

4 POWERS CALL PEACE CONFERENCE

Berlin Calls Conference Der Fuehrer's Last Effort

German People Joyous Over New Outlook

Believe Hitler Will Score Bloodless Victory for Nation

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN, Sept. 28 (AP)—The peace conference at Munich tomorrow to be attended by the ranking statesmen of four leading European powers was semi-officially described tonight as Reichsfuehrer Hitler's "last effort to accomplish peaceful solution of Sudetenland."

Hitler and his "axis" partner, Premier Mussolini of Italy, will sit down to a conference table with British Prime Minister Chamberlain and French Premier Daladier in the forenoon to search for a method of avoiding a second world war.

Brings Joy

No definite time nor exact place of meeting has been set. Reliable sources said tonight that Hitler would meet Mussolini, already en route to Munich, at Brenner Pass, historic gateway between Italy and New German Austria, and then accompany Il Duce to Munich.

Announcement of the Munich meeting brought joy to the German public and hope that Hitler would score a bloodless victory over Czechoslovakia. Hitler's demands for peaceful surrender of Sudetenland by the Prague government had set Saturday as the deadline.

Word of the Munich get-together coincided with a decline in talk of German mobilization. The official news agency, DNB, had flatly denied reports that 2 p.m. (7 a.m. CST) today was a new deadline for Czechoslovak capitulation under threat of German mobilization.

Expresses Hope

(But in London, Chamberlain indicated that Hitler had agreed to defer a 2 p.m. time limit. The British prime minister said Mussolini had messaged the Fuehrer an expression of hope "that Herr Hitler would see his way to postpone the action which the chancellor has told Sir Horace Wilson was to be taken at two o'clock today.") (Sir Horace is Chamberlain's adviser and was emissary to the Reichsfuehrer.)

"It is hoped," semi-official circles said, "that even in the last hour this exchange of views will lead to an agreement over putting into immediate effect measures for cession of Sudetenland as promised by the Czechoslovak government."

Thus, comment on the four-power conference showed Hitler was as insistent as ever on cutting off from Czechoslovakia the area in which reside most of the 3,500,000 Sudeten German minority.

The task for the Munich conferees was to find a peaceful method of conducting the operation — apparently on the basis of a new Anglo-French plan.

Goebbels Hopeful

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels told a Berlin throng late today that he foresaw a peaceful solution of the dispute "within a few days." Goebbels, usually given to oratorical fireworks, sounded tonight of peace without mentioning the Munich gathering.

To a deafening chorus of "heils" in historic Lustgarten, Goebbels merely said:

"I, as a man in the know of things, can tell you we neither can nor want to retreat, as the Fuehrer has pledged his word to support the Sudetens, but the solution is imminent."

Benes Mentioned

"Herr Benes (President Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia) now will be forced to stick to his promise." This last might be taken as an indirect reference to the Munich conference. The Prague government had yielded to the original Anglo-French cession proposal but balked when Hitler demanded settlement by or on Saturday.

Semi-official quarters said that the British and French governments had submitted "new proposals" for solution of the crisis.

Four Men They'll Decide Fate Of a Nation

By The Associated Press

Four men, speaking for more than 600,000,000 of the world's people, meet today around a Munich conference table to settle whether there shall be peace or war.

Upon their fateful words will depend whether 1938 is another 1914, with all the horrors of war that date implies.

These are the men:

CHAMBERLAIN — Austere 69-year old prime minister of Britain who took office May 28, 1937, the top post in an empire of 486,726,503 persons. During the dark days of 1914, when other statesmen bore the empire's burden, Chamberlain was a Birmingham alderman.

HITLER — Mustachioed Reichsfuehrer of the 71,903,285 persons in greater Germany. At 49, Hitler has come far since 1914 when he was an obscure Austrian worker. He led his Nazi party to power Jan. 30, 1933.

MUSSOLINI — Strong-jawed Mussolini is 55 and has been in power longer than any of the other four conferees. After a "march on Rome" he took office Oct. 30, 1922. Now he speaks for Italy and her colonies totalling 58,568,846 in population. When war broke out in 1914 Il Duce was a socialist newspaper writer.

DALADIER — Premier of France since April 10, 1938, burly Edouard Daladier is 54, a veteran statesman who has held office in many French governments administering France and her colonies with 102,161,779 inhabitants. Daladier was a university professor in 1914 before entering the French army.

Hoover Hits At Immorality Of Administration

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 28 (AP)

—Former President Herbert Hoover, in an address charging the present democratic administration is "politically immoral," warned tonight that the threat of war "which darkens the whole world grows from a philosophy from which our nation has in some degree become infected."

"This world crisis today is in part a moral crisis," the republican leader said. "There are in the forces which have led to this situation today a tragic warning to America. . . We are faced with a national election of the highest importance six weeks hence. . . Our issues are also in part moral issues. They are in part the infection which has spread over the whole world."

Hoover accused President Roosevelt of attempting to form a new political party under a false banner of liberalism and declared "If this sort of stuff is liberal, then George III, Hitler, Stalin, and Boss Tweed are liberals."

Farmer Denounces Action Of Head of Farmers Union Meeting

DES MOINES, Sept. 28 (AP)

—E. R. Aschenbrenner, Black Hawk county farmer, late today denounced the actions of National President John Vesceky of the Farmers Union after the Salina, Kan., man delivered the main address of a spirited session of the state convention.

Aschenbrenner, after the convention gave him the floor, charged that Vesceky, writing in the national organization's paper, had unjustly criticized the activities of E. E. Kennedy of Grand Junction, former national secretary.

Vesceky replied that he would stand behind his record and his statements. Wayne Meyer of Hampton then offered a resolution commending Kennedy for the work he had

Heavy Volleys Fired on Czech Front; Transportation Cut Off

Germans Refuse To Cross Border Line Since Mobilization

SCHIRNDING, Germany, (At the Czechoslovak frontier), Sept. 28 (AP)—Heavy exchanges of shots between embattled Sudeten Germans and Czechoslovak troops took place today before the Czech first line of defense three miles west of Eger. Their cross-fire closed the Eger-Schirnding road and cut off even pedestrian traffic over the frontier in this region.

Transportation service generally over the entire German-Czechoslovak frontier already had been suspended as a result of the Czechoslovak general mobilization last week.

Sudetens Move Np

As Czech troops fell back at a number of points to more strategic positions to be ready if the German army should attack, Sudeten forces moved up, occupying additional hamlets. The Sudetens also began setting up provisional civil government in the strip they have occupied along the frontier.

They established their own frontier service in the customs house at Muhlbach, abandoned by the Czechs last week after it had been attacked. A swastika flag was hoisted over it today.

German army forces were scrupulously refraining from setting foot on Czechoslovak soil, but the Sudetens moved freely across the border. Rations for Sudeten "free corps" members, including big urns of steaming soup, were brought by carts from Sudeten headquarters at Arzbreg, three miles inside German territory.

Fighting Diminishing

Fighting between the Sudetens and Czech troops was generally diminishing as both sides awaited the expiration of Adolf Hitler's ultimatum to Czechoslovakia Saturday. The Sudetens were moving up only when the troops fell back for strategic reasons. Inside the Czech lines the backbone of Sudeten resistance had been broken, at least temporarily, by the general mobilization which took all men up to the age of forty into the army.

Many Sudetens escaped military service by fleeing into Germany. German newspapers reported that 40,000 Sudeten deserters from the Czechoslovak army have entered Germany. The Czechs say at least 25,000 Sudetens have been armed in Germany and are making night raids over the border.

Several Americans, still stranded in Czechoslovakia, were reported waiting at Eger for a refugee train to transport the exchanges and afford them a way to leave the country.

Special Committee On Student Pep.

A Resolution--

In view of the fact that cheerleading at the University of Iowa is not satisfactory, this committee recommends:

1. That Don Mallet and E. G. Schroeder be made an executive committee to select and direct cheerleaders for 1938-1939.

2. That the Athletic Board make no awards except on the recommendation of this committee.

3. That Pi Epsilon Pi and other student organizations be advised of this action and be urged to submit a satisfactory plan for the selection and training of cheerleaders, and for the general conduct of cheerleading, so that this committee may approve and recommend recognition of this plan by the Board in Control of Athletics.

