Rumania, Greece To Be Protected

G. B., France Pledge To Aid Weak Nations

Extend Unequivocal Commitments From Baltic to Ionic Sea

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 13 — Great Britain and France put the full military might of their empires behind Rumania and Greece today in an effort to forestall possible aggression by Germany and Italy.

Already pledged to fight for Poland, they extended unequivocal commitments from the Baltic in northern Europe to coast lines washed by the Black, Aegean and Ionic seas.

The anti-aggression bloc now represents the greatest European alliance since the World War.

The new pledges were announced in a declaration read to the house of commons in emergency session by Prime Minister Chamberlain and a statement issued in Paris by Premier Daladier.

Will Lend Forces

Chamberlain, after reviewing Italy's Good Friday invasion of Albania, said:

"... His majesty's government attach the greatest importance to the avoidance of disturbance by force or threats of force of the status quo in the Mediterranean and the Balkan peninsula."

"Consequently, they have come to the conclusion that, in the event of any action being taken which clearly threatens the independence of Greece and Rumania, and which the Greek or Rumanian governments respectively consider it vital to resist with their national forces, his majesty's government will feel themselves bound to lend at once to the Greek or Rumanian governments, as the case may be, all the support in their power."

Chamberlain spoke for 34 minutes and, besides announcing the Anglo-French pledge to Greece and Rumania, declared:

1. Of Italy's seizure of Albania—public opinion throughout the world has once again been profoundly shocked at this fresh exhibition of use of force.... It must be apparent that a powerful nation has imposed its will on a small and relatively defenseless country and has done so by an imposing show of armed force."

2. Of the Anglo-Italian agreement of 1938 to maintain the status quo in the Mediterranean—"no doubt some would say that we should now declare the Anglo-Italian agreement should now be considered at an end. I do not take that view myself for nobody with any sense of responsibility can in these days lightly do anything which would lead to an increase in international tension which everybody would deplore."

3. Of Italy in the future—"I believe, therefore, that there will be a widespread desire, all the greater because of uneasiness now prevailing, to see fulfillment of the remaining provisions of the agreement and naturally, in view of recent events, it is to the Italian government that we look for practical evidence that they share that desire."

4. Of Italians in Spain—the Italian government has assured Britain that all Italian volunteers withdrawn from Spain after the Madrid victory parade which is tentatively planned for May 2.

The prime minister disclosed that Britain and Italy had warned each other against occupation of Corfu, strategic Greek island off the southern tip of Albania.

MASQUERADE OVER Multi-Millionaire Poser Gets 6 Months

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13 (AP) — Nathan Desmond, 50, a suave poseur who sold false faces for a living, was sentenced to six months in jail for a masquerade as a multi-millionaire which won him a 26-year old bride and sent her to a hospital with shattered nerves. He was convicted of vagrancy.

Police Inspector William Stanton asserted Desmond posed as Claus A. Spreckels, scion of the wealthy California family, and married Margarette Davis, orphaned daughter of an army officer.

Safety First State, Mason City Honored

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP) — The National Safety Council honored the state of Iowa and Mason City tonight for 1938 traffic safety records.

In behalf of Gov. George A. Wilson, Representative Thomas E. Martin (R-Iowa) accepted the award presented to Iowa for making the best automobile traffic safety record in the mid-western region.

Mason City's plaque award for having the best traffic safety record of any city of 10,000 to 25,000 population was accepted by Mayor Harry Brown.

Dr. George Gallup of New York, former Iowan and head of the American Institute of Public Opinion, delivered the principal address at the dinner at which the awards were presented.

Ask Oust Of B. of Control

Senate Wants Wilson To Remove Members Because of Scandal

DES MOINES, April 13 (AP) — By a vote of 30 to 19, the Iowa senate tonight asked Gov. George A. Wilson to remove the members of the state board of control.

Harry C. White (D-Vinton), is chairman of the board. The other members are Frank M. Stevens (D-Garden Grove), and E. H. Felton (R-Indianola).

Feeling White Hot

The senate based its recommendation on the report of a special investigating committee which visited five of the 15 institutions under the board's supervision and returned with charges of immorality, intemperance, abuse and mismanagement.

