See Record Crowd For Sports Dinner; Many Tickets Sold

Bob Elson To Be Speaker At Event Tonight

Athletic Champs To Get Trophies, Medals At Annual Dinner

Sports fans and intramural champions of the University of Iowa yesterday began in earnest the rush for tickets to the annual intramural sports dinner and, at a late hour last night, it was a certainty that an even larger crowd will be on hand at 6:30 tonight than was present last year when over 500 persons gathered at Iowa Union.

As usual, the ticket sales had moved slowly at first, but yesterday, expressing a steadily mounting interest in speaker Bob Elson, university men and faculty members began to purchase tickets and, according to dinner committee members, the sale is now well ahead of last year's successful event.

Quick Trip!
Meanwhile, word came last night from Elson to Dave Armbruster, Iowa intramural head, that the station WGN sports announcer would arrive in Iowa City just in time for tonight's program. He will broadcast the first few innings of today's National league game in Chicago between the Cubs and Brooklyn, and then board a train for Clinton from where he will be rushed to Iowa City in an automobile.

With President Eugene A. Gilmore, Prof. George Haskell and other local speakers on the program, and with music to be furnished by a Quadrangle group, and other campus organizations, added to the evening's entertainment, the list of events for the night is even larger than last year.

Champions Get Medals
Besides these entertainments there is, of course, the tremendous number of medals that will award intramural champions and members of championship teams. To that long list will be added all-university trophies, fraternity trophies and several other athletic awards, including the Schroeder award that will be presented to Ray Walters, most

Palmer Inquest Fails To Show Cause of Death

SARASOTA, Fla., May 16 (AP)—Inquest testimony late today raised doubts a blow from the fist of meat cutter Kenneth Nosworthy fatally injured socialite Potter D'Orsay Palmer in a picnic brawl.

After witnesses had said Palmer was persistently quarrelsome at the stag affair last Thursday, and Nosworthy acknowledged striking the off-married Chicago heir, Assistant State Attorney W. M. Smiley told the jurors an autopsy had not borne out the report the playboy's death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage caused by a "terrific blow" on the head.

Smiley said the autopsy had disclosed neither hemorrhage nor skull fracture and further expert medical examination would be necessary to determine the cause of Palmer's death in a Sarasota hospital yesterday.

The inquest was recessed indefinitely to permit this examination, which Smiley said would be made by six physicians he had summoned.

Before the inquest, Sheriff C. J. Hutchins said he was convinced the six-foot Chicagoan was the aggressor in any trouble with Nosworthy and he saw no reason to lodge charges or arrest the young Bradenton man.

KU KLUX KLAN? Kappa House Is Scene Of Fiery Cross

Iowa City firemen were called to the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority house, 728 E. Washington, to put out a cross which was blazing in the front yard about 11:45 last night. No damage was reported.

Firemen believed that the fire was started as a prank, and said that the sorority girls could assign no reason for the fiery cross. The cross was described as approximately five feet in height, and it had been saturated in gasoline.

F. R. Defends Beef Purchase

Says Better Cuts Canned in Argentine Than United States

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt defended the purchase of Argentine canned corned beef for the navy again today with an assertion that in the South American country the best cuts of beef are used for canning.

In the United States, he added, the best cuts are sold on the fresh meat market and other grades used for ground meat products. In the Argentine, on the other hand, he said, there is not a sufficient market to absorb the supply of best cuts, a surplus exists, and it goes into cans.

Storm of Controversy
An order approved by the president for the purchase of 48,000 pounds of the South American product has aroused a storm of controversy in congress.

The president's statement today was made at a press conference. At a previous conference he had defended the purchase as involving both a cheaper price and better beef.

Earlier in the day, Senator Capper (R-Kans.) laid before the senate protests against the order by D. M. Hildebrand of Seward, Neb., president of the United States Livestock association, and by Governor Payne Ratner of Kansas.

"The fact that the present administration has seen fit to buy beef from Argentina when our livestock producers have been working under a heavy handicap for the last four or five years indicates it is not in sympathy with making a market for our feed grains, as the only market the farmer has for corn and by-products of the farm is livestock," said Hildebrand.

Better Beef?
He added that American consumers were encouraged to buy the imported product by the announcement of the navy's purchases and the president's statement that it is better beef.

"We question the statement that Argentine beef is better than American corn fed beef," he said. Ratner asked that the order for the imported beef be cancelled and called for a definite policy to prevent future purchases of foreign products by the government when domestic goods were available.

"Neighborhoodliness, like charity, begins at home," he said.

Royalty Begins Good-Will Tour Today

QUEBEC, May 16 (AP)—The Empress of Australia, bringing King George and Queen Elizabeth to Quebec to start their Canadian-American tour, anchored tonight off the village of St. Jean below this city.

The liner docked shortly after 9:30 p.m. (CST) and their majesties planned to spend the night aboard, before proceeding up the river 14 miles to Quebec proper tomorrow morning.

It was the first night since they left Portsmouth ten days ago that they could sleep aboard the liner without the possibility of disturbance from the throbbing of the giant turbines.

Quebec, old French-Canadian city was jammed with crowds in holiday mood, ready for the long-planned official welcome in the morning.

As the liner came up the St. Lawrence river today great bonfires were lighted by loyal French Canadians on the shore in greeting to the king and queen. The liner was sighted at 4 p.m.,

Fla. Rejects Pension Plan

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 16 (AP)—The Florida senate tonight overwhelmingly defeated a state $200-a-month Townsend old age pension plan.

The vote on the bill was 28 to 8.

The bill would have levied a 2 per cent transactions tax on every type of business to pay as nearly $200 a month to all persons over 60 years of age as the tax would produce.

It was debated for more than three hours before a chamber packed with elderly persons.

Senator S. L. Holland of Bartow said four senators had word from Dr. Francis E. Townsend, creator of the nationwide Townsend plan, that he opposed the bill.

"Utterly opposed to any scheme for pension for aged by single state," the telegram from Townsend read. "These efforts inevitably doomed to failure. Pensioners to be effective and adequate to restore prosperity must be national in scope."

GETTING WARMER Straw Hats Come Out At 90 Degrees

DES MOINES, May 16 (AP)—In Des Moines today the mercury did something it hadn't done on May 16 since 1884.

Straw hats came out of hiding as the temperature registered a high of 90 degrees at 3:30 p.m., tying the record established in 1880 and matched on the same day four years later.

'Shoot To Kill,' Troops' Orders

HARLAN, Ky., May 16 (AP)—State troops extended territory across the Harlan county line into the edge of Bell county today as soft coal operators along the Kentucky-West Virginia line signed a union shop contract affecting 14,000 men.

