Jack Benny, Radio Star, Indicted for Smuggling

Jury Charges Conspiracy In Chaperau Case

'Smuggles Jewelry Valued at $2,131 For Comedy Partner Wife'

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Jack Benny, radio star and gagman, was indicted by a federal grand jury late today on a charge of smuggling jewelry in conspiracy with Albert N. Chaperau, pseudo-diplomat and convicted smuggler who has entangled other notables in customs violations.

The three counts in the indictment against them charge importing, illegally smuggling, transporting and concealing two gold clips and a gold bracelet—altogether valued at $2,131 and the jewels were described out of court as gifts from Benny to Mary Livingstone, his wife and partner in comedy. The date of the alleged smuggling was Oct. 7, 1937.

Benny, after protesting his innocence in a long, cigar-waving appearance before the special grand jury, pleaded innocent and his bail was fixed at $1,000. Trial was set for Jan. 24.

Chaperau, a shadowy international figure, was indicted previously with radio comedian George Burns of the Burns and (Gracie) Allen team, with Mrs. Elma Lauer, wife of a state supreme court justice, and with his own wife, who is in Paris.

Both Burns and Mrs. Lauer have pleaded guilty to separate indictments linking them with Chaperau, who was convicted yesterday after waiving trial by jury and staking his case on a claim of diplomatic immunity from customs on the ground that he was a commercial attaché of the Nicaraguan consulate here.

Federal Judge Murray Hulbert disallowed the claim when it was shown the state department had no record of Chaperau as a diplomat and it was disclosed also that the consul general who appointed him had been recalled to Nicaragua and replaced.

Each count against Benny carries, upon conviction, a maximum penalty of two years in prison and $5,000 fine.

His indictment came as something of a surprise since it was stressed that he flew yesterday from Hollywood as a voluntary witness.

Benny, as the fourth arraigned in the widespread inquiry into smuggling and the first to plead innocent or escape immediate conviction, indicated he would fight the case vigorously.

"I am utterly amazed that I should be accused in this matter," he said.

Group Slashes WPA Amount

Appropriations Body Also Hits WPA Civil Service Exams

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—The first committee of congress to act upon any part of President Roosevelt's new spending program today slashed $150,000,000 from the fund he requested for WPA and revolted against his order placing WPA administrative employees under the civil service.

An appropriations sub-committee composed of seven democrats and four republicans recommended to the house that it appropriate $725,000,000, instead of the $875,000,000 which Mr. Roosevelt had requested, to operate the WPA until June 30.

Whether the administration would make an active fight on the house floor to restore the slash was not immediately disclosed. Such a course would risk an initial test of strength there which, if it went against the president, might be more damaging to his prestige than the sub-committee's action.

Mr. Roosevelt made plain at a press conference, however, that he still favored the larger sum.

He asked a questioner to try to figure out how many persons would be thrown off WPA rolls as a result of the reduction, and when a reporter suggested 50,000 he contended that was probably all wrong. He suggested that the reporter check again.

In his position, the president declared, he had to think not only in terms of dollars but in terms of individual men, women and children—and he felt this was an important factor.

The WPA appropriation which the sub-committee sent to the house floor contained a provision designed to nullify an executive order which members of congress said would otherwise blanket 31,300 administrative employees of the work relief organization into the civil service on Feb. 1.

It provided simply that the appropriation should not be available to compensate the incumbent of any position placed in the civil service after Jan. 10.

Kraschel Cuts Convict's Term

DES MOINES, Jan. 10 (AP)—Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel today cut in half the 20-year prison term of Joseph Acerra, formerly of Chicago, because "the unfortunate political situation that has developed might unfairly operate against him."

Acerra and another Chicagoan, George Biggs, were convicted of beating and robbing Mrs. Lizzie Cairns, 69, at her home in Jefferson, Ia., in 1936.

After the governor last week denied an application by Acerra for executive clemency, backed by Italian-American groups in the state, it was disclosed that clemency had been requested for him by Arthur T. Wallace, chairman of the Polk county republican central committee.

In a letter to E. R. Moore of Cedar Rapids, republican member of the parole board, Wallace said he had heard polk county Italians believed the democrats were going to help Acerra get his freedom.

"I thought you ought to know this," Wallace wrote to Moore, "and if a parole is granted, you can take advantage of it for the republican party."

Moore rebuked Wallace for his letter and told him he was "indecisive" in writing it.

Kraschel Addresses Assembly Retiring Official Calls Saving by State Government Change 'Negligible'

DES MOINES, Jan. 10 (AP)—The legislators were attentive but undemonstrative as the governor churned through his 5,000-word message. They giggled once, when he proposed an increase in legislative salaries, and they applauded him as he concluded with a plea that they remember him as a "normal human being."

"I hope we will have more pleasant associations in the future because of my increased freedom," he said. His term of office ends Thursday when Governor-elect George A. Wilson will be inaugurated.

Kraschel also indirectly touched on republican ideas of revamping the state government when he praised the "effective pre-audit, that has enabled the governor, through the comptroller, to have complete control of the state expenditures."

The G.O.P. has been talking about abolishing the comptroller and re-instituting the old budget director system.

Executors of Maytag Estate Petition For $43,000 Gift Taxes

DES MOINES, Jan. 10 (AP)—Executors of the estate of F. L. Maytag, Newton washing machine manufacturer, today sought to recover $43,000 in gift taxes in a suit filed in federal district court.

The suit, brought by Tim J. Campbell and Ray O. Bailey, executors, seeks refund of taxes on two gifts to the Fred Maytag park corporation at Newton.

Mortgage Law Unconstitutional, Says High Court

DES MOINES, Jan. 10 (AP)—Foreclosed property today lost the protection of a "breathing spell" when the Iowa supreme court held the state's mortgage moratorium law unconstitutional. The court declared succinctly that an "emergency" cannot last indefinitely, and that the emergency which brought about passage of the law "no longer exists."

It reversed the decision of a Scott county district judge who held that the moratorium act was valid.

"It must be conceded," the high tribunal's opinion said, "that an emergency existed in 1933, sufficient to sustain the act of the legislature in enacting the so-called moratorium act, but it cannot be said that by reason of such conditions moratorium acts could be re-enacted, covering a period of six years, as has been the case in this state."

The first moratorium act was passed in 1933 and was re-enacted in each of the next two legislative sessions.

The opinion was written by John W. Anderson, Sioux City democrat, before he retired from the bench last month.

It was adopted by seven members of the present court and handed down as written by him.

The original case was brought by the First Trust Joint Stock Land bank of Chicago against Adolph and Laura Arp of Scott county.

Italy May Ask 'Peace' Share

ROME, Jan. 10 (AP)—The impression gained ground in diplomatic circles tonight that Premier Mussolini would present his demands on France when British Prime Minister Chamberlain arrives tomorrow to enlist fascist assistance in warding off war in 1939.

It duce must feel it is time for him to collect something for his share in the "Munich peace" of last September, diplomatic sources said.

