ROOSEVELT ASKS PEACE GUARANTEE

Britain, France Hail F. D. R.'s Peace Appeal

Chamberlain Calls It Real Opportunity To Avert Disaster

By The Associated Press
LONDON, April 15—Both Britain and France tonight grasped President Roosevelt's plea for at least 10 years of peace as an opening for a non-aggression pact while the leaders of Germany and Italy were silent.

But Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini, to whom the president addressed his appeal, were believed to be in frequent telephonic communication on a reply they may make jointly.

The president's intervention was a "Saturday surprise" far different from those that Europe has grown accustomed to receive from Hitler since his rise to power six years ago.

Praises Roosevelt's Plea
Prime Minister Chamberlain hailed it as "statesmanlike initiative." A British government statement which he authorized called it "a real opportunity of averting the catastrophe which overhangs Europe."

France quickly and unreservedly accepted the American telegram as a proposal for a ten-year non-aggression pact. French Premier Daladier himself held United States Ambassador William C. Bullitt in Paris that France was ready to enter such a world agreement.

The British government statement also indicated similar optimism in Britain, expressing "the firm hope" that the dictators' replies will open the way to further steps of which the president speaks.

President Roosevelt's offer to act as an "intermediary" in the cause of peace and readjusted world trade came at a troubled moment in war-threatened Europe.

Hitler Hurries to Munich
On the Rome-Berlin axis side, Italy was in the act of taking conquered Albania within her growing empire. Reichsfuehrer Hitler's righthand man, Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, was conferring with Mussolini in Rome; a new wave of anti-Polish attacks in the Nazi press had strengthened rumors in Berlin that Hitler was planning an imminent coup in the free city of Danzig. Hitler himself hurried from Berchtesgaden to Munich to confer with his aides on the appeal.

On the other hand, Britain and France had renewed consultations in alarm at reported Italian and Spanish war concentrations near the vital Gibraltar gate of the Mediterranean; Britain was attempting to swing the might of Soviet Russia's huge air force to the side of the anti-aggression bloc in Europe's line-up of power; the British empire was bolstering its defenses.

Rumania, Poland Align
Rumania and Poland, allies since 1921 for mutual defense against the Soviet union on the east, only today had exchanged oral guarantees for defense against the new peril from Germany on their western frontiers.

The British war office announced that the first battalion of the Welsh guards regiment would be sent to Gibraltar "on or after April 22" to buttress the defenses of that key to Britain's armed might in the Mediterranean. Defense booms to both entrances to Gibraltar's admiralty harbor were swung into position.

House Acts To Revive Penalty
DES MOINES, April 15 (AP)—The Iowa house acted swiftly today to restore the maximum 5-year prison penalty to the state law applying to persons convicted of carrying concealed weapons.

By a 73-0 vote, the lower chamber approved and returned to the senate the measure to repair the action of a previous legislature which inadvertently struck out the penalty clause.

Iowa Guests Nobility of Old World To Visit State

DES MOINES, April 15 (AP)—Iowa will become "royalty" conscious this week with the first of a series of visits by touring nobility of the old world.

Thursday will usher into the Hawkeye state, Crown Prince Frederik and Princess Ingrid of Denmark and Iceland, as they continue from the west to east coast to formally open the Danish display at the New York world's fair.

The Danish royal pair, feted extensively from the time they landed April 6 at Los Angeles, will find little cessation in the round of festivities when they reach Iowa's border sometime next Thursday morning from Omaha.

Adjutant General Charles H. Grahl, head of the Iowa guard forces and chief aide to Gov. George A. Wilson, will extend the first official greeting on the east shores of the Missouri river. The visitors will be whisked to Des Moines and a circle of engagements climaxed with a dinner that night in the Hotel Fort Des Moines. Guests will be limited to 600.

House Passes Budget Draft Measure Reduces State Expenses By $732,000 Annually

DES MOINES, April 15 (AP)—Gun shy over possible political repercussions in the tax situation, Iowa republicans leaders today started on its way through the legislature a state government budget totaling $22,262,000 a year, down $732,000 compared with 1937-39 annual state expenditures.

Passed by the Iowa house today was the "big budget" measure calling for $20,747,000 a year for the support and maintenance of various state departments, including the highway commission.

The Iowa senate is scheduled to begin consideration of this bill Monday morning.

Also passed by the house today was a measure calling for $783,100 in new buildings or improvements at the various Iowa institutions. A table of comparison showing the proposed expenditures this year and the 1937 appropriation for the same purposes follows:

	1937	1939
Regular Budget	$21,467,647	20,747,582
Capital Improvements	795,200	783,100

Premier Mussolini conferred with Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering of Germany as fascists exhibited scant sympathy for the president's move.

It was doubted that Mussolini would reject flatly Mr. Roosevelt's proposal, but informed Italians and foreign diplomats were virtually unanimous in believing it would not be accepted.

Vanguard Of New Citizens Reach Haven

By B. RANKLIN CARTER JR. Daily Iowan City Editor
Four smiling young German refugees, the first of more than forty whose new home in America will be at the Scattergood boarding school two miles east of West Branch, arrived yesterday eager to start to work in renovating the buildings to allow the main group to arrive soon after May 1.

Kurt Rosegg, 30, a goldsmith, Fritz Trauer, 44, a stationer, Kurt Schaefer, 34, a statistician, and Karel Gam, 26, a professor of geography, were the first of the "guests" at the refugee camp established by the American Friends society to arrive.

They had driven from Philadelphia with George Kaltenbach, a member of the Friends society who will serve as a supervisor at Scattergood, in three days.

Gam, who came to the United States six months ago as an exchange student from the University of Czechoslovakia and after Germany's absorption of the Czech republic found himself a "man without a country," said that the reception the group received at the school was the greatest he had been given since he was welcomed by a native chief in the jungles of Africa.

Gam has been teaching geography in Czechoslovakia and said that if the arrangements could be made he would study for a doctor's degree at the university.

All four of the group expressed relief at arriving at the Scattergood school where they could start to work "without fear and with a clear conscience."

Schaefer, who was a statistician in charge of a department of the Berlin government before he left, was the most outspoken on this subject. He said that he was glad that he would be able to work in the gardens or on the buildings here because he knew that he could do the work as he honestly believed it should be done without fear of reprisal.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 15 (AP)—Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Mary Lee Epling Hartford, New York and Palm Beach, Fla., socialite, will be married here within ten days, they announced today.

The actor and his bride-to-be said the date of their church wedding depends on when Fairbanks finishes his current picture, "The Sun Never Sets."

Fleet Ordered Into Pacific

By E. E. BOMAR
WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—An unexpected order to the fleet today to return at once to the Pacific coast—cutting short its Atlantic visit by five weeks—reinforced President Roosevelt's appeal for peace in Europe.

