

24 University Speakers Face Iowa State College April 29

To Discuss Question On Foreign Policy Toward 2 Nations

Twenty four university speakers will participate in a discussion with Iowa State college on this campus, April 29, on the question, "What shall be the immediate policy of the United States toward Italy and Germany?"

John Gillotti, A3 of Des Moines; Loren Hickerson, A3 of Iowa City; George Hill, A4 of Burlington; Clair Henderlinder, A3 of Onawa; John Barnes, A3 of Lamoni; Eli Samore, A4 of Sioux City; John Fishburn, A3 of Muscatine; Merle Miller, A3 of Marshalltown; Dorothea Pierce, A4 of Beaumont, Tex., and Dorothea Guenther, A2 of Davenport, will be chairman of the program.

Others on the program are Roland Christenson, A2 of Iowa City; William Rivkin, A2 of Davenport; David Sayre, A2 of Ames; Deming Smith, A2 of Toledo; Richard McMahon, A2 of Ft. Dodge; Otis Joiner, A2 of Maquoketa; Oscar Serbein, A3 of Collins; Spencer Smith, A2 of Ottumwa.

Paul Thorngren, A3 of Boone; Betty Nissen, A3 of Cedar Rapids; Marjorie Mangold, A2 of Ryan; Edward Harnagel, A3 of Des Moines; Alberta Ewaldt, A2 of Oakland, and Hugh Ellsworth, A2 of Des Moines.

The discussion periods will be at 9 a.m., 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. with a final discussion at 4 p.m. in which the top three speakers from both schools will appear.

Each speaker, in each of the successive three series, will present his personal views in a six-minute speech.

In round one, the first phase of the problem will be presented: "What are the present and prospective political and military policies of Germany and Italy (individually and unitedly) with respect to Europe?"

The 50 participants will be assigned to sections of six or seven, and will be retained in the same group in successive panels. Each member will answer the question above in a six-minute speech. After all have spoken, an informal panel of 20 minutes will follow. Then each participant will have a closing speech of four minutes.

"Shall the policy of the United States (as a result of the analysis of round one) be one of an alliance or quasi-alliance with Great Britain?" will be discussed in round two, at 10:30.

In round three, at 1:30 p.m., the speakers will discuss "Shall the policy of the United States be one of political and economic isolation (limiting our activities insofar as possible to the western hemisphere, perhaps maintaining the Monroe Doctrine, but in no case tying up with England or France)?"

The procedure in rounds two and three will be the same as in round one.

The three best speakers of each school will be selected for a radio broadcast, if station time can be secured, to discuss this topic at 4 p.m.

Police Report Sunday Theft

A break-in at the R. P. White residence Sunday night resulted in the theft of $190 in cash from a dining room bureau drawer, and $5 from a jar on a cupboard, police reported.

The prowler probably entered the house through a basement window, police said.

FDR Names Henderson To Securities Post

Former Monopoly Investigator To Fill W. Douglas' Term

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt today named Leon Henderson, 44-year old forecaster of business trends, to the securities and exchange commission at a time when the agency is at work on the major tasks of integrating the utility industry and preparing for possible war shocks on the nation's markets.

Henderson was selected for the vacancy created when Chairman William O. Douglas was elevated to the supreme court, but whether Henderson also would be chairman was left in doubt. Administration circles said the choice was between Henderson and Jerome Frank, one of the present commissioners.

Henderson is now secretary of the monopoly investigating committee and formerly was economist of the WPA and NRA. He first attracted the attention of high new dealers when, in the midst of rising business indices in 1936, he predicted the recession which followed in 1937. Unless the senate confirms him quickly, his term will be almost over before he takes the oath. He was named to complete Douglas' term, which expires June 5, but probably will be named for a full five-year term at that time.

In his youth, Henderson worked his way through Swarthmore university—holding 14 different jobs at one period of his schooling. In his economic writings and speeches, he has laid much stress on consumer problems. He has been a leading advocate of the spending - lending program.

Alf Landon Airs Views

Sees Methodist Unity As Encouragement For World Peace

KANSAS CITY, April 24 (AP)—Alf M. Landon viewed tonight the unification conference of the three Methodist churches as a step which might "encourage other movements of this kind" to an eventual aim of "invoking divine aid" for world peace.

