Friends Say Garner Will Seek Nomination

Will Run, Even If Roosevelt Enters Race

Approves Efforts Of Supporters To Line Up Delegates

By WILLIAM E. ARDERY
WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Close friends of Vice-President Garner disclosed today that he has decided to seek the presidential nomination at the 1940 democratic convention even if President Roosevelt should be a candidate.

Garner was said to be convinced that his name should go before the convention, regardless of the strength of any opposing aspirants for the nomination, and that consequently he approved efforts of supporters to line up convention delegates in his behalf.

Headed by E. B. Germany, Texas democratic state chairman, a Garner-for-president organization already has been formed and has mailed about 30,000 letters to democratic voters urging support of Garner for the presidential nomination. Recently, Garner himself has had several off-the-record talks with state political leaders.

Some of the vice-president's political advisers were said to be urging him to participate actively in state primaries and conventions which will choose convention delegates next year.

His friends feel, congressional insiders said, that he would have an excellent chance for the presidential nomination if he exerted his influence to win delegates.

Even if it appeared he could not be nominated, they said, Garner pledged state delegations would give him a strong voice in the convention.

Informed persons told reporters that some of Garner's supporters believe he could make political capital by breaking his self-imposed rule of silence and speaking out on national issues during the next few months.

Reports were that Garner has listened attentively to that suggestion, but has given no sign as to what course he will take.

Figuring also in current political talk on Capitol Hill are reports that some senators, looking forward to 1940, now are seeking actively to heal differences between democratic factions.

College President, Senior Wage Legal Battle Over Diploma in Idaho Courts

NAMPA, Idaho, June 3 (AP)—A legal fight for a college diploma stirred this usually quiet western Idaho city today.

R. V. De Long, president of Northwest Nazarene college, ordered seniors not to attend the annual alumni banquet, which was held before graduation exercises.

Le Roy Harris and five other students attended anyway. School officials demanded an apology. The students refused.

Their names were cut off the graduation list.

Harris went to court.

District Judge Charles E. Winstead signed a writ of mandamus ordering President De Long to give Harris his degree or appear in court June 19 and explain.

De Long's attorney commented: "We have provided a method by which students may obtain diplomas and feel that no court action is necessary."

He added, however:

"We will be in court when the hearing comes around."

No Changes In Europe Scene

Russia, Britain, Hitler Do Much, Gain Little As Week Terminates

By The Associated Press
Europe's opposition camps came to the end of another week of intensive diplomatic maneuvering yesterday but with little to show for their efforts.

Soviet Russia wrote "inadequate" across Britain's latest proposals to bring her into the British-French front and sat back awaiting the next move from the western powers.

Britons, diverted from the Soviet negotiations late in the week by the submarine Thetis disaster, still held hope, however, that an understanding eventually would be reached with Moscow.

On the other side of the fence, Adolf Hitler lavished considerable attention upon Yugoslavia whose regent Prince Paul was wined and dined in Berlin on a five-day state visit.

Across the banquet table the nazi fuhrer guaranteed the borders of the Balkan state in an exchange of toasts with the Belgrade regent.

Blowouts 'Too Much,' Driver Walks Home

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., June 3 (AP)—Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang!

Four blowouts in about that rapidity so disgusted an Omaha motorist near here that he abandoned his automobile, left a note addressed to state highway patrolmen telling his troubles, and hitchhiked home.

WELL, COME ON! Law Can't Get At Man in Cell

VALLEJO, Cal., June 3 (AP)—Joshua Howard Greenlee, 42, said "Come and get me" to the law and the law couldn't do very much about it.

Greenlee was in jail, charged with disturbing the peace.

He slammed his cell door so hard it wouldn't open when bailiffs came to take him to court.

J. Reed Urges 'Clean Sweep' In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, June 3 (AP)—Seventy-seven-year-old James A. Reed, the stormy petrel of United States senate fights back in the days when he was at grips with President Woodrow Wilson, was in another fight tonight.

"Hell-raising" Jim, white-haired but still possessed of his sharp tongue, propelled himself right into the middle of the civic middle which has struck Kansas City since the imprisonment of its toppled boss, Tom Pendergast.

Facing a newly organized "Forward Kansas City" committee, Reed said he was not satisfied by the mere discharge of a few Pendergast puppets from the city hall and that Mayor Bryce B. Smith should go too.

"Let's clean house all the way," he said in urging a recall election.

Labor Board Investigation May Be Made

Congress Threatens NLRB Check Unless Revisions Are Made

By DONALD A. YOUNG
WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—

President Roosevelt has been told by some of his closest congressional friends that unless congress gets a chance to vote on Wagner labor act amendments this session, a house investigation of the National Labor Relations board is inevitable.

This became known today as influential house members started a quiet campaign to obtain support for an investigative resolution which Representative Cox (D-Ga.) has introduced.

Cox said he would ask the rules committee to approve his resolution unless the labor committee reports amendments "in time for action this session."

Some democrats expressed the opinion privately that the house would certainly adopt, if brought to the floor, a resolution to create a special committee to inquire into the board's activities during the summer and fall and report back Jan. 1.

The inquiry would look into qualifications of the three board members and all regional directors and trial examiners and the arguments that the law should be amended.

Representative Anderson (D-Mo.) already has introduced legislation for such an investigation and informed persons said a similar one was being drafted by other legislators.

3rd Boys' Town Commencement To Be Monday

OMAHA, June 3 (AP)—The third annual high school commencement at Father Flanagan's boys' home will be held at Boys' Town near here tomorrow afternoon. Charles Driscoll, former Omaha newspaperman and now a columnist in New York, will deliver the commencement address.

Nine boys will receive high school diplomas, including Francis Lee Fox, Norfolk, Neb.; Joseph John Pline, Dubuque, Ia.; and Ralph Francis Ward, Davenport, Ia.

