All's Quieter On The Potomac Front

CONGRESS IS preparing to adjourn. All will soon be quiet on the Potomac front.

Still, of course, a few matters remain to be decided. There's the relief appropriation for next year; the LaFollette Civil Liberties committee is fighting for a $100,000 grant which will mean its life during the next year; the Townsend plan is to be brought onto the floor and a record vote is to be taken to bring out the sincerity of certain campaign promises; tax revision will be discussed.

And then? Well, it appears congress will be going home; July 15 is the estimated date. All of this means that between the time congress convened in January and its adjournment not much has happened, not as much as was hoped at least. Not only has little been done, still less has been undone.

Remember? The Wagner Labor Relations act has yet to be amended. Since John L. Lewis promises to show a relationship between senatorial suggestions for revision and plans of the National Association of Manufacturers, clamour for change has slackened. It appears dropped for this session at least.

That makes the liberal happy. On the other hand, the complexity of proper neutrality legislation has stymied the foreign affairs committee. The "cash-and-carry" provision has expired, and there it appears the matter rests. All of which means that if Europe is involved in a war, the United States will follow a course of international law, probably aiding the democracies to the detriment of the aggressors.

That makes the isolationists happy. WPA will go on much as it has, with some slight cut in the rolls. It was a difficult fight, and Franklin Roosevelt three times reintroduced his request for funds, finally coming within $50,000,000 of his goal.

Social security will go on; housing by the federal government will continue; unemployment insurance will be broadened; the wages and hours act will flourish, and congress will go home.

It's a far cry from those January days when, after the November election surprises, most observers expected a "reactionary" congress, an undoing session. Probably it means something for 1940 and even beyond. Probably it means that the progress made during the last seven years will continue. It may even mean that congress has recognized government's new imperative — or rather an old and unrecognized one — to do for the people what they cannot do for themselves.

It was Abraham Lincoln, a republican, who first set out that prerogative. It was the new deal, democratic, which first carried it through.

So congress can go home in July, knowing it has left its job well done.

We Need't Fear Films Of Propaganda

MOTION PICTURE producers have had a real problem on their hands in deciding what use they could make of material that might be objectionable to the governments of foreign nations. The rise of the totalitarian states, to which democracy is wholly opposed, has increased that problem.

Even though the sentiment expressed by a film is truthful, motion picture producers have had to face the critics who shout "propaganda" at every possible moment, and they have had to face the frowns of the diplomats.

Carl W. Ackerman, dean of the school of journalism of Columbia university, has pointed out that education, not propaganda, is the first line of defense in a democracy. He explains, "The way to defend our liberties and our fundamental democratic institutions for the future is to develop closer cooperation between education and the agencies of communication."

Motion pictures, in one aspect, are agencies of communication. As such, they should not be agencies of propaganda. Education is functioning in the determination of the character of motion pictures. Producers are making films which are based on the facts of international situations, pictures which can defy the charge of propaganda, and pictures which still are purely entertaining.

Keeping their reputation is not going to be difficult. Motion pictures which are propaganda pictures would be automatically culled by the public's disapproval.

The code of ethics of motion picture producers further acts to control the nature of pictures. We believe the American public has every reason to believe that the motion picture industry will fulfill its function in defending democracy, fulfilling this function in keeping with the methods Dean Ackerman suggests.

Rumania Seeks Her Benefactors

BRITAIN'S attitude in regard to Palestine carries a larger significance than the surface shows. Whether we want war or not, and we do not, it is certain that unless the animosity that exists between nations disappears, each will have to know which of his neighbors are friendly and which unfriendly.

It is easy in America to say that Great Britain should be more firm. Still, Great Britain has taken it upon herself to deal with the affairs of Europe's smaller nations. She promised assistance to Ethiopia in Africa, she took Palestine's fate into her keeping at the last war's end, she promised justice for Czechoslovakia.

Great Britain joined with the other democracies in doing little for Halle Selassie or for Benes. Now, Great Britain has shown what appears to be lack of faith with Palestine.

The effect of these moves on other small nations is important. Rumania, for example, is willing to side with the democracies or with the totalitarian states, whichever ever will give her the best bargain. So far she has been more befriended by Herr Hitler; she has become an economic vassal of Germany.

King Carol is prepared to do the best he can for his own throne. What other nations of Europe do in the future will be determined by what the democracies do. This, it seems to us, should be a factor in determining diplomatic action.

'IF I WERE KING'

KATE SMITH ... will bring, for the third time this season, the Group theater to present one of its own Broadway successes on the Kate Smith hour at 6 o'clock tonight over the Columbia network.

Frances Farmer and Luther Adler will head the cast, a version of "Men in White."

As usual, Kate will present the regular features of her variety program, including the Aldrich family, scheduled to replace Jack Benny for the summer; Abbott and Costello, Jack Miller's orchestra and Ted Straeter's choir.

The third in the current radio series, "Men in White" was the first Broadway production of the Group theater and the drama that launched that enterprising organization of thespians on the sea of success. It was sensational in many ways, but particularly because the original cast was composed entirely of unknowns, many of whom have become established names on the stage or in motion pictures since. Miss Farmer and Adler are typical of this success.

"Men in White," which duplicated its stage success in the screen version, is a tense drama of hospital life, revealing the struggle of internes who are torn between the desire to devote their lives to science or to surrender to the desire for normal living.

