Italians Near Albanian Capital As King Zog Flees Throne; Complete Surrender Expected

Plea Sent To Italian Forces Before Flight

Move Protested By Britain as Mussolini Hits at Encirclement

ROME, April 8 (Saturday) (AP) — Italian troops were reported officially today to be advancing steadily toward the Albanian capital of Tirana in an invasion the fascist press declared was the answer of Italy and Germany to attempts to "encircle" them.

The troops, which landed at four coastal cities under cover of warship guns and 400 war planes yesterday, were said to be within 15 miles of Tirana. Independent reports said there were destructive bombardments of Albanian towns and heavy fighting, but official statements did not confirm them.

Government Flees
King Zog and his government fled from Tirana to Elbasan, mountain stronghold 25 miles to the south, and the Albanian monarch was said to have sent Premier Mussolini a plea which appeared to be one of almost full surrender.

A Stefani (Italian official news agency) dispatch from Tirana early today said widespread gunfire broke out in the Albanian capital after the government left. The shooting was reported especially intense in the vicinity of the Italian legation, where the Italian minister, his staff, and several Italian residents were "armed and ready to defend themselves."

The dispatch said there were reports in Tirana that provisional government would be formed by "responsible elements" which would give to Albania a regime inspired by sane standards of justice and rectitude under the auspices of imperial and fascist Italy.

Take Treasure
Automobiles bearing all the treasure that could be packed into them were reported to have left Tirana for Elbasan yesterday, shortly after Italian troops landed on Albanian soil.

The Stefani dispatch said certain "disturbing and irresponsible" elements which had participated in recent anti-Italian manifestations were abandoning themselves to sacking Tirana.

The report told of King Zog's dispatch of a mission to see the chief of the Italian landing forces and declared it was clear that "he intended to place obstacles in the way of the Italian troops by prolonging the negotiations."

Destroy Bridge
It told of the destruction by Albanians of a bridge over the Shkaj river on the road between the port of Durazzo and Tirana, but said:

"This did not constitute an obstacle for our various troops who continued to advance toward the Albanian capital."

The bridge is about 10 miles from Durazzo, which is 25 miles from Tirana.

Another official dispatch said Zog had opened the jails and let criminals loose.

At Bari, on the Italian coast opposite Durazzo, the former Albanian prefect of Durazzo, Marco Khodeli, made a radio address appealing to Albanians not to offer further resistance to Italian troops.

Zog Pockets Money
He offered an explanation for Italy's action, saying that King Zog had pocketed a large part of the money Italy poured into Albania for development of the country and had even taken money contributed abroad for the relief of the Albanian poor.

Italy had been unable to stand Zog's "duplicitous and deceit" any longer, Khodeli said, and had decided to act for the welfare of the Albanian people.

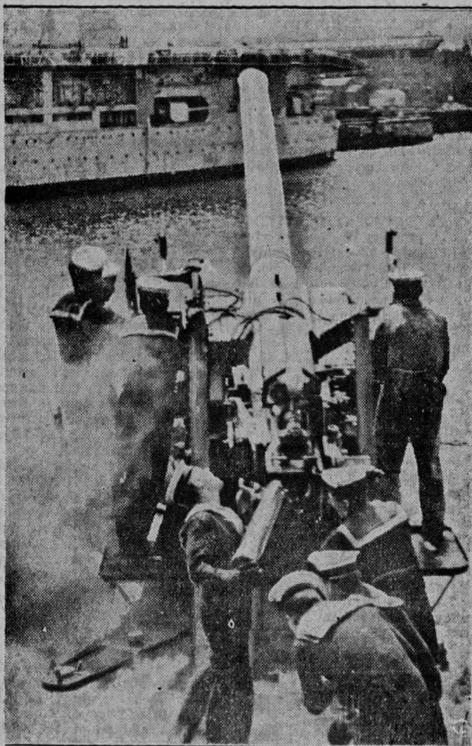

He described Zog and his family as "vampires preying on a disgraced people." He declared Premier Mussolini was the "real friend of the Albanian people" and would keep his word to maintain Albania as a united and independent country.

An official Italian report declared conditions in Tirana had become "chaotic."

Herring for Wallace
WASHINGTON (AP) — "If Henry Wallace wants the presidency I'm for him," said Senator Herring (D-Iowa) last night.

Voice of British Preparedness

A British battleship crew fires an anti-aircraft gun aboard a vessel as Albion's air defenses are brought to their highest efficiency. State of British preparedness was announced by Earl Stanhope, First Lord of the Admiralty, who said that anti-aircraft guns of fleet had been ordered manned "ready for anything."

Senators Fight For Roosevelt WPA Program

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP) — A group of senate new dealers, although facing obvious defeat, fought today to give President Roosevelt the full appropriation he asked for relief.

One after another, Senators Pepper (D-Fla.), Mead (D-NY) and Downey (D-Cal) held the floor throughout the day, presenting their arguments on behalf of the federal spending program, until finally they were "charged with filibustering."

At issue was the question whether $100,000,000 or $150,000,000, the sum asked by the president, should be voted to carry WPA through to the end of the fiscal year on July 1. As the result of a "compromise" arrangement, not only most republicans and the democratic economy bloc, but also many who usually support the administration were ready to vote for the lower figure.

For that reason, it was apparent that the new deal group fighting for $150,000,000 was beaten and that the vote would hardly approximate the 47-to-46 ballot by which the administration was defeated on a similar issue earlier in the session.

Think Albanian Grab First Step In Move Against British Plans

LONDON, April 7 (AP) — British officials feared tonight that Italy's invasion of Albania was a first step in a new Rome-Berlin plan to dominate the Balkans and smash Britain's projected grand alliance against aggression.