Brigadier General Ellerbe Carter, commanding the national guardsmen in the area, at his press conference late in the day, in answer to a question said:

"The troops are under orders to shoot and shoot to kill when necessary.

"There'll be no pushing around of soldiers on this duty. None have been pushed around."

The general said he had an understanding with United Mine Workers' union officials about picketing and that he believed the union "is sincere in their effort to prevent picketing disorders."

Woodrow told Judge Joseph E. Meyer his wife had refused to come to Mitchellville and live with him since their marriage last Aug. 18 at Norman, Okla.

Italy, Germany Will Cooperate

'Cannot Be Diverted' From Colonial Goal Until Full Recovery

VIENNA, May 16 (AP)—Officials of the German colonial association were told today that Italy and Germany would cooperate closely when Germany opens a definite drive to recover her war-lost 1,000,000 square-mile colonial empire.

"Italy will march at the side of Germany in the colonial question," Dr. Mario Marzagala, Premier Mussolini's cabinet director, declared on being welcomed at the city hall. He came to Vienna to attend the convention of 25,000 nazis advocating return of colonies Germany lost in the World war.

To Recover Colonies
Addressing delegates to the convention, Gen. Franz Ritter von Epp, president of the association, emphasized Germany's resolution to recover her colonies.

"This is a goal from which we can not be diverted," he said. "It is a mistake to believe that Hitler is unfriendly to England, but the fuhrer's colonial demands will have to be met.

"The colonies may be recovered in a year or in a decade, but it is certain that they will be returned to the reich."

General von Epp counseled that Germans speed up an already intense study of problems of colonial administration.

It is not too soon, he said, to think about the education of children of German settlers in Africa who, if German aspirations are realized, will shortly be absorbed into the reich.

Receive Financial Aid
"These German children must have a German education," he asserted.

Many schools in former German colonies now receive financial aid from the colonial association. He advised that consideration be given to a proposal to bring these children to Germany to complete their education.

Marzagala headed an Italian delegation of eight officials who brought data on Italian colonial experience which was placed at the disposal of Germany.

Italy "as a colonizer in Libya" was featured in sectional meetings of the rally. A great march past General von Epp was scheduled for Thursday.

Would Replace Men According To Rank, Age

'Need Revitalization To Insure Efficient Leadership of Army'

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP)—Asserting that army officers who are over age for their rank constituted the "weakest link in the national defense, Secretary Woodring recommended today that congress adopt legislation to weed them out of the service.

Testifying before the house military committee, Woodring declared that the possibility of the United States being called upon to defend the western hemisphere made it imperative that they be replaced by younger men.

Force Retirement

He recommended speedy approval of legislation which would force the retirement of about 2,300 officers. Specifically, the legislation provides that when the number of officers who retire, or die, each year is less than 4.35 per cent of the total officer personnel, enough additional officers of specified ages and ranks would be retired automatically to make that percentage.

Officials said that if the plan went into operation it would retire brigadier-generals over 62 years of age, colonels over 60, lieutenant-colonels over 58, majors over 55 and captains over 50.

Woodring said the problem of "vitalizing" the army's officer corps had become "acute" and should be remedied at once to "insure vigorous and efficient leadership of our armies."

Approve Defense Program
At the other end of the capitol, a senate appropriations subcommittee gave further impetus to the defense program by approving the major provisions of the record-breaking $773,000,000 naval appropriations bill.

The measure, already passed by the house, carries funds for 500 new fighting planes and 23 new warships, including two 45,000-ton battleships—the fleet's largest.

The senate subcommittee deferred action on a house-approved prohibition against the purchase of Argentine canned corned beef for the navy to give Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) an opportunity to testify in support of it.

President Roosevelt recently ordered the navy to buy the Argentine product because, he said, it was both cheaper and better. His action provoked a storm of congressional criticism.

Report France, Eng. To Meet Soviet Demand

LONDON, May 17 (Wednesday) (AP)—Informed sources said today Britain and France had decided to offer Soviet Russia a guarantee of support if she were forced to fight any aggressor from the west in fulfilling guarantees to small countries on her border.

The decision was reported to have been made after a two-hour meeting of the foreign affairs committee of the cabinet. It represented a concession to Russian demands for reciprocal protection if she entered the British-led front.

It was understood from these reports that Britain planned first to ask an immediate joint declaration by France, Britain and Russia of determination to resist any aggression. Then the soviet would be asked to guarantee all bordering states against aggression, including Poland, Rumania, Estonia, Latvia and Finland.

If called on to fight as a result of these pledges, the soviet would be joined by Britain, and France.

Military staff talks to arrange each country's part in any war resulting from these pledges would be provided, it was reported.

Britain originally had proposed that Russia give pledges to Poland and Rumania similar to those given by Britain and France, with the proviso that Russia would not be obliged to fight except to support British and French forces after they already had taken the field.

Great Britain Breaking Faith In Palestine?

MIGHTY Great Britain is making another move to render herself indissoluble by any troubles not intimately her own. At least, confidential sources breathe the news that by 1944 Britain is planning to discharge itself from any responsibility in the Jewish national home question.

The idea around which British authorities have built their plans is the establishment of an independent state of Palestine in which the ratio of Jews to Arabs would stand at 40 to 60. After the first five years of regulated migration all Jewish immigration would depend on Arab will.

The best plan which Britain has been able to evolve in this situation was proposed by the Royal Commission last year. It centered in the organization of Jewish, Arab and British ruled districts. Those in command have, however, labeled the plan as impracticable.

Getting around to an independent state of Palestine would take some time, it is true. The slow introduction of Palestinians into the affairs of state would have to be undergone. After a passage of five years, a government selected group would be given the authority to draw up a constitution with special regard for Holy places and the observation of British-Jewish obligations.

The general conclusion has been reached that, if after 10 years, this plan is not found to be a solution, then representatives of various interested groups will be called upon to reach a more satisfactory settlement of affairs. We have said before that the British government is interested primarily in the British government. This is as it should be if old John Bull does not profess to be a philanthropist. But we cannot help wondering whether, in getting rid of "unnecessary liabilities" Great Britain is merely putting off till tomorrow what should be settled today. Palestine has, after all, been under British control for a considerable number of years and the problem of Palestine isn't a simple responsibility which can be thrown off with a few signatures or a bit of paper.

The Rewards Of The Scholar

HONORED AT a dinner Sunday night for his accomplishments in scholarship, Dr. Frank Luther Mott modestly told his friends, "The important thing in what you are doing here is giving generously your encouragement to research and to labor in scholarly fields for the future."

ern activities. It is true, however, that the need for research exists more today than in the past when life went along at a slower pace.

