EXPECT IMMEDIATE DANZIG CRISIS

They Want to Play Football, Eat Turkey November 30 Moves Parallel Events During Previous Coup

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—A gridiron rebellion grew today with a pile-up of protests from rock-ribbed traditionalists against President Roosevelt's plan to change the day of Thanksgiving this year from Nov. 30 to Nov. 23. Many in authority and businessmen, favored the president's precedent-smashing idea — to help business — but the football people were both amazed and flabbergasted over what to do with games scheduled for Nov. 30. There may be two Thanksgivings this year. Tradition-bound New England was largely shocked. Senator Bridges (R-NH) led the opposition in Washington with a statement that the president's announcement was "a complete surprise because there was no intimation of it in Mrs. Roosevelt's column." Heartily approving the president's announcement, was Lew Hahn, general manager of the National Retail Dry Goods association, who on Aug. 4 addressed a communication to Secretary of Commerce Hopkins urging an earlier Thanksgiving as "good for business." His organization represents some 5,700 department, specialty and dry goods stores, which were estimated to do well over $500,000,000 — or around 15 per cent of the yearly total — in the peak shopping season from Turkey Day to Christmas. Hahn said the president's move would have an "assuring effect" upon manufacturers and distributors of consumers goods. "With a 4-week shopping period before Christmas instead of three," he said, "the prospects for a strong advance in business activities during the rest of 1939 are considerably enhanced." But from the angry tone of authorities most vehemently opposed to the proposed change it appeared there might be a dual Thanksgiving this year, with some states giving on turkey, cranberries and football on Nov. 23 and the old guard having theirs a week later, which would be just another Thursday to "new dealers." The state department in Washington pointed out that the governors of the individual states have more say about Thanksgiving than the president because his proclamation is valid only in territories and the District of Columbia and among federal employees. College football managers say their finely drawn schedules upset by the president's announcement and expressed resentment in some cases, and a desire to switch dates as best they could in others.

Nazi Leaders Predict Bloodless Settlement Of Danzig Situation

By LOUIS F. LOCHNER
BERLIN, Aug. 15 (AP) — A host of signs in Berlin tonight pointed to an imminent, almost immediate development in the grave issue of Danzig and Pomerania (the Polish corridor). In government quarters, which normally are willing to give a hint of events to come, there was an ominous silence. But there continued the steady press campaign and in the rapid tempo of events of the past 10 days it was a seeming parallel to the days of Austrian annexation, Munich, the Czecho-Slovak partition, the protectorate over Czech Bohemia and Moravia and the absorption of Memel. Officials and Nazi party members insist that a Danzig solution will be a bloodless one.

Germans convinced
This may mean that the German leaders are convinced that Poland, like Czecho-Slovakia, will yield and that the German army may soon peacefully march into Danzig, lost in the World war, and into at least a section of the corridor which would connect Germany with its one separated segment, East Prussia. One cannot predict. One cannot know exactly what the future portends. But the signs and the atmosphere are much the same as in the days before Munich. It may be that Prof. Carl J. Burckhardt, League of Nations commissioner for Danzig, will not have time to carry on further communications with the British foreign secretary, Lord Halifax, as it was reported reliably he would do yesterday.

No London Trip
Burckhardt in Danzig today declared in a formal statement he had no intention of going to London, but acknowledged that he had had "a short conversation about internal Danzig questions" in Germany. It was taken for granted this conversation was with Adolf Hitler. Signs that lead veteran observers of German affairs to believe a development may be at hand are:
1. Propaganda Minister Goebbels returned unexpectedly from Italy yesterday, where he had been expected to remain for the remainder of the week. He usually is assigned to read important proclamations to the German people over the radio.
2. The silence in government quarters.
3. The hurried return to Rome by airplane of the Italian foreign minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, after his conferences with the German foreign minister and Hitler last week end.
4. Whatever action Italy might be prepared to undertake to support Germany had to be synchronized quickly with such plans for speeding up the "solution" of the Danzig and German-Polish questions as Hitler may have decided upon.
5. The insistence of the German press since Ciano's departure on Sunday, that the Danzig question must be solved "speedily."
6. Warnings addressed to England, France and Poland, advocating reasonableness "before it is too late," are the order of the day in Berlin newspapers.
7. German fishermen plying their trade in the Baltic have been forbidden to go out to their regular fishing grounds.

Oklahoma, New Mexico Follow Texas In Closing State Oil Wells for Fifteen Days

States Attempt To Peg Prices

Governors in Effort To Stop Falling Crude Oil Prices by Action

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 15 (AP) — Governors of Oklahoma and New Mexico followed Texas' lead today in closing down state oil wells for 15 days in an effort to bolster falling crude prices.

Kansas oil regulation officials indicated that state would take similar action and others were expected to join the move as the interstate oil compact commission held its first emergency session in the face of the price crisis.

Gov. Leon C. Phillips issued an order tonight closing the Oklahoma wells and at Santa Fe, Gov. John E. Miles of New Mexico said he would issue a proclamation closing 2,200 wells in that state.

The only exceptions, he said, would be wells which cannot be shut off without danger of losing them.

Shortly before the compact commission ended its unprecedented session with an announcement each state would solve its own problem of meeting major price cuts, the Independent Petroleum Association of America handed the members a recommendation for closing all Mid-Continent area wells for 15 days.

