Mussolini, Chamberlain Say They Desire Peace After Meeting in Rome

Observers See Concessions To Duce First

Think That Italy Will Only Be Satisfied With French Land

By The Associated Press
ROME, Jan. 11.—Premier Mussolini of Italy and Prime Minister Chamberlain of Britain assured each other they desired peace—but defined their objectives differently—tonight at a brilliant state banquet arranged for the British statesman who sought to bring his European appeasement policy to the Mediterranean.

Mussolini, toasting Chamberlain at the dinner in the Palazzo Venezia, invoked "peace with justice."

Chamberlain spoke for peace "by method of negotiation."

Foreign observers saw in Mussolini's definition an expression of a view frequently stated in recent weeks by his authoritative spokesmen that without colonial concessions for Italy and Germany there can be no appeasement in Europe.

Justice First
In other words, Italy insists she be treated with justice, first of all.

Chamberlain's declaration was seen in these same quarters as an admission that appeasement could not be realized unless the fascist claims were put forward in diplomatic form.

So far Italy's demands for recognition of her claims in France's Tunisia, Corsica, Djibouti and a share in control of the Suez canal have been articulated almost entirely through her high pressure propaganda campaign.

In his toast, the elderly British prime minister, who received a warm welcome upon his arrival at 4:17 p.m. (9:17 a.m., C. S. T.) in company with his foreign minister Viscount Halifax and a party of foreign office experts, announced that Britain and Italy already had begun an exchange of military information.

Spanish Question
This was in accordance with the terms of their earlier friendship treaty which was made effective November 16.

It was noteworthy, he said, that the two governments "yesterday, here and in London, were able to proceed to an exchange of military information."

He added that the Mediterranean interests of the two countries "while of vital importance to us both, need in no way conflict."

Rep. Hoffman Assails Murphy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—The appointment of former Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan to be attorney general underwent its first fire in the house today.

Representative Hoffman (R-Mich) submitted a 58-page arraignment of Murphy's political and labor record which drew cheers from the minority and roused democratic leaders to the cabinet appointee's defense.

Dramatically waving handmade bludgeons he said were taken from men in strike-bound plants, the 62-year-old Michigan congressman asked Majority Leader Rayburn (D-Tex):

"Was Murphy enforcing the law when the strikers had these?" Rayburn retorted that Hoffman was "talking broadly around the question" and demanded that he submit evidence that Murphy had violated the law in favor of the strikers.

Hoffman charged Murphy with responsibility for failure to evict sit-downers from Flint (Mich) plants under a court order. He accused the ex-governor of "betraying" the people of the state. In answer to an assertion by Rayburn that the automobile strikes had been settled "without bloodshed," he listed 11 policemen and 13 strikers injured at Flint.

Felix Frankfurter to Appear Before Senate Sub-Committee

Witness Brands New Court Nominee As 'Dangerous Radical'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—Felix Frankfurter, President Roosevelt's nominee to the supreme court, will appear before a senate sub-committee tomorrow and it is expected that he will answer witnesses who accused him of radicalism.

Chairman Neely (D-WVa) of a judiciary sub-committee considering the nomination of the Harvard professor, announced tonight:

"The sub-committee communicated to Dr. Frankfurter its desire for him to appear before it; and he has kindly agreed to appear tomorrow and will be heard by the sub-committee at 9:30 (CST)."

Frankfurter previously had expressed a disinclination to leave his classroom duties to come to the hearing.

The decision to call the nominee was made at the end of a day of testimony in which Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, author of the "Red Network," bracketed Frankfurter, President Roosevelt, Glenn Frank and other leaders together as dangerous radicals.

To the obvious distaste of Senator Borah (R-Ida), Allen Zoll, of New York City, another witness, expressed the opinion that confirmation of Frankfurter would "fan a wave of anti-Semitism" in the United States.

Trying to cut off Zoll's testimony, Borah said: "You are raising the same question that has drenched Europe with blood."

Mrs. Dilling, comely and fast-talking, charged that Frankfurter had long been lined with "red revolutionists" and then offered to prove that President and Mrs. Roosevelt were "dangerous radicals," not to mention a dozen members of the senate.

May Ask Legislature To Abolish U. of W. Board of Regents

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 11 (AP)—Emerson Ela, Madison attorney, said today the state legislature would be asked to abolish the University of Wisconsin board of regents and create a new governing body.

He notified directors of the Wisconsin alumni club of Madison that he wanted to retire as its president so he could freely advocate and promote legislation to correct a "most offensive and quite intolerable" situation in the board.

Chicago Hearst Papers Declared Guilty On Two Labor Counts; Upheld in Three Instances by National Labor Board

CHICAGO, Jan. 11 (AP)—The intermediate report of a National Labor Relations board trial examiner today held the Chicago Hearst newspapers had violated the Wagner labor act in two instances but upheld the papers' management on three other counts of a complaint filed by the CIO Chicago newspaper guild.

Examiner Henry W. Schmidt ruled the companies publishing the papers—the Evening American and Morning Herald and Examiner—had maintained organized opposition to the guild and favored a rival AFL union, the newspaper commercial associates.

Committee To Study Facts In Seat Contests

Inauguration Today As Preliminary Plans Of Organization Go On

DES MOINES, Jan. 11 (AP)—A thorough sifting of all details and allegations before the Iowa house of representatives delves into contests pending for the seats of three members was promised tonight by Rep. William Judd (R) of Clinton.

Judd's statement followed a meeting of an investigating committee named today by Speaker John R. Irwin to determine if sufficient grounds existed to conduct extended contest hearings with the attendant expense upon the state. Two years ago, it was pointed out, nine contests cost $4,000 and resulted in the contestants losing out in each instance.

Judd said his committee would ask all of the contestants and the representatives whose seats are under fire to appear before his group next Monday afternoon with their attorneys. "We want to know," said Judd, chairman of the committee, "just what these allegations amount to."

On the other hand there were indications the Judd committee might vote to disregard the contests and recommend the seating of the three members, two democrats, Mrs. Frank M. Elliott of Bronson and Howard P. Beckerman of Davenport, and one republican, T. H. Broderson of Battle Creek.

Temporary disposal of the contest problem provided the only legislative action in either house or senate as the third day of the session closed. The senate, after a 17-minute morning session, recessed to meet tomorrow with the house for Governor-elect George A. Wilson's inaugural address.

Both branches after the joint session in the afternoon will call a halt until Tuesday.

The house also had a rules committee at work drafting regulatory provisions expected to expedite the session. Important changes were expected with reference to a shortened period for introduction of measures and for their speedy handling in committee.

Tomorrow all action and interest will center upon the inauguration of Governor Wilson and the retirement of Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel.

Both branches of the assembly were due to meet at 10 a.m., but for only a brief period, for at 2 o'clock, the incoming governor will be sworn in and then will deliver his message and recommendations to the republican-controlled house and senate. Lieut. Governor-elect B. B. Hickenlooper of Cedar Rapids, will be sworn in at the same time.

Sharecroppers Take to Highways

Inclement Weather and Disease Face Ragged Army of 1,000

NEW MADRID, Mo., Jan. 11 (AP)—Huddled tonight around flickering roadside campfires, hundreds of southeast Missouri sharecropper families—demonstrating against a low economic status—determinedly faced probable rain or snow, shrinking food supplies and the danger of disease.

Many of the ragged army of more than 1,000 men, women and children, most of them Negroes, were ill-prepared to face the predicted inclement weather.

Tents and improvised shelters of bed clothing offered little protection from the chill wind that ushered in their second night in the open air.

The march to the highways was called as a protest against the growing movement in the cotton country to abandon sharecropping in favor of the employment of day laborers. Leaders of the demonstration contended some landowners had evicted their renters to avoid sharing crop benefit payments with them.

In Washington, the agricultural adjustment administration, which sent an investigator to study the situation, said government payments might be withheld from landlords changing the status of their sharecroppers to that of day workers.

Various landowners in the "boothel" area blamed the situation on Missouri's tremendous gain in farm population in recent years, restricted cotton acreage, the shift from manual labor and mule power to modern motorized farming, and losses suffered by some operators under the share-cropper system. Many former 'croppers—'day hands' during the recent cotton season—were in the groups whose camps were scattered along 150 miles of U. S. highways 60 and 61.

Sewing machines, dressers, tables and beds were stacked along the road in disarray. Groups took turns sleeping in dilapidated automobiles. Others slept on corn shuck mattresses or blankets.

A few had oil-barrel stoves and the familiar rural pot-bellied iron stoves to provide warmth and heat for preparing meals. Some of the more provident brought cooking chickens with them, but fat pork, bread and coffee was the fare for the majority of the refugees.

Medical authorities, fearful of the danger of disease, expressed concern for the health of the farm families.

CHANGE RULES Iowa Solons Approve Shorter Sessions

DES MOINES, Jan. 11 (AP)—The 48th Iowa assembly is only three days old but the members are talking about adjournment.

Rep. Arch McFarlane (R) at Waterloo, and Rep. Gustave Alesch (D) of Marcus, referred to the session's end today when the former suggested rule changes to expedite the session and the latter voiced objection to adjournment after Thursday's inaugural until Tuesday afternoon.

Alesch contended the session could be concluded within or in advance of the 100 days allocated by law if extended adjournments are avoided.

$10,000 LOST Suit Claims Government Bank Took Bill

CINCINNATI, Jan. 11 (AP)—Harry Gross found a $10,000 gold certificate in his dry cleaning shop in July, 1937, and, according to a suit filed today, he has been trying to convince the government ever since that it's "the McCoy."

Gross, in his action against the federal reserve bank at Cleveland, said about one-fifth of the bill was torn off when he found it. He took it to the bank's Cincinnati branch and it was sent to Washington. The treasury refused to honor it, however.

Gross claims the bank converted the certificate to its own use. He seeks $10,000 and interest.

THE WEAKER Woman Prevents Escape From Jail

MOULTRIE, Ga., Jan. 11 (AP)—Brandishing a mop handle, Mrs. T. V. Beard, wife of the sheriff of Colquitt county, herded 15 prisoners upstairs and prevented their escape after 15 others had fled by using a key fashioned from a cell cot.