4. That an open competition for varsity and freshman cheerleaders shall be held tomorrow afternoon at 4:10 in the Iowa stadium for the purpose of selecting men for these positions.

Fall Election Campaigns Begin

Gaffney Talks At Demo Rally

County Committee Officially Begins Election Campaign

The Johnson county democratic committee officially opened the campaign for the November elections last night at the City Park pavilion with Judge James P. Gaffney, candidate for congress, the principal speaker. There were approximately 70 in attendance.

Attorney Will J. Jackson, chairman of the central committee, introduced the members of the democratic ticket in Johnson county, announced the financial board, and outlined plans for the fall.

Judge Gaffney highlighted his speech with a plea for a clean campaign, one which will emphasize the success of the new deal in the last five years and the comparative failure on the part of our opponents to offer any concrete plan for improvement of existing conditions. There are still enough reasonable people in Iowa, continued the main speaker, "who will reject a campaign consisting chiefly of maligning the office of president. It must be a campaign of constructive criticisms, not of innuendoes."

In presenting the probable campaign issues, Judge Gaffney held up the controversial national debt as evidence of new deal success. He asserted that "although the debt is in excess of $37,000,000,000, we must remember that Roosevelt can be held accountable for only $10,000,000,000 of that amount, considering the fact that there was a $16,000,000,000 deficit when he took office and that a large amount is recoverable."

"Yet," he added, "look at the accomplishments. I wonder if my opponent will stand before any intelligent audience and say that the $4,860,000 spent in Johnson county was wasted or am I to believe that he doesn't want schools, new roads, or doesn't want to see the naked clothed and the hungry fed?"

Judge Gaffney's concluding thought and the climax of the address was that "even if this expenditure and the resultant success does give rise to ingratitude by our opponents, we must remember and let them not forget that this is a government of man created for man."

Leroy Mercer, candidate for reelection to the state legislature, gave a brief talk, devoting it chiefly to lauding the state democratic ticket and remarking in particular that Governor Nelson Kraschel is a "particularly fine friend of Johnson county and the finest orator ever turned out in Iowa."

In concluding the meeting, Attorney Jackson announced the members of the finance committee as being Attorney J. M. Otto, Attorney Will J. Hayek, James Flannery, Harry Shulman, C. J. Shimon, H. A. McMillan, Phil Michel, William Condon, George Kanak, Mrs. Bion Hunter, and Mrs. Arnold Derksen.

Louis Lochner To Cover Story Of Conference

C. R. Attorney Addresses GOP

Cites Increases In State Taxes; Attacks New Deal Policy

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Louis P. Lochner, veteran European correspondent, will head the Associated Press staff at the vital Munich conference tomorrow where the "big four"—Hitler, Mussolini, Chamberlain and Daladier—will seek hurriedly to avert a war that might have started next Saturday.

Lochner is chief of the Berlin bureau. He knows Germany, the Germans and Europe's statesmen and politicians. With Lochner will be DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press foreign affairs commentator, Melvin K. Whiteleather of the Berlin office, Charles S. Foltz Jr., from Paris, and Fred Vanderschmidt of the London bureau.

All of these men for years have seen and written of the events that have led to the present world crisis.

Federal Agents To Report On Thomas Probe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)

Attorney General Cummings announced today that Justice Department agents would tell a federal grand jury about their investigation of the alleged kidnaping of Norman Thomas, socialist party leader in Jersey City.

Thomas contends that Jersey City officers, under Mayor Frank Hague, violated the federal kidnaping statutes when they prevented him from speaking in the city last April 30 and hustled him on to a New York City ferry.

The Thomas incident was one of a series of turbulent events in Jersey City that have attracted national attention as a result of numerous complaints that civil rights guaranteed by federal law had been violated.

Mayor Hague, a power in state and national politics and a democratic national committeeman, has ridiculed these complaints. Attorney General Cummings said his federal agents were still investigating "certain incidents in the civil rights picture" and added that "this investigation will be completed in the near future."

Reveal Plans For Building

Application has been made to the PWA regional office in Omaha, Neb., for a grant which may ultimately mean a new publications building at the University of Iowa, it was announced yesterday.

M. R. Pierson, secretary of the Iowa board of education, discussed plans for the new building yesterday in Des Moines.

The structure would cost $143,190 and would house classrooms and offices for The Daily Iowan, daily university publication; Fri-vol, campus humor magazine; Hawkeye, junior class yearbook, and other university publications.

Cave-in Traps Youth for 16 Hours in Well

PIFFIELD, Wis., Sept. 28 (AP)

—Trapped in a well for 16 hours by a cave-in, Lucian Falge, 17, was rescued today after 300 men had worked through the night to sink a 20-foot shaft.

Bruised and suffering from exposure, Falge was taken to a hospital, where it was said he would recover.

Falge descended into the 27-foot well on the farm of his mother yesterday afternoon to clean it. The stone walls collapsed, debris falling on him until two large stones became wedged on a pole he had placed across the shaft about seven feet above his head. The stones held a mass of rock and debris from falling and crushing him to death.

His mother summoned help. Young men from a nearby CCC camp and volunteers responded. They sank a pipe to the youth. Through the night the pipe was alternately used to pump water which was rising from the pit and oxygen into it.

The workers sank a shaft alongside the well and then cut through to the pit and brought Falge to the surface.

Employe Charged with Murder Of Farmer Following Quarrel

ELY, Ia., Sept. 28 (AP)—As alleged accusation by the latter that Grabin "had brought hog cholera to the farm."

The sheriff quoted her as saying Grabin "verbally abused" Skalsky and the latter threatened to "pick up an axe lying nearby and strike him."

Grabin then entered the house and returned with a gun, the sheriff said. Mrs. Skalsky told him and the two men met at the corner of a woodpile in the barnyard where Grabin fired twice.

Dr. B. L. Knight, Linn county coroner, said Skalsky was shot in the right shoulder and chest, the bullets piercing his back.

Skalsky, a widower, was the father of five children, all of whom live in Cedar Rapids. The tragedy was the third violent death on the farm in twenty-six years.

Mobilization Of Germany To Be Delayed

England, Germany, France, and Italy To Seek War Solution

LONDON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Europe was halted on the brink of war tonight by a swiftly called peace conference of Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy.

The four powers, working against expiration of Germany's 24-hour suspension of mobilization plans, will meet tomorrow in Munich seeking some peaceful solution of Adolf Hitler's demands for Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland by Oct. 1.

Postpones Mobilization

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain revealed this when he announced to a tense house of commons that Hitler had agreed to postpone German mobilization for 24 hours from 2 p.m. (7 a.m. C.S.T.) today.

Chamberlain, Hitler, Premier Daladier of France and Premier Mussolini of Italy are to meet in Munich for a peace conference, possibly the most vital since Versailles, which may yet avert war over German demands for Sudetenland.

Before he spoke Chamberlain had sent a last minute appeal to Mussolini to urge peace upon his German ally.

Even until he was well into his parliament speech the British prime minister did not know the result of that appeal.

Roosevelt Influences Duce

President Roosevelt in a personal message also urged Mussolini to use his influence to keep Europe's armies from marching to a new world war, a plea that was credited with influencing the Italian duke.

When Chamberlain found he had met success he told a cheering commons "I will go to see what I can do as a last effort."

Jubilant greeted the announcement throughout Britain whose fleet was mobilized while the nation, acting as did the other peoples of Europe, frenziedly prepared for war.

The threatened victim of the attack which Europe feared and expected — Czechoslovakia — will be absent from the Munich council table, though her minister to Britain, Jan Masaryk, quickly protested to Chamberlain against the fact.

Russia Absent

So will another power, Soviet Russia, whose millions of manpower had been counted on to help the victim.

But Chamberlain only a few months ago declared the peace of Europe depended on an understanding among the four powers who will be there and that for the moment was enough to banish the fear of horrifying air raids and gas attacks from the minds of millions.

Preparedness measures went on in Britain and France, however, pending concrete steps toward some peaceful solution of the German-Czechoslovak issue. France called additional reserves to swell the 2,000,000 she already has under arms.

The four-cornered peace conference sprang with astonishing suddenness from an eleventh-hour British diplomatic effort.