The threat of retaliation for the price decline of 20 cents a barrel, first posted by Sinclair Prairie Purchasing company, came from Texas where Attorney General Gerald C. Mann announced he had launched an inquiry to determine if any oil companies were violating Texas' anti-trust laws.

At Austin, Railroad Commissioner Jerry Sadler charged Standard Oil of New Jersey was operating in Texas in violation of state anti-trust laws and asked Mann to investigate.

Governor Phillips announced after the two-hour closed meeting of the compact that state wells would be shut down for 15 days, effective at 7 a.m. tomorrow.

Japan To Turn Back to Orient

TOKYO, Aug. 15 (AP)—Holding the door open for a possible deeper entry into European affairs at some future time, reliable sources said tonight that Japan had determined to confine her present major activities to the far east.

The decision, it was reported, was reached Aug. 8 after an exhaustive discussion of recent international developments by Premier Baron Kiichiro Hiranuma and his ministers of war, navy, finance and foreign affairs. The development left Premier Hiranuma on top in the latest controversy. The most serious policy problem has been the question of a military alliance with Italy and Germany. The three powers already have agreed to exchange information to combat international communism.

Pressure from Berlin for more than a guarantee that Japan would oppose Soviet Russia in the event a military alliance should be formed was said to have occasioned the Aug. 8 conference.

BUTTON, BUTTON Sturdy English Girls Mob Power

LONDON, Aug. 15 (AP) — Sturdy English girls — who go in for athletics and long hikes — "roughed" young Tyrone Power tonight.

Scheduled to make a personal appearance in a Strand theater, the actor drove up in a car. When he tried to mingle, just like any Power fan, the girls spotted him. It was every girl for herself from then on with a Power clothes button considered a prime souvenir.

Police rescued him but in the traffic jam there were 18 minor "casualties."

Polish Agency Says German Border Closed

WARSAW, Aug. 16 (Wednesday) (AP) — The Polish Telegraph agency reported that German authorities today closed all border traffic along that part of their Silesian frontier facing the Polish district of Rybnik.

The agency added that all telephone communication between this German district and Poland had been cut off.

No reason for this action was given although the impression in Polish circles is that it is a move to provide secrecy for German fortifications or troop movements in this area.

Unionists, Stockholders Determine Arbitration In Muscatine Strike

DES MOINES, Aug. 15 (AP)—Gov. George A. Wilson's offer to appoint an arbitration board in the Hawkeye Pearl-Button company labor dispute at Muscatine rested tonight in the hands of two groups—the union members and the stockholders.

E. D. Schultheis, organizer for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, (CIO) which claims the bargaining rights for Hawkeye Button company employees, said he would submit the governor's proposition to the workers "probably tomorrow night."

F. C. Vetter, president of the company, told Governor Wilson he would present the proposal to the stockholders and reply by letter "in a day or two."

The union requested the governor several days ago to name an arbitration board to settle a controversy with the company over wages.

Governor Wilson today assured the union he would appoint such a board, "upon receipt of written assurance that, immediately upon appointment of a board of arbitration, the men will return or in good faith attempt to return to their work and remain at work" during the arbitration period.

TO ALASKA? Industries Could Be Transplanted

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—Secretary Ickes suggested today that European industries "broken up or diverted by current waves of intolerance" be "transplanted to Alaska for the benefit of the United States."

His proposal accompanied publication of a report prepared under the direction of Under-Secretary Harry Slatery, which recommended that bars against foreign immigration into the territory be let down.

Savant Defines Marxist Aims In Coast Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15 (AP) — A Stanford university professor read a 15,000-word statement on the "content and significance of Marxist philosophy" at Harry Bridges deportation hearing today after a Portland, Ore., captain testified his department had discussed adultery charges against the maritime labor leader.

Capt. John J. Keegan, questioned about expenses the Portland police incurred after the Bridges investigation, recalled a hotel room conversation with Aaron Sapiro, an "adverse" witness against Bridges.

It was whether charges should be filed against Harry Bridges for adultery.— Captain Keegan began, when Defense Attorney Richard Gladstein leaped to his feet. "What's that got to do with questions?" Gladstein asked.

In reply to a question why so much money had been spent in efforts to deport Bridges to Australia, Keegan said: "We were interested in Harry Bridges for other reasons than deportation."

It's 'Kick and Pray' Technique

Elks Picnic Gambling Raid Has All Sides A Little Groggy at Capital City

DES MOINES, Aug. 15 (AP)—The "kick and pray" technique which has won so many close football games had all sides a little groggy tonight as darkness halted play in the current effort to displace of the Elks picnic gambling raid.

The Elks were all on the sidelines as the issue of their Friday night's party here went zooming from courthouse to statehouse and back to courthouse, with a few fast laterals in between.

The ball—17 pieces of plain and fancy gambling equipment—is currently in the possession of Sheriff Vane B. Overturf, but nobody seems to want to hang onto it any longer than he has to.

The slot machines, dice tables, poker tables and kindred devices were seized by state agents and deputy sheriffs at Sycamore park, where the Elks were holding forth, Friday night.

The sheriff said the state agents headed the raid, and he didn't know a thing about it.

R. W. Nebergall, chief of the state agents, said it must have been the sheriff's idea, for he didn't know anything about it.