Foreign office officials said Italy had reassured Britain two days ago that she had wish to change the status quo in Albania, and tonight, although there was no official announcement, it was believed the foreign office had instructed its ambassador in Rome, the Earl of Perth, to make a vigorous formal protest to Italy.

Both the Anglo-Italian gentlemen's agreement of 1937 and the Anglo-Italian agreement of 1938 pledged the parties to preservation of the status quo in the Mediterranean area.

Nevertheless, it was generally accepted that even if Premier Mussolini forces Albania back into a Roman empire after an absence of more than 2,000 years, Britain will do nothing effective to stop it.

The Italian embassy in London issued a statement today saying that Italian troops would be withdrawn from Albania "as soon as the recent disturbances are terminated," and that occupation of the country was only temporary.

US NEXT, ITALY? Slavs Distrust Promise —Close Border

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 7 (AP) — Italy promised that Yugoslav interests would be respected in effecting occupation of Albania, it was stated officially tonight, but the government, nevertheless, closed its border with Albania.

Budget-Makers Advise Raise In State Expenses

DES MOINES, April 7 (AP) — Iowa house budget-makers today recommended a schedule of state expenditures totaling $15,239,654 annually for the next two fiscal years, up $1,213,000 compared with the 1937 legislature's appropriations.

The house appropriation committee's recommendations, however, were more than $1,000,000 below the budget to which the senate appropriations group gave its approval.

The divergent bills laid the groundwork for consideration of the appropriations problem — and the resultant tax question — in the two houses next week.

Beats Divorce—With Children Parents Reconciled as Judge Gaffney Asks 'Love' for 4 Children

By The Associated Press
Good Friday was more than just a "run-of-the-mill" court day for Judge James P. Gaffney in Johnson county district court here.

He astounded a handful of spectators with what was an almost unprecedented address, and its result prevented a divorce and left some of the spectators in tears.

Opening a divorce case brought by a local couple, the judge inquired who four small children sitting in the front row of the court room were. He was informed they were the children of the plaintiff and the defendant.

Ordering them from the room he turned to the parents. "I am impressed with the fact that the plaintiff and the defendant should try to keep their relationship intact for their own benefit and for the benefit of these four children and society."

"There are too many divorces today. The state of Iowa can not have 5,000 or 6,000 homes permanently destroyed each year without having ill effects on the rest of society."

"These four children are entitled to the love, companionship, and affection of both of you," he said. "Today you are filled with youth but tomorrow old age will be upon you. In old age the real legacy that has been given you in this marriage union and through the laws of nature are these little children."

"We will take 15 or 20 minutes longer if you need," the judge said, "and try to reconcile this difference before it is publicly aired."

After the conference the case was dismissed.

"This father and mother are big enough and unselfish enough to put aside their personal pride and have this action dismissed," the judge announced. "They will continue to sustain their home for these four children."

During the silence which followed the announcement, the father and mother walked from the courtroom arm in arm. The children were waiting for them in the corridor outside the courtroom.

Reich Defends Duce Invasion

Exerts Pressure On Poland Mutual Aid Plan With England

BERLIN, April 7 (AP)—Germany today warned the western democracies she was standing behind Italy's invasion of Albania, leaving the inference that her might would be in readiness if anyone tried to halt her axis partner.

The warning, repeated several times by radio, could be interpreted almost as a challenge.

Exerts Pressure
It was issued while German diplomacy was exerting pressure on Poland not to sign the mutual defense agreement concluded in London this week by Prime Minister Chamberlain and Col. Joseph Beck, Polish foreign minister.

"Official German quarters regard news of the landing of Italian troops in Durazzo," said a broadcast official statement on Albania, "as an action within the letter and spirit of the Italo-Albania friendship treaty of 1927 and also as an expression of deep Italian sympathy for the Albanian people."

Continued Unrest
"Germany understands that Italy cannot permit it if, in a land where Italy's vital interests are so highly important as they are along the Adriatic coast, continued unrest disturbs the general peace and threatens the safety of Italians living there."

"Germany has a full understanding for the protection of Italian interests in this region and would neither understand nor sanction it if any western democratic powers, which have no interests there, should wish to meddle in the legally unobjectionable position and action of our axis partner."

Think Franco To Join Axis

BERLIN, April 7 (AP) — The Essen National Zeitung, which is close to Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, declared today "will in the future be bound most closely with those of the Rome-Berlin axis."

The newspaper, commenting on the Spanish nationalist government's announcement of its adherence to the anti-comintern pact, cautioned Europe's western democracies against attempting to exert pressure in any way on the Burgos regime.

Netherlands Cancels Leaves of Troops; Reinforces Defense

AMSTERDAM, April 7 (AP) — The Netherlands today reinforced its frontier defenses by cancelling Easter leaves to troops and by ordering a speed-up in work on fortifications.

An official announcement said "the international situation" prompted the defense measures, but did not mention any specific factor in the current European crisis which could be the cause for misgivings in the Netherlands.

'Garner Boom' For Presidency Now Expected

PT. WORTH, Tex., April 7 (AP)—Elliott Roosevelt said in a radio talk tonight the John Garner boom for president was on and Garner would be hard to remove from the driver's seat unless President Roosevelt chose to run for a third term.

The possibility of his father seeking another term is "a matter about which I neither know nor predict a thing," young Roosevelt declared in his semi-weekly broadcast.

He said he was amused at various interpretations placed by the nation's press on his recent observation that Garner was riding the crest of favoritism as presidential timber.

He remarked some newspapers reported the comment as the observation he meant it to be. Others, he added, construed it to mean he publicly had declared himself for Garner.

