New Relief Bill Is Drafted By Subcommittee

WPA Administrator Describes System As 'Notable Success'

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—A house subcommittee heard the WPA described by its administrator today as a "notable success," then proceeded to write the final draft of a bill which members said would make sweeping changes in the relief system he had praised.

After Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA head, had read a 39-page statement branding many of the charges made against the relief agency as "unfair" and "obviously untrue," the subcommittee adjourned without questioning Harrington at any length. It prepared to present to the full house appropriations committee tomorrow legislation which, informed members said, would include the following proposals:

1. Abolition of Harrington's post and substitution of a three-member board to run the WPA.
2. Establishment of a differential in wages favoring relief clients with dependents over those without.
3. Ear-marking of $125,000,000 of relief funds for a public works program to be handled by the WPA. In this connection, President Roosevelt told reporters at his press conference today he hoped relief money would not be ear-marked for PWA, adding that this would mean taking care of fewer persons on relief rolls.
4. Reduction of about $50,000,000 from the $123,000,000 sought by President Roosevelt to finance the national youth administration for the coming fiscal year.
5. Elimination from relief rolls of persons lacking bona fide relief status and limitation of the time which others can remain on the rolls.
6. Curtailment of the WPA's power to undertake such work as the federal theater and writers' projects.

Lewis Flays Congress For Doing Nothing

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—John L. Lewis, rallying his CIO forces for a new organizing campaign today, denounced industry, congress and the government in general on the ground that they had failed to cure economic ills which breed "black reaction" and "fascism."

Declaring that "11,000,000 able-bodied workers" are unemployed, he said that congress had done "worse than nothing" to solve this problem. He asserted that agencies of congress had been busying themselves "tearing the vitals" out of measures for the unemployed.

In a keynote speech to a session of the CIO executive board, he declared:

"I do not think the people will much longer have patience with the nostalgia and the reaction of the powers of corporate business. Nor will they be content with the timid solutions offered by government, solutions fearfully withdrawn before they can be really tested."

Eccentric Held Without Bail After Imperiling Duchess

LONDON, June 13 (AP)—Lawlor's definite connection with the incident at the home of the princess royal was made public for the first time at the hearing today.

The formal charges against him were possession of firearms and ammunition with intent "to endanger life or cause serious injury to property."

In denying such intent today, through his counsel, Lawlor kept his motive a mystery. Defense solicitor Leslie Marks, after denying criminal intent, said "I don't think it desirable to say any more at this stage." He entered a formal plea of innocence, but did not disclose details of the defense.

The prosecutor said Lawlor had come to England April 6 and that he had been working as a welder's assistant. He said 21 rounds of ammunition for the sawed-off gun were found in Lawlor's possession, along with ten air gun pellets.

229 Prisoners Lose Strike For Silk 'Undies'

LANSING, Kan., June 13 (AP)—A "silk underwear" revolt of 229 luxury-loving convicts in a Kansas state penitentiary coal mine was quelled today by a determined new warden who answered their demands with a show of machine guns and tear gas.

The prisoners surrendered meekly four hours after they had sent up demands for continued privileges, including bedtime snacks in their cells and the right to wear silk next to their skin, as the price of their work.

Warden Milton F. Amrine denied all demands, except that convicts would be permitted to wear out the silk underwear purchased previously at the prison commissary. He sent down 20 guards with machine guns and tear gas and ordered them to shoot if necessary.

The strikers speedily were brought up from the 722-foot deep shaft and marched to their cells minus their noonday lunch.

"This is the day we turn the prison back to the officers," Amrine commented after the revolting inmates were back in their cells. He said their discontent grew from his efforts to tighten up discipline. Two 10-gallon liquor stills recently were seized in the mine, Amrine said some of the fruits and vegetables carried to the convicts' cells went to feed the stills.

Pink, blue and white silken shirts and shorts formerly were sold in the prison commissary. Amrine said they were worn by less than 100 men, many of whom perverts. He stopped the sale last Saturday.

Earlier, the warden warned at a chapel meeting there would be a tightening of discipline to stop gambling and the use of liquor and narcotics.

Mine Superintendent Robert Murray and 20 guards were captured by the miner-convicts this morning soon after they descended into the mine. Murray was sent up to convey the demands:

1. That the convicts be permitted to wear silk underwear.
2. That the warden rescind his order forbidding prisoners to speculate by buying the coal produced by other prisoners in excess of their regular quotas.
3. That they be permitted the freedom of the cell houses until 9 p.m., rather than being locked in their cells at 6 p.m.
4. That they be allowed to take food from the prison tables to cells after meals, or that the warden permit two prisoners to resume selling pies and sandwiches.

Amrine sent Murray back down with his refusal and followed up shortly with the armed guards.

"A lovely sit-down strike. No violence—no disturbance."

Amrine said six of the convicts were drunk when they were brought to the top of the shaft. Two others he described as "tipsy."

This drew from him the comment: "Apparently there is another still hidden in the mine."

New Neutrality Bill Gets O.K. Of Committee

Disputed Presidential Measure Opens U. S. Resources to Allies

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—By a strictly party vote, the house foreign affairs committee approved the new administration neutrality bill, a measure so drawn that if war should come to Europe, America's vast resources would concededly be available to Great Britain, France and their allies.

The legislation, denounced by its foes as "unneutral" and likely to drag the United States into the first foreign conflict that comes along, goes next to the house proper. Action there is planned for late next week, or early in the week following.

Leaders were confident that the house would approve the bill, but readily conceded that its chances in the senate were of a different sort. There the old isolationist bloc, augmented by some new recruits, was waiting to fight the measure to the end, and a filibuster against it was considered much more than a possibility.

The senate foreign relations committee was scheduled to meet tomorrow to decide when it would begin consideration of specific neutrality legislation. Some looked for a test vote on an effort to postpone the date. With adjournment dependent upon disposition of the controversy it was regarded as axiomatic that any delay would favor the opposition.

The bill, as approved by the house committee, would, first of all, repeal the present law forbidding the shipment of an enumerated list of munitions to nations which the president finds to be at war.

Instead, the new bill would permit the purchase of these or any other American products or commodities by nations at war, subject to the proviso that purchasers must acquire complete title to their purchases before the latter may leave this country.

Countries Of West Europe Take Refugees

PARIS, June 13 (AP)—At least temporary havens for the 907 refugee German Jews who have been wandering the seas aboard the liner St. Louis were assured tonight by the governments of France, England, Belgium and the Netherlands.

The four western European countries each agreed to take about one-fourth of the shipload of refugees after the American joint distribution committee had volunteered a bond of $500 for each passenger of the liner.

The St. Louis, which left Hamburg May 15 and turned back to Europe after the Jews were denied permission to land in Cuba and the Dominican republic is expected to reach a European port Saturday.

The American bonds, totalling $453,500, were offered as a guarantee that the refugees would not become public charges of the nations giving them temporary homes.

The Netherlands is to take 194, and each of the other countries is to take up to 250 of the refugees.

Officer Arrives At Prague To Clear Incidents

Funeral Cancelled To Avoid Disorders; Bohemians Rallying

PRAGUE, June 13 (AP)—Heinrich Himmler, chief of German police, arrived here today and Czech political circles believed his visit indicated great importance was attached to a prompt clearing up of incidents in which two policemen, a Czech and a German, were killed.

An official announcement said the chief of the gendarmes and of the SS guards was in Prague "on a short official visit."

He called upon the reich's protector in Bohemia and Moravia, Baron Konstantin von Neurath, who last week ordered drastic police measures in Kladno when a German policeman was found slain.