Mrs. Beard was alone at the jail when one group gained freedom yesterday. Hearing the commotion, she grabbed a mop and stopped the second group. Four of the fugitives had been recaptured today.

Murtagh Recommends $3,608,000 for S.U.I. Legislative Allotment

Benny Explains to Reporters

Jack Benny, radio comedian, is questioned by reporters on his arrival at New York from Hollywood, to appear before a federal grand jury to tell what he knows about the alleged smuggling activities of Albert N. Chaperau. Chaperau was found guilty on a previous smuggling charge.

Chaperau To Aid Prosecutor

Guilty Plea Entered; Indictment Charges Conspiracy With Benny

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP)—Albert N. Chaperau, who escaped customs inspection of jewels and Parisian finery on a false claim of diplomatic immunity, pleaded guilty today to a smuggling indictment charging conspiracy with Radio Comedian Jack Benny.

His attorney followed the surprise move by saying Chaperau, who had a wide acquaintance in Hollywood and on Broadway, would "help the government" by telling of smuggling activities.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph L. Delaney said later, however, that Chaperau had not yet done so.

The indictment against Chaperau and Benny, returned by a federal grand jury yesterday, alleged they smuggled, concealed and transported $2,131 worth of jewelry. Benny, who flew here from California to appear before the grand jury, indignantly denied the charges and, after pleading innocent, was released in $1,000 bond, pending trial on Jan. 24.

Chaperau, who posed as a commercial attaché for Nicaragua, also has been named in other indictments with George Burns, screen and radio comedian, and Mrs. Edgar J. Lauer, wife of a New York state supreme court justice.

Both Mrs. Lauer and Burns pleaded guilty, while Chaperau pleaded innocent in the Burns case and was convicted in the Lauer case. His trial in the Burns case was postponed today until Friday and his sentencing on the conviction and guilty plea was deferred until after the Benny trial.

Gigantic WPA Slash Forecast

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—The United States conference of mayors estimated in a statement today that 1,151,300 WPA workers would lose their jobs by June 30 if congress should slash the emergency relief appropriation from $875,000,000 to $725,000,000.

The reduced figure was approved by a house appropriations sub-committee after President Roosevelt had recommended the larger amount to carry WPA to the end of the fiscal year.

Other estimates of the number of workers who would be dropped ranged from 500,000, a semi-official prediction by persons connected with WPA, to a figure between 600,000 and 1,200,000 forecast by the workers alliance.

Meanwhile, democrats handling the big work relief bill in the house changed their tactics in an apparent effort to make republicans share responsibility for any reduction finally voted.

The democratic-controlled sub-committee stood pat on its recommendation of a $150,000,000 slash, but some members were reported to be apprehensive that if the house considered only the smaller sum republicans would not be on record on the two amounts and thus would be able to tell constituents that the democratic majority was responsible for curtailed WPA spending.

$7,132,000 Is Suggested For 5 Institutions

Iowa State May Get $2,490,000; I. S. T. C. Allotment $650,000

DES MOINES, Jan. 11 (AP)—State Comptroller C. B. Murtagh today recommended to the Iowa legislature that it appropriate a total of $7,132,000 a year for the support, repairs and improvements of five institutions under the board of education.

The recommendation is $710,000 more than was appropriated for the institutions by the last legislature, but $1,328,500 less than the yearly amounts requested by the institutions for support.

Largest amount recommended was $3,608,000 a year for the University of Iowa at Iowa City, which received a yearly appropriation of $3,234,000 from the 47th general assembly for support in 1937 and 1938.

The university had asked a total of $4,306,500.

Earlier the comptroller recommended the increase of the support allowance of patients in Iowa's mental institutions from 53 to 70 cents a day, and an annual budget of $4,411,898 for these hospitals.

This recommended budget was $798,817 above the amount appropriated for the 15 institutions by the last general assembly, but $726,737 short of the $5,138,635 asked yearly by them for the next biennium.

Iowa State college at Ames was budgeted by the comptroller at a total of $2,490,000 a year, $340,000 a year more than the institution received in the last biennium, but $460,000 a year short of its askings.

The recommendations of the comptroller must be considered by the legislature which appropriates the money, and can be increased or decreased by the assembly.

The detailed report of the comptroller to the legislature for the board of education institutions follows:

Death of Oliphant Deprives New Deal Of 'Inside' Adviser

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—Death deprived the new deal of one of its most powerful inside advisers when Herman Oliphant succumbed to a heart ailment in naval hospital today at the age of 54.

Officially, Oliphant was only general counsel of the treasury, but actually he was an important White House consultant on major problems, and was primarily responsible for enactment of the controversial undistributed corporate profits tax in 1936.

Japanese 'Diplomacy' Backfires

IT IS HARDLY to be expected that a nation whose instincts in its relations with other nations are essentially predatory will be restrained by considerations of consistency. Nevertheless, it is interesting to note that Japan, which is bitterly resentful of even an implied criticism of its policies in domestic affairs, has not hesitated to inject a meddling hand in our own.

Japan is aggrieved because Secretary Morgenthau has decided to continue the arrangements for dollar credits based on Chinese gold reserves in this country. This is essentially a business transaction which has worked out satisfactorily in the past and which has been found expedient and mutually satisfactory to continue.

Tokyo complains that the action of the United States in extending financial aid to China has the effect of prolonging the war. Yet, when Secretary Hull finds occasion to protest against Japanese abuse of American rights during the course of the war in China, Tokyo responds that there is no war, that Japan is merely engaged in the difficult process of civilizing a backward nation.

Insofar as our financial aid to China is concerned, Japan is experiencing the consequences of her own hypocrasies and pretensions. If Japan had taken the trouble to declare war formally, the United States would have been prevented by the Neutrality act from dealing with China—and Japan. But Japan, fighting for more than a year with every military and economic resource available working at top speed, declares to Secretary Hull and the world at large that there is no war in China, at least as far as Japan is concerned.

Japan, with her imperialistic aims, has been dancing for a long time to the same tune. The time has come now when she must pay the fiddler.

The late Dr. Frank Vizetelly often said that a man who is educated should know 50,000 words. Including the right one to use when the garage door is blown off on a windy night?

Washington statisticians say the United States lacks 21 materials essential to war. That is understating the requirements by one if the desires of most of us count.

Pure or Pro—Who Should Cast the Stones?

DESPITE WIDE-SPREAD criticism of the "hypocrisy" in modern collegiate football systems, it would seem that the ugly head of hypocritical proselytizing is still resting on our bosoms—and will remain there for some time.

In Tuesday's sports pages, a story from Los Angeles stated that 14 college football players in a certain institution of learning on the west coast were contemplating leaving school because promised jobs and scholarships did not appear.

This brought back to mind a statement Bill Spaulding, coach of the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins, made early this fall. At a meeting of the "Big Ten club" in the Biltmore hotel, Spaulding closed his address to the group by saying, "yes, we could have used—and on our football team this year but my friend at Southern California outbid us."

The hypocrisy isn't very bad on the coast or in the south—at least subsidization is a recognized evil and it's done above board.

Recently, though, Big Ten athletic board came forth with the profound suggestion that schools practicing "pure" athletics should sever relations with schools not so qualifying.

To draw this line in good faith would be a large assignment.

The veteran "Pop" Warner sums up our opinion on the matter when he says that "there have always been athletes needing financial help and there always will be, I suppose. As far as I know, there are few cases where these needy men were not taken care of by someone. The only difference that I can see is that some of us are more careful how we work."

While this board may have had the right idea about "cleaning-up athletics, who would be in a position to decide who was pure and who was pro?

Football may need reorganizing in its "morals," but we do not think that clouding the issues will bring about anything but more glaring hypocrisy.

Prime Minister Chamberlain's applause of President Roosevelt's warning to dictator nations somehow reminds us of the enthusiastic advice a manager gives a prize fighter: "Get in there, he can't hurt us."

Wider highways have added many new benefits to driving, says an editorial writer. Including better opportunities for a four-car crash.

The man at the next desk can't understand the title of that film, "Ferdinand the Bull." He asks whoever heard of a cop with a name like that?

A GOOD SIZE-UP OF PAN-AMERICA

Alf M. Landon, back from Lima where he served on the American delegation to the Pan-American conference, says that the success of Fascist propaganda in South America has been exaggerated but that there has been no exaggeration of the extent of the propaganda itself.

He added that the United States needs to develop its cultural ties with the countries below the equator, and that the major value of such conferences as the one at Lima "lies in the intangibles, such as contacts." The American delegation accomplished much along that line, in his judgment.

On the basis of all other information that sounds impressive and unhyperstical, we are inclined to think that Governor Landon has sized up the propaganda situation admirably.

Of course the Germans and Italians are at it. They are at it by short wave radio, by the activity of salesmen in a hundred ways, but the exerting of such influence as they can on German and Italian racial minorities, by the influence of their air lines, and in plenty of other ways.

Here and there, in spots, no doubt they have accomplished something. But on the whole our guess is that the Fascists are far from having command of public opinion in Central or South America, that to a large extent their propaganda is self-defeating, that their arbitrary trade tactics often irritate even when temporarily they compel results.

Most important of all, we surmise that the tradition of republicanism, the revered memory of the Bolshars, is still extremely powerful, even though in many of the countries the actual present governments fall short of being completely democratic.

Let the United States follow policies of friendliness, respect and decency toward the other American countries, big or little, as we have been doing for quite some time now, and let us, as Governor Landon advises, cultivate in the same open and friendly way the field of cultural ties, and in this newspaper's judgment our relations with "Latin America" will improve steadily, no matter what the European dictators do.

From every standpoint we of the United States need to know vastly more about our neighbors of this hemisphere. Except as to Canada, we are amazingly uninformed. While we teach ourselves, in our own interest, we shall be deservedly complimenting our neighbors. We can trust them to reciprocate in the matter of educating themselves about us.