Both Lands 'True Blue'

Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt, Queen Elizabeth Are Both To Wear Blue

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP) — Without knowing what the other would choose, Queen Elizabeth of England and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt decided on blue for the gowns they'll wear when they meet in Washington in June—and the two shades they chose harmonize.

Their attire will symbolize good will between their two countries. The soft summer wool that is to make their dresses is being presented to each first lady by wool growers of the other's country.

A packet marked for delivery to the queen at Buckingham palace, containing the American-woven fabric, gift of more than half a million wool growers of 34 states, was placed aboard the Queen Mary today.

Mrs. Roosevelt said on seeing the samples, "We were wise without knowing it. The two shades will go so well together."

Queen Elizabeth, who prefers pastel shades, chose a pale one to be called "queen's blue." Mrs. Roosevelt chose azure, a shade similar to that of the dress she's wearing Easter at Hyde Park.

The new blue dresses will be for daytime, the queen's designed by Norman Hartnell of London, and the first lady's by Clare Potter, an American designer.

Greek Dictator Calls Ministers To Confer Over Italy's Action

ATHENS, April 7 (AP)—Dictator General John Metaxas marched his ministers and conferred with diplomats today on Italy's dramatic coup in neighboring Albania.

Greek officials did not conceal their alarm over the Rome-Berlin axis drive into the strategic mountains of their northwestern neighbor.

Senate Refuses Research Fund To Aeronautics

Ignores Plea That U. S. Air Defenses Only 'Second Best'

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP) — A plea that American warplanes are "second best" to Germany's failed, it was disclosed today, to persuade the senate appropriations committee to approve all the money sought by the national advisory committee for aeronautics.

The advisory committee, official group in charge of aviation research, asked $4,000,000 for establishing a research station at Sunnyvale, Cal., and $2,140,000 for improving facilities at its present station at Langley field, Va.

The senate committee approved the funds for Langley field, but turned down the larger appropriation. Similar action had been taken previously by the house.

Ames Comments
The funds for Langley were included in the $148,500,000 second deficiency bill. During hearings on the bill, Chairman Joseph S. Ames of the advisory committee for aeronautics told the senate committee that the United States' aircraft are inferior to the reich's.

"This country does not want second best aircraft," he continued. "To go to war in second best aircraft would invite disaster; even to engage in strong diplomatic representations would be as ineffective as the second best air force was at the Munich conference."

"Confronted with a crisis and forced to rely on second best aircraft, we could do no better than to adopt a policy of appeasement, to say the least, and accept the consequences."

Discussing Sunnyvale, Ames said in a statement:
Germany Superior
"What makes the project emergency in character is the fact that Germany, because of her larger research organization, now has the ability to design and actually has in service aircraft of superior performance."

"Looking at this problem with long range perspective it becomes more evident that every day's delay in putting the Sunnyvale project into effect makes the job of catching up that much larger. "The peace of Munich indicates that wars may be won before they are fought. They may be waged in laboratories and factories without bloodshed."

BABY IS LOST Policeman Disregards Rules in Hunt

OMAHA, April 7 (AP) — Omaha police are instructed to calm frightened mothers when they phone "My baby is lost." Detective Alvin E. Clinchard forgot the instructions today. He went flying out to help find the missing youngster.

Clinchard and his wife found Alvin Jr., 4, "glued" to a 10-cent store toy counter where he had lagged behind his mother who was shopping.

Aged Woman Swims Mile

Efforts of Heroine Are Wasted; Another Craft Rescues Party

SARASOTA, Fla., April 7 (AP) — A 70-year-old woman was acclaimed heroine today of a boating misadventure on the Gulf of Mexico although her efforts turned out needless.

A member of a fishing party of four, helplessly adrift on the gulf overnight after their craft developed motor trouble, the septuagenarian, Louise Remington, gamely plunged overboard and swam a mile to shore to summon aid.

As she reached land nearly exhausted, she learned the party had been sighted by another boat and was being rescued. The others were Miss Remington's brother, H. S. V. Remington, and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Hardesty, all of Sarasota. Miss Remington suffered no ill effects from her experience.

Italy Broadcasts French Attack To Libya Arabs

TUNIS, Tunisia, April 7 (AP) — The Italian radio station at Tripoli, Libya, tonight broadcast a violent attack on the French administration of Tunisia and urged the natives to "demonstrate" Sunday.

Some French observers interpreted the action, which came during the regular Arab language broadcast, as a "call to revolt," but declared it would find no support in Tunisia.

The Tripoli broadcaster said the Arabs of Tunisia were "submitted to torture."

Tabby Is Doubly Proud

The mother cat looks on somewhat complacently as her strange offspring, a two-headed kitten, is fed with an eye-dropper. Stranger still is the fact that the tiny monstrosity was born on

Atty. General's Visit Followed By Indictment

Kansas City 'Dictator' Is Accused of Evading Taxes on $315,000

By Harold Streeter
KANSAS CITY, April 7 (AP) — Boss Tom Pendergast, who has played a potent hand in state—at times, also in national — politics 28 years, was indicted today by a federal grand jury on charges of evading income taxes on more than $315,000.

Towering high in the indictment against the 66-year-old leader of the Kansas City democratic organization was the allegation his income for 1935 and 1936 included $315,000 paid in connection with a $9,500,000 settlement of Missouri's fire insurance rate controversy.

Indicted with Pendergast and accused of receiving $62,000 in the insurance deal was R. E. O'Malley, the state superintendent of insurance who engineered the settlement and later was discharged by Gov. Lloyd C. Stark, bitter democratic foe of Pendergast.