Nazi Minister Arrives
Dr. Frank Guertner, nazi minister of justice, also was in Prague and visited von Neurath. Official circles in Berlin, however, emphasized that the minister of justice was here to attend German culture week.

Trouble Areas Plague Nazis

This Central Press map shows areas in which resistance to nazis rule and activity are causing the regime of Adolf Hitler considerable concern. In the Bohemian-Moravia area of what was once Czechoslovakia, the slaying of a German policeman has brought threat of reprisals by Germany.

Russia Awaits British Envoy As Next Move

MOSCOW, June 13 (AP)—The prospect of concluding a British-French-Soviet mutual assistance treaty seemed today to depend on whether Britain could persuade Finland, Latvia and Estonia to accept a guarantee of their independence by Soviet Russia in conjunction with France and Britain.

The arrival of William Strang, Britain's special envoy to spur the three-power pact negotiations, was awaited as the next step in efforts to come to such an agreement.

Strang is to arrive tomorrow with fresh instructions from the British foreign office.

What To Do? Depositors Won't Withdraw Funds

BOONEVILLE, June 13 (AP)—Cashier C. C. Cook said today he's having a hard time getting customers to withdraw deposits from the Booneville Savings bank which is scheduled to go out of business Sept. 1.

On May 29 the bank asked its 300 customers to withdraw the $276,000 on deposit—but not one of them has closed his account, Cook explained.

"The principal reason for quitting is that we do not know what to do with your money," depositors were told in letters when the decision to liquidate voluntarily was made.

He said, however, depositors are expected to begin closing accounts after June 30, when payment of 2 1/2 per cent interest will cease. The bank can't make sufficient loans to pay interest, he added.

Backs Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator Minton (D-Ind) told reporters yesterday the organization backing of Paul V. McNutt would "get behind President Roosevelt" if the president were a candidate for reelection.

NAUGHTY, NAUGHTY Coeds Turn In False Alarm; Are Fined

MADISON, Wis., June 13 (AP)—Two University of Wisconsin co-eds were ordered today by Superior Judge Roy H. Proctor to pay fines and costs of $54.95 each or serve 30 days in jail for turning in a false fire alarm.

The co-eds, Audrey Sherman, 17, of New York and Frances Finberg, 18, admitted telephoning the alarm from their sorority house at 2 a.m. today.

Police traced the call, went to the sorority house and threatened to hold all the girls there for investigation.

The two who pleaded guilty said they were tired from studying for final examinations.

Experts Test Revenue Law For Loopholes

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that administration and congressional tax experts were still trying to make sure the new revenue law contains adequate safeguards against evasion of tax payments.

In particular, he disclosed, treasury and justice department officials are studying the question of strengthening a section of the existing law which provides penalties for corporations which retain profits in their treasuries for tax evasion purposes.

The new law, among other things, would repeal the remains of the tax on undistributed profits. Mr. Roosevelt has repeatedly said that if this levy were wiped out, other steps should be taken to prevent corporations with a few large and wealthy stockholders from reducing the income surtax payments of the latter by holding on to profits instead of disbursing them as dividends.

TVA Loses Bitter Struggle As House Limits Future Operation

The King's Headgear— Turns Up Missing, Discovered Later On Non-Royal Head

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—King George's resplendent pearl gray topper went A. W. O. L. and found its way to several non-royal heads at the New York world's fair, it became known today.

A high hat being about as easily handled at a lunch as a bass drum, the king placed it under his chair. Then it was missing.

The hasty search led to a little group clustered outside around a dark-skinned individual who was dancing a jig, the regal headgear bobbing around on his kinky pate.

"Do you know whose hat you've got there?" an agitated officer demanded.

"Sno, Ah does — 'at's the king's hat," the wearer acknowledged.

Before returning it, a half dozen officers tried it on too.

British Royalty Tours Canada By Automobile

ST. JOHN, N. B., June 13 (AP)—Escorted by scarlet-coated motorized Canadian "Mounties" King George and Queen Elizabeth toured New Brunswick in a streamlined automobile today over the longest highway route of their American visit.

Leaving their train this morning at Newcastle in northern New Brunswick where they were welcomed by a crowd of lumbermen and farmers at the gaily decorated station, they drove 108 miles to Fredericton, old provincial capital.

After a two-hour stay for an official luncheon at the University of New Brunswick, a drive through the city and an inspection of a guard of honor and war veterans at the legislative building, the party traveled 63 miles to St. John, oldest incorporated city in the dominion.

Hastening Of Navy Building Aids Situation

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today a definite speeding up of the naval building program in the last year had resulted in a much happier situation.

Asked at a press conference about a discussion he had held earlier with Charles Edison, assistant navy secretary, Mr. Roosevelt said they had gone into the construction program and that it seemed to be going along very well.

He said the speeding up process had resulted in cutting construction time about 25 per cent. A year ago, the president asserted, there were complaints about the length of time it took between a congressional appropriation for naval vessels and the commissioning of ships.

Body Reduces Bond Issue for Financing New Buying Project

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The Tennessee Valley Authority lost a bitter fight late today when the house approved a measure placing drastic limitations on its future operations.

TVA supporters said the measure also would endanger a $78,000,000 deal under which Tennessee electric power company properties would be bought up by the public agency.

The house voted to reduce from $100,000,000 to $85,000,000 a bond issue to be floated to finance the deal. It wrote in amendments to a senate bill to restrict TVA to a specific territory in the mid-south and prohibit it from reimbursing states and counties for tax losses suffered through retirement of private utilities from the area.

The bonds authorized for issuance under the house measure, a complete change from the senate bill, would be obligations of the federal agency, but would not carry the guarantee of the U. S. government.

Final passage of the legislation came on a voice vote. Immediately before the final action, the house voted, 191 to 167, to substitute its own amendments for the senate bill.

Reich Demands Colony Return Before 'Meetings'

BERLIN, June 13 (AP)—The return of Germany's war-lost colonies was said by an authorized foreign office source tonight to be the "prime condition" for nazi participation in any conference to bring Europe back to normalcy.

(Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax said Thursday that Britain was "not only willing but anxious" to discuss the matter of economic living space with Germany and other nations.)

Pendergast's Rule Topples

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 13 (AP)—Tom Pendergast's toppling democratic machine received another blow tonight as the senate passed with an overwhelming majority a house bill to place the Kansas City police department under state control.

Passage of the bill was a major victory for Gov. Lloyd Stark in his long fight with the Pendergast machine—a fight which some observers contend helped send Pendergast and former state insurance commissioner Emmett O'Malley to prison for income tax frauds.

The bill carries an emergency clause which makes it effective the minute Governor Stark signs it.

Warns Nation Not To Block G. B. Interests

Quarrel Refuses Over British Release 4 Chinese

LONDON, June 13 (AP)—Britain was said by informed quarters tonight to have warned Japan of a possible British-Japanese clash at Tientsin if efforts were made to blockade the British concession there as threatened.

In a last minute effort to avert the blockade the British government proposed a commission of one Briton, one Japanese and one neutral to settle the dispute over refusal of British authorities in that north China city to hand over four alleged Chinese terrorists.

The British contend there is not sufficient evidence to warrant their surrender to Japanese and are detaining them in the British concession. The cabinet foreign affairs committee considered the situation today.

(In Tientsin the Japanese army announced that restrictions on entry into and egress from both the British and French concessions would be imposed early Wednesday.)

