Neutrality Law Revision Issue Still Undecided

Administration, Senate To Fight To 'Bitter Finish'

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—With the preliminary sparring finished, both the Roosevelt administration and its critics decided definitely today on a knock-down-and-drag-out fight in the senate on the issue of neutrality law revision.

Hopes of any quick adjournment of congress were glimmering. Senator Pittman (D-Nev.), administration leader in the fight, said congress would stay in session until the showdown. Asked what would happen if senators got tired of the struggle and stampered for home, he shrugged and said: "We can arrest them."

Attendance Required? He referred to the provision that the attendance of members of congress may be required, and obtained by force, if necessary.

(The administration wants to wipe out the present law's provision that when war breaks out abroad, an automatic embargo shall be clapped on shipments of arms, ammunition and implements of war. Repeal, it is widely believed, would be of advantage to Great Britain and France since they presumably would control the seas in wartime. The house of representatives, however, insisted on writing a modified embargo into the administration's pending bill).

Both Sides Ready With President Roosevelt back in the capital to urge his view that the administration bill would make war in Europe less likely, his opponents on the issue let it be known that they too were ready for the crucial struggle in the senate.

After weeks of delay, they abandoned their strategy of keeping neutrality legislation seved up in the senate foreign relations committee. From now on, two spokesmen for the group said, no more postponements will be sought. They will let a bill go to the senate if the committee can agree on one, and will stake their case on the ensuing debate. They contend that the administration bill would tend to involve this country in Europe's quarrels.

Trouble Stops 'Sub' Salvage

Wire Jam Delays Work in Raising American Squalus

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 5 (AP)—Navy officials engaged in salvaging the sunken submarine Squalus announced tonight an unexplained wire jam would force them to raise two pontoons which have been attached to the craft.

The jam was noticed shortly after a second pontoon had been sunk about the submersible which plunged to the bottom May 23 with loss of 26 lives. Salvagers said that the wire which leads to the submarine and is vital in raising operations apparently was "pinched" by the huge chain which has been placed under and around the stern of the Squalus.

Many officials estimated that this latest trouble meant at least a four-day delay in raising operations.

A Lot of Nickles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Jefferson nickel supply was increased in June by 5,987,533 jinnies, making a total of 66,469,400 of the new coins since they were first minted last fall.

Controversy Rages Around Bill To Curb U. S. Official 'Politics'

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—A republican charge that administration forces were attempting to convert the AAA into a political agency for the 1940 campaign energized today congressional controversy over the Hatch bill to curb the political activities of federal officials.

Asserting that he had "definite and certain information" that democratic politicians were utilizing the farm administration setup for political purposes, Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) added: "Perhaps that is why the Hatch bill is having so much trouble in the other house."

The bill, passed by the senate earlier in the session, was approved last week by the house judiciary committee after the com-

Dr. Walter Judd To Give Open Air Lecture Tomorrow Night

Dr. Walter Judd, medical missionary and well-known lecturer on contemporary conditions in the Far East, will deliver the third out-of-doors Friday evening lecture tomorrow at 8 p.m. on the west approach to Old Capitol.

Saturday the speaker will conduct a round table discussion at 9 a.m. in the house chamber of Old Capitol. This discussion will be about the lecture of the evening before and related topics.

Critics have stated that Dr. Judd is the best informed and most impressive speaker concerning China on the American platform today. He has spoken on the "Town Hall of the Air" program, before the senate committee on foreign affairs and in many university centers.

In his work as medical missionary in the area occupied by the Japanese army, he has come into close contact with men and events and has obtained inside information on many things which, as a rule, the average foreigner in China never comes to know.

Dr. Judd received his M.D. degree from the University of Nebraska and held a fellowship in surgery at the famous Mayo clinic during his first home leave from China.

While a student, Dr. Judd worked in a great variety of jobs to earn his way through school, jobs which brought him into contact with a wide variety of people in all walks of life, enabling him to interpret activities in China in an interesting manner.

'If' Creates Big Problem For Britain

Question Involves Meaning of 'Threat' To City of Danzig

LONDON, July 5 (AP)—An "if" in Britain's pledge to Poland, caused misgivings tonight in circles where it had been feared Britain might seek a loophole if the Danzig situation came to a showdown.