"No comment," barked Pendergast, a wholesale liquor dealer and executive of a concrete company, when he first heard about the indictment.

Murphy Visit
Pendergast, whose organization with its democratic majorities ranging up to 100,000 has swung elections for governors and United States senators, was sullen as he submitted to fingerprinting in the United States marshal's office. He was released on $10,000 bond.

"There's nothing the matter with me," he mumbled. The indictments followed closely a visit here by United States Attorney General Frank Murphy, who confided the grand jury's investigation was "greatly significant" and involved "some big politicians."

The jury findings climaxed an investigation by United States District Attorney Maurice Milligan who uncovered the vote fraud scandal here in 1936 which involved several lieutenants in the Pendergast organization.

"The insurance case is solved," commented Milligan today, referring to a search for missing funds.

Insurance Deal
The case involved collection of approximately $9,500,000 in fire insurance rate increase funds which were impounded after the state blocked the rate hike. O'Malley and the insurance companies came to an agreement in 1935 by which policyholders got 20 per cent of the money and the insurance companies the rest. The companies set aside 30 per cent of their share for the payment of court and litigation costs.

Milligan announced recently he learned a co-trustee handling the settlement collected more than a $100,000 from the companies for "expenses" before the agreement was reached and also got $347,000 more a few weeks after the agreement was signed. He set out to find where the money went.

State's Attorney General Roy McKittrick said he was told by Pendergast to approve the settlement.

Today's indictment charged Pendergast received $55,000 in 1935 "in connection with the compromise and settlement of the Missouri fire insurance rate litigation." A second count charged receipt of $260,000 in 1936.

Paid Only $464
The indictment stated Pendergast paid only $464 on a reported 1935 net income of $14,811 although he owed $15,567 on a net income of $69,811.

For 1936 the indictment shows Pendergast paid taxes of $25,481 on a reported net income of $87,840 and he was charged with having a net income of $347,840 and with having owed a tax of $195,682.

Will America Go to War?

Yesterday evening's papers told us that a sharp division of opinion within the senate foreign relations committee have threatened to delay, if not prevent, congressional revision of the neutrality law.

Last week in Washington, some 30 college students from many universities throughout the United States met in committee in a Washington hotel to discuss neutrality.

Every individual in that neutrality committee was vitally interested in the same thing—keeping America out of war. In like manner, that's exactly what the senators in the foreign relations committee believe to be the primary objective of American foreign policy.

The American college student of neutrality, (members of Delta Sigma Rho, the national forensics organization) had reached no decision after three days of bitter controversy. The one bill which they had passed in their own committee, by a very narrow margin, was voted down in the general assembly by the "little congress."

In the committee there had been a definite divergence of opinion. Although tremendously interested in keeping America out of war, students were unable to agree on the method which would accomplish that objective.

Half the group believed that America must be strictly neutral; that the United States must refuse, at all times, to sell war materials to nations at war. They argued that only through such a strict policy of "staying at home" can this country avoid a repetition of the gruesome events of 1917-18.

The other faction, also peaceful in intent, did not agree that remaining strictly neutral will preserve peace for America. The proponents of this liberal view were convinced that the United States must name the aggressor in a foreign conflict in which there is an obvious aggressor, and that this country must take steps against him.

The foundation of their argument lay in the fact that dictators will be far less willing to embark on "grabs" of independent powers if they can see the strength of the United States exerted at once on the side of the aggrieved power.

But all the members of the committee on neutrality, the isolationists and liberals alike, were agreed that they faced an unanswerable situation. It is this: Should America close her eyes while Germany seizes powers which have the moral right to exist as individual states? Or shall we recognize that Germany is justified in attempting to become a creditor nation, after 20 years of lifeless existence made necessary by the grasping ways of European democracies?

Should we tell Germany, "You are morally wrong and our power is against you?" Or shall we say to England and France, "It was because of you that Germany today is taking what she wants. We opposed you in 1918, but you did not listen. Now we shall have none of your wars."

The Delta Sigma Rho neutrality committee passed, by a vote of 13 to 11, a bill which provided for a strict policy of neutrality for the American people. In the final general assembly, when all of the more than 150 students who attended the congress were permitted to vote on the measures which had been passed by the committees, the neutrality act was rejected by three votes.

The entire group was interested in peace. They were divided in their belief in ways which might lead to peace. They were faced with this unanswerable question mentioned above.

On May 1, the clause of the present neutrality law which permits the United States to sell war supplies on a "cash and carry" basis to belligerents expires. The bill must be revised if America is to stay out of war.

There is general agreement that the present neutrality law is not neutral, and that it is not conducive to American security. Can it be made so?

Let us hope that the senate of the United States can reach a sound solution for their study of a question for which there seems to be no answer.

In a testing ground of congress, last week's Delta Sigma Rho conference, the same bill which the senate now considers was discarded because there "was no solution." Can the congress of the United States do better than that?

These next few days in the national capitol, as new wars loom in Europe, will be interesting days to watch. They may determine whether or not America will go to war.

Gelatine, it is now discovered, will make a man feel twice as strong as normally. So that's what Hitler's been taking!

Some Central European railroads charge extra for fat, bulky passengers. Of course, Herr Goering has a pass.

Now we know what they mean by the "hounds of spring." A California dog, according to a news item, recites poetry.

During the siege of Valencia the inhabitants ate the animals in their zoo. Imagine lions and tigers in the role of innocent bystanders!

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

THE GOAL: PEACE WITH JUSTICE

TROUBLED though these times may seem to be, the objectives of the genuine seeker after international peace are the same and have the same vitality about them as when sought under calmer diplomatic skies and amid sunnier circumstances. It is helpful to keep these goals in view, to remember that justice is the only lasting basis for peace, that there must be respect for international law and order and that recognition of world-wide kinship and mutual interest will eventually enforce these demands.

