Scotty, Bob Monterrey Disturbed Their Plans

Two young men left Iowa City about 10 days ago with intentions of hitch-hiking to New Orleans and then taking boat across the Gulf of Mexico into Mexico.

According to word received by friends in Iowa City, they reached New Orleans safely but no further word was received concerning their progress until last Tuesday when seven identical post cards were received from Monterrey, Mex., by friends of the young adventurers.

The cards all read as follows: "Remember 'Scotty' and Bob, the boys who left Iowa City free and unattached? Monterrey has change that. Crazy? Perhaps. It was one of those things that only occur in movies and in books, but it happened to us."

"We would like very much to have you come to the wedding to be held at St. Catherine's cathedral in Monterrey July 28 at 3 o'clock."

"Scotty and Bob" The boys are Scott Swisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ingalls Swisher and Robert Dunlap, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dunlap, formerly of Iowa City and now residing in Janesville, Ohio.

Discards Indictment Charging Physicians With Trust Violation

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—The first night session of the senate's adjournment drive produced tonight a series of republican speeches denouncing the administration's $2,490,000,000 lending program as waste and extravagance.

One after another, Senators Taft (Ohio), Townsend (Delaware), Barbour (New Jersey), Davis (Pa.) and Danaher (Conn.) arose to belabor the measure, before — for most of the time — an audience of four to eight senators.

Their addresses were part of a bi-partisan attack which bursted the measure throughout the day from one end of the capitol to the other.

Moves for Recess

As Danaher finished his speech late tonight Majority Leader Barkley moved for a recess, and therefore that the defendants could not be guilty of restraint of trade in their alleged activities against Group Health Association, Inc., a cooperative set up to afford medical care on a pre-paid basis to federal employees in the District of Columbia.

The judge also caustically criticized the indictment, using such words as "bad," "improper," "highly colored," "vague," and "uncertain."

The justice department announced in a formal statement tonight that "every effort" would be made to get a supreme court decision on the district court's action "at the earliest possible moment."

Report Return Of Missing Chicago Man

FRANCIS, Ont., July 26 (AP)—Canadian provincial officials tonight announced F. C. Lambert, 53, of Chicago, had returned safely to his camp on Manitou lake a few hours after he was reported missing Sunday.

Communication difficulties had delayed the news while volunteers conducted an intensive search for the man.

Lambert's disappearance was revealed at nearby International Falls, Minn., yesterday when a fishing party came in from the isolated woods country 55 miles north of here. Provincial officials launched a search with airplanes and a large posse.

The Chicago man, who is chief engineer of the sanitary district in that city, was reported missing by a fishing companion, D. K. McMillan, also of Chicago, who said Lambert failed to show up after the two had made a portage about three miles from their camp.

The boy, said the sheriff, "seemed to be in pretty good shape" despite his exposure to swarms of insects, his scrambling through tangled underbrush and lack of food.

A state forest ranger was reported to have discovered the boy and notified the searchers.

The lad's return came as Churchill and other leaders of the hunt began to lose hope of finding him alive. Churchill today said he believed the boy would be found "today or never" and hope waned after bloodhounds followed a trail to the edge of a nearby lake, then halted.

Jack Russell Admits Kidnap-Slaying Of Hamilton, Arkansas City Salesman

McALESTER, Okla., July 26 (AP)—Convict Jack Russell's eight-day silence in "solitary" confinement was broken today with a confession he kidnapped and killed William Scott Hamilton, young Arkansas City, Kan., salesman, during his wild week of freedom.

Immediately after Warden Jess Dunn of McAlester penitentiary reported he had received a 26-page statement from the former model prisoner admitting the Hamilton slaying, three kidnappers and two armed robbers.

Russell, serving 10 years for armed robbery, escaped July 8 from a guard who was taking him to see a doctor. He was recaptured at Ozark, Ark., July 18 after a flight through at least six states.

The cards all read as follows:

"Remember 'Scotty' and Bob, the boys who left Iowa City free and unattached? Monterrey has change that. Crazy? Perhaps. It was one of those things that only occur in movies and in books, but it happened to us."

"We would like very much to have you come to the wedding to be held at St. Catherine's cathedral in Monterrey July 28 at 3 o'clock."

Members of House Devise Strategy To Defeat Wage Rider

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—High flying "enemy warplanes," subjected this nazi capital to a bombing attack tonight which theoretically wiped out hundreds of buildings, broke water mains in dozens of streets, put the entire city in darkness, and sent Berlin's millions into air raid shelters in realistic defense exercises.

The first alarm in the five-day air raid defense test came at 6:50 p.m. (11:50 a.m., C.S.T.). A minute later the streets, except for an occasional policeman, were empty.

