You're Wrong, Professor!

WERE PEEVED at Prof. E. F. Carpenter of the University of Arizona. Professor Carpenter in a recent speech deplored "the abandonment by college students of the search for knowledge and understanding as goals for academic achievement."

"College students," the professor said, "at least American college students, are different from all other people on this planet; they are the only people who try to get as little as possible for their money. They will spend the most valuable years of their lives, thousands of dollars of their parents' money and some of their own if they can get any, in trying to derive as little as possible out of their college courses, provided only that they will receive their coveted diploma at the end of four years of such effort."

The accusation is not a new one. We've heard it made often, seriously and in fun, by both students and professors, on our own campus. In addition to making a woefully unjust generalization, Professor Carpenter has shown a pitiful lack of understanding of his students. We believe in close associations, personal and academic, between professors and students. Sitting in student bull sessions would undoubtedly aid the Arizona to understand what goes on in the minds of the young men and women who are in colleges and universities today.

It requires a book to tell what college youths are thinking about. Such a book is being written on the University of Iowa campus now. The volume will be out-of-date by the time it is completed, but we'd list it as recommended reading for Professor Carpenter, or any person who believes there is little thinking on the part of students.

It is true that college students do not take full advantage of their opportunities. However, they are not unique among human beings in that trait. It is true, too, that some students enter colleges wanting only to have a good time. By the very restlessness of their dispositions, they soon find their mistaken purpose and leave the campus. We speak as one of the group which we are defending. Belonging to that group, we speak with a knowledge of young people that is not discernible to "outsiders." It is not a college diploma that the seniors who will be graduated this spring have sought. Most college students have been made aware early in their college careers that a diploma is only a scrap of paper, worthless in itself so far as employers are concerned. Yes, knowledge and understanding and ability to do are the things that college students are seeing today. They may not seek these academic goals along the same paths as their ancestors. They have decided that knowing how to live among people is more important in a business office than knowing how to speak Greek and Latin. Is that to be deplored? We think not.

Every time we begin to feel sorry for movie actors because they must endure so many rehearsals and retakes we remember they rehearse those kissing scenes, too.

People aren't interested in politics, according to an editorial. And they are interested still less in politicians.

Peace Is Never Improbable

THREE important developments marked yesterday's news from Europe. The present critical tension and fear of Europe is much less than that which existed at the time of Hitler's Reichstag speech.

Monday both Hitler and Mussolini made tours of their frontier fortifications, causing the diplomats to wonder about their coincidence. The Italian dictator spoke at Turin and emphasized that certain problems, undoubtedly his claims on France, must be solved before they can be peace.

Yesterday, also, Russia rejected Britain's proposals for Soviet adherence to the anti-aggression front, with France and Britain.

Russia is vital to the "stop Hitler" front. It is Russia's armed might that will make the strength of the front greater than that of the dictators. England is not worried, however, about Russia's cooperation. The proposals were turned down because the Soviet didn't like the terms. Eventual Russian support seems inevitable.

Tied in with the anti-aggression front's position is the talk by Mussolini, a talk which showed him to have cooled much. Has he decided that soft talk may accomplish more than bombastic demands? Probably.

Mussolini and Hitler both are cautious men when they get a situation to the breaking point. They have developed techniques for knowing which straw they must not add lest the camel's back be broken. Yes, it must be reassuring to both Italians and Germans to hear that their fortifications are the strongest in the world.

Nobody wants a war if war can be prevented, the actions of all Europe's nations indicate. With the dictators lessening their demands in inverse proportion to the increasing strength of the democratic front, there is new hope for assured peace.

Women have most retentive memories, says scientist. That's right—most wives know their husband's 3 a. m. stories by heart.

"College students," the professor said, "at least American college students, are different from all other people on this planet; they are the only people who try to get as little as possible for their money. They will spend the most valuable years of their lives, thousands of dollars of their parents' money and some of their own if they can get any, in trying to derive as little as possible out of their college courses, provided only that they will receive their coveted diploma at the end of four years of such effort."

The common procedure in totalitarian states is to begin by having the press put demands in the most extravagant terms. The next step is a public speech by the leader. In his speech on the 20th anniversary of fascism, Segnor Benito Mussolini made a comparatively moderate utterance, yet for his French audience the background of the press campaign could not be forgotten. The French premier could not fail to have that in mind when he made his reply in a broadcast address.