The question of whether Britain would fight for the free city was left without a clear answer by a government statement in the house of commons which pointed out that Britain's guarantee of aid to Poland provided for help only if there were a "very clear threat" to Poland's independence.

This statement was made by Richard Austen Butler, under-secretary for foreign affairs, when he was asked in commons whether Britain's policy included resistance to any possible attempt to change the status of the free city.

"Will Fulfill Pledge" Butler said Britain "will certainly fulfill her pledge to Poland." But when he was pressed for a more definite reply, Butler reminded his questioner that "the guarantee which we give to Poland refers to a very clear threat to her independence."

(Prime Minister Chamberlain announced the joint British-French pledge last March 31 as a guarantee to support Poland "in the event of any action which clearly threatened Polish independence and which the Polish government accordingly considered vital to resist with their national forces.")

Avoid Definite Statement Alarm had been expressed before in some quarters because Chamberlain, foreign secretary Lord Halifax and other ministers had avoided any more definite statement on Danzig in recent speeches than to say Britain will fulfill her pledges or that Britain would "resist aggression."

Doubts became widespread last week when the well-informed Times of London referred to Britain's obligations to aid Poland as binding only if Polish independence were threatened.

Foreign office sources, however, issued a statement Sunday, saying that Britain, France and Poland had agreed to resist if any attempt were made to change the status of Danzig from within or without.

Jurist Believed Violence Victim

Widow's Suit Voices Conviction Crater Met 'Sudden' Death

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—A conviction that the long-missing Supreme Court Joseph Force Crater met "sudden, very unexpected and violent death" was voiced today by his widow in a suit to collect $60,000 double indemnity on insurance policies against his life.

Breaking nine years of reticence as to her former husband's fate, the widow, now Mrs. Stella Kunz, for the first time expressed a definite belief that Justice Crater died by "external, violent or accidental means" and that his body was "disposed of by cremation" or otherwise—presumably either by persons who were not aware of his identity or by slayers.

She added her belief that the jurist died "on or about" the day he disappeared, Aug. 6, 1930.

Her theory, she said, was based on information gathered by police and other agencies in a worldwide search costing more than $100,000.

33 Drown in Eastern Kentucky As Cloudburst Looses Torrent

81 Unreported In Mountains After Storm

Waters Rise 15 Ft. In Short Time; Fear Toll May Reach 100

MOREHEAD, Ky., July 5 (AP)—Thirty-three mountain folk were drowned and 81 reported missing today—trapped as they slept when small creeks and rivers swirled out of their banks from torrents let loose a few hours earlier by a cloudburst.

Generation after generation of these people of the hills have built their homes along the banks of these treacherous streams because there is so little level land between the tall mountain peaks. Some structures rest on piling in creek beds.

They have been through floods before, many of them, but old timers shook their heads over the big loss of life from the waters that came as high as 15 feet in a short time.

Morehead Worst Hit Morehead was the worst hit of the many communities flooded. Seventy-five miles almost due south Breathitt county—called "Bloody Breathitt" in feuding years—had seven known dead.

Sheriff Walter Deaton, who went to the village of Keck, 10 miles west of Jackson, the county seat, said 69 persons were missing. At Keck the two forks of Frozen creek merge. The sheriff said the tiny streams poured such a volume of water onto the sleeping town that the death toll may include all of those missing. Search for the missing was continued. The sheriff estimated the crop and property damage in Breathitt county alone at $1,000,000.

Toll May Reach 100 Expressions of fear that the death toll in the mountains—many sections of which may not be accessible for days because of the many bridges washed out and poor communication facilities—may run above the 100 mark came from government and relief officials.

Sheriff Walter Deaton at Jackson led a rescue party up the narrow gorge of troublesome and quicksand creeks in an effort to reach stranded persons. Deaton expressed fear that when rescuers succeeded in getting back into the valley the death list would soar above the first estimate of 10 in that area.

Highway bridges were washed away, railroad tracks twisted and undermined and highways blocked with debris. Telephone and telegraph linesmen struggled to restore the almost wholly disrupted communications in the stricken area.

