Few Cuts Expected in Executive Budget

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Congress, which will receive President Roosevelt's detailed budget recommendations today, got advance notice today that he would propose little, if any, cut in government spending—and might suggest some tax increases.

This raised the prospect of another $9,000,000,000 of federal spending in the fiscal year beginning next July, and consequently another deficit.

In his message to the legislators today, the president made it plain that he is holding to the theory that a balanced budget should be attained by raising the national income—with a consequent increase in tax revenue—rather than by reducing expenditures.

He reiterated that his goal was an $80,000,000,000 national annual income—the total of wages, salaries, rents, dividends, etc., paid during the year. (It is expected to be 60 to 65 billion this year.)

Steps in achieving this, he added, include "a revamping of the tax relationships between federal, state and local units of government, and consideration of relatively small tax increases to adjust inequalities without interfering with the aggregate income of the American people."

He was emphatic in opposing any sharp reduction in expenses. "We have learned," he said, "that it is unsafe to make abrupt reductions at any time in our next expenditure program," adding that by the "common sense action" of resuming government spending last spring the recession tide had been turned.

The prospect of further deficit proved not at all depressing to the stock market in view of Mr. Roosevelt's other remarks.

Although some financial leaders expressed regret about the spending remarks, securities prices moved higher.

In general, Wall street accepted the message as "constructive," liking particularly the chief executive's talk of unity and ending friction between capital and labor.

Roosevelt Warns Dictators; Says American Unity Necessary

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—A prediction that congress would give the administration freedom to pursue a stiffer policy toward dictators came today from Chairman Pittman (D-Nev) of the senate foreign relations committee.

After hearing President Roosevelt's message to congress, the Nevada senator expressed the opinion that the chief executive had decided "moral, financial and commercial sanctions" were necessary to bring treaty violators to terms.

The present neutrality act, Pittman contended, could not carry out this policy, and he expressed confidence that congress would revise it.

"The president made it clear," Pittman said, "that we had the right and it was our duty to refrain from aiding these conquering dictators and that it was equally our duty, in every way except by use of armed forces, to aid the democracies in their fight against these dictators."

Pittman said the nation could go beyond protests in carrying out this aim and in commanding respect for American treaty rights without becoming involved in war.

"Why shoot a man when you can starve him to death?" he asked.

However, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared that the "logical conclusion" from the president's message "would seem to be another war with American troops sent across the ocean." He declared the armaments program should be based on defending the United States, not "democracy throughout the world."

Seven peace organizations said in a joint statement tonight that the president's message "must come as a heavy disappointment to all Americans who desire to see this country lead in the present world struggle for the abolition of war."

Officials Say 35,000 WPA Employees Will Be Put Under Civil Service Feb. 1

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Amid a storm of charges of politics in relief, administration officials announced today that 35,000 administrative employees of WPA would be placed under civil service Feb. 1.

Col. F. C. Harrington, new relief administrator, said the move would involve all administrative personnel, in Washington and the field, with the exception of a "small number of policy-making positions."

He said the step was mandatory under a presidential order approved last June 24, and that he heartily endorsed it. It was announced that non-competitive examinations were being given the employees.

Senator Byrnes (D-SC), chairman of a special senate committee on relief, said that civil service provisions prohibiting political activity by federal employees would apply to WPA employees as soon as they were installed under civil service.

Asked if he believed this would end the activity within the WPA which was sharply criticized by the senate campaign expenditures committee yesterday, Byrnes replied:

"That is a question that will be put entirely up to the civil service commission. If it enforces the law, the law will be effective, and if it does not it will be ineffective."

Meanwhile, there were other congressional moves to correct what some senators called a "bad political situation" within the WPA.

Senator King (D-Utah) introduced a measure to abolish the agency by substituting direct relief grants to the states based on needs and administered by non-partisan boards.

Senator Austin (R-Vt) announced he would introduce an amendment to all relief appropriations bills which would make it a crime to use relief funds for political purposes.

Administrative Staff Affected

'To the Brave Go the Fair' British Flyer Invades Russia in Second Hand Plane to Regain Wife

MOSCOW, Jan. 4 (AP)—Bryan Grover, madcap British air pilot, got his wife back today, proving again that faint heart never won fair lady.

What diplomatic experts had failed to achieve in four years of effort, the square-jawed Englishman accomplished in a few weeks by daring to make a "one-man invasion" of Soviet Russia in a second hand plane with only three weeks flying instruction.

Whether the 37-year-old engineer would be allowed to take his wife out of Russia still was not certain, but he was with her tonight "somewhere in Moscow" after having been released by soviet authorities.

Apparently Grover's willingness to dare anything for the sake of a Russian girl rather than the Kremlin.

Grover worked in Russia as an oil specialist, fell in love with Eleanra Petrovna Golius and married her in 1933. When he went to Iran to work in 1934 he was not permitted to enter the country to rejoin her or bring her out of the country.

On Nov. 13 he started from Stockholm on the "flight for love" without permission to enter Russia. He was forced down 100 miles from Moscow, arrested and jailed for six weeks before receiving a hearing in municipal court, Dec. 31, when he pleaded his willingness to become a Soviet citizen to regain his wife.

Democracies Welcome Talk

LONDON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Great Britain and France tonight officially welcomed what they considered President Roosevelt's veiled threat of economic sanctions against aggressors.

Britain quickly rebroadcast in German and Italian pointed passages of his address to congress.

The speech was heard clearly in England from semi-official British broadcasting corporation facilities. Thousands stopped in the rain to listen at open shop doors. Newspapers displayed the address prominently.

Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax studied advance copies of the message to congress in a conference at the premier's residence.

In Germany and Italy, where contents of the speech were not known until the dinner hour, there was no immediate official reaction.

The Italian press, however, said the new congressional session opened in an atmosphere of "scandal" and charged United States officials with using relief money for political purposes.

Hopkins Goes To Defense Of Daniel Roper

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins went to the defense tonight of his predecessor, Daniel C. Roper, accused of using a government boat for private parties.

Hopkins declared that Roper had issued orders that all guests aboard the vessel, "Eala," including Roper himself, must pay for their food. He added that Roper himself paid all extra expenses and that his record was as "clean as a hound's tooth."

Hopkins' statement was in answer to the accusation made yesterday in a report to congress by R. N. Elliott, acting comptroller general.

Elliott charged that Roper and other commerce department officials used the "Eala" in 1934 and 1935 for private parties and that the total cost of "unauthorized" use of the vessel was $9,506.72.

Roper, in a statement issued through the commerce department, said Elliott was acting out of "political spleen."

"His version of the matter is based on half truths and is, therefore, in effect, indistinguishable from a deliberate lie," Roper said. "Had he disclosed the information in the records here, and had he perused them, he would have said:

"That, during the republican administration, the boats were used by commerce secretaries, assistant secretaries, and their friends and guests with the utmost frequency.

LIPSTICK Necessitates Scrubbing Of Dirty Glasses

ATLANTA, Jan. 4 (AP)—The girl who leaves a red garland of lipstick on the drugstore glass may be the enemy of the soda dispenser, but Dr. Preston Yarbrough says she's the friend of public health.

The youthful chemist for the Georgia department of agriculture explained:

"When lipstick lingers on the glass, the soda dispenser must scrub much harder than usual to remove it and in the process he eradicates many bacteria that otherwise might go down the public throat."

Masquerade Confidence Blinded Them, Say Bankers

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP)—The rapid ballooning of F. Donald Coster-Musica's drug swindle was described today by Connecticut bankers who said they had such confidence in the masquerading McKesson and Robbins president that they had no suspicion of his wrong-doing.

The bankers and others testified in the state attorney general's inquiry into the great drug concern, an inquiry begun when charges were made that some $18,000,000 in fictitious assets were included in the McKesson and Robbins crude drug department headed by the ex-convict Coster-Musica, who resigned by suicide.

"Since the recent developments," said Horace B. Merwin, president of the Bridgeport (Conn.) City Trust company, "I wondered why we were suspicious and accepted these reports of increased inventories and accounts receivable in the crude drug department, but we who had been in the company for years had the utmost confidence in Mr. Coster. He was a most unusual man and had shown remarkable success in his management of the firm over a long period of years."

Rowley W. Phillips, heads of R. F. Griggs and company, investment bankers of Waterbury Conn., also expressed his previous confidence in Coster-Musica.

"Weren't you ever suspicious of the fact that Coster's departments always were ahead?" McCall asked.

"No. The other directors told me how tough Price, Waterhouse (New York auditors) were on their checkups of these reports. There were some 78 subsidiaries and it was physically impossible for me, any director, or a banker, to make a personal check."

Pope Pius Discusses Racism, Fortune Of Church in Germany

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 4 (AP)—Pope Pius discussed racism in Germany and the fortunes of the church there in a private audience today with Monsignor Carlo Colli, counselor of the papal nunciature in Berlin.

Articles in the National Geographic magazine, Field and Stream, Nature, Natural history, Scribners and Travel magazines brought a request from Charles Scribner's Sons for illustrated books on experiences in the out-of-doors and on American wildlife.

An equally enthusiastic response to his illustrated lectures followed and now Chapman is devoting the spring months to a tour of the United States.

