'WPA FUNDS USED FOR ELECTIONS'

Mary C. Clark Is First Baby Of New Year

9 Pound Girl Wins Prizes Offered By Merchants, Iowan

The honor of being the first baby born in Iowa City during 1939 goes to Mary Carolyn Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Clark, 619 E. Burlington street, who was born at Mercy hospital on the morning of Jan. 1. Mary Carolyn weighed nine pounds, five and three-fourths ounces at birth. The attending physician was Dr. J. Ned Smith. Mary Carolyn will receive the gifts offered to the first baby by local merchants in cooperation with The Daily Iowan. The sponsors and their gifts include the following: Ruppert's Flower shop, novelty pottery with flower filling; Hands Jewelry store, gold baby ring; Pohler's grocery, one dozen cans baby food; LeVora's Varsity cleaners, 15 dollars dry cleaning. New Process laundry, two weeks free laundry; Iowa State Bank and Trust company, five dollar banking deposit; J. C. Penney company, sweater, cap and bootie set; Swamer's dairy, 30 quarts of special baby milk; Carmody Coal company, 1 ton coal and The Daily Iowan, one-year subscription.

Labor Board Views Quizzed

Attempt to Determine If Members Approve Of Communistic Ideas

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—A thorough investigation of the labor relations board to determine whether board members approve "the communist views" of an NLRB economist was asked today by the Dies committee. The recommendation was contained in a lengthy report to the house based on five months investigation of un-American activities. The committee also criticized the labor department, accused some government departments of refusing to co-operate with the investigation and asked the house to appropriate $150,000 to continue the inquiry. The NLRB should be investigated, the committee said, because David Sapos, chief economist, wrote a magazine article seven years ago which the committee said contained "communist views." After a witness placed the story in the committee's record several months ago, Sapos explained that it was an "objective report" on minority views at a meeting of labor and socialist leaders in Vienna, rather than his personal expression.

Over 500 Tiny Airplanes 'Hedge-Hop' Toward Miami

By DEVON FRANCIS
SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 3 (AP)—A pre-view of civilian aviation in the United States, under the pilot training program proposed by President Roosevelt, was afforded the deep south today when some 500 tiny airplanes hedge-hopped their way toward Miami, Fla. One forced landing occurred. On their way to the Florida resort's mid-winter air show, the pilots of three divisions—central, southwestern and eastern—casually flew from one airport to another in squads of five machines to demonstrate the ease of flying in modern-day planes. They called themselves members of a cavalcade. Old-timers had another name for them—the pilots of the "put-puts." Put-puts in the aviation business are low-powered light airplanes, commonly known as "flivver planes." The little ships were staked down tonight in three cities—Savannah, Macon, Ga. and Lake City, Fla. Savannah is the night control point of the eastern division, Macon is host to the central division, and Lake City to the southwestern. The whole show was more of a carnival than a demonstration of the ease of flivver plane flight. The human element asserted itself, and the members of a squadron burned gasoline extravagantly in an effort to land at the various control points first. Ed F. Gorsky of Hasbrouk Heights, N. J., had the forced landing. His motor quit a half mile from Maxton, N. C., and he sat down on a cotton patch. In the carnival spirit, women fliers were given their day. In the eastern division Alma Heflin, Lockhaven, Pa., Helen Jones, Lancaster, Pa., Helen Walker, Warren, Pa., and Ruth Stilson, Providence, R. I., took turns leading the men's formations into the control points. Atlanta reported that about 150 planes passed through during the day enroute to Macon. In a message to congress next week President Roosevelt will propose that 20,000 college students be trained to fly annually as a national air defense backlog. Today's flights viewed from the moving observation post of a larger, faster plane, were casual enough. I left Richmond, Va., this morning, hopped to Atlanta, and then to Savannah, gathering a little moss in the process. The put-puts not only took their chores in stride; they were anxious to stretch their flights but the umpires turned thumbs down.

Washington, Jan. 3 (AP)—Four democratic senators and one republican who policed last year's elections gave the new congress its first assignment today: outlawing "unjustifiable political activity" which they said had occurred in connection with the WPA in several states. Reporting to the senate as its committee on campaign expenditures, the group declared that funds appropriated for the relief of those in need and in distress had been diverted in many instances to political ends. Although the committee fixed no responsibility for this condition upon Harry L. Hopkins, the former WPA administrator whom President Roosevelt appointed recently to be secretary of commerce, it sustained some charges which Hopkins had denied concerning the WPA in Kentucky.

Relief Money Used For 'Unjustifiable Political Activity'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Reporting to the senate as its committee on campaign expenditures, the group declared that funds appropriated for the relief of those in need and in distress had been diverted in many instances to political ends. WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Ten-year-old Mary Gwynne, daughter of Representative John W. Gwynne (R-Ia), has her own ideas of what congress should do.

Carleton Smith, radio commentator (NBC), asked her in a radio interview on the floor of the house today what she would recommend for the new congress. "I think," she replied, "that if there are any bad bills they should be voted down."

Senator McNary of Oregon, the republican leader, indicated strongly that the campaign committee's findings would be made the basis of a contest against confirmation of Hopkins' cabinet appointment. He told reporters he would ask that the report be referred to the commerce committee, which will consider the nomination. Another republican senator opposed to Hopkins predicted privately however, that the former relief chief would be confirmed. "There are a whole lot of fellows who condemn what has gone on," he said, "but regard the president's cabinet as his own family and a matter of his own choice. I don't agree, but that is the situation."

The campaign committee was outspoken in its denunciation of an utterance made before a meeting of WPA workers here last June by Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator, whose recent designation by President Roosevelt to head the national youth administration is not subject to senate confirmation.

Daladier Assures Security To North African Colonies While Fascist Heads Demand Equality

Premier Recommends 'Union of France And Empire' in Talk

TUNIS, Tunisia, Jan. 3 (AP)—Premier Daladier declared tonight before French and Tunisian officials that "France has the force to assure your security." He spoke at a banquet in honor of his visit to the North African protectorate of the French government while local Italian fascist leaders circulated a demand for equal rights for Italian nationalists in Tunisia. Daladier hammered home the points of his speech with blows on the table that made the dishes dance. "France will never permit your efforts to be turned from the goal which is to create here on African soil a human community comparable to the French," he said. "France has the force to assure your security... her power is invincible."

PROUD FATHER Buys 10 Gallons Of Illegal Liquor

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 3 (AP)—Federal Judge Phillip Forman's jaw dropped in amazement today when William Druin, 28-year-old Garfield hardware store clerk, said he bought 10 gallons of contraband liquor to celebrate his prospective fatherhood. "You say your wife had only one child?" asked the judge. "Yes, sir," replied Druin. "Well, with a liquor supply of such proportions," commented Forman, "I should think she would have had quintuplets, at least."

Report Edward to Visit Home Has Bowed to Order of Royal Family, To Leave Wally Behind

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP)—The year's honors list. They expressed the hope that official royal status might yet be granted to the former Wallis Warfield. The Duke and Duchess are now on the French Riviera. There were those who asserted that Edward's reported decision to come to England without his wife signified he had lost his long fight for her recognition by the royal family. They were reminded, however, that the Duke might decide personally to petition for his brother's royal favor when he and the king meet the first time since he announced his abdication and went to France on Dec. 10, 1936.

U. S. Chamber of Commerce Head Remarks Business Level Is Better Than End of 1937

FREED Judge Releases Boys On Probation

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 3 (AP)—Paul Francis and William Gallagher, 15-year-old orphans who entered the heavily guarded U. S. mint here Dec. 29 and left the "burglar-proof" building without immediate detection, were granted temporary probation by Federal Judge A. F. St. Sure today. Judge St. Sure concluded the youths did not have criminal intent in their exploit, and said he felt their detention for several days was sufficient punishment.

Continuance of Rise Is Dependent Upon Mr. Average Citizen

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 3 (AP)—George H. Davis, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, noted the opening of congress today with the observation that business is at "a level definitely better than the level at the end of 1937" but tempered his optimism with the statement: "Whether the upturn will continue in 1939 depends entirely upon Mr. Average Citizen. For many years we have watched the experiment of trying to make water run up hill. Everyone... realizes that there are no new-fangled short cuts to prosperity."

Japanese Leader Falls

TOKYO, Jan. 4 (Wednesday) (AP)—Finally surrendering to the pressure of extreme nationalist elements, the government of Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye fell today after 19 months of office. It was considered almost certain in informed circles that Baron Kiichiro Hiranuma, president of the privy council and leader of the former nationalist party, Kakuhonsha, would be summoned to the emperor's palace tonight or Thursday and ordered to form a new cabinet.