The singing mistress-of-ceremonies will offer a variety of old and new melodies, concluding with her final signature, "God Bless America."

EDGAR BERGEN ... and his audacious dummy, Charlie McCarthy, are slated for an appearance on Rudy Vallee's program at 6 o'clock tonight over NBC's Red network.

Edgar and Charlie will help Rudy celebrate his 500th broadcast on this occasion, one of the few when McCarthy and Bergen appear away from their home Chase and Sanborn hour.

FRANK BLACK, general music director of NBC, has written an original score for "The Princess and the Admiral," based on the life of John Paul Jones, which will be broadcast on the new NBC hour-long play series at 7 o'clock tonight.

BURNS AND ALLEN ... this week signed a brand new contract for a new sponsor — Lehn and Fink, makers of Hinds honey and almond cream.

The show, a package deal which includes the entire Burns and Allen troupe with Ray Noble's orchestra, will be put on the coast to coast network sometime early in October. Facilities are not yet definite, but it is expected that the network will be announced next week.

When George and Gracie finish their current contract for Chesterfield, they will take their annual 13-week holiday before starting their new show, formula of which will be identical with the one they are currently using.

CLIFFORD GOLDSMITH, author of the Aldrich family sketches starring Ezra Stone, has already completed the first 30-minute script which will be heard when the program takes over the Jack Benny line for the summer. The author believes the half-hour will give him more plot development opportunity than the current abbreviated version on the Kate Smith hour.

HILDEGARDE will continue indefinitely as singer on Bob Ripley's "Believe it or Not" program in place of Linda Lee, whose illness continues. The vocalist, however, left the "Raymond Paige, 99 Men and a Girl" program yesterday, but will return as a guest several times under the program's new policy. June 21 will mark her first appearance.

TODAY'S PROGRAM: 5:30 — Joe E. Brown, CBS. 6 — Kate Smith, CBS. 6:30 — Rudy Vallee, NBC-Red. 7 — Major Bowes, CBS. 7:30 — America's Town Meeting, NBC-Blue. 8 — Bing Crosby, NBC-Red. 8:45 — Viewpoints of Americans, Mrs. Roosevelt, CBS. 9 — Metropolitan Opera, NBC.

ON THE FIRST SPRING DAY ... (the devil to pay) ... Prof. Kuhl was checking up on Kittredge when he was here ... Having been at Harvard more years than it's well to remember, Kittredge's had some famous names in his English, 112 ...

"Was Franklin Roosevelt ever a student of yours?" Kuhl inquired ... "Roosevelt? Roosevelt?" questioned Kittredge ... "Never thought to find out."

N. M. reports those "General Krivitsky" articles that Iowa editor learned about foreign affairs from weren't written by Krivitsky at all ... That's a pseudonym concocted by the Satevepost; his real name is Ginsberg ... And he didn't fight in Spain ... He wasn't a general, never has been ... And anyway the series was ghosted by one Isaac Don Levine ...

League of Nations: Ed McCloy, of course, is doing his part for international understanding ... Elisabeth Halstein of Oslo, Norway, now wears his pin ... And wears it very well too ...

Apple-Green: I always thought Rollie Williams was about the most chipper-dressed faculty member ... Especially in that apple-green coat he's wearing now ...

Popular: Earl Harper's had the most Commencement invitations by many a count ... Of the more than 60 he's received, he's accepting ten or so ...

What's a matter with those Danzigers anyway? ... Don't they want to be Czech-mated? ...

Unwanted Home Site Makes Man Wealthy: BLACK DIAMOND, Alta. (AP) — William Twitchen, the "mayor of Little New York," took a homestead 35 years ago which nobody wanted. Today he has more money than he knows what to do with.

Oil discovery in Turner Valley resulted in 12 oil wells being drilled on his property. Despite an income of about $1,000 a month, Twitchen and his wife continue to live in the little farm house on their homestead.

Little New York, an oil-boom town, is built on the homestead. The 150 business places and oil workers pay Twitchen from $5 to $10 a month rent. In addition he collects royalties on the 12 wells. His income changes so fast, Twitchen says, that he couldn't compute it.

10-Mile Speed Cut Drops Deaths 43%: ATLANTA (AP)—This city, one of the first in the 300,000-population class to enforce a 25-mile speed limit, found that a slash of the speed limit from 35 to 25 miles an hour reduced traffic fatalities 43 per cent and injuries 36 per cent. Nine fewer lives were lost and 170 fewer persons injured during the first 15 weeks of 1939 than during the same period of 1938, when the old limit was in effect.

WASHINGTON WORLD: Diplomatic Washington is gambling heavy odds that war will not break out in Europe while the king and queen of England are on this side of the Atlantic and especially while they are in this country.

Not that the king has any governmental authority at home. He hasn't nearly as much of it there as the president of the United States has in this republic. Nevertheless, as per British precedent, it would be perfectly scandalous for Britain to engage in international hostilities with its nominal boss away from his native soil. It might be passable while he's in Canada, but not during his stay on this side of the border.

The conclusion is that their majesties' trip certainly would have been cancelled if the London government hadn't been confident of stalling off trouble at least until his sovereign and his consort are back again in Buckingham palace or at Windsor or some such royal residence.

In effect, they're regarded as virtual peace hostages so long as they stay here.