Chapman, recently elected a member of the Explorers club of New York City, has a unique distinction among wild animal photographers. He never carries a gun. He and Mrs. Chapman have been able to gain the confidence of some of the most timid and rare North American animals. The motion pictures and colored slides show wild beavers

Insurgents Take Artesa, 65 Miles From Barcelona

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish frontier) Jan. 4 (AP)—The Spanish insurgent command tonight officially announced the capture of Artesa, "gateway to Catalonia" 65 miles northwest of Barcelona.

Fall of the city was claimed by insurgent dispatches from Burgos, insurgent military headquarters, 24 hours before, but was flatly contradicted today by the government command.

Insurgents did not reiterate the claim until tonight, when the official communique asserted the textile town fell before attacks of two insurgent columns which crossed the Segre river on pontoons and waded through fields flooded by diversion of water from the Urgel canal.

Chapman is a conservationist, but he is not a sentimentalist. Since his intimate association with native animals in the wilds he has entirely given up hunting, although he does not object to hunters, under proper conditions, taking the surplus numbers of any species which is not in danger of being exterminated. He declares that it is more difficult, however, to obtain a good picture than it is to kill a prize trophy.

Admission to the lecture will be by ticket. Tickets went into circulation to faculty and students Tuesday at Iowa Union desk. Any tickets which remain today will be available to the general public.

Tax Refund Claims Totaling Thousands Being Prepared

DES MOINES, Jan. 4 (AP)—Tax refund claims amounting to several hundred thousand dollars are being prepared for filing with supervisors of more than 70 Iowa counties, it was learned here tonight.

Persons preparing the claims said they were based on alleged auditors' errors in not deducting from the annual budget requirements the tax to be derived from monies and credits.

The law demanding such a deduction was passed by the 1933 legislature and the state supreme court had ruled that counties must refund taxes illegally collected through such an error.

The taxpayers research bureau, of which J. C. Rockwell is head, and Louis H. Cook, Des Moines tax consultant, are among the individuals and organizations preparing the claims for private taxpayers and corporations.

Rockwell and Cook said their claims would amount to a total of several hundred dollars and would be filed in as many as 70 counties. Some of the claims date back to 1934.

The bureau and Cook are preparing the claims on a percentage basis.

D. L. Murrow, chairman of the state board of assessment and review, said however, that taxpayers can file their own claims if they wish and do not need an agent.

Neutrality Act Shift Predicted By Sen. Pittman

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—A prediction that congress would give the administration freedom to pursue a stiffer policy toward dictators came today from Chairman Pittman (D-Nev) of the senate foreign relations committee.

After hearing President Roosevelt's message to congress, the Nevada senator expressed the opinion that the chief executive had decided "moral, financial and commercial sanctions" were necessary to bring treaty violators to terms.

The present neutrality act, Pittman contended, could not carry out this policy, and he expressed confidence that congress would revise it.

Pittman said the nation could go beyond protests in carrying out this aim and in commanding respect for American treaty rights without becoming involved in war.

"Why shoot a man when you can starve him to death?" he asked.

However, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) declared that the "logical conclusion" from the president's message "would seem to be another war with American troops sent across the ocean." He declared the armaments program should be based on defending the United States, not "democracy throughout the world."

Will Allow New Deal To Use Stiffer Policy Toward Dictatorships

Gangster Al Capone Pays Part Of Government Fine; Clears Way for Release From Prison

CHICAGO, Jan. 4 (AP)—Al Capone paid three-fifths of his financial debt to society today.

The government had a bill for $57,692.29 outstanding against the dethroned gangster king until this afternoon when his Chicago lawyer, Abraham Teitelbaum, handed $37,692.29 to Edward E. Douglas, acting clerk of the federal district court.

The sum represented all outstanding court costs, $7,692.29, and $30,000 in fines. There remained $20,000 in fines to be paid.

Douglas said the payment today cleared the way for release of Capone from Alcatraz island prison in San Francisco Bay where he has been serving a 10-year sentence for income tax evasion.

That term and $30,000 in fines were imposed on three felony counts when in 1931 the government convicted the nation's then public enemy No. 1 for failure to pay $215,080 tax on as estimated income of $1,036,654 for 1925-29.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson also imposed an added one year term and a $20,000 fine on two misdemeanor counts in connection with "the big boy's" failure to file returns, making the total penalties 11 years and $50,000.

Capone began serving time in 1932, first at Atlanta, Ga., penitentiary, later at Alcatraz.

Recently government officials said Capone was suffering from paresis, a disease of the brain, and while he was normal three weeks out of four he was "a dangerous man" the other week.

They said the government planned to keep him under treatment, probably in another federal institution.

With time off for good behavior, Capone would be eligible for release from Alcatraz Jan. 19. The extra year was originally scheduled to be served in the Cook county (Chicago) jail.

Joint Session Addressed As Congress Meets

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4 (AP)—With Adolf Hitler's chief envoy an impassive listener, President Roosevelt warned the dictator nations today that America would resist "strident ambition and brute force" in world affairs.

Addressing a dramatic joint session of congress in the house of representatives, the chief executive, with slow and deliberate emphasis, asked that that resistance be bulwarked by increased military preparedness.

And equally necessary, he said, was the elimination of class prejudices and internal dissensions through the abolition of social abuses so that a nation united in spirit might combat all threats of "military and economic" aggression from abroad.

Moreover, Mr. Roosevelt hinted that immediate steps might be under consideration. He asserted that "there are many methods short of war of bringing home to aggressor governments the aggregate sentiments of our own people."

Linking domestic problems with foreign policy through his plea for national unity, Mr. Roosevelt announced that the period of new deal social and economic innovations had reached at least a pause, if not an end.

He applauded the accomplishments of the six years he has been in power and asserted the time had arrived for congress "to improve the new machinery which we have permanently installed, provided that in the process the social usefulness of the machinery is not destroyed or impaired."

While the augmented republican ranks of congress listened silently and a roar of approval arose from the democratic side of the crowded house chamber, he made it amply clear that government spending would continue, in the expectation that it would increase national income to a point at which the budget could be balanced.

There was an even more emphatic outburst of approval, largely from the republican side of the chamber, when the president mentioned the alternative of drastic retrenchment—an alternative not advocated by him.

Congressional comment on the chief executive's message was, as is always the case, colored by political leanings. New deal supporters thought it was fine; republicans and anti-new deal democrats found much to censure.

But it was immediately apparent that with the exception of the declaration for continued spending, the speech was regarded as conciliatory in tone, and one expected to smooth, not ruffle, the feelings of the conservative wing of the chief executive's own party.

As an annual message to congress, it had more than usual significance in that it was the first statement of administration policy since the republican and conservative gains of the November elections challenged the new deal and raised possibilities of effective coalition opposition to Roosevelt (See ROOSEVELT page 8)

Kantor Arrested

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP)—John M. Kantor, 60, who told federal authorities investigating McKesson & Robbins Inc., that unnamed officers of the drug firm "offered to sell me some guns," was released on one charge in felony court today and immediately re-arrested on another.

He was questioned in the McKesson & Robbins case after being arrested Dec. 16 as a fugitive from Stratford, Conn., where police said he was wanted on a grand larceny charge.

Will Shoot Spy

NANCY, France, Jan. 4 (AP)—The death penalty for espionage was imposed by the Nancy military tribunal for the first time in post-war French history today against Francois Gruneberg, Frenchman from Strasbourg, for spying during the September Czechoslovak crisis. Details of the charge were not disclosed. Gruneberg will be shot.

Fog Stops Traffic

DES MOINES, Jan. 4 (AP)—A dense fog that blanketed most of Iowa today began lifting tonight.

However, before the fog lifted, it had virtually paralyzed highway traffic, grounded airplanes and made roads treacherous.

With the fog came thunderstorms, a rare occurrence in January. Rain, sleet or hail fell over most of the state.

Several buildings were struck by lightning and there were scattered reports of livestock losses as a result of such bolts.

Japan to Form New Cabinet to Settle Internal Conflicts, Prepare for New Policies in China confrontations and mobilize Japan for "new policies" in China.

Hiranuma, 73, is one of Japan's outstanding nationalists. Prince Fumimaro Konoye, retiring premier, was thrust aside by a powerful movement, mostly behind the scenes, for an even more authoritarian government.

This movement represented elements within the army, inside and outside the government of the comparatively liberal Konoye and within ultra-patriotic groups.

Among its demands were more rigid control of economic life, new policies to consolidate conquests in China and the fusion of all political parties into a single nationalist group.

Konoye, whose 19-month tenure started a month before the outbreak of the undeclared war with China, said in resigning that it was "urgently necessary to enhance the confidence of the nation by formulating new policies under a new cabinet."

The time had come, he added, "when the government must concentrate its efforts on construction of a new order to maintain lasting peace in east Asia."

Wendell Chapman, Conservation Photographer, Will Lecture at Eight Tonight on Wild Animals

Wendell Chapman, photographer of wild life, will appear here tonight in a lecture, "Wild Animals of the Rockies," which will be illustrated by motion pictures and colored slides. The lecture will be at 8 o'clock in Iowa Union.

Chapman, who is a member of the California State bar and retired from the investment banking business, has entered the writing and lecturing field as a result of his hobby. With Mrs. Chapman, he has spent most of the past five years penetrating the wilds beyond the highways of the western part of the United States and Canada in order to observe and photograph native animals at work and play. The Chapmans returned with volumes of notes, over four thousand still pictures and thousands of feet of motion picture film.

Articles in the National Geographic Magazine, Field and Stream, Nature, Natural History, Scribners and Travel Magazines Brought a Request from Charles Scribner's Sons for Illustrated Books on Experiences in the Out-of-Doors and on American Wildlife.

