of wild animals.

Contagious diseases flourish in crowds. That, of course, nothing more than axiomatic. And contagious diseases are especially likely to attack the very young. Also axiomatic. But combine the two—and you get the first days of school.

All Develop Immunity As time goes on we all develop immunity to the common diseases—sometimes by acquiring the disease itself (nearly every adult is immune to measles because nearly every adult had it when young), or by what is known as "contact" immunity. This may be explained by pointing out that a large group of human diseases are spread by carriers. Diphtheria is an example. Some people carry around diphtheria germs in the mouth or nose. They may be attenuated in virulence, and people associating with these people get small doses of the germs which they can kill off and gradually develop an immunity by contact.

School contacts create a great many of the contact immunities in the children. In any fourth or fifth grade over half the pupils would be found immune to diphtheria, although they never had it. I am referring to the days before the widespread use of immunization by toxoid.

Nowadays we want to create immunity to diphtheria before the dangers of exposure have begun to operate. We do not want to wait for contact immunity to develop. How it should be done will be described in an article later in the week.

Birthplace of Hitler Bought by Nazi Party BRAUNAU, Germany (AP) — Adolf Hitler's Austrian birthplace here will be restored by the Nazi party which recently bought the house in which he was born.

The Hitler family lived on the second floor of a hostelry. It will be rebuilt as Mrs. Babette Hoerl, 70, who worked for the Hitlers as a girl, recalls it. Pictures of Hitler's youth and souvenirs of his life will be assembled in the home.

Strictly Fresh Berries Flown to Londoners PARIS (AP) — Londoners who are fastidious about their food can eat wild strawberries picked in the forests near Paris at lunch time on the same day they're gathered in France.

The "frais-du-bois" (wild strawberry) express leaves Le Bourget airport near Paris promptly at 8 a.m., and the strawberries picked at 4 a.m., are at London specialty shops before noon.

Washington World By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—If I were an anti-New Deal democrat and consequently on the New Deal's "purge list" (it's denied that there is one but it's perfectly obvious that there is) I wouldn't insist, as most anti-New Dealers do, that a New Dealer is what I really am.

For one thing, it's an inaccuracy on the anti-New Deal democrats' part, however unintentional. Secondly, it's an unnecessary claim for them to make; they could make a better one.

HOW THEY VOTED For candidates like Senators George Tydings, "Cotton Ed" Smith and others to assert that they are, in the main, New Dealers of course is mighty unconvincing.

They may have voted for administration measures 30 or 40 times to three or four times that they have voted against the administration. The 30 or 40 times were upon issues of small consequence and the three or four times were upon issues of vital importance to the administration.

In short, they have helped, with considerable success, to "throw a crimp" into vital New Deal policies; they have backed the New Deal numerously, perhaps, but immaterially.

NO DISCRETION Why, then, should they argue that, principally, they are New Dealers? And why shouldn't President Roosevelt reason that, essentially, they are "antis"?

But it doesn't follow that it is to a democratic statesman's discredit to be anti-New Deal. Plenty of New Deal theories are UN-democratic, according to all past reckonings.

Thus, why shouldn't an anti-New Dealer say? "Sure I'm an anti-New Dealer, I'm a DEMOCRAT." A NEW PARTY However, the anti-New Deal democrat doesn't say that. Instead he says, "I'm a 90 per cent democratic New Dealer."

HOW THEY VOTED For candidates like Senators George Tydings, "Cotton Ed" Smith and others to assert that they are, in the main, New Dealers of course is mighty unconvincing.

They may have voted for administration measures 30 or 40 times to three or four times that they have voted against the administration. The 30 or 40 times were upon issues of small consequence and the three or four times were upon issues of vital importance to the administration.

In short, they have helped, with considerable success, to "throw a crimp" into vital New Deal policies; they have backed the New Deal numerously, perhaps, but immaterially.

Washington World

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist WASHINGTON, Aug. 27—If I were an anti-New Deal democrat and consequently on the New Deal's "purge list" (it's denied that there is one but it's perfectly obvious that there is) I wouldn't insist, as most anti-New Dealers do, that a New Dealer is what I really am.

For one thing, it's an inaccuracy on the anti-New Deal democrats' part, however unintentional. Secondly, it's an unnecessary claim for them to make; they could make a better one.

HOW THEY VOTED For candidates like Senators George Tydings, "Cotton Ed" Smith and others to assert that they are, in the main, New Dealers of course is mighty unconvincing.

They may have voted for administration measures 30 or 40 times to three or four times that they have voted against the administration. The 30 or 40 times were upon issues of small consequence and the three or four times were upon issues of vital importance to the administration.

In short, they have helped, with considerable success, to "throw a crimp" into vital New Deal policies; they have backed the New Deal numerously, perhaps, but immaterially.

NO DISCRETION Why, then, should they argue that, principally, they are New Dealers? And why shouldn't President Roosevelt reason that, essentially, they are "antis"?

But it doesn't follow that it is to a democratic statesman's discredit to be anti-New Deal. Plenty of New Deal theories are UN-democratic, according to all past reckonings.

Thus, why shouldn't an anti-New Dealer say? "Sure I'm an anti-New Dealer, I'm a DEMOCRAT." A NEW PARTY However, the anti-New Deal democrat doesn't say that. Instead he says, "I'm a 90 per cent democratic New Dealer."

HOW THEY VOTED For candidates like Senators George Tydings, "Cotton Ed" Smith and others to assert that they are, in the main, New Dealers of course is mighty unconvincing.

They may have voted for administration measures 30 or 40 times to three or four times that they have voted against the administration. The 30 or 40 times were upon issues of small consequence and the three or four times were upon issues of vital importance to the administration.

In short, they have helped, with considerable success, to "throw a crimp" into vital New Deal policies; they have backed the New Deal numerously, perhaps, but immaterially.

NO DISCRETION Why, then, should they argue that, principally, they are New Dealers? And why shouldn't President Roosevelt reason that, essentially, they are "antis"?

But it doesn't follow that it is to a democratic statesman's discredit to be anti-New Deal. Plenty of New Deal theories are UN-democratic, according to all past reckonings.

Thus, why shouldn't an anti-New Dealer say? "Sure I'm an anti-New Dealer, I'm a DEMOCRAT." A NEW PARTY However, the anti-New Deal democrat doesn't say that. Instead he says, "I'm a 90 per cent democratic New Dealer."

HOW THEY VOTED For candidates like Senators George Tydings, "Cotton Ed" Smith and others to assert that they are, in the main, New Dealers of course is mighty unconvincing.

They may have voted for administration measures 30 or 40 times to three or four times that they have voted against the administration. The 30 or 40 times were upon issues of small consequence and the three or four times were upon issues of vital importance to the administration.

In short, they have helped, with considerable success, to "throw a crimp" into vital New Deal policies; they have backed the New Deal numerously, perhaps, but immaterially.

NO DISCRETION Why, then, should they argue that, principally, they are New Dealers? And why shouldn't President Roosevelt reason that, essentially, they are "antis"?

But it doesn't follow that it is to a democratic statesman's discredit to be anti-New Deal. Plenty of New Deal theories are UN-democratic, according to all past reckonings.

Thus, why shouldn't an anti-New Dealer say? "Sure I'm an anti-New Dealer, I'm a DEMOCRAT." A NEW PARTY However, the anti-New Deal democrat doesn't say that. Instead he says, "I'm a 90 per cent democratic New Dealer."

HOW THEY VOTED For candidates like Senators George Tydings, "Cotton Ed" Smith and others to assert that they are, in the main, New Dealers of course is mighty unconvincing.

They may have voted for administration measures 30 or 40 times to three or four times that they have voted against the administration. The 30 or 40 times were upon issues of small consequence and the three or four times were upon issues of vital importance to the administration.

In short, they have helped, with considerable success, to "throw a crimp" into vital New Deal policies; they have backed the New Deal numerously, perhaps, but immaterially.

NO DISCRETION Why, then, should they argue that, principally, they are New Dealers? And why shouldn't President Roosevelt reason that, essentially, they are "antis"?

But it doesn't follow that it is to a democratic statesman's discredit to be anti-New Deal. Plenty of New Deal theories are UN-democratic, according to all past reckonings.

AROUND THE TOWN

With MERLE MILLER

IOWA IDIOSYNCRASIES Yes, really, George Robeson of the poli scis was on the stage... And any class is a good performance. (Plus highly informative.)

(Note—The Jehovah's Witnesses were wrong—(1) they declared, "We're different from all the Christian religions—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish." (2) There's nothing in the Iowa constitution about the illegality of compelling a witness to testify against himself... (It's statutory, could probably be questioned.)

A Merle Miller is a "pounding" right half-back on the University of Washington 11, slated for this year's All-American...

The lioness at the City park is named Alice, weighs 600 pounds and has been around the town for seven years... Eats 18 pounds of beef daily...

Don Ihrig makes false teeth in his downtown laboratory... They're porcelain, not human...

The Red Ball inn was a depot on the "underground railway" before the Civil war... (Now it's open-doored to wind, rain and what-have-you.)

John Brown John Brown was well-known in I. C. ... Lived near here for about four years...

The words "by, of, and for the people" aren't in the constitution... (Try Lincoln's Gettysburg address.)