Audit Reveals Discrepancy In License Fees

DES MOINES, July 26 (AP)—State Auditor C. B. Akers reported today that the audit of the automobile drivers license receipts is near completion and indicated the audit would show a "shortage" in the neighborhood of $2,000.

Disclosure of a mixup in the receipts for the 50-cent licenses was made about 10 days ago when Auditor Akers said there had been an "apparent discrepancy."

At that time he placed the amount involved at between $900 and $1,000.

It was also thought at that time that the discrepancy might prove to be bookkeeping error, but Akers said today that "I think it will be shown as a definite shortage."

As soon as the audit is complete, Akers said he would make a report to Attorney General Fred Everett, Public Safety Commissioner Karl Fischer and Gov. George A. Wilson.

Shook Hands On It

The member in question said the four had "solemnly shaken hands on it," adding that if the senate "surrenders to the recent anarchy," meaning the recent WPA strikes over the prevailing wage question, "there will be no bill." He pointed out that the four democrats, added to the 10 republicans on the committee, would give a majority of the 25-member group.

The house committee completed hearings on the measure today and announced that it would go into executive session for consideration of changes in the bill tomorrow. Meanwhile, the house rules committee met to consider tending the administration's $800,000,000 housing bill to the house for action. It adjourned without deciding that question one way or the other. Republicans and anti-new deal democrats claim a majority in the rules committee on this question, and the final result is in doubt. The bill forms an integral part of the administration's program.

Sayre Chosen Commissioner

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Assistant Secretary of State Francis B. Sayre was chosen today to succeed Paul V. McNutt as high commissioner of the Philippines.

President Roosevelt sent Sayre's nomination to the Senate for confirmation. Gambling that he'll live to be 100, George Butterworth, 70-year-old retired contractor, has paid cash in advance for 30 years for a Florida hotel room.

President Roosevelt sent Sayre's nomination to the Senate for confirmation. McNutt resigned recently to become federal security administrator.

GAS REMOVER

War-Worried Londoners Make Discovery

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Mustard gas can be washed out of leather goods, according to the latest word from worried Londoners.

A report from London to the commerce department said tests showed that shoes and other leather articles could be cleaned of the dread gas by washing first in cold water and then dunking for six hours in hot water.

The removals, all "for cause," take effect next Tuesday, Aug. 1.

Liquor Chairman M. L. Curtis, newly appointed republican commissioner, asserted the information leading to the charges "was prepared prior to the first of July."

Curtis began his six-year term control from democratic to republican.

Observers interpreted the statement to mean the previous democratic administration had paved the way for the changes before the political complexion of the commission was altered.

The chairmen said the appointees named to fill the vacancies "all are republicans to the best of my knowledge." One of the managers replaced, O. F. Mangold of Burlington, is a republican, the commissioner added.

Way Opened For Embargo On Commerce

Surprise Abrogation Becomes Effective January 26, 1940

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—The United States served notice tonight it was terminating its 1911 treaty of commerce and navigation with Japan, opening the way toward an embargo on the shipment of raw materials to that country.

The government's action came like a lightning from a blue sky, since the Senate Foreign Relations Committee discussing a resolution calling for the denunciation of the treaty postponed discussion on it today until later in the week.

Hull, Roosevelt Confer
Earlier today Secretary Hull conferred with President Roosevelt, following talks with his far eastern advisers. The president approved, perhaps ordered, the action.

On behalf of Secretary of State Hull, Francis B. Sayre, assistant secretary of state, handed a note to an official of the Japanese embassy informing him of the step.

Six months must pass from today before the abrogation can go into effect. They will be up Jan. 26, 1940, at which time Congress will be in session and can discuss an embargo on raw materials shipments to Japan.

The State Department regarded the 1911 treaty as a legal obstacle in the way of a resolution by Senator Pittman (D-Nev) calling for the embargo. Article 5 of the pact, paragraph three, of the pact, said:

"Nor shall any prohibition be imposed by either country on the importation or exportation of any article from or to the territories of the other which shall not equally extend to the like article imported from or exported to any other country."

Consequently, if the United States wanted to embargo shipments to Japan, she would have to do so with regard to all other countries as well as long as the treaty remained in force.

Vandenberg Acted

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) introduced a resolution some days ago calling for the abrogation of the 1911 treaty with a view to possible negotiation of a new one affording better protection to American rights in China.

Asked by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for an opinion on both resolutions, Secretary Hull last Friday deferred giving it, but wrote the committee with reference to the Vandenberg resolution that the State Department would be glad to consider it if it were approved.

