

WELCOME HOME EDDIE ANDERSON

The University of Iowa will turn out at 3:18 this afternoon to welcome a new head football coach—Dr. Edward Anderson—and simultaneously they'll welcome Eddie Anderson back to Iowa, where, as a prep school athlete at Mason City, he went to school.

Anderson will arrive on the Rock Island this afternoon from Holy Cross, where he coached teams through six years of competition with the brilliant record of 47 games won, 4 tied and 8 lost, a record which made his elevens famous throughout the country.

Editor John Mooney of The Daily Iowan left Iowa City last night for Chicago, where he will greet Anderson and make the return trip to Iowa City with him. Meanwhile, at this end, other staff members of The Daily Iowan began arrangements for today's demonstration upon Anderson's arrival.

When the train pulls in, representatives of both town and gown will be on hand to join in the unofficial welcome to Iowa's new mentor. Iowa City's Mayor Myron J. Walker will extend a word of greeting, along with Prof. E. G. (Dad) Schroeder, director of athletics.

The welcome at the train is not the only one on tap for the new coach, who is coming to Iowa to look over the scene of his newest football ventures.

A giant parade from the Rock Island station will conduct the new coach to the campus, where he is scheduled to meet in Old Capitol with members of the board in control of athletics.

Under the sponsorship of Pi Epsilon Pi, national pep organization, another impromptu mass meeting will greet the new football commander on the east approach to Old Capitol at 4 o'clock.

Seven speakers will appear briefly at the ceremony—Professor Schroeder; Prof. Karl E. Leib of the college of commerce, chairman of the board in control of athletics; Editor Mooney; Nile Kinnick, A3 of Omaha, Neb., one of the kingpins of Iowa's 1933 football team; Al Schenk, C4 of Chicago, graduating Hawkeye and president of the T Men's club; Bruce Morrow, D4 of Council Bluffs, Iowa's all-American cheer leader, and Al Sorenson, U of Ames, president of A. F. L., honorary senior men's organization.

Eddie Anderson's return to Iowa is one which recalls events of former days, and in particular of a football game between the University of Iowa and Notre Dame in 1921, when the Hawkeyes handed the Fighting Irish, captained by Anderson, a 10-7 defeat. That year Anderson made the all-American eleven, another product of reminiscence. Things of football nature have happened thick and fast during the past few weeks on the Iowa front. Endless rumors were bandied back and forth, from street corner to street corner, involving many possible Iowa coaches.

But rumor culminated in absolute fact early yesterday morning with the formal announcement by Athletic Director Schroeder that Anderson had signed a three-year contract to coach Iowa teams, 17 years after he brought his Notre Dame outfit into Iowa City to battle with the Hawkeyes in that memorable aforementioned tilt.

As plans for today's celebration gained momentum last night, it was learned that representatives of Iowa News Flashes, weekly moving picture newsreel of Iowa events, would be on hand today to record the events of Anderson's homecoming.

Eddie Anderson returns to Iowa with the assurance by the athletic board that any obstacles which may have faced his three predecessors, who have been unable to make the Old Gold click, will not hamper him.

"We are placing our confidence in Eddie Anderson," a board member spokesman said yesterday morning, "and he will receive nothing but cooperation from the members of the board whenever he asks for anything."

Of the nine games on the closed Holy Cross 1938 season, Anderson's eleven lost only one to Carnegie Tech by a score of 7-6. Providence was the next victim, 28-0; Rhode Island State was dropped, 46-13. Others also fell—Manhattan, Georgia Tech, Colgate, Temple, Brown and Boston college—with Holy Cross always on the extremely long end of a one-sided score. The Anderson team scored 235 points to its opponents 51.

With Anderson to Iowa comes the famous Notre Dame system. It's "Watch Eddie Anderson."

of play—a system which will be used by three of the Hawkeye opponents on next year's "suicide schedule."

What are the teams on the card for next year? Notre Dame, Purdue, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Northwestern and one other!

Yes, 17 years after Eddie Anderson came to Iowa City as a Notre Dame captain and back—after he saw his team take a defeat at the hands of the Hawkeyes—he returns to Iowa as head football coach. In his opening series as Iowa's mentor, the situation is paradoxically changed. Again Iowa will have a try at whipping Notre Dame, this time with that former Notre Dame captain at the Iowa helm.

The slogan which imbued the University of Iowa 17 years ago, although changed, is still appropriate.

It's "Watch Eddie Anderson."

Federal Agents, Police Search For Couple

Three Men Kidnapped Following Gun Fight, Flee Through Mich.

PAW PAW, Mich., Nov. 28 (AP)—Federal agents and police of three states searched tonight for a man and woman, suspected bank robbers, who kidnapped three men during a wild flight following a midnight gun fight with Michigan state police.

The couple, both wounded in the skirmish with police during which they disabled the authorities' car with gunfire, were heavily armed and their abducted victims said, carried a quantity of dynamite in their automobile.

Releasing their captives unharmed in northwestern Indiana, the unidentified pair resumed their frantic dash, presumably into Illinois, and authorities tonight were guarding all roads believed in the couple's route.

John S. Bugas, head of the federal bureau of investigation field office at Detroit, said the couple was wanted for questioning about a $17,000 bank robbery at Brookings, S. D., committed by a man and a woman. They also are wanted on charges of kidnapping and transporting a stolen automobile across state lines.

Capt. Donald S. Leonard of the Michigan state police said he believed the gunman was Benny Dickson, 27, who eluded a police trap Thursday at Topeka, Kan., in which 48 shots were fired at him. Dickson is charged at Topeka with felonious assault.

The gunman and his woman companion both suffered scalp wounds in their battle with Michigan state police, who attempted to stop them at Mottville, near the Indiana line, last midnight. A pursuing state police car was disabled by a bullet that struck the motor.

Pope Resumes Usual Routine

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 28 (AP)—Pope Pius XI resumed normal activities today by attending spiritual services in the chapel of his official apartment.

As further evidence of his vitality following his collapse Friday with a heart attack, the pontiff deviated from his custom of suspending audiences during the week of these spiritual exercises by deciding to receive a large group of newlyweds on Wednesday.

The holy father, after a fairly quiet night, sat in the small sacristy beside the altar during two programs of meditation and instruction, one in the morning and one in the afternoon. He was not visible to the prelates who attended.

Each program covered two half-hour periods, with a half hour's intermission between, the last one ending with recital of the rosary and anaphoritic benediction.

Vatican authorities said the Pope intended to be present every day at the services which will last until Saturday.

ENDORSED To Ask Independence For Philippines

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Administration officials said today they would urge Congress in January to support a joint committee's recommendations for granting independence to the Philippines.

The recommendations, endorsed by President Roosevelt and President Quezon, call for political independence in 1946 and economic independence in 1960.