These rhetorical flourishes, which require that we should look closely to discern what is an appeal to reason and what an appeal to passion, are one means modern diplomacy has adopted to approach the task of agreement—if agreement is possible. Having given up party politics at home, the dictators have introduced a sort of party politics into international affairs, where nations are the parties, and heads of governments are the leaders. How dangerous this procedure may be, with its anger, its vituperation, its studied rudeness, has been abundantly shown in the recent history of Europe, though "secret diplomacy" too, has its dangers, with its intrigues, its uncertainties, its hidden commitments beyond the reach of public criticism or parliamentary scrutiny.

There is everything to be gained by clear and emphatic statements of public policy, so that governments and people may know what other governments and people stand for. What is wrong is the use of the war technique—the appeal to the passions of the people at home, and the use of bluff in addressing foreigners. The right method is that the fundamentals of policy should be fully and frankly stated in public, in the least aggravating form, and that details should be reserved for discussion and give-and-take in the council chamber.

BIRD WALK

AROUND THE TOWN

With MERLE MILLER

THE HONOR AND THE GORY I see the campus "honor" (Note to Printer: Please put honor in quotes) have announced the new ones... I'd heard of a couple of them before...

I'm voting the English "Prison Without Bars" above the million dollar Hollywood spectacles I've seen in recent months...

That Steinbeck "Grapes of Wrath" has a quiet, bitter tenderness that ought to arouse us to as fundamental a question of the State of Things as they are as Harriet B. Stowe's challenge before that earlier civil conflict.

It deserves a reading by all status queros, a column by all writers of truculent journalism... and of the latter more later this week...

Birthdays And meantime busy computing thoughts for tomorrow's "On Becoming 21"...

And a note in yesterday's mail from Father Ligtuti... I liked his comment on us... "To meet youth that is open minded, liberal, fair and tolerant," he wrote, "is most refreshing. Too often through contacts, traditions, fears youth becomes old age. What a pity!"...

Of course in ideas—Father Ligtuti's rather chipper himself... About 1968 vintage, I'd predict...

Engineering Prof. Mavis and Commerce Prof. Eversole are doubles as I live and look...

Yes, I too went to hear Professor Kittredge... I did think it was the most courteous university audience in a long time... Three-fourths those there had to strain for every word—but not more'n three or four left...

They're trying to get Carl Sandburg for the summer, incidentally... Hope they'll succeed... Or would he have too much to say?

Probably... I mean he'd say something...

Surely the slip of the year was when one campusite accidentally introduced another by, "So-and-so's speeches are known by their quantity and not their quality."... There was a minor sensation Saturday...

They are LOU GERRIG, veteran of the New York Yankees; Prof. William Lyon Phelps, educator, and John Hoysradt, whose impersonations are winning favor in New York amusement circles. Musical features will be under the baton of Peter Van Steeden with vocals by the Merry Macs.

WASHINGTON WORLD By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist

Japan's implied threat of a military occupation of Shanghai's foreign settlement, near the Chinese coast, fell with something of a bombshell's emphasis upon the state department in Washington the other day. It doubtless landed with equal force in London, Paris and several other European capitals' foreign offices.

The mikado's warning was to the effect that anti-Japanese activity within the foreign settlement's limits must stop or an "acute situation" will result. And this activity, it was plainly charged, is encouraged by the settlement's Occidental residents. Probably Tokyo didn't intend to include Germans and Italians among said Occidentals, considering how close their hookup is with Berlin and Rome. Certainly Americans, English and French were referred to, however; presumably Dutch, Belgians and miscellaneous others also.

Belongs to Foreigners To understand the matter it's necessary to take into account the fact that the Shanghai settlement is as much America's as Broadway is as much English as Piccadilly; as much French as the Rue de la Paix. So when the Japanese talk about grabbing it, they virtually suggest a grab of American, English and French soil. It started like this: About 100 or more years ago the western powers were trying to establish trading bases on the Chinese coast. The then Peking government had no particular objection, but it didn't want to be bothered with the adjustment of piffing complications among these outer barbarians on the edge of its territory. Accordingly the emperor agreed, "I'll give you various nationalities a concession apiece down near my water front, but each of you will have to police and generally regulate your own little patch. It will be, in effect, part of the United States, Britain, France or what not. I simply won't have a darn thing to do with it. It will be off my hands." Such concessions thus were granted on an unimportant mudhole on the Whangpoo river, near its confluence with the mighty Yangtze Kiang, just above the point where the latter empties into the ocean. They were about half a mile wide each, along the Whangpoo and about three miles deep inland. They adjoined. They likewise were alongside the native city

THE APPROPRIATE... seasonal tune, "At a Little Hot Dog Stand," gets a thorough going-over by Johnny Green and his orchestra as a feature of "Johnny Presents" over NBC's Red network at 6 o'clock tonight.