For 20 years the campus had two Greek letter orgs... Beta's—1866... Phi Psi—1867...

A couple decades back the Zetaganian literary society was what the smart ones tried to be asked to join... Debating, the highlight... The group became so strong it kept out the Greeks.

And James Whitcomb Riley and Will Carleton (He wrote "Over the Hills to the Poorhouse") appeared on the 1892-93 campus lecture series, got $50 each... And the Ottumwa quartette was a feature at $10...

Most campus lecturers of this winter will get $300, probably more... And especially Linton Wells... (Will Durant, for example, sold an evening at $350.)

And Wilbur Schramm did really play the flute in Sousa's band... And was a United Press man—and a successful one...

(Reminding me to mention that Bob Whitehand's back, looking better, which is good... After a summer in which

TUNING IN

By Loren Hickerson

CONCERNING one who seems to me to be among the finest orchestra conductors on the networks—Frank Black.

The most versatile of maestros, Frank Black's Friday night concert series is a magnet to other orchestra leaders, many of whom can be found in the studio audience.

And no wonder, for whether it be a symphonic arrangement of Sibelius' "Finlandia" or a choral and orchestral presentation of "I Let a Song Go Out of My Heart," Frank Black's orchestra has the stuff to put it over.

And those two number, in case you weren't listening, were two of the opposing highspots on last Friday's Cities Service concert.

And in order to maintain the constant variety of that particular program, Mr. Black conducted his musicians in "Song of India" and Duke Ellington's newest, "Caravan."

An orchestra than can accomplish that, along with a complete hour of other splendid musical works, is worthy of praise, methinks!

At the age of 10, we discover, Black gave his first piano recital, was singing in a choir, studying organ and winning medals in school track meets.

CONCERNING one of radio's screwiest persons, Col. Lemuel Q. Stoopnagle of "Town Hall Tonight," who has invented a mechanical kibitzer for lonely bridge players and a revolving chair for luckless players who he did nothing, he said... Only wrote a play...

AROUND THE TOWN

With MERLE MILLER

I was wrong, Prof. P. G. Clapp smokes an American cigaret, to the tune of a cartoon weekly...

For those who've been hoping, disappointment... Nino Martini doesn't autograph anything... And Vladimir Golschmann will have a new streak of becoming grey in his hair...

"The Awful Truth" is still funny, and last night was my third visit... Marg Shanna (Remember her?) is out of "Arnold Grimm's Daughter," but it's her own idea... She'll be just a wife for a change...

A personal cheer for Bill Hugsy... No particular reason—except everyone I know (including me) thinks he's swell...

Sound That angry sound you hear is the talk about the new telephone rates... Instead of Mississippi's "Miss American Legion" I'll have a campus c'd, almost anyone... (Don't tell anybody but Miss—would like next year's national convention. It's not just great big-heartedness.)

Ethan Allen, allegedly, has the best classroom vocabulary—most expressive, I mean... It sometimes a little bit unexpected...

(I thought everybody knew by now that the Lucky Strike "hit" parade is just one of the rackets... The song publishers know which're which weeks in advance.)

Bergen-McCarthy in "Letter of Introduction" are sub-well... That Iowa Citian has a collection of nearly 200 Rooseveltiana... (Tales about a certain president of a certain United States)...

Half-a-dozen candidates have the match-folder craze, but Ole Olsen's the only one with his picture on the cover...

And the odds aren't high for either candidate in the congressional race... Close, that's it... Ed Eicher'll be back a week or more before to say words for J. Gaffney...

That city-county ball game probably won't take place... It was just a newspaper gag... Biggest laugh is that the WPA guide books cost $2.50 each, and nobody knows where the money goes... The Iowa City pages're sparse...

Washington And Cyril Upham, who's back in D. C., Washington, after a local month, is a brother-in-law of Eli Briggs, is one of the right-brainers with the treasury's H. Morgenthau... But has one of those rare "passions for anonymity"... Also got one of the youngest Ph.D.'s on this campus...

Don Pryor, who once also was around the town, has now a Mrs. Pryor, is heading a Philadelphia news sheet... T. Yoseloff (he of the anti d. a. attitude) is in New York, at a publisher's... I'm not holding my breath until that long-awaited novel comes off the press...

And remember... Never do today what can well be put off until tomorrow. (It's a rule for better living!)

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK R. J. Scott

THE OLDEST STREET IN AMERICA IS IN ACOMA, NEW MEXICO—ACOMA WAS A THRIVING COMMUNITY LONG BEFORE THE WHITE MAN CAME TO THE WESTERN CONTINENT

A PAIR OF WOOD TICKS—ONE HUNGRY, ONE GORGED WITH A DOG'S BLOOD—LOOK LIKE ENTIRELY DIFFERENT CREATURES—THESE RELATIVES OF SPIDERS HAVE RECORD STORAGE SPACE FOR FOOD

POSTAGE STAMPS OF INDIA ARE PRINTED IN VARIOUS LANGUAGES

THE SHANNON IS THE LONGEST RIVER IN THE BRITISH ISLES

RECORD STORAGE SPACE FOR FOOD

A Man ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER ABOVE THE CLOUDS—Reflections on spasm bands, voodoo drugstores, wrought lace iron work balconies and a thousand other facets peculiar to fabulous New Orleans:

Chicago and Southern's rary Lockheed is 7,000 feet above the delta... We're clipping along at 181 miles per hour... But I can't hear the motors... The only thing I hear is the throbbing jangle of a New Orleans spasm band... Ever hear one? A spasm band is a miscellaneous collection of Negroes playing on pan toms, soap boxes, broomsticks, tin cans, and gongs... They play in jitterbug fashion, wandering the streets like strolling minstrels and serenading anybody for a dime.

Ever hear of anger powder? That's one of the gaudy little items obtainable in voodoo drugstores... You have to be known to get in one of them... Then you are treated to this weird assortment of conjure stuff: dragon's blood, mad luck water, de-light powder, black cat oil, hell's devil powder, and snake root. There are scores of other items I could name but their unprintable in a family newspaper. Cost you from two bits to a dollar for bits each.

As we spiraled above Shushan airport and lit out across Lake Pontchartrain our position was 29 degrees 56 minutes North Latitude; 90 degrees 84 minutes West Longitude... That's where New Orleans is... But from where we are there isn't any New Orleans now... She's just a bend in the river.

Marguerite Clark's lovely home on St. Charles avenue has been sold to Robert Eddy, the furniture man, and she's in New York... And not far above her home is Loyola university. It's so close to Tulane that you can sit in a Loy

Standings

NATIONAL LEAGUE W. L. Pct. G. B. Pittsburgh 70 46 .603 New York 65 52 .556 Chicago 65 54 .546 Cincinnati 64 55 .538 Boston 58 58 .500 St. Louis 54 63 .462 Brooklyn 54 63 .462 Philadelphia 37 76 .327

Yesterday's Results Boston 8; Cincinnati 4 Pittsburgh 6; Philadelphia 1 Brooklyn 4; Chicago 1 St. Louis 12; New York 3

AMERICAN LEAGUE W. L. Pct. G. B. New York 82 37 .689 Boston 68 47 .591 Cleveland 65 52 .556 Washington 60 59 .504 Detroit 59 59 .500 Chicago 49 65 .430 St. Louis 43 73 .374 Philadelphia 42 76 .356

Yesterday's Results St. Louis 8-6; Philadelphia 5-5 Detroit 12; Washington 11 New York 8-13; Cleveland 7-0 Boston 19-1; Chicago 6-0

Today's Hurlers NEW YORK (AP) - Probable pitchers in the major leagues today: American League St. Louis at New York-Newson (16-10) vs. Ruffing (18-4) Detroit at Boston-Gill (10-5) vs. Dickman (5-3) Chicago at Philadelphia (2) - Whitehead (7-8) and Knott (4-9) vs. E. Smith (3-8) and Ross (7-11) Cleveland at Washington-Harder (12-9) vs. Weaver (7-5)

National League New York at Cincinnati-Schumacher (10-7) vs. Weaver (4-3) Brooklyn at Pittsburgh-Fitzsimmons (9-6) vs. Batters (9-10) Philadelphia at Chicago (2) - Mulcahy (6-17) and Passeau (9-13) vs. Lee (16-8) and Page (2-2) Boston at St. Louis (2) - Erickson (5-6) and Hutchinson (5-8) or Macfayden (11-5) vs. Weiland (13-9) and Davis (10-6)

Baseball's Big Six Player Club G. A. B. R. H. P. C. F. x. R Sox 115 436 105 154 353 Tr'sky, S'n's 114 440 79 155 352 L'm'b'd'i, R'd's 99 377 45 131 347 Tr'sky, Ind. 115 420 84 144 343 Av'r'll, Ind. 115 414 92 142 343 W'n't'r, Phil's 65 234 34 76 338 V'gh'n Pr't's 117 431 69 141 327

Bees Snatch Fourth in Row From Cincy CINCINNATI, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Boston Bees made a clean sweep of the four game series with the Cincinnati Reds by an 8 to 4 victory today.

