F. D. R. Says Americas Can Help World Avoid War

France, Britain Discuss Plan For Air Help

Urges Nations Break Bonds Of Militarism

Fascist Aggression In Western World Would Be Resisted

By RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt nettled the fascist nations and heartened the stop-Hitler alliance today with a speech urging European nations to "break the bonds" of militaristic ideas and asserting that the Americas can and will help the old world avoid war.

Claiming for the western hemisphere "a stake in world affairs," he bluntly warned that any aggression against the United States or its neighbor nations would be resisted by "matching force to force." Moreover, he said, the new world's "will to peace" would "have its voice in determining the order of world affairs."

Cooperation, Friendship Urged
As an object lesson for the troubled nations of Europe, he held out the results on this side of the Atlantic of the ideal of a "community of nations" and economic cooperation, which he said had kept the many countries of the Americas on terms of friendship.

"If that process can be successful here, is it too much to hope that a similar intellectual and spiritual process may succeed elsewhere?" The president asked. "Do we really have to assume that nations can find no better methods of realizing their destinies than those which were used by the huns and vandals 1,500 years ago?"

Refers to Dictators
And he referred directly to the recent utterances of Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini on European developments, particularly the negotiation of an anti-aggression alliance by France and Great Britain.

"There is no such thing as encircling, or imprisoning any peaceful nation by other peaceful nations," he said. "We have reason to know this in our own experience."

The president's address, delivered to diplomatic representatives of the nations of North and South America on the occasion of Pan-American day, evoked an instantaneous response abroad.

German officials said the speech "clearly revealed" Mr. Roosevelt as the "master wire puller behind the anti-German encirclement policy." To say it was impossible to encircle a peaceful nation, they added, was a "negation of history." And they indicated sharp rejoinders probably would be made.

Takes Post

James M. Slattery (above) asked by Governor Horner, of Illinois, to fill senate post made vacant by death of J. Hamilton Lewis, is chairman of the Illinois commerce commission. Appointee will sit in Lewis' seat during next 18 months until next regular election in 1940.

Axis Powers Push 'Rights'

Counter Opposition With Move To Gain 'Legitimate Claims'

ROME, April 14 (AP)—A new Italian-German move to gain the axis powers' "just rights" was foreshadowed today on the eve of conferences between Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Hitler's right hand man, Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering.

The authoritative Fascist Editor Virginio Gayda announced in Il Giornale d'Italia that the Rome-Berlin axis would counter French-British opposition by pushing forward "the responsible plan of just rights and legitimate claims."

He said he made the disclosure because Prime Minister Chamberlain's attitude indicated there was scant hope for "comprehension, generosity or justice." Gayda, who often reflects the viewpoint of Mussolini, had a conference with Il Duce before writing this.

Goering, who arrived tonight after witnessing a demonstration of Italy's military preparations in Libya, will remain for two days. He and Mrs. Goering will be entertained at the Villa Madama, the government's new official guest house.

Besides conferring with Mussolini, Goering will be received by King Vittorio Emanuele and will be guest at banquets in the royal palace and Mussolini's Palazzo Venezia.

Foreign circles were confident that Il Duce and Goering would discuss axis strategy in view of what fascists term the French-British "encirclement" policy.

Meanwhile the Italian cabinet formally approved King Vittorio Emanuele's acceptance of the crown of Albania, and provision was made for appointment of a lieutenant-general as viceroy at Tirana.

Doubt Poland Will Sign Pact

BERLIN, April 14 (AP)—Official Nazi circles today still professed a belief that Poland would never sign an alliance with Britain. (Poland and Britain concluded an interim defensive alliance, but technical discussions are scheduled before it is made formal and permanent.)

So firm is this belief that it aroused speculations as to whether Hitler was not holding up his sleeve a trump which he considered strong enough to convince Poland it had better not sign.

Germans Call U. S. President 'War Agitator'

German Newspaper Asserts FDR Wants To Open 'Crusade'

BERLIN, April 14 (AP)—An officially inspired German commentary declared tonight that "war agitator Roosevelt" wants to "open a 'holy crusade' against the German people."

The bitter reaction to President Roosevelt's Pan American speech was published in Deutsche Dienst amid strong indications that the United States was rapidly being given a place alongside Britain on the Nazi list of enemies.

"There is no necessity of arousing the American people with all kinds of devilish tricks of agitation into war fever against us," said the commentary, which is distributed by DNB, German official news agency.