The navy did not explain the purpose of the order, but official circles decided quickly that it would have one, or possibly both, of the following two effects:

1. Quiet any uneasiness in Germany and Italy over the unusual presence in the Atlantic of one of the world's principal armadas.

2. Restore the balance of world naval power, by returning to the Pacific the only sea force able, and in a geographic position, to checkmate Japanese aggression in the event of a world conflagration.

Without hinting at a definite Anglo-American understanding, naval quarters were convinced that, with the American fleet in the Pacific, Great Britain would feel free to keep more of her warships nearer home than would otherwise be the case.

The order to the fleet was issued by Secretary Swanson a little more than an hour after the chief executive proclaimed his appeal to Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini. The order canceled a full dress fleet review set for April 27 and it drastically altered at the same time plans for naval participation in the New York world's fair.

Spirit of Fear Haunts Gridiron Club

F. D. R. Hears Garner's Plea—'Get Out of Town—Make Way for a Texan'

WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt heard tonight a mock Jack Garner pleading with him to "get out of town—make way for a Texan man."

The president also saw republican leaders ending their search for a 1940 candidate with the "ghost" of Dr. Francis E. Townsend of old age pension fame.

With other prominent guests of the Gridiron club, the chief executive heard an actor dressed as the vice president sing, to a popular tune:

"The fear when we meet
That you will repeat—
Well, frankly, its getting me down—
So on your mark, get set, get out of town."

The newspapermen's musical allusion to the expected battle among democrats for the 1940 presidential nomination was matched by the forecast heard by

The four men arrived yesterday after a three-day drive from Philadelphia and will aid the West Branch Quakers in renovating the Scattergood buildings to house the main group of refugees who are expected to arrive after May 1.

Looking forward to a new freedom in America at the American Friends society's refugee camp at the Scattergood boarding school, the first of the 40 refugees who will live at the school two miles east of West Branch are shown above. He said he would not decide on the procedure to be followed until he has studied the case.

The statehouse still echoed today from Thursday's bitter debate in the senate on the ouster recommendations.

Warden Glenn C. Haynes of the state penitentiary at Ft. Madison last night answered charges by Senator C. B. Hoeven (R), Alton, that men convicted of sex crimes had been sent to the prison work camp at the Orphans' home at Davenport.

Haynes said no convict with such a record had been sent to any state institution caring for children. The warden said one man mentioned by Hoeven was transferred to the Anamosa reformatory last December, but that the others named have not been outside the prison wall since their admission.

Gov. George A. Wilson Starts To Study Conditions of 5 State Institutions; Senate Requests Removal of Board

DES MOINES, April 15 (AP)—The future of the present board of control hung in the balance tonight as Governor George A. Wilson began to study material gathered by the senate investigating committee on conditions at five state institutions.

The senate yesterday sent Wilson a recommendation for "immediate removal" of the three members of the board, which operates the 15 state mental, penal and correctional institutions.

The committee alleged immorality, intemperance, cruelty and mismanagement.

Institutions under fire are the soldiers' orphans' home at Davenport; the juvenile home at Toledo; the insane hospitals at Cherokee and Independence; the school for feebleminded at Glenwood.

Governor Wilson said tonight he would read the report of the

President Asks For 10-Year Peace Pact

Offers To Arrange World Economy To Help All Countries

By RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, April 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt has asked Hitler and Mussolini to promise a crisis-weary world 10 unbroken years of peace by giving assurances that they will not send their armies crashing into lands now independent.

He told the dictators that if they complied he would gather the nations of the world about a council table to obtain relief from the "crushing burden of armament" and so rearrange the world's economy that all countries may have access to the raw materials and products they need.

Conciliatory Message
Mr. Roosevelt's entreaty, so phrased that while conciliatory and friendly it was always firm and in some passages even blunt, went forward to Rome and Berlin during the night. It was announced at a special press conference this morning, with Mr. Roosevelt adding that he and Secretary Hull had both slept the better last night for having discharged what they considered a conscience-duty to do whatever they could to prevent the outbreak of a devastating war.

"Three nations in Europe and one in Africa have seen their independent existence terminated," the identical messages said. "Reports insist that further acts of aggression are contemplated. You have repeatedly asserted that you and the German (and Italian) people have no desire for war. If this is true there need be no war. I am convinced that the cause of world peace would be greatly advanced if the nations of the world were to obtain a frank statement relating to the present and future policy of governments."

Asks Assurances
Then, the president put the future brusquely up to the dictators with an unadorned question: "Are you willing to give assurances that your armed forces will not attack or invade the territory or possessions of the following independent nations?" He went on to name every country in Europe except, of course, Italy, Germany and the territories they have already seized.

Continuing, he told the dictators that he was sure the other European nations would be willing to make a like guarantee and he offered to act as an "intermediary." Officials explained that with the use of that word the president was not offering to "mediate" European quarrels, but rather to act as a "post office" for keeping each nation acquainted with the other's views.

News Reaches Europe
Word of what had been done spread through Europe's capitals even before the president's press conference. For one thing, the appeal sent Adolf Hitler hurrying from his Alpine retreat at Berchtesgaden to Munich, there to meet foreign minister, Count Ciano, was Ribbentrop, hastening to that city with a copy of the president's message.

There was no such hurried activity in Italy. Mussolini, after perusing the message, was busy receiving the approval of the chamber of fates and guilds for his seizure of Albania and the foreign minister, Count Ciano, was making a speech before the same body, an address conspicuously bare of bellicose passages.

Hitler Intends to Reject F. R.'s Appeal for World Conference

BERLIN, April 15 (AP)—In Roosevelt had directed his message terms which left no doubt Adolf Hitler intends to reject President Roosevelt's appeal for a world conference, the controlled German press tonight attacked the American peace message which asked for an Italian-German 10-year-non-aggression pledge.

The same view was expressed in semi-official circles in Munich where Hitler weighed his possible answer and consulted by telephone with his Rome ally, Premier Mussolini.

The officially inspired commentary Deutsche Dienst said Mr.

dom of the ages with all men? Can a man help it if he is omniscient? Is it fair to pillory such a man merely because he is—a newspaper columnist?"

Thus, Mr. Roosevelt introduced the new president of the Gridiron club—Raymond Clapper of the Scripps-Howard service.

President Roosevelt and Senator Taft made the "off the record" speeches of the evening.

"The spirit of fear" set the theme of the show to the tune of "Hellzapoppin'," portraying the businessman "afraid of his shadow," labor leaders afraid of each other, the farmer "afraid of his friend in congress," democrats afraid they cannot win with Roosevelt and afraid they cannot win without Roosevelt, republicans afraid they cannot pay the democratic bills, European dictators "afraid of the day when fear runs out." A chorus concluded "all we fear is fear."