How Popular Are They? Uncle Sam's officialdom is a good bit worried as to the popularity of the reception the visiting royalties receive here.

Scarcely needful to say, they'll be safeguarded from cranks as no two national guests ever were before. In this respect they'll be a decided nuisance. They'll upset all the normal life of the capital. Traffic will be shot entirely to pieces. Local business will be completely disorganized. The citizenry will consider 'em an infernal Health Hints: By Logan Clendening, M. D. I was shocked the other day to receive a letter from a man living not far from a thriving modern city who said his wife had pernicious anemia and that his doctors had told him there was no cure for it.

It seemed like a missive from the Dark Ages. It seems impossible that any modern doctor could make such a statement. It seems even more impossible that any doctor who could make the diagnosis could make the statement; yet, there it is.

I wrote my correspondent as quickly as possible and said that of course there was a cure for pernicious anemia, which has been proved and which is simply the feeding of liver a few ounces a day.

Known for 15 Years: This has been known to all doctors (at least all in my acquaintance) for nearly 15 years, since it was announced by Whipple, Minot and Murphy.

The action of the liver goes back to the principles which we examined in the article yesterday, that in the red cells of the blood are, in health, always the same in quantity in all kinds of people — young and old, big and little. The red cells are formed in the bone marrow, and when the bone marrow ceases to function or reduces its activities, there are fewer red cells and that, of course, is what is known as anemia.

The use of liver in pernicious anemia is liver itself used, but an extract of liver is used. This is a salty brown substance much like granulated brown sugar in appearance. It is pleasant to taste.

Want "Cure" It: The use of liver extract will not "cure" pernicious anemia, but the regular use of it will keep the case healthy and comfortable. When relapses occur, they are usually due to the patient thinking himself so well he can get along without the extract and discontinuing its use.

In periods of ill-health — especially minor infections such as a cold — it is necessary to increase the amount taken every day.

The other medicinal agent which is of great benefit in the anemias is iron. But it is not beneficial in pernicious anemia. It is used in anemias of a different type. For instance, after a large hemorrhage iron is valuable in restoring the blood volume. It stimulates the marrow, but in a different way.

Old Remedy: Iron is an old, old remedy which has been given to pale (that is, anemic) patients for ages. But it fell into almost universal disuse about 50 years ago, and for two curious reasons. One of the common forms of anemia is that in young girls, called green sickness. Its technical name is "chlorosis."

It was very common 30 years ago, when the world was not so well nourished as it is today, but in these times it is quite a rarity. In the old days chlorosis could be cured absolutely with very small doses of iron. When it disappeared doctors kept giving iron to anemic patients, but in the same small doses, and they found it did no good. It was only recently, when it was discovered that to be effective iron has to be given in very large doses, that it became popular in practice again.

So we have these two medical remedies for anemia, liver and iron. You see preparations on the market which contain both, but such shotgun mixtures are unscientific. When a patient needs liver extract, we give him liver alone, and when he needs iron, we give him iron alone.

Everyone Gets Chance To Run This Town: VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — The Vancouver city council is giving almost every adult a chance to find out, from the inside, the difficulties of administering municipal government.

Having a "boys' day" where youths become city fathers, is nothing new, but Vancouver is allowing unions to take over city government. Union members fill key positions for a day.

Mayor A. N. Stanley said the same privilege would be extended to other workers and business men "so they can become familiar with our problems."

ing so much of the king's thunder — particularly at this juncture. Dispatches keep saying that the duke and duchess are coming over here shortly.

If they do, they won't get the same official holler as the king and queen, but I'll bet they'll get more general attention than the royal couple.

Nevertheless, the two royalties will gum up the streets worse. Gosh! What a pest these moguls are — obstructing traffic, the way they do — in a republic!

It's enough to make anybody a democrat. The worst of it is that they stop over into our midst.

3 S. U. I. Women Reveal Engagements

R. E. Wardman, Loyd Beecher Plan Nuptials

Eleanor Bjorklund, H. William Rienow Disclose Engagement

Three university women announced their engagements and approaching marriages this week. The announcements of all three were made by passing the traditional five-pound box of candy among their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Dodsworth of Macomb, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to Bruce Morrow, son of C. W. Morrow of Council Bluffs. The wedding will be solemnized Sept. 3 in Macomb.

Miss Dodsworth is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and Mr. Morrow is a member of Phi Gamma Delta and Delta Sigma Delta fraternities. He is a senior in the college of dentistry and she is a junior in the college of liberal arts.

The announcement was made with the passing of the five-pound box of candy at the Kappa Alpha Theta house last night.

Rienow-Bjorklund
Mrs. Ethel Bjorklund of Oelwein announces the engagement of her daughter, Eleanor, to Harry William Rienow, son of Dean R. E. Rienow, 1033 Woodlawn. Miss Bjorklund is a sophomore in the college of liberal arts and is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Mr. Rienow will be graduated from the college of commerce this June. He is affiliated with the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Beecher-Wardman
Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Wardman of Union are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Rexine Ellen, to Loyd G. Beecher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beecher of Union. The wedding will take place the middle of June in Union.

Mr. Beecher was graduated from Union high school, Ellsworth junior college in Iowa Falls and is now a senior vocational education student in Iowa State college in Ames.