The Register, furthermore, agrees with Governor Landon that important as the immediate, concrete agreements signed at Lima may prove to be, the more important gains lie in the zone of contacts and understanding. —The Des Moines Register

AROUND THE TOWN

With MERLE MILLER

Bill Petersen, who's the largest Gilbert and Sullivan library in these parts, will narrate the continuity of the Union's "exam" part, Jan. 29. It'll be a two-hour "Iolanthe" playing.

The smuggling indictment probably won't hurt the Benny popularity much. Burns-Allen were on the way out anyway. But I do hope Mary and Jack have the g-u-t-s to be funny about it all come Sunday.

As he says, my favorite prof, the crime's no worse than stealing hotel towels. We'd all do it, if we only had the chance.

The Mooney broadcast was swell, surprising considering he's been in prison since before commercial casting came in. Incidentally, none of the papers reported he read a book a day while the 22 years passed. He did.

This really did happen. A man we all know was standing on Racine's corner waiting for the bus when one of those now-adays occasional chaps came along, said, "Fellow, I got a nickel for a cuppa coffee. Could you give me another for some do-nuts?" Our chap nodded, searched his pockets through and apologized.

"Sorry, I haven't a cent in change. Guess I'll have to cash a check." ... So the beggar grabbed his hand, pressed a nickel in it, and really did say, "Here take mine. It'll save you a lot of trouble."

Low-Down The real-low down on the Dean Rutledge and supreme court deal is this. Sen. Guy Gillette thought an Iowa man ought to have it. Being a good friend of that Iowan in Washington, H. S. Miller, he hinted that fact in Miller's ear, along with half-a-dozen other names. Wiley B. Rutledge's was one.

So, off and on, 'Over the Coffee during the last eight weeks (It was late in the summer when Gillette whispered) would hint that such and such an Iowan might be a supreme court nominee.

Dean Rutledge's name was mentioned, along with the others. Peculiar reaction, though. His was the only one that the public took to.

So Gillette whispered again, this time to Dick Wilson, an Iowa grad and D. M. Register correspondent in Washington. Wilson sent a story on Dean Rutledge and the justice department, also routine. ... And the rumor grew.

Now, unless the week's letter from Washington is all wrong, Senators Gillette and Herring are saying, "Yes, we'll approve this man Frankfurter, but next time—when Brandeis gets out probably—it'd better be our man."

Dean Wiley Rutledge is the man. Dodie Carlson Wednesday began rehearsals on what'll be the theater season's headliner. I mean G. B. S. "St. Joan." An English department prof has written a novel about college life, plans to submit it to the publish-

Vocal highlight of the occasion will be Miss Pons (we'll still call her that) rendition of "The Blue Danube," one of the most popular selections in the coloratura soprano's repertoire.

Also the two report — if and when—it's published there'll be faculty heads, older if not blusher frequently. Fiction is stranger than truth—but not much.

QUEER: A fourth of students in universities and colleges belong to Greek-letter clubs. Only one-twentieth of one per cent study Greek.

I was happy to learn in Wednesday's fieldhouse that at Friday night's quite exclusive Military Ball, "Uniforms will be desired but NOT required." The caps are the military department's. (P.S. Remember last year?)

A musician has suggested to Dr. Clapp that maybe Mr. Bach's work ought to be lived up to a bit. He's suggested Flat Foot Fugue as a starter.

Grant Wood, in searching for subjects, ought to wander toward Iowa Union some morning about 10 or so. Out on the sun porch the panorama he'd see's worth a picture. ... It might, I think, be titled, "Higher Education." Don't laugh.

One of the few Iowa City resident-refugees received a letter from a friend in Czechoslovakia the other day, one that read very simply (and in German). "I was fine and so was the country." ... In both cases the past tense of "is" was underlined. (It got past the censor.)

What university official had to make an almost-flying trip to New York as the result of a casual remark an Iowa City columnist made about music and musician's unions?

Well, there are still tickets left to the Military Ball. ... And no one was injured in the general rush.

MR. AND MRS.

Andre Kostelanetz, she the former Lily Pons, he the man who has taught America that modern music of the popular variety can be made much more beautiful than anyone had supposed, return to the airwaves tonight on their first program since they became man and wife last summer.

It's the premiere broadcast of "Tune-Up Time," the new Kostelanetz series presenting Walter O'Keefe as master of ceremonies and Kay Thompson's "Rhythm Singers." The time: 9 o'clock. The network: Columbia.

Distinctive orchestral high spot tonight will be the Kostelanetz special arrangement of the classical composer Schumann's "Happy Farmer." A simple melody this, which has been orchestrated into a modern rhythm and its streamlined version titled, "Happy Farmer Goes to Town."

The Kostelanetz touch will be well demonstrated by the adroit use of the string section of his 45-piece orchestra in a unique arrangement of the current hit song, "Simple and Sweet." Vocal highlight of the occasion will be Miss Pons (we'll still call her that) rendition of "The Blue Danube," one of the most popular selections in the coloratura soprano's repertoire.

FRANCHOT TONE

Health Hints

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

We take for granted many of the most important functions of the body. They are so much a part of us that we do not notice them. We may worry about our digestion or our circulation, but such a thing as our temperature is a matter of course.

And yet, it is a very wonderful thing that our bodies are maintained all the time, without the variation of more than a fraction of a degree, at exactly the same temperature level — winter and summer — whether the external temperature is 20 below zero or 110 in the shade. It takes a very delicate balance of factors to keep it there.

It is as if we had a thermostat inside, except that the regulation of body temperature is done far more efficiently and is controlled by a far more delicate mechanism than any made by human hands. There is no waste and no variation in the thermostat control of the body.

Chemical Factors

The factors which keep the balance are the chemical ones which cause heat production and the physical ones which cause heat loss.

Heat production is entirely due to the amount of combustion going on in the cells of the body. It is, of course, the burning of food, mostly in the muscles, which causes it. Increased muscular activity promptly raises the body temperature from two to four degrees, but this rise is soon checked by the factors of heat loss. The thyroid gland, through its secretion, exercises a general control over heat production.

Balance Astonishing

The astonishing thing is the balance maintained by these two sets of factors. The food is burned and cell energy is maintained just enough to balance the loss from skin and lungs. Many factors enter into this. When you go out on a cold day, you can see that your hands and face get pale. This change occurs in the skin all over the body, which means that the blood is kept away from the surface to cut down radiation. Later, when you have walked or run around to get warmth, the blood vessels of the surface skin dilate so as to dissipate the extra heat.

Heat loss is effected mainly through the skin, but partly through the lungs and the surface of the nose and tongue. A man sitting in a cool room, fully clothed, will effect 45 per cent of his heat loss by radiation from the skin, 30 per cent by convection and the rest by evaporation from the lungs and skin.

Archaeologist to Be Baconian Lecture

Talks Tonight In Old Capitol

Recent Excavations In Iowa Is Subject Of Cornell Professor

Prof. Charles R. Keyes, head of the German department at Cornell college in Mt. Vernon and director of the Iowa archaeological survey, will give the sixth Baconian lecture here at 7:30 tonight in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

Professor Keyes has been an archaeologist for the State Historical society for the past eight or ten years. He will speak on "Recent Archaeological Excavations in Iowa."

He has been conducting a survey of Iowa for the society and his work is regarded by experts in that field as the very best that is being carried on in America.

In the course of his survey he has made many discoveries in relation to the prehistoric inhabitation of the Iowa country.

Professor Keyes has discovered and explored many mounds and village sites. In an earlier day it was thought that the mounds were constructed by people who preceded the Indians in the occupancy of many regions in the United States.

The work of the archaeologist and others has lead definitely to the conclusion that the mound builders were Indians. Professor Keyes is preparing a comprehensive report which will embody his survey.

Particularly during the last three years, he has made great progress, having received the assistance of a considerable number of WPA workers.

The collection, illustrative of Iowa archaeology made by Prof. Keyes, has been deposited with the State Historical society of Iowa in Schaeffer hall. This is a study of research collection, not a collection for exhibition. As a volume of material for the research student, it is unsurpassed, so far as the Iowa region is concerned.

One of Professor Keyes' most interesting discoveries is definite connections between the historic Iowa Indians and a prehistoric culture.

Professor Keyes studied archaeology as a student at Harvard and from that institution received his Ph. D. degree. He later studied archaeology in the German universities. During the summer he was instrumental in guiding MacKinley Kantor to mounds which the noted Iowa author was interested in exploring.

Mildred Mott, daughter of Prof. Frank L. Mott, director of the school of journalism, has worked with Professor Keyes in the Iowa field.

Baha'i Peace Plan Explained

Altrusa Club Hears Talk on Need For World Spiritual Unity

Mrs. Gayle Woolson of St. Paul, Minn., was guest speaker at the meeting of the Altrusa club yesterday noon in the Jefferson hotel. Mrs. Woolson had as her subject "The Basis for World Peace." She is lecturing under the auspices of the Baha'i cause, an international organization represented in 43 countries of the world.

In discussing her topic, she stated that the Baha'i plan for world peace was based on organic and spiritual unity of the world. Due to the discoveries of science, the world-wide expansion of commerce and industry which have made the world interdependent and a single closely-knit neighborhood, peace plans that are universal in their scope are essential, said Mrs. Woolson.

The Baha'i plan for a unified world is the establishment of a union of all the nations of the world with a world government. This governing unit would include a world legislature, tribunal, executive, code of international law, uniform system of currency, and weights and measures, he explains. The adoption of a world language would be compulsory, she added.

Mrs. Woolson explained further that the Baha'i cause advocates universal peace and unification not only among nations but also among the races, classes and religions. This unification can be accomplished only by the spiritual power endowed in a Divine Revelation such as this universal program revealed in 1863 by Baha'u'llah, a world spiritual educator, who was born in Persia in 1817.

Hair Dressers Still Debate Acceptance Of New Coiffures

Up-hair-dos are still a moot question with the big league hair dressers. New York debutantes have almost without exception refused to accept the new arrangements and most big balls and important coming out parties have seen the debbies wearing their hair shoulder length, with a childish bow or coquetish flowers at the top. The resort season, however, hair dressers say, will find a return of the upsweppt coiffures, chiefly because the style is more convenient. In Miami the coiffure with curls piled high on the head is increasingly seen and the new L'Aiglon cut is gaining rapid popularity.