The events that are taking shape in Europe seem only dimly if at all to shadow forth an expression of justice. And certainly the means employed in the game of diplomatic and military chess are less than the ideal methods of honorable, fair and uncoerced negotiation among peoples. Yet the pattern of order must be established in order to provide security for justice.

To that end millions will applaud the most recent declarations by Prime Minister Chamberlain that Great Britain and France will help defend any nation that may find itself threatened by what it considers an aggressive effort to "dominate the world by force." This must surely be welcomed by many who feel a deep friendship for the German people and believe there still is room for some international adjustments in their favor. The rule of order can only be successfully defended if it is followed by efforts to see and to do justice.

Momentarily nations seek safety or strength in armaments and alliances. Armaments, as observed recently on this page, still seem necessary in this human scheme of things. A concert of nations may help enforce worthy standards of international practice. But armaments should be instruments, not the ultimate arbiters; alliances are snares if based only on an exchange of selfish national advantages. The prophets of Biblical times repeatedly reminded their people not to put their trust in princes, in horses and chariots or in the bow and the sword—types of the alliances and armaments of that period.

Isaiah declared, "Thus saith the Lord, Keep ye judgment, and do justice: for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed." To say definitively and with assurance on every detail exactly what is justice in the present turbulent world situation is beyond the wisdom of any human being. But all can hold with faith to the standard of equitable treatment for the aspirations and interests of all peoples. We can see Lincoln's goal of a "just and lasting peace" on the basis he recommended—"With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right." And we should trust divine intelligence to unfold the way of harmonious living in world affairs.—The Christian Science Monitor

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—"It Can't Happen Here" is going to happen here, at last, ending three years during which the Sinclair Lewis novel has been an on-again but mostly off-again screen property.

In those three years Hollywood has felt the pinch of foreign dictatorships and their rulings on Hollywood films, has held on where possible with its own policy of "market appeasement," and only now—with the bleakest of prospects in the turbulent situation abroad—seems to be kicking over the last hailers of dictator dictums.

Metro, making "It Can't Happen Here" has kept a German market longer than most other studios—perhaps not too surprisingly when you consider the politically conservative nature of most of its films. Barring the toned-down "Idiot's Delight," it has heaved to the line of strictly-for-entertainment movies, following accepted formulas even in its recent patriotic outburst, "Let Freedom Ring."

Nothing in this, except its title, could possibly offend the sensibilities of a dictator.

Contrary to widespread belief, the Hays office had nothing to do with the "dropping" of "It Can't Happen Here" when the anti-dictator novel was first considered for filming. It was an economic problem: to film it at a cost low enough to assure a profit without counting on income from countries where it would certainly be banned. Knowing the Metro system, you may be sure the problem has been licked. They don't make pictures just for fun out there.

Congress has set aside the month of April as Cancer Control Month, and the American Society for the Control of Cancer is planning an active campaign of public education. The Women's Field Army against Cancer is nationwide in scope and activity, and undoubtedly you will hear a good deal from them in the next few weeks.

This column is very glad to add its contribution to the educational program.

The army against cancer needs help because its entire national budget is about the cost of a single pursuit plane. It is organized in divisions, headed by a commander in each state with local units in counties, towns and cities. It expects to diffuse knowledge about cancer through meetings, forums, newspaper and magazine articles, radio programs, posters—in fact, through all the means of mass education. It seeks to replace fear with facts, superstition with sound information.

It is proper that it should be a woman's army for two reasons; first, because women traditionally bear the burden of care for the health of the household. It has always been her proud duty to see that her husband, her sons, her daughters and all the dependents of her household take proper care of themselves. And second, it is proper because women suffer more from cancer than men. This disease has killed more women in 1935 than any other of the horsemen of death.

A significant role in the Women's Field Army is played by a group of women who have been cured of cancer. This Cured Cancer Club of the American Society for the Control of Cancer is under the leadership of Dr. Anna C. Palmer, an 81-year-old woman who was cured of cancer of the heart 18 years ago. Those who have had the disease and who have remained cured for five years are eligible.

Cancer is a word which those of us who write for the public know as well as the public itself is repulsive and disagreeable to most ears. Some people will not even allow themselves to hear it or read it. That attitude was understandable in other days when little or nothing could be done to cure it, but now it is an anachronism.

With knowledge, it would, indeed, be cruel and heartless were we to introduce this word had we nothing hopeful or constructive to say about it. But the very heart of this campaign is that cancer fought with knowledge and fought early is curable.

I myself have some first-hand knowledge of the efficacy of the public campaign. Dr. Stanley Reimann, of Philadelphia, asked me to address an audience on cancer control there last year. He wrote me afterwards that he had records of seven people who had replied for early treatment as a result of the campaign. This is a practical example of how it works.

The headquarters of the American Society for the Control of Cancer is at 1250 Sixth avenue, New York, New York.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. L. A.: "Can you please tell me about wens or tumors on the head? Please state the cause and what can be done to cure them."

Answer—A wen is due to the stoppage of the outlet of one of the sebaceous glands of the skin. These glands pour a natural grease on the surface of the skin, which keeps it soft and oily. When the duct on the surface of the skin becomes stopped up, the grease accumulates behind and causes a swelling. Small ones can be opened and the grease squeezed out, but when they become large this treatment is not sufficient because they recur. A very simple minor surgical operation, however, removes the grease and the lining of the sac and results in a permanent cure.

If London, Paris, Berlin and Rome are to be destroyed by the first bombardments of the next world war what will the boys be fighting for?