Congressional leaders expressed belief the recommendations would be received sympathetically.

Says Real War Still to Come

Lieut. Gen. Tojo Sees War Between Russians, Japanese

TOKYO, Nov. 28 (AP)—Japan's vice minister of war warned arms manufacturers today that a Soviet-Japanese conflict apparently is inevitable.

Lieutenant General Elki Tojo said that Japan expand her munitions output. Therefore, the army is demanding that the government enforce article by article, the national mobilization law. The real war is still to come.

The government on May 5 invoked 11 of the 30 articles of the law and subsequently emergency economic measures controlling all branches of industry, trade and banking were enforced.

Both General Tojo and Lieutenant General Seishiro Itagaki, war minister, addressed arms manufacturers summoned to Tokyo for a meeting.

He underlined Soviet Russia as the real danger, in his call for increased arms production, declaring "there is every possibility that Russia and China may band together as soon as the Soviet completes preparations.

"There is no doubt the Soviet is hastily replenishing heavy industries and bolstering armaments in preparation for a Soviet-Japanese conflict that apparently is inevitable."

German Jews Hope for Aid From Roosevelt

BERLIN, Nov. 28 (AP)—Fervent hopes are expressed by leaders of German Jewry that President Roosevelt will be able to persuade the forthcoming Pan-American conference at Lima, Peru, to take immediate general action in behalf of German Jews.

These leaders say immediate action is a compelling necessity. They insist that unless aid comes quickly the tragedy of the Jews will be unspeakable.

Drive Opened By Tri Delt's Contributions

Members of Delta Delta Delta sorority contributed 100 per cent to the religious activities finance drive last night, in the interests of the religious activities program, as the annual drive began.

Hillis Hauser, A4 of Marshalltown, member of the religious activities staff who solicited at the Delta Delta Delta house, reported that every member supported the campaign with a contribution.

Solicitors who attended the religious activities banquet at the Iowa Union Sunday night form another group who have already contributed 100 per cent to the religious activities banquet at the canvassing for funds, they offered whole-hearted financial support for the drive.

Faculty members who spoke at the banquet in behalf of the drive included Prof. Edna Patz of the graphic and plastic arts department and Prof. Herbert Martin of the philosophy department.

As representatives of the university faculty belonging to the religious activities board, both Professor Patz and Professor Martin expressed their desire to support the finance drive in cooperation with the students in the furtherance of a broadened religious activities program.

There are more than 100 solicitors who will work throughout the week with the drive.

Fraternity speakers will solicit upon designated days at sorority houses and sorority women dormitories will be canvassed by solicitor teams within the dorms.

Dismissal of Chiefs From Iowa Highway Patrol Criticized

DES MOINES, Nov. 29 (AP)—Application of the old adage, "to the victors belong the spoils," tonight had touched off a battle over what the state motor vehicle department regarded as the politically untouchable Iowa highway patrol.

Earl G. Miller, newly elected republican secretary of state, today sent in dismissal notices to at least 33 employees in the present secretary of state's office.

Among those dismissed were Horace Tate of Des Moines, acting motor vehicle commissioner; Harry Crenshaw of Des Moines, head of the real estate department; O. C. Gaumer of Fairfield, index division head, and many others. Lone survivors in some divisions were former soldiers.

In the motor vehicle department, however, the new officials announced the dismissal not only of Patrol Chief John R. Hattery but also of Assistant Chiefs E. A. Conley and Harry Nestle and of Sgt. Harry Brown.

The Iowa state safety council today made public a resolution of its board of directors sharply criticized Miller for "ignoring" the cause of "clean, honest and efficient public service" by removing Hattery, effective Jan. 1.

Whether the state motor vehicle code provides for the displacement of the officers of the patrol tonight was the subject of debate in state political circles. Motor vehicle department employees cited a section which says no patrolman may be dismissed "unless charges have been filed with the secretary of the executive council showing cause for dismissal."

The executive council office today said no charges have been filed thus far.

Common political practice, both among democrats and republicans, has been to reward friends with jobs after a successful election.

Republicans Are Happy!

Leaders Gather to Discuss Campaign Plans for 1940

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP)—Republican leaders, gathering for a meeting of the party's national committee tomorrow, made it plain today they want all the support they can get from conservative democrats.

Committee members began dropping in at republican national headquarters this morning. Smiling and happy, they exchanged congratulations over the recent election and eagerly discussed methods for strengthening their organization for the 1940 presidential campaign.

One possible threat to harmony at tomorrow's meeting was the scheduled selection of an executive committeeman to succeed Charles D. Hilles, veteran New York leader who retired last year.

Kenneth F. Simpson, who managed Thomas Dewey's campaign for the New York governorship, has been nominated by the New state committee for Hilles' seat on the national committee.

MEMORIAL

Accident Victims Will Be Commemorated

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28 (AP)—The tolling of bells, flags at half-staff, and the sounding of "taps" next Saturday will commemorate in best military manner Cleveland's 1938 traffic dead.

While mounted policemen remain at attention, Mayor Harold H. Burton will read a tribute to the dead. An obelisk—"Memorial to the 112 Who Died"—will be erected, and there the families of traffic victims will place wreaths.

It sounds like a tribute at the end of battle but it actually is a ceremony to mark the beginning of one—a battle to make Cleveland "the safest big city in America."

Chamberlain To Meet Duce

Rome Meeting Will Take Place in Jan.; 3 Questions Involved

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 28—Britain's traveling prime minister is to talk over with Premier Mussolini in Rome the British policy of European appeasement which has been balked temporarily by Germany's drive on Jews.

The foreign office announced tonight that Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, both of whom were in Paris last week on an official visit, proposed journeying to Rome in the first half of January.

The announcement said Mussolini had suggested the trip to Berlin when they met Sept. 29 in Munich and, in answer to the later British proposal of making the meeting in the first half of January, had stated "he would in principle welcome a visit from the prime minister and foreign secretary at that time."

Authoritative sources said Jan. 10 was a likely date for the statesmen to meet.

It was expected that high on the agenda for their talks would be three questions:

- Improvement of Anglo-German relations, now clouded by Germany's anti-Semitic policy.
- Improvement of Italian-French relations.
- The Spanish civil war.

Progress Made In Efforts To End C.I.O. Strike

CHICAGO, Nov. 28 (AP)—Conflicting stories of the strike that has paralyzed trade at the Chicago stock yards reported today they had made "some progress."

A brief announcement to that effect was issued by Robert Mythen, government arbiter, after he had conferred for two hours with representatives of the Packing House Workers organizing committee and spokesmen for the Union Stock Yards company.

Strengthening of present machinery for the maintenance of peace in the western hemisphere is one of the major United States goals for the Lima conference.