Col. Jacob Ruppert Sinking Fast; Doctor Gives Up Hope

Condition Of Yankee Owner Very Serious

Beer Baron Not Expected to Last Through the Night

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP) — Col. Jacob Ruppert's personal physician tonight gave up hope for the recovery of the multi-millionaire brewer, baseball magnate and real estate titan but expressed a belief that the 71-year-old bachelor's unusual vitality might carry him through the night.

"Colonel Ruppert's condition is very, very serious," said Dr. Otto Schwerdtfeger as he left the Ruppert home on Upper Fifth avenue. "The end is very near."

Gathered about the bedside were his close relatives, including his brother George, and his sister, Mrs. Harry Garrison Silcock Jr. He talked with them during wakeful intervals and commented especially about the spring-like weather.

The doctor's midnight bulletin said there was no change in Ruppert's condition and that he was asleep again.

Previously to the Ruppert regime, the New York Yankees had always been the dump of the American league. With the sale of the ball club to both Col. Huston and Col. Ruppert, the Yankees started their up-hill climb to baseball supremacy.

At first, the Yanks under Miller Higgins bought Babe Ruth from Boston for an unheard of price at that time. At the same time Ruppert succeeded in getting Ed Barrow, manager of the world championship Boston Red Sox of 1916 and 1918 as his business manager. In turn the building up of a great farm system followed and the championship teams of 1921, '22, '23, '26, '27, '28, '32, '36, '37 and the present world's champions.

Ruppert, when Col. Huston retired, more than anyone else had to deal with Babe Ruth. It was he who paid him $80,000 and $75,000 for a season of play. It was Ruppert more than any one else who suffered from the "Bam's" "tummy-ache."

Ruppert is one of the wealthiest men in the country. In addition to his gigantic brewery in New York, he has real estate holdings second only to the Astor family in New York City, besides one of the most beautiful yachts in New York harbor and a huge estate at Garrison, N. Y.

Early Delivery Wins Hialeah Park Inaugural Race

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 11 (AP) — Mrs. W. Plunket Stewart's Early Delivery, a long shot ridden by Don Meade, the comb-back jockey, reced to a camera triumph today in the $5,000 added Hialeah park inaugural handicap. He paid $40.10 for $2 straight.

Meade, recently reinstated after a two-year setdown, showed his old skill as he booted home Early Delivery, a non-winner in eight 1938 starts, a scant nose in front of Felix Spatola's Wise Prince. Another outsider, Bomar stable's Benjam, finished a length and a half back.

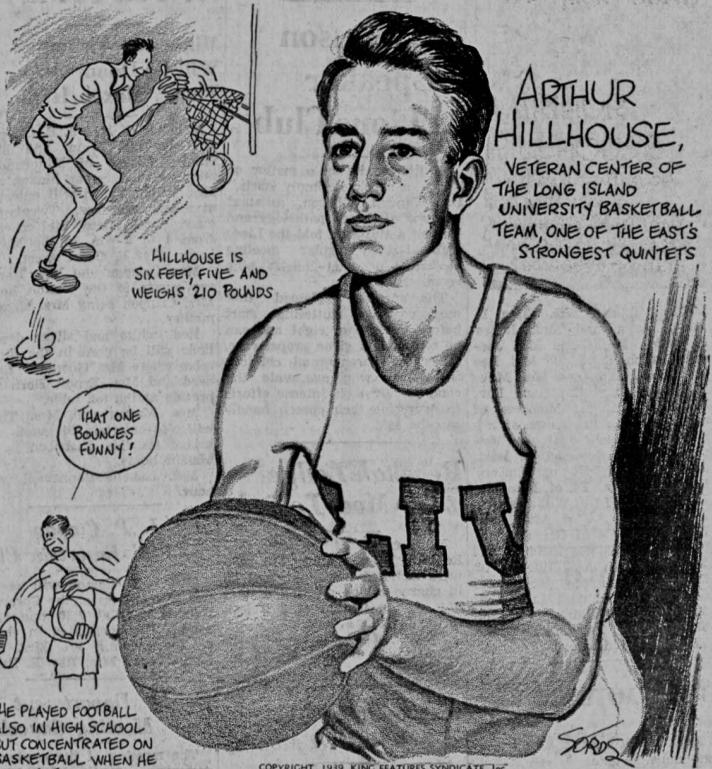

A colorful crowd of more than 12,000 watched the race.

Townsend B. Martin's entry Galapas and Bigey, favored in the betting, was never a factor in the race today.

Early Delivery, stepping the six furlongs in 1:10 2-5, earned $5,070 for Mrs. Stewart. He paid $12.70 to place and $7.70 to show. Wise Prince refunded $6.80 and $5.50 while Benjam returned $12.40 to show.

Mike Howard Prepares Wrestling Team For Conference Opener With Wisconsin

Mike Howard and his Hawkeye wrestlers, with their tie against the powerful Kansas State outfit as the start of what may be quite a successful season, take on Wisconsin at the fieldhouse tomorrow night.

Mike's outfit, which Monday night proved that it had profited through the experience that Phil Millen, Kenny Kingsbury and a few others received last season, will meet in the Badger squad three major letter winners of last year, and four other holdovers from last season. One sophomore, Jerome Halada, 121 pounds, will be on the starting list.

Halada will however, face another sophomore in the Iowa 121 pounder, Billy Sherman, but Sherman, who came through in good shape against his Kansas State opponent, is one of the most highly rated of the Hawkeyes.

Clarence Kemp looks to be in for a tough battle, for Kemp will have the job of meeting Capt. John Anderson of the Badgers. Other major "W" winners of last season that the Hawks will face are Kenneth Newbury, 145 and Chester Platkiewicz, 175.

Don Merry, heavyweight, Robert Wright, 136, and Verne Knoll, 128, were all on last year's Wisconsin squad, but did not win

Scoring Slump Worries Hawk Cage Coach

Seeking a bit more harmony in what has come to be known as "the one man band," Coach Rollie Williams yesterday paced the Hawkeyes through one of the longest sessions of the season.

Some of the members of the band played a few sour notes in the two conference clashes to date and Williams is worried.

His chief concern is what will happen to the Iowans on those nights when Stephens falters in the torrid scoring spree which has sent him soaring to the top of the pile for high point honors in the Big Ten.

With the high-scoring Purdue quintet due in town Saturday night, and the apparently rejuvenated Chicago Maroons to be met on their home floor Monday night, Iowa must develop more scoring punch if either of these tilts are to be salvaged.

The Maroons, after a slow start, earned the respect of the entire league by holding the Wisconsin Badgers to four field goals in their recent clash.

The Boiler-makers, too, seem to be under full steam as the conference race settles down into its usual free-for-all tempo.

Defensively, Iowa is not doing badly. Not even the high-geared Gophers were able to swamp the line of defense. The trouble seems to lie in the fact that the ball doesn't behave except on those occasions when Stephens does the shooting.

However, a near capacity crowd is expected to see the Hawkeyes Saturday night when they make another effort to win their first conference game at the expense of "Piggy" Lambert's brigade.

Oklahoma Aggies Win STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — The Oklahoma Aggies staged a spirited comeback in the last half of their Missouri valley basketball game with Tulsa university last night, overtook the Hurricane and won, 32-27, in the first overtime game here in several years.

"I'm not even going to golf," said the 76-year-old leader of the A's. "I may do a little fishing, however."

Swim Schedule Complete With Addition of Badgers for Meet

Dave Armbruster, Hawkeye swim coach, has straightened out the matter of the two tentative meets on his schedule, with the result that Wisconsin will be at the fieldhouse Feb. 18 and Iowa will not meet Illinois as had been originally planned.

This gives Dave five dual meets, two of them in the fieldhouse pool. Opening date for the Iowa men will be at Chicago, Feb. 4, but the Hawks will get another chance at the freshmen this Saturday.

Bob Allen, who now handles first year men, will put his crew into this meet with the hopes of making up for the narrow margin by which his boys were defeated by the varsity a month ago.

According to Armbruster, the varsity has not yet had time to get into the best of shape since the holidays, with the exception of the contingent that went to Florida. Also, Al Armbruster is still suffering from a cold, but will be back into competition in a few days. Francis Heydt, who had also been having some trouble, is ready to go again, and Karl Ahlgren, laid up for two months, has again entered the water.

Latest hint of good fortune for Iowa, is the word that Bill Tesla, star distance swimmer, may be back in school the second semester.

Blues Look Good in Workout Against Whetstone Quintet

Meet West Liberty Tomorrow Night; Team Improved

In quest of a more potent attack before the West Liberty encounter Friday night, Coach Paul Brechler sent his U-High cage squad through a long vigorous scrimmage, against a team from Whetstone house yesterday.

For the first time since the holidays the Blue and White lads seemed to be rounding into mid-season form. Ball handling and passing showed a marked improvement, and team play in general looked better.

Owen Morgan and Murray Dawson, alternate forwards, showed signs of becoming scoring threats as they drove through the Whetstone defense for numerous set-up shots.

To somewhat offset the improvement in passing and ball handling, the locals still missed numerous good close in shots. Also their defense for the first time failed to function properly. On several occasions U-High's zone defense was sucked completely out of position by the clever passing attack of the men from Whetstone house.

To add further to Brechler's worries, Capt. Ed Burns, who has been counted on for at least part time duty in Friday's game, turned up with an infected right hand that may keep him on the sidelines this week.

From previous games played this season West Liberty appears to have one of the highest scoring quintets in the conference. Their attack, which is built around three veterans, Lane, Nauman and Heasley, was successful in scoring a 43 to 32 victory against West Branch, while the Blue and White lads could do no better than score a 26 to 14 decision against the same team.

In addition to the varsity game the U-High sophomores will tangle with the West Liberty reserves in a curtain raiser.

Johnny Stone Out of Game

Fails to Recover From Illness Which Put Him on Shelf

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP) — Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, learned with sadness today that Johnny Stone—ill at Saranac Lake, N. Y.—won't come back to baseball this year.

