

Train Leaves Jim Farley at Depot During Appearance Here

By E. FRANKLIN CARTER JR., Daily Iowan City Editor

Postmaster General James A. Farley was nearly left in Iowa City by his train yesterday afternoon while making a platform appearance here, but a frantic exchange of signals between the railroad men stopped the train a quarter of a mile down the track and it was backed into the station to pick up its prominent passenger.

"Gentleman Jim" Farley, in his usual congenial manner, was greeting hundreds of enthusiastic Iowa Citizens yesterday afternoon at the Rock Island station while his train made a seven-minute stop on its way to Des Moines where he will speak tonight at the state postmasters' convention.

Forecasts Demo Victory

On the train before it arrived at the Iowa City station, the postmaster general forecast a complete victory for the democrats in the 1940 presidential campaign and said that he expected his party to regain the state administrations which it lost in last fall's general election.

In explaining his predictions, Postmaster General Farley said that the democrats had done much for the country in the last eight years and could do more during the next few years.

"We have attempted to help the farmers and labor which in turn helps industry, and industry, as everyone knows, pays the biggest tax bills," he continued.

When questioned concerning the possibility of a third term for President Roosevelt, Farley refused to give any opinion because it would "put him on the spot" since the president himself has not expressed his own views on the third term possibility.

Farley Muses

Garner a Good Man

He was equally quiet about the prospects for the candidacy of Vice-President Garner or himself for the presidency. "Garner is a good man and is interested in the success of the democratic party," the cabinet member admitted.

Turning from politics, Farley declared that throughout his present tour he had found that everyone was decidedly against the United States' participation in any war across either ocean.

"With all the future holds in store for the younger generations, the young men of today want to live here, not in trenches in foreign lands," he maintained.

The postmaster reported that his department will continue to issue special stamps. The next stamp the department will issue will be one commemorating the 100th anniversary of baseball June 12. After this a new series on famous Americans will be begun.

Farley Surprised

When his train entered the Iowa City yards, Farley was surprised when his secretary informed him that he had a seven-minute stop here. He hurriedly adjusted his tie which had been hanging loose, donned his suit coat and was waiting on the steps as the train pulled into the station.

Attorney Will J. Jackson, county democratic chairman, was the first to greet Farley and asked him to make a short speech, but the postmaster general refused saying that he "would rather shake hands with the people."

After the university Scottish Highlanders played a number with the two Scottish lassies dancing, Farley asked that the people line up so that he could shake hands with them.

While Farley was shaking

hands with the large number of persons in the audience, his train, already nearly 20 minutes late because of the receptions afforded Farley, began to pull out of the station.

The train was stopped a quarter of a mile down the track and then backed into the station to pick up its passenger.

Farley Points To Roosevelt Record

DES MOINES, May 13 (AP)—Postmaster James A. Farley tonight served notice that the 1940 democratic campaign "will not let the people forget" the condition of the nation when President Roosevelt was inaugurated in 1933.

"We shall recall those depression days with great frequency," Farley said in an interview here. "At the same time we will point to the accomplishments of the Roosevelt administration."

The 1940 democratic platform, he said, "of course must wholeheartedly approve what the administration has done. No administration in American history, in my judgment, has given any greater consideration to legislation benefiting the masses."

In declining to comment on his own potentialities for the democratic presidential nomination next year, Farley said, "I think it is futile to discuss 1940 prospects in any way until Roosevelt has indicated what he is going to do."

Farley began his three-hour stay in Des Moines by going immediately into conference with Charles D. Huston of Cedar Rapids, Iowa internal revenue collector, and former democratic state chairman.

Among those who rode into Des Moines on the Farley train was former Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel.

Approval Of Argentine Beef For Navy Causes Protests To Roosevelt

Order Called Unpatriotic Act By F. E. Mollin

Gov. Smith Sends Telegram to F. R. In Protest of Order

DENVER, May 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt's approval of a navy order for Argentine canned beef was called an "un-American" act today in an angry protest storm aroused in the western cattle country by his statement that the Argentine product was cheaper and better than domestic beef.

"It is grossly unfair and entirely un-American for you to use the prestige of your high office to place any obstacle in the way of the American cattle producer being given full benefit of supplying the government which he supports," declared F. E. Mollin, American National Livestock association secretary, in a telegram to the president.

Contend F. R. Wrong

Mollin was joined by Gov. Nels H. Smith of Wyoming, President Joe Sneed of the Southwestern Cattle Raisers association; E. A. Phillips, Montana Livestock association secretary, and Con W. Jackson, president of the New Mexico Cattle Growers association, in contending that President Roosevelt was mistaken in regarding Argentine beef as "better" than the American product.

Kansas Governor Protests

Gov. Payne H. Ratner of Kansas also addressed a protest message to Mr. Roosevelt in which he said: "On behalf of the cattle producers of Kansas and western states I hope this order can be canceled and that definite policy be established for the future to prevent the purchase of foreign products by the U. S. government where domestic goods are available."

Royal Ship Slowed by Fog King George, Queen Will Be Day Late In Arriving in Quebec

ABOARD EMPRESS OF AUSTRALIA, May 13 (Canadian Press)—Dense fog still held the liner Empress of Australia in the iceberg region of the north Atlantic late today, making certain that King George VI and Queen Elizabeth would be a day late arriving at Quebec for their tour of Canada and the United States.

During the day the ship had only one good run, about 8 a.m., EST, when the fog cleared somewhat and her idling engines again began driving westward.

The fog closed down again in 20 minutes, however, and the liner had to stop. Between daybreak and 12:30 p.m., EST, she made only 35 miles.

Once, when the specially assigned lookout men sighted an iceberg directly in the path of the liner, the ship's engines were quickly reversed. Warning of that particular iceberg was given by the wave of cold air noticed by all on deck.

The king and queen were on the promenade deck at the time and were able to see through the fog a whole floe of bergs and "growlers." With deck blankets wrapped around them because of the sudden change in temperature their majesties stood by the rail and watched the scene.

The queen remarked that it was like being in Arctic waters.

Most of the time, however, the icebergs and even the nearby escort cruisers Glasgow and Southampton were invisible from the fogshrouded decks of the Empress. At times it was too thick even to see the water from the decks.

The Empress, halted since Thursday, about 250 miles east of Cape Race except for fitful stops and starts, now has more than consumed the two days' leeway allowed her because of British naval precautions.

Poles Protest Danzig Action

WARSAW, May 13 (AP)—An authoritative source declared tonight a Polish protest to the senate of the Free City of Danzig, together with protests in the Polish press, could be regarded as "a serious warning" to Germany that Poland intended "to protect her full rights in the free city."

The protests were made against the action of the Danzig senate in refusing permission to Poles in the free city to stage a public observance yesterday of the fourth anniversary of the death of Marshal Joseph Pilsudski.

(A Danzig dispatch said the protest was delivered to Arthur Greiser, president of the senate, by Polish Commissioner Marion Chodacki, who received the reply that no written request had been made for a Pilsudski memorial observance and it seemed unwise to hold an open air meeting in view of the strained situation.)

The Polish press also sharply condemned as an insult to Poland the breaking of a Danzig bookstore window behind which rested a blackpainted photograph of Pilsudski.

'Fixers' Relieve Man of $1,400 Life Savings

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., May 13 (AP)—Sheriff Merle Remy said this afternoon three men had been arrested and ordered held here under $10,000 bonds in the $4,200 "extortion and blackmail" of Charles L. Brown, about 55, Crawfordville restaurant employee.