And while Chamberlain and British Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax stopped off for tea in Paris with French statesmen Mussolini showed that Paris is within range of his bombing planes.

On the eve of the Britons' arrival for four days of conferences, a tri-motored Italian Savoia-Marchetti bomber with an 11-ton load circled 1,200 miles over Italy in slightly more than six hours. It flew 205.6 miles in an hour—said to be a speed record under the conditions.

The airline distance between Rome and Paris is about 750 miles. It is less than 500 miles from Turin to Paris.

Diplomats theorized that when Chamberlain is informed of the Italian terms he would be expected to transmit them to France and advise the French to negotiate with the Italians, among whom an unofficial campaign has been conducted for territorial concessions. French Corsica, Tunisia, Nice, Savoy and Djibouti have been mentioned in the agitation.

Truck Drivers' Strike Ceases By Agreement

BOSTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Governor Leverett Saltonstall tonight announced an agreement in the death—marked strike of 5,000 truck drivers, which for six days has paralyzed the movement of foodstuffs and other motor freight in this New England area.

Negotiators for the employers and the strikers had "agreed upon their differences," the governor said, adding that ratifications would be sought as soon as possible from the major bodies on both sides.

His announcement came shortly before midnight, while specially-armed police patrolled Boston's crowded freight terminals in an effort to prevent a recurrence of the violence that was marked by the death of a truck driver's helper earlier in the day.

Governor Saltonstall appeared personally late tonight before the employer group involved in the strike to "explain the point of view of the public and urge them to accept the report of the employers' committee, which is unanimous."

Three Musicas Plead Guilty Of Drug Fraud

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—F. Donald Coster-Musica's three brothers pleaded guilty in federal court today to charges linking them with the financial trickery he practiced to defraud the McKesson and Robbins drug firm of an estimated $11,000,000 in the 12 years he was its president.

They were accused of violating the securities act of 1934 in connection with the filing of false financial statements with the New York exchange and the securities and exchange commission—the charge their brother faced when he committed suicide Dec. 16 in his Fairfield, Conn., home.

Diplomats Kennedy, Bullitt Declare Events In Europe Indicate World War Next Spring

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Two of the nation's first-rank ambassadors informed the house and senate military committees, a member said today, that grave developments in Europe indicated another world war may begin next spring.

The diplomats, Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain, and William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France, appeared before an unusual joint session of the two committees while President Roosevelt worked at the White House preparing a message to congress on bolstering this country's defenses.

"World war may start in the spring," one member quoted Kennedy as saying. Bullitt was said to have concurred in the gloomy forecast.

A republican who attended the carefully-guarded session said it was arranged by the president and was designed as "a build up" for the forthcoming defense message, expected to contain a request for a vast expansion of this country's air forces.

(At a press conference today, Mr. Roosevelt said the message probably would be sent to the hill Thursday. He said Kennedy and Bullitt went before the committee because the committees asked them.)

While some committee members contended they heard nothing from either diplomat that they had not already known, one said the disclosures were "the most startling I've heard since I came to congress."

Kennedy was quoted as saying the next world conflict might start in either of the following ways:

1. German invasion of the Ukraine.
2. Italian seizure of Tunisia from France.

The committees were told that Germany has almost 10,000 first-line fighting planes and is turning out an average of 1,200 additional every month.

"The lesson of all this," Kennedy was quoted as saying, "is preparedness."

Hungary Warns Czechs' Raids Will Result in Counter-Attacks

Jewish Birth Of Frankfurter Brings Protest

George E. Sullivan Contends Professor Is Friend of Foster

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—The confirmation of Felix Frankfurter as an associate justice of the supreme court was opposed at a senate hearing today by two witnesses who referred frequently to his Jewish birth and alien origins.

A third insisted that before any action was taken, a senate judiciary subcommittee should question Frankfurter on point of constitutional law involved in a court case which the witness recently lost.

Members of the committee, almost to a man, expressed impatience and irritation at the course the argument was taking. All the witnesses appeared at their own request. Tonight some members friendly to Frankfurter were considering calling the nominee to the witness stand to clear up one point in particular.

This was a contention made by George E. Sullivan, a lawyer and a writer on what he called "anti-subversive" subjects. He said that through membership on the national committee of the American civil liberties union, Frankfurter had been associated with William Z. Foster, noted communist. The organization itself, Sullivan said, is engaged in defending the right to overthrow the government by force.

Sullivan also said that in September 1937, Frankfurter and Maxim Litvinoff, Russian foreign minister, were "elected to the Jewish hall of fame among 120 greatest living Jews." He added that Frankfurter made no protest.

"If Litvinoff and Frankfurter belong to the same group," he said, "surely neither of them belongs on the supreme court."

Sullivan particularly emphasized Frankfurter's alien birth, and what he called his "alien-mindedness."

The Ice Cream Cones Were Vogue

Scenes like this have been prevalent in Iowa City during the last week as abnormally high January temperatures shattered all previous marks in 30 years for warm weather during the month. Children and adults alike felt the warmth and shed heavy winter overcoats to wear only light sweaters or suit coats. Marbles began to make their yearly advent into after-school fun three months ahead of the usual schedule. However, yesterday slightly cooler weather rode into Iowa City on a strong wind and chilled the spirit of those who revelled in the mild, early spring breezes.

It's 'June in January' in I. C. Local Winter Sport Enthusiasts Bemoan 1939 Version of Winter

The ice cream business is up, yet presented is one by a local business man (fresh from college) who plans to plant an orange grove in old Iowa field and sell the luscious fruit to loyal Iowans now residing in California.

We don't believe it ourselves but there is a story going around that a certain athlete went to class yesterday wearing his newly acquired "I" sweater and suffered a sunstroke. It seems he sat next to one of those steamy steam radiators in a certain class. Well, the combination was too much and the poor fellow slowly slumped away—a victim of the heat.

'Tis said that the publicity department of the university is printing new "Iowa inducement" folders. It seems the punch line is "Come to Iowa—the middle-western school with the California climate."

Yes, it was pretty warm yesterday in Iowa City. In fact it was so warm that the writer spent last night under a mosquito netting. At this point I wish to emphatically state that it wasn't so warm last night. This morning I am sneezing.

And, believe me, I haven't got hay fever!

Peace Appeal Made by Wen

SHANGHAI, Jan. 10 (AP)—Wen Tsung-Yao, president of the legislative council of the "reformed government of China" at Nanking, appealed today for peace with Japan.

The appeal coincided with a mass air attack on Chungking, provisional Chinese capital nearly 1,400 miles up the Yangtze river, and bitter fighting in the Hangchow sector southwest of Shanghai, in southwestern Shansi province and west of Hankow.

In a statement circulated by Domei, the Japanese news agency, Wen asked nine unconquered provinces to agree to peace terms laid down Dec. 22 by Prince Fumimaro Konoye, then Japanese premier.

A Japanese communique said nearly 100 planes bombed Chungking military establishments in relay after routing Chinese craft.

Registration Sign for Courses By January 30

Second semester registration at the University of Iowa will not be accomplished with the hectic rush typical of fall enrollment.