BOSTON ABRHOAE DiMaggio, cf 3 1 0 0 0 0 Gorman, rf 4 2 1 0 2 0 Cuccinello, 2b 4 2 1 0 2 0 Fletcher, 1b 4 2 1 0 2 0 West, if 4 2 1 0 0 0 Lopez, 3b 3 0 0 1 2 0 Hitchcock, ss 3 0 0 3 2 2 Fette, p 4 0 1 0 1 0 Totals 33 8 27 15 3

CINCINNATI ABRHOAE Myers, cf 5 0 1 3 2 0 Cooke, if 4 0 2 3 0 0 Goodman, rf 5 0 1 0 0 0 McCormick, 2b 4 0 0 7 1 0 Lombardi, 1b 4 0 0 5 1 2 Herberger, c 0 0 0 0 0 0 Craft, cf 4 0 0 0 0 0 Froy, 2b 4 1 1 5 2 0 Lange, 3b 3 2 1 0 0 0 Moore, p 2 0 0 0 0 0 Schott, p 2 0 0 4 0 0 Zambie, p 1 0 0 0 0 0 Totals 36 4 9 27 13 3

Browns Buy Bidill ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Browns announced last night purchase of Emil Bidill, southpaw curveball artist with Springfield of the Three-Eye league, to report next spring.

Bucs Finally Upset Phillies to Salvage Series Finale

SPORTS The Daily Iowan SPORTS STATE NATIONAL WORLD WIDE LOCAL

Pearson Pitches No-Hitter

Yankee Mound Ace Completely Subdues Cleveland Indians In Turning in 13 to 0 Shutout

By SID FEDER NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—Monte Marcellus Pearson, the New York Yankees' classy curve-baller who looks like a million dollars when his control is right, tossed his right-hand slants into baseball's Hall of Fame today with a no-hit, no-run pitching performance against the Cleveland Indians.

Working with only two days rest since his last assignment, the six-foot Californian allowed just two men to reach base—both on walks—as he became the first American league hurler to turn the trick since Bill Dietrich did it in June of the 1937 campaign. Since then, Johnny Vander Meer, who posted two-in-a-row two months ago, has been the only no-hitter.

Pearson picked his old mates, the Indians, as the victims of his curving class in the nightcap of a doubleheader, and let a crowd of 40,959 in on the fun. He retired the first nine batters to face him, walked Lyn Lary and Bruce Campbell at the start of the fourth and then finished up by getting the last 18 in a row.

As Bruce Campbell fled out to left to end the game, hundreds of fans rushed onto the field and Monte had to fight his way into the club dressing rooms.

His mates backed him up with a 13-hit attack, including two homers apiece by Tommy Henrich and Joe Gordon, to give Pearson his tenth win in a row this year, by a 13-0 margin. The Yanks made it a holiday by sweeping the twin bill, taking the opener 8-7 on Joe DiMaggio's two-run triple in the ninth inning. That three-bagger was DiMaggio's third of the game, equalling the major league record in that respect.

Pearson's no-hitter today is the third ever turned in by a Yankee pitcher in history. Sad Sam Jones did it back in 1923, and Tom Hughes accomplished the stunt in 1910 for nine innings, but lost the game in the tenth.

Monte Mows Down First Nine Men In Entering Hall of Fame

By SID FEDER NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—Monte Marcellus Pearson, the New York Yankees' classy curve-baller who looks like a million dollars when his control is right, tossed his right-hand slants into baseball's Hall of Fame today with a no-hit, no-run pitching performance against the Cleveland Indians.

Working with only two days rest since his last assignment, the six-foot Californian allowed just two men to reach base—both on walks—as he became the first American league hurler to turn the trick since Bill Dietrich did it in June of the 1937 campaign. Since then, Johnny Vander Meer, who posted two-in-a-row two months ago, has been the only no-hitter.

Pearson picked his old mates, the Indians, as the victims of his curving class in the nightcap of a doubleheader, and let a crowd of 40,959 in on the fun. He retired the first nine batters to face him, walked Lyn Lary and Bruce Campbell at the start of the fourth and then finished up by getting the last 18 in a row.

As Bruce Campbell fled out to left to end the game, hundreds of fans rushed onto the field and Monte had to fight his way into the club dressing rooms.

His mates backed him up with a 13-hit attack, including two homers apiece by Tommy Henrich and Joe Gordon, to give Pearson his tenth win in a row this year, by a 13-0 margin. The Yanks made it a holiday by sweeping the twin bill, taking the opener 8-7 on Joe DiMaggio's two-run triple in the ninth inning. That three-bagger was DiMaggio's third of the game, equalling the major league record in that respect.

Pearson's no-hitter today is the third ever turned in by a Yankee pitcher in history. Sad Sam Jones did it back in 1923, and Tom Hughes accomplished the stunt in 1910 for nine innings, but lost the game in the tenth.

Ready to Dent Redskins' Tomahawks

CHUCK LED ALL THE OTHER STARS IN THE POLL TO SELECT THE COLLEGIATE TEAM AND WILL BE HONORED WITH HIS PICTURE ON THE PROGRAM COVER.

Eyston Shatters Mark

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, UTAH, Aug. 27 (AP)—Captain George E. T. Eyston of England fired his black racing car, "Thunderbolt," over the flats here today at 345.49 miles an hour, hoisted his own world land speed record 34.07 an hour and set the scene for an unparalleled speed duel.

Eyston, jubilant over breaking his mark of 311.42 miles an hour set here last November, said he would not return to London immediately.

Monday the crown prince of speed, John Cobb, also of London, will bring his sleek, button-shaped racer, "Railton," out in an attempt to better Eyston's new mark.

Although he declined to announce it flatly, the lank, scholarly speed king will remain to race his seven-ton juggernaut again should Cobb shatter the 345-mark.

Following today's run, Eyston's eight English mechanics tore the racer down to groom it for further runs.

Salt dust pluming a half mile behind his 24-cylindere car, Eyston rocketed through the north-bound measured mile at 347.59 miles an hour. Before entering the measured stretch, center mile of the 13-mile straightaway, Eyston momentarily cut his motor. Because of this, his time for the kilometer was 346.81 miles an hour, slightly slower than the mile speed.

"That mile seemed about 100 yards long," Eyston said. After a 40 minute pit stop on the north end of the track, during which time the eight tires on "Thunderbolt" were changed, the giant car, painted black except for the stabilizing fin, roared back to come through the mile at 343.51 miles an hour.

He did the south bound kilometer at 344.15 miles an hour. His average time for the kilometer was 345.31 miles an hour. The old record, held by Eyston, was 312.20 miles per hour.

Showing not a trace of nervousness, Eyston said he had a "comfortable" ride. He explained the car was by no means at full throttle and that "Thunderbolt" is capable of hitting the speed of last Wednesday's southbound run, nullified by failure of an electric eye timing device.

War Admiral Wins SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—War Admiral and El Chico, America's greatest turf champions, romped to easy victories yesterday to close the nation's most clearly defined racing season.

Philadelphia's 192-108-69-1 Pittsburgh's 192-108-69-1 Runs batted in—L. Warner, Brack, Brandt, Thevenow. Two base hits—Todd, Brack. Double plays—D. Young to Weintrub; Scharen to D. Young to Weintrub; Scharen to D. Young to Weintrub. Passau 5 in 5. Wild pitch—Hollingsworth. Loss in 4 pitcher—Hollingsworth. Umpires—Goetz, Reardon and Pinell. Attendance—4,932.

TAKE A TIP See this picture! It may help you win part of the $250,000 prizes in big MOVIE QUIZ

STRAND NOW! Listed as "Choice" by Time Magazine, also excellent reviews from New Yorker and Stage Magazines!

TODAY AT THE ENGLERT! The ENGLERT! Love and glory on America's last frontier! JOAN BENNETT RANDOLPH SCOTT "THE TEXANS"

Little Miss THOROUGHBREED NOW TUESDAY EVEN GREATER THAN THEY SAY IT IS

ADDITIONAL SPORTS on Next Page

NICE AND COOL PASTIME THEATRE AIR CONDITIONED Only 26c Any Time TODAY MONDAY EVEN MARK TWAIN would say "Perfect!" if he could see the characters of his famous book spring to life!

THE ADVENTURES OF TOM SAWYER TOM KELLY JACKIE MORAN MAY ROBSON IN TECHNICOLOR NEWS Mickey Mouse ALSO TYRONE POWER ALICE FAYE DON AMECHE ETHEL MERMAN JACK HALEY A 20th Century-Fox Picture

Hamlin, Dodgers Beat Cubs, 4-1

Brooklyn Stops Cubs' Winning Streak at Four

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers bunched their hits today to whip the Cubs 4 to 1 behind the six-hit pitching of Luke Hamlin.

The Dodgers hit safely in only three innings, and scored each time, with old Charley Root being charged with all the runs. Jack Russell and Dizzy Dean succeeded Root in the final two frames.

Babe Phelps led the Dodgers at attack with two doubles and a single, driving two runs across.

The win ended Brooklyn's six-game losing streak and stopped the Cubs winning run at four.