Vocalists with the orchestra will be Genevieve Rowe, Floyd Sherman, Frances Adair, Glenn Cross and the Swing Fourteen. Other melodies will be the maestro's own tune of a few seasons ago, "Out of Nowhere," "Tain't what you Do," "Hang Your Heart on a Hickory Limb" and "Wishing."

The dramatic portion of the program will be another "perfect crime" story. Introductions are by Johnny the call boy.

BENNY GOODMAN'S Tuesday night swing school will swing "Berceuse" when it broadcasts from the stage of the Palace theater in Cleveland at 7:30 tonight over CBS. Other numbers to be highlighted on the program are "Don't Be That Way" and "Boy Meets Horn."

JACK BENNY... meets Martha Raye on the Paramount lot and the fun begins! That's the opening sequence of "The Tuesday Night Party" as devised by the scripters for 6:30 tonight.

It will be, in effect, part of the United States, Britain, France or what not. I simply won't have a darn thing to do with it. It will be off my hands." Such concessions thus were granted on an unimportant mudhole on the Whangpoo river, near its confluence with the mighty Yangtze Kiang, just above the point where the latter empties into the ocean. They were about half a mile wide each, along the Whangpoo and about three miles deep inland. They adjoined. They likewise were alongside the native city of Shanghai, which was a burg of small consequence at that time. Presently the celebrated Tai Ping rebellion developed in southern China. It was a vicious affair. It cost about 1,000,000 lives. It likewise began spreading in the direction of the Shanghai foreign concessions. The concessions thereupon generally merged for joint defense. They have remained as a single outfit ever since, known as the International Settlement. But France stayed out. There's a separate "French settlement" yet, but, to most intents and purposes, it's part of the international group. Japan stayed out likewise.

That's extraterritoriality. For instance, if a couple of Americans in internationalized Shanghai get into a litigation with one another they fight it out in their own local American court. If an American commits a crime, he's tried in the same court—a U. S. federal court, exactly such as we have here at home. To be sure, there's an international police force to make arrests, but it doesn't hold an American or an English prisoner; it turns him over to his own consular authorities. He's even accommodated in his own consular jail.

Nevertheless, there are settlement problems that they're not to be dealt with locally. They're handled by an international municipal council. English members predominate, their Shanghai-ites being in a majority. Still, America is strongly represented. And the Chinese residents of the settlement (there are lots of them) have a voice.

Now the Japanese assert that this council is violently anti-Japanese. They maintain that the council, backed by Anglo-Franco-American settlement sentiment, permits the settlement to be made a focus for anti-Japanese agitation. I believe this to be true. It's natural for a loyal Chinese, who wants a safe place from which to operate to the mikado's disadvantage, to do so from inside the Shanghai international settlement, where he's as independent of Japanese authority as he would be in San Francisco or London.

But for the Japs to try to occupy international Shanghai? Why, it would be comparable, theoretically, to a Jap attempt to occupy Chicago's Chinese laundries, or London, or Paris—if they have any.

Health Hints

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

A clergyman in New York state of the disease has disappeared. His next question is: "If a person feels fairly well six months after a severe attack but still has a positive blood, is it advisable to take further treatment or merely continue to rest?"

On general principles we would say that, as explained above, a positive test would not mean anything for several years after a severe attack. But the catch comes in the sentence "feels fairly well."

An investigation of the general subject by Dr. Angle and Dr. Algie was made in the school children of Kansas City, Kansas. They began by wondering whether such large milk consumers as children could have a chronic form of undulant fever, which had never been severe enough to result in an acute prostration.

In about nine per cent they found that the skin test was positive. Impressed by this rather surprising information, they decided to question parents to ascertain the occurrence of chronic complaints in their children.

Such complaints as recurrent headaches, rheumatic symptoms, occasional spells of fever and nervous symptoms were found very frequently in those who had positive skin tests. For instance, there was 34 per cent of rheumatic symptoms in the positives compared to 6 per cent in a group of controls.