Chamberlain, who already had made two futile flights to Germany trying to restrain Hitler from taking the Sudeten German areas of Czechoslovakia by force, had said only last night in an empire broadcast that he saw no further useful step he could take as a mediator.

Asks Mussolini

But he did take one more.

He appealed to Hitler's Rome-Berlin axis partner — Benito Mussolini — to use his influence with the German chancellor for a peaceful solution.

The result was not known as the pale, weary 69-year old prime minister rose to address a hushed parliament saying "We are faced with a situation which has no parallel since 1914."

In a voice filled with emotion he went on to relate how one measure after another — even his own two dramatic flights to Germany — had failed to weaken Hitler's determination to take the Sudeten areas of Czechoslovakia by force.

HARTNETT HOMERS; CUBS TAKE LEAD

Terrific Smash into Left Field Bleachers Climaxes Thrilling Cub Rush to Fore in Flag Race

Ninth Straight Win For Rampaging Cubs In Pennant Drive

By EARL HILLIGAN
CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP)—In the thickening gloom, with the score tied and two out in the ninth inning today, red-faced Gabby Hartnett blasted out a home run to give his Chicago Cubs a dramatic 6 to 5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates and a half game leadership in the furious National league pennant battle.

That is the story of one of the most sensational games ever played at Wrigley field—a game which saw the fighting Cubs charge from behind to knot the score and then win on a slashing drive to the left field bleachers to oust the Pirates from the No. 1 position they had held since July 12.

Saved
Hartnett's circuit smash, coming off Mace Brown with the count two strikes and no balls, probably saved the Cub pennant chances. Had he failed, the game would have been called because of darkness, necessitating a double bill tomorrow which would have almost insurmountably handicapped the over-taxed Cub pitching staff.

The Cub manager whose team was nine games out of first place a little more than a month ago, had to fight his way through a swirling, hysterical mob to touch all the bases and had trouble reaching the dugout. He called the victory and his hit "The two greatest things that ever happened to me in my life."

Rizzo Homers
A hit and two errors helped the Cubs to a run in the second and with Clay Bryant pitching masterfully, stayed in front until the sixth. Then the Pirates, combining Johnny Rizzo's 21st homer of the season, with two other hits and a pair of walks, chased Bryant with a three-run blast. Jack Russell replaced Bryant.

The Bruins came roaring right back to tie the score in their half of the inning on doubles by Hartnett and Rip Collins and a bunt which Billy Jurges beat out for a hit.

Double - Play
In the seventh, a furiously disputed double-play pulled the Cubs out of another hole. The Pirates charged Vance Page who had replaced Russell, had committed a balk on the pitch Rizzo hit into the double-killing, but succeeded only in using up time as darkness gathered.

The Pirates, battling desperately, went back to work in the eighth. Arky Vaughan walked and Gus Suhr singled. Larry French replaced Page. Heinie Manush batted for Pep Young and singled, scoring Vaughan. Big Bill Lee who finished yesterday's game, went in for French and was greeted by Lee Handley's single which scored Suhr. Manush was nailed at the plate when Al Todd grounded to Jurges, but after Lee wild-pitched Handley to third, Lee restored order by forcing Bob Klingner to hit into a double play.

BITS about Sports

Yesterday's Cub-Pirate brawl was sure one of those things. Gabby's game-breaking homer will provide food for conversation in baseball circles long, long after the season is over. It was one of the numerous things that make baseball the great game that it is. It's a shame that Pie Traynor—who those in the know say is a swell guy—had the ill luck to run into a red hot Cub team with the pennant at stake. However, the time has come to separate the men from the boys, and how those Bruins are doing it!

Another "white hope" went by the boards last night when Jimmy Adamick—thought by many to have championship possibilities—suffered a two round K. O. at the hands of Toles, an acknowledged third rater. Adamick at an early hour this morning was still unconscious. Assuming that he'll recover, it's doubtful if he can throw off the effects of such a beating and stage a comeback. Few are able to do that.

Coach Tubbs, seemingly weary of pampering his footballers, put the heat on yesterday and gave the boys something to talk about.

Following a general tongue lashing for what he thought indifferent play on the coast, he sent the squad through the longest and toughest drill of the season to date. The men were plenty satisfied to call it a day after the strenuous session. Many drills like that one and 60 minutes of football should seem like mere child's play to most of them. If the team loses to Wisconsin—which I don't think it will—it won't be from lack of audacity.

Cubs Hilarious After Copping League Lead

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs' dressing room rang with cheers, echoed with rolling bats and was thick with flying gloves today. And in the midst of it all was breathless, ruddy-faced than usual Gabby Hartnett.

Hartnett had to battle his way through a whooping, screaming crowd to touch the bases after his ninth-inning, game-winning home run against Pittsburgh's Pirates and even a flying wedge of ushers was of little avail for his march of triumph to the dug-out.

But that was only a prelude to his team's acclaim. Dizzy Dean, who pitched the Cubs to their first victory of the Pirate series yesterday, was head cheerleader, and wildest of the demonstrators. Captain Bill Herman and Bill Jurges kicked a clear space amid the rolling bats and walks. Hugged breathless by his Cubs, Manager Hartnett finally gulped enough air to gasp:

"It was the most wonderful thing that ever happened to me." And the Cub cheering started all over again when, of all the Cubs, the stoic Tony Lazzeri rocked the walls with three home runs.

Gabby fought his way to the door where a postman, unidentified in the ruckus, swapped the home run ball he caught in the bleachers for a brand new one. "That's one ball," said Gabby, "I'm going to keep."

The Pirates changed into street clothes with only necessary conversation. The usually affable Pie Traynor was glum. His comment was two short sentences: "We're still in there. Don't count us out yet."

Badgers Ready
MADISON, Wis. (AP)—The University of Wisconsin second string lineup scrimmaged yesterday while the varsity, tapering off in preparation for Saturday's opener here against Marquette university, confined its activities mainly to a signal drill.

The reserves' defensive play drew praise from Coach Harry Stuhldreher, but he showed dissatisfaction with the gridgers' lack of offensive punch.

Yankees Betting Favorites For Series

(This is the first of a series comparing the prospective opponents in the forthcoming world series. First: the infielders.)
By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Just about this time a year ago, the odds on the Yankees in the world series shortened considerably because the "experts" had decided the world champions' infield couldn't compare with the inner defenses of their Harlem rivals, the Giants.
So the Yankees fielded a flawless 1,000 in the series, the Giants made all the errors—and the American leaguers took the chamampionship, four games to one. The Yankee infield is an even better defensive unit this year. With the addition of Joe Gordon, certainly the American league's rookie for the year at second base, the new inner cordon is as different from the 1937 quartet as War Admiral is from one of Col. Jake Ruppert's brewery horses. Tony Lazzeri was the "brains" of the infield last year, but Gordon has added "zip", and is making plays around the keystone sack that haven't been seen since Charley Gehring came down the pike. There's the tip-off on the in-

Adamick's Condition Critical After Second Round Knockout

DETROIT, Sept. 28 (AP)—Roscoe Toles, Detroit Negro heavyweight, scored a technical knockout victory over Jimmy Adamick, young Midland (Mich.) battler, in the second round of their scheduled 10-round engagement at Olympia Stadium tonight.

Down four times and hopelessly outclassed in the first round, Adamick was knocked cold by a terrific right hand punch delivered 40 seconds after the second got under way. Referee Clarence Rosen did not even start a count, summoning Adamick's handlers to come to his rescue.

Toles launched a blazing two-fisted attack from the opening gong that appeared to have Adamick bewildered. The Negro landed almost at will and before a minute had elapsed Adamick was on the deck. He was down three times more, being saved by the bell at the count of eight.

Adamick weighed 186 and his opponent 10 pounds more. When Adamick failed to revive after five minutes of work by his handlers he was carried from the ring to the dressing room and physicians were summoned. Referee Rosen said that in his opinion Adamick was in a critical condition. A police ambulance rushed him to a hospital.