"Johnny," he said, "is gaining weight and getting along fine, but his doctors have advised him against trying to play this season."

The big outfielder is one of baseball's strangest cases. When he went south with the Senators last year he looked to be one of the game's most robust figures. He weighed 180, stood six feet tall, and had a hearty appetite.

The previous year he had been one of the Senators' outstanding performers.

The 1938 season came along and Johnny couldn't get going. Always one of the game's silent men, he kept his troubles to himself.

His face began to look gaunt, but Johnny kept on playing, never complaining. Finally he became too weak to play. Griffith sent him to a lung specialist.

The physician shook his head. "Only a man with tremendous courage," he said, "could have kept playing the way he was."

Down The SPORTS TRAIL WITH WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — On first glance it does seem illogical, like looking like he could get out and play plenty of tackle today, and as a matter of fact he was quite a lad on the Notre Dame football team about 1903. He's called Shag, and the nickname fits him to a "T."

Chief Advantage
"The chief advantage of the system, which we call the Governor's Cup series in our league, is that interest in the race is maintained until the final games," he explained.

"Before, one team might go far out in front, with the result it often disposed of its good players before the season ended, and the other clubs, hopelessly out of it, did likewise. Performance suffered, interest lagged, and the fan end of a campaign found the teams just going through the motions and the fans not going through the gates.

"Now, virtually all clubs having a chance to get in on the playoffs until almost the final game, the teams remain at full strength, and the major league clubs don't dare raid a team before the season ends. The fans wouldn't stand for it."

Players Benefit
Shaughnessy also pointed out the clubs reap comparatively little financial benefit from the playoffs, the players getting the big share of the melon. In 1937 some of the Newark players made more out of the playoffs than they made during the season.

Dial Ext. 491 If You Would Reserve Handball Court

Celebrators may reserve tables at nightclubs, newlyweds may reserve hotel rooms, but there is such a situation at the University of Iowa fieldhouse too, according to Dave Armbruster, who, because of the press of business, has been forced to have handball players make reservations.

The new system, beginning at the start of the second semester, will have prospective handball players reserving courts on an hourly basis, but without the cover charge that is used in night clubs. The reservations may be made by phoning the fieldhouse, extension 491.

Hawklets in Long Drill For Clash With Franklin Quintet

Appear Listless But Merten Refuses To Worry About Charges

Looking unimpressive in last night's drill, the Iowa City Little Hawks continued their hard work in preparation for their jaunt to Cedar Rapids Friday night where they will mix with the Franklin high five.

Merten refused to worry about the showing of his boys in practice, basing his confidence on their ability to snap out of their doldrums when the necessity arises. It was in the Clinton game only that the Hawklets were unable to emerge from their listless play and pull the game out of the fire.

John "Dusty" Maher looked good in the drills from set offensive formations as he poured in basket after basket during the session. While the others were unable to hit with much consistency last night, Merten expressed his belief that they would be back in form for Friday's game.

Besides their offensive drill, Merten again gave his Red and White warriors a big dose of fundamentals when he paired them for offensive and defensive maneuvers. No planned plays were used but accurate passing, good footwork and tight guarding were stressed.

Defense has come in for much attention during this week's practices as Coach Merten has a healthy respect for McKinley's scoring power. Against East Waterloo last week the Bears rolled in 34 points while going down in defeat.

A defeat tomorrow night will drop the Hawklets to a .500 rating while a win will give them a strong claim for fourth position. Should East trip West Waterloo, the Little Hawks will have undisputed possession of third.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP)—Jock Sutherland, the silent, successful coach of Pittsburgh's football teams for the last 15 years, will coach the eastern college all stars of 1939 for the New York Herald-Tribune's fresh air fund game against the world professional champions, the New York Giants.

Stanley Woodward, director of the game and sports editor of the paper, made the announcement today that Jock, less familiarly known as Dr. John Bain Sutherland, would pick up where Andy Kerr of Colgate left off.

Unbeaten LIU Cagers Defeat Marquette Five

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP)—Long Island university's unbeaten basketball Blackbirds got the scare of their lives tonight before coming from behind in the final 10 minutes to whip Marquette's red hot passers 41 to 34 before a crowd of 12,483 in Madison Square Garden.

Dan Kaplowitz, slim, speedy forward, went to work midway in the second half and sparked the winning drive that stretched the Blackbirds' victory to 10 straight.

The Long Islanders needed his six-point sharpshooting in that stretch drive to offset the one-man show Marquette's "Sparky" Adams put on in the first period to enable the mid-westerners to leave the court at half-time trailing by only a two-point margin, 20-18.

In the opener of the double-header, St. John's of Brooklyn had to finish fast to outscore St. Joseph's of Philadelphia 43 to 31 and, like Long Island, remain among the undefeated.

As usual, Art Hillhouse, six-foot-six center, paced the Long Island point-making, clicking for 14 points. But in the final analysis it was the continual drive of the Blackbirds that really meant the ball game. For a time, especially when the Hill Toppers sported a six point edge at 33-27 midway of the second half, it appeared they might upset Long Island.

BITS about Sports

By J. DENNIS SULLIVAN

Dick Crayne, crashing Hawkeye fullback of other years, arrived in town yesterday and reports are that he's here to cast a feeler toward the athletic department in regards possibility of employment under the new coaching regime.

His career—both a college and professional player—has been marked with more than average success. It may be that the athletic board could do a great deal worse than give Dick a chance to employ his talents toward betterment of the Hawkeye grid situation.

Benny Stephens, sensational Iowa scoring ace, and Erwin Prasse, currently establishing a reputation as one of the better cage guards in the conference, will appear on a sports broadcast over WSUI tonight at 8:00. They will be introduced during the course of the broadcast as Stephens, Prasse and Seller will engage in a review of general sports knowledge.

We'll be pulling for you, Bill, but it seems you are traveling in fast company and don't figure to look too good in that sort of competition. However, the program should prove interesting and lovers of athletics are assured of an enjoyable half hour.

Rumors have it that one of Iowa's coaches will be shaking the soil of this fair state from 'neath his dogs in the near future for a position with a far-western school.

He's well liked around the field house, and if the rumors are true, should be more than successful in his new venture.

It won't be long now and the footballers will be checking out equipment for spring football practice. Dr. Eddie Anderson and Jim Harris have announced their intentions of moving westward from their eastern haunts sometime in February.

Although the cage season is barely under way, the principal topic of conversation among Hawkeye sports fans seems to center around football prospects for next season.

More than 2,000 tickets have already been sold for the Notre Dame game and the chances for a sell-out for this contest seem excellent. Charlie Galihier, business manager of athletics, states that the demand for tickets has covered the entire schedule, but to have caught the public's fancy a bit more forcibly than any other single game.

By the end of 1938 the government's Farm Security Administration had arranged medical care for 78,000 low-income farm families in 20 states.

There has been an increase of 325 per cent in the number of persons attending colleges and 800 per cent in the number of high school students in the last 30 years.

Delta Gamma Team Favored As 100 Runners Await Carnival

Milt Billig's Eastlawn Team Looms as 'Darkhorse' Of Annual Sorority Relay; Tri-Delts And Alpha Delta Pi Have Strong Teams

Iowa's annual all-university relay carnival, scheduled for tonight instead of the Saturday afternoon on which it has always been held in past years, will bring together over a hundred Hawkeye trackmen.

Several teams already are entered in the fraternity, Quad, Hillcrest and co-op dorm relay races, and upwards of a dozen are expected to take to the cinders in the always hotly contested sorority relay race.

It is in the sorority race, in which the thinclads outdo themselves for the honor of women's organizations, that the inter-house really comes to a head. This year will be no exception, it appears, for several of the teams have been working out daily and some favorites have already made themselves known.

Delta Gamma, with Ed McCollister as captain, has been rated as one of the stronger quartets, and the good luck presence of Jimmy Lyle adds to the belief that they are one of the teams to beat. But, John Graves, one of the track team's co-captains has taken charge of the Alpha Delta Pi representatives and promises a battle against his old rival, Lyle.

Graves and Lyle will both run the half mile for their teams and as anchor men. If their other men leave them somewhere near even on the last leg of the race, Lyle and Graves will get a chance to settle it. Also running last for his team, will be Milt Billig, whose "Dark Horse" Eastlawn entry is looked upon as a possible winner. Carl Teufel, leading the always dangerous Tri Delts, also promises to be a contender.

The carnival will begin at 7:30 tonight. No admission will be charged.

shot to close the scoring in the first quarter. Wilton Junction was leading 0 and 5.

They battled up and down the floor for several minutes, George Chadek again starting the scoring with a looping shot. Ovesen got two chances on a foul and made both of them good. Jim Chadek got a double try on a foul by Norton and counted on one. Jack Bock helped the Marlians cause with a bucket from out in the center of the floor.

Both sides had chances on free shots, neither being able to sink them. Then Lange flipped a counter in for the Beavers; Schmidt, pantherish Rambler center, matching him with a goal for the Marlians. The St. Mary's hoopers were creeping up on the Wilton lead, but the Junction boys were ahead at the intermission, 14 to 12.

The Ramblers came out with a rush in the third. Jim Chadek feeding in two field goals to put the Ramblers ahead for the first time, 16 to 14. George Chadek slapped another through the hoop on a fast break to the basket. He scored immediately afterwards on a neat charity throw. Schmidt took a long pass down the court, whirled and netted his second tally of the fracas. Lange dropped in a free counter, but the Beaver offensive had shot its bolt. The third quarter passed in history, St. Mary's emerging with a substantial 21 to 15 lead.

Marlians Continue

St. Mary's continued their consistent scoring, meanwhile holding the invaders to one field goal and five free throws. Jack Bock dodged two Beavers as he slammed in a Rambler score. Jim Chadek followed his leadoff, banging another basket in from the edge of the floor.

Bienke and Luetichie each sank a free throw. Bill Bock, fast little Marlian guard, equaled their double performance with a field goal, putting St. Mary's far out in front, 29 to 17. Jim Chadek left the game with three personal on him and was replaced by Cole. Both sides were substituting freely. Bill Bock went down a wide open floor unmolested to score again. Ovesen ended the Beaver scoring with a futile basket.