He said the men gave their names as Gilbert Parker, 35, of Detroit; William Howe, 35, of Cincinnati; and William McCann, 40, of Akron, Ohio.

He added he had been informed by the federal bureau of investigation at Washington the men also are wanted in Flint, Mich., for extortion.

Police Chief Otto Biederstedt and State Detective Harvey Hirt, who participated in the investigation that led to the arrests, indicated "three or four others" are being sought in the case.

Parker, Howe and McCann are slated for "conspiracy to commit a felony."

Remy said the "gang" obtained Brown's life savings by making him think he was wanted as a criminal, and that they could "fix it."

Troops Patrol Mining Fields

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 13 (AP)—National guardsmen were mobilized today for duty in the "bloody Harlan" soft coal fields as operators in the area refused to sign the New York agreement with the United Mine Workers of America for a union shop.

Gov. A. B. Chandler, carrying out his word of several days ago that the troops would be on hand Monday to give any miner a chance to work if he desired, signed the mobilization order for 537 troops, and warned:

"No one can tell our people to work or not to work and no one can come into this state and cause trouble. This is not a political mission, but a peaceful mission."

"The adjutant general understands there is to be no violence allowed. No restraint of men who want to work, and nothing done to force men to work. If the union wants to carry on peaceful picketing, they can do so."

Europe Awaits Duce's Turin Address Today

Diplomats Alarmed At Marshall Goering's Changing Itinerary

ROME, May 13 (AP)—France again became the target of fascist press attacks today as Premier Mussolini departed for Turin to make an address tomorrow (Sunday) which some sources expected might decide future relations between France and Italy.

In some diplomatic quarters it was thought that Mussolini, in his speech before a Turin mass meeting, might give France a "last chance" to settle Italy's claims against her peacefully.

'Before It's Too Late'

In recent days the Italian press has been calling on both France and Britain to take steps toward settling Europe's "open problems"—in which it includes Italian colonial aspirations—before it is "too late."

After the Turin address Il Duce is scheduled to start on a week's tour of the Piedmont region, which borders on France, inspecting military establishments, troop concentrations and public works.

Diplomats here attached importance to the apparent summons of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering to Germany from a Mediterranean cruise that had been expected to include Spain. He left Leghorn by special train for Germany today after debarking from the motor ship Huascarana.

Goering, who has spent the greater part of the past two months in San Remo, on the Italian Riviera, was called back to Germany just before the dissolution of Czecho-Slovakia and the entry of German troops into Bohemia - Moravia two months ago. He was called back a second time several weeks later when the Polish-German situation became acute.

Germany Shut Out of Airline Transportation to United States

WASHINGTON, May 13 (AP)—Germany will be shut out of commercial transatlantic airlines to the United States until some time after the lines to Great Britain and France are established and making money.

Informed officials, who gave today that it was based primarily on economic reasons, whatever political considerations of bad diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany may enter the picture.

Germany asked over two years ago for permission to establish regular service to this country. But no favorable answer thus far has been given—nor will it be given for some time.

Officials here say that this is the situation:

Air accords have already been entered into with Britain and France for the operation of air lines across the Atlantic. The accord with Great Britain dates back to December, 1935.

The accords provide for reciprocity—each country can operate a two-way service to the United States and the United States can operate a two-way service to each of them. And here is the crux of the problem with regard to Germany.

Officials are not disposed to grant Germany's application without getting an identical privilege in exchange. But American companies, already occupied to the extent of their capacities in preparing for the British and French runs, are not in position to start a service to Germany at this time.

Hitler To Go To Godesberg

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN, May 13 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler tonight was reported planning to go to Godesberg early next week and make that little Rhineland city the starting point of a "demonstrative" inspection of fortifications on Germany's western frontier.

Informed sources said the fuhrer also would inspect eastern frontier fortifications to remind Poland as well as the western powers of Germany's defensive strength.

He left Munich for Nuernberg shortly after noon today to inspect the building being erected there for the use of nazi party conferences. Accompanying him was his personal architect, Prof. Albert Speer.

From Nuernberg, it was reported reliably here and at Godesberg, he will start for the Rhineland.

Godesberg was the center of worldwide attention last September when British Prime Minister Chamberlain flew there to discuss with the fuhrer the fate of Czecho-Slovakia, which Germany subsequently took over.

BERLIN, May 13 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler tonight was reported planning to go to Godesberg early next week and make that little Rhineland city the starting point of a "demonstrative" inspection of fortifications on Germany's western frontier.

Informed sources said the fuhrer also would inspect eastern frontier fortifications to remind Poland as well as the western powers of Germany's defensive strength.

He left Munich for Nuernberg shortly after noon today to inspect the building being erected there for the use of nazi party conferences. Accompanying him was his personal architect, Prof. Albert Speer.

From Nuernberg, it was reported reliably here and at Godesberg, he will start for the Rhineland.

Godesberg was the center of worldwide attention last September when British Prime Minister Chamberlain flew there to discuss with the fuhrer the fate of Czecho-Slovakia, which Germany subsequently took over.

PARIS, May 13 (AP)—France held her military forces ready on land and sea tonight in preparation for what diplomatic circles considered likely to be a week end of heightened international tension.

A Significant Mother's Day

MOTHER'S DAY, this year, carries a special significance for college women. To the hundreds of mothers and daughters who are together for the Mortar Board commemoration of the 1939 Mother's Day, there is a broader meaning, given to the day by Mrs. Otella Compton, a celebrity because she has been chosen the "American Mother for 1939."

For college women Mrs. Compton reflects their expanding influence. It took her 10 years to work her way through college; nearly half a century later she was awarded an honorary college degree, probably unique, because of the success attained by her sons and daughters.

It has been said that Mother's day could originate only in a land such as America where women are truly appreciated by men. The honor shown American women has encouraged them to grow even higher; today the women who graduate from colleges are opening ever new doors for their sex.

Mrs. Compton stands out on this Mother's day in relation to American colleges. When education for women was an uncommon and a difficult quest, she forged for herself the years of college she wanted. She became the wife of a college professor; her sons are among the most distinguished men of America. One became head of a leading technical school, another is one of the world's leading physicists and a third is nationally prominent in business.

Standing before us as a college graduate, an intelligent mother, and above all, a motherly mother, Mrs. Compton does give special meaning to the day. She symbolizes the new position of women. Not different than other mothers, Mrs. Compton deserves little or no acclaim for her achievement. In 1932 when America's typical mother was given the Doctor of Laws degree for "outstanding achievement as wife and mother" she insisted on inquiring newspapermen that she was no different than other mothers.

"I was guided," she pointed out, "by common sense and the Bible." Her husband added to his wife's words, "Mother always begins the day with prayer. Though we have told that often, newspapers somehow never considered it news. And mother: always took care of her children and never left them to nurses, aunts or anyone else."

To The University's Credit!

THE University of Iowa yesterday welcomed back for his first official visit to the campus, the governor of the state, George A. Wilson. A program which reflected the magnitude and the dignity of the university makes the 1939 Governor's Day review one of the best in the 58-year history of the event.

The state's chief executive reflects the thought of the people of the state and the university both in the words he spoke at the dinner given in his honor yesterday noon. "What we have witnessed here today," Governor Wilson said, "is typically American. There are two primary needs for the blessings of democracy, discipline and defense."

"I hope and pray that military displays will be for defense only and we all hope that we will not have to go to war."

