Dept. of Commerce May Receive RFC

Other Major Agencies May Be Merged

First Reorganization Move Will Test F. R.'s Executive Power

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—Reports reached Capitol hill today that President Roosevelt was considering transferring the RFC and other government lending agencies to the commerce department in the first reorganization move under authority granted him recently by congress.

The contemplated reorganization order, which some legislators said they expected to be issued next week, also might include the Federal Housing Administration and Home Owners Loan Corporation, thus consolidating major business recovery agencies under one command, it was said.

In addition, there were reports that the president was considering transferring to the interior department both the biological survey, now in agriculture, and the bureau of fisheries, now in commerce.

Although Chairman Jesse Jones of the RFC declined to comment, it was reported authoritatively that he had discussed with some senators the possibility that the agency might be brought within the scope of the commerce department, headed by President Roosevelt's close friend and advisor, Harry Hopkins.

Jones was described as opposing this move and there were indications that if it were made, it would bring about the first test of the section of the reorganization bill which permits an executive order shifting bureaus to stand unless both houses of congress vote disapproval within 60 days.

One senator, who asked that his name not be used, said he regarded the RFC's reduction in interest rates on loans this week as the opening gun in a campaign to stave off any change in the agency's status. The RFC cut interest rates on loans to business from 5 per cent to 4.

This was regarded in some quarters as anticipating any spectacular move toward stimulating business that might be made subsequent to a transfer.

This senator said there was little doubt that if the agency were placed under the commerce department Jones would step out as its chief.

The prospective reorganization move also held political implications, inasmuch as Jones is a close associate of Vice-President Garner and has been popularly credited recently with supporting Garner for the democratic presidential nomination in 1940.

There also has been discussion in political circles here of the possibility that Hopkins may be President Roosevelt's choice for his successor, if the president does not himself decide to run again.

One of the first agencies to be set up to cope with economic problems brought about by the depression, RFC was inherited by the Roosevelt administration from the preceding Hoover administration and its activities were enlarged and expanded.

Danish Royal Couple To Visit Iowa Friday

By T. M. METZGER
DES MOINES, April 19 (AP)—A royal welcome awaits a royal couple, Prince Frederik and his consort, Princess Ingrid when the heir-apparent to the Danish throne comes to Iowa and Des Moines tomorrow.

Climaxed with a brilliant dinner in the evening at Hotel Fort Des Moines, the Danish visitors will find their day well consumed with colorful events. Only from 5 to 7 o'clock will they have complete privacy and rest in the "presidential" suite assigned them.

Crossing the Missouri river into Iowa at 10 in the morning, the prince and princess will be given Iowa's sovereign welcome by Adj. Gen. Charles H. Grahl who will escort the visitors in a motorcade to Des Moines.

LIGHTNING! Was Not 'Act of God' Says Court

ATLANTA, April 19 (AP)—Dan Parks' death by lightning was not an act of God, the Georgia court of appeals held today in ruling his widow entitled to workmen's compensation.

Parks was killed here last year while spraying mosquito breeding areas and the city sought to escape liability by pleading "an act of God."

The appellate court upheld a superior court decision that a metal tank worn by Parks and his proximity to a tall tree placed him in greater hazard than the rest of the community.

Peace Forum Well Attended

'Collective Security' Gains in Favor As Second Vote Taken

More than 850 men and women on the University of Iowa campus last night attended the third meeting of the student-faculty forum to debate the question "Peace at Any Price?"

A decided majority supporting a "collective security" for the United States was shown as the result of a poll taken before the meeting began and after three speakers had presented their case.

When the meeting began, 159 favored "collective security" as opposed to isolation, and at the time of the second vote 194 favored the policy.

One hundred and fifty-seven opposed isolation at the beginning of the meeting, 289 when the meeting ended.

More than three-fourths of those present opposed the idea of the United States failing to take a stand at this time, waiting until a world war broke out.

Speakers on last night's forum were Prof. Kirk H. Porter of the political science department, Alberta Ewaldt and Merle Miller, both students.

Next Wednesday night's meeting will consider the question "Shall the Wagner Labor Relations Act Be Amended?" The following week "Socialized Medicine" will be discussed.

Aircraft Corp. Will Build Huge Airliner

BURBANK, Calif., April 19 (AP)—The Lockheed Aircraft Corp. announced tonight that it would manufacture a 26,000-pound, four-engine airliner to accommodate from 21 to 28 passengers at a cruising speed of 220 miles an hour.

Carl B. Squier, sales manager, said the airplane probably would be ready for delivery in 1940.

Latest Additions to U. S.

Here are two new experimental pursuit planes just purchased by U. S. Army, and sent to Dayton, Ohio, for tests. Top, is the XP-39, armed with two machine guns, which has wing span of 35 feet and length of 25 feet. It is powered with single 12-cylinder engine.

'Remain Loyal or Get Out' Roosevelt Challenges Demos To Stick With Liberal Democratic Principles

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—President Roosevelt, declaring tonight that the democratic party would commit suicide if it turned "conservative," called on democrats who disagree with present policies to "subordinate their prejudices" or get out of the party.

In a message to a junior Jackson day dinner of the young democratic clubs here, he said:

"There never was, and never will be, a political party whose policies absolutely fit the views of all of its members. Where men are at variance with the course their party is taking, it seems to me there are only two honorable courses — to join a party that more accurately mirrors their ideas, or to subordinate their prejudices and remain loyal."

Looking ahead to 1940, and calling on the party to cleave to the principles that "brought it to power," he said:

"There is no use fooling ourselves. If we are to have a reactionary regime — or if that term is too horrific — call it a conservative regime, you may depend on it that it will be the other fellow's regime."

In inviting democrats to leave the party if they cannot remain "loyal," he said he was not seeking to change the party's program.

"It would be a poor sort of politician or statesman," he said, "who did not fight for his sincere principles, but that is a different thing from allying themselves with their party's enemies and getting in a stab wherever and whenever they can do so safely."

'Keep America Out of War' is the general theme of the student mass meeting at 11 o'clock this morning on the east approach of Old Capitol. Prof. Howard Bowen and Charles Joiner will speak.

Similar demonstrations will be held at the same time throughout the entire country. Last year over one million students participated. (The movement started in 1934 with 25,000 students.)

Classes will not be dismissed but all students with a free hour at 11 are urged to attend and demonstrate their solidarity against war.

Foreign Sabotage Believed To Be Cause of Ship Disaster

Extra Police Guards Ordered To Protect Huge Normandie

LE HAVRE, France, April 19 (AP)—Investigators seeking the origin of flames which wrecked the liner Paris and took two lives turned tonight to a theory that multiple fires were set by foreign saboteurs.

The flames burned for more than 13 hours before water from fire hoses in the holds overbalanced the 34,000-ton liner, which turned on her side and settled in 36 feet of water at her dock.

Extra police guards were ordered for the huge Normandie, flagship of the French line, which was behind the Paris in dry dock.

Investigation of the fire turned tonight to Nice where mobile guards several days ago received an anonymous letter warning of sabotage against vessels at Le Havre.

The letter, signed "VVBC-32" and believed to have been written by a woman, reported a conversation between two other persons overheard in a Nice hotel. The two were said to be plotting sabotage.

Mexico, Italy Agree to Pact For Oil Barter

MEXICO CITY, April 19 (AP)—Mexico has concluded a second major oil barter deal with Italy, it was learned tonight in authoritative quarters, arranging to exchange an estimated $2,500,000 worth of petroleum for rayon yarn and machinery.

About $2,000,000 worth of the oil will be bartered for the rayon yarn. Machinery to be exchanged for the remaining $500,000 in oil has not been classified.