How Amazing Greenberg Fails To Clout Homer

DETROIT, Sept. 28 (AP)—Hank Greenberg, needing two more home runs to tie Babe Ruth's major league record of 60, went hitless today as his Detroit Tiger teammates batted out a 12 to 0 victory over the St. Louis Browns. The big first baseman walked twice, struck out twice and lifted one pop fly. George Gill scattered eight St. Louis hits to win his twelfth game of the season.

The Tigers hit Howard Mills, Brownie starting pitcher, hard, collecting six runs in the third inning on as many hits. After filling the bases with one out in the sixth, Mills retired. George Tebbetts, first to face relief hurler Emil Bildt, pounded the ball into the left field stands to clean the sacks.

Yanks Divide Series Melon

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—The New York Yankees, American league pennant winners, voted today to split their part of the world series players' share 38 ways.

Manager Joe McCarthy, 22 players, Coaches Art Fletcher, Earl Combs and Johnny Schulte, batting practice pitcher Paul Schrieber and trainer Earl (Doc) Painter were voted full shares. Half shares will go to pitchers Wes Ferrell, who came to the club from the Senators late in the season; Joe Beggs, who was returned to Newark in mid-season, and Joe Vance, brought up from Kansas City. Rex Weyant, assistant road secretary, gets half a share, and Mark Roth, road secretary, three-quarters of a share.

Fred Logan, clubhouse attendant was voted $1,500; his assistant, Mike Sheehan, $1,000, and batboy Tim Sullivan $1,000.

Bluehawks Get New Lineman

U-High grid stock went to a new high yesterday when Taylor, a new prospect, reported to Coach Paul Brechler. Although lacking in experience, Taylor shows possibilities of becoming a regular lineman before mid-season.

Happy over the new addition to his squad, Coach Brechler sent his warriors through a long offensive scrimmage and uncovered several new linemen among the second stringers that show signs of becoming contenders for regular berths. In addition to the offensive drill, Brechler again stressed the importance of speed and drive of the linemen on defense. Punting also came in for some special attention with Morgan and Burns getting off some long accurate boots.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Yankees, after winning two straight games, went back into the hitting doldrums today and dropped a 4 to 1 decision to the Washington Senators.

Joe Krakauskas, southpaw youngster, limited the pennant winners to five hits, two of them triples by Red Rolfe and Joe DiMaggio, which accounted for the only Yankee run, in the third. Ivy Paul Andrews made his first start of the year for the Blue Sox.

It's Conference Time

Mickelson Suggests Sports Premiers And Heroes Get Together

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Suggested conferences for our premiers and heroes of sport:
At Rochester, Minn. — At this health spa should assemble all prominent bone specialists and great healers to decide once and for all the whys and wherefores of the major league baseball sore arm epidemic. Unless this is done, a flock of clubs are going to march right back to the minor league sector.

Round Table
At Orange, N. J. — The back room of Two-Ton Tony Galento's saloon would be a swell place for two far-reaching conferences—one for all the white hopes who want to do something about Henry Armstrong and Joe Louis; the second for ex-fighters like Jack Dempsey, James J. Braddock, Mickey Walker, Jack Sharkey, Benny Leonard and Tony Canzoneri, who'd like to know how to run a restaurant.

At Cooperstown, N. Y. — A conference of Premiers Kenesaw M. Landis, Ford Frick, Will Harridge, and all the owners of major league clubs on "how to decide the National league pennant race before Sept. 30" would save fans, players and newspapers plenty of dough.

Sullivan and Moore Play End Positions In Squad Shakeup

Discarding the role of teacher for that of the stern, critical taskmaster, Coach Tubbs read the riot act to his footballers yesterday and finished the job by sending them into what proved to be the lengthiest drill of the infant season.

Most of the boys were more than willing to call it a day after the hard session that lasted until after dark had settled over the playing field.

Particular stress was placed on end play with Carl Sullivan and Joe Moore doing heavy duty at the end posts for the greater portion of the drill.

That no member of the team can feel assured of his position was demonstrated in the move that sent Wilbur Nead into the line to alternate with Jim Kelley. Tubbs gave every indication that the fight for first string spots is still a wide open affair with those showing the most fight the likely choices to start in the Homecoming game.

Nile Kinnick, limping about on an injured ankle, was excused from the heavy drill that topped off the long afternoon of practice. Jack Eicherly, with several nifty demonstrations of shifty running, served notice to one and all that he will have to be reckoned with when the starting lineup for the Wisconsin game is chosen. Jack skipped away for several long jaunts during the course of the afternoon.

Ray Murphy continued to flash improvement. His long-legged strides carried him down the field several times for lengthy gains. Ray seemed to be stepping over would-be tacklers.

Chisox "Nip" Vittmen, 14-11, With 18 Hits

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28 (AP)—Jimmy Dykes' White Sox clubbed a five-run lead and stayed ahead in one of the season's biggest slugfest matches today to down Cleveland, 14 to 11, and virtually eliminate the Indians from second place consideration in the American league.

The Chicago victory, achieved on an 18-hit attack off Earl Whitehill and three successors, was aided by three Tribe errors. Cleveland collected 16 hits.

Mervyn Connors, replacing Joe Kuhel at first for the Sox, got a homer as did Jeff Heath and Johnny Kroner for the Indians. Fourteen players batted in one or more runs. The outcome, coupled with Boston's victory over Philadelphia, left Cleveland three full games behind the Red Sox.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Behind locked gates Michigan's football squad held its last contact drill yesterday before opening its season against Michigan State Saturday. After two hours of emphasizing both offense and defense Coach Fritz Crisler said "We still have a long way to go."

At Brookfield, Conn. — Up in the hayloft of Squire Gene Sarazen's barn, a mass meeting should be held by all pro golfers to take measures against Samuel Jackson Sneed, who's running away with too much swag.

At Bellevue "Psych" Ward, New York — Another assemblage, this one of psychiatrists, to find out if all these baseball injuries are located in the head only.

At Wahoo, Neb.—For the benefit of all, notably the United States Lawn Tennis association, J. Donald Budge should meet with representatives of a certain sporting goods house and announce the exact dates of his pro tour.

At Newport, R. I.—A conference headed by Rollie Hemley to find out "how to drink spirits and play baseball."

At St. Charles Hotel, New Orleans — A conference of defeated football coaches headed by Lowell (Red) Dawson of Tulane, Bernie Moore, Louisiana State, and Robert Zuppke, Illinois, all of whom got tripped the first time

The annual scholarship dinner in the main lounge of Iowa Union at which the members of the 13 sororities, their chaperons and alumnae were present.

The Kappa Kappa Gamma average was 2.670. Pi Beta Phi and Zeta Tau Alpha ranked second and third respectively with 2.542 and 2.499.

The cup was presented to Jane Hart, A4 of Des Moines, last year's scholarship chairman of the group, by Jane O'Meara, A4 of Cedar Rapids, president of the Women's Panhellenic association. Miss O'Meara is also president of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Given to the association in 1933 by Zeta Tau Alpha, the cup was first won by Alpha Chi Omega. In 1934-35 the cup was presented to Alpha Xi Delta. Gamma Phi Beta received it in both 1935-36 and 1936-37, and last year it was awarded to Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Woman's Club To Have First Meeting Today

The drama department of the Iowa City Woman's club will honor the new department members at a garden party this afternoon at 2:30 in the home of Mrs. C. A. Bowman, 319 Hutchinson avenue. This is the group's first meeting of the year.

With the garden furnishing the outdoor setting, several members will present the play "The Elf Child" by Constance D'Arcy Mackay, taken from "The House of the Heart and Other Plays for Children."

The cast of characters includes Mrs. Roy C. Flickinger, the elf child Mrs. Harry M. Hines, the herb-gatherer; Mrs. S. J. Davis, the first village child; Mrs. Ellis D. Crawford, the second village child; and Mrs. H. R. Ferguson and Mrs. W. F. Merriam, children of the village.

The committee in charge of the tea following the program includes Mrs. Philip D. Ketelsen, Mrs. Merriam, Mrs. A. E. Kepford, and Mrs. William P. Mueller Jr.

Iowa Citizens Plan to Attend P. T. A. Meet

One-Day Conference Of Southeast Area To Be at Ottumwa

Representing local Parent-Teacher associations, many Iowa Citizens will go to Ottumwa tomorrow to attend the one-day conference of Parent-Teacher groups of the southeast district. All of the sessions, including the registration at 9 a. m., will convene in the First Methodist Episcopal church.