The process will be spread out over a week, as was the case last year. Students may sign for their February to June courses between Jan. 23 and 30.

Rules provide that students must have completed registration by Jan. 30 at 5 p.m. if they wish to avoid payment of late registration fee. Courses of the new semester begin Tuesday, Jan. 31.

Demands Pay For Attack On Border Town

Troops Ordered To Drive Invaders Into Czechoslovak Land

BUDAPEST, Jan. 11 (Wednesday) (AP)—The independent Hungarian news service, Informacio, reported today that Hungary had warned Czechoslovakia another violation of Hungarian frontiers by the Czechs would be answered by a prompt invasion of Czechoslovakia.

The news service also reported that Hungary had served notice she refused to resume negotiations as to the precise location of the border fixed in a general way by the Vienna award, Nov. 2, until she had received "material and moral" satisfaction for the lives lost and property damaged by the Czechoslovak bombardment of Munkacs last Friday.

Such "material and moral" satisfaction was declared to include payment of damages by Czechoslovakia, acknowledgment of responsibility for the attack and punishment of the individuals responsible.

These Hungarian conditions for normalizing relations along the border on which thousands of Hungarian troops have been assembled and made ready for action were presented by a foreign office official to the Czechoslovak legation in Budapest, the news service said.

The Hungarian foreign office negotiator was quoted as saying, "In view of the repeated attacks and the fact that regular Czech troops participated it must be assumed that the incidents were a deliberate feature of Czech policy. Should there be another armed assault on Hungarian territory from this quarter, the invasion will not only be repulsed by Hungarian troops but the Hungarian troops will pursue across the demarcation line into Czechoslovak territory."

He was quoted by Informacio as adding, "Hungary makes this declaration with full appreciation of the facts that its action in such an event not only would delay a restoration of good neighborly relations but would make the situation even more critical."

The Hungarian foreign office made no comment on Informacio's report, but there were no contradictions, official or otherwise.

In diplomatic circles it was said the spirit of the Hungarian border army which is demanding revenge for the Munkacs attack, in which Hungarians reported 47 killed, including seven Czechoslovaks, was causing some international concern.

The force estimated by some observers at several hundred thousand men, were described as eager to make a campaign and figuratively "daring" the Czechoslovaks to "start something."

It was pointed out that this spirit was demonstrated when the Hungarians insisted the Czechoslovak troops withdraw on their own territory beyond range of guns at Munkacs.

The Czechoslovaks countered with a proposal that the Hungarians withdraw an equal distance. The Hungarian army was reported here to have refused to budge and the Czechoslovaks retreated.

Gunfire Ends Life of Crime

DES MOINES, Jan. 10 (AP)—Death tonight had ended the criminal career of Lee Jackson, 22-year-old parole convict, who fell before the deadly fire of a Des Moines city detective who had cornered the fleeing youth in a garage.

Detective George Cessna and his partner, Detective Jack Emrich engaged Jackson in a running gun battle on foot for more than a mile. The detectives had surprised Jackson when he attempted to enter a stolen car they were watching in the southeast part of the city.

Jackson, according to Chief of Detectives Jack A. Emrich, was wanted on a parole violation charge issued by the Iowa state board of parole.

Toward A

Campus Personality

A UNIVERSITY CAMPUS, like an individual, has a personality or lacks one. It grows out of the traditions which surround the buildings of an institution with a long and venerable history such as our own University of Iowa.

The development of a campus personality depends considerably upon the warmth and personal touch afforded by the giving of appropriate names to academic grounds and buildings, Finkbine field and Old Capitol, for instance. There is too little of this at Iowa.

"The matter of names is important," asserts Herbert C. Wise and Charles Z. Klauder in their book "College Architecture."

"Upon improvement plans of colleges and universities there is opportunity for identifying walks, terraces and other open spaces as well as halls and decorative rooms by means of names having imaginative and literary value," they add. Iowa could do much with its opportunities in this respect.

Some suggestions for buildings and places in need of apt, harmonious designations, officially given, are: The Pentacrest—a pertinent name for the original campus on the hill dominated by Old Capitol, yet little used; the walks leading to the quadrangle, the fieldhouse and the medical laboratory; the children's hospital, which should honor the man whose efforts had so much to do with its establishment, Senator Perkins; the dam; the stadium; the athletic fields.

A few others: the bluffs on which Westlawn and the Law commons are situated; the vale north of children's hospital; the chemistry building; the steps up the bluff to the Law commons; the quad court.

Little effort or expense would be required to personalize the campus by this simple means, and give it a warmth of familiarity.

"My business in the world is to make sausages, not speeches," says J. Stanley McLean, president of Canadian Packers, Ltd. Mr. McLean sounds a bit squeamish to those of us who not only have tasted baloney but heard it.

TODAY'S SCRAMBLED SAW: What is so rare as a day without seeing a picture of a movie actress with her legs crossed?

Postmaster General Farley saved $135,309 by having worn mail bags restitched, instead of buying new ones. All the people in Washington seem to be out of step but Jim.

Germany reports an increase of 2,500,000 in the number of people 65 years old or older. It's a revelation to learn that there are that many Germans who can keep their mouths shut.

In Which An Editorial Writes Itself

FREQUENTLY editorials write themselves. Since this letter from last week's Time magazine has a good many thoughts to present that need presentation, we reproduce it in full.

"Sirs: As an American medical student at the University of Freiburg I come in contact every day with Germans. Although our conversation concerns principally subjects connected with medicine, it sometimes drifts to politics. Naturally I should like to be able to defend my country's democratic ideals, especially now in regard to the Jewish question. The reason why I cannot is adequately illustrated by a recent article in Time. A young man, not a whole lot older than Grynspan was said to have committed a crime. The only witness was an elderly lady—the very lady whose life and property were involved—but that was enough.

"No Dorothy Thompson appeared dramatically for funds to save his life; no corps of top-notch lawyers leaped to his defense; America's conscience was not in the least disturbed. The young man was not even given the right to a trial! Within a few hours he was dead—killed by a band of men who felt they had the right to take the law in their own hands.

"Believe me, boys, a good reason for this inconsistency on the part of Americans would certainly help me out of an embarrassing situation."

Wallace A. Reed, Frieburg, Germany.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

FRANKFURTER — HOPKINS — MURPHY

We should like to see unanimous senate confirmation of President Roosevelt's nomination of Prof. Felix Frankfurter to the supreme court.

Associate Justice designate Frankfurter would fill the vacancy created by the death last July 9 of Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo. We believe Professor Frankfurter would fill this vacancy in every sense of the word; that he would measure up in all respects to the great supreme court traditions established and upheld by such jurists as Oliver Wendell Holmes, Louis Dembitz Brandeis and Mr. Cardozo himself.

Professor Frankfurter's physical residence is at Harvard university, state of Massachusetts. That leads Sen. Henry E. Ashurst (Dem., Ariz.) to grieve in public, though with his usual urbanity, over the fact that the far west has once more been snooted in the matter of a supreme court nomination.