The state of Iowa's motto, which Governor Wilson used to close his address is the very basis of democracy, it seems to us, "Our Liberty we prize and our rights we will maintain."

Certainly no more sincere occasion exists for the reassertion of democracy's principles and of the desire for peace than at a display of a military nature, a display by R. O. T. C. students who have had inculcated in them the principles of democracy.

This being the merry month of May, what more appropriate than the newspaper headlines, too, would be Danzig around the Poles.

CLIPPED from other COLUMNS

REORGANIZATION PLAN NO. 2 SO FAR as they relate to consolidation of our several foreign services under exclusive direction of the state department, the recommendations of the president's second reorganization message merit unqualified endorsement. The foreign service maintained by the department of commerce came into being in 1914, through a rider to a general appropriations bill. The department of agriculture's foreign service is of yet more recent origin, having been established in 1930.

There has never been any real necessity for either. The diplomatic and consular services of the state department, which had covered the field exclusively until 1914, are entirely capable of performing all duties relating to the collection and dissemination of information on commerce and agriculture. The best proof of that is that they have continued to do much of this work since the other services came into being.

But it is not merely a question of waste and duplication. The broader consideration of unity and singleness of approach in our dealings with foreign powers is involved. Inevitably the vicious system of multiple representation has led to human conflict and differences. This was bad enough when it resulted only in embarrassment to our own authorities. But it has occasionally bred confusion and suspicion on the part of foreign officials. Too often more overlapping and duplication have been interpreted as evidence of division in American opinion concerning matters of foreign policy. None who takes into account the tense and delicate balance of present international relations can wink at such dangerous weakness.

Yet when the excellence and wisdom of Mr. Roosevelt's advice on this score are fully recognized, it is still necessary to object to many of the lesser features of this second reorganization message, and to regret that many of them were taken up at the same time. In great part they follow the pattern established by Reorganization Plan No. 1, which sought by indirection to give unsound emergency agencies the legal status of permanent instruments of government. Practically all are open to debate. Some, like those which pretend to "abolish" the National Emergency Council, are deserving of the severest censure. For here we have a patent attempt on Mr. Roosevelt's part to retain and consolidate for his own purposes, and for next year's campaign, the vicious and illegal propaganda machinery and press agency built up over a six-year period.

Some of these objections are so grave that, under almost any other conditions than those that confront the world today, they might well require condemnation of the entire message. But the sound policy outlined with respect to the foreign service requires urgently and immediately to be put in effect. And under the thoroughly reprehensible terms of the un-American reorganization law, congress must assent to all or none of the presidential reorganization plans. Therefore it seems wisest to let the plan take effect in toto, hoping for the subsequent piecemeal removal, by legislative enactment, of its more objectionable features.

AROUND THE TOWN

MERLE MILLER

A FEW RANDOM THOUGHTS I didn't think it was a play at all. All Thornton Wilder did was copy down a little conversation and re-write it. All Jim Waery did was grey his hair a little and preach a sermon.

All Katie Cobb did was be a simple small-town girl with a heart. All Art Koch did was be Art Koch.

All anybody did was walk around on that great bare stage and be human.

I didn't think it was a play at all. Maybe that's the reason I blew my nose so vigorously and so often and dabbed my eyes up beneath the glasses.

I never weep over plays, just life.

Nice line, that, "You have to love life to live it; you have to love life to love it."

I guess it was a good title, that, "Our Town." It was that, our town.

Incidentally, I saw Frank Craven do it in New York last February, saw it the week it opened, then wrote it was "one of the best pieces of modern drama I've seen."

Before ours opened I mentioned to Jim Waery that I wished he'd seen Craven. Take it back now. But I do wish Craven could have seen Jim.

Of course, I'm no Jim Farley. I seldom have time to pay attention to names—or faces.

That's why I can report, shamefacedly, that Sheldon Cheney was in town this week. And, incidentally, saw the show opening night and liked it quite as much as we did.

He'll have many words about our theater in his newest book. I say it because Wednesday afternoon Professor Mable introduced me to a tall, balding fellow with glasses. "Mr. Miller," said Professor Mable, "meet Merle Miller." I thought at the time it was nice for Mr. Whoever he was to meet me, but I was too busy to pay much attention.

It wasn't until yesterday I found I'd met the most famous living theater critic and historian.

Professor Andrews has a post-humously published article in the latest "Social Education." It's called "How To Teach," and several of the examples of How Not To aren't difficult to recognize. I mean—guess their department and so on.

Of course, Stanley Hamilton's Professor Willard of the play might have been a professor I know. Might have been almost any professor I know.

Those Life pictures'll be appearing in a month or so, I understand. The University of Iowa'll have several pages devoted to its art department, its journalism school, its dramatic arts, its radio station, its daily newspaper.

Hope they play the sex innuendoes down, not as usual I mean.

A scout reports a liberal arts professor made the police court say "beg pardons" the other night. It was a matter of a bond posting or a car forfeiting.

The prof only had a $1. And when it was all over the policemen didn't even want that.

The professor had a lawyer.

Several co-eds have asked me about our $1,200 a year debate. Whether I really think a couple of college grads with that income ought to get married.

My answer's been a consistent "Yes." We'll do it too. Just as soon as I get a degree and can find a co-ed with $1,200.

Health Hints

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

The general overhauling idea, the regular health audit or annual physical examination, has been advocated mostly on the grounds that it will help to keep the individual from developing the chronic diseases of adult life. I never subscribed very much to this because I doubted whether any really extensive prevention of such diseases could be accomplished so simply. But another angle of the situation is developed by Dr. Reginald Fitz, of Boston.

Dr. Fitz, after 15 years experience with regular examinations of the same patients, comes to the conclusion that these examinations are valuable not so much for the future of the patient as for the future of medical science.

He has found these regular recurrent examinations interesting because he has been able to watch his finger on the moment when the bodily mechanism suddenly changed from normality to a disease process.

Back to Normalcy And, on the other hand, he has watched diseased organs slowly go back to normalcy. For instance, heart disease! The words "heart murmur" frighten people greatly and they ask what is going to be the outcome of this sinister sounding situation. Well, Dr. Fitz has found several youngsters with a bad murmur, who, instead of going on to something worse, got better, to the extent that the murmur entirely disappeared.

We are recommended by the annual periodical health doctors that the diseases that can be most easily forestalled from a serious termination are cancer, tuberculosis, diabetes and hardening of the arteries.

Sudden Onset Dr. Fitz's conclusions about cancer included this point: That the impressive feature was the suddenness of onset without any preliminary or insidious onset. In other words, between two annual health examinations a cancer may develop very suddenly. It would be missed on the first examination. In such cases the examination gives a false feeling of security. About tuberculosis he feels somewhat more confident, but more study is needed.

Diabetes is a disease of slow and insidious onset. It is easily marked by the presence of sugar in the urine, and even if that has existed for a year the treatment is hopeful, even in late or far advanced cases.

Too Insidious About hardening of the arteries, what Dr. Fitz says confirms my own observations exactly. He says: "I have made a conscientious effort to pick out even one case in which I could truthfully say that hardening of the arteries had developed under observation. I must confess that the onset has seemed so insidious that it has been beyond my power to recognize it."

The same thing is true of high blood pressure, and what is the difference, because what is anybody going to do to help it if it is found?

If anybody can give a good answer to that question I will be glad to hear it.