$190 PARKING FINE Tale of Long Tryst In Taproom

PHILADELPHIA, July 5 (AP)—A motor limousine (Pierce-Arrow) has been in a downtown parking lot so long attendants call it "Billy" and there's $190.40 parking bill against it.

800 Quit Jobs In Body Plant

DETROIT, July 5 (AP)—The CIO United Automobile Workers union, balked in its attempt to negotiate with General Motors corporation on demands relating to tool and die, engineering and maintenance employees, called 800 of these workers from their jobs in Fisher body plant No. 21 here today, inaugurating a strike which G.M. officials said could cause idleness for 100,000 production employees.

Walter P. Reuther, director of the General Motors department of the UAW-CIO, said the strike "will be spread to other G.M. plants as the situation requires to make the strike effective."

Hospitals Fill As Japanese Fight Russians

SHANGHAI, July 5 (AP)—Foreigners arriving from Manchoukuo said today that hospitals in Harbin were "filled to the overflowing" with Japanese soldiers wounded in fighting Soviet Russian and Mongolian forces along the border between Manchoukuo and outer Mongolia.

The reports were the first independent confirmation of heavy fighting previously reported in Japanese and Russian announcements of large-scale air and land battles under way sporadically since May 11.

Japanese official sources here said Japan had suffered "heavy casualties" in fighting between Japanese and Soviet infantry forces. (The Japanese army holds and defends Manchoukuo; Soviet Russia has a similar tie with outer Mongolia.)

Today the Japanese reported another big aerial victory. They said their airmen shot down 53 Soviet planes in a "great awe-inspiring battle" involving 150 airplanes. The Japanese indicated they suffered no losses in the air engagement.

Thousands of WPA Workers Quit Work in 'Hours' Protest

Payrolls Cut 200,000 To Keep Within New Appropriations of Act

By The Associated Press Thousands of WPA construction workers quit their jobs yesterday in a rapidly spreading mass protest against longer working hours imposed by the new federal relief act, though many were expected to return to work later.

To keep within the appropriations of the new act meanwhile, WPA payrolls for July were cut 200,000 below the 2,600,000 figure for June, it was announced in Washington.

Officials in New York City said they expected 5,000 to 10,000 men, mostly non-relief workers, to leave the WPA rolls permanently because of new working schedules which had the effect of abolishing union pay scales on construction projects.

Nevertheless, Lieut.-Col. Brehon Somervell, New York City WPA administrator, who took immediate steps to replace striking workers, said "95 per cent of our projects are going full blast," though President Thomas Murray of the building trades and construction council asserted that 90 per cent of WPA skilled workers had quit.

Requisitioning 4,000 mechanics from the home relief bureau as replacements, Somervell also announced that striking teachers would be replaced tomorrow and that the relief certificates of 17 dentists would be revoked.

Jury Returns Homicide Verdict In Coast Slaying

LOS ANGELES, July 5 (AP)—Twenty-five-year-old Campbell McDonald calmly told a coroner's jury today he killed his mother, Margaret Campbell, with a hammer after a quarrel in their Hollywood home last Wednesday.

The jury returned a verdict of homicide and recommended that McDonald be held for trial. Officers said he would be charged with murder.

Money Law Passed; Legality Questioned

SOME THIEF! No Money To Steal, He Gets Revenge

MIAMI, Fla., July 5 (AP)—Called to bring five gallons of gasoline and change for $10 to an automobile on the highway, service station man S. C. Brown hurried off with the gas, forgot the change.

The "stranded motorist" drew a gun, demanded the $10. Disgusted by Brown's money-saving memory lapse, the would-be bandit threw away the service truck keys, fled in his car.

New Charges Face Smith

BATON ROUGE, La., July 5 (AP)—While campus friends strove futilely to raise $50,000 bail for Dr. James Monroe Smith, fresh charges struck today at the former university president's hopes for early release from jail.

District Attorney Charles A. Byrne disclosed at New Orleans that he had asked Baton Rouge authorities to turn Smith over to him, if and when the educator makes bond on charges that he stole great sums from Louisiana State university in the nine years he served as its president.