Hope Abandoned for Crew In Worst Undersea Disaster On Record in Naval History

Stern of Thetis Rises Above Waves

Three rescue craft hover about the stern of the sunken British submarine Thetis, aiding in the rescue of four members of the crew who escaped by use of the Davis lung and the submarine's escape hatches. The submarine was found at a 45-degree angle, its nose buried in the mud at the bottom of the Irish sea, its tail projecting into the air. Rescue operations were halted when the tide swept the entire submersible beneath the surface. She did not reappear. A crew of 102 went down with the boat. Ninety-eight have been given up for dead. This is a cablephoto from London.

Salvage Work Continued As Britain Mourns

Mystery Surrounds Cause of Disaster; Officials Investigate

By The Associated Press
BIRKENHEAD, England, June 3 —Hope vanished tonight for 99 men at the bottom of the Irish sea in the sunken British submarine Thetis—the greatest number ever to perish in an undersea disaster.

The admiralty gave the men up for dead nearly 15 hours after the air supply was calculated to have been exhausted behind the Thetis' silent, thick steel walls. Admiralty officials acknowledged that slow seepage of water into the submarine's batteries probably had formed chlorine gas and that the fumes had suffocated the men.

A British medical authority expert said that if they died from chlorine gas poisoning, the men probably met a painless and easy death.

Painless Death
"Chlorine gas fumes, in a confined space like the interior of a submerged submarine, would cause early asphyxiation, immediately preceded by loss of consciousness," said the authority, who is an official of a leading medical association.

Salvage vessels attempting to raise the hull of the Thetis succeeded today in placing hawsers under her, it was disclosed tonight. Experts said, however, that it would be impossible to raise her before next Tuesday.

"Then we will make for shallow water, probably on Anglesey coast, (eight miles away)," an official of the Thetis' builders said. Deadline Passes
At 1:40 a.m. (6:40 p.m., CST, Friday night) 36 hours — the deadline for the Thetis' sealed-up air — had passed since the new $1,500,000 submarine dived into Liverpool bay in a test on a trial run for acceptance by the British navy.

For six hours after that divers tapped urgently at her sides for a signal that life still flickered within. They got what they believed might have been their final, faint answer at 2 a.m. today (7 p.m., CST, Friday night) although some thought they might have heard only loose gear rattling against the swaying sides of the hulk.

Then, at 4:30 p.m. (9:30 a.m., CST), after incessant rescue attempts spurred by the trapped men's ebbing chances had failed, the admiralty abandoned hope.

No Longer Hope
It issued a statement saying "there is now no longer justification for hope that any further lives can be saved from the Thetis."

But it said salvage work was continuing. Posted for grieving relatives of the entombed men to see, a telegram from the admiralty was placed in the window of Cammell Laird, Ltd., builders of the Thetis. It read:

"Regret that hope of saving victims in Thetis must now be abandoned."

Martin Manton Found Guilty

Former Federal Judge Faces Prison On 'Bribery' Count

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Former Federal Circuit Court Judge Martin T. Manton was convicted by a federal court jury tonight of conspiracy to obstruct justice and to deprive the United States of his impartial services.

He faces a maximum penalty of two years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

George M. Spector, former confidential agent for the late Promoter Archie M. Andrews, was convicted of the same charges.

Three other original co-defendants pleaded guilty at the start of the trial.

Manton, as a federal judge, had passed upon 2,500 cases, he said, and the government had accused him of bribery and influenced decisions in six.

A federal inquiry resulted in Manton's indictment for bribery, and conspiracy to bribe, obstruct justice and defraud the government of his impartial services in a series of patent infringement, receivership and other cases.

Sculptor Dies

SANTA BARBARA, Cal. (AP)—Anna Coleman Ladd, 61, internationally known sculptor and author, died here yesterday after an illness of several months.

70,000 Workers Remain Idle In Michigan Strike

DETROIT, June 3 (AP)—Union and management, each charging the other with injecting "new issues" into the dispute, failed today to break a strike deadlock that has kept more than 70,000 automobile workers idle.

Hearings arranged by Federal Conciliator James F. Dewey were adjourned until Monday.

Many Demand Court Martial For Moseley

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—Demands are piling up at the war department that outspoken Maj. Gen. George Van Horn Moseley face an army court martial on charges growing out of his campaign against "enemies from within."

Authoritative sources disclosed this today at the same time that the White House acknowledged a letter from Representative Coffey (D-Wash.) suggesting that the retired officer was guilty of "subversive statements" in his testimony before the house committee on un-American activities.

The number and names of those, aside from Representative Coffey, who have suggested action were not disclosed.

Winners of the first undisputed Big Ten baseball championship Iowa ever enjoyed, the 1939 Hawkeys were presented yesterday with a floral wreath by The Daily Iowan, bearing the inscription, Big 10 Champs, 1939. In the picture above, Dennis Sullivan, left, is shown congratulating Coach Vogel shortly before the game yesterday, while an Iowa fan peeks out from behind the floral offering. The award was made just before the start of the game which the Badgers won by a score of 8 to 1. However, the game did not have any effect on Iowa's claim to the conference title; the Hawkeys clinched the championship place by their 8-0 victory on Friday. Counting yesterday's tilt, the Hawkeys made a record this season that includes eight Big Ten victories against three defeats and 20 victories during the season, with only four losses. This is the second time in succession for Iowa to finish on top in the conference baseball race, although Indiana gained a share of the championship last year.

America's Destiny Is Clear

WALTER LIPPMANN examines "The American Destiny" in the current issue of Life magazine. Optimistic as he is, Lippmann recognizes influences on the American spirit which are stifling at the present time.

"The American spirit," Lippmann says, "is troubled not by the dangers, and not by the difficulties of the age, but by indecision. Considering the resources with which nature, and the accumulated achievements of the past, and historic fate have endowed America, there ought to be no question in anyone's mind about the American future. Yet in the generation to which we belong, unlike any that went before, the American people have no vision of their future. Lacking this, they are seized by deep uncertainty. They are confused by their problems. They are oppressed by doubt."