The awards of the scholar are few. The greatest must be personal satisfaction. Add to personal satisfaction, which means little by itself to many young people today, the knowledge that other rewards, such as appreciation by others, is forthcoming and the fields of scholarship are made more attractive.

Research is so vital in our scientific civilization that its encouragement should be the constant concern of those who benefit from it. Knowing that there are rewards for effort, even though the awards be not as great as other fields offer, will do much to attract young scholars.

TO SAVE THE BILL OF RIGHTS To halt the alarming inroads of anti-democratic legislation in Congress and to formulate a program to get the progressive movement of the last six years back on its feet, a "national emergency conference" will meet in Washington Monday.

Some of the country's most distinguished liberals and educational leaders sponsor the meeting. Among them are Prof. Edward A. Ross, retired scholar of the University of Wisconsin, Prof. Robert Mors Lovett of the University of Chicago, Louis Adamic, famous author, Oswald Garrison Villard and Max Lerner, liberal journalists.

The welter of anti-alien bills that sprang up in Congress after the recent Supreme Court decision—or indecision—on the alien Communist deportation case, is the immediate cause of the emergency. The emergency is real, and the steps to meet it are none too soon.

Already two notorious repressive measures have passed the House of Representatives. One, the Dempsey bill, aims not only at deporting a large number of Communists but suppressing native-born Communists through a technicality. The other, the Hobbs bill, would provide concentration camps for aliens whose countries of origin will not accept them or no longer exist.

While the average American might minimize this danger by pointing out that both proposed laws are manifestly unconstitutional, this is not enough to protect us. Though both are anti-democratic and violate the fundamental principles of our form of government, no one can be sure that the Supreme Court will strike them down.

CFARA ROCKMORE. . . therein virtuoso, will be interviewed as Fred Allen's "person you didn't expect to meet" and will play that novel electrical instrument on "Town Hall Tonight" at 7 o'clock this evening over NBC's Red network.

Invented a decade ago by Leon Theremin, a Russian, the theremin makes melodic sound with the assistance of the surrounding atmosphere. Different tones are produced by the operator standing in front of the instrument, which resembles a refrigerator, and moving his hands through the air.

As a second feature of the program, Allen will lead the Mighty Allen Art Players through a mystery titled "Murder in Cafe Society." Portland Hoffa, the Merry Man, the Town Hall quartet and Peter Van Steeden and his Troubadours will be there.

(Fred, on a recent Wednesday, refused to let actor Charlie Cantor ruin a perfectly good gag and left him feeling that a perfectly good shave was wasted. At dress rehearsal, Cantor had not had time to shave so Fred referred to him as "that man who's breaking in a two-day beard for a friend.") Charlie came back at broadcasting time boasting a close shave and a massage, and was thoroughly disgusted when Fred kept the gag in the show.)

"BOLERO" . . . by Ravel will be offered in all of its unusual musical sound effects as a highlight feature of the "Raymond Paige, 99 Men and a Girl" program over the Columbia network at 8 o'clock tonight.

From then I've worked, off and on, with Lowell until quite lately, on one newspaper or another. Boy!—is he anonymous, so far as I'm concerned.

Lowell always was a corking good politico-economic liberal. For quite a spell the newspapers he was working for were as liberal as he was. But with the incoming of the new deal his newspaper connection turned a trifle more anti-entirely to the right.

It must have been a strain, too, giving up a life connection upon a point of principle! Out in the Cold. Well, he was out in the cold. However, the new deal has a reputation for taking care of the faithful. It made him director of the National Emergency council. The council's task has been to keep its ear to the ground, to feel the popular pulse, to keep an accurate check upon public reactions, to reckon with the results of new deal policies, and the doing of new deal office holders.

AROUND THE TOWN

With MERLE MILLEP

ON ATTAINING A MAJORITY WHILE IN THE MINORITY I haven't heard a word from Mr. Martin Dies, but maybe today I will. . . . Until this morning my words were only the idle chatter of a changeling minor. . . .

But today I am a man—or something. . . . Today I am 21. . . . It's a challenging age to be 21 in. . . . Lincoln put it best when he said, "Some generations have a rendezvous with destiny."

My generation is one. . . . We've tried to avoid it, my generation. . . . We've tried to pretend it's a stable, static world in which virtues collect the spoils. . . . And all of us will be the victors. . . .

But it grows on us. . . . In a day when Ph.D.'s have been pounding the sidewalks and M.A.'s operating oil stations and B.A.'s thankful for WPA, the mirage of $10,000 yearly is fading. . . . We look now only for security. . . . That's progress. . . .

Remember the appointment in Samara. . . . A servant was hurrying into the marketplace to make a purchase for his master. And there he saw death. . . .

"Master," he hurried home to cry, "I have seen death in the marketplace, and I am afraid. I must hurry away to Samara to avoid him." . . .

And the servant mounted a camel and started to Samara, which was a day distant. . . . Later in the day the master too was in the marketplace, and he saw death and spoke to him. . . .

"Why did you frighten my servant?" he asked. "He saw you in the marketplace this morning, and it frightened him." . . .

"Saw me? Here?" asked death. "How surprising that he should be here. I have an appointment with him tomorrow, in Samara." . . .

No more can my generation avoid its rendezvous. . . . And so I'm glad to be 21 today. . . . Glad but not satisfied. . . . There's a world to be built in my day, a new one. . . . I want to be an architect of ideas. . . .

A world based on the premise that man is of necessity good. . . . That all men can live together freely, equally, happily. . . . A world where a Jesus Christ might not be crucified. . . .

And I have hope that such things may be. . . . For I'm young yet. . . . I may outgrow it, youth. . . . I may not. . . .

For everything in my world remains to be accomplished or done again. . . . We who are young stand on the dangerous edge of a brave, new world. . . .

They tell me, of course, that the world I know is firmly entrenched. . . . And that greed and avarice must always be with us. . . . But to that I protest. . . .

For I remember the story they once spun concerning the king who wanted an inscription. . . . A sentence that would be good for a thousand years and after that to the end of the world. . . .

A sentence that would be true and awful and would always stand. . . . And the wise men conferred and studied and reflected and discussed. . . . Finally one day they wrote on the arch a sentence for all time. . . . Five words. . . .

These were the words they wrote. . . . "THIS TOO SHALL PASS AWAY." . . .

And so it shall not always be. . . . Man moves forward and upward. . . . And next year on this day I shall be 22. . . .

Births At Matanuska Average One A Family PALMER, Alaska (AP)—Since the government-sponsored Matanuska Valley colony started in 1935 there have been enough babies born for one to each family.