Court Sentences Insurance President To Sing Sing Prison for $5,300 Larceny

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—James Gibbs, who once cherished the ambition to become an "empire builder" in the insurance field and who did achieve the eminence of a $36,000-a-year presidency, was sentenced to Sing Sing prison today for larceny of $5,300 of his firm's money. Actually, it was charged at his trial last month, the total amount misappropriated was about $80,000, and in a report filed today by Chief Probation Officer Irving W. Halpern the sum was fixed at $125,000. Gibbs was convicted of one of many counts in the indictment. Son and grandson of sturdy Pennsylvania iron masters, Gibbs, now 56 and former president of the Excess Insurance company of America, listened gravely as General Sessions Judge Charles C. Nott Jr., pronounced sentence—two and a half to five years up the river. Many persons of reputable standing, the judge said, had written him warmly of Gibbs, speaking of his otherwise exemplary life. But the testimony adduced at the trial which ended Dec. 7, he added, showed Gibbs had entered in a plot to withdraw large sums from the company and that these were covered up by false entries. Harry S. Haines, 37, former assistant treasurer of the concern, who was indicted with Gibbs, pleaded guilty to grand larceny and forgery at the start of Gibbs' trial. Henry A. Uterhart, his attorney, told Judge Nott that Gibbs organized the Excess insurance company and that under his direction the concern had shown earnings of $3,000,000 a year.

To Inaugurate Governor-Elect Next Week

DES MOINES, Jan. 3 (AP)—Offices at the Iowa statehouse were in republican hands tonight for the first time since 1932. Governor-elect George A. Wilson does not take office until his inauguration next week. But the secretaries of state and agriculture, and the auditor, treasurer, attorney general and superintendent of public instruction were sworn in this morning by Justice Frederic M. Miller of the state supreme court. Commerce Commissioner E. M. Richardson of Cedar Rapids also was sworn in, but Barr Keshler of Shenandoah, the other incoming commerce commissioner, had taken the oath of office before leaving home. The incoming officials had announced many appointments in the closing days of December, but several names were added to the list today. Among them was Miss Portia Clarke of Adel, a grand-daughter of former Gov. George Clarke, who will be a clerk in the department of agriculture. Before taking the oath of office in supreme court chambers, Secretary of State Earl G. Miller called members of his personal office staff together for a prayer by his pastor, the Rev. P. R. Stevens of Des Moines. Job seekers milled through the capitol corridors all day, adding to the confusion. The heavy fragrance of flowers gave a funeral atmosphere to some offices at times. In contrast to the high spirits of the new employees as they went about learning their jobs were the downcast expressions of some employees as they bade farewell.

Senate, Supreme Court Attack New Deal's Crop Control Law

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—These two events closely, for they recognized that either or both might lead to death of the legislation. Three years ago almost to the day, the supreme court held unconstitutional the 1933 agricultural adjustment act. Officials said the new act would be unworkable if its control provisions were held to be illegal. Senator Smith, veteran chairman of the senate agriculture committee, informed newsmen he intended to offer a substitute farm law that would "junk all the production and marketing controls for cotton."

Senate, Supreme Court Attack New Deal's Crop Control Law

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—The new deal's crop control law was attacked on two fronts today—before the supreme court and on capitol hill. Acting on the plea of a group of Georgia and Florida tobacco growers, the court agreed to review litigation intended to test constitutionality of strict marketing control provisions of the law. Simultaneously, Senator Smith (D-SC), served notice that he would seek complete congressional revision of the farm law, entailing elimination of production and marketing control provisions—the heart of the act. Administration leaders watched

Occupy Artesa

BURGOS, Spain, Jan. 3 (AP)—Insurgents at military headquarters here today declared their forces had occupied Artesa, "the key to Catalonia," 30 miles northeast of Lerida and 65 miles northwest of Barcelona.

Rebels Bombed

LONDON, Jan. 3 (AP)—The Spanish press agency in a dispatch from Valencia said government planes bombed insurgent warships off Castellon de la Plana today hitting all assigned objectives "in a highly successful" raid.

First Lady Inspects Incubator

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the president, inspects the $5,000 incubator which was presented to Sibley hospital, Washington, by the Variety club. It is expected to cut death rate of infants born prematurely in the capital city. Left to right, Inella Bule, nurse; Mrs. Roosevelt, with baby, and Julian Brylawski, Variety club president.

Japanese Premier Resigns From Cabinet

TOKYO, Jan. 4 (Wednesday) (AP)—Premier Fumimaro Konoye resigned today amid reports of a split between fascist and liberal elements of his cabinet over policies in China. Technically, Prince Konoye in his interview with the emperor will ask permission to resign. He may be asked to form a new cabinet himself. Prince Konoye's cabinet took office June 4, 1937, and has twice been revised. On May 26, 1938, two generals and a leader in finance were installed to replace men accused of weakness in the face of the "national emergency" in the campaign in China. Again on Sept. 29 came another major change with resignation of Gen. Kazushige Ugaki as foreign minister. Only a month later Hachiro Arita was appointed to the post. The clash within the cabinet was reliably reported to have hinged upon full application of the national mobilization act within Japan and control of the China affairs board. The national mobilization law passed last March 26 gave the government almost unlimited power to draft Japan's human and economic resources in an emergency. Eleven of its 30 articles were put into force May 5 and other economic measures applied later. The China affairs board, designed to administer conquered areas of China, has been described as a "second foreign office" and has been credited with bringing about the resignation of Ugaki as foreign minister. Resignation of the Konoye cabinet came at a time when many observers believed a new phase of the conflict in China had been reached and that government policies necessarily would be adjusted to the main task of consolidation and administration of conquered areas and elimination of guerrilla fighters.

Discord on Various Issues Seen After Congress Convenes

Long Talk U. S. Ambassador, II Duce Discuss Affairs

ROME, Jan. 3 (AP)—United States Ambassador William Phillips and Premier Benito Mussolini talked for nearly an hour today and reliable informants said their discussion concerned general problems, including new Italian anti-Jewish restrictions. American Jews might be compelled to leave Italy by March 12 under a decree expelling foreign Jews. Other general problems between the United States and Italy include: 1.—The withdrawal of four big motion picture companies from the Italian market because of differences with the Italian film monopoly. 2.—The United States' refusal to recognize Italy's Ethiopian empire. 3.—Suspension of negotiations for a commercial agreement, reportedly because of that non-recognition. 4.—Anti-fascist sentiment in the United States which resulted in a persistent anti-American campaign in the Italian press.

Report of Senate Committee Denounces WPA Election Spending

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Congress convened today in a spirit of back-slapping joviality, tolerance and good will which lasted a scant half hour by the gilded hands of the clock that hangs above Vice-president Garner's senate rostrum. For within that time, the bitter discord underneath the surface had found expression in: A report from the senate committee on campaign expenditures denouncing WPA for indulging in "unjustifiable political activity" in connection with the recent elections. A statement by Senator McNary (R-Ore) that he would ask that the report be referred to the commerce committee, which will be in charge of the nomination of Harry L. Hopkins, former WPA chief, as secretary of commerce. The first open bid by the increased republican membership of the senate for coalition support from anti-new deal democrats. It took the form of a statement emanating from a republican caucus that the minority was ready to "cooperate with any group" to reduce governmental expenditures.

Youth Accepts The Chance To Begin Again

CHRISTMAS vacation has come to a flying finish, and the world whirls a greeting to the New Year. What will we have to offer? Higher grade points? Reformed school spirit and loyalty? Deeper understanding of the opportunities offered by the University of Iowa? A broader outlook upon life in general?

Yes! All of these and more! And there is a reason—because it is the privilege of youth to be optimistic about the future.

Harry Richman has a $10,000 bathtub in his Florida home. Just by looking at it, we think he ought to get that washed up feeling.

The day after a New York man bought a gun he routed two robbers. Suggesting a theme for an advertisement—by a drug store.

FOR POLITICIANS-TO-BE: Students! To those who yearn to be public office holders!

You may be assured that you are attending the right school in order to follow up such a profession.

Data from the biographical resumes of the Iowa legislators given in an Iowa paper shows that 24 per cent of them attended the University of Iowa at some time in their school career.

The majority of them graduated from here. Breaking the total up into the senatorial and representative groups, the percentage in this instance is 33 per cent and 22 per cent respectively.

All other colleges and universities in Iowa collectively drew only 5 more of this group than the university alone.

Out-of-state schools had nine less.

All of this should speak for itself to interested students.

Right along with these figures are those of the men who went no further in school than the rural or high schools. Of the representatives there was 22 per cent who did not attend college.

This seems like a surprisingly large number, but these men grew up in a generation which was not so college-minded as that of today. Eight per cent of the senators did not attend college.

These latter figures show that all does not depend on extensive schooling, a fact which wise men have pointed out.

New York police received requests to curb activities of auto-graph hunters who flock to the theater district. And spoil all that fun—for the actors?

There are all kinds of ways of making the news. Consider Vice President Garner who keeps his mouth shut, goes to bed every night at 9 o'clock and crashes Page One regularly.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

THAT 10,000-PLANE IDEA AGAIN: The latest Washington hint about the coming presidential proposals for air force enlargement is that the recommendations will be bulwarked by "new and startling figures concerning German and Italian aerial might."

According to an Associated Press dispatch, "well informed persons said Mr. Roosevelt had heard from some of his advisers that the totalitarian powers were enabled to dictate the Munich settlement of Europe's September crisis by no less than a 6-to-1 margin, in actual fighting planes, over Great Britain and France."