Feeling in the senate was white hot as accusers and defenders repeated the motion calling for removal of the board.

Two Secret Sessions

Institutions visited by the committee were the Soldiers' Orphans' home at Davenport and the juvenile home at Toledo; the insane hospitals at Cherokee and Independence, and the institution for the feeble-minded at Glenwood.

The report was the subject of two secret sessions of the senate before it was made public on Tuesday.

Launch 4 Nazi Papers Abroad To Spread National Socialism

BERLIN, April 13 (AP) — With the press at home denouncing Britain and Nazi spokesmen blaming democracies for war talk, it appeared tonight that Germany had begun to export national socialism on a large scale by publications abroad.

Zietungs-Verlag, important weekly publication of German publishers, disclosed that four Nazi weeklies had been launched in as many countries—Britain, France, Switzerland and the Netherlands—to:

"Reveal the real nature and development of national socialist Germany by word and picture beyond the confines of the Reich, and to create relationships of mutual confidence between Germans and the countries where they are guests."

This was something of a reversal of the avowed policy that "national socialism is not an article of export."

One spokesman, charging that failure to heed Chancellor Hitler's "pleas" for peace put the blame for possible war on the democracies, declared that cancellation of war risk insurance for German and Italian ships by American companies was a typical example of panic politics."

The United States is one nation fostering "war psychosis," one Nazi contended.

Get Awards on Supreme Court Day

These five men were among those yesterday to receive recognition of various kinds as the university celebrated its 13th annual Supreme Court day. Shown here receiving congratulations from Dean Wiley B. Rutledge are the following new members of the Order of Coif, limited to students who rank in the upper tenth of the senior law class or others who have achieved distinction in the legal profession: Robert Greenleaf of Centerville, Erwin Buck of Grand Junction, Harvey Uhlenhopp of Hampton, Bob Daniel of Cedar Rapids and James Cameron

Court Renders 'Split' Decision

Deadlock Gives Appellees Win

George Heidlebaugh, James L. Cameron Named Victory Pair

What is believed to be the first "split" decision ever to be handed down on a Supreme Court day argument at the University of Iowa was returned by the Iowa supreme court here last night.

According to technical law, the appellees automatically win the case when the decision of the court is a deadlock, and James L. Cameron of Eldora and George E. Heidlebaugh of Des Moines were declared this year's winners of the annual argument.

They opposed Robert O. Daniel of Cedar Rapids and Robert W. Greenleaf of Centerville, who represented the Corn Belt Trucking company in the appeal from the university court.

The issues at stake were: "Is the Iowa registration tax being levied on interstate commerce constitutional?" and "Is the gasoline tax as it is being applied to truckers constitutional?"

Rutledge Speaks

The four to four vote resulted when Justice W. H. Hamilton was unable to be present at the argument.

The decision of the court was announced last night at Iowa Union following a dinner in honor of the justices. Dean Wiley B. Rutledge and the Hon. Henry C. Schull, president of the Iowa Bar association, were the speakers.

Prof. Mason Ladd presented prizes to outstanding second-year law students, and Justice F. M. Miller presented Law Review

Open Graves In Search Of Poison Clues

KANSAS CITY, April 13 (AP) — White-haired Henry F. McElroy today quit the city manager's post he held 13 years under Boss Tom Pendergast's democratic organization, now under the withering fire of federal-state vice fraud and graft drives.

McElroy's resignation, written last night, said simply: "I hereby tender my resignation as city manager."

Evades Questions

The 73-year-old manager removed the police siren and red warning light from his automobile this morning, retired to his south side home and remained there all day.

Reached by telephone he said only:

"Well, the grass on the level looks O. K. But on the hillside it's a little short."

He had been inspecting his lawn.

Major Smith called a meeting of the city council for Saturday to select an acting manager. Mentioned prominently for the place was his 35-year-old secretary, Eugene Zachman.

McElroy has been in control of the city's affairs since 1926 under a council of nine members, including the mayor.

Smith, although elected with Pendergast support, originally was aligned with a rival democratic faction.

Police awaited a final analysis by city chemists before making additional arrests.