Oil shipments under the deal are to start in June at the rate of about 30,000 tons a month. The oil will be loaded in Italian ships at Minatitlan and Tampico.

Severe curtailment of American, Japanese and Dutch rayon yarn exports to Mexico is predicted in some quarters as a result of the deal with Italy.

Informal sources said Mexico would get a total of about 3,600,000 kilograms (7,938,000 pounds) of Italian yarn.

Iowa in Coal Area Ordered Closed by CIO

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 19 (AP)—Vice-president William Blizzard of the United Mine Workers, district 17, said today he had been notified by John L. Lewis that those areas not covered by the Appalachian wage agreement had been ordered to give the 15 days notice required before closing of the mines. Those areas include Iowa.

The move to shut down the entire bituminous coal industry was threatened a week ago by Lewis, CIO chief and president of the miners union, unless a wage contract was signed with operators now negotiating with the union in New York.

Viscount Halifax Offers Hitler Pledge of 'No Encirclement'; Britain Increases Armaments

Der Fuehrer's 2-Day Birthday 'Party' Planned

Goebbels Says Hitler Is A Political Way For The Entire World

BERLIN, April 19 (AP)—Two days of oratory, military display and fanfare with which Germany is celebrating Chancellor Hitler's 50th birthday began tonight with a national broadcast in which the fuehrer's name was called "a political program for the entire world."

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, the speaker, declared:

"The reich stands under the protection of the German sword. In the national security, which is guaranteed by the German armed forces, economy, culture and social life flourish. Adolf Hitler has pointed out a new way for the historical development not only of his country but for that of Europe."

Traffic at Standstill
Nazi flags waved from almost every building. Downtown streets were packed with citizens long before the official festivities started. Traffic was almost at a standstill as neighborhood groups of Nazi workers streamed toward Wilhelmstrasse, Unter Den Linden and the new, broad, east-west arterial boulevard. Formal opening of this boulevard by Hitler tonight was one of the main events of the celebration.

Politics and speculation on Hitler's answer, April 28, to President Roosevelt's week end appeal for at least 10 years of peace also took a holiday. Earlier today Hitler received Rumanian Foreign Minister Grigore Catencu for an extended talk on German-Rumanian affairs.

Goebbels in a 20-minute address said that Hitler's name "wanders around the earth almost like a legend."

Meaning of Name
"There is no one in the wide world," he asserted, "who can remain indifferent to this name. For some it means hope, faith and a future; for others, it is still only an image of distorted hate, base lies and cowardly slander."

End of Nose Missing
German Fugitive, 13 Others Indicted For Counterfeiting

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—A notorious international counterfeiter-embezzler who escaped a German prison by swallowing a needle and feigning agony, and who subsequently lost part of his nose to a rival in love, was indicted today as master of a nation-wide bogus money ring.

Thirteen others were named in the indictment which was handed up along with Assistant U. S. District Attorney Joseph L. Delaney's description of Henry Neuwirth as a fit successor to the archcounterfeiter, "Count" Victor Lustig Miller, now serving 20 years.

Delaney said Neuwirth's rival for a woman's love had altered the German fugitive's appearance by biting off the end of his nose.

The prosecutor said a government drive against counterfeiting within a year had caused the arrest of 283 passers and principals. In Neuwirth's apartment, he said, secret service agents seized a printing press, 200 sheets of bond paper on commercial linen, 30 cans of ink, $15,000 in unfinished notes and $35,000 in completed ones.

The agents also picked up $165,000 in spurious bills from time to time.

Neuwirth entered this country with a fake passport by way of Canada and in 1933 was sent to federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa., on a 3-year sentence for counterfeiting.

Morals Charge Sends Pastor To Jail Term

TIFFIN, Ohio, April 19 (AP)—A red-haired pastor who confessed immoral relations with 20 girls and women in his congregation, was sent to Ohio penitentiary today for one to 15 years.

The Rev. Colson Owens, 41, pleaded guilty to attempting familiarities in 1937 with a 14-year-old, since married. Indictments charging him with adulterous relations with three women and obtaining $800 under false pretenses from a fourth were held in abeyance.

Deputy Sheriff George Steinmetz said the pastor, father of five children, signed a confession to illicit relations with a score of his parishioners, naming 14.

Gross Revenue Of Carriers Reduced As Result of Shutdown

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—Officials of the Association of American Railroad officials estimated tonight that the carriers were losing $11,000,000 a week in gross revenue as a result of the soft coal shutdown curtailing tonnage.

The bill carries a $1,800,000 authorization for an aeronautical engine and materials building at the Philadelphia naval aircraft plant.

Increase Voted for Institutions Senate Would Give $1,762,500 for 2 Year Capital Improvements

DES MOINES, April 19 (AP)—The Iowa senate, still in a spending mood today, voted $1,762,500 for capital improvements at state institutions in the next two years, in addition to the $1,221,200 which had been voted by the house.

Important items in the senate's building program would be new receiving wards at the mental institutions at Cherokee, Clarinda, Mt. Pleasant and Woodward.

The vote was 22 to 17. Two democratic senators, Edward Breen of Ft. Dodge and Howard C. Baldwin of Cascade, submitted the proposal. Breen said it was based on the recommendations of various committees which have studied the

Passes Bill National Defense Bill Goes to House

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—The senate approved a national defense bill today authorizing expenditure of $66,800,000 on naval air bases. The measure now goes back to the house for action on amendments.

The senate placed in the bill a $17,000,000 item for establishment of an air base at Jacksonville, Fla., and an operating seaplane base at Banana River, Fla. The house had eliminated this authorization when a controversy arose between Jacksonville and Miami over location of the base.

An authorization of $1,000,000 for the purchase of land for a base at Quonset Point, R. I., also was added by the senate.

An incipient battle over foreign policy was avoided when the senate naval committee followed the lead of the house and eliminated a $5,000,000 item for harbor improvements at the Pacific island of Guam, less than 1,500 miles from Tokyo.

The bill carries a $1,800,000 authorization for an aeronautical engine and materials building at the Philadelphia naval aircraft plant.

England Seeks Air Pact With Soviet Russia

New Cabinet Post May Be Established To Supply Army

By JAMES B. RESTON
LONDON, April 19 (AP)—Britain offered a "no encirclement" pledge to Adolf Hitler tonight as the cabinet urgently stepped up its drive for more arms and allies.

Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax, discussing the "cry of encirclement" raised by Germany and Italy against the French-British defensive front, declared:

"I would be prepared at any time to give a most solemn undertaking on the authority of the government that no such idea would ever find a place in British policy."

Negotiate Air Pact
Lord Halifax said negotiations with Soviet Russia for an air pact were being actively pursued and he hoped "recognition of different points of view" would permit the "progress that we all desire."

It was reported reliably that, as part of the armaments speed up, Prime Minister Chamberlain had agreed to set up a department of supply to equip the expanding British army. A new cabinet post may be created for it, and an announcement is expected this week.

Lord Halifax made perhaps an other conciliatory gesture in saying that Sir Neville Henderson, ambassador to Berlin, would return to his post when his period of leave was ended. He did not specify a date. Sir Neville came home March 17 after Germany took Czecho-Slovakia.

Comprehensive System
The foreign secretary further declared that Britain's purpose, rather than encirclement, was "a comprehensive system against aggression excluding no one who will come in with us" and was without regard for "the internal political organization of any country."

He praised the Roosevelt appeal to Italy and Germany for a 10-year peace agreement and expressed confidence that millions everywhere "trust that his initiative may have a successful outcome." (Hitler is to reply to the appeal April 28 before the German reichstag.)

The government asked local authorities to push civil defense measures ahead of other business for three months, and arrangements were made for bakers to store more flour to meet wartime requirements.