The 200-mark was reached this spring with the birth of a child to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Yohn of Lincoln, Wis., but the mark was NO stopping place for the stork who brought five more babies to colonists in March. The original colony group consisted of 200 families.

WASHINGTON WORLD

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist

That Lowell Mellett will be one of the six "assistant presidents" whom the White House tenant is authorized to appoint, under the provisions of the government reorganization program recently approved by congress and now in process of being made effective, is accepted in Washington as a foregone conclusion. In fact, he may already have been appointed by the times these lines can be printed, if not, he will be shortly.

In suggesting the desirability of the creation of this half dozen of new jobs, President Roosevelt mentioned that an outstanding qualification for possible eligibles must be a "passion for anonymity."

Lowell has it all right. I don't know of another individual as intrinsically prominent as he is who camouflages his prominence quite so successfully. True, he breaks into "Who's Who" involuntarily. All newspapermen and higher-ups in the federal administration are acquainted with him and with his merits. Nevertheless, he's a wonder for his cleverness at avoiding capitalization of himself.

He can't be anonymous to me, though. I was a fellow reporter with him 25 or 30 years ago. We've sat, side by side, at the same boarding house table. We've worked together on a succession of newspapers.

Started as a Hoosier Lowell began life at a little Hoosier around 55 years ago. I first met him as a humble leg-man for the Indianapolis News. Being slightly his senior and occupying the relatively important job of telegraph editor, I patronized him somewhat, despite my appreciation of his underlying abilities. Little did I realize that he was destined to become an "assistant president."

Later we were associated on the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. That's when we were co-boarders in the maternal home of the since celebrated Roy W. Howard, now head of the far-flung Scripps-Howard journalistic set-up. Would anybody believe it?—Roy was a copy reader on my Post-Dispatch telegraph desk.

Hungary's Oil Output Almost Exceeds Needs BUDAPEST (AP)—Within a year, geologists predict, Hungary will produce more oil than she needs. Prospects are it will have enough for civil and military purposes, and that there will be a surplus for export.

Health Hints By Logan Clendening, M. D. Forty years ago we thought we knew all about the blood, all but a few little things.

Then about 15 years ago a new field of research opened up. Today I believe there is more good research being done on the blood than in any other field of medicine.

At the meeting of the American College of Physicians in New Orleans in March, I noticed marked attention to the papers as well as in the exhibits to this subject.

The blood is the easiest of the internal "organs" to examine. And one has to consider the blood as an organ, or rather, a system. Suppose we could, without harm or pain to the individual, take out a part of the heart muscle and examine it under the microscope, or part of the kidneys, or the liver—what an advantage we would have in knowing whether the organ is normal or not!

Do It with Blood But we have always been able to do that with the blood—ever since we had microscopes, at least. Ever since, in fact, a thin little German professor, Vierordt, stuck a needle in his own finger, obtained a drop of blood and looked at it under the "scope."

He saw three kinds of cells. The most numerous by far were the red cells. These are the oxygen carriers, the exchange or liaison officers of the body's army.

They are, to make a brand-new, up-to-date simile, like the diplomats who keep scurrying around Europe nowadays. One comes from France to England with some information, leaves it in English, gets some other (English) kind of information, and goes hurrying back to France to give it up there.

The red blood cells go scurrying to the liver with it, feed it to the liver cells, take in exchange some of the dirt (carbon dioxide) they have to get rid of, and go back to the lungs with it, giving it up to be exhaled in the breath.

Constant in Health The red cells are remarkably constant in health in all sorts of individuals. In fact, we know the

Track Team Leaves Today For Ann Arbor

Thirteen Men Will Compete In Big 10 Meet

Two Teufels, Billig, Graves Carry Main Burden of Hawkeys

Coach George Bresnahan put down 13 numbers the other day, put 13 names behind the 13 numbers and came up with the startling announcement he had nominated 13 men for the 39th annual Western conference track and field meet to be held at Ann Arbor, Mich., this Friday and Saturday.

All 13 are old stand-bys, with the four members of the mile relay team heading the list. Fred Teufel, Carl Teufel, John Graves and Mill Billig, veterans of two previous Big Ten meets, will compete in their last one with the realization that upon their shoulders is placed most of the Hawkeye hope for a high place in any event.

The relay team ranks up there with the best and, if the boys run the fastest quarters they've ever run, has a chance to finish on top in a field which features standing mile relay quartets. Included at the starting line will be Ohio State's defending titlists and a Michigan team which last week defeated the Bucks and created a mark of 3:13.9, a time better than the present meet record.

Whether or not the Iowans can sneak home in front of the Buckeyes and Wolverines depends on the condition of the Hawk runners and the breaks they receive during the course of the race. Regardless, however, of conditions and breaks, the Hawks may be depended upon to be near the front at the finish.

The squad, accompanied by Coach Bresnahan, will leave Iowa City this noon for Ann Arbor. Friday's preliminaries will start at 3 p.m. Chicago daylight saving time with the finals scheduled for 1:45 p.m. Saturday, Chicago time.

Outside of the mile relay and the middle distance runs in which Billig and Graves will compete, there seems little likelihood of any Iowa honors. Ed Elliott and Mel Erickson are entered in the long races but with the caliber of men performing in the Big Ten this season small hope is held for either individual. Elliott may, however, surprise in the two mile where he will encounter Walter Mehl of Wisconsin, the national intercollegiate champion.

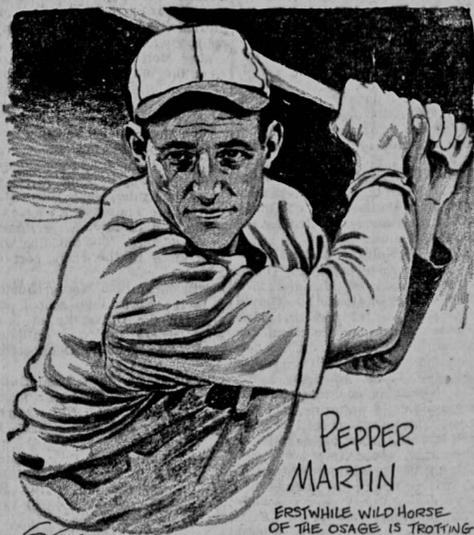

John Collinge and Ed McCullister have been entered in the hurdles but neither has shown the ability, this spring, to place in a meet as big as the Western conference classic. Jim Wilson is scheduled to appear in the low hurdles, as well as in the high jump. Wilson has been improving fast in the lows and may place well up in the running at Ann Arbor.

Harkness and Leuz will take care of the weight events with Bill Leuz being given the best chance to come through in the shot put. He's been shading 48 feet in practice which is good enough to place at the meet.