Lippmann lays this indecision to the accumulated "disappointments of the post-war era." We were disappointed, he explains, by the failure of great plans conceived by Wilson, by Coolidge and Hoover, and by Roosevelt.

"Far from feeling inspired by the riches of the American earth, the generation to which we belong is now frightened by its fertility. It is as if this continent had raised up something too great for little men to deal with. They have let themselves be persuaded that in every phase of their activity they are threatened by the expansion of their power and must contract it."

Certainly this feeling is not difficult to discern. Yet, as Lippmann points out, it is a regrettable one.

The Life writer believes America has a magnificent future; he believes we soon will come to realize it and will overcome our present fears completely. Psychologists who have discovered that the intelligence of children can be raised by stimulating environment, state that we, as a people, are intellectually starved. Americans, it would seem, will find both large and small problems easier to cope with when this scientific knowledge is applied to increasing our abilities to think and do.

Not our shortcomings, but our accomplishments have made America great; our accomplishments still stand as evidence of our greatness.

We agree with Walter Lippmann. Especially do we believe that the time is not far distant when "The American people will move forward again, and feel once more the exhilaration and the confidence that have made them what they are, when they allow themselves to become conscious of their greatness, conscious not only of their incomparable inheritance but of the splendor of their destiny. Then the things that seem difficult will seem easy, and the willingness to be equal to their mission will restore their confidence and make whole their will."

Secretary Hull's Neutrality

NEUTRALITY legislation has proved, in the past, to be not only inadequate, but confusing. The only sensible thing that seems to emerge from all the current discussion is that the best plan is to have none at all. The effectiveness of diplomacy, preparedness and international law would seem to be as effective as statutes.

If we must have neutrality bills passed, the administration plan outlined by the secretary of state seems to be the best available. Secretary Hull proposes that our government determine in time of war which areas of the high seas are combat areas, or danger zones. In these areas, we would restrict travel. From these areas, we would exclude our ships. Otherwise, trading and sailing would be continued as usual, with the exception that belligerents buying any goods from us would have to take title to the goods before they were shipped.

There is nothing to show that any neutrality legislation would increase materially our chances of keeping out of war.

At least, Hull's proposal would tend to keep us from undue entanglements.

Germans have now developed a substitute for tin cans. In Germany, it seems, a can of pork and beans is a substitute surrounded by a substitute.

An old-fashioned European statesman is one who blushes when he announces his nation won't pay its World War debt installment.

THE PHILHARMONIC'S RECORD

The Kansas City Philharmonic orchestra under Conductor Karl Krueger has made a remarkable record. The story was told in the annual report in The Star yesterday. Organized at the bottom of the depression the Philharmonic has gone on for seven years until it has become a big business, as well as a musical institution, with a pay roll to the orchestra members of more than $100,000 a year.

It must be borne in mind that no symphony orchestra in the United States or in Europe is able to pay its way by ticket sales. It must have help from public spirited citizens who appreciate the value of great music in a community's life. Comparable orchestras in this country require a fund of $150,000 or more every year. The Kansas City orchestra has had a fund of only $60,000 annually for the last two or three years, and has accumulated a deficit of only $10,000. A reason for this unusual record is the public interest as shown by ticket sales. The Kansas City orchestra is matched in attendance by only one or two cities in the country.

The sustained and growing public interest of course is due to the fine leadership of Mr. Krueger and the quality of the players he has gathered about him. Outside critics rank the Philharmonic among the first half dozen American orchestras. It has become an invaluable advertisement for Kansas City.

The report for the year printed yesterday included the welcome news that Conrad H. Mann had been induced by the members of the board to withdraw his resignation from the chairmanship of the executive committee. The orchestra was largely his creation. He has put a vast amount of time and energy as well as a generous amount of money into its success. He could not be spared at this time. —The Kansas City Star

A COLUMN ABOUT A FRIEND

—we is also an idealist and a fool... Of all the 1,163 who will walk up there to get their degrees tomorrow, Walker Sandbach is probably the silliest... I know, he's a friend of mine...

Yes, I know most of you who read this have never heard of Walker... By all the standards that are his college life has been a failure...

Of course, his grades have been above average—but not too much above... And I see by last year's Hawkeye that there are only three lines after his name... He hasn't been an "activity" man at all, and everyone knows that half of college is in the extra-curricular activities—almost everyone knows it...

As far as I can see the only thing Walk got out of college is a wife, and now that I think of it—a philosophy of life... And just try making a living with either one of those...

The worst part of it is Walker doesn't care... Well, you couldn't exactly call him shiftless or lazy; I don't know what you would call him unless you pick out some silly word like "Idealist."

You see, Walker's one of that most unpopular of all groups who won't live unto themselves alone but want to change things around... You know the type... You might list Voltaire, I suppose, and Tom Paine, and Jean Jacques Rousseau and maybe Abe Lincoln... I suppose you could even put down Jesus Christ, if you wanted to...

You get the idea, one of "those" guys... Some people might call Walker a "radical," I imagine... As a matter of fact, I guess some people do... As far as I know he doesn't belong to any of the parties, but he's a subversive influence all the same... And he's a nut too... Getting

Pride in Browning A La Japanese

WACO, Tex. (AP) — "More of Browning's poems have been translated into Japanese than any other language," explained a guide who was showing a Japanese visitor through the Baylor University library. "Here is the largest collection known of the Japanese collections." The Japanese politely explained that most of the books in the collection, however, were upside down and the numbered volumes were in helter-skelter order. Twelve trees in a lane at Llyfouth, N. "Behold the Lamb" will be the topic of Dr. Charles Fuller's sermon today at 7 over Mutual network stations during the weekly broadcast of the Old Fashioned Revival hour.

The former Orson Welles sponsor (Campbell soup) is shopping for a Sunday night hour on the networks, it is said. The company is also evidencing interest in those states where it is required to dim the lights for an approaching motorist, the rules are not rigidly enforced. The Michigan Highway Department has collected some valuable statistics regarding reflector buttons on rural highways. On 80 miles of road from Lansing to Detroit reflector buttons were spaced 100 feet apart. There was a reduction in accidents of 73 per cent on this stretch of road in 1938, as compared to a reduction of 19 per cent on a control stretch of highway.