Detectives said one to be seized might be an attractive blonde, a "professional widow" in the ring's killings to collect insurance money.

One man has been convicted and four persons have been indicted on murder charges in the poisoning of four other persons.

Herman Petrillo was convicted with a recommendation of the death penalty. Another man and two women are awaiting trial.

NO SETTLEMENT

Separation Suit Ends In Killings

NEW YORK, April 13 (AP) — An estranged couple, meeting in a lawyer's office to effect a settlement in a separation suit, was shot to death tonight.

Mrs. Lillian Greenbaum, 37, died instantly with two wounds in her head, and Emanuel Greenbaum, about 40, vice-president of an auto parts concern, died 20 minutes later with a bullet through the right temple.

The lawyer, Aschibald Palmer, told police Greenbaum shot his wife as they sat on opposite sides of a table and then shot himself.

DES MOINES, April 13 (AP) — Its 89 members silenced by a caucus rule, the Iowa republican house majority tonight refused to divulge a decision reached behind closed doors on a state budget economy ultimatum from Gov. George A. Wilson.

Informants sources said, however, that a compromise reached after heated debate would lower the proposed total annual allowance for the University of Iowa to a point $100,000 above the 1937 budget figure.

The university was scheduled to receive $2,500,000 a year under house action taken yesterday. The 1937 budget total was $2,102,500.

In the background of today's long caucus over the $15,100,000 budget bill were the party's economy pledges in the last campaign. Retrenchment was an important factor in G. O. P. "sales talks" to the voters of Iowa last fall.

The budget in its present form exceeds by more than $1,000,000 the $13,926,654 annual appropriations voted by the 1937 legislature.

The senate has not yet begun consideration of its financial measure.

The compromise also reportedly would give Iowa State college at Ames $100,000 a year more than its 1937 total of $2,150,000 annually. The house appropriations bill calls for $2,490,000 for the college.

Capt. Paquet, who came to the university four years ago, is an instructor and supply officer of the military department.

Washington orders also included the name of Maj. Arthur W. Penrose of Cedar Rapids, who also will be shifted to the Philippine department.

Summer Welles, undersecretary of state, plead that the United States make it possible for peace-loving nations to buy materials here in case of war.

Dr. Benes placed a wreath on the tomb of Thomas Jefferson while visiting the school the father of American democracy founded.

Fascists' Chant 'On to Paris'

Grand Council Gives Sanction to Italy, Albanian Union

ROME, April 13 (AP) — Premier Mussolini declared tonight Italy would "march straight ahead," and a huge fascist throng chanted "on to Paris" after the fascist grand council sanctioned officially Albania's union with Italy.

The grand council in a 23-minute special session "acknowledged" the Albanian offer of the country's crown to King Vittorio Emanuele III of Italy, which the king was certain to accept.

The action gave speedy legal sanction to the fascist conquest of Albania in the face of the new Anglo-French pledge to resist aggression in the Mediterranean.

Italian authorities announced later that a delegation of Albanian notables would arrive by airplane tomorrow to present the crown to King Vittorio Emanuele in a formal ceremony Saturday morning.

At the conclusion of the grand council meeting shortly before midnight, Il Duce and Achille Starace, fascist party secretary, appeared on the balcony of Palazzo Venezia and were greeted by tremendous cheer from the crowd of about 50,000 fascists gathered below.

Il Duce, interrupted frequently by chants of "France," "on to Paris," and "Tunisia," told the throng:

"The historic events of recent days are the result of our will, of our faith and of our force.

"We go toward friendly peoples in an attitude of friendship; against hostile peoples we will have a clear, decisive, resolute attitude of hostility.

"The world is asked to leave us tranquil in our great and daily task. In any case the world must know that tomorrow, as yesterday and always, we will march straight ahead."

A Figure
Who Will Be Missed

NO LONGER will we peruse eagerly the latest addition to the thrilling murder cases of S. S. Van Dine. The charming debonair figure of Philo Vance, the modern Sherlock Holmes, will no longer skillfully unravel the apparently unsolvable crimes which appeared in such books as "The Benson Murder Case," "The Canary Murder Case," and "The Bishop Murder Case."