The 1936 republican presidential nominee is a delegate to the uniting sessions opening Wednesday to bring 8,000,000 Methodists into one church organization. In an address prepared for delivery here tonight at the centennial celebration of the founding of the Boston university school of theology Landon said:

"This conference has a broader meaning than its value merely to the Methodist church. The mutual good will and understanding growing out of this conference will have a profound effect on our national life. We seek, not the welfare of Methodism alone, but the welfare of all churches and all peoples, and by our success here let us hope to encourage other movements of this kind.

Ten Students Will Be Initiated Into Home Economics Honor Group Wed.; Dinner To Be Given at 6:30 in Union

Ten students will be initiated into Omicron Nu, national honor society of Home Economics Wednesday, it was announced yesterday. The initiation ceremony is to be held in the home economics department at 5 p.m. Following the ceremony there will be a dinner at 6:30 in the foyer of Iowa Union.

Junior students to be initiated include Elizabeth Emmons of Clinton, Eleanor Hurka of Cedar Rapids and Mrs. Katherine Dawson of Iowa City. Listed among the seniors are Annabelle Lundvik of Gowrie and Alice Spearie of Davenport.

Graduate students will be Katherine Wismer of Britton, S. D.; Mary Stare of Mendota, Ill.; Ruth Ginsberg of New York; Mrs. Nellie Froelich, Iowa City, and Mrs. Ruth Roberts of Lamoni.

Outstanding scholarship, promise of future achievement and a member of the department are the requirements for membership. At present the university chapter consists of 55 members. The Iowa chapter was installed in 1931 by the national president.

Guest speakers at the banquet will be Dr. Beatrice Geiger, head of the home economics department at Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls, and Mrs. Sarah Porter Ellis, state leader in the extension division, Iowa State college, Ames.

Repay Part of Debt To Federal Bank

WASHINGTON, April 24 (AP)—Farmers have repaid $144,100,000, or nearly 15 per cent, of the land bank commissioner money they borrowed to avoid foreclosures.

This was announced today by Gov. F. F. Hill of the farm credit administration at a conference of the presidents of 12 federal land banks.

Police Chief Shot By Lunatic Dies

JOPLIN, Mo., April 24 (AP)—John T. Moyer, 65, Baxter Springs, Kan., police chief who was shot at Baxter Springs Friday morning by a fugitive from the Kansas insane asylum at Oswatomie, died in a hospital here today.

The autograph of Theodosia Alston, Aaron Burr's daughter, is more valuable than that of her father. It is more rare.

Recent Educational Journals Include 3 Articles by Meier

Prof. Norman C. Meier is the author of three articles appearing in recent educational journals.

In the current joint yearbook of the American Educational Research association, Professor Meier has given an interpretation of the findings of research in the educative process of art instruction. Creative expression has become better understood as individual expression, emanating from a rich background of experience with little of the apparent copying, obvious borrowing or the following of formulae or models established by adults.

The creative character is enhanced by combining original treatment with fine aesthetic quality while abstract and imaginative attainments usually represent the work of better than average intelligence. Research has questioned the popular belief that any child, if let alone, will create, although any child may occasionally turn out products that have some originality, humor or vitality.

Technical skill, it has been established, while important and necessary for any kind of expression, does not necessarily lead to creative expression. In the gradual enfoldment of talent a constantly enlarging grasp of the functioning of principles must of course come along with technical facility. This former phase of artistic competence is never completely learned or mastered, and in normal development will continue throughout life. Other aspects of development treated in the chapter cover the position which appreciation occupies in the developmental stages, how fundamentals may be best introduced, what units of work are most suitable at different ages and findings of research on the problem of motivation in the upper grades.

Study Digest Poll
An article entitled "The Validity of Mail-Ballot Polls" prepared jointly by Professor Meier and Don Cahalan of Princeton, N. J., gives the results of an intensive study of the factors contributing to the failure of the Literary Digest 1936 poll.

This article which appears in the "Psychological Record" for February, reports a study made at this university during 1937-38.

Two groups of respondents, one totaling 3,000 persons from all over the United States, were studied through the cooperation of the American Institute of Public Opinion; another group of 554 respondents was studied intensively in a representative midwest community.

The results are presented as the operation of age bias, sex bias, bias from selection and cooperation, including party selection, attitude toward the poll and economic selection in cooperation.

Results of Study
The final results show that whereas in 1924, 1928 and 1932 "Digest" polls had the basis for the same errors, owing to a reversal in 1936 of one important factor, there was in 1936 a piling up of a number of bias errors whereas in the other three polls these conveniently cancelled each other resulting, during those years, in an accurate prediction.