The possibility of chronic undulant infection then was indicated not so much by the positive tests as by the combination of positive test and symptoms.

The possibility that many children who show what might be called general bad health really may have chronic undulant fever is emphasized by these studies. The possibility gains emphasis when we remember how common the disease is in herds of dairy cattle throughout the United States.

Intramural Thinclads Finish Annual Meet

Sigma Chi Is Frat Champion

Jefferson, Lower B Annex Co-op, Quad Loop Championships

Intramural athletes donned their track uniforms yesterday afternoon as they vied for honors in the last half of the annual intramural track meet, the concluding sports event on the intramural calendar for the present school year.

Sigma Chi won the fraternity team crown by gathering a total of 30 points, 12 more than their nearest rival, Delta Upsilon. The Sig Chis placed in nine of the 10 events on the schedule.

The second place D. U.'s relied on their one-man team—Benny Stephens—to garner 11 of their 18 points. Stephens won the high jump and the pole vault, placing third in the broad jump.

The quadrangle crown was won by Lower B with Lower A second and Upper C third. The winners collected a total of 36 points; Lower A had 13 and Upper C 12.

Pacing Lower B's win was the work of Joel Hinricks, winner of the 100 and 50 yard dashes and a second place winner in the broad jump, making him the high scorer of the meet with 13 points.

In the Cooperative Dormitory section Jefferson house was the victor with a total of 46 1-4 points, over 20 points more than their nearest rival, Gables, who wound up with a 24 point total.

The winners scored heavily in almost every event, but were unable to place in the shot put and the discus throw. They placed two teams in the 440 yard relay, and took firsts in the 110 yard low hurdles, the broad jump, 100 yard dash, 60 yard high hurdles, and the high jump.

Second North capped the Hillcrest title by scoring 33 points, a 10 point lead over their nearest rival—Second East.

A replica of the fate that befell the 100 yard dash contestants at the Drake Relays was staged in the fraternity section of the 100 yard dash. The slow time of .12.2 was accounted for by the 115 yards covered by the dashmen in this event.

The summaries:

Swimmers Elect Co-Captains

Al Armbruster, Tony Bremer Will Head Next Year's Tank Squad

Featuring the annual Dolphin fraternity picnic Sunday afternoon, a member of last season's swimming team was awarded the Schroeder trophy, co-captains were elected for next year and 20 new members were initiated.

Ray Walters, captain of the Hawkeye team last winter, was the man to be voted by his teammates as the most valuable swimmer. Walters, star dash man of the team, won first places in all of the dual meets in which he competed, except for the Michigan affair. He will receive the trophy at the sports dinner Wednesday night, with E. G. "Dad" Schroeder, director of athletics, making the presentation.

Taking Walter's place at the head of the Iowa tank team next year will be a pair of crack backstrokers, Al Armbruster and Tony Bremer. The two, the first co-captains in the history of Iowa swimming, were installed in the midst of an elaborate ceremony which included a ducking for both. The derby hat which goes with the captain's position had to be worn by each during the enforced swim, so the duckings occurred with but one victim at a time in the water.

The Dolphins also gave out awards to Dave Armbruster, Iowa swimming coach, and Bob Lowry, retiring president.

Heading the list of recruits who became regular members of the Dolphin organization was Chuck Frankamp, captain of the freshman swimming team, who led Hawkeye first year men to wins in all of their postal meets last winter. Frankamp was the Iowa swimmer who pushed Tom Haynes to a national record during the Iowa-Michigan meet here in February.

Whitney Martin's SPORTS TRAIL

- New Life
- Help for Tony
- He Can't Lose

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, May 15 (AP)—Twenty four hours before, his baseball obituary had been written. The long career of Tony Lazzeri apparently had ended with his release by the Brooklyn Dodgers, and even "Boss" Egan "Up" himself, bewildered by the curt dismissal, opined dismally that "I don't know what I'll do."

Then, just as abruptly, a new life dawned for the 34-year-old veteran. He will play third base for Mr. Bill Terry's New York Giants, and this corner has a sneaking idea that the Giants will be a better ball club as a result.

They laughed when Terry acquired Zeke Bonura. Zeke could hit, the critics admitted, but he couldn't stop a clock with a hammer in the field. Yet Bonura, despite occasional fielding lapses, has been a valuable man to the club.