1938's Biggest News—1939's Biggest Problem

WE RECENTLY saw a most remarkable 18 minutes of movie, the latest March of Time, one entitled "Refugees—Today and Tomorrow."

And there, it seemed to us, was the whole story of 1938—and a message for 1939 as well. There we saw hundreds of thousands of homeless men and women and their children standing forlornly, homeless, even countryless in the streets of China. There were the ones who must leave Spain hourly, the inevitable victims of any war.

And there, too, was 1938's biggest news and 1939's biggest problem—the Jews. We saw their shops smashed in Berlin; we saw their homes looted, their race libeled on billboards and in elementary school texts; we saw them in concentration camps and fleeing across the Swiss border.

Refugees, a few thousand of them, the rest still undergoing the barbarism of a nation plunged in hate. That was the picture as 1938 ended. But what of 1939? What about tomorrow?

Well, a good many possibilities. Several hundred thousand German Jews will find a permanent home in Palestine if the still democratic countries of the world can help make that financially possible. Ninety-two per cent of all the wealth of the emigrants of Germany remains in the country. Most of them leave with a few marks in their hands.

Their problem, then, quite obviously is our problem. Financially the democratic countries must aid them, both publicly and privately.

And as for the hundreds of thousands of Jews and of Chinese and Spanish who cannot migrate to Palestine, what of them? They too are a part of our problem, we democrats.

An international committee supported by 36 nations has been working for months; but they too are handicapped by lack of funds and, primarily, by no indication of genuine public interest.

Therefore, for 1939 we must become world-minded. We, all of us, must take an active interest in the problems of those discriminated against in other lands and attempt to do something about them. This is especially true of us here in the United States, because our nation was conceived by and as a haven for those who were politically and religiously refugees.

We here need to beware of Europe's intolerance. We need to read again our bill of rights and to keep it meaningful and vital.

We need to remember the words of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, "To beware against attempts to suppress the opinions of those who loathe."

But more than that, more than keeping the words already written as an addenda to our constitution, we must go one step further.

Now, more than ever before, we must make democracy a word of distinct, proud meaning.

Germany this week took over our system of "Jim Crow" cars in the south. It was an idea which fitted into her program of discrimination and hate. It was undemocratic.

The controlled German press makes much of our two-frequent lynchings, an institution as peculiar to the United States as the newly revived ghetto to the old world.

In Italy the newspaper writers point to our unemployed. "What is this thing called freedom?" they inquire cynically. Doesn't freedom mean more than the right to think independently, to write unham-pered, to speak without restriction? Is freedom worth much without bread?

These are problems that few of the speakers on the subject "Democracy Versus Fascism" mention, but they are our problems, those of this new year.

And so, as the new year begins, we are in a world that is far from the one Henry Adams visioned when we looked optimistically to 1938. It even looks as if we may have fallen a way back into the abyss of darkness.

If we plan to make 1939 a step ahead, we need to be realistic. We need to look at our own country and at our world with wide-open eyes. Voltaire said, "In realism there is hope." We agree, yea heartily.

A Boston neurologist says benzadrine gives the same lift as alcohol without the bad effects. The drug store may yet resound with "Sweet Adeline."

An Indiana couple celebrating their golden wedding anniversary say they have got along so well because when one would start a quarrel, the other always walked out. There's also the advantage of fresh air to consider.

William Martin Jr., president of the New York Stock Exchange, suggests labor, capital and government sit around the table with each person placing his own cards thereon. How about having them use our deck for a while?

A paragrapher asks where a dictator goes when and if he wants to laugh. That's easy—a peace conference.

FORECAST FOR 1939: The great discovery is coming to Maine and Vermont that they're a part of the United States after all.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

Iowa City, Ia. Dec. 31, 1938

To the Editor: On the eve of the New Year, standing in my humble grocery store, I tried to make up some New Year's resolutions in checking the present conditions. In observing my fruit display, I noticed how many rotten bananas, oranges and apples are going to be ushered into the New Year with the good ones. I wondered how many good ones the rotten ones would spoil, and I wished that the rotten ones could be segregated from the good ones for the New Year. Meanwhile I glanced at the cigar case, and I found two newspapers. One was The Daily Iowan of Dec. 31, with a "letter to the Editor" from an anonymous student who claims to practice tolerance as well as preach it. In his letter he states that Hitler has given the German people three things they had lacked: confidence, economic stability, and a place among nations, and praises him as the only statesman in Europe who is really an apostle of peace. He blames the moulders of public opinion in this country for distributing misinformation concerning Hitler and his regime, who he says are the newspapers, columnists, ministers of the gospel, professors, news commentators, and the like. And he threatens that if they continue to misinform the public with this "unending barrage of intolerance, biased accusation and even hate, it will not be long before this country again will be fertile grounds for seeds of war propaganda."

Now, my dear anonymous student, if all those that you enumerate are just misinforming us, where will the public go to get the true information that you are yearning for? Is it in the Nazi well that you would have us dip our buckets? Isn't it true that some of the Nazi propaganda is now nursing from the $400,000,000 ransom fund that is imposed upon the German-Jewish people by Nazi Germany? And that that same kind of "innocent" propaganda is creeping through various channels of the press in this country?

When I got through reading this Letter to the Editor in The Daily Iowan, I glanced at another Iowa paper, and I found the coupon illustrated below:

Will You Save a Child? Do you have room in your home for a homeless child who needs one—a child who has his future cut off—who might even be hungry?

Should legislation be passed to admit 25,000 German refugee children, would you be willing to assume the responsibility for a child?

Signed Cut out this coupon and send it to the Iowa Jewish News, 407 Grand Avenue, Des Moines, Iowa.

I would like to ask the anonymous writer if he really would practice tolerance, I may advise him to visit the present beautiful Germany that he raves so about, and declare himself a Jew for a few months, and come back and tell us the welcome he received there.

TUNING IN

By Loren Hickerson

"MAKE BELIEVE" the hit tune from Jerome Kern's "Show Boat," will be featured by Jerry Cooper and the William Steuss singers on "Vocal Varieties" over the NBC-Red network at 6:15 tonight.

Jerry opens the program with his romantic baritone rendition of "They Say," followed by the Smoothies in the modernized "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia." Next Jerry offers "You Must Have Been a Beautiful Baby," the song that's risen to quick heights these past few weeks, and the program closes with the elaborate special arrangement of the "Show Boat" classic.

Phil Baker will find himself right at home before the microphone as the former vaudeville and Broadway headliner was one of the first stage comedians to venture into radio. Except for a leave of absence last summer and fall, the jester has been constantly on the air for more than seven years.

Joe Penner, another of our erstwhile comedians, will be on the air at 6:30 tonight, with Gay Seabrook, Roy Atwell, Dick Ryan, Tommy Lane, Cliff Hall, Tommy Mack and Ben Pollack's orchestra.

The SEVEN o'clock highlight is Rudy Vallee's variety program. Two shows vie for honors at 8 o'clock—Major Bowes' amateur hour and the better of the two shows, as far as I'm concerned, "Good News of 1939," with inimitable comedy and matchless music.

"Good News," as I have said before, has brought together the finest array of talent on any one show in Hollywood, with Frank Morgan, Fanny Brice, Tony Martin and Meredith Wilson's orchestra.

The SERIOUS SIDE of life, the one which all of us should more or less regard with more than passing interest, takes the spotlight at 8:30 tonight, with "America's Town Meeting" of the air. Tonight's topic is "Should the Wagner Act be Revived?"

Two swell shows conclude tonight's regulars. They are Bing Crosby and Bob Burns on the Kraft Music Hall program, and the dramatic "Columbia Workshop."

With the Ted Striker chorus, the mistress of -creations will feature as the production number of the broadcast, "Of Thee I Sing," from the musical show of the same name. The chorus will also interpret "Sing for Your Supper," which is a mighty fine tune.

In the weekly comedy episode of the Aldrich family, Henry, played by redheaded Ezra Stone, will find himself again in financial difficulties when his arch rival, Jimmy Bartlett, presents Aldrich Sr. with a bill for alleged damages inflicted by Henry.

And young Ezra Stone, you may have noticed, is doing all right in the way of progressing up the radio ladder of fame.

AROUND THE TOWN

With MERLE MILLER

I COULD A TALE UNFOLD An interesting enough little commentary on modern education was enacted in Iowa Union's main lounge yesterday noon when we turned on the president's speech.

As he began, there were the three of us grouped in front of the loud-speaker. . . . But by the end, there were half-a-hundred round-about, listening. . . . Some even appeared to understand what he was saying.

More important, though, was the graduate girl who wandered up in the middle of the words he said. . . . "Whoozat?" she inquired, bluntly. . . . We told her. . . .

"Oh?" she questioned. "What's he gabbin' for?" . . . We managed to let her know that the President of the United States was opening the 76th congress. . . . But to the next we couldn't bring ourselves to reply, deep and penetrating a questions as it was. . . . "Why?" she asked. . . .

It's a tidy tale to add to the ones Bob Hutchins and the Lippmann boy are always bringing up. . . .

Tale Reminding me, there's a story "Bill" Petersen likes to tell, concerning the Prof. G. G. Benjamin who Iowa campused it for nearly a dozen years. . . .