'Open Crusade'
"And Roosevelt would like to open a 'holy crusade' against the German people even before it is declared."

"For that reason his 'cookie-pusher' diplomats already must wander around in full war regalia with gas masks in order to impart the creeps to the American people by force."

(The president pledged American economic support to any country threatened by "economic pressure" from abroad and condemned aggression as "criminal"). Foreign office circles earlier had accused Mr. Roosevelt of "meddling" in matters which didn't concern him.

Supports Injustice
Deutsche Dienst said that while Premier Mussolini and Reichsfuehrer Hitler were endeavoring to "offset the unrest sowed by the western democracies through a new and just order in Europe, Roosevelt is seeking anew to support the tottering front of injustice by his hate."

"Roosevelt holds up Pan-American union before European nations as an example of the national community of American lands," it continued. "Allegedly, only pure peace and harmony has reigned among these American nations."

England's Policy Points to League Of Nations Ideal

LEWISBURG, Pa., April 14 (AP)—Sir Herbert Ames, former treasurer of the league of nations, said tonight that England's foreign policy in the last two weeks indicated "a trend back toward the league of nations ideal."

"We may yet have the nucleus of a new league," he said, "if, under British leadership a group of states can be formed powerful enough to protect its members."

F. D. R.'s Speech Hints of Third Term

Praises Washington's Sacrifice for Service in Time of Crisis

MOUNT VERNON, Va., April 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt, in a speech which revived third term discussion among legislators at Washington, praised George Washington today as a man who sacrificed his own desires by continuing his public service "in a time of real crisis and deep emergency."

Speaking on the 150th anniversary of Washington's departure from his home for New York, where he was inaugurated first president, Mr. Roosevelt said that Washington must have experienced "torn emotions" and "many regrets" as he set out.

He loved his life at Mount Vernon, Mr. Roosevelt said, but must have felt that after his service to his country he was entitled to rest here. But he ac-

House Clears Deck for Action By Placing Budget on Calendar

DES MOINES, April 14 (AP)—Iowa republican house leaders tonight cleared the decks for financial action tomorrow by placing the $14,400,000 state government "after-thought" economy budget on the house calendar.

Excluding the large newcomer departments to the budget this year, the revised appropriations bill represents a reduction of approximately $850,000 annually compared with the measure before the Governor Wilson-inspired economy bloc won their point for retrenchment all down the line.

Crash Kills 2 Near Grinnell

GRINNELL, April 14 (AP)—Two persons were killed and five others were injured, two critically, in a head-on automobile collision three miles east of here on highway 6 late today.

The dead: Mrs. Antonio Daguanno, 27, professional dancer from Brooklyn, N. Y., and Los Angeles, Calif.

Coleen Curtis, 10, Grinnell.

Boy Finds Hand, Leg of Woman Inside Sewer

BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP)—The hand and leg of a woman who Coroner Charles W. Wood said had been dead only a few hours were found in a sewer tonight by 8-year-old Nicholas Krepper who was looking for his rubber ball.

Police, at first inclined to ascribe the discovery to the prank of a medical student, began a serious investigation after Dr. Wood reported the person apparently had been murdered.

Senate Reports To Wilson On Control Board

Legislators Advise Immediate Removal Of Three Members

DES MOINES, April 14 (AP)—Gov. George A. Wilson late today received the senate investigating committee's report on conditions at five state board of control institutions.

The senate last night at the end of two days' furious debate voted to send the report to Wilson, with recommendation that the members of the board be "immediately removed" from office.

The governor said today he would examine the record, but gave no indication of what action he might take.

He could remove one or all of the board members, or he might ignore the senate's recommendation entirely.

Three Members
Members of the board of control are Harry C. White (D), Vinton; Frank M. Stevens (D), Garden Grove, and E. H. Felton (R), Indianola.

White, whose term expires June 30, survived a similar attempt to have him removed two years ago, when the senate refused to adopt the report of its investigating committee.

Eleven democratic senators who last night voted against the recommendation for removal today filed a statement of their position with the secretary of the senate. Five republican senators who opposed the ouster move filed a similar explanation.

Dr. Rouse To Teach at Iowa

New Instructor Of Hydraulics Succeeds F. Mavis on Staff

Dr. Hunter Rouse, formerly of the California Institute of Technology, was appointed professor of hydraulics of the college of engineering and consulting engineer for the Iowa Institute of Hydraulic Research by the Iowa state board of education here yesterday.

Dr. Rouse, who will succeed Prof. F. T. Mavis, will join the faculty at the beginning of the 1939-40 term.