The author, long known as writer of these "better" mysteries, died Tuesday. Originally his career was not that of a mystery writer; but after he had been forbidden by his doctor to do any but light reading, he began reading detective yarns. His murder cases were the result.

When his first books were published they established a new high in the field. They were exciting, but along with that they were satisfactorily and intelligently worked out.

Vance, the detective, was always admired and his judgment respected. The reader had a chance to work with him and solve the case scientifically if he could. At the end he always sighed regretfully when the murderer was discovered and the last page turned. That's tribute enough for any writer.

FLANDERS FIELD
ASTIR AGAIN

Flanders field where the red poppies grow is again a scene of distress.

The Flemish people are predominantly German and speak a tongue similar to the German language. The rest of Belgium is predominantly French, a fact which makes the country distinctly bilingual.

These differences in language were used during the World War by Germany in order to incite the Flemish people against the French by promising cultural freedom for Flanders. In doing this Germany gained an advantageous entrance into France.

Today King Leopold of Belgium has found it difficult to preserve a united country. The Flemish autonomy movement has grown since the war, especially with encouragement from Nazi Germany.

Rumblings in Flanders have caused serious internal upheavals. Belgian patriots have protested against the regain of power by old-war-time Flemish leaders who were traitorously pro-German.

The appointment of Dr. Adrian Mautens, condemned to death as traitor to Belgium in 1920, to the newly formed Flemish Academy of Science aroused Belgian disapproval. Mautens returned to Flanders in 1927 at the passing of the general amnesty bill after having fled to Holland. This protest resulted in the fall of the Belgian government. Three attempts by King Leopold to establish a new Government have failed.

The Flemish autonomy movement, similar to the early stages of the German Sudetenland movement, is not entirely pro-Nazi, yet it is under the influence of Nazi agitation. And, too, similar to the Czechoslovakian situation, Hitler claims two strips of Belgian territory: the greater German, Malmédy and Eupen.

CLIPPED
COLUMNS*WAR IS NOT INEVITABLE

PEACE is power. It includes the means of preventing wars.

A statement such as President Roosevelt's at Warm Springs—"I'll be back in the fall if we don't have war"—is apt to be read by some Americans with too much of a sense of resignation to catastrophe. To assume from this that a general war abroad, if not actually involving the United States, is unavoidable, might readily be a misreading of the president's thoughts in the matter and would almost surely be a mistaking of his purpose in the remark.

To those acquainted with the diplomacy of the situation such a comment is one of the few ways open to a chief executive of letting European leaders of states know that the United States government is continuously interested in events abroad, that it feels itself definitely affected by moves that menace the general peace. To make this plain may be, and the president clearly believes it is, one way of helping to dispel the threats of war.

Certainly the everyday citizen should not accept the suggestion hurled from so many sides that war is inescapable. War settles nothing. It is an appeal to force to solve questions that only justice can solve. Intelligence and fairness, whatever the seeming odds of excitement and intolerance, can be exercised as well before an armed conflict as after; in fact, usually better before hatreds have become burned in by brutality.

If there are some who will not accept peaceful methods but are resolved upon the arbitrament of the sword, then as in the ordinary community, others must stand ready to make the sacrifices necessary toward preserving order. They must be willing to do their part in maintaining civilized standards of conduct. It should steadily be kept in view, however, that the course of firmness has other possible ways of working out than by war. Coupled with justice it can convince aggressors that there are wiser methods of pressing their claims.

Efforts for peace may involve the risk of war. But the world would hold to the eternal fact that justice is possible without war.

WHO MERELY WAIT . . .

This is one of the shortest columns I have ever written. . . Also it is one of the truest. . .

You'd think, if I didn't tell you, that this first came out of Victor Hugo's "Les Misérables" but it didn't. . . It happened right here in Iowa City this spring. I heard about it yesterday. . .

It concerns a friend of mine. . . A waiter I'd meet when we dropped in for an evening for a cup of coffee. . . A little fellow with a plain accent, a cousin, he once told me, of a university lecturer of late last summer. . .

I don't know what he's doing now, but last time I saw him it was nothing at all. . .