Miss Wardman, who is a senior student here in the university, was also graduated from Union high school. Before coming to Iowa City she attended Iowa State Teachers college in Cedar Falls. She was also employed in the Bates-Ryan law office in Eldora after her graduation from high school. She is a member of Kappa Phi sorority.

Also of local interest are the recent announcements of the marriages of former students and graduates of the university. A number of former students have chosen this month or the early days of June for their nuptials and announcements are frequent.

Gallogly-Spensley
Standing before a fireplace banked in purple and white lilacs, Anne Tileston Spensley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harker Brentnal Spensley of Dubuque, became the bride of William Loren Gallogly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Bliss Gallogly of Los Angeles, Cal., last Monday afternoon at 2:15. The Rev. Dr. Hugh Atchison officiated at the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and a few relatives.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pale pink starched chiffon, fashioned with bouffant skirt, fitted bodice and short puffed sleeves. A double row of tiny pink pearl buttons trimmed the front of the waist. She wore lilies of the valley in her hair and wore home.

a corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Georgette Spensley, who attended her sister as maid of honor, wore a long waisted gown of turquoise crepe with a full skirt, tucked waist and tiny sleeves. The wide square neckline was fastened with a matching halter strap and she wore a blue ribbon bow in her hair. Her shoulder corsage was of Johanna Hill roses and lilies of the valley.

Lloyd Gettys of Davenport served the bridegroom as best man. A reception for 150 guests followed the ceremony in the Spensley home. Bouquets of lilies of the valley, snapdragons, sweetpeas, bridal wreath, lilacs and gladiolus decorated the home.

For travel the bride wore a blue figured crepe dress with a bolero jacket. The dress was trimmed in yellow and the blouse was of the same color. The couple left for a wedding trip in New York City and Atlantic City, N. J. After June 1 they will be at home at 419 Summit street in Dubuque.

The bride received her B.A. and M.A. degrees from the university, where she was a member of Delta Gamma sorority. She is a member of the Junior Auxiliary of the Dubuque Visiting Nurse association and has been associated with her father in the real estate business.

Mr. Gallogly was graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles and is employed as the district manager of the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York.

Appointments of Dr. Wellek, Prof. Austin Warren Disclosed By Prof. Norman Foerster

Will Assume Duties In School of Letters Here Next September

The appointments of Prof. Austin Warren and Dr. Rene Wellek in the school of letters, to assume their duties in September, were announced yesterday by Prof. Norman Foerster, director of the school of letters.

Dr. Wellek will come from the University of London. With the title of lecturer of letters, he is a specialist in the theory of literary history. Born in Austria in 1903, he received the Ph.D. degree in English at the University of Prague in 1920.

After a year in England he came to Princeton as proctor fellow in English and subsequently taught German at Princeton and Smith college. Returning to Europe, he taught English literature at his alma mater and then became lecturer at the school of Slavonic studies, University of London.

Wellek is Author

In addition to many articles in learned journals, Dr. Wellek is the author of "Kant in England," published in 1931 by the Princeton university press, and is at present engaged upon a work on "The Development of Literary History in England."

Austin Warren of Boston university will act as a professor in the English department beginning next September. Born in 1899, he attended Wesleyan university, received the M.A. degree at Harvard, and his Ph.D. at Princeton. He has taught at the University of Kentucky, the University of Minnesota and Boston university.

Literature Authority

The fields of study which Professor Warren has cultivated are English literature of the 17th and 18th centuries and American literature of the 19th century. He has published numerous articles in various scholarly journals, and is the editor of Hawthorne in the American writers series.

He is the author of books on Alexander Pope and the elder Henry James. A new book of his on Richard Crashaw will be published in June.

Recently Professor Warren was appointed director of the Anderson library of poetry to be housed in Boston in a new building donated by Mrs. Liza Anderson. The object of this collection will be to gather the 20th century poetry of America, England and France, and a complete file of all American "little magazines," many of which have introduced new poets to the public.

Registration Of 3,400 Students Begins June 10

800 Courses Offered In Summer Session Convening June 12

Registration of some 3,400 campus students for the university's 40th summer session will begin June 10 and classes in more than 800 courses will convene two days later.

The second semester of the academic year now is in its final stages, with examinations scheduled to begin May 23 and last until May 31. Regular classes will not meet during examination week.

After the university celebrates its 79th commencement from May 31 to June 5, the campus will be quiet for a few days before the summer session students arrive.

It is expected that enrollment for the teaching term of eight weeks will be at least as large as that of last year. Students from about 45 states will enroll for courses.

For the third summer, the session is split into an eight-week teaching period, June 12 to Aug. 4, and a two-week independent study unit for recommended graduate students only, Aug. 7 to 25.

Group Plans For Student Scholarships To Grinnell Institute

Dr. Arthur Steindler of the university children's hospital will speak on "Preparedness" at the next and final forum in this year's series sponsored by the Iowa City Peace council. The forum will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the city hall, under the direction of Prof. Willard Wirtz of the college of law.

Speakers at the first forum included V. C. Marshall, editor of the Cedar Rapids Gazette; Prof. Clyde Hart of the sociology department, and Prof. Frank L. Mott of the school of journalism. Prof. A. G. Norman of Iowa State college addressed the second forum.

The Iowa City Peace council is an organization having as its purpose the provision of scholarships for students to attend the Grinnell institute of international relations, the sponsorship of public forums on international relations and the assistance of foreign students.