Born in Toledo, Ohio, in 1906, the new faculty member graduated from Scott high school there in 1924, and attended Toledo university in 1924 and 1925.

In the fall of 1926 he entered the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a sophomore. He edited the undergraduate newspaper and was elected to the senior honorary society.

In 1929 he received the S.B. degree from the department of civil engineering and spent the next two years in Europe as a traveling fellow in hydraulics, representing the institute. He studied laboratory technique and conducted research for the engineering doctorate under Geheimrat Rehbock of Germany.

He returned to the Institute as assistant in hydraulics, teaching undergraduate courses and serving on the staff of the river hydraulics laboratory.

He received the S.M. degree in chemical engineering in 1932, and the following summer passed an examination in Karlsruhe, Germany, for the degree of doktor-ingénieur.

In 1933 Dr. Rouse became instructor in civil engineering at Columbia university, and for two and a half years assisted Prof. B. A. Bakhmeteff in the development of a research laboratory for fluid mechanics.

He joined the staff of the co-operative laboratory of the soil conservation service and the California Institute of Technology in 1936, also becoming assistant professor of fluid mechanics at the Institute.

During the past summer he revisited European hydraulic laboratories, returning by way (See ROUSE, page 6)

Resigns

Sloan To End Long Service

English Professor Will Leave University In June After 40 Years

The resignation from the university faculty of Prof. Sam B. Sloan of the English department was accepted by the state board of education yesterday, 40 years after he began teaching his first classes.

Professor Sloan, who joined the faculty in 1899, wrote Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts last month.

"I wish to submit my resignation as professor of English at the

Malamud Resigns
The board of education of Iowa yesterday accepted the resignation of Dr. William Malamud, professor of psychiatry, assistant director of the psychopathic hospital and a member of the faculty of the psychiatry department since 1929.

Dr. Malamud will accept the position of director of research and clinical director of the Worcester state hospital in Massachusetts.

University of Iowa," he said, "to take effect at the end of the present academic year, around June 1, 1939."

"I feel that I am entitled to a rest after a forty-years' connection with the institution, and that is my sole, my only motive for retiring."

"Permit me to thank you for the courtesy and the consideration I have always received from you and to hope that our relations may be as pleasant in the future as in the past."

Professor Sloan watched the university grow from a very early day. Students throughout the United States, nearing middle age themselves now, were members of his early classes.

In a letter to the English professor, Dean Kay stated, "I have appreciated having heard the many tributes which your students have paid you as a teacher and a man."

The resignation of Professor Sloan will become effective at the end of the 1938-39 academic year.

Cedar Rapids Sports Editor, Coughlin, Dies

CEDAR RAPIDS, April 14 (AP)—Earl Coughlin, 42, sports editor of the Cedar Rapids Gazette for nearly twenty years died tonight in a local hospital of pneumonia. He had been ill only three days.

Mr. Coughlin was taken to the hospital just this forenoon. His condition became rapidly worse late this afternoon.

He was widely known among midwest newspaper men, sports fans and players, especially in the fields of professional baseball, boxing, and university and college football. For many years he had written a daily column "Red Peppers" as a feature of the Gazette sports section. He had been official scorer for Cedar Rapids clubs in the Central association, Mississippi Valley, Western and Three-Eye leagues.

He was a veteran of the World war, in which he served overseas.

Propose Agreement For Full Force Aid In Case of Attack

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 14 — Great Britain and France were reported tonight to be seeking an agreement with Soviet Russia by which the full force of her air fleet would be sent against anyone attacking them or their allies.

It was said in diplomatic quarters this scheme had been discussed in an important conference today between Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax and Ivan Maisky, Russian ambassador to the court of St. James.

The plan was reported to be a French idea proposed in the hope it would overcome differences which have arisen over Russia's cooperation with proposed Britain's European grand alliance.

Hope for Early Agreement
One British official held out hope for an early agreement by saying:

"There is no reason to believe that Russia may not join the alliance within the next few days." Other developments included: 1. Both British and French officials were urging their new allies—Poland, Greece and Rumania—to enter into strategic military discussions as soon as possible.

2. United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy called on Prime Minister Chamberlain, congratulating him on his statement in the house of commons yesterday in which he extended guarantees of independence to Greece and Rumania.

3. President Roosevelt's Pan American day speech was welcomed. It was broadcast over the country and also rebroadcast in Germany by a semi-official British station.