Karl W. Fischer, commissioner of public safety and Nebergall's immediate superior, felt the same way. But it was Fischer who recently warned local and county peace officers to "crack down" on liquor and gambling infractions and not overlook the local carnivals and functions where such vices may have escaped notice.

The sheriff asked Fischer what he should do with the gamblers' tools he had stored in the courthouse here, commenting that the raid was "under the direction of your bureau of investigation."

But Fischer, who was at his Vinton home welcoming the arrival of a newly-born daughter, was back-stopped today by Attorney General Fred D. Everett.

Everett wrote the sheriff that he was "respectfully" referred to that big yellow book, the Code of Iowa, 1935, wherein he would "find a clear definition" of his duty and he "should proceed accordingly."

Labor Council Acts in Dispute

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 15 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor's executive council today ordered the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees to sever its relations with Sophie Tucker's orphaned American Federation of Actors.

The council urged that the latter organization be reinstated by the Associated Actors and Artists of America.

Today's ruling, a lengthy one, culminated a long fight among various theatrical unions. The trouble started when the AAAA, parent organization of a dozen theatrical unions, ousted the AFA from its ranks for alleged insubordination.

The executive council ruled that the AAAA was "unduly severe in that it penalized thousands of members of the actors' profession for an alleged offense we believe might have been adjusted without inflicting harm on any officer or member, or questioning his or her character."

Mexican Oil Question Gushes

A NEW SERIES of negotiations is under way between the Mexican government and American interests to settle for the expropriation of American oil properties.

The most recent proposal is to give American oil companies disposed of their holdings a minority control in a Mexican government corporation which would operate the properties. So far the United States government has been only an interested observer to the proceedings of the oil controversy.

According to the proposed setup the Mexican government would allocate 51 per cent of the stock of the oil corporation to themselves and distribute the rest among American firms. Then American experts and technicians would be rehired at their former wages to manage the plants while Mexican labor would be paid according to a scale decreed by the Mexican government and supreme court.

President Cardenas of Mexico declared early last month that Mexico intends to repay foreign investors within the next 10 years for the properties expropriated early in 1938. He said that 20 per cent of the money obtained from export sale of oil is being placed in a reserve from which the repayments will be made.

One of the points in dispute is the exact liability of the Mexican government. Total value of all the oil properties seized, including Dutch and British as well as American properties, has been placed at 400 million dollars. American oil properties, according to this estimate, were valued at 250 million dollars.

That the American companies will accept the newest offers is reported to be extremely doubtful. It is understood that the companies believe the proposals offer many benefits to the Mexican government and few to them. Therefore, they want either "full adequate" compensation in cash or a more favorable solution.

Milk As An Issue

THE MILK situation as echoed in Chicago has reverberations all through the dairy states. In the dairy centers the farmer, the hauler, the plant worker and the consumer are wrangling over the price of milk.

The farmer does have a genuine problem. His cows produce less milk in February than they do in June, yet he must guarantee a uniform supply to the dairy. Consequently he has to produce more milk in the summer months than the dairies will buy and must accept a lower price for it. From 1929 to 1932 the price the farmer got for milk dropped by half. Then it rose for a brief period to drop again to 60 per cent of the normal mark. In other words although milk costs as much now as it did 10 years ago the farmer gets less than two-thirds as much.

The man who gathers the milk cans from the farm and distributes them to the dairies feels he is underpaid. He demands a cent more per quart in order to make anything above his expenses. He is justified in his attitude.

The plant worker who makes the milk safe for consumption has to make a living. With wages as they are he cannot do it.

In the last analysis it would appear the consumer should be charged enough so that the milk industry could operate at a reasonable profit and pay the demands of the farmer, hauler and plant worker, but the consumer says, "If I have to pay more than a nickel I can't buy milk for my baby." Something is basically wrong in the milk industry. Perhaps it might be the vigorous competition of the dairies which sends numerous delivery wagons clinking down the street in early morning—the duplication of dairy routes—the vast investment in equipment all dairies use in their battle against each other.

But no matter what methods must be employed to solve the situation it needs an answer. Americans aren't so supine or so supremely incompetent as to go thirsty with a torrent of milk at the door.

Should the people elect a judge above the farmer, the labor unionists, the distributor and buyer who shall act for them and see to it that in this land, flowing with milk and honey, the consumer gets the milk he wants in return for which all persons cooperating to provide that milk will be rewarded as they merit in the world's chief milk paradise? That would be democracy and it seems right now to be the only solution with any wisdom in it.

Minus One Dictator?

WHEN THE Loyal Order of Moose comes together for convention in Philadelphia shortly a resolution will be presented to drop the word "dictator" from the title of high elective officers.

Victims of criticism and railery ever since European dictators appeared on the scene to challenge all characteristics of democracy, the Moose feel that their titles are not concomitant with the spirit of their organization.

The proposed action of the Moose is more than a stern rebuff to European governments of recent years; by presentation of the resolution in their assembly the Moose will express in no uncertain terms their hatred of that form of government headed by a dictator.

All of which goes to show how purely harmless words take on unpleasant connotations and how a few years can reduce the vestiges of democracy to the rigorous discipline of a dictatorship.