Government Of France Holds Military Rule

Unions Throughout Country Agree To Wednesday Walkout

PARIS, Nov. 28 (AP)—Paralysis of France by a one-day nationwide strike was threatened by widening labor support today in spite of government measures which held military rule over the heads of a large section of the workers preparing the Wednesday walkout.

The government announced a special "mass decree" allowing the requisitioning under military supervision of all public service employees—subway, bus line, electric and gas plant workers. The delivering of requisitions to the nation's railway workers already was proceeding.

These measures were taken as government employees' union totaling 950,000 public servants, including 520,000 railroad workers, defied cabinet orders to disregard the strike call.

In protest against government decree laws suspending the 40-hour work week and imposing new taxes, 5,000,000 general confederation

Welcome Home*Eddie Anderson

SEVENTEEN YEARS ago Captain Eddie Anderson led his optimistic band of Notre Dame gridiron into historic old Iowa field. He must have been deeply impressed by that cocky bunch of corn-fed Hawkeyes.

Today, this same Eddie Anderson, now Coach Eddie Anderson, returns to Iowa City in the spirit of that classic of 1921.

Anderson's Holy Cross eleven, which was defeated only once this year, ranked ninth in the country, one notch ahead of Minnesota.

The appointment of Anderson, one of the most popular choices in Iowa history, is indeed a tribute to the board in control of athletics and Athletic Director E. G. (Dad) Schroeder. These men had promised a "big name" coach and they fulfilled their promise with speed characteristic of a "big name" athletic board.

Anderson, himself a Mason City, Iowa, man, played his football under the great Knute Rockne and was named for an end position on the All-American football team for that 1921 year.

Seventeen years ago, the Iowa slogan was "Watch Eddie Anderson"; today the slogan is the same. We are watching Eddie Anderson, confident that he can turn the trick and bring Iowa back into its place in the conference athletic sun.

WELCOME HOME, EDDIE!

Mickey Mouse And Popeye in Fascist Doghouse

THE DICTATOR, in his efforts to spoon-feed his subjects with propaganda, often goes to ludicrous lengths.

In Germany, American newspapers are practically banned because of the United States' attitude against Nazi savagery in the treatment of the minority peoples. But to fascist Italy must go the palm for the most amusing and disgusting form of censorship.

"Popeye the Sailor" and "Mickey Mouse" have been cast out of Italy because they fail to exalt the "imperial, fascist and Mussolinian tone in which we live." These two comic strips, which have delighted young and old in this country for years, have been decreed "unsuitable for the minds of Italian children."

"Popeye's" exclusion can be readily understood. That fearless sailor has long made a practice of bashing in the skulls of demons, despots, desperados and dictators. It could easily be classed as revolutionary.

As for "Mickey Mouse," the only offense he could have committed to warrant such treatment would be the fact that perhaps he cannot prove that he is of pure Aryan stock.

What effects these decrees will have on the comic strip characters is still a matter of conjecture. Popeye will probably eat another can of spinach and "arf, arf, arf" the whole thing off. On the other hand, the sensitive Mickey Mouse probably will pine for sometime over evils of the world.

The whole is silly, isn't it?

Further Developments In the East

The announcement by a high Japanese official that Japan must prepare to fight Russia as well as China brings little comment from the man on the street. Even the approach of a new "cultural" alliance among Japan, Germany and Italy fails to disturb the average American.

The tensions created by the Czech crisis and the Munich peace is lessening in this country. These things are true, partly because America has just celebrated one of her most significant holidays, Thanksgiving, and because Christmas is just around the corner. It is the season of the year when Americans become sentimental about "peace on earth, good will toward men."

Yet it needs to be remembered that hate is still a dominant force in the world. During the recent troubles in Europe, many attempts were made to stir up hate in this country against the Germans. But, as one writer has said, "hate is an emotional thing. It doesn't solve problems. Let's confine our hating to hatred of war and use our heads to keep out of war."

In the light of the recent happenings in Europe and the effect they had in America, this is an opportune moment to consider seriously what Mark Twain in his "Mysterious Stranger" wrote, years before 1914, about war:

"There has never been a just one, never an honorable one—on the part of the instigator of the war. I can see a million years ahead, and this rule will never change in so many as a half dozen instances. The loud little handful—as usual—will shout for the war. The pulpit will—warily and cautiously—object—at first; the great, big, dull bulk of the nation will rub its sleepy eyes and try to make out why there should be a war, and will say, earnestly and indignantly, 'It is unjust and dishonorable, and there is no necessity for it.'

"Then the handful will shout louder. A few fair men on the other side will argue and reason against war with speech and pen and at first will have a hearing and be applauded; but it will not last long; those others will shout them down, and presently the anti-war audiences will thin out and lose popularity."

"Before long you will see this curious thing: the speakers stoned from the platform and free speech strangled by hordes of furious men who in their secret hearts are still at one with those stoned speakers—as earlier but do not dare to say so."

"And now the whole nation—pulpit and all—will take up the war cry and shout itself hoarse, and mob any honest man who ventures to open his mouth. Presently such mouths will cease to open."

"Next the statesmen will invent cheap lies, putting the blame upon the nation that is attacked, and every man will be glad of those conscience-soothing falsities and will diligently study them and refuse to examine any refutations of them, and thus he will by and by convince himself that the war is just, and will thank God for the better sleep he enjoys after this process of grotesque self-deception."

Anderson, himself a Mason City, Iowa, man, played his football under the great Knute Rockne and was named for an end position on the All-American football team for that 1921 year.

Seventeen years ago, the Iowa slogan was "Watch Eddie Anderson"; today the slogan is the same. We are watching Eddie Anderson, confident that he can turn the trick and bring Iowa back into its place in the conference athletic sun.

NEW YORK—Notes on the big town, jotted down on a quick round-up:

It isn't often that you see more than one or two mounted cops at a time in New York, and so when about 20 of them wheeled into West street and headed towards the North German Lloyd steamship docks we allowed our curiosity to get the better of us and followed after.

There were about 2,000 men, women and children lining the streets, hissing and jeering. The German steamship Bremen was easing out of her berth on the way to her home port, and the farewell party had arrived to voice its opinion, of the way affairs are being conducted in the Fatherland. All of these opinions were unprintable. In addition to the mounties there were scores of foot police, clutching their nightsticks. No bombs were tossed, and therefore no skulls were cracked. But the cat-calls and the rude epithets were an education to the ear. All were addressed personally to Hitler.

Mark Warnow will direct his orchestra in introductory music for the program, which will be announced by Harry von Zell.

JOAN BENNETT

will appear on the Bob Hope program over the NBC-Red network at 9 o'clock tonight.

The musical portion of the program will be handled by Skinnay Ennis, who will do one of his "breathless" romantics. In addition to leading the orchestra, and by the swing chorus, "Six Hits and a Miss."