Contest Winner To Receive $10

Centennial Emblem Designs Due June 15 At Mrs. L. Pelzer's

Designs for the Iowa City centennial celebration emblem will be selected in a $10 prize contest which anyone may enter, the committee for the celebration yesterday announced.

The design, which will be used on the centennial button, book, flags, scarfs and decorations, must be submitted on white Bristol board in black India ink. It must be six inches in diameter with "Iowa City Centennial," and "1839-1939" on it.

Artists are to put their names in sealed envelopes attached to the back of the drawing. Designs must be taken to Mrs. Louis Pelzer not later than June 15.

The jury for the selection of the winning design includes the executive committee of the centennial, the chairman of the art committee, and an art instructor from the university. Effectiveness, originality and forcefulness will be considered in the judging.

The committee has suggested themes for the design including Old Capitol with early fenced square in view; Old Capitol against rays of light; pioneer stone cutter at work; Governor Lucas, Old Capitol in background; Indian chief and first white man near the Iowa river; Governor Lucas; ox team and load of stone; covered wagon before Old Capitol; man at plow; pioneer leaders consulting capitol plans, and three commissioners selecting a site for Iowa City.

University Hi Presents Play

'The Dover Road' To Be Given Tonight In University Theater

"The Dover Road," a play by A. A. Milne, will be presented by University high school with the cooperation of the university theater tonight at 8 o'clock in the dramatic arts building.

Directors of the play are Donald Wimbler of the speech and dramatic art department and Donald Streeter of the University high school faculty. The play is the climax of University high school's dramatic art program for the year.

Milne, the author of the play, calls it an "absurd comedy." It is probably the best known play of this author. Thomas Dickinson selected it as one of the best contemporary British dramas, including it in the third series of his "Chief Contemporary Dramatists."

Those in the cast for the play are Paul Bordwell, who plays Latimer, a quaint old-world gentleman of means who takes great delight in using his wealth to prevent marriages between people who are fundamentally unsuited to each other.

For some years he has been concentrating on second marriages "into which people plunge, with no parents to restrain them, so much more recklessly than they embarked on their first adventure."

Latimer has an efficient staff, headed by his butler, Dominic.

time, knowing when to pause and for how long, were parts of the poetry reader's technique which he had mastered.

Because of his style of reading his poetry, he had been called "the singing professor." Una Wallace wrote of him in 1931:

"In the last quarter of the 19th century, a small boy grew up watching horse traders, well diggers, cowboys, farmers, fiddlers, women with rough hands and kind eyes, all the characters of a pioneer country, later laughed at by some, wept over by others.

"A Poet Historian "Little did they realize that this boy who took an interest in every detail of ordinary life would one day write of their struggles in epic deserving of their strength and sincerity.

"This boy was Edwin Ford Piper. He absorbed the spirit of the range country along with its natural beauties, and those qualities of pioneer peoples, not beautiful, but fundamental to strength of character.

"He came at a moving time when such scenes as he has portrayed could have been lost as effectively as if they had never existed, had there not been an artist there to add its color to the canyons of American literature.

"As I see it, in poetry, an author's subject must possess him intellectually and emotionally; he must know facts and background forgotten by everyone else, organic relations with the regional history — land — played by Duane Carson, and including as servants, Henry Pelzer, Patty Bates, Janet Kurtz and Lewis Ward.

The guests on this particular week end are two eloping couples, played by Genevieve Slemmons, Cyrus Beye, Lynn Frazier and Phyllis Brieland.

A thousand details — and then leave out all but the quintessence; he must be soaked through with the spirit originating in his subject; and his creative powers must body forth the creature and bring it to life.

"This thought of Mr. Piper's explains thoroughly his attitude during those days history was being made and most folks were too busy in the making to stop and look at the beauty of the picture.

"Writing—A Mirror to Life "Born in 1871 in Nebraska a few miles west of the Missouri river, he grew with the country. His family moved west from the blue stem to the buffalo grass country, to the plateau of west-central Nebraska when the grazing land narrowed as the farmers came in.

"Of this Mr. Piper tells us in 'Barbed Wire' the real drama of a country transformed overnight from the free range land of the cowboys to that of the farmer who settled to stay.

"As a boy he loved the outdoors; he learned something from every traveler who came that way; he wandered in the scrub oak bluffs, hazel thickets, and hickory groves; he rode with the cowboys, listening to their songs.

"Songs he had always been interested in, those of the hired man, of tramps camped along the stage-road, of fiddlers at county fairs. All these he has added to a collection which numbers many hundreds of songs and bits of folklore, and 60 or more rhymed calls for quadrilles. People no longer play as they did then.

"A Full Life "He read in his home library from Mark Twain, Scott, Dickens, Elliot, Hugo and Don Quixote in translation, besides history and travel. Life was not dull or monotonous. Early formal schooling came at irregular intervals, but high school was finished in two years, and after teaching in country schools, he entered the University of Nebraska in 1893.

There his driving desire to know found a great treasure house in the library.

"He found time to write stories and verse although he earned his living and was at the same time a good student. In 1897, the college year book offered a prize for the best poem; 'Landbound,' on the solitude of the plains country, received the prize, being the first published poem by Piper.

"He never deserted this theme which is a part of his life. He said: 'My aim in writing has remained as constant as my subject. I have tried to tell the significant truth about settlement days in Nebraska.'