Danger Increased The night pedestrian is in about five times as much danger from motorists as the day pedestrian. It is suggested that night pedestrians carry a light, but this seems to be an imposition that is carrying the thing too far. If you can't be safe walking around at night without a lantern, it has indeed become a dangerous world.

Slow Improvement Headlights have not been improved as rapidly or as completely as other parts of the automobile. The headlight problems are two. One is proper visibility in driving when no cars are ahead, and the other is blinding the approaching motorists. So far as the first is concerned, headlights lose half their effectiveness if they are not kept clean and adjusted. So far as the second, few cars on the road have efficient dim lights, and even in net plant, now Republic studios. There aren't any tribes of harum-scarum writers in his wake, thinking up "gags" to "kill" or "panic" or merely impress the Old Man. It's all different—that way...

Sennett is at 20th Century-Fox as associate producer and technical adviser on "Hollywood Cavalcade," the projected color film celebrating the rise of movietown. What Sennett, who made bathing beauties and Keystone Kops and Chaplin and a host of other stars great, doesn't know about Hollywood is so little it would rattle in a walnut.

He knows the up side — and the down side too, because lately he has been a king deposed by a talkies, a producer without a production, a celebrity with only the past to celebrate.

"We're going to have a great picture," he says. "I never saw such enthusiasm as Irving Cummings, the director, has. That counts for everything, enthusiasm."

"Hollywood Cavalcade" will be a movie saga starring Alice Faye and Don Ameche, covering a period roughly from 1913 to the present. Between Cummings, who used to be an actor, and Sennett, who was a pioneer along with D. W. Griffith, they ought to do it right.

"Good script," sack Mack. "About nobody in particular — but the story of Hollywood will be there. Bathing beauties? Sure. We're having an argument right now about those. They're streamlined now — I always went for curves. (Boom of laughter.) With this double chin of mine and this paunch, you might say I still go for curves in the human figure."

There have been reports that Mack was broke — the man who once cleaned up $8,000,000 gross on a $250,000 production called "Mickey" with Mabel Normand was flat. Mack says it isn't so.

"I've been re-issuing the early Bing Crosby and W. C. Fields pictures, which belong to me, and I've been doing right well with 'em," he says.

If they hold a reunion of local lights who got their start with Sennett, as they're planning, it will be one of the brightest gatherings in town. Some of those Keystone Kops are directors, like Wesley Ruggles, Mal St. Clair, Eddie Cline, and former Sennett stars whose fame is still bright include Chaplin, Carole Lombard, Wallace Beery, Louise Fazenda, Sally Eilers, Edgar Kennedy, Audrey Clyde — to say nothing of a "cavalcade" of former brilliance headed by Gloria Swanson.

NEW YORK—You looking for a producer in his own right. It made stars of Henry Hull, James Barton, James Bell, and Eddie Garr. It gave Kirkland enough money to abandon his career as a reporter and become a playwright-producer.

Road companies began spreading across the continent, welcomed in some cities, barred in others. Sally Rand, the fan dancer, always insisted that the play "sickened me" every time she saw it, which prompted some people to wonder why she went back to see it so often. Chicago banned it until a judge gave the producers a green light.

Then Kirkland wrote "Tortilla Flat," an abrupt and dismal failure. The critics were so outspoken against it that Kirkland, meeting one of them in a restaurant, promptly indulged him in a knock-down, drag out brawl. Then he left Broadway "never to return," but he came back with "I Must Love Someone," which immediately was labeled the vulgarst of the vulgar. Kirkland promptly made use of this publicity, calling attention in his ads to the fact that it was the bawdiest show on Broadway.

When "Tobacco Road" first opened the bankers controlling the theater where it was stationed read the sour reviews and urged them to move. "Tortilla Flat" wasn't open long enough to have anybody try to oust it. But "I Must Love Someone" has not escaped. It has been involved in litigation, the outcome of which is pending.

Plainly, ex-reporter Kirkland can never be accused of leading a dull life. He may be kicked around in print, and occasionally in the late hour restaurants, but he has fun, and he makes money.

HOLLYWOOD — It's natural-looking, Mack Sennett behind a movie desk again.

He's the same Sennett, a little altered by time but essentially the same, his hair no whiter than it was, his face no redder than it used to be when he boomed with laughter at some screen antic he felt sure would help maintain his crown as "King of Comedy." That laugh of his still booms, though his crown is long gone, and his purse is leaner than it used to be in the lush days of his fame.

The desk is different. The office is different. It is the impersonal office of a man called in to help on one picture. It lacks the "Sennett touch" — photos and trophies and memos and pipes — of a man who bossed his own pictures and made millions with them. There isn't any giant bathtub in a private suite next to his office, as there used to be in the old Sen-

"We're going to have a great picture," he says. "I never saw such enthusiasm as Irving Cummings, the director, has. That counts for everything, enthusiasm."

"Hollywood Cavalcade" will be a movie saga starring Alice Faye and Don Ameche, covering a period roughly from 1913 to the present. Between Cummings, who used to be an actor, and Sennett, who was a pioneer along with D. W. Griffith, they ought to do it right.

Haub, George Co-Captains Will Lead Hawkeye 1940 Diamond Team

Harold Haub, the speed ball artist from Rockwell City, and Jimmy George of Dubuque, whose defensive work and offensive punch has sparked the Hawkeyes to an undisputed Big Ten baseball championship, last night were elected co-captains of the 1940 University of Iowa baseball team.

Haub, whose two-hit performance over Wisconsin Friday clinched the pennant for the Vogelmen, has a season's record of six victories and one defeat. He won every Big Ten game in which he started, beating Chicago, Minnesota, Illinois, Northwestern and Wisconsin. His only defeat was chalked against him in the early season southern faunt.