HARRY RICHMAN

will be heard on Benny Goodman's swing caravan at 8:30 tonight over Columbia. Harry will matriculate into Benny's swing academy, though he's hardly a novice at America's Longstreet, the Confederate general.

ZAZU PITTS

whose fluttering hands and wailing voice have put her in the front rank of screen comediettes, will conclude a personal appearance tour in time to be the guest of Al Jolson on his broadcast over the Columbia network at 7:30 tonight. Martha Raye and Parkyarkus are in on the humor.

FERNANDIN THE BULL

... usurper of Mickey Mouse's title of national favorite in the animated cartoon kingdom, will be sung by the Smoothies and the male octet on Vocal Varieties at 6:15 tonight over NBC-Red. "Deep in a Dream," "Red Sails in the Sunset" and "F. D. R. Jones" will be included in the musical review.

LUPE VELEZ

film and musical comedy star, will headline the parade of guest stars on "For Men Only" over the NBC-Red network at 7:30 tonight.

Others to be interviewed include Sleepy Jim Crowley, noted football coach of Fordham university, and Dr. Logan Cledening, famed health authority.

Here's the little tragedy of a man who happens to look very much like a celebrity. He is Jim Cope of the A.M.A. and he is a dead ringer for Tom Dewey, our popular young district attorney who was defeated by Governor Lehman in the recent elections. Cope has the same eyes, same hair, same mustache, even bunches his shoulders in the Dewey manner.

Cope was constantly mistaken for Dewey during the campaign, but the pay-off came during dinner at the Crillon after the ballot count had returned Lehman the winner.

Suddenly a portly but soft-spoken gentleman came up to Cope and touched his shoulder. "It's all right, Mr. Dewey," he said, "you put up a good fight."

"Thank you very much," Cope gravely replied.

Duke Accepts Bid to Meet U. of Southern California In Tournament of Roses Classic

Both Jones And Wade Boast Bowl Records

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 28 (AP) — Duke university athletic officials announced tonight they had accepted an invitation to play Southern California in the Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena, Cal., on Jan. 2.

It will be the first trip of Duke to the Rose Bowl, but the fourth time the Blue Devils' coach, Wallace Wade, has come to the Pasadena game.

Wade, as in the case of Coach Howard Jones of U. S. C., has an unbeaten record in the big bowl. He brought Alabama out in 1926 and won over Washington, 20-19; came with Alabama in 1927 and beat Stanford, and in 1931, he guided Alabama to a 24-0 victory over Washington State.

Sentiment was high in Los Angeles for Texas Christian or Tennessee to get the bid, and the selection failed by a good deal to meet universal approval.

An informal canvass of downtown hotel men brought unreserved sentiment for Texas Christian.

The annual "post card poll" conducted by Bill Henry, Los Angeles sports editor, found the vote standing as follows:

Tennessee 904; Texas Christian 855; Duke 811; Oklahoma 798, and Carnegie Tech 367, to make the leaders.

Popularity of the North Carolina Dukes gained momentum over the week end after they defeated Pittsburgh, 7-0, keeping intact an amazing record of never having been scored upon all season.

Southern California's record falls short of the Duke lads. Alabama pasted them, 19-7, in the opening game of the season, but the Trojans came back to win six straight games, including victories over Ohio State and California, and then Washington won a 7-6 decision over the Trojan war horse.

To Stidham, Oklahoma: Honors for developing what was believed to be ordinary material into an undefeated team.

Jock Sutherland, Pittsburgh: Honors for being the best prognosticator. Jock didn't tell a fable all season.

Bill Kern, Carnegie Tech: To him the professor gave his box of snuff for he was the hard luck coach of the land, his record brightened by a back who tried to befuddle Referee John Getchell into giving the Skibos five downs instead of four — and then lost the ball and the game.

Aw Shucks!

Clark Shaughnessy, Chicago: A great coach who took painful adversity without a whimper.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, College of the Pacific: Full honors because he came back to Chicago, which let him out five years ago because he had reached the retirement age of 70, and gave his old team a good flicking as a reminder that he meant what he said when he reported: "I'll coach football until all my teeth fall out."

Earle Martineau and Clarence Munn, assistant Michigan coaches: Diplomas to them for turning in a pair of the neatest assisting jobs of the year.

We'll See!

Eddie Anderson, Holy Cross: A consolation prize because he's going to the new coaches' graveyard in Iowa, where they don't get the boys like they used to bring 'em for the coach.

Major Bob Neyland, Tennessee: "You must be a great coach," said the old professor. "Without publicity — anyway I never can get a word out of your press agent and neither can anyone in New York — your team is rated as one of the four strongest in the land."

Seeking its third straight victory, the fast moving Iowa City high school basketball quintet will meet Lone Tree's fighting aggregation at City High gym tonight. A preliminary game between Herb Cormack's sophomores and the varsity third stringers will start at 7 o'clock.

Coach Francis Merten will probably start McLaughlin and Devine in at forwards against the Lone Tree boys. Captain Russell Hirt, Little Hawks' high scorer, will be at his usual center post while Lemons and McGinnis will round out the five in playing the guard positions.

Practice last night was spent in drilling on offensive and defensive maneuvers as Coach Merten sought to instill polish and finesse in his boys' play.

The Lone Tree game will be the last warmup game for the Hawks before they swing into conference play against Davenport Friday evening.

Captain Hirt, who has garnered 15 and 14 points respectively in the first two games, will be Iowa City's chief offensive threat tonight. But the Merten men are developing into a smooth working five-man club which will be difficult to stop. Hirt's high scoring is not so much a proof that Iowa City is a one man club as it is a testimony to his uncanny shooting ability. With any time at all for shooting, he seldom misses.

Vergil "Seth" Parker, reserve forward, will not see action against Lone Tree, being forced to the bench with an attack of appendicitis.

George Devine, who reinjured his right wrist in the Muscatine game, scrimmaged with the varsity last night but his injured arm was well taped. It will not keep him from the game tonight.

By PAUL MICELSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP) — Dressed in his fanciest finery, his whiskers and a jug of his famous Mankato cider within easy grasp, the old professor held the 1938 graduating exercises for weary college football coaches today. Assisting him was Clark Shaughnessy of the University of Chicago. Inasmuch as Mr. Shaughnessy was the only coach in the land who didn't have any fun all year, the professor called him to the dias, pointed him out as the victim of high education, and began.

Professor: Boys, I'll do the talking and awarding today as this is my last class. I'm taking indefinite leave of absence to return to the middle west where men are men and no football coach is safe. Professor Whitney (Touchdown) Martin of Kansas City will take over next session. Dawson, bring on the diplomas."