Pranks Played By Lightning

ALTON, Ill., April 15 (AP)—

Lightning played several pranks here today, tossing a couple out of bed, setting fire to a tar-covered road and cutting hospital power lines while operations were in progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Delven Shortridge were literally hurled from their bed when lightning ripped down the center, setting the mattress on fire. She suffered minor burns and he was injured by a splinter of wood.

An emergency power plant was used until power was restored at the hospital.

Rain put out the burning highway.

Propaganda Starts War

YESTERDAY in this column we were saying that the present lineup in Europe indicated rather clearly that so-called democratic powers are not greatly concerned about the fate of democracy but rather are ready to fight to hold their power and their prestige. The people of the United States should understand to what they are giving their support if and when they do. Friday night at the City Hall Verne Marshall, crusading editor of the Cedar Rapids Gazette, frankly admitted that most of the news coming from the nation's capitals is propaganda. Many of us realize the truth of the statement, but we don't stop to consider what it means. As Marshall pointed out, propaganda to get us into war on the side of the democracies is being disseminated day by day. Mr. Marshall went on to say that it is almost impossible to get the facts, the news behind the news in regard to the international situation. We read only what the government is willing to have us read, and as we proved in the World War, governments have little conscience when it comes to the use of the instrument of propaganda to assure the support of their citizens. On the other hand most good newspapers do make a sincere attempt to bring the truth as far as it can be discovered to their readers. If American citizens are to be well informed, if they are to act intelligently in the coming crisis, it is their duty to read thoughtfully and not accept too much pre-digested information.

Toronto Maple Leafs ice hockey team has a player by the name of Syl Apps. Unquestionably, he simply slaps his opponents around. The late czar of Russia once called Turkey the "sick man of Europe." Today's headlines indicate the Turk isn't feeling so good, even now.

What became of the little boy who was so afraid of the bogey man he couldn't sleep? Oh, he now suffers from insomnia after having read "Mein Kampf."

Outspoken Courageous Note

A DRAMATIC EVENT happened yesterday in Washington. An event that might well have changed the history of the world. Franklin Roosevelt, after an hours-long conference with Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Undersecretary Sumner Welles, sent an out-spoken, courageous note to Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini. Europe's war or peace had, for the last two years, he wrote, kept the world in a state of uncertain fear. Such a feeling is not a healthy one. If the two dictators of Europe are really interested in peace, he asked, the opportunity was here. Would Hitler and Mussolini guarantee to a world conference to solve their difficulties, to solve them by life instead of by death? Would they accept him as mediator in a guarantee of a 10-year non-aggression policy for Europe? Would they do that? Franklin Roosevelt frankly put up the whole problem of Europe's war or peace to its two aggressive dictators.

As this is being written Benito Mussolini has not replied, but foreign correspondents believe he has been in touch with Adolf Hitler. Hitler's own answer, then, may serve for both.

He has replied a frank outspoken, "No." The message was sent to the wrong source, he replied; Italy and Germany are not the countries that want war. It is England and France. Besides Frank Roosevelt is insincere, and Germany will not negotiate around any peace table which includes Soviet Russia.

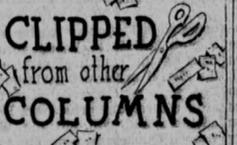

That reply, it seems to us, puts the whole issue in the right hands. Not that there has been much doubt these last few weeks. What seems to us Europe's—and the world's—one real opportunity for peace has passed. Franklin Roosevelt should be applauded for his courage. Failing or succeeding, his effort is of a kind all too rare in the world of today.

The man at the next desk says the only commendable feature of the latest college craze is that, at last, it gives the goldfish some privacy.

European dispatches again prove how correct was that old philosopher when he ventured: "No news is good news."

Digest of today's front page predictions: "Showers tonight, war tomorrow."

CHANGING THE WAGNER ACT

THE controversy for which there has been such a tense and protracted prologue—whether the Wagner Labor Act shall be revised—has entered its testing stage with the opening of hearings on the measure before the senate committee on labor and education. Among all the many proposed changes, none perhaps is more indicative of the opposition's central complaint with the act than the recommendation that employers as well as employees be permitted to call elections. There is one variation of this proposal which this newspaper has editorially supported and which Senator Robert Wagner, sponsor of the act, himself accepted at yesterday's hearing. This proposal would permit employers to call for an election among their employees in the event that a dispute between contending unions was in progress and neither faction would itself call for a ballot to determine which should be the bargaining agent.

The basic philosophy of the act holds that the initiative for labor policies should lie with labor. In the case of a jurisdictional contest between unions the initiative should go to employers by default in the interest of industrial peace and continued production.

Yet an unqualified amendment to permit employers to call an election at will is another matter. It would be possible even now, without any change of the act but only with the change of a ruling by the National Labor Relations Board, to entertain and grant employers' petitions in specific cases. The NLRB ruling was made, because, in the opinion of the board, the purpose of the act "to encourage" and safeguard the unionization of workers in the United States could not be furthered if employers possessed generally the right to initiate elections.

In operation such amendment would permit an employer to petition the board for an election at the start of an organizational drive when a union was merely getting underway. The result would undoubtedly be a defeat for the union and an indefinite setback to the development of collective bargaining in that plant or industry. The proposed amendment further would give employers a means of harassing and possibly destroying legitimate unions by seizing upon any moment of weakness or confusion as a time to call for an election.

To make this proposed revision more palatable, its sponsors have proposed that elections be effective for only a year. Yet those familiar with industrial history know that a year's time might provide an anti-union employer with the opportunity to create conditions inimical to any subsequent success of a union.

Amendments that will make the act function better and more fairly in the direction of genuine collective bargaining are to be desired. Though tie-ups resulting from jurisdictional disputes may be relatively few in number, the means for their solution can be provided and consequently should be. But a too sweeping amendment that would handicap collective bargaining is to be avoided. —Christian Science Monitor.

Sammy Sloan is leaving. We'll be missing him next fall.

A university needs Sammy Sloans about. Probably others know more of the modern novel. Indeed others might be better lecturers. And almost anyone has more degrees. Sammy Sloan has only a B.A.

But who will there be with Sammy's sense of humor, his intimate fondness of the authors he described, his genuine pleasure at discovering a mind, his prevailing personality?

Who, in short, is there to take Sammy's place? We have hundreds of Ph.D.'s, scores of Harvard and Yale men, a score with more learning. But only one Sammy.

Sammy was too old-fashioned, I imagine. His idea of teaching was very simple. A pupil at one end of the log, Sammy Sloan at the other.

This week, of course, is peace week.

And Wednesday night we're discussing it. "Peace at any Price?" That's the question the three of us will attempt to answer. Prof. Kirk Porter, Student Albert Ewaldt and this reporter are the speakers listed.