REGINA (AP)—A shirt button saved a schoolboy, Clifford Allen, from serious injury. The button on his shirt deflected a rifle bullet and he suffered only a slight flesh wound.

The average temperature in Missouri during 1938 was 58.4 degrees, the highest average recorded in the 50 years that records were kept.

THIS SIMPLE QUESTION SAVES 30%* ON REFRIGERATOR OPERATING COSTS

IS THERE A MODERN ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR IN THE KITCHEN?

ASK BEFORE YOU RENT—Make sure that there is a modern electric refrigerator in the kitchen. It cuts refrigeration costs . . . and gives you the only adequate refrigeration regardless of weather.

IF YOU PLAN ON BUYING a refrigerator of your own, it's smart to go electric. The electrical efficiency of modern refrigerators has increased more than 100%. And electric rates have gone down, down, down. So, Electric Cold costs you less and less.

Besides that, Electric Cold gives you better service in every way. It's so safe . . . so swift . . . so simple. The Scotch-Eskimo will tell you why . . .

"SAFE REFRIGERATION? I'M THE SAFEST IN THE WORLD!"
Even when room temperatures suddenly rise beyond normal limits, I keep milk deliciously sweet . . . and meats and vegetables fresh. That saves money, protects your health and the health of your children.

"I'M AS SIMPLE AND CLEAN TO OPERATE AS YOUR RADIO!"
Any youngster can get me started. Just plug me into a socket and I take care of myself. I'm tidy in your kitchen. No fuss. No muss. You never have to clean up after me! I'm self-contained, and trouble-free!"

"AND I TAKE THE WORLD'S RECORD FOR FAST FREEZING!"
That's why I make such a hit with the kids! Look at the way they go for my ice cream. It's easier, faster, and a lot less expensive to make with Electric Cold. And you should see my frozen salads!

JUST A FEW DOLLARS delivers any of the world-famous makes. See them at your dealer, department store, or utility showroom.

Freddy Martin Will Play For Formal Junior Prom Friday

Another note of gaiety will be added to the all-university party schedule Friday, when Freddy Martin and his band play for the annual Junior Prom from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the main lounge of Iowa Union.

Featured vocalists with Martin's orchestra are Bill Stoker, saxophone player, and Gene Walsh, guitar man. Together with Martin, who is known for his saxophone artistry, they will provide a well balanced program of musical numbers for this formal dance.

The six Hawkeye beauties and their attendants will be presented during the intermission of the party. This is one of the four university parties for which hours for women are extended to 1:30 a.m.

Chaperons for the affair will include Prof. and Mrs. Wilbur Schramm, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oberkrom, Prof. and Mrs. Clyde Hart and Dr. and Mrs. Earle Smith.

Vocalizing on the program for the Junior Prom Friday will be handled by Bill Stoker (above), featured singer and saxophone player with Freddy Martin's orchestra. Gene Walsh, who also plays the guitar, will assist Stoker.

Gold Medal Sorority Recognizes Playwright

Rachel Crothers as America's outstanding woman playwright will receive the gold medal of the national achievement award at the White House in Washington, D. C., tonight.

The presentation will be made by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in the east room of the White House in the presence of 300 guests. A dinner will precede the presentation. Guests at the dinner will include four other recipients of the award, members of the committee for the award, and friends of Miss Crothers.

Founded in 1930, the national achievement award is given annually to an American woman of notable accomplishment. Those who have received the honor in past years are Dr. Florence R. Sabin, Cecilia Beaux, Frances Perkins, Josephine Roche, Dr. Alice Hamilton, Katherine Cornell and Judge Florence E. Allen.

Members of the committee for the award are Mrs. Roosevelt, representing the field of public affairs; Dr. Beatrice M. Hinkle, representing the professions; Mrs. Laura Gardin Fraser, representing art; Mary Vail Andreae, business; Elizabeth Dyer, education; Marjorie Nicholson, letters.

The award is sponsored by Chi Omega, national college sorority.

Rev. Dalton Will Be Installed As Christian Church's Pastor

Ceremony Will Take Place At 8 P.M. Tonight

Fellowship Hour, Banquet To Precede Installation Services

REV. JOHN BRUCE DALTON

With twenty-five out-of-town clergymen attending, the Rev. John Bruce Dalton will be installed as the new pastor of the First Christian church here at 8 o'clock this evening.

Preceding the installation services, a fellowship hour and a banquet will be held in the church parlors at 5:30 this afternoon.