Byrne said Smith was wanted in New Orleans for alleged manipulation of loans from banks which Attorney-General David M. Eliason said amounted to $400,000. Meanwhile the tall, bald doctor of philosophy and Huey Long protege silently mapped his defense plans from his jail cell—and none could say what form this defense would take, nor whom it would touch.

Hints of further sensations in the case which already has rocked the political dynasty of the slain "Kingfish" Long came yesterday when Smith was reported to have said he would "not be the goat" in the scandal.

Interest in The Fine Arts Festival

I. S. Turner of the University of Sydney in Australia, right, was a visitor to the University of Iowa campus yesterday. He expressed interest in the university's approaching fine arts festival, and Prof. Earl E. Harper, left, director of the Iowa school of fine arts, took time out from his duties to explain a few of the highlights of the brilliant summer event to Mr. Turner. The two are shown here on the stage of University theater, where dramatic arts students are preparing for the world premiere of

Prof. E. P. Conkle's "Paul and the Blue Ox" and a summer presentation of Paul Green's "House of Connelly" for the festival. Professor Harper explains the sets of the plays, constructed by students, to the guest from the Pacific. The fine arts festival here July 16 for one week.

Senate OK's New Measure By Four Votes

Republicans Maintain Different Bill Needed To Restore Power

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The hard-fought bill continuing President Roosevelt's power to devalue the dollar and operate the $2,000,000,000 currency stabilization fund cleared its last congressional obstacle today when the senate approved it, 43 to 39, but a vehement dispute about its legality still raged.

Republicans insisted that since the president's powers expired at midnight last Friday, no measure to "continue" them was valid. They said the administration would have to start all over again with a differently worded measure, committee hearings and debate.

"Unfounded" Objections Administration officials brushed aside the objections as unfounded, and the president was expected to sign the measure quickly, probably tomorrow. Preparing to act on a provision of the bill, treasury officials drafted regulations for the purchase of domestic silver at 71.1 cents per ounce. A section calling for such a price (which contrasts with the old price of 64.64 cents an ounce) was forced into the monetary bill by embattled senators from the western silver states.

No Foreign Provision The measure contained nothing about foreign silver, thereby leaving the treasury free to continue buying the metal from Mexican and other sources. It was believed that a purchase price for this metal would be announced at noon tomorrow, and that it probably would be in the vicinity of the 38 cents an ounce price posted last Friday, the last day on which silver was bought.

The senate vote also made no change in the $35-an-ounce price for gold, the bill merely authorizing the president to change it if an emergency arises. It permits him to raise the price (which is the way the dollar is devalued) to a maximum of $41.34 per ounce.

Though the bill was written to prolong powers which expired at midnight last Friday, it was not passed prior to that hour because republican orators, with some help from anti-administration democrats, relentlessly filibustered it.

6-Foot Short Circuit

EUFAULA, Ala. (AP)—Line-men trudged 12 miles seeking the cause of a power failure between Eufaula and Abbeville. Near the top of a 40-foot pole, they finally found a six-foot short circuit—a snake that had climbed and been electrocuted.

N. E. A. Speaker Says Ideologies May Cause Social Dictatorship

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5 (AP)—A warning that "warring parties and unions and ideologies" might "go so far as to cause a large part of the people to welcome a social dictatorship" was brought to the National Education association tonight.

Edwin G. Conklin, Princeton university scientist and vice-president of the American Philosophical society, declared in an address prepared for the association's 77th annual convention. "Upon the teachers of America rests to a large extent the opportunity and responsibility of making America safe for democracy. . . . The present crises of the world are largely caused by the deliberate training of people in bad habits of fear, hate, intolerance, aggression, greed, and war.

"We should not forget that it was the abuses of freedom in Italy and Germany, the paralysis of governmental and social services by uncompromising conflicts among numerous political parties, labor unions, religious and social organizations, that led to the limitations of all freedom.

"And similar things may happen here if our warring parties and unions and ideologies go so far in their abuses of democratic freedom and disregard of general welfare as to cause a large part of the people to welcome a social dictatorship."