George last year was selected the most valuable player in the Western conference on a vote of coaches and sportswriters. He was the first Iowan and the first sophomore ever to achieve the honor. This year he batted well over .400 and had several home runs to his credit. His defensive work was on a par with his batting punch, his throwing arm being one of the most feared in the loop.

Haub and George succeed Art Manush and Bill Vogt, senior outfielders, as co-captains.

Turnesa Shoots 69 in Practice For Big Meet

PHILADELPHIA, June 3 (AP)—Willie Turnesa, national amateur golf champion, fashioned a par 69 over the Spring Mill course of the Philadelphia Country club today in a practice round for the National Open here starting Thursday.

Admission was charged for the first time, but few spectators turned out to see Turnesa go out in 35, one over par, and do the last nine in 34, one under par.

Dutch Harrison, of Oak Park, Ill.; Henry Picard, of Hershey, metropolitan open champion; and Leonard Dodson, Springfield, Mo., also made practice rounds, but their cards were not reported. Most of the leading contenders are expected on Monday.

Luther Loses
DECORAH (AP)—Luther college nine lost to Louisiana State by a 4-3 score yesterday in the closing game of the college baseball season here. Radtke allowed four singles and a walk in the first inning to account for three Tiger runs.

Athletics Drub Browns Twice

ST. LOUIS, June 3 (AP)—The baffled St. Louis Browns are finding the lane longer and longer, with still no turn to victory.

They dropped their tenth and eleventh games in a row today, falling before the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-3 and 8-6, in a doubleheader. The twin victories put the A's in sixth place.

Rockne's Dream Comes True

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 3 (AP)—The dream of his lifetime came true in death today for the late Knute K. Rockne as Notre Dame's new memorial fieldhouse was dedicated to his memory.

The former Notre Dame athletic director and football coach was killed in an airplane crash in 1931. For years he had hoped to see the culmination of his university's athletic program which today's ceremonies marked.

Highlighting Notre Dame's 95th annual commencement, the dedication addresses in memory of "Rock" were made from a platform in front of the fieldhouse.

His football and track teammates sat together, recalling "Rock" of cinder path and gridiron. His widow and their sons sat together on the platform, looking on with poignant memories of "Rock," the husband and father. Old grads who were his mates in the silver jubilee class of 1914 were in the audience.

A flag-draped photograph of the former coach topped the platform. Monseigneur William Murphy, 93, of Sandusky, Ohio, who married the Rocknes, paid his first visit to Notre Dame. The Rev. Michael Shea, author of the "Notre Dame Victory March" which spurred many a Rockne team to victory, came from Ossining, N. Y.

Speakers included Arch Ward, Chicago Tribune sports editor, master of ceremonies; the Rev. John F. O'Hara, Notre Dame president; Major John L. Griffith, Big Ten commissioner; Charles E. (Gus) Dorais, University of Detroit athletic director; Frank E. Hering, first Notre Dame coach and now a university trustee; Elmer E. Layden, present athletic director, and Capt. William Wood, of West Point, Army football coach.

The $600,000 building is an 182-by-210 foot Gothic structure and was designed to provide for inter-hall athletics — an activity in which Rockne always was intensely interested.

Quarrel Fails To Develop Over Site of Louis-Galento Battle

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Despite a last hour shift in the lineup that saw Stewart Iglehart replace Cecil Smith, the great Tommy Hitchcock Jr., will lead a favored United States polo team against the British tomorrow in defense of the International trophy at the Meadow Brook club.

Smith, rated the country's greatest No. 2, was forced to withdraw from the lineup today when a brief workout showed him not fully recovered from injuries suffered in a test match earlier in the week. Hitchcock, for 17 years a 10-goal player, will take over the hard riding Texan's position with Stewart Iglehart replacing the U. S. captain at No. 3. Mike Phipps will ride at No. 1 with Winston Guest at back. This combination is rated at 37 goals, three more than the strongest team the British have assembled since winning the famous $200 trophy the last time in 1914.

Hitchcock Leads U. S. Polo Team Against British

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Fireworks expected at the formal contract signing for the June 28 heavyweight title fight between Champion Joe Louis and Tony Galento failed to develop today when the question of moving the fight to some city other than New York was not even discussed at a meeting of the New York Athletic commission.

Mike Jacobs, promoter of the fight, had indicated he might take the fight to Philadelphia or another city since the Lou Nova-Max Baer bout Thursday night drew a small crowd. Galento and his manager, Joe Jacobs, always have wanted it in Philadelphia but John Roxborough, one of the champion's managers, said they wouldn't consider any place but New York.

The commission eased matters somewhat by granting Joe Jacobs a second license after turning him down several times in the past. Joe also applied for a manager's license but no action was taken on it.

The contract was signed by Galento, Julian Black, acting for Louis and John J. Phelan, chairman of the commission. Louis, who opened his training camp at Pompton Lakes today, was not present.

"Guess de big bum is afraid," said Galento. "He didn't show up."

Johnstown Outtravels Belay For Win in Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Tall, dark and handsome Johnstown just about cleared up any lingering doubt to his right as champion of the three-year-olds today by galloping home a five-lengths winner in the 71st running of the classic Belmont stakes.

Adding this mile-and-a-half test to his previous conquests in the Withers mile, the Kentucky Derby, the Wood memorial and the Paumonok, William Woodward's whirlwind ran away from a field of five others.

He made every pole a winning one as he covered the long run in 2 minutes, 29 3-5 seconds, just one second off the track record, set by War Admiral two years ago.

Without the hindrance of heavy going, such as that which proved him no mudder in the Preakness — his only defeat in seven three-year-old starts — "Big John" was the whole show. Jockey Jimmy Stout had to do little more than hold on.

Coming into the stretch Stout even had time to turn his head to see what was doing behind him. It was plenty for A. C. Rostwick's Belay and Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Gilded Knight were battling it out head to head for the place position.

Belay finally won out by half a length, with the Knight third and the Earle Sande-trained Heather Broom a length farther back in fourth place.