Democracy Goes To Convention

OPENING A three-day session in New York yesterday, the Congress of Education for Democracy is probably the most significant conference of its kind ever held by an educational institution. The meetings will be devoted to a deep analysis and attack on the whys and wherefores of the democratic traditions and ideals. Many world figures in education, politics and industry are among the 3,000 men and women attending the various meetings and seminars.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, is honorary chairman of the congress, with Winthrop W. Aldrich, chairman of the board of the Chase National bank as vice chairman.

Explaining the function of the congress Dean Russell said: "In a democracy the major educational decisions in the last analysis will be made by the people. Only in an autocracy can such power be vested in any one class, group or clique."

Included among the foreign delegates to this congress are Stanley Baldwin, former prime minister of Great Britain and Louis Dumas, general inspector for the ministry of national education from France.

American speakers are such nationally known figures as Charles A. Beard, William Green, Thomas H. Briggs and Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.

Concluding the three day session will be a banquet tomorrow night at which Louis J. Taber, master of the national grand, will lead the event with his discussion of "Democracy at Work."

Out of the congress the officials feel certain that a thorough airing of the mutual problems facing education and the public generally will prove beneficial. From it in the opinion of Dean Russell may come "tangible results."

Only a couple of months more and we'll make our annual mistake—taking down the window and door screens one week too soon.

A MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By George Tucker

NEW YORK — Rockland county, New York, is a celebrated section of the state, not too far from Manhattan, which includes such nice little towns as Nyack (where Helen Hayes lives), Haverstraw (where Postmaster James A. Farley used to play baseball), and Parnassus, which is near Spring Valley, where Burgess Meredith has a rambling white cottage. Playwright Maxwell Anderson, author of "High Tor" is a resident nearby, and indeed the whole sector is rich in tradition ranging from the early Dutch sagas, Indian legends, and bustling Hudson river history.

Not long ago Prosecutor Dewey dispatched Dixie Davis, former "mouthpiece" of the Schultz gang, to a Rockland County hideaway, the estate of a friend, and kept him there until needed as a witness in one of his celebrated vice crusade prosecutions.

When word of Dixie's whereabouts became rumored, reporters hastened to Rockland county, chartered a plane, and flew over the estate, hoping to obtain some pictures of the disgraced lawyer and his fiancée, Hope Dare. But Dixie remained indoors, and all approaches to the estate were patrolled by New York police. This last week Rockland County has been seething with indignation because Dixie and Hope, just married, were reported to be secretly honeymooning in the land of the High Tors. County officials complained so bitterly to Mr. Dewey that he made a statement in which he declared that Davis and his bride were no longer in the county. They were, he said, honeymooning in distant and secret pastures. This mollified the county, which breathed a deep sigh of relief. What annoyed Rockland county residents so much was the original excursion of Dixie into its historic precincts. So secretive were Dewey's actions that Davis had been there for weeks before word of his presence leaked out. Which was astonishing, when you consider that Rockland county is a place where nobody has any secrets from anybody. Everybody knows everything everyone else does. That a celebrated "figure" in scandalous New York City court proceedings was actually living in their midst was bad enough. But that Mr. Dewey

HEALTH HINTS

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

Assuming that you may have taken pollen extract to prevent your hay fever and that it didn't work, or that you are caught in a season and are suffering, whether you tried anything to prevent it or not, what can you do for the treatment of hay fever?

Four possibilities: 1. Climate. Local freedom is claimed for the following resorts: Bethlehem, New Hampshire; Bretton Woods, New Hampshire; Campello Island, New Brunswick; Charlevoix, Michigan; Dixville Notch, New Hampshire; Five Island; Long Island; Kane, Pennsylvania; Machinac Island, Michigan; Marquette, Michigan; Miami, Fla.; Mimaki Lake, Ontario; Murray Bay, Quebec; Petoskey, Mich.; Pt. Arthur, Ontario; Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.; California and the Pacific coast.

Pollen Counts Made In determining the safety of these resorts, pollen counts are made by exposing to the air flat glass plates, with a thin layer of gelatin or vaseline on the bottom. The pollen particles, light on the gelatine and are easy to recognize under the microscope.

2. Air - conditioned rooms, or air filters. For the hay-feverite who cannot afford a vacation, or to spend six weeks away from work, I believe more relief is afforded by air filters in the window of the sleeping room or air-conditioned rooms, than anything. The filters are made of woven wool or cotton, or best, of layers of cellulose. Into one side of a cellulose filter 65,000,000 pollen grains were introduced. Not a single grain of pollen was found on slides held over the outlet.

Gives Sufferer Relief The disadvantage of these filters is that they prevent free circulation in the sleeping room and it may become hot and stuffy. But an electric fan is permissible, and at any rate the relief is enough to encourage the victim to endure lesser discomforts. Sometimes relief persists all through the day after a night in an air-conditioned or air-filtered room.

An electrostatic cleaner is also on the market which attracts and holds pollen and dust particles on electric plates. It is able to free a room of pollen 100 per cent.

3. Medical treatment. Daniel Webster stated that while whiskey did not relieve his hay fever it created a mental state in which he didn't care. That is about all that can be said for it. In most people it increases the symptoms.

Local Remedies Used Local remedies to the nose and eyes: Douching with ordinary salt water (nose) and boric acid solution (eyes) gives some relief and washes out the pollen accumulation.