(The British maintain an infantry battalion of 750 officers and men at Tientsin. The French have a colonial infantry regiment, two batteries of artillery and one light tank company, a total of 1,500 officers and men.)

British, United States and French diplomatic representatives in Shanghai were said by the foreign office to be in close consultation on the Tientsin situation, as they have been on all recent incidents in China.

The British government was re-presented as feeling an important principle was involved, since yielding to Japanese demands would set a precedent which might undermine British influence in Tientsin and other Chinese treaty ports.

Official circles expressed a belief that if the Japanese refused to accept the proposal for a commission to settle the dispute a serious crisis might arise.

Architect May Die for Building Weird Tortures in Spanish War

BARCELONA, June 13 (AP)—"Refined devices of the most horrible tortures," declared Col. Jose A. Gual, chief of the nationalist secret service, who estimated that at least 2,000 had been held in such cells in a few months before Barcelona was captured.

The prisoners were stripped of their clothing and flogged, and steel rings were placed in their eyes to keep them open, nationalist witnesses said.

Others told of raised cement blocks placed in cell floors so the prisoners could not walk about, and of cement chairs and beds built at a slant so the prisoners could not sit or lie down with comfort.

There was one cell built like a drum, it was declared, so that prisoners' steps echoed as they were forced to walk in circles for hours.

In an impassioned 90-minute plea for his life, Clik declared, "I am innocent. I ask only justice. I had no participation whatsoever in the construction of the torture cells," he told the tribunal.

A Pacific Era

Next? ACCORDING to many of our foremost statesmen, Europe is fast fading in importance in the world. In a few decades its dominance will definitely be a thing of the past.

What is in store for us after the passing of this Atlantic era? Theodore Roosevelt prophesied that China would gain greatly in importance in world affairs.

Is a Pacific era logically to be expected? The world of the Mediterranean became too small for the progress of mankind.

The continent of Asia is the largest on the globe. One-half the population of the world lives within its borders.

First, there is a large group of Germans, who had been conspicuous as champions of liberalism and democracy and international cooperation.

An even larger scope of exiles is included in the new national socialist racial restrictions which brand anyone a Jew and an outcast who has as little as 25 per cent Jewish blood in his veins.

Desirable immigrants are those who will add materially and spiritually to the well being of the country which they are adopting.

The Friends' Committee justly concluded that "the solution of the refugee problem does not present difficulties that cannot be overcome by intelligent assistance, common sense, a little energy, ingenuity and good will toward men."

Stewart Says—

Uncle Sam Cannot Remain Aloof From World Economics

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist

On account of King George's and Queen Elizabeth's visit, the Washington atmosphere for a few days wasn't so very different from the kind of thing we hear described as characteristic of Moscow.

Suppose you were a loyal American citizen, occupying a store with a show window fronting on their majesties' advertised line of march from the Union railway station to the White House.

Well, that's what happened. Doesn't it sound rather OGPU-ish or Gestapo-ish?

Or suppose that, standing on the curb line, in a position to get a good squint at the performance, you chanced to put your hand into your hip pocket.

It's seemed to me, on these occasions, that matters were being overdone a bit—that he'd better stay home if he's so uneasy.

However, the protection that the president gets is nothing comparable to what their visiting British majesties got in Washington.

Two things scared the tar out of secret service-dom. A cuckoo chap whanged off a sawed-off shotgun in the vicinity of the Duchess of Kent (sister-in-law of King George) in London.

An "incident" was what our government and secret services were afraid of from the first.

It would have been perfectly terrible—and our secret service, had it happened, would have been responsible for it.

The Gestapo and the OGPU haven't stayed awake any more nights than our secret service has thought of the possibility that anybody might toss a can under their British majesties while here.

Oh, it would have been our fault—or neglect!

A MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—It does your heart good to see people nudge each other and whisper his name when Jack Dempsey walks along the street.

It's seemed to me, on these occasions, that matters were being overdone a bit—that he'd better stay home if he's so uneasy.

rib and said, "Look, there's Jack Dempsey."

The woman looked at her husband as if his mind were wandering, because his nudge had been none too gentle, and she said, "What?"

Still following Dempsey with his eyes he nudged her again and said, "There's Jack Dempsey—see him?"

But the woman stared hard at her husband and said sharply, "Stop jabbing me with your elbow, and what did you say?"

This was too much for the old man's patience, for Dempsey by this time was lost around a corner, and so, in exasperation, the old gentleman seized his wife by the shoulders and shook her and screamed, "I said there goes JACK DEMPSEY, and if you'd pay attention to me you'd SEE something now and then!"

Whether she forgave him when she got him home or dropped poison in his coffee I am of course unable to say, but the incident does illustrate the unabating spell his name still holds over the public—he has only to walk down the street and dignified old gentlemen begin mistreating their wives.

Joe Thinks Galento "Tough"

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 13 (AP)—Yankee stadium's chopping block is all set for a very large evening the night of June 28 if Tony Galento, as has been hinted, should trot out any rough-housing in his fist-tossing title party with Joe Louis.

For Joe, rapidly rounding into shape here at Doc Beir's place, promised today he'd "given Tony just what he's looking for" in the event the party gets rough. "If Tony starts to push me around that way," Joe warned, "I'll rough him right back. I'll give it right back to him and then we'll see who likes to play the most."

Not Worried
Joe and his training troupe, particularly Jack (Chappie) Blackburn, figure Galento will be tougher than any of the tan terror's recent opponents—but they're not especially worried. "We took on the same kind of a fighter a couple of years back in Adolph Wiater," Blackburn related. "He came from Green Bay, Wis., and moved in like Tony, wide open and slugging all the time. That was the first 10-round fight Joe ever had and we won the decision after putting Adolph down three or four times. He was tough only for the first three or four rounds."

After two weeks of work, Joe is coming to the peak of his condition in splendid style. He is boxing six rounds daily, his latest punch-tossing session coming at the expense of Sparmatas Mickey Hayes of Milwaukee, Joe Banovic, a Galento-shaped gentleman (particularly around the mid-section) from Binghamton, Jim Howell and George Nicholson of New York.

Asks For It
Hayes walked into the training camp a couple of days ago and announced he had hitch-hiked all the way from home just to tangle a little bit with the heavyweight champion. He is rapidly learning that, as Joe Jacobs, Galento's manager, so aptly put it, he "should have stood in bed" today. He was cuffed from ring-post to ring-post and finally wound up with a nose dripping blood.

Joe's boxing has improved considerably since he last was in training here—for John Henry Louis in January. He is much faster on his feet, moves around considerably better.

Joe today was presented the Ring magazine's "merit award" as the outstanding boxer of 1938. The presentation was made by Nat Fleishcher, the magazine's editor, who also turned over to Henry Armstrong "Ring's" championship belt for the welterweight title. Henry was presented also with an "extra-special" belt for being the first boxer ever to hold three titles simultaneously.

BITS about Sports

By J. DENNIS SULLIVAN

Those canny Scots, who should know just about all there is to know about this game of golf, took one gander at the entry list for the British Open Golf tournament and selected America's Sam Snead as the boy to beat.

While nearer home Iowa's golfers prepare for their first shot at national honors when they tee off in the N. C. Golf meet at Des Moines, June 26.

Headed by Willie Thomsen, steady star of the Hawkeye squad, the Iowans will be stepping out in fast company, but many expect the team, which finished fourth in the recent Big Ten conference tournament at Evanston, Ill., to give out plenty during the meet.