When Professor Benjamin was at the College of the City of New York, he had a deep-eyed Jewish boy in several of his classes, a lad who was a straight-flunk student. . . . Benjamin called him in for conference, asked him why. . . .

"I don't like it," the boy said; "I want to be an actor, and my dad won't let me."

Well, Benjamin encouraged him, and the boy got through. . . . His name, incidentally, was Manuel Goldman. . . . A couple of years back when Benjamin went to Los Angeles, this Manuel Goldman called him, asked if he could come to see Benjamin who remembered and said, of course. . . .

Manuel drove up in one of those daschund-like autos, stepped out in a prosperous-overcoat and came in. . . . He and Benjamin reminisced for nearly an hour, and when he got up to leave he asked Benjamin and his family to dine with him. . . .

"And, by the way," he warned.

George Haskell's slated to be named to another Des Moines board within the next few days. . . .

And why doesn't someone mention the three instructors in Schaeffer hall who've set up a Chinese checker-board in their second-floor office? . . .

It would probably do the Dies committee a world of good to know that at least a fourth of a sophomore English class marked "true" a quixotic assertion, "Christopher Marlowe is a contemporary Russian playwright."

That Collegiate Forum of Americanism for which representatives are about collecting pennies needs investigation. . . . It's not as "non-partisan" as it seems. . . . It's literature is anti-new deal, pro-reactionary.

Nice, if you like that sort of thing. . . .

No Answer I haven't answered a one of the letters inquiring what the Christmas day column meant. . . . If you didn't get it, you wouldn't like it anyway. . . .

This is the time of year, too, when it's customary for everybody to name a "best performance" or two. I'm willing to let the Academy hand out the Oscars, but if anybody turned in a better job than Robert Donat's in "The Citadel" I didn't see it. And I suppose the ladies' award should go to Bette Davis for "Jezebel" and "The Sisters"—unless you bunch Margaret Sullivan in several films.

The "new star" list is headed, naturally, by Hedy Lamarr (who is a "personality find"), and John Garfield, who is an actor. Comeback-of-the-year is Lew Ayres—he started it in "Holiday" and has made it stick in each picture.

In the "character" department I prefer Fay Bainter's work in "White Banners" and Will Fyffe's in "To the Victor." And for most consistent support in lesser roles, all outstanding, I nominate the veteran Harry Davenport (the judge in "You Can't Take It With You," the uncle in "The Cowboy and the Lady," etc.).

The year's worst picture? Ah, there—but my personal nomination is "Swiss Miss."

Health Hints

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

An interesting and rather disturbing book, written by Robert P. Walton, professor of Pharmacology in the School of Medicine at the University of Mississippi, is called "Marihuana—America's New Drug Problem."

The author says that fathers and mothers, members of boards of education, high school teachers, women's clubs, welfare officers, police officers, physicians and nurses, Y.M.C.A.'s and Y.W.C.A.'s should all be interested in this subject, and I agree with him.

Marihuana is a narcotic, habit-forming drug, the use of which has grown rapidly in the United States in the last five years. Ten years ago it was little used here except in Texas and other parts of the southwest, usually by Mexicans. Within the last year 31 states have reported seizures of a varying quantity of the drug and destruction of areas of the growing plants.

Grows Wild in U. S. Marihuana, or hemp plant, has the same effect as the Indian drug, hashish. The disturbing thing is that it grows wild in most parts of the United States, a fact which is known to the habitues of the drug. Police and narcotic officers have seized supplies of the drug and destroyed many acres of the growing plants in Louisiana, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Missouri and other states. This shows how widespread the distribution of the plant is and the easy opportunity of access to it.

When it is known that more than 100 peddlers were said to have been selling marihuana cigarettes to school children in Detroit and that school children in St. Louis, New York, New Jersey and Ohio have bought these cigarettes from peddlers, the seriousness of the situation may be realized. In December, 1937, 20-year-old girl held up and killed a bus driver. Her husband testified that he had previously supplied her with marihuana cigarettes purchased on a main street of his city.

Effects of Drug The effects of the drug are to produce, first, a state of excitement and then a pleasant, dreamy lethargy. It has particular effects upon the sense organs of smell and hearing. Lovely and enticing odors and beautiful orchestral sounds are experienced. There is a peculiar stretching out of the sense of time. One doctor who took a dose for experimental purposes got too much and his family sent for a doctor. He was seated in the window of his living room and he saw the doctor get out of his car at the corner. He said that it seemed several centuries before the doctor arrived at the house.

Dreams and hallucinations usually terminate the first effects of the drug, but violent excitement, resulting in acts of violence and behavior disorders, may also follow. Teachers and parents should be apprised of the situation and be on their guard.

Anderson Approves Grid Rule Changes

Thinks Game Will Improve

Looks Forward To More Open Style Of Grid Attack

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Jan. 4 (AP) — Judging from the comments of football coaches all over the country today, they couldn't have been any more pleased with a pair of 200-pound tackles apiece than they are over the new rules changes.

From coast to coast, they went all out in praise of the amendments just made by the national rules committee. Highlighting the penalty when an ineligible man foules a forward pass and preventing ineligible receivers from advancing beyond the line of scrimmage until a pass is thrown. Not only will these changes aid the competitors, most of the gridiron master-minds held, but they'll also prove quite a bit of help to officials, particularly the amendment restricting action of ineligible receivers until after the pass is pitched.

"For instance," says Matty Bell, Southern Methodist's boss, "so much confusion resulted when ineligible men went down field under the former rule, it was difficult for officials to keep close watch. The new rule is designed to make it easier for officials. Yes, sir, that rule is a fine improvement."

Matty and all the others were pretty well agreed that the old rule, penalizing a team with loss of the ball when an ineligible receiver was touched by a pass, was much too severe. Under the change, the team guilty of that infraction suffers loss of down only and a 15-yard setback.

"Both changes," commented wise old Pop Warner of Temple and points west, "probably will encourage increased use of passes."

All the other representative pilots commented in about the same tone. Here's what some of them said: Eddie Anderson, Iowa: The changes will open up the game a bit and won't make any difference as far as spectators are concerned.

Ray Morrison, Vanderbilt: New rules very fine. They'll prove more help to officials than players. Many of us wanted the rule restricting ineligible linemen for a long time. It will help the defense.

Lou Little, Columbia: A fine progressive step for offensive football. The new changes in playing equipment (a third amendment adopted by the rules committee) will help a lot to cut down injuries.

Howard Jones, Southern California: Both changes are fair, a 15-yard rule on a restraining zone for ineligible players probably will have to be interpreted before its effect on the short pass can be determined.

Intramurals To Start Tonight

The intramural sports program will continue this evening as the fraternities, Cooperative dormitories and the Town league basketball teams again get underway after a break due to the Christmas holidays. The three courts will be kept busy from 7:30 until 10:15, during which time nine games will be played. At 7:30 on the north court Delta Chi will tangle with Pi Kappa Alpha while Delta Tau Delta meets Sigma Chi on the south court at this time. At 8:15 two town league games will be played while Delta Tau Delta meets up with Alpha Sigma Phi. On the south court at 9 o'clock Section 8 will play the Southern boys and on the west court Pi Epsilon Pi stakes their skill of the game with Pi Kappa Alpha.

Kizer Back
LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Noble E. Kizer, who was granted a leave of absence by Purdue university after he became ill in 1937, will return Thursday and resume his duties as athletic director, university officials said yesterday.

Haney Thinks Spindel Great Player

Believes Hutchinson Gained Reputation Because of Spindel's Catching

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 4 (AP) — The Tigers have purchased Fred Hutchinson, Seattle's winning pitcher, but the St. Louis Browns have the man they think "made" Hutchinson — his catcher, Harold Spindel.

Detroit gave $50,000 and four players for the pitcher; the Browns drafted Spindel, who is 23 years old, for $7,500.

Fred Haney, who came from Toledo to manage the Browns this coming season, said observers in the Pacific Coast league had told him Spindel has what it takes to become a great receiver.

"Here's something that impressed me," Haney said. "This Fred Hutchinson that the Tigers bought for such a fancy price won 25 games and lost seven. Now remember it was Hutchinson's first year and everybody says he hasn't much of a fast ball.

"Putting two and two together, there was an inexperienced pitcher, without a fast ball, who still was able to win 25 games. So I figure Hutchinson must have been helped by some rather smart catching. Spindel did that catching. He caught almost every game that Hutchinson won."

Coast league averages show that Spindel appeared in 122 games and batted .310, his hits including 28 doubles and eight home runs. His fielding average was .896 and he had 65 assists.

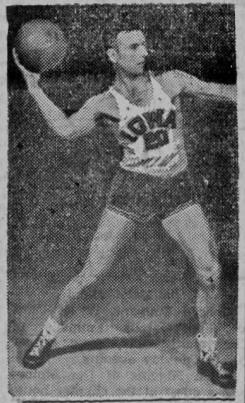

Haney, who believes the Browns must show improvement in the catching department, said he was hopeful Spindel would solve the team's problem behind the plate.

IOWA SET FOR TRIP

Face Badgers Saturday And Gophers Mon.

Wisconsin, almost unbeatable at home in past games with the Hawkeyes, and the powerful Gophers of Minnesota, currently riding the crest of a win streak, are the two opponents that Iowa's cagers must face before they return home from the road trip that starts tomorrow.