Finazzo is entered in the javelin throw and Whitey Roberts does the list with an entry in the pole vault. Roberts has an unpleasant task as he will confront Mill Padway, the Badger co-champion and prospective record breaker.

Michigan is expected to walk off with the team title which they have won the past two years. Leading Wolverine performer is Bill Watson, the Negro weight man who holds three championships in the shot put, discus and

Boston Crushes White Sox 18-4

BOSTON, May 16 (AP)—The Red Sox celebrated their return to Fenway park today by going on a 19-hit rampage that overwhelmed the Chicago White Sox, 18-4, and gave Freshman Pitcher Woody Rich his third triumph of the season.

Every member of the Boston team hit safely against the Chicago pitching, supplied by Johnny Rigney, Vic Frasier and Art Herling. Lou Finney, filling in at first base for Jimmy Fox, hospitalized with sinus trouble, was one of the four Red Soxers to bang out three hits. Finney made his Boston debut in home team regalia an eventful one by lashing out two doubles and a single. Bobby Doerr drove out his second homer of the season with one aboard in the second inning.

Rich held the Sox to six hits and all but one of their runs were unearned. Jim Tabor's wild throw in the third set the stage for their three-run rally that tied the score. A five-run blast in the third, followed by a seven-run uprising in the fifth, crushed the fight out of the visitors.

Defending champions who are back this year as Ohio State's mile relay team, Watson, Gedeon, Padway, John Davenport of Chicago in the 100-yard dash, Bob Lewis of Ohio State in the 220-yard dash, Harley Howells of Ohio State in the quarter mile, and Mehl in the two mile.

Yankee Homers Upset Browns In 7-5 Slugfest

NEW YORK, May 16 (AP)—The Yankees called on their old trade-mark, the home run, three times today to whip the St. Louis Browns in the opening tilt of their home stand and stretch their winning streak to six straight games.

The victory maintained the Yankees' game and a half lead in the American league standings. Although each team made only eight hits, the Yankee homers accounted for six of their seven runs. Joe Gordon hit his fourth of the year in the second inning with the bangs empty. George Selkirk connected for his fifth in the sixth heat with one on, and Babe Dahlgren belted his third in the eighth with two aboard. The only other Yankee run preceded Selkirk's clout in the sixth, coming on a single, a walk and an error.

The Browns didn't give up without a fight. After being held to two runs and three hits by Bump Hadley through the first seven innings, they threatened in the eighth until Fireman Johnny Murphy came in to stop them. But in the ninth, they climbed aboard Johnny for four hits and three runs and fell just short of catching up, as Relief Pitcher Atley Donald "put out the fire" with the tying runs on base. Hadley took credit for the win.

The defeat was the first suffered by Jack Kramer, rookie from San Antonio, after three victories. He lasted through the sixth and gave up three of the runs. George Gill, recently acquired from the Detroit Tigers, finished up.

Wildcats Beat Chicago CHICAGO (AP)—Nick Conteras' single in the 13th inning sent Bob Sampson home with the winning run yesterday as Northwestern defeated Chicago, 4 to 3. The victory was Northwestern's sixth straight Big Ten triumph, moving the Wildcats into third place tie with Michigan.

Brooklyn Beats Chicago 12 to 2

Dean Pitches Last Five Innings; Wyatt Wins for Brooklyn

CHICAGO, May 16 (AP)—Dizzy Dean came back with a "bang" today, but he didn't get into the ball game in time to stop the unpredictable Dodgers of Brooklyn from walloping the Cubs, 12-2.

The Dodgers did all their scoring off Vance Page and Jack Russell in the first four frames, counting seven times in the first inning alone. Then Dizzy was called in for his first National League huriling appearance of the year and pitched three-hit scoreless ball through the last five frames. He fanned five and walked none.

Dizzy's pitching job, although the outstanding development of the game, had to play second fiddle to that turned in by Whitey Wyatt, the Brooklyn's new right-hander, however. Whitey, going the route for his fourth straight win, tossed a four-hitter, fanned eight and walked three. He didn't allow a hit until the sixth when the Cubs scored their first run. Hank Leiber's homer in the ninth was the only other Chicago tally.

Cookie Lavagetto paced the Dodgers' 16-hit attack, clouting a homer and two singles and driving in four runs. Dolph Camilli also whacked a four-bagger, his sixth of the year.

Cardinals Nip Giants 7 to 6

Three Cardinal Home Runs Figure in Bat Spree; Lead League

ST. LOUIS, May 16 (AP)—The Cardinals had to come from "way behind with a three-home run attack today to nip the New York Giants, 7-6, in the opening game of their home stand and boost their National League lead to a game and a half.

The Giants worked hard to boot this one, but they finally accomplished it after kicking away a five-run lead they had piled up in the first three frames. The defeat dropped Bill Terry's troupe into seventh place in the league standings.

The "meat balls" served by Harry Gumbert and Cliff Melton to Johnny Mize, Ducky Medwick and Pepper Martin were all belted for homers and produced six of the Cards' seven runs. The winning marker came home in the seventh on a walk, Melton's error, an infield out and Lynn Myers' pinch-single.

The Giants started out as though they were going to have a run-making parade. They scored twice off Rookie Bob Bowman in the first and added three more in the third when Mel Ott hit his fifth homer of the year with two aboard. But Morton Cooper went in as relief in the fourth, Fiddler McGee in the seventh and Curt Davis in the eighth to hold the Giants to one run the rest of the way. McGee took credit for the decision.

Gumbert, heretofore the Giants' only reliable elbow, started all right, but Mize connected for his sixth homer of the year in the fourth to get the Cards in the run column; Medwick hit his four-bagger with one on in the fifth, and Pepper pounded his round-tripper with two aboard in the sixth, after Melton had replaced Gumbert. Altogether, the two Giant hurlers were tagged for 15 hits, with Melton being charged with the defeat.

Indians Win PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Cleveland Indians scored five runs on two hits in the 10th inning last night to take an 8 to 3 victory from the Athletics in the first night ball game played in the American league.

Johnny Goodman's Best Year?

Davies Has Goodman Using Lighter Clubs And Johnny Likes It

By O. W. DeWOLF
OMAHA, Neb., May 16 (AP)—Johnny Goodman used to have a putter — now he's got a golf club. The speaker, Stanley Davies, golf pro at the Omaha field club, saw Johnny start out as a caddy on that course and aided him in the climb that took the stocky Omaha to the national open and amateur championships and membership on three Walker cup teams.