He isn't at my former dropping-in place any more. . . He was fired when the boss discovered his dishonesty. . . He had been stealing food for his wife and baby out of the supplies. . .

You really can't blame the boss for firing him. . . A thief must be punished; theft is a crime. . . You really can't blame the Iowa City business man who fired him.

Not until I mention his salary you can't. . .

His salary was $7.50 a week—and meals. . . He had a 25-cent allotment for meals. . .

I don't really know who is to blame. . . Not much I don't. . .

And also this should be about Kenneth who once was a waiter too. . . You probably remember him, curly brown hair, ruddish complexion, a smile. . .

Kenneth is 17, and he's leaving on Monday for the navy. . . They've accepted him, finally. . . His mental test was excellent, his physical test perfect. . .

So he'll join the navy and see the world. . . And then, after two years, he'll be taking his tests for entrance to Annapolis. . . He thinks he'll make it. . . And so do I. . .

Although he only had two years of high school. . . And his grades weren't very good then. . . I didn't study much," he confesses. "I missed my mother." . .

She died, and now Kenneth has a step mother. . . That's why he left home at 15. . . That's why he waited on tables at not too much a week. . .

That's why he'll join the navy and see the world. . .

"I think I'll like it," Kenneth told me last night. "It's been so swell so far, the world I mean."

And that's today's column. . . Not much point to it really. Just two true stories about Iowa City, about our town, 1933. . .

Health Hints

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

In 50,000 letters written by the public to the American Society for the Control of Cancer, the following questions are the most frequent on treatment of cancer. The answers furnish the best modern scientific judgment.

How should cancer be treated? By surgery, x-ray, radium, or a combination of the three in the earliest possible stage of the disease. No other form of treatment is of any value.

Are x-ray treatments good for all kinds of cancer? No. Treatment depends on type and location of the growth. Some cancers will not respond to x-ray or radium treatment, but must be treated by surgery.

Are x-ray treatments good for cancer in Action? What is the difference in action of x-rays and radium on cancer tissue? There is no essential difference. When properly used, both will destroy cancer cells without seriously injuring the normal cells.

How is radium used? Radium in hollow needles is inserted into the cancer growth or in the tissue surrounding it, or both, and removed after treatment is concluded. Radium in a suitable container may be placed in contact with the growth, as in cancer of the skin. In larger quantities it may be used at a distance from the body, the rays passing through an opening in the container into the cancerous growth.

Is cancer curable only in early stages? Yes, in the large majority of cases. At times, however, cure can be obtained after the cancer has been present for a long time. The type of cancer always has an important bearing on its curability.

No Serum Cure

Is there any known serum cure for cancer? No. A serum is of value only against disease due to a germ. Cancer is not caused by a germ.

Can cancer be drawn out with a salve or cured by taking medicine? No paste or salve will penetrate the tissues far enough to destroy deep-seated cancer cells; neither is there any medicine that will destroy cancer cells without also destroying normal cells with which it comes in contact.

Is cancer curable only in early stages? Yes, in the large majority of cases. At times, however, cure can be obtained after the cancer has been present for a long time. The type of cancer always has an important bearing on its curability.

Why is radium so expensive to use? Because it is so difficult and costly to obtain. It requires 500 tons of the richest radium ore or a shoe that hasn't one.

Inconsistent woman. She won't wear a stocking with a hole in the toe or a shoe that hasn't one.

Iowa Social Studies Teachers Convene

Six Speakers To Be Heard At 19th Meet

Dr. W. Notestein Of Yale To Talk Before Iowans, Also Guests

Six speakers of note, including one from Iowa's college of education, will address Iowa history and social studies teachers gathered for their 19th annual conference on the campus today and tomorrow morning.

Hundreds of college and high school history and social science teachers from Iowa and adjacent states are expected to attend, according to plans announced by Prof. W. T. Root, head of the history department.

Heading the list of speakers is Dr. Wallace Notestein of Yale university, who will give two addresses, one tonight on "History and Imagination," and another tomorrow morning on "History and Character." Professor Notestein, a sterling professor at Yale since 1928, was attached to the department of state in 1918 and in 1919 was sent to Paris as a member of the American commission to negotiate peace. Much of his work has been in English history.