We can imagine how Senator Ashurst feels. But there is this to console him: That Professor Frankfurter is only technically a resident of Massachusetts. That is where he votes, eats, sleeps, and so on. But he is in reality a national institution, in that his Harvard law school teaching since the fall of 1914 has spread the influence of his progressive ideas and the aura of his personality all over the United States.

His influence on the new deal has been particularly strong and fortunate. Thomas G. Corcoran (Tommy the Cork), No. 1 Mr. Fix-it for the administration, was one of Frankfurter's "boys"; likewise such present and past new deal luminaries as Benjamin Cohen, James M. Landis, David Lilienthal, Calvert Magruder, John G. Winant, Nathan Margold and Charles E. Wyman.

And we hope that those senators who voted against confirming Senator Black to the supreme court for the stated reason that he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan will not vote against Frankfurter for the unstated reason that he is a Jew.

The president has also nominated ex-Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan for attorney general, and Harry L. Hopkins, longtime chief of the WPA, for secretary of commerce. These cabinet nominations, like the supreme court nominations, are subject to senate confirmation—which we hope will be forthcoming.

There may be sound objections to the way both Hopkins and Murphy think, act or wear their hats or their hair. Plenty of objections are being raised to both of them as debate begins on whether the senate shall or shan't O. K. them for these cabinet jobs.

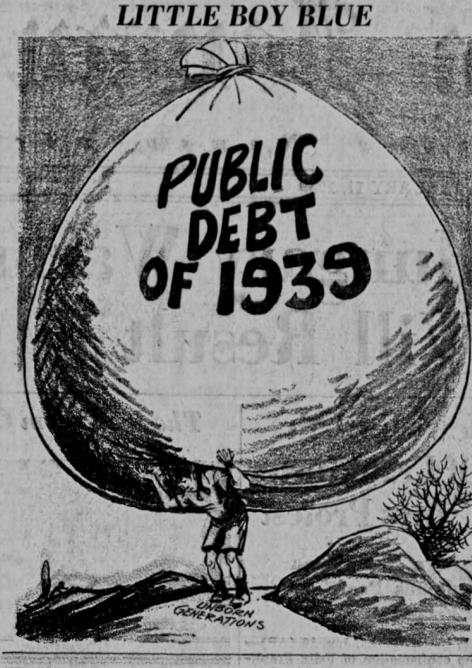

But the point is that cabinet officers are the president's hands, so to speak; and that therefore the president should have the widest possible latitude in picking the members of his cabinet. If he can't pick men who he believes will cooperate with him to the best of their ability, why have a cabinet? Except in cases of openly and notoriously bad cabinet nominations, the senate ought to confirm without excessive and time-wasting debate.

Going back to the subject of the supreme court for a moment—we hope that the president's next nomination will be from one of the lower federal courts.

The merit system ought to apply to supreme court justiceships. A man appointed to a federal district court or circuit court of appeals ought to be able to feel that good work in that job would entitle him to hope for graduation some day to the high bench.

As things are now, an appointee to one of these lower federal courts feels that he has reached the highest possible rung of his judicial career, and can now sit on his salary for life or during good behavior. It does not improve the morale of the lower federal courts, and the situation ought to be remedied—possibly by some sort of congressional action.

NOW THAT WE'VE FOUND the brown and yellow baskets, including those whose hobbies are collecting such seemingly everyday articles as spoons, firearms and bicycle pumps, on his "Hobby Lobby" broadcast at 7:30 tonight over the NBC-Blue network.

BASIL RATHBONE, the villain that makes everybody think of the adjective suave, will be the guest on the Texaco "Star Theater" at 8 o'clock tonight over the Columbia network.

He'll appear in "The Stronger Man," an original play by Dick Wells. Rathbone portrays the part of a doctor while JOHN BARRYMORE, making his final appearance on the show, takes the role of a pearl fisherman in this highly dramatic love triangle featuring jealousy and courage.

The program also presents the musical romance of beautiful FRANCES LANGFORD and irrepressible KENNY BAKER with David Broekman's orchestra and the comedy of muddle-minded CHARLIE RUGGLES and unimpressible NED SPARKS, which seems to take care of everything.

Off the record, if we should take a poll on the present popularity of Charlie McCarthy, I'll bet we'd find him still tops, despite. . .

FRED ALLEN will present Doc Foster, who among carnival and circus men is known throughout the length and breadth of the land as "king of the pitch men," on "Town Hall Tonight" at 8 o'clock tonight over NBC. He's "the person you didn't expect to meet."

LUM AND ABNER are engaged in a national drive to delete the number 13 from the calendar this week. Their show is heard each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6:15 p.m. They're not too happy about this Friday, which is the 13th.

LOOK AT TONIGHT for general worthwhile radio entertainment. . . On NBC, "One Man's Family" at 7; Tommy Dorsey at 7:30; and Kay Kyser's "College of Musical Knowledge" at 9. On CBS, "Ask It Basket" at 6:30 "Gang Busters" at 7, Paul White-man at 7:30, "Theater of Stars" at 8.

Foster is what is known as a "high pitch man," and is infuriated when he is confused with a "low pitch man." A high pitch man works at carnivals, fairs and circuses as a barker, while a low pitch man sells razor blades, dolls and other gadgets from a sidewalk packing box. I'm glad to know that. . .

The rest of the gang will be there—Portland, Harry von Zell, the Mighty Allen Art Players, the Merry Macs, the town hall singers and Peter Van Steeden's orchestra. The artists will wrestle with an opus titled "A Pitch in Time Saves a Stolen Base" or "Did the Sword Swallower Hide the Pitch Man's Swallower?"

DAVE ELMAN will present a variety of respiratory system apart and study that. And so on.

When he gets through, the physiologist puts his knowledge of all these systems back together and perhaps thinks he has a man—that he has the secret of life. But he hasn't, any more than that if you were to take four legs and a torso, a tail and a head, and put them together, you would have a dog.

There are many functions that belong to the entire body. They are so much a part of all parts of us that we are inclined to forget them. Yet, they are recurrently and insistently present all the time. In the past few months in this column we have been following the physiologist's footsteps; and analyzing our different functions; now we will take up some of these functions of the body—as a whole.

One of them is sleep. To what part of the body does sleep belong? To the brain? Yes, but not exclusively. In sleep your eyes cease to see—to function. And very much your ears. Your mouth is dry in the morning, so the secretion of the membrane ceases to function also. There is no digestion going on during sleep. The heart and lungs keep up but at a slower pace. The muscles relax. Yes, sleep belongs to the whole body.

Sleep, like many other things in life, is not valued until we lose it. The young don't know how to value sleep. Nature confers the largesse of sleep on them with the same overflowing generosity that she confers her other favors on them. In general we tend to need less sleep as age advances. The man of 60 gets a good night's rest on five or six hours, where at 30 he required eight or nine.