The professor, wheezin a bit under pressure, awarded the diplomas as follows:

Valedictorian: Wade

Wallace Wade, Duke: valedictorian of the class. "If any of you guys can show me a perfect record like Wade's, I'll play end for Notre Dame," said the professor. "One hundred and 14 points to nothing!"

To Stidham, Oklahoma: Honors for developing what was believed to be ordinary material into an undefeated team.

Jock Sutherland, Pittsburgh: Honors for being the best prognosticator. Jock didn't tell a fable all season.

Bill Kern, Carnegie Tech: To him the professor gave his box of snuff for he was the hard luck coach of the land, his record brightened by a back who tried to befuddle Referee John Getchell into giving the Skibos five downs instead of four — and then lost the ball and the game.

Dorm Cagers Start Season Eight Games Played In Quad, Hillcrest And Co-op Leagues

Getting away on the first lap of intramural basketball competition, Quad, Hillcrest and co-op cagers battled through eight games marked by the wild passing that is to be expected in games at this stage of the season.

Out of four Quad league games, all were close except the one in which Upper C overwhelmed Upper D, 29-12. In the other Quad battles, Upper A beat Upper B, 28-21, Lower A eked out a 15-14 decision over Lower B and Lower C took Lower D, 24-20.

Gordon Mau scored 16 of Second North Hillcrest's points as his team won 19-16 from Second East. Third North won from Third East in the other Hillcrest battle, 16-14.

In the most one-sided game of the evening Whetstone, in the co-op league, snowed under Jefferson, 47-13. Chesley came through with a 17-9 victory over Grover and Gables won by a forfeit from Kellogg in two other scheduled co-op league games.

Ted Cox Resigns STILLWATER, OKLA., (AP) — Ted Cox resigned yesterday as head football coach of Oklahoma A & M college at the end of his third and most disastrous season. Henry P. Iba, athletics, said the college athletic cabinet had accepted the resignation.

Private Reception Given for Family, Relatives After Rites

A candlelight ceremony in an all white setting provided the background for the marriage of Wilma Otto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Otto of Carroll, and Dr. Robert F. Barels, also of Carroll. The ceremony was solemnized Nov. 17 in the First Presbyterian church in Carroll.

The service was read by the Rev. William R. Yingling before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums and lighted by ivory tapers.

Following an organ prelude by Mrs. Carson Summers, Donald Barels, brother of the groom, sang "I Love You Truly" and Mrs. Romayne E. Huffman sang "At Dawnning." Mrs. Summers played the Lohengrin wedding march softly throughout the ceremony and concluded with Mendelssohn's wedding march as the recessional.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length colonial gown of white moire taffeta with a high flared collar and long, leg-o'-mutton sleeves. A halo of orange blossoms held her shoulder veil in place. She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and white pompons tied with white satin rope.

Harriet Otto of Iowa City, the bride's sister, was her only attendant. She was attired in a powder blue taffeta gown, fashioned with a tight bodice, short, puffed sleeves, and a hoop skirt with dark blue velvet trim. She wore an ostrich feather headdress and her flowers were pink an-

Plans are also being made for a floor show in which Quadrangle and Hillcrest men will participate.

Tickets for the party will go on sale at the Quadrangle and Hillcrest offices Monday. Only residents of the dormitories are eligible to attend.

Many suggestions have been submitted in the name contest, according to a report of the committee. Entries may still be made at either the Hillcrest or Quadrangle office. Announcement of the three prize-winning names will be made soon.

Guests of honor at the dance will be Dean and Mrs. Lorenzo Jones, Mrs. Maud Hollis Thindall and Mrs. Jessie E. Saunders.

Dr. and Mrs. Chester I. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Fourt, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin N. Oberg and Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Lamholm will chaperon the affair.

Instructors in Languages To Confer Here December 2, 3; Will Hear Visiting Speakers

Representatives Of Law Publication To Attend Conference

Five different languages will be spoken here Friday and Saturday, making the University of Iowa campus resemble the city of Babylon ancient times, when hundreds of language teachers from colleges and high schools meet for their annual conferences.

In addition to this language and literature conference, an annual December event, 14 universities of eight middle western states will send law review publications representatives here for a conference at the college.

The language conference, one of the year's largest, is sponsored by the school of letters and includes meetings for teachers of English, French, German, Spanish and Latin. Several general sessions will also occur. The modern languages and the English conferences will begin Friday morning in Old Capitol. The session of the classical languages will begin at an informal classical dinner at the Jefferson hotel in the evening.

Addresses will be given by eight visiting speakers and by nine university faculty members. Some of the visitors are Prof. Americo Castro of University of Wisconsin; Prof. Charles Dubos, Notre Dame; Raymond Jameson, Library of Congress in Washington, D. C.; J. Duncan Spaeth, Wichita; and Axel Boethius, University of Goteborg, Sweden.

Spaeth was active in the instruction of illiterates in army camps during the World War and was well known for his excellent coaching of the Princeton crews from 1910 to 1925.

Entertainment that is designed to draw the attention of students includes a French moving picture, "Les Perles de la Couronne" with Sacha Guitry, and a broadcast of Latin Christmas carols over WSU.

At the last law review conference, called for the discussion of mutual problems, such institutions as Wisconsin, Minnesota, Chicago, Northwestern, Ohio State, Notre Dame and Missouri will be represented by editors and faculty sponsors.

Play Scheduled For 7 Shows

5 Evening, 2 Matinee Performances Will Be Given of Fantasy

More performances of a play than ever before scheduled for the university theater will be given of the famous fantasy, "The Blue Bird" by Maurice Maeterlinck, here next week.

Five evening performances and two matinees for children have been booked, Prof. E. C. Mabie, director of university theater, has announced. Usually only four or five performances of a play are given.

The evening shows are Dec. 6, 7, 8, 9, and 12 at 8 p.m. and the special matinees are Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 10 and 11, for the benefit of children.

With one of the largest casts in the history of Iowa's theater, "The Blue Bird" requires settings and lighting even more elaborate than those of "Peter Pan," a success of two seasons ago.

Photographer Theme to Be Pictorial Iowa

Pictorial Iowa, as photographed by resident Iowans, is the theme of the third annual photographic contest and salon sponsored by the university campus Camera club.

Lee Cochran of the university extension division announced Monday that all entries must be submitted by Jan. 15, 1939.

After the jury has made its selection, the best pictures will be shown in Iowa Union and the 20 highest will form a traveling exhibit to be shown throughout the state.

An artistic interpretation of familiar Iowa subjects by means of photography is the purpose of the contest, Cochran said. Each picture entry must have with it a description of the subject and its location.

No more than four pictures may be submitted by one contributor. No picture is to be smaller than five by seven inches. Prints must be mounted, Cochran said.