We sometimes wonder if the pioneer forefathers would have worked so long or hard if they had movies and baseball games to go to.

work involved in keeping the English flag flying over the far-flung empire.

At history's recent pace the story may take on the character of a memorial—but Director Rowland V. Lee sees no need for changes in the script. England's work in her colonies, he feels, is always a great film subject.

There Is Romance in Story Of Clothes Worn This Easter

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Fashion Editor

There's romance in the new spring clothes smart women will wear this Easter.

The bonnets of the 60's, the swishing skirts of the 70's, starched petticoats, collars and frills of the gay 90's have all come back to give a sentimental air to fashions of '39.

Figures are small-waisted, girlishly curved of bosom and hip, and often are dressed in prim fitted bodices and short full skirts. Even make-up is keyed to the fresh natural look of the beauties of 1910.

The new frocks are designed to stress femininity and youth. Under the bodices fall gored, pleated, circular and gathered skirts which give a softly rounded line to the hips. (By contrast there are a few straight slim frocks.) Necklines generally are fairly high and shoulders follow a more natural line than last season, in keeping with the feminine trend. Very sheer wools, plain crepes, polka dots and prints are all used in the designs.

Their short swishing hemlines give tantalizing glimpses of bright taffeta petticoats—plaided, polka-dotted or striped—or of starched white petticoats, like grand-mother's, finished with an eyelet-embroidered flounce.

The starched white touch is very important this spring. It appears in pique school-girl collars and cuffs, in white organdy gumpies, in yokes of eyelet embroidery or starched white lace. Scarcely a dark costume is complete without it. It is even seen in hat brims of eyelet embroidery or white guipure.

A number of new frocks are topped by jackets of the same or contrasting material, to make a costume which may be worn without a coat when the spring sunshine is warm.

Among the smartest spring coats are redingotes with trim, nipped-in waists and full skirts, whose designs are almost as soft as that of a dress. There are a number of others cut on crispier, more tailored lines and numerous straight box coats (fashioned to flatter mature figures). A new note in youthful coats is a hip-length box coat to wear over a printed frock.

Suits—here in great variety—are generally soft in design. Sheer wool dresses topped by short fitted jackets, gored skirt and bolero combinations worn with frilly white organdy blouses and pin-checked tailleurs with fitted hip-length jackets are all included in the 1939 list. There also are a number of casual suits which combine checked, striped or plaid materials with plain fabrics.

Leading Color

Navy blue is one of the leading colors on the spring fashion palette. Rich medium blues and greenish sea blues are included. Another interesting range runs from beige through ginger and rust to henna. Dark green and blue are also shown.

Chapeaux for Easter include a great variety of sailors, bonnets, reminiscent of those worn in the 60's and small brimmed hats trimmed with flowers and wings. Veils add a frivolous touch.

Whitney Martin's SPORTS TRAIL

- A Few Opinions
- First Division
- Another Tight One

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP)—The American league argument centers on the order of finish behind the Yankees, but the National league has its own little problem. It concerns the order of finish ahead of the Phillies, and it gets more answers than a telephone, with probably as many wrong numbers also.

Touring through the south this corner tried to get some ideas as to what others thought of the National league race, and it was like asking for a match and being handed everything from a hot coal to a forest fire.

A Few Opinions
Here are a few of the opinions, most of them very emphatic:
"It will be between the Giants and the Bees. How are they going to stop that Giant power?"
"The Cubs were good enough to win last year. They should be favorites this year."

"The Reds are due. They have everything—power and pitching."
"Don't overlook the Cardinals. They have speed and youth—and Medwick and Mize."
"You'll have to put the Pirates in second place at least."
"Brooklyn will be in there scragging. The Dodgers have the best infield in the league."

First Division
That gives seven of the clubs a chance, indicating the first division is going to be a little overcrowded. Only the Phils were neglected, indicating they will have lots of fun playing around in those four second division places.

This corner had fairly definite ideas as to which teams would be after the pennant and which would be after the other teams, but the ideas now admittedly are a little shaky. The sponsors of the above statements were pretty convincing in their arguments, and add to this the fact that none of the seven managers is willing to admit his team is going nowhere in particular.

Leo Durocher is talking a fine race for his Dodgers, and even the rugged Casey Stengel dreams of the first division for his beehive. At that, the Bees would be cinches if they could play all their games at home. Their park is a pitcher's paradise, with its far fences and the breezes whipping in behind the chuckers to put wings and a tail on their fast ones. The Bees won 45 and lost 30 at home last year to lead the league, but the Cubs won 45 and lost 30 on the road, and we still have a leaning toward a club that can go into the other fellow's back yard and make faces.

Another Tight Race
The differences of opinion did point definitely to one thing, however—another tight race for the privilege of meeting the Yankees next October.

The openers are less than two weeks away, and we've looked over five of the National league teams in action, but right now we aren't sure of but one thing, to wit: the team which beats out the Giants, Reds, Cubs, Pirates, Bees, Dodgers and Cards will be in. Which leaves only the Phils, but we don't mean it just that way. They'll just be in the cellar.

Day Signs For Montanez Bout

NEW YORK, April 7 (AP)—For his gallant stand against Henry Armstrong a week ago, Davey Day, Chicago lightweight, today was given a 10-round bout with Pedro Montanez, Puerto Rican slugger, to be fought in Madison Square Garden May 23.

Promoter Mike Jacobs announced the signing and said each had agreed to come in under 147 pounds.