Mrs. Payne Whitney's Hash wound up fifth. Joseph E. Widener's Knicker-Bocker, previously undefeated in three outings, was last in a field which had been cut to six by earlier scratches of William Ziegler Jr., Time Sheet and Woodward's stable-mate of Johnstown, Challenge.

The victory in this time-honored $25,000 added stake was worth $37,020 to Johnstown's owner, bringing the winnings for Gemstown's big boy to $156,065 for his two-season racing career.

John Paycheck To Tangle With New Zealander

DES MOINES, June 3 (AP)—Johnny Paycheck, the Des Moines heavyweight, will meet Maurice Strickland of New Zealand in a 10-round fight here late this month.

Pinkie George, Des Moines promoter, and Harold Steinman of Chicago, Paycheck's managers, advised Des Moines boxing interests today they had signed Strickland in New York. They attended the Lou Nova-Max Baer bout there Thursday night.

The Paycheck-Strickland fight will be held at the Des Moines baseball park. The date will be set by George when he returns from the east.

Strickland is rated sixth among the world's heavyweights by the National Boxing association and Paycheck is ranked ninth.

The New Zealander has won nine of his last 10 fights, all of his victories coming by knockouts. He lost a 10-round decision to Bob Pastor in Chicago.

Paycheck has won 22 straight the ninth, being tossed out at the plate in a close play on Art Manush's tap down the third base line. The Iowans lost the game, their third conference defeat of the season, by a score of 8 to 1.

Bob Henrichs, reputed to be one of the best pitchers in the Big Ten conference, fulfilled all of his advance notices yesterday, as he held the Hawkeyes, conference champions, to eight hits, and a single run while his mates were pounding three Iowa pitchers for 14 hits and eight runs.

Iowa's sluggers were held in check throughout by the tricky slants and change of pace of the Wisconsin ace and scored only in the eighth inning after the Badgers had the game safely in the bag.

Schilling, Dismier, and Bixby were the big guns in the Wisconsin attack, each collecting a trio of hits for nine of the team's total of 14.

Ken Reid, starting Hawkeye hurler, lasted but 4 2-3 innings and was touched for half of the Badgers' total of 14 hits. He was succeeded on the mound by Ted Fresco and Fred Hohenhorst, the former being touched rather freely during his 3 2/3 innings stretch on the hill.

The first scores of the game, came in the first half of the fourth inning when Smith, Badger third sacker, was hit by one of Reid's slants, stole second and rode home on the second of Dismier's hits, a line single into left. On the throw-in Manush's peg eluded Kocur at third, Dismier, taking that bag and scoring on Bixby's smash into right.

The Badgers added another in the following frame when Amundson beat out a tap down, the first base line, pilfered second and raced in on Schilling's clean smack over second base.

Just to make sure that the game would come out in their favor, the Badgers added two more tallies in the sixth on a hit by Stephan, Dismier's safe. (See HENRICH'S page 6)

A. A. U. W. Announces Legislative Program

Delegates at Denver Convention June 19-23 Will Discuss Measures

A tentative legislative program for 1939-41, to be voted upon at the biennial convention in Denver June 19 to 23, is announced today by the American Association of University Women.

Education, primary concern of the association since its inception in 1882, was listed as first consideration for the convention. Pending legislation on federal aid to education will fall under a policy statement which reads: "Federal aid for free tax-supported public education, including libraries."

"Let it be understood that it is only to state systems that has been proposed," said Dr. Harriett W. Elliott, chairman of the committee on legislative program. "It is not a federal system of education that is advocated. State control is to be retained even if supplements to the state and local funds are accepted from the national government."

Other educational policies listed include: "coordination of federal education activities, adequate appropriations for the United States office of education and abolition of compulsory block-booking and blind-selling in the leasing of motion pictures."

Chief differences in this year's legislative program from that of former years is a proposed changed approach to international relations—a shift from a support of individual legislative items to a declaration of general policy. "The rapidly-shifting international scene makes it impossible and undesirable to predict what

Linen Becomes Favorite for Wear During Warmest of Warm Months

For summer styles, cotton, sheer silk and linens are popular materials. And linen this year as every year is a favorite. Colored linen, natural linen, printed linen all make attractive frocks, play-suits and evening dresses for warm weather wear.

But white linen is an exceptionally happy choice. It looks cool, it feels cool and best of all it is cool. Classic lines, simple styles with one outstanding feature on a frock rather than many fussy fur-below is a wise choice for summer wear. And this summer when you'll be visiting one or both of the world's fairs, coolness and simplicity will be the key-notes of your wardrobe.

Shown here is a frock which will fit in well with your summer clothes theme. It will be just the thing to wear for sightseeing tours and fair-going expeditions. Superbly cut of heavy white linen, it is fashioned with three quarter length sleeves and trimmed with a gay, wide suede belt.

39 'Class of 1889' Graduates Win Alumni Day Recognition

'Laws' of 1889 Get Cup For Attendance

Coach E. Anderson Speaks at Luncheon, Asks Alumni Support

University of Iowa alumni day reached a climax yesterday when President Eugene A. Gilmore presented gold medals to each of 39 members of the 1889 graduating class who attended the alumni luncheon in the main lounge of Iowa Union, in recognition of their golden jubilee anniversary of graduation.

Further honors went to a part of class of '89. The college of law graduates of that year were awarded the traveling cup given to the class having the largest percentage of living members registered at the alumni office this year. The winning group had 13 of its 15 living members present.

Anderson Speaks

The meeting of the Alumni association was presided over by the retiring president, Virgil M. Hancher. The new president, Benjamin F. Butler of Waterloo, was introduced to the alumni and by popular request, Coach Eddie Anderson was introduced to the meeting. He asked the support of the alumni in the interests of a good football team for Iowa next fall.

President Hancher awarded the attendance cup and introduced President Gilmore, who awarded the individual gold medals.

President Gilmore welcomed the alumni and expressed his appreciation of alumni support, speaking briefly on the true value of alumni to the University of Iowa.