Adrenalin solution to both eyes and nose gives more but temporary relief. Ephedrine has the same action as adrenalin. Benzene inhalations may have the effect of clearing the nose. Estivin, a liquid preparation of rosa gallica (sweet-brier) gives more local relief to eyes and nose to more people than any local remedy known to me.

Stewart Says - Spain's Franco Is Disturbing Peace Internationally

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist

As if fascists and nazis weren't enough of a headache, the state department now has a Falangist pest to worry about. A fascist boss is a duce. A nazi boss is a fuhrer. A Falangist boss is a caudillo. Il Duce Mussolini! Der Fuehrer Hitler! El Caudillo Franco! It's a bother even to learn the nomenclature. Still worse is the state department's job of maintaining any sort of normal diplomatic relations with these freak outfits.

Falangistic Spain promises to be harder to deal with, too, than fascist Italy or Nazi Germany. Mussolini has held his duce-ship and Hitler his fuhrer-ship for a sufficient length of time to have enabled the department to become more or less acquainted with their respective peculiarities. To be sure, with the extinction of Benito or Adolf or both of them, in one way or another, fascism or nazism or the twin may blow up on short notice. Nevertheless, for the present, they have a certain sort of stability.

Spain is too new a caudillo to have been assessed yet. Moreover, the Falangist regime shows signs of disintegrating overnight, and pretty speedily. El caudillo thought he had the Spanish republicans licked. And maybe he did, but now the fact that he licked 'em with appears to be splitting into a couple or three sub-factions, preparatory to a resumption of civil warfare.

A Funny Country Spain's a funny country. It's violently individualistic. It's been run, here and there, by various prehistoric groups of natives; by the Romans, by Charlemagne, by the Moors, by the Bourbons, by the Hapsburgs; it's been a republic, a monarchy, a dictatorship! It's been out-and-out anarchistic. No outfit ever stayed for very long in power, because none ever was in a majority. As soon as some particular gang gained temporary control a lot of rival little minorities ganged up on it, squashed it, and then went to fighting among themselves. In my own comparatively brief time as a newspaperman I've "covered" two Spanish rebellions, with the constitution suspended and all the trimmings.

It isn't actually any one country. The Castellians, the Catalans and the Basques speak distinct languages—not counting the Portuguese.

Well, rather recently King Alfonso was dethroned. A so-called republic followed. It was anticlerical. The clericals are conservative. There are plenty of Spanish conservatives who aren't big clericals. In this particular case, however, they agreed that the republicans were radical. In fact, they said the latter were communists. Some of them were, doubtless. There were numerous anarchists, too, though. Likewise there was a contingent of just ordinary republicans.

Accordingly, the conservative element rushed to arms. General Franco (today's caudillo) took their cause in hand.

It evidently looked to Il Duce and Der Fuehrer like a dandy chance to scoop Spain into their "axis" against the democracies—by helping Franco. Spain isn't such a peewee of a nation, and it consists of dandy scrappers. Also it has tremendous geographical advantages—especially as applied to the Mediterranean. As applied to Latin America also, if that's of any interest to Uncle Samuel.

Franco Wins—But Franco won. But, as military strategists say, how about consolidating his victory?

He's enormously indebted to Mussolini; largely to Hitler. And, if he's to stick, he vitally needs 'em both henceforward. Nor is there any question that he's favorable to becoming a caudillo, duce or fuhrer.

Yet he has a terrible handicap. His anti-republican supporters were overwhelmingly Spanish monarchists. They don't want a totalitarian government—with a duce, a fuhrer or a caudillo, or a dictator of any other brand. They want a king.

So Caudillo Franco has the bulk of the Spanish conservatives against him right off the reel. Of course the anarchists (and they're formidable in Spain) are hostile. The royalists are on the war trail.

Roughly, General Franco is an internationally disturbing influence.

He looks little, but he's like that trifling event in Servajevo, that started the World war.

They used to talk about the Balkans as the "cockpit of Europe!" Eek, Eek! — Let Spain try, in Caudillo Franco's name, inspired by Fuehrer Hitler's and Duce Mussolini's encouragement, to grab Gibraltar, and see what'll happen!

The international trouble with Franco is—he probably is nutty. Still, the same thing may be said of Mussolini and Hitler.

TUNING IN with D. Mac Showers

Because contestants have been hitting the $10 Jack pot too frequently, Arlene Frances and Fred Utal will start firing tougher teasers at their program participants during the "What's My Name?" broadcast over NBC-Red tonight at 7.

TH ERUDITE HOSTS ... of the summer quiz program find that their studio guests are identifying the clues to well-known persons too easily. The clues are selected from those sent in by listeners so have been considered representative of the public.

Arlene and Fred, who with their assistants go through almost 10,000 letters a week, will line up tougher clues hereafter. They figure it's not fun if everyone knows the answers right off.

HARRY VON ZELL, ... having enjoyed the longest vacation in his radio career, will return to the program and, it is hoped, will bring along a few tough clues from persons he has met in his travels. Peter Van Steeden and his Troubadours will contribute the musical portions of the program.

OTHERS ARE ... Peter Lorre, motion picture star; Mark Huling, who runs a school for seals, and Frank Crumit, veteran radio entertainer. Music is under the baton of Peter Van Steeden with vocals by the Stardusters.