We're predicting one of the warmest, certainly the most interesting meeting yet. It'll split the collective security-isolation chism again—and with vengeance.

ONE OF RADIO'S biggest daytime serial sponsors will invade the evening variety show field today, when General Mills introduces "The Grouch Club" to a coast-to-coast audience over both the NBC and CBS networks.

The first broadcast will be at 5:30 this afternoon. It will originate in Hollywood where it has been tested for General Mills. "The Grouch Club" is a variety show with a different twist. It gives everyone a chance to air his pet peeve. It satirizes other programs, institutions, traditions.

In fact, it satirizes anything that gives listeners a pain in the neck. Listeners contribute their pet peeves and the funniest grouch is dramatized by the Grouch club each week.

The cast, though its members are old friends to west coast audiences and movie fans, will be new to the national networks' audience. Jack Lescoulie is Grouchmaster, Beth Wilson is star vocalist on the show, and Leon Leonard directs the band. Other members of the club are Phil Kramer, Bob Warren, Art Bryan, Walter Tetley and Jim Barry. Lescoulie has a press agent named Willoughby who also appears on the show.

THE SCREEN GUILD... show over the Columbia network at 6:30 tonight will have a cast including James Cagney, Andy Devine, Priscilla Lane, Donald Meek and George Murphy. Director will be Victor Fleming, currently at work on "Gone With the Wind."

Production schedules of five motion pictures, estimated to cost $8,000,000 when completed, have been changed to allow their stars to take part in the show. They will appear in a dramatization called "Two Fingers of Providence."

EDWARD G. ROBINSON... star of "Big Town," makes a rare appearance away from his regular series when he appears as a guest star on the Radio Theater over the Columbia network at 8 p.m. TOMORROW with Humphrey Bogart.

They will re-create the roles they played in the motion picture, "Bullets or Ballots," written by Martin Mooney. Robinson's "Big Town" sponsor also underwrites the Lux show.

JACK BENNY... will play host to his movie director, Mark Sandrich, and rehearse a love scene from his new picture, "Man About Town," during the broadcast with Mary Livingston, Kenny Baker, Don Wilson and Phil Harris' orchestra over NBC's Red network at 6 o'clock this evening.

NEW YORK—There is an interesting story told in connection with Augustus John's portrait of Tallulah Bankhead, and it is pertinent because Miss Bankhead is now enjoying the first theatrical hit she has had on Broadway, and her portrait is hanging in quite good company at a special loan exhibition in 51st street. It is said that when Mr. John was commissioned to paint this portrait he addressed himself to his duties with unusual enthusiasm, and when finally it was done and he had put away his brushes, he said to Miss Bankhead: "There it is." Miss Bankhead was frankly delighted and told him as much. Flatteringly, dropping her voice and lowering her long lashes until they rested upon her cheeks, she asked: "Which do you consider your greatest portrait, Mr. John?" "My last one," he replied gallantly, and thereby won an enthusiastic booster for the duration of his life.

Miss Bankhead's portrait is now hanging in the Seligmann galleries in an exhibition for the benefit of the Public Education Association, and with it are hanging some noteworthy subjects in the theater. This exhibition is called "The Stage," and it is an accumulation of paintings addressed to the theater from the 17th century until now.

Among these portraits is Eugene Speicher's celebrated one of Katharine Cornell, presenting her as "Candida," and also a most remarkable sitting of Clifton Webb, showing him in white tie and top hat completely collapsed in a chair. This is by William Goldbeck, and if you are ever in search

"The Story of Alexander Graham Bell." Screenplay by Lamar Trotti. Directed by Irving Cummings. Cast: Don Ameche, Loretta Young, Henry Fonda, Charles Coburn, Gene Lockhart, Spring Byington, Sally Blane, Polly Ann Young, Georgiana Young, Bobs Watson. SAN FRANCISCO—A sincere and often dramatically exciting presentation of the man who invented the telephone some 60 years ago, this film apparently has the historical authenticity its makers claim for it. It also has Don Ameche's performance in his first dramatic, non-singing role—and it is his best performance. For Miss Young, too, the role here of the girl who was to become Mrs. Bell marks a new high in sincerity of production, direction and writing to a fine high standard. Dramatic but rarely theatrical, the story takes up young Bell as, struggling in poverty, he tries in spare time to teach little George (Bobs Watson) to overcome his deaf-mute handicap. The most moving scene in the film springs from his final success in this undertaking, the boy Bobs and his screen father (Lockhart) combining their acting talents to bring the moment's last emotional possibility. Bell's struggles and discouragement over the telephone, his final discovery of the principle, the faith of the deaf girl he loves, his ultimate victory and later court fight to protect his rights in the invention—all are interestingly presented. Fonda as his ever-hungry assistant Watson shares top honors with the stars, and telling characterizations are contributed by Coburn and Lockhart especially. Cummings' direction is unobtrusive, artful, evenly paced in keeping with the general dignity of his subject matter.

"The Story of Vernon and Irene Castle." Screenplay by Richard Sherman. Directed by H. C. Foster. Cast: Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Edna May Oliver, Walter Brennan, Lew Fields, Etienne Girardot, Ja-Kinsley, Robert Strange. HOLLYWOOD—First attempt of the Astaire-Rogers team at a dramatic presentation of real-life characters, this film carries an extra wallop of nostalgic appeal for the World War generation as well as the intrinsic romantic interest evoked by the dancing name of the Castles. The story presents the meeting of stage-struck Irene with Lew Fields' comic assistant Vernon, her influence in turning him from comedy to dancing, their struggles for an audience, their triumph in dramatic, non-singing role—and it is his best performance. For Miss Young, too, the role here of the girl who was to become Mrs. Bell marks a new high in sincerity of production, direction and writing to a fine high standard. Dramatic but rarely theatrical, the story takes up young Bell as, struggling in poverty, he tries in spare time to teach little George (Bobs Watson) to overcome his deaf-mute handicap. Back from one of the most successful southern training trips in recent years, the University of Iowa baseball team will begin defense of its last year's title tomorrow when they meet the Purdue Boilermakers in the first of a two-game series. The game is scheduled to begin at 4 p.m.

Coach Dutch Fehring's Boilermakers enjoyed a successful season last year, finishing in second place in the Big Ten standings, and from early season performance have indicated they may cause trouble in the conference this year.

BROADCAST

Station WSUI, with Bill Seiler and Dick Bowlin at the microphone, will broadcast the Iowa-Purdue baseball game tomorrow afternoon from 4 o'clock to 5:30. It has been announced that WSUI will broadcast all home games of the University of Iowa team this year.