A crisp No. 1 iron shot that sped far down the middle of the fairway bore out the remark as Johnny limbered up. Standing beside the first tee, the heavy-set, ruddy-faced veteran pro all but threw up his hands in despair as he described the clubs Goodman used to play with.

"Why, he used clubs the last time he went to England that I wouldn't give my worst club," Davies asserted with feeling. "My, my, what a terrible conglomeration he had. His irons didn't match and they were too heavy and stiff for him. I don't see how he played as good golf as he did."

Davies, who had long been trying to persuade Johnny to use lighter clubs, finally set his foot down this year. Now Goodman uses 13 1-4-ounce matched clubs instead of his old 14 1-4-ounce sticks.

Iowa Athletic Heads To Attend Big Ten Meeting at Ann Arbor

Dr. Anderson, Leib, Schroeder To Head Hawkeye Delegation

The matter of placing more definite restrictions on recruiting and subsidization of athletes, will come before athletic directors of the Big Ten at their spring meeting Thursday through Saturday at Ann Arbor, Mich., Athletic Director E. G. Schroeder of the University of Iowa revealed last night as he prepared to leave for Ann Arbor, Mich.

Schroeder will be accompanied by Dr. Eddie Anderson, head football coach, who will participate in the coaches' sessions, and Chairman Karl E. Leib of the athletic board, who will attend the meetings of faculty representatives. They will leave this morning.

As chairman of the directors, Schroeder will preside over sessions at which the general conference code will be revised. More specific provisions against the offering of jobs to athletes and other forms of proselytizing will come up for discussion.

The principal items facing the football coaches will be a discussion of rules and further action on the uniform training table for football men. The training table, providing that each school shall furnish the evening meals for gridders during the season, has been officially approved, but a number of details remain to be worked out.

Cubs Sell Woody English to Cards

CHICAGO, May 16 (AP)—Elwood (Woody) English, veteran utility infielder, was sold today by the Chicago Cubs to the St. Louis Cardinals in a straight cash transaction in which no other players were involved.

English, who joined the Chicago Cubs in 1927, was a star with the team several years and one of the most popular players the club ever had. In December, 1936, he was traded, with Roy Henshaw, to Brooklyn for infielder Linus Frey. Last July he was sold by Brooklyn to the Cincinnati Reds. He refused to report to the Reds, who sold him to the Cubs last February.

With the exception of the sixth inning when the Phils bunched five runs, Bowman kept his former teammates under control with nine scattered hits.

Wildcats Boast Win Streak

Northwestern Has 5 Game Win Row; Jim George Leads Attack

With the Hawkeye diamond men tied for the Big Ten leadership and much of their title hopes depending upon the outcome of the games this week end, Coach Otto Vogel is not bothered with a lack of incentive on the part of his squad.

From all outward appearances, it would seem that the Northwestern contests Friday and Saturday will be one of the best series played here in years. The Wildcats have won five straight conference tilts after dropping the first three to bounce into the title picture.

The Hawks are a scant half-game ahead of the high-flying Purple team. After losing two of their first three Big Ten encounters, the Iowans have marched along to the tune of four consecutive victories. With a record of five wins and two losses, the Hawks have but four league games remaining.

Iowa's two ace flingers, Hal Haub and Ken Reid, who will probably start in the two Wildcat tilts will have to be at their best to stop the Northwestern sluggers. The Purple scored a total of 17 runs against Illinois last week, and the team has several hitters close to the .400 mark. Bill Syring and John Goldak, the hurling stars of the Wildcat squad, are also expected to make it tough on the Hawks.

Coach Burt Ingwersen of the Northwestern team, who was football mentor at the Hawkeye institution several years ago, will be pointing especially for the nine that represents his old stamping grounds, and he is sure to have his squad in its best possible condition when the Purple meets the Old Gold Friday.

The clouting Hawkeyes, aided and abetted by their batting splurges against Luther last week end, are now boasting a team hitting average of .306 for all games. Jim George continues to lead the individual list with a .435 mark for the season. Other hitters with good records include Art Manush (.400); Andy Kantor (.375); and Elmer Bratten (.324). Bratten, however, is the leader for conference games only with a .465 mark, while George has .424 and Manush .324.

Cyclones Lose AMES (AP)—Oklahoma made it two in a row over the Iowa State baseball team by winning 4 to 3 yesterday as the Cyclones ended their schedule. It was a hard-fought duel between pitchers Halling and Morris of the Sooners and Wilson of Iowa State. Halling yielded five hits and three runs in five innings and Morris gave only two hits in the remaining frames. The two fanned 10 Cyclone batters.

Sports
By
J. DENNIS
SULLIVAN

Latest of the rumors has Iowa's football team wearing silver trousers next fall instead of the traditional gold. Over the newly adopted lower garments the Hawks will wear gold jerseys or, possibly, white with dark colored numbers. However, it is still possible that black may be decided upon for the new pants—at least they won't be gold, or even approach the adopted Iowa color.

Having spent over two months in preparing a team that he hopes will do justice to new uniforms, Dr. Eddie Anderson dropped practice at last in order to attend a Big Ten meeting, but he intends to let a few members work out next week. Bill Green, injured a few weeks ago, missed out on a few of the latest plays, so a backfield, at least, will be gathered up to work with the Newton prospect, who, chances are, will have something to do with Iowa success next fall.

The practice, incidentally, has been formally finished for over two weeks, but was kept up as long as anyone wanted to come out. The enthusiasm of the spring continued, with most members of the squad there at least part of the time.

Freshmen, especially, have been out there getting in their bids for jobs and some have probably succeeded. Besides Green, there seem to be enough good first year men for at least one first class backfield, the worst shortage being in the line. While Al Couppee, Burdell Gileard, Gerald Ankeny, Jack Birkenstock and Louis Cox of the freshman backs look good, there seem few new linemen worthy of mention.

The lack comes in spite of Jim Walker, colored tackle, Harry Elsborg, Ray Gorman and a couple of others, and is a continuation of a like shortage among the veterans. Iowa will have one good line next fall, but lack of reserves is going to hurt. Big Ten competition being what it is.

As for the backfield, why worry? When the line has been able to open holes during scrimmages this spring, somebody always gets through with the ball. There is definitely scoring power as a part of the Kinnick, Green, Couppee and Busk combination, with several variations of personnel seeming to be as good.

Anderson hasn't promised a team that will win all its games, but he has promised some football for Iowa fans, and he is probably right. The Hawks don't look able to win a Big Ten title, but they act as though they might give miserable afternoons to someone besides Iowa alumni.

Reds Tumble Boston 4 to 1

CINCINNATI, May 16 (AP)—Paced by Bill Werber and Ernie Lombardi, the Cincinnati Reds moved into a second-place tie with Boston today, defeating the Bees 4 to 1 behind the seven-hit hurling of Southpaw Lee Grissom.