A Triple Celebration

The centennial celebration is really a three-in-one occasion for Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Carlson, 335 S. Johnson street, for they are observing at one and the same time their 38th wedding anniversary, Mr. Carlson's birthday and the Iowa City centennial. They are pictured above in the costumes they have donned for the occasion. Mr. Carlson's hat is the one which he wore on his wedding anniversary, and Mrs. Carlson's hat is one she purchased 36 years ago when Yetter's store first opened.

Pastor of Iowa City Churches Will Be Ordained at 8 Tonight

James Edwyn Waery Will Receive Degree At August Convocation

James Edwyn Waery, pastor of the Unity Presbyterian church and the Welsh Congregational church of Iowa City and a student in the dramatic arts department at the University of Iowa, will be ordained into the Christian ministry in the First Congregational church in Iowa City this evening at 8 o'clock.

The service is open to Mr. Waery's friends, it was announced by the Rev. Llewelyn A. Owen, pastor of the local church who will preside at the ordination service.

Mr. Waery was born in Shamo-kin, Pa., and had his elementary education there, going to Chicago for theological training in 1924. He graduated from the Chicago school in August, 1937, and was married in December of the same year. He came to Olds to his first pastorate in October, 1929.

While pastor there he took further studies toward college entrance and later entered the University of Iowa. After a pastorate of over five years, he moved to Cedar Rapids where he was pastor for three years while pursuing his work at the university. In September, 1937, he moved to Iowa City taking up the pastorate at the two local churches.

Waery will receive his B.A. degree with a major in dramatic arts at the summer convocation, Aug. 4, Sept. 1, he and his family will move to Minneapolis, Minn., where he is to become associate pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church. At that time he will begin work on an advanced degree in Minneapolis.

Prior to his ordination this afternoon, officers and members of the Davenport Congregational association will meet with Mr. Waery in the Iowa City Congregational church vestry to conduct his examination into the ministry of the Congregational Christian churches of the United States.

Those participating in the ordination services in the evening are Prof. Willard Lampe, director of the University of Iowa school of religion; Prof. E. C. Mabie, head of the university dramatic arts department; the Rev. Samuel G. Gutenson, pastor of the First Congregational church at Monticello; Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the university school of fine arts, and the Rev. Mr. Owen, who will preside and give the prayer of ordination.

Harry K. Newburn Plans To Continue As School Director

Era Hauptert, (above) only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hauptert of Marshalltown, and Henry L. Wolfe, third son of Dr. and Mrs. Otis R. Wolfe, also of Marshalltown, were married last Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the chapel of the Central Presbyterian church in Des Moines.

Minard W. Stout, junior high school principal at Ft. Dodge, has been appointed principal of University high school, it was announced yesterday by the college of education.

Stout, who has held his position in Ft. Dodge for five years, will begin his new duties in Iowa City in September. Prof. Harry K. Newburn of the college of education has served as director of the high school and will continue as director, it was announced.

Announcement was also made that Kenneth W. Vaughn who has been serving as assistant principal will continue his work toward a Ph.D. degree serving as graduate assistant under Professor Newburn.

Stout was graduated from Iowa State Teachers college in Cedar Falls in 1929 and received his M.A. degree from the University of Iowa in 1933. He graduated with a major in political science but has continued summer school work in the college of education.

Before going to Ft. Dodge, Stout served in the public schools in Monticello where he taught social studies for two years, was dean of boys for one year and was principal for two years.

In making the announcement of the appointment, it was explained that the setup of the administration in University high school is being changed this year. In the last few years the school was operated with an assistant principal and a director. Under the new arrangement Stout will serve as principal, Professor Newburn as active director and Vaughn will complete his advanced work as assistant principal working under the director.

Lawrence Tibbett, Master of Makeup, Lives His Parts

One of the greatest masters of makeup artists ever seen on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera house is Lawrence Tibbett, famous American baritone, who will be heard at the fieldhouse in Iowa City July 19, at 8:15 p.m.

Before appearing in a new role, he studies out every detail of personal appearance in keeping with the character.

For some parts he builds a new face on the foundation of his own by making a putty nose, blacking out his own eyebrows and painting others higher up; maybe a beard or mustache is added. Finally, he frames the whole altered visage in an appropriate wig.