The meeting will be called to order at 9:15 a. m. by Mrs. William Cramblit. Mrs. A. E. Bastron of Ottumwa, former district president, will give the address of welcome. Mrs. E. E. Langwith of Davenport, second vice-president, will respond.

Reports of the district chairmen and officers will be presented at the business meeting between 10 and 10:30 a. m. Mrs. R. E. Fisher of Burlington, president, will preside.

At 10:30 a. m. Mrs. C. C. Colter of Spencer, president of the Iowa Congress of Parents and Teachers will address the group. Her address will be followed by committee conferences from 11 to 12.

A luncheon will be served in the church at noon, with Mrs. E. J. Mosier in charge of arrangements. During the luncheon there will be a display of the posters, publications and the national P.T.A. magazine.

The afternoon session will open with community singing at 1:15 p. m. There will be an announcement of awards at 1:30 p. m., and at 1:45 the Ottumwa Mothersingers chorus will present a short concert.

Addressing the group in the afternoon will be Walter B. Pitkin. Mr. Pitkin's address is scheduled for 2:15 p. m.

As the concluding event of the conference, Mrs. Cramblit will entertain the group at tea in her home.

HOSTESS HINTS

These first cool days of fall renew everyone's energy, and appetites are no longer appeased by light meals. Hot breads, brought to the table fresh from the oven, are popular with the whole family and help solve the problem of serving more substantial and energizing food. Quick breads take such a little time to prepare and are appropriate to serve at breakfast, lunch and dinner. Here are several delicious hot breads that are simple to make and will add variety to fall menus.

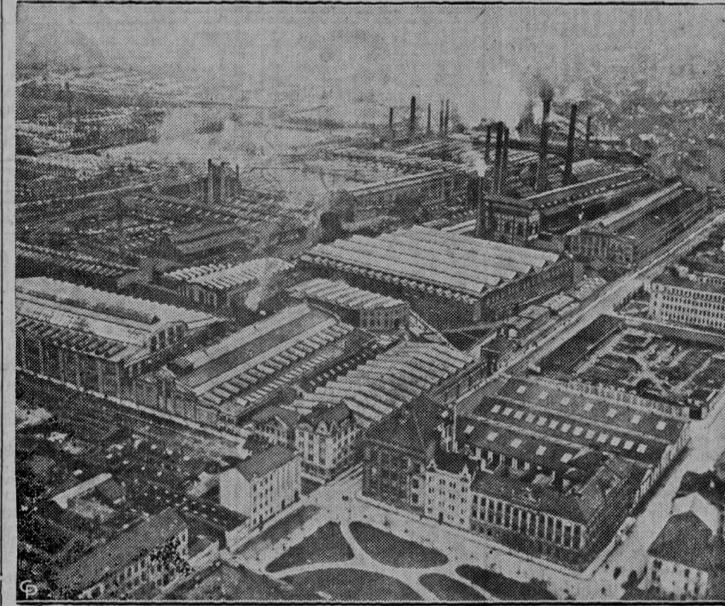

Pineapple Muffins
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon sugar
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 cup crushed pineapple (1 8 oz. can)
4 tablespoons melted shortening

Will This Belong to Hitler?

Shown above is the great munitions works at Pilsen, Czechoslovakia, turning out large-scale war materials. Whether this is to belong to Germany eventually will be decided this week, according to the outcome of negotiations.

They're on the Border—Just in Case

Shown above are French troops, off on march to German border regions to strengthen the famed Maginot line in case of hostilities. 46,000,000 men are under arms in Europe, and most of the leading armies of that continent have been strengthened in the last few days because of the critical situation. The French troops, especially, are affected by the crisis, since if Germany invades Czechoslovakia France is pledged to come to the aid of the war-born republic.

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together. Beat egg and add pineapple and shortening. Add to flour mixture and stir just enough to moisten the flour. Fill greased muffin pans half full and bake in moderately hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20-25 minutes. Yield: 16 muffins.

Scotch Scones
2 cups sifted flour
3 tablespoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
4 tablespoons shortening
2 eggs
1-2 cup milk
1-4 cup currants (optional)

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut in shortening. Add currants, if desired. Beat one whole egg and one egg yolk, reserving one white for the tops. Add milk to beaten eggs, and all the dry ingredients. Stir only enough to make dough hold together. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead a half minute. Roll out in circular shape to one half inch thickness. Cut into pie-shaped pieces. Brush tops with white of egg and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in moderately hot oven (425 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: 10-12 scones.

Quick Apple Strudel
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons shortening
2-3 to 3-4 cup milk

3 cups chopped apple
1-2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Confectioners' sugar
Chopped nut meats

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together. Cut in shortening and add milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on floured board and knead gently. Roll out one-fourth inch thick. Brush with melted butter, cover with chopped apple. Sprinkle sugar and cinnamon over apple. Roll jelly-roll fashion and form into a semicircle on a greased baking sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20-25 minutes. While warm, frost with white frosting made by beating confectioners' sugar with a little hot water until smooth and flavor with vanilla extract. Sprinkle chopped nuts over frosting. Yield: 12 one-inch slices.

Cedar Rapids Will Be Host to Women's Conference in Oct.

A tour of the university campus and lunch at Iowa Union will be a feature of the three-day session of the North Central Regional conference of Business and Professional Women's federations convening in Cedar Rapids Oct. 14, 15 and 16.

"Women's Status" will be the theme of the entire conference. Included in the schedule of events will be addresses by outstanding speakers, roundtable discussions led by state presidents, and numerous social activities.

Mrs. Rosa E. Cunningham of Des Moines, first vice-president of the national organization, will speak at the luncheon Friday. Cecilia Howard of Chicago, national secretary, will respond to the address of welcome at the opening meeting Friday morning and will also speak at the Saturday luncheon. Four other national officers will also be present.

Other trips planned include a tour of the Quaker Oats company, a visit to Palisades state park and a choice of a tour of Cedar Rapids or a shopping trip.

Emma Hagenstein of Cedar Rapids will serve as general conference chairman. Chairmen of the committees in charge of arrangements include Dr. Agnes E. Wells of Bloomington, Ill., and Mrs. Ruth Chamberlin, of Aurora, Ill., program; Joan Brown of Chicago, transportation; Irene Kessler of Waterloo, finance, and Darline Gordon of Clinton, publicity. Hotel Roosevelt will be headquarters for the conference.

University Saturday Classes Begin This Week for 700

Sixteen Departments To Offer 46 Courses During 10 Sessions

Its opening day Saturday for those University of Iowa students who successfully combine full-time jobs in other communities with attendance at university courses.

Between 600 and 700 men and women are expected to report for the first meetings of the 1938-39 Saturday classes. They will come at 8 a. m., often after having traveled as far as 100 miles, and will work until early afternoon.

The sessions Saturday are the first of 10, approximately three weeks apart. Classes will end in March, the other dates being Oct. 15 and 29, Nov. 19, Dec. 10, Jan. 7 and 21, Feb. 4 and 18, and March 11.

When the students register, they may choose from a list of 46 courses in 16 departments. The work is in such varied subjects as music, education, chemistry, physical education, English, economics, history, journalism, sociology, speech and zoology.

Undergraduate or graduate credit may be earned, the maximum being six semester hours. Those eligible for enrollment include persons who have completed a year of college work or who are 21 years old.

Homecoming Monument Is Nearly Ready

To Be Erected On Traditional Spot By Saturday Night

The Homecoming monument, designed and constructed by the engineering classes, is nearing completion, it was announced by the general chairman, Prof. T. G. Caywood, yesterday.

This year's monument is 15 feet taller than any constructed in previous years. The monument is obelisk in design with Iowa's colors of Old Gold and Wisconsin's Scarlet and White used exclusively throughout the design. Neon lights will be used in its construction.

Work has been divided among several committees in the college of engineering. Aaron Donnelly, E4 of Bonaparte; Thomas Vicker, E4 of Iowa City, and Norman Kopp, E4 of Buffalo Center, have been responsible for the decorative design.