I have seldom mentioned these questions in this column, preferring to devote myself to the diseases which are preventable, mostly infectious diseases in the young, who are more worth saving.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS M. W.: "Is it harmful to take a teaspoonful of salt in warm water before breakfast? I don't think the salt would hurt, but I've been wondering if a teaspoonful is too much?"

Answer — A teaspoonful is a good deal, about five times the daily requirement.

A. L. E.: "Will grapefruit, lemons and orange cause uric acid and rheumatism?"

Answer—No.

THE LAMENT of a forgotten father on Mother's day will be the theme of the Grouch club's regular meeting at 4 o'clock this afternoon over NBC's Red network.

Presided over by Grouchmaster Jack Lescoule, members will air their peevish in connection with their neglect at the hands of their families. On the musical end, Beth Wilson will sing "And the Angels Sing" and Leon Leonardi and the Grouchband will present a new arrangement of it "It Ain't What You Do."

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS Jr. will climax the current series of Silver Theater broadcasts from Hollywood when he stars in the comedy drama directed by Conrad Nagel, with original music conducted by Felix Mills, over the Columbia network at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Helen Hayes, star of the final two-part Silver Theater production which follows Fairbanks' appearance, will broadcast from New York.

Fairbanks, who made his Silver Theater debut more than a year ago in the stark drama, "Bright Shadow," with Andrea Leeds, has chosen a comedy vehicle this time for the sake of contrast.

Although no title has been announced, Nagel claims the original story prepared especially for Fairbanks' appearance will provide the star with a gay romantic role similar to the type of character which he has portrayed successfully in recent pictures.

Fairbanks, who is carrying on the great motion picture tradition established by his noted father in silent days, is one of the busiest actors in the film capital these days. In fact, picture work and his Silver Theater appearance have necessitated the postponement of a honeymoon with his bride until early summer.

CLIFTON FADIMAN will get all the information he wants when the head man of NBC's "Information Please" program is the guest of Eddie Cantor's CBS Caravan at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Broadcasting from New York, Cantor's program will include the songs of Kay St. Germaine and Bert Parks, fun by Mr. Guffy and the Mad Russian, and orchestral music by Edgar Fairchild, who accompanied the comedian last week end.

"Dodge City," an earlier glorified western of this type, had everything but the kitchen sink as well as an awareness of the espionage system it details. The style of presentation is that employed in the "March of Time" series and is effective for the material.

Lya Lys, nominally the feminine lead, is seen only in a flash or two, and Dorothy Tree, as a spy, takes the feminine laurels. Newsreel shots are effectively cut into the narrative.

This painstaking production of the story of Mexico's national hero, Don Benito Juarez, has the dignity of a lecture on democracy, and it must be met half-way by an audience that wants the maximum of enjoyment available therein.

A New Yorker at Large

By George Tucker

NEW YORK — The Yankees were in Detroit and the Giants were in New York and I was at the Polo Grounds watching the Giants get ready to play the Cincinnati Reds. It was a bright day but not too warm. Big Red Derringer was warming up for the Reds, and stray waves of lemon-colored sunshine were gently laving the bright green infield, and illuminating the field board advertisements which attested to the fact that "The Giants use Lifebuoy."

A butch yelled, "Hot Peanuts, hot peanuts," and a "dog man" yelled "Hot dogs, get 'em while they're hot," and a vendor eased along the upper deck yelling, "Get your program, get your program. You can't tell the players without a program."

And then somebody seated in the stands said something, and the man next to him echoed it and added an excited ejaculation, and in two minutes the news riddled from one end of the Polo Grounds to another.

It was quite an important thing he said. He said that Lou Gehrig had taken himself out of the lineup.

I think that was a genuine tribute to one of the great players of all time, because thousands of people were passing it along to one another, and some of them were saying it in tones that might have been used if he had lost his leg rather than that he had merely chosen this moment to conclude his iron-man's record of playing more consecutive games of baseball than anyone else in the world. One of the baseball writers turned and said he hoped the world wouldn't go into mourning. After all, Gehrig had plenty. It wasn't necessary to become maudlin.

He meant no disrespect at all, and I think he was right. The guy is rich. He is happily married. He has a record that no one may ever beat. He is young and in fine health—only 35. He has a fine home, and he is one of baseball's immortals. His name will surely go into baseball's hall of fame.

It was only that somehow he wasn't quite as fast as he had been. He wasn't getting those devastating base hits as frequently as in other days. So he should have moved down. The rookie who supplanted him immediately stepped up and hit a homerun.

Challedon Wins Preakness In Mud; Johnstown Runs Fifth

Gilded Knight Takes Second

Johnstown Falls In Last 3-8 of Mile Of Soaked Track

By SID FEDER
PIMLICO RACE COURSE, Baltimore, Md., May 13 (AP) — The mud and a great mud-runner caught up with Johnstown today. W. L. Brann's bay colt, Challedon, a mudder from "way back, came on in the last three-eighths of a mile on a track soaked by day-long rain to win the 49th running of the rich Preakness stakes, as William Woodward's top-heavy favorite, the horse that had taken the Kentucky Derby by six lengths one week ago, ran fifth in the field of six.

For three quarters of a mile in this mile and three sixteenths gallop, it was all Johnstown. The big son of Jamestown, winner of four straight previous three year old outings by a total of 25 lengths, looked like a shoe-in.

Comin' On
But as they went into the stretch turn, the rest of the "gang" started to close in. Jockey Jimmy Stout went to the bat for the first time since Johnstown came of age, and it did not go. First Gilded Knight passed him. Then there was a rush, as all but little Clencia went by.

Heading into the stretch, Challedon poked himself in front — and there he stayed. Jockey George Seabo, part of the 126 pounds on all the colts in this race, put the whip to him to shove off the finishing rush of Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Gilded Knight. So they went to the wire, and in the last sixteenth of a mile there was nothing to it but this Maryland bred horse, with the 30,000 soaked customers roaring this "local boy, who made good" on to victory.

Revenge
At the finish, this gallant son of Challenger 2nd, who ran six lengths back of Johnstown in the derby a week ago, was a length and a half to the good, with Gilded Knight, entry-mate of "Big John," taking the place by three from George Bull's Voltant. Then came Alfred Gwynne Vanderbill's Impound, four lengths on top of Johnstown, and Clencia in the rear.

With the entry of Johnstown-Gilded Knight, both trained by Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, backed far down in the betting, Challedon the mudder returned his supporters $14.40 for each $2 ticket in coming home with his first victory since he won the Pimlico Futurity last November. The Fitzsimmons' entry was $2.30 for place and Voltant paid off $3.10 for show.

Good Time
Challedon won in a great big hurry, running on soft-top footing, he went the route in 1 minute, 39 4-5 seconds — only 1 3-5 seconds away from the Preakness mark High Quest set five years ago. Considering conditions that was tops.

Wins $5,000
PAWTUCKET, R. I., May 13 (AP) — Giving weight to all but one horse in the field, Mrs. E. Graham Lewis' Paggiacci handled his 110 pounds handily today to win the $5,000-added Newport handicap at Narragansett park by a nose.

Just failing to catch him at the finish of the mile and one sixteenth was R. A. Moore's Clodion, the choice of the crowd of 40,000 which shivered through the closing-day program. Clodion had two lengths on Mrs. Emil Dene-mark's War Minstrel, which finished with only his nose ahead of R. A. Coward's Be Jabbers.