Score at half: Wilton Junction 14; St. Mary's 12.
Referee: Geiger, Iowa.

By BILL EAGEN

Lashing out in the second half with a smashing offensive drive, the St. Mary's quintet swamped the vaunted Wilton Junction powerhouse last night by a score of 34 to 21.

The game, which was played in the City high gym, was all Wilton Junction until Jim Chadek started the St. Mary's attack in the second half with two lightning fast field goals. The team which invaded the Rambler stronghold with a record of seven straight victories just couldn't seem to stop that second half rampage of fighting Marlians.

Bienke, hailed in pre-game reports as the big gun of the Beavers, was held to one lonely charity toss. Ovesen, sophomore forward for the Wilton five, took advantage of the watch on Bienke to grab off high scoring honors of the evening, garnering 11 points.

Brother Act

The brothers, Chadek, George and Jim, shared high point laurels for the Ramblers, each getting a total of nine. Both got four field goals and a free throw apiece.

Ovesen opened up for the Beavers, whipping in a couple of buckets in succession. Bill Bock, smooth-gear St. Mary's forward, was fouled by Ovesen and made his charity toss count. Ovesen, going hot, swished the net with another counter for the Wilton quint, keeping the Beavers ahead 6 to 3.

Ovesen continued his scoring burst by sinking a free throw after he was fouled by Bill Bock. Lange, towering Wilton center, put the Beavers further ahead by a shot from close in. Jim Chadek was fouled and missed his free one, but he followed the ball in and pushed in the rebound. Norton sank a free

Babe's Bed Too Hard

So the Sultan-Emeritus of Swat Leaves Hospital for Home and Rest

By SID FEDER

come off the calendar, but with the current spring-like weather in New York, that isn't so hard for the Babe to take.

So you baseball fans can relax again. The Sultan-emeritus of swat is still very much around. As he put it:

"Hell, they sent me to the hospital to get some rest. But the bed was so hard I couldn't sleep, so I came home again. The old Bam is doing all right, thanks."

With no more concern than that, the one and only Bambino shrugged off the overnight confinement that had the baseball world breathless with shock over the condition of its No. 1 citizen.

"Aw, I'm okay," the Babe growled. "I was just trying to take off some of this bay window and the doc decided I needed an examination."

Mrs. Ruth and Dr. Robert H. McConnell, the Babe's physician, were just as unperturbed. A Babe not so cheerful as the Babe over his reported sudden ill health, Mrs. Ruth nevertheless was not too worried about the rumors that a heart condition had halted his activities.

Hearing Stories

"We've been hearing stories about the Babe's heart for 10 years," she pointed out, "but so far we are glad to report it hasn't bothered him. When he was sick back in 1929, they said it was his heart, and when the heat got the best of him last year, they said the same thing. So far we don't know a thing about it."

Dr. McConnell refused to comment on a direct question as to whether the Babe is suffering from a heart condition, contending that was Ruth's "private business," but he, too, insisted that "everything is satisfactory."

"He can go out and play golf or go hunting anytime," the physician said. "His condition is all right, and the examination I made came out very well. None of his activities will be curtailed, although you understand Mr. Ruth at 45 can't do all the things the Babe could do at 20."

"Whispered"

From Babe's attitude—he still "whispered" to you in his same hollow—the only thing he cared about was that his ailing might curtail his golf. That, to Ruth, would be a major operation. He's as rabid a linksman as ever cussed a sand-trap.

Navy Cagers Beat Maryland U. 47-37

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 11 (AP)—Navy's long runners snotted accurately today and beat the University of Maryland basketball team 47-37.

With Capt. Bob Laney, George Ghesquiere and "General" Bob Lee towering above all the Maryland players, the Midshipmen cut fast and were dead on the basket. They grabbed an early lead and took the game going away.

Laney whipped in 10 field goals and Ghesquiere counted seven to give Navy 34 of her points.

The Terp's snap passing kept the Midshipmen busy all the time, but the Marylanders rarely were able to pierce Navy's heavy guarding.

Sign Dickinson

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—The Phillies announced yesterday they had signed Joe Dickinson, 22, a tall right-handed pitcher from Cedarville, N. J. He played last year with Cornwall in the Canadian-American league and formerly belonged to Buffalo of the International league.

Plan to Complete Interior of Community Building

Two Local Women's Clubs Donate $1,000 Toward Project

Will Be Completed This Year if State Comptroller Agrees

Pending the approval of the state comptroller, plans to complete the interior of the Iowa City Community building are expected to be carried out within the year, it was announced yesterday as two local women's clubs donated $1,000 toward the completion of the project.

Members of the Community building committee reported yesterday that the Iowa City Improvement league and the Woman's Relief corps had offered about $1,000 for finishing the front basement room of the building.

In consideration of the improvements made possible, the organizations are to have the use of the rooms completed for four partial afternoons a month during an eight to 10-year period.

Both organizations will specify to the building committee which afternoons they wish to use the rooms. The rooms will be open for rental by other organizations on all remaining afternoons and evenings, the funds to be used to defray the expense of upkeep and maintenance of the building.

Officials have suggested that any other civic organizations interested in finishing portions of the building contact the Community building committee.

At present the Iowa City Recreational Center is negotiating to move from its present site on Dubuque street to the Community building. The center plans to rent the gymnasium and a portion of the mezzanine floor.

Center officials said that the Dubuque street play rooms will be closed until programs are resumed at the new location next week.

A group of Iowa City business and professional men are planning to cooperate with the recreational center in the use of the handball, basketball and volleyball courts which are to be built in the Community building basement.

Also proposed are a steam table, rub-down facilities and a complete shower service.

Final action on the improvement program now awaits the official signing of the leases by the city council which in turn will depend upon a favorable decision from the state comptroller.

Czechoslovaks Accused of New Border Attacks

BUDAPEST, Jan. 11 (AP)—A series of reported attacks on Hungarian border villages by Czechoslovaks kept the capitals of southeastern Europe on edge today.

One newspaper, Az Est, said several Czechoslovaks were wounded when regular troops attacked at Barkaszo on the border of Carpatho-Ukraine, eastern province of Czechoslovakia.

Other newspapers reported six attempts by Czechoslovak machinegun units to cross into Hungary in the vicinity of Ungvar.

The official news agency stated 30 carloads of "Ukraine terrorists" arrived in the vicinity of Ungvar, former capital of Carpatho-Ukraine before the town became part of Hungary in the Vienna award of Nov. 2.

These reports followed a warning from Hungary that new violations of the frontier would bring a Hungarian invasion.

(Czechoslovaks in Prague said 60 to 80 "Hungarian terrorists" attacked with hand grenades, machineguns and rifles in a three-hour battle at Bervinkov and two Czechs were wounded.)

Clifford Shaw Will Speak To Ia. City Group

Noted Delinquency Expert Will Address Co-ordinating Council

Dr. Clifford R. Shaw, research associate at the University of Chicago, will speak on "An Experimental Program for the Prevention of Delinquency" before members of the Iowa City Co-ordinating Council of Social Agencies scheduled to meet Monday at 8:15 p.m. in Reich's pine room, the Rev. Edwin E. Voigt, council president, revealed last night.

Officers of the organization for the new year will be elected. Attorney Arthur E. Luff heads the nominating committee which also includes Mrs. Jessie B. Gordon, Mrs. A. V. O'Brien, Charles A. Bowman and Dr. E. W. Paulus.

Instrumental in bringing Dr. Shaw to Iowa City is the sociology department of the university through Prof. Grace E. Chaffee.

The Chicagoan is one of the outstanding authorities in the United States on juvenile delinquency and is director of the institute of juvenile research of the department of public welfare in Illinois.

Extensive investigations during the last 15 years in the neighborhoods of Chicago where population movements and the old population checks have been disintegrating have enabled him to write the books "Jack Roller," "Delinquency in Chicago," and "Brother in Crime" which is his latest.

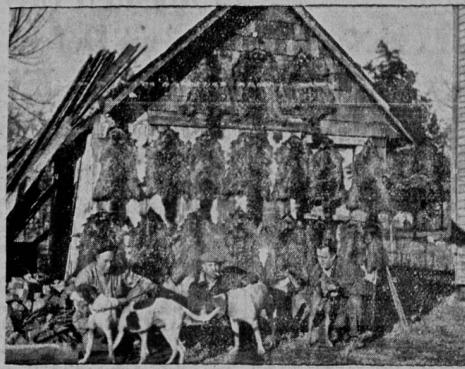

The speaker will talk before three classes in the sociology department Monday, Prof. F. E. Haynes' criminology class at 10 a.m., Professor Chaffee's class on the family at 11 a.m., and the class in introduction to sociology at 4 p.m.

Anyone interested in the work of the co-ordinating council is invited to attend the dinner-meetings with Mrs. J. D. Boyd.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A traffic officer, so the story goes, stopped a Negro driver at the curb and asked him: "Why did you go through that red light?" The answer was: "Well, sah, I saw the white folks goin' through the green 'un, and Ah thought the red 'un was for me."

Local Hunters Bag 18 Racoons

With less than two weeks remaining of the 1938-39 raccoon hunting season, three local hunters, N. H. Matthes, 1027 Keokuk street, Loyal Burkett, 1312 Kirkwood avenue, and Larry Lechy, 420 E. Fairchild street, exhibit 18 raccoon pelts which they have captured this winter. The hunters caught the animals in the woodlands and cornfields along the creeks and the rivers of Johnson county and the vicinity. They said they expected to bag several more if the present weather continues. The pelts this year are excellent quality, surpassing those of recent years. All three hunters are members of the local Eagles lodge, Aerie No. 695 of the fraternal order of Eagles, and have donated the carcasses of the raccoons to the lodge which will hold a game banquet in the near future.

Residential Fire Inspection Is Suggested for Iowa City Homes

More Homes Plan May Bring Boom In Building

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP)—A plan to bring about better business nationally by concentrated cooperation with government agencies in an effort to produce a record building boom in 1939, was unanimously agreed upon by executives of 60 leading companies in a closed meeting today at the Waldorf Astoria.