In getting Lazzeri, Terry again is braving the jibes of the critics. They will say the Giants have a two-man infield. Bonura can't move far, and Lazzeri's weary legs won't carry him over much ground.

Terry knew Bonura's shortcomings when he signed him, and he knows all about Lazzeri. He figured Burgess Whitehead could help Bonura cover first base, and he knows the speedy Bill Jurges can go to his right far enough to get some of the balls that Lazzeri's groping fingers fail to reach.

The acquisition of Lazzeri is another proof that Terry wasn't fooling down south when he said: "Power is what we want." Lazzeri, like Bonura, is a power hitter. And with the Giant pitching so far a little on the frail side, it takes power to win ball games. The return of Carl Hubbell to winning form yesterday was a favorable omen, but one game doesn't make a season and even Hubbell wouldn't say how long his patched up wing can last.

Naturally, Terry is gambling in placing Lazzeri at third base, but even if Tony covers a spot the size of an umbrella he should be an improvement. George Myatt was too erratic, and Mel Ott, a fine outfielder, just isn't a third baseman. Figuring that way, Terry can't lose, and personally we don't think he will.

In the American league the deal of the week was just another case of the rich getting richer and the poor getting what they can. The Detroit Tigers wanted Buck Newsom, Brown hurler, with the result that a 10-player deal was in reality a one-player deal.

Let down by Freddy Hutchinson, their prize rookie, the Tigers were in dire need of mound material, and Newsom, a man who won 20 games with a seventh place club last year, was the answer. They had to use a lot of bait, but they figure the prize was worth it.

Oddly enough, the Browns also figure they have bolstered their hurling staff in the deal, which brought them four pitchers. It's all in the point of view, but the impression remains that an outstanding pitcher with a losing club would be more liable to go great guns with a team like the Tigers than a quartet of so-so hurlers with the Tigers would be to win consistently for the Browns.

Or, in other words, we like the Tiger end of the deal.

Ray Walters, Ed Gerber Win All-University Canoe Event

Two members of Coach Al Armbruster's varsity swimming team left their old habitat in the Iowa fieldhouse for the Iowa river yesterday afternoon where they paddled to a victory in the annual all-university canoe race.

The two swimmers, Capt. Ray Walters and Ed Gerber, covered the mile and one-half course in 11 minutes, 54 4-10 seconds.

The winners held a slight lead the entire race but were pushed hard by Banford Cochrane and Al Tennes, the second place winners of the race.

Bob Sebastian and Herb Luebeck piloted their canoe to a third place victory while the combination of LaRosen and Norman White came in fourth.

Walters' win yesterday was the third time that he has been in the winning canoe of the all-university canoe race. He also piloted the canoe that won the all-fraternity canoe race Saturday afternoon.

All-Sports Dinner Tomorrow To Feature WGN Announcer

Diamond Team To Face Cats This Week End

Hawkeyes Now In Tie for Top Place In Big Ten Scramble

Another "crucial" series is on tap for the coming week end when the University of Iowa baseball nine meets Northwestern's Wildcats in a pair of games. The Hawkeyes are returning to the Big Ten west after an absence of two weeks, having smothered Luther in two games last Friday and Saturday.

The Old Gold team was not unwillingly pushed into a tie for first place in the western conference Saturday when Ohio State's hapless Buckeyes rose up against the league-leading Purdue outfit in the last of the ninth inning to defeat the Boiler-makers, 6-5.

At the same time, Michigan and Indiana, who were in second and fourth positions respectively, were cutting each other's throats by dividing a brace of tilts. The net result of the favorable week end was that the Hawks and Purdue are now tied for the lead.

However, in the meantime the stock of the Northwestern team took a sharp rise when the Purple walloped Illinois twice for its fourth and fifth consecutive conference victories.

Sports Dinner Speaker

BOB ELSON

Bob Elson Is Broadcaster At Chicago Station

Announces Baseball Contests of White Sox, Chicago Cubs

Taking time off from a job which includes daily broadcasts of baseball games from WGN, Chicago, Bob Elson, one of the best known and most entertaining of radio announcers, will address University of Iowa intramural champions and sports fans at the annual intramural sports dinner here tomorrow night.

The dinner committee, now almost buried under a pile of details, such as selling tickets, is considering itself fortunate to have removed the main problem of a speaker in such a manner. Elson takes the place of Major Griffith, athletic commissioner of the Big Ten, who addressed the gathering last year.