Another Roosevelt on the air tonight, this time Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt who will make a return appearance as guest conductor of "Hobby Lobby" at 6:30 over NBC-Blue instead of Lowell Thomas, previously announced for tonight but who will appear two weeks from tonight.

THIS WILL BE ... Mrs. Roosevelt's second appearance as substitute for Dave Elman, creator and regular conductor of the program, who is in Fargo, N. D., recovering from an appendectomy which interrupted his vacation.

Although the "Hobby Lobby" airing of Aug. 2 marked the first appearance of Mrs. Roosevelt in the role of mistress of ceremonies of an audience participation program, her reception was such that she is returning by popular request.

FEW LISTENERS ... are aware of the fact that the First Lady substituted for Dave Elman in her first appearance without the advantage of a regular rehearsal period. Previous commitments made it impossible for her to get to the studio until a half hour before air time. These few minutes were divided between a hurried meeting with the guests and a press interview.

Good music tonight comes at 6:30 from the slide horn of Tommy Dorsey and the rest of his band — this over NBC-Red. Also there is Paul Whiteman's orchestra broadcast at 6:30 over CBS.

THEN LATER ... comes the Kay Kyser and company Musical Class over NBC-Red at 8 o'clock. And from 9 o'clock on comes good dance music most any part of the dial.

"The Day of Four" is the drama to be presented on the "Lights Out" mystery drama show at 10:30 tonight over NBC-Red. This will be the last program on the present series.

STANLEY BALDWIN, ... former prime minister of England, will be heard speaking at the congress dinner in New York City on the subject of "Democracy at Work." This will be at 8:30 tonight over MBS, CBS and NBC-Blue as a feature of the Congress on Education for Democracy.

The Sunset symphony from the Potomac Water gate in Washington, D. C. will be heard tonight at 8 o'clock over NBC-Blue. Reginald Stewart will conduct the orchestra.

AL KAVELIN ... and his orchestra will substitute for Horace Heidt and his "Answers from the Dancers" orchestra at the Biltmore hotel while Heidt is working at the New York Strand theater. Heidt will be at the hotel for the supper sessions.

Kay Kyser and his "College of Musical Knowledge" program now have third place among the hour shows of the air, according to the latest official survey.

TOMMY DORSEY ... and his cigarette program are scheduled to fold in a few weeks because the sponsor just hasn't enough green backs to support the show.

AMONG THE BEST For Wednesday 5:30—People's Platform, CBS. 6—Honolulu Bound with Paul Baker, CBS. — One Man's Family, NBC-Red. 6:30—Paul Whiteman's orchestra, CBS. 6:30—Hobby Lobby, Dave Elman, NBC-Blue. 6:30—Tommy Dorsey's orchestra, NBC-Blue. 7—What's My Name, NBC-Red. 7:30—George Jessel's Celebrity program, NBC-Red. 9—Dance music, NBC, CBS, MBS.

The bride wore a white Swiss organdie gown embroidered with bow knots and fashioned with a fitted bodice, puffed sleeves, high neckline and short train. Her long veil fell from a small wreath of lilies-of-the-valley. She carried an arm bouquet of white gladioli and a handkerchief carried by her grandmother at her wedding 58 years ago.

New Schedule Of Wages For WPA Revealed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—Commissioner F. C. Harrington announced today a new schedule of monthly security wages for WPA project workers which, he said, would raise the national average about $2.50 a month.

This, he added, would mean that the old average of $53 a month would be stepped up to about $55.50. The new wages become effective Sept. 1.

In general, Harrington said, the new schedule would mean a substantial increase in WPA wages in southern states. In northern states present scales will be retained with some exceptions, which include comparatively minor reductions in most instances.

Revision of the WPA wage schedule was required by the new relief act, which provides that the rates in different sections shall vary no more than does the cost of living.

Although the act provides that no substantial change shall be made in the national average WPA wage, Harrington said the $250-a-month increase was considered permissible under terms of the statute. WPA officials said the act did not define the word "substantial."

As an example of the changes, the commissioner said that the new rate for skilled labor in New York City would be $89.70 compared with an old rate of $92.30, whereas in Birmingham, Ala., the new rate would be $79.30, compared with the old $71.50.

Harrington split the country into three geographical regions, in each of which wages will be more or less uniform in contiguous localities.

Iowa and all the states touching its borders were placed in region No. 1.

Mrs. Mosbo was given in marriage by her father, and Mrs. Johnson by Vincent Lindeen, brother of the brides. Both brides wore full-skirted gowns of white point d'esprit made over white taffeta. ## Danzig--

Baltic are now practically emptied of guests, although August ordinarily is a busy month.

8. From every part of the country reports now reach the capital of strict rationing of gasoline to private automobiles.

9. Again and again one hears the story, verity of which of course is not determinable by a foreigner, that German soldiers, now massed all along the German Polish and protectorate-Polish frontier as well as in East Prussia, are in possession of little booklets telling them how to ask for necessities in Polish.

These specific symptoms are reinforced by the striking parallel with Czechoslovakia last summer.

Danzig Problem Discussions Secret

LONDON, Aug. 15 (AP)—The governments of Europe were engaged in an exchange of mysterious communications tonight as continued rumors of various "peace" plans kept the world guessing.