Pre-game dope indicates that the Wisconsin game Saturday night should be marked by good defensive play. The Badger opponents have, so far this season, restricted enemies to an average of 30 4-7 points a game, while the Hawkeyes have limited their rivals to 32 1-6 points a contest. The Hawkeyes have, however, a better offensive record, 37 to Wisconsin's 32.

On Monday night, the Hawks square off at Minneapolis with the Golden Gophers as foes. While Minnesota has not as yet met any conference teams, they have been playing against the best of the nation, and with considerable success. The Gophers have stamped themselves as among the most dangerous contenders for the Big Ten title by drubbing seven teams in a row. Included in the conquered group are Nebraska and two crack eastern teams, New York U. and Temple.

The return home will bring the Iowans scant rest, for on Jan. 14, the Purdue outfit that drubbed a fast Arkansas team the other night, comes to the fieldhouse to give Iowa fans their first look at Big Ten competition this year. The Boiler-makers, according to reports, have the same kind of a high scoring combination that "Piggy" Lambert always depends upon.

Meyer to St. Paul
CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox yesterday sent George Meyer, second baseman acquired last season from Dallas of the Texas league, to the St. Paul club of the American association on a five-day recall option. Joe Gedzius was recalled from the Lubbock team of the West Texas league where he was an infielder last season.

Hawkeye Matmen To Face Kansas State in Opener

Mike Howard and his Big Ten wrestling entry of 1939 will get a chance next Monday night to try out on Kansas State the stuff they expect to use against conference opponents this year.

The team from the Jawhacker state will bring a tough and experienced lineup to face the Iowans. Included in the Kansas State starting list is one Big Six champ of last season.

While the complete personnel of the invaders is not known, the champ that they boast, is coming to a good place to get some tough competition. For, wrestling as a heavyweight, Hackney, the Big Six champ, will face Wilbur Nead, who flattened four in a row last season before the illness that took him out of the Iowa lineup.

Capt. Carl Vergamini will start in his usual post, the 175-pound division. Vergamini, wrestling for his last year, has been working out for the last six weeks and appears to be in excellent condition. In the 165 class, Howard will probably start Merrill Johnson, while Clarence Kemp will get the call in the 155.

Only uncertainty that has developed so far is on whether or not the veteran, Howard Krouse, or a classy newcomer, Louis George, will take care of the 145 division. Howard has indicated that he will use Kenneth Kingsbury in the 135, Phil Millen in the 128 and the sophomore star, Billy Sherman, in the 121.

Players Sign
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants yesterday received signed contracts of Utility Infielder Lou Chiozza and Bill Lohman, a right-handed pitcher who won nine and lost six last season while appearing in 31 games, principally in relief roles.

Budge Wins
BOSTON (AP) — Steady Don Budge overcame a grimly brilliant Ellie Vines, 6-3, 8-6, 6-4 last night, when stars touring professional tennis stars played the second of their 70-matches before 6,980 spectators at the Boston Garden.

Not Satisfied Foxx Would Have More Money

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 4 (AP) — Jimmy Foxx, Boston's $20,000 baseball bean, said today he deserved the highest salary in the American league this year because of his 1938 record.

"I led the league in almost every department, so why shouldn't I get more dough?" he told sports writers.

Foxx, best batter in the league last season, emphasized he was not a holdout because he hadn't discussed terms with the Red Sox. He toyed with the idea of a $40,000 salary, the value he said Connie Mack put on him while he was with the Athletics.

Led by Jim O'Connor, who was high point man with 12 points, the St. Ambrose Academy quintet conquered a fighting St. Mary's team in the City high gym last night by a 32 to 25 count.

The Marians made a fight of it all the way, but they never were able to head the Little Saints from Davenport. St. Ambrose never relinquished the lead at any time in the fracas. At times, the Ramblers closed the gap to two or three points, but they couldn't quite make the grade.

St. Ambrose opened fire first, swishing in two field goals in rapid succession. O'Connor was fouled and made his free basket, giving the Little Saints a five point lead. Then Bill Bock and his brother Jack got busy, Bill getting a free throw and Jack dropping in the sphere for two points. St. Ambrose scored twice more to the Marian's once and were ahead at the end of the quarter, 9 and 6. O'Connor started his field goal parade by dropping one through the netting. Jack Bock countered with a free throw for the Ramblers, Bill Bock scoring a basket a few minutes later. O'Connor was just getting warmed up, however, and he came back with another basket. Jim Chadek helped the Marian total with two more points while the Davenport quint was dropping in two charity tosses. The Academy five were out in front 18 to 13 at the conclusion of the half.

Jack Bock, the steady Rambler forward, wriggled his way through most of the invaders and scored again for St. Mary's. O'Connor followed him with a free toss and then a field goal for St. Ambrose. Schmidt, lanky Rambler center, put one in from a near corner, but Buckmeyer of St. Ambrose nullified that by making a basket for the visitors. Schmidt was fouled and made his chance good.

George Chadek, Marian forward, scored from his favorite spot under the basket, closing the gap at the end of the third quarter to 23 and 20.

Both sides took turns in missing charity tosses. O'Connor and George Chadek finally sinking one apiece. Bill Bock, Marian guard, pushed in a bucket, but the Little Saints from down state looped in three buckets and a couple of free throws to step safely ahead.

Holidays Bring Announcements Of Many Nuptials, Engagements

Alumna's Marriage To Dearborn Man Took Place Dec. 24

Of local interest are the weddings and engagements of several university alumni and former students which were announced during the holiday season.

McCroly-Skow
A bride of Christmas Eve, Maxine McCroly of Ottumwa became the bride of Dale Skow of Dearborn, Mich., in a quiet ceremony in the M.E. parsonage at Ottumwa on Dec. 24. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Langcaster, pastor.

Edgar Davis and Alberta Moffitt both of Ottumwa were the couple's attendants.

The bride wore a navy blue crepe dress with a gray trimmed jacket.

The bride was graduated from the Ottumwa high school and from the university last June. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and Pi Epsilon Pi.

Mr. Skow was graduated from the Ottumwa high school and attended Drake university. He is now employed in Dearborn, Mich., where the couple will make their home.

Wood-Garlock

The engagement and approaching marriage of Janet Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wood of Des Moines, to Charles William Garlock, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Garlock of Ft. Dodge has been announced by the bride's parents. The ceremony will take place Jan. 28 at 4 p.m. in St. Luke's Episcopal church in Des Moines.

Miss Wood was graduated from the university, where she is affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Mr. Garlock attended the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis.

The couple will make their home in Ft. Dodge, where Mr. Garlock is associated with the Garlock Sales agency.

Hay-Cromwell

Spruce and silvered eucalyptus formed the seasonal background for the marriage of Esther Hay, daughter of Mrs. G. W. Hay, to Fred Cromwell of Burlington last Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller of Washington, Ia.

The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. William M. Nichol Jr., pastor of the United Presbyterian church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law,

Among the brides and brides-elect of the holiday season were two university alumnae, Janet Wood of Des Moines and Mrs. Dale Skow, the former Maxine McCroly of Ottumwa. Miss Wood will become the bride of Charles Garlock the latter part of this month. Mrs. Skow was married in Ottumwa on Christmas Eve.

wore a gown of ivory lace and carried a colonial bouquet of Briarcliffe roses and violets. She was attended by Lydia Eicher of Hyattsville, Md., who wore white chiffon with a painted tulip pattern and carried an arm bouquet of tulips.

John Hale of Burlington served as best man.

Following the ceremony, guests were entertained at a bridal dinner at Guest house. The bride's colors of pink and white were carried out in the table decorations. Centerpieces of the bridal table were the bride's and the groom's cake.

Mrs. Cromwell was graduated from the Washington high school and the university, where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. For the last year she has been employed in the general accounting office in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Cromwell attended Mercersburg Academy in Mercersburg, Pa., and received his mechanical engineering degree from the University of Illinois. He is a member of Zeta Psi, social fraternity and Phi Delta Phi, legal fraternity. The couple are now at home in the Commodore apartments in Des Moines during the session of the legislature.

Dickinson-Maxwell

New Year's day was the day chosen for marriage of Alice Dickinson, daughter of Mrs. Olga Dickinson of Waterloo, to Gordon Maxwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maxwell of Greene. The ceremony took place in the Little Brown Church in the Vale with the Rev. William Kent officiating.

The couple's only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lindale of Dougherty.

The bride was attired in a wine colored suit with bright blue accessories.

Mrs. Maxwell was graduated from the Waterloo West high school in 1934. Mr. Maxwell was graduated from Greene high school and attended the university, where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Zelhoefer-Anderson

A Christmas day tea was the occasion for revealing the engagement and approaching marriage of Virginia Zelhoefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Zelhoefer of Waterloo, to L. H. Anderson of Davenport, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Anderson of Ft. Dodge.

The bride-elect was graduated from the university in 1934 and was a member of Delta Gamma sorority. At the present she is president of the Pan-Hellenic association of Waterloo.

Mr. Anderson was graduated from the university in 1932, where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. At the present time he is a commercial salesman for Goodrich Tire and Battery company in Davenport.

Bowers-Wilson

Before an altar banked with yellow and white chrysanthemums, Vivienne Bowers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Bowers of Creston, became the bride of Francis S. Wilson last Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. H. S. Mitchell of Orient in the home of the bride. The single ring ceremony was used. The bride was attired in a blue gown and wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias. Her attendant was Ellen Wilson of Mediapolis, sister of the bridegroom. Harold Bowers, brother of the bride served as best man.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to the immediate families of the couple. Yellow and white were the colors carried out in the table decorations.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are graduates of the university. The couple left at once for Pittsfield, Mass., where they will make their home. Mr. Wilson is employed by the Market Research corporation of Chicago.