A clearer indication of Russian policy in the defensive program was expected after Ivan Maisky, Russian ambassador to London, makes his report to Moscow Friday.

Foreign office officials said Anglo-Turkish talks were proceeding. There was belief in political circles that agreement already had been reached but that no formal announcement would be made.

British experts are urging Poland and Rumania to enter into immediate staff talks on a common defense in the event of attack.

Another amendment by the same authors, calling for expenditure of $3,000,000 in the next two years for a new 1,500-bed mental hospital to relieve overcrowding at existing institutions, did not come to a vote before the senate adjourned tonight.

Consulting With Experts

IT ISN'T often that Iowans have the opportunity to sit around the conference table with experts on the international situation. It isn't often that a group of authorities on the subject are brought together in Iowa for a period as long as 10 days. And seldom do the majority of Iowans have the chance to enjoy an hour or two of quiet conversation with men like Eduard Benes, Norman Thomas, or T. Z. Koo.

From June 15 to June 24, the fifth annual Grinnell Institute of International Relations will be in session. As in past summers, its purpose will be "to encourage the study of the crucial aspects of world affairs today and to discuss how America can shape its foreign policy to forward the cause of peace in the world."

To carry out this purpose, the Institute is bringing together a faculty of world renowned men and women. Some of the leaders who will take part are:

Eduard Benes—Co-founder, former minister and later president of Czechoslovakia. Grinnell is favored as one of the few American communities where President Benes will speak this summer.

B. H. Mackham—Coming directly from Budapest, Hungary, for the Institute. Has lived for 26 years in Bulgaria, Austria, and Hungary, and is now the correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor, for Southeastern Europe. Will discuss the momentous question in everybody's minds, "What will Germany do next?"

W. Wilhelm Solmann—Twice Minister of the Interior of Germany in the Stresemann cabinets. Long active in Social Democratic circles, and for 22 years editor of the "Rheinische Zeitung," Member of the German Reichstag for eight years.

Charence E. Pickett—Executive secretary, American Friends Service Committee, Philadelphia, which maintains centers in Berlin, Vienna, Paris and Geneva, and administers relief or refugee work in Spain, Germany and China. Spent the summer of 1938 in Europe. Received jointly with Rufus Jones, the Philadelphia award for performing the most significant service of the year 1938.

Norman Thomas—Author, "Is Conscience a Crime?", "Human Exploitation," "War—No Profit, No Glory, No Need," etc. Active leader in Keep America Out of War committee. Director, League for Industrial Democracy.

Leyton Richards—Minister, Garr's Lan Congregational church, Birmingham, England. Author, "The Crisis and World Peace," "The Christian's Alternative to War," "The Christian's Contribution to Peace," etc. This will be the fifth time that Leyton Richards has come from England especially for the Institutes.

As is stated in a bulletin describing the conference, "A major value of the Institute will be the opportunity for free democratic exchange of ideas between the faculty and those in attendance. Opportunities for leisurely personal conversations in the afternoon with a faculty selected for their wide experience and first hand contact with areas of conflict will supplement the morning lectures."

A True University?

TRUE EDUCATION in its broadest aspects can be obtained only by those who carefully consider many viewpoints before drawing their own conclusions. Lecturers from 21 states and two foreign countries will be present on the Iowa campus during the coming summer session to present as many views as possible.

It is programs like these which combat narrow provincial attitudes and aid Iowa students to more cosmopolitan attitudes. Thus Iowa men and women become "truly educated."

Hats Off!—Real Courage

FRED SNITE, news dispatches announce, will leave the United States soon on a trip to Europe. We don't do it often, but we feel somehow that here we should pause long enough to tip our hat to real courage.

Fred Snite, you will remember, is the young man who has spent practically all of his time since April 1, 1936, in an iron lung. Only recently he became well enough to live about one hour a day under his own breathing power.

Fred Snite has the kind of courage that leaves him still cheerful enough to make a pleasure trip to France.

Good Publicity

AUTHORS OF new books might well warn their publicity agents to be certain to see that the volumes are barred from Germany. It's a sure way of getting the titles before the American public!

One wouldn't go so far as to say Mussolini would take candy away from a child, but he did take a throne away from a three-day-old baby.

The trouble with the three most publicized "isms" is that they have so little regard for a much older "ism"—humanitarianism.

In Pennsylvania a jury was recently fined for reaching its verdict by tossing a coin.

Just when the weather gets warm enough for a fellow to enjoy a park bench somebody paints them.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

HITLER CALLS THE REICHSTAG

THE announcement from Berlin that Hitler has summoned the reichstag to meet on April 28 is accompanied by intimations from official quarters that his answer to President Roosevelt's question about giving a guarantee of non-aggression will be No, but a No "so phrased that it will not contradict his repeated assurances that he wants peace."

The pledge: "After the solution of the question of the Saar the German government is willing and determined to accept in its innermost soul the pact of Locarno." (Jan. 30, 1934.)

The performance: On March 7, 1936, Germany remilitarized the Rhineland zone in violation of the pact of Locarno.

The pledge: "Germany has neither the wish nor the intention to mix in internal Austrian affairs, or to annex or unite with Austria." (May 21, 1935.)

The performance: On March 12, 1938, Germany annexed Austria.

The pledge: "With this declaration I wish to announce that the era of so-called surprises has been concluded." (Jan. 30, 1937.)

The performance: On Sept. 7, 1937, Germany launched her demand for colonies.

The pledge: "I repeat here that if this problem (concerning the Sudeten area of Czecho-Slovakia) is solved, there will be no further territorial problems in Europe for Germany." (Sept. 26, 1938.)

The performance: On March 14, 1939, German troops drove into what remained of Czecho-Slovakia and annexed it.

One week later Germany annexed Memel.

Another 'Encirclement' Problem!

AROUND THE TOWN with MERLE MILLER

I FOUND NO PEACE... This is National Peace week. I could again only hope that it were international in scope.

The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin and William Randolph Hearst disclaim international citizenship in a world that is only too glad to agree.

But the rest of us know that peace must come through world cooperation... The League of Nations has failed, and the World Court was only a feeble attempt for reason among madness.

Anyone can see that now... I would, if I were able, sentence to eternal warfare those five saboteurs in the United States senate who, in the year 1919, when the way was choked with millions of American dead, talked about "bewareing of foreign alliance."

I would place at their doorstep, more emphatically than at the feet of Clemenceau and Lloyd George, the responsibility of the world of today.

I would warn that we must not repeat their errors... Today we prepare ourselves again... The old ways have failed... Again the talk of "isolation" has risen.

But I who want peace say, "No!" If the old league was bad, if "Union Now" is ludicrous, we must build a new cooperative body for peace.

If the collective intelligences of 90 per cent of the people of the world who want peace cannot succeed, God help us... The night is here.

Health Hints

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

A question included in the questionnaire prepared by the American Society for the Control of Cancer is this: "Are all hospitals equipped to diagnose and treat cancer?" It is answered by the Society as follows:

"No. To be adequately equipped for this purpose a hospital must have an operating room; a laboratory for the microscopic diagnosis of tissue; X-ray equipment suitable for diagnosis and for treatment; and must own or have access to a sufficient quantity of radium. To make this equipment effective there must be physicians adequately trained in its use and surgeons competent to treat cancer by approved methods."

Not Fair Idea... I omitted that question and answer in my articles last week because I do not believe they give a quite fair idea of the situation. Most hospitals in the United States come up to the standards set down in the answer. Most hospitals have a good operating room, a laboratory for microscopic examination of tissue and X-ray apparatus for diagnosis and treatment. Not all have a sufficient supply of radium, but for all hospitals in a city of 250,000 population or over it is available. And most hospitals are staffed with physicians and surgeons adequately trained in the treatment of cancer.