BROOKLYN	ABR	H	O	A	E
Rosen, rf	4	0	1	2	0
Hammitt, cf	4	0	0	2	0
Koy, cf	4	1	1	4	0
Phelps, c	4	2	3	2	0
Lavagetto, 3b	4	0	1	1	0
Camilli, 1b	4	0	0	0	0
Durocher, ss	4	0	1	2	0
Hudson, 2b	4	0	2	2	0
Hamlin, p	4	1	0	7	0
Totals	35	4	8	27	0

CHICAGO	ABR	H	O	A	E
Jurgens, ss	4	0	1	0	2
Herman, 2b	4	0	0	4	0
Hack, 3b	4	0	1	2	0
Galan, lf	4	0	1	0	0
Reynolds, cf	4	0	1	0	0
Cavarretta, rf	4	0	1	0	0
O'Desa, c	4	0	1	0	0
Collins, 1b	4	0	1	1	0
Root, p	4	0	0	0	0
Russell, p	1	0	0	0	0
Deane, p	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	1	6	27	0

Brooklyn 4, Chicago 1. Runs batted in—Phelps 2, Lavagetto 1, Camilli 1, Galan 1. Two base hits—Koy, Phelps 2, Lavagetto. Three base hit—Hack. Double play—Durocher to Camilli. Left on bases—Brooklyn 4, Chicago 4. Struck out—by Root 3, Dean 3, Hits—off Root 7 in 7 innings (none out in 8th); off Russell 1 in 1 inning; off Dean 0 in 1 inning. Losing pitcher—Root.

Umpires—Barr, Stark and Stewart. Time—1:47. Official attendance—19,925.

Cards Pound Terrymen To Triumph, 12-3

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Cardinals climbed aboard three pitchers for 16 hits and a lop-sided 12-3 victory over the New York Giants today.

While Fiddler McGee pitched steady ball over the route, the Cards scored two runs in the second on Johnny Mize's 21st homer of the year, added three more in the third on four hits, and wound up with a big six-run spurge in the sixth.

George Myatt hit a homer for the Giants, the second of his big league career.

The defeat dropped the Giants 5 1/2 games behind the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates.

NEW YORK	ABR	H	O	A	E
J. Moore, lf	5	1	2	3	0
Myatt, 2b	5	1	1	1	0
Dunning, c	5	0	2	1	0
Speda, cf	5	1	2	0	0
Rippel, rf	5	0	1	1	0
Clell, 3b	5	0	2	3	0
Bartel, ss	5	0	2	3	1
McCarthy, 1b	5	0	3	1	2
Lohmann, p	5	0	0	0	0
Leslie, p	1	0	0	0	0
Wittig, p	1	0	0	0	0
McGee, p	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	35	3	13	24	1

ST. LOUIS	ABR	H	O	A	E
T. Moore, cf	4	2	2	0	0
S. Martin, 2b	5	2	1	3	0
Fadgett, rf	5	3	3	0	0
Medwick, lf	5	0	1	1	0
Bordagary, cf	5	0	0	1	0
Mize, 1b	4	1	2	1	0
Gutteridge, 3b	5	0	1	2	0
Myers, ss	5	0	1	2	0
Bremer, c	5	1	2	0	0
McGee, p	5	0	2	1	1
Totals	40	12	27	10	0

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Cardinals climbed aboard three pitchers for 16 hits and a lop-sided 12-3 victory over the New York Giants today.

While Fiddler McGee pitched steady ball over the route, the Cards scored two runs in the second on Johnny Mize's 21st homer of the year, added three more in the third on four hits, and wound up with a big six-run spurge in the sixth.

George Myatt hit a homer for the Giants, the second of his big league career.

The defeat dropped the Giants 5 1/2 games behind the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates.

Browns, Athletics Officially Eliminated

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—The American League pennant race officially became a six-club affair today.

When the Yankees won two games from Cleveland, it marked the 81st and 82nd victories of the year for the New Yorkers. The seventh-place St. Louis Browns, with 43 victories and 38 games left to play, can only win 81 games, even if they take the rest of their schedule, and the last-place Athletics, with 42 wins and 36 still to play, can only win 78.

Field hockey is booming among sportswomen of India. Leagues have been formed and games are drawing large crowds.

Patty Berg Wins Tourney

Edith Estabrooks Is Beaten in Women's Western, 4 and 3

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Patty Berg, the redhead golfing marvel from Minneapolis, demonstrated her complete domination of 1938 women's golf today when she defeated Edith Estabrooks, 17 year old school girl from Dubuque, Ia., 4 and 3 in the 36-hole final for the women's western closed championship at Olympia Fields Country club.

The 20-year-old Patricia, chewing gum as if her life depended upon it, smashed all women's scoring records on the championship No. 4 course in accomplishing her victory.

She shot an amazing 37-37-74 round, five under women's par, and only four over men's par, to lead the sturdy little bespectacled Iowa girl 7 up at the conclusion of the 48-hole morning round. She lost only one hole, and registered three birdies, an eagle and 13 pars in her astonishing flight.

Edith Rallies
Facing probably the worst defeat in the 38 years of the tournament, Miss Estabrooks, daughter of a fee course operator in Dubuque, staged a remarkable comeback at the start of the final 18 when she carded a 38, one under par, for the first nine.

She played the next hole in two under par. Patty struggled to play the first 15 holes in two over par.

The Iowa miss outplayed her freckled opponent from tee to green most of the afternoon round. In order to get halves Patty was forced to sink sensational putts.

Miss Estabrooks fought gamely and had Patty's margin to three up on the 14th. Then Patty, anxious to end the struggle, turned on the heat.

She trapped her drive on the long 15th but was out with a great shot from the sand. Edith had driven into the trees and took four to get on. Patty fired her third shot to within six feet of the cup and dropped the putt.

This gave the Minneapolis miss the victory she wanted—her first western closed championship. Previously she had won the women's western derby at 72 holes with a record breaking 308. In 12 tournament starts this year she has emerged victorious nine times.

Tigers Outslug Nats in Wild 12-11 Fracas

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers defeated the Senators today, 12 to 11, in a slugfest which moved the Bengals to within half a game of Washington's fourth-place position.

Hank Greenberg drove his forty-fourth home run of the season high into the centerfield bleachers and started a five-run rally. Zeke Bonura countered with his eighteenth home run while earlier Al Simmons slammed No. 17 for him.

The Senators scored two runs in the ninth, but with two out and the tying run on first Bonura fled out to Morgan.

DETROIT	ABR	H	O	A	E
Morgan, cf	5	2	3	0	0
Walker, lf	5	2	0	0	0
Gehring, 1b	5	0	1	1	0
Greenberg, 1b	5	1	1	0	0
York, c	5	2	1	0	0
Bonura, 2b	5	1	1	0	0
Piet, 3b	5	1	2	3	0
Christman, ss	5	1	2	4	0
Lawson, cf	5	0	0	0	0
Coffman, p	5	0	0	0	0
Wade, p	5	0	0	0	0
Kennedy, p	5	0	0	0	0
Totals	37	12	15	27	14

WASHINGTON	ABR	H	O	A	E
Case, rf	5	3	2	0	0
Leahy, 3b	5	3	2	0	0
Travis, ss	5	2	2	0	0
Bonura, 2b	5	1	1	0	0
Simmons, lf	5	1	1	0	0
Myer, 2b	5	0	1	0	0
Perrell, c	5	0	2	3	1
Leonard, p	5	0	1	0	0
Wright, p	5	0	0	0	0
Chase, p	5	0	0	0	0
Hogsett, p	5	0	0	0	0
Deshong, p	5	0	0	0	0
xWardell, p	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	44	11	19	27	16

NEW TRAINING GRIND
COLORADO SPRINGS (AP)—"Red" Wade, former Utah State tackle who will report to the Cleveland Rams this season, kept in shape this summer by running up and down stairs as a hotel detective in this resort center. He weighs 215.

Boston Sox Grab Two Games From Chicagoans, 19-6, 1-0

Double Victory Moves Browns Out of Cellar

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27 (AP)—Four home runs today moved the St. Louis Browns out of the American league cellar by giving them a double victory over the Athletics 8 to 3, and 6 to 5.

Harold Clift and George McQuinn drove in five of the eight runs off Nelson Potter in the first game. Mel Almada blasted one of George Caster's pitches over the right field fence with one on in the ninth inning to win the second game after the A's had taken a 4-0 lead.

Two southpaws, Howard Mills and Russ Van Atta, were the winning pitchers for St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS	ABR	H	O	A	E
Almada, cf	5	2	3	4	0
Philadelph, 1b	5	1	1	1	0
B. Mills, lf	5	1	1	1	0
Clift, 3b	5	2	3	2	0
Warner, 2b	5	1	1	1	0
Kress, ss	5	1	2	0	0
Heath, c	5	0	0	0	0
Wagner, p	5	0	0	0	0
H. Mills, p	5	0	1	2	0
Totals	38	14	27	10	2

PHILADELPHIA	ABR	H	O	A	E
Van Atta, 1b	5	0	1	3	0
Flaney, lf	5	1	0	4	0
Sperry, 2b	5	1	1	4	0
Siebert, 3b	5	1	1	1	0
Johnson, cf	5	0	0	3	0
Wagner, p	5	0	0	0	0
Hayes, c	5	0	0	2	0
Amber, ss	5	0	0	2	0
Potter, p	5	0	0	0	0
xChapman, p	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	35	5	9	27	0

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Browns today won two games from the Athletics 8 to 3, and 6 to 5.