"History and Human Nature" will be discussed by Prof. James B. Stroud of Iowa's college of education at the morning session today in the senate chamber of Old Capitol. Sessions this afternoon, evening and tomorrow morning will all be there.

Prof. Howard R. Anderson, formerly of Iowa's faculty and now of Cornell university, will speak on "Training in History as Education for Citizenship." Besides the morning address, he will speak to high school history teachers at a luncheon this noon. He will be the only outside speaker at the luncheons and the dinner held in connection with the conference.

"Clothing in Overalls" will be Prof. Herbert Heaton's subject in the afternoon session. Professor Heaton is from the University of Minnesota's history department.

Also speaking in the afternoon will be Chancellor Chauncey S. Boucher of the University of Nebraska, who will lecture on "History and the Social Sciences—Whither?"

Before accepting the Nebraska position, Chancellor Boucher was dean of arts and sciences at Chicago and president of the University of West Virginia.

Prof. J. Fred Rippy of the University of Chicago will address tomorrow morning's session on "The New Pan-Americanism and the Fascist Threat." Professor Rippy once was a lecturer at the National University of Mexico in 1929, and has written some seven books, most of which concerned Latin-America.

A conference dinner for all interested will be held in the river room of Iowa Union at 6:15 this evening. Tickets may be secured at the registration desk in Old Capitol. Two luncheons, one for college history teachers and one for high school history teachers, will be this noon in Iowa Union.

While the conference is in session today, University high school and junior high school social studies department will carry on regular work which visitors have been invited to observe.

The sessions are open to any university students who wish to attend.

NEWS BRIEFS FROM MAJOR LEAGUE CAMPS

Giants Roughhouse Indian Hurters 13-5

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 13 (AP) — The New York Giants roughhoused two Cleveland Indians pitchers today for 16 hits good for a total of 25 bases and a 13-5 victory.

The Giants concentrated all their runs into the five middle innings as Mel Ott came up with perfect batting performance, including a home run.

Cliff Melton yielded just seven hits and checked all the Indians expect Ken Keltner, whose two circuit blows accounted for all Cleveland's five runs.

Pirates Win From Sox in 10 Innings

OWENSBORO, Ky., April 13 (AP) — Bob Klinger, whose right arm may be a deciding factor for the Pirates this season, singled with the bases loaded in the tenth inning today to give Pittsburgh a 5-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox in the last of their nine game series.

The blow was Klinger's third safety in the game and added for the eight hits and three runs he permitted in the five rounds he worked.

Luke Appling's home run in the fourth was the only score the White Sox made off Cy Blanton and outfield.

George Caster, Henry Pippen and Nelson Potter, each of whom pitched three innings, held Charlotte to five hits while the A's also scored a lot of time to the Iowa Hawks.

Joe Gantinen hit a homer for the A's with one on in the second.

Browns Wallop Topeka 9 to 1

TOPEKA, Kan., April 13 (AP) — lone ninth-inning run kept Bill Cox, St. Louis Browns right-hander, from shutting out the Topeka club of the Western Association this afternoon. The Browns won 9-1.

Cox held the Kansans to three scattered hits in the first eight innings, but was nicked for a pair in the finale.

Manager Fred Haney made wholesale changes in his infield and outfield.

Loss of Leg Proves No Handicap to 'Y Swimmer From Clinton

By JIM BRISTOL
Daily Iowan Sports Reporter

This is the kind of story which wishing to do something for the boy, got him interested in swimming.

The hero, Hubert Norman of Clinton, defending champion in the state Y. M. C. A. swimming meet, has been a cripple since childhood. In infancy he was like other little boys but in early years he became the victim of a railroad tragedy which cost him the loss of one leg.

This, in itself, is enough to cause a person to lose faith in life but there was more in it than that for Hubert. His parents were not well off and the cost of an artificial limb was too great to bear — so Hubert walked with the aid of a crutch.

Hubert had plenty to be bitter about but he has the kind of disposition which keeps fighting and smiling. He became proficient with his crutch and many a day he could be seen playing with the boys.