Gold Medal Winners

The 1889 graduates to whom gold medals were given are, in liberal arts: Walter L. Anderson of Lincoln, Neb.; Isaac W. Bender of Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Anna Lalor Burdick of Washington, D. C.; William R. Boyd of Cedar Rapids, Charles H. Burton of Lake Charles, La.; Oliver W. Childs of Denver, Col.; the Rev. Daniel I. Coon of Los Angeles, Cal.; Scott German of Newark, N. J.; Cora B. Morrison of Iowa City,

Two Active Iowa Alumni

Attorney Benjamin F. Butler of Waterloo, left, new president of the Iowa Alumni association, is shown here talking over old times and the alumni day activities with James W. Bollinger of Davenport, a member of the 1889 law class. Bollinger was formerly a district court judge in Davenport and is now practicing law there. Bollinger is the organizer for the law class of '89 and is mainly responsible for having 13 of the 15 living members of the class present at yesterday's activities. For this percentage of graduates returning, the class was awarded the traveling trophy given each year to the class having the largest percentage of living members registered at the alumni office by noon of alumni day. It was the fourth successive time that the same class had won the cup. The class members were each presented with a gold medal by President Eugene A. Gilmore in honor of their 50th anniversary of graduation as were 27 other 1889 graduates. Butler received his B.A. degree from the university in 1910 and graduated from the law school in 1912. He was chosen president of the association last March by a mail vote of the university alumni.

Law Graduates

In the college of law: James W. Bollinger of Davenport, Howard S. Boudinot of Davenport, William H. Chrisman of Mapleton, John T. Conn of Hartley, Knut A. Finseth of Nerstrand, Minn.; Frank E. Gill of Sioux City, Charles W. Hodgdon of Hoquiam, Wash.

S. Herbert Kerr of Seattle, Wash.; George H. Mayne of Council Bluffs, Cornelius H. Murphy of Davenport, William H. Stutsman of Mandan, N. D.; Mark A. Walsh of Burlington and John M. Wormley of Kingsley.

In the college of medicine: Dr. Albert H. Andrews of Chicago, Ill.; Dr. John C. Dennison of Bellevue, Dr. Samuel T. Gray of Albia, Dr. Isaiah W. Haughey of Ft. Collins, Col.; Dr. John F. Newell of Durham, Kan.; Dr. James F. Pressnell of Hollywood, Cal.; Dr. George F. Puffett of Ames, Dr. James C. Smoth of Miami, Fla., and Dr. Asa O. Wyland of Underwood.

In Dentistry

In the college of dentistry: Dr. William Humphrey of Carroll and Dr. Edward E. Peek of Waterloo. In the college of pharmacy: J. M. Lindly of Glenwood.

Other graduates introduced by President Gilmore included eight 1884 graduates, an 1880 graduate and an 1879 graduate, Giles C. Moorehead of Ida Grove, the oldest graduate present. Mr. Moorehead graduated from the college of medicine in 1879 and is now 83 years old. Moorehead claims to be the first white child born in Iowa city.

'University Values'

After the presentation of the awards and the special recognition of graduates, President Gilmore spoke on the far-reaching values of the University of Iowa. He termed the university a "garden of art," explaining this by saying, "The university is a composite of the best many of us can contribute."

He mentioned some important instances in the past few weeks when the University of Iowa has received nation-wide recognition in newspapers and magazines. As specific examples, he mentioned the recent article in Time about Lewis Browne, a graduate now with the Johns-Manville company; the work of George Gallup and the recent story of his life and work published in the Saturday Evening Post, the article in "The Flowering of the Valley" in the current issue of Life magazine and the trip to be made by the University of Iowa Scottish Highlanders to the New York World's fair.

The luncheon meeting of the Iowa Alumni association was closed with the entire group singing "Old Gold" under the direction and leadership of Don Mallett.

The remainder of the afternoon and evening was spent in class and college reunions and dinners. These were under the direction of and were arranged by the respective class secretaries.

Nurses Hold Alumnae Banquet

Two senior nurses, Dorothy Vandercamp of Council Bluffs, left, and Adelaide Vaala of Lawler, applauded the entertainment at the school of nursing alumnae banquet held last night at Iowa Union. Guests at the banquet included all alumnae of the school of nursing as well as members of the 1939 senior class. Many of the alumnae classes and college groups held dinners and reunions yesterday afternoon and last night.

Among Returning Alumni

One of the oldest graduates present yesterday was L. F. Sutton of Clinton, who graduated with the 1880 law class and is now 80 years old. He received two degrees, one in 1880 and the other in 1884. Sutton said that many classmates of his have become successful journalists; Harvey Ingham of Des Moines is one of them.

James W. "Judge" Bollinger of Davenport, law of '89, has two very interesting hobbies. Up until about a year ago he did all cooking at his home, having a special kitchen for his work and allowing no one else in it. Several magazines have noted his culinary art. The other is collecting Lincoln pictures—any picture relating to the life of Abraham Lincoln. Bollinger has a room of his home devoted to these pictures.

Oldest graduate on the campus yesterday was Giles C. Moorehead of Ida Grove. He graduated from medicine in 1879 and is now 83 years of age. He claims to be the first white child born in Iowa county, where he now lives.

The two living members of the 1889 college of law who were not at the alumni day ceremonies were kept at home, one by illness and the other by distance. Richard P. Buckmaster of New York City was ill and John W. Frame of Ketchikan, Alaska, was too far away to attend.

Though distance kept one of the graduates of '89 away from the alumni day events, five of the graduates came from the west coast of the United States, three from Washington, D. C., Miami, Fla., Lake Charles, La., Ft. Collins, Col., Denver, Col., and Newark, N. J.

Five of the '89 graduates here yesterday were the only five of their class who played on the Iowa football team three consecutive years while in school. They are Charles Burton of Lake Charles, La.; George and Frank Wright of Council Bluffs, George B. Thompson of Spokane, Wash., and Scott German of Newark, N. J. Burton explained that football was played by kicking and batting the ball, but there was no running with the ball and no tackling.