The communications concerned the conversation between Adolf Hitler and Dr. Carl Burckhardt, League of Nations high commissioner for Danzig, at Berchtesgaden Friday night.

By tonight at least six nations were acquainted with the general tenor of the talk — reported to have included discussion of a compromise plan for settling the Danzig problem — but they carefully guarded their secret.

These nations were Germany, Italy, Great Britain, France, Poland and Sweden. Officials of Danzig also were familiar with the developments.

Poland was suspicious of Burckhardt's activity, terming his trip to Berchtesgaden a nazi "propaganda move." Reports of the visit were printed under such captions as "What is Burckhardt up to?"

NEW YORK, Aug. 15 (AP)—The Washington Senators are in sixth place, 26 games behind the New York Yankees. Yet, up to today, the Nats were all square with the Yankees in their games this season, and even Bucky Harris can't figure it out.

"We figure to lose every time we go against them," the Senator pilot mused. "It's just baseball, that's all. You never know."

Bucky, who recently went on record as saying the Yankees not only were fading, but were positively bleached right now, declined to elaborate on his statement today, giving the impression he already has spoken out of turn.

"I don't want to put myself on a spot," he said. "Let the Red Sox and Yankees fight it out."

He did admit, however, that his Senators might have a lot to say as to who would win the fight. "The Nats, with 10 victories in their last 13 games, currently are pretty warm."

"I'll pitch Chase against them today," Bucky advised. "Then I'll start Dutch Leonard tomorrow, and Joe Krakauskas Thursday. You know, Leonard has won four out of five from the Yankees this year."

Leonard is a former Brooklyn employe. The Dodgers shipped him to Atlanta in 1936, possibly to save wear and tear on the Brooklyn catchers. Leonard is a knuckle ball addict, and his delivery hops about like a nervous rabbit.

"It's harder to catch than it is to hit," Bucky admitted. "My catchers all have had banged up hands from trying to hold him. The ball has absolutely no sense of direction."

The former boy-wonder admitted his team is about where it should be, everything considered, but he believes the Nats might be in the first division right now had their fielding early in the campaign been a little more on the positive side.

"They're better now," he said, "but they were pretty awful. We don't know how many games we lost on fielding. No, I doubt if we'll catch Detroit now. That's a club I figured would do better. But again, that's baseball."

Bucky is a little sour on the Cuban importations. This spring he had so many there was doubt as to whether the Nats were training for a baseball game or a bolo. He still has two or three, Roberto Ortiz, fresh from the Cuban cane fields and who came to camp with what was reported to be a .45 caliber arm, long ago was shipped to Charlotte, where he fell upon evil days.

"He was running from first to second," Bucky explained, "and he was hit by a thrown ball and his skull fractured. Mr. Griffith still thinks he might make an outfielder."

Harris reluctantly admits he misses Zeke Bonura, but he has to add it is Zeke's hitting, not his fielding, that is missed. Zeke and Al Simmons between them drove in 213 runs for the Nats last year, and when they both left they took the team's punch right along with them.

Cincinnati Reds Turn Back Bucs, 6 to 5

Yanks Impressive in Davis Cup Play

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 15 (AP)—The die-hards in the United States Lawn Tennis association family gained new courage today as they compared the returns from their possible U. S. Davis cup doubles combinations against the performances of Australia's reputed invincible Adrian Quist and two-fisted Jack Bromwich in the second round national doubles matches at Longwood.

Quist and Bromwich gained the third round, but they were more than a bit extended by unseeded Jack Kramer and Welby Van Horn, the promising Los Angeles youngster, in winning 6-1, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

What brought smiles to the faces of the U. S. L. T. A. badge-wearers however, were clean-cut triumphs by three possible Davis cup pairs against stronger opposition.

Frankie Parker of Beverly Hills, Cal., and Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, top-ranked here, waded through Dave Freeman of Pasadena, Cal., and Ted Schroeder of Los Angeles 6-1, 6-3, 9-7. Second-seeded Bobby Riggs of Chicago and Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., Wimbledon titlist, took such sturdy opponents as Norman Bickel and John Shostrom of Chicago, in stride 6-2, 6-4, 8-6.

And Gene Mako, the Davis cup doubles veteran, now reunited with his winter west coast partner, Jack Tibball, also of Los Angeles, overcame Corey Lewis, the Kenyon (Ohio) collegian, and Al Stitt of Boston, in another straight-setter, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

Meanwhile, the doughty Murphy twins from Chicago, Chester and Bill, were unavailing against Charles Hare of England, and Ladislav Hecht, former Czechoslovakian Davis cupper who won 7-9, 6-4, 6-3.

The list of foreign favorites was twice cracked.

Bernard Destreman and France's beloved veteran, Jacques Brugnon, were eliminated in a first round match by Robert Peacock and Douglas Imhoff, the national intercollegiate doubles titlists, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3. Then the San Franciscans defeated Gardner Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., and Charles Mattman, New York, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

The Philippine Davis cuppers, Felicissimo Ampon and Amada Sanchez, surrendered to Russell Bobbitt of Atlanta and Frank Guernsey of Orlando, Fla., the intercollegiate singles champion, 8-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

The only other internationalists to survive were Jack Crawford and Harry Hopman of Australia, who struggled through Bob Kam-rath of Austin, Tex., and Darrell Hudlow of Phoenix, Ariz., into the round of eight, 6-4, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

In the women's section of the tourney all of the six teams to reach the third round were seeded.