Wachman Leads Northwestern Netsters to 8-1 Win Over Iowa

By GARRY MARGOLIS
Daily Iowan Sports Reporter
Northwestern came to town yesterday. Hitting the Iowans with everything but the net posts, they continued their unbroken victory streak, defeating the Hawkeye netsters 8-1. Dale Hatch, the "Bitsy" Grant of Iowa's court team, scored Iowa's lone point.

Northwestern, probably the hardest hitting team to visit Iowa, almost duplicated Chicago's 9-0 victory Friday. However, Dale Hatch, playing in the number six slot, accomplished a feat few have equalled this year. He took a point from the Wildcats. Playing his usual steady game, that of retrieving the ball consistently and waiting for opponents' errors, Hatch outlasted Dick Coyle of Northwestern to win 6-2, 9-7.

Marvin Wachman, one of the nation's outstanding college players, defeated Bob Sandler in the hardest fought match of the afternoon 6-0, 4-6, 6-2. Wachman swept through the first set in characteristic fashion taking advantage of Sandler's early unsteadiness. The second set proved a complete reversal of form. Sandler, finding his ground game, forced the play throughout and

Cubs Rack Up Ninth Straight Over Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, May 13 (AP) — Chicago's Cubs won their ninth straight victory over Pittsburgh, 6-2, dropping the Pirates into the National League cellar.

Bill Lee issued seven bases on balls but 13 Pirates were left on base.

Pitcher Bob Klinger helped lose his own game in the fifth when he tossed Hank Leibert's bunt wild, letting Gabby Hartnett and Jim Gleason score. Dick Bartell then tripled after Glen Russell had forced Leibert and Lee singled the Cub shortstop home.

Cubs Survey College Players

CHICAGO, May 13 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs management is making a study of collegiate football in an attempt to find out how young, minor league ball players can be developed into major league caliber more quickly.

This was disclosed today by Charles Drake, assistant to P. K. Wrigley, president of the National League championship club which for two weeks has been in a bad slump. A day or so after the team started skidding players discovered a statistician taking notes on them from the grandstand. The discovery created some critical comment.

"The statistician, C. L. Snyder, is compiling information Mr. Wrigley hopes will give him a yardstick for judging young players," Drake said, adding that Snyder's job did not entail keeping tabs on Cubs while off the field.

"We are seeking to discover the characteristics that make a big league player," Drake continued. "Mr. Wrigley started this research when he noted that college football players require only two or three years to master their game while ball players often spend three and four years in the minors. We are studying the methods with which collegiate football players are brought along so quickly."

Iowa Golfers Lose to Illini

Everson Ties Carlson For Medal Honors With 143 Total

By JIM VAN HEEL
Daily Iowan Sports Reporter
Illinois golfers blasted out a 15 to 12 victory over Iowa yesterday and broke the Hawks' string of four straight wins for the season. The Illinois divot-makers came back with superb golf in the afternoon round to overcome the lead of 6 1/2 to 2 1/2 that Iowa had built up in the foursome matches of the morning.

Martin Everson, sophomore star from Havre, Mont., led the Hawks with a 70 in the morning round and came back to shoot a 73 in the afternoon singles match. R. Carlson, Illini ace, also put together a 73 and a 70 for a 143 total to tie Everson for medal honors for the day. The other pair breaking round of the day was shot by H. Patton of Illinois who fired a two under par 70 against Willie Thomsen's 74 in the singles matches.

Jim Hoak fired perfect figures for the day registering two rounds of 72. Even par was not good enough and Illinois gained three points to nothing for the Hawks when Carlson cut under Hoak's score and registered his 70 in the singles matches.

Willis Hudlin Hurls Indians To 5-2 Win

CHICAGO, May 13 (AP) — Cleveland's Indians, though out-hit, bunched their blows behind Willis Hudlin's effective pitching today to defeat the White Sox, 5-2, and even the series at one game apiece. Homers by Julius Solters and Ken Keltner helped the Indians make their eight blows off Eddie Smith and Clint Brown surpass 10 Chicago hits in scoring value.

The victory restored the fourth place Clevelanders to the .500 mark and cut the margin between them and the third place Sox to two and one-half games.

Smith, who was picked up from the A's via waivers a fortnight ago and pitched the Chicagoans to victory over New York in his first start for them, held the Indians to one run on three hits until the sixth when Solters' homer broke a 1-1 tie. Roy Weatherly then singled, sending home Jim Shilling and Oscar Grimes for the clinching runs in the seventh after a pass and single had put them aboard.

Brown, making his ninth relief appearance in the Sox' 21 games, was tagged for Keltner's homer in the eighth.

The Sox picked up a run in the third on singles by Rip Radcliff and Mike Tresh sandwiched around a pass, the only other time they could reach Hudlin was in the seventh when, with two out, Radcliff, Marv Owen and Gee Walker ripped off successive singles.

Hal Trosky doubled and scored the first Cleveland run on Keltner's single in the fourth inning.

Dodgers Lose Another Game

BOSTON, May 13 (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers came apart at the seams today as the Boston Bees took the second straight victory of their series, 5-3.

Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons and Luke Hamlin, who worked one inning after Fitz was removed for a pinch-hitter, gave up 13 hits but their plight was made hopeless by four blunders in the field and a passed ball which put one runner in position to score.

Tigers and Browns Complete Deal Involving Ten Players

Buck Newsom Goes To Detroit; Kennedy Sent to St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, May 13 (AP) — A transaction involving 10 players, one of the biggest baseball trades of recent years, was completed here tonight, between the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Browns.

The deal, announced by General Manager Jack Zeller of the Tigers, centered around Louis (Buck) Newsom, big right-handed St. Louis pitcher whom the Bengals have sought for some time.

In addition to Newsom, Detroit also gets Outfielder Roy Bell, infielder Ralph Kress and Pitcher James Walkup.

The trade was not unexpected, the Detroit management having openly admitted it was after Newsom when the team went into a tailspin that saw it flop from the top to the bottom of the American league standing.

Ohio State's Buckeyes and the Luther Norsemen contributed to a very pleasant afternoon for University of Iowa baseball fans yesterday, the Bucks toppling Purdue 6-5 to send Iowa into a tie for first place in the conference standings and the Norsemen, supplying the opposition while the Hawkeyes romped to their 15th victory of the season as against three defeats.

Ohio State was tabbed as a set-up for the Boiler-makers but the Crimson came through with an unexpected victory that knocked Purdue off the top rung of the conference ladder. Both Iowa and Purdue have won five games while losing two.

The Hawks, taking a week off from conference competition, slammed out 13 hits off two Luther hurlers to smother the visitors, 11-3. It was the third time this year the Vogelmens have run up big scores on their former "jinx team."

Andy Kantor led the Iowa attack with four hits and a walk in five trips to the plate. Included in the husky shortstop's singles was a scorching triple to left in the sixth inning. Erwin Prasse, second-sacker, pulled himself out of his recent batting slump with three hits, one of them also a three-base wallop.

Three pitchers went to the mound for Iowa. Fred Hohenhorst starting and getting credit for the win. Keith Wymore hurled the next three frames and gave way to Harold Haub, who finished. Haub fanned the last three batters in the ninth inning.

Newsom Nips Detroit, 5-3

ST. LOUIS, May 13 (AP) — Buck Newsom became the second 3-game winner for the St. Louis Browns today when he defeated the Detroit Tigers, 5-3, aided by George McQuinn's home run. Rookie Jack Kramer won his third game for the Browns by beating the Tigers yesterday. Newsom has lost one game, Kramer none.