Contempt for Sleep The testimony of elderly men shows their contempt for sleep. Prof. William Lyon Phelps, of Yale, says that only morons do not suffer from insomnia. Prof. George Hubert Palmer, of Harvard, said that he had not had a good night's sleep since he was adult. But he learned that if he relaxed he rested during the night, and started the next day as fresh as anybody.

While physiologists do not know exactly what causes sleep, they know that it is an absolutely necessary function of the human body; indeed, of all animals. Death occurs in animals who have been purposefully kept awake—in from 14 to 21 days. Even plants show periods of inactivity.

So we are inclined to view with skepticism the reports of insomniacs that, "I haven't had a wink of sleep for two months." They do sleep, and they get more sleep than they think.

YANKEE BOSS NEAR DEATH

Health Has Been Failing Since April

Family Spokesman
Says Ruppert Has Complicated Ills

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Col. Jacob Ruppert, multi-millionaire brewer and owner of the world champion New York Yankee baseball club, was so near death tonight that he was given the last sacrament of the Catholic church, but he dropped asleep with a prediction that he would recover.

The 71-year-old bachelor, a Manhattan real estate titan and one of the nation's wealthiest men, was reported "resting easily" but still critically ill.

Albert Brennan, who has served as Ruppert's right-hand man the last 27 years without official title, said the colonel hovered between weary consciousness and a semi-coma and went to sleep just before 11 p.m.

"I've been sick a long time, haven't I, Al?" Ruppert said to Brennan just before he went to sleep.

"But, you know what? I'm going to get better."

Brennan said he could not see how Ruppert could survive many more hours the illness that developed into complications from an attack of plebitis that struck him last April and has confined him much of the time since.

Ruppert's brother George and other members of the family were at his bedside in the Ruppert town house on upper Fifth avenue.

Among the first to express regret over his illness was Babe Ruth, himself in a hospital for observation after a slight heart attack.

Ruppert's extravagant—and highly profitable—sally into baseball was greatly enhanced by Ruth's prodigious home-run hitting ability and for it Ruppert paid him the record player salary of baseball—a top of $80,000 a year.

Ruppert's associates generally estimated his fortune between $70,000,000 and $100,000,000 and his real estate holdings in New York second only to those of the Astor family.

The Ruppert brewery holdings alone cost $35,000,000 and his baseball properties, including stadium in New York, Newark and Kansas City, were valued at least $15,000,000.

The 300 acres surrounding his country estate at Garrison, N. Y., cost around $750,000, and his yacht "Yankee" is considered one of the finest privately owned craft in New York harbor.

Mauling Hank Wins Again Punches Way To Victory in Ten Gruelling Rounds

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10 (AP)—Two-crown Henry Armstrong won a gruelling 10-round decision over Baby Arizmendi tonight in a bout recognized by the California athletic commission as a world welterweight championship match.

Armstrong weighed 134 1/2 and Arizmendi 136, just over his usual lightweight poundage.

A capacity house of more than 10,000, who paid upwards of $25,000 to see the two in their fifth encounter, saw the Negro champion stave off Arizmendi's closing rally and win Referee George V. Blake's decision by a close but decisive margin.

Duplicating their last torrid clash, the two stood toe to toe throughout, hammering blows. Seldom if ever did the referee have to separate them.

There were no knockdowns. Midway in the seventh, Armstrong split open Arizmendi's forehead and it bled until the end of the fight. Hammering Henry quit the ring with a swollen left eye.

Arizmendi all but matched Armstrong's aggressive, relentless punching, but the veteran little Mexican's blows lacked the power of his opponents.

The Associated Press score card gave Armstrong five rounds, Arizmendi four and one even.

Armstrong was booed several times for what appeared to be illegal tactics with his head and shoulders, and in the tenth was guilty of butting Arizmendi in the eye.

The Mexican charged back furiously, however, and carried the round.

Both fighters were cheered to the echo at the final bell as they stood in the middle of the ring trading punches.

Whitney Martin's SPORTS TRAIL

- Uniform Rules
- Cage Scientist
- His Findings

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—It may mean pie to some, sauce to others, or a stomach ache to the little boy in the orchard, but it's still an apple, and it's just such differences of viewpoint that make life high adventure for a touring basketball team. The rules are the same everywhere, but they have more interpretations than an Egyptian tablet.

In fact, Bill Chandler of Marquette university, president of the National Basketball Coaches association, considers the promotion of uniformity in rules interpretation a major problem of that body.

Chandler arrived today with his Golden Avalanche squad for a game with Long Island university at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. He was somewhat concerned as to how the officials would call 'em.

"Generally speaking," he said, "eastern officials are regarded as the strictest; those on the Pacific coast only a little less rigid, and ours in the middlewest the most liberal."

"There unquestionably is more uniformity now than there was five years ago. These intersectional games have seen to that. But there still is room for improvement."

Chandler is something of a scientist when it comes to basketball, and by means of charts, personnel records and other test tube findings he can tell just about what to expect of the team at certain times, and whether Johnny Jones will miss that setup because he flunked in calculus.

For he has found that there is a positive correlation between basketball shooting performance and scholastic ability. The boy who can't find the right answer in the classroom is not so liable to find the basket on the court.

Other discoveries made by Chandler and his corps of chart men include:

Players who need improvement most are the ones who improve most during a season.

Senior athletes rarely improve; sophomores and juniors are ambitious fellows.

The lad who exhibits the best marksmanship in practice is rarely the one who is best in a game; the real competitor is the boy who shows the least difference between his practice and game performance.

A team is at its worst in practice after a victory, at its best after a defeat.

A properly conditioned squad will gain weight during the season.

Chandler, whose team has won six out of seven games this season, predicted his boys would give the undefeated Long Islanders a battle tomorrow night, but he isn't sure just which men to watch. He hasn't had a chance to check up on their grades and uncover the real sharpshooters.

ST. WENCESLAUS DROPS IRISH, 28-23

Locals' Fourth Period Rally Falls Short

Driving his men hard, Coach Francis Merten last night continued his quest for pep and fire as he sent his cagers through another long session stressing defensive and offensive fundamentals.

Merten, dissatisfied with his team's listless play at Clinton last week, has given the Red and White boys stiff doses of fundamentals in the last two practices as he sought to lift his team back to early season levels.

The Hawkeyes were paired among themselves in last night's drills, each alternating on the offensive and defensive. At times their passing and shooting looked good and at other periods the defense functioned smoothly and blocked the various offensive combinations.

Merten will have an additional burden added to his load the second semester when Joe McGinnis leaves the squad. Merten will have a hard time to find a man to fill Joe's shoes.

To add further to the coach's task, Ted Lewis, first string reserve guard, has been forced to drop basketball practice because of the press of other activities. Ted was one of the leading candidates for McGinnis' job.

Merten Lashes Little Hawks Into Form

Against Kansas State's matmen Monday night, the Iowans coached by Mike Howard, turned in some good work, but the performances of Wilbur Nead, Phil Miller and Kenny Kingsbury pleased the Hawkeye coach no more than did the working of the scoring system which he helped perfect for the Big Ten.