So skillfully has he learned to build a face, completely foreign in appearance to his own, that it would take shrewd eyes to

Badminton Tournery Opens

The above scene will be a familiar one in the women's gymnasium for the next few weeks while the badminton tournament, which started yesterday, is played. The draw for the women's singles in the contests shows these games scheduled for the first round: Mildred Small vs. Lucille Otto, Elizabeth Halsey vs. Margaret Phelps, Judy Grow vs. Josephine Lambert and Helen Gilbert vs. Gladys Scott. These games will be played by Saturday. Playing will be any morning at 7, 8 or 11 o'clock and any afternoon at 1, 2 or 4 o'clock. Rackets and birds may be checked out at the gymnasium office at any of these hours. Official badminton rules of the national section on women's athletics of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation will be used. One match consisting of two out of three games won will be played. Players are asked to report and write in their own scores on the tournament form on the bulletin board in the hall of the gymnasium. Draw for the men's singles tournament will be made today.

Dean Seashore Will Deliver Talk Tonight

Topic To Be 'Some New Approaches To Science of Voice'

Dean-Emeritus Carl E. Seashore of the graduate college will deliver a graduate college lecture on "Some New Approaches to the Science of Voice" this evening at 8 o'clock in the chemistry auditorium.

Dean-Emeritus Seashore served as dean of the graduate college for 28 years before his resignation in July, 1936. This was the longest period ever served by any graduate college dean in this country.

He was appointed dean-emeritus in the fall of 1936 and continued as acting head of the psychology department for a while thereafter. He is a professor in the psychology department and has specialized in the field of psychology of music and voice.

Dean-Emeritus Seashore's textbooks in the psychology of music are the most widely used in the world and have been translated into several languages. "The Vibrato," published in 1932, was the result of 12 years of research on the human voice. His tests developed for determining musical aptitude are nationally known.

Iowa Citizens Attend Wedding At Indianola

Prof. Earl E. Harper, director of the university school of fine arts, officiated at the marriage of Harriet Harlan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene C. Harlan of Indianola, and William Prouty, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Prouty of Des Moines. The ceremony took place at 8 p.m. Saturday in the First Methodist church at Indianola.

Esther Jean Harlan attended her sister as maid of honor, and Mrs. John Gunn was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Bertine Bergstresser of Indianola, Aileen Talladay of San Francisco, Cal., and Mary Elizabeth Ingram of Des Moines. John Gunn attended Mrs. Prouty as best man.

Professor and Mrs. Harper and Mrs. Herbert Long were Iowa City guests at the ceremony.

Book by Iowan Classed Among Best in Nation

"Drawing Board Geometry" by Prof. F. G. Higbee of the University of Iowa, has been selected as one of 60 best textbooks for display throughout the nation.

The volume, issued in 1938 by John Wiley and Son, is one of those chosen from a group of some 500 books. More than 26 publishers of textbooks submitted entries in the affair at New York City.

Professor Higbee, head of the department of engineering drawing, sets forth some new teaching principles in the book. Numerous universities throughout the nation have adopted his work as a standard text.

British Empire Aces Dominate Initial Round

Lawson Little And Johnny Bulla Shoot 79 and 77 Scores

By DREW MIDDLETON ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, July 5 (AP)—The British empire dominated the British open golf championship today as Bobby Locke of South Africa and three Englishmen, J. H. Bussion, Dick Burton and Max Faulkner, set the pace for 129 entries with 70's for the first round of play.

Fair down the list, at 77 and 79 respectively were the United States hopes, Johnny Bulla of Chicago and Lawson Little, the former amateur king. Checked by their own ineptness on the greens as well as a day of wind, rain and sleet, they must turn in sensational golf tomorrow to win a place in Friday's 36-hole final.

Despite the elements, the top four each clipped three strokes from par today, and 11 others bettered 73. So low was the scoring that Henry Cotton, the favorite, had 25 players ahead of him, and he had a 74.

Push Leaders A stroke behind the leading foursome came Reg Whitcombe, the defending titlist; Alf Perry, who won in 1935; Martine Pose, the Argentine stylist, W. W. Davies, Jimmy Fallon and the diminutive and plucky Welshman, Dave Rees.