Harold Clift and George McQuinn drove in five of the eight runs off Nelson Potter in the first game. Mel Almada blasted one of George Caster's pitches over the right field fence with one on in the ninth inning to win the second game after the A's had taken a 4-0 lead.

Two southpaws, Howard Mills and Russ Van Atta, were the winning pitchers for St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS	ABR	H	O	A	E
Almada, cf	5	1	2	1	0
McQuinn, 1b	5	0	1	0	0
B. Mills, lf	5	1	2	0	0
Clift, 3b	5	2	3	0	0
Bell, rf	5	2	2	0	0
Kress, ss	5	1	3	1	0
Sullivan, c	5	0	1	7	0
Hefner, 2b	5	1	0	1	0
Hughes, 2b	5	0	0	2	0
Wagner, p	5	0	1	1	0
xMazera, p	1	0	0	0	0
F. Johnson, p	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	39	6	14	27	0

PHILADELPHIA	ABR	H	O	A	E
Moss, rf	5	0	0	4	0
Sperry, 2b	5	0	2	3	2
Chapman, lf	5	0	0	0	0
Flaney, cf	5	0	0	0	0
Siebert, 3b	5	0	0	1	0
R. Johnson, cf	5	1	1	4	0
Warner, 2b	5	0	0	2	0
Wagner, p	5	0	0	0	0
Amber, ss	5	1	3	4	0
Caster, p	5	0	0	0	0
Totals	42	3	8	27	9

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers defeated the Senators today, 12 to 11, in a slugfest which moved the Bengals to within half a game of Washington's fourth-place position.

Hank Greenberg drove his forty-fourth home run of the season high into the centerfield bleachers and started a five-run rally. Zeke Bonura countered with his eighteenth home run while earlier Al Simmons slammed No. 17 for him.

The Senators scored two runs in the ninth, but with two out and the tying run on first Bonura fled out to Morgan.

Cleveland WPA Worker Wins National Public Links Crown

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27 (AP)—A diminutive Cleveland WPA worker—with the courage of a Dempsey when it counted most—became the home town boy who made good and the new national public links golf champion today.

Al Leach, 26-year-old WPA timekeeper, won the title by defeating the equally game Louis Cyr, railroad worker from Portland, Ore., one up, in a spectacular 36-hole match which saw Cyr, after being six down at the 28th hole, storm back to square the duel on the 34th green.

At that point Leach, who apparently had "cracked" wide open, steadied like a champion. He halved the 35th and then lashed out a terrific drive far over the creek which wrecked the hopes of so many players. He was on the green 15 feet from the pin two as Cyr drove into the green in three. Leach ran his putt to within six inches of the cup and Cyr, after his fourth run on past the hole, conceded the match.

The first Cleveland player ever to win the Daily Fee course title, Leach played such brilliant golf in the morning round that the match assumed the proportions of a rout. One up after nine holes, he raced over the inward stretch in 32 shots, three under par, to go to lunch with a five hole edge.

He fired six pars and three birdies from the 10th through the 18th—and Cyr appeared a beaten man. But the 31-year-old Oregon

Education Chief Blueprints An Educational Utopia for Future

Your child, and 30,000,000 others in the United States, will soon be going back to school. We have an educational system that's second to none, yet it's far from perfect. How can it be improved? The AP Feature Service asked the United States Commissioner of Education to answer that. Here is his unusually frank and illuminating answer:

Needs, Not Credits
That, in brief, is my idea of a college or university. It is an institution which thinks of service to adolescents and adults in terms of their needs rather than merely to terms of college degrees or credits.

In my educational scheme I wouldn't forget that controversy is an inescapable part of the democratic process. It is one of the vital elements of democracy at work. One of the biggest contributions that the secondary school and college can make is to train in the discussion of controversial issues. Yet I have known of school situations in which the discussion of controversial issues has been prohibited.

Adequate provision for the mutual exchange of ideas and beliefs is indispensable to the achievement of the "abundant life" to the further development of democracy. It forestalls dictatorship. Recognition that controversies are natural in a free society keeps alive processes involved in the exchange of ideas. The greatest need of this country today, if we are to insure the development of a civilization yet undreamed of, is the widespread acceptance of fair rules under which honest differences of opinion may be expressed—a national sportsmanship in intellectual conflict which is comparable to the sportsmanship which we have developed in many other fields.

The job, now a part of women's wearing apparel, formerly was the ruffle on the front of men's shirts.

Quadruple Colleges
I would quadruple the college enrollment and increase the number of colleges if necessary. Result—4,000,000 students in college (four-sevenths of the entire college-age group) instead of 1,300,000.

I would see to it that those who do not attend or complete college as well as all college graduates, except those relatively few who expect to continue their training in professional schools, were made vocationally competent to earn their living before leaving school or college.

While the broad purpose of education is to "make a life," one's life may be ruined if he cannot make a living. I would give the students as much general education as possible while achieving one of the basic purposes of adolescent and adult education, which is to equip people to work. If college graduates could be self-supporting they would be more inclined and more able to marry earlier than they now do. That would be natural.

I would organize education from nursery school through adult life in a thoroughly democratic scheme in which the learners could share more readily and completely their common knowledge, ideas, and aspirations.

"It Could Be Done"
That seems like a large order doesn't it? But it could be accomplished. Take the ordinary high-school student—and 64,000,000 out of the 76,000,000 people in the country didn't finish high school—we think he must be stuffed with all the information an adult needs. It is assumed that his education largely stops after high school.

The result? Much of the subject matter is beyond him and, therefore, doesn't really interest him. How can a high-school student get a grasp of the whole field of government when he hasn't yet reached the voting age and in that important sense he is not actually helping to manage the government? As an adult he is more concerned about governmental matters because he is engaged in the management of his community and of the country in general.

While I would increase college facilities I would not expect that all colleges would offer the same opportunities. Moreover, more of the colleges would offer a great variety of opportunities designed to appeal to the different interests and aptitudes of the students.

I would like to see more courses planned to meet the needs of special groups. The farmers go to college at the University of Minnesota, for example, to take a two-week intensive course in

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10				11		12
13		14	15		16		17
18	19		20				21
22		23			24
25

AFRAID TO MARRY

CHAPTER 1
JUDY ROGERS slim, browned hand was actually trembling as she dialed Craig Denby's telephone number. She looked at it in astonishment. It was ridiculous for her nerves to grow acrobatic just because she was telephoning a tall young man, with luminous blue eyes that could be very serious when he said, "I love you," and a profile that would have meant better business for Hollywood.

The hand wobbled a little more. So Judy hung up.
 She met her own reflection in the long mirror of her dressing table. No, she hadn't changed much since morning. No one, unless he looked deeply into her brown eyes, could tell that she wanted to cry. Wanted to cry dreadfully. The dark hair, that she wore in a long bob on her slender neck, curled just as it always had. Her tilted nose retained its seven freckles, donated by the summer's swimming, golfing and tennis.

Outwardly nothing about her had changed. Nothing at all. That was funny—your whole life could be upset and yet you looked the same. But inwardly...
 She clutched the telephone again, and sank back among the flowered cushions of the chaise longue. This time her hand was steady on the dial.

She loved Craig. She had known it all summer. She had not realized how much until lately. Now she wished that she had told him so Thursday night when he had asked her, as he had been doing for so long now. Thursday night—that was four days ago—she and Craig had been dinner guests at the Bantrees, on Long Island. Late in the evening they had gone walking, along the terrace, and Craig, tall and handsome in white flannels and blue coat, had caught her hands with swift impatience.

"Judy, sweet, how many more times must I ask you to marry me before you'll say 'yes'? Or aren't you going to say it, my darling?"
 She had worn a white chiffon dress whose ruffles were edged with silver, and there had been silver leaves in her black hair, silver slippers on her feet. The dress was new...

"The last new dress I'll have for a long, long time," she murmured now. For she would marry Craig because she loved him, but she would not let him buy her any dresses or shoes. Not even a powder puff! Not until he understood that she was coming to him because she wanted to, not because a headline in the paper had frightened her.

If only, only she had told him she loved him before!
 While the telephone pealed in Craig's apartment far across the city, Judy remembered her answer to Craig on the moon-bright terrace, with a blue sea far below.

"I'm afraid, Craig. Haven't I told you before?"
 "But I'll cure your fear. We'll be happy forever!"
 She had been sweet and serious in the moonlight. "Forever is such a long word, Craig. And it doesn't stretch down the years. If love lasted—but it doesn't! My mother and my father were divorced when I was six! Aunt Polly's been married three times. Your own parents, too, Craig! And at boarding school there were so many of us from broken homes, we had a D.D. club—daughters of divorce. No, Craig, I'm afraid of marriage!"

"You've said all of this before, honey," Craig had reproved her. "Let's skip it. Here's the issue! Judy, do you love me?"
 She did. But if she told him so, he would sweep all of her fears into the shining sea. So she hesitated, and in that moment someone joined them. Sooner or later, though, she knew she would marry Craig. Maybe love deceived you, but you couldn't hold out against it forever.