Like Iowa, Purdue has adopted the policy of southern training trips, but its record in Dixie was not nearly as impressive as Iowa's. Purdue won two games, tied two and lost one, while the Hawks won six out of seven contests. Both Purdue and Iowa met Louisiana Tech on their respective jaunts. The best the Boilermakers could do was to score one victory and two ties out of the three-game series. Iowa on the other hand, dropped a 12 to 8 decision to Louisiana Tech and then came back to capture the final two contests, 9-3 and 8-5.

Coach Dutch Fehring will depend upon Sammy Lybault, Tom Dickinson and Bud Stamm, three veterans who hit well above the 300 mark on the southern trip to carry the Purdue offensive burden. However, it is hoped that Felix Machiewicz, the Purdue third sacker and clean up hitter, will come out of his batting slump to lead the Boilermaker hitters.

Except for Frank Kocur, sophomore third baseman, Coach Otto Vogel will send a veteran lineup on the field Monday to begin defense of the Big Ten crown. Even though Kocur is untried in conference competition, he has performed well in all games to date, especially in the field.

Art Manush, Jim George, Wendell Winders and Erwin Prasse are expected to do the heavy hitting for the Hawks. It was these four veterans who were the big guns in the games on the southern journey, and they are expected to continue their heavy clubbing throughout the conference campaign.

Either Harold Haub, veteran righthander, or Ken Reid, south-paw flinger, will get the call on the mound for the Hawks in the first conference game. Haub was one of Iowa's leading hurlers last year, but has been slow in rounding into form this year. Ken Reid, on the other hand, was bothered with a sore arm throughout the major part of last season and saw very little service. However, he was a star two years ago and has flashed his old time form again this season.

Arnold Bredwater, veteran Purdue pitcher ace, will undoubtedly be Coach Dutch Fehring's choice in the first game against the Hawks. Bredwater's pitching was one of the bright spots of the Boilermakers' entire southern trip, and after a slow start has flashed the form that made him Purdue's leading hurler last season.

Town League Intramural Group To Play Softball

Formation of a town league to play intramural soft ball is being planned by the physical education department. Any and all groups of students living in private houses are asked to report to Dr. Fred Beebe at the fieldhouse before Monday evening. If four teams can be secured play will begin in the next few days in the league.

BITS about Sports

By J. DENNIS SULLIVAN

Along with the drizzling rain, the winter April, and the bad news from the Brooklyn Dodgers, it may not occur to the sports minded at Iowa that baseball really starts in earnest tomorrow afternoon on Iowa field. Boasting an enviable record, piled up during one of the most successful spring tours in recent years, the Iowa Hawkeyes tee off against the Purdue Boilermakers with their sights trained directly on first place in the Big Ten baseball race.

Leaving pitching out of it for the moment, something like leaving Tom out of a Tom Collins, we can look at an outfield boasting a group of the most brutal apple pumblers in the circuit. Jim George, most valuable baseball player in the loop last year, is smacking the pellet in old time form. Art "Me and Heinie" Manush, after pulverizing southern pitching at a .500 clip looks for his best year in the left field pasture. Vogt, in right field, playing his usual sterling defensive game has been clouting the pill in fine style, but "Jungle" Balazs, finally eligible, really lambasted that ball on the Dixie tour. His garden patrolling, a little rusty, will probably relegate him to the role of pinch hitter, despite his fine stickwork.

The only question mark in an otherwise all veteran infield is Frank Kocur, holding down the hot corner at third. Showing a polish in the field, and a certainty at the plate unusual in a sophomore, he may be the surprise of the year. Especially welcome in the preconference statistics was the stickwork of Wendell Winters. After an ordinary season last year, he plastered the opposition pitchers all over Mississippi and Louisiana, clouting safely every other time at the plate.

Well, then, what about pitching? From here, it looks as though it ought to be awfully good. In a season only six weeks long, as the Big Ten race is, the best pitching in the world (incidentally we haven't got that) could fail to get under way. On the other hand, a bunch of willing chuckers with a hard hitting, smart fielding club behind them could race through the abbreviated season in fine style. Iowa is well equipped to do just that.

Looking at it impartially, Iowa looks good on paper. A few sprained ankles, an unexplainable batting slump, an afternoon of the "jeebie weebies" afield, and what looks like another Big Ten championship, could very easily wind up looking like a bunch of kids in the third ward playing work-up.

With that same impartial point of view take a look at this. Here's a club that in seven games batted, as a team, at a .319 pace. For 14 innings the pitchers on that team held the opposition scoreless, winning a doubleheader.

Admitting for the sake of argument, that the southern pitchers were really used to throwing bean bags, and that the Confederate hitters were just learning the rudiments of quoits, the Iowa statistics look awfully convincing. We say, the Hawkeyes might not win, but watch 'em.

Relay Teams Prep For Kansas Relays; Rated As Favorites

A soggy track hampered the Iowa track team again yesterday as the squad continued its preparations for its Saturday invasion of Lawrence, Kan., where it will participate in the famed Kansas Relays.

Time trials continued yesterday with chief emphasis placed on the 220-yard test to determine the fourth member of the half mile relay team. Carl and Fred Teufel and Ed Wiggins are assured of places but the fourth spot remains open. Ed Baird and Jim Wilson remain the most likely prospects but no decision will be made until Tuesday, according to Coach George Bresnahan.

The mile relay team of the Teufel twins, John Graves, and Mill Billig, are flashing good form in practice and are expected to top the field at Lawrence Saturday. If the Old Gold win at the Kansas Relays they will be installed as definite favorites in the Drake Relays the following week as many of the teams in the relay will compete in both meets.

It remains to be seen what the bad weather this past week has done to handicap the team. None of the men have been able to take part in much outdoor work and so consequently their ability on the cinder track remains somewhat of a question mark. Rated off their performances of last year, however, the mile and half mile relay teams deserve to be ranked well up among the leading units of the country.

NEWS BRIEFS FROM MAJOR LEAGUE CAMPS

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—Two Cleveland pitchers, Willis Hudlin and Johnny Humphries did a pretty good job of spoiling the New York Giants' homecoming exhibition today by allowing only five hits while the Tribe won 5 to 3.

ST. LOUIS, April 15 (AP)—With new managers leading both teams in their 1939 debut before the homefolks, the St. Louis Browns under Fred Haney defeated Ray Blades' Cardinals today, 10 to 4, in the first of the annual two-game city exhibition series.

Arm Injury Keeps Siebert on Bench

PHILADELPHIA, April 15 (AP)—An elbow injury from which Dick Siebert, Athletics first baseman, has been suffering from several weeks kept him from bending his arm today and the team physicians said he might be forced to the sidelines for a month or more.

CLINTON "Y" TAKES STATE SWIM TITLE

Cunningham, Fenske Clash Again Friday

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 15 (AP)—Defending champions in four events will be among the 1,500 track and field stars expected here next Friday and Saturday for the 17th annual University of Kansas relay extravaganza.