And so on. The hint still is that the president will urge building immediately a force of 10,000 war planes for America, and creating enough personnel to operate them.

Perhaps we'd better wait and see what the president proposes and what kind of "scare" figures he uses to make his case.

But we are guessing that he won't declare that Germany and Italy had any 6-to-1 lead in actual fighting planes over Britain and France in September. For we don't think any such assertion would stand up.

The most reasonable reports yet made by persons in a position to be informed—and we are including some eminent British students of such things—are to the effect that Germany and Italy had no great margin at all over Britain and France together in the matter of actual fighting planes in service in September. If Russia's planes were figured in, and if Czechoslovakia were also included, these being the powers that were potentially lined up against Germany and Italy, the large preponderance in actual war planes available certainly would have been against Hitler and Mussolini.

It is probably true that France's war planes, except for a few types, were inferior to Germany's and Italy's. France had fallen behind in recent building. And war planes get obsolete so fast, because of the constant and rapid progress in design, that they were inferior in quality. Perhaps Russia's air force was low in quality, too.

The most reasonable reports are to the effect that Britain's air force was and is first class in quality, as modern and efficient as the German or Italian. Some experts believe the British force, plane for plane, is the most efficient in Europe.

Without going here into the other reasons, apart from relative air strengths, that led to the kind of settlement reached at Munich, the real fear of British and French leaders was based not on quantitative inferiority in war planes, was not based on qualitative inferiority as to war planes, but was based primarily on two other things.

First of these was the vulnerability of London and other centers to air attack—in other words, unpreparedness in terms of anti-aircraft artillery, in provision for evacuation of great cities if necessary, and in other elements of defense aside from the power of retaliation.

Second of these, and apparently the more important, was the fear or the fact that Germany had got herself in shape to turn out new planes after a war started at a far more rapid sustained rate than Britain and France could equal.

Since losses in large-scale air warfare are expected by all the experts to be enormous from the start, it is obvious that the country which is able to replace planes and fighting personnel fastest has a tremendous advantage.

The real "scandal" of British aerial preparedness—the thing that critics of the Chamberlain government are harping on—is the failure to get industrial plants in position to turn out new planes on an adequate basis. And of course part of the answer to this criticism is that only in a totalitarian country, where the dictator can disregard all considerations of a sound peace-time economy, is it possible to be as "ready" in the matter of the production rate of new planes as Germany apparently is.

It is substantially the same story, as to this, that exists with respect to peace-time conscription for army purposes in a country like Britain.

If the president is going to propose a 10,000-plane program for us, as fast as the planes can be built, regardless of the fact that in our case, too, the planes would quickly become obsolete, he is going to have a hard time making good any "scare" about a 6-to-1 ratio of actual fighting planes in favor of Germany and Italy at the time of the Munich crisis.

In view of the obviously increasing importance of the air arm in modern war, no sensible person is going to object to putting more emphasis on the air service in our own system of "defense."

But unless we are figuring on going to war by a fixed date, quite close at hand, there is simply no sense in an immediate 10,000-plane program.

Far better for us, like Britain, to concentrate on developing, all the while, types of planes as good as any other country's—better, if possible—and on reasonable foresight as to being able to turn them out fast in case an emergency came.

Nobody has ever seriously said that our military experts themselves tend to be backward in asking appropriations or enlargements. The present happens to be a case when it would be far better to give them every dollar, every warship, every fighting plane they ask than to jam down their throats an expansion program which a great many of them believe to be nonsensical.

TUNING IN

By Loren Hickerson

BACK AGAIN: ...with the new year. May it be a happy and prosperous one (for the 7,000th time).

And advance reports indicate that 1939 will be a big year in radio, as well as a big year in other fields, for numbers of program additions and extensions have been announced. New shows which were regarded early in 1938 as "just other shows" have skyrocketed to the top of the heap, and are at present vieing with old shows for coveted spots on the night air.

"Happy New Year" has been the by-word of all the shows of the past week, and tonight's shows are no exception. A rousing welcome party is planned by the Texaco Star Theater cast for the debut of Frances Langford on that program at 8 o'clock tonight over the Columbia network.

"My Reverie," the most spectacular song hit of the past year, will be her featured song. Kenny Baker will sing "Serenade in the Night."

Gail Patrick, one of the screen's loveliest ladies, (you'll remember her as Deanna Durbin's mother in "Mad About Music") will be tonight's Star Theater guest in the dramatic spot on the show. She'll play with master of ceremonies John Barrymore in a frontier drama, "The Last Pioneer."

David Brokman's orchestra, now rated as one of the top on the west coast, will furnish the musical fare, while Charlie Ruggles and Ned Sparks will supply the laughs.

FRED ALLEN: ...has scheduled a Richard Hall, bird seed salesman, as his "person you didn't expect to meet" for 8 o'clock tonight over the NBC-Red network and, what is more, guarantees to produce him. Last week the guest of the evening failed to show up for the broadcast.

The missing guest, Tony Gazzl, an itinerant bootblack, presumably gave way to wanderlust on the day of the broadcast and hasn't been seen since. Fred had to do some quick re-writing, and filled the breach with "Uncle Jim" Harkins, his right-hand man who digs up the "people you didn't expect to meet."

"Uncle Jim," 60 and gray-haired, brought down the house with a your gun. Then we'll get one.

"No," yelled Joe, helping himself to another snifter. "I won't wait till morning. I'm going now."

"All right, but I'll bet you a dollar you don't get one."

"It's a bet," said Joe.

So Joe took a hitch in his belt, rolled up his sleeves, and plunged into the jungle. His pal drew the bottle a little closer. It was mighty comfortable in that tent. He assuaged his thirst a few more times. He must have stayed there a couple of hours. Suddenly he heard a noise and a big lion thrust his head through the flap of the tent.

"Say, pal," said the lion, "I just dropped by to tell you your buddy owes you a buck."

Occasionally while kicking around the town I run into Bob McGimsey, of Mississippi. Let me tell you about Bob. When he was a little boy his grandmother used to tell him Bible stories, and one of his favorites was about the three Israelites—Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego—and how they were thrown into the fiery furnace. If you know your Bible stories... Seems strange, but that's how songs are born.

AROUND THE TOWN

With MERLE MILLER

AS I WAS WALKING DOWN NORTH DURBUQUE STREET—Random Thoughts—Unless yesterday's Washington letter is wrong, Dean Rutledge won't get the supreme court chair... Although Cal Coolidge did pick P. Butler from Columbia's law school.

Dean Rutledge, on the other hand, is a great favorite in liberal circles, everywhere, known as a man with ideals and a sound head besides a legal background that can't be beat...

So if it's not the Washington court this time, no one can quite be sure that the future won't bring it... Iowa City circles'd certainly concur...

The law dean's at the top in popularity locally...

Beware-Greeks: I ought to mention too that the new-organizing Beware-Greek group is underway again, to include all the campus dormitories and unorganized townsmen...

Sounds like an idea with interesting possibilities, if I may repeat myself...

Speaking: The mail's containing a note from the University of Washington's "Speakers' bureau" leads me to wonder why we haven't a similar org on the campus...

Included on the musical fare of the program will be a variety of songs, including "I Love a Lassie," "Jeepers Creepers," "Spelling Bee," "Please Come out of your Dream," "Umbrella Man," "I Used to be Color Blind," and "You Look Good to Me."

LUM AND ABNER: ...the Pine Ridge storekeepers, will scan the future while taking a parting glance at the year just past in their broadcasts tonight and Friday night at 6:15 over the Columbia system.

The rural comies should be in fine fettle, with a tidy new contract tucked away in the bureau drawer.

CHAMPION CALLER: ...of hogs and husbands, Mrs. Bessie Edgecomb, will make the always resound as never before when she appears as a guest on "Dave Elman's Hobby Lobby" at 7:30 tonight over the NBC-Blue network.

Among the other hobbyists who will be interviewed are a collector of hand-cuffs and leg-irons from all parts of the world, and a maker of aluminum musical instruments.

Mrs. Edgecomb is one of the last practitioners of a dying art that is fast vanishing from the American scene. Her lusty whoops from coast-to-coast, however, should provide a rejuvenating effect that soon will have the husbands of the nation as well as its pork supply at call.

HOLLYWOOD—Life in Hollywood is just one stepchease of merriment after another. So gay, so gay, heh-heh...

Especially when it rains. Now when there's a high fog over Los Angeles there's only one thing any sane person can do. That's to shut all the windows, pray the roof doesn't collapse under the weight of the mist, and settle down to a cozy, shivering huddle over whatever heat the house affords. If one is extreme, one can put on slippers and robe and peruse the old family book. (Some of our most humble people have a book, so there!)

Ah, but need I point out that this is Hollywood? That when merriment calls Hollywood's well-established sanity takes a nap? When merriment plus duty calls—why, what can anyone do? A picture to see, and a party to go to—what a night of terror to be faced bravely! But the mail must go through, and so...