I do not like the implication of the idea that the cancer patient must seek out some remote or special institution. I do not believe that is true. I myself had a cancer on the skin not long ago and it was properly and successfully diagnosed and treated in the small operating room in the office of a surgeon.

Special Hospital... But while 75 per cent of cases can be adequately handled in the average approved (American College of Surgeons standard) hospital, there is a definite advantage in having in every community a special hospital for cancer treatment.

There is a great advantage in having physicians and surgeons who have special training in cancer in special parts of the body. At the Memorial Hospital in New York, for instance, the staff is so divided that one man handles the cancers of the mouth, another of the skin, another of the breast, another of the internal organs. In the course of 20 years' experience they acquire uncanny familiarity with just how to deal with a special or difficult problem, just what treatments to give. Then such hospitals should have a more intensively trained microscope technician and more adequate supply of radium. The United States National Cancer Institute at Bethesda,

JACKIE COOPER... who now appears on theater marquees this way: "Jackie Cooper with Freddie Bartholomew," will be a guest on Bing Crosby's NBC-Red network show at 9 o'clock tonight.

KATE SMITH... will preview four songs she will soon record in re-entering the field of phonograph records as a feature of her hour-long program with Burgess Meredith, star of stage, screen and radio, as her guest over the Columbia network at 7 o'clock tonight.

With Kate will be her usual array of supporting talent including Jack Miller and his orchestra, Ted Straeter and his rhythm choir, the Aldrich family and Abbott and Costello.

Burgess Meredith, who is currently playing on the road in "Five Kings," will be heard in a radio adaptation of "The Overcoat," a short story of the Ukraine, written in 1929 by the Russian author, Nikolai Gogol. The story of a little clerk whose one great ambition is to own a fine overcoat, it is a remarkable study in human psychology.

Miss Smith, who will soon celebrate the beginning of her ninth year on the Columbia network, has already recorded "The Star Spangled Banner" and "God Bless America." This record, released only a few weeks ago, will be followed soon by recordings of Johnny Mercer's new ballad, "And the Angels Sing," "Don't Worry About Me," from the Cotton Club Review, a revival of "If I Had My Way," and another new number called "I Didn't Care." These four will be her melodic contribution to tonight's show.

Meredith has long been hailed by critics as America's most promising young dramatic player. First recognized for his stage work in "Winterset," he went on to new heights in "The Star Wagon" and "Idiot's Delight." The former and latter were subsequently screened with great success with Meredith in his original stage role in each.

ANDRE KOSTELANETZ... following a current Broadway trend, will swing Gilbert and Sullivan.

When visiting Baltimore, Md., the orchestra gave a concert at the United States naval academy. Plans are now being made for "Hour of Charm" broadcasts from the world's fair.

A New Yorker at Large

By George Tucker

NEW YORK — "I remember Ziegfeld, and Belasco, and Walter Kingsley. I remember Jeanne Eagels, and Otto H. Kahn, and Battling Siki. I've delivered telegrams up and down Broadway for 20 years and I know them all, and I know them all now."

"Ziegfeld always got very excited when he received telegrams, and he received thousands. He ripped them open as if he always expected some catastrophe. And if he didn't like what he read he crushed them in his hand and flung them to the floor. Belasco took lots of time reading his. I have seen Jeanne Eagels laugh and I have seen her cry. Walter Kingsley was a press agent and one of his clients was the Emperor of Japan. He always toyed with a telegram before opening it. I think he was a muser, or that he liked to imagine what would be inside, for he always weighed a message in his hand and looked off into space, or at that motto on his wall, 'Be Hard—Live Dangerously.'"

"One afternoon I went into the Belasco theater about 5 o'clock, and the Old Man was in the center of the stage. There were a lot of people around him, actors and actresses, and all of them were staring at the Old Man as if they had never seen anything like him. And he was there before them, with his handkerchief in his hand, sending it to shreds and telling them he had lost his hold on the theater and, on the play and on life, too, he guessed, because they were letting him down, they weren't working for him as they had been, and they weren't doing anything right, and it was all his fault, he guessed, because he was old and had lost his hold on the theater and the play and on them and on life.

"And about that time one of the actresses ran up to the Old Man and flung her arms around him and said they would work and that he hadn't lost his hold on the theater, and to come on, everybody, and let's show him what we can do.

"I had some telegrams for the Old Man and I wanted to give them to him, but about that time an attendant took them and signed for them and I had to get out of there. I wish I could say that the Maryland, bought $200,000 worth of radium as a beginning.

Doctors Team Up... In many of our cities teams of doctors, consisting of a pathologist, a radiologist and a surgeon, are setting up in partnership for the treatment of cancer patients and that is a good sign.

Some states — Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Missouri, Connecticut and Georgia — are setting up state hospitals or clinics in general hospitals for cancer treatment.

Special Measures Show Japan Feels The War's Effects... TOKIO (AP)—Economic effects of the Chinese war were noted in several remedial measures all announced the same day. Carnivorous animals in the Uyeno zoo went on a part fish diet to conserve meat.

Small-size milk bottles were discontinued to economize on soda ash. Police decided not to license any more gasoline trucks and to give permits only to charcoal burners.

Meanwhile, students at Tokio Imperial university found expenses were 20 per cent higher than before the war. But it was pointed out that the drain on manpower has made it easy to find jobs after graduation.

Tulane university, New Orleans, has graduates living in 35 foreign countries.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—They can keep on taking popularity polls and giving academy awards, but the voice of the people is still a loud, clear voice... For instance, on our recent cross-country jaunt with that gang of stars, the men who got the biggest cheers from the way-siders were... Buck Jones and Hoot Gibson, good old westerners.

And it was amusing to see how Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom's nightclub humor was lost on the townspeople, who looked blank when Maxie pulled what he thought were nifties... Somebody ought to catalogue humor into two sections — the kind Hollywood and New York think is funny, and the kind that must be really funny because the great majority between the coasts appreciate it.

Hawaiian or South Seas background films never fail, says Joe Blair of the Hollywood Review, trade paper... Points to money-makers "Honolulu," and "The Hurricane," etc. to prove his point... But when I ruddy ask Joe about a Bobby Breen number which wasn't so hot he clears his throat and thinks maybe we'd better skip it...

Sounds in the day... Jack Mulhall, being congratulated on new Metro contract and role in "6,000 Enemies": "Don't call it a comeback... I learned long ago that a picture career is a game of dice. For one who's been in pictures as long as I have, rising to the top and falling to the bottom, it's like throwing a lucky seven when I've got as much as a day's work. But I've never been really discouraged..."

Sights in the day... Belle Davis's Scottie, Tibby, losing its mistress in the studio commissary, being rescued and returned intact by that old toughie, James Cagney... Anne Shirley, looking too thin, driving a big car... Jean Parker wearing a new red bob with bangs — and unbecoming, too, unless she's deliberately trying to drop that sweet, school-girlish look... And just noises: Ann Sheridan's "oomph girl" (can it be they're going to make a movie of that title? It can) and now Joy Hodges is the "rump girl" and it looks as if the thing will never end... But if should...

Florence Rice once said she didn't like to date actors — she married one, Robert Wilson... Married on Bob's professional abilities, or merely indicating that Flossie changed her mind?

Success story, as reported in a publicity release: "Morton Lowry, youthful British actor, has an important part in 'Enemy Agent.' He got it because he can portray high-pitched excitement in a cultured British accent better than any Hollywood actor available."

Add April birthdays: Jane Withers was 13 on April 12; Shirley Temple, 10 on April 23; May Robson, 74 on April 18; A. Hitler (the fella in the newsreels), 50 on April 20...