Cats Win Again
EVANSVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Northwestern registered its fifth straight Big Ten baseball victory yesterday with a 9 to 2 decision over Illinois. Bill Syring held the Illini to three hits while the Wildcats built up a 4 to 2 lead in seven innings. They sewed up the game with a five-run splurge in the eighth.

Kennedy, who is also 30, came to the Tigers from the Chicago White Sox in the deal that sent Gerald Walker, Mike Tresh and Marvin Owen away at the end of the 1937 season. Kennedy won his first nine games for Detroit last year and then faltered, winding up with a record of 12 wins and nine losses.

Gill came to Detroit from the Texas league in 1937 and pitched very well. Last season he won 12 games and lost nine.

Laabs, a great hitter in the minors, has had several trials with the Tigers but has never been able to solve major league pitching. He has been on the bench most of the present season. Last year he alternated between Detroit and Toledo of the American Association, batting .293 for the Mud Hens and .237 for the Tigers.

Christman is another Texas league product, having come to the Tigers a year ago. He was Detroit's third baseman most of last season, batting .248. When Detroit acquired Frank (Pinkie) Higgins from the Boston Red Sox during the winter Christman was relegated to the bench. He is 24 years old.

Harris, a 22-year-old right-hander, was brought up from Toledo late last season. He won 13 games and lost 12 for the Mud Hens.

Observance of 58th Governor's Day Completes Military Year

Ceremony Is Final One For Colonel Dailey

Present 1,400 Men In Colorful Review Before Gov. Wilson

The 1938-39 school year of the University of Iowa military department was officially completed yesterday with the observance of the 58th annual Governor's day. Yesterday's ceremonies were the last under the supervision of Col. George F. N. Dailey, head of the military department, who has been transferred to Ft. Crook, Neb., effective June 29.

The colorful Governor's day review took place on the parade grounds between the field house and the stadium as planned, a bright, sunny day favoring the event.

The 1,400 men of the infantry and engineer units of the University of Iowa R.O.T.C. marched onto the field to the skirl of Scottish Highlander bagpipes. After cadets and bands had taken their places on the grounds, the regiment was presented to Gov. George A. Wilson by Cadet Col. Franklin O. Eddy, E4 of Marengo, and Honorary Cadet Colonel Mildred Fitzgerald, A4 of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Governor Wilson presented awards to several groups and individuals of the regiment who had done outstanding work during the school year.

Streamers were awarded to Company G as the best infantry company, Company B as the best engineer company, also the "color company."

The first squad of the second platoon of Company K was named best infantry squad for which each member received a bronze medal.

Members of the squad are Robert C. Kadgihn, A2 of Iowa City, corporal; Howard J. Clark, P2 of Burlington; Robert L. Hess, E1 of Iowa City; Robert B. Isham, A1 of Charles City; Wendle L. Kerr, P2 of Humboldt; Addison J. Marts, A1 of Ankeny, and Robert L. Meckes, P2 of Logan.

A bronze medal was also given to each member of the first squad of the second platoon of company B as the best engineer squad. The members of this group are Raymond H. Deddens, E2 of St. Louis, Mo., corporal; Leon Franklin, E2 of Bonaparte; Lee R. Johnston, E1 of West Liberty; Craig H. Stratemeyer, E2 of Carroll; Kenneth W. Stephens, E1 of Maloy; Glenn W. Hollander, E1 of Fairfield; Joseph Sherman, E1 of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Donald Lee Spencer, E1 of Iowa City.

Other awards were gold medals to the best company commander, infantry unit, Jack G. Waldhoff, P4 of Burlington; best company commander, engineer unit, Norman W. Kopp of Buffalo Center.

Best platoon commander, infantry unit, John L. Keller of Iowa City; best platoon commander, engineer unit, Frank E. Plume, E4 of Amboy, Ill.; best junior infantry unit, Robert Johnson of Iowa City; best junior, engineer unit, John R. Noon of Cedar Rapids; best guide, infantry unit, James H. Short, A2 of Sioux City; best guide, engineer, Derio Dalasta, E2 of Ankeny.

Best drilled sophomore, infantry unit, class A. C. Edward

Wilson of Ottumwa; class B. Bill M. Sherman of Council Bluffs; best drilled sophomore, engineer unit, Wayne E. Wells of Iowa City; best drilled freshman, infantry unit, class A. Arthur Butterstein of Fishkill, N. Y.; class E, Robert W. Vogt of Iowa City; best drilled freshman, engineer unit, Robert A. Edberg of Fargo, N. D.

Robert C. Kadgihn, A2 of Iowa City, was awarded a gold medal for first place in the governor's rifle match with a score of 376. Howard E. King, A4 of Iowa City, was given a second place silver medal, and Conrad F. Schadt, A2 of Williamsburg, was given a bronze third place medal.

In the university rifle marksmanship match of the first year basic infantry and engineer students, Virgil E. Pettit of Des Moines was awarded a first place gold medal; John D. O'Conner of Ferry, a silver second place medal, and Gwilym S. Lodwick of Mystic, the third place bronze medal.

Winners of the varsity rifle team jerseys were A. lo R. Gill, E4 of Iowa City; Jay A. Higbee, A2 of Iowa City; Robert C. Kadgihn, A2 of Iowa City; Howard E. King, A4 of Iowa City, and Conrad F. Schadt, A2 of Williamsburg.

Winners of the rifle team 1942 numeral jerseys were Bruce E. Boyer of Farmington, Virgil E. Pettit of Des Moines, Edward H. Schneckloth of Davenport and Scott H. Swisher of Iowa City.

Winners of the first and second places in the Pershing Rifles individual competition were C. Edward Wilson, A2 of Ottumwa and Arthur F. Butterstein, A1 of Fishkill, N. Y., respectively. The first place winner received a gold key and the second place man, a silver key.

Jonathan A. Wolcott, A4 of Denver, Col., was awarded the saber given for the first time by the Iowa City Reserve Officers' association to the advanced course man who has contributed most to the upbuilding of the morale and efficiency of the R.O.T.C. This award was presented by Lieut. Col. Frank L. Love.

After the review, the official party of high ranking state and university officials proceeded to Iowa Union where a Governor's day luncheon was held with some 500 guests.

Colonel Dailey presided at the program with which Prof. Harrison J. Thornton of the University of Iowa history department was the principal speaker.

In a brief talk at the luncheon, Governor Wilson said, "What we have witnessed here today is typically American. There are two primary needs for the blessings of democracy, discipline and defense.

"I hope and pray that military displays will be for defense only and we all hope that we will not have to go to war."

In closing, the governor quoted from the motto of the state which appears on the flag and seal of Iowa.

"Our Liberty we prize and our rights we will maintain."

Governor Wilson was graduated from the university college of law in 1907 and paid his first official visit to Iowa City and the university as governor yesterday. President Eugene A. Gilmore introduced the speaker, "We welcome Governor Wilson more as an alumnus of the university than as a governor of the state."

Another highlight of the luncheon program was a demonstration by the Scottish Highlanders in a dress uniform consisting of white formal dinner jackets worn with the kilts. Four "lassies" danced Scottish dances.

The lassies were attired in new outfits, worn for the first time at the drill yesterday—red velvet jackets with dress Stewart kilts and plaid.

well as his first official visit to the university and Iowa City. It was the last Governor's day for Colonel Dailey, who has been transferred to Ft. Crook, Neb., effective June 29.