The Elson work at the present time has variety as an addition to the obvious interest of big league baseball. At noon, six days each week, he goes out on State street with his mike to talk things over with Chicago residents in his "Man on the Street" program. He is full of surprises in this show. He may ask for the definition of "parade" or whether San Marino is a country, a night club or a ballet dancer. And chances are he'll slip in questions on who is leading the National league in runs batted in, or about the last place team in 1938. All this is only natural. Elson having been a baseball player while in high school and college.

At 2:45 in the afternoon, Elson goes north to Wrigley field, or south to Comiskey park, as the case might be, and pays a visit down in the dugout with the ball players. This show is called the "Leadoff Man" and Bob scoops out the inside slants of baseball from the players for the edification of the thousands of radio baseball fans who are settling down for a couple hours of America's favorite sport.

During the games, of course, Elson reels off play-by-play accounts. There is no such a thing as time out for him during a ball game. When a slugger goes to the plate, Elson is there with a summary of the player's life history and batting average to date. Bob also takes a hand in the game by telling his own version of whether or not the batter is signalling a runner when he dusts the plate.

French Hurls As Cubs Down Pirates 6 to 2

PITTSBURGH, May 15 (AP)—The Cubs resumed their winning ways over the Pittsburgh Pirates today, trimming the Bucs 6-2 behind the six-hit pitching of the veteran Larry French. The victory was the 10th for the Cubs in the last 11 meetings of the clubs.

French was in rare form, retiring 14 of his former teammates in succession from the fourth inning to the ninth. The game gave the National league champions six victories against seven defeats for their first long road trip.

Rip Sewell, who blanked the Giants on the Polo grounds a few days ago, was hit hard by the Cubs and stepped aside for a pinch hitter in the sixth. Mace Brown and Russell Bauers finished.

Augie Galan, moved to cleanup position in the batting order, reached first base for the eighth successive time in two games, getting a walk and three singles today.

The Pirates matched these two runs in their half of the inning on Arky Vaughan's single, Gus Suhr's double and "Jeep" Handley's line single. Excepting Paul Waner's single in the third and Bill Brubaker's double in the fourth, both coming with two out, not a Pirate reached first base until the ninth, when Johnny Rizzo singled.

Bill Herman's double and singles by Jimmy Gleason and Galan gave the Cubs the deciding run in the third. They added three more in the fifth when Herman walked, Hack and Gleason lined out, but Galan singled and Leiber doubled, all three runners scoring on a poor return from the outfield by Fern Bell and on Berres' error.

Ferrell Blanks Athletics in 3-0 Yankee Victory

PHILADELPHIA, May 15 (AP)—The New York Yankees blanked the Athletics for the second straight day today, winning 3-0 behind the combined five-hit pitching of Wes Ferrell and John Murphy to run their victory streak to five straight.

Ferrell, making his second start of the year, was credited with the win, although he had to leave after the seventh inning because of a pain in the elbow. He allowed all five hits made by the A's.

Buck Ross pitched the first five frames for the A's, let in two of the Yankee runs and was charged with his third setback of the year, as the Yankees maintained their game and a half lead in the American league race.

Dahlgren, with a triple and single, and Selkirk, with two singles, paced the Yanks' nine-hit attack.

Red Sox Pound Out 9-2 Victory Over Senators

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Fritz Ostermueller held the Senators to eight hits today while Boston pounded four Washington pitchers for a 9-2 victory.

The Red Sox hopped on southpaw Ken Chase, Washington starting hurler, for four hits and as many runs in two innings. Then they hammered out five more runs off Bud Thomas and Pete Appleton. Walter Masterston pitched the last inning.

The Senators were held runless until the eighth when they scored once. They added another in the ninth.

Joe Vosmik paced Boston's attack with four hits, including a double and a triple.

The identities of the nine junior women who will serve on Mortar Board, honorary society for senior women, next year were revealed Sunday afternoon when for the first time in the history of the local chapter the traditional tapping ceremony was held in the home of President and Mrs. Eugene A. ## RAINBOW ON THE RIVER

There's a rainbow on the River Rouge by the Ford plant—oil in a thin coating, washed from metals and parts by the water used to cool or clean them.