Only detail left unsettled was the exact amount to be spent in a nation-wide newspaper advertising campaign to encourage present or prospective home owners to take advantage of federal and private facilities for home improvement and home building.

Some leading executives, including Lewis H. Brown, president of Johns-Manville corporation, urged the group to "go the whole hog" both in cooperation with government and upping of tentative newspaper advertising budgets.

The meeting was called by Russell G. Creviston, president of the producers' council, an organization representing leading firms in the building material and equipment field, to consider a program proposed by Charles E. Wilson, executive vice-president of General Electric Co., chairman of the council's advisory board.

The meeting resolved that the council would bend its efforts to launch a campaign to further building of houses by "that income group which is barely able to save out of meager earnings sufficient capital for home ownership," especially "houses costing $2,000 to $5,000."

Miller Confers With Solons

Secretary Would Halt Consolidation Plans; Discusses Shakeup

DES MOINES, Jan. 11 (AP)—Secretary of State Earl G. Miller held conferences with several legislators today, reportedly going to bat against any proposal which would attempt to consolidate the divisions of his office or remove them from his jurisdiction.

He also made public a photostatic copy of a letter he said he found in the motor vehicle department files concerning his recent shakeup of the highway patrol and controversy over the appointment of new officials.

"I want the voters of Iowa to know," Miller said, "that these men were trying to attack my character."

The copy, which was also placed in the hands of several legislators who visited Miller, was, he said, of a letter signed by Lew Wallace, former motor vehicle commissioner, addressed to Horace Tate, deputy commissioner, John Hattery, patrol chief, and Phil Sproul, Ed Murray, J. D. Schacher, E. F. Pahl and O. C. Gaumer of that department.

"The value of publicity in any battle," it said, "is to use it until it loses its effectiveness. I feel that we have now been in the limelight a sufficient number of days to bring this to a head. In consequence, I suggest that unless there are matters of moment which demand immediate attention we retire from the field for a few days at least, and let the water boil."

It was dated Nov. 30, 1938.

Fossil Tooth
Large Molar May Go In Museum

A huge fossilized tooth, once the property of a gigantic animal which roamed Iowa during the glacial period thousands of years ago, may be added to the University of Iowa's geological collection.

Measuring seven inches from the grinding surface to the end of the root, the tooth was found during excavations in Estherville two years ago.

Prof. A. K. Miller, expert on paleontology in the geology department, recently was called upon to identify the tooth by the Rev. J. A. Riggs of Estherville.

He said that the tooth shows no evidence of wear, as it would if it had been transported by the ice sheets from the north. It probably belonged to a beast which died near Estherville.

Publishing of Book Criticising English Language May Strain Relations

To an Englishman, aside from uncomplimentary remarks about the king's navy, the height of insolence is any comparison between American English and the native English tongue.

If this is true, diplomatic relations between the English and American people are due for a severe strain when Allen Walker Read, a Rhodes scholar who received his M.A. degree from the University of Iowa in 1926, publishes his book, "A Historical Dictionary of Britishisms."

Mr. Read, who helped Sir William Craigie edit a dictionary of middle English at the University of Chicago, decided that inasmuch as Americans received their language from their ancestors, the colonists, it would be a novel idea to judge British English upon the form of American English.

The resulting experiment will be a drastic turn-about from the old method of judging our language on the basis of the English of England.

The work will cover all phases of English life, from the trivial colloquialisms of conversation, through the names of English objects, to the venerated symbols that arouse the Englishman's emotion.

A comparison will also be made between British culture and American culture, and should prove to be both a rich reference book for students of language and cultural history and a source of interest and entertainment for general readers.

Words will be gleaned from three sources. Notes in the accounts of Americans travelling in England will probably provide quotations which will amount to one quarter of the whole. These are especially important in determining what words are characteristic of British English according to American opinion.

British equivalents for the Americanisms mentioned in discussions of American English will provide an abounding source of material. Further collections will be made from English writings such as old files of "Punch," parliamentary reports on the conditions of England and novels on social problems.

The work will be strictly on an historical basis, with sources and dated quotations given for each entry.

The author, Mr. Read, spent his early life in Cedar Falls, and received his B.A. degree from Iowa State Teachers college.

Conference To Study Research

It will be under the joint auspices of the college and the civil engineering division of the society for the promotion of engineering education. Several hundred engineers from many sections of the nation are expected to attend.

Plan Tuesday Debate Program For 4 Freshman Groups

Will Meet Bloomfield J. C. Squad; WSUI To Broadcast Section

Four University of Iowa freshman debate teams will participate Tuesday in a program of debates with Bloomfield junior college, it was announced last night by Malvin Hanson, G of Dixon, director of freshman debating activities.

The eight speakers, all A1, are Lewis J. Lapham of Charles City, John Bangs of Fairfield, Edgar Hicks and Marvin Chapman, both of Iowa City, who will debate the affirmative of the question, and the following negative speakers: John Davis of Des Moines, Bob Mische of Arlington, Clifford Crowe of Clarion and Oliver Hansen of Dixon.

Chapman and Hicks, last year's state high school champions in the class A division, will participate in a radio debate with Claude Robertson and Charles Pettit of the Bloomfield school at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday over WSUI.

Two rounds of debating, the first at 4 p.m. and the second at 7:45 p.m., have been scheduled. The Bloomfield teams are coached by Paul V. Bissell.

John McDonald of Cedar Rapids, Garry Margolus of Paterson, N. J., Helen Evans of Davenport, Alice Montgomery of Ica City, Bessie Rowe of Lockport, Ill., and Ervin Goodman of Lebanon, Pa., will act as chairmen and timekeepers at the debates. All are members of the freshman debate squad.

The question for the discussions is this year's Western conference and the Iowa high school question. Resolved: That the United States should cease spending federal funds, including credit, for the stimulation of industry.

Officers Find Coster Papers In Old Shed

NEW YORK, Jan. 11 (AP)—The possibility that new and even more shocking revelations would be made soon in the McKesson and Robbins case was held out tonight as government officials examined the secret correspondence of the late F. Donald Coster-Musica and the personal ledgers he kept through the years of his $11,000,000 defalcations.

The papers and books, containing numerous entries in Coster-Musica's handwriting and the names of persons not yet mentioned in the investigation of his colossal fraud, were found hidden in an old shed outside the McKesson and Robbins plant in Fairfield, Conn.

Postal inspectors, on the job since Coster-Musica's suicide following his exposure as an ex-convict once involved in a million-dollar swindle, turned up the documents. There were two bales, wrapped in brown paper, and an attempt evidently had been made to destroy them, Assistant United States Attorney Gregory F. Noonan.

They give a fairly accurate picture of Coster-Musica's activities, Noonan said, from the time he vanished in 1920 from New York where he was under indictment for subordination of perjury to a

Washington World

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congress, getting busy with its 1939 activities, has, notably, three very sick patients to doctor.

1. Sick agriculture.
2. Sick railroads.
3. A sick federal treasury.

Our manufacturing industries and our commerce have been sick but they are well on their way toward recovery.

Our foreign relationships constitute a problem but a problem is different from sickness. It is a problem involving the question of national defense, but our defensive set-up is not sick, either. It is run down a bit, but it can be built up again quite readily and speedily with about a billion dollars' worth of army and navy cod liver oil and aerial vitamins.

Agriculture and the railroads are sicker than pups, however, and the treasury is sickening—I mean getting sicker, with every prospect that it will be out-and-out sickening presently.

Doctors Disagree

The worst of it is that doctors disagree almost hopelessly. Agriculture's case is chronic. In my personal opinion it dates back to the beginning our our intensive protective tariff era, the start on a diet which was our manufacturers' meat but our farmers' poison.

Dr. Henry A. Wallace is our best recognized specialist on rural ills. He is a good one, too—in theory. Next to Dr. Cordell Hull my own notion is that Henry is the ablest practitioner in President Roosevelt's medical cabinet. But Dr. Hull does not specialize on agriculture. Indirectly his international trade prescriptions may result beneficially to the farmers, but those prescriptions are TOO indirect. Agriculture is afraid of dying in the meantime. Dr. Wallace tries to administer stimulants—something speedy. But they do not "take"—that is the trouble. Oh, if Dr. Arthur Capper did not belong to the G. O. P. school of medicine! He KNOWS something about the farmers' indisposition. But what is the use?—he is a minority doctor.

Youthful Excesses

The railroads are present-day victims of their own youthful excesses.

It is nearly impossible for any doctor to go back into a patient's remote past and make a man of him in later life, as if he had not been a grafter and tough in his 20's.

Dr. Burton K. Wheeler and Dr. Clarence F. Lea, respectively chairmen of the senate and house month ago when his financial trickery came to light.

In that 18-year period he had changed his name from Philip Musica to F. Donald Coster and had become president of the great drug corporation, milking it of $11,000,000 and leaving fictitious assets of $20,613,000 on its books.

While Assistant State Attorney General Ambrose V. McCall announced that his hearings into the corporation's affairs were virtually completed, federal officials indicated their investigation still had a long way to go. The black-mail phases, reports of wholesale bootlegging, reports of gun-running and other angles still are being scrutinized.

IT'S DERBY Day at Churchill Downs! Sally's love for Jack makes her over-ride Uncle Peter's orders for the jockey to use the whip on Blue Grass in the stretch. Both Peter and the jockey object but Sally is insistent that the colt be handled Jack Dillon's way.

DILLON'S entry, Postman, is the favorite. When Jack meets his father in the stands they realize they've been foolish and make up. Sally sees the reconciliation and has immediate misgivings about the race, but it's too late to warn her jockey. The horses are at the barrier!

POUNING down the stretch, the contest's between Postman and Blue Grass! Sally sees the jockey disregard her orders and uses his whip. Blue Grass falters! The jockey realizes his error, discards his whip, and hand-rides Blue Grass in to win. Sally yuns to see Jack.