Pershing Rifles Guard of Honor

Here is the Iowa company B of Pershing Rifles, crack platoon which served as the guard of honor at yesterday's Governor's day review. The review, favored by bright, warm weather, was one of the most colorful in his-above and the honor platoon of the engineer unit, the Pontoniers, took place on the parade grounds. The Pershing Riflemen were named winners of this by five military officials who acted as judges.

Lawyers On The Spot

U. Law Students To Await Examination Report From Board

More than 100 young Iowans, including many students of law from the University of Iowa, face an uneasy summer, JOHN H. Chapman of The Associated Press reported yesterday.

The reason: they will be wondering whether or not they passed the state bar examination. In the past, applicants have taken a 2 1/2-day written test. Then they have submitted to a brief oral examination following which the examiners almost immediately announced the names of those who passed.

Under new rules prepared by the state supreme court, the board will have eight weeks in which to grade the papers from the written examination. Then the names of those passing will be read.

Correspondence courses are "out" under the new rules, according to Chapman. The would-be lawyer must actually put in his time in an accredited school or law office.

25 University Students Pass Red Cross Swimming Course

Water Safety Course Conducted For First Time by H. Baker To Replace Examiner's Tests

Successful Students Qualified To Instruct In Life-Saving Work

Five Iowa Citizens are among the 25 university students who successfully completed the water safety course conducted here last week by Harold Baker, St. Louis, Mo., under the auspices of the Johnson county Red Cross chapter.

The local swimmers announced last night by Coach David A. Armbruster, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter's life saving service, are Earl H. Chism, A4; Cornelia Cameron, G, RFD 3; Lorraine A. Hestroad, G; Ellen Mosbek, and Gladys M. Scott.

Others who satisfactorily completed the course are Karl Franz Beck, A4 of Davenport; John D. Brown, A4 of Cedar Falls; George L. Falk, A4 of Des Moines; Lyle E. Felderman, A1 of Dubuque; Elizabeth Fowler, A4 of Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Josephine McCarthy, N. Y.; Huntington, N. Y.; Leanne Morgan, Indianapolis; Norman Nelson, G of Bagley, Minn. Roberta Nichols, A4 of West Liberty; Omar T. Peters, Independence; Bernice A. Peterson, A4 of Boone; Margaret Schmidthals, G of Milwaukee, Wis.; William Albert Spencer, A1 of Belleville, N. J.; William Stines, G of Clarinda; J. Albert Tenney, A4 of Davenport; Ed Vaupel, A2 of Muscatine; Lois Westcott, A2 of Hampton; Charles A. Young, A3 of Hornell, N. Y., and John Power Ryan, C4 of Gloverville, N. Y.

Water safety instruction is being conducted by the American Red Cross throughout the nation this year for the first time and is being taught in every college and university of the United States which is equipped with proper facilities.

The course was conducted here to replace the examiner's course, according to Coach Armbruster. The examiner's course was given primarily to train and qualify instructors to teach and pass junior and senior life savers.

Those enrolled in the much broader water safety program, he explained, were tested and instructed for a teaching program of water safety in all its phases. Emphasis was placed on personal safety, self rescue, teaching of what constitutes a safe swimming place, personal safety in a small craft, elementary forms of rescue, life saving rescue and rescuer's defense.

Baker said that the purpose of the course is to place personal responsibility upon the individual. Swimmers are trained in all forms of water safety because the majority of drownings occur in unsupervised places.

Baker will leave this morning for Cedar Falls to continue instruction in water safety. This is the third consecutive spring that Baker, who is a representative of the life saving service of the National Red Cross, has appeared in Iowa City.

Richard Gates Finishes Mural In Tribute to Dr. Dieterich

Richard F. Gates, G of Cedar Rapids, puts the finishing touches here to a significant mural which will hang in the library of the physics building. Termed "at least one of the most valuable possessions of any physics laboratory in the county" by Prof. G.

Last week Richard F. Gates, assistant research student in the art department of the University of Iowa, completed a mural. It will serve a double purpose.

For it he will receive a master's degree next month, but more significantly, the mural will hang on the library wall of the mathematics-physics building as a tribute to a distinguished graduate of the university, Dr. E. O. Dieterich, formerly in charge of the physics research laboratory of the Goodrich Tire and Rubber company in Akron, Ohio.

The mural will be officially unveiled at the 1939 physics colloquium June 16. It is a distinct step on the part of a university department toward interior beauty of campus buildings.

Prof. George W. Stewart, head of the physics department, describes the mural's significance.

At the death of E. O. Dieterich, some of his associates sought a way to establish a memorial in the physics department at Iowa. Because of the unusual opportunity of cooperation with the art department, a mural for the library was finally proposed.

"Because of the enthusiastic interest of Richard Gates, a mural has been prepared which expresses symbolically the contribution of physics to civilization. It will be placed in the physics library and dedicated during the program of the colloquium of college physicists on June 16.

"In my opinion this mural as a work of art that is strikingly adapted to the inspiration of future scholars will be at least one of the most valuable possessions of any physics laboratory in the country."

To Gates goes the credit for printing and creating the theme for the mural. It represents the artist's interpretation of the relationship of physics to civilization.

From left to right the mural depicts primitive man through the ages. Particular emphasis is placed on the electrical element in the picture's center.

The medium chosen was egg tempera, because "it resembles true fresco and is more practical than fresco."

The mural measures 23 by 5 feet and was painted in sections. Gates began work last spring when the first sketches were made. The young artist is the creator of a second mural which hangs in Harlan's United States post office.

Decision In Churchill Case Is 'Not Guilty'

Not guilty was the verdict returned at 12:15 this morning by petit jurors in the state's case against Gordon Churchill. The decision was reached after the jury had deliberated 12 hours and 25 minutes.

Petit jurors for the state's case against Gordon Churchill, Lone Tree, were still deliberating evidence presented in the trial at a late hour last night. They retired to the jury room at 11:50 a.m. yesterday after receiving instructions from Judge Harold D. Evans.

The defendant in the case is alleged to have taken corn from the Lone Tree Farmer's Exchange company.

Fourteen witnesses of which four appeared for the state took the witness stand during the trial. Testimony of the case had been presented before a jury of 11 persons since Thursday, the second day hearings were conducted, on agreement of attorneys to continue in the absence of one juror, who was excused because of sickness in the family.

Attorneys A. C. Cahill and Arthur O. Left represented the defendant.

Collegians Lead Drive Against Disease

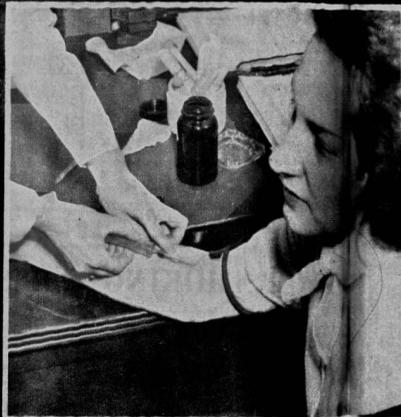

Outstanding leaders in the drive to stamp out the dread disease, syphilis, are the nation's college and university students. Already thousands have been tested under programs carried out by student health departments. Particularly commendatory has been the work of the college newspapers in publicizing the tests, for much of the advancement made in the higher educational institutions can be credited to their editorial campaigns. Results so far reveal that two of every 1,000 students tested are afflicted with the disease.

Here Grace Cadwallader, Syracuse University sophomore, demonstrates how simple the tests are.