Only an error by Shorstop Billy Myers prevented a shutout, his muff of Craft's throw-in enabling Fletcher to score on Lopez' second-inning double.

Grissom, racking up his second victory of the year, was "tough" throughout. He failed to strike out anyone, but on the other hand issued only two passes.

Library Displays Letter to Garland

Writer Received $25 From Harper Brothers for Manuscript

Notification of $25 enclosed from Harper Brothers in return for the manuscript and copyright of his "Lost in a Norther" is one of the many letters, autographed books and historical pieces collected by Hamlin Garland, novelist and writer, and loaned to the Ranney memorial library for exhibit until May 27.

Included in the collection is the manuscript and galley-proof of Garland's "A Son of the Middle Border," and a first edition of "Main-Travelled Roads," complete with scribbled revisions by the author. "Main-Travelled Roads" was Garland's first book.

There are letters from Rudyard Kipling, J. M. Barrie, Mark Twain, George Bernard Shaw, Edwin Booth, John Burroughs, William Dean Howells, Walt Whitman, Edith Wharton, Theodore Roosevelt and a larger number of others equally notable.

An explanation about the notification of the $25 sent Garland for his "Lost in a Norther" explains that this, his first money earned by writing, was spent in part for his mother's first silk dress and the rest for a $5 book of Grant's "Memoirs" for Garland's father.

A letter to Garland written Feb. 7, 1919, from Rudyard Kipling reads in part: "It seems to me that the most important thing is for the U. S. A. to realize what particular sort of evil it was that threw the nations together and, to this end, I can imagine nothing better than that American writers should, as soon as may be, go over and actually see and describe with their own eyes what the Hun has done in the devastated areas of France and Belgium."

Equally representative of one of the eras covered by the letters written to Garland by men prominent in literary circles is one of several received from the late President Roosevelt.

A long letter, it says in part: "There are foolish people who supported me because we had heavy crops; and there are foolish people who now oppose me because extravagant speculation complicated here and there with dishonesty, have produced the inevitable reaction."

Also from Roosevelt is one which expresses his ideas, especially with reference to the place for women—in the home with children. Another letter from Roosevelt is an offer to trade his book for one of Garland's. He says: "Instead of the 'Winning of the West' will you let me give you the book I am proudest of, 'The Wilderness Hunter'?"

A number of pictures accompany books and letters. One shows Bernard Shaw chopping wood. Opinions pertinent to writing often are expressed in the letters. One from Stephen Crane, dated May 9, 1894, reveals that "I have got the poetic spout so that I can turn it on or off. I wrote a decoration day thing for the 'Press' which aroused them to enthusiasm."

The exhibit, lasting for two weeks only, is on display every week day in the Ranney library, wood. Opinions pertinent to writing often are expressed in the Fishburn's essay, "The Pump-Priming Theory of Government Spending," won for him a $15 first prize and a permanent medal. Second place winners will divide the second prize, $10, and the third prize, $5, and will receive medals.

Judged by three faculty members of the Order of Artus, the essays submitted were to be of economic interest, original, and were to deal with any aspect of economic thought. Undergraduates from all departments of the university were eligible to enter the contest.

Of eight essays submitted, these were judged to be best on the basis of content, organization, originality and literary excellence and style.

The Order of Artus is an honorary economics men's fraternity open by election to instructors, graduates and undergraduates who fulfill requirements in scholarship, residence, and interest and activity in economics.

Insanity--

during Dr. Sleyster's presidential address, at a meeting to which the public was invited.

On any one day, he said, one per cent of the population is in mental hospitals. About 13,000,000 adults, or 10 per cent of the population, will at some time in their lives be more or less incapacitated by mental illness.

He sketched the chief mental troubles in detail. Epilepsy, or falling sickness, has been known since Homer, yet medical progress toward relief is still "very slight."

Softening of the brain can only be helped when diagnosed early, but the early discovery is difficult. It may take several lifetimes before physicians know how to control dementia praecox, the insanity of adolescence, and schizophrenia, the split personality phobia.

There are other mental troubles, he said, with names so technical the public does not even know the words.

Feeble-mindedness, one of the worst mental curses, must look to the scientists investigating genetics and heredity for hope in limiting production of children unable from birth to meet the mental needs of civilization.

"There is no panacea," Dr. Sleyster said. "Certainly it has not yet been established that modern methods of the prevention of conception in their application to mankind as a whole can control the production of such specimens."

"Neither is there any evidence that laws regulating sterilization of the parents of the feeble-minded will in any serious manner diminish the total number of feeble-minded."

"The evidence is available that at least 10,000,000 people of the 130,000,000 in this country bear within their bodies elements which may result occasionally in the production of a feeble-minded child."

"Our nation is not unique in this regard; indeed some other nations offer a far greater likelihood of increased mental deficiency. Apparently this is one of those problems of mankind in the mass which nature must eventually solve, as nature has settled many another problem in disease in the past. The laws of biology are more immutable than those of man."

"The fact that even with the best of education and nurture the feeble-minded still tend to die young and thus do not invariably produce is an indication of nature's long range technic in keeping multiplication of the unfit under control."

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Second Semester 1938-1939
Tuesday, May 23, 8 a.m. to Wednesday, May 31, 4 p.m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (1), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below).

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation from this Schedule, in the case of any examination, except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time and supported by the recommendation of the department concerned, to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of completing examinations earlier will not be permitted. Students should prepare and deposit such petitions in the offices of the Deans of Men (men) and Women (women).

In case a student has as many as three examinations in a single day, one of them being a "SPECIAL GROUP" examination, the Committee will authorize only the "SPECIAL GROUP" examination for another time, within examination week, than that specified in the Schedule below. Each petition must specify the exact title and course number of each one of the three courses involved, and the day, and the period, for each of these examinations as indicated in the Schedule.

If such a student's three examinations on a single day include two examinations (either at 8-10 or at 2-4) in one or both of which are found more than one section, at different times, he should, in his petition, clearly set out the facts; and ask the instructor to indicate on the petition whether he is willing to allow him to take his examination in the different section at the different time, as indicated.

Each such petition, before it is filed, should have the approval-statement of the instructor who is able and willing to give the examination at another time (within "examination week") than that provided for in the Schedule.

(Because the "SPECIAL GROUP" examinations are arranged for the special accommodation of the departments and instructors involved, it is expected that in such a case the instructors in charge of the "SPECIAL GROUP" examination should give the examination at another time.)

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade-sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade-mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and the instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

Upon the student's taking the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card, and not on any other card.