Ray Danner, E4 of Mt. Pleasant, designed the steel framework for the monument. The constructive work is under the direction of William Trigg, E4 of Hedrick, of the mechanical department.

The lighting and other electrical work is being completed under the guidance of Howard Kasch, E4 of Davenport. The neon equipment is under the supervision of Parke Woodworth, E3 of Ipswich, S. Dak. Loyd Keil, E3 of Marengo will be responsible for protecting the monument and directing traffic at the end of Iowa avenue.

The monument is expected to be erected by the end of the week in its traditional spot.

Dean G. F. Kay Welcomes New Faculty Group

Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts welcomed new faculty members and graduate assistants in that college at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Dean Kay emphasized the necessity of every teacher studying improved methods of presenting his subjects. He spoke of the purposes of the college and of the rules and regulations governing it.

His welcome was designed to assist each new member of the staff in becoming oriented in the college of liberal arts at Iowa.

F. R. Pleased Over Calling Of Conference

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28 (AP)—Washington heartily applauded tonight the decision of Europe's great nations to try the conference table again instead of resorting to the battlefield.

President Roosevelt, the author of repeated appeals for peace and, too, of a letter which urged Premier Mussolini to take a hand in the situation, was tremendously pleased.

Whatever the extent to which his efforts influenced the day's historic turn of events, the result was exactly what he had urged requested — that there be no breakdown of negotiations, lest a devastating war ensue.

Although opinions varied as to the outcome of tomorrow's session in Munich, to be attended by Chamberlain of England, Daladier of France and Hitler of Germany, with Mussolini as mediator, the view was general that an immensely heartening breathing spell had been provided.

Anxiously awaiting tomorrow's meeting, the capital meanwhile displayed an intense interest in Mr. Roosevelt's letter to Mussolini, a curiosity made the more intense by the fact that because it was a "personal" message, the White House withheld its contents.

From Rome, however, came a summary which said: "In this message, the president of the United States, after having recalled efforts exerted by him to assure a peaceful solution of the German-Czechoslovak conflict and after having emphasized the tragic consequences that a European war would have for everyone, asked Il Duce to lend his aid to settle the controversy by negotiation or other peaceful means and without recourse to force."

"Il Duce took note of the message and asked the ambassador of the United States to convey to President Roosevelt his thanks and appreciation for the gesture he had made."

Word of tomorrow's meeting reached the city at a time when his hopes of averting actual warfare had been virtually abandoned.

At the White House, attaches hailed the news as "very encouraging."

Engineers To 'Go' Social

Annual Tea Dance Will Be Oct. 15; To Set-up Date Bureau

Attention engineers! If you don't seem to be able to get "that" date, here's your opportunity to do something about it.

The annual engineers' tea dance will be held in the river room in Iowa Union Oct. 15. All engineers, especially freshmen, are invited to attend.

This year freshmen may enjoy the company of their coed friends, and a dating bureau will assist students if they seem to be having trouble.

Cards in the form of invitations, available at the engineering building, are to be filled out for the purpose of securing dates. Freshman engineers who plan to attend must have such cards.

Music will be furnished by a campus orchestra and tea will be served. Those who do not care to dance may play ping pong or bridge. Reports on the Iowa-Chicago football game will be broadcast.

But don't forget that dating bureau!

4,500 U. Dads Will Be Invited

Some 4,500 invitations from President Eugene A. Gilmore will be mailed next month to fathers of University of Iowa students, inviting them to attend the Dad's day events of Oct. 28 and 29.

Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the school of fine arts, is chairman of the general committee, assisted by faculty members and the members of A.F.I., senior men's honorary society.

The program now is being drawn up. Feature events will be the Purdue-Iowa football game of Oct. 29, the dinner after the game, and the mass meeting and party Oct. 28.

Three-fifths of America's meat is produced west of the Mississippi river and about two-thirds is consumed east of the Mississippi.

Professors To Speak Before Public Forum

Panel speakers for tomorrow night's discussion on the "Crisis in Central Europe" were announced yesterday by Edward Freutel, A4 of Los Angeles, Cal., student chairman in charge.

The meeting is to be held at 7 p. m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Prof. Herbert Feigl of the philosophy department, Prof. C. W. Kiewit of the history department, and Prof. H. R. Bowen of the economics department will be the speakers.

Prof. Kirk H. Porter of the political science department will be the chairman of the discussion.

The panel discussion will last approximately 45 minutes. An open forum will occur following the panel in which the audience will participate.

Professor Feigl is himself an Austrian and a graduate of the University of Vienna. Professor Bowen spent last year in Europe, the greater part of his time in England and a month each in France and Germany.

Daladier Cautions Against Optimism Before Peace Meeting

Signs Decree For New Troops To Be Called to Colors

PARIS, Sept. 28 (AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier tonight cautiously avoided any advance demonstration of optimism as he prepared for tomorrow's four-power peace conference at Munich, Germany.

Instead, he signed a decree calling new troops to the colors, strengthening his hand for tomorrow's negotiations with Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy.

In a broadcast to the nation tonight Premier Daladier promised he would strive to preserve peace at the round table talk. But there was no note of optimism regarding the outcome.

Persons close to foreign ministry indicated Daladier would undertake not only to settle the German-Czechoslovak conflict, but also to improve France's strained relations with Italy as a step toward the long-sought "lasting peace."

There was possibility, according to a report in diplomatic circles, that the Munich conference might debate a new British-French plan for settlement of the Sudetenland crisis providing for "symbolic" occupation of Germany before Saturday of the undisputedly Germanic sections, but with an international commission guaranteeing Czechoslovakia's frontiers pending adjustment of other areas.

Nearly Ten Million Dollars In Benefits Allotted to County

In Last Five Years $9,415,846 Given To County for Relief

Estimated benefits allotted to Johnson county from March 4, 1933, to June 20, 1938, are totaled at $9,415,846, according to a report received yesterday from Des Moines. This sum amounts to an average of $1,181 per family, as based on the 1930 census.

Some of the outstanding individual figures of expenditure according to a county breakdown report issued by the National Emergency council for Iowa in Des Moines are:

$852,400 in Reconstruction Finance corporation loans; $2,812,290, Federal land bank and commissioner loans; $828,146, Home Owner's loan corporation; $1,416,642, AAA rental and benefit; $1,990,641, Public Works administration non-federal projects; $258,077, Works Progress administration, and $102,722, modernization and repair notes.

The number of repayable loans amounts to $4,919,278, and the total of the non-repayable allotments is $4,360,746. These figures are reported to be of the first county breakdown of fiscal operations of the federal government.

North Liberty Man Is Dead

Carson Wray Dies In Local Hospital After Long Illness

Carson P. Wray of North Liberty died at 6:20 p.m. yesterday in a local hospital after a lingering illness.

Survivors are his widow, two sons, Charles and Everett, both of North Liberty; one daughter, Mrs. Harold Langenberg of Iowa City; one sister, Mrs. Edith Ranshaw of North Liberty and seven grandchildren.

Mr. Wray was born in Johnson county and lived here all his life. He married Eva Lenz Sept. 28, 1898.

Divorce Granted In 1936 Becomes Valid

The divorce granted Letha Dunaway from Marion Dunaway June 18, 1936 has recently become effective with the filing of the decree in the Johnson county district court.

The decree was granted on the grounds of cruelty.

Egypt's rice exports of 18,077 in the first five months of 1938 were about one-fifth of the previous year's.

Students Search in Vain For Classmate, Missing Since Mon.

Police Still Seek Whereabouts of Second Person Missing Here

Students dismissed from Sharon high school yesterday ended a futile search in Iowa City for their classmate, Henry Reynolds, who has been missing since Monday evening.

Chief of Police W. H. Bender reported last night that additional information has been broadcast in an effort to locate John Stout, 38, 1029 N. Dodge street, who has also been missing since Monday night.

Stout, an employee of the Swamer Farms dairy, told friends Monday afternoon he was going to ride to Solon with a traveling man. Tuesday noon Mrs. Stout received a post card from her husband which said, "When you find this, I will be on the bottom." Police Chief Bender last night expressed doubts as to whether or not Stout ended his life, having learned that the card had been mailed from a train.