Last year, at the coaches' conference meeting, Mike and Hek Kenny, Illinois mentor, got together on the subject of new scoring methods. The rules used last season gave points for getting on top of the opponent, for endangering him and for getting out of bad spots, but paid no attention to the matter of time advantage which had always been used before.

The time system had always been a factor in slowing down matches. If a wrestler got behind his opponent, his only interest was to stay there. The only action furnished in matches was in one man trying to hold an advantage and in the opponent trying to reverse the positions.

Then the coaches got busy and last year, the Big Ten tried a system whereby points were given for getting behind the enemy, for nearly throwing him, and for getting out of a tight place.

However, this, while curing some evils, helped develop some new ones. A wrestler might pile up a few points, but still be at a disadvantage throughout most of the match.

The system perfected by Howard and Kenny combines the best features of both methods. A matman receives points for seizing the advantages listed under the system of last year, and he gets one point for each minute of time advantage.

Working under this new system, there is little doubt but what the best man will get the decision, Monday night, Kenneth Kingsbury, Iowa 136 pounder, was behind his man for the majority of the time, but, according to the score sheet, the old rules would have given Kingsbury only a draw. As it is now, Kingsbury won by a good margin.

To prove that the new method is an improvement, Howard is able to cite innumerable instances in which a wrestler had been on the receiving end of all evening had scored a couple of lucky points and had triumphed under last year's rules. He also admits that college wrestling can be slow under the time system.

Although the Big Ten is the only wrestling group that has adopted the new method, Mike feels sure that it will soon become more general, with a few variations perhaps, and that it will eventually be the method by which wrestlers are scored in the national matches.

Brechler's Cagers Appear Sluggish In Drill for Friday Tilt With W. Liberty

Coach Paul Brechler sent his men through another vigorous drill yesterday, striving to improve the U-High attack before the battle with West Liberty Friday evening.

From the results of yesterday's workout, it is apparent that the Blue and White lads have not as yet discarded the erratic type of play that has dominated their

Trackmen Ready For Tomorrow Night's Relays

Although the opening of regular season comes with the dual meet against Wisconsin Feb. 18, University of Iowa trackmen go through their paces this week with but one thing in mind—the all-university relay carnival tomorrow night.

Entries are coming in for the fraternity relay race, the Quad, Hillcrest and co-op dorm relays, and members of the sorority and women's dormitory teams, picked several weeks ago, are vowing vengeance on old rivals and victory for their feminine sponsors.

Early favorite in the sorority event was Ed McCollister's Delta Gamma team. McCollister had a speedy team behind him, and he had the presence of Jimmy Lyle, who has never ran on worse than a third place team.

But, John Graves, captaining the quartet from Alpha Delta Pi, loomed also as a possible winner, until Milt Billig made himself known. A tip yesterday, and from a fairly authoritative source, had it that Billig's Eastlawn representatives had more than an outside chance to grab a first place.

When questioned about his team, Billig refused to commit himself, but did admit that he had something of a surprise laid away until tomorrow night.

Other events on the program, besides the relays, include: 60 yard high hurdles, 60 yard low hurdles, 60 yard dash, pole vault, shot put, broad jump, high jump and the 25 pound weight.

Lambert's Crew To Invade Iowa Fieldhouse

Stephens Paces Conference Scorers With 33 Points

With two Big Ten games out of the way and with two defeats in a row to bemoan as they prepare for Saturday night's game with the Boilermakers of Purdue, Coach Rollie Williams and his Hawkeye cagers have one consolation—the league leading scorer of Capt. Benny Stephens.

In the Wisconsin game Stephens came through with 13 of Iowa's 24 points and against Minnesota's brilliant Gophers, he proved his right to the title of "Blazing Ben." While the rest of the Iowans contributed only nine points, Benny added 20 to the Iowa total.

It will be remembered that last season, Stephens set a new Iowa scoring record with 185 points. So far this year, he has come through with 113 markers, or an average of 14 1/3 per game. With 11 contests remaining on the schedule, Ben might change the record again. At his present rate, he would run the mark up to around 260 points.

However, the remainder of the Hawkeye team has not been having the same sort of luck. Angie Anapol with 41 and Erwin Prasse with 36 are the second and third high men. Before the Big Ten season began, Anapol had 40 points to his credit, but on the trip to Madison and Minneapolis he scored but one point, while Prasse did little better.

In the possibility that Anapol and Prasse will recover from their slumps lies the main portion of Hawkeye hopes for more success against conference competition. In the game New Year's eve against St. Louis U, this pair contributed 19 points to the Iowa total.

In marked contrast to the weak offense, the Hawks have flashed a remarkable defensive strength. Wisconsin could score but 28 points, while the high scoring Gophers could crack the Iowa defense for only 36.

Marians Face Wilton Jet. Five Tonight

St. Mary's Ramblers will be opposed by a powerful Wilton Junction quintet tonight in the City high gym for the second game after their vacation layoff.

The Marians will face an outfit which has garnered seven straight victories already this year against stiff competition. In addition, the team from Wilton Junction won the Muscatine county trophy in tournament play.

Sueppel's five has won eight out of ten games against the toughest kind of competition. Numbered among St. Mary's victims are Keokuk, St. Pat's of Cedar Rapids, Columbia Academy of Dubuque and Central of Ft. Madison.

St. Ambrose, equipped with two teams of almost equal ability, succeeded in wearing down the Marians after a stiff battle. The game ended with St. Ambrose the victor.

Wilton Junction has a sophomore quint, the lone exception being Bienneke, senior forward. Bienneke is also the high scoring ace of Coach Mathes' squad. Running mate for Bienneke at the other forward post is Norton, another clever ball handler.

Coach Mathes will probably start Lange at center, while Ovesen and Preeland will more than likely start in the back court.

The regular Rambler five will probably open the game for St. Mary's. George Chadek, consistent point man, and Jack Bock are the likely starters at the forward posts.

Don Schmidt is the probable starting center, while Bill Bock and Jim Chadek are chief candidates for the opening in the guard positions.

Intramural Cage Battles Resumed

The two feature games of last evening's intramural basketball schedule were played by Upper A of the Quadrangle and Phi Kappa Psi. Upper A defeated Upper C by a score of 29 to 26 while Phi Kappa Psi took Sigma Phi Epsilon into camp, 20 to 17.

In the other two games which were played, Madison won from College by a 31 to 15 count, while the taller and much classier Harris Hall quintet was trouncing Court by a margin of 51 to 6. Blazing Lowell Baker of the Harris Hall team became the high scorer of the evening by pouring in 16 points.

Tonight's games will be contests between the various Co-op dormitories of the campus. At 8:15 Gables plays Weststone, Grover plays Kellogg and Folsom meets up with Jefferson. There will be one game at 9 o'clock between Manse and Chesley.

Best Defense

CHICAGO (AP)—The Kansas City Blues had the best defense during the American association's 1938 season, official statistics showed yesterday. The Yankee farm club had a team-fielding mark of .971, one point better than that of St. Paul, which finished in front of the circuit through the regular campaign but had to be content with second place behind Kansas City in the playoffs.