And, getting back to Scotland and the British Open championship, the St. Andrews course, scene of a number of victories by American golfers, has had a number of alterations made in preparation for the meet. News tees at the fifth and 14th holes add 100 yards to the course.

Beginning with Bob Hutchinson of Chicago, who captured the British Open in 1921, Americans have capped the title at St. Andrews every time out. Bobby Jones turned the trick in 1927 and Denny Shute in 1933 after a play off with Craig Wood, runner up to Byron Nelson in the National Open.

Henry Cullen, secretary of the meet, has indicated that the famous old course, badly burned by drought, will be closed until a day or two before the tournament starts. Unless there is a great deal of rain in the next two weeks the fairways will be lightening fast and Cullen expects a new course record to be written into the books.

P. E. Conclave Here Tomorrow

Five visiting speakers from such varied fields as the American Medical Association and the Chicago park district will address the University of Iowa's tenth annual conference on problems of physical education here Thursday and Friday.

They will take up such topics as how to make school programs effective, physical education as a means of interpreting modern life, health education, and what the public is thinking about health. It is one of five conferences at the state university within two weeks and like the others is open without charge to all interested persons.

Visiting speakers are Dr. W. W. Bauer, director of the bureau of health education of the American Medical Association; Vernon F. Herland, supervisor of physical activities of the Chicago Park district; Granville B. Johnson, University of Denver; Florence Owens, Duluth, Minn., schools; and Agnes Wayman, Barnard college.

Scots Favor Snead
ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, June 13 (AP)—The Scotch took one canny glance at the entry list for the British open golf championship tonight and quickly made America's Sam Snead, who blew a chance to win the U. S. open on the last hole, and Henry Cotton the English stylist, joint favorites at 12 to 1. The championship will be played July 3-8.

Five other Americans were entered but whether all would compete was doubtful. Snead has not announced definitely whether he would play. He has a date in the Inverness tournament at Toledo, Ohio, this week.

Heady, Steady Player

Willie Thomsen, above, heads the Iowa squad of golfers entered in the National Collegiate tournament at Des Moines June 26 to July 1. In the Big Ten meet held at Evanston recently Thomsen finished in third place.

Willie Thomsen To Lead Squad To Des Moines

Present Team First In Hawkeye History To Enter at Meet

When the National Collegiate Golf tournament gets under way in Des Moines June 26, University of Iowa golfers, for the first time in Hawkeye athletic history, will tee off with the nation's best in the battle for national honors. Although six players constitute a team, nine have been named by Coach Charles Kennett to make the trip as tournament rules allow the four best scores to count as team points.

Heading the squad will be Willie Thomsen, recent third-place winner in the Big Ten conference meet at Evanston, Ill., and two other good seniors, Harold Skow of Newton and Dick Hoak of Des Moines.

Winners of fourth place in the conference meet, the Hawkeyes figure to give a good account of themselves on the Wakonda course where the meet will be held, as several of the boys have had considerable experience on the tournament site.

The Hoak brothers, Dick and Jim, have been playing the Des Moines layout since early childhood and know the course's good and bad points, fairways and greens, like a book.

Dick and Jim, furthermore, aren't the only golfers in the Hoak family as another brother, Tom, was recently elected captain of the Iowa State squad. If hard work and application to the business of perfecting a style means anything Willie Thomsen should be hard to stop once the meet is under way.

Several years ago Willie reported for the track team. His specialties, so it seems, were the mile and two-mile runs. Thomsen soon proved a good cinderman, never failing to place in dual meet competition. All of this was done not with the idea of becoming a track star, but rather to build up his legs for those long, wearisome treks around the fairways during the college season. He won two minor letters in track.

These are the men named by Coach Kennett: Dick and Jim Hoak of Des Moines; Willie Thomsen of Racine, Wis.; David Foerster of Iowa City; Clayton Pittman of Mt. Pleasant; Harold Skow of Newton; David Collison of Marshalltown; Harvey Davis of Crete, Neb., and Robert Lattig of Nevada.

Wright and his brother, George, and Dr. A. P. Wyland of Underwood. The Iowa coaching staff came here from Shenandoah where Anderson spoke at a gathering of Page, Fremont, Adams, Taylor, Mills and Montgomery county alumni Monday. Mayor S. W. McCall set aside Tuesday as "Eddie Anderson day" here and more than 200 alumni supporters attended the meeting.

Easy Win
Norfolk made it five straight wins last night with a 7 to 0 victory over the second place Lincoln Western league club. E. Smith had Lincoln under control at all times and coasted in after his teammates gave him a 6 to 0 lead with a four run blast in the fourth inning.

Helen Hicks, Former Champ, Eliminated From Women's Western Open Play by Music Teacher

15-Year-Old Girl Shoots 3 and 2 Win Over Iva M. Pilcher

ST. LOUIS, June 13 (AP)—A freckle-faced piano teacher, a 15-year-old school girl and a veteran poured plenty of spice into the first round of play in the women's western open golf tournament today.

Dorothy Foster of Springfield, Ill., who left a music class to compete here, gave some lessons in golf and dropped one of the favorites by the wayside in a stunning contest.

She trimmed Mrs. Helen Hicks Harb, former national champion and now a New York City professional, 5 and 4. Miss Foster, former Illinois women's champion, was three up at the turn and continued to ram down her putts beautifully to end the match with four pars and a birdie deuce.

All the other favorites came through the first round nicely. The "baby" of the tournament, Jeanne Cline, 15-year-old Bloomington, Ill., high school sophomore, advanced to the second round with a 3 and 2 victory over Iva Mae Pilcher of Mexico, Mo.

They made the turn all even, going out in 45, but the youngster, displaying excellent form and with energy to burn, rolled in a couple pars and a birdie to gain the three-point margin.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill, veteran Kansas City pro seeking her third western open title in five years, breezed through her opening match, winning easily, 8 and 6, from Mrs. W. F. Anderson of St. Louis. She toured the out nine in 41, four over par.

Pros in Race
Mrs. Hill is one of three pros remaining in competition. All are paired in the upper bracket and one of the trio is almost certain of reaching the finals.

One of the "business women" players, Helen Dettweiler of Washington, D. C., posted a 4 and 2 victory over Mrs. M. B. Wallace of St. Louis, while the other two, Virginia Pepp, St. Louis, was pressed hard to win 1 up over Mrs. Charles Dennehy of Chicago. Four standouts in the lower bracket are Ella Mae Williams, attractive Chicago girl; Beatrice Barrett of Minneapolis, Minn., the defending champion; Phyllis Buchanan, Denver, and Mrs. Burt Weil, Cincinnati, former Ohio State champion.

Sluggo to Browns

ST. LOUIS, June 13 (AP)—The last-place St. Louis Browns announced late today they had obtained Joe Gallagher, slugging young outfielder, from the world champion New York Yankees. The Browns gave up infielder Roy Hughes and an undisclosed amount of cash for Gallagher, whom the Yankees recently sent to their Newark farm club in exchange for pitcher Russo. Gallagher came to the Yankees from Kansas City and he was so confident of his ability to stick with the champions that he threatened at first to quit baseball rather than report to Newark. The Browns also announced

Specialists Iowa Athletes Not Very Versatile

More specialization and less versatility was shown by University of Iowa letter-winning athletes during 1938-39 for only five won varsity awards in more than one sport.

The group was headed by Erwin Prasse, 1938 football captain, who won major letters in football, basketball, and baseball. If he repeats in these sports, he will become the first man since Aubrey Devine of the early twenties to earn nine major letters.