There were times in that memorable journey of ours from Glendale to the Carthy Circle theater when only indomitable courage carried us on. What carried the family vehicle through I shall never know, unless somewhere under its hood beats an amphibian heart. There were times when we plowed, in low gear, through mist that was piled curb high over the valley roads. (For the record, please understand it was at Her suggestion—She being Family Traffic Director—that we took the "short cut.")

"Is this, Madam, your first crossing?" the Pilot inquired merrily.

The Traffic Director looked at the Pilot. The names of these three Israelites ran through his mind like a strange rhythm. He never forgot it. And one day he wrote a song, "Shadrach." It was a classic. Lawrence Tibbett sang it. John Charles Thomas and Nelson Eddy sang it. Larry Clinton heard it and made an arrangement of it. Louis Armstrong did likewise. Overnight it became a swing sensation, and now it is sweeping the country.

Shadrach... Meshach... Abednego... A little boy in Mississippi sitting at his grandmother's knee, listening raptly to Bible stories... Seems strange, but that's how songs are born.

AS I WAS WALKING DOWN NORTH DURBUQUE STREET—Random Thoughts—Unless yesterday's Washington letter is wrong, Dean Rutledge won't get the supreme court chair... Although Cal Coolidge did pick P. Butler from Columbia's law school.

Dean Rutledge, on the other hand, is a great favorite in liberal circles, everywhere, known as a man with ideals and a sound head besides a legal background that can't be beat...

So if it's not the Washington court this time, no one can quite be sure that the future won't bring it... Iowa City circles'd certainly concur...

The law dean's at the top in popularity locally...

Beware-Greeks: I ought to mention too that the new-organizing Beware-Greek group is underway again, to include all the campus dormitories and unorganized townsmen...

Sounds like an idea with interesting possibilities, if I may repeat myself...

Speaking: The mail's containing a note from the University of Washington's "Speakers' bureau" leads me to wonder why we haven't a similar org on the campus...

Included on the musical fare of the program will be a variety of songs, including "I Love a Lassie," "Jeepers Creepers," "Spelling Bee," "Please Come out of your Dream," "Umbrella Man," "I Used to be Color Blind," and "You Look Good to Me."

LUM AND ABNER: ...the Pine Ridge storekeepers, will scan the future while taking a parting glance at the year just past in their broadcasts tonight and Friday night at 6:15 over the Columbia system.

CHAMPION CALLER: ...of hogs and husbands, Mrs. Bessie Edgecomb, will make the always resound as never before when she appears as a guest on "Dave Elman's Hobby Lobby" at 7:30 tonight over the NBC-Blue network.

Among the other hobbyists who will be interviewed are a collector of hand-cuffs and leg-irons from all parts of the world, and a maker of aluminum musical instruments.

Mrs. Edgecomb is one of the last practitioners of a dying art that is fast vanishing from the American scene. Her lusty whoops from coast-to-coast, however, should provide a rejuvenating effect that soon will have the husbands of the nation as well as its pork supply at call.

Health Hints

By Logan Clendening, M. D. A busy doctor friend of mine had some impediment to the clothing of her blood, which accounted for the spontaneous hemorrhages from her nose, under the skin, etc. It was found by laboratory tests that the pro-thrombin in her blood was only five per cent of what it ought to be. Pro-thrombin is an element in the blood which is necessary for clotting. Very Sick Woman: The patient was very sick and going down hill. No treatment did her any good. Finally a new consultant was called in who said that he had heard of a disease of cattle, due to eating spoiled clover, and that it was cured by feeding alfalfa. The woman's husband was a chemist at a brewery, and on this hint he obtained a fresh supply of alfalfa and proceeded to concentrate it in a vat. In a day or two he appeared at the hospital with a green jelly-like mass, which was concentrated alfalfa. This was fed to the patient, with immediate favorable results. She stopped bleeding with the second dose, and to the surprise and delight of everyone she recovered and walked out of the hospital hale and hearty. So don't be surprised if you see your doctor riding around with what looks to be a truck garden in his car. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS: J. F.: "Would there be scarlet fever germs on a chair not fumigated at the time of the illness 10 years ago?" Answer: Scarlet fever does stay on furniture, draperies, etc., a long time, but it is generally said to be gone in six weeks. H. K.: "I have a tendency toward low blood pressure. Please inform me if a reducing diet can be used." Answer: Yes. During the first year after they landed, hardship and illness had killed half of the 100 men and women of Plymouth colony.

Whitney Martin's SPORTS TRAIL

- No Alibis
- No Coats
- The Games

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP) —

It would be practically painless, like playing handball with a fish hook, but this corner nevertheless will refrain from offering any alibi for its Bowl selections which started their games holding their heads high and finished them holding their heads.

Of course, Oklahoma must have missed the train, or been teched with ptomaine, or had an epidemic of heel blisters, but we wouldn't think of offering an alibi, for an alibi would indicate the Sooners weren't there when it happened. At that, it seemed at times like they weren't.

Anyway, we're still a little warped from trying to pat ourselves on the back and kick ourselves simultaneously for picking two out of four, which is one under par on our course.

Seriously, we take our hats off to the Tennessee Vols. Any team which can beat Oklahoma at its own game, and do it so thoroughly, must have it. The Sooners' best ball carrier was the referee, who gained 130 yards for them, but he also gained 90 for the Vols to partially even it up. From all reports the game was rougher than a detour.

No Goat
The Bowl games as a whole produced the usual quorum of heroes, but nary a goat, although Bob Spangler of Duke for a time threatened to assume that role.

Spangler fumbled in trying to field a punt in the shadows of the Duke goal and U. S. C. recovered on the 10, which is like having the bases full and none down. It was then that the Dukes showed why they were able to go through their regular season unscathed upon, for they retired the side without a run.

As Doyle Nave and Al Krueger, the U. S. C. battery which scored the winning touchdown, were hailed as heroes today, Tony Rufa was shunted into the background although were it not for the U. S. C. score he would be the man of the hour. It was his field goal which put Duke into the lead.

The T. C. U. - Carnegie Tech game produced as its hall-of-fame candidate little Davey O'Brien, light as a cork and harder to keep down. The Tennessee and St. Mary's victories were anything but one-man shows, with the honors well divided.

So, with no player to hang the goat label on, we nominate the fellow who had the temerity to try to pick the winners in four games, involving five unbeaten teams and three teams whose records had few scratches. We won't mention any names, but we caught ourselves eyeing a tin can a while ago, and there weren't any sardines in it.

Nine Contests Face Hawkeyes This January

Only two teams will be in action, yet nine contests will be faced by University of Iowa athletes in January, with seven of them in the field house.

The basketball team, after opening at Wisconsin Saturday and playing Minnesota there Monday, will take on Purdue Jan. 14, Chicago Jan. 16, and Michigan Jan. 21 at Iowa City. A between-semester non-conference game with South Dakota Jan. 30 also is scheduled.

Hawkeye wrestlers, opening their season earlier than usual, grapple with Kansas State here Jan. 9 and take on their first conference foe, Wisconsin, four days later. Nebraska will come here Jan. 28.

Schedules of the track, swimming and gymnastic teams do not open until Feb. 4, but the track men will warm up with the university relay carnival in the field house Jan. 12.

Salary Arm Treated

CLEVELAND, Jan. 3 (AP) — Surgeons stretched Pitcher Johnny Allen's salary arm on an operation today for 15 minutes today and removed a small piece of bone below the elbow.

Alva Bradley, president of the Cleveland baseball club, said the doctors assured him that everything was all right after the operation, performed in an attempt to cure an ailment that robbed Allen of his effectiveness last season.

"The doctors told me that the bone was loose," Bradley said, "and that they just spread the muscles and removed it. They didn't cut anything loose."

Going Home?

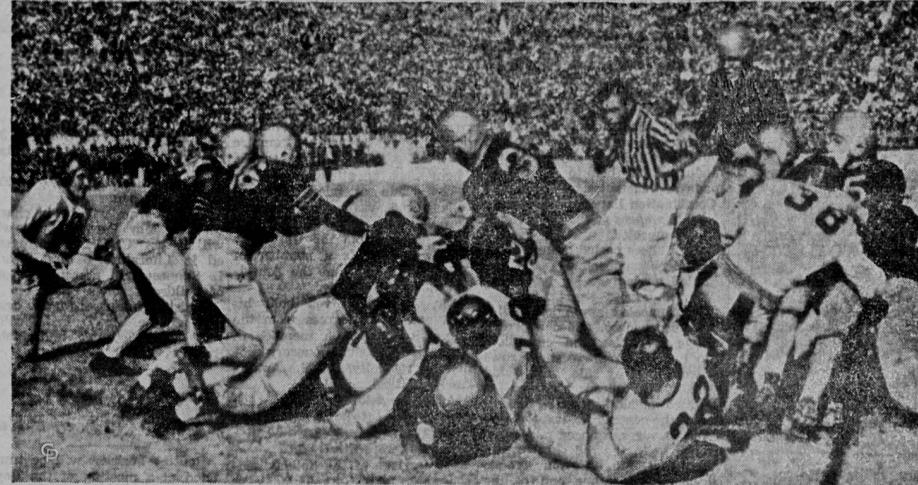

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Gould, manager of Tommy Farr, former British Empire heavyweight champion, yesterday received a cable from Promoter Armand Vincent offering Farr a guarantee of about $25,000 for a bout in London with Len Harvey, English heavyweight champion on May 12.