"To see him is to get a glimpse of the old pioneer spirit, as real and unaffected as his poems. His manner and bearing are those of the strength and sincerity of the plains country. His relationships with students are those of a companion who suggests rather than advises."

No funeral arrangements have been made. The body is at Beckman's funeral home.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Second Semester 1938-1939 Tuesday, May 23, 8 a.m. to Wednesday, May 31, 4 p.m.

The regular program of class work will be suspended and the following semester-examination program substituted for it. Classes will meet for examination in the rooms in which they have been regularly meeting (except classes in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F and G, as shown in the form below; and Speech (2), (1), and (4) as shown at "N.B." below).

The Program Committee directs the attention of both students and instructors and professors, to the regulation that there is to be no deviation from this Schedule, except as authorized by the Committee on Admission and Classification, on the student's written petition, filed in ample time and supported by the recommendation of the department concerned,—to provide relief from an excessive number of examinations within a single day. Deviation for the purpose of completing examinations earlier will not be permitted. Students should prepare and deposit such petitions in the offices of the Deans of Men (men) and Women (women).

In case a student has as many as three examinations in a single day, one of them being a "SPECIAL GROUP" examination, the committee will authorize only the "SPECIAL GROUP" examination for another time, within examination week, than that specified in the Schedule below. Each petition must specify the exact title and course number of each of the three courses involved, and the day and the period, for each of these examinations as indicated in the Schedule.

If such a student's three examinations on a single day include two examinations (either at 8-10 or at 2-4) in one or both of which are found more than one section, at different times, he should, in his petition, clearly set out the facts; and ask the instructor to indicate on the petition whether he is willing to allow him to take his examination in the different section at the different time, as indicated.

Each such petition, before it is filed, should have the approval-statement of the instructor who is able and willing to give the examination at another time (within "examination week") than that provided for in the Schedule.

(Because the "SPECIAL GROUP" examinations are arranged for the special accommodation of the departments and instructors involved, it is expected that in such a case the instructors in charge of the "SPECIAL GROUP" examination should give the examination at another time.)

Each student who is absent from the final meeting of his class as indicated in the Examination Schedule should be reported, on the official grade-sheet at the end of the semester, as "Abs." Before this grade-mark can be removed he must file with the Committee on Admission and Classification a written petition, with adequate vouchers attached, setting forth in full the necessity of his absence. This petition must include a departmentally signed statement indicating whether, in case the Committee finds the absence excusable, the student has the department's and the instructor's permission to take the final examination. If the Committee finds the reason for the absence adequate it will issue to the student a partially prepared special report card (signed by the Secretary, lower left corner) with a form letter explaining to him that he has the Committee's permission, with the departmental consent and at the convenience of the instructor, to take his final examination within one month (or other designated period of time) from the date indicated.

Upon the student's taking the examination thus authorized the outcome is to be reported on this card, and not on any other card.

In the cases of conflicts (within the SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F and G) the Schedule itself, as presented below, provides general method of making adjustments.

All classes whose first weekly meetings have occurred as indicated in the rectangles below, meet for examination during the periods noted at the tops of these three columns, and on the days noted in the rectangles directly opposite at the left of the double vertical line.

Examination Period	8-10 A.M.	10-12 A.M.	2-4 P.M.

CONFLICTS: In case of conflicting examinations the student should report the instructor in charge of the first of the two conflicting subjects as listed within the particular SPECIAL GROUP rectangle above which he involved. (Road toward first in left column, and then in right column.) This instructor should arrange for you a special examination. Report to him, or her, not later than the regular class hour May 18 or 19; if possible, May 11 or 12.

The first meeting of the class means the first lecture or recitation period in course having both lectures and recitations, and laboratory periods; or, in the case of courses involving only laboratory periods, the first lecture of the first weekly meeting. For example, chemistry 21 meets for lectures 2 Th 8 at 8. The first recitation meeting is, consequently, Tuesday at 8—and the class will meet for examination Wednesday, May 24, 8 a.m., according to the tabular form above. Again, physics (126) meets twice each week T, F, for a three-hour laboratory exercise, 1-4. The period for the examination is, therefore, Monday, May 29, 3 p.m.

N.B. All students enrolled in Principles of Speech (1), and sections A and C of Principles of Speech (4) and all freshmen and sophomores in sections A, B, C, D, E, F, and G of Principles of Speech (2), meet during the final examination week in rooms announced by the instructors as follows:

Tuesday, May 23—Speech (1), 8:10 a.m.; Section D, 8:10 a.m.; Section H, 8:10 a.m.
Wednesday, May 24—Section C, 10:12 a.m.; Section A, 1:3 p.m.; Section B, 2:5 p.m.
Saturday, May 27—Section I, 8:10 a.m.; Section G, 1:3 p.m.; Section A, 1:3 p.m.; Section G, 2:5 p.m.

All sophomores, juniors and seniors in Speech (1), meet Wednesday, May 24, from 10:12 in rooms announced by their respective instructors.

All freshmen in sections B, F and J of Speech (2), and all students in section B of Speech (4) meet on the days and at the hours, and in the rooms, announced by their respective instructors.

"ODD" classes—namely, those whose first or only weekly meetings occur on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday or Saturday, or which meet "as arranged," will be assigned for examination as announced to each such class by the instructor in charge of the class, at the end of the regular or other class period for the class.