In the cases of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F and G) the Schedule itself, as presented below, provides a general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double vertical line.

The particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which is involved. (Read downward first in left column and then in right column. This instructor will arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures 7:30-8:45. The first regular meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8, and the class will meet for examination Wednesday, May 24, 2 p.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics 15 meets twice each week, T, F, for a three-hour laboratory, at 1:40. The period for the examination is, therefore, Monday, May 23, 2 p.m.

N.B. All students enrolled in Principles of Speech (1), and sections A and E of Principles of Speech (4) and all freshmen enrolled in sections C, D, B, G, H, and I of Principles of Speech (3), meet during the final examination week in rooms announced by the instructors as follows:

Tuesday, May 23--Speech (1), 8-10 a.m.; Section D, 9-10 a.m.; Section B, 8-10 a.m.
Wednesday, May 24--Section 4C, 10-12 a.m.; Section A, 1-3 p.m.; Section E, 3-5 p.m.
CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report to the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within Saturday, May 27--Section 1, 8-10 a.m.; Section C, 1-3 p.m.; Section 4A, 1-3 p.m.; Section G, 3-5 p.m.

All sophomores, juniors and seniors in Speech (2) meet Wednesday, May 17, from 10-12 in rooms announced by their respective instructors.

All freshmen in sections B, F and J of Speech (2) and all students in section H of Speech (4) meet on the days and at the times, and in the rooms, announced by their respective instructors.

"ODD" classes--namely, those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday, or which meet "as arranged," will be absent from the class examination week. The "instructors" by the "instructors" in charge of the class, at one or another of the following periods:

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 23 to May 31 inclusive--Sunday and Memorial Day excepted.
2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for 12 examinations in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F and G, since for such "odd" classes these five examination periods will be found quite available.

According to one clause in the formal faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, the instructor may use the examination period if he sees fit provided he holds the class for the full period. He may have an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time.

According to another regulation which is a record as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs.," unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "Fol.," even though the student may have been absent from the class examination week. The "instructors" by the "instructors" to such a student until after the absence has been excused by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by a partially filled report card filed by the Secretary of the Committee, indicating that the absence has been excused and that the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

Suggests Grasshoppers Could Be Turkey Food

TURKEY, Tex. (AP) - Bill Simpson thinks a turkey plus lots of grasshoppers adds up to a profit. He has made a proposition to Potter and Moore county officials, offering to rid farmlands of grasshoppers for half the cost of purchasing the usual poisoned bran bait.

Simpson suggested that he will buy herds of turkeys, obtain turkey herders and whenever or wherever there is an outbreak of grasshoppers in the two counties he will drive his turkeys there and they will devour the insects. He is willing to guarantee results, he told officials.

Trip Made Possible By Band Auxiliary Of Students' Parents

Twenty-five of the 205 band, orchestra and chorus students to represent Iowa City high school at the national music contest in Minneapolis tomorrow to Saturday will leave here at 8:48 this morning.

This first delegation, which includes soloists or members of small ensembles, will go to Des Moines on the Rock Island railroad, and then transfer to the Rocket which goes directly to the contest city.

Musicians leaving today will compete in 11 events tomorrow, and are scheduled to play in various of the schools, colleges and churches cooperating in the affair.

Vir Jean Peterson
Vir Jean Peterson, oboe soloist, will represent Iowa City at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the first event of the contest. Others who will appear tomorrow are Donald Key, French horn; William Gower, English horn solo; Richard Smith, E flat clarinet solo; Bob Merriam, Bob Kaywood and Verla Bales, all alto clarinet solo entries.

wood, Mildred Burger, Bob Merriam and Verla Bales, B flat clarinet quartet.

Fletcher Miller, Susan Showers, John Whinery and Jean Mocha, saxophone quartet; Wilma Powers, Bob Martin, Ruby Alley and Betty Ivie, horn quartet.

Hymie Voxman, director of the high school orchestra and woodwind instruments instructor, and William Gower, director of the band and instructor of brass instruments, are making the trip with their groups. Priscilla Keeler, G. M. Vernon, will accompany the various groups throughout the contest.

List Chaperons
Chaperons for the group, all mothers of the students, include Mrs. William Gower, Mrs. Thomas Caywood, Mrs. F. B. Whinery, Mrs. W. W. Mercer and Mrs. R. E. Taylor.

This trip is made possible through the efforts of the band auxiliary, which is composed principally of parents of the music students. Among their projects were the Red and White circus of last week, the high school concert course and a rummage sale. Mrs. William Plass is president of the auxiliary.

At 8 o'clock Thursday the remaining 180 Iowa City high contestants will leave for Minneapolis. Music instructors who will leave at that time are Lorene Liston, string instruments, and Ansel Martin, vocal.

Also leaving tomorrow are I. A. Opstad, superintendent of Iowa City schools, and W. E. Beck, principal of Iowa City high school.

Return Verdict of Not Guilty In Larceny Case of Chicagoan

Free L. Robinson As Court Charges Lack of Testimony

Verdict of not guilty for Leonard Robinson, Chicago, was returned yesterday by petit jurors upon instruction of the court. Robinson was charged in a county attorney's information with larceny from a building in the daytime.

Judge Harold D. Evans ordered a directed verdict yesterday after the defense rested its case at 10 a.m. The state rested its case at 4:30 p.m. Monday after calling seven witnesses to the stand.

The court ruled that there was not sufficient testimony presented by the state in the trial to connect the defendant with the crime with which he was charged.

Convicts Testify
Practically all of the testimony presented by the state was given by Eugene Dean and Stanley Kuczek, two alleged accomplices of the defendant, who were returned here from the state reformatory in Anamosa, where they are serving a term of five years for larceny, Judge Evans said. He showed that under the Iowa law a conviction can not be had under testimony of accomplices alone and he ruled that not sufficient testimony, outside that of the accomplices, was presented in the case.

County Attorney Harold W. Vestermark who prosecuted the case for the state had accused the defendant of having taken two wrist watches from the Hauser jewelry store in Iowa City, July 7, 1938.

The Jury
H. W. Strickler, first ward, was foreman of the jury returning the verdict. Other jurors were Edward Smahel, Jefferson; Robert Seiler, Fremont; Bessie Probst, Monroe; William Pirkel, Penn; George F. Memler, fourth ward; B. E. Manville, second ward; Louise Lumsden, fourth ward; Mildred M. Larew, second ward; C. M. Karsten, Oxford; Will Holland, fourth ward, and August Grothe, Liberty.

Attorneys for the defendant were Charles B. Kaufmann, Des Moines, E. A. Baldwin and Ingalls Swisher, Iowa City.