To Discuss World Peace and American Foreign Policy Here

Prof. J. Van der Zee of the political science department will discuss "American Foreign Policy and World Peace" at a meeting of the Iowa Student Peace council at 3:30 this afternoon in the board room in Iowa Union.

The council is an undergraduate organization composed of representatives from most of the organized groups on the campus, as well as of other undergraduates interested in active peace work.

This is the first of a projected series of such discussions by prominent faculty members on different aspects of the immediate problem of maintaining peace. The council is sponsoring the series as one phase of its program of the year.

Industrial Democracy League Charges Dies 'Abused Power'

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP) — John Dewey, vice president of the League for Industrial Democracy, and three fellow officers issued a statement today accusing Chairman Martin Dies (D-Tex.), of the house committee investigating un-American activities, of "irresponsible abuse" of power.

The statement was prompted by Dies' request of yesterday to Secretary Hull that the league, among others, be investigated as a "front organization."

It asserted the Texan's activities had raised the question whether he wishes to create a public hysteria preliminary to the introduction of legislation restrictive of freedom of speech and press, and in the name of Americanism, to advance the principles and policies of fascism in this country."

Dewey's co-signers of the denunciation were Reinhold Niebuhr, treasurer; Norman Thomas, board chairman, and Harry W. Laidler, executive director.

"The league," they said, "is not defending itself against any charges or innuendos. It is attacking Chairman Dies' abuse of power. The league stands on its long, magnificent record of constructive educational work in the field of social problems, a work which has been acclaimed by economists, political scientists and humanitarians as one of the most unique and valuable in the country."

"The league, as all who know it realize, is not a 'front' for any political organization. It has in the nature of the case never had any relations with the communist party. Insinuation that it may be a 'front' organization for communists or for any other organization abroad constitutes an insult to the intelligence of the thinking public."

Fritz Kuhn, head of the German-American bund, telegraphed Representative Dies a protest against "slanderous accusations" that the bund was an agent of a foreign power.

"I believe you know better and that such charges are brought as a sop to artificially create false opinion," the telegram said.

Representative elect Vito Marcantonio of New York, elected on the republican and American labor party tickets, announced tonight he had sent a telegram to Dies asking for an opportunity to testify before the committee to answer Sam Baron.

Baron had said the International Labor Defense was a communist front organization and that Marcantonio was its "presiding head."

Marcantonio said in his telegram that Baron was an "unmitigated liar." He likewise termed the witness "this faker."

Pharmacy Heads Attend State Meeting

Dean Emeritus Wilber J. Teeters and Dean Rudolph Kuever of the college of pharmacy were in Des Moines over the week end to attend a meeting of the State Pharmacists Association.

The meeting was a joint session of all sectional groups of the state, and was held to consider possible legislation for the association.

$4 a Word Store Owner Loses $77 to Bandits

DES MOINES, Nov. 28 (AP) — It cost Joe Rubin, proprietor of a grocery and meat market here, $4 a word to listen to the jovial conversation of two holdup men tonight, he reported to police.

The men visited with Mr. and Mrs. Rubin at their market, quietly informed them it was a holdup, stuck a gun in the proprietor's ribs and looted the place of $77, after speaking 19 words.

The Rubins, alone in the store, told police this is what took place when the men entered.

"Well, well, look, who's here," said one of the men jovially, approaching Rubin. Rubin clapped him on the back in friendly fashion.

"This is a pickup," said the young man conversationally, jabbing a .45 caliber automatic pistol into Rubin's midsection.

Mrs. Rubin fainted, falling to the floor.

"Aw, quit kidding," said Rubin. "I'm not kidding," said the man with the gun.

Working quickly, the two strangers cleaned out Rubin's pockets and the store cash register, obtaining a total of $77.

"I need that money awful bad," said Rubin.

After cautioning Rubin to "take it easy," the two young men disappeared on foot.

Rubin told police the men were not masked. Mrs. Rubin, who had been ill for several months, was placed under doctor's care following the incident. She suffered shock.

Vocational Guidance

As for Moscow, in addition to being genuinely important, they say that folks there attend swell functions in nothing much more stylish than overalls. Roper wouldn't do in such surroundings and he knows it. The administration doubtless knows it also, but doesn't care, being so anxious to get rid of Daniel. The nub of it is that Dan knows it too, and he does care.

Nevertheless:

How provide adequately for Harry Hopkins?

Harry isn't professionally equipped for the attorney generalship. Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson will get that. Equally is Harry unsuitable for the supreme court vacancy. He isn't a lawyer; he's a welfare worker.

Maybe Hopkins is more competent than Roper is. The administration evidently thinks so. So it wants that job, to operate from.

Roper selfishly hangs onto it.

He's a nuisance to some very irritated persons.

Furthermore, Hopkins has had no more training for the treasury, war or navy departments than you, dear reader, or I, ever had. I myself came from Iowa, as Harry did, but I'm no agricultural expert; neither is he. He may have a little dope on labor or interior departmental problems; still, those avenues likewise appear to be barreled against him.

READ THIS FIRST:

Sara Sue Davis, attractive young widow, establishes herself in a cozy cottage near the campus of Rice Institute, in Texas, hangs out a sign which reads "COUNSEL IN ROMANCE," and inaugurates a novel plan to help guide 100 student "members" in their social affairs for a small fee. Bob Towne, campus football hero, much attracted by Sara Sue, is the first to enroll, and this enrages Peaches Pomeroy, who had regarded herself as "Bob's girl" the previous year. An unprepossessing freshman, Worthington Gurley, enrolls and also displays an interest in the pretty young widow. Then Dr. Thornton Holgate, new member of the faculty, brings the Cottage Plan to a climax when he begs Sara Sue to help him and confides his love for the Pomeroy girl. Finally, T. J. Sanders, a sports goods salesman, drops into town and falls in love with Sara Sue at first sight. After Sara has given Dr. Holgate several lessons in "how to become more human," he becomes frantic at the freshman ball when he comes upon Peaches badly intoxicated. For hours he lies awake, tortured by Peaches' public display.

(Now Go On With the Story)

CHAPTER 21

A GOOD SLEEP and a good meal are two of the greatest miracles workers known to mankind.

Thornton Holgate slept until 11:30 that Sunday. He did not regret missing church, for once. He got up and bathed and felt very refreshed, then ate a hearty lunch in the Rice Commons, read The Chronicle and The Post, and saw it was a lovely Sunday afternoon. After that he felt a little ashamed of his actions the night before; it occurred to him that he had acted almost like a freshman; he, a mature man.

After all, it had been a Saturday night, a dance night. And Peaches Pomeroy was five or six years younger than he, young enough to be a little bit careless. She had been drunk, apparently; but then, other people drank. In fact, some people seemed to get drunk often and still retain a semblance of respectability. Dr. Holgate felt that Peaches was perhaps just in the wrong crowd, under a bad influence.