The bell was ringing loudly in Craig's apartment, but he did not answer. She waited. He must, he must be there!
 As he left her Thursday night he had said: "I'm going away for the week-end, Judy. I'll be back sometime about noon Monday. At the apartment, probably. I'll give you a ring."

Well, he hadn't. So she was telephoning him.
 "Hello!" That was Craig. But his voice sounded drowsy. Half asleep.
 "Craig, it's Judy!"
 "Judy! And what are you doing up at the crack of dawn, my sweet one?"

"It isn't the crack of dawn, young man. It's a quarter of 12. I thought you were just in from the country."
 There was a pause, almost as though he wondered just how to pattern his next words.
 He was speaking. "I came home late last night, Judy. Or early this morning, if you want to be literal. I threw my weary bones across the bed and forgot there was a world until the telephone rang."
 She laughed. She couldn't stop. It was prompted by relief. So

Craig had not read the news. He didn't know that her father was bankrupt, wiped out, penniless.
 "Craig, darling—I want to see you."
 "A ticket for speeding again?"
 "Much more serious."
 "You were impudent with the cop and it didn't go?"
 It was such foolish chatter. Why didn't he drop it? Why prolong the banter?
 Or why couldn't she come right out and say: "Craig, I do love you. You asked me to let you know when I was ready. And my father's finances have nothing, nothing to do with that. Oh, please, believe me, Craig! To prove it I won't let you give me one thing. I won't marry until I have a job. Only keep loving me."
 But she didn't say it. Maybe she wouldn't have anyway, but Craig interrupted before she could speak again.
 "Judy, I have an important announcement. Listening?" Again a pause, so brief it almost didn't happen. Then: "Honey, I was married last night."
 "Oh, Craig!" She hadn't heard him correctly, of course. Or he was teasing her. Craig was going to marry her, Judy Rogers! Hadn't he been asking her for years... three of them, anyway? But she must answer him lightly—"With a book and a ring and a bride, Craig?" she asked, forcing her husky voice to follow a gay pattern.
 "The prettiest bride you ever saw, Judy. We went to Greenwich. It was all so sudden, you see..."
 "Yes, yes, of course." So he was married. Married to some strange person, or maybe not strange. She must find out.
 "Whom did you marry, Craig? Do I know her?"
 "I don't think so. I didn't either until I met her at the house party. She's Mary Banner, a southern girl, minister's daughter and all that, who's been doing bits on the radio."
 A moment before the wire that carried Judy's voice to Craig had been a shining, vibrant cord that drew them close. Now he was—somebody else's husband.
 Because she had to breathe deeply before she could answer him, the man spoke quickly, concern in his deep tones.
 "Judy, are you all right?"
 "Of course, nut. It was a shock, that's all. When your favorite beau comes back from a week-end with a charming bride, you silly goof, a girl has a right to a few gasps. Here I was depending on your devotion until I was a nice old lady!"
 He laughed, and she knew that he did not suspect that a crack was beginning in her heart, growing wider and wider, just as a crevice started in the earth when there was to be a crater.
 "Judy, you were right about everything. If you had ever intended to agree to my repeated request, you would have done it right off the bat. You had more sense than I had. Some day you'll meet a better guy who'll knock your fears into a jelly bean."
 "I could make you a bet on it, Craig, but I'd win hands down," she heard her voice answering. "Marry? Not ever! Craig was gone, and with him her last belief that maybe, just maybe, love could last. But she must talk. "But I haven't congratulated you at all. I do, with all my heart. Tell Mary Banner she has my favorite choice of husband, if I wanted one, and I want to see her soon!"
 "You will. She went back to her own apartment last night to pack up. We're taking a short cruise, leaving this evening. We'll see you when we get back, Judy."
 She hung up. The long room had not changed. Only she, Judy Rogers, was different. Craig was gone. The pain she experienced was so real, so cold, she jumped up and began to change her dress quickly.
 Her father's money was gone, too. That thought gave her an idea. She picked up the telephone again and dialed another number. She asked for her father's attorney.
 "Is it important, Miss Rogers?" the man's secretary asked, and she discerned the pity that threaded the girl's tones. Pity, and yet secret joy that Judy Rogers, the most popular debutante of her season, three years before, had slipped from her pedestal with the going of her father's fortune.
 "I'm afraid so, Miss Martin. My father wanted Mr. Heaton to explain some of the intricacies of the—the financial upset to me. He's tied up in conferences, you see."
 "Just a moment, please."
 "Miss Rogers? Mr. Heaton is tied up in court today but he suggested I see you. This is Ronald Birrell. I joined the firm last month, you see. Suppose we make it a luncheon conference if you are free?"
 Ronald Birrell—she had heard of him.
 "Well, then, the Waldorf at 1?" she asked, naming a familiar luncheon place.
 (To Be Continued)

POPEYE

WIMPY FROGFUZZ SEZ KING CABOOSO WILL DECLARE WAR UNLESS SWEE'PEA APOLOGIZES FOR MAKIN' 'POOEY-FACES' AT HIM-- AN' I HATES WAR ON ACCOUNTA SOMEBODY MIGHT GET HURT!

SO I WANTS YOU AN' PAPPY TO STAY HERE IN DEMONIA WHILE WE'RE AWAY--MAYBE YOU KIN DO SOMETHIN' ABOUT THEM DERN DEMINGS!

I ASSURE YOU, MY FRIEND POPEYE, THAT I HAVE NO DESIRE TO DO ANYTHING ABOUT ANY DEMONS AND I HOPE THE DEMONS FEEL THE SAME WAY ABOUT ME!

YOU'RE AFRAID OF DEMINGS, THAT'S WHAT! YOU AINT GOT NO INTESKINAL-FORKITLIDE, WIMPY, AND IT'S TOO BAD YOU'RE AFRAID OF THEM...

... ON ACCOUNT I HEARS THAT DEMINGS MAKE BETTER HAMBURGERS THAN COWS!

Y'MM, DEMON-BURGERS, Y'MM-M-M

BLONDIE

HOW'S THAT AGAIN, BLONDIE?

CAN OF TOMATOES, POUND OF BUTTER, PACKAGE OF STARCH, MUSTARD AND TEA

TOMATOES, BUTTER, STARCH, MUSTARD AND TEA, TOMATOES--

--AN' JELLY-BEANS AND LICORICE STICKS

JELLY-BEANS AND COFFEE AND EGGS AND COFFEE...

HOW'S THAT AGAIN, BLONDIE?

HENRY

BRICK ENRAGED AT THE FLIGHT MASTER'S LACK OF CONFIDENCE IN HIS ABILITY AS AN AIR PILOT, DOES SOME FANCY STUNTS FOR THE MASTER'S "BENEFIT"

LAND THIS PLANE BEFORE YOU KILL US BOTH!

NOT UNTIL I SHOW YOU ONE MORE TRICK!

SEE THAT CLEFT MOUNTAIN PEAK! I CALL THIS SORT OF STUNT-- "THREADING THE NEEDLE!"

I'M FLYING THROUGH THAT GAP!

YOU DON'T DARE! IT'S SUICIDE!

BRICK BRADFORD

BRICK ENRAGED AT THE FLIGHT MASTER'S LACK OF CONFIDENCE IN HIS ABILITY AS AN AIR PILOT, DOES SOME FANCY STUNTS FOR THE MASTER'S "BENEFIT"

LAND THIS PLANE BEFORE YOU KILL US BOTH!

NOT UNTIL I SHOW YOU ONE MORE TRICK!

SEE THAT CLEFT MOUNTAIN PEAK! I CALL THIS SORT OF STUNT-- "THREADING THE NEEDLE!"

I'M FLYING THROUGH THAT GAP!

YOU DON'T DARE! IT'S SUICIDE!

ETTA KETT

The KETTIS are at the BAR-B-Q ranch here we find them packing away flap-jacks 'n' syrup...

RUN ALONG, DEAR! ENJOY YOURSELF-- I'M GOING TO PLAY BRIDGE!

I'LL BE AROUND!

H-M-M-M! NOT BAD! THINK I'LL SLAP MY BRAND ON YOU RIGHT PRONTO!

I HEARD THAT CRACK PETE APOLGIZE TO THE LADY-- OR REACH FER YER GUNS!

OH! YOU'VE SHOT HIM! HANGIN' WAS WHUT HE DESERVED, MAM! THE YALLER DOGS!

OLD HOME TOWN

RARE!!

GRACIOUS!-- WHAT AN ODD OLD KING LOUIE, WHAT ARE YOU ASKING FOR IT?

LADY, THAT'S NOT LOUIE, THAT IS MY HUSBAND. ABNER-- I KNOW BETTER THAN TO ASK ANYTHING OF HIM-- I JUST TELL HIM!

ROOM AND BOARD BY GENE AHERN

AH DON'T SEE YOUR HUSBAND AROUND ANYMO, MISSUS PUFFLE!-- IS HE GONE ON ONE OB THEM SCIENCE TRIPSES UP TO TH' NORT' POLE OR HUNTIN' BIG CATS IN AFRICA?-- IT MUST BE GRAND! HABIN' A SMAHT MAN LAK TH' JEDGE, ALWAYS GOIN' PLACES AN' DOIN' BIG THINGS! TAKE MY MARCELLUS,-- HE WON'T DO NUFFIN' BUT SIT AROUND ALL DAY WIF A LICORICE STICK IN HIS MOUF,-- THAT'S A CLARINET,-- PLAYIN' SWING MUSIC!