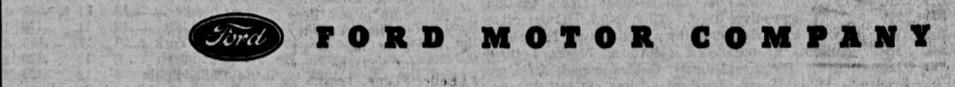

To most folks that colorful coating spelled just oil; no more. To Ford men it spelled "waste." They dipped their fingers in it...

rubbed them together... reflected. A few days later a strange device was installed where the stream flows through a narrow channel into the mooring slip. It was an oil skimmer.

Each month that skimmer reclaims thousands of gallons of oil. Reclaimed, it is used as fuel in the open-hearth building.

Poor Richard said straws show how the wind blows. That's how the wind blows at the Rouge. Pennies saved where pennies can be saved safely are multiplied into millions by large-scale Ford operations.

At the end of that rainbow on the waters of the Rouge, Ford owners find extra value, lower price.

Comparative informality will rule because of their own wish to conform to American customs. Procedure will be just about what it is when the President entertains the Supreme Court or the diplomatic corps, which isn't much different from the big garden party your aunt gave to the Episcopal bishop.

One Advance Hope

The first Americans to see the King and Queen, after the welcome, will be those who view them from along the curb. They're expected to act just like any other crowd gathered to see celebrities. The State Department grins ge-

IF YOU SHOULD MEET THE KING—HERE'S HOW

If you should be presented to the king there are a few don'ts you will have to remember except—don't smoke unless he does, don't keep your hands in your pockets, don't sit unless he does.

As you're introduced, you can say, "How do you do, Your Majesty." You address the king or the queen as "Your Majesty" when you're presented, but in conversing afterward, just use "Sir" and "Ma'am."

If you're a man you'll shake hands with both the monarch and "how as you would to the President."

If you're a woman, you'll shake hands and curtsy if you want to. It's customary in England, but will not be required in America.

You may be nervous at first, but you'll soon find them an easy couple to talk to.

It will not be necessary to back away after meeting them. Even in England that's only done now occasionally at the most severely formal functions.

But they do hope the man-on-the-street and his missus will realize that they are, to some extent, hosts to the two young people who are coming here as a symbol of a friendly nation. That diplomatic language for "No Bronx cheers, please."

But there will be three occasions in Washington when groups of people will be personally introduced to the royal visitors. Some of those to be introduced probably are wondering already if they can walk backward without tripping. But the State Department says they needn't practice; there'll be no walking backward. The introduction will be the following: art education, English, French, biology, home economics, journalism, mathematics, physical education, physics, social studies, speech and music.

Administration courses include organization, personnel, and publicity, public school finance, the elementary school principal, individual instruction, seminar in school administration, seminar in higher education, educational personnel, legal aspects of school administration.

Dealing with the history and philosophy of education are courses in approaches in liberal and cultural education, history of education in the United States and history of modern education.

Seven educational psychology courses are offered: advanced educational psychology, introduction to statistical methods, educational measurements, advanced statistical method, seminar in advanced educational psychology, psychology of childhood and individual instruction.

A large number of courses are grouped under the general heading of elementary education. Among them are industrial arts for the intermediate grades, newer practices in the teaching of reading, supervision of language arts, industrial arts for primary grades, supervision of arithmetic.

Forty Science Courses Offered During Session

With 40 courses scheduled for the summer school session, the chemistry department will offer classes of study for graduates and undergraduates in inorganic, quantitative analysis, organic, colloid and industrial chemistry.

Elementary and advanced courses will be offered in many phases of the science, according to Prof. P. A. Bond of the chemistry department.

For high school and college teachers, a special class in the methods of teaching chemistry with emphasis on lecture and laboratory presentation will be given by Professor Bond.

Prof. W. G. Eversole of the chemistry department is scheduled to head a class in applied electrochemistry and in theoretical electrochemistry. The latter course, which is open to graduate students only, deals with modern theories of solution and electrical properties of solutions and surfaces.

Courses in chemical engineering, with the law of conservation of matter in solving problems arising in the chemical industries, will be offered under the direction of Prof. H. L. Olin. He will also head a chemical plant inspection trip which qualified students will make during the summer session.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Second Semester 1938-1939
Tuesday, May 23, 8 a.m. to Wednesday, May 31, 4 p.m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (1), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below).

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students, and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation from this Schedule, in the case of any examination, except as authorized by the Committee of Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time and supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of completing examinations earlier will not be permitted. Students should prepare and deposit such petitions in the offices of the Deans of Men (men) and Women (women).