With that thought he began to chide himself.

"If I had been more attentive, had sought her earlier and offered her wholesome entertainment, she would not have succumbed to unworthy companionship," he told himself. He did not realize that he was just another young man in love, trying to rationalize his lady's irrational actions. Many another lover has thus unwittingly tried to deceive himself.

He saw a group of faculty men walking toward the Rice tennis courts, some in tennis dress, others obviously going just as spectators.

"Join us, Holgate!" one of them invited. "Beautiful afternoon."

"Thank you, I will," he answered. Companionship was welcome now.

Some of these were older men, but one or two were nearer his own age, junior instructors or fellows. Some he knew had been at the freshman dance.

"Mathematics all week, dance all Saturday night, sleep all day Sunday, eh Holgate?" one of them kidded him a little. "I saw you there last night, but didn't get a chance to speak. Wanted you to meet my wife, too."

"So sorry. Did you both enjoy yourselves?"

"Well, yes. I had some duties, and so didn't dance very much, really. Part of the chaperone fell to me, you know."

Thornton hadn't known, but he nodded. "Very orderly assembly," he ventured.

"Most of the time. Some messy clean-up work toward the end. Always a handful that have to be watched."

"Doubtless," agreed Thornton. "Was it er—disagreeable?"

"No. Routine. Same old offenders, mostly, as last year. Drinking, Necking."

"Ah—necking?"