YES, HELIOTROPE, HE'S THE SALT OF THE EARTH! AND WHAT A SHAKING HE'LL GET WHEN HE COMES BACK HOME! THE BIG LAZY PLUG!

A NEARSIGHTED CITY ANTIQUE COLLECTOR WENT OVER MRS CHIZZLEWORTH'S COLLECTION LATE TODAY

ANTIQUE

Gene Ahern

AND THE OLD SALT MAY HAVE TO LIVE IN THE CELLAR

Gene Ahern

Gene Ahern

Ruth Arlowyn Marr Married To Ermal Loghry in Fairfield

Single Ring Ceremony Performed by Reverend Gable at 8 o'clock

Before the altar of the Barhydt chapel in Fairfield, Ruth Arlowyn Marr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Marr of Fairfield, and Ermal Loghry, son of Mrs. Wilma Loghry, 114 1-2 S. Dubuque street, were married in a single ring ceremony.

The altar was banked with palms, white flowers and fernery for the single ring service which was read by the Rev. Gable at 8 o'clock last evening.

An organ recital by Professor Moorehead preceded the vows, and Mrs. Arthur Turner of Wheaton, Ill., sang nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in a white satin gown fashioned on princess lines with a slight train, and leg-of-mutton sleeves. She wore a long veil and a strand of pearls which was a gift of the bridegroom.

The groom's attendants were Robert Gibbs of Iowa City, best man, Hugh Kelso, Richard Gibbs, of Iowa City, Thomas Marr Jr., and Robert Marr of Fairfield, brothers of the bride, ushers.

The bride's mother was gowned in a dusty pink lace frock over satin and wore a corsage of talisman roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a hyacinth blue silk marquisette over satin, and wore a corsage of gardenias.

A reception for 300 guests followed the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents. The couple will take a trip to Niagara Falls and Canada where they plan to stay about 10 days.

Mrs. Loghry graduated from Fairfield high school and from the University of Iowa. She attended Parsons college for two years, where she affiliated with Elsvior sorority. She has been teaching at Whitten for the last two years.

9 Convictions Are Secured

City Report Is Several Percentage Points Lower Than State Mark

Nine convictions in 21 cases of motorists arrested in Johnson county during the year ending June 30 for driving while intoxicated — several percentage points below the state average of six convictions for each 10 arrested — were reported by the state liquor commission last week.

Juries in the state found guilty 1,142 drivers of the 1,946 drivers taken into custody on the charge the report showed. Thirty-two counties listed 100 per cent conviction records, and three counties reported no arrests during the period for the offense.

Walters Given Farewell Party

Honoring Robert Walters of Peoria, Ill., who has been visiting at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Charles Borts, 817 Seventh avenue, a farewell party was given. He left Friday for his home.

Legion Post Plans Regular Month Meeting

Commander B. M. Ricketts announced last night that the Roy L. Chopek post of the American Legion will hold its regular monthly meeting Sept. 12, with an all-Legion supper Sept. 26.

The 40 and 8, honorary American Legion organization, will meet Sept. 5, in the Iowa City Community building, and the Legion auxiliary, Sept. 19.

Elmer Dewey Plays Host

Elmer Dewey took his annual turn at entertaining the past commanders of the Roy L. Chopek post of the American Legion at the Jefferson hotel last night.

TODAY With WSUI

THERE ARE NO WSUI BROADCASTS TODAY.

Tomorrow's Highlight Bill Bunn of Muscatine, assistant to Grant Wood, professor in the graphic and plastic arts department, will be interviewed at 2:30 tomorrow over WSUI by Paul Davee on the "American History in Art" broadcast.

Bunn has been engaged in mural work for several years, and is at present engaged in work upon a federal treasury department mural, depicting Ft. Kearney, Neb., a famous old fort on the Overland trail. The mural will hang in the Mendin, Neb., post office.

The Dubuque post office mural, which depicts an early Dubuque steamboat, was also one of Bunn's products.

Today's interview broadcast will present a birds-eye view of the mural-construction process.

Tomorrow's Program 8:45 a.m.—Morning melodies. 8:50 a.m.—Service reports. 9 a.m.—The Daily Iowan of the Air.

9:10 a.m.—Drum parade. 9:30 a.m.—The book shelf. 10 a.m.—Illustrated musical chats. 11 a.m.—Program calendar and weather report.

11:15 a.m.—Homemaker's chat. 11:30 a.m.—Yesterday's musical favorites. 11:50 a.m.—Farm flashes. 12 noon—Rhythm Rambles. 2 p.m.—Album of artists. 2:30 p.m.—American History in Art.

3 p.m.—Manhattan concert band. 3:15 p.m.—The Daily Almanac. 3:45 p.m.—Travel's radio review. 4 p.m.—Favorite melodies. 4:15 p.m.—Camera shots. 4:30 p.m.—Brooklyn symphony orchestra.

4:45 p.m.—Better vision. 5 p.m.—Musical moods. 5:30 p.m.—Sports time. 5:50 p.m.—The Daily Iowan of the Air. 6 p.m.—Dinner hour. 7 p.m.—Children's hour. 7:15 p.m.—Through the art galleries.

7:30 p.m.—Evening musicale. 7:45 p.m.—Iowa State Medical society. 8 p.m.—Famous short stories. 8:30 p.m.—Sports summary. 8:45 p.m.—The Daily Iowan of the Air.

Alice Eaton To Be Honored

Bride-to-Be Will Be Feted at Shower, Dinner Party

Honored in a number of courtesies before her wedding to Vette Eugene Kell on Sept. 3, Alice Eaton will be complimented at a miscellaneous shower given by three co-hostesses. The affair will be a dinner party at the home of Marion Whinery, 1023 Kirkwood avenue.

The hostesses will be Miss Whinery, Mrs. Jack R. Hughes, and Charlotte Whitmore.

The guest list will include, Miss Eaton, Alice McColister, Jayne McGovern, Helen Ries, Margaret Chittenden, Catherine Grimm, Anita Williams, Caroline Cole, Jean Strub, Mrs. Harry Waters, Edith Christensen, Margaret Ann Furrell, Suzanne Krueger, Julia McElhinney and Helen Anderson of Wellman.

Elmer Dewey Plays Host

Elmer Dewey took his annual turn at entertaining the past commanders of the Roy L. Chopek post of the American Legion at the Jefferson hotel last night.

Dinner was served at 6:30 p.m. in one of the hotel's private dining rooms. The dinner was followed by a smoker.

The previous commanders form a group that is entertained by each member once a year. Next month's host will be Attorney William R. Hart.

May Make Changes

Dean Wiley B. Rutledge of the college of law and William R. Hart, member of the state bar examining board, will be in Des Moines Sept. 15 to consider the important task of making suggestions for changes in state bar requirements.

The suggested changes will be submitted to the state supreme court in September and to the state legislature during its next session.

Bring the Family to CHURCH

First English Lutheran Dubuque and Market Ralph M. Krueger, pastor 8:30—Morning worship. The pastor will preach the sermon, "Two Prayers and Two Prayers." Included in the music will be "Cathedral Prelude" by Johannes Plag, "Cantilene," by Gabriel Pierre, and "Meditation," by Edmund Schubert, to be played by Mrs. Maud Whedon-Smith. A duet will be sung by Edythe and Dorothy Riecke.

9:30—Sunday school. The monthly meeting of the church on Thursday evening at church council will be held at 7:30 p.m.

Methodist Episcopal Church Dubuque and Jefferson Edwin Edgar Voigt, Robert Hoffman Hamill, Ministers 9:30—Church school. Beginners, primary and adult departments in session.

10:45—Morning worship with sermon by the Rev. Mr. Hamill, "Honesty in Speech and Action." Robert Caywood will sing the offertory solo, taking as his selection, "The Blind Ploughman," by Robert Clark. Mrs. Smith will play for organ numbers: "Improvisation," by Sumner Saller; "Andante," by Arensky; "Maestoso," by Urteaga. Nursery class during this service in charge of Dorothy Rankin.

7:45—Concert by the Rust college jubilee singers. A male quartet and contralto soloist will give a program of Negro spirituals and folk songs. Public invited. No admission. Silver offering taken.

Zion Lutheran Church Johnson and Bloomington Rev. A. C. Proehl, Pastor Due to the absence of the pastor, who is attending the district convention of the church, no Sunday school or divine service will be held on this Sunday.

St. Mary's Church Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. J. Schulte, P.A., Pastor, Rev. Hermon Strub, Assistant Pastor 6:30—First mass. 8—Children's mass. 10—High mass.

St. Patrick's Church Rev. Patrick O'Reilly Pastor; Rev. Harry Ryan, Assistant Pastor 5:45—Low mass. 7—Low mass. 8—Children's mass. 9:30—High mass.

St. Wenceslaus Church Rev. Edward W. Neuzil, Pastor; Rev. Donald Hayne, Assistant Pastor 6:30—Low mass. 7:30—Low mass. 9:30—High mass and benediction.