Most brilliant is Fred Wolcott of Rice, who never has been beaten outdoors in the 120-yard high hurdles. Last year he established a record of :14.2 here.

John Collinge of Iowa, the 1938 runner-up, also comes back.

Another record holder to return is Beetus Bryan, the Texas sky-lark, who skimmed across the pole vault bar at 13 feet 9 3/4 inches a year ago. Since that time Bryan has cleared better than 14 feet.

Glenn Cunningham, the perennial miler, tangles with Chuck Fenske, former Wisconsin star, in a special mile run and the relay teams from Rice, University of Iowa and the University of Missouri, which monopolized honors in 1938, also will be back.

E. Lee Todd, unattached entrant from Imperial, Neb., is expected to move up from third to first in the deathlon. Dick Kearns of Colorado and Claude Kilday of Occidental, Cal., college, who finished one, two last year, will not return.

Louis, Roper Draw Interest

Gate of 100,000 Expected Tomorrow As Heavies Battle

LOS ANGELES, April 15 (AP)—Los Angeles and environs probably will put out $100,000 or more Monday night for the privilege of sitting in on a ring slaughter or miracle of the century—the Joe Louis-Jack Roper heavyweight battle.

Demands for tickets poured in and a weatherman's forecast of a starry, balmy evening on the night of the encounter gave added impetus to the rush for admittance to California's first heavyweight title bout in 30 years.

Louis seemed in perfect shape to justify the ten to one betting odds offered.

The battle-scarred Roper and his faithful followers professed indifference to the odds. A one round knockout in 1931 by James J. Braddock, who later became the champion; knockouts, technical knockouts and losses to fighters like Tuffy Griffith, Charlie Retzlaff, Buck Everett, Arturo Godoy, Eddie Simms and others—all were shrugged away.

They pointed instead to Roper's two-round kayo over Patsy Perroni last summer—Perroni, who went 10 rounds with Louis in 1935; his one round knockout over Art Lasky, in 1936; his one round knockout over Bob Nestell this year.

Boston Bees Beat Red Sox in Series

BOSTON, April 15 (AP)—A six-run uprising in the sixth inning plus the mid-season hurling of Lou Fette and Dick Erickson today gave the Boston Bees a 7-1 triumph over the Red Sox. It was the National League's first win in their three intractable series starts this season.

Fette held the Soxers to two hits in five innings, on a homer by Jimmy Foxx in the third, and Erickson gave Manager Joe Cronin a scratch single in the ninth. Cronin also hit safely against Fette.

The Bees started the scoring in the second inning and were in a 1-1 deadlock when Joe Heving with a safe hit and six more Bees connected before the Soxers provided him with a putout.

Hawk Netsters Face Grinnell Here Monday

In their first home meet of the 1939 season, Iowa's netsters tangle with Grinnell tomorrow afternoon. The Iowa lineup will have the veterans Bob Sandler and Capt. Claude Douthett, along with Dale Hatch, Cliff Carle and Bob Kulp, in action against the invaders.

Hatch and Carle were, like Sandler and Douthett, members of the varsity squad last year, while Kulp was one of the more promising members of the freshman squad. Sandler and Douthett are the only fixtures on the team and Coach Arthur Wendler plans to alternate the other three members of the team that will compete today with Bob Wollenweber, John Paulus and Steve Fouchek during the early meets.

Split Doubleheader AMES, (AP)—Iowa State college's baseball team split a doubleheader here yesterday with Iowa State Teachers, the Cyclones losing the first, 9 to 8, and taking the second, 5 to 4. Johnny Tompson, sophomore Cyclone catcher, connected for a homer and a single in the first game, and a homer, triple and single in the second.

Kershaw, Jack Sieg, Former Iowa Stars, Take First Places

Piling up an impressive total of 138 points, Clinton's powerful Y. M. C. A. swimming team yesterday splashed out an easy victory in the state "Y" meet in the Iowa fieldhouse pool. Cedar Rapids took second with 108 and one-half points, while Des Moines, with 79, and Davenport, with 52 points, ended up third and fourth.

A pair of former University of Iowa swimmers, Gene Kershaw of Cedar Rapids and Jack Sieg of Davenport, carried off four of the first places in the senior divisions. Kershaw, with wins in the 40-yard and 220-yard free style events, and Sieg, who won the 100-yard breaststroke and the 100-yard free style, were both among the leading free styler at Iowa during their college careers.

Another star in the meet, and one who has been handicapped by having but one leg, was Hubert Norman, Clinton, 15 year old who set two of the nine new records that were marked up during the meet. Norman's 24.5 in the junior B 40-yard breaststroke beat both state and national "Y" records. His other record was in the 100-yard free style in his age division, which he won in the remarkably fast time of 58.9.

Other new marks were established by Bailey of Fort Dodge, who swam the intermediate 100-yard backstroke in 1:06.4, Boswell of Marshalltown, winner of the junior B 40-yard backstroke in 24 seconds, and the Clinton junior B medley relay team that marked up a time—33.3 for the 60-yards.

Another Clinton relay team chalked up a new mark as the junior B 160-yard free style quartet of Platt, Hanson, Brumer and Nicholson swam the distance in 1:25.3. Nibel of Des Moines chalked up a record bettering time of 13.4 in the 20-yard junior A breaststroke. Freeman of Des Moines bettered the intermediate breaststroke by swimming his 100 yards in 1:09.6 and Clinton's senior medley relay team of Ryan, Cave and Becker splashed their 180 yards in 1:46.6 for still another new record.

Behind the four leading teams Marshalltown finished fifth with 36 points, Ottumwa sixth with 17 and Fort Dodge seventh with 14 and one-half points. The remaining teams were Waterloo, with 12; Washington, 12; Newton, 10; Burlington, 8; and Oskaloosa, 4.

High School Fans Will Attend Reds' Opening Contest

CINCINNATI, April 15 (AP)—Speaking of Cincinnati as a "hot" baseball town:

Supt. Claude V. Courter said the plan would be optional with principals.

Schools not closing early but equipped with radio, may "tune in" broadcasts of the game.

B. J. Tschirgi Becomes Bride

Marries R. Brown On Easter Sunday In Reinbeck Church

Standing on an oriental rug that was used 26 years ago for the wedding ceremony of the bride's parents, Barbara Jane Tschirgi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Tschirgi of Reinbeck, became the bride of Robert R. Brown on Easter Sunday. The wedding was solemnized in the Union Congregational church in Reinbeck at 3:30 p.m. with the Rev. R. Cary Huffstader officiating.