THE RACE is to the romantic! The feud is forgotten as Sally and Jack find each other's arms. Later Jack gets ample opportunity to tell Sally all the thrilling things he wanted to say on that memorable night in the Goodwin garden under the Kentucky moon. (The End)

Delicious Cooking Shortcuts Save Many Flying Minutes

Here are some short cuts that will help you catch up on the flying minutes some time and still keep your culinary reputation with the family up to par. Somehow there seem to be times when everything comes at once and any short cut is welcome. So just put these hints away where you can find them at the moment they're needed.

Honey Meringue

When you're baking a cake and you haven't time to frost it, serve it with spoonful of this fluffy honey meringue:

2 egg whites
1 cup strained honey

Beat the egg whites until they stand in peaks. Then slowly add one cup of strained honey, beating constantly. Continue beating until the mixture will stand up in peaks. You may serve this immediately or you may keep it for a few days in your ice box. Stir well before putting on squares of warm chocolate cake or gingerbread.

When mixing salmon fritters, it is easier to mix together a small amount of pancake batter than to make the usual white sauce. You may use the prepared kind. Mix together three-fourths cup of the batter, blend with one cup drained and flaked salmon, two teaspoons minced onion and a dash of salt and pepper. Drop by teaspoonsful in deep fat heated to 375 degrees F. and fry until golden brown. Drain.

Here's a main course dish that can be made either from freshly obtained ingredients, or from left-overs that have been well kept in the refrigerator.

Salmon Rice Loaf
2 1-2 cups cooked rice
1 cup salmon flaked
2 eggs beaten
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon pepper
1 1-2 tablespoons lemon juice

3 tablespoons butter
Blend together and pack into greased baking pan or loaf dish. Set in shallow pan of water and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 40 to 45 minutes. Serve with hot tomato sauce.

interstate commerce clinics, are doing their damndest to cure the railroads. If they get away with it they will be wonders. A mis-spent early career, in the 1800's, is hard to correct in this century.

The Federal Treasury
It was proclaimed well in advance that the federal treasury could stand a 40-billion dollar debt without over-straining matters. After that, it was conceded, we should have overdone matters.

Well, we are considerably above the 40-billion mark.

Yet Dr. Marriner S. Eccles of the Federal Reserve board's emergency hospital asserts that we have not had anything like an overdose to date. Moreover, if we do cut down on the dose, our manufacturing industries and commerce immediately show signs of suffering from the deficiency.

Call a girl a brick and sometimes she flings herself at your head.

'Drunk' Stober Up On Stick of Candy

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Police had arrested Charley Utley, a Negro chauffeur, as a drunk. Imagine their amazement when Charlie sobored up before their eyes by eating a stick of peppermint supplied by his employer, Dr. J. H. McLeod.

Dr. McLeod explained his chauffeur suffered from diabetes, a disease characterized by accumulation of sugar in the blood. An injection of insulin gives relief by counteracting the excess sugar—but occasionally it counteracts it so much it produces a condition resembling intoxication.

That's what happened to Utley, said the doctor. Eating the peppermint candy remedied his condition.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester 1938-1939

Saturday, January 21, 8 a.m., to Saturday, January 28, 4 p.m., 1939

The regular program of class work will be suspended, and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (1), (2) and (3) as shown at the second N.B. below).

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation from this schedule, in the case of any examination—except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification on the student's written petition, filed in ample time and supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of completing examinations earlier will not be permitted.

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

If the student takes the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card and not on any other card.

In the case of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G) the Schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examinations during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double vertical line. Unless students are reasonably sure that their semester's work, including final examinations, is successful they are requested to call (within the 24-hour period following the conclusion of each of their final examinations) at the offices of the deans of men and women, appropriately, in order to learn whether any of their instructors have reported Fd. for them; and if any student has reason to suspect that Fd. will be his record for one or more courses, he is requested not to register until he learns that he has passed.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) This instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him or her not later than the regular class hour, January 16 or 17, if possible, January 9 or 10.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in courses having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first clock-hour of the first weekly meeting. For example, Chemistry 21 meets for lectures T Th S at 8. The first meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Monday, January 23, 2-4, according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (125) meets twice each week, T F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Friday, January 27, 2-4.

N.B. All sections of freshman Speech (1), (2) and (3) will meet during the examination week on the days and at the periods designated below. Rooms are assigned by the instructors.

Saturday, January 21—Section D, 8-10; Speech (2), 8-10.
Monday, January 23—Section A, 1-3; Section E, 3-5.
Thursday, January 26—Section I, 8-10; Section C, 1-3; Speech 3A, 1-3; Section G, 3-5.

Friday, January 27—Section J, 8-10; Section H, 10-12; Section B, 1-3; Speech 3B, 1-3; Section F, 3-5.

"ODD" classes, namely those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from January 21 to January 27, inclusive.

2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F, and G, since for such "odd" classes these five examination periods will be found quite available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examination in more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal action providing for a special semester-examination program, "the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time."

According to another faculty regulation, which is on record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs.," unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F."—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card signed by the Secretary of the Committee, as indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination. British, French Fear Increased By Americans

Ambassadors' Reports Provoke Thoughts Of Mediterranean

LONDON, Jan. 11 (AP)—The reported opinion of United States Ambassadors Kennedy and Bullitt that European developments threaten a second world war this spring has increased British and French fears that Italy and Germany are out to dominate the western Mediterranean.

While it is not known here what Joseph P. Kennedy and William C. Bullitt, envoys to Britain and France, respectively, had in mind, it is generally assumed they must have referred to, among other things, Italy's cries for part of the French Mediterranean empire and the new insurgent offensive in Spain.

(Kennedy and Bullitt appeared yesterday before a joint session of the house and senate military committees in Washington. A member said Bullitt concurred in Kennedy's statement: "World war may start in the spring.")

Informed British sources said Prime Minister Chamberlain would ask Premier Mussolini on his current visit to Rome to moderate the tone and content of fascist claims against France.

French sources said flatly they thought the ambassadors' pessimism was justified. They indicated any Italian attempt to force France to give up any possessions certainly would precipitate war.

In Paris, London and Berlin it was not overlooked that the pessimism of Kennedy and Bullitt might also have the domestic function of influencing congress to support President Roosevelt's rearmament program.

Informed quarters in Paris and London have expressed alarm over Germany's announced intention to build up to submarine parity with Britain under their 1935 naval treaty.

The German naval move, Italian cries for Tunisia, Corsica and Nice and Italian and German assistance to the Spanish insurgents—to be paid for, the French and British fear, with commercial, naval and military footholds in Spanish territory—have been combined into one big worry.

The British and French fear the Rome-Berlin axis is swinging its pressure toward the west.

Germany's principal reaction was that the Kennedy-Bullitt opinion was—as the Berlin Lokalanzeiger put it—aimed at "making congress pliant to the wishes of Roosevelt."

The Lokalanzeiger added that, judging from "the unmistakable answers" of senators in the Washington committee meeting, Kennedy and Bullitt "did not entirely realize the sought-for impression."

Loyalists Get Set-Back; Rebel Army Advances

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish frontier), Jan. 11 (AP)—Insurgent dispatches to the Spanish border tonight said the entire government position north of Tarragona had been turned by the capture of Montblanch and an after-dark advance to within 15 miles of the coastal city.

Fighting through a soupy fog, Navarrese troops virtually surrounded Montblanch, little town of 5,000 inhabitants, earlier in the day and then by a frontal attack drove out the defenders.

Montblanch is the heart of a network of roads for southern Catalonia and about 18 miles northwest of Tarragona, principal seaport of southern Catalonia.

Tarragona itself is about 50 miles southwest of Barcelona, government capital.

At the same time the position of Tarragona was menaced by insurgents advancing from the southwest, near Falset. General Franco's men were reported by their commanders to be within four miles of Falset and about 26 miles from Tarragona.

The twin drive threatened to cut off all lower Catalonia and isolate government militia guarding the lower Ebro river line around Tortosa.

Insurgent dispatches said Montblanch fell after nearly 12 hours of one of the most furious assaults of the current campaign that started Dec. 23.

On the southwestern front, the government forces reported they had brought the direct rail line connecting Seville, southern headquarters of the insurgents, with Burgos, their northern capital, under the fire of heavy government artillery.

Dispatches from the government side said the offensive in southwestern Spain to offset Generalissimo Franco's big drive in the northeast had been carried to within eight miles of Llerena, one of the main stations on the railway.

The city lay within range of the government's heavy artillery, these advisers said. Llerena is about 50 miles east of the Portuguese border.

'Dusty' Rhodes, in Death Row, Is Given New Hope for Life

State Files Petition For Rehearing On High Court Decision

Walter "Dusty" Rhodes, a quarry worker who had been sentenced to death here for the dynamite slaying of his wife in April, 1937, was given a new hope for his life yesterday.

The state of Iowa has filed a petition for the rehearing and a notice of oral argument with the Iowa state supreme court on the recent decision made by the court ordering a retrial of the Rhodes case, County Attorney Harold Vestermark revealed.

With a six to three decision, the supreme court last Nov. 22 set aside the death sentence imposed by the Johnson county district court on grounds that one of the jurors, J. A. Zenishek, had formed an opinion of the case before his jury service.

The only issue in the rehearing will be whether the court erred in overruling the challenge for cause to Juror Zenishek.

Attorney Vestermark will attempt to have the case moved ahead to the February term of court rather than the May term, although the petition was filed Tuesday.

This may be one of the first cases to be brought before the recently reorganized court if the supreme court sets aside the rehearing for the February term.

The state filed its petition for rehearing through the new attorney general, Fred D. Everett of Albia. In the rehearing, J. E. Grothe, new assistant attorney general, will assist with the case.

The notice of intention to file a petition was served and filed with the clerk of the supreme court Dec. 1, 1938.

An early ruling on the rehearing was suggested so that the case may be retried, if necessary, as soon as possible, it was pointed out.

Rhodes, originally scheduled to hang on April 29, 1938, has been living on borrowed time in "death row" in the state penitentiary at Ft. Madison since last April. The execution was stayed pending the appeal to the supreme court.

The six-and-a-half-ton Burdon bell in the carillon in the Tower of the Sun on Treasure Island will swing 85 feet above the earth at the 1939 California World's Fair.