You'll find no more sedate-appearing gentlemen on the movie sets than Donald Crisp and Claude Rains... Believe me, it is surface sedateness... The other day Crisp poked his head around a backdrop, screwed up his face and stuck out his tongue, withdrew his head hastily. Inquiry revealed that he Rains and the Lane sisters were engaged in a game called "snoot last." Object: to make the last "face," or snoot, at one's opponent's expense. Snoot fun!

There seems to be more than the usual amount of scoffing about Iowa losing that ball game to Purdue the other day. Too many apparently felt that the Boiler-makers had no more chance than an ear of corn in a sheller when they faced the Iowans on the diamond.

Now, however, the cry has changed and too many are selling the Hawkeyes short. True, they didn't hit with the vigor and gusto expected after their fence-busting efforts in the south.

The hurling, though, with the exception of the few walks dished out by Hawk casters, was far better than anticipated, giving rise to hopes that the Iowans will not be as handicapped in this department as was feared.

All in all, considering the bitter weather and soggy diamond, the Iowans didn't do so bad and they'll do a lot better.

Ball games in this or any other league aren't won in pre-game stories. The fact that Iowa is defending a share of the Big Ten title with practically the same team that earned the portion last year has been and will be emphasized in the papers.

That doesn't mean that the opposition will fold when the Hawkeyes throw their gloves onto the field. It isn't that kind of league. Every game will be tough and nobody knows better than Coach Vogel who several days ago wailed that Iowa fans were conceding the pennant to the Hawks before a single game had been played.

He was afraid at the time, and doubtless still is, that some of the Iowa players would read the papers for their press notices and consider themselves "in."

If that's true the loss to Purdue must have been quite a shock, a shock which should prod them out of that illusion and into the type of game which saw them battle back for a share of the title after a disastrous jaunt into the southland last year.

Tomorrow and Saturday Illinois furnishes the competition at Champaign. To remain in the conference race the Hawks must capture at least one of these games. A clean sweep would find them setting pretty. Their title chances are up for grabs and I think they'll produce—remember last year?

Sets Marathon Record

BOSTON, April 19 (AP)—Spurred on by the need of employment instead of glory, Ellison (Tarzan) Brown, swarthy Narragansett Indian from Alton, R. I., today ran the fastest marathon in history to gain his second victory in the last four Boston A. A. races from Hopkinton to this city.

Brown, a stone mason and out of work since he competed in the Olympics after winning the 1936 race, plodded the 26 miles, 385 yards, mostly through a driving rain, in 2 hours, 28 minutes and 51.8 seconds. He finished more than a quarter-mile ahead of the closest of his 178 rivals.

Boston Captures Opening Game From Phillies in 12 Innings

Game Played In Rain, Fog

Simmons, Hassett, Miller Spark Bees To 7-6 Victory

BOSTON, April 19 (AP)—Playing in fog and rain, the Boston Bees opened their 1939 National league season today by taking a 12-inning game from Philadelphia, 7 to 6, in a morning Patriots' day contest witnessed by fewer than 2,000 rugged baseball fans.

The two teams were forced to play three hours and one minute before the only major league game of the day was decided. Rain prevented them from playing the scheduled afternoon contest.

Under the leadership of their new manager, Doc Prothro, the Phils went into a 6-2 lead by putting across three markers in the second, one in the fourth and two in the fifth. But the Bees, sparked by three newcomers—Al Simmons, Buddy Hassett and Eddie Miller—kept pecking away at the offerings of three hurlers until they tied the score in the ninth.

Bill Posedel, the fourth Bees pitcher, held the Phillies in check in the closing three minutes. In the last of the 12th Garms got a life when Les Powers dropped a throw at first base. Maxie West pushed the Boston third-sacker to second with a bunt and Hassett walked.

Simmons then smacked Butcher's first pitch to center field for his third single and Garms trotted home with the winning run.

The Bees outthrew the visitors, 12 to 10, but were forced to use four pitchers, Turner, Erickson, Shoffner and Posedel. Mulcahy and Smith preceded Butcher on the mound for the Phils.

Brewers Get Novikoff
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Louis Novikoff, heavy-hitting outfield prospect, was acquired on option from Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast league by the Milwaukee Brewers' American Association baseball club yesterday. Property of the Chicago Cubs, he batted .367 playing with Moline of the Three-E league last year.

Dorothy Leonard Wins
CHICAGO (AP)—Dorothy Leonard, New England's 220-yard freestyle title holder, added the women's national indoor A. A. U. swimming crown to her collection last night, a rousing finish defeating Halina Tomska of Detroit, the defending champion, by a bare six inches. The time was two minutes 35.3 seconds.

Down and Out

Joe Louis, heavyweight champion of the world, successfully defends his title against Jack Roper, veteran challenger, by flopping him in the initial round of their fight in Los Angeles. Roper is the third straight challenger for Louis' crown to fail to last out the first round.

Bonura Surprised Scoffers

Sparkles Afield, at Bat for Giants In Win Over Brooklyn

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—It looks like the defense has won a point in the strange case of Zeke Bonura, charged with loitering around first base. When the Giants signed the reformed American leaguer there were parlor laughs and knowing winks from National league rivals. Bonura couldn't hit a curve ball in the field and at the plate, never getting close enough to a ball to do anything else. He could boot a team home, but it would be the other team. Just boots, boots.

The Giants opened their season yesterday against the Brooklyn Dodgers. It was cold. The field was wet. Fog hung over the Brooklyn park like a gray shawl. But the game was scheduled, and by gum 'the Dodgers were going to play.

And what about our Little Rollo at first base? All he did was get three hits, one a homer with two on; play errorless ball, even though those keg legs did occasionally grope frantically for the base, and provide a fielding feature when he watched a high foul disappear into the mist back of first base, guessed right as to where it would emerge, then doubled Rosen off first.

Footballers In Secret Drills

More work on timing occupies the Iowa football squad as Coach Eddie Anderson puts the men through their nightly workouts in the canvas enclosed practice field south of the stadium. The drills, open until this week, are now closed to the public.

There was no scrimmage last night, but the men got a long workout on fundamentals and went through a number of plays. With many of the men engaged in taking mid-semester tests yesterday afternoon, the squad was somewhat more shorthanded than usual, but Anderson took advantage of this to give some extra work to some of the others.

Coming in for special attention these days is the matter of voices. Anderson, apparently, does not believe it possible for ends to sneak up on the opposing safety man when he is taking a punt, so the Iowa mentor sends the ends charging down, letting loose of blood-curdling yells as they go. The strategy is simple—if anything can make the safety man jittery enough to drop the ball, it is a good lusty yell.

Sports Dinner Committee Meet

Tickets To Go On Sale May 3; Dinner Is Set for May 17

Tickets will go on sale May 3 for the second annual all-university sports dinner, with the duets available at five places: Quad, Hillcrest, Iowa Union, Whetstone's and the fieldhouse. According to Bill Humphrey, publicity chairman for the dinner, there will be 1,000 tickets available at 65 cents each.

At a meeting of the committee last night, Clifford Woodcock was appointed treasurer for the event, and further plans were made on the matter of speakers. Football Coach Eddie Anderson, Line Coach Jim Harris and Backfield Coach Frank Carideo have been asked to attend the dinner and it has been indicated that they will accept, providing they will be able to make train connections afterward and be present the following day at the conference coach's meeting at Ann Arbor, Mich. Anderson is expected to have a few words to say to the gathering.

The general dinner committee, in addition, appointed program and advertising committees. The program committee is headed by Darrell Kiddie, while Ted Landsberg is chairman of the advertising committee. He will be assisted by Isadore Beechen. Arrangements are being made so that fraternity and co-op dormitories will close their dining rooms on the night of the dinner. The organizations are lining up behind the dinner and plan to present nearly a 100 per cent attendance.