After the ceremony, 70 relatives and friends were entertained at a reception in the church parlors. Gowned in the wedding gown which her mother wore, the bride also wore a veil belonging to her aunt, Mrs. E. H. Stover of Norfolk, Neb., and a lace cap worn at the wedding of her cousin, Mrs. George Cameron of Chicago.

She was attended by Margaret DeWolf of Des Moines as maid of honor while James Cameron of Eldora served Mr. Brown as best man. Ushers were Donald and Paul Tschirgi, brothers of the bride.

The bride attended the university for two years and since then has been teaching at Reinbeck.

TIPS on the Shopping Market

By Betty Harpel

To be as tearfully and as right as the first spring robin, stop in at STRUB'S this week and see the new little girl fashions in light weight washables. By day you'll forget all about that word "sophisticated," and become as young and giddy as you please in a new fresh-as-dawn cotton crash frock. The spring styles are cut to make waists look tinier, arms rounder, hips slimmer!

One model designed by Mary Muffet in the cotton crash called Snow-Spun is a navy blue princess dress showing Dutch influence in its white shoestring laces binding in a basque waist. Another Mary Muffet is called "Zenia Zip," because of its pale life-sized zenias blooming on an aqua background.

In the Cartwright line is something new and different in a checked reversible dress, which you can wear on either side! You simply unbutton and turn it inside out — one time a blue dress; next day a red! This nifty number is cleverly named "Right About Face." Another darling is "Mary Quite Contrary," a lemon yellow two-piece dress with blue and white checked tulips growing on sleeves and pockets! You'll love another little trick called "Land of Oz" with the original Mr. Bumpy embroidered on ordinary gold screen wire for a buckle. Then there is a three-piece called "Ginger," which is plenty peppy with a red striped shirt-blouse, navy jacket and skirt. Large white pearl buttons march up the front.

The new peasant dresses are growing more and more popular for spring. They boast full gypsy pockets, short puffed sleeves, and the new square necklines. You'll adore the new colors of Straw, Iris, Turquoise, Surf and Plaza Rose. Come in and see them at STRUB'S!

Joy Farmer, Kappa, is now sporting John Nichols' Beta badge.

MAKE arrangements to see the wonderful stage attraction coming to the ENGLERT THEATRE for one day only — Wednesday, April 26. It is Bell's Hawaiian Follies — the transcontinental tour of this unit that everyone is raving about.

It's time to get that last year's spring wardrobe out of the closet to see what can be done so as to include a few of them in your present wardrobe. LE VORA'S VARSITY CLEANERS has an excellent tailor and dressmaker to fit you for perfect alterations. Have your knit wear beautifully cleaned and blocked to your exact measurements by LE VORA'S skilled craftsmen. LE VORA'S expert cleaning will restore your last year's spring garments to a smart distinction.

Margaret Ann Hunter, Kappa, has quite a Phi Psi pin-collection—let's see, is it three or four? Don't get excited though, she's merely keeping them so that the boys won't be tempted to hang 'em.

For smart styles in spring shoes, be sure to see those at DOMBY'S. If a black patent is your favorite, you can get them in ties, pumps or sandals. And to lend contrast to your outfit the colorful lastex pumps are just the thing. Another fashionable model is the light tan heelless pump with the new square toe, which is shortening effect for your foot.

Any girl's a little Gypsy Sweetheart wearing TOWN-ER'S "Gypsy Lounge" house-coat... bloused, wide-belted, full-skirted, zippered-up-the-front. Tailored of cool spun rayon in vibrant gypsy stripes, it brings out the dramatic in you. $3.95 at TOWNER'S!

Are you satisfied with the creams you have been using? Do they seem expensive? Many students and those of the teaching staff have found SUPERB CREAMS low-priced, yet excellent for cleansing, tissue building and skin foods—these are prepared at DRUG-SHOP on Dubuque Street at Iowa Avenue.

WITH this spring restlessness coming on, you want every bit of food that you eat to be delicious, and the service to be perfect... that's where the PRINCESS AND IO-WANA CAFES come in. At either the PRINCESS or IOWANA you never have to wait a minute for attention and the food will truly melt in your mouth. Just try them and see for yourself.

SOMEONE played a joke on a large scale on Merle Miller this week. Seems they wrote a lineoleum company in Chicago inquiring about a lot of lineoleum and signed themselves MRS. MERLE MILLER. What did the company do but send a salesman clear out here to see her, and Merle had an awful time getting rid of him—convincing him that there was, as yet, no Mrs. Miller.

To top your light spring dresses, the newest and best thing is a "Honey Coat." It is short, light-weight and full of style. You'll like one in a new spring shade of checks, plaids or plain colors. They're especially featured this week at STRUB'S.

THE Junior Prom is on its way, and it has us all in a dither about who the six Hawkeye beauties and their six attendants will be. It'll be the last formal University party this year, and the last 130 night, so save up your shekels, you can't afford to miss it. Freddy Martin will provide the music, so get your date early!

Our Deanna Durbin is growing up, and doing it most becomingly! You'll want to see her in her new picture, "THREE SMART GIRLS GROW UP," now showing at the STRAND THEATRE. It's a swell picture, with Deanna singing and looking lovely in a long dress. Nan Grey and Helen Parrish are with her as her sisters and Charles Winninger again plays her father. Starting Friday, the STRAND brings us another popular singer, Bing Crosby, with Joan Blondell and that king of comedians, Mischa Auer, in "EAST SIDE OF HEAVEN." Don't miss it!

FOR one swell Sunday evening stop at the D-L Spanish room! They serve the most delicious meals up there at the most reasonable prices. There is always dancing during and after dinner and all the gang will be there. You'll love the smooth floor and good music. Make a date to go to the D-L tonight.

H. W. Janson Will Speak At Last Gallery Lecture in Union

Replaces Okerbloom In Scheduled Talk On O'Hara Exhibit

H. W. Janson of the art department will talk on the present exhibit of water colors by Eliot O'Hara in Iowa Union lounge this afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. Janson is replacing Charles Okerbloom, who was scheduled to talk but because of illness is unable to do so.

This is the last in the series of Sunday afternoon gallery talks sponsored this year by the art department.

Eliot O'Hara, born at Waltham, Mass., in 1890, makes his home at present in Washington, D. C., although his popularity as a painter, lecturer, and demonstrator keeps him on the move about the country.

He has given special courses at the Yale school of fine arts, the Pennsylvania museum school of industrial art, and the John Heron art school at Indianapolis.

In 1930, he won the Irving Brookaw prize at the combined exhibition of the American Water Color society and the New York Water Color club. A Guggenheim fellowship award in 1928 enabled him to study in Europe.

He has had many one-man shows both in this country and abroad, and his work has been purchased by leading galleries and individual collectors in England and America. The demand this year for his exhibition was so great that a second one had to be sent on tour.