Leroy E. Cox of Chicago, Ill., who graduated from law in 1894, was the last bicycle racer from the University of Iowa who represented the university in track and field meets. And the Iowa City track for running and bicycle racing was a half-mile oval on the present site of Iowa City's new high school building.

Even The Laziest Man Can Go Fishing Now

SAN SABA, Tex. (AP) — If it wasn't for digging the worms, Oscar Woodward's invention would make fishing just about 100 per cent effortless. Woodward has invented a "hook setter" that sets the prong of the hook fast in the fish's mouth while the fisherman takes a nap. When a fish nibbles the bait it sets off a spring that gives the line a jerk. This pulls the hook through the fish's lip. Woodward said it has about doubled his catches.

City Birthday To Be Feted July 2, 3, 4

Work of Committees To Begin Tomorrow; Ask Public Support

Fifteen of the 17 general major committees which will plan the entire program for the observance of Iowa City's 100th birthday July 2, 3 and 4 were announced yesterday by the executive committee of the Iowa City Centennial association.

President Eugene A. Gilmore, Mayor Henry Willbrock, District Judges Harold D. Evans and James P. Gaffney and Frank J. Krall, chairman of the Johnson county board of supervisors, were named on an honorary committee by the association.

Soon to be named are the committees on junior hostesses for the centennial and for the centennial ball.

Committee lists for the centennial were termed by George Koser, president of the association, and Mrs. Louis Pelzer, vice-president, as the largest celebration committee ever launched in Iowa City and Johnson county.

Begin Activities
Tomorrow will be the official beginning of all activities, they said. A skeleton outline of the three-day celebration is prepared, and most of the committees to carry out the plans have been named.

With the first day of the centennial program less than a month away, committees are urged to spend this week on fundamental details of their work.

Local merchants have all agreed to display exhibits of relics, antiques and other items of general interest relative to the centennial in their show windows. Townspeople are asked to bring such items to centennial headquarters at 115 E. College street where they will be carefully cataloged before being placed on exhibition.

Koser said, "We plan a huge celebration. It will involve a tremendous amount of work and effort on the part of the people of Iowa City and Johnson county, but we believe that everyone will gladly cooperate to make this 100th birthday celebration the finest and biggest event of its kind ever held in eastern Iowa."

Ask Townspeople's Help
"As additional people express their willingness to help in the celebration, we will place their names on committees as the plans progress. It is possible that a few additional committees will be needed in a short time. All interested parties are urged to call at permanent centennial headquarters or telephone 6202."

Members of the Iowa City Centennial Association, Inc., are: president, George D. Koser; vice-president, Mildred W. Pelzer; secretary, W. T. Hageboeck; treasurer, W. Fred Roberson; director, Benj. F. Shambaugh; director, O. A. Byington; director, J. A. Swisher; director, Charles A. Bowman; director, Elmer E. Diercks; director, Myrtle S. Hubbard; director, Bessie Van Doren; director, Emmett C. Gardner; and director, Vernon R. Stutzman.

Iowa City—July 4, 1839

The original lithograph map of Iowa City, above, drawn in 1839 by L. Judson, marked out city blocks only from Front street along the east bank of Iowa river to Governor street and from Brown street on the north to Burlington street on the south.

The total area included in this was one square mile. Today, almost 100 years later, Iowa City has grown to cover five and one eighth square miles. This is an increase in area of five and one eighth times in the century ending this summer. The original manuscript copy of the map shown above is in the files of the Iowa State Historical society. The surveying work previous to the drawing of this map was started on the first day of July, 1839, and completed and the map drawn in its first draft by the fourth day of July.

A New 'Star'?

Maureen O'Sullivan. A bouncing eight-pound boy is born to Maureen O'Sullivan, Irish film actress. She is the wife of John Farrow, a film writer. The baby is the Farrow's first child.

Divorce Decree Granted Mrs. Farr

Mrs. Vivien O. Farr was granted a divorce from Samuel F. Farr yesterday in district court by Judge Harold D. Evans on the grounds of desertion and cruel and inhuman treatment.

The court awarded Mrs. Farr custody of four minor children and $30 a month alimony in the uncontested case. The couple was married at Hampton in 1920. Attorney Robert L. Larson appeared for the plaintiff.

Marriage Licensees Plentiful During This 'Month of Brides'

Three marriage licenses issued yesterday by County Clerk R. Neilson Miller brought the total given for the "month of brides" to nine or an average of three a day since June 1.

Those licensed to wed yesterday were Bruce E. Daniels, 28, Dubuque, and Virginia A. Smith, 23, Williamsburg; Delmer J. Rodabough, 28, Norborne, Mo., and Edna K. Harlan, 25, Iowa City, and Robert Howard Keller, 21, and Shirley Ione Wetzel, 24, both of Chicago.

Chinese Lotus Tubers Solve Chop Suey Puzzle

McINTOSH, Fla. (AP)—When hostilities in China cut off Oriental shipments of Egyptian lotus tubers, an ingredient of chop suey, gourmets looked about for another supply and found it—at the bottom of a Florida lake.

Deep in the lake-bottom mud, the fibrous roots which resemble a sweet potato had been developing since plantings were started three years ago. Little or nothing was known here then of its potential food value, but the large, pink-tinged lotus blossoms did add plenty of color to the lake scenery.

And then M. G. Gist learned of the chop suey situation. He dispatched an experimental shipment of tubers to northern markets. They "clicked," and now he hopes to develop the tuber industry on a more extensive scale.

Only 10 men have held the full rank of general in the United States army.

More Permits Purchased By Local Hunters

Johnson county hunters and fishermen paid more than twice as much for licenses last month as they did during the same period one year ago.

County Recorder Dick Jones reports a total of $1,077 revenue derived through the sale of licenses last month, as against the $507 paid in May, 1938. A total of 448 fishing licenses were issued last month. The fishing licenses are $1 each, the combination licenses, $1.50. One hunting license and one six-day fishing non-residence license were purchased last month at $1 each.