DEFEATED DUKES HEAD FOR HOME

Downcast At First Defeat

Wade Remains Quiet, Refuses to Comment On Trojan Victory

By ROBERT MYERS

PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 3 (AP) — The shrill screech of the train whistle echoing down the Arroyo Seco signalled the departure of the Duke gridiron forces for North Carolina today, leaving the Trojans of Southern California to continue their celebration of victory in the Rose Bowl.

It was a somber band of Duke players which climbed aboard the Blue Devil special, the quietest man with the group was Wallace Wade, the coach.

His undefeated team had been beaten and his own near perfect Rose Bowl record shattered by a fourth string quarterback and a substitute sophomore end in the fading seconds of yesterday's game.

No wonder Wallace Wade felt defeat keenly; small wonder that he declined to join in praise of the Southern California team, express a wish to come back to the Rose Bowl or even shake the hand that beat him.

That 7-3 score was a bitter one for Mr. Wade, and he made no effort to conceal his feelings.

The other side of the picture—the Trojan side—was one of unrestrained joy. It centered around the broad shoulders of Doyle Nave, the fourth string pass artist who threw the pass that beat Blue Devils, and "Antelope Al" Krueger, the sophomore end who caught Nave's throw which did something mighty Pitt, Colgate and seven other teams had been unable to do—score upon or beat the Iron Dukes.

Nave, who has warmed the Trojan bench for two years, wasn't sure he would earn a varsity letter this year.

Today he was advised he not only would get a letter "but the whole alphabet."

Figures on the game will not be available for several days, but it estimated the 91,000 or so paid admissions would amount to approximately $325,000, which is more than the record figure of $308,421 taken in for the U.S.C.-Pitt game in 1930.

Exhibition Schedule

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants will open a 21-game spring exhibition schedule March 11 against the Philadelphia Athletics at Lake Charles, La. They will play four games with the Jersey City Giants, their International league farm; two with Memphis of the Southern association, one each with the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago White Sox, and 11 with the Cleveland Indians.

To Play 'Em All

OMAHA (AP) — Creighton university's 1939 football team will play every other team in the Missouri Valley conference. Scheduling yesterday of Washburn college for a game here Nov. 18 completed Coach Marchie Schwartz' efforts to sign every conference team. Schwartz said the game with Tulsa had been set for Oct. 7 at Omaha.

Little Hawks To Meet Clinton's Undefeated Five

70 Candidates Report For Cinder Squads

Sending his men through a long scrimmage, Coach Francis Merten last night got down to serious preparation for the basketball game with the undefeated Clinton five Friday night. The contest will be played at Clinton, the first of three games on foreign courts.

Seeking to inject more speed in his already fast-stepping Little Hawks, Merten varied the style of play a bit in last night's drills. The success of the new style—new in the sense it will be the first time it will be used by the Hawks this year—will depend much on the clever ball handling of the Red and White boys.

In previous games this season the Hawks have displayed good passing and sure ball handling to win all but one contest from their foes.

The Hawksletts worked smoothly and evenly in practice with no individual standing out over the others. The cooperative spirit of the team and Merten's frequent substitutions prevented any one man from outshining his mates.

Clinton, tied with the Davenport Blue Devils for the Mississippi Valley lead, will not only have to protect its unblemished conference record but will be seeking revenge for the Little Hawks smashing 13-0 victory over their football team early in the fall. Several players of both teams met on the gridiron in that game.

Little Hawks To Meet Clinton's Undefeated Five

Although the first meet, at Chicago, is a month away, the Hawkeye track squad yesterday took its first official workout, as Coach Bresnahan called forth 70 varsity and freshman athletes.

Bresnahan has a stiff schedule mapped out as he makes plans to get the men in shape. Included in the warmup plans is the all-university relay carnival, with the several inter-house relays as special attractions.

Returning to bolster the hopes of a successful season for the Iowa thinclads is the crack mile relay team of last year. Co-captains Fred Teufel and John Graves, Carl Teufel and Mill Billig of the quartet that set a new Drake relays record of 3:15.4 last spring are all back, while, with Graves, Billig and John Schmidt present, the two mile team lacks only Jimmy Lyle who has finished his years of competition. Bresnahan hopes to find a suitable replacement for Lyle and has several half milters working out with that object in mind.

It appears that the Iowa squad will be fairly strong in the dashes and in the hurdles. Fred Teufel and Ed Wiggins are back to handle the sprint assignments, while John Collinge, who turned in some fast hurdle races last spring, appears ready for a good season.

Another good sign here is the apparent recovery of Dean Dort, whose foot had been ailing since the relay carnival a year ago.

Hubbell's salary last season was estimated at $22,500.

There was widespread fear that Hubbell's sore arm would end one of the greatest of modern pitching careers. Last Aug. 18, almost two months after he had won the 200th victory of his career, he complained of a sore arm after being beaten by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Marks of Iowa Swimmers Rank High in World

Times made in swimming events by two University of Iowa athletes in 1938 ranked among the fastest in the world, Hawkeye officials learned yesterday.

Francis Heydt's time of 1:37.4 in the 150-yard backstroke was third-best in the world. The Iowa star was outranked only by Vande Weghe of Princeton, 1:34.2; and Cummin of Harvard, 1:37.2. The completion was made for the A. A. U. by Robert Kip-luth, Yale coach.

Two Changes COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., (AP) —

Only two changes in intercollegiate football rules, both concerning ineligible pass receivers, were adopted by the rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic association yesterday.

The committee, in one of its most uneventful and shortest sessions in years, also ordered improvements and changes in football equipment to reduce injuries.

New Manager for Blackhawks

Bill Stewart Leaves Chicago Team as Paul Thompson Takes Over

CHICAGO, Jan. 3 (AP)—Chun-ky Bill Stewart, who drove the faltering Chicago Blackhawks from the edge of hockey oblivion to the world's championship last spring, was dismissed today as manager of the National league team.

The action was announced by Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, club owner, who said Paul Thompson, veteran left wing and high scorer, would take charge of the team which has won only three of its last 17 games.

Stewart, a veteran National league baseball umpire, gave up his post as a National Hockey league arbiter to become manager of the Hawks in May, 1937, succeeding Clem Loughlin. During the regular '37-'38 season, the Hawks won only 14 games while losing 25, finishing sixth in the league and barely managing to make the Stanley cup playoffs.

Cagers to Open Big Ten Season

Relay Carnival Attracts Dorm, Fraternity Teams

Entries for the Quad, Hillcrest, co-op dorm and fraternity relay races, to be held in connection with the all-university relay on the night of Jan. 12, must be delivered to Assistant Track Coach Ted Swenson before Jan. 10, it has been announced.

The dormitory teams will be four man teams with each man running half a lap, while the fraternity men will run in six man teams, and will also run half a lap to the man.

The dorm teams, however, are allowed to enter six men, but only four will compete.

Rules for the races state that any undergraduate student in the university is eligible to compete, but must run in but one section and for only one group.

These inter-house relays are a part of the 19th annual all-university relay carnival, which includes also the sorority relays and a number of track and field events. The dorms and fraternities are expected to be, as usual, well represented.

The one important change in the relay setup for this year, is the change of the date from Saturday afternoon, when it has always been held, to a Thursday night.

Reason for the change, it has been disclosed, is the fact that Saturday is a poor day for students to get to the fieldhouse. By shifting the date to the middle of the week, it will be much easier for students to attend.

Hubbell Signs Giant Contract

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—The signed contract of Carl Hubbell, left-handed mainstay of the New York Giants' hurling corps for the last 11 years, and chief question mark for 1939, was received by the club today.

Though Hubbell will have to prove this spring in training camp that he has recovered satisfactorily from an operation for the removal of a bone chip from his elbow, Manager Bill Terry announced there would be no salary reductions this season.

Hubbell's salary last season was estimated at $22,500.

There was widespread fear that Hubbell's sore arm would end one of the greatest of modern pitching careers. Last Aug. 18, almost two months after he had won the 200th victory of his career, he complained of a sore arm after being beaten by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Vines Erratic As He Encounters Stephens' Hard Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP) — In the brief space of an hour Don Budge made his professional tennis debut a successful one tonight as he outstayed his man at almost every point to whip Ellsworth Vines, ruler of the pro game for the past five years, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2, before a capacity crowd of 16,725 in Madison Square Garden.

It was an astonishingly easy triumph for the 23-year-old California red-head who this year became the first player ever to make a clean sweep of the world's four major amateur titles. He got away to a shaky start to trail 1-2 in the first set, but after he had broken Vines' service in the fourth game to draw even he was in virtually complete command throughout.

Yet as the final, conclusive test of Budge's ranking among all-time greats, the match left a good deal to the customers' imagination.