HOUSE TO HOUSE

Delta Delta Delta, Richard Emmons, D2 of Clinton, and Marcus Emmons of Cincinnati, Ohio, were dinner guests Tuesday evening.

Helen Higgins of Des Moines was a guest at the chapter house Wednesday.

Kappa Alpha Theta, Lily Jane Hansen, A3 of Port Arthur, Tex., has returned to school. Miss Hansen has been ill at her home.

Hoop Skirts Gay Nineties Note Adds Elegance

The newly inaugurated reign of the hoop skirt has had other results in the world of fashion. Those provocative little curled plumes that used to adorn milady's hat now appear among her piled up curls for evening, or wisps of veiling float from the top of her coiffure.

Another note from the Gay Nineties is the reappearance of those black lace half sleeves that are so sophisticated with any billowy black formal. And muffs, huge ones or tiny ones, are returning to favor. The frills and furberlows add an old fashioned elegance that is tops in 1939 new sophistication.

New Clothes, New Spirits

Star's Wardrobes Offer Numerous Colorful Suggestions

For general revival of spirits that are depleted after a busy holiday we suggest something new for your wardrobe. It's surprising what a dash of color can do for the morale. These suggestions are taken from the wardrobes of your favorite movie stars.

How about a sveltly fitted gored black skirt topped off by a white top cut like a fencing jacket? It's neat and trim and it's guaranteed to make you feel like going out "pinking" the world.

If the pocketbook can stand it, the addition of a huge muff of beige monkey fur will shock that dark coat of yours into something that is quite spring-like in tone.

Another suggestion that is lovely, but hardly practical, (but who wants to be practical?) is a Russian sable jacket with bracelet length sleeves met by long crushable pink suede gloves. The gloves don't have to be pink, but have them match the gay feather in your hat.

For skating, and we're still hoping for ice, we can tell you about a Molyneux guard's red ensemble weely collared in nutria. No hat is worn with the outfit, or a mulberry velvet skating suit with white woolen bolero and stocking cap would make the spectators on the hill forgive the many spills you take.

For evening, a cameo pink wool dinner suit with skunk sailor collar would be appropriate. Or, a brown velvet gown with bouffant skirt ribboned in copper and a beige fox cape swinging along is guaranteed to "hook the man."

Can you crochet? A black crocheted muff with matching pill box hat is not only practical but probable.

Listed among the "wants" would be a brown antelope sports coat lined with MacTavish plaid or a chipper in avocado green tweed ulster having a calf yoke and leathery beret.

Iowa Graduate Publishes Book 'Earth and Sky'

A new book dealing with astronomy and physics is "Earth and Sky" written by Clarence R. Smith who received his M.S. degree from the University of Iowa in 1923.

The book is about wonders of the universe and is part of the University Knowledge series of which Glenn Frank is editor-in-chief.

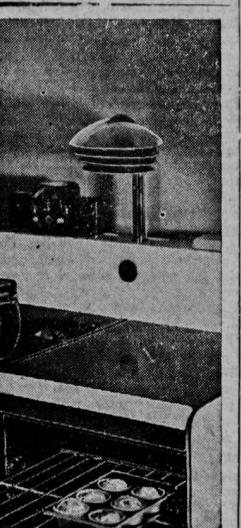

Mr. Smith is now professor of astronomy and physics at Aurora college at Aurora, Ill., from which institution he received his B.S. degree in 1914.

The book is illustrated with photographs and diagrams about the wonders described in the book.

Public Invited To Moose Card Party

The general public is invited to attend a card party to be given by the Women of the Moose tomorrow at 2:15 p.m. at the Moose hall. Hostesses for the affair will be the members of the membership committee. Mrs. George Unash is chairman of the committee in charge.

HOSTESS HINTS

Tired of steaks, chops, chicken, sausage, roasts? Then, the family will cheer a savory meat pie, hot and crusty from the oven. Every homemaker finds the oven cooked meal almost effortless—a veritable culinary cinch—so easy to prepare, so delicious to eat, so economical to bake because the oven burner knows how to do the job properly and be thrifty with fuel. Place the pie on the upper rack, a covered casserole of vegetables and another glass dish of apples on the lower rack, and add a pan of drop biscuits for good measure. Combine a green salad—and dinner is ready to serve, for each dish may go to the table right from the oven.

Annis Jennings Becomes Bride

Weds H. Thompson Of Des Moines In Wedding at Grinnell

One of the first weddings of the year was solemnized at the parsonage of the United Presbyterian church in Grinnell when Annis Pearl Jennings, daughter of Charles T. Jennings, Rochester road, became the bride of Howard Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thompson of Des Moines. The Rev. W. J. Stewart performed the ceremony at 12:01 a.m. New Year's morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Jennings of Iowa City, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, attended the couple. Twenty-five relatives were present at the ceremony.

Wine colored accessories complemented the teal blue crepe frock which the bride wore. With it she wore a corsage of American beauty roses. Mrs. Jennings wore a sheba blue crepe gown with black accessories.

After a brief wedding trip the couple returned to Iowa City Monday for a reception at the home of the bride's father. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Marion Jennings and their son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jennings and their daughter, Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Jennings and their sons, Charles, Eugene and Ronald, and Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Jennings and their sons, Carl Dean and Keith, all of Iowa City, Dr. and Mrs. Ward Hoover and their daughters, Beverly and Charlotte, of Wapello, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoover and their son, Harold, of Hawks Springs, Wyo.

Mrs. Thompson, who was graduated from the Redding high school, has been employed at Yetter's store here. The bridegroom, who attended North high school in Des Moines, is employed as sales manager of the Winnick men's clothing store there.

After Jan. 9 the couple will be at home at 1530 Eighth street in Des Moines.

Union Makes Famous Paintings Available for Iowa Students

Reproductions May Be Rented For Small Fee

Available for Groups Now; Paintings By G. Wood Included

Iowa Union will inaugurate a new service to students of the University of Iowa Feb. 1, when it makes available for rental, first to groups, and, as the collection grows, to individual students, a group of fine reproductions of paintings, framed and glassed.

The project is the latest to be sponsored by the Union, under the directorship of Prof. Earl E. Harper, head of the fine arts department, in its attempt to provide those services to the students which cannot be provided by other agencies.

Included in the group of reproductions of famous paintings, which numbers 35 at the present time, are three reproductions of works by American artists, two of them by Prof. Grant Wood of the University of Iowa.

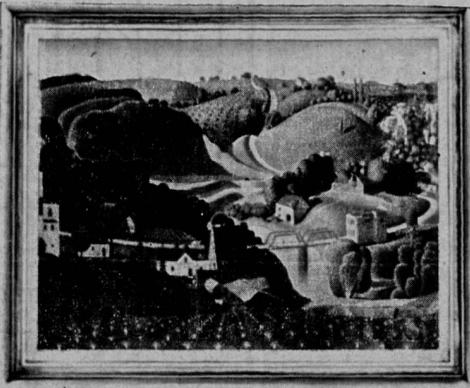

Professor Wood's "Woman with Plant" and "Stone City," together with Thomas Benton's "Cotton Pickers—Georgia," represent America's fine artistic works in the collection.

On the first Wednesday of each month of the school year, those using the service will receive one of the reproductions for hanging during the month. The rental charge is only $1 each semester, payable when arrangements for the service are made.

Preferences for certain reproductions may be noted when arrangements for rental are made, and will be considered, insofar as the size of the collection, the number participating in the service and the order of receipt of requests permit.

The group of fine reproductions were selected from the Raymond and Raymond catalog prepared for the Carnegie corporation of New York. Three of the number were chosen from the list of gelatone prints of the Associated American Artists. Professor Woods' "Woman with Plant" is one of these.

The 35 reproductions were selected because of their appeal to varied tastes in art. They are the finest quality reproductions available today.

Here is a complete list of the reproductions which will begin Iowa Union's new service to students:

Cuno Amiet's "The Garden," Jan Brueghel's "Sea Shore," Adriaen Brouwer's "The Smoker," Peter Brueghel's "Winter," Mary Cassat's "Young Mother Sewing," Paul Cezanne's "The Blue Vase," Chirico's "Horses on the Shore," Clouet's "Henry III of France as a Boy,"

Jean-Baptiste Corot's "Camille, Portrait of a Young Woman with a Pearl Ring," Degas' "The Dancer on the Stage," Paul Gauguin's "To Matete," Van Gogh's "Flowering Pear Tree," Harpignies' "St. Prive," Holbeins' "Ann of Cleves,"

He pointed out that farm income held generally above that of 1937 despite falling prices of farm products. Recent advantages are shown in building contracts, department store sales and life insurance sales.

After beginning in mid-year, the upswing of national business passed the base level of 1923-25 and canceled more than half of the loss suffered in the sharp slump of 1937.

The immediate outlook is favorable with forward buying of spring goods above seasonal and a firmer tone in the stock market.

"Current financial scandals may have a bad reaction but their impact is likely to be brief since their scope is relatively small," he said. "They point, however, to the need for reasonable inspection and publicity of corporate organization if public confidence is to be maintained."

Business Up In Iowa

Prof. Davies Says 1938 Signs Point To Better Times in 1939

General optimism for 1939 in the light of significant gains and a hopeful outlook for Iowa business is the report of Prof. George R. Davies of the University of Iowa college of commerce.