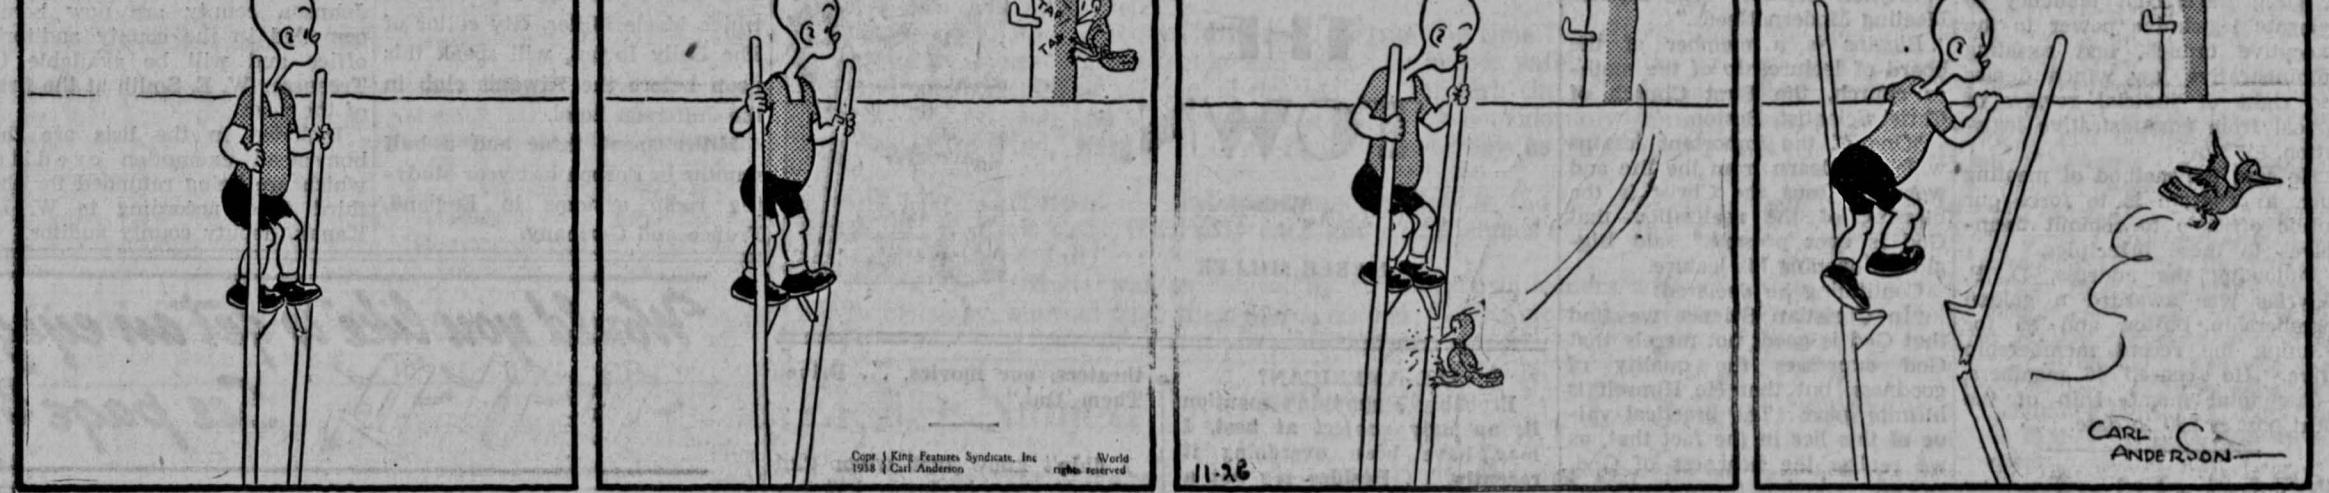

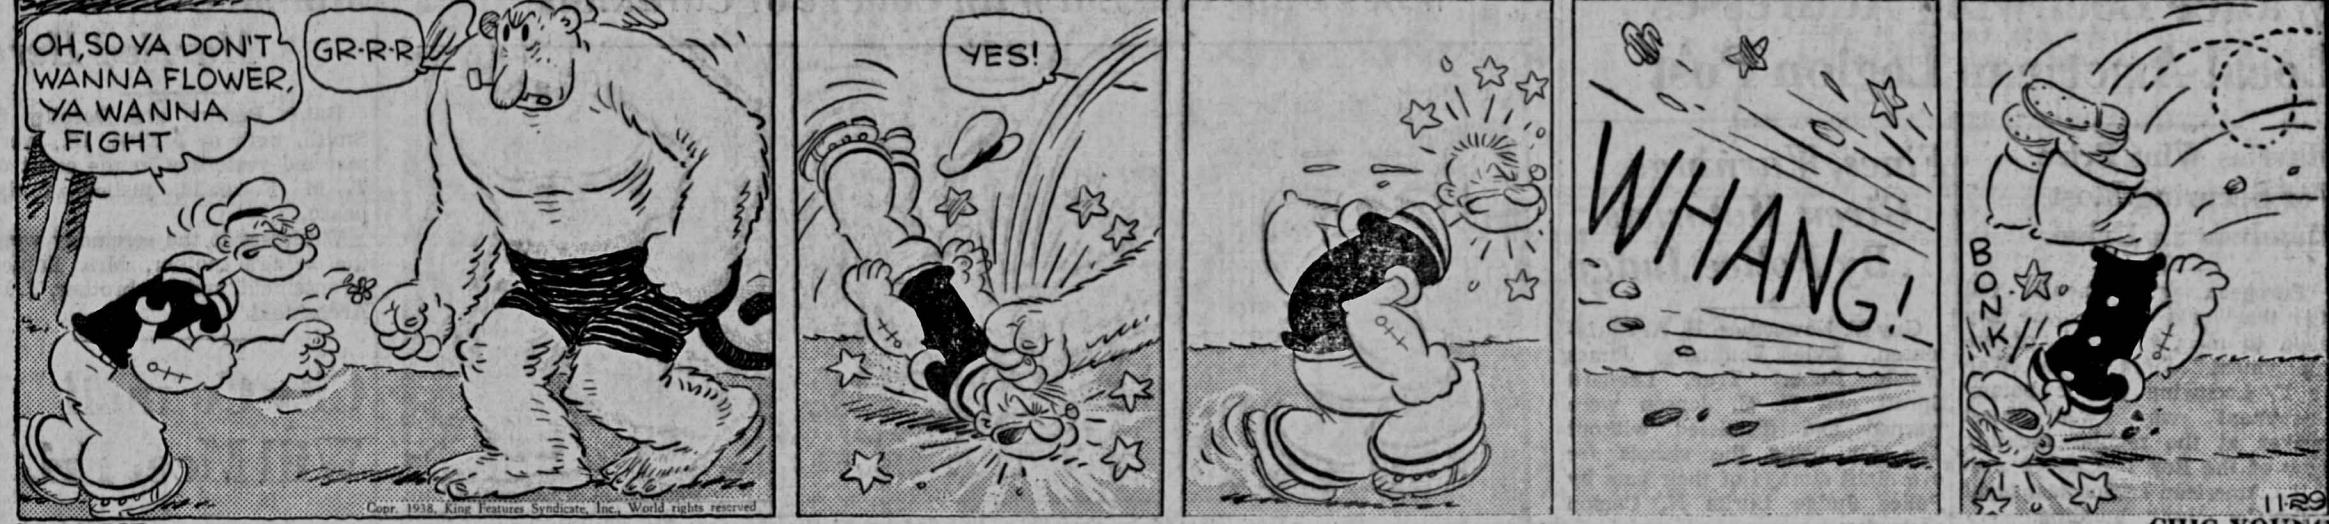

"Yep. Both go together. Some young people come to a college with a moral sense, some are born without one and never acquire it. I don't know why. You'd think decency would dawn on them some day. But the word doesn't exist for such as Bane and Templeton and McGonigle and the Pomeroy girl."

"The Pomeroy — Miss Pomeroy?" Thornton was deeply interested, of course.

"She was—kissing — the young men?" Thornton Holgate's interest could have been just professional, to a casual observer. His fellow instructor took it as such.

"Oh, yes," the spokesman went on. "You are new here, of course, so you don't remember the scrapes the Pomeroy girl has been into in past years. The implication, of course, always is that it's worse than kissing, but I tend to discount such things. Faculty folk are too prone to be dictatorial, or suspicious. One thing I like about Rice

Walter Loehwing Addresses Local American Legion Post

Mavrias Wins Prize For Securing Most Members in Drive

"European governments fell after the World War because they failed to meet the crisis of unemployment," charged Prof. Walter F. Loehwing of the botany department who was guest speaker at the regular monthly chow of the Roy L. Chopek post of the American Legion last night in the Community building.

"Half of the young people of Europe between the ages of 14 and 25 had never earned money of their own, and they were ready to follow dictators because these leaders provided them with the necessities of life," he continued.

Quoting figures which showed that 37 per cent of the persons registered in the United States employment service were between the ages of 14 and 25, Professor Loehwing explained that if industry cannot absorb the youth of the nation, the government must provide their subsistence.

To accomplish this purpose, he advocated that the legion support a four-way program. It includes strengthening the power of the courts to enforce their decrees, maintaining the separation of powers in the federal government, resisting the recent tendency to delegate legislative power to the executive branch, and resisting administrative law which denies the right of judicial review of appeal from administrative legislation.

He said the method of meeting such a program is to force our public officials to commit themselves to these principles.

Following the address, D. P. Mavrias was awarded a golden membership button and $5 for winning the recent membership drive. He secured 46 members.

The total membership of the local post is 280 to date.

2 Men Die In Mine Accident

Rescuer Overcome In Attempting To Reach Trapped Men

EAST PALESTINE, Ohio, Nov. 28 (AP) — Two men were killed and a third was injured seriously in a coal mine accident two miles north of here tonight, Mayor W. A. Hunston said.

He said the dead were Charles McDade, 22, and Jack Sutherlin, 70, both of East Palestine.

Harold French, 35, an East Palestine WPA worker, was overcome when he descended into the 50-foot shaft to rescue the men. He was in critical condition in a Salem hospital tonight.

Mayor Hunston said the accident occurred at a mine on land owned by Robert Grimm. McDade and Sutherlin were alone in the shaft.

Grimm and neighbors noticed a small building at the entrance to the shaft burst into flames.

Shortly afterward the flaming building tumbled down the shaft, trapping the two men.

Mayor Hunston said officials had not determined the cause of the fire, and were not sure whether an explosion had occurred.

The East Palestine fire department directed first rescue attempts. Roy Huff, 47, also of East Palestine, attempted to go down the shaft on the mine lift but was forced back by dense smoke.

Shortly afterward, French succeeded in reaching the men, loaded them on the lift and brought them to the surface. Firemen failed to revive them. Hunston said he believed they suffocated. The bodies were kept at the mine pending coroner's investigation.

Peter Biggins Talks to Group

Seattle Speaker Discusses Christian Science Philosophy

Peter B. Biggins of Seattle, Wash., Sunday addressed the members of the Iowa City First Church of Christ Scientist on "Christian Science: True Science Meeting Modern Needs."

Biggins is a member of the board of lectureship of the mother church, the First Church of Christ Scientist, Boston.

"One of the important lessons which we learn from the life and work of Jesus the Christ is the blessing of the realization that God is ever present," said Biggins in opening his lecture.

Continuing he declared:

"In Christian Science we find that God is good; not merely that God expresses the quality of goodness, but that He Himself is infinite good. The practical value of this lies in the fact that, as we realize the nearness of God, we are enjoying the presence of good. Every problem, every difficulty, which we seem to have, implies a belief in the absence of some phase of good."

"The basis of the healing work of Christian Science is so simple that some may have overlooked its vital importance. It is discerned by those who are humble in heart. This basis is an understanding of God's power, presence and aliveness; the realization that man is God's likeness; the ability to lay hold mentally of the desired spiritual good, and to appropriate it, thus bringing it into demonstration."