Wilbur Nead, the Big Ten champion heavyweight wrestler, also won the major "I" in football. Athletes who took a major and a minor letter were Jack O'Mahoney of Davenport, swimming and basketball; Fred Hohenhorst of Chicago, Ill., basketball and baseball; and Frank Balazs, football and baseball.

Woodruff May Change Plans

LOS ANGELES, June 13 (AP)—"Long John" Woodruff, Pittsburgh's star runner, may find his plans for the week end changed for the third time in as many days.

Director of Athletics James Hagan of Pitt said tonight he was "definitely in favor" of Woodruff running here Friday and Saturday in the National Collegiate track championships instead of competing in the Princeton invitationals.

Hagan's comment came after a day of cross-country bickering between N. C. A. A. officials and Dan Ferris, secretary of the amateur athletic union, which is backing the Princeton meet. Hagan said he was advised to order Woodruff had elected to run in the east because Ferris threatened to disqualify him for 1940 Olympic games consideration if he failed to run at Princeton. Woodruff had entered both meets.

Director of Athletics Willis O. Hunter of Southern California, host of the N. C. A. A., said Ferris wired an answer to criticism voiced earlier today by Arnold Eddy of U. S. C., secretary of the Southern Pacific chapter of the A. A. U. Eddy accused Ferris of "meddling" in collegiate affairs.

Ferris, Hunter said, claimed accounts of his action had been garbled, and declared a "reasonable excuse" for Woodruff to pass up the Princeton meet would be for Pitt to "insist" that the lanky Negro run in the N. C. A. A. Told of this turn, the Pitt athletic head said he wanted Woodruff to run here. "This college championship is of the type of meet the University of Pittsburgh favors," Hagan asserted. They had sold outfielder Mel Mazzera outright to Toronto.

Lou Fools Few On Journey To Rochester

MINNEAPOLIS, June 13 (AP)—Henry Louis Gehrig, holder of a life time major league batting average of .344, hit a perfect goose egg in the incognito loop here today.

The once mighty slugger hopped into Minneapolis from Kansas City enroute to Rochester where he is to enter the Mayo clinic.

LOU GEHRIG

with the plane passenger list registering him as Mr. Somebody-or-Other.

When he stepped off the liner at the local airport, the first man he saw greeted him: "Hi, Lou!" That was the attendant who handles the gangplank. Somewhat perturbed, the touring Yankee first sacker strolled into the waiting room.

"Howdy, Mistuh Gehrig," beamed a Negro porter, shuffling up to ask if he wanted a taxi. What little mystery that brush, he quickly lost when he strolled over toward a bench near the soda fountain.

An urchin, seated at the counter, sounded off: "Hey, fellers, here's Lou Gehrig!" Then shyness yielded to a big smile and Gehrig caught the spirit of the occasion, scribbling his autograph for the lads, posing for amateur camera fans and finally buying a round of hot dogs for the youngsters.

Thus for two hours while he awaited the departure of his Rochester plane at 1:30 p.m., Lou chatted affably. He felt all right, he said, expects to return to the Yankee lineup and has been assured if there's anything wrong "they fill find out at Rochester."

Reaching Rochester after a 35 minute trip, Gehrig again visited with reporters and then went to a hotel. He will start through the Mayo clinic Wednesday.

Sponsors of the meet, the University of Iowa board in control of athletics, are hoping for an even bigger turnout than that of last year when over 50 players competed, including 19 in men's singles.

Leading the list of entries last year, of course, were the Hainline brothers of Rock Island, who fought it out in the finals, with Dick emerging as champion over the efforts of his brother Forrest. In the doubles, the Hainlines fell victims to the Peoria Ill., team of Ed Davis and Ken Black, while Peggy Kerr of Hollywood, Cal., won the women's singles by defeating Carol Mundhenke of Dubuque.

Long, Long Distance--

Norway Princess, Prince Call Children, 5,000 Miles Away

ST. PAUL, June 13 (AP)—Two little girls and a small boy, nearly 5,000 miles from here, talked with their parents by telephone today when Crown Prince Olav and Crown Princess Martha of Norway put through a call from here to the royal palace at Oslo, Norway.

Calling from the home of Dr. and Mrs. Egil Boeckmann, where they have been staying during their three-day visit in the Twin Cities, the crown prince and princess chatted with the children and with King Haakon, in whose care the three have been since the royal couple left for America.

Neither the crown prince nor the princess would say what the conversation was about, the prince commenting merely that "I could hear the other side as if I were talking to someone next door."

Tonight the royal couple were guests at the lake home of E. H. Hobe, Norwegian consul here, before leaving at 11 p.m. (CST) for Sioux Falls, S. D., where they will spend Wednesday in a round of parades, luncheons, receptions and dinners. They leave Sioux Falls for Duluth, Minn., at 11:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Mary E. Johnson To Be Honored

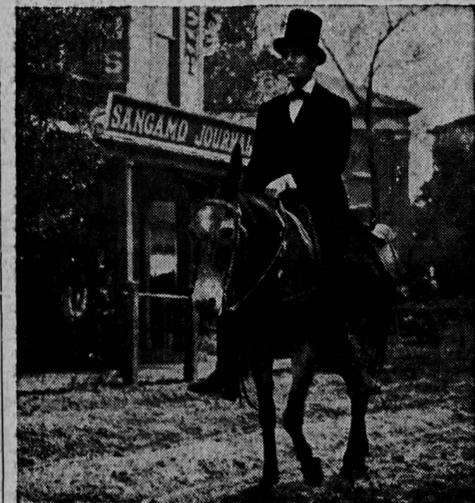

Mrs. Leonard Folkers, Mrs. Manly Rose, Mrs. D. H. Drury and Beulah Gattson will entertain at a luncheon and miscellaneous shower this noon at Iowa Union honoring Mary Eleanor Johnson, who will become the bride of Earle F. Taylor Sunday. Twelve guests will share the courtesy. A pink and white color scheme will be used in decorating the luncheon tables.

International House—A Home of Many Races

Chinese Checkers — New to Chinese Students

By ELISABETH HALSTEIN

Whether you attend an authentic Chinese dinner, whether you indulge in long political discussions on foreign affairs, or whether you prefer informal chats on more neutral subjects, you will certainly agree with me that a visit to the International house, 19 Evans street, is an experience in itself!

It is a little cosmopolitan circle where you get first hand information on European and Asiatic conditions, maybe acquire a better insight into the problems and viewpoints of the old world.

"Of course, it is an education for us all," Joseph Saeveit, the young manager explains, reflecting particularly on the congenial understanding and sympathy among the members of this international group, in spite of different backgrounds and cultural heritages.

A Big Family
"In fact, we are just like one big happy family," says "Mother" Saeveit, who helps her son and daughter-in-law make the former hay-fever sanatorium a real American home for her seven "boys."

Judging from the increasing number of boarders and the enthusiasm with which the students refer to their home, it appears, indeed, to be a success, although this new institution still is in the experimental stage.

Old plans were realized last fall when Dr. Zella White Stewart donated the building for a period of two years, after which further decisions will be made.

A Permanent Home
As well as the members of the board of directors representing various women's organizations in Iowa City, Dr. Stewart is interested in founding a permanent institution for the many foreign students on this campus.

"Our purpose is to gather them in a home where they will have special opportunity to adjust themselves to American conditions through daily contact with our own students," Mrs. C. H. McCloy, business manager of the enterprise, explains.

"This year we have had only two Americans, however, David Moore, G of Hartwick, and Howard Robertson, A3 of Melrose, both working for their board and room," she continues, expressing the hope that plans for a larger international institution, housing more students, will soon be realized.