The abrogation caught the capital by surprise. At 8:30 p.m. (CST) the State Department telephoned to newspaper correspondents and asked them to come to the department for a news release.

The first event of the afternoon will be an outdoor demonstration on "Syncro-Sunlight Photography" by Hy Schwartz of the Kalart company of New York.

Following the outdoor demonstration there will be two lectures, the first by Mr. Carlson on "Miniature Camera Technique," the second by G. A. McKenzie of the Agfa Anso corporation of Chicago on "Print Quality and Toning."

Evening Program

The evening program will open at 7:30 with a lecture on "Work of the Newspaper Art Department" by Marshall Sauer, head of the art department of the Des Moines Register and Tribune. Sauer is one of three of the Register and Tribune photography staff here as instructors for the course.

George Yates and Kenneth Clayton are the others from the Des Moines paper.

PanamaGets A*New Treaty.

INSIGNIFICANT NEWS in the eyes of most Americans is the small story from Washington that "the Senate Tuesday ratified a 1936 treaty with Panama requiring that the United States consult with Panama when it decides to take major steps in the face of any threat of aggression against the Panama Canal."

The treaty also provides, according to the story, for payment of the annual canal rental in the present currency equivalent of $250,000 in gold. Panama had objected to receiving currency as devalued in 1934 and henceforth will receive approximately $430,000 rental in currency.

A new treaty with Panama is not as insignificant today as it appears. To the people of Panama the treaty ratification will be banner news; to them it means that the understanding of an American president who developed a "good neighbor" policy has borne fruit.

America has been extremely free in her criticism of the imperialism of other nations. We sometimes forget that we too have been imperialistic. We tend to forget the revolution of the Panama people from Columbia and the swiftness with which another president by the name of Roosevelt recognized Panama's independence and began canal zone negotiations.

It is important from now on that we continue Roosevelt's policy in Latin America, and just as important that the policy become even more liberal. What we accomplish commercially will be lost politically unless this nation forgets its exploitation and looks to the development of sincere friendship with the nations below the border.

There were many thorns annoying the people of Panama in the original treaty establishing the canal zone. There are more to be pulled out in later treaties. The people of Panama, for example, will not long tolerate the type of American exploitation that forbids the government of their own nation to build a highway between the country's two largest cities because the American-owned Panama railroad would suffer.

The concessions obtained by Panama in the 1936 treaty, ratified Tuesday, should not be given begrudgingly. If the United States is to keep from losing her influence to Germany she must continue to show consideration to the awakening governments in Latin America.

Japan, The United States And Progress

MODELED AFTER AN ancient Shinto shrine, the red-lacquered, richly gilded Japanese pavilion is one of the most striking attractions at New York's world fair. Thousands of visitors come under its oriental spell every day. Costing in the millions, the pavilion, its contents and the Nipponese garden surrounding it are being featured in "commemoration of the friendly assistance accorded Japan by the United States."

A flame burns continuously in a flower-shaped urn before the pavilion entrance. Given life by the sacred fires of Nippon's great shrine of Izumo, fabled meeting place of the Shinto gods, and transported to America with loving care, this flame is "a sacred symbol of the friendship that Japan bears for the United States."

The spirit of amity also dominates the exhibits within the pavilion. Japan has forgotten little which might impress upon the American visitor how greatly the Japanese appreciate the friendship and cooperation of the United States.

Most striking among the exhibits is a replica of America's liberty bell made of silver, diamonds and pearls. Valued at $1,000,000, this imitation of the famed symbol of freedom rests in state in a hall of friendship dedicated to the friendly cooperation of Japan and the United States. Its creation was a magnificent gesture of friendship that impresses every American who passes to admire the bell's priceless beauty.

Japan has good reason to call its fair pavilion a symbol of friendship to America. Since Commodore Matthew Galbraith Perry opened the islands to American trade in 1854, only one bit of discord—the exclusion of Japanese immigrants—has arisen to threaten the amity existing between the nations.

And today, more than ever before, Japan has reason to appreciate American friendship and cooperation, for it is the United States which is giving the Nipponese help in their hour of greatest need.

Two years ago Japan started out to subjugate China, fully expecting the job could be done in a few months. But the Chinese proved surprisingly averse to being subjugated. So far the Japanese have found it necessary to kill nearly 5,000,000 of the stubborn Chinese.

But for the United States the Japanese could scarcely have carried on this long against China. American exporters have helped materially by supplying 90 per cent of the scrap iron and steel, 77 per cent of the aircraft and parts, 81 per cent of the cotton, 65 per cent of the petroleum products and 91 per cent of the automobile parts necessary for the Japanese cause.

America's friendly women have also done their part by contributing $100,000,000 annually by buying silk stockings.