Youngster Killed By Discus Throw

BAYARD, Neb., April 19 (AP)—A discus thrown by Robert Connor, teacher at a school near here, killed six-year-old Jerold Lee Lipsack today. His skull was fractured when the heavy piece of sports equipment struck him. Jerold and other youngsters had been warned to stay away from the athletic field where other boys were practicing under Connor but the group had crept unnoticed onto the field's edge, school authorities said.

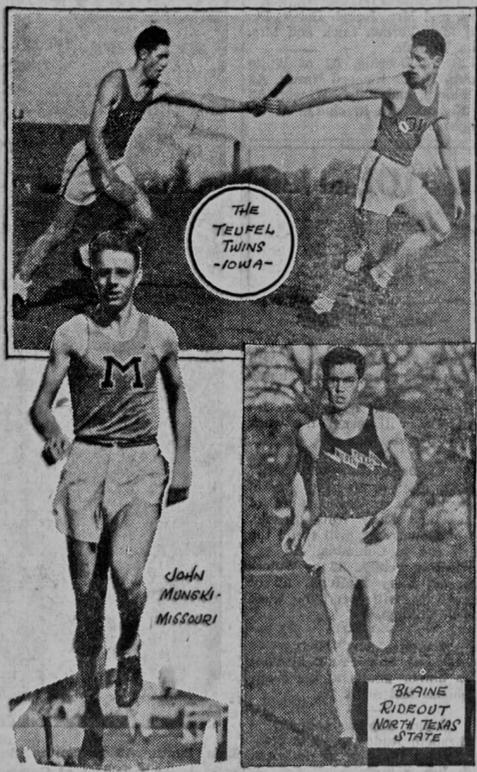

Bad Weather Jinxes Majors

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—In case someone told the weather man most people don't like "fair weather friends" the baseball players and fans would like him to know they'll make peace on any terms.

Rain wrecked the major league program today for the third successive day, permitting only one of nine scheduled games to be played. The lone survivor was the morning half of a Patriots' day double bill at Boston with the Bees beating the Philadelphia Phils 7 to 6 on a run knocked in by Al Simmons in the 12th inning.

The total activity in the two big leagues has been five games in three days instead of the 19 contests charted. The American league has been especially oppressed and the only game it has run off was the Detroit Tigers' party yesterday for the Chicago White Sox, in which the hosts kept a 6-1 door prize.

Entered in Kansas Relays

THE TEUFEL TWINS—IOWA—
JOHN MUNSKEI—MISSOURI
BLAINE RIDEOUT—NORTH TEXAS STATE

The Teufel twins of Iowa, Fred and Carl, are among the many stars of last year's Kansas Relays who will be back in action Saturday. They have starred on winning Hawkeye relay teams here the past two years. John Munskei of Missouri and Blaine Rideout of North Texas State are two of the finest middle distance runners in the country. Both anchored winning relay teams at the 1938 Kansas Relays and will strive to repeat that performance Saturday.

S. A. E., Beta Theta Pi, Phi Psi Win in Opening Softball Games

Intramural softball got under way last night as teams representing three inter-fraternity leagues provided the action in the opening games.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon won its initial game in section I as it trounced a hapless Sigma Phi Epsilon team 30-9. Jack Eicherly led the S.A.E. onslaught by clouting three homers.

Two games were played in section II of the fraternity league. Beta Theta Pi won its opener by defeating Delta Chi, 21-11. Phi Gamma Delta won a tight game from a scrappy Pi Kappa Alpha outfit 6-5. The individual that received the most credit for bringing Phi Gamma Delta out in front was their star pitcher, Al Schenk. The losers collected the majority of errors—Schenk kept the batsmen from getting but a few scattered hits.

Phi Kappa Psi won the opener in section III as it ran away from the Triangle 29-2. The winners poured in runs in every inning and allowed the losers very few chances to score.

Nu Sigma Nu won the last game of the afternoon by downing Gamma Eta Gamma in a closely played contest 8-3.

Alpha Tau Omega won by forfeit over Alpha Sigma Phi and the game between Delta Upsilon and Phi Kappa Sigma was postponed until this afternoon.

The schedule for this afternoon's games is as follows:
Inter-Frat League
Delta Upsilon-Phi Kappa Sigma—Field 3.
Phi Delta Theta-Alpha Chi Sigma—Field 1.
Theta Tau-Sigma Chi—Field 2.
Quadangle League
Upper A-Upper D—Field 5.
Upper B-Upper C—Field 6.
Lower A-Lower D—Field 7.

Hillcrest League
Second East-Third East—Field 3.
Third North - Second North—Field 4.
Third Straight
CHICAGO (AP)—ArLite Smith of Chicago won her third straight women's national lowboard diving title last night and the national A. A. U. Crowned new indoor women's champions in the 220-yard freestyle and 400-yard relay events. The defending diving champion finished with 120.35 points, a slim two-point edge over Claudia Eckert, another Chicagoan, who wound up with 118.21. Barbara Cook of Indianapolis was third with 106.33 and Helen McHale of Brooklyn fourth

Relay Teams Will Defend Championships

Collinge Will Run In High-Hurdles; Leuz To Compete in Shot

Fifteen trackmen have been selected by Coach George Bresnahan to leave at 3 o'clock today for Lawrence, Kan., where the Hawkeye trackers will participate in the Kansas Relays Saturday.

The team, picked by means of time trials held during the last week, is composed of eight relay men and seven individual performers.

Iowa hopes for victory rest chiefly with the relay teams, and on the mile quartet in particular. The latter team, composed of Carl Teufel, John Graves, Milton Billig, and Fred Teufel, running in that order, will attempt to smash the existing Kansas Relay record.

Iowa is defending champion in the mile relay event, winning last year in 3:20.8, with the same team except for the replacement of Fred Teufel by Ed McCollister. The record here is 3:16.1, a time which the Iowans have almost duplicated this season.

In the 880-yard relay the Hawks will present, in their regular running order, James Wilson, Ed Wiggins, Carl Teufel, and Fred Teufel. These men have been doing the distance around 1:27 which should rank them fairly high at Lawrence.

Iowa has another championship to defend in the two mile relay. Although the Hawks lost Jimmy Lyle and John Schmidt from last year's winning aggregation, there remain the veterans Graves and Billig who, with the added help from the two Ed's, McCollister and Elliott, are expected to place the Old Gold well up in the money.

Entries in the individual events are Bill Leuz in the shot put; Vincent Finazzo in the javelin; Dale Roberts in the pole vault; Merrill Harkness in the discus; John Collinge in the 120-yard high hurdles, and Jack Alexander in the javelin.

Leuz has put the shot well over 47 feet in practice and may offer a threat Saturday if he is in good form. Finazzo, a broad jumper until he injured a leg muscle and took up javelin tossing, made 185 feet last week and with additional work is aiming for the 200 foot mark.

Roberts has gone 13 feet, 3 inches in the pole vault, the first Hawkeye vaulter to best 13 feet in almost a decade. He has a good chance of placing this Saturday. Harkness has thrown the discus 142 feet in practice and may improve upon that mark, although he has been hampered by a lack of outside work.

Collinge was runner-up in the high hurdles last year and is expected to better that performance this Saturday. Alexander is a new addition to the javelin throwing ranks and is of an unknown quantity. The fact that he is being taken on the trip, however, is indication enough of his ability and he may surprise someone next Saturday afternoon.

With the team in good physical condition and giving their performances of the year to date, there is every reason to believe Iowa will be among the leaders Saturday. Only handicap for the Iowans has been the unseasonable cold weather, forcing them to workout on the indoor track. The squad will spend tonight in Leon, arriving in Lawrence tomorrow noon. The team will workout tomorrow afternoon on the Kansas university track.