Southern Beauty Is Losing to Brawn

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—Southern belles may not like it, but according to Duke university statistics, Dixie is becoming more famous for brawn than for beauty.

Out of 18 first-stringers on Duke's Rose Bowl football squad, 14 were southern boys. Of 20 cued beauties selected in a campus poll, only eight were southern girls.

North Carolina itself had seven representatives among the gridsters, only four among the beauties. The university's home state was far ahead of any other states in the number of top notch football players but tied with Pennsylvania in the beauty class, each having four.

Divorce Case Judge Does a Quick Change

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—District Judge Charles Leslie of Omaha was about to sign the papers granting a young wife a divorce and $5 a week alimony when he decided to read them through.

In the last paragraph he found this: "The court is hereby ordered to pay the plaintiff $5 per week permanent alimony."

It didn't take him long to have the wording changed to read "the defendant" in place of "the court."

scholastic and extra curricular activities. The three-foot gold loving cup is the highest honor extended by the fraternity. It bears the inscription "Awarded to Alpha Beta of Phi Epsilon Pi for outstanding achievement in 1937-38."

Mix Bran With Various Fruits To Secure Varieties of Bread

If it mixes well with a variety of the best fruits, and always rises to meet any situation; if the taste is "tops" no matter on what side it's buttered—then it's the good breeding of all-bran flavor that is responsible!

Fill than bran bread batter with figs, apricots or raisins as the following variations show. In any one of them, half a loaf is only the beginning when all-bran bread appears on the table.

All-Bran Fig Honey Bread
1-4 cup shortening
1-4 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1-2 cup honey
1-2 cups milk
1 cup all-bran
3 cups flour
1-4 teaspoon soda
1-2 teaspoons salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 cup chopped figs

All-Bran Raisin Bread
1 egg
1-4 cup sugar
1-4 cup molasses
1 cup sour milk or buttermilk
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1 cup all-bran
2-2 cups flour
1-2 teaspoon soda
1-2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 cup chopped raisins

All-Bran Apricot Bread
1 cup chopped dried apricots
1-2 cups sour milk or buttermilk
3 tablespoons shortening
1-3 cup sugar
1 egg
1-2 cups all-bran
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon soda
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon nutmeg
1-2 cup chopped nut meats

Soak chopped apricots in milk about 15 minutes. Cream shortening and sugar thoroughly; add egg, beat until creamy. Add all-bran, apricots and milk. Let soak until most of the moisture is taken up. Sift flour with baking powder, soda, salt and nutmeg; combine with nutmeats; add to first mixture, stirring only until flour disappears. Bake in greased loaf pan with waxed paper in the bottom, in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1 hour and 10 minutes.

Beat egg well. Add sugar, molasses, milk, melted and cooled shortening and all-bran; mix well; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Sift flour, soda, salt and baking powder together; add raisins and add to first mixture, stirring only until flour disappears. Bake in greased loaf pan with waxed paper in bottom in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about one hour.

Taped Snaps Prove Convenient in Quick Laundry of Material

If you want to be sure of keeping the skirt of your dressing table spic and span with the least amount of effort, have it fixed so that it will snap on. Then, you can remove it for a trip to the laundry or cleaner's with the least amount of effort.

Merely buy the snaps that come attached to pieces of tape and can be had by the yard. Tape one side of the snaps securely around the top of the dressing table. Sew the other side to the drapery. It then becomes a simple matter to remove the drapery and pop it into a quick bath of suds or to send it out for a dry cleaning. When you are ready to replace it there is no bother of tacking or sewing it on again.

Prof. Skeels Addresses Club

Discusses Adoption Of Young Children At Meeting Yesterday

Speaking to the members of the Child Conservation club yesterday afternoon, Prof. H. M. Skeels of the psychology department concluded that in adopting children between the ages of three months and two years, the social history is unimportant. The stimulation of a home that offers varied experiences is the controlling factor in the growing intelligence of the child.

Dr. Skeels said, "The longer a child remains in an underprivileged home, the lower his mentality becomes."

In regard to pre-school training of orphans, Dr. Skeels has observed two groups of children, one group attending pre-school and the other not. Those children who attended not only gained in intelligence but also retained what they did know better than those who were not allowed to attend, he said.

The vocabularies of children also followed this same line. Dick Baldrige, son of Mrs. C. W. Baldrige, gave two readings. One was "Huckleberry Finn" and the other was "Punished."

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Davis. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. H. H. Jacobsen, Mrs. E. W. Paulus and Mrs. G. Van Deusen.

Prof. Newburn Speaks at Club

Presents Description Of English Pre-War Scare of Last Fall

A picture of the English war scare of last fall was presented to the Kiwanis club yesterday noon by Prof. Harry K. Newburn, principal of University high school, who spoke to the club at its regular meeting in the Jefferson hotel.

Professor Newburn was in England during the September crisis and he vividly recalled the preparations taken by the English to protect themselves when they believed war could no longer be averted.

The guest speaker stated that the population of London was divided into three distinct groups during this critical period. One group opposed the government's policies, another favored the government's tactics, and a third group, mostly socialists, favored the advent of war.

Luncheon guests included William Summerwill, Prof. Elmer T. Peterson, Prof. Herman H. Trachsel, Roy S. Mushrush, T. H. Ogilvie and F. C. Sinabarger, both of Muscatine, and F. W. Hohman, Lincoln, Neb.

Local Man In 'Life'

Dynatone Resembles Piano, Invented By Arthur C. Ansley

Under the heading of "Modern Living" in the current issue of Life is a story about the invention of an electrically amplified piano called the Dynatone.

The inventor is Arthur C. Ansley, who was born and raised in Iowa City and whose father, Clark Fisher Ansley, was the head of the English department of the University of Iowa for several years.

Arthur Ansley attended grade school and high school in Iowa City, but later moved to Michigan with his father. Ever since he was a boy, Mr. Ansley has been tinkering with radios and amplifiers, and today he is president of the Ansley Radio corporation. Among radio technicians Mr. Ansley is known as a manufacturer of high quality radio-phonograph combinations, and his new invention uses radio technique.

The Dynatone is played exactly like a piano, but the basic principle involved is radically different. The piano as we know it today, and all its antecedents, have soundboards which mechanically magnify the tones of the vibrating strings. In the Dynatone the tones are picked up and amplified electrically and reproduced through a loud-speaker.

With the electric current off, the instrument sounds like a harpsichord. With full volume on it sounds like a concert grand piano, an instrument which ordinarily sells for about $3,000.

The Dynatone has a built-in radio and phonograph. The same amplifier and loud-speaker function for all three of these parts.

The whole instrument is very compact, is only a little larger than the popular small upright piano.

BLUE GRASS is entered in his first race, and Uncle Peter enthusiastically bets all their ready cash to win. The jockey follows Jack's instructions to "hand-ride" the horse and not to use the whip. Blue Grass crosses the finish line second.