Professor Davies in the current issue of the Iowa Business Digest said that Iowa business held up well in the closing months of 1938 as compared with a year ago.

"During the middle of the year, the national industrial depression was beginning to tell upon the state's volume of business. This influence was exerted largely through the unfavorable psychological effect upon buyers but in some measure also through difficulties encountered by manufacturers," he said.

Prof. Conant To Talk Here

Prof. Kenneth Conant, who teaches architecture at Harvard university, will deliver two illustrated lectures here on the afternoon and evening of Jan. 25, under the auspices of the Iowa Society of the Archaeological Institute.

The titles of his lectures will be "Mt. Athos" and "The Church of the Holy Sepulchre at Jerusalem."

Theater Offers Prizes for Best One Act Plays

"The Town Theater" of Columbia, S. C., in celebration of its 20th anniversary is sponsoring a prize play contest which anyone interested in dramatic composition may enter.

Prizes will be $50 for the best play, $25 for the second best, and $10 for the third best. Final judgment will be passed by John K. Hutchens, drama editor and critic of the Boston Evening Transcript; Frederick Koch, director of the Carolina Playmakers of the University of North Carolina, and Jacob Wilk, New York story editor of Warner Brothers.

All plays must be one-act plays, original, unpublished and unproduced, with the author the sole owner of the rights. They must not be longer than 45 minutes playing time and not shorter than 20 minutes.

Privilege of first production of the plays, without further payment of royalty, will go to the Town Theater.

The manuscripts, typewritten on one side of the paper, signed by a pseudonym with an enclosed sealed envelope containing the right name and address of the author and return postage, must be in the mails not later than midnight of March 1, 1939. They should be addressed to the Chairman of Prize Play Contest Committee, Town Theater, Columbia, S. C.

Art treasures from all the world will be exhibited in the Palaces of Fine Arts at the 1939 California World's Fair.

Mahan Writes on Adult Education For U. of California Extension News

Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division of the university, regards continued education as the only road by which the adult can progress from the level of "mental lethargy" to a satisfactory life.

Professor Mahan made this statement in an article written for the San Diego issue of the extension division news of the University of California.

"Because of a degree of leisure never before known, a vast number of people are faced with the problem of what to do with their time and themselves. On one hand is the easy way of drift, stagnation and retrogression," he said.

"But on the other, there is the road that leads to constant growth, increased ability to participate in human affairs and joy in life. Regardless of the tendency of many to look upon the last day of schooling as the end of education, we have countless opportunities to keep on growing by planned effort. That planned effort is the foundation of adult education."

On June 22-24, representatives of more than 60 universities will meet on the University of California campus for the annual meeting of the National University Extension association to consider adult education. Professor Mahan is president of the association.

Radio Magic Dean Kay Gets Letter From Prospector

It was 30 below zero with lots of snow, so R. G. Smith, 85-year-old gold prospector, sat in his cabin at Wawa, Ontario, last Thursday, idly twirling his radio dials.

He stopped twirling when he heard the announcement over the Mutual Broadcasting system that Dean George F. Kay of the University of Iowa would speak from a geological association meeting in New York.

His mind wandered back 37 years to those days in 1901 when young George Kay, a year out of college, worked with him for the same mining company in Ontario. The Canadian veteran, shut in for the winter on the shore of Lake Superior, 150 miles northwest of Sault Ste. Marie, wrote to Dean Kay, recalling the old days and marveling at the magic of radio.

Gets Prize Hand
TURTLE LAKE, Wis. (AP)—Matt Wixted got the first perfect "29" cribbage hand in the 40 years he has played the game. He was dealt three fives and a Jack and drew another five after his discard. That gave him the perfect "29," the highest cribbage count obtainable.

Story Contest Deadline to Be April Fifteenth

Colonial Dames Of America to Award $50 for Best Writing

The Colonial Dames of America in Iowa will offer again this year a $50 prize for the best story written by an undergraduate student at the University of Iowa, the faculty of the English department announced yesterday.

Noon, April 15, is the deadline for stories to be submitted either to the office of the English department, 101-C University hall, or the office of American Prefaces, 101-A University hall.

Each story must be signed by an assumed name and must be accompanied by a sealed envelope containing the real name of the author. It must be typewritten and must not exceed 12,000 words.

Prof. Baldwin Maxwell, chairman of the English department, will appoint the judges and their decision will be announced at the June commencement. The winner's name, together with the names of those awarded honorable mention, will appear on the Commencement program.

The Colonial Dames of America in Iowa offer this prize annually in honor of the memory of Alice French (Octave Thonet).

Foerster Discusses Educational Trends In Recent Volume

Current educational trends are analyzed in a book, "The Future of the Liberal Arts College" by Prof. Norman Foerster, director of the school of letters at the University of Iowa.

The volume just issued by the Appleton-Century company, criticizes modern educationalists for the radical changes they are making in the school system.

Professor Foerster suggests that the real aim of a liberal arts college is "not to train the masses for cheap power and service but to send into society enough thoughtful and high-minded persons to elevate the tone of life and provide sound leadership."

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester 1938-1939

Saturday, January 21, 8 a.m. to Saturday, January 28, 4 p.m., 1939

The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (1), (2) and (3) as shown at the second N.B. below).

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation from this schedule, in the case of any examination—except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification on the student's written petition, filed in ample time and supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of completing examinations earlier will not be permitted.

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

If the student takes the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the Schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examinations during the periods noted at the top of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double vertical line. N.B. Unless students are reasonably sure that their semester's work, including final examinations, is successful they are requested to call (within the 24-hour period following the conclusion of each of their final examinations) at the offices of the deans of men and women, appropriately, in order to learn whether any of their instructors have reported for them, and if any student has reason to suspect that he will be his record for one or more courses, he is requested not to register until he learns that he has passed.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) This instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him or her, not later than the regular class hour, January 16 or 17, if possible, January 9 or 10.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Monday, January 23, 2-4, according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (125) meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Friday, January 27, 2-4.

N.B. All sections of freshman Speech (1), (2) and (3) will meet during the examination week on the days and at the periods designated below. Rooms are assigned by the instructors.

Saturday, January 21—Section D, 8-10; Speech (2), 8-10.
Monday, January 23—Section A, 1-3; Section E, 3-5.
Thursday, January 26—Section I, 8-10; Section C, 1-3; Speech 3A, 1-3; Section G, 3-5.
Friday, January 27—Section J, 8-10; Section H, 10-12; Section B, 1-3; Speech 3B, 1-3; Section F, 3-5.

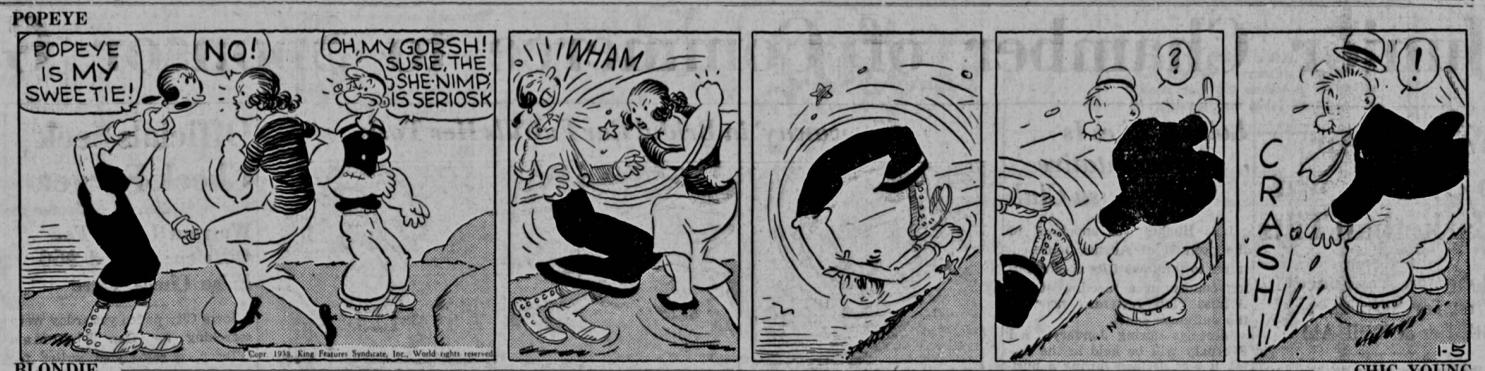

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesday, Thursday or Saturday, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from January 21 to January 27, inclusive.
2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F and G, since for such "odd" classes these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times.—If no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time."
According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs." unless the instructor has been notified that his examination has been a success or a failure, in which case the final report should be "Pd."—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card signed by the secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

Junior Chamber of Commerce to Sponsor Game Broadcasts

WSUI to Air 6 Out-of-Town Basketball Tilts

Roberson Announces First for Saturday; Bill Sener Will Aid

Preliminary plans to broadcast all the out-of-town conference games of the University of Iowa basketball team have been formulated by the Iowa City junior chamber of commerce. Fred Roberson, president of the organization, announced yesterday that the games will be announced play-by-play over radio station WSUI.

If sufficient funds are raised by Saturday night, the first conference game will be relayed from Madison where Iowa meets Wisconsin's Badgers. Iowa plays Minnesota at Minneapolis Monday night and this game will also be broadcast. Both broadcasts will begin at 8 p.m.