The nation's preparedness campaign was expanded, the admiralty deciding to form a women's naval service to take over many naval jobs on shore so that trained men may be released for new warships and the ministry of agriculture planning to recruit a women's land "army" to replace or augment male farm workers.

5. Foreign office officials stressed that negotiations were being pushed to conclude an Anglo-French guarantee to Turkey. It was believed generally such a pledge would be announced next week.

French Offer Suggestion
Because of Polish and Rumanian objections to their territory being defended by a Russian land force, the French were reported to have suggested that the Russian air fleet alone be used against Germany if Germany were to attack either Poland or Rumania.

Military experts were said to believe that Rumanian or Polish armies, backed by Russian planes, would be able to prolong a war on the eastern front while Britain and France were coordinating their attack on the west.

Russia Silent On Britain's Proposal

MOSCOW, April 14 (AP)—Soviet Russia watched European developments closely tonight, but maintained enigmatic silence on Britain's efforts to build up a grand alliance against aggression.

Soviet circles withheld comment on British-French pledges to Rumania and Greece. They implied that the Soviet attitude was unchanged since Joseph Stalin's recent speech on foreign affairs.

(Stalin told the all-union congress of the communist party March 10 that Russia would not be dragged into conflict with Germany as "a cat's paw" to pull British and foreign chestnuts out of the fire.)

Close Call

CLINTON (AP)—S. Russel Halley, Rapid City, S. D., airport operator, narrowly escaped serious injury or death here tonight when he became "lost" in a low-hanging fog before landing safely in a small field at the west edge of the city.

Close Historical Conference Today

More than 160 college and high school history teachers from Iowa and adjoining states had registered last night for the university's 19th historical conference which closes today.

Prof. Clara M. Daley of Iowa presided at the opening session yesterday, when Prof. James B. Stroud of the college of education and Prof. Howard R. Anderson of Cornell university appeared on the program.

Two luncheons entertained the high school and college divisions among the teachers at noon.

Prof. Herbert Feigl of the philosophy department spoke to the college division, at which Prof. C. W. deKiewiet of Iowa presided. Prof. Harry K. Newburn of the college of education presided over the high school instructors' luncheon, where Professor Anderson was the speaker.

The conference dinner was last night, with Prof. Ernest Horn of the college of education as the speaker. Prof. H. J. Thornton of the history department presided.

Prof. Wallace Notestein of Yale made his first appearance on the program last night, when Prof. W. T. Rood, head of the Iowa history department, presided over the evening session.

Yesterday afternoon's speakers were C. S. Boucher, chancellor of the University of Nebraska, and Prof. Herbert Heaton of the University of Minnesota.

Prof. Heaton Gives Address At Conference

"Clio in Overalls," address of Prof. Herbert Heaton from Minnesota to yesterday afternoon's session of the 19th annual conference of history and social studies teachers in the senate chamber of Old Capitol, became "Clio - a determined young lady who keeps dates," with emphasis on the story of the industrial development.

Clio, you know, is historians' name for history.

Local institutions had been the basis of records. People found reasons for historical deeds, and believed them. Then it was that some historians "looked the gift horse in the mouth and decided it needed some dental work."

Three methods were brought into play in this new outlook on real, practical history: the study of geography, the better knowledge of methods of work of medieval and modern time and the use of statistics, the speaker said.

Basing most of his speech on the importance of the use of statistics, Professor Heaton cited the example of the popular belief that by refusing the Europeans access to trade routes, the Turks gave them reason to find other sources of spices and so discovered a new country.

Statistics prove, he declared, that Europeans had ample supplies of spices - that the price of pepper never went down.

The early stories of the industrial revolution made good teaching, and also made good material for labor agitators, but they didn't present the full picture. Modern history investigates, Professor Heaton said.

The history conference will continue this morning in a session beginning at 10 o'clock in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

City To Begin Immunization

School Children Will Get Injections For Diphtheria, Smallpox

Immunization of all Iowa City and Johnson county school children against diphtheria and smallpox has begun, Mrs. Vincent Thompson, newly appointed county health nurse, announced yesterday.

The project had been made possible by the action of the Johnson County Medical association and will continue until June 1. The group recently approved a plan to give both diphtheria and smallpox immunization at the same time for a small fee.

Mrs. Thompson warned that the age group from six months to six years has the greatest need for immunization because the greatest number of deaths occur during these years.

She explained that it is best to give preventative treatment when the epidemics of diphtheria and smallpox are not prevalent.