In case a student has as many as three examinations in a single day, one of them being a "SPECIAL GROUP" examination, the Committee will authorize only the "SPECIAL GROUP" examination for another time, within examination week, than that specified in the Schedule below. Each petition must specify the exact title and course number of each one of the three courses involved, and the day, and the period, for each of these examinations as indicated in the Schedule.

If such a student's three examinations on a single day include two examinations (either at 8-10 or at 2-4) in one or both of which are found more than one section, at different times, he should, in his petition, clearly set out the facts; and ask the instructor to indicate on the petition whether he is willing to allow him to take his examination in the different section at the different time, as indicated.

Each such petition, before it is filed, should have the approval-statement of the instructor who is able and willing to give the examination at another time (within "examination week") than that provided for in the Schedule.

(Because the "SPECIAL GROUP" examinations are arranged for the special accommodation of the departments and instructors involved, it is expected that in such a case the instructors in charge of the "SPECIAL GROUP" examination should give the examination at another time.)

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade-sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade-mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and the instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

Upon the student's taking the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card, and not on any other card.

In the cases of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F and G) the Schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double verticle line.

particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column.) The instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour May 18 or 19; if possible, May 11 or 12.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in case of courses having both lectures and recitations and laboratory periods. The first class meeting of the first of these five examination periods will be held on Tuesday, May 23, 8 a.m. The first meeting of the second, third, fourth, and fifth examination periods will be held on Wednesday, May 24, 2 p.m., Thursday, May 25, 2 p.m., Friday, May 26, 2 p.m., and Saturday, May 27, 2 p.m., respectively.

N.B. All students enrolled in Principles of Speech (1), and sections A and C of Principles of Speech (2), meet during the final examination week in rooms announced by the instructor as follows:

Tuesday, May 23—Speech (1), 8-10 a.m.; Section D, 8-10 a.m.; Section E, 8-10 a.m.
Wednesday, May 24—Section 4C, 10-12 a.m.; Section A, 1-3 p.m.; Section E, 3-5 p.m.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within Saturday, May 27—Section 1, 8-10 a.m.; Section C, 1-2 p.m.; Section 4A, 1-3 p.m.; Section G, 3-5 p.m.

All sophomores, juniors and seniors in Speech (2) meet Wednesday, May 24, from 10-12 in rooms announced by their respective instructors.

All freshmen in sections B, F and J of Speech (2) and all students in section B of Speech (4) meet on the days and at the hours, and in the rooms, announced by their respective instructors.

"OFF" classes—namely, those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 23 to May 31 inclusive,—Sunday and Memorial Day excepted.

2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F and G, since for such "off" classes as these five examination periods will be held on Tuesday, May 23, 8 a.m. In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations for more than one class at any of these times,—if no student is a member of more than one of these classes.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time.

According to another regulation which is an record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs." unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "F"—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled special report card signed by the Secretary of the Committee, indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

Judge To Rule On Directed Verdict Today

State Rests Case Against Robinson On Larceny Charge

Judge Harold D. Evans who is presiding in the state's case against Leonard Robinson, Chicago, will rule at 9 o'clock this morning on a motion made yesterday afternoon by defense attorneys to direct a verdict.

The state rested its case yesterday afternoon at 4:30 after calling seven witnesses to the stand. Those who testified were Eugene Dean and Stanley Kuczek, Chicago; Elmer Schleuter and William Schwinder, Davenport police detectives; W. H. Bender, former Iowa City police chief; Don McComas, Johnson county sheriff, and George P. Hauser, owner of a local jewelry store from which the defendant is alleged to have stolen two wrist watches.

Robinson was arrested by Davenport detectives July 8, 1938, together with two accomplices, Dean and Kuczek, who were convicted at Davenport on a larceny charge and were sentenced to the state reformatory in Anamosa. Sheriff McComas and Deputy Sheriff Preston Koser returned Dean and Kuczek here yesterday to testify for the state.

Because of sickness of the defendant and inability to get some of the defense witnesses here at definite times the case had been continued from the 1938 court trials. The defendant had been free under a $2,000 bond.

Petit jurors impaneled yesterday morning to hear the case are August Grothe, Will Holland, C. M. Karsten, Mildred M. Larew, Louise Lumsden, B. E. Manville, George F. Moomler, William Pirkel, Bessie Probst, Robert Seiler, Edward Smahel and H. W. Strickler.