Language is Drawback
Revealing how much the students appreciate the efforts of their managers to make a home for them, to assist and advise them, Johannes Timmerman of Amsterdam, Holland, emphasizes the advantage of living with men who are in the same situation, dealing with the same problems, and meeting the same difficulties as foreigners in a strange country.

"The only drawback is the language," Timmerman continues, explaining how every student picks up some of each other's dialect, instead of acquiring the pure English pronunciation. "During classes, however, our worst mistakes are taken care of," he optimistically continues.

Student from Poland
With the Ukrainian student, Roman Berezovitch of Lemberg, Poland, Timmerman represents the European contribution to this cosmopolitan group.

He came to the United States in 1936, and entered the State University of Iowa after graduation from the school of physical education at Holland university, Holland, Mich.

It was to study under the leading physical education professor, Prof. C. H. McCloy, that he chose this university, Timmerman, who is now working on his Ph.D., explains.

No Physical Education
"Neither in Holland nor in other European countries is physical education included in the university curriculum. It is taught in special schools, where I hope to teach when I return to my country next summer," the Chan Yu Lai, student of political science, makes a well considered move in Chinese checkers, a game unknown to the Chinese students of the University of Iowa International house until they came to this country. Recreation among the foreign students from various countries makes the traditional "happy family" atmosphere which prevails at the International house. Others playing the game are, left to right, Johannes Timmerman and Joseph Saeveit, both of Amsterdam, Holland. There are five Chinese stu-

denting in this country because of its modern progressive science and the similarity of its governmental system with those of China, Dzung Shu Wei of Shanghai explains.

The outstanding engineering department and famous courses in applied mathematics and political science as well as reasonable tuition and living expenses naturally determined their choice of this university, the Chinese student declared.

Wei, however, transferred to Iowa after receiving his master's degree at the University of Pennsylvania.

"It is Natural"
Belonging to a national minority of 50 million Ukrainians spread throughout Russia, Poland, Rumania and Hungary, who are continuously fighting against foreign oppression, struggling for their civil, political and economic rights, it is but natural for every student of his nation to have a vital interest in political questions, he explains.

"Our strong nationalistic movement for an independent Ukrainian state is supported by the entire nation, and many are those who suffer persecution, imprisonment and sacrifice for their great cause," Berezovitch declares.

As well as Timmerman, he likes the United States and wishes to complete his education in this country.

China Has Five
China's five men in the International house are all graduate students, working on their masters and Ph.D. degrees in hydraulic engineering, mathematics and political science.

Advised by the World Federal Student union of China, the American Chamber of Commerce, or Y. M. C. A., they, as well as their 1,300 countrymen enrolled in American universities, are the beginning of this semester for the use of the students.

The five Chinese graduates admit how they get homesick for their own food, although they do like the American meals, and how much they appreciate this opportunity to prepare their meals themselves.

"Of course we have no experience, but take turns cooking and learn a lot," Hsuan Kuo of Honan explains with a smile.

In Engineering
As well as Chung Ling Pien and Chung-Teh Li, both from Shanghai, Kuo is enrolled in the college of hydraulic engineering, studying in America on a scholarship from the government of Honan, a province in northern China.

He was formerly engaged in governmental service of this province, whereas Chung Ling Pien had the same position in the Bureau of Reconstruction of the Kiangsu provincial government.

Explaining the demand for hydraulic engineers in China, the three students describe the impressive work undertaken to control and utilize the great waterways of China.

Yu Lai Chun of Canton, only Chinese student of political science on this campus, chose the University of Iowa when he happened to read an article in a Chinese magazine about this university. It was written by a Chinese college professor who received his education in political science in our college of liberal arts.

The description of the campus life, the famous courses and the reasonable expenses attracted this Chinese scholar, who is now working on his Ph.D. degree.

Graduate students engaged in research work and thesis writing, these members of the International house have little time for recreation and amusement. They enjoy each other's company, however, in their spacious home, exchanging their viewpoints in interesting discussions, indulging in a game of Chinese checkers or giving a gay performance on "Mother" Saeveit's xylophone.

13 Persons Injured in Milwaukee Allis-Chalmers Strike Riot

Sheriff Asks State Officials For Protection

Pickets Attack Plant Office Workers; Eight Officers Are Injured

MILWAUKEE, June 13 (AP)—Thirteen persons were injured today in strike rioting at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company plant which brought the second plea within 18 hours by Sheriff Edward J. Mitten for troops to guard the largest industrial works in the Milwaukee area.

Gov. Julius P. Heil rejected the renewed appeal.

Despite the governor's refusal, law enforcement officers of municipalities in the Milwaukee area, meeting in Mitten's office with Heil, voted the sentiment that "the governor should take charge of the maintenance law and order at the scene of the Allis-Chalmers strike." This action was interpreted as a bid for the governor to call out the national guard.

Governor Confers

Following the vote, the governor, Mitten and members of the state labor relations board went into a closed conference.

The disorders developed when office workers — the only ones of 7,500 workers still on duty — arrived in the neighborhood of the factory in suburban West Allis this morning.

Pickets attacked streetcars carrying them, smashed windows, disabled the cars, jostled workers and beat deputy sheriffs who intervened. The officers fired tear gas missiles, but the trouble ceased only after picket captains reached an agreement with deputies whereby the pickets would stop throwing stones and the officers would cease their gas barrage.

Eight officers and five pickets required hospital treatment. Several other pickets were gassed.

Deputies Assigned

Sheriff Mitten has assigned 189 deputies at the plant.

Faced with resignations from the banks of his special deputies and the reluctance of police chiefs in greater Milwaukee communities to send sizeable numbers of policemen to the strike scene, Mitten for the second time asked Governor Heil to call out the militia.

"The men I have out here are just a drop in the bucket with 9,000 persons on the street," Mitten declared.

Heil replied that he plans "no action by the state until it is evident that the situation is beyond the control of the entire resources of Milwaukee county."

A formal strike began yesterday following a "work holiday" called 18 days ago by the United Automobile Workers (CIO) union in an attempt to force signing of a new labor contract. Approximately 6,000 production workers were

Paulus Heads Health Group

Dr. E. W. Paulus was elected president of the Johnson County Tuberculosis and Health association at a recent meeting of the group. Mrs. H. S. Ivie was named vice-president.

Other officers chosen were Irene Hradek, secretary; William Parizek, treasurer; Dr. Pauline Moore, chairman of the education committee; Dr. Julian Boyd, program and budget chairman; Alice Stewart, general chairman of the seal sales in Johnson county; Rep. William F. Morrison, chairman of the seal sales in Iowa City, and Supt. Frank J. Snider, chairman of seal sales in county schools.

affected. All departments except the offices have been closed.

Closed Shop Refused

The strike followed the company's refusal for a closed shop, a checkoff system and a joint contract covering the Allis-Chalmers Boston, Pittsburgh and West Allis plants. A union spokesman said the chief issue was machinery for handling grievances.

The company produces tractors, electrical equipment, pumps, compressors and other heavy machinery.

Following the meeting of the law enforcement officers and the governor's conference with the state labor relations board, Heil announced he would meet tonight with Harold Christoffel, president of the striking union local, and members of the strike bargaining committee and "tell them everything has got to be peaceful."

Threatens Sheriff

Persons who attended the meeting in Mitten's office with the governor reported that Heil threatened to remove the sheriff from office if he could not maintain order, demanding pointblank, "Now, will you or won't you?" Mitten, the informants said, did not answer.