Vines was as erratic as only he can be and, while his famous forehand occasionally earned him handsome placements, he had great difficulty handling Budge's service and piled up a mountainous heap of errors with returns that went into the net or beyond the sidelines and base-lines.

The customers, not quite as steeped in tennis etiquette as those Budge has been accustomed to at Forest Hills and Wimbledon, showed their disappointment quite frankly. When Alice Marble, called to the microphone after the match, told them they had seen tennis "as fine as one could expect to see anywhere" there was a distinct boo, and not from the gallery alone.

Marians Engage St. Ambrose Five In Home Game

The fast stepping St. Ambrose academy five from Davenport invades Iowa City tonight for the first of the two games which they are slated to play against the colorful St. Mary's quintet.

Last year, the Davenport basketballers captured both of their tussles with the Marians. Jim O'Connor, star forward for the Ambrose five last season, will again lead the Little Saints against the Ramblers. He was a big factor in the Davenport school's triumphs over the Iowa City school when they met last season, and he is reportedly better than ever.

St. Mary's five will use their shifting man to man defense which they have been improving constantly throughout the season. The Ramblers' two shifty guards, Jim Chadek and Bill Bock, are expected to show some polished work against the Little Saints when they cover the slippery Davenport shooters.

The Rambler forwards, George Chadek and Jack Bock, will probably give the Academy team plenty of trouble with their double threat type of shooting. Chadek is a dead shot under the basket, while Bock sinks them consistently from out on the floor.

A program by students in the school of music will entertain members of the club after a supper Jan. 8, which will be in the clubrooms in Iowa Union. Mrs. J. Van der Zee, Mrs. Phillip G. Claop, Mrs. Arthur O. Klaffenbach, Mrs. R. O. Webster, Prof. Esther McDowell Swisher and Marcella Hotz are included on the committee for the party.

A bridge party is scheduled for Jan. 10. Mary E. Johnston, Gertrude Smith and Mrs. C. E. Cousins will be in charge of this party.

Mrs. E. T. Hubbard will review "The Yearling" (Rawlins) Jan. 12 at a club Kensington. The party will be held at 3 p.m. in the clubrooms, and the committee for this party includes Mrs. A. W. Bennett, Mrs. G. D. Koser, Mrs. G. F. Robeson, Mrs. F. A. Stromgren, Mrs. G. L. Houser, Mrs. E. F. Lindquist and Mrs. E. E. Klein.

Mrs. H. Garland Hershey, Mrs. M. Folkers and Mrs. F. S. Witzman will be in charge of the second bridge party of the month which will begin at 7:30 p.m., Jan. 17.

Mrs. Mimi Wurtz, dance stylist and teacher of dancing, will give a program of dancing Jan. 26 for members of the club.

The committee for the Kensington includes Mrs. W. F. Boiler, Mrs. J. T. McClintock, Mrs. W. N. Spear, Mrs. H. L. Olin and Mrs. A. N. Stunz. An hour of entertainment by a representative of the Union Pacific railroad will feature a ski expert, traveler and lecturer with a color and sound movie of Sun Valley, Idaho. This meeting will be a Sunday evening supper in the clubrooms Jan. 29 and the committee which will be in charge includes Mrs. James W. Jones, Mrs. Emmett C. Gardner, Sarita Robinson and Mary Kerr.

Jan. 31, at 1 p.m., a dessert bridge will conclude the month's gaiety. In charge of refreshments for the meeting will be Mrs. J. E. Switzer, Mrs. Jacob Cornog, Mrs. H. J. Dane and Mrs. J. I. Routh. The bridge committee for the party includes Mrs. L. A. Ware, Mrs. Charles Looney and Mrs. H. H. McCarty.

S. U. I. Alumna Weds June 30 In Minneapolis

The marriage of Fern Bruce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Bruce of Perry, to Gordon C. McKinnon has been announced by the bride's parents. The ceremony took place June 30, 1938, in Minneapolis, Minn. Mrs. McKinnon was graduated from the university in 1935 and was affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority. The couple are making their home in Perry.

Sophisticated Resorters Go Demure

Fashion wise vacationists on Miami sands will go mid-Victorian this season. This was the important trend in styles for wear beneath southern suns developed during the Miami Biltmore Fashion show sponsored annually in New York by Colonel Henry L. Doherty to highlight opening of the Florida season. Beach ensembles coyly decorated with rows of red hearts, brief little swim suits adorned with ruffles and love knots and romper suits that gave their wearers the appearance of being just out of the kindergarten were featured during the show. Among fabrics the new korosel

Coons Picks 'Dawn Patrol' Picture Presents Study of Stupid Waste, Tragedy, Horror of War

As Hollywood correspondent of The AP Feature Service and The Daily Iowan, Robbin Coons here-with selects another Movie of the Month—with reasons.

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—While the kiddies are playing with their new Christmas soldiers, machine guns and bombing planes, Papa and Mama can do little better in the way of movies than to see "The Dawn Patrol." Papa and Mama won't be "escap-ing" from anything when they see it. But they'll see this war business as it is — and maybe they'll decide they ought to have Junior see it that way, too. "The Dawn Patrol" is a beautifully presented study of the stupid waste, the horror and tragedy of modern war from the skies. Depressing in theme, it offers a "lift" by presenting a courage that recognizes war's stupidity

Dr. H. F. Shirley To Address Club

"Behavior Problems in Children" will be the topic discussed by Dr. H. F. Shirley at a luncheon meeting of the Child Study club Saturday in Iowa Union at 12:15 p.m.

Martha Powers Wed To George Larsen Wednesday Evening

Wearing the gown in which her mother was married, Martha Powers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark D. Powers of Chicago, formerly of Cedar Rapids, became the bride of George Edward Larsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Larsen of New Rochelle, N. Y. The ceremony took place last Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. in St. Bartholomew's church in New York with the Rev. Dr. Sargent officiating.

MRS. G. E. LARSEN

The bride wore a gown of Duchesse ivory satin trimmed with Duchess lace. Her long tulle veil was caught with a cap of rose-point lace worn by her great-grandmother. She carried a white prayer book and white orchids.

Maid of honor was Eleanor Larsen of New Rochelle, N. Y. Bridesmaids were Florence Lloyd-Jones of Tulsa, Okla., and Mary Fagan of New York. Howard Duncan of New Rochelle served as best man and ushers included Frank Prosser of Englewood, N. J., and Robert Lawther of New York.

Mrs. Larsen attended Cornell university and the University of Iowa, where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Mr. Larsen attended William college at Williamstown, Mass., where he was affiliated with Delta Phi fraternity. He is associated with his father in the T. M. James and company in New York.

Mrs. E. L. Titus To Read Art Paper

Mrs. E. L. Titus will read a paper on Robert Henri at a meeting of the Art Circle this morning. The business session will begin at 10 o'clock in the public library.

HOSTESS HINTS

"All's well that ends well" and that goes for the winter months, too if you ward off Jack Frost's teasers — by serving fruits and salads. When the temperature hits a new low, shake off those shivers with "protective" foods, and that means a supply of fruits, green and yellow vegetables and milk.

The cavalier that's a real cold fighter is the banana. Because of its flavor, taste and digestibility, the banana should be a "must" on your food list for this season of the year. The vitamins and minerals found in bananas help you to fortify the health of your family. Add them to your fruit salads; put them inside or around your gelatin desserts; serve them plain with milk, or try the latest mode and add them to your salads made of vegetables.

Combination Banana Fruit Plate 4 thin wedges sweet red-skinned apple (unpeeled) 4 half slices peeled orange 1 ripe banana, sliced Salad greens 2 or 3 berries Cut unpeeled apple lengthwise into thin wedges. Slice a peeled orange crosswise and cut slices into halves. Arrange three rows of fruit, side by side, on a salad plate, using sliced bananas for the two outside rows. For one end of the center row, use the four apple wedges, placed so they overlap with the red skin toward the outside. Use the four orange slices for the other end of the center row, placed so they overlap with the curved side of the slice toward the outside. Garnish the center with greens or berries. Serve with a sweet or tart dressing. Makes one individual serving.

Banana Peanut Fan Salad 1 ripe banana Chopped peanuts Salad greens Peel and cut banana crosswise into halves. Split each half lengthwise and spread open as a fan. Place banana on a salad plate. Sprinkle cut surface with peanuts. Garnish with greens. Serve with mayonnaise or cream dressing. Makes one individual serving.

Banana Salmon Salad 1-2 cup diced canned pineapple (about 2 slices) 3 ripe bananas, diced 1 1-2 cups canned salmon 1-4 cup diced celery 1-4 teaspoon salt 1 tablespoon chopped pickle Mayonnaise to moisten Lemon Drain pineapple well. Mix together bananas and pineapple. Add salmon from which bones and skin have been removed. Stir in remaining ingredients. Garnish with lemon slices or greens. Makes six to eight servings.