First Church of Christ, Scientist 722 East College 9:30—Sunday school. 11—Lesson-sermon. "Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Aug. 28.

The Golden Text is from Micah 5:2, "Thou Bethlehem Ephrathah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ruler of Israel; whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting."

The lesson-sermon comprises passages from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Wednesday, 8 p.m.—Testimonial meeting. The reading room at the same address is open to the public between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock every afternoon except Sundays and legal holidays.

St. Paul's Lutheran Chapel Jefferson and Gilbert Rev. L. C. Wuerffel, Pastor 9:30—Sunday school with Bible classes. 10:30—Divine services, in which the pastor will answer the question: "What does the Christian do to preserve himself against subtle soul-destroying teachings?" 1 Corinthians 15, 1-10 forms the basis for his sermon.

Bethlehem Chapel Sunday school at 3 o'clock. Classes for all with Harry Seger in charge. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening, the Rev. Joseph Shaw, leader.

St. Paul's Lutheran Chapel Jefferson and Gilbert Rev. L. C. Wuerffel, Pastor 9:30—Sunday school with Bible classes. 10:30—Divine services, in which the pastor will answer the question: "What does the Christian do to preserve himself against subtle soul-destroying teachings?" 1 Corinthians 15, 1-10 forms the basis for his sermon.

Bethlehem Chapel Sunday school at 3 o'clock. Classes for all with Harry Seger in charge. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening, the Rev. Joseph Shaw, leader.

Sharpshooter Coming Home

Eighteen-year-old Ruth Voelckers, 1234 Davenport street, will return next month from Camp Perry, Ohio, where she has spent the summer taking part in sharpshooting contests.

She placed sixth in the pre-sighting-kneeling event of the national rifle and pistol matches there last week.

Her proficiency with the small bore rifle gave her precedence over nearly 100 competitors who entered the contest, and she will probably be a contender for the national junior championship crown.

Elk's Ladies Club To Have Guest Day At Tuesday Meeting

Tuesday will be guest day for the Elk's ladies club at the social meeting planned for 2:30 at the club house. Bridge will be the entertainment for the afternoon.

Reservations must be made before Monday evening by calling Mrs. H. M. Howard, 3523, or Mrs. D. F. Fitzpatrick 2639.

Council Meets Next Friday

The regular monthly meeting of the Iowa City council will take place at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Mayor Myron J. Walker said last night. Only routine business has been scheduled. Probably the monthly bills will be approved.

Gas Appliance Dealers

Keith-Woods Wedding Rites Are Performed

Rev. David C. Woods Officiates at Quiet Home Ceremony

In a ceremony attended by only the immediate families and close friends, Margaret Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew H. Woods, 1100 N. Dubuque street, became the bride of Gordon Keith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Keith of Brockton and South Duxbury, Mass. The nuptials were performed by the Rev. David J. Woods of Clinton S. C. uncle of the bride, in a setting of fall flowers and palms, before the fireplace at 4 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents.

A recital by Marianne Witchi, violinist, Hans Witchi, cellist, and Esther Paine Muenzer, pianist, preceded the service and strains of Lohengrin and Mendelssohn were played as the party entered and left the room.

The bride's only attendant was her twin sister, Mrs. Parke A. Dickey of Titusville, Pa., and the best man was Mr. Keith's cousin George Keith of Brockton. Little Francis Marion Woods, niece of the bride was flower girl.

Gowned in her sisters wedding dress of white satin, fashioned on empire lines and a high neckline, puffed sleeved tapering to points over the hands, the bride carried white roses and baby breath in a shower bouquet. The bride's veil fell from a cap of tulle in folds into a long train. The only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom's parents at the time of the betrothal. The lace used in the yoke and lace cuffs of the bridal costume were a part of the bride's mother's wedding dress.

The matron of honor's gown was made of jade green chiffon, fashioned in a classic grecian style pleated from the neckline, bound at the waist by a lame belt. Mrs. Dickey's bouquet was of talisman roses.

A soft yellow dress made on the same lines as the matron of honor's dress, was worn by the flower girl who carried a basket of sweetheart roses.

After a late afternoon reception the couple departed for a wedding trip into Colorado. Mrs. Keith's travelling costume was a navy blue silk frock with navy accessories, and a wool coat.

Mrs. Keith, a graduate of Bryn Mawr at Bryn Mawr, Pa., has been doing graduate work at Radcliffe college, Cambridge Mass. The bridegroom, attended Amherst college and received a Ph.D. in

Rural Pupils End Vacation

Back-to-School Movement Rumored Unpopular Again

About 1,500 Johnson county boys and girls — attending more than 100 one and two-room school houses — will stop vacationing today and start the nine-month school term tomorrow, County Superintendent Frank Snider announced last night.

A few of the rural schools started last Monday, one or two will not begin until next week.

Iowa City school children all will have another week of vacation. The parochial schools will not open until after the Labor day week end, and the public and University schools will not start classes until later in September.

No Special Sept. Meetings

Next School Board Meeting Probably Will Be September 14

No special city school board meetings are scheduled for September, it was announced last night. The next board meeting will probably not take place until Sept. 14.

Most of the plans for opening of classes have already been made, the city public schools will open Sept. 12.

University high school will open Sept. 19, University elementary Sept. 26.

Showery, Cooler Weather Forecasted

Showery, cool weather is the prospect for Iowa City today, the weatherman said last night. The temperature may rise — but will be considerably below normal.

Yesterday's high was 78 degrees at 2:41 p.m., the low 51 at 3:41 a.m. At 1 o'clock this morning the mercury had fallen to 56 degrees.

economics from Harvard university which is now awarding him a Carnegie fellowship for research in his field. The couple will reside in Cambridge until Jan. 1, after which they will pass the remainder of the year in New York City and in Washington, D. C.

Kalli Foutz ... admires new nose

Winner of a "make the most of yourself" contest conducted by a magazine, Kalli Foutz, 24, of Salt Lake City, Utah, admires her new nose in a New York hospital, the first step in a "glamoring" process. Miss Foutz's prize was a trip to New York and a complete overhauling. She is a great-granddaughter of the Mormon Brigham Young.

Barbara Beach ... future "Miss America"?

Perhaps you're looking at the future "Miss America." Whether or no, this beauty, Barbara Beach, was Brooklyn's selection for its representative in the annual national beauty contest at Atlantic City, N. J., in September.

Lodge to Consider Routine Business

Routine business will come before the Eureka lodge, No. 44 I. O. O. F. in a regular session Tuesday evening in the Odd Fellow hall. The meeting will be called to order at 7:30 p.m.

55 Are Named For Petit Jury Duty -- Neilson

Judge Gaffney Will Preside Over Term Opening September 19

The names of 55 Johnson county residents compose the petit jury panel for the September term of court in Johnson county, County Clerk R. Neilson Miller has announced.

Judge James P. Gaffney will preside, and the term opens Sept. 19. Members of the grand jury reporting on the opening day are James Bell, J. P. Burns, Elmer Coulter, William Droll, John Grabien, Alphonse Hoffman, Glenn Hope, Frank McKay, T. W. Sullivan, Ed Wall, C. K. Wolfe and John Wrede.

Prospective jurors drawn are Harlan Alt, Mary Brown, Mamie Hope, Ida Cole, Lula Chadek, Gilbert Drebie, Joe Dvorak, John Dvorsky, Delos Francis, Joe Gebber, Ellen Gerlitz.

Clarence H. Gies, Henry Gilpin, Donald Gordon, R. A. Greer, Ames Grout, Minnie Hunter, Mamie Jackson, Grant Kessler, Emma Kessler, William Kessler, Leroy Kral, Clara Lacinia.

Joe Lamparek, J. J. Lorack, Loretta Madden, Dennis Maher, Ruds Malatek, James Maylon, John W. Miller, Frank Moel, Virginia McVecker, Mrs. Alva Oathout, Adele E. Palmer, Helen Patera.

Mrs. Mary Pilcher, Marie Raim, Frank Rief, Calar Roberts, Nellie Sanger, Ethel Schenck, Pauline Shimitz, John Smyth, Willia Stock, R. Swartzlander, Carrie Thomas, Tony Volkringer.

Emil Voss, Myrna Wentzel, Charles Windess, Charles Witousek, R. L. Whitaker, Ethel Whitebook and Lillian Zinkula.

Colonel Park To Visit 5 Groups In September

Col. Stephen A. Park, president of the Reserve Officers association of the United States, will visit five of the departments of this corps area early in September.

His itinerary includes Des Moines, Sept. 5; Omaha, Sept. 6 and 7; Minneapolis, Sept. 8; North Dakota, Sept. 9 and South Dakota, Sept. 10.

Colonel Park will hold a general conference at Hotel Ft. Des Moines at 2 p.m. Sept. 2. Reserve officers from this section are urged to attend.

THE THREE BUDGETEERS. "Oh, dear," sighed the first, "I'm so tired. I finally found what I wanted, but I'm worn out." "It's lovely," sighed the second, "but I paid more than I wanted to." "It's easy," said the third. "I've been studying the advertisements for days, and I knew where to look for what I wanted—and how much I'd have to pay."