Only minor incidents were reported as the office workers left the plant at the end of the day's work. Approximately 500 persons gathered outside the company offices and booed and hissed the employees as they left in small groups to board street cars.

Strikers sat down on the tracks and halted 10 cars while pickets went through them exacting promises from office employees not to report for duty tomorrow.

Authorities Speak at Annual University Hydraulics Meeting

Outstanding speakers in fields of hydrology addressed the sessions of the hydraulics conference yesterday in the engineering building.

At 9 a. m. yesterday Merrill Bernard, chief of the river and flood division of the weather bureau of the United States department of agriculture in Washington, D. C., discussed "The Application of Hydrology to Engineering Problems."

"Until recently, the engineer has not been particularly interested in the cause of precipitation," he told the group. "But, today science so closely allied to engineering as meteorology and hydrology can no longer remain separated. The continual search for supporting facts will carry one investigator into the fields of the other."

All fields of engineering must give a place to water; either in utilizing and conserving it or in preventing or reducing the damage caused by its overabundance, he pointed out.

"The engineer has every reason to be interested in hydrometeorology," Bernard said. "As the length of hydrologic records over the country has doubled approximately within the scope of our professional lives, so has our technical knowledge kept pace. We have experienced the inadequacies of the older empirical formulas and are beginning to have the 'feel' of the newer and more rational methods of determining flow rates and volumes."

Yesterday afternoon Bertram S. Barnes, hydrologic supervisor, upper Mississippi region weather bureau of the United States department of agriculture in Iowa City, described the process of "Flood Forecasting in the Upper Mississippi Valley."

"Important flood hazards in the upper Mississippi valley are found at many widely scattered points on the tributary streams," the speaker stated, "rather than being localized only in the areas adjacent to the main river."

In the cities and towns structures of various kinds are being allowed to encroach upon the streams and to restrict their channels unduly and earlier flood forecasts are becoming increasingly important, he said.

"In response to the demand for earlier flood forecasts and for more general forecasts of daily flow, hydrologists have developed new concepts and procedures to facilitate the work of forecasting," Mr. Barnes related.

The two major difficulties, he pointed out, are an inadequate number of reporting rainfall stations and an insufficient knowledge of the amount of water absorbed by the soil.

"It is the plan of the weather bureau," Mr. Barnes concluded, "to develop a comprehensive and accurate stream flow forecasting service based on sound theory, reliable reports and the skill and judgement of experienced river forecasters."

Other speakers yesterday afternoon included Prof. K. C. Reynolds of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who discussed "Dimensional Analysis," and Prof. R. A. Dodge of the University of Michigan who presented a "Demonstration of Fluid Mechanics Phenomena."

Yesterday's sessions closed with a dinner last night at Iowa Union. The conference will continue today and tomorrow. L. K. Sherman of Chicago presided at the morning meetings and Prof. Ralph W. Powell of Ohio State university presided at the afternoon addresses yesterday.

At 10 a. m. Carl Rohwer, who is irrigation engineer for the bureau of agricultural engineering of the United States department of agricultural engineering at Ft. Collins, Col., discussed "The Present Trend in Evaporation Experiments."

"The fundamental investigations of greatest interest are the study of evaporation in relation to insulation or heat supplied by the sun, and the study of the relation of evaporation to the vapor gradient and eddy convection," he said.

Preliminary results in these special studies indicate, Mr. Rohwer pointed out, that these new methods will be very useful in attacking certain special problems such as evaporation from large bodies of water and the evaporation and transpiration from areas covered with vegetation.

"There are many conflicting ideas concerning the influence of various factors on evaporation, and it is hoped that these studies will help find the truth in regard to these diverse opinions," he said.

At 11 a. m. W. G. Hoyt, hydraulic engineer from the United States geological survey in Washington, D. C., told of "The

Dr. Lothrop Smith To Speak on Topic, 'Qualitative Analysis'

Dr. Lothrop Smith of the analytical division of the University of Iowa chemistry department will open the summer chemistry lecture series next Monday evening at 7:30 with a talk in the chemistry auditorium. His topic will be "Qualitative Analysis."

There are four faculty speakers scheduled to appear on the series, it was announced yesterday by Prof. George H. Coleman, who is in charge of the summer series.

The second speaker will be Dr. J. I. Routh, instructor in biochemistry, who will talk June 26. His topic has not yet been announced.

Prof. L. Charles Raiford of the organic chemistry division will give the third of the series July 10 and Prof. J. Howard Arnold of the chemical engineering department will speak last on July 17.

All the lectures will be in the chemistry auditorium at 7:30 in the evening unless otherwise announced.

The series is designed primarily for graduate students and other students and staff members in the chemistry department.

In addition to the faculty speakers, Dr. E. Heuser, a cellulose chemist from the Institute of Paper Chemistry in Appleton, Wis., will present three lectures in chemistry auditorium June 28, 29 and 30.

Dr. Heuser has been with the institute since the spring of 1938. Before joining the staff, he was employed by the Canadian International Paper company of Hawkesbury, Ontario, Canada.

The Institute of Paper Chemistry is maintained in connection with Lawrence college at Appleton, Wis. It was organized a few years ago by the Wisconsin state paper industries for the purpose of conducting paper chemistry research and educating graduate chemical students in paper and cellulose chemistry.

The institute is now financed by paper manufacturing companies all over the United States and Canada.

The story of "Juarez," is three stories in one - the intrigue of Napoleon III; the tragic romance of his puppet emperor and empress, Maximilian and Carlota; and the incredible life story of Benito Pablo Juarez, who liberated his land from monarchy, and became the "Abraham Lincoln of Mexico."

JUAREZ

(WAR-EZZ)

A Warner Bros. Picture Starring PAUL MUNI and BETTE DAVIS - Screen Play by John Huston, Benes Mackenzie and Wolfgang Reinhardt - Based on a Play by Frans Werfel - and on "The Phantom Crown" by Benito Harding. Directed by WILLIAM DIETERLE

Serialization by HARRY LEE

THE STORY THUS FAR: Benito Juarez, a poor Indian, fights his way to the heights in his native Mexico and in 1861 is elected president. His sympathy with the poor embroils his country in war with France. Napoleon III, to strengthen his cause with the people, sends Maximilian and his bride, Carlotta, as Emperor and Empress. When the North wins in the Civil War, the United States warns Napoleon to leave Mexico and he causes his army to evacuate - leaving Maximilian and his wife in a dangerous position. Juarez' had kept up a ruthless warfare against the monarchy - but now Uradi, one of his officers, causes a revolt in Juarez' forces.

CHAPTER VIII

"MERCY OF HIS ENEMIES!" exclaimed General Bazaine, turning with some irritation toward the distraught Empress, "There is no question of being left to the mercy of enemies! If His Majesty abdicates at once - you may both leave Mexico under the protection of the French Army!"

"No, I shall not abdicate!" cried Maximilian, "I have a responsibility to Mexico that may not be shirked... a responsibility for the slaughter in which you have indulged under the authority of my name! No, I shall not abdicate!"

"Nor will you evacuate, M. le Marechal!" Carlota broke in, in a growing crescendo of fury, "Because I am going to Paris to confront your Napoleon with his obligation to us under the Treaty of Miramar! Because if he refuses to live up to it, I am going to expose him before the courts of Europe! Because I will let the world know how we were lured to Mexico by misrepresentation and false promises - how he used the name of Habsburg to give face to a shady enterprise! It will mean the ruin of your Master, Napoleon! I dare you to move a man from Mexico!"