University Art Conference To Be Held Friday And Saturday

High Schools Of State To Display Art

Many Leading Art Instructors Expected To Attend Event

Something new in art conferences will get underway at the university art building Friday afternoon at 1:30 when the first session of the University art conference is opened in the auditorium.

It will be a large-scale attempt to clarify issues, define objectives, and discuss methods that have caused some confusion in the handling of art in American education.

The theme of the conference is "Art Education in Colleges and Secondary Schools." As a result of the meetings, it is believed that colleges and high schools will come to a better understanding on the basic questions of philosophy and methods.

The conference is sponsored by the university art department as an expansion of the annual high school art exhibition and conference. The Iowa high school art exhibition has been an annual affair since 1931. This year 35 Iowa high schools from 21 cities entered a total of 660 pieces of work, representing the efforts of 406 students.

The exhibition contains a cross-section of the best art work being done in the high schools of the Ernest Watson of New York City, editor of Art Instruction, will arrive in Iowa City today and is to serve as one of the three judges for the Iowa high school art exhibition and will appear as a speaker on the program Saturday morning of the art conference held here in Iowa City this week end. Watson is listed in Who's Who in Art as illustrator, painter and lecturer. He was one of the founders and directors of the Berkshire school of art. Prints by him are included in the collections of the Smithsonian institute at Washington, D. C., and the New York public library.

Engineers Study Motors Analyze Oscillation Of Electric Motors; Develop Recorder

The problem of hunting, as applied to electric motors, not to outdoor sport, is being investigated in the department of electrical engineering at the University of Iowa.

Prof. E. B. Kurtz, head of the department, said that research now is under way to discover why the hunting becomes too large, pulling the motor out of step and slowing it to a standstill.

"The synchronous electric motor beats around its normal angular position when it is hunting, and this beating is greatly increased when load suddenly is applied or removed from the motor," Professor Kurtz said.

Research has been under way on the project for about two years as engineers attempt to analyze this hunting phenomenon. The difficulty is the cause of many failures of power supply to driven machinery.

The scientists have kept precise oscillographic records of load, current, power, field current and angular variation as the load was suddenly changed, Professor Kurtz said.

One of the features of the Iowa research has been the department at Stephens college, on "The Teaching of Art Application in College and High School," and Kenneth Hudson, director of the St. Louis school of fine arts, on "Art Training in the Art School vs. the University."

President Eugene A. Gilmore will preside at a formal dinner in the Triangle club ball room Friday evening at 6:45. Ulrich Middeldorf, head of the art department at the University of Chicago; Rexford Newcomb, dean of the college of fine arts at the University of Illinois; and Prof. Lester D. Longman, head of the university art department will deliver addresses.

Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, Harry K. Newburn, associate professor of education and principal of University high school, will preside at a session devoted to discussion and comments by the judges of the high school art exhibition. Professor Kirsch will speak on "Training of an Art Teacher." Marion Miller on "Functions of Design in the Secondary School," and Ernest Watson on "Our Single Purpose." Open forum and questions will follow the talks.

The chief address of the Saturday luncheon, at which Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts will preside, will be given by Dean George D. Stoddard of the graduate college.

The feature attraction Saturday afternoon will be a lecture and demonstration of water-color painting in the auditorium of the art building at 2 o'clock by Millard Sheets, head of the art department of Scripps college at Claremont, Cal. Sheets has been in the city since Tuesday visiting the art classes at the university and leading informal discussions with the students.

Prof. Edna Patzig of the art department will meet as presiding officer with Iowa high school art teachers and directors of art in public schools at 4 p.m. for a brief business meeting.

A tea in the gallery of the art building at 4:15 p.m. will be the closing event of the two-day conference.

'Modern Telephone Magic' Will Be Featured Topic at Luncheon Sponsored Today by C. of C.

Rotary Club To Be Host Service Group; Others Will Attend

"Modern Telephone Magic" will be the featured topic in one of the regular luncheons sponsored by the Iowa City chamber of commerce for Iowa City's business and professional men at noon today in the Jefferson hotel's main dining room. The Rotary club will be host service club this month and other clubs have been asked to attend.

The demonstration and talk, based on the achievements that have come out of the Bell telephone laboratories, will be delivered by G. L. Howarth, who will be assisted by Harold Graves, both Des Moines men representing the Northwestern Bell Telephone company.

Among the technical items to be explained in a non-technical manner will be the scrambling and unscrambling of telephone conversations, a microphone capable of amplifying human heart beats, thousands of times, and a demonstration of an artificial larynx, a Bell invention for use by persons who have had their vocal chords removed.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made with the chamber of commerce at the Jefferson hotel on or before noon.

Prof. Bodine To Leave For Zoo Conclave

Prof. J. H. Bodine, head of the zoology department, and a majority of the zoology professors will leave tomorrow for Ames where they will attend the 53rd annual meeting of the Iowa Academy of Science.

Most of these professors and the staff members of the Lakeside laboratories at Lake Okoboji will present papers concerning problems of zoology.

The Lakeside staff will present a series of 13 papers, the first really extensive report to be made concerning research being carried on there.

Prof. Theodore L. Jahn will discuss "Temperature Cycles of the Okoboji Lakes." Other professors and Lakeside laboratories staff members who will present papers are J. Garth Johnson, Guy M. Everett, T. P. Dooley, Frederick Crescitelli, Gardner M. Riley, Gow M. Bush, R. L. King, Don L. Hempstead, Orville J. Deeds, A. Gray Adamson, Malcolm McDonald, Titus C. Evans, and Howard L. Hamilton, all of Iowa City; A. B. Taylor of Urbana, Ill.; H. E. Jaques and B. G. Berger of Mt. Pleasant.

The conference, to be held at Iowa State college, will be attended by representatives from most of the colleges in Iowa.

Mrs. Kessenich To Demonstrate Color Analysis

Mrs. H. P. Kessenich, interior decorator of the Devote and Reynolds company, New York, will present a demonstration of color analysis with a color machine at the Modern Paint store today, Friday and Saturday, it was announced yesterday.

After studying the individual's coloring and action, Mrs. Kessenich will demonstrate color matching, stressing personality, and the use of the color machine, Robert Whiteis, owner of the store, said.

Bend Down! Card Game Exercises That Waistline

By BETTY CLARKE AP Feature Service Writer Here's a card game you won't find in Hoyle. But if you're a lady who wants to gain — or preserve — a little-girl figure for spring styles, it's not a bad one to try. Be warned in advance, though; it's strenuous.

Preparations are simple: Just drop a full pack of cards on the bedroom floor. All that remains is to pick each card up, one at a time — without bending your knees as you stoop. If you tire quickly at first, don't try to run through a full deck. Increase the number of cards you reach for as you advance.

If you don't care for cards, here's a second exercise for the waist. It's the waist you have to watch in the little-girl figure; it should be at least 10 inches less than the bust or hips.

This one's called the Half-Moon: Lie on the floor on your back, arms stretched over your head and flat on the floor. Legs, hips, back and shoulders should be tight on the floor, too. Still keeping close to the floor, move hands and feet toward each other as far as you can, so that your body assumes a half-moon shape.

Lillibet Windsor Reaches Awkward Age

But Future Queen of Great Britain Is Rapidly Becoming Grown-Up

LONDON—Lillibet Windsor has reached the awkward age. Her thirteenth birthday on April 21 will find the blonde princess grown tall and gawky — but it will also find her acting with dignity becoming the probable future Queen of England.

Her behavior in public already smacks of the queenly manner. She is fast becoming adept at the peculiar backhand flip used by "mummy" and "grand mama queen" to acknowledge the plaudits of the crowd.