Day was stopped by Armstrong in 12 rounds last Friday, but only after putting up a game battle against the lightweight welterweight champion. Montanez is slated to tangle with Armstrong for the welterweight crown some

Paul Waner To Report Sunday At Pirate Camp

SARASOTA, Fla., April 7 (AP)—Paul Waner, a stubborn holdout from the Pittsburgh Pirates during the spring training season, said at his winter home here tonight he was preparing to leave tomorrow for New Orleans where he expects to come to terms with the Pirates' front office in short order.

The Cubs are slated for two exhibition contests in New Orleans Saturday and Sunday and Waner expects a conference along about game time Sunday afternoon.

While he didn't say so in so many words today, Waner indicated he would accept the terms offered by President Bill Benswanger some time ago. Waner's first contract called for a 45 per cent salary cut, which he returned, but a later contract raised the offering by 20 per cent.

This is the third time Waner has missed spring practice during his 13-year major league career. Twice he joined the club in Texas on his way east and during one of those years he had his best season.

Waner has been working out regularly here for several weeks. He said today his wife already had taken an apartment in Pittsburgh for the season, and "I expect to be in right field for the Pirates on the opening day unless they have a better player."

Tigers Pounce On Hapless Dodgers

SUMTER, S. C., April 7 (AP)—Hank Greenberg and Charley Gehring set off the Detroit Tigers' batting fireworks beneath the Brooklyn Dodgers today for a 14 to 6 conquest.

Including Greenberg's 500-foot homer with two aboard, the two Detroit sluggers batted in nine runs and scored three themselves on seven hits.

While his mates were shelling Ira Hutchinson and Tot Pressnell, Pitcher George Coffman coasted for the Tigers, spreading seven hits through seven innings. The Dodgers staged a four-run futile uprising off Archie McKain in the ninth.

Phillies Score Shutout 5 to 0
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 7 (AP) — Behind the three-hit pitching of Claude Passeau and Jim PoinDEXter the Phillies today shut out the Chattanooga Lookouts of the Southern Association, 5-0.

Passeau worked the first five innings, yielding only two doubles by Letchas and Galvin. PoinDEXter took over in the sixth and gave up only a single by Galvin in four innings. PoinDEXter also sewed up the game in the seventh when he drove in two runs by singling with the bases full.

Over The Fence Or No Count
ABILENE, Texas, April 7 (AP) — "Playing what seemed like 'over the fence or no count' ball, the Pittsburgh Pirates surged from behind today to beat the Chicago White Sox, 16-14.

The Pirates had six homers, including two by Arky Vaughan, and the White Sox five. The Pirates' shortstop drove in six runs while scoring three, making a homer with the bases loaded during an eight-run rally in the seventh. Ray Mueller, Pirate catcher, drove one over the fence with two on base during the seventh also.

Cardinals Stage Hitting Spurge
GASTONIA, N. C., April 7 (AP) — Pounding out 21 hits, including homers by Joe Medwick and Enos Slaughter, the St. Louis Cardinals gained an easy 17-9 victory today over the combined forces of Asheville of the Piedmont league and Gastonia of the Tarheel league, both Cardinal farm clubs.

Lon Warneke was slated to go the route, but he was not particularly effective and withdrew after seven innings. Bill McGee finished. The Farmhands walked Warneke for six runs in the fourth inning on five hits and two walks.

Boston Bees In 13-Inning Wip
ORLANDO, Fla., April 7 (AP) — The Boston Nationals set upon Washington's new pitcher from Venezuela, Alexandra Carasquel, today for five runs to break a tie and win a 13-inning exhibition game, 8-4. Jim Turner, starting for the Bees, held Washington scoreless for six innings.

Harder To Hurl Opener for Tribe
NEW ORLEANS, La., April 7 (AP) — Manager Oscar Vitt of the Cleveland Indians named the veteran Mel Harder today as hurler in the Tribe's opening game at St. Louis April 18. Moundsman Bob Feller's initial performance will come three days later when the Indians open in Cleveland against the Detroit Tigers, Vitt said.

Memphis Chicks Beat Athletics 6 to 3
MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 7 (AP) — Bating around in the eighth inning to score four runs, the Memphis Chicks of the Southern Association came from behind today to beat the Athletics, 6-3.

Bud Thomas, who pitched the entire game for the Athletics, twirled well until the eighth when the Chicks bunched five hits, aided by a wild pitch and a wild throw to first, to win.

Athletes' Share in Payroll

Baseball Players, Prizelights Take Big Slices of Nation's Cash

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—Athletes and sportsmen took a sizeable chunk out of the nation's payroll in 1937.

The treasury's annual salary report to the house ways and means committee showed that Mickey Cochrane, former manager of the Detroit Tigers, received $36,000 salary and a $9,000 bonus. Lou Gehrig got $36,000 for playing first base for the New York Yankees.

Carl Hubbell, left-handed pitching ace of the New York Giants, received $22,500 and Hank Greenberg, the Detroit first sacker, was paid $25,000.

A former heavyweight champion, James J. Braddock, received $61,983 from the Braddock-Gould enterprises.

Bill Terry, manager of the Giants, was paid $30,000, while Joe McCarthy, manager of the world champion Yankees, received checks totaling $27,500.

Bill Dickey—regarded by many baseball fans as the best catcher in baseball—was paid $18,000 by the Yankees.

John R. Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, got $30,000.

George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins football team, received $20,000—not from his team, but from his laundry business.

Branch Rickey, vice-president of the St. Louis Cardinals, was paid $42,340, while Sam Breadon, the president, received $25,000.

Other baseball salaries: Connie Mack, veteran manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, $20,000.

Eddie Collins, vice-president of the Boston Red Sox, $24,000.

Paul Derringer, pitcher, Cincinnati, $18,000.