Drive Against Disease

Nurse Margaret Eccleston applies a tourniquet to Miss Cadwallader's arm as they chat pleasantly together.

Then the blood to be tested is drawn from a vein in the elbow. There is little or no pain in this step.

The blood is then placed in a marked test-tube to be sent to the laboratory.

Blood is put in a centrifuge machine to separate blood cells from serum.

Then the doctor and his assistant check the results and make out a report which is sent to the student health department.

Nazis Declare Western Frontier 'Impregnable'

Colony Aims Advocated By Vienna Group

Poland Ought To 'Think Things Over' Authorities Say

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN, May 15 (AP)—Adolf Hitler and his generals, hurrying from fortification to fortification, today pronounced Germany's western frontier "wall of steel" perfect and impregnable.

His generals said the defense line was the largest and most formidable in the world.

At the same time 25,000 enthusiastic Nazi advocates of a restoration of the colonial empire descended on Vienna, Germany's "gateway to the east," for a four-day convention.

Hitler, who arrived at Aachen Sunday, was joined on his inspection tour of the western fortification by Colonel-General Walther von Brauchitsch, chief of staff, the 20 leaders of various departments of the Nazi government and the 40 district leaders of the regions into which Germany is divided for purposes of party administration.

Safe From Invasion
Presence of leaders not only from every district of greater Germany, including Austria and the Sudetenland, but also from Danzig, indicated the real purpose of the tour.

Every leader will return to his own region ready to assure any doubting thomas that he has seen with his own eyes that no power on earth can invade Germany from the west.

The Führer's inspection tour, together with Premier Mussolini's unqualified praise of the Rome-Berlin axis as delivered at Turin yesterday, constituted the stock in trade for every editorial writer in Germany today.

As far as Poland and Danzig are concerned, the inspection period is regarded by German authorities as "time for Poland to think things over," it was said. "Warsaw ought to reflect deeply during this 'thinking pause' which Hitler has conceded to Poland," the Ostdeutsche Morgenpost in upper Silesia said.

Unyielding
"Germany is unyielding in realizing the demands necessary for her existence. Germany can't wait."

The synthesis between German colonial aspirations and Hitler's inspection tour of the powerful fortifications was found by colonial leader General Franz Ritter-von Epp, when he said before starting from his home in Munich for Vienna:

"Germany's weapon in its fight for colonial rights is the weapon of justice. As the guardian of justice, however, it also needs power, for I know full well that it will obtain only as much justice as it possesses power."

Duce Dedicates New Airport Near France

TURIN, Italy, May 15 (AP)—Premier Mussolini inaugurated a new military airport today at Caselle, within a short striking distance of France, and returned to Turin tonight to review a parade of black-shirted fascist militiamen.

The airport inaugural followed a speech here in which Il Duce reiterated the Piedmont region that Italy wanted peace, but that European problems "which constitute danger for all" must be solved.

A crowd of 50,000 uniformed workers massed before Mussolini, who told them the international situation had compelled Italy to "slow down" its civilian automobile industry. In another brief address at the superior institute of war Il Duce praised its work in increasing the efficiency of Italy's military training.

Parents Ask Wilson's Aid for Son Serving Life Imprisonment Sentence

DES MOINES, May 15 (AP)—Gov. George A. Wilson was asked today by the parents of Ralph Stewart, 26, former Chariton resident who is serving a penitentiary sentence on a murder charge conviction to "do something" for the youth.

The father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stewart of Chariton, were accompanied on their visit to the governor by state representative Leo Hoegh of Lucas county.

Hoegh, an attorney who has represented Stewart several years, said the governor assured them that he would investigate the case.

Stewart was sentenced to life imprisonment in Fort Madison penitentiary after being convicted of murdering Mrs. L. A. Botkin, 72, grandmother of Stewart's former "sweetheart," in September, 1932.

Rev. Hayne Becomes Catholic Professor at Religion Election

Board of Trustees Names Dean Kay As New President

The Rev. Donald Hayne of Iowa City's St. Wenceslaus church was elected university Catholic professor for the year 1939-40 at the 12th annual meeting of the school of religion in Old Capitol yesterday.

Prof. Christian Richard of the school of religion was awarded a special research fellowship, and Dean George F. Kay of the college of liberal arts was elected president of a revised board of trustees at the meeting.

Members elected E. P. Adler of Davenport, first vice-president; F. C. Waples of Cedar Rapids, second vice-president; Prof. Bruce E. Mahan, director of the extension division, secretary, and Tom Farrell of Iowa City, treasurer.

Professor Richard, for the last three years a Catholic teacher in the school, will spend a year in study and writing.

The Rev. Mr. Hayne, who was recently appointed chaplain for Catholic students of the university will begin his faculty work as a teacher in the school with the opening of the fall term in September.

A graduate of the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C., the Rev. Mr. Hayne has done special study in Rome and has taught in Mt. St. Mary's college in Emmitsburg, Md.

A revision of the constitution and by-laws of the school was an important item of business at the session, with members of the board from many Iowa towns in attendance.

Action was taken combining the board of electors and the board of trustees, as the two groups which have shared in the control of the school were called.

Henceforth, a single board of control, a self-perpetuating body whose members will serve for terms of three years each and who must be approved by the respective groups they represent, either the university or some religious denomination, will govern the school.

Those present for the meeting were Prof. J. H. Bodine, Prof. G. W. Stewart, Farrell, Professor Mahan, Dean Kay, Dean Emeritus Carl E. Seashore, Dean Francis M. Dawson, Dean Adelaide Burge, Prof. Frances Zuill, William R. Hart, Prof. E. G. Schroeder, Father P. J. O'Reilly, Father Edward Neuzil, the Rev. E. E. McEvoy and the Rev. E. E. Voigt, all of Iowa City.

Frank O'Connor of Dubuque, the Rev. Lew C. Harris of Waterloo, the Rev. Archibald Cardle of Burlington, the Rev. W. J. Stewart of Grinnell, the Rev. Norman J. Webster of Crawfordsville.

Robert Lappen, Rabbi Eugene Mannheim and the Rev. Frank Anderson, all of Des Moines; Charles Schoen, George Sherman, the Rev. Marion H. Williams, Arthur Poe, Mr. Waples and Byron Barlow, all of Cedar Rapids.

Nab Murder Racket Heads

Ask Indictments In Philadelphia Cases Of Insurance Killings

PHILADELPHIA, May 15 (AP)—The law's drive to smash Philadelphia's astonishing insurance-murder racket sped toward wholesale prosecutions today with announcement that all ringleaders are in custody and the search for a "master mind" over.

Assistant District Attorney Vincent P. McDevitt, seeking murder indictments against half a dozen persons, said the "crime corporation's executives" were so "double-crossing" in their deadly schemes to collect life insurance that no member of the group had absolute authority.

"The dominating influence probably was divided," he remarked.

Authorities had indicated their investigation would be incomplete until they nabbed the "brains" of the outfit.

McDevitt said that if any one could be designated as the ring's boss it was Morris Bolber, 48, "psychiatrist," who kept a Brooklyn delicatessen until he surrendered recently to police here.

"He's a smart one," McDevitt observed. "One of the top figures, natively shrewd and clever,—has considerable intelligence, speaks ten languages."

"If he is not the single, outstanding leader, then it appears that there was group direction of this ring; that it acted under a sort of board of directors—a real business organization—you could almost say that they voted on business."