In a telegram received by the chief from the man who Stout said he was going to accompany to Solon the chief of police leaped the salesman hadn't seen Stout for several months.

Young Reynolds, who was returning home after a skating party at Kalona, disappeared Monday night after his automobile plunged into a ditch one mile east of Sharon. Iowa City police found his abandoned car Tuesday afternoon on East Benton street, between Maiden Lane and South Van Burden street.

Radio station WHO yesterday noon sent out an appeal, at the request of the youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reynolds, asking information concerning his whereabouts.

Carson Fines 2 In Police Court

Judge Burke N. Carson fined only two persons in Iowa City police court yesterday.

For not stopping at a school-stop sign, Willard Leinke paid a $5 fine and $1 costs, and Ben Bullard Jr., paid a $2 fine and $1 costs for speeding.

Lieut. Malcolm Leaves Here

Joins Air Service; Iowa Citian to Go To Randolph Field

The war department in Washington D. C., announced yesterday the appointment of Marion Malcom of Iowa City as second lieutenant in the regular army air corps to be effective Oct. 1.

Lieutenant Malcom, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Randolph, 725 E. Washington street, will report for duty at the Randolph field in Texas.

The appointment was earned in competitive examinations conducted among air corps, reserve officers who have been engaged in active duty with the air corps.

Following his graduation from the University of Iowa in 1934, Malcom received training at Kelly field and was also stationed at Shreveport, La., and Selridge field, Detroit.

He and his wife are expected to return for Homecoming next week.

New Graduate Assistant Hired

Winston Allard of Walla Walla, Wash., this week began his duties as graduate assistant in the school of journalism.

Allard will assist with work in the reporting and magazine writing classes, in addition to preparing materials for a Master of Arts degree.

The new graduate assistant was graduated with a bachelor of science degree in journalism from the University of Oregon in Eugene. He has been teaching high school journalism for a number of years, coming here from Reedport, Ore.

Allard is also experienced as a writer and has had six years experience in newspaper work, contributing to a number of Pacific coast papers, including the Portland Oregonian.

The new assistant was accompanied to Iowa by Mrs. Allard, who will enter the University of Iowa school of journalism.

County Republicans Open New Quarters In Jefferson Hotel

The new Johnson county republican headquarters in the basement rooms of the Jefferson hotel will be open for inspection Saturday afternoon and evening, it is announced by Attorney Robert L. Larson, county chairman.

The headquarters will be maintained at the same location until after Oct. 11 when they will be moved to room 303 in the hotel. Campaign operations will be carried on from room 303 until after the election Nov. 3.

Secretary in charge of the headquarters will be Franc Moore.

Dr. Voigt And Assistant Will Return to City

Dr. Edwin E. Voigt and his assistant, the Rev. Robert H. Hamill, will return to the local Methodist Episcopal church, it was announced at the five-day annual Upper Iowa conference in Cedar Falls early this week.

Dr. Voigt is beginning his third year as pastor of the local church. The Rev. Mr. Hamill is starting his second year as assistant minister and head of the Methodist student center.

The outstanding feature of the conference was the progress in unification of the Methodist church north and the Methodist church south. The unification of the two branches will be considered at the annual conference next spring.

Anne Goodchild, Hinsdale, Ill.; Dr. Lynn T. Hall, Omaha, Neb.; J. J. Locher, Monticello; the Rev. Royal J. Montgomery, Grinnell, and Marjorie E. Stipers, Washington.

Kenneth A. Evans of Emerson, was enrolled as a life member of the society.

Two Persons Seeking Divorces In County Court

Two divorce petitions were filed yesterday at the Johnson county district court.

Gladys Larimer asks divorce from A. H. Larimer on grounds of cruelty. The couple married Nov. 18, 1936.

C. E. McLeland seeks divorce from Amy McLeland, also charging cruelty. The couple married Sept. 30, 1906. Both petitions were filed by Attorney Ingalls Swisher.

Canada and the United States have been getting along all right. Funny thing, too, living next door to each other all these years.

Johnson county democrats and republicans opened their fall campaigns last night with two separate meetings. Above is shown

AROUND THE TOWN

With MERLE MILLER

Fannie Hurst — who's writing a series for Cosmopolitan — will be Iowa City-bound Oct. 19, a Hearst publicity release informs me... She'll be researching for those who remember "Bix" Biederbecke... He's to be featured in a "They Made Swing History" biog group...

Miss Hurst'll no doubt release what's been pussy-footed about, although facts never hurt anyone... Namely, that "Bix" left the university and Iowa City by request...

Officials thought his sober waking hours too few to bother him with classes... Not that he should have been bothered with education anyway...

And will also mention that his death came not at his height but when he was already on the way down... And was timely and expected, and as it should have been, dramatic...

Florabel Houston met a N. Yawker who's with the Gutherie McClintic productions and may get a try to read for the new Katherine Cornell show, which's not chosen but will open in November... Florabel being one girl I expect things from...

The D. A.'s are letting their hair grow, all except the girls... And that there are not night sessions this year in the local coffee shops is not their idea...

Straight from the most reliable scout comes news that B. Gould and Beatrice — who began that publication of alleged wit named "Frvol" — have promised a definite I. C. visit for the Homecoming game... Depend on it...

Little Jack Little, whose name was Leonard on the campus, told a friend of a friend of mine he'd never be back... His reception last winter — and him a near-alum of this campus (He went to college here anyway) — was so cool you could feel the icicles...

They say that International House idea's scheduled for bigger things... As a beginning there're five foreign ones, two Iowanites this year... And at last Saturday's open house 22 countries were represented, all by campus folks...

The new word-about-campus is "campusury," a course best studied in the evening hours, starwise...

To seem to know something not known... Which must be the worst kind of intellectual dishonesty... To be able to say, "I don't know" when I don't, a trait more profs should emulate...

Why I sometimes wonder about radio... Norman Brokenshire's in a second-rate Sioux City theater this week with a Hawaiian dance band; he tells about the show... Remember him when he headed the Lucky Strike shows, was NBC's tops announcer? (All of two years back.)

That so-called "mystery-control" gadget radio gives the U. S. gov't plenty of worry my scout reports... It's a potential threat to radio-controlled airplanes, just in case...

What public campus building draws the race lines? ... And why? ... And who'll do something about it? ...

And there was terse talk — but now it's all over — about the Peace meeting of tomorrow, Old Capitol... It almost wasn't held because the first title "How to Stop Hitler" sounded too dynamitic... But now all that's changed, and they're expecting fireworks only in the discussion...

A tip, it'll be worth attending...

G. Haskell, who's a prof, is the only one of his profession I know to get in occasional wrong classes... Anyway it's stimulating to have one who'll admit a mistake...

Revised Edition
What big peace treaties you have, grandma... The better to gobble you with, my dear... And the greatest of these is hope...

They Test Themselves Before Picking Courses

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Personality tests this fall determined what courses new students at Baylor university were advised to take.

The tests, designed to show a student's psychological tendencies; aptitude, scholastic record and study habits, guided faculty advisors who aid the new students in choosing study courses. School officials said they hoped the plan would reduce failures.

AFRAID TO MARRY

JUDY DID not expect any Christmas gifts. Her father and mother definitely had made it clear that they were no longer interested in her. Only a few of her friends knew where she was.

Therefore, when a long envelope with her father's name on it came, she opened it in surprise. A check fell out. It was not for a few dollars. It was for an amount that astounded her. He must be making a comeback. Probably he was sorry for his harshness. Well, she would mail the crisp green piece of paper back to him. She didn't ask for help.

The radio was bringing an old carol across the miles. Large snowflakes were falling gently against the window. It was nearly Christmas.

Judy replaced the check in the envelope, placed it in her desk, locked the compartment where she stuck it. If her father had sent her a couple of handkerchiefs, a box of candy, a pair of stockings, that would have been a present. Money wasn't it a duty, a way of settling an obligation. Yet, maybe it was the only way of bestowing a gift which he knew. She would accept it and some day he would understand that she had not wished to hurt anyone.

In the hall she passed Coralee, her arms filled with a large box of which small parcels were spilling.

"My brother drove all the way over to bring me my Christmas things since I won't be home," she explained. "Here's something for you, please, Miss Rogers. My mother sent it."