In the summer O'Hara conducts a school of water color painting at Goose Rocks Beach, Me. In the water color gallery at Goose Rocks Beach, he sponsors and selects the annual invited exhibition of water colors by nationally known painters.

Iowa Union's exhibition was shown earlier in the year at the art building.

Prof. R. Perkins Attends Meeting In Washington

Prof. Rollin Perkins of the college of law has gone to Washington, D. C., to appear at a meeting of the national parole conference called by the attorney general of the United States.

Professor Perkins is a member of the committee on standards at the conference, which meets tomorrow and Tuesday.

The Iowa professor will return Wednesday night.

Poor Voices Handicap Speech Inadequacies May Cause Failure Of Good Teachers

Speech inadequacies may be responsible for the failure of teachers even if their knowledge of their major subject is adequate, according to Loretta Wagner, instructor in the speech department.

She came to this conclusion after a study of speech needs and abilities of 283 prospective teachers here, in which she found that only 12 per cent qualified as "good" in reading aloud and 46 per cent were definitely "poor." Poor voices which lacked good tonal quality and flexibility were possessed by 52 per cent of the group, with faulty articulation as the major difficulty.

In speech making ability, the prospective teachers ranked low with only 19 per cent classed as "good." On every attribute relating to the presentation and organization of the speech the average rating was below "adequate." "Many of the group had but little knowledge of the basic principles of speech and its function and many lacked insight relative to their specific speech needs and abilities," Miss Wagner said.

She recommended a program of teacher training which would include speech achievement tests, a retaining program for those with defects and deficiencies and work on developing speech making ability and reading aloud. Teachers should not receive their certificates until they can show adequate achievement, she believed.

Neither a chemical formula nor a doctor's degree, the above line has a perfectly clear meaning for the reader of classified advertisements.

"Furnished single room with private bath and kitchen." All advertising is not written in this abbreviated form. On the contrary, we believe you'll find that most advertisers in this newspaper go out of their way to make their messages clear, concise, easy to read and understand.

For an advertisement, after all, is really a personal letter from some one who has something to sell to some one who wants to buy.

It is an advantage to the seller, that he can talk to you through the advertising columns of this newspaper. And it is an advantage to you, that you can study his proposition at your own leisure, weighing the merits of his product or service.

The next time you're "in the market" for any of the hundreds of things you buy during the year, make a point of shopping around through the advertisements before you start shopping around through the streets.

In the manner of the classified advertisement—

S. O'Duilearga Will Give Talk In Old Capitol

Authority on Irish Folklore To Lecture On Country's Tales

Seamus O'Duilearga, director of the Irish Folklore commission and authority on Ireland's ancient tales, will lecture on Irish folk tales here tomorrow.

The lecture will be at 4:10 p.m. in the senate chamber of Old Capitol.

The speaker arrived in New York several months ago for a tour of American colleges and universities, brought here by the American Folklore society.

Mr. O'Duilearga is a native of the Glens of Antrim, a district in northeastern Ireland, where the ancient Gaelic tradition lingers. Early in his life he became interested in the stories of the old countrymen.

After his graduation from the University college in Dublin he decided to devote himself to the study of Irish oral traditions and spent a period in the Gaelic speaking areas on Ireland's wild Atlantic coast.

Here he listened to and recorded the tales and traditions told and retold through hundreds of years by old story tellers.

The Irish Free State established the Irish Folklore commission in 1936 with O'Duilearga as its director. In his work he has visited all the outlying and remote districts of Ireland.

History Conference Ends

Addresses by Professors Rippey, Wallace Brings Conclave to Close

The 19th annual history and social studies conference which met this week end on the campus ended yesterday morning with addresses by Prof. J. Fred Rippey of the University of Chicago and Prof. Wallace Notestein of Yale university.

Speaking on "History and Character," Professor Notestein traced the outlook on historical characters from the 17th century to the present day. He said of the 18th century man: "The good man may have been the codes of his time; the bad man may have been the one who looked ahead, conformed with the codes to come, and so was considered bad in his time."

"History," he emphasized, "tends to leave the careful student with the belief that codes are a matter of time and place. We are not to judge historical characters by standards of our day, but of their day."

"In history, the only sure thing is change—we must welcome change," he continued. This change he applied to tolerance, which was practically non-existent in the 17th century. "Tolerance," he explained, "is a very modern virtue."

Appearing for the first time at the conference, Professor Rippey addressed the meeting on "The New Pan-Americanism and the Fascist Threat."

Emphasizing the unity of the Pan-American countries, he said:

"I have found no hint that we should not defend our hemisphere, that we should not defend Latin-America. That has been this country's policy as early as the Monroe doctrine in 1823."

Regarding the interest Germany and Italy have in Latin-America, he cited the 900,000 Germans in Brazil, Argentina, and Chile. One-third of Brazil, Uruguay and Argentina are of southern European descent, he said.

Fascists, and especially Germany, have been making barter agreements with Latin-America. "Twelve of the 20 Latin-American countries are dictator countries. They have dictators, but they are not fascist dictators," he remarked.

"By a process of depression, the number of dictators in this hemisphere has increased. With one exception, all Latin-American dictator countries were made so in the years 1930-1933."

Referring to the United States' interest in Latin America, he brought out the opinion that "we have a really new Pan-Americanism now. It originated in the sentiments of the American people who were tired of being classed by their neighbors as imperialistic."

"The United States can put faith in the Latin American dictator countries because of their sentiment of nationalism and because of two other factors: the strife in Europe and the might of the United States," he concluded.

Senior Women, Faculty Guests To Be Feted

Good Will Dinner Sponsored Annually By Finkbine Family

Outstanding senior women and faculty guests will be entertained at the annual Good Will dinner tomorrow at 6 p.m. in the private dining room of Iowa Union.

The dinner, which corresponds to the Finkbine dinner for men, is sponsored by members of the family of the late William O. Finkbine. His daughter, Dorothy Finkbine Souers, first began the tradition. Since her death, it has been continued by her aunt, Emilie and Marie Stapp, who are now living in Mississippi.

Walter E. Riley Will Contest Returns on Alderman Election

To Dispute Grady's Five-Vote Margin In Ward Post Victory

To test the accuracy of the returns which accorded John Grady a five-vote victory margin for the first ward alderman post in the recent city election, Walter E. Riley, democratic candidate, yesterday filed a notice of intention to contest the returns for the ward alderman post.

At the March 27 municipal election the voting in the two precincts of the first ward gave Grady, 287 votes, and Riley, 249, and second precinct, Grady, 188, and Riley, 221.

The contest board will be composed of the mayor of the city and a representative named by each of the two men involved in the election contest.

Riley explained that many of his friends had requested him to contest the election and that he felt in all fairness to the other candidate, Grady, and to his friends that he should ask for a recount of the votes.