1. From 4 to 6 on any day from May 23 to May 31 inclusive.—Sunday and Memorial Day excepted.

2. Any one of the examination periods assigned, as indicated above, for the examinations in SPECIAL GROUPS A, B, C, D, E, F and G, since for such "odd" cases as these five examination periods will be found only available.

In connection with any such announcement it would doubtless be well for the instructor making the announcement to ascertain whether any member of his class is already under appointment for examination in some other class for the proposed period. To be sure, it is possible to have examinations for more than one class at any of these times,—if the student is authorized, subject to the consent and at the convenience of the instructor concerned, to take the final examination.

According to another regulation which is so regarded as adopted by the faculty, a student absent from the final examination should be reported "Abs." unless the instructor recognizes that his work up to this examination has been a failure, in which case the final report should be "Pd."—even though the student may have been absent from the final examination. No examination should be given, subsequently, to such a student until after the absence has been accounted for by the Committee on Admission and Classification, as shown by the tabular form above.

According to one clause in the general faculty action providing for a special semester-examination program, the instructor may use the examination period as he sees fit provided he holds a class for a full period, or he may give an oral or a written examination, or both, or neither. He may continue regular work or he may use the time for review, or for any phase of his work which may seem to him desirable at this time.

179 City High Music Students Leave Today for Minneapolis

Local Musicians To Participate In 23 of 56 Events in 3-Day National Regional Competition

Vir Jean Peterson To Play at Opening Session This Morning

One hundred seventy-nine Iowa City high school music students will leave here at 8 o'clock this morning on a specially chartered Rock Island train comprising the second delegation to represent the local high school in the national regional music contest which begins today at Minneapolis.

At the same hour the train is to leave here this morning, Vir Jean Peterson, oboe soloist, will make her appearance before the judges and represent Iowa City in the first event at the contest city.

Miss Peterson is one of twenty-five musicians, including soloists or members of small ensembles, who went to Minneapolis yesterday.

23 Events Entered
Iowa City high school, which has entered 204 contestants, will participate in 23 of the 56 events during the three-day affair. Eleven groups will make their appearances today, nine tomorrow and three Saturday in various of the schools, colleges and churches cooperating in the contest.

This morning Miss Peterson will play her oboe solo at 8 o'clock; Donald Key, French horn, 8:30; William Gower, English horn solo, 8:45; Richard Smith, E flat clarinet solo, 9 o'clock; Bob Merriam, Bob Caywood and Verla Bales, all alto clarinet solo entries, 9:15; and Russell Sapp, baritone horn solo, 9:30.

Entered this afternoon are Marjorie Sidwell and William Gower, B flat clarinet solo, 1 o'clock; Kathryn Ruppert, Virginia Simpson, Dorothy Smith and Bob Swisher, flute quartet, 2:15; and Bob Caywood, Mildred Burger, Bob Merriam and Verla Bales, B flat clarinet quartet, 2:45.

Events This Evening
Two events entered this evening are saxophone quartet, Fletcher Miller, Susan Showers, John Whinery and Jean Mocha, 7:30; and horn quartet, Wilma Powcis, Bob Martin, Ruby Alley and Betty Ivie, 8:15.

William Gower, director of the band and instructor of brass instruments, and Himie Voxman, director of the high school orchestra and wood-wind instruments instructor, arrived in Minneapolis yesterday with the first delegation from the local high school. With them was Priscilla Keeler, G of Mt. Vernon, who will accompany the groups during the contest.

Most of the students participating in events tomorrow and Saturday will leave this morning. Tomorrow morning, City high's first entry is a trombone quartet, composed of Russell Sapp, Bob Simpson, Don Hebl and Joe Poulter. The quartet will play at 8:30 a.m. At 9 a.m. the concert band of 80 members, which is in class "B", is scheduled to appear. At 9:30 a.m. Lester Taylor, base solo (voice) entry, will compete.

Harp Soloists
The three entries tomorrow afternoon are Anne Mercer and Jean Taylor, harp solo, 1:30 p.m.; the mixed chorus of 60 voices, participating with class "B" chorus group, 1:40 p.m. and Jean McKnight and Gladys Knight, violin-cello solo, 2 p.m.

Participating at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the clarinet quartet are Mildred Burger, B flat clarinet, Don Reha, B flat clarinet, Gene Hubbard, alto clarinet and Cornell Mayer, bass clarinet. At 7:45 p.m. a madrigal group of seven voices, three boys, Charles Putnam, Robert Townner and Edward Korab, and four girls, Joan Joehnk, Mary Mercer, Doris Christensen and Viola Hayek, will compete.

Friday's final entry which will be at 7:45 p.m. is a wood-wind quintet. Those in the group are Virginia Simpson, flute; Vir Jean Peterson, oboe; Marjorie Sidwell, clarinet; Donald Key, French horn; and Anne Serup, bassoon.

Saturday Entries
Two of Saturday's three entries are in the morning with two ensembles competing at 9:15 a.m. in the string quartet division. The first group is composed of Albert Muenzer, violin; Joan Freund, violin; Patricia Trachsel, viola, and Jean McKnight, violincello. In the second quartet are Dorothe Lorenz, violin; Edward Korab, violin; Marian MacEwen, viola, and Gladys Knight, violincello.