Unable to speak, Maximilian clasped her in his arms, their lips met in a long kiss... which was to be their last.

"M. le Marechal has our leave to withdraw," said Maximilian icily, and Bazaine, clicking his spurs, went out.

"You are not at fault, my husband," Carlota said tenderly, "I alone am responsible! It was I who said to you at Miramar, 'Accept the throne!' because I believed in your capacity to rule! - it is I who say now, 'Do not abdicate!' because I believe that you alone can save Mexico from her oppressors! I alone am to blame!" Then with simplicity, she added, "And I will help you now!"

So it was that within the week Carlota started on her long journey to the court of Napoleon. The Imperial Coach with a military escort was drawn up before the palace at Chambray. With the royal couple was little Prince Augustin, their adopted heir. Maximilian lifted Carlota's hand to his lips and they embraced. "It will not be for long..." she said. "Our thoughts will bridge the distance between us... my own will never leave you... open your soul to me and I shall be with you... kneeling in the chapel... riding beside you in the park in the mornings... walking beside you at dusk!"

"My soul, Carlota, shall always be open to your love!"

"Promise you'll take care of your health, dearest! Do as the doctor says!... And little doctor says!... And little doctor says!... And little doctor says!"

Three Airlines Ask Right To Begin Service

New North-South Traffic Would Speed Passengers, Mail

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Cities on the proposed new air transport routes from Minneapolis-St. Paul to Des Moines and Kansas City and St. Louis concluded today testimony supporting the service and their reasons for being made stops on the routes.

The Mid-Continent, Braniff and Northwest airlines will start tomorrow presenting witnesses in support of their applications for permission from the civil aeronautics authority to inaugurate the service. The three companies filed applications covering the same territory and the hearings were combined.

Submits Cities' Brief

E. W. Mental, assistant to the president of the St. Louis chamber of commerce, was the last witness. He submitted a brief from 16 cities urging service be inaugurated on the Minneapolis-St. Paul, Des Moines, St. Louis route and upon a St. Louis-Nashville, Tenn., route. The latter was excluded by examiner Francis W. Brown as not connected with the applications under discussion.

Mental testified St. Louis had no fast, direct plane or train connection with the territory in eastern Iowa, eastern Illinois, and Minnesota to the Twin Cities.

"It will be readily apparent," he said, "better and faster transportation facilities are badly needed to this territory. An air schedule of one and one-half hours between St. Louis and Des Moines would effect a savings over present railroad passenger service and a reduction of more than 85 per cent. It would affect a saving over the present indirect air service of five hours and 15 minutes."

Introduces Mail Data

"At the present time, individuals desiring to fly from St. Louis to Des Moines must either fly to Kansas City and transfer there and again at Omaha or go by the way of Chicago. Those desiring to fly from St. Louis to Minneapolis must go by the way of Chicago and Milwaukee."

Mental introduced data to show in one week first class mail from St. Louis to Des Moines was 297 pounds, to Hannibal, Mo., 253 pounds, to Mason City, Ia., 28 pounds, to Ottumwa, Ia., 39 pounds, to Quincy, Ill., 210 pounds, to Rochester, Minn., 23 pounds, to Waterloo, Ia., 53 pounds, to Minneapolis 410 pounds and to St. Paul 228 pounds.

In the same week airmail to the same cities totaled 81 pounds. Last December and January, he said, package freight shipments to the territory totaled 693 cars.

Cecil R. York, of the Campbell-Taggart bakeries at Kansas City, put on the stand by John S. Wynne, counsel for Mid-Continent as "an expert air traveler" testified a Kansas City-Des Moines and St. Louis air line would be used by him and other company employees.

Landscape Front of Geology Building

The new front steps on the geology building now replace the old worn path up the steep bank on the lawn of the building. On each side of the steps an attractive stone wall has been made. Dirt was filled in behind this and new sod placed. The new wall extends from the top of the hill down to the drive on the west side of the geology building. The new dress also includes sodding between the curbing and the sidewalk on the hill in front of the building. The building has a history. The geology building was originally known as "science hall" and stood where Macbride hall now stands. When ground was cleared for the construction of Macbride hall, old science hall was moved across the street to its present position. The moving was done by manual labor and classes were in session in the building during the moving process.

The Czechs of Prague, who admitted that Votja Benes had been living among them quietly for several months, did not know whether he had gone on "legion" business.

But the aims of the legion men, recruited by the Czech Gen. Vladislav Prchala and determined to campaign from abroad for "resurrection of the Czech nation," were gaining increasing attention.

(During the World war, large numbers of Czechs and Slovaks deserted the Austro-Hungarian conscript army and fled to Russia, where, with those who had been taken prisoner, they organized a Czech legion to help the Allies.)

Sightseeing Isn't The Same to Everyone

But Most Students Want To See New York and The World's Fair

In choosing what they'd like to do if they went to New York City this summer, students at the University of Iowa revealed in a recent questionnaire that they wanted "to go every place and see everything."

While a few were uninterested in eastern affairs, 76 per cent of those answering 10,000 questionnaires at the Big Ten colleges showed they were eager to cover New York and see "everything from art museums to Coney island, from world's fair-ing to job-hunting."

Results of these questionnaires circulated on the campuses recently will be used as a basis for the daily schedule of the Big Ten co-ed group. Edith Leahy is the University of Iowa beauty who will represent her campus and welcome Iowa visitors to the New York fair.

Without a doubt, Iowa students visiting New York would have a unique and amusing slant on sightseeing, judging from the questionnaires. While some would like to "swim out to the Statue of Liberty" or "see how long a bicycle rider would last in Broadway traffic," others desire an air ride over the city or to "just rubberneck." Some would like to see Mrs. Astor's horse, take a bus ride up Broadway, or see push carts in the Ghetto. Others want nothing better than to "dine, dance and stuff."

When it came to eating places, the average student would select restaurants with big names. However, automats, chain restaurants, foreign cafes and small restaurants "off the main drag" appealed to a large group. For the most part, eating places having "atmosphere," whether musical or scenic, were most popular.

As for historical points to see, the Statue of Liberty towered high above Grant's tomb, Tammany hall, Ellis island, and Times square. Many times mentioned were Trinity church, Little Church Around the Corner and St. Paul's cathedral.

In the line of scientific, industrial and business establishments, most mentioned were Radio city, Wall street, newspaper plants, Empire State building and radio studios.

Points of general interest to see by day were Ellis island, tenement sections, Coney island, ship docks, Holland tunnel, Fifth avenue and the world's fair. By night the points of interest most desired were Chinatown, Broadway from a bus top, Greenwich village and again the world's fair.

A pretty definite idea of how to see "safe society" was shown by the students. Fourteen well publicized dine-and-dance spots were "tops" for evening entertainment. Especially named were places with big-name bands.

When it came to distinguishing people to meet, the vote went overwhelmingly for Mayor LaGuardia, Grover Whalen and Thomas Dewey. Others ranking high were Governor Lehman, Jimmy Walker, Al Smith, Dorothy Thompson, Joe DiMaggio, Orson Welles, Walter Winchell, Katherine Cornell and Billy Rose. One girl's heart's desire was to "see an escort bureau."

As for the question, "What one thing would you want most to do while in New York?" the consensus was to see the world's fair and sightsee around New York City. An amusing vagueness as to geographic locations was shown by some of the students who indicated that in New York City they wanted to visit West Point and Sing Sing, to meet J. Edgar Hoover, Schiaparelli and Sally Rand.