S. U. I. Alumni Wed at Lisbon

Lillian Hexom And Ralph A. Fitzgerald Marry at Cresco

Rachel Albright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Albright of Lisbon, became the bride of J. Robert Miller of Oskaloosa, son of Mrs. Cammie Miller of Waterloo last Thursday in a ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. The marriage was solemnized at 4 p.m. by Dr. Edwin McGrew, president of William Penn college at Oskaloosa where the bride and bridegroom are both members of the faculty. The bride wore a white chiffon gown trimmed with gold embroidery and fashioned in empire style. Her flowers were orchids. There were no attendants. The bride attended Rockford college and was graduated from Cornell college. She received her M.A. degree from the University of Iowa. She is a member of Phi Mu sorority and the American Chemical society.

Mr. Miller received both his B.A. and M.A. degrees from the university and is a member of the Order of Artus, honorary economics fraternity, and the American Statistical association. After a wedding trip the couple will be at home Feb. 1 in Oskaloosa.

Hexom-Fitzgerald

A marriage of the holiday season took place last Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. when Lillian Hexom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hexom of Decorah, became the bride of Ralph A. Fitzgerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Peter of Cresco. The marriage was solemnized in the rectory of the Assumption Catholic church in Cresco by the Rev. J. A. McMahon, who read the service in the presence of a few friends and the immediate families. Eleanor Rud of Decorah and Robert McNally of Cresco served as the couple's attendants. The bride was graduated from the Decorah high school and since

Chapman to Deliver Illustrated Lecture Here Tomorrow

Photographer Will Discuss Life in Rockies

University Students May Obtain Tickets At Iowa Union Desk

Wendell Chapman, naturalistic photographer, will deliver the next university lecture on "Wild Animals of the Rockies" at 2 p. m. tomorrow in Iowa Union. The lecture will be illustrated with motion pictures.

Chapman and his wife are co-authors of three recent books, "The Little Wolf," "Beaver Pioneers" and "Wilderness Wanderers."

In addition to the books recently published, articles in National Geographic, Nature, Scribner's and other magazines regard Chapman as an outstanding young naturalist. His lecturing and writing are the outgrowth of a hobby. Five years ago he retired from the bond business and, with his wife, went to the Rocky Mountains of the United States and Canada.

There the Chapmans remained, winter and summer, observing and photographing the native animals. Their ability to gain the confidence of timid wild creatures has resulted in remarkably intimate pictorial records. The motion pictures which

Photographer Speaks

This is Wendell Chapman, famous photographer of American wild life, who will present a University lecture at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the main lounge of Iowa Union. The Chapman lecture will be illustrated with motion pictures.

Chapman shows include wild beavers taking branches from his hands, preening, building and plastering their lodges and dams, and harvesting their winter food supply. The rare pine marten or American sable also is shown and among the larger animals are motion pictures of the Rocky Mountain goats performing unbelievable footwork on precipices.

Since becoming acquainted with the wild creatures, Chapman has given up hunting. In fact, the Chapmans never carry guns, even when trailing big game animals. During the many months that they have spent in the remote homelands of grizzly bears, moose, bison and other large animals, they have never been attacked. They believe that the animals are more interesting when at normal work and play than when their actions are staged.

In his intimate movies of America's wildlife, Chapman shows how the original dwellers of the wilderness lived, preserving the richness of their dwelling places. He has the whole story of how the beaver lives, who, with his skillfully constructed dams, created a nation-wide flood control that endured until the white man came. These dams held back eroding soil, created fertile meadows, prevented a rain-gutted country.

The humble ground squirrel does his part in Chapman's pictures, and in national economy. His burrows, honeycombing the great plains, the far west and the east, allowed quantities of water to penetrate the subsoil instead of flushing the surface and hurrying off to the oceans.

Even the coyote, considered the villain of the plains, is found to be valuable as a sanitary engineer. "Go to the wild animals and learn how to live," says Wendell

It's Not Only A New Year...

... for Iowa Union cafeteria begins 1939 with a new, improved addition to its facilities in the form of a food display counter installed during the holidays by Elbert Pick and company of Chicago, makers of restaurant equipment. The new counter takes up less room in the southern end of the cafeteria, and is of different design than the old one, forming a wide V across the room. There is added space for the display of foods, and improved plates provide for keeping hot foods hotter and cold foods colder. Lighted from above by soft, non-heating lights, the cafeteria's counter includes all the necessary means of displaying the food consumed by University of Iowa students and faculty, and is one of the finest in the state. Its installation was supervised by Ted Rehder, manager of Iowa Union's dining service, who selected its units.

Engineering Laboratory Finds Ways to Aid Manufacturers

Ten Studies Show Methods to Increase Employe Efficiency

Methods by which the manufacturer can increase the efficiency of his employes have been determined in the motion and time study laboratory of the University of Iowa college of engineering, and additional research is planned for 1939.

Under the direction of Prof. Ralph Barnes, 10 studies have been completed and results published, it was reported yesterday. These studies give quantitative data on proper ways to design elements for jigs and fixtures, most economical types of bins and containers for use in assembly work, and relative economy of various types of small tools for production operations.

All of the studies were made by using photoelectric cells, relays, and electrically-operated kymograph as the measuring and recording device.

A bi-dimensional eye-movement camera, designed and built at the university, is being used for studying the behavior of the eyes on producing and inspection operation.

Other projects which will be completed in 1939 include a study of the effect of practice on the improvement in skill of factory workers, a universal classification of time to handle small and medium-sized parts, and a comparison of the time to do work with the right hand, the left hand, and both hands working simultaneously.

4 Professors In Who's Who

Biographical sketches of four University of Iowa faculty members are included in the 1939 edition of the International Who's Who.

Those listed are Prof. Edward Bartow, head of the chemistry department; President Eugene A. Gilmore, President emeritus Walter A. Jessup and Dean George F. Kay.

The book is published by Europa Publications Ltd. of London. It is a rather new publication, the 1939 edition being only the fourth issue.

An interesting feature of the publication is a note in the preface addressed to Americans. It states that the word "politician" is used in the English sense meaning "one engaged in politics."

Johnson County's $84,588 Road Project Nearly One-Sixth Complete, Justen Says

Eight of 18 projects of Johnson county's $84,588 secondary road improvement were furnished yesterday, thus completing about one-sixth of the program, according to R. H. Justen, county engineer.

The Concrete Material company of Cedar Rapids, the third company to begin work, started yesterday by surfacing the roads of Jefferson township with crushed rock.

The Jefferson project, which involves 2.64 miles of roads, is the first of five such undertakings let to the Cedar Rapids company by the board of supervisors.

Initial work on the county road program early in December was begun by the L. J. Peters company of Des Moines, which is now surfacing in Fremont township.

Baker and Patton of Independence started operations Monday in Sharon township, with roads in five townships yet to be surfaced by them.

Prof. Loehwing Will Address Elks' Meeting

Members of the local chapter of the Elks, No. 590, B. P. O. E. will hear Prof. W. F. Loehwing of the botany department give a talk on "Americanism" at 8 o'clock tonight.

This speech is in conjunction with a program on Americanization to be carried out in the next few months by the nation-wide organization of Elk lodges.

The regular business meeting and buffet supper will follow Professor Loehwing's talk.

E. C. Kuenzel To Attend Hotel Executives Meet

E. C. Kuenzel, manager of the Iowa City Jefferson hotel, will represent the Iowa Hotel association as a member of the committee in charge of arrangements for the Midwest Hotel show which will be held in the Stevens hotel, Chicago, March 7 to 10.

This annual show for hotel executives is under the auspices of the state and local hotel associations of 10 midwestern states, and attracts hotel men from all over the world.

Charity Institutions Cost Approximately $29,392 in Year '37

According to a report issued yesterday by the Iowa Taxpayers association, the expense in maintaining the Johnson county eleemosynary institutions was $29,392 for the year 1937.

The report also stated that $5,132 was repaid to the county by the estates and relatives of the deceased inmates. The percent of expense repaid in 1937 was 17.46 compared with 19.06 per cent in 1935 and 1936.

Even a Train Will Run Out of Gas

SILSBEE, Tex. (AP) — A lot of automobile drivers will sympathize with members of the crew of this Santa Fe railroad train: They ran out of fuel oil 10 miles from the nearest town. They were ready to walk to there to get oil when they found an abandoned sawmill nearby. They rustled two cords of wood and it just got the locomotive to town.

18 National Groups Honor Faculty Men

Faculty members of the University of Iowa served as president or vice-president of 15 national organizations in 1937 and 1938, and now three more groups have picked Iowans as their leaders.

The new president of the American Association of Teachers of Speech is Prof. A. Craig Baird of the speech department. He is director of University of Iowa debating activities.

The American Accounting Association in 1939 will be directed by Prof. Sidney G. Winter, head of the division of accounting in the college of commerce.

Prof. Edward B. Reuter of the college of commerce is the new president of the Sociological Research Association, after serving as secretary-treasurer of the organization since 1936.

Each of the three new leaders has been a member of the university faculty since the early 1920's.

Training School Will Have 2nd Session Today

Second session of the Home Project Nutrition training school for officers and leaders will be held today in Union township at the home of Mrs. Milford Breese.

These schools are sponsored by the Johnson County Farm Bureau and planned by Emmett C. Gardner, county agent.