Japan owes the United States much for past favors. No one knows that more than Japan. And the Japanese cannot hope to succeed in their campaign against stubborn China unless American women continue to buy silk stockings and American exporters continue to furnish war materials. One realizes this more than the Japanese.

It is therefore highly appropriate that Japan's world fair pavilion is dedicated to American friendship. The Shinto shrine stands as proof positive that the Japanese are imbued with the feeling expressed by Kaname Wakasugi, consul general for Japan, when he dedicated the pavilion:

"The maintenance and promotion of the peaceful and friendly relations of the United States and Japan are absolutely necessary for the progress of the World of Tomorrow."

The GreeksFavor*Roosevelt

IN THE DELUGE of public opinion polls comes one of unique interest. The Hellenic World recently asked 7,129 American Greeks, "Do you favor a third term for President Roosevelt?" 60.1 per cent voted "yes." Of the 4,349 votes cast for Roosevelt 53 were republican votes, while of those opposed 100 were cast by democrats.

In answer to the question, "Why do you favor or oppose a third term?" various replies were given. "The American people will make a great mistake if they do not re-elect President Roosevelt," one supporter said. Another gave as his reason: "President Roosevelt has proven the country's saviour."

Rhode Island, Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, and Ohio voters were in opposition to the president. All the other states were pro-Roosevelt. The city of Chicago which opposed Roosevelt in the last issue of the Hellenic World turned for him in the final tally.

The poll was the first of its kind ever conducted exclusively for the Greek people of the United States. Their interest was remarkable and the vote cast (7,129) speaks well not only for the political mindedness of the Greek people in America but also speaks eloquently for the circulation of the Hellenic World during the past six months. In giving their support to the president, the Greeks in America paid a fine tribute to Roosevelt.

Government chemists have discovered a means of preserving sweet cream indefinitely. What Europe needs is for someone to find a method of preserving the milk of human kindness.

Italy may bar tourists from the Tyrol. From now on, it appears, the natives must be content to yodel just at each other.

SHE MUDDLED THROUGH MANY A ROUGH SEA!A MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By George Tucker

New York — It's like this. She just put out her hand and a silver dollar dropped into it.

It was most mystifying to Mrs. Florence Lennon, of Boulder, Colorado, who is a guest in New York. Mrs. Lennon is registered at the Hotel Pennsylvania, and this morning she descended to the lobby to purchase some stamps so that she could mail a letter to her mother back home in Colorado.

Then she stepped to the big brass mailbox. As she lifted the metal flap and inserted the letter, a big, round silver dollar dropped into her hand. She uttered a startled cry, but she held on to the dollar. For a moment it looked suspiciously as if Jim Farley had been turning his mail boxes into slot machines.

She was standing by the box, still nonplussed, looking at the dollar when a gentleman leaped out of the elevator and exclaimed, "Has anyone seen a silver dollar?" He appeared wildly excited.

"Why, yes," replied Mrs. Lennon. "I have. When I put a letter in the box it jumped at me. It almost bit me."

Sammy Kay, the swing and sway band leader, tells me that a man, whose name was Rene

Levy, exhaled in relief. "It's couple of alert fellows in New Jersey, which has no tax, are advertising cigarettes at pre-tax prices in the New York papers. They 'manufacture' any quantity desired and deliver in Manhattan. The officials haven't found way yet to prevent this."

Mr. Levy, for your further information, is chief of the Pennsylvania's banquet department.

And that extremely cheerful countenance he wears may be explained by the fact that he has his lucky silver dollar back.

The new cigarette tax in New York City which compels smokers to pay a total tax of nine cents on each package—six-cent federal tax, two-cent state tax, and one-cent city tax—has renewed interest in the roll-your-own gadgets which enjoyed a brief popularity a number of years ago.

These self-rollers are now practically given away with the purchase of loose tobacco, and some of them produce a monogrammed cigarette.

Last in Series Of Six Demonstrations

A demonstration of color motion pictures taken on the University of Iowa campus under the direction of L. W. Cochran of the visual instruction department will close the series of educational motion picture classroom demonstrations at 4:10 this afternoon in Macbride auditorium.

The series, which began July 11, has placed emphasis upon the importance of motion pictures in classroom instruction, and instructors in university elementary and high schools, as well as representatives of the university staff, have demonstrated the use of educational films under actual classroom conditions.

"Summer Session at Iowa" and "University of Iowa News Reels," the films to be shown this afternoon, illustrate the work of the department of the university.

Entry blanks for the show which have not been mailed yet may be turned in at the meeting tonight.

Files Petition Against R. Hocheteller After June 10 Accident