And then he entered Junior high school and came under the wing of Howard Judd, the kindly physical education director of the Clinton public schools. Judd,

Coach's 'Sour-Face' Just A Defensive Act

NEW ORLEANS, April 13 (AP)

Lowell (Red) Dawson, head man of Tulane's football department, spoke right out in meeting field, against the yannigans. He is wasting no time as he prepares the Iowa squad for its opening Big Ten assignment Monday against Purdue. With a second game with Purdue on the docket Tuesday, Iowa also has two games scheduled the latter part of next week with Illinois. These contests are to be played at Champaign.

The Hawks, disregarding their excellent record on their invasion of Dixie, cannot afford to take the Purdue tilts lightly, and Coach Vogel and his men have a wholesome respect for the Boilermakers.

Purdue won two, tied two, and lost one on its southern trip. Included in its record are two ties and one victory over Louisiana Tech, the only team to defeat the Hawks on the latter's southern sojourn.

The Boilermakers have a strong mound corps which is headed by Arnold Bredewater. They have a brother act for a battery as the latter's twin brother, Arthur, is first string catcher for the Boilermakers.

The Iowans boast a better hitting average than does Purdue on the two respective Dixie journeys. The Boilermakers batted only .268 as compared with Iowa's remarkable .319.

Phillies Win 19-0

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP) — Jim Henry held the Greenville team of the South Atlantic league to four hits yesterday while the Phillies pounded out an easy 19 to 0 victory. The game was called at the end of the seventh to allow the Phils to catch a train to Philadelphia.

TOMMY FARR WINS FROM BURMAN IN LONDON BOUT

Roosevelt Says Arm Conditioned For First Game

WASHINGTON, April 13 (AP)

Pitcher Franklin D. Roosevelt reported today that his arm was in good shape for the opening game of the American league baseball season next Monday.

The president accepted the invitation of Clark Griffith, president of the Washington club, to attend the opener against the New York Yankees and to throw out the first ball.

Griffith and Ford Frick, president of the National league, presented to the president annual passes on behalf of both the major leagues.

The National league pass was encased in a piece of the hide of an elephant that died at the zoo here some time ago, and the baseball executives said the president remarked laughingly that it reminded him of the republican party.

All-University Teams Begin Play For Volleyball Title

Play got underway last night in the first round of the all-university volleyball championship tourney as teams representing the Quadrangle, Hillcrest, cop dorm and fraternity leagues squared off in the opening games.

Phi Kappa Sigma had little trouble in disposing of Lower D, representing the Quad, after losing the first game of the set, 16-14. The Phi Kappa Sigma's came back to win the next two games 15-1 and 15-4 to advance into the second round of the tourney.

Chesley won its opening game by defeating Hillcrest in two straight games, 16-14 and 15-9.

Wins Decisive Decision From Baltimore Boy

Farr Gets Revenge For Previous Loss Suffered in U. S.

By SCOTTY RESTON

LONDON, April 13 (AP) — Welshman Tommy Farr, one-time British heavyweight champion, celebrated his homecoming at Harringay stadium tonight by coping an easy 12-round decision from Red Burman of Baltimore.

Farr weighed 205½ to Burman's 186½.

It was Tonypandy Tommy's fight all the way and if the big Welshman had taken advantage of his opportunities he could have had a knockout to atom for the five successive defeats he absorbed during two years in the United States. One of these defeats was a 10-round decision for Burman.

With the crowd of 11,600, including Jimmy Roosevelt and Henry Armstrong, cheering wildly, Farr sent Burman staggering against the ropes time after time in the third, fourth and fifth rounds but never was able to end the proceedings.

On the Associated Press score card Farr won seven rounds, Burman three and two were even. The American's rounds were the second, ninth and eleventh.

Late in the second Burman jolted Farr with a right hook and chased him around the ring landing a series of hard rights until after the bell sounded.

Again in the eleventh, Burman belted his heavier opponent with a quick right to the face and followed with a long one-two which appeared to hurt the Welshman. But none of these flurries ever brought Burman close to the advantage Farr piled up during the middle rounds.