Whitcombe provided the day's most sensational string when he went six holes in three. Jim Bruen, who ran the qualifying rounds for his own benefit, was bracketed with another amateur, Len Crawley, and two other shotmakers at 72. Bruen and Crawley were the lowest amateur scorers.

At the close of tomorrow night's play, the low 44 will be picked for Friday's two rounds. The best guess tonight was that 150 or better would qualify. Little and Bulla therefore face a terrific task in this weather and on a course distinctly unsuited to their games.

Smith's 2-Hitter Beats Cleveland 2-1 for Chisox

CHICAGO, July 5 (AP)—Tow-headed Eddie Smith, who for three years has been trying to southpaw his way to victory over the Cleveland Indians, did it today in his 10th attempt—a two-hit performance which gave Chicago's White Sox a 2 to 1 triumph in the series opener.

Eric McNair's seventh inning homer off Harry Eisenstat broke a 1 to 1 tie and gave Smith the decision. Before being sold to the Sox this spring, Smith had lost eight straight to Cleveland as a Philadelphia Athletic pitcher. He dropped another in May hurling for the Sox.

Hubbell Earns First Victory In 7 Weeks

BOSTON, July 5 (AP)—Carl Hubbell, relegated to relief roles now, pitched three innings of hitless, runless ball today for his first victory in seven weeks as the New York Giants rallied four runs in the ninth to take a slugging session from the Boston Bees 11 to 7.

The triumph broke a jinx the Bees had over the Giants at Boston which saw them win seven straight games here starting last September.

6-Man Football Course Begins

(Ed. Note—Today's is the first of a series of articles on six-man football. The series is prompted by the rapid growth and popularity of the new game.)

About 65 enthusiasts of the six-man variety of football met at the fieldhouse yesterday afternoon to greet Kurt Lenser, authority on the short-handed game, as he gave the first of his series of lectures which will run through July 14.

A former Nebraska university basketball player, Lenser's attention was attracted to six-man football when the first contest of its kind was played at Hebron, Neb., Sept. 28, 1934.

Enthusiastic with the possibilities of the game, Lenser returned to Stratton, Neb., where he is employed as coach, and talked the school authorities into purchasing equipment—none being available as the school had no football team—and immediately set about scheduling games.

He made his debut as a six-man football coach two months later when his team took the field against Palisade.

Lenser's team lost, 14 to 6, but the set back failed to dampen his ardor.

The following year he was instrumental in the organization of a six-team league.

During the five years he has been coaching the game, Lenser has had but one player injured—and the injury wasn't of a serious nature. This is one of the points stressed by the Nebraska pioneer of the pee wee grid game.

"Enrollments of the schools in this league," Lenser says, "range from 32—the smallest—to 110—the largest."

The rapid growth of the game and the shortage of literature concerning instructions and rules, prompted Lenser to compile a volume on six-man football which he completed last year.

Biff Jones, Nebraska head coach, says that "Lenser's book is the best of its kind on the market today."

Although many are of the idea that the new game is for high schools where curtailed enrollment makes the 11-man game impossible, Lenser has entirely different ideas and offers proof.

"Many of the larger cities," according to the youngish coach, "are adopting the six-man variety of grid warfare, because it's a more wide open game and affords the spectators the thrills they seek."

In addition to high schools, the game has been adopted by the Boy Scouts of America, and the American Boy, popular boy's magazine, selects an all-American team each year.

Playgrounds all over the nation as well as junior high schools are falling in line for the six-man game. A few college coaches are using it to develop reserve material for their elevens.

As evidence of the rapid growth of the game, 162 teams were organized in Texas, 152 in Minnesota and 70 in Iowa last year.

It is estimated that 2,500 high schools are now playing the game.

Kurt Lenser, right, author and coaching authority on the six-man grid game which is rapidly gaining great popularity throughout the country, pauses a moment in his opening lecture at the fieldhouse yesterday to explain an intricate maneuver to one of the 65 pupils attending the initial class. Approximately 65 students of the game were on hand when Lenser opened the course—the first of its kind ever held in the midwest. A former Nebraska basketball player, Lenser anticipates an increasing interest in the six-man game when the public becomes acquainted with its wide open, spectacular brand of ball.