Among the day's victors were Alice Marble of Beverly Hills, Cal., and Sarah Palfrey Fabry of Brookline, the defending champions, the second-seeded Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Cal., and Dorothy Workman of San Francisco, and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of Stamford, Conn., and Mme. Sylvia Henrotin of France. Third-seeded Virginia Wolfenden and Patricia Canning of San Francisco, qualified yesterday.

Niggeling Goes All The Way For Winners

Win Gives Red Legs Sweep of 2-Game Series With Pirates

CINCINNATI, Aug. 15 (AP)—The veteran Johnny Niggeling went the route in his first start for the Cincinnati Reds today and turned in a 6 to 5 victory to give the pace-setters a sweep of the two-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Brought up from Indianapolis for relief roles, he was assigned today after six hurlers were used to win last night's contest, Niggeling allowed the Pirates eight hits and fanned six.

He was in danger at the start when the Bucs combined two hits and a walk for two runs, but regained command until the ninth when Pittsburgh scored two more tallies.

Ival Goodman, who got three hits for four times up, tripled in the first and came in on Young's error. In the fourth, the outfielder started a rally with a double and scored on McCormick's safety. A sacrifice and single brought in another counter to give the McKeechie men a lead.

Bees Take Another One-Run Defeat; Dodgers Thump Giants; Cardinals Nip Chicago, 7-6

Heart Breaker
BOSTON, Aug. 15 (AP)—Beaten 10 times during their last road trip by a one-run margin, the Boston Bees returned home today only to be nipped by the Phillies for another disheartening defeat, 4 to 3.

It was the Bees' 29th loss by that one-run margin this season, and came despite six-hit pitching by Lou Fette. Until the eighth inning, Fette had given up only two hits, but the Phillies pushed over three runs in that frame to come from behind and win.

Still in League
BROOKLYN, Aug. 15 (AP)—Luke Hamlin gained his 14th victory of the season today as the Brooklyn Dodgers piled up eight runs in the first three innings and coasted to an 8-5 victory over the New York Giants.

The Dodgers, performing before 11,599 fans, knocked Harry Gumbert out of the box in the first, continued to pound Jim Lynn, his relief, and wound up with six runs. They made one each in the next two off Walter Brown.

Nip and Tuck
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 15 (AP)—The 13,000 fans in Sportsman's park today—nearly 8,000 of them women there for ladies day—saw a little bit of everything that could happen in a ball game as the St. Louis Cardinals nosed out the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 6, in 10 innings.

They even got a glimpse of Dizzy Dean, once a Cardinal and now a Cub, but his brief appearance was pathetic. He ambled in from the bull pen to pitch the 10th and a rookie pitcher, Bob Bowman, singled in the winning run before Dean could retire a batter.

Congress Is Interesting

Representative Martin Returns to Iowa City After Stay in Capitol

Returning to Iowa City from his first experience in Washington, D. C., as a national lawmaker, Congressman Thomas E. Martin today termed it an "interesting and grand experience."

Congressman Martin and his family returned to Iowa City Monday night and the official representative will settle down to his law practice after an "intensely interesting" seven and one-half months in the nation's capital.

During his stay in Washington, Congressman Martin served on the military affairs committee—one of the most important. The congressman pointed out many "high points" in his first experience as a lawmaker.

"The national defense program, one of the most important programs on my committee and which went through without any opposition, was interesting to me," Martin said.

He told too of the extensive realization of the importance of the nation's defense program—how it was recognized in all corners among the lawmakers. He declared that the defeat of the neutrality bill was also an important piece of legislation.

Other high points pointed out by Martin were the killing of the "spend-lead" program proposed by the president and the legislation on the Hatch bill.

Regarding agriculture, Congressman Martin asserted, "Two more important questions with which I became involved were those of parity and surplus commodities. The Iowa delegation was solidly behind these two things. Parity was the only thing which stood between safety and disaster in Iowa, what with the bumper crop coming on. Parity is not a sure-cure, but it is a necessary medicine," Martin stated.

The Iowa city congressman has re-opened his Iowa City office in the southeast corner of the post office building on the second floor.

Form Groups Of Donors.

SEATTLE, Aug. 15 (AP)—Establishment of groups of blood transfusion donors within more than 200 Knights of Columbus councils, as a humanitarian enterprise, was reported to the national convention of the Catholic fraternity here today by Dr. Edward W. Fahey, St. Paul, Minn., supreme physician of the lodge.

Dr. Fahey's report said "these groups are functioning 100 per cent. They are to be congratulated on this humanitarian work."

Supreme Knight Martin H. Carmody of Grand Rapids, Mich., in his annual message, noted "great possibilities and a very present need for a definitely Catholic and patriotic youth meeting, appears clear from the proceedings of various youths' conventions of the past few years, and needs no supporting proofs to those who followed the proceedings of the report of the recent American youth congress held in New York City July 1-5."

He said "so clearly were the communists and their allied forces in control of this assemblage that the representatives of 23 patriotic youth organizations felt compelled to leave the meeting."

Carmody urged expansion of the Knights of Columbus' junior order, the Columbian squares, "to meet this menace," because "nowhere else are the teachings of communism being so vigorously presented as to the American youth."