It was a box of home-made butterscotch but to Judy it was ambrosia and myrrh and frankincense. Someone appreciated her. Someone was thanking her for a kindness! She turned away because her pansy eyes were bright with tears.

Ronald called soon. He asked for her instead of Abbey. She realized that it was absurd to be glad about such a triviality. He chatted for a moment, then added: "The style contest has been postponed. You won't get an answer, or verdict, until the end of the month. It's in the morning papers. Judy, I want you to win a place."

Thank you, Ronald. That's the nicest Christmas present anyone could give me." Then, because her voice might quiver a little if she did not change the personal trend of the conversation, she began to talk of the gaiety of the mansion.

Somewhere, hours later, a clock chimed 7, with the mellow intonations of Big Ben in its tower in London. Judy was ready for the party. She wore a crimson maranza frock which shimmered over its crimson taffeta petticoats. It was a dress that she herself had designed for a holiday party one year before. Her slippers were silver sandals and her hair was bound with a slim silver ribbon. She wished that she had the ruby which was in the pawnshop. Her father's check would help her redeem it the next time she went into the city.

Dinner was at 8. There would be 40 guests. About 10, the others would begin to come for the night's hilarities.

Count Philippe, correctly dressed, was standing in the library, watching the lights of the trimmed trees play upon the snow. He looked tired. Suddenly Judy felt sorry for him.

"Do you know what I'd like to do?" he asked, his brilliant smile flashing. "Get a sleigh somewhere, and just you and I go for a ride up one hill and down another, and have an oyster stew at a village inn, and hear carols in a church."

"Oh, so would I!" Judy agreed. "But this party—it's in your honor. You mean, you don't like it?"

"I like it very much. But I'd like the other, too. I'm two people, Judy Rogers. The one you like, and the one Abbey likes."

"Which one do you like?"

"I can't make up my mind."

You can't make up your heart, either, Judy reflected. You know you are happier with Mrs. Bedford but Abbey has some kind of an appeal. You liked Marjorie, but that wouldn't work. She didn't have enough money. As for me—I can answer your questions and don't love you, so I'm comfortable, like a hassock or a cushion."

The count asked a question so unexpectedly that Judy started. "What's the matter with Abbey? What do she and Ronald Birrell have up their respective sleeves?"

"Why, nothing that I know of. Where did you get such an idea?"

"They talk together a great deal, and when I come they stop. Don't pretend, Miss Rogers. You've noticed. Does she want to call off the wedding, do you suppose?"

He smiled, as though he was not afraid. "It would be rather awkward if she did so, you know. I could make other arrangements naturally..."

"You are mercenary, aren't you?" asked Judy.

"Possibly. Isn't everyone?" He smiled again. "My title is an old, proud one. It will not be worn by an unappreciative countess. Mark that, Miss Rogers."

It could all be so simple, Judy realized. Abbey could tell Count Philippe that she preferred Ronald, and the count could withdraw. But it wouldn't be that way. There were too many dollars, too much prestige involved. Everything would be as gay as Coney Island at 9 o'clock on a summer night, and then, when the wedding was over, there would be such a tangle of threads they would have to be snapped to regain any semblance of order.

Why had Ronald been so interested in a society girl who had a living to make, though? Why had he said those lulling words that she couldn't forget? Why had he been so concerned the night the count had been threatened with death?

Judy straightened her shimmering red shoulders and went into the den. She did not know that it was occupied until Mr. Boland's voice spoke:

"Come in and share my fire, Miss Rogers. I wanted some quietness."

"You aren't going to the dinner?"

He shook his head. Judy noticed how old and tired he looked. "I'm having a tray. I want to go over some reports."

"On Christmas Eve?"

"I think I can keep it better alone," he answered with a fleeting smile. "Christmas isn't much of an imitation of the day it used to be. I was just thinking that one year, before the mines began to yield, I got Abbey a doll—a rag doll we gave at a mining store, with beads for eyes. She slept with it until its skirts were mended past repair. This year she ordered a count."

Judy did not answer, and the man went on. He paused at last to say: "Is Abbey happy, Miss Rogers? What do you think of the count? Will he do?" Then, giving her no chance to make her noncommittal answers, he continued: "I wish she had fallen in love with some decent young American like that lad Birrell. He's clean and fine, all the way through. The boy's honest and he's a comer. He'll be heard from. Lately, I've wondered..."

Oh, so have I! Judy gave a silent answer. All day long and all night long. But I don't want it to be that way. I don't want to love anyone but, since I can't escape, please let me have him! Give Abbey her count! Buy her a duke or a prince! She doesn't care. She can't love, really love. Then Abbey's white, strained face came back. Maybe she could. Maybe she did. Perhaps money had spoiled her and it was not her fault. If so, Ronald could help her climb back to the simple plains where the winds blew cool and strong.

Into the den came Abbey herself. The man and the girl in red caught their breath in silent admiration. Her gold hair was mottled under a band of crystallite stars. Her dress was a floating blue net, deep as the sea on its bluest day, and it was spangled with all of the Christmas stars in the sky. There was a mysterious sheen, sharp as early frost, across the blue silken net, and a veil was caught behind the bandeau in her hair, and fell to the floor where it made a shimmering train.

Behind her—behind her Ronald came.

Permanent Soft Ball Team Election Result

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Out of one Texas political campaign may come a permanent soft ball team and an orchestra.

In Cass county ten men who were rival candidates for county commissioner decided to put on a "cooperative campaign."

So they formed a soft ball team and visited picnics, schools and meetings of various sorts, playing local soft ball teams and then mixing in a few campaign speeches. In addition, they played a variety of instruments so they formed an orchestra.

Eight of the candidates were eliminated in the first primary but that didn't stop the politics, soft ball or music.

They Won't Let Beebe Boast of Little Fish

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—When Dr. William Beebe announced, after capturing a 1 1/2 inch sailfish, that he believed it was the smallest ever taken, Al Pflueger, a Miami who mounts important catches, got peeved.

"I've seen hundreds that size," Al sneered. "I've seen them caught and I've removed them from the stomachs of other fish. They're so common off the southeast Florida coast we think nothing of them."

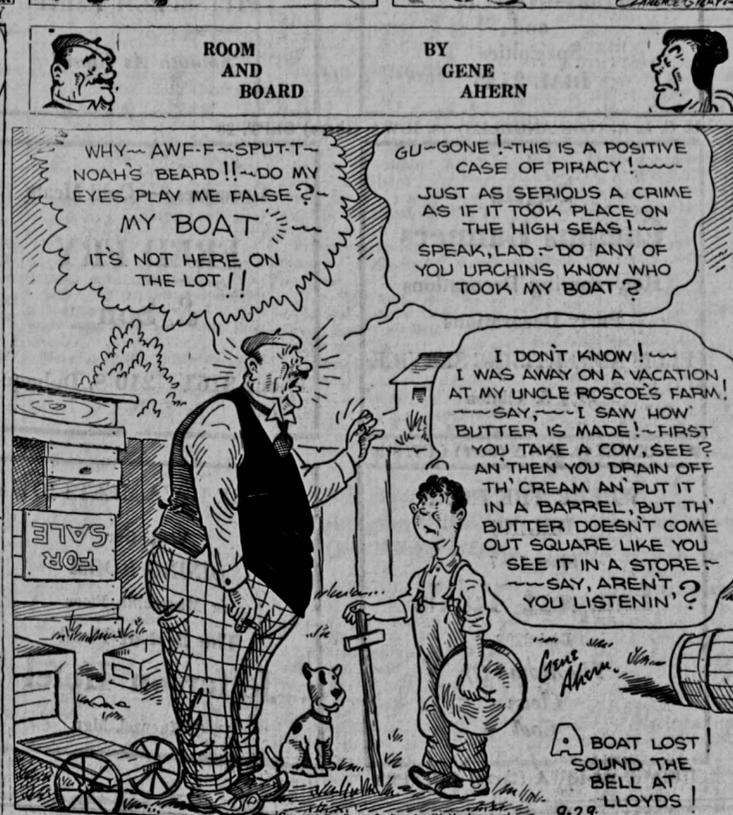

Thomas Aitken, an authority on big game fishing, seconded Pflueger.