Pirates Chase Root, Thump Chicago 10-1

PITTSBURGH, July 5 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates broke out with a rash of thumping base hits today behind clever hurling by Joe Bowman and patted back the flopping ears of Chicago's Cubs by a 10 to 1 count.

A seven run upsurge in the third, climaxed by Pep Young's three run home run just outside the left field foul line, chased the hard-working Charley Root and assured the victory to the Bucs.

Jack Russell retired eight men in a row after relieving Root, then gave up five straight hits before Gene Lillard went to the rescue.

Louise Kuhl Wins C. S. Tennis Title

Louise Kuhl, graduate student from Omaha, returned yesterday to the campus after a triumphant series of tennis matches that left her women's single champion of the sixth annual Central States Tennis tournament in Davenport.

She defeated Jean Totten of Rock Island in the finals to win the match 6-1, 3-6 and 8-6.

In winning the women's division Miss Kuhl provided the most thrilling performance of the entire afternoon. A heavy pretourney favorite, she raced through the first set victoriously allowing Miss Totten but one game.

In the second set the Rock Island star returned to even things up a bit and as the final match got underway Miss Kuhl jumped into the lead by playing steady, forceful, tennis.

After a series of plays that left the match wide open it was four all, five all, six all, then seven-six in favor of the Omaha girl. The climax came in the 14th game. Miss Totten drove into the net and another one over the backline and another into the net. She came back to win the following two points but Miss Kuhl opened with tremendous drives that left no doubt as to the outcome.

Brooklyn Passes Cubs

Beats Phillies As Cubs Lose To Pittsburgh

BROOKLYN, July 5 (AP)—With fat and ferocious Freddy Fitzsimmons performing a successful six-hit pitching operation, the Brooklyn Dodgers lambasted the Philadelphia Phillies 7 to 1 today to sweep their three-game series. The win coupled with the Cub's loss to Pittsburgh allowed the Dodgers to sneak into fourth place a few percentage points ahead of Chicago.

The only run old Fitz allowed was a homer by Emmett Mueller in the first inning. But the Dodgers made 12 hits off Kirby Higbe and had two big innings.

DiMaggio, Gordon Homer for Yanks

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—The Yankees' vaunted power attack gave Rookie Athley Donald his 10th consecutive victory of the season today, 6 to 4 over Washington, although the Senators matched the champions in every department except scoring.

All of the New York runs were bunched in the middle innings but it was the sixth frame that licked Ken Chase, the Senators' starting hurler. Joe DiMaggio followed George Selkirk's single with a home run and Joe Gordon made up for a couple of errors with a circuit clout of his own.

Carl Teufel, the quarter miler who also did some hurdling during his three years on the Hawkeye team, tried the race for the first time at the National A.A.U. meet in Lincoln, Neb., Tuesday.

The Davenport man finished third in the fastest heat, barely failing to qualify for the final but his showing was regarded as excellent considering his inexperience in the event.

In 1924, Iowa had Charles Brookins and Chan Coulter as American 400-meter hurdlers at the Paris Olympics and in 1928 "Bab" Cuhel was runner-up for the title. Open Hostel Picnic and Program For Saturday

Any and all Iowa City residents who are interested in seeing and moving their own countryside, are invited to bring their own picnic lunches and inspect Young's Youth Hostel, located two and one half miles northwest of North Liberty on U. S. 218, Saturday evening when the hostel officially opened to hikers and cyclists.

The occasion will be celebrated with family and group picnic suppers on the lawns surrounding the Young home. After supper the group will inspect the esteling quarters.

The aims and ways of youth hostels will be described and moving pictures of hostels in other sections of the United States and in Europe will be shown during a short program. The entire group will then join in community singing and folk dancing.

This is the fourth hostel which has been opened in Iowa this spring.

Veteran Finds Owner Of Watch Found In War

VANCOUVER, Wash. (AP) — Twenty-one years ago doughboy Gene Smith picked up a wrist watch in the muddy battlefield at Argonne.

Going through his war keepsakes, Smith, now a Vancouver resident, pried the back off the watch and found a name and a company and regiment designation.

For a year, Smith, through the American Legion Magazine searched for the watch's owner. The man, "Doc" Tarar, was located in West Somerset, Ky.