Ruth Cenna, extension specialist, spoke on "Feeding the Sick" yesterday in Clear Creek township to the school's first session.

Tomorrow the school will meet at Mrs. George Mueller's home in Lincoln township and Friday at the home of Mrs. B. L. Hotz in Scott township. On these days the meetings are held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mott Becomes Kiwanis Head

Prof. C. Thompson Reviews Legislative Problems at Meeting

Prof. Frank L. Mott, newly elected Kiwanis president, was formally inducted into the presidency at the regular meeting of the club yesterday noon in the Jefferson hotel.

Hal J. Dane, last year's president, presented the president's button to Professor Mott, and Dane received a past-president's badge.

After the business meeting, Prof. C. Woody Thompson of the college of commerce reviewed the problems likely to arise when the state legislature meets Monday.

Jury to Try Adam Scheetz

Arrested on Charge Of Drunken Driving; Case Set for 9 A. M.

Judge Harold D. Evans instructed the petit jury yesterday afternoon to report at 9 o'clock this morning to hear the case of the state of Iowa against Adam Scheetz. The remainder of the jury panel was excused until tomorrow at 10 a.m.

The case will go to the jury this afternoon, Judge Evans said. Scheetz is charged with driving while intoxicated. Attorney E. A. Baldwin is representing the defendant.

Jurors picked for the case are Erma Lackender, John Dvorak, Sarah Braverman, Marlys K. Hunton, Ethel Nunn, Jeanne Robertson, Frances See, Rose Konasek, Marguerite Mathes, W. A. Pauba, Bernice M. Mighell, and Irene K. Tanberg.

Vacation And Then--Exams

Their 17 1-2 day recess ended, University of Iowa students yesterday began the semester's final drive, for examinations are scheduled to begin in less than three weeks.

Regular class sessions will be supplanted Jan. 21 by two-hour examinations in each course. The testing period lasts a week, with the second semester beginning Jan. 31.

The university will award degrees and certificates to more than 175 persons at the mid-year convocation on the evening of Jan. 31.

The next vacation period was prominent in student discussion yesterday. It is the Easter recess, which begins at noon April 5 and ends at 8 a.m. April 11.

Mechanic Dies After Sickness

Hotel Owner Finds Former W. Liberty Man Ill in Room

Harry Hildebrandt of Iowa City died at 3:15 p.m. yesterday at the Mercy hospital following a six weeks illness.

Police received a call yesterday from the Dunkel hotel to investigate the condition of Hildebrandt who had been ill for several days. After observing the sick man's condition, the officers summoned Dr. E. W. Paulus who ordered him to be removed immediately to the hospital where he died.

C. F. Duke, proprietor of the hotel, explained that two men aided Hildebrandt into the hotel about 12:30 a.m. Saturday and that at that time he appeared quite ill. He retired to his room. Dunkel continued, and was not seen again until about 2 a.m. yesterday, when the proprietor became anxious and entered the room to find Hildebrandt either "unconscious or in a deep sleep."

Harry Hildebrandt came to Iowa City in 1937 from West Liberty and until six weeks ago was employed as a mechanic at the Cline Farm Equipment company. He was born and reared in the community of Cedar Valley south of West Liberty.

Trowbridge Reveals Schedule Of Recreational Center Hours

Regular schedule of hours was seventh a month ago. Don Teety resumed yesterday at the local recreational center, Eugene Trowbridge, director, revealed. The center will be open on weekdays at 3 p.m. and close at 5:30 p.m. and will stay open from 7 to 9:30 in the evenings. On Saturdays hours will be from 9 a.m. until noon, and from 1 to 5 p.m. The "ladder" ping pong tournament, now over a month old, shows a noticeable change of standings. Bob Paukert, who at one time did not rate among the top ten, is now in first place in the senior division. Dean Fitzgerald, formerly in first place, has dropped to second. He is followed in order by Albert Schmidt, Meyer Markovitz, Allen Wallen and Winston LaPorte. The craft room, Trowbridge announced, is open on weekdays from 3 to 5:30 and from 9 a.m. until noon on Saturdays. He was

Five City High Musicians To Attend Clinic

National Band Clinic To Meet in Illinois To Test New Music

Five musicians representing Iowa City high school are attending the National band clinic which convenes today at Urbana, Ill. Those who left yesterday with Lloyd F. Swartley, band director, include Cornell Mayer, bass clarinetist; Gene Hubbard, alto clarinetist; Don Key, French horn, and Robert Caywood and Robert Merriam, clarinetists.

The boys were chosen along with other distinctive performers from lists submitted by schools from surrounding states. Each representative at the concert will be a member of one of the two 90-piece bands which will meet to introduce new music which will be tested as contest materials for following years.

Two public concerts at Urbana Friday night will conclude the clinic. Local musicians will return Saturday. The University of Illinois sponsors the clinic each year.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Maggie Hildebrandt, West Liberty; a brother, Guy, and eight nephews all residing in the vicinity of West Liberty.

The body will be taken to the Snyder Funeral home in West Liberty where plans for the funeral service will be announced.

369 More Cases Of Contagious Diseases Reported Last Year

Reports issued at the city clerk's office yesterday revealed that 369 more cases of contagious diseases were reported in Iowa City during 1938 than in the previous year.

Comparative figures showed an increase of 313 cases of measles, 78 cases of whooping cough and 47 cases of mumps.

Other reported cases listed for 1938 were chicken pox 34, scarlet fever 29, erysipelas three, small pox 2, tularemia 1, influenza meningitis 1, diphtheria 1 and pink eye 1.

County Board Elects Krall New Chairman

Group Also Elects Earl Webster Board Member at Meeting

Frank Krall was elected chairman of the Johnson county board of supervisors yesterday afternoon in the courthouse at the organization meeting of the board. He succeeds Dan J. Peters.

The new chairman headed the board two years ago and was succeeded Dan J. Peters. Earl Webster, elected to the board in November, succeeds Charles W. Lacina. Lacina retired after having served on the board for nearly eight years.

"Business for the year was finished by the former board at about 10 a.m. and the new chairman was elected soon after the new board organized.

The supervisors will approve and set salaries of county officials and workers and will take care of other business matters during the next few days.

Council to Meet Friday Evening

Iowa City council members will convene in the city hall council chambers for a regular session Friday evening at 7:30. The council will discuss city finances and consider the allowance of monthly bills.

Temperature Reading Above Normal High

Iowa City's lowest temperature yesterday, 31 degrees, was above the normal high. Mercury rose as high as 41 degrees in the afternoon. There was no precipitation. A year ago yesterday temperatures stayed between 16 and 36 degrees.

Six I. O. O. F. Organizations To Install Officers in January

Back Again City Schools Take Up Classes Again

Leaving their newly acquired Christmas toys regretfully behind, the last of Iowa City's 3,400 school children will troop back to school this morning when St. Mary's school and St. Patrick's school open their doors after a two weeks' vacation.

Those enrolled in the public schools were the first to be recalled to their books, returning Monday morning while the rest of the country celebrated a national holiday.

Yesterday the pupils of University high reluctantly put aside their sleds, skates and skis and picked up pens and pencils to resume their quest for knowledge.

City Clerk To Challenge 600 Voters' Rights

Six hundred challenge of vote cards were issued from the city clerk's office yesterday to all eligible persons who have failed to vote during the last four calendar years.

Under the provisions of the Code of Iowa, the right to vote is challenged when the voter fails to exercise his privilege after a term of four years, and his name is removed from the permanent registration list.

All persons affected by the law must re-register at the city clerk's office at least 10 days before the next election.

Lodges No. 44, 376, 416 Will Have Joint Meeting January 11

Six local Odd Fellow organizations have completed plans for their annual January installation of officers. District grand masters will be in charge of the ceremonies.

Eureka lodge No. 44, I. O. O. F., last night made plans for a joint installation of officers Jan. 11, with members of Carnation Rebekah lodge No. 376 and the Iowa City Rebekah lodge No. 416.

Presiding over the installation will be Oscar Wiese of Lone Tree, district general grand master, and Mrs. Cora Anthony, district deputy president.

Robert O'Hara, Anton Soucek and Dr. Wayne Enderby were appointed to the auditing committee. The Old Capital Junior lodge No. 1, I. O. O. F., at its regular meeting Monday evening completed plans for the joint installation of officers with the Old Gold Theta Rho club No. 1, Jan. 18.

Keith Tallman, special district deputy grand master, will be in charge of the installation. Plans were made for the initiation to be held Jan. 16. Eugene De Witt, past chief ruler, was presented with a pin in recognition of his services.

The local Good Samaritan Encampment, I. O. O. F., will hold its annual homecoming meeting Friday with Orr E. Patterson, district deputy grand patriarch, in charge of the installation of officers.

The officers to be installed are: Walter Lennabaug, chief patriarch; Everett Younklin, high priest; Roscoe Plum, senior warden; Walter Nerad, recording scribe; Frank Naylor, financial scribe; Alred Maas, treasurer, and Ralph Rayner, junior warden. The appointments of officers will be announced after the installation.