The Rev. E. L. Knight will preside at the installation services, Priscilla Keeler, the church organist, will open the ceremony playing Dubois' "Prelude." The reading of the scripture and the invocation will be by the Rev. Leo Potter, Sigourney.

The Rev. Kirtly Gillum, Davenport, will deliver the charge to the local congregation, and the Rev. Earl Daniels, Ottumwa, will make the charge to the student group.

Before the charge is made to the pastor, Mrs. George Spencer will sing "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains" by Harker. The secretary of the Iowa Christian Missionary society, the Rev. J. Arthur Dillinger, will deliver the pastor's charge.

The prayer of consecration will be by the Rev. Isaac Linkletter, Cedar Rapids, and the vows of installation by the Rev. Marion H. Williams, of Cedar Rapids.

Carl Cone, chairman of the church board, will receive the Rev. and Mrs. Dalton into the membership of the First Christian church before the closing benediction by the new pastor.

After the fellowship hour a rally of the student center foundation group of the Iowa Christian churches will be held at the church.

Dr. William Rohrbacher will open the meeting with an address of welcome. The other speakers and their topics are: Dean Seth W. Slaughter of Drake university, "The Large View of Christian Education;" Jack Finegan of the Iowa State college school of religion, "Keeping Up with the College Student;" Prof. Herbert Martin, head of the university philosophy department, "The University Looks at the Church;" Mrs. William Rohrbacher, "Our Kappa Beta Girls;" and Carl R. Check, Iowa field representative, "Our Iowa Campaign."

Marble Match To Begin For Grade Pupils

Preliminary plans for a city-wide marble tournament under the auspices of the Iowa City Recreation center were announced yesterday by Eugene Trowbridge, director. The tournament will begin next week, and the finals will be played at the City high school grounds in connection with the Red and White circus to be held there May 12.

Every elementary school in the city will participate in the preliminary contests which will be run off on the school grounds in the afternoon hours next week, Trowbridge said. Both boys and girls may compete.

Art Awards Determined Public Decides On Winners in Student Salon of Art Exhibit

Five popularity awards and 24 quality awards were determined in the student salon of art exhibit by public voting Sunday afternoon. The art works are on display in the main lounge of Iowa Union and the public was invited to view them and vote on their choices Sunday afternoon. The exhibit will continue throughout this week.

The popularity awards in the oil painting group were voted to Marguerite Dolch for her "Green Nude" and James McConnell for his "Legion Convention." These two were tied for first, being the only group in which there was a tie.

William Goodman Cox was the winner in the watercolor and pastel group for his "Song," "Portrait Sketch" by James McConnell was placed first in the monochrome section and Leroy Burket Jr. was given first in the sculpture division for his work "Young Lady."

Seven quality awards were voted in the oil painting section. These went to R. V. Cassill for "Red Street," E. Catlett for "Negro Girl," Richard Gates for "Saturday Night" and "Spring Morning," Edward Hibert for "George" and Dorothy Westaby for "Head of a Girl" and "River Bluffs."

Eleven awards were given in the watercolor and pastel division, these being to Don Anderson for "Idaho Rain" and "Brass Men," R. V. Cassill for "Bicycle Rider," Richard Gates for "The Drug Store," Daniel Grossman for "Back Yard," Elaine Healy for "Flo," Ida Helen Olin for "Two Houses," Catherine Orr for "October," William Stipe for "Striking Bird" and "Cock Fight" and Dorothy Westaby for "March Day."

Three quality awards in the monochrome section were given to Don Anderson for "Vanity," Marguerite Dolch for "Angel-Face" and Frances Vogel for "True Story."

Three awards in sculpture went to E. Catlett for "Negro Bust," Carl F. Heeschen for "Banjoist" and Howard A. James for "Cathfish, decoration for a cabin fireplace, Iowa limestone."

Whew!!! 84 Degrees Pass 1915 Reading Of 83 To Establish New All-Time High

A new all-time high temperature record for April 24 was established yesterday afternoon when thermometers at the local weather bureau recorded a reading of 84 degrees, surpassing the previous high mark of 83 set in 1915.

The warmer temperatures which arrived in Iowa City near the end of last week kept the lowest recordings during the night above the warmest readings of the previous week. After reaching a high of 81 degrees Sunday afternoon, the mercury dropped to a low of 58 early yesterday morning to remain 15 degrees above the normal minimum temperature for April 24. The average high reading for that date is 66 degrees.