At 9:45 a.m. Saturday Iowa City high school will enter a string sextet, the members of which are Eloise Lapp, violin; Bud Lambert, violin; Ruth Smith, violin; Marion Pickering, viola; Ann Martin, violincello, and Lura Jean Mott, bass.

Concert Band
Twenty-three sections make up the 80-piece Iowa City concert band. Members are Virginia Simpson, piccolo; Kathryn Ruppert, Dorothy Smith, Robert Swisher and Doris Bennett, flute; Richard Smith, E flat clarinet; Barbara Ricketts and Vir Jean Peterson, oboe.

Bob Caywood, Marjorie Sidwell, William Gower, Mildred Burger, Verla Bales, Bob Merriam, Mary Wylie, John Graham, Ned Smith, Robert Palik, Donald Reha, Ernest Zeman, Bob Miller, Dick Phipps, Marion Pickering, Robert Kessler, Henry Hoeltje, John Street, Marilyn Mott and Clifford Richards, B flat clarinet.

Gene Hubbard and Beatrice Sladek, alto clarinet; Cornell Mayer and Ben Merritt, bass clarinet; Ann Serup, Bonita Lansing and Robert Tyndall, bassoon; Fletcher Miller, Richard Burger and Susan Showers, alto saxophone; John Whinery, tenor saxophone; Paul Miller, bass saxophone.

Arthur Stevens
Arthur Stevens, William Voelckers, James Morgan, Ellsworth Smith, Kenneth Mulford, Joe Jaekler, Arthur Kanak, Bill Raymond and Don Walters, cornet; Donald Key, Beverly Babcock, Ruby Alley, Virgil Smith, Wilma

Powers, Betty Ivie, Ruth Norman and Bob Martin, French horn. Bob Simpson, Don Hebl, Elwood Opstad, Dick Bright, Royal Burkhardt, Joe Poulter and Fred Gartzke, trombone; Russel Sapp, Bob H. Jones, George Gay, Carl Martin and William Plass; Donald Simpson, string bass; Gordon Flynn, E flat tuba; Ralph Miller, Forrest Broders and David Cassat, double B flat tuba.

Robert Todd and Louis Eichler, snare drum; Lawrence Urban, cymbal; Louis Jenkinson, bass drum, and James Reeds, tympani.

81-Piece Orchestra
City high's 81-piece orchestra, which is composed of 16 sections, is to compete in the final event of the contest. Players in the first violin section are Patricia Trachsel, Albert Muenzer, Joan Freund, Edward Korab, Dorothe Lorenz, Eloise Lapp, Ruth Smith, Shirley Jean Miller, Adams Lambert, Margaret Wylie, Mary Helen Raymond, Anna Margaret Orr and Hubert Hoeltje.

Second violin, Versa Paulter, Florence Prizler, Patsy Hines, Virginia Jones, Sally Wallace, Ruth Wilson, Arthur Proehl, Charlotte Slife, Iris Matthew, Theo Hazard, Patricia Kinney, Jeanne Sheets, Carl Martin, Margaret Browning, Phyllis Miller and Kathryn Murphy.

Viola, Marion Pickering, Marian MacEwen, Margaret Proehl, Carolyn Colony, Bob Wilson, Helen Marlar and Pauline Voelckers; cello, Jean McKnight, Gladys Knight, Jane Spencer, Ann Martin, Dorothy Wallace and Mary Poulter.

Don Simpson
String bass, Don Simpson, Lura Jean Mott, Dolores Burnett, Evelyn Norton, Marion Farnsworth and Phyllis Phippen; piccolo, Virginia Simpson; flute, Katherine Ruppert, Dorothy Smith and Bob Swisher; oboe, William Gower, Barbara Ricketts and Vir Jean Peterson.

Clarinet, Robert Caywood, Marjorie Sidwell, Mildred Burger and Bob Merriam; bassoon, Ann Serup, Bonita Lansing and Robert Tyndall.

superintendent of city schools, and W. E. Beck, principal of Iowa City high school, are also leaving this morning with the musicians.

The young contestants are being chaperoned by mothers of six of the music students, Mrs. William Gower, Mrs. Thomas Caywood, Mrs. F. B. Whinery, Mrs. W. W. Mercer and Mrs. R. E. Taylor.

Iowa City high school musicians are going to a national contest for the sixth consecutive year, having made previous trips to Des Moines in 1934; Madison, Wis., 1935; Cleveland, Ohio, 1936; Columbus, Ohio, 1937, and Minneapolis in 1938.

One contestant, Barbara Mezik, flutist in both the band and orchestra, has been quarantined with scarlet fever. She was the only delegate registered who will not be making the trip. Last year every one assigned went to the contest.

Music contestants, staying at the Curtis hotel in Minneapolis, will return to Iowa City Saturday night.

One teaspoon of swordfish liver oil contains as much vitamin A as 80 pounds of butter or 160 dozen eggs, say United States bureau of fisheries experts.

Mercury Hits High Of 77, Low of 54

Yesterday's temperature reached a high of 77 degrees, seven degrees above last year's reading and three degrees above the normal 74.

The low of yesterday was 54 degrees, five degrees above normal and the same as the reading of a year ago.

Cattle prices averaged $1 to $2 higher during the first quarter of 1939 than during the same period of 1938.