BUT Jack, in the stands, observes a foul on Blue Grass by the winning jockey and proves his point to the judges. The winner is disqualified and Blue Grass is acclaimed. Overjoyed, Sally and Peter cash in on their bets and look forward with great hopes to the Derby.

SALLY accidentally discovers Jack's identity and suspects that he is training Blue Grass to lose the Derby. Jack tries to clear himself and explain that his is the best method of handling the sensitive colt. Sally refuses to listen, says he is like all the Dillons, tells him she won't see him again.

AT THE pre-Derby dance, Jack cuts in on Sally and her partner in a lamentable breach of Southern etiquette. He impresses her with his sincerity and despite herself she listens to his advice that Blue Grass must be "hand-riden" in the Derby next day to win. (To be continued)

Jurors Serve Law Students Practice In Court Trials

Pre-law students, or any other interested students in the university, including girls, may serve as jurors in the second semester practice court, Prof. Mason Ladd of the college of law announced yesterday.

The trials, starting next semester, will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. every Thursday and from 1:30 to 5 p.m. every Friday. No student will be asked to serve on more than one case. The function of the jurors will be the same as that of real jurors in any trial, Professor Ladd has pointed out.

Each prospective juror should mail his name, address and telephone number to the practice court of the college of law at once.

It is hoped that this program will add to the independence of the trial. It will also afford pre-law students an opportunity to make early contact with law school problems.

Lectures will be offered the public in the Hall of Science every day of the 288 days of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester 1938-1939

Saturday, January 21, 8 a.m., to Saturday, January 28, 4 p.m., 1939

The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (1), (2) and (3) as shown at the second N.B. below).

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation from this schedule, in the case of any examination—except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification on the student's written petition, filed in ample time and supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of completing examinations earlier will not be permitted.

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

If the student takes the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the Schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examinations during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double vertical line. N.B. Unless students are reasonably sure that their semester's work, including final examinations, is successful they are requested to call (within the 24-hour period following the conclusion of each of their final examinations) at the offices of the deans of men and women, appropriately, in order to learn whether any of their instructors have reported Fd. for them; and if any student has reason to suspect that Fd. will be his record for one or more courses, he is requested not to register until he learns that he has passed.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) This instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him or her, not later than the regular class hour, January 16 or 17, if possible, January 9 or 10.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period; in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Monday, January 23, 2-4, according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (125) meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Friday, January 27, 2-4.

N.B. All sections of freshman Speech (1), (2) and (3) will meet during the examination week on the days and at the periods designated below. Rooms are assigned by the instructors.

Saturday, January 21—Section D, 8-10; Speech (2), 8-10.

Monday, January 23—Section A, 1-3; Section E, 3-5.

Thursday, January 26—Section I, 8-10; Section C, 1-3; Speech 3A, 1-3; Section G, 3-5.

Friday, January 27—Section J, 8-10; Section H, 10-12; Section B, 1-3; Speech 3B, 1-3; Section F, 3-5.

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday, or which meet as arranged, will be assigned for examination as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from January 21 to January 27, inclusive.

2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F and G, since for such "odd" classes these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under preparation for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time."

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs." unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F"—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

H. C. DORCAS, Secretary, Program Committee.

Local Printer Has Licensed Car Each Year

1901 Elgin Is Oldest Car in County; One Electric Car Driven

Exemplifying distinctive first places, as well as speed, power, beauty and comfort for their day, are the above array of automotive creations owned by Iowa Citizens, revealed by records from the motor vehicle department in the county treasurer's office.

Holding the city's record with 28 consecutive registrations for license plates is the 1910 Hupmobile roadster, shown in the photo at the left, owned by H. C. Pfothenauer, printer, 505 S. Van Buren street.

Mr. Pfothenauer has driven the car over 40,000 miles since he purchased it in Chicago for $750. The machine, powered by four cylinders, is capable of attaining a speed of 30 miles an hour, and runs about 30 miles to a gallon of gasoline. It is painted old gold, with black trim, and weighs 1,450 pounds.

No license plates have been purchased this year for the "Hup" by the consecutive registration champ who is a little skeptical about venturing forth among the faster traffic of today, although he hinted that he may purchase the $7 license plates before the end of the year.

Forty-two 13-plate batteries are needed to run the 1916 Detroit Electric, shown in the center photo, which is the only electric vehicle registered in Iowa City this year. Sixty-five to 85 miles is the maximum distance that the storage plant will furnish power for the car on one charge.

Strictly a women's car, every motion of it is controlled by hand. Its owner, Clark F. "Doc" Mizhell, proprietor of the Home Oil company, has loaned the car many times for use during the Spinsters' Spree, university dance at which the women do all the honors.

"The Class of 1916" as the five-passenger coupe is known, was originally purchased here by William Hanke for $2,375. It has been driven over 13,000 miles, according to a reading of the speedometer which is inside one of the hub caps. The car has both a forward and rear drive and a body entirely of aluminum which makes up most of its two and one-half tons weight.

Now laughable is a once good talking point for the auto which is set forth in the Detroit Electric service manual with regard to its speed: "Five normal forward speeds are provided ranging as follows: six, 10, 15, 20 and 25 M. P. H. Also a speed shunt, if desired, to increase the car speed to 30-35 M. P. H. for short periods or for passing slower moving vehicles."

Doctors in the eastern states use an improved model of the same car today, finding it quick to start in all weather, quiet, free from exhaust fumes, and easy to park.

A. J. Schneider, 816 E. College street, and Mrs. W. P. Hohen-schuh, 410 E. Jefferson street, own electrically driven cars, a Detroit Electric and a Rush and Lamb respectively, both of which are in storage.

Capable of about 10 miles an hour when both cylinders are hitting properly, the 1901 Elgin automobile, shown at the right above, with Rex Rasmus at the wheel, owned by Louis Calta, Hawkeye taxicab driver, is the oldest car in the city bearing 1939 license plates.

"Jane," as the car was originally christened, operates on a friction clutch and has two speeds—forward and backward. An air-cooled motor powers the chain driven machine which weighs only 1,000 pounds. It is painted green and is equipped with solid rubber buggy wheels. The motor uses a gallon of gasoline to every 25 or 30 miles.

The old-timer which belonged to the grandfather of Calta, requires an expert machinist to "keep it going," the owner said. He had it put in working order two years ago to use as a novelty.

Calta's grandfather was said to carry a pocket full of nickels with him whenever he made a long drive, because the machine would become so heated up after about a half hour's steady use that it would stop completely. The nickels went to the boys who pushed it home.

Tree Trimmer Still 'Critical'

Charles G. Cerny, 402 E. Ronalds street, remained in a "critical" condition last night at a local hospital where he was taken after an 18-foot fall from a tree on Taft speedway Friday.

While trimming trees near a cottage, Cerny fell to the ground, but was able to crawl 100 feet on his hands and knees to the cottage.

Cerny, who is employed by the Hunzinger-Wagner company as a brick mason, is suffering from severe internal injuries.