Leo (Gabby) Hartnett, Chicago Cubs, $17,835; Billy Herman, Cubs second baseman, $17,000.

Alva Bradley, president of the Cleveland Indians, $15,000; C. C. Slapnicka, vice-president, $17,625.

Dick Bartell, shortstop of the New York Giants, now with the Cubs, $17,000; Mel Ott, Giant outfielder, $17,500.

Charley Gehring, called the best second baseman in the American league, $18,500 from Detroit.

George M. Weiss, vice-president of the Newark Bears, $21,500.

Dick Metz, Bulla Crack Par As Favorites Wobble at Asheville

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 7 (AP)—With a frosty northwest wind whipping them in the face, two young Chicago professionals, Dick Metz and John Bulla, cracked par by two strokes today to tie for the first-round leadership in the $5,000 "land of the sky" open tournament that winds up golf's winter campaigning.

Metz and Bulla played the par 72 uphill and downhill Asheville Country club course in 70 shots to take a stroke lead over four professionals as the field turned to a second 18-hole round to be played on the Beaver lake layout.

Two favorites, National Open Champion Ralph Guldahl and Henry Picard, practically shot themselves out of the running for the top prize of $1,200 with first-round scores of 78 and 77 respectively.

Denny Shute, Jimmy Thompson, Paul Runyan, and Gene Kunes of Philadelphia, gave standard figures a one-stroke beating to form the 71 bracket just behind the pace-setters.

Irish, Missouri Consider Cinder Contest April 15

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 7 (AP)—Don Faurot, chairman of the University of Missouri coaching staff, wired Elmer Layden, director of athletics at Notre Dame university, today that the Tigers were "glad" to meet the Irish here April 15 in a dual track meet—"if you would like to come."

Earlier today Layden said Notre Dame would "like" to be released from its contract to engage in the meet, originally scheduled as a triangular affair with Wisconsin.

The Badgers withdrew when Missouri barred Ed Smith, Negro, from competition, saying it was against a long standing policy of the school to permit Negroes to compete in athletic events here against Tiger athletes.

"The University of Missouri has no desire to hold the University of Notre Dame to a contract which it does not wish to fulfill," Faurot said in his telegram to Layden.

"The decision is entirely in your hands. We would be glad to have you if you would like to come."

leading pitchers who traveled with a second section for a game in Memphis, Tenn.

Harry Gumbert and Cy Blanton were slated for opposing pitching assignments in the only game the Giants will play against a National league club before the season opens.

Yankees Crush Oilers 5 to 2

TULSA, Okla., April 7 (AP)—The New York Yankees, chafing from two days of idleness enforced by cold and snow, turned out in the warmth of 45-degree temperature today to crush the Tulsa Oilers, 5-2, for their seventh consecutive exhibition triumph.

Wes Ferrell finished up the mound work for the Yankees and lost a shutout through some sloppy support — three infield errors in the eighth inning.

Art Manush, Frank Balazs Hit Homers During Game at Ruston

Kenny Reid Holds Opponents to One Score After Bad First Inning; Win Evens Series at One-All

RUSTON, La., April 7 (Special to The Daily Iowan) — Blasting away at the offerings of Louisiana Tech's hurlers, Iowa's Hawkeyes banged out 14 hits today, including homers by Co-Capt. Art Manush and Frank Balazs, to take an 8 to 5 decision, their fourth win out of five contests in the south.

It was the two homers which provided the winning margin for the Big Ten team. Balazs' four-bagger coming with Manush on base to bring Iowa two runs, while Manush's long drive came with the bases empty.

Big Kenny Reid, southpaw star of the Hawkeye pitching staff, limited the Louisiana Tech sluggers to five hits, although the southerners got to him for four runs in the opening stanza to pile up an early lead.

After that, with Reid pitching perfect ball, the Iowans began to move. On Manush's double and singles by Kantor and Balazs, they counted three times in the third. However, Louisiana Tech counted another in the fourth to take the lead again after Manush had cracked a homer in the Iowa half of the inning.

The Hawkeyes took the lead in the sixth by scoring twice and then scored two more in the eighth to complete the scoring for the day and even up the series at one-all with one contest left to play. The teams meet again tomorrow and the Hawkeyes move up to Little Rock, Ark., tomorrow night, before going to St. Louis for the final game of the road trip on Monday.

The victory gives Kenny Reid, Iowa pitcher, his second win since the Hawkeyes left Iowa City, he having shut Millsaps down with three hits in a shutout game at Jackson, Miss., Wednesday. Bothered with a sore arm for much of the time during the past two years, Reid has, apparently, found himself this season. Besides holding the opponents to five hits today, Reid struck out five, but was somewhat wild, dishing out six bases on balls.

Jack Stastny or Ted Frese is the probable choice for tomorrow's game.

Collegian Hurts No-Hit Contest

RICHMOND, Va., April 7 (AP)—Ned Butcher, right-handed University of Richmond sophomore, pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Yale today in his first complete varsity performance. Richmond won, 11-0.

The stocky Richmond fanned 14 batsmen and to make his day complete hit a triple and two singles in three trips to the plate.

Only four Yale men reached first base, three on walks and the fourth on a fielder's error.

Jayhawk Trackmen Lawrence, Kan. (AP)

Lawrence, Kan. (AP)—Kansas defeated Nebraska, 72 to 59, yesterday in a Big Six dual track meet run off on a track made "slow" by recent rains. A strong north wind also handicapped the athletes. Don Bird, Kansas vaulter, established the only record of the day when he sailed over the bar at 13 feet, 4 inches. The old mark of 13 feet, 3-4 inch, was set by Ray Noble, also of Kansas, in 1936.