She is prim and correct beyond her years (in vivid contrast to her eight-year-old sister, Margaret) — and even more impressive, some say, than when she made her famous reply to the nurse who asked her to do something she did not want to do, "Royalty speaking," the princess snapped back.

She was graduated from the nursery a year ago. She was promoted recently from half socks to long stockings. She has discarded her hair ribbon. She wears shapelier shoes.

Nearly as Tall as Queen In general, in consideration of the fact that she is rapidly growing up (she is only an inch or so shorter than her mother) she is beginning to enjoy some of the prerogatives reserved to a adult royalty. But she is not old enough to accompany her parents on their foreign peregrinations. Hence she won't be able to go to America this summer — much to her disappointment.

Still another reminder of her juvenile status is the nickname "Lillibet" which she has not yet shaken off. She has been known as "Lillibet" ever since her baby tongue failed to manipulate "Elizabeth" properly. Her transition from girlhood to womanhood is being reflected, however, in numerous ways. In her education, for instance, she is now being introduced to such stiff subjects as constitutional history and administration. In geography, she is branching out into a study of the dominions, her earlier years having been devoted exclusively to perusing the British Isles.

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN AP Feature Service Writer

is a member of the Junior organization, the Brownies. Scanty Allowance The fact that Elizabeth is only second in command is evidence, they say, of the hard and fast rule the organization follows — on royal order — against giving her preferential treatment simply because of her status.

Another example of the "sensible way" her parents are attempting to bring her up is that she is allowed only a shilling a week pocket money. Lillibet's principal playmate is her sister. They spend many hours playing house in a toy bungalow — a pursuit the elder princess does not find too childish despite her advancing years. She goes domestic there even to the point of washing dishes and scrubbing floors.

But she has many other ways of amusing herself. She rides a bicycle around the palace gardens, is an expert horsewoman, tries fishing when she's in Scotland and practices golf under her father's coaching. She closely resembles the king, incidentally, but inherits the queen's robust appetite. Among her favorite dishes are boiled mutton and caper sauce, stewed rabbit, calves' liver and bacon, and steamed puddings.

She sees lots of Mickey Mouse films at private showings in the palace, knits, swims, collects stamps and national dolls, plays simple tunes on her miniature piano and takes cooking lessons from the royal chef.

Not a Bookworm It is understood that while her intelligence is "very satisfactory" she is not a very bookish girl and prefers to learn by doing rather than by reading. Her lessons begin at 9:30, include the three R's, scripture, French, Spanish and German. She's crazy about geography, hates arithmetic.

The physical side of her education is taken care of largely by the Girl Guides. She is an enthusiastic member, second in command of her patrol which meets every Monday afternoon at Buckingham palace. Her sister

Millard Sheets To Be Guest Of University Art Conference

Will Give Lecture, Demonstrate Water Color Painting Sat.

Millard Sheets who arrived in Iowa City yesterday will be the guest artist at the university art conference Friday and Saturday. He will give a public lecture and demonstration of water color painting Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m.

During the week he will visit some of the classes in the art department, giving criticisms and leading informal discussions on the various phases of art in which he is active.

In a review called "The World of Nature as Seen by Sheets," the Art Digest of March 15, 1938, noted the many phases of nature evident in the collection of paintings that were being exhibited in a New York gallery by Millard Sheets, California painter.

The Art Digest states, "In his newest exhibition at the Milich galleries, New York, Millard Sheets presents a dozen oils, each of which opens a new aspect of the world of nature. From the faintly pastel cast of spring over the land, to a turbulent golden day in autumn, the artist runs the gamut of an 'almanac for moderns.' More than 30 watercolors, supplementing the new oils, go further afield for their inspiration.

"The rural landscape of California and New Mexico furnishes Sheets with locale and into the distance of each painting he piles the bold hills of the southwest. Everything is in a mood and the canvases mark off the months in the year with the regularity of the calendar. In January, California, the world is a burst of green trees, and crisp movement. In 'spring fantasy,' with a peeping earth, Sheets has painted a faint and delicately colored nature that later blazes forth in earthglow to a golden riot of autumn. Then the cycle is rounded out with California, a scene of farm and hillside in the lowered sun at the time of the year when all is de-nuded. Less indicative of the equinoxes and many solstices is the large group of watercolors in which the artist introduces more figures, houses and man-made things.

"Millard Sheets, at 31, has made an unusual record of accomplishment on the west coast. He is a professor of art at Scripps college; he rescued the Los Angeles county fair's art show and made something important out of it; this spring he will have the place of honor at the Chicago Art Institute's international water color annual; he runs a decorative arts factory which works day and night turning out department store window displays for national distribution; he designs movie sets, plays tennis and paints such pictures as those at the Milich show.

"Arthur Miller, in a Sunday feature article in the Los Angeles Times, said 'His attitude toward the job of teaching gives the best clue to his attitude toward painting. He suspects academic theory and respects the kind of thinking which expert craftsmen do with their hands...'

This young man at the age of 31 has won 15 major awards in art exhibitions, has completed seven mural commissions, taught art in four schools, written a book, "Sketches Abroad," exhibited by invitation in 28 exhibitions, and held one-man shows in 30 galleries.

Recently he finished a mural commission for the San Francisco fair. It was not one painting but involved six panels in the

German Club's 3rd Folk Dance To Be Tonight

A folk dance party, the third in a series of dances sponsored by the German club, will be given tonight at 7:45 in the women's large gymnasium.

Dances from various countries, arranged by Prof. Ellen Mosbek of the physical education department, will be explained and demonstrated by members of the department.

As on previous occasions, costumes will lend a special touch to this dance. Participants who have any national or peasant costumes available are requested to wear them.

Continued Drive JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark returned from a week in Washington yesterday with assurance there would be "no let up or compromise with crime by the United States department of justice" in its current Kansas City drive.

court of flowers, one panel 34 by 60 feet in the entrance hall of the southern counties building, and four panels for the state building for the board of recreation.

Sheets seems to have a driving enthusiasm for his art and a hearty approval of modern life. Arthur Miller, west-coast critic, describes a discussion as to the relative merits of modern and historic periods for the artist which ensued while they were driving home from a party, and Sheets' reaction.

"No time was ever so thrilling. This is my age and I love it—the whole works!" He stepped up to '70, switched on the radio, tuned a dance band into the hum of the motor and speedwind. Reaching home at midnight, he painted a water color before sleeping!"

Training For Marriage

225 Colleges Offer Marriage Courses; U. of Iowa Included

Two-hundred twenty-five colleges are now giving courses in training for marriage. Look magazine reports through Dr. Ernest R. Groves of the University of North Carolina. Dr. Groves, pioneer leader in the field, started the first class in 1927 when a group of seniors petitioned the N. C. U. faculty for a course to help them prepare for marriage.

"Child marriages recently have shocked all America," declared Dr. Groves in his article, "but marriages of many older persons are as pitiful and absurd. The great majority of otherwise educated young people, as ignorant as the backwoods child bride but without her excuse, are the responsibility of parents and schools. Because parents often cannot or will not tell young people what they must know, colleges are now offering the honest, useful information that fitness for marriage requires of modern youth."

Dr. Groves' article in Look is accompanied by pictures showing classes, mixed and unmixed, at his own school as well as at Vassar, the University of Iowa, Stephens, and Fullerton (Cal.) high school.

Though considered revolutionary 16 years ago, the course is now treated like any other subject by many institutions of learning, Dr. Groves stated. Instruction includes information about courtship, engagement, finances, marital adjustment, conception and pregnancy.

In a quiz for brides, presenting questions and answers, Dr. Groves states that the question most frequently asked him is "Is petting harmful?"

He believes the most important quality for a successful marriage is the desire for a home and children.