The broadcasts will be handled much like they were in the past with telegraphic reports of the game being relayed to Iowa City and then given play-by-play over radio station WSUI.

According to present plans, Bill Sener, former WSUI staff announcer, who is now program director of radio station WLB of the University of Minnesota, will relay the telegraphic reports from both Madison and Minneapolis. Bill Senter and Dick Bowlin, WSUI sports announcers, will give the play-by-play over the local station. Russell Murphy of the radio staff will assist in the announcing and John Ebert will be in charge of controls.

Leo Sullivan is chairman of the committee working on the details of the broadcasts.

Other out-of-town games will be played against Northwestern at Evanston Feb. 4, Illinois at Urbana Feb. 6, Ohio State at Columbus Feb. 18, and Indiana at Bloomington Feb. 20.

Roosevelt--

measures in the present session. Just across a wrought iron railing which separates the diplomatic and presidential galleries sat Mrs. Roosevelt holding young Diana Hopkins, the daughter of Secretary Hopkins, in her lap. With her was the president's mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt. Other well known Washington figures dotted the crowded galleries, including former Attorney General Cummings and Mrs. Cummings, seated obscurely in the back row of a public gallery.

On the house floor was assembled almost the entire membership of congress, the senate at the front. In ten stiff-backed chairs arranged in a semi-circle about the rostrum, the cabinet was seated. Vice President Garner and Speaker Bankhead presided jointly.

Mr. Roosevelt, clad in a grey cutaway and escorted by a committee of congressional party leaders, entered to a tumultuous roar, in which the republican side participated only partially. He shook hands with Garner and Bankhead and after a one-sentence introduction from the latter began his address.

He wasted—and minced—no words in getting at the heart of his argument.

"War that threatened to envelop the world in flames has been averted," he said almost at the outset; "but it has become increasingly clear that peace is not assured."

"All about us rage undeclared wars—military and economic. All about us are threats of new aggression—military and economic."

These, he continued, threaten the continued existence of cherished American institutions—religion, democracy and international good faith.

"There comes a time in the affairs of men when they must prepare to defend not their homes alone, but the tenets of faith and humanity on which their churches, their governments and their very civilization are founded," he said.

"The defense of religion, of democracy and of good faith among the nations is all the same fight. To save one we must make up our minds to save all."

It was fortunate, he added, that the western hemisphere was united in a "common ideal of democratic government." The United States was pledged to the protection of that hemisphere "against storms from any quarter," he said. He pointed out, however, that that did not mean this country and the others of North and South America had dissociated themselves from the nations of other continents.

"But," he continued, "the world has grown so small and weapons of attack so swift that no nation can be safe in its will to peace so long as any other single power-

Lola Hughes Is Representative Of Altrusa Club

Lola Hughes was appointed to the position of Altrusa representative to the Iowa City co-ordinating council at a meeting of the Altrusa club yesterday noon at the Jefferson hotel.

Meetings during January and February will be held in the hotel, it was decided during a business meeting at which Mrs. Jessie B. Gordon presided.

Funeral For H. M. Stockman Will Be Friday

Funeral services for Harry M. Stockman, 63, a life-long resident of Hardin township in Johnson county who died yesterday at 2:35 a.m., will be conducted tomorrow at 9 a.m. in St. Mary's church at Oxford. Burial will be in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

He was born at Nichols, April 18, 1875, but moved to Hardin township in infancy and since he was 17 years old has resided on a farm located five and a half miles south of Oxford.

Surviving are the widow and five sons and five daughters, Frank Stockman and Mrs. Lewis Smith, Jr., of Iowa City; Mrs. Dale Liddicoat, Michigan City, Ind.; Mrs. Robert Draker, Stockman, all of Oxford; and Lester, Edward, Eugene and Dorothy, all at home.

Also surviving are three sisters and two brothers, Sister Mary Lambert, Bloomington, Ill.; Mrs. Tom Connell and Mrs. Pat O'Brien, Iowa City; Albert Stockman and William Stockman, Sr., of Oxford. Nine grandchildren are survivors.

The remains will be at the family home until time for the funeral tomorrow morning.

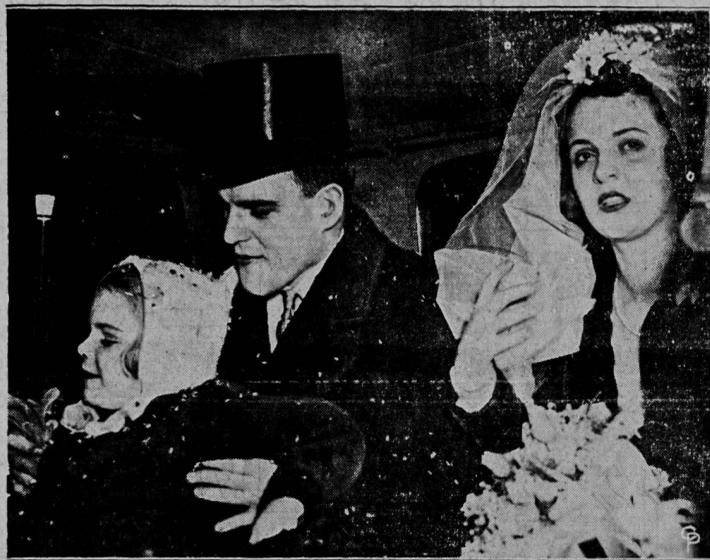

ful nation refuses to settle its grievances at the council table. "For if any government bristles with implements of war insists on policies of force, weapons of defense give the only safety."

"In our foreign relations we have learned from the past what not to do. From new wars we have learned what we must do. "We have learned that effective timing of defense, and the distant points from which attacks may be launched are completely different from what they were twenty years ago."

"We have learned that survival can not be guaranteed by arming after the attack begins—for there is new range and speed to offense."

"We have learned that long before any overt military act, aggression begins with preliminaries of propaganda, subsidized penetration, the loosening of ties of good will, the stirring of prejudice and the incitement to disunion."

'Stowaway' in Bridal Car Fulfills Her Task

When Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Ricker, newlyweds (the bride is the former Annabel Elizabeth Darlington), entered their car after their marriage in the Church of Heavenly Rest, New York, they found little Mary Todd Hedges, who hid in the car to throw rice at the couple. Judging from picture, she made good.

Basketball Gets Underway In Women's League

The women's intramural basketball tournament got underway last night with Eastlawn's number one team defeating Russell house, 33-20.

Currier hall teams forfeited to Coast house and an independent team by scores of 2-0. Westlawn tied Zeta Tau Alpha in the only other game, which preceded Christmas vacation.

The competition, which will continue next Tuesday, is in two leagues. Members of the first are Eastlawn, Coast house, Russell house, Currier hall and an independent team. Members of the second league are Currier hall, Westlawn, Zeta Tau Alpha, Kappa Alpha Theta and a second team of independents.

Scheetz Found Not Guilty By Court Jurors

Verdict of "not guilty" for Adam Scheetz was returned by the petit jury yesterday afternoon in district court after deliberating two and one-half hours on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated.

Attorney E. A. Baldwin represented Scheetz.

Petit jurors will be impaneled at 10 o'clock this morning to hear the case of Thomas W. Mahoney against Edgar Burrows and Lev Burford assigned by Judge Harold D. Evans.

The case is a replevin action for the recovery of cattle.

Carson Fines G. Meyers On Driving Charge

Grant K. Meyers of Rock Island, Ill., charged with reckless driving, was fined $25 and $2 costs yesterday when he appeared before Police Judge Burke N. Carson.

Other traffic ordinance violators were Edwin Lindaman, Mrs. Edith Olson, and Don Lantz; all charged with street storage and dismissed with warning; Fred Sydebotham was fined $1 for parking in a prohibited zone, and William R. Sieck was fined $2 and costs for failing to stop for an arterial stop sign.

Relief Director Explains Social Service Work

Frances G. Wilson, director of relief for Johnson county and executive secretary of the social service league, outlined the working plan of the league and its means of support to members of the Lions club at their regular meeting yesterday noon in Reich's pine room.

Miss Wilson explained that the league has been combined with the county welfare board and now has charge of all relief in Johnson county.

Officials Seek Check Forger

Warrant Issued For O'Brien; Passed $66 False Check Here

Iowa City police yesterday were searching for Dan Sherman O'Brien, a self-styled writer for a national magazine and manager of many noted persons, who is reported to have passed a worthless check at a local hotel several days ago. A warrant was issued charging O'Brien with uttering a false check for $66 on a New York bank.

According to police reports O'Brien visited Iowa City recently and posed as a magazine writer. Police said O'Brien also claimed to be the one-time manager of Kay Francis, screen star, and Tom Sharkey, heavyweight prize fighter.

Police described O'Brien as about 44, six feet, one inch tall and weighing about 225 pounds. He is said to be nearly bald and when last seen in Iowa City was attired in a worn grey suit, black overcoat and grey felt hat.

Temperature Hits 52 for Jan. Record

It was truly "June in January" yesterday in Iowa City. The thermometer jumped to 52 degrees to break an all-time record for Jan. 4. The previous high was in 1930 when the temperature reached an even 50 degrees.

The low temperature yesterday was 32 degrees which was 19 degrees above normal. The normal high temperature for Jan. 4 is 33 degrees which was considerably below the record made yesterday. Along with the "heat wave" came 27 inches of rain which dampened the streets and sidewalks.